(Continued From Page One) labor controversies on the railroad. Murray described the situation as "a direct challenge to Congress," requiring study of the law itself "with a view to improvement."

Murray's announcement came as a spokesman for the railroad declared there was "no truth" to reports that a settlement was near in another rail wage dispute. That dispute involves 1,000,000 non-operating workers—employees of offices, stations, yards and freight terminals—distinct from members of the operating unions who run the trains.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP)—The wage drive of 1,000,000 workers in non-operating units of the railroad industry was reported near settlement. Terms were said to call for a basic pay increase of 12 1/2 cents an hour, plus cost-of-living adjustments good for as much as 5 cents more.

Newman Tells His Own Success Story

Throughout the years there have been numerous success stories of how this man or that man started from nothing and finally achieved prosperity. But the best of all success stories is where a man in a run-down condition finally gets to where he feels good and fulfilled.

Wm. Bogard, ACOL, he says, "I wish I could tell my story to every man and woman in the country who is now suffering as I was suffering." Mr. Bogard was suffering a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron which HADACOL contains.

"Two years ago, at age 40, I was convinced that nothing remained for me in life. The most encouraging words I ever heard were: 'Maybe you will get straightened out after a while.' The only thing that really mattered to me was how I felt, and the fact that my apparent decline had brought my many dreams and aspirations in total ruins before my feet."

"I heard and read many stories and testimonials concerning HADACOL, but, unfortunately for me, I didn't take any of them seriously. I considered these testimonials to be from fictitious people with imaginary ailments who talked solely for money. How wrong I was! In spite of my wariness, I decided to give HADACOL a try. I took great care that no one knew I was taking it because I feared their ridicule."

Remember HADACOL is sold in a series money-back guarantee. And so inexpensive. Trial-size bottle only $1.25. Large family size, $2.50. If you thought you had HADACOL, order direct from the Leonard Corporation, 1000 N. 1st St., Sanford, Fla.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP)—The Progressive Party today called for a negotiated peace with Russia based on the co-existence of capitalist and Socialist nations. C. B. Baldwin, Party Secretary acting as its spokesman, told the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees the Truman Administration, with the backing of some Republican leaders, was following a course towards war.

Henry A. Wallace, former vice president and Progressive candidate for president in 1948, resigned from the party last August, opposing its foreign policy stand. He said he had to stand with his country and the United Nations on the Korean question. Baldwin said today: "The policy of containment is an utter failure. Our future policy must be based on co-existence. Therefore, propose that you call upon the President to convene a five-power conference to settle these (capitalist-Socialist) differences."

Cabinet Refuses To Eliminate One Package Bid Plan

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 20—(AP)—The Cabinet today declined to eliminate combination, or "one package bids with discounts" for legislative and supreme court printing.

Ervin said the combination bid "chills bidding" and "eliminates competition." He declared that daily requirements for Senate and House journals and calendars restricts the work to local printers, and that out-of-town printers should be given an opportunity to bid on general and pamphlet laws.

Reds Block Han River Crossing As Rains Bog Down Allied Advances

Americans Flatten Out Chinese Red Bulge On Wonju Front As Resistance Lessens

TOKYO, Feb. 21—(AP)—Allied forces flattened out the Red bulge in Central Korea today but in the west the Communists blocked two new Allied attempts to cross the Han River.

A driving, relentless rain turned the whole Korean battlefield into a mud puddle.

Field dispatches said the rain soaked GIs, bogged down tanks, filled foxholes and deepened the misery of the front.

A few troops took advantage of the rain for their first showers in a month; those who could took turns ducking into Korean shelters.

But for most, the rain meant constant soaking.

Red mortar fire—"the heaviest and most accurate I've ever seen," said one commander—drove back an armored patrol to the south bank of the Han seven miles east of Seoul.

Five miles downstream from Seoul, heavy resistance checked a South Korean patrol trying to cross the Han.

American and British troops mopped up Red stragglers south of the river.

On the east central front, United Nations troops thrust forward against light opposition.

On the west central front, advances were made, but they were held back by heavy resistance.

Young Denies He Receives Fees On Loans From RFC

White House Secretary's Husband Accused Of Rake-Off

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—E. Merl Young, one-time government messenger, swore today that he never received any fees or commissions from anyone who wanted a Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan.

Young denied to a Senate Banking Subcommittee that he offered to be influential in obtaining a $10,000,000 RFC loan for the Teasmas Corp., a Texas and Massachusetts oil development company.

His testimony on that point contradicted that of Ross Bohannon, Dallas, Tex., attorney, who told the subcommittee earlier that Young sought an $85,000 fee from Teasmas to influence granting of the loan.

Bohannon, who represented the Teasmas firm, had described Young as a man of "tremendous influence" who was "close to President Truman."

Young, husband of a White House stenographer, said he did not meet with Bohannon once at Bohannon's request to discuss the Teasmas loan.

Young quoted Bohannon as saying he wanted not only Young to work on the loan but as saying "they would have to have Boyle too."

That was a reference to William M. Boyle, Jr., chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Young said he had no recollection of Bohannon's statement and that Boyle told him "in forget it."

The Senate committee is exploring charges of "favoritism and influence" in the granting of loans by RFC; Edgar of St. Augustine, a million-dollar lending agency. A recent committee report criticized three RFC directors and said of Young:

Coroner's Inquest Is Ordered Into Lundquist Death

World War Veteran Is Found Dead In County Jail Today

A coroner's inquest was ordered today by Justice of the Peace W. E. Watson to be held Friday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock regarding the death of Russell G. Lundquist, 36 year old carpenter, in the County Jail early this morning.

