

State Expenses

The State's own tax collectors gathered in $227 million last year, compared with $122 million in 1945-46. It came from new taxes and higher receipts from most old levies.

1946. Six years later, there was $23 million in the fund. Nearly all of it came from teachers' contributions.

There was no State and County Employees' Pension Fund six years ago, but at the end of the 1950-51 business year, the State had $12 million on hand for future pensions. It came partly from employee contributions and partly from State and County matching money.

The permanent State School Fund, from which only the interest may be spent, increased from $6 million to $10 million.

Louis Zamperini, Olympic track star and distinguished veteran of World War II will speak to high school pupils in Seminole County Thursday and will talk at 7:30 that night at the First Baptist Church on the subject, "Christ or Communism."

Louis Zamperini Slated To Speak Here Tomorrow

A former Olympic track star, world champion runner and Air Force captain who was imprisoned for more than two years by the Japanese, and who is now devoting his life to Christian service, will speak in a number of places Thursday in this county on the subject, "Christ or Communism."

His first talk Thursday will be to pupils of Seminole High School at 10:00 A.M. At noon he will speak at Crooms Academy and during the afternoon at the Lyman School, Langwood, and Ovido School. At 7:30 P.M. he will appear at the First Baptist Church here.

During a flight in World War II he crashed at sea and spent 47 days adrift on a small rubber life raft. During his period as a Japanese prisoner and while in a starling condition he was forced to run against well fed Japanese runners. He now has an Air Force field named in his honor, and also an athletic event at Madison Square Garden.

It was during the 1938 Olympics in Berlin that he almost created an international incident when he tore down Adolf Hitler's private swastika from in front of the latter's chancellery. Guards shot at him, twice and he was questioned both by Hitler and by General Von-Preits.

Coberlys Return From Motor Trip

After a motor trip that took them as far west as California and back east to their native Pennsylvania, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Coberly returned recently from a four months jaunt more firmly convinced than ever that Florida is the finest state in the union to live in.

"We really learned to appreciate how beautiful Florida is after driving through deserts," said Mr. Coberly, a retired Pittsburgh, Pa., policeman and veteran of World War I.

The Coberlys, who came to Sanford four years ago, built two houses, one at Fourteenth Street and Park Avenue, the other at 2100 Park Avenue. They now live at the Park Avenue trailer court. They estimated they traveled 9,900 miles on their trip.

His wife, Pat, and young son, Larry, seven months old, will return to Jacksonville in stay with her parents for a short time.

A one-act play, "Not Quite Such a Goose," was the highlight of the entertainment program presented during the Enterprise carnival last week. Other features of the program were a short play given by the fifth grade and some songs and a skit by the eighth grade under the direction of Mr. Thompson. The main attraction of the evening was the old fashioned square dance which was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

Tuesday afternoon the members of the Women's Society of Christian Service will have as their guests the members from the Ovido Methodist church. A luncheon will be given at 3:00 o'clock in the church for the visitors in order to greet them and to become acquainted with them.

NAAS has three boats on Lake Monroe. This may come as a surprise to some of you and you are probably wondering why the Navy has placed boats on the lake. The purpose of the boats is rescue in times of crashes in Lake Monroe. Lake Jessup or the connecting canals of naval planes taking off and landing at NAAS.

The boats are 24 feet long with 115 H. P. Chrysler Marine Engines and will do about 25 knots top speed.

The boats are attached to the operations department of which Comdr. Clarence Binuin is head. Chief Arthur Orlandello is immediately in charge of the boats and their crews.

Boat No. 1 is manned by Roger Schmidt and Jim Prasley. The crew of Boat No. 2 is John Fey and Paul Clark. Boat No. 3 crew is Walt Kraft and Earl Klester. The boat carpenter is Phil McBrien.

Since the boats have been placed at the Sanford Boat Works, the crew has completely overhauled the boat engines and yellow decks. According to one of the men, Roger Schmidt, the painted the boats gray with white tops as now the sharp looking craft on Lake Monroe.

The Firemen's Ball in Orlando Monday night was a big success according to several men from the station. Ray Carnes, NAAS, said he really enjoyed dancing to "Music in the Mood" by Tex Renake. Fred Juge, Bob Cook and Bob Wise, all of FARRON 821, claimed they had fun too.

Lawrence Tabacchi was transferred from NAAS to the Naval Hospital at Jacksonville yesterday. Lawrence has a bad right knee and I certainly hope that he is back aboard soon.

Sea duty finally caught up with James Johnson of NAAS and he was transferred Monday to Jacksonville to further assignment. Two men from FARRON 821 decided they liked the Navy and "shipped over" for another cruise. Jim Cox re-enlisted for six years and Don Evans extended for one year.

George Kelly has been sent to the Hospital at Jacksonville to await discharge. While George was waiting for his, Mike Colella got discharged and is now on his way home to Portland, Maine. Both men are from FARRON 821.

Ship Wreck

Construction of a new fleet drops the others to 110,000 tons to await rescue by commercial and Coast Guard vessels converging on the stricken ship.

The Japanese freighter Kenkon Maru, the first to reach the stricken ship, battled rough water and a strong wind through most of the night to rescue 13 seamen in a lifeboat nearest the Walton. Seven were taken aboard shortly before midnight and the others rescued about four hours later.

All were weakened by cold and exposure. Meanwhile, a new storm moving in from the Western Pacific threatened rescue operations with added hazard. The Weather Bureau raised storm warnings at 9 A.M. from Tatoosh, Wash., the nearest land point east of the scene, to Astoria, Ore. South to southeast winds ranging up to 40 miles per hour were forecast.

