The Golden Text is from Psalms
(108:3, 4): "I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: ... for thy mercy is great above the heavens; and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds."

This reassuring statement from Psalms (89:15) is included in the Bible readings: "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound; They shall walk, O Lord, in the light of thy countenance." Correlative selections from "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the arresting passage:
"The time for things has come
... The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal" (preface vii).

The Railroads RESPECT... The Union Leaders seek to REPUDIATE... this agreement!

What is the TRUTH?
At various stages in the present dispute with the brotherhoods of railroad operating employees
... the railroads agreed to arbitrate. The union leaders refused.
... the railroads accepted the recommendations of President Truman's Emergency Board. The union leaders refused.
... the railroads accepted the White House proposal of August 19, 1950. The union leaders refused.
Finally an Agreement was signed at the White House on December 21, 1950. Now the union leaders seek to repudiate the Agreement.
The railroads stand ready to put the terms of this Agreement into effect immediately, with back pay at the rates and dates indicated.
The Agreement is given in full below.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT
Washington, D. C.
December 21, 1950

1. Establish 40 hour week for yardmen with increase of 23 cents effective October 1, 1950, and additional 2 cents effective January 1, 1951.
2. Set aside 40 hour week agreement until January 1, 1952, and establish 6 day work week for yardmen. Effective with the first pay roll period after 30 days from the date of execution of the formal agreement, yardmen required by the carrier to work on the 7th day to be paid overtime rates for the 7th day, who shall receive straight time rates they do not now exist. On and after October 1, 1951, three months' notice to be given of desire to go on 40 hour week. Provide for consideration of availability of manpower and 4 cents per hour if and when the 40 hour week actually becomes effective.
3. Settle rules for 40 hour week and 6 day week.
4. Grant yard conductors and brakemen other rules such as daily earnings minimum, car retarder operators and footboard yardmasters as recommended by Emergency Board No. 81.
5. Settle following rules:
Initial Terminal Delay (Conductors and Trainmen)
Interdivisional Runs (Conductors and Trainmen)
Pooling Caboose (Conductors and Trainmen) Reporting for Duty
More than One Class of Service
Switching Limits
Air Hoses (Conductors and Trainmen) Western Differential and Double Header and Tonnage Limitation (Conductors and Trainmen, all Territories)
6. Yardmen to receive 5 cents per hour increase effective October 1, 1950, and additional 3 cents per hour increase effective January 1, 1951.

7. Quarterly adjustment of wages on basis of cost of living index (1 point to equal 1¢ per hour.
First adjustment April 1, 1951. Same to be 17¢).
8. Agreement embodying principles applicable to yardmasters to be entered into for benefit of yardmasters.
9. Effective October 1, 1950, the basic hours of dining car stewards shall be reduced from 225 to 205 hours per month; no penalty overtime to accrue until 240 hours have been worked, the hours between 205 and 240 to be paid for at the pro rata rate.
Effective February 1, 1951, overtime at time and one-half shall accrue after 220 hours have been worked. The basic monthly salary to be paid for the 205-hour month shall be the same as that now paid for the 225-hour month. Except that four dollars and ten cents ($4.10) shall be added to the present monthly rate effective January 1, 1951.
10. In consideration of above, this agreement to be effective until October 1, 1953, and thereafter until changed or modified under provisions of Railway Labor Act. Moratorium on proposals for changes in wages or rules until October 1, 1953, as follows:
No proposals for changes in rates of pay, rules or working conditions will be initiated or progressed by the employees against any carrier or by any carrier against its employees, parties hereto, within a period of three years from October 1, 1950, except such proposals which may changes in rules or working conditions which may have been initiated prior to June 1, 1950. Provided, however, that if as the result of government wage stabilization policy, workers generally have been permitted to receive no-called annual improvement increases, the parties may meet with Doctor Steelman on or after July 1, 1952, to discuss whether or not further wage adjustments for employees covered by this agreement are justified, in addition to living formula. At the request of either party for such a meeting Doctor Steelman shall fix the time and place for such meeting. Doctor Steelman and the parties may secure information from the wage stabilization authorities or other government agencies.

