Cancer society desperate for drivers

SANFORD — The local American Cancer Society has a critical need for drivers to transport patients to and from treatment facilities, according to a Central Florida board member.

The Road to Recovery program is a volunteer run program, said Jennifer Finch, cancer control chairwoman for the American Cancer Society Central Florida Unit.

"We have volunteer drivers who transport patients to and from their treatment," she said. "Many of our patients would not get to treatment without our drivers. We currently have a serious shortage of drivers."

The next Road to Recovery training is Thursday, Oct. 27 from 10 to noon at the American Cancer Society office at 1601 W. Colonial Drive in Orlando.

For more information, contact 407-843-8680, extension 542.

Playoff berths on the line

While the season still has a few weeks left, there will be several crucial district games played this Thursday and Friday on the football field.

Sanford shop deals with deceptive dialing practices

By Liane Edixon
Herald Staff

SANFORD — Although the Sanford Flower Shop is approaching its 50th anniversary next year, business isn't all rosy.

The business, as well as other florist shops all across the country, is battling what they call deceptive phone listings. If you have ever searched the yellow pages, or the internet, or even called 4-1-1 for a local listing, you may have been the victim of deceptive phone listings.

In the local phone book, a company based out of New Jersey called Flowers with Gifted Elegance, lists Sanford Florist and Florist in Sanford, both with local telephone numbers. The problem? There is no such company located in Sanford. In fact, when you call the number it redirects you to a 1-800 number without you being the wiser.

Kit Thompson, who owns and runs the Sanford Flower Shop with her brother Tim Donahoe, said it's not so much the encroachment of her business she minds, it's the customers she feels for.

She has at least 40 documented customers who have called one of these phone numbers thinking they were calling her shop. In the event that something goes wrong with the order, they have contacted Thompson to complain.

Often times, Thompson will try to rectify the situation by calling the company out

Home owners: County needs to get in game

Residents want commissioners to study UCF stadium's impact

By Steve Paradis

OVIEDO — Residents near the University of Central Florida criticized what they called a lackluster response by Seminole County to mitigate the impact of a proposed football stadium on the border with Orange County.

"If Seminole County zoned us for single family residential, then they need to protect us like everyone else," said Michael Proctor, an 11-year resident of the 800-plus home Carillon subdivision.

More than 500 Carillon homeowners have signed a petition opposing the placement of the 45,000-seat stadium just south of their subdivision.

"People are not against the stadium, we want to reiterate that," Proctor said in an interview Monday. In fact, they have proposed five other areas on the UCF campus that could provide a mple parking, but have minimal effect on residential Proctor and Teresa Takac represent Carillon residents. They requested from the Seminole Board of County Commissioners a public hearing on the stadium.

Instead they received a letter from Chairman Carlton D.

Retention ponds relinquish shopping carts, cans, bags

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — Ten retention ponds that filter water flowing into the watershed of the St. Johns River were cleaned by a team of dedicated volunteers organized by the Seminole Soil and Water Conservation District this weekend.

The ponds, scattered throughout the five districts of the Seminole County Commissioners, yielded more than 64 jumbo bags of garbage, along with other large debris such as shopping carts, lawn chairs and discarded metal sheeting. Many cans, bottles, plastic bags and styrofoam containers were also among the collected garbage. Volunteers used kayaks in the larger ponds, and scoured the shorelines with rakes, braving mounds of fire ants, a gridlock of weeds, and hot weather in the spirit of environmental conservation.

"Retention ponds are designed to filter stormwater from impermeable surfaces before it enters local creeks and streams," says Michelle Thatcher, executive director of the SSWCD. "But sometimes the ponds are simply overloaded with garbage washed in with the stormwater and they can't fully function as a filtration system."

The St. Johns River watershed covers almost 9,000 square miles from its origins to its confluence with the ocean near Jacksonville. The middle basin, which includes Seminole, Orange, Volusia and Brevard counties, among others, bears a huge brunt of stormwater because of the intense urban development there.

"It's critical to keep a close eye on these retention ponds because of the sheer volume of stormwater they must bear," says Bill Belleville, author of a book on the St. Johns River ("River of Lakes"), and a volunteer in the cleanup. "If not properly maintained, the trash and related pollution will easily find its way into the river, sooner or later."

Seminole County does not have the funding to clean up retention ponds, but does send out staffers to pick up the pack-

Patsy Sims, right, is happy about her new Habitat home being sponsored by Realty Executives.

