

A Statement from Dr. Armstrong in Regard to His Riverview Property at Jacksonville

To my many friends and buyers of Riverview property, I wish to make a statement, giving a few facts in regard to this rapidly developing suburb of Jacksonville.

I have had the question put to me several times recently, why I do not advertise Riverview now as I formerly did. Here is my answer:

Riverview has been so well advertised, and the sales of this property have been so enormous, the developments so great, that there is a steady demand for the property without saying a word through the press.

Riverview Today Looks Like a Young City in Its Self

The great million and a half city docks are being built out our way. The Carpenter-O'Brien great two and one-half million dollar mills are out beyond us, and the hundreds of thousands of dollars now being spent in Riverview, and around us, is creating a demand for this property that puts us in a position where we do not need to spend another dollar in advertising through the press.

Special Reserved

Dr. Armstrong has withdrawn from the market two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of his choicest lots and will hold them while the present great developments are going on in this section, and will replace them on the market when the prices will range one thousand dollars for inside lots and three to four thousand dollars for his riverfront lots.

Riverview is making one of the finest investments to the large or small investor in the entire state of Florida. A place where a man or woman may spend five or ten dollars a month for a few years and realize thousands of dollars profit.

Over Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Worth of This Property Already Sold

Scores of fine homes have been built, beautiful streets and avenues all laid off, fourteen miles of streets opened up and set out in shade trees, beautiful parks and drive ways laid off, and a state of progress shown on every side.

Dr. Armstrong, the owner, and his family are now taking a cruise in Southern waters and may be seen in person during the week of 19th to 24th of October, here in Sanford.

Mixed Nationality.
Four-year-old Maggie's father is from Germany; her mother from Scotland. One day the conversation turned on nationalities and my husband asked Maggie what she was. With her arm around her little brother Herman she replied: "Mamma and we's Scotch, but papa's he's German."

Wisdom of the Bee.
"Our plan is very different," said the bee. "We work in the summer to lay up a store of food against the season when we foresee we shall want it; but those who do nothing but drink and dance and sing in the summer must expect to starve in the winter."—Old Fable.

Edward C. Kerr, and Anna M. Kerr, Respondents, vs. John E. Tygart, Complainant.

It appearing from the affidavit of George G. Herring, herein duly filed, that he is solicitor and counsel for the complainant, in the above stated cause; John E. Tygart, and that in the belief of the said complainant, the defendants, Edward C. Kerr and Anna M. Kerr are non-residents of the state of Florida, and are now residents of the state of Indiana; residing in the town of Georgetown, Indiana; that the said defendants are over the age of 21 years, and that there is no person in the state of Florida, the service of subpoena upon whom would be binding upon the said defendants; wherefore, you, Edward C. Kerr and Anna M. Kerr, and all others claiming any right, title or interest in Lot No. 52, M. M. Smith's Sub-division, Seminole County, Florida, are ordered to appear to the bill of complaint, duly filed in this cause, on Monday, the 7th day of December, A. SEMINOLE SCHOOLS ARE IN THE BEST OF CONDITION

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT SHOWS GOOD ATTENDANCE AND RESOURCES

The schools of Sanford and of Seminole county are at once the joy and pride of every man, woman and child residing in the county and though Seminole county is the baby county of the state the schools are among the best in the south. Knowing this to be the fact we want others to know it and to those who are contemplating a residence in Florida either for the winter or all the year round our schools are so good that they will appeal to the parents of children.

Good school facilities are the lodestone that attract the majority of the home-seekers in new territories and the schools of Seminole have attained a reputation second to none. In order that those from other states might have the desired information a statement of the condition of our schools has been prepared by Hon. D. L. Thrasher, superintendent of Public Instruction of Seminole and is given below.

During the past year Seminole county maintained ten white schools with an enrollment of 1023, and an average attendance of 830; and eight negro schools with an enrollment of 725 and an average attendance of 526. These schools were taught by 19 white and 19 colored teachers. Salaries paid the white teachers, from $40 to $225 per month, aggregate for the term of eight months, $18,796.25. Salaries of the colored teachers, from $10 to $60 per month, aggregate for the term $1953.75. Transportation of children to schools in the county, $2,529.00. For improvement of school houses and equipment $5,701.42, for all other purposes $2,792.77. The total income from all sources for the year, $30,272.61. Warrants issued during the school year for all purposes, $34,774.21. Warrants outstanding, July 1st, $8,439.99, cash in the hands of the treasurer, $2,935.39.

Readers will note that Seminole departed from the rule and gave eight months school throughout the county.

With but one minor exception harmony prevailed throughout the county among teachers, patrons and the local and county school board, and as far as the superintendent is able to judge, from every standpoint was one of the most successful school years in the history of schools and school work in this section.

Schools throughout Seminole are now busily engaged with the new year's work, increased enrollment, improved equipment, more efficient teachers, and more of them, and very much larger income leads to the flattering conclusion that at this time next year all outstanding warrants will have been retired, all school debts paid, more children, bigger and better schools and money in the treasury. Now let the children, patrons and teachers join heartily with the local and county school board in building up the banner schools and school system, in this, the newest of the state.

Yours truly,
D. L. THRASHER, Supt.

Abolishing County Treasurer

Another amendment submitted by the last legislature for the adoption by the people is one looking toward the cutting down expense and the lessening of the burdens on the taxpayers.

The county treasurership has always been an anomaly. There was never any real reason why any person should draw a very substantial stipend for work that could as well be done by some other county official, or by some other institution, without cost.

The county treasurer receives money from the collector and pays it out on the orders of the county commissioners. He is paid for the work by a certain percentage on the amount handled. His duty consists in seeing that warrants are properly drawn on the proper fund, and in issuing his checks for the amount. That is about all that he is called upon to do.

Any bank in the community would take upon itself the same labor, and instead of charging the county for the work performed would be glad to pay the county interest on the balances carried in the treasury. Thus there would be a double saving, the payment to the treasurer and the receipt of interest on deposit.

An amendment upon which the people will vote at the election next month, proposes the abolishment of the office of county treasurer, with all its attendant cumbersomeness and cost to the taxpayer. It is an amendment that every voter can conscientiously approve and for which he ought to vote. Miami Herald.

Moves to Florida

Mr and Mrs Jesse Shilling will leave Monday for Sanford, Florida, where they will be located for sometime. Mr Shilling is perhaps the oldest employe of the county in point of service, he having been superintendent and chief engineer of the Miami county heating and lighting plant for 27 years. His service has been so satisfactory that each new board of county commissioners has retained him. In his duties he has come in contact with a great many of the citizens of the county and his unfeigned kindly greeting and courtesy will be missed during his absence. His many friends here trust his Florida interests will prove profitable and know that he will soon make a place for himself among the people of our state.

Mr. W. C. McLean has been greatly missed. From Ohio, Union.

W. C. McLEAN IS CONFIRMED

TO BE POSTMASTER AT ORLANDO, SUCCEEDING W. R. O'NEAL

Orlando, Fla., Oct. 20. W. C. McLean has received word from Washington that his appointment as postmaster of Orlando to succeed W. R. O'Neal, present Republican appointed, has finally been confirmed by the senate and his papers will be forwarded at once. The appointment was sent in by President Wilson some months ago and a determined effort to postpone the confirmation has been made by both Orlando and Washington people, who were personally interested in having some one else appointed. It is reported that charges were preferred against Mr. McLean, but upon investigation these were found to be utterly groundless, and after the most thorough investigations, the appointment was unanimously confirmed.

Mr. McLean has been in the employ of the present postmaster for twelve or thirteen years and is a most affable and competent official and practically every one in Orlando is pleased at the appointment.

Dr. Miller in Orlando

Dr. Oliver J. Miller of Sanford appeared before the city council this afternoon, addressing the body upon a bill that he proposes bringing before the next legislature, requiring a uniform state medical examination of all children in the public schools. He received the endorsement of the council, a requisition which he will make of all the councils of the principal cities in the state, together with the recommendation of all school officials in the various counties. —Reporter-Star.