Mr. Watson said that Mr. Lundquist had been found in Loch Arbor at 12:30 A. M. by Deputy Sheriff Charles Beck and was in a numb and cold condition when brought to the jail, wrapped up and placed in a bunk. The death must have occurred several hours before 6:30 o'clock, Mr. Watson added, declaring that he was called to the jail at that time.

He said that he had found no evidence of foul play in connection with the death.

Sheriff P. A. Mero stated this morning that Mr. Lundquist had been found lying in the yard of W. A. Patrick at Loch Arbor after the latter heard his dog barking, shortly after midnight.

Mr. Patrick notified the authorities and Deputy Sheriff Beck took Mr. Lundquist to the County Jail and locked him up. Sheriff Mero declared that the man was intoxicated at the time and had been in a state of dependency for several days.

Mr. Lundquist lived in Orapville on the South-west Road. He was born in Sanford Jan. 18, 1915 and had lived here all of his life. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving is the widow Mrs. R. G. Lundquist of Grapeville; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Lundquist; seven brothers, John of Fountain Head, Tenn.; Eric of Angwin, Calif.; Elmer G. of Jacksonville; Edgar of St. Augustine; Richard of Miami; and Charles and Roland of Sanford; and one sister, Mrs. Cliff Franklin of Washington, D. C.

Funeral services will be held at Erickson Funeral Home at 2:30 P. M. with Rev. S. L. Whitley officiating. Burial will follow at Sylvan Lake Cemetery, Paola.

Seminole County's Animated Exhibit Proving Popular

Seminole County's "animated exhibit" in the form of a style show with pretty girls as models is proving to be an outstanding attraction at the Central Florida Exposition in Orlando, and is literally "packing them in the aisles."

The idea was conceived by Chamber of Commerce Manager Ed Whitney, and the exhibit design was drawn up by E. J. Moughton, architect. Mrs. Whitney is giving valuable assistance in supervising the exhibit and style show, and in transporting the girls to and from the exposition grounds.

Last night a representative of The Herald made a "walk through" to see the style show but this was a bit difficult owing to the crowd, especially the much interested women.

The style show, featuring Florida fashions, is at the Pettie Paris negligee, was shown on a neat little stage to the right of the main exhibit. A silver damask curtain formed the back drop.

Participating were Betty Lou Patin (Miss Sanford of 1951), Barbara Johnson and Mildred Millers, all modeling Florida fashions of smart design and pastel colors, and Barbara Flynn and Norma Moore appearing in Pettie Paris creations.

The Seminole booth is ample in size and is located in the main entrance to the fair grounds.

One of the singular features of the exhibit, another of Mrs. Whitney's novel ideas, is the bed of live eelery which was furnished by American Fruit Growers, Inc., and "planted" by members of the Veterans-On-The-Farm Club under direction of John Pierson.

The presence annually in Sanford of the New York Giant farm club is well advertised by a miniature baseball field on the walls of which fly pennants bearing the names of the different clubs.

Flowers and ferns are displayed in profusion, including a large fern from the Belgian Gardens at Casaworthy and gladioluses grown by A. F. Ramsey. There is a pleasing, although small display of citrus fruit. On the back wall of the booth are mounted a number of maps bearing the names of all major communities in Seminole County.

Nick Hilton Brawls With Korea Veteran

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21—(AP)—Nick Hilton, recently divorced from actress Elizabeth Taylor, and an air force lieutenant became involved in a ruckus at Mocoamo Night Club early today, the sheriff's office reports.

Deputies were called but when they arrived it was all over. Aside from ruffled collars and tempers, all appeared to be serene. And the principals were not talking.

The Air Force officer was identified as James Paulson, a bomber pilot from Korea whose home town is El Paso, Tex.

Deputies said they couldn't tell who had hit whom, but witnesses said some blows had been struck. Mocoamo patrons also told the officers that it all started when the lieutenant, sitting at the bar with an unidentified girl, objected to something Hilton said.

Boyle's "Ham" Radio Car Tag Idea Spreads

An idea initiated by State Senator L. P. Boyle, an ardent radio amateur, of issuing automobile tags with call letters of amateur stations on them is spreading to other states.

The idea was first approved by the Florida legislature in 1949, and since that time has been adopted in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Yesterday Senator Boyle got a message from a prominent Georgia radio "ham" jubilantly announcing that a similar measure had been approved by the Georgia house and senate.

The main idea of the auto tag is that radio amateurs may be quickly contacted for aid and service during storms or emergencies. In Florida such a tag costs but an extra dollar.

Wolfhound Commander Michaelis Is Promoted To Brigadier General

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Feb. 21—(AP)—"Fire chief Mike" has moved up to a general's job.

"He'll either be a general or a dead colonel," admiring GIs once said of John (Mike) Michaelis, a famous fighting leader of the Korean war.

Today it was announced that Col. Michaelis, leader of the 27th (Wolfhound) Regiment has been advanced to assistant commander of the 25th Division, succeeding Brig. General Joseph S. Bradley.

Michaelis has been nominated for brigadier general.

General Bradley is taking over the 25th Division, replacing Maj. General William B. Kean who is to command the U. S. Third Corps at Camp Roberts, Calif.

The lean, blond, tough Michaelis and his 27th Regiment have been the fire brigade of the Korean war—rushed in where the fighting was fiercest to plug holes in sagging Allied lines.