However, I know this has been no personal victory for me, but rather an expression of the people of Sanford of their desire for a greater participation in government by them. I know this, and I am humbly grateful to all of you who expressed your interest in the campaign.
I fervently hope that all of us citizens of Sanford will join hands to make Sanford the most progressive and liveliest city in Central Florida.

Rep. A. S. (Sid) Herlong told Sanford civic clubs today that "We must keep ourselves militarily invincible and economically stable. We have a fight on our hands and our national survival is involved."

Speaking before a Jaycee sponsored luncheon which was attended by members of the Kiwanis, Klaws and Rotary clubs, as well as the Pilot Club and the Business and Professional Women's Club, Rep. Herlong asked his audience not to ask for things from Washington which they wouldn't want others to ask for to employ methods in securing favors there which they would not want others to use.

Hearing Opened On Wage Rates Citrus Workers

Cooper Overruled On Move For AFL To Adjoin Hearing

LAKELAND, Nov. 8 (AP)—A wage stabilization board committee today opened a hearing on pay rates for citrus grove workers and quickly rejected a surprise motion challenge of its jurisdiction.

Richard Cooper, Orlando attorney representing the AFL, moved at the outset to adjourn the hearing on grounds that the hearing was a political matter and that it was invalid. The CIO and the Distributive, Processing and Office Workers Union (DPO) joined the AFL in the motion.

The five-man panel, representing industry, union and the public, retired for 10 minutes. Then Chairman D. H. Roberts of Atlanta announced the unanimous decision to continue.

Five major Florida citrus organizations have asked the WSB to set ceilings for pickers, loaders, truck drivers and other grove workers. They said pay rates were so variable last year that only confusion would result by trying to use the flat 10 per cent raise allowed by WSB in permitting boosts this season.

Mysterious New Disease Infects Allied Soldiers

U. N. Rejects Reds Buffer Zone Plan As Jet War Rages

TOKYO, Nov. 8 (AP)—A mysterious new disease, apparently brought to the battle lines by Chinese Communist troops, has infected an undisclosed number of United Nations soldiers in Korea.

Brig. Gen. William F. Shambora, Far East Command surgeon, disclosed the presence of the disease today. He said it was new to Western medicine and its exact nature has not been determined.

However, he said, it bore a striking resemblance to a widely called epidemic hemorrhagic fever, which the Japanese discovered in Manchuria in 1939.

It is also known as Hango fever and Koku disease.

The number of Allied soldiers infected was not disclosed.

Six weeks ago an anti-Communist North Korean told Allied doctors that he had seen among troops of at least one Chinese army and had been contracted by some North Korean civilians.

The North Korean said victims first suffered from high fever, headaches, loss of appetite and (Continued On Page Three)

Ban Imposed On New Car Models

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The government today imposed a "critical freeze" effective Feb. 1, on the introduction of new models by the automobile industry and manufacturers of other consumer durable goods.

The action came in the form of orders reserving machine tools almost completely for military and defense supporting production. This would bar retooling by civilian manufacturers of cars, washing machines, refrigerators and similar appliances.

The intent, NPA's announcement said, is to insure that the entire output of machine tool industry is bottlenecked in the aircraft, tank and other munitions programs—its channelled into defense.

County Commission Urges Branch Line For Super Highway

A resolution proposing that the State Road Department be requested to consider the abandoned Florida East Coast Railroad branch line right-of-way for the proposed Jacksonville-Miami road project, was approved Tuesday at the meeting of the County Commission.

The portion of the former branch line in Seminole County, between Maitland and Sanford, and between Sanford and Deltona, was abandoned several years ago by Seminole County and was dedicated to the State Road Department for use as a road building. The right-of-way averages about 100 feet in width.

It was pointed out that from a military standpoint such a highway would be a major asset to the county and would be a major asset to the state.

The Commission declined to take action on a request by Mrs. Eleanora H. Hovell that the County employ a registered nurse for the County Health Department, and satisfaction was expressed by Mrs. C. M. Hovell, executive secretary of the County Welfare Board.

A proposal that the county pay $6 to the City each time that the Sheriff's office uses the trunk meter owned by the City was approved. The proposal was made by Police Chief Roy C. Williams and Sheriff P. A. Merr.

Approval was given to paying the road running by the Seminole Driving Club, following the offer of Hubbard Cassberry to pay $1,000 toward the project. A donation of $50 to the local Negro American Legion Post was approved.

Senator Writes Off Chances Of Civil Rights Bill

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Senator Murray (D-Mont.), an administration supporter, today virtually wrote off chances for 1952 enactment of Civil Rights and Compulsory Health Insurance legislation—keystone of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program.

This is what the fifth atomic explosion in the current series looked like from Mt. Charleston, N.C. The "atom" of the blast was about 10,000 feet skyward. Six minutes after the explosion, the shock wave struck Las Vegas, 65 miles away.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We should imitate the infants, crying and not imperious, withholding enrich. He hath dispersed, to hath given to the poor, his righteousness endureth forever.—Ps. 127:3

The fellow who runs wild usually tamed down at the finish.

The tourists are already coming down. Prominent visitors already in Florida include President Truman, now vacationing at Key West.

We see where General George S. Patton, who until recently has been in command of the U. S. Air Forces in the Far East, is about to retire and plans to make his home in Winter Park.

Governor Warren repieves the girls convicted in the "Chastity" case, thus proving his sympathy for those guilty of wrong-doing. But, as a famous general once said of honesty toward traitors and deserters in wartime, "Kindness to bad men is cruelty to the good."

We see where the President of France wants the Big Three, President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, and Premier Joe Stalin, to get together and see if they can't work out the problems of the world. If President Truman decides to go, we hope that someone will see to it that he leaves his check book at home.