THE WAR SITUATION IN EUROPE STILL REMAINS UNCHANGED

IT IS REPORTED THAT THE ALLIES HAVE SUCCEEDED IN RETAKING CITY OF OSTEND

A struggle for the possession of the strip of French sea coast nearest to the shores of England was the most interesting phase of the war situation today.

British naval forces are reported to have joined in the movement with the allies, who are making a determined stand on the Belgian frontier against the westward drive of the German right wing.

The exact battle line is not known. This afternoon's official French statement says that the German artillery has attacked without success "the front from Nieuport to Vladsloot, to the east of Dixmude." The allies, it adds, have advanced so far as Roulers and there has been a sharp fighting on a front from La Bassee to Ablain and St. Nazaire.

Paris states that the allies are moving on Lille, which was occupied by the Germans on October 13. An earlier dispatch from London, stating that the Germans were bombarding Lille, may have reference to events prior to October 13, and have been delayed in transmission from France to London.

There is nothing from Berlin to reveal the position of the Germans that are contending for the coast line. There is no doubt, however, that they are bound for Dunkirk and Calais and are prepared to meet a strong resistance.

Rains that caused much suffering to the troops in France earlier in the campaign are falling again on the battlefields so continuously that great hardships result.

Germans and Austrians have encountered bad weather in Russian Poland. They claim, however, to be making progress along the Vistula. Petrograd asserts that the invasion has been definitely checked.

Nothing is definitely known of the fate of Prometheus in Galicia. Best information is that it is still holding out against the Russians. Vienna reports the escape of the prince of Bulgaria.

An American submarine was captured by a French cruiser in the Adriatic today.

Japan lost the cruiser Takachibo, which struck a mine while patrolling off Tsingtau. Two hundred and seventy-one officers and men perished.

Additional Canadian troops were landed at Avonmouth, England, today.

The Turkish government has refused the British demand that the German crews be discharged from the cruisers Goeben and Breslau which Turkey bought from Germany which Turkey bought from Germany.

How Prohibition Works in Kansas

- At the meeting of the Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society last Friday night the subject of temperance and prohibition was discussed, and among the interesting facts and figures which were produced was a startling paper from the Attorney General of Kansas on how prohibition had worked in his state. The following are some of the facts he stated:
1. More than half the county jails in Kansas are empty.
 2. Sixty-five out of 105 counties in the state have no convicts in the state penal institutions.
 3. Many counties have had no criminal jury trial in ten years.
 4. Eighty seven counties have no insane.
 5. Fifty-four counties have no feeble-minded.
 6. Nine-six counties have no inebriates.
 7. Twenty-nine counties have not a single inmate on their poor farms.
 8. Kansas is the second richest state in the Union, her per capita wealth is $1700.
 9. They have the lowest death rate in the world—7 1/2 per thousand.
 10. Less than 10 of the 786 newspapers of the state will accept whiskey advertisements.

A GET TOGETHER GROWERS MEETING SATURDAY, NOV. 7

GOVERNOR TRAMMELL DESIGNATES FARMERS' AND GROWERS' DAY

Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 20. Gov. Park Trammell today issued the following address to the people of Florida:

To The People of Florida—The rather wide spread disturbance in commercial and financial conditions which have been experienced since the outbreak of the great European war have furnished the most forcible lesson taught to the present generation that agriculture is in fact the foundation stone of our National greatness and prosperity, and that upon the proper protection and development of our various agricultural interests depends the welfare of all our people.

It is proper and needful, therefore, that all citizens imbued with public spirit and with regard for the future advancement of our state and our country as well as for the material interest of the particular section in which they live, should be zealous and untiring in the promotion of all movements well designed to benefit our varied agricultural, horticultural and trucking industries.

Over six weeks ago, when the effects of the European war first began to be felt in the scarcity of many ordinary commodities and in the rapidly advancing prices of many articles of food, I issued an address to the farmers of Florida and to all citizens of the state who own or control lands urging that they make arrangements for the planting and cultivation of more extensive crops as circumstances would permit, to the end that there may be an abundance of such produce for our home people for home consumption and for sale in other markets. I am proud in that connection to point out the great material advantages which would certainly accrue through such activities.

Very soon thereafter, I again addressed the people of Florida, urging that they should plant and cultivate more cotton, paying therefor not less than ten cents per pound. I also urged the people to organize local and county associations of clubs for the purpose of stimulating the purchase and holding of cotton until the market regained its normal condition, and the property owners of the markets of the world.

It has been very gratifying to note that considerable interest has been manifested throughout the state in the diversification of crops, and that the "Buy a Bale of Cotton" movement has hearty support in many sections of the country. The situation which now confronts us is one which presents the greatest opportunity ever offered to our people for extending and improving their agricultural interests and it calls for the best thought and the wisest action on the part of our entire citizenship in rising to the emergency and taking advantage of the opportunity offered. It is a time when mutual aid and cooperation are needed in every section, and if freely and unselfishly given, the reward will be abundant.

As indicative of the benefits to be derived through cooperation, I desire to call the attention of the public to the fact that, within the past week an organization was formed at a meeting in Jacksonville held by a number of citizens from different parts of the state, known as the Florida Twenty Thousand Bale Club, its purpose being to assist needy cotton growers in selling their cotton at a fair price. This plan is an excellent and commendable one, and I earnestly urge that it be given hearty support and cooperation in all parts of the state. In view of the relatively limited production of cotton in Florida, concerted support of the movement in which this club has taken the lead would tend greatly to relieve the distress felt by cotton growers of Florida.

To most successfully derive permanent advantages, it is essential that those of our people interested in the growing of cotton and those interested in all other agricultural, horticultural and trucking activities should get together in their respective localities at an early date to discuss present and future conditions, and to form voluntary organizations to push forward all worthy and helpful movements, which offer beneficial results with respect to the planting, cultivation and marketing of all the numerous crops which combine to make Florida's agricultural and horticultural wealth.

It is my hope that I might suggest a common date for the holding of meetings in each county of the state by all persons interested directly or indirectly in farming, fruit growing or trucking, and I therefore designate Saturday, November 7, 1914, as Farmers' and Growers' Day throughout the state of Florida; and I respectfully and urgently request that in each county, or where it is deemed advisable, in each locality the farmers and citizens generally gather at convenient places and give careful thought and discussion to ways and means of protecting and advancing their interests, and of arousing and stimulating interest in all measures affecting the prosperity of their respective localities as well as to all matters affecting the general welfare of the state.

An earlier date is not suggested for the reason that it is considered advisable, and it is now recommended, that prior to the 7th of November the people in their respective localities hold preliminary meetings at such time as may suit their convenience for the purpose of discussing plans and measures to be submitted for more general consideration at the larger gatherings contemplated to be held Nov. 7th.

Florida is today one of the most prosperous states of the Union and enjoys a high rank in the matter of per capita wealth. Her prosperity and high standing can be even more advanced, however, by proper cooperation and organization in the interests of her farmers and growers who contribute so greatly to the state's development. It is earnestly hoped and urged that our people take greater advantage of the unusual opportunity offered them to protect the state's industries, increase her wealth and develop her resources.

PARK TRAMMELL, GOVERNOR.

PAY YOUR AUTOMOBILE TAX

TAX COLLECTOR REPORTS FAILURE OF MANY TO PAY WHEN DUE

Tax Collector Geo. D. Jenkins states that the automobile license due on October 1st has not been paid by many of the owners. There has been about 130 licenses issued and there are about 230 machines in the county. The penalty for nonpayment is double the amount of the license, which will make it rather hard on the owners when the Tax Collector loses patience and starts collecting through the sheriff. Several of our people have been caught in other counties without this years license tag on their cars and have been forced to pay a license in those counties. This is not patronizing your home county and also makes it rather tough on the owners to be asked to come across by the officials of other counties. This license must be paid and one might as well patronize home officials as officials of other counties. This license must be paid and owners should pay it now and avoid trouble and double payment.