Men of the 27th gained fame in the early days of the Korean war—fighting last summer, when they made a gallant stand in the "howling alley" north of Yongsu. Both were slaughtered trying to bend down the road.

New leader of the Wolfhounds is another tough fighting man, Lt.

Atomic Bomb Deters Russia, LeMay Claims

Strategic Air Force Chief Favors Dispatch Of American Troops To Europe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Lt. General Curtis E. LeMay, who commands the U. S. fleet of long-range Atomic Bomb planes, said today that his threat rather than any ground forces in Europe probably will deter Russia from starting a general war in the next two or three years.

But LeMay said he favors the Administration's plans to send U. S. Army troops to serve in a combined European defense force.

Specifically, he opposed at Senate hearings a resolution by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.) which would declare the Senate opposed to sending any troops without prior congressional approval.

LeMay explained he did not think the hands of the military should be tied by Congress.

Under such restriction, he said, "I would be handicapped very much in where I could place my wings and groups after war started."

LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, testified at Senate hearings on the troops-to-Europe issue. The hearings are being held by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees.

LeMay called his big bombers the "only effective weapon" this country now has for dealing with Russia in event of war. When Wherry asked if they could knock out Russia by long-range bombardment, the general replied: "I don't know. That's my job to try and achieve that and not to say 'No'."

Wherry opposes the Administration plan to put six Army divisions into a combined European defense force against possible Communist aggression.

The Senator obviously hoped to find support for his position from the testimony of LeMay. The general was a cautious witness.

"At one point he said ground soldiers would be needed in any war, then, when Wherry asked if there should be any commitments of ground troops to fighting in Europe until the long range bombardment program was developed, LeMay said it should be avoided if possible, adding:

"No one should fight until ready."

"In event of war with Russia what do you think would be our most effective weapon?" Wherry asked.

All Segments Of U. S. Must Co-operate In Defense Effort, President Asserts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The government today banned the sale of new cars at inflated prices in the used car market and set dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all used cars. The action was announced by the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS). The new regulations are effective Mar. 2. Bruce Morris, chief of the agency's automobile pricing division, said the move was designed to halt a "wide-spread" flow of new cars into the used car market and to prevent used cars from selling above new car prices.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—President Truman said today "We are gradually approaching a position" in which a third world war can be prevented.

All the current attempts to build up men and material is merely an effort to prevent such a war, he told a group of Masonic leaders. He added:

"We are gradually approaching a position in the world where that can be prevented, if we have the support and cooperation of all segments of the population.

"And that means industry, labor, and farmer and you gentlemen—and all the white collar people who do the inside work to make these other things operate."

Mr. Truman spoke at a breakfast for Masonic leaders from all over the country. The breakfast was given at the Statler Hotel by an old Kansas City friend, Frank Land, who heads the Demolays, an organization for young men.

Mr. Truman said the moral forces in this country must be mobilized "to prevent selfishness of certain groups from an endeavor to take advantage of this situation."

"Everybody, I don't care who he is, or what his condition or position is— from the President of the United States to the laborer who digs in the trench—must make some sacrifice in order that the whole country may be mobilized to meet the serious situation with which we are faced," he said.

Mr. Truman said he realized that it's difficult for most people (Continued on Page Six)

Lonely Old Man Is Electrocutated For Killing Schuh

Stay Of Execution On Plea Of Insanity Is Denied By Board

RAIFORD, Feb. 21—(AP)—A lonely old man was electrocuted at Florida State Prison today for the slaying last Apr. 24 of State Rep. Charles Schuh of St. Petersburg.

He was 71-year-old Charles Gifford who contended he shot the administrative House leader during an argument over money due him for distributing campaign literature.

Assistant Superintendent J. G. Godson said Gifford had told them he was "alone in the world with no relatives or friends. I just wanted to see Homer, Godson said, Gifford got this over with as soon as possible."

He would be buried in the prison cemetery.

In a Clemency hearing yesterday on grounds he was in his right mind, attorneys pointed out that Gifford's divorced wife attempted to have him declared insane in 1947. An examiner then ruled he did not require a guard.

Better Co-operation With Tourist Club For Entertainment Program of Winter Visitors Urged

Better co-operation with the Tourist Club for the entertainment program for the winter visitors was urged last night at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the City Hall where Clifford M. Kibbin reported on a recent meeting between officials of the club and City officials.

The board voted to appropriate $25 to assist the Tourist Club in its operating budget and also instructed Manager Ed Whitney to arrange a special party and program of entertainment for the club some time during the month of March.

With Jack Hall presiding in the absence of President H. James Gull, the proposed plan was taken up by the Chamber of Commerce and discussed and it was voted to fix the membership dues at $12.50 per year.

Mr. Whitney was authorized to arrange with the Tourist Club to take photographs in connection with the Giant's farm training program starting here next month and to send these photographs to home town newspapers for publicity purposes.

Eisenhower Takes Over Command Of European Forces

Operational Control Over Army To Begin Within One Month

VERSAILLES, France, Feb. 21—(AP)—The General and his lady, Atlanta, Pa. Commander Dwight D. and Mrs. Eisenhower, arrived in Europe today— he to command the West's international army, she to rule a suite in the Hotel Itonan Palace here.

A letter brought them ashore through high seas early this morning at Cherbourg, from the Queen Elizabeth. After a brief "Champaign Breakfast" and a few well-chosen words, the couple and their party flew by Constellation to Paris.