The cost of state government in Florida has more than doubled in the last five years. And the additional cost has been made up by additional taxes. Nearly $10 million of it comes from the new sales tax, which the people didn't have to pay a few years ago. Maybe the new services rendered by the State are worth it. But in any event, it is something to consider. They aren't cheap.

More and more the people are beginning to vote for the best men regardless of parties. Both in New York and Philadelphia the races, as identified by the Kefauver committees, were turned out, but in one it was a Republican, in the other a Democrat. The time is rapidly passing when a man can be elected to office just because he wears a party label.

Walter Reuther may have put his finger on the nub of the world crisis when he said that the Reds don't aim at launching a war, but instead are trying to force the United States along with the nations of Western Europe into national bankruptcy. That, it seems, would accomplish Stalin's purpose better than a war, since in war he and most of his followers would be exterminated. But the other alternative might spread Communism throughout the world.

We have not yet seen the picture "Little Big Horn" coming tonight and Friday to the Ritz Theater, but we understand that it is an excellent account of Custer's last stand. George A. Custer graduated from West Point in 1861 and was assigned to the cavalry just in time for the battle of Bull Run, the opening engagement of the Civil War. He served with distinction in many battles of that war and was a major general when it ended. At Gettysburg he was the only general who was not killed. He was shot and killed during the battle of Little Big Horn. During the battle of the Little Bighorn he again showed his courage and valor.

The Fading Liberals

The British Liberals, in perhaps their last fight got only 2.4 per cent of the popular vote in the 1951 elections. The voters whom they lost since 1950 may have helped to swing the election for the Conservatives. Many an old-time liberal must have had a fondness for Churchill who was one of them from 1904 to the '20s, when the party began its downward plunge.

In their palmy days before the first World War the Liberals produced an almost unrivaled program of social reform. What broke the party was the personal ambition of David Lloyd George, prime minister for the last half of the war. As head of a coalition government, in an attempt to guide the 1918 elections he introduced so-called "coupons of endorsement," approving those candidates he thought should be elected. These coupons were given to some Conservatives and to those of the Liberals who would agree to follow him, but not to nonconforming Liberals even though some of them had been leaders of the party through the World War. A bitter party quarrel followed.

Although Lloyd George held power for four more years, the voters who disliked the Conservatives turned away from the quarrel-ridden Liberals and began to support the Labor Party. Since then the Liberals have held only a few seats in the House of Commons. There were ten Liberal members before the recent election, and now there are only six.

Except for the quarrel which broke their strength, the Liberals have nothing to regret as they look back on a brilliant history. Future British leaders might wish to do as well.

Predictions Of War

A prophecy of the third world war, as though it began in 1952 and ended in the mercifully short space of two years, has been portrayed in an issue of Colliers magazine. It calls to mind another prophecy of war drafted after the First World War.

In 1925 a British naval expert, Hector C. Bywater, published "The Great Pacific War," outlining a possible course for an American-Japanese war. He guessed truly that a treacherous Japanese attack would start hostilities, but his prediction was that it would block the Panama Canal, forcing all American ships in the Atlantic to reach the Pacific by the long road around South America, with danger from Japanese submarines in the Straits of Magellan. Why did not the Japanese try to cut the canal in 1941? They may have had it in mind and have found the canal guard too watchful. At any rate they profited amply from the raid on Pearl Harbor, followed by the destruction, never explained, of virtually all the American planes based in the Philippines.

Bywater anticipated the conquest of the Philippines and Guam. He did not envision the spread of the war to the Dutch East Indies, New Guinea, Burma, Malaya and Ceylon. His account, however, was undoubtedly studied by naval authorities on both sides, and may have influenced the strategy of the war.

We hope that the years to come may provide less corroboration for the current prophecy than came for that of Bywater.

Spreading "Know-How"

American "know-how" is being made part of the credit for the rise of this country as a world power. This "know-how" is acquired in a gradual process which begins in childhood. Today toy trains which carry the little red, white and blue model airplanes and model houses, help the youngsters to become familiar with methods of communication and building. Such early familiarity with machinery contributes much to useful knowledge of them in later life.

Students at Stanford University are sending mechanical toys to be used by school children in Seoul, Korea, including model trains, trucks and tugboats. The toys will be used to help elementary pupils to identify and study methods of transportation. These gifts will not only entertain Korean children but will help to spread "know-how" on the most elementary level.

Bradley did not use specific figures in his prepared address. 3. A recently concluded series of atomic tests in Nevada which included new small A-bombs for tactical use and the deployment of troops as part of the atomic battlefield studies. 4. Intensification of the European defense effort, urged by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in his Washington conference earlier this week.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Except for a few new trimmings, this country's last peace proposal for world disarmament is about the same plan which the Russians rejected when we made it several years ago.

So it's pretty certain they'll just reject it again, which means that at this moment peace doesn't look any closer than it did before, although this country and the Allies made world headlines a peace-seeker.

They gave themselves a good building yesterday the U. S. Britain and France announced they'd offer their plan to the United Nations at Paris today. And President Truman went on the radio last night to plug the idea. And he said that if the Russians don't accept this plan it means they don't want peace.

This is the meat in the coconut. It means they don't want peace. This is the meat in the coconut. It means they don't want peace.

They'd go into every country capable of making bombs and force to use that bomb was made any more. And they'd make continuous inspection. Which means they'd stay inside Russia and keep looking around.

That was in the days before the Russians themselves had any bombs. But first, the Russians said the U. S. would have to destroy its stock of bombs. And neither side didn't want any such a continuous inspection.