Some Fine Pecans

The Herald is in receipt of a package of pecans from the Oak Knoll Farm near Altamonte, this county. They are a new variety grown by that veteran N. H. Fogg of the firm of Fogg & Osteen, owners of Oak Knoll. Mr. Fogg writes that he has named the pecan the Fogg's Prolific Paper Shell which is name enough to carry it most everywhere in a civilized community. Oak Knoll Farm is a famous place for fruits, vegetables, pecans and hogs and Fogg is a living example of what a thrifty farmer can accomplish in Seminole county or any other county in Florida. He raises only the best of everything and always gets the best market price and has made good every year. We hereby thank him for the pecans and hope he will continue to ship us a package as long as the season lasts.

SEMINOLE COUNTY LEADS IN THE CATTLE INDUSTRY

STOCKMEN REALIZE OVER TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS FOR A CAR LOAD

The Jacksonville Metropolis is running a head entitled "Plant More Hens," which is good enough in its way but does not cover the field. We would supplement that by adding, "Plant more cattle, sheep, hogs and goats," for in this our future prosperity will expand greatly and redound to our credit. There is no reason in the world for Floridians to buy cattle, sheep, chickens, hogs, etc., from any other state in the Union and our people can laugh at the idea of eating "embalmed beef" that comes to us from the big packing houses of the north-west.

Cattle raising in the past has been confined somewhat to the Kissimmee prairies and only in the past year have our people woken up to the possibilities of raising cattle in this part of the state upon a large scale. The great prairies of the upper St. Johns river are the ideal spots for raising cattle, sheep and hogs and their possibilities are loomed larger each year. An item in the papers of Kissimmee last week gave the high water mark in prices of a car load of beef shipped from that place, the price being better than $25 per head.

Seminole county can beat that and two of our cattlemen have probably reached the high water mark this week in the shipment of a car load of cattle to a Jacksonville firm. The cattle brought $35.63 a head, the car bringing over $1200. Nicholson & Prevatt of Geneva are the men who raised the cattle and sold them, and this price demonstrates that cattle raised here can bring top notch prices. This is undoubtedly the highest price ever paid in Florida for a carload of grass fed cattle and is a matter of congratulation to the men who raised them and Seminole county.

Verily, plant hens, plant cattle, plant hogs, plant sheep.

Why Wars is Hell

About twenty years ago a young business man who had discovered a valuable process for the manufacture of certain chemicals, came to this country to be nearer his chief markets. Business prospered, the money flowed in and the young German chose a wife from the people of his foster land.

Last July he took his wife across the ocean on a vacation trip and shortly after their first child might be born in the Fatherland. He expected to be back in America by now with his wife and baby, but the iron finger of war reached out and tapped him on the shoulder. Within a few days after the child was born the government's emissary stopped at the German's door and notified him that his services were required in the armies of the Kaiser. There was no escape. He had neglected to take out American naturalization papers.

His wife has not heard from him since the day she kissed him in a heartbroken farewell. For all she knows he has six feet deep in the hastily dug trenches before Liege, or stark on the plains of Charleroi. The business which he built up in this country with such cheerful pains is going rapidly to ruin in the hands of an inexperienced and distracted relative.—Ex.

County commissioners in Polk county consider a county fair one of the best things that could happen and have announced an appropriation of $1,000 for the fair to be held in Polk county next February. The Lakeland News telling of the action commending it, said that Lakeland, having volunteered to give $1,000, and other people being much interested, it now seems that the fair in the spring will be a glad success. An effort is being made to have a permanent building erected on the athletic field in Lakeland, where the fair association can house and care for the stock and poultry exhibits each year. The fair association has been very active of late and with the time intervening and a continuance of interest and work the fair of 1915 should exceed anything ever before attempted in the county.

Special Notice
The Herald will on each day call attention to the largest advertisement in the current issue.

A Statement from Dr. Armstrong in Regard to His Riverview Property at Jacksonville

To my many friends and buyers of Riverview property, I wish to make a statement, giving a few facts in regard to this rapidly developing suburb of Jacksonville.

I have had the question put to me several times recently, why I do not advertise Riverview now as I formerly did. Here is my answer:

Riverview has been so well advertised, and the sales of this property have been so enormous, the developments so great, that there is a steady demand for the property without saying a word through the press.

Riverview Today Looks Like a Young City in Its Self

The great million and a half city docks are being built out our way. The Carpenter-O'Brien great two and one-half million dollar mills are out beyond us, and the hundreds of thousands of dollars now being spent in Riverview, and around us, is creating a demand for this property that puts us in a position where we do not need to spend another dollar in advertising through the press.

Special Reserved

Dr. Armstrong has withdrawn from the market two hundred and fifty thousand dollars worth of his choicest lots and will hold them while the present great developments are going on in this section, and will replace them on the market when the prices will range one thousand dollars for inside lots and three to four thousand dollars for his riverfront lots.

Riverview is making one of the finest investments to the large or small investor in the entire state of Florida. A place where a man or woman may spend five or ten dollars a month for a few years and realize thousands of dollars profit.

Over Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Worth of This Property Already Sold

Scores of fine homes have been built, beautiful streets and avenues all laid off, fourteen miles of streets opened up and set out in shade trees, beautiful parks and drive ways laid off, and a state of progress shown on every side.

Dr. Armstrong, the owner, and his family are now taking a cruise in Southern waters and may be seen in person during the week of 19th to 24th of October here in Sanford.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

I have always believed in a medical inspection of school children and it has been my opinion that many of the diseases contracted in the early fall are propagated in the school room. You can place a bunch of healthy children in the school at the first of the term and before you know it they will have sore eyes, whooping cough and a number of other children's diseases that are contracted by coming in contact with other children at the school. I believe that if a child has a disease of that kind that they should be kept at home until cured, and not turned loose on the community to infect other children. The sore eyes are no joke and the suffering at times is intense and no child that has sore eyes should attend school not only because of the danger of infection but because it is dangerous to use the eyes to study while they are in the inflamed condition. The state inspection of schools is the proper way to keep these diseases out of the schools and there are many others that are not easily discovered by any one but a medical expert and they unfit a child not only for study, but are infectious.

Therefore, I am glad that Dr. Miller of our town has seen the advisability of having a medical inspection of the schools and will endeavor to have a bill passed in the next session of the legislature to have this made into a law and enforced in the schools. The Orlando Sentinel has the following regarding his visit to that city:

Dr. Miller of Sanford appeared before the city council yesterday afternoon and urged that body to assist in an effort to secure the passage of a bill through the next Florida legislature providing for state inspection of public schools. Dr. Miller made a very favorable and instructive address, which favorably impressed the council.

One of the illustrations he gave of the benefits to be derived from competent school inspection under state authority was the result in Indiana, where it was found that fully two thirds of all the pupils in the public schools were defective in some manner over 200,000 out of a total enrollment of more than 300,000.

In many cases the defects in children are easily remedied if pointed out in time, but if neglected as the child grows older it is impossible to correct them and he is compelled to go through life under a handicap that might have been removed if proper precautions had been taken. The advantage of state inspection is obviously the only uniform system, as each municipality or county could not afford to secure the specialist absolutely essential to proper inspection, and some counties and cities would be negligent or neglectful of its necessity.

A Florida newspaper, the name of which has escaped us, tells the story of Florida in the following well chosen words:

"In the summer the northern farmer will be toiling in his hay and wheat fields, and cultivating his corn and potatoes, with a big straw hat on his steaming head and sunbonnets on the horses. The 100 degrees temperatures will be taking it out of him in a way to make angels weep, and surely by the sweat of his brow will he earn his bread. At night he will drag himself wearily to bed to roll and toss in the ovenlike heat all night long, only to arise at the dawn of another day to face a fervid sun in an unrefreshed condition, and repeat the operation. Down here in Florida the bright sun will shine and the farmer will sweat and the crops will smile and just tear themselves up by the roots growing so fast and the genial, salt-laden sea breezes will sweep over the land and fill the lungs with the bracing air, the temperature will rule warm and even, about 10 degrees lower than up there. At eventide the farmer, wearied with an honest day's toil, will lie him to bed, pull a couple of blankets over him, while through windows and along galleries will flow the refreshing night breezes, and he will speed the sleep of the just and honest one, and waken in the early morning, like Antaeus, refreshed and strengthened by Mother Nature, feeling fit to do double duty during the coming day. And every month some product of the toil of the field will rest upon the table or be shipped to other parts, where toiling millions will extend their hands, money laden, in welcome. And the happy farmer will wear a deep path to the bank where he will drop in a few more dollars of surplus earnings to help swell the pile already looking pleasing to the eye. Mind you, twelve months of depositing of surplus, not four months of depositing and eight months checking out: Come on, friends, and join us. You who grow happy and fat on the twelve months of productive industry. But leave behind the fellow with the hammocks.