Tournament's prize: New Habitat home

Special to The Herald

LAKE MARY — After working hard most of her life, raising five children and out-living her husband, as well as her brother and sister, Patsy Sims is going to lose her home next month. And she's very happy about that seemingly tragic event.

In November, construction crews will start demolishing Sims' 80-year-old frame home on South Central Avenue in Apopka. Then they will begin building a new house on the same lot.

Sims has qualified to receive a house built by Habitat for Humanity of Apopka, most of it financed through proceeds from a golf tournament, the Hard Hat Open, to be played Thursday, Oct. 20, at the Legacy Club at Alaqua Lakes in Lake Mary sponsored by Realty Executives Orlando and Realty Executives Orlando South.

John Sabol, vice president of Realty Executives Orlando, said, "Players in our tournament have a great time and Patsy Sims gets a new house. It's truly a win-win situation."

Sim's father, Joe, lived in the house with his parents and when he married, he continued living in it with his family. When Sim's was five years old, the youngest of three children, she worked summers with other family members, picking string beans and white potatoes in Virginia, Pennsylvania and New York. In the fall, they returned to Apopka where Joe would earn a living picking oranges while his children attended school.

"I feel real good," Sims said about getting a new home. "Our house began with two rooms, then we added two more and an indoor bathroom. To get a brand new house is a dream come true."

Sim's life has revolved around the house on South Central Avenue for all of her 62 years. As a child, she played in it with her sister Jennie Mae and brother, Harold. She was married at age 17 and raised five children in it although it had no hot water.

The Sims family continued to migrate north and work in the summer. Then in 1997 her husband, Clarence, died. So did one of her sons while the other children moved out.

Sims survived breast cancer and still works in agriculture. She cuts and ships plants for the Lakeville nursery, working 30 hours a week.

She plans to attend the golf tournament's awards dinner, to thank participants for helping her obtain a new house. Maybe she'll tell them of picking beans and potatoes in Pennsylvania. Maybe she'll tell them about living in the same house all her life, one without hot water. Maybe she'll tell them how happy she is to have a new house for her grandson.

If she shares her stories, the golfers are likely to sign up for the 2006 tournament. To participate in the event Oct. 20, call 352-243-7450. Cost is $125 per player, $500 per foursome.

Alive After Five takes place Oct. 13

SANFORD — The October edition of Alive After Five will take place Thursday, Oct. 13 with a special fall theme, according to organizers.

Alive After Five takes place every second Thursday of the month. It is a street art festival supported by the businesses of the Art Asylum, the city of Sanford and local businesses.

The events include art exhibits from local artists, wine and beer tasting, live music and refreshments.

Alive After Five runs from 5 to 8 p.m., and takes place on First Street in Sanford. Visitors can pick up a map of participating merchants at the Welcome Center located in the old Post Office and enter for a prize drawing that takes place at the end of the evening.

Stadium

Henley. The board discussed their request, the letter said, but a public hearing would be inappropriate because the project lies in Orange County.

"We are not in a position to approve or deny your request..." Henley wrote Sept. 29.

"As I have stated to you in previous correspondence, Seminole County would be (and has been) given an opportunity to comment with regard to the stadium," he said.

Three days after Proctor contacted the county, he said, a staff report said it reviewed the 2005 UCF Master Plan Stadium Amendment and had no further comment.

Earlier comments by Seminole County staff included limiting "as much as possible" the traffic on Lockwood Boulevard and McCulloch Road, two Seminole County roads that lead to Carillon and the proposed stadium.

The county also suggested a game-day operations team be formed to manage real-time operations of traffic. A point-by-point review found no objections from Seminole County on the traffic review, stormwater drainage, and whether the proposal is consistent with the Seminole comprehensive plan.

Notes that Seminole County staff should meet with UCF consultants on stormwater and traffic were crossed out on the report.

Proctor said he has scheduled a meeting with Henley for Friday. He will bring his concerns about traffic, noise and fire rescue service with him.

"Seminole County commissioners originally zoned our communities as single-family housing based on comprehensive plans," according to a fact sheet devised by Proctor and others. Now, they say, UCF is changing plans.

"Our commissioners must comment on this 'compatibility' of the new north campus stadium with our community," the sheet reads. "The commissioners have never zoned any single-family community in Seminole County next to a facility of this size."

Residents of Carillon, just north of UCF, think this intersection will be clogged with traffic during the university's football games.

The new stadium plans include a 45,000-seat stadium, expandable to 65,000 seats in the future.