Mr. Truman proposed again last night that world disarmament could be made certain only if U. S. inspection teams were permitted inside countries on a continuous basis.

And Mr. Truman suggested that while the U. S. inspectors were checking on the number of bombs each country had, they could also check on the size of their armaments.

You don't have to be a diplomat to guess out how long it would take the U. S. and Russia to agree (1) on who'd be on the inspection teams and where they could go inside a country, and (2) how much the two countries should disarm.

So even if tomorrow the Russians accepted this country's proposal, it would take a long time before the dream of a world disarmament could be brought about.

And even if that were true, it would take a long time before the dream of a world disarmament could be brought about.

Truman Plans

House. Asked for comment, Presidential Press Secretary Joseph Short said the dispatch "is not true." Short declined to elaborate.

There was no immediate comment from Eisenhower. In his story, Kroek said "the qualifications of the source of this information are such that, though categorical and angry denials are liable to be the result, his account merits responsible publication."

Kroek's story said Eisenhower "strongly implied" rejection of the offer by suggesting that great difficulties were presented by his fundamental disagreement with the Administration on labor policies, proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act and other policies and programs in the domestic field that have been sponsored by Mr. Truman.

Taking into account several possible developments in both parties, Kroek said that even though Eisenhower "might just possibly be able to make a platform accommodation with the Democrats," he was not sure.

Kroek wrote that he was assured yesterday by a person whom he believes to be "thoroughly reliable and informed" that "such was the exchange between the two x x and that the matter was left in status."

Kroek mentioned the possibility that Eisenhower might be the Republican candidate for President, or might support Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the nomination.

The story said sponsorship by President Truman would be certain to win Eisenhower the Democratic nomination if he would accept.

The story might be followed by "categorical and even angry denials," Kroek said. He reported that he tried without success to submit the account to Mr. Truman and ask for comment.

Kroek said Eisenhower—now back in Europe—does not know whether President Truman will be the Democratic candidate next year if the general is not, "or through this long process of trying to reach agreement on disarmament, they'd all be arming like mad because no man would know when the attempt to reach agreement might collapse.

Quite a problem, Mr. Truman recognized it. In his speech he said: "Any program of reducing armaments will necessarily be complex and even with the fullest cooperation of all the parties, will take quite a while to work out and into effect."

Even after it is put into effect, there will have to be safeguards against its violation. We can all hope for peace. But that doesn't mean we can expect it. And the Russians will have an answer very shortly, which probably will make relations worse instead of better.

Administration Is Accused Of Trying To Steal Tideland

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The tidelands belong to the states; the national administration is trying to steal them, and I'm against it," Texas Gov. Allan Shivers said today.

Shivers in a speech delivered to the American Petroleum Institute, declared: "The incredibly aggressive and cynical attitude of Washington bureaucrats in the tidelands controversy has reached a new high, or low, within the last few days. They propose to invoke the provisions of a Federal surplus properly set to take over the control and administration of the tidelands—this in lieu of congressional authorization that they have been unable to obtain."

"In polite language," Shivers continued, "this would be called 'expropriation without congressional sanction.' In my language it would be called 'theft without license.'"

Shivers is chairman of the Independent Oil Compact Commission. He said the compact commission actually attempted to take over Texas tidelands, the Governor said he believed "Texas actually will look upon such an attempt as an invasion of states' rights that will put the carpet-baggers to shame."

"Instead of a carpetbag to carry off the loot, the Interior Department proposes to use tank cars and freighters," he said. "This demonstrates, I assume, the progress we have made in 85 years."

Shivers told his audience of oil officials it is the mutual and grave responsibility of the states and oil industry to combat "this trend toward over-centralization of our government." Such a trend, he said, is "not only for the good of the industry but for the welfare of the nation."

The Governor said the oil industry also "must pay its fair share of the state's expenses, and sometimes a little more."

Kroek reported, however, that some of Eisenhower's intimates say he "intends to try in advance of the Republican convention to discover whether he and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio can agree on certain policies for platform endorsement, and on eliminating the influence of both reactionaries and left-wingers in the party."

If the two men can agree, Eisenhower will support Taft as the nominee, Kroek said. "If this agreement cannot be made," the story added, the General "does not yet know whether he would become Mr. Taft's rival candidate, or decline to support the Republican."

"Should the General make this attempt, and it fails, he might possibly be able to make a platform accommodation with the Democrats. And there is plenty of time," Kroek wrote.

CIO Meeting

pared to a Gophart amendment in the price control bill? "It's going to take more than a mink coat to stop us from talking about the price control law, and it's going to take more than a deep freeze to stop us from talking about the loopholes in the tax law."

"Mink coats come high—but in that connection, CIO President Philip Murray, who heads the million-member steelworkers union which begins negotiations toward a new contract next month, hinted at a strike if the board should upset whatever pay boost might be agreed upon."

The whole question of wage stabilization was seized upon by Murray to criticize both business and government—and the 82nd Congress—on the ground that lower restrictions have been imposed on prices and profits than on wages.

The CIO threw out the welcome mat to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (BRT), largest of the unions in the operating branches of the rail industry.

W. P. Kennedy, head of the BRT, was a guest speaker for the CIO convention. And Allan S. Haywood, CIO director of organization, said efforts were being made to induce the Trainmen to break the long tradition among rail unions and join the CIO.

The Trainmen now are independent. Other rail unions are independent or are in the American Federation of Labor.

Blues In The News

Under-Secretary of the Navy Francis P. Whitehall, and Vice Admiral J. H. Hoover visited NAAS the other night on their way to Washington. Under-Secretary Whitehall passed through on a visit to his home town, Deland.