Now cometh the festive vagrant who never has worked and is not wanting to begin at this late day. He comes in on the boat or on the bumpers and once in the city panhandles every man, woman and child and otherwise makes himself obnoxious. I think it is positively up to the mayor and the police to keep these people from bothering the rest of us and a sentence on the streets would serve to make the hobo move off to pastures greener than Sanford. They profess to be looking for work but none of them ever do any and they are an undesirable class to have in the city. Among them sometimes there are honest fellows who really want work and this kind can always find it, for there is no valid reason for any one to loaf in Florida and when I see this small army going from door to door I cannot help but think they are looking for work in order to avoid it. Let the police have strict orders to move them on or put them on the streets of the city. They are a nuisance and a menace to the city at all times and a class of people that we do not want in the city.

The bulkheading of the lake front is just about the greatest thing that Sanford has ever undertaken. I was down there the other Sunday and there were many people looking at the bulkheading and the lake front and in my mind's eye I could see a great future in store for Sanford from this work. We undoubtedly have the finest location for a great city here that any other portion of the state offers and the beautiful Lake Monroe will soon come into its own. If some cities inland had this great advantage they would have built the bulkhead long ago and it is safe to say that once this lake front is built up Sanford will blossom like the garden of Eden. There is no other place on the map that has the future of this city and a glance over the lake front will convince any one of this fact. There is no end to what this city can do on the lake front. We could have a fine pavilion and dance floor on the water and a landing place for the boats, also a breakwater farther out where the big pleasure boats can tie up and spend a few weeks. There could be a supply house and telephone booth and stores and many other conveniences at the dock for the benefit of the mariners. Sanford at this time has no place where the young people can dance, have a bowling alley or other amusements and as soon as the bulkhead is finished such a place in the pavilion would offer greater attractions not only to our own people but to strangers of the city. There are many and divers attractions about the bulkhead and I can see a long way ahead into the future where the lake front will be our most valuable possession.

FARMING IN THE CELERY DELTA

Your request to write something for your issue of Florida Newspaper Day would doubtless mean an article on Sanford's trucking industry and her world famous system of sub-irrigation.

The names and history of the farmers in the Celery Delta with the bank balance prove beyond controversy that Sanford as a trucking center has no equal on earth.

Florida to date has been a trucking and fruit growing state, as yet comparatively developed in both.

These lands are alluvial in character and of course rich and for the most part ready for plow and harrow but for occasional overflow from the river.

And grass, Mr. Editor, just think about grass! Why the prophet says "All flesh is grass."

man on horseback on some of these prairies. These for summer and switch grass and river grass for winter range, feed tens of thousands of cattle all the year.

Rhodes grass especially, with Penn and growing from seed and rooting at joints and standing grazing and cutting for hay promises wealth to this favored section.

I started out to write about stock growing in Florida, but so far have not got to it, but if the above is true, and it is, it must follow as the night the day, this must be the most promising stock growing country in America and it is.

Our production of meat is not confined to beef but sheep and hog show wonderful profits and the spring lambs of ten years from now for pampered palate of northern millionaires and other lovers of good victuals will get their supply from Florida.

This article would not be fair or complete if milk and butter production was overlooked. Jersey cattle thrive here as well as scrubs and the writer grew as handsome a herd on the prairies in sight of Sanford as you could find in a day's journey.

COTTONSEED MEAL

There is no need to worry over the increased price of potash or the fact that the European war has curtailed the supply.

"There is a silver lining to the cloud which hangs over the market for cotton and cottonseed products," said President Harrison of the Southern Railway Company.

"One of the great advantages of the south for the production of beef and for the dairy industry is in the use of cottonseed meal and hulls as parts of a balanced ration for dairy cows and for fattening cattle for market.

"This condition offers the southern farmer an opportunity to recoup himself for some part of his loss is due to the low prices paid for cotton and hulls in proper proportion with other feeds to dairy and beef cattle he can secure a direct profit from these cattle and at the same time have a supply of manure for building up the productivity of his farm.

butter is churned quickly and washed at the flowing well, is solid, grainy and delicious. What more shall I add, but that the truth of every statement will be gladly furnished.

south to other localities either for feeding or for dairy purposes and many farmers may find it profitable to buy beef or dairy cattle in other parts of the United States."

Florida

(As seen by Barton W. Currie in "Country Gentleman.")

Fresh, virile blood has been infused into every artery and vein of the peninsula. It has flowed in from adjoining southern states, from the north and the west.

Florida has led the procession of all the southern states on the score of phenomenal growth, and the book value of her climate is the primal cause. Of course the climate is not responsible for her rich deposits of phosphate rock nor her immensely valuable fisheries, but when you add her climate to her 1273 miles of palm fringed coast line, her splendid harbors and bays and her short cut trade routes to the Panama Canal, you have a pretty sure footing for your optimism.

There was a time when it was rather the custom to refer sneeringly to Florida as "that swampy sand-pit winter resort that puts out into the Gulf of Mexico."

Florida today offer almost as surprising a contrast as Southern California of the two periods, and the Peninsula's State's present day growth is very likely to surpass the growth of that Pacific Coast region.

Something over four months prior to the formal opening of the Panama Pacific International exposition Oregon's building is 90 per cent ready for occupancy.

Imagine the Parthenon in wood and you may fancy what the Oregon building looks like. Covering a 250 by 150 foot area, it is of two stories. Supporting its eaves are forty two columns of solid undressed timber, 12 in. diameter.

feet in diameter and would yield enough lumber for the construction of an eight room house of average dimensions. Each trunk, representing a state of the Union and bearing its seal, be dedicated some day during the position period, and all visitors hailing from the commonwealth for which it stands are to be invited to participate in the ceremony.

The main flagpole is the world's tallest stick used for that purpose. This mighty timber is Astoria's gift to the commission. When taken from the forest, in the Blind Slough region, its weight was 94,000 pounds, as calculated by means of measurement, and in all its ponderousness it was floated down the coast. After being trimmed its length was 235 feet. Now, embedded in a concrete base, 222 feet of it are visible. Its seven pointed gilt stars tower higher than anything else at the fair except the crown of the Tower of Jewels.

Serious Waste of Money.

Because of the improper drying of corn a vast amount of money is wasted in the payment of freight. It is estimated that 436,682 tons of water are shipped with corn every year. This would fill 14,566 freight cars of 60,000 pounds capacity, making a train more than 119 miles long.

UNEQUALED IN ANY OTHER STATE IN THE UNION

GROWERS' DAY

In another part of this issue is a proclamation by Governor Trammell calling for a Growers and Farmers' Day and setting aside November 7th as that day. He specifies that the cotton growers can get together on the subject of storing or otherwise planning for the cotton crop and the farmers and growers all over the state can have a meeting on that day and discuss the many good things for their future welfare.

CANNING CLUBS

The girls of Florida have organized canning clubs in every city, village and hamlet in the state with possibly the exception of a few counties and Seminole is one of the counties that has up to this time overlooked a good bet. Other counties have appointed a lady county agent to travel over the county and give lessons on canning and Seminole county should appoint one.

STATE PRODUCTS AND NEEDS

In the year 1913, according to estimates compiled by the United States census reports, the corn, hay, oats, Irish potatoes, cotton, tobacco, rice and sweet potato crops of Florida amounted to $19,688,000. This added to the value of the citrus crop somewhere in the neighborhood of $13,000,000, makes the total production for the state last year of about $32,688,000.

The census figures, however, are the only ones we have, and may be used as a basis for argument. Suppose Florida would secure farmers and plant 2,000,000 acres of her more than 20,000,000 acres to corn. Suppose that land would average a corn production of forty bushels to the acre. Then suppose that corn would average fifty cents per bushel.

