2 Czech Party Aides Purged By Communists

VIENNA (UPI) — Communist Czechoslovakia today disclosed the purge of its former secret police chief, Karol Bacilek, and another old-line Communist, Bruno Koehler, from their leading party posts.

The Czech government announcement said both were dismissed from the party's Central Committee, which means Bacilek has lost his post on the nine-man ruling Presidium as well, and Koehler is out as one of the six secretaries of the Central Committee.

No reason was given for the purge, but both leaders are old-line Stalinists closely identified with the harsh policies of the late President Klement Gottwald.

Koehler, 63, was a co-founder of the Czech Communist party and a former close aide of Gottwald's.

Bacilek, 67, headed the secret police from 1952 to 1954, when the former general secretary of the party, Rudolf Slansky, and 11 others were executed on treason charges.

It was believed Bacilek's ouster may begin the post-humous rehabilitation of the Slansky group, which was condemned during a Stalin-era wave of anti-Semitism. Slansky and many of the other defendants were Jewish.

Snake Selects A Cold Home

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — Mrs. Margaret Mooney returned from grocery shopping and found a two-foot snake in her refrigerator. She removed it with two large butcher knives.

The startled woman still is pondering how the snake got into the refrigerator.

IN FLORIDA

BEER IS A NATURAL

As natural as the wholesome grains and tangy hops from which it is brewed, beer is Florida's traditional beverage of moderation... light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, Florida's Brewing Industry is proud to be a major purchaser of Florida products and raw materials. For example, the Brewing Industry is responsible for millions of dollars paid annually to Florida farmers for pulpwood to be made into cardboard boxes and cartons. Millions more are spent for other Florida materials and services. In Florida, beer belongs... enjoy it.

Gordon Cooper Circling Earth In 88 Minutes

Astronaut Going For 7, 17, Then Full 22 Orbits

The Sanford Herald

WEATHER: Fair and clear; high in the 80s, low in the 70s.

VOL. 53 United Press Lensed Wire Established 1908 WED. MAY 15, 1968 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 712

It was a thrill this morning... even though we didn't see him. The radio blared that Astronaut Cooper had been launched... the entire Herald staff was in front of the office watching... but the sky was hazy and all we could see was the vapor trail. But it still was a thrill, especially for those watching for the first time. And the entire Herald staff joined with the entire world... God Speed and Happy Landings!

City Commission members have a bit of a shock coming. A hitch has blocked the picture in proposed negotiations to sell 18 acres-plus at Mellonville and Celery to the MacFadden Foundation for a military prep school. The site was decided in 1949 by the county to the city "for recreational purposes only." Now the city is asking the county for a quit claim deed, with the understanding the city will establish equal recreational facilities elsewhere. But we hear some or all County Commission members are dubious... and are seriously thinking of demanding a share of the proceeds.

Tuesday's Clock reported that Street Supt. Eddie Griffith "cracked 17 eggs in two minutes with a two-ton weight on a hydraulic crane." A housewife asked: "How could he do that?" City Manager Pete Knowles explained: "It takes a tough fighter than a woman's!"

School Supt. H. T. Milwee appeared before the County Commission Tuesday and received approval for a building permit for the English Estates school, although construction already has been started. Understand it was a courteous gesture on Milwee's part, since the schools can build under a state law and need no permit. Milwee also received an agreement for the Commission to meet informally with the school board to discuss the controversial access road to the school. Fifteen of the 20-acre site was donated for the school. The board cannot build roads. The county must obtain necessary right-of-way.

"Salmagundi," the Seminole High School yearbook, has been distributed to the student body but any students who reserved a copy should contact Miss Anna Vlasaras, co-sponsor, or Judy Whitmore, editor, within the week. By the way... what does "salmagundi" mean?

Improvements will be commenced very shortly on the north four-tenths of a mile of Bear Lake Road. County still trying to determine rights-of-way on other portions. Improvements also OK for two miles of a 2 1/2-mile stretch of Pineway, Sipes and Kentucky, one mile of Lake Howell Road, eastern 2 1/2 miles of Red Bug Road, and 2 1/2 miles of the Lake Mary-Longwood Road.

Donald Tabor, second vice president, reports nomination and election of officers will be held by the Seminole County Life Underwriters Association when it meets Thursday noon at the Capri.

A more-than-curious Herald reporter looked into the dictionary and found "salmagundi" is from the French, Latin and Italian and means: A mixed dish, as of chopped meat and pickled herring, with oil, vinegar, pepper and onions; hence, a heterogeneous mixture; medley; potpourri. And it was the name of a periodical, devoted chiefly to political and social satire, published in 1807 in New York by Washington Irving and James K. Paulding. So, the Clock answered its own question above.