The basketball team at NAAS will soon start its competitive schedule. Mr. Sullivan says we have a fine group of men who are willing to turn out for practice and work hard. How about coming out to cheer them on at the games? Next Thursday they'll scrimmage the Rollins College team.

Seminole High Squad To Battle Barracudas

Sanford Team Scrimmages For Home Game With Winless New Smyrna

By DENEK DUNN-BANKIN
Sanford's Celery Feds knocked heads in a scrimmage session yesterday and will go through a light workout this afternoon in preparation for Friday night's meeting here with the Barracudas from New Smyrna Beach.

New Smyrna is currently on the bottom rung of East Florida Conference standings with the Seminole High boys just a notch ahead of them. The Feds will have to take this one against the winless Beach boys to stay out of the cellar position.

No changes are contemplated in the forward wall as Linwood Fred Gans prepares to add his seasoned eleven against the New Smyrna line. Gans will count on his Walter Routh at right tackle with veterans Fred Gans and Guard Mike Wheeler to keep the Barracudas from breaking in to the win column.

New Smyrna whipped a Celery Fed squad last year but this time had failed to bring home a victory.

Celery Fed Fullback E. Gordon, leading ground gainer for his Seminole High School team, will spark the Feds' attack tomorrow night against the Barracudas from New Smyrna Beach.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers, speaking in support of the farm system says that Brooklyn lost $129,318 on its minor league operations in 1950. . . . He calls it a "subsidy" to the minors. . . . The Phillies' Bob Carpenter, putting the annual cost of running a chain of 500,000, estimates that it costs $247,000 to develop one major league player. . . . Both figures add up to one thing: Too much. . . . Obviously, a city like Santa Barbara, Calif. (pop. 44,764) can't afford to take a $70,000 loss on baseball even if that includes the cost of a big tryout school. . . . It can't afford the school, either. . . . The same goes for $25,000 at Valdosta, Ga. . . . Even Dynamite Goodloe probably doesn't love Valdosta that much. . . . So while they're "subsidizing the minors" the Dodgers seem to be subsidizing independent opposition right out of business in those leagues. . . . A minor leaguer, kicking the subject around recently suggested: "Why not make it a real subsidy for the clubs use local talent as far as possible, but have the majors set up a pool of young players to which they could draw to fill out their squads." . . . Dunno. It's just an idea, but maybe it would work.

Young Golf Pro Leading Field In North-South Open

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 5.—(AP)—Julius Horos, rated as one of the comers among golf's youngest professionals, nursed a two-stroke lead over the field in the North and South Open golf tournament swung in to today's second round.

Horos, former Connecticut scratch amateur star, shot a steady 34-34-38 over the rugged, 7,007-yard, No. 2 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club to lead Henry Flanders, Cleveland, and Tommy Wright, Kingsport, Tenn., by two strokes in yesterday's first firing by the field of 110.

Sharing third place at 71, one under par, were the five: Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn.; John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Tommy Holt, Durham, N. C.; Francis (Doc) Winger, amateur from Pleasantville, N. J.; and Manuel De La Torre, Milwaukee.

Five more including Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., gunning for his third straight title, were bracketed at 72.

Frank Stranahan, Toledo amateur, came in with 82, 10 over par.

The field will be cut to 60 and tie after today's play.

Keed From Cuba Earns Turpin Bout
DETROIT, Nov. 5.—(AP)—The "Keed" from Cuba, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, traded his famed bolo punch for left hooks last night, and belted Tony Janiro way back down into the middleweight ranks.

Gavilan scored the Youngstown veteran three times in the fourth round of their 10-round non-title bout, and was awarded a technical knockout. It promised him a January date with Eggsy Jack's Randy Turpin, one-time conqueror of Sugar Ray Robinson.

The quick victory also earned him the thanks of radio and television fans. The fight would have been cut off, if it had gone the distance, to make way for a speech.

GOP'S NO TRUNK
DETROIT, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A Greenleaf semi-finalist in riding Kid Gavilan-Tony Janiro fight, here last night, came into the ring. Glad in the usual robe, he took the crowd's applause, then went back to his corner. Handlers started to remove the robe. Granik made a fast break for the dressing room. He'd forgotten his trunk.

Berra Is Voted League's Most Valuable Player

Garver Of St. Louis And Allie Reynolds Place 2nd And 3rd

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Yogi Berra, squat New York Yankee catcher, today was voted most valuable player in an astonishing finish to a wide open race. Tabulation of votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America showed Berra, Neil Garver of St. Louis and Allie Reynolds of the Yankees each had six first place ballots.

The result was sure to start tongues wagging around the circuit for Berra slumped lastly in September and finished with a .266 batting average. The 26-year-old Berra led the Yankees in runs batted in with 88 and hit 27 home runs.

Berra won on points with a total of 181 on the basis of 14 for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for tenth. Garver, baby-faced 20-game winner for the last place Browns, was a close second with 157 points and Reynolds, who threw two no-hitters for the world champs, was third with 125 points.

Two Florida Boys To Lead Richmond Against Stetson

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 5.—Special-It will be like the Old Home Week for two native Floridians who will be in the starting lineup of the University of Richmond when the Spiders engage Stetson's Hatters at Deland Saturday night.

One of them is Bobby Tyler, the quarterback, who led a militant but losing battle against Boston College last week. The other is Ed Elliott, defensive halfback and safety man who was the hero of Richmond's 25 to 6 victory over Davidson.

Both are eager to put on a great show for the Floridians who will meet the Hatters in the contest which will be the first meeting between the Hatters and the Spiders. Elliott, a seatback who scored the freshman eleven last year, hails from West Palm Beach, Tyler, born at Marianna, Fla., is a native of Jacksonville.