Proctor showed a reporter where students already park in the grass shoulder along the same road on which the stadium is planned. There already is not enough parking for everyday activities let alone a football game, he said.

Traffic is potentially the largest impact, Proctor pointed out.

A traffic study from the university shows how people will get to the football games. It says no cars will travel down Lockwood Boulevard or McCulloch Road from the east.

Gridlock on either of those roads before or after a game could decrease response time for the joint Orange Seminole County Fire Station that sits across from the entrance to Carillon, residents pointed out.

Palm Valley, a retirement community just west of Carillon is concerned about response time from the fire department during games.

Palm Valley resident David Gingold said students already cut through the retirement community, which has very narrow streets with 15 mph limits.

"Students driving to the game through here would be a disaster," he said.

"We fear that a stadium located at the northern location just off McCulloch Road would create a tremendous amount of new traffic in our neighborhood on game days and during concerts or other events held there," he said.

Rumors about the lack of availability of emergency care on game days have concerned residents. One rumor was that a fire truck and paramedic unit would park within the Palm Valley community on game days.

Gingold said Orange County would not provide a unit in Seminole County on game days. Seminole County said the closest station to Palm Valley is the Oviedo fire station. Gingold said the Oviedo response could be seven to 10 minutes longer.

"Since the average age of the more than 1,200 Palm Valley residents is greater than 65, emergency calls are frequent," Gingold pointed out. "While seven to 10 minutes does not seem like a long time, it often means the difference between life and death when the response time for a cardiac arrest needs to be under five minutes."

Proctor said he doesn't have much confidence in anything

"We're being blocked in Seminole County."

Michael Proctor, representing Carillon residents that UCF predicts about the stadium or its growth.

In 2002, he pointed out, the university predicted student enrollment for this year to be just under 35,000. Its 2005 master plan called for 40,400 students this year. The actual head count as of Sept. 4 is 45,391.

Certainly there will be an impact on surrounding neighborhoods, Proctor said, and the county commissioners cannot dismiss its own codes and comprehensive plan.

He predicted noise levels at the stadium and surrounding area would surpass acceptable Seminole County limits.

Parking will be a problem, he said. UCF plans to charge for parking, so people will look for free parking within walking distance with easy exit routes, and Proctor said that has Carillon written all over it.

He cited a Harvard University study about increased crime within a mile of colleges with "heavy episodic drinking." Recent news reports have pointed out how much drinking occurs at tailgate parties before the Golden Knights play.

He has contacted Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger. Proctor said the sheriff was concerned about the impact on crime, traffic and parking because the office enforces not just the laws but code violations as well.

"We have proposed five sites for the stadium that they have never looked at, not a single one of them," Proctor said referring to UCF officials. He said he couldn't find any new stadiums on college campuses constructed near single-family neighborhoods.

"They couldn't get it any closer to a suburban neighborhood," he said pointing to aerial photos of the proposed stadium site. "There is no justice in this."

He wants the Seminole County Board of Commissioners to listen to them and at least obtain funding to do independent studies on what the impacts would be.

Even Gov. Jeb Bush sees the possible impact, Proctor pointed out. When UCF first called for a minor amendment to its Master Plan, the state ruled that a major amendment process take place.

"We're being blocked in Seminole County," he said.

aged garbage volunteers removed. Herman Flannagin, of the Seminole County Stormwater division, said on Sunday afternoon as he collected the bags: "I really wish people wouldn't trash our community like this."

"A variety of birds and fish use the ponds as habitat, and the garbage can be deadly for them, just as it is on a natural river, creek or lake" says Mike Barr, Chair of the SSWCD. "It was gratifying to see the very dramatic 'before' and 'after' that the clean-up's had on each pond. What a great weekend! Libertarians, Democrats, Republicans and Independents all put their differences aside for the common goals of the county."

The SSWCD, with its headquarters in Sanford, is one of 64 such districts in Florida counties. Its mission is to educate residents to land and water conservation through a number of educational outreach programs. In the last few months, they have rallied volunteers to clean up the Little Econ, the St. Johns River, and the Wekiva River.

The retention ponds play a major role in helping to keep these natural bodies of water free of solid waste and pollution from stormwater runoff in the basins of those waterways. For more information on future cleanups, contact the SSWCD at 407-321-8212 or www.sswcd.org.

of New Jersey herself. "I've tried to help our customers," Thompson said. "You don't get any satisfaction."