This is a matter worthy the attention of every board of trade or other body, or organization in the state, interested in bringing people to the state. It is a practical proposition, and easy enough of solution, if we once get at it in the right way. Suppose every newspaper in Florida would gather all the statistics obtainable in its section, and send the papers to corn growers in other states, whose names could be had from people now living in Florida, and on the same date every newspaper would send copies of the paper to such lists, telling about corn growing possibilities here, what you growing possibilities here what would be the effect?

It is not at all unreasonable to expect that there would be enough people induced to the state to put in a million acres of corn within the next two years. It could be done at such a small cost of time and money to every newspaper in the state, as to not be noticeable.

OUR CREED

We believe in Sanford, the city of promise, the place of good deeds, the community of ambition. We believe in her laws, her institutions and the principles for which she stands. We believe in her future, which is insured by her excellent railroads, her fine steamship lines, and the best twelve months' climate in the world.

We believe in the welfare of Florida because of her fisheries, her agricultural products, her phosphate mines, her forests, and most of all her men. Because Sanford is the gateway to South Florida we believe that nothing can stop this city's progress.

We believe that bad business is simply good business on a vacation. We believe that what are called "hard times" are merely good times turned wrong side out, so that we can see the weak spots in time to strengthen them.

Headline states that politics is warming up in Cuba. In this day of Europe's unpleasantness we would rise to ask, "Where is Cuba?"

RECIPROCITY

The Herald does not mind giving notices for church affairs, societies, etc., and probably gives more free space than any other paper in the state but it makes us feel bad when these same people go elsewhere for paid printing.

Tampa man suggests that everybody join the buy a box of oranges movement and that it would cause many to send several boxes to their northern friends. Good scheme but better consult with the Southern Express Co. first about the rate on a box of oranges north.

IDLE TONGUES

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

"Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."

This is one of the ten rules handed down from Mount Sinai, which have been regarded as the basis for all the world's safest legislation. We have never got beyond them, and the facts that false reports are among the serious crimes is established by the place of this commandment in the code.

And "thy neighbor" doesn't include merely the man who lives the other side of the line fence it means all those whose interests are identical with your own, who rejoice in the same good fortune and mourn over the same disasters. It would seem that the original meaning of the words in this place includes all mankind all who belong to the great Brotherhood of Man.

What right has one man to speak against another? None, unless it be to protect the community against his evil doing, and then only upon such positive knowledge as would be accepted as evidence in a court of law. A former president of the United States once said in a public address "You have not the right to speak ill of a public officer unless you know you are speaking the truth. If, on the other hand, you do know that he as a public servant has committed wrong, you fail of your duty as a citizen if you do not denounce him from the housetops."

Florida's legislature has recognized the evil of false report by enacting a law which reads this way: "Whoever falsely or maliciously disseminates or spreads rumors or reports concerning the existence of any infectious or contagious disease shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars."

At various times the State Board of Health has been annoyed by reports of disease in epidemic proportions where only one or two cases, or none at all had occurred. Such rumors are difficult or impossible to trace their source, but whether they emanate from idle gossip or ignorance or from malice, the result is the same. The community is injured, injured seriously, for good health is the biggest asset of any neighborhood, and good news never quite overtake the reports of evil that have ever so slight a start.

Probably many Floridians know that the statute books contain this provision that guards the state against such insidious attacks. Many do not know it. Few prosecutions have been made under its authority, for loyal citizens appreciate the harm that may come in this way. It is difficult to conceive such reports being circulated with malicious intent, but whether by malice or thoughtlessness, the good name of any community may be irretrievably attacked.

It is indeed the duty of every citizen to report the existence of epidemic disease, but he should not tell it to the winds that scatter it to the corners of the earth. He should report his suspicions to the local health authorities or to the State Board of Health. A careful examination and diagnosis are made and the nature of the disease is at once determined and the interests of the community protected. No time is lost, the danger of error is minimized and relief is brought in the shortest possible period.

If you can't boost, don't knock. Florida has the reputation among the states that it has safeguarded its health and sanitary conditions have been charged with being unhealthful, and it is only with recent years that the real truth is finding circulation and credence throughout the country and the world. Every good Floridian is, or should be, so loyal that he will not slander or retard the progress of his home state.

The Pinch. "Yes, I don't so much mind 'em givin' me the sack. That's all right. But 'e was a dirty outsider to send a letter to the paper advertisin' for a boy."

The Demand of the War on Sanford
Is accurately portrayed in the following letter received from one of the great banks of the country by the PEOPLES BANK OF SANFORD:
"While the war continues this country will not in our opinion receive any comparative benefits to speak of. If the war is a matter of years the South must next year plant other crops than cotton. Southern bankers, we understand, are emphasizing diversified farming. After the war, the benefits we secure will depend on our ability to expand our export industries without the financial help which Europe has always furnished. If our people realized the part that money will play in the years following the war, everyone would now save every dollar he could to invest later on in the development and increase of business which is sure to come. Our country should follow the example of Germany in the past twenty years in the cooperative encouragement of all forms of industry, large and small, under constructive Government help and regulation; and we should follow the example of all European countries in the careful saving and investment of small sums by the great majority of the individuals of the nation. In Europe the number out of every thousand of population who have bank accounts is in the various countries as follows: Switzerland 554, France 346, Germany 317, England 302, Italy 220. In contrast to these figures—the United States 99".
From these last figures we read the cause of a vast amount of the unhappiness of our people, which summed up in one word is IMPROVIDENCE.
Extending to you the advantages of this institution, we bespeak your thoughtful consideration of the above letter.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS IN FLORIDA

A. J. Holder, or "Uncle Jack," as he is known to everyone, gives a very interesting account of his past thirty-five years' experience in Florida.

"When I first came to Florida I could have eaten all the vegetables raised at one sitting. The idea that any kind of green stuff could be raised here was ridiculed. Game was plentiful and hunting, fishing and frolicking were the only occupations. When the boat came in we could trade meat and hides for hominy."

In this article I will state just what I have seen done, and nearly everything mentioned I have accomplished myself. A little study of the following tables will show what thirty-five years' experience has taught me as to the possibilities of the Florida soil and climate.

The following shows the name of the crop, the time ready for market, and the time ready for home use: Irish potatoes, May to July, inclusive; home use, any time. Sweet potatoes, January to December, inclusive; home use, any time.

English peas, February to March; home use, any time. Cow peas, May to November; home use, any time. Beans, April to June; home use, any time.

Cabbage, February to June; home use, October to July. Cauliflower, February to June; home use, any time. Cassava, any time; home use, any time.

Dasheen, December to January; home use, any time. Kaota, any time; home use, any time. Turnips, December to March; home use, any time.

Rutabagas, December to March; home use, any time. Mustard, any time; home use, any time. Spinach, any time; home use, any time.

Watermelons, May to July; home use, May to December. Cantaloupes, May to July; home use, May to August. Okra, May to December; home use, any time.

Tomatoes, May to June; home use, any time. Eggplants, May to July; home use, any time. Sweet peppers, July to December; home use, any time. Oranges: Parson Brown, September to June. Boone's Early, September to June. Majorce, October to August. Valencia, January to August.

Satsuma, September to February. Limes, continual. Tangerines, December to May. Mandarins, November to March. Peaches, May to June, home use, May to August. Japanese plums, February and March. Japanese persimmons, September to December.

Pineapples, any time. Guavas, August to January. Bananas, any time. Grapes, August to December. Strawberries, January to June.

To secure the above results requires time, care and personal experience, or a willingness to profit by the experience of others, but a little study of the above will show that it is possible to have fresh fruit and fresh vegetables any day in the year in Florida.

Nation of Gem Owners. Customs statistics show the people of this country are the most ardent admirers of diamonds in the world. Not only are they the largest importers of the gems, but they own practically one-half of the entire diamond supply of the world.

Immensity of Siberia. Siberia contains one-ninth of all the land on the globe. Great Britain and all Europe, except Russia, together with the whole of the United States, could be put into Siberia.

New Definition. A class in history in school at Kirwin was studying Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The teacher asked the class what was meant by the word "dedicate." One of the smart boys volunteered to answer. "Dedicate," he explained, means raising the money to pay off a church debt. —Kansas City Star.