Most of Tyler's high school football was played, however, at Victoria, Va., when his father was in the lumbering business there.

The contest may produce an interesting quarterback duel between Tyler and Stetson's Billy Johnson whom the Hatters are looking for a player to replace All-American Coach Tom (Wesley) Miller who has been coaching the Hatters reported to local Coach Ed Merkle that Johnson is rated the best quarterback in the State of Florida. He is an exceptional passer and also chucks up a lot of yardage on the ground.

Tyler had to stay on the ground most of the sloppy rainy evening at Boston but he intends to throw a lot of passes into the Florida air next Saturday. His throwing arm may be the difference between victory and defeat for the Spiders who are in the worst physical condition of the year.

Merkle almost caved in when Tyler finished the Boston game with a fractured rib fracture but a later examination showed Bobby would be ready for the Hatters.

It was in the Davidson game that Tyler gave his greatest performance since he enrolled in the University of Richmond. His play was sparkling and three of the Richmond touchdowns were his. He was in them again from runbacks of punts, and from a pass interception.

By President Truman.

Gavilan weighed 140½ in January 1944. The bout attracted 6,056 for a gross sale of $18,800.

Snow Slows Kentucky Workouts As Wildcats Prep For Greenies

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Coach Henry Frka is keeping his Tulane Greenies jumping these days in long offensive drills, hoping he can muster enough punch to knock out Kentucky's Wildcats Saturday.

Three Greenie backs showed up well in yesterday's workout. Max McGee, a 195-pound halfback, made repeated gains through the freshman line. McGee, halfback Ray Weidenbacher and Fullback Ronnie Kent exhibited more power than at any time this week.

The Wildcats didn't have too much luck with their practice. Snow trouble again. Much of the practice was spent indoors, where Coach Pat Bryant presided over a blackboard talk session. Outside work was limited to running plays and exercises. Contact work has been banned.

Mississippi, getting ready for Auburn, whipped through both defense and offense drills. Coach Johnny Vaughn figures Auburn is "better offensively than LSU, and just about as effective on defense." Mississippi and Louisiana State tied last week.

Vanderbilt held its first scrimmage in 10 days and football were flying all over the place. Bill Wade was tossing passes of all kinds, short, long and in between. The longest was an 80-yard touch down heave. Running chores were handled nicely by Dick Foster, Roy Duncan and Chuck Newman.

Louisiana State, Vandy's opponent Saturday, had its backfield revised to fill holes caused by regular halfback Chet Freeman's injury last week. Coach Gaynell Tinsley called on Freshman Dick Present to replace Freeman on offense, and Caswell Brown to take over Freeman's linebacking duties on defense.

Florida emphasized pass offense and defense. Haywood Sullivan doubled up, throwing most of the Gator aerials from the quarterback slot. Then stepping into safety position to knock them down when the varsity was on the defense. Two newcomers appeared in the varsity lineup—Bob Muehl, a freshman kicker and linebacker and John Patsy, a hefty end. Muehl and Patsy, a hefty end. Muehl and Patsy, a hefty end.

Georgia, which goes to Jacksonville to meet Florida, continued to work hard, with Coach Wally 33 players with another 15 receiving honorable mention in the closest finish in years.

With Berra in the American and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella in the National this was the first year two catchers were named most valuable. In fact you have to go back to the league awards in 1924 to find two winners who played the same position—Patsy Vance, Brooklyn pitcher, and Walter Johnson, Washington fireballer.

No less than eight men drew first place votes in this split ticket election. Ed Blanton of the Yankees, the 1950 winner, drew one first but finished 11th. So did Yankee Eddie Lopat who finished 12th.

Berra won on the strength of five seconds, four fourths, a fifth, two sixths, a seventh, an eighth and two nines. He was mentioned on 22 ballots, more than any other player.

Garver (20-12) pitched the most complete games, 24 and accounted for about 40 percent of the Browns' total victories.

Reynolds' second no hitter clinched at least a tie for the Yankees in the last week of the season. Both Lopat and Vic Rasch topped him in wins but his 17-8 record included seven shutouts.

Greater Miness. Chicago was fourth with 130 points; Bobb Feller, Cleveland, fifth, 118; Ferns Fain, Philadelphia, sixth, 103; Ellis Kinder, Boston, seventh, 60; Vic Rasch, New York, eighth, 54; Gil McDougald, New York, ninth, 53 and Bobby Avila, Cleveland, tenth with 40.

season. He said Maryland was the best team the Bulldogs will face this season.

The Volunteers of Tennessee ran a dummy scrimmage against Washington & Lee's split-T formations and sharpened up their own single wing plays. Coach Bob Neyland is grooming Hugh Garner, 160-pound freshman, to replace defensive halfback Joe Maire, who may miss Saturday's game because of a shoulder injury.

Alabama's Bobby Marlow and Duke McCain were offensive standouts in a hard scrimmage session getting ready for Mississippi Southern. Jerry Watford threw several well-timed downfield blocks to clear a path for them.

Cold weather gave Georgia Tech's regulars a respite from workouts, with third string quarterback Bill Brigman leading a head-knocking contest with the freshman defensive squad. Halfback Leon Hardeman, one of Tech's top runners, was still in sweat clothes with a weak ankle.

Mississippi State's offensive drill emphasized timing, passing and kicking. The defense worked out against the single wing plays of Memphis State. Coach Arthur Morton named seniors Jack Blount and John Tulloh as co-captains for Saturday's game.