In addition to rude customer service reps, Thompson said, people are also put on hold for a long time, and there is no guarantee on the order.

Thompson and a group of other florists in Florida have been working to change the way the company does business, since 2002. They have written letters to the Better Business Bureau, the State Attorney's office, the Federal Trade Commission, and the state of Florida. They are also in the midst of a letter writing campaign, and are asking other florists and consumers to join in, and to stop using Flowers with Gifted Elegance.

Florida actually has a deceptive phone listing law, but the way that it is written, there is no penalty for the crime.

"Why bother," Thompson said in frustration.

Flowers with Gifted Elegance, which is also known as Preferred Florist Network, Inc. was taken to court in Delaware for misrepresenting in their advertising where they were actually located.

In Delaware, the company now has to indicate their geographic location in any advertising and honestly answer questions by consumers so that they are aware that the company is not a local Delaware florist. The owner, Thomas Meola, and his companies, Preferred Florist Network, Inc., Newark Florist, Inc., TTP Inc., Flower with Gifted Elegance and The Kol Pond, Inc., were required to pay $50,000 to the state's Consumer Protection Fund in 2002.

Thompson's biggest concern, she said, is that her customers think that they are placing an order with her shop, because of the similarity in names of the companies. Also, when reps are rude and mess up the order, or in some cases the order doesn't show up at all, they think it's The Sanford Flower Shop, and not, Sanford Florist or Florist in Sanford, AKA, Flowers with Gifted Elegance, in New Jersey.

"Our biggest concern — We feel like the consumer is being frauded and our good name is being ruined," Thompson said.

She said the people on the other end of the line of the redirected local numbers are order gatherers, who are not trained florists, and simply take orders and send them to select florists in the area who have signed up with them. In

Protect Yourself

To avoid deceptive phone listings, do the following:

- Ask family and friends for recommendations on a local florist;
- Get a local florist that you trust and stick with them;
- Only call shops from the phone book that lists local street addresses with their phone numbers. If you call 4-1-1, ask for the street number and address, if there isn't one, chances are it isn't a local florist;
- Check out a florist with the local Better Business Bureau or the local Chamber of Commerce
- Ask the florist to itemize the charges. In addition to the price of the arrangement, most florists charge a delivery fee and taxes if you live in the same state.
- Ask the florist for directions to the shop. If they hesitate, or refuse, consider this a red flag, and avoid doing business with the florist.
- Hold onto the account card sent out after you place an order with The Sanford Flower Shop. That way, you can pull it from your wallet whenever you need, and you won't have to bother flipping through the yellow pages and trying to remember the Sanford Flower Shop, as opposed to Sanford Florist and Florist in Sanford.

turn, the order gatherers take a percentage of the order.

Thompson said that using Teleflora or 1-800-Flowers, is a different story. Her shop uses Teleflora, and refuses to sign up to fill orders from Flowers with Gifted Elegance. Teleflora is a reputable company, who takes care of sending flower orders to the right place. For example, if you went to The Sanford Flower Shop and ordered a tulip arrangement for your aunt's birthday who lives in Wyoming, Thompson's shop would send the order through Teleflora, and another reputable shop in Wyoming would fill the order. These two shops are able to connect with one another through Teleflora.

In the instance of Flowers with Gifted Elegance, based in New Jersey, they list a local phone number with shop names similar to the area so that the consumer is led to believe that they are located in your city. For example, if you called 4-1-1 and asked for a Florist in Sanford, most times the deceptive listing for Florist in Sanford would pop up first.

Then, when the consumer calls the number and is redirected to New Jersey, and they place an order for flowers to be delivered to a funeral in Sanford next week, that order gather takes the order, and a percentage of the sale, and calls it in to an actual local florist.

Thompson said that she had a gentleman call the other day who wanted to make sure that she was The Sanford Flower Shop in downtown Sanford. She said she was, and the guy told her he called the other numbers first, not knowing, but he quickly realized that they weren't local when he asked the woman on the line if they were located in Sanford, and she replied, "What state?"

Thompson said it has got to be confusing for the customer, so while she and other florists battle with local, state and federal legislation, she offered tips for consumers given out in a recent Federal Trade Commission article, as well as a few of her own. (See box above.)

The Sanford Flower Shop is located at 209 E. Commercial St., in downtown Sanford or you can visit www.sanfordflower-shop.com for more information.