Cheney of Orlando and has many friends in this city who will give them a warm welcome to Sanford.

Goes to Philadelphia H. E. Tolar, cashier of the Peoples Bank leaves today for Philadelphia, where he will consult a specialist regarding his eyes. Mr. Tolar has been having serious trouble with his eyes and has finally decided to take a vacation from his duties and not only rest his eyes but receive treatment from the eminent physicians at Jefferson College. During his absence President M. M. Smith will act as cashier. The many friends of Mr. Tolar hope that he will return fully recovered and will not lose the sight of his afflicted eye.

John E. Roberts John E. Roberts died at his home on Melonville avenue on Saturday night after a lingering illness. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon. Rev. Stearns of the Methodist church officiating. Interment was made in Lakewood cemetery. Mr. Roberts moved to this city several years ago coming from Barren, Ky., and leaves several children to mourn his loss. His wife died about two years ago and the children are bereft of both parents in less than a year. The sympathy of the community goes out to them in their double affliction.

The Junior Civic League girls will take orders for Easter lily and callily bulbs at $1.50 per dozen, if orders are received before Friday. 17-1tc

UPSALA ITEMS

Mrs. Vernon Collier of Sanford spent the week end with Mrs. Barnwell Beck on Tuesday. Mrs. Pope took dinner with her also.

We notice Mr. Rantoul has returned from his annual trip north. Mr. Rantoul spent the week end at his home in the city.

There were dramatic offerings given at the church on the 18th and the 19th of the month.

A doctor was called to the home of Angelo Nicoli to visit his mother for an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Henry Lundquist is working now in a garage near Mauna.

Mr. Messenger is doing carpenter work for Mr. Theo. Miller on the Hamilton house.

We notice the Rantoul family are again at work.

Mrs. A. F. Westwick is attending the Adventists' camp meeting in Orlando this week.

A party for Frank Parker, in honor of his sixteenth birthday was held at the home of his uncle, Mr. Jack Thompson Thursday evening. A very enjoyable time was had by all present, forty-one in all. They were served lemonade, cake and coffee.

Mr. and Miss Booth have moved from one of Mr. Clark's houses to the store on the West Side. We are sorry to lose them from our neighborhood.

On the return of Mr. and Mrs. E. Magnusson from their trip to North Carolina, where Mrs. M. regained her health which has been very poorly for the last two years, their friends gathered with them to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. They had a fine time and left many tokens of their esteem of the worthy host and hostess.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON BY HERALD CORRESPONDENT

Washington, Oct. 20.—The failure of Congress to pass a Rivers and Harbors bill at the present session has brought the members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee face to face with a serious situation and they are now discussing with great interest the pros and cons of a river and harbor bill during the short session which begins on the first Monday in December. Representative Sparkman of Florida, chairman of the committee, told the correspondents the other day that it was the intention of his associates to get to work immediately after the reassembling of Congress on a bill and have it reported before the Christmas holidays. "Failure to do this may mean another defeat, and that, in my judgment, would put back the cause of waterway improvements ten years," said Mr. Sparkman. "Our growing commerce demands that we develop our rivers and deepen our harbors, and if we don't do it the people will send other persons to do it in our places."

Officials of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which holds its eleventh annual convention in Washington, December 9, 10 and 11, are becoming optimistic over the reports being received from all sections of the country that rousing delegations will be sent to the convention with a view of emphasizing on the Federal Congress the needs of a broad and comprehensive policy of waterway development. New England and the Mississippi Valley will be especially well represented according to advices received by S. A. Thompson, Secretary of the Congress, while the Ohio Valley and the section about Lake Michigan will also send big delegations to join in the general protest over the defeat of the passage of a make-shift bill of $20,000,000 to tide over the situation until a bill of generous proportions can be passed.

There are those who would have given a pretty sum to have been sitting hearing distance while Col. Harvey, the brilliant editor of the North American Review and President Wilson were renewing old friendships and burying the hatchet on Peace Sunday. It will be recalled that there was a falling out between the President and Col. Harvey shortly after the Baltimore convention and the two "didn't speak as they passed by." Mutual friends, however, got busy and on Peace Sunday the hatchet-burying scene was pulled off at the White House.

We heard of etiquette forbids the divulgence of Presidential conversations, but a little bird is responsible for the recital of what happened.

Mark Twain's name came up in some connection when Colonel Harvey remarked casually that there were persons still in existence who never had heard of the great humorist.

The President found this almost incredible.

When the Colonel continued "I met such an one. He was an old newspaper editor. He declared positively that he had never heard of Mark Twain."

"I asked him about Tom Sawyer. No, he never had heard of him. Nor Huck Finn? No, never. Nor Pudd'nhead Wilson? 'Oh, Lord, yes,' he ejaculated, 'I voted for him.'"

And the President's roar of delight did not diminish in the least when the Colonel continued softly, "and he added, wistfully, 'that's all the good it done me.'"

Because of the abundant supply of cottonseed meal there is likely to be in this country this year, specialists in the Department of Agriculture believe that the farmer has a better opportunity to make money by feeding beef cattle than for some time past. The feeding value of cottonseed meal has been recognized by agricultural authorities for some time and large quantities of it are exported annually to Europe where the farmers, especially those in Denmark are well aware of its usefulness.

It is estimated that this year 15,000,000 bales of cotton will be produced in the United States. This should yield 6,680,000 tons of seed. While all of this will not be crushed, if last year's proportions hold good again, about 2,000,000 tons of cottonseed meal will be available, and, as the foreign market gives promise of being greatly reduced, there ought to be a corresponding decrease in the price of the meal, making it specially desirable for feeding purposes.

Abernathy Ratliff

At a quiet home wedding in the presence of the immediate family Miss Douglas Abernathy and Mr. Z. B. Ratliff were made one yesterday at ten o'clock. Rev. Steiner, pastor of the Methodist church, of which both young people are members performed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom and relatives left for the northbound train. Mr. and Mrs. Abernathy will spend the honeymoon at Jacksonville, St. Augustine and other points in the state and expect to be absent for several weeks.

The bride is the daughter of Hon. and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy of this city and has spent the past five years here, having a large circle of friends in the younger society set. She is a winsome young lady and by her friendly spirit and unflinching good humor has endeared herself to every one.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Ratliff of Lakeland and came to Sanford several years ago, literally growing up with the Sanford Herald. A faithful and efficient employee he has attained the confidence and esteem of the Herald Printing Co., and now has charge of the mechanical department and is also a stockholder in the company. He is a young man of sterling worth and character and the young people start upon life's pathway under most auspicious circumstances.

The bride was most bewitchingly attired in a blue broadcloth going away gown with blue hat trimmed in ostrich plumes. They were the recipients of many tokens of the esteem of their friends and a table was filled with handsome cut glass and silver, the presents of friends and relatives. Among them was a beautiful silver service the gift of the Herald forey that was greatly admired by the guests.

After their bridal trip they will be at home at the Abernathy residence on Magnolia avenue, but in the near future expect to erect a bungalow for their residence. Their many friends unite in wishing them all the joy and happiness possible in this life in which The Herald joins.

Rose Meeting

The rose meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. T. L. O'Connor, First street near French avenue, Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is desired as the time is getting short for making roses and many more will be needed for the City Beautiful Ball than are now on hand. Mrs. John Meisch entertained very pleasantly last week.

Wedding Bells

Tomorrow night at the home of the bride's parents the wedding of Miss Genie Wicker and Mr. Norman Cary Toole will take place.

Music Department

A very delightful meeting of the Music Department of the Woman's Club was held at the Congregational church Saturday afternoon. A pleasing program of "The Music of England" was rendered by Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson, Mrs. Terwilliger, Miss Davis and Miss Ellen Mahoney, chairman. Business of importance was transacted and Mrs. Deane Turner elected chairman of the department, vice Mrs. M. M. Martin resigned.

Methodist Musical

The musical given on Friday night at the home of Mrs. L. R. Phillips, by the young ladies of the Methodist church was a successful affair and one of the most enjoyable that has been given in church circles this season. The program of music and readings was well rendered and gave much pleasure to the large crowd that filled the house. The silver offering aggregated a nice sum and a charming sociability and informality prevailed that made every one present feel at home and glad to be there.