Miami Hurricanes To Meet Another Top Aerial Ace

CORAL GABLES, Nov. 5.—(Special)—The University of Miami, ranked as the 10th best football team in the nation as far as forward pass defense goes, will have really earned a high rating if it can stay in the lead 10 for the remainder of the season.

Friday night in the Orange Bowl the Hurricanes tackle another great passing game, the Lafayette of Chattanooga, a lad who has gained nearly 400 yards through the air against Tennessee and Vanderbilt. He is especially adept on long heaves, averaging 57 yards on each pass he completes in the Vanderbilt game.

After Leydard the Hurricanes battle with Florida's mighty Ixaywood Sullivan, who is one of the best passers in the South despite a statistical record which is definitely below his 1950 pace.

In the season's finale, Miami comes up against Pittsburg's Bob Postwiler who has shattered every Pittsburg record passing record, though injuries kept him out of several games.

However, at the present time the Hurricanes are doing their concentrating on Leydard whose effectiveness is enhanced by the fact that he does his throwing from formations to which the Hurricanes are not accustomed.

A lot of time has been spent on the Hurricane practice gridiron this week on pass defense. Fate Parilly's pass ruined the Hurricanes of Lexington, Ky. last week and according to Tennessee Coach Bob Neyland, this chumping back, Leydard, is just as good as Parilly.

No Damage Seen From Cold Snap To Local Crops

String Beans In Zellwood Area Reported To Be Badly Hurt

No damage to tender vegetables in the Sanford area has resulted from the current cold snap, but all string beans in the Zellwood area were badly damaged by frost last night, Sandy Anderson, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market, reported this morning.

In a commodity report of July through October sales at the market, Mr. Anderson revealed a decrease in sales of $7,880 and a valuation decrease of $22,112 under the 1950 figure of $221,110 when 131,886 units were sold during the corresponding period.

Mr. Anderson attributed this drop in sales to the frost which, owing to the extreme drought in Georgia and the Carolinas, the year around dealers at the market could not obtain sufficient produce to supply the trade.

Total sales during the July-October period this year were $109,848 for 118,800 units. Of this $7,887 out-of-state units brought $73,112 and 50,548 locally grown units brought $125,758.

Oranges, averaging $3.25 a crate brought $64,124. Next in sales were string beans, which brought $17,754 a bushel bumper brought $50,278. Grapefruit at $2.25 a unit averaged total sales of $10,400.

Out of state peaches, averaging $4.25 a bushel, had a sale total of $13,346. White potatoes from out of the state brought $12,705 for 3,800 of the 100 pound sacks.

Cabbage plants from other states brought $1,177. Higher figures than the $4,048 received for "imported" cabbage at $2.15 a 50 pound sack.

String beans were the leading vegetable commodity at the market this week and dealers sold more than 18,000 bumper ranging in price from $2.75 to $3.75 a unit.

Hydroponic culture beans which moved out freely at $6.00 to $6.00, said Mr. Anderson. "There were also 750 crates of sweet corn brought, selling mostly at $2.75 to $2.85 a unit. The volume of eggplant and cucumbers was improved on all commodities in comparison with the previous week."

New Trial Is Seen In Lake County Case

Negro Calls Shooting Unprovoked; Sheriff Says It Was Self-Defense

EUSTIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The State of Florida—the federal government—will have to decide whether rape convicts Walter Levin and Samuel Shepherd were shot in cold blood.

Sheriff Willis McCall says he killed Shepherd and wounded Levin, both 23-year-old Negroes, when they attacked him and tried to escape.

Levin said the shooting was unprovoked. He said that after McCall shot them, Deputy Sheriff James L. Yates arrived on the scene at a lonely roadside Thursday night and, seeing Levin was still alive, said:

"That son of a — is not dead."

Levin said the deputy snatched his pistol twice, examined it in the headlights of the car, and then: "He fired and the bullet came through here (pointing to his neck). I began to bleed. I tried to get away from knowing I wasn't dead."

McCall made his statement through County Judge and Coroner W. T. Hall, Jr., from a hospital bed shortly after the shooting. A physician had ordered him there temporarily because of shock and a heart condition. He said one of the prisoners hit him with his flashlight.

Levin gave his sworn statement in a hospital to newsmen and to J. J. Elliott, special investigator for Governor Warren.

Also investigating is the Department of Justice—but whether it has gathered evidence one way or the other to throw any civil suit is not known.

Armistice Day To Be Observed With Church Services
Since Armistice Day, commemorating the end of hostilities of World War I, occurs on Sunday, the National War Veterans and members of other veterans organizations will have no parade or regular program, but have been requested to attend church services on Sunday, Nov. 11, on a once and a while basis.

The holiday will be marked Monday by the closing of offices at the City and County House of the Sanford National Bank and Florida State Bank and of the Post Office.

Schools throughout Seminole County will be closed Monday in observance of the holiday, it was decided Thursday by the Seminole County School Board.

No plans for the closing of places of business Monday have been made by the Sanford Merchants Association, Andrew Stine, president, said today.

At the meeting of the Sanford Post 51, the American Legion, Monday night, John Peterson, chairman of the committee, announced that he was requesting the Sanford Ministerial special services devoted to peace and freedom on Armistice Day, Sunday.

200 New Books Are Available As National Book Week Nears

More than 200 new juvenile books will be on the shelves of the children's room at the Sanford Public Library Saturday morning, and quite a rush of youthful readers is expected by Mrs. E. J. Moughton, librarian.

The new books are being made available in connection with National Children's Book Week, Nov. 11 through Nov. 19, and the slogan of the week is "New Horizons in Books."

"An exceptionally large attendance of young people is expected on Saturday," said Mrs. Moughton, "due to the fact that school will be closed Monday in celebration of Armistice Day."