'Minute Man' helps DAR celebrates Constitution

Sallie Harrison Chapter celebrated Constitution Week at its first meeting of the year Friday (Sept. 9) at the Fellowship Hall of Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Lake Mary. Sanford Mayor Linda Kuhn signed a Constitution Week (September 17-23) petition which was on display, along with a poster by Atlanta artist Brandon Gillotti, a graduate of Lake Mary High School.

Regent Dr. Lois Somerville and Chaplain Mary Williams conducted the opening ritual. The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of The United States of America was led by Virginia Powell. Elizabeth Nichols led all in reciting The American's Creed, followed by the singing of verse one of The Star Spangled Banner.

The President General's message was read by Virginia Powell. During the past year the National Society has gained 7,000 new members plus 800 reinstatements. There are 11 new chapters with 18 pending. The American Spirit Magazine was the recipient of two awards.

In presenting the National Defense report, Chairman Ann Howland quoted from an editorial that encouraged all Americans to recognize and honor the men and women of the Armed Forces who are performing their duties bravely and well. She also gave historical information about the Department of Veteran Affairs, established 75 years ago with cabinet rank and now the second largest of the 14 cabinet departments. Today there are 157 VA Medical Centers and more than 860 health clinics, 120 national cemeteries and 55 regional Veterans Affairs Offices.

culture of Native Americans.

After lunch, the Regent introduced the featured speaker, Dante Parenti, a resident of Orange City and a student at DeLand Middle School. Dante dressed in Colonial costume and displaying an amazing collection of early American artifacts, pictures, miniature war rifles, currency, costumed individual dolls in military and civilian dress, is working on his Eagle Scout rank requirements. His speech to the assembled guests indicated a comprehensive knowledge of the history of the Revolutionary War era. He spoke with assurance and humor and concluded the well received program by playing his drum to illustrate various calls — for assembly, marching, fire, and others. In a grand finale he played to the music of "Yankee Doodle Dandy." In appreciation, the Regent presented him with a patriotic angel.

The Chapter will be represented at the State annual Fall Forum Sept. 17 and 18 at the Florida Mall Hotel. At the next Chapter meeting, new members and reinstated members will be honored.

JA seeks volunteers

Junior Achievement of Central Florida is seeking business people in Seminole County to serve as classroom mentors for students in elementary, middle and high schools for the fall semester.

JA volunteers teach students to value free enterprise and our economic system. Regardless of a volunteer's background or experience, JA's delivery system provides training, material and support.

Volunteer opportunities are available at three levels and require about one-hour time commitment per week for five to eight sessions depending on the program.

Fall training dates are: Oct. 14 and 18, and Nov. 9, at Junior Achievement's office at 2121 Camden Road, Orlando.

Call 407-898-2121 or visit orlando.ja.org.

FIRE PREVENTION

Escape plan as important as working smoke alarm

SANFORD — This is Fire Prevention Week, a time to call attention to the dangers of fires, provide educational programs and pay tribute to fallen firefighters.

Most fatal fires happen in homes and at least half of those are preventable, according to statistics from the State Fire Marshal's Office. Having a working smoke alarm is a must when it comes to fire safety, said State Fire marshal Tom Gallagher, but equally important are practicing an escape plan and avoiding fire risks.

Gallagher is urging Floridians to check their smoke alarms and rehearse an escape plan during this week.

"If a fire occurs, you may have only a few seconds to escape," Gallagher said. "That's why it is critical to have a plan that you have practiced and memorized."

Last year, 415 people died in Florida and 790 were injured due to fires. While the very young and the very old are typically the most vulnerable to death or injury from fire, the highest number of deaths in 2004 was among men between the ages of 41 and 50.

The state offered the following suggestions for preventing fires:

- Burn candles in a sturdy holder and keep them away from children, pets and curtains;
- Use flashlights, not candles, in jack-o-lanterns;
- Use a flashlight instead of candles during a power outage;
- Keep an approved fire extinguisher in the kitchen;
- Do not use frayed extension cords and do not place extension cords under a rug or near a heat source;
- Do not overload electrical outlets or extension cords;
- If you smoke, do not smoke in bed and never walk away from a lighted cigarette;
- Keep ovens, broiling pans and kitchen exhaust fans clean;
- With small children in the house, turn handles away from the front of the stove;
- When frying foods on stove, do NOT leave the stove unattended;
- Do not wear loose or flowing sleeves when cooking.
- If a fuse or circuit breaker should blow or keep tripping, find out why.