After an hour in the air and a few minutes at the French capital's Orly Field, the group set off on the half-hour drive to Versailles.

From their hotel here they could see nearly the massive palace of King Louis XIV, scene of the signing of the short-lived peace of World War One.

"The and Mamie" moved at once into first floor suite in the hotel. They were expected to spend most of their first day here unpacking into a private residence not far from the hotel.

Wilson Brothers Stick Together In Basic Training

BROOKLEY, Ala., Feb. 21—(Special)—The brothers of Sanford, Fla. who have been in the same units since entering the Air Force together over one year ago broke brotherly ties as they began a new assignment with the 125th Squadron of the 470th Air Transport Group at Brookley.

The brother airmen, Pfc. Frank and Milton Wilson, 20 and 22 years old respectively, enlisted in the Air Force, Feb. 21, 1950 at Tampa. They went through basic training together at Lackland AFB, Texas and then both went to Airplane and Engine Mechanics technical school at Sheppard AFB, Tex. They arrived at Brookley Thursday.

"Since being in the Air Force we have been in the same barracks with beds side by side," Milton jubilantly related.

"During technical school we averaged 3.7 in our grades," Frank added.

"And now we are hoping to be assigned to the same plane as maintenance technicians," they said. However, they expect their next assignment will be temporary duty for specialized training.

Both are graduates of Seminole High School; Frank in 1948 and Milton in 1949. Their mother, Mrs. O. B. Griggs, lives at Sanford. Another brother, Jack, 17, enlisted in the infantry last month and is now stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C.

No More National Guard Divisions To Be Called Unless Crisis Worsens

By ELTON C. FAY
ASSOCIATED PRESS MILITARY AFFAIRS REPORTER
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—The plan of the Army to release National Guardsmen when their federal service time runs out next year opposed today to leave unchanged the probability that at least two of the presently federalized six Guard divisions will be sent overseas in the next few months.

The Army also disclosed, in a news conference yesterday by its training chief, Maj. General Maxwell B. Taylor, that it will call no more guard divisions "unless the world situation changes."

This latter statement startled some Congress members and brought predictions that the lawmakers would make inquiries. Senator Bridges (R-NR) of the Senate Armed Services committee called it a "change in policy" and said he thought the committee would want to look into it.

And Senator Jenner (R-Ind.) said he was confused. If the Guard isn't to be used, he asked, why are they getting set to buy equipment for 10,000,000 men?

Under existing law, the Army has no choice about releasing Guardsmen when the terms of the federal service expires. The Draft Act, under which the government would call in the Guard units, provides the units may be kept in federal service for 21 months. Legislation now pending in Congress would extend that time to 24 or 27 months, the time varying with different bills which have been offered.

Four National Guard Infantry divisions and two regimental combat teams were federalized last September—the 28th Division of California; 43rd of Vermont-Connecticut-Rhode Island; 45th of Oklahoma and the 106th RCT of South Dakota and 27th RCT of Tennessee.

Two more divisions were federalized last month—the 31st of Alabama-Mississippi and 47th of Minnesota-North Dakota. In addition, there have been a large number of Guard units of subdivision size called since the start of the Korean war.

Taylor said that the start of this year 1,087 units with an actual total strength of about 95,000 were in federal service. This included units ranging from divisions down to small organizations, but did not embrace the approximately 2,800 officers and men in the main 2,800 units and men in the (Continued on Page Two)

State Legislatures Spurn Bills Outlawing Discrimination In Jobs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bills that would force employers to hire their workers without regard of race, creed or color are finding as tough going in most state legislatures as they have in Congress.

Only seven states have laws with teeth in them that outlaw discrimination, and three others have set up Fair Employment Practices Commissions on an educational basis.

These are the findings of a national survey by the Associated Press to see how this phase of the civil rights program has fared during the 10 years since President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued his first FEPC order in 1941.

Hills to set up Fair Employment Practices Commissions are pending in 12 state legislatures now in session. But nine of those 13 previously have defeated similar measures or permitted them to die in committee.

Twenty-six other states have no FEPC. They include all the southern states where such laws are opposed on grounds they would upset the South's traditional segregation of races and stir up new racial animity.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

That is better than nothing but not so good as a clear record. Often it is too late to make amends for an ugly evil deed. If I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him four-fold.—Luke 19:8.

The Moughtons of Sanford will be interested to know that the Isle of Man near Britain has been discovered to be a rich source of uranium.

Publicity seekers should not feel aggrieved when we make a small charge for space in our paper. One Sanford merchant, we are told, has over 500,000 articles for sale in his store. The only thing we have to sell is space. If we gave it all away, there soon wouldn't be any newspaper here at all, and then no one would get any free publicity.

The notion that Russia was bluffing, that her uncooperative attitude was designed merely to encourage the West to spend itself into bankruptcy, chaos and Communism, was pretty well blasted by Stalin's recent interview in Pravda. The West is already spreading pretty generously. No further prompting in this direction was needed from Stalin or anyone else, if no real war is in sight. What Stalin was trying to say is that we must quit depending, give up, or there will be war.

Prudence. Being with heart disease is a dread job to drive automobiles by the State Highway Patrol. The nervous tension of driving in traffic, the strain of even minor accidents, can often induce a fatal heart attack in one subject to such disorders. More than that the lives of others are endangered by a driverless car careening down the highway. But it is too much to expect that people already troubled by their physical ailments will bring on new troubles for themselves by eliminating their driving privileges and automatically become more or less house-bound. What is needed is a State law requiring annual physical examinations as a prerequisite to a driver's license.