If the parties are unable to agree at such conferences whether or not further wage adjustments are justified they shall ask the President of the United States to appoint a referee who shall sit with them and consider all pertinent information, and decide promptly whether further wage increases are justified and, if so, what such increases should be, and the effective date thereof. The carrier representatives shall have one vote, the employee representatives shall have one vote and the referee shall have one vote.

11. If the parties cannot agree on details of agreement or rules they shall be submitted to John R.
Steelman for final decision.

The usual protections for arbitrators, miscellaneous rates, special allowances, and existing money differentials above existing standard daily rates will be included in the formal agreement.

The foregoing will not debar management and committees on individual railroads from mutually agreeing upon changes in rates, rules and working conditions of employees covered by this agreement.

TODAY'S BILLY VERRE

That Christ understood the deepest laws of nature is certain, but he said greater works than these shall be done. Maybe we will come to understand too? What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him!—Mat. 8:27.

When is a price freeze not a price freeze? Answer: When it is designed to please everyone and succeeds in pleasing no one.

Dorothy Thompson, the famous newspaper columnist, is speaking in the Winter Park high school auditorium tonight on the Town Hall Series.

Vivian Kellems, New Haven, Conn., industrialist won her tax suit against the government, proving that in this country even "big government" is not too big to take a licking once in a while.

The Wage price stabilization program got off to a bad start when its chief, Vice Admiral John Heaven turned in his resignation almost before he had been appointed because he would not use his office to play party politics. "It is true that I have resigned," he said, "I believe politics has no place in an organization affecting every American home."

We like to see a minister of the church and particularly a foreign missionary who sees no harm in hard work and the production of great wealth, and therefore we were particularly pleased with Dr. Paul Harrison when he told the civic clubs the other day he had no apologies to offer for America's high standard of living in the midst of an "imperial world."

"We didn't steal it from anyone," he said, "We built it." And it is of course true that because of our high standard of living, we are in a better position to help the rest of the world in its struggles for survival, and the best way we can show our gratitude to God for the brains, energy, thrift and co-operative spirit which produced this nation's wealth is to help others.

As the shouting and tumult died and the dust began to settle on last Friday's hospital meeting, what can and should be done became more clearly discernible. We should do everything we can to co-operate with the Fish and Wildlife Service in getting started and completed as soon as possible the Fish Memorial Hospital, while at the same time doing everything we can to get the Navy to postpone the vacating of the present hospital as long as possible, in order that the gap between these two events may be reduced to a minimum.

Although we sometimes think that public opinion is far ahead of the President in realizing the seriousness of the international situation, we are sometimes shocked and dismayed by some people at their apparent lack of understanding of what is going on in the world. One of the things we should understand is that the world is not a big place, but they don't think so. They think we should increase the size of it, but they don't think so.

We have been hammering for some time on the necessity of a price freeze, but we have not been able to get any action on it.

The Trade Agreements

A perennial subject of vigorous argument has been presented to the new Congress. This is the question of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. It seems only yesterday that Congress finished the last round of debate on this matter, but the act expires June 12 and hence there must be action by Congress before that date if the program is to be continued.

One trouble with the program is that its benefits have been less easily observed than the results which become the basis of objections. The attacks against it come chiefly if not entirely from supporters of the protective tariff principle. Since they see the purpose of tariffs as the protection of American industry from foreign competition, any lowering of tariffs appears bad.

The benefits are mostly on a broader, longer-term basis. One immediate gain at home is that American consumers are able to buy certain imported goods at lower prices, and this is what the opponents object to. Another is that some American firms find an enlarged foreign market for their goods. Over the longer term, the trade agreements stimulate the general flow of foreign trade, which is an important element in the margin of profit for a great number of American industries and lines of business.

This is important also to our general aim of promoting economic progress throughout the world, and specifically to the objective of maintaining an even balance of trade. If we believe in these goals, the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act is one means of achieving them.