The State Fire Marshal's Office offers seasonal and holiday fire safety tips on its Web page at www.fids.com/sfm. There are also pages for children, parents and teachers at www.fids.com/SFM/SFMfortheKids.htm.

The Biddy Ball
See Briefs, Page 3B

Eckstein displays his offensive versatility

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

For at least the second time this season, Sanford's David Eckstein showed that he is not a one-dimensional player.

On Thursday, the St. Louis Cardinals' shortstop drove in two runs without hitting the ball out of the infield, with a ground out and a squeeze bunt, and then on Saturday, he led off the game with a single and scored a run and later blasted a two-run home run as the Cardinals completed a three-game sweep of the San Diego Padres, 7-4, in the National League Divisional Series.

Sanford native shows he can muscle up when necessary

Earlier this season against the Cubs, Eckstein had squeezed home the winning run in one game and then came back a few days later to win a game with a home run.

The Seminole High School graduate, who led all major leaguers in hits the last two months of the season, got off to a slow start against the Padres, going just 2-for-9 in the first two games with one run scored and the two RBI. But he came alive in the final game, going 3-for-4 with two runs scored, a walk, and two RBI to finish the series 5-for-15 (.385) with the home run, three runs scored, four RBI, a walk, a hit by pitch and a sacrifice.

Eckstein was kind of the forgotten star for the Cardinals as teammates Reggie Sanders, who missed a lot of the second half of the season with a broken leg, drove in an NLDS record 10 runs and superstar Albert Pujols reached base 10 of the 13 times he came to the plate in the series.

For the second straight year the Cardinals will be facing the Houston Astros in the National League Championship Series. The Astros, who took St. Louis to seven games last year, rallied from a 6-1 deficit in the eighth and ninth innings on Sunday to send the game to extra innings and then won the game in the 18th inning on a walk-

Football teams set for big district contests

By Dean Smith
Herald Staff

To use a popular vernacular of today, the games get 'real' now.

With the Fall Break out of the way, most of the county's prep football teams return to the field this Friday with their postseason hopes on the line.

Only three county teams played last Friday, and from the looks of the scores, they probably wish they had Every thing was stacked against Seminole last Friday as not only did the Fighting Seminoles have to play on a week when there was no school, they had to travel to Daytona Beach and face powerful Mainland, in its Homecoming, and with former star quarterback Jon Garner, now a freshman at Georgia Tech, on the sideline.

And the Buccaneers (6-1) never gave the Tribe a chance, scoring on their first two possessions and never allowing the visitors inside the 27-yard line as they posted their third shutout of the season, 28-0.

Running back Julian Brown had another nice effort for Seminole, running for 111 yards on 18 carries, but the Tribe got virtually nothing from its passing game, throwing three interceptions, and the offense also lost one of three fumbles.

On top of that, the Tribe had two kicks blocked, including a 50-yard field goal attempt by Jared Gurtis, which was Seminole's only real scoring chance of the night.

Defensively, the 'Noles had a good effort against the state-ranked Bucs, holding Seminole High School senior running back Julian Brown (No. 28 right, shown earlier this season against DeLand) carried the ball 18 times for 111 yards against the vaunted Mainland defense last Friday, but it was hardly enough, as the Fighting Seminoles were shutout by the powerful Buccaneers, 28-0, at Daytona Beach Municipal Stadium. Things don't get a whole lot easier for the Tribe this week as not only do they face another outstanding defense, but they must also find a way to slow down Lake Brantley standout quarterback Bryan Bearden (above), who has rushed for 850 yards and scored six touchdowns and thrown for 300 yards and three more scores in leading the Patriots to a 4-2 record on the season. Game time for the Class 8A-District 2 matchup is set for 7 p.m. this Friday at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

Three-way tie in flag

Special to the Herald

Wow! That's about the best way to describe what's going on in the 5-and-6 year old division in the Sanford Leisure Services Youth Flag Football League.

Last Saturday's schedule was cut down to only two games because last week's rains only left one of the fields at Ft. Mellon Park in a playable condition, but the games that were played were exciting.

The Buccaneers bounced back from last week's overtime loss to outscore the Raiders, 35-14, and raise their record to 3-2 on the season.

But it was in the other game where the real news was made.

In what has become a weekly happening in the youngest division, a high-scoring contest went to overtime and the result turned the standings upside down.

For the second straight week the Giants pulled off an overtime upset, gaining more yards on their four plays in the second overtime period, to defeat the Dolphins. The game was tied at 35-35 after regulation time.