There will be plenty of gasoline for everyone to go motoring all over the country this summer, and for the military to have all it needs, says a government report from Washington. There will be plenty of nearly everything else this report continues, so there is no need to hoard. However, hoarding is going on at a merry pace, as business men, and even housewives, stock up for the lean years so confidently expected. We saw one man going out of a grocery store the other day with 12 boxes of snuff under his arm. Too bad many of the things being hoarded will spoil before they can be used or will be stolen so that their owners can get no good out of them, after making their contribution to the mad pressure boosting prices, which all have to pay, out of sight.

I have never seen a really bad boy, said a Miami constable as he set out to another state to bring back a young man wanted for robbery. Meanwhile, a Sanford youth, convicted a year or two ago of breaking into automobiles and stealing clothes, and later paroled, is arrested in Miami City on a charge of stealing $10,000 in bonds. And the constable, who had never seen a really bad boy, is picked up alongside a south Georgia highway riddled with bullet holes, with his own gun, the boy had gone to pick up, missing. All of which reminds us of the story of the devoted father who placed his small son on the ground piece and in the next breath the boy was dead.

Credit Restrictions

Credit restrictions always hurt. The order requiring cash payment of half of the cost of most nonresidential construction is a severe blow against much private business building. Requirement for higher down payments and shorter payment periods for houses, furniture, automobiles, appliances and other things already have put a damper on the plans of families to buy those things, and more curbs on the credit extended to the individual buyer may be in prospect. These rules put more demands on a family's supply of ready cash at a time when the cost of living is rising and dollars seem harder to come by. Why are these rules made? There are two purposes. One is to do the very thing which hurts, to cut down the ability of people and businesses to buy things. This relieves the strain on the supplies of materials and goods. The other purpose is to slow down inflation. But don't price and wage ceilings stop inflation? Ceilings on prices and wages are temporary bars to inflation. They are like an attempt to keep a kettle from boiling over by putting a tight lid on it. If there is a fire under the kettle the natural inclination of water in the kettle is to boil. Putting curbs on credit is like turning down the fire. If the amount of goods available for sale becomes smaller, while the ability of people to buy remains the same, the natural inclination of prices is to rise. When things are bought on terms they are bought with money which hasn't been earned yet. If this ability to spend money ahead of time is curbed, people are less able to buy, and the natural tendency of prices is to stay down to keep in balance with the ability to buy. Restriction of credit is a sensible companion for wage and price ceilings.

Trouble For The Reds

There is evidence of a new split within the Communist ranks in Europe. This is in Italy, where the Communists are not in power, although they came very near to winning in elections of 1948. Some of their organizational leaders and local officials have resigned from the party, explaining that they could not put allegiance to international Communism ahead of allegiance to Italy. There is talk of a new party in Italy which would attempt to gather in the Communists as its members, but would not be loyal to Moscow. That probably is just talk. Such a party would be most difficult to form and would always be under suspicion. But it is significant that some of the high leaders in the party in Italy have discovered that there is a conflict between Italian national interests and the interests of Italian Communists. Usually that discovery, on the part of party supporters, does not come until after a country has been safely enclosed by the Iron Curtain. Discovery of this conflict is presumed to be at the root of the quarrel between Yugoslav Communist leaders, under Tito, and the international Reds at Moscow.

If a real split develops in Italy, this should not only cause trouble for the party regulars there but should also give Communists in other European countries something to think about. It might set some of them to comparing the aims of their own nations, and to questioning which should have their first loyalty. The results of such thinking could hardly be profitable for the program of the Communists.

Beware Of Rumors!

Alarmist rumors about the fighting are not the only ones to be received skeptically. Wild stories about shortages and plans for rationing crop up periodically, and are responsible for the raids of hoarders on our stores. Do not be in a hurry to believe these.

Tales circulated during World War II, it can easily be recalled, presaged the rationing of almost everything a person would want to buy. In fact, relatively few things were rationed, and fewer still to a degree which caused real inconvenience.

There are similar yarns aboard now, and more will be coming. Don't swallow them too readily.

Brigadier General

that's what they're supposed to be. They are as good as any regiment ever sent into battle.

When he left them Feb. 15 he said: "I felt like bawling for the first time in my life."

His swabbing men, who chant the "Wolfhound" cry, punctuated with Rebel yells and siren blasts when they charge into action, felt the same way.

Michael said the Army has learned "no real new lesson" in Korea but has learned that the same fundamentals taught in 1940 are still sound today. Training of American soldiers must be tougher, he said.

"They must be lean and mean. They get that way through rugged training—not watching USO shows. We need more marching in the Army, more time spent taking machineguns apart and less on lectures on dialectical materialism."

Michael inspires legends, five feet, 11 inches, straight as a rifle barrel, he has kind eyes and a mild manner. But when he is in action, he is all fighting man.

He landed in Korea July 7. Three days later he met his regiment at the dock.

"I took eight carloads of mandolins and easy chairs away from them," he said. "I stripped them for action and it didn't take long for them to get it."

On July 20 the Wolfhounds met the North Koreans at Yongdong and stopped them cold. It was the first time an American unit had halted the enemy. It was not the last for the Wolfhounds.

A few days ago in Korea his Wolfhounds staged the most deadly bayonet charge of the Korean conflict. Military observers said that charge took a greater toll of lives with knife than any since the American revolution.

His successor as leader of the Wolfhounds, Lt. Col. Check, is a former battalion commander.