Who Drives Better?

The question of whether men or women are the better drivers is one about which much heated controversy rages. That the answer depends on age as well as sex is the conclusion of Prof. A. B. Lauer of Iowa State College. After long study of driving records he concludes that from the ages of 16 to 33 and from 41 to 53 women are better drivers than men. But between 33 and 41 men are better performers at the wheel. Men have more mechanical aptitude, but women show better judgment and have better attitudes toward traffic regulations, says the professor.

These conclusions give rise to some questions. What happens to the woman driver between the ages of 33 and 41? Taking it for granted that men younger than 33 may be included to be show-off daredevils, what affects their driving capacity after age 41? It may be that the woman in her late thirties is likely to be handicapped by a cargo of children who form a distracting influence.

As to the woman driver's attitude toward traffic regulations, perhaps an innate or acquired feeling of deference to authority is influential not only in this but in forming her judgment. The professor's conclusions may clear up the matter as far as he is concerned, but we predict that they will not put an end to arguments on the subject.

Warning To Americans

Americans can face danger without getting panicky. That makes it worth while to pay attention to recent utterances by Governor James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, in his farewell message before qualifying for the Senate, and Governor Earl Warren of California. Both are serious statesmen, not alarmists. They may therefore be correct when Warren says that defense of citizens against bombing may well cost California $210,000,000, and Duff warns his people that an industrial state such as Pennsylvania with so many cities cannot hope to protect the inhabitants completely against attacks from the air.

Not since the War of 1812 has foreign war struck at continental territory of the United States. Whatever we may succeed in doing to any future enemies, there is a grave possibility that our long immunity may be broken. This warning can be given without fear that it will make Americans other than more resolute to do their part, and to prepare to defend themselves if necessary.

Congressman Herlong Reports

Never in the time we have been here has our office been so busy as it has in the past weeks. This activity of course is caused not only by the fact that our people at home are interested in what is happening, but because so much is being done up here by the Defense Department in the process of total mobilization.

Still leading in the interest of the people at home seem to be the drafting of 18-year olds. The Armed Services Committee of the House is now holding hearings on this and the testimony before the Committee is indeed interesting and enlightening. It was the general impression that the reason for the drafting of 18-year olds was because of the shortage of manpower. However, Defense Secretary Marshall, in response to questioning by members of the Committee a few days ago, in effect admitted that he wanted 18-year olds because they were better soldiers.

It seems that the Services' experience is that 18-year olds are more amenable to discipline, are more reckless, and will do things without thinking through the ultimate consequences of their actions than are older men. From this I would judge that he would want 18-year olds, regardless of how much manpower there is in the present 19 to 22 age bracket.

B. And P. W.

Following the business meeting an emblem ceremony for new members from all clubs was held at 11:00 o'clock in the Coffee Shop with the Ocoee Club in charge. Mrs. Hoover had charge of the orientation. Those from Sanford who took part as new members were Mrs. Carl Price, Mrs. G. T. Pearson, Mrs. Margaret Graham, Mrs. Beth M. Hamilton, Miss Dorothy Von Horebulla and Miss Gloria Studnitz.

FAREWELL TO ARMS

Korean War

These forces, U. S. and Puerto Ricans, infantrymen were supported by tanks, British, Turkish, Greek and South Korean were in the push elsewhere on the front. The Allies' five-day advance had been slowed earlier by Red counterattacks in battalions strength at several places, and by enemy ambushes on the central front.

An Eighth Army communiqué said the U. N. force with a line extending almost 100 miles from the west coast through the rugged mountains central sector, felt they were in the strongest position they had held since the Chinese entered the war last November.

Chinese and North Korean Red regiments and set up road blocks behind some of the forward U. N. units. One attack by 600 enemy troops six miles west of Ichon forced Allied units to fall back, but they later restored their lines.

The biggest clash started three miles northeast of Suwon, where an estimated battalion attacked shortly after midnight Sunday. The fire fight was hot and heavy for about two hours and then simmered down to skirmishing which continued long after daylight.