That upset, coupled with the Bucs' win, threw the standings into a three-way tie among the Bucs, Giants and Dolphins heading into this Saturday's final game of the regular season.

This Saturday (October 15th), in the 5-6 year olds, the Dolphins (3-2) face the Buccaneers (3-2) at 8:30 a.m. in a game that will clinch at least a tie for the regular season title for the winner.

In the 9:30 a.m. game, the Giants (3-2) will try to avoid an upset at the hands of the Raiders (1-4).

The two older divisions, the 7-to-9 year olds and the 10-to-12 year olds, are making up their postponed games this week with one game being played at 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Depending on the outcome of the make-ups, this Saturday's final day of the regular season in the older divisions should be exciting also as only the unbeaten Raiders in the 10-12 division had clinched at least a tie for the Brandon Marshall catches his second touchdown of the game, a 38-yarder, between a pair of Memphis defenders during UCF's 38-17 victory over the Tigers. The senior from Lake Howell also caught a 69-yard scoring toss in the second half and finished with four catches for 133 yards as the Golden Knights pulled away from a 14-14 halftime tie to win their third straight game.

UCF rolls past Memphis for third straight victory

Special to the Herald

Steven Moffett passed for 290 yards and three touchdowns to lead resurgent UCF to its third straight win, 38-17 over Memphis on Saturday night.

The Golden Knights (3-2, 2-0 Conference USA) are the third team in the last 55 years to win three straight games one season after going winless, joining Boston College (1979) and South Carolina (2000).

UCF freshman Kevin Smith had 164 yards rushing and a touchdown, fueling the Golden Knights' season-high 261 yards on the ground.

Memphis tailback DeAngelo Williams, who entered the game as the leading rusher in Division I-A, had 136 yards on 14 carries.

Joseph Doss had 33 yards on nine carries and both touchdowns for the Tigers (2-3, 1-2). But the Tigers sputtered in the second half; on five possessions, they had two punts, an interception, lost the ball on downs and managed only one score - a 40-yard field goal from Stephen Gostkowski.

Moffett had touchdown passes of 69 and 38 yards to Lake Howell's Brandon Marshall and Smith scored on a 1-yard run in the second half, breaking open a game that was tied 14-14 at halftime.

Dontavious Wilcox got the hosts on the board early, scoring on a six-yard run with 10:26 to play in the first quarter.

Moffett only used two receivers; Marshall caught four balls for 133 yards, and Mike Walker had 10 catches for 157 yards and a touchdown.

UCF outgained Memphis 551-301 in the game, controlling the clock for more than 38 minutes.

UCF returns to the field this Saturday, visiting Southern Miss for a C-USA game.

them to only 141 rushing yards and recovering four fumbles. But the locals also gave up 139 yards passing.

Travis Hodges led the Seminole defense with 10 tackles and one fumble recovery, while Travis Norvell had eight tackles and a recovery and Casey Mangrum, Doug Thacker, Daniel Sherman and Ray Ray Armstrong seven tackles each.

Mangrum and Sherman also had fumble recoveries, while Jewon Gilley intercepted a pass.

Things don't get a whole lot easier for Seminole (1-3 overall, 0-2 in Class 6A-District 2) this Friday as it hosts a very good Lake Brantley (4-2 overall, 1-0 in 6A-2) squad at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium starting at 7 p.m. The Patriots as always have a strong defense and have potent offense led by quarterback Bryan Bearden, who has rushed for 650 yards and six touchdowns and thrown for another 300 yards and three more TD's.

The other two games from last Friday involved private schools with Trinity Prep getting whipped by The First Academy, 33-7, and The Master's Academy losing to Pine Castle Christian, 28-8.

This week's schedule gets an early start as Deltona Trinity Christian (3-3 overall, 1-1 in Class 1B-District 4) will be at Orangewood Christian (2-4 overall, 1-0 in 1B-4) for a 7 p.m. game on Thursday.

The biggest game of the week will find Oviedo (5-1 overall, 1-0 in 6A-2) at Lake Mary (3-3 overall, 1-1 in 6A-2). The Lions can move into the driver's seat in the district with a win, while the Rams must win if they have any hopes of making it to the postseason. Game time is 7 p.m. at Don T. Reynolds Stadium.

Lyman (3-2 overall) has an important Class 5A-District 3 game as the Greyhounds (1-0) look to stay unbeaten when they host Pine Ridge (0-6 overall, 0-1 in 5A-3) for Homecoming at the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex starting at 7 p.m.