National Guard

Our divisions called up most recently.

The Guard divisions came into federal service last September when they averaged about 65 per cent of their full strength. The Army since then has been building up toward the full strength of 18,000. This means that when the divisions are at full strength, almost half of their men won't be National Guardsmen but regular army enlistees and draftees.

One well-known army official once stated that individual guardsmen would be trained as regular army divisions called should not be taken as precluding overseas assignment or part of all of the divisions.

Even if only the 11-month service is required, it will be early in 1952 before the Guardsmen are eligible for return to their states. Meanwhile, the training continues. Have ample time to get replacements ready to fill up the vacancies in the divisions.

tional platform, urged the President to by-pass Congress and create by executive order an FEPC with power of enforcement.

4. Bills have been introduced in both houses to set up an FEPC with enforcement authority, but committees have yet to begin hearings.

If Congress refuses to act, Mr. Truman may follow FDR's course and create a commission by executive order. All he has said on that point is that when his sees and to act he will do so legally.

An order by Mr. Truman on Feb. 2 indicated history may be repeating itself. He directed the Defense and Commerce Departments to include in all defense contracts provisions forbidding discrimination on grounds of race, creed, color or national origin. This would apply to both prime and sub contracts.

The same ban was included in the first FEPC order issued by Mr. Roosevelt on June 25, 1941. This created the first FEPC commission. Less than a month later he appointed a commission of six to serve without pay.

Mr. Roosevelt issued another order May 27, 1943, creating a new committee with a full-time chairman. The committee's work ended in June, 1946, when Congress refused to appropriate funds for the ensuing year.

The committee was directed by the President to eliminate discrimination in employment practices within the federal government and in companies and labor unions working on government contracts or engaged in the production of materials necessary to the war effort.

As a practical matter, the committee served only as a clearing house for complaints. It has no enforcement powers of its own and to recourse to the courts.

Contrary to popular belief, the FEPC did not have jurisdiction in a case merely because the party charged was engaged in interstate commerce. It has no power to deal with privately owned and operated plants which did not have government contracts or subcontracts and which were not engaged in activities essential to the war effort, even though they were engaged in interstate or foreign commerce.

On the state government level, New York has pioneered FEPC. A New York state commission against discrimination began work July 1, 1945.

The New York law carries penalties. Violation of a commission order is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment up to a year or by a fine of not more than $500, or both.

The commission moves delicately and its reports show that conciliation and persuasion settle its cases.

Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Washington, New Jersey and Oregon have followed New York's lead in enacting FEPC legislation.

Most of these states give their commissions recourse to the courts where contempt of court citations may be issued.

The Oregon, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Washington and New Jersey commissions, though some have been functioning several years, report never having had to go to court to enforce a ruling.

to resume the "recruiting" and training of the force he is to command in defending Western Europe. He started the job during a swing through Atlantic Pact countries in January, but so far his army consists mostly of paper promises from those nations.

Last week Eisenhower's chief of staff, Lt. General Alfred M. Gruenther, said the Atlantic headquarters by mid-March would be able to take over operational control of the international army.

That means both command and training schedules for West Europe's anti-Communist troops by then will come from Eisenhower's base here. In Versailles' Trianon Palace Hotel, just outside the Iron Fence enclosing the Trianon Palace that Queen Marie Antoinette once occupied.

How soon the General will begin further tours of his 12-nation Atlantic command was uncertain. He must decide his major organization divisions—whether they will be in north, central and

Seminole Hi

By BEVERLY GRAY
Here it is near the end of February with Valentines packed away in our memory chests! It's a question now whether the Glee Club Ball will be Mar. 2 or will the date be changed? There's a Latin Club dance Mar. 9 and all this stirring around at S. H. R. Proper dates are being settled and evening gowns designed. It looks as if March will begin with a bang!
The Junior-Senior Banquet which was held last Friday evening was a gala affair at the Mayfair Inn. A pirate's theme was carried out with effectiveness and Captain Kidd was the hero! The program was awfully nice and we're sure everyone who went had a grand time.
Free Coca-Colas were issued today and we hear that quite a few records were made. Is it true that Walter Graham drank 28? Anyhow they were good.
Some Celery Fed articles are late being turned in! The paper goes to press soon so let's speed it up. This is going to be a specially wonderful edition!
It won't be long until Career Day rolls around again! Don't miss this all important event; it's Memorial Hospital, will be Mrs. C. E. Carlton.

MONDAY
The Beardsall Avenue Circle will meet at the Chapel at 2:00 P. M.
TUESDAY
Regular business meeting and election of officers of the Pilot Club at 8:00 P. M. in the Yacht Club. Board meeting 7:30 P. M.

Long Island University Cancels 4 Court Games, Quits All Sports

By EUGENE LEVIN
 NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—Long Island University, a casualty of basketball's biggest gambling scandal, has quit all intercollegiate sports. The Brooklyn school, which for many years had one of the nation's leading basketball teams, said last night that its action also includes the cancellation of this season's four remaining games, including two scheduled for Madison Square Garden.

LIU President T. W. Metcalfe acted a few hours after three LIU star players and a former team captain were charged with taking $15,500 to throw seven big games, including a National Invitation Tournament contest last year.

These four, plus two top performers of the national champion CCNY team and a player from New York University, admitted obtaining a total of $25,000 in bribes, authorities said.

The arrested athletes are: Sherman White, 6-foot 7-inch LIU forward who was leading the country in scoring and led his team to the best collegiate player today.