Later Monday, Associated Press correspondent Jim Beecher reported the Allies had punched eight miles north of Suwon, but the going was rough.

Farmers Market

Gross returns for 5,400 bushel field boxes of tomatoes to growers on the Florida City Market exceeded $60,000. Tomato volume is expected to continue increasing and few hampers of beans are now being offered the trade.

Only a light volume of produce moved over the Fort Myers State Farmers' Market due to cold weather of recent weeks, though demand is reported good on all commodities. California and World Brand Pepper led in volume and price, with eggplant and English peas following. A total of 1,564 packages brought gross returns of $3,846.

In spite of severe weather conditions the Pahokee State Farmers' Market reports prospects are excellent for a very good season. Okra was reported as having reached its peak and is expected to hold steady for several weeks. Beans, corn, cabbage, peppers, eggplant, tomatoes and okra are also being offered in light volume but of good to fair quality, with a gradual increase in volume anticipated. Planting is reported continuing steadily this year.

The United States reports its leading commodity for the week ending January 24 was cabbage with more than 11,000 bales brought an average of 34.5¢. Cotton followed with 5,700 bales.

United Nations

(Continued from Page One) for numerous delegates objected strongly to any Far Eastern discussions while fighting was in progress in Korea. The United States has been particularly emphatic on this point.

Meanwhile, Lebanon's Charles Malik, one of the Asian-Arab group, submitted two amendments to the United States Resolution providing for tagging Red China an aggressor. These also were intended to narrow the gap in the ranks of the non-Communist countries.

The major amendment proposed by Lebanon provided in effect that any U. N. steps toward sanctions would be suspended if a proposed good offices committee reported satisfactory progress toward a peaceful settlement.

Chief U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin told the committee Saturday that this could be done, but there was no specific provision for it in the American resolution. The U. S. plan merely called upon the U. N. collective measures committee to study the next steps.

Lebanon also sought to take down the U. S. resolution by saying the Peiping regime "has not accepted" U. N. peace bids instead of declaring it "has rejected all" appeals.

U. S. Van Bantusek of the Netherlands said his delegation would support the U. S. plan, with the proposed Lebanese amendment providing for a possible postponement of sanctions.

English delegate Bernard Van Langenhove expressed support for the American resolution.

French delegate Francis Lacoste told the committee France would vote for the U. S. resolution. He said the delegation has given the problem careful study and they know exactly what the facts are.

Prize Freeze

(Continued from Page One) A "snack." Neuse stepped out of his advisory post to the President in 1949 because of policy disagreements with other members of the Economic Council. He was before the congressional group for a panel discussion of inflationary problems by economists, businessmen and a CIO director.

As examples of "loopholes" in the wage-price law, he mentioned escalator provisions in labor contracts which link wages to living costs and the ban on fixing price ceilings for farm products below parity levels.

Neuse said these "will permit prices to move on up with the quiet but irresistible force of a glacier." The Administration is understood to be working on a request to Congress for legislation tightening price and rent controls.

Many Congress members are urging a go-slow policy toward any legislation which would apply the price freeze to farm products generally and to the food items now exempt.

The trade program is designed to eliminate or lower tariffs and other trade barriers in order to stimulate the international exchange of goods.

British Defense

(Continued from Page One) courses to 1,000 men experienced in air crewmen. Another 2,500 men, members of the RAF fighter squadrons, will be put into continuous training for three months, instead of following their present week-end training stints.

Attlee said the stepped up defense program would cost £4,700,000,000 ($13,100,000,000) over the next three years. Last September the government estimated it would need to spend £2,900,000,000 ($8,000,000,000) in the same period.

The United States taxpayer faces a "national survival" budget of $71,584,000,000, the highest in U. S. peacetime history. President Truman has earmarked three quarters of this for the building of American military strength and for bolstering defenses of other free nations against Communist aggression.