Indicating the keen interest that Sanford children take in juvenile literature is the circulation figures of the library during the last two years. These show an increase of 5,093 in books drawn by children during the two year period.

It is a yearly custom at the Library to celebrate the National Book Week with the addition of at least 200 books covering a large range of subjects and appealing to children of all ages. Many picture books are there for the little folk, and books were chosen to appeal to those up to high school age.

Book covers have not been shown away, but have been placed in racks and folders in the children's room lending color and appeal. Children, far more than adults, are also learning to use the library catalog to locate books of their favorite authors, and Mrs. Moughton.

The new books have been selected by Mrs. Moughton.

United States Calls Upon Russia To Hold Early Armament Talk

Truce Meeting Cancelled After Fruitless Talks

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 9 (AP)—Truce negotiators cancelled their afternoon meeting today after an "inconclusive and unproductive" morning session.

A United Nations Command communiqué, which described the talks as fruitless, said negotiators would meet tomorrow at 11 A.M. 10 P.M. Friday EST.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nichols, U. N. spokesman, said he set the impression Communist representatives might be stalling.

Allied sources suggested the Reds might be waiting for new instructions in view of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's proposal Thursday in Paris for a cease-fire within ten days.

Nichols said neither Vishinsky nor the 30th parallel were mentioned during Friday's two-hour talk, but he said a "drift" toward yellow text in Panmunjom.

Red negotiators long ago agreed to hold the withdrawal of foreign troops for consideration in "recommendations to the governments concerned on both sides."

That is point five of the agenda on which the negotiators are working. More recently the Reds dropped their insistence on a cease-fire buffer zone along the 38th parallel.

Nichols said he felt Vishinsky's remarks would lead "to the laying out of the terms that have arisen" about Communist intentions.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, wearing his familiar fatigues and, pistol and hand grenade, toured a section of the forward area, leaped to the front, and waved forward to an observation post. There he looked over Communist positions through field glasses.

"I came to get some of that good front-line air," he said.

On the fighting front Reds were reported shoving in a new Chinese army corps (30,000 men) to bolster its Central Front around Kumsung and Myung, tanks on the western sector facing Yonchon. Communist troops pooled along both fronts in sub-zero weather.

Gen. Ridgway's headquarters, the Fifth Air Force report, east the Reds three more jets.

Orlando Woman Is Killed In Accident

ORLANDO, Nov. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Pearl D. Reese, 47, of Orlando, was burned to death last night when the car in which she was a passenger was involved in an accident at nearby Winter Park.

Mrs. Reese was the wife of Fred M. Reese, Orlando real estate broker.

The car, driven by her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Chappell, Winter Park, was overturned in the road and broke into flames. Mrs. Chappell escaped unhurt.

Two Orlando women, unidentified because of their age, who were driving the other car in the collision, were turned over to juvenile authorities by Winter Park police.

Neither boy was seriously hurt, but both suffered minor scratches and bruises.

FIRE DAMAGE
Fire caused by a defective floor furnace caused considerable damage to flooring of the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown, 122 West Nineteenth Street at 11:14 o'clock last night. Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland said this morning.

Smoke and soot from the oil furnace billowed clear to the attic of the home, causing additional damage, he said.

At 11:48 P. M., today firemen put out a grass fire between the row of new Phillips homes on Orange Avenue and the A.C.L. branch line near Twenty-fifth Street.

Jessup Demands Meet Be Held Now In UN Without Waiting Until Next Spring

PARIS, Nov. 9 (AP)—The United States called on Russia today to start immediate talks in the United Nations on disarmament instead of waiting until some time before June of next year.

U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup threw out the challenge at a specially called news conference where he also charged the Russians with trying to bypass the U. N. in asking for a world-wide meeting on arms reduction.

The U. N. assembly itself received a formal complaint from Yugoslavia that Russia and her satellites are trying to drive their people to the point of making war on Marshal Tito's lone anti-Communist state.

Yugoslavia has made many charges against Russia and the other Communist nations since Tito split with the Communists in 1948, but this was the first formal complaint of that nature filed with the U. N.

The Yugoslav complaint said Russia and her satellites have been conducting aggressive territorial expansion and national independence.

Russia's proposal for a world arm conference before June 1952, was in reply to the U. S. plan for progressive reduction in both conventional and atomic weapons after an accurate arms census.

Jessup told newsmen the United States, with the support of Britain and France, would push for quick U. N. action on arms reduction despite the Soviet refusal to accept the Western plan, which Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky said yesterday.

"It was that if, at any time before the Democratic National Convention, he would say he would accept its presidential nomination, his voters were convinced they could guarantee it and he could count on the support of President Truman."

General Eisenhower's reported reply was: "You can't join a party just to run for office. I have never been a Democrat."

The story said Eisenhower told about the proposition to a friend on his recent visit to this country.

"You know I have been a Republican all my life and that my family have always been Republican."

That President Truman had offered to support Eisenhower in the "culminating point in a major enterprise" that seems to have failed.

The writer made his statement in a follow-up to an article published yesterday in which he had said a "roughly reliable and informed source" told him Mr. Truman had offered such support.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 9 (AP)—There was a strong Republican movement underway today to get Gen. Eisenhower's name on the New Hampshire presidential primary ballot next March.

Twenty-three of New Hampshire's 100 townships today were in a "Republican mood."

"We've known this for years and we have kept on telling folks that this vast peat area was going to waste," said Dr. R. V. Allison, director of the Everglades Experiment Station at nearby Belle Glade.

"Every year we let go by without developing this area is another year that the 400,000 acres are lost to us, as far as total use is concerned."