Leroy Smith, LIU playmaker and set shot artist.

Adolph Bigos, LIU's ace rebounder.

Ed Warner, star of CCNY's national champions.

Ed Roman, leading CCNY point scorer.

At both, CCNY playmaker Harvey (Counie) Shuff, a leading NYU scorer.

Ed Gard, LIU team captain last season.

The district attorney's office said all eight received their bribes from Salvatore T. Sollazzo, a Manhattan jewelry manufacturer and ex-convict.

Sollazzo remained in jail today after state Supreme Court Justice Samuel H. Hoflander refused yesterday his latest plea for freedom on a habeas corpus writ. He has been refused bail.

During the hearing, Sollazzo's pretty wife, Jennie, pulled a mink coat around her shoulders and went as the justice told her husband:

"I can hardly see a more despicable crime—the corruption of youth at the very fountainhead."

Rumors still persisted that district attorney Frank S. Hogan isn't finished with the sensational college basketball expose that has kept the sports world tense since he first started outing the players last Saturday night.

Asked if he has two more players in custody, Hogan said:

"There is no basis for that rumor at this time."

Another development yesterday was Governor Thomas E. Dewey's demand that the maximum prison sentence in New York State for any one bribing or trying to bribe an athlete be increased from five to ten years.

A bill to this effect was introduced immediately in the Republican-controlled legislature at Albany, and Democrats pledged their support.

The mushrooming scandal continued to bring statements from some major schools that they will not play further games in Madison Square Garden. The latest was from Denver University, which lost an allegedly "fixed" game to LIU two months ago. Other schools said they will continue to play in the garden.

Gard was the eight and latest to be brought into the current scandal as a player. He previously was charged as the contact between the CCNY players and Sollazzo.

But late yesterday the district attorney's office said Gard also admitted accepting bribes to "fix" three games in which he played last season. One was LIU's 80-52 Invitational tournament upset loss to Syracuse.

Gard's athletic eligibility ran out on him this season, although he was still enrolled at LIU.

However, three of his former

Straight from the Horse's Mouth

By ED HARPER

In analyzing Jim Spencer's phenomenal comeback to win the local invitational golf tournament, the most outstanding single point was his tight play in the clutch.

Down one hole after the first nine and two on the 13th, he poured on the coals and won the next three holes. At the turn he was one up and apparently relaxed somewhat, for during the next eight holes Herb Smith, a fine all-around golfer, and a terrific putter, picked up five holes to take a four up advantage—almost insuperable with only ten holes left to play.

It was at this point that Spencer almost visibly pined himself together. He won the 9th on a birdie after Smith missed a six foot putt by a hair.

But the match was won, in the opinion of this writer, on the 20th. It was here that Spencer dropped a 10 foot putt for an eagle to cut Smith's lead to two up. The Orlando golfer took a birdie on the hole and was obviously put out at it, not being good enough for at least a half.

Smith picked up a hole on the 20th, but it was to be his last as Spencer slammed out his longest drive of the day on the next and made a magnificent approach shot.

The crowd, which throughout the match had been vociferously cheering when Smith hit his second shot into a long hanging branch in one of the worst exhibitions of sportsmanship this writer has witnessed.

Spencer evened the match on the 15th hole and completed the comeback from four down in just seven holes—winning five of them.

It wasn't the local golfer's first experience with pressure and he showed the calmness of experience. Spencer was medalist in the state amateur tourney in 1947 and has been playing golf for 27 years.

During that time he's been city champion "eight or ten times" as he puts it and in the early thirties played with Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen in their trips through Sanford.

Throughout the back nine his concentration was obviously superior to that of Smith who tired rapidly in the clutch.

Pressure piled up on the local golfer in more ways than just the tournament. Friends had bet heavily on his winning and were going up with an encouraging—and anxious—word to his hole.

Smith on the other hand was a lonely figure standing beside his ball and consulting with his caddy on each hole.

The pressure on him was a different—and perhaps more difficult—variety. He had less trouble concentrating on his shots but the definite air of hesitancy which surrounded him on the greens certainly had detracted from his concentration.

On the 17th hole both golfers showed the calmness and ability to turn disaster into something like success. Spencer lay in the rough with a very small sector of the green open to him around a clump of trees. He played a bold and difficult slice with a four wood which landed just on the green. It was a nervy shot with a sudden death finish staring him in the face if he missed.

Smith had an even more difficult lie directly behind a tree and had no alternative but to chip out into the fairway. His third shot, hit with an eight iron, landed three feet from the pin. Thus both golfers pulled out.

The 18th, an easy par four, was something of an anti-climax after the brilliant play of the afternoon as Spencer hit to the green in two and downed his second putt.

On this hole Smith was obviously fagged. His drive was very good but his second shot, one that he had made consistently throughout the afternoon, dribbled into the trap the last of the green. He missed his putt after chipping out to give the match to Spencer.

Eliminated sixth-seeded Charles Anderson of New York, 6-3, 7-8, 5-4 needed. Richard Balliers of Chile and Billy Talbot, No. 8, moved up, although both encountered some difficulty.

Holdout Hearn Works With Giants; Contract Talks Will Be Delayed

By ED HARPER
 Holdout Jim Hearn will be allowed to work out with the team here in spite of the fact that he hasn't signed a contract, New York Giant Manager Leo Durocher said today.

Salary negotiations between the big pitcher, who won all 11 while losing four last year, and President Horace Stoneham have been delayed by the death of Mr. Stoneham's mother.