On top of this money to be spent in fiscal 1952, the President has asked Congress to vote $22,855,000,000 to be spent after the fiscal year ends, which would boost the grand total of the budget to $94,439,000,000. Of the money the President asked $41,451,000,000 was for strengthening U. S. armed might and $7,461,000,000 for "international security," mostly in the form of armed aid to other Atlantic Pact nations.

Soil Technician

(Continued from Page One) Walter Shaffer, who is in charge of the work in the Lake County Soil Conservation District, will aid farmers here and in the Orange county district. Mr. Jacobson declared. He added that it had been a great pleasure to have helped the farmers of the Semole and Orange districts get good soil conservation practices on their land.

Selective Service

(Continued from Page One) III, he said. "We are in a period we don't know what the duration will be—it may be for our lifetime."

Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of the Senate preparedness subcommittee made a direct demand for drafting 200,000 childless young husbands before calls go out to youths under the present 18-year age limit. He wanted another 100,000 taken out of the group now classified 6-F for physical, mental or other disqualifications.

The Texas told the subcommittee he is having amendments to that end drawn for the committee's consideration and will ask for Pentagon testimony.

Rural Common Sense

(By Syda Johnson) SHOPPING EARLY FOR FARM SUPPLIES VERY DESIRABLE THIS YEAR Shopping early for many of the things farm families must have will be in order throughout the coming months. With the national mobilization program gaining momentum every month, it is almost inevitable that scarcities will develop in many lines. The prudent farm family will lay in supplies while they are available, even though they may not be needed for a few weeks. It is much better to have them on hand for a while than to come right up to the time they are needed and not be able to get them.

Farm management specialists with the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service and the U. S. Department of Agriculture believe that early shopping this year will be particularly desirable with farm machinery and repair parts, fertilizers, insecticides, building materials and farm labor. These are the things most likely to show up in short supply.

At least until specific price controls are instituted, prices of oil, repairs and other items are likely to average higher than last year. When prices are high it pays to keep the machinery in good working order, even more than it does in normal times. While the fertilizer situation is fairly good, seasonal shortages could well develop, particularly with phosphates and nitrogen. The new insecticides and fungicides are likely to be short at times also.

Farm production is just as important to the national defense program as industrial production, and mobilization directors will endeavor to allocate supplies so that both can be kept going full tilt. But it will pay farm families to be forewarned in the matter of supplies and to keep available machinery in top condition.

Accidental Deaths From Drugs

(By W. V. Bliting Touchton Drug Co.) Do you know that 1500 people die each year in the United States from accidental poisoning? The contents of unlabeled bottles, remains of old prescriptions, and poisonous drugs that are kept for general use, cause many of these deaths, especially among children. Many adults die each year from overdoses of sleeping pills.

Why not clean out the medicine chest now and prevent a serious mishap in your family. Dispose of the contents before throwing away bottles and pill boxes.

This is the first of a series of National Advertisements appearing in this paper each week. Copyright

The Lamplighter

By TOM DOYLE

James Thurber is an underestimated American writer. One reason for this is because his subjects appear absurd on the surface. Another reason is that many people overlook or ignore Thurber because his cartoons seem so pointless and idiotic to them.

Mrs. Walter M. Haynes, Jr., the former Ruth Schroeder Callender whose marriage took place in the Grace Episcopal Church in Waycross, Ga. on Dec. 27. Mrs. Haynes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil C. Schroeder, of Woodstock, Ill. and Mr. Haynes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haynes, Sr., of this city. WHY A "Registered" Jeweler?
Your best assurance of true value and beauty in diamonds and jewelry comes from a jeweler with unquestionable integrity. The reputation of a REGISTERED Jeweler firm is passed upon by a Board of outstanding Retail Jewelers. A REGISTERED Jeweler must pass established examinations in the fundamentals of Gemology—the science of all precious stones and metals—and in new scientific methods of grading diamonds.
Now you can be sure to be safe when you select a diamond because you benefit by our scientific study of Gems through the American Gem Society.
To maintain the title of REGISTERED Jeweler requires yearly "customer-protection" examinations.