Announcements

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club will meet at the Library Club Rooms of Oak avenue tomorrow Wednesday at 3 p. m. New members are cordially invited to be present. -Business of Importance.

The Social Department, Woman's Club will hold their meeting tomorrow night at the new club rooms. It will be something in the nature of an opening, being the first of the club meetings held in the building. Dancing will be the order of the evening.

Personal Mention

Mr. Leslie Bryan left on Saturday for Barneville, Ga., where he will be married tomorrow afternoon to Miss Viola Grace Howard.

Miss Bessie White has returned to Sanford after a delightful visit to Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Braxton Perkins returned Saturday from their wedding trip.

Mr. J. B. Polhill left Friday for an extended trip to Miami and West Palm Beach. He will combine business and pleasure.

Mrs. B. G. Smith spent Friday in Sanford while en route to her home in Oviedo. Mrs. Smith has been spending the summer in South Carolina.

Mrs. W. C. Hawkins and family have moved to Monroe for the winter.

Miss Laura Hawkins will spend the winter at Daytona.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Secord have returned from an extended visit to the middlewest, Niagara Falls and Canada.

Mr. D. P. Caldwell has returned from a business trip to the East Coast.

Mrs. T. A. Neal returned Saturday from a delightful summer spent in the north and east.

Mrs. W. T. Johns has returned from Kentucky where she has been visiting for six weeks.

Miss Ruth Pullan of Minneola spent the week-end in Sanford, the guest of Misses Edith Stewart and Clara Millen.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Gatchel have gone to housekeeping on Celery avenue.

Miss Lorena Smith spent the week-end with her parents at Sorrento.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Krupp, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner have returned to their home in Jacksonville.

Mr. J. H. Franklin of Oakland, Cal., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Long. It will be remembered that Mr. Franklin married Miss Maud McKenzie of Sanford several years ago.

Mrs. R. E. Tolar has returned from a pleasant visit to Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Wight are rejoicing in the birth of a little daughter Sunday, Oct. 18th.

Antioch Once Prosperous.

Among the sacred cities of the East, Antioch holds a high place, for it was here that the first Christian church was founded; it was, moreover, the center from which St. Paul conducted his missionary campaigns to convert the Gentiles. In those days Antioch was a prosperous and thriving city, boasting of a population of half a million souls, while splendid Roman palaces and villas dotted the banks of the river Orontes, which flows through the town. Today, remarks the Wide World, it is a sleepy, old-world place, occupying scarcely one-tenth of its ancient area, and certainly possessing none of its former glory. Nevertheless, it is in many ways a delightfully quaint and picturesque eastern city, with narrow, tortuous streets, every other house in which appears to possess an architectural style of its own. One can well spend about three or four days wandering about this interesting old town, visiting its primitive market place and inspecting its ruins, walls, gates, and ancient monasteries.

Pervasive Luxuries.

"So you went in search of a sylvan spot close to nature?" "Yes." "Did you find one?" "No. I went into the country—but I never heard so many pianos and phonographs and automobiles in my life."

His Surmise.

"I suppose you're your mama's darling," said a sentimental caller to young Richard. "I suppose she thinks you're a dear little saint." "No, I guess she thinks I'm a moving picture. She's always telling me I should be seen and not heard."

Timber Bridges Last.

Bridges built of timber, and particularly those of the Howe truss type, have shown a remarkable longevity, especially where they are covered in from the weather.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Music Department

The Music Department of the Woman's Club held their first meeting of the season in the Congregational church Saturday afternoon, with a good attendance. Mrs. Munson presiding.

Program—English Music. Duet Pomp and Circumstance, Elgar. Miss Davis and Luca Chappell. Vocal Solo, I Dare You to Forget. Mrs. Terwilliger. Organ Solo, Lost Chord, Sullivan. Trombone. Schumann.

Mrs. Munson. Trio from Mikado... Sullivan. Misses Frances Aspinwall, Josie and Junie Stumon.

Vocal Solo, Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes.

Various matters of business were attended to. It was with much regret that the resignation of our chairman, Mrs. Margareta Martin was read and accepted, owing to absence from the city. Mrs. W. D. Turner was elected as chairman of Music Department. Adjourned to meet November 17.

Had Some Results.

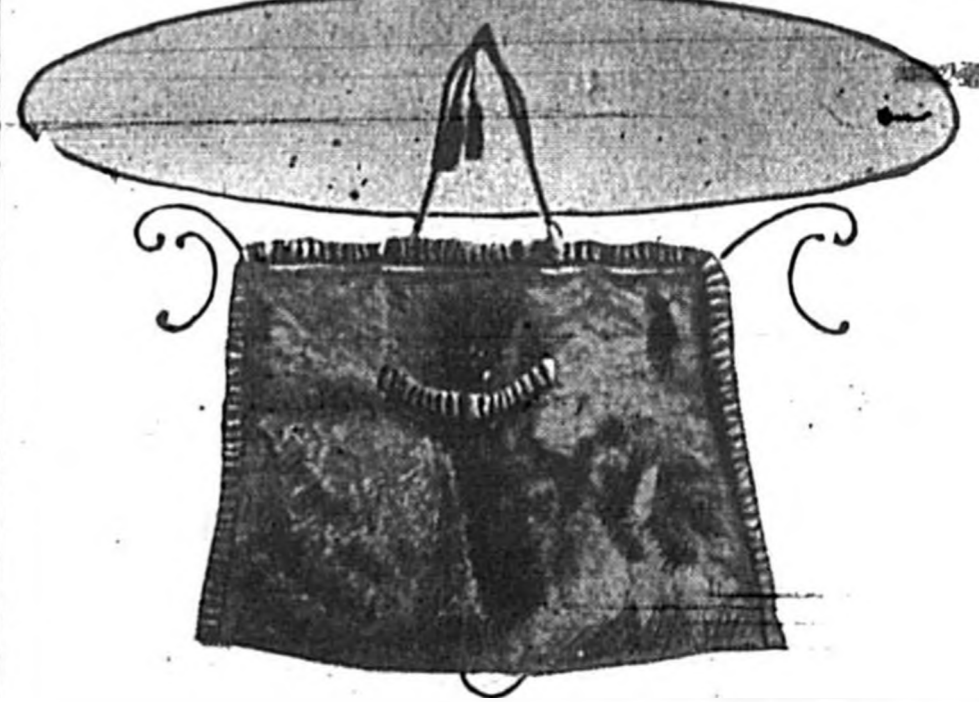

"What do you think of her voice since it has been trained?" "Well," smiled Brown, "I can't say that it is any better than it was, but there is certainly a whole lot more of it."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Starting on the Wrong Road.

The darkest hour in any man's career is that wherein he first fancies there is an easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it.—Horace Greeley.

The Uncomfortable Kind.

The Philadelphia minister who says plenty of $10,000 jobs are vacant doesn't alarm us. There are too many $1 and $2 a day jobs vacant to make the candidates comfortable.—Houston Post.

THE school bag is a great convenience to school children and a conservator of books, papers, pencils and handkerchiefs as well. It is better to carry the burden of books in a bag than in the arms. A bag leaves the arms free and does not interfere with the stride nor the proper carriage of the body in walking.

Bags are usually made of canvas, or of canvas covered with cloth. Hard twisted waterproof woads, cravenettes or rubberized clothes will protect the canvas stiffening which holds the bag in shape. Remnants of suitings or of cloths used for coats, in plain colors or dark plaids are selected to make the most substantial kinds. Fancier bags of plush, like that shown in the picture, and bags of leather are intended for older pupils.

School bags are usually oblong in shape and measure about twelve inches in length and ten in width. They are cut in the form of an envelope, so that extra width must be allowed on one side to fold over and form the flap. The sides are joined by a straight strip of cloth from two and a half to three inches wide, which is attached between them. The same are turned to the outside and finished with bindings of heavy woolen braid or strip of thin leather. All the edges of the bag should be bound. A long, flat, oblong piece of cloth attached to one side of the front of the bag makes a pocket for pencils, etc. At the other side a small pocket is placed, which will carry a drinking cup. A flap should be provided for this pocket. The flap on the bag and those on the pockets are fastened down with snap fasteners.