Hearn, who arrived yesterday with team captain Alvin Dark, came alive late last season under the expert guidance of Durocher after a dismal beginning with the St. Louis Cardinals.

He was not allowed to work out yesterday, but the Giants' manager obtained permission from the club president to put Hearn in uniform until the club reaches St. Petersburg and contract conference begins again.

Today's workout was devoted to a training session for pitchers in the delicate art of covering first base on ground balls hit to the first sacker.

Working in alternate 15 minute periods, two sets of pitchers spent an hour racing to first base to take the throw to the accompaniment of the former Brooklyn pitcher's raucous instructions.

Alvin Dark, Henry Thompson, Whitey Lockman, Bob Hofman, Rudy Ruffner and Davy Williams alternated handling the ground balls hit toward first.

Monte Irvin, regular first sacker in the 1950 season, is ill and will be out for the next few days with a virus infection but is expected to be back in uniform before the club leaves for its St. Petersburg training quarters.

Clint Hartung again hit the longest hitting practice drive of the day to deep center field as the hitters began to find the ball more easily today.

The Giant's hurling staff is taking it easy to thaw out winter-dried kinks before serious spring training starts in two weeks.

Charley Fox, manager of the Sanbury, Pa. club, is working as backdrop for the Giants until their entire catching staff arrives. Fox will be in Sanford with the farm system when the clubs begin training on Mar. 7.

St. Louis And Bradley Battle For Invitation To NCAA Tournament

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—Still fighting hard to win a bid to the NCAA basketball tournament, Bradley has just about decided that it doesn't win the Missouri Valley title neither will St. Louis.

The two teams can't whip Oklahoma A & M, the comfortable leader, but they can knock one another out of contention.

Bradley walloped St. Louis, 97-65, last night to avenge an earlier defeat and pull a little closer to the Billikens in second place. But not to the Aggies, for A & M also won last night, 61-52, over Houston.

Here is the standing in the fastest league in the country:

Oklahoma A & M	9	0
St. Louis	9	2
Bradley	8	3

A & M, No. 2 nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, has five league games standing in the way of an automatic bid to the NCAA tourney, including one each with St. Louis and Bradley.

St. Louis, No. 4, and Bradley, No. 7, each have three games left in an uphill struggle to overtake A & M.

North Carolina State stretched its Southern Conference lead in drubbing Wake Forest, 78-66. The Wolfpack now is far ahead at 13-1 but must win the post-season conference tournament to get an NCAA bid.

St. John's of Brooklyn (20-3), an NIT certainty, defeated New York University, 61-59, in Madison Garden. LaSalle (20-5) came from behind to down Manhattan, 64-63. The Philadelphia team said it would accept an NIT bid if offered. Norman Grekin scored the winning free throw and scored 17. Texas A & M helped itself to undisputed first place in the southwest conference race. The Aggies defeated Southern Methodist, 49-43, to take the lead at 7-3. Texas Christian lost to Baylor, 61-53, and dropped out of a first place tie.

In other major games, Connecticut drubbed Boston University, 74-59. William & Mary walloped VMI, 78-66; and Ohio University upset Cincinnati, 68-74.

Of the American League pitchers who failed to allow a home run last season, Harry Taylor of the Red Sox saw the most action. He worked in 19 innings and won his only two complete games. He formerly pitched for Brooklyn.

Sumptuous Stadium Dazzles Athletes At Olympic Games

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21—(AP)—Argentina has set a dazzling stage for the first Pan American Olympic games starting Sunday.

North Americans would have a difficult time believing stadiums could be so vast and food so lavish as available here.

Some 2,000 athletes from the Western Hemisphere are expected to compete in the warm, midsummer weather. The customary last-minute Olympic frenzy and frazzled nerves was engulfed this city.

For example, Uruguay won't compete for complex political reasons and yachting has been dropped because only Argentina and Chile had ships ready.

However, 17 other sports are assured, and when the big United States team arrives in two places Friday night, the heat of enthusiasm is expected to match the temperature.

The Pan American games are patterned after the world Olympics, even to an Olympic village, which is called "Villa Pan Americana."

The Pan American games are largely due to the personal support of Argentine President Juan Peron. The Argentine government is paying the bills for all athletes while they are in the country.

Monday's opening ceremonies, presided over by Peron and General Peron, will be in the new President's Park stadium. It seats 150,000 people, but lacks a running track. Track and other sports will be held in the River Plate stadium, which seats 100,000.

Braves Pitchers To Begin Spring Drills

BRADENTON, Feb. 21—(AP)—Manager Billy Southworth will greet a squad of 22 batsmen, 18 of them pitchers, today when he opens the Boston Braves' spring training season with a morning workout.

Only one hurled on the roster will be missing, reliever Bob Hogue, who is one of the Tribesmen's five unsigned players. The others, outfielder Willard Marshall and infielders Buddy Kerr, Sibby Bist and Gene Mauch, are

Nancy Chaffee Wins In Women's Singles

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—(AP)—Chaffee, the defending champion from Ventura, Calif., is gradually advancing in the women's singles of the National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Miss Chaffee gained the quarterfinals last night by whipping Mrs. Virginia K. Johnson, 6-1, 6-1.

Althen Gibson, the Negro star, also moved up in the women's division, although she had a much harder time. Miss Gibson, runner-up in last year's finals, eked out a 7-5, 3-6, 6-4 victory over Mrs. Marjorie Buck of Boston Mass.

In the men's singles the big surprise came when unseeded Lorne Main of Pasadena, Calif.,