Lake Howell (2-4 overall, 0-1 in 5A-3) also puts its district hopes on the line when it hosts Mainland at Richard L. Evans Field starting at 7 p.m. An upset may be unlikely, but a victory would put the Silver Hawks right back in the playoff picture.

In another 1B-4 game, The Master's Academy will be at Lake Mary Prep starting at 7 p.m. Both teams are 0-6 overall and 0-2 in district play and win will be huge for both teams. It will also be Pop Warner Night at LMP.

In 2B-District 5, Pierson-Taylor (2-3 overall, 0-1 in district) will be at Trinity Prep (2-4 overall, 0-2 in 2B-5) at 7 p.m.

In a non-district game, Winter Springs (3-3) will be at Timber Creek (2-5) for a 7:30 p.m. game.

off home run to eliminate the Atlanta Braves in four games, 3-to-1.

Game 1 of the Best-of-7 Series begins tonight (Wednesday) in St. Louis starting at 7 p.m. on FOX (Channel 35 locally) with NL Cy Young favorite Chris Carpenter pitching for the Cardinals against former New York Yankee standout Andy Pettitte. Game 2 will be Thursday night, also at 7 p.m. on FOX. The series will then shift to Houston for games on Saturday and Sunday at 3 p.m. and, if necessary, on Monday at 7 p.m. If neither team has won four games by that time, the series will return to St. Louis for Games 6 and 7, next Wednesday and Thursday.

The game was the longest in innings and time, 5:50, in the history of postseason baseball.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox, which eliminated the World Champion Boston Red Sox with a three-game sweep, will be facing the Los Angeles Angels of Anaheim in the AL Championship Series, which was to have opened Tuesday night in Chicago.

The Angels ousted the 26-time World Champion Yankees in five games, winning 3-3 on Monday.

Game 2 of the series is also set for tonight (Wednesday) on FOX at 7 p.m., so you are going to have to check the listings to find out which game we will see.

Games 3, 4 and 5, if necessary, will be in Anaheim on Friday (7 p.m.), Saturday (7:30 p.m.) and Sunday (7:30 p.m.) and again if necessary, the series will shift back to Chicago for Games 6 and 7 next Tuesday (10/18, 7 p.m.) and Wednesday (8 p.m.).

regular season championship.

This Saturday's schedule in the 7-9 year olds has the Giants (3-1) challenging the undefeated Buccaneers (4-0) at 8:30 a.m. and the Dolphins (1-3) battling the Raiders (0-4) at 9:30 a.m.

In the 10-12 year olds, the Dolphins (1-3) will be looking to upset the Raiders (4-0) at 10:30 a.m. and the Giants (1-3) look to move up the standings against the Buccaneers (2-2) at 11:30 a.m.

5 & 6 YEAR OLDS
BUCANEERS 35, RAIDERS 14
Shayne Turner opens the game with his first touchdown of the season by running for a 30-yard score to give the Raiders the early lead.

But the Buccaneers offense takes over as Ahmad Grooms and Alexandra

Frazier both score touchdowns before halftime to put their team ahead to stay.

In the second half Frazier brought the crowd of 150 fans to its feet with a dazzling 50-yard touchdown run.

The Raiders answer back when J.T. Hollie breaks free behind great blocks from Patrick Hill and Kaleb Jones to score from 30-yards out, but the Buca widen the lead on a Terrell Davis touchdown and James Mathews seals the deal with another score.

Players of the Game: Buccaneers _ running back Alexandra Frazier; Raiders _ offensive lineman Patrick Hill.

GIANTS 35, DOLPHINS 35
(Giants win in overtime)
The Giants take a big lead, jumping on front 21-7 at halftime behind two scores from Charles Jackson and a single touchdown run by Casey Lessard.

But the Dolphins battle back behind Henry Segura and Daniel Charles.

Segura's second touchdown of the game jump-starts the rally and Charles takes over, scoring two touchdowns of his own to tie the game at 28-28 and force overtime.

The Dolphins win the coin toss to begin overtime and Charles brings the crowd to its collective feet when he scores from 40-yards out on fourth down.

But the Giants respond in a like fashion, with Jordan McIntyre racing in from the 40, also on fourth down, to send the game into another overtime.

This time, the Giants' defense rises to the occasion and stops the Dolphins on four downs.

Quarterback Lessard then gives his Giants the win, by breaking free for a 40-yard run.

Players of the Game: Giants _ quarterback Casey Lessard; Dolphins _ running