The bag of plush, shown in the picture, is made of a single piece lined with Skinner's satin. A small pocket is inserted at the front for the purse and handkerchief. The edges are decorated with a narrow plaiting of satin or satin ribbon. Three snap fasteners across the top hold the front and back together. Silk cord and tassels provide the handle. This bag may be used for a shopping bag, but made to match a small neckpiece and hat, will delight the older school girls or the young woman in college, and add much to her comfort.

Before undertaking to make a school bag it is a good idea to examine those shown in the shops. Only fairly substantial ones are to be had from a dollar and a half up. The home-made varieties are cheaper and will stand more wear than the cheap ready-made bags.

Marabel Brown Returns

Jacksonville, Oct. 22. After an absence of four weeks, which he has spent on the Pacific Coast in connection with the government's case against John G. Wilson, alleged 'white slaver' United States Marshal J. Clifford Brown returned Sunday morning, leaving I. R. Osterson, his deputy, in San Francisco to complete the work of prosecution.

Business is booming in Sanford and all appearances are good. Everything is a hurry and bustle in San Francisco. Even the loaders do their loading practically on the run.

Congregational Church

A new feature for the boys of our Sunday school is now offered, namely a class in scroll sawing starting from the simplest up to the most complicated work, which will result in toys, brackets, card cases, picture frames, glove boxes, match boxes, etc., etc.

A regular monthly feature of our Sunday evening services will be a musical prelude of twenty minutes, consisting of special work on the pipe organ, violin and by voices, under the direction of Mr. Woodruff.

Special music for next Sunday as follows:

- Morning: Organ Prelude, from Wagner, by Frances Aspinwall; Anthem, "The Heart's Prayer," Stearns, with soprano solo. Offertory, violin solo, Mr. Heas. Evening: Organ Prelude, "There is a Green Hill Far Away," Gounod. Anthem, "Seek Ye the Lord," Roberts, tenor solo and obligato. Offertory, "Day of Peace," by Miss Lucille Aspinwall.

The evening subject, a short talk by the pastor will be "The Man Who Was Looking for a Kingdom." All not attending elsewhere are cordially invited.

WILL ENFORCE THE GAME LAWS

NEW WARDEN IS ON JOB AND HUNTERS WILL BE MORE CAREFUL

A new game warden has been appointed for Seminole county and as there has been considerable complaint lately of some hunters shooting birds out of season it would be well for them to "look a fettle out" as the new warden has had his eye on them for some time.

Home Destroyed

The home of H. Wilson on Sanford Heights was totally destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. Mr. Wilson had arisen to get to his work on the railroad early and in some way the lamp caught fire to the table and before the flames could be extinguished the home and entire contents were destroyed.

New Seed Company

Attention is called to the fact that the Heron of the Sea, Inc., has started in this city on west North street near the Union depot. The company is composed of home people who have experience in the vegetable business and they guarantee good stock true to name.

SEMINOLE CITIZENS BROKE GAME LAWS

ACCORDING TO REPORT WILL FACE TRIAL IN ORLANDO

Several days there have been persistent rumors that several prominent citizens of Sanford were arrested the other day for shooting turkeys and that the arrest occurred in Orange county. We have awaited news from Orlando about the matter but so far the rumors have been unconfirmed.

According to persistent rumor here yesterday, several of Seminole county's most prominent citizens are alleged to have been arrested at Fort Christmas charged with violation of the game laws.

It is reported that the party was composed of eight gentlemen and that they were caught with the game in their possession, including six turkeys and several quail, and that they each put up one hundred dollars for their appearance for trial in Orlando.

Court Game Warden Ed. McDowell states last night that he had no official report of the alleged arrests, but that he would terminate to prosecute all violations of the game laws to the limit, irrespective of whom they might be.

Via Stork's Express: Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Potter on the West Side are rejoicing in the arrival of a fine new daughter. Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Roberts have a son at their home on Park street to keep the little one company. Mr. Hartman of the newspaper man in J. D. Roberts' store.

FINE MUSICAL TREAT COMING

FORREST DABNEY CARR TO BE HEARD IN SANFORD FRIDAY, EVE., NOV. 13

Music loving people of Sanford will be more than pleased to learn that Forrest Dayney Carr, probably the greatest vocalist in all Florida and several other states, is coming here the evening of Friday, November 13, for a rich and rare Recital Entertainment.

The title role, sung by Mr. Forrest Dabney Carr, basso cantante, was a fine exhibition of picturesque and intensely dramatic dimensions—a grand opera vocalist delivering grand opera music of the most modern and intense kind.

Cut the Amas Presents

Jacksonville, Oct. 22. In the future pupils in the public schools of this county will not be permitted to give Christmas presents to their teachers.

This was decided yesterday afternoon at the regular weekly meeting of the board of public instruction, Superintendent F. A. Highway.

Whereas, the custom of giving presents by pupils in the public schools to their teachers often works a hardship upon parents of meager means, and a hardship upon the children themselves to give the presents.

Resolved, by the board of public instruction of Duval county, that no teacher principal or supervisor in its employment, whether in the high school, primary, intermediate or grammar grades, shall receive or accept for herself or another teacher any gift or present whatsoever from his or her pupils, student organization or student body, be it further.

Resolved, that the superintendent of public instruction, furnish the principal of each school in the county a copy of this resolution that its contents be made known to each and every teacher in the system.

The Christian Endeavor Convention

The annual convention of the South Central District Florida Christian Endeavor Union will be held in this city, at the Congregational church, Oct. 30, 31 and Nov. 1.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR

Northern France and the coast of Belgium still are the fields where the most important fighting in the western arena of the war continues with the utmost stubbornness, but as yet without decisive result.

Outside of Belgium the holds of the battle are very numerous, Picardy, Champagne, The Argonne, the Woeyre, Lorraine, the Vosges and Alsace being referred to as localities where fighting is taking place.

In the eastern arena of the war both sides claim progress, but not in the same localities. Paris says of none but the Russians in the vicinity of Warsaw have driven the enemy back eight miles, and the Petrograd war office declares that Russian troops have saved Warsaw from a German bombardment.

There has been hand to hand fighting in the vicinity of Blonie and Prouschkoff in Russian Poland. The fighting south of Przemyel, according to the same authority, has been going on for six days with heavy losses on the part of the Austrians.

NO FLORIDA EXHIBIT AT SAN FRANCISCO

COMMISSION ABANDONS PLAN AFTER FAILURE OF ALL THE PLANS

The following report has been sent to Governor Trammell by the Florida Commission to Panama Pacific Exposition:

Hon. Park Trammell, Governor of Florida, Tallahassee, Fla.: In accordance with the decision of a meeting of the Florida State Commission to the Panama Pacific International Exposition, which meeting was held in the Seminole Hotel in this city on Friday last, we must inform you that the Commission finds itself unable to carry out the purposes for which it was appointed by your Excellency, and to communicate to you the desire and recommendation of its members that the Commission be formally dissolved and the individual members excused from further service in the capacity of Commissioners.

You may be assured that the Commission has reached this conclusion only after most earnest effort to provide suitable and appropriate representation for the state at the great Exposition which is to be held in California next year. Participation by Florida certainly seemed most desirable and to promise great public benefit, and your Commission formulated such plans as appeared to be feasible corresponding in the main with the plans which were being successfully operated in other states.

Recent events in Europe are responsible for a sort of depression, mental rather than financial, but which has a strong influence on the attitude of our people towards the idea of taking Florida to participate in the exposition. After a careful estimate of the situation we are constrained to believe that it will not be practicable to provide such representation at the exposition as would do credit to the state, and consistent with the policy of the Commission as announced at the outset; the abandonment of the project is therefore recommended.

A special committee has been appointed to close up the affairs of the Commission and prepare a financial report, a copy of which report will be furnished you at an early date.

Very truly yours, FLA STATE COMM. To the Panama International Commission

Chas. G. Elliott, formerly head of the drainage investigation of the department of the interior of the United States, has been elected chief engineer of the Peach Craig drainage district in DeSoto and Manatee counties.