MISS SEMINOLE COUNTY is about to enter into a lengthy schedule of beauty contests. Candice Conner, named "Miss Seminole County" at the Semi-Centennial Celebration last month, will vie for the title of "Miss Sunshine Florida" June 1 in a celebration at New Smyrna Beach under the sponsorship of the Sanford Civic Club. She also is competing in a "lover girl" contest by TV Directory under the sponsorship of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Winner of this event will receive a trip to Italy, wool, with television appearances for radio-ship and a myriad of other prizes. (Rabija Photo)

Racial Tension Hits Raleigh

Racial tensions eased in Birmingham, Ala., and Nashville, Tenn., but flared again in North Carolina's capital city of Raleigh. More than 800 Negroes staged a "freedom march" through downtown Raleigh Tuesday night to back up de-segregation demands. Police arrested 34 demonstrators. There were no incidents during the march but there were some tense moments when the demonstrators crowded street corners with white youths. Police charged 15 of the arrested group with assault against Leslie Ferguson, assistant manager of a cafeteria, who was "put in a state of fear" during a sit-in attempt. A bi-racial committee held a two-hour meeting in Raleigh Tuesday and bank officials Victor Bell Jr. said "I think we made good progress in understanding each other and the problem." Earlier the Raleigh Ministerial Association voted 42-1 in favor of desegregating business facilities. Birmingham was relatively quiet Tuesday and federal observers said the city's racial atmosphere was "improving." They added, however, that federal troops would remain at nearby military bases because of the chance of "trouble developing quickly." Alabama Gov. George Wallace sent another telegram to President Kennedy demanding either the removal of the troops or publication of "the true fact of your military operation..."

Mrs. Cooper: 'Beautiful'

TAYLOR LAKE VILLAGE, Tex. (UPI) — "Beautiful," Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper said today of her husband's faultless flight into space. Mrs. Cooper sent the one-word description of her reaction out by Dave Schwartz, a public affairs officer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, almost an hour after her husband's journey started. She said she would have no more to say for the time being. But Schwartz reported that Mrs. Cooper had a big smile on her face. Mrs. Cooper and her daughters, Camilla, 11, and Janita, 13, went into a bedroom by themselves to watch the lift-off on a television set. Schwartz was in the living room. The family wanted to be alone at a moment when they might have watched Cooper die. Instead, Cooper's wife and daughters saw him safely soar into space. Schwartz said Mrs. Cooper and the girls stayed in the bedroom about 15 minutes. Then Mrs. Cooper came out, smiling broadly. Cooper telephoned about 50 minutes before the launch. About 20 minutes before, Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief of NASA's medical operations, telephoned. Mrs. Berry went into the Cooper home about an hour after the liftoff. Schwartz said that Mrs. Cooper has asked him not to tell about 50 waiting reporters and television men anything not authorized by her. Mrs. Cooper and the girls were up at 6 a. m. (EST). They had breakfast of hot rolls and grapefruit. The girls drank milk and Mrs. Cooper had a second cup of coffee. The only sign of life about the house when Cooper rocketed into space was the family's gray and white cat, Buttons, sitting on top of the chimney and flicking his tail. "I'm glad they tried it again as soon," Cooper's mother, Mrs. Hattie Cooper, said in Tecumseh, Okla. Cooper's two grandmothers, as well as his mother, arose early in Oklahoma to see him launched. Cooper's daughters will get a couple of days off from school.

Canal Bill Okayed By Senate

In an unprecedented move, the State Senate this morning approved the bill calling for the establishment of the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District. The measure now goes to the House. The bill was approved by a Senate committee and sent to the floor Tuesday. Sen. Mueck (Cleveland Jr.) this morning requested and received unanimous consent for the Senate to consider it. Shortly before 11 a. m. today the Senate approved the measure. This was reported as a "rare occurrence" since it was before the Senate for the first time, and the chamber has an unusually large calendar at present. The bill provides for the establishment of a district and appointment by the Governor of five commissioners whose duty it will be to obtain the necessary right-of-way for a waterway between Lake Harney and the Indian River. The bill also provides for the establishment of a district and appointment by the Governor of five commissioners whose duty it will be to obtain the necessary right-of-way for a waterway between Lake Harney and the Indian River. Foul Play Seen In Man's Death

Volusia County authorities today were probing the death of Floyd Dodson, 46-year-old Paula barber, whose body was found early this morning in the St. Johns River at Carlos fishing camp. Coroner S. J. Peterson, Osteen, said at noon that "there is evidence of foul play." He added that two men were taken into custody for interrogation. An autopsy was to be held this afternoon at Daytona Beach, Peterson reported. "Because there were cuts and bruises and other injuries about the head." The body had been in the water for several hours, the coroner said, adding that Fred Gilbert, who resides at the fishing camp, telephoned the Volusia County sheriff's department at 3:20 a. m. Seminole County Sheriff's deputies are assisting in the investigation. Taken into custody were Gilbert and Joe Carey, of Sanford. Peterson reported the men were too intoxicated to give coherent statements this morning. The coroner also stated that it was reported Dodson had taken a boat from the fishing camp Tuesday but had no fishing gear. Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Jean Brock, Mrs. Rosa-

Man, 142, Would Marry Girl, 18

THEBAN, Iran (UPI) — Ustad Ali Mohammad, a resident of the village of Shabrud, said he hopes to marry an 18-year-old girl provided he can get permission from his son. Mohammad, who claims to be 142 years old, said he has outlived three wives and 12 of his 13 children. "I would be wonderfully sweet if I could marry again," he was quoted as saying. Cooper reported at the end of his second flash around the world that he was "very comfortable."

Sheriff's Father Dies In Georgia

Sheriff J. L. Hobbs left this morning for Ashburn, Ga., to attend the funeral of his father, O. L. Hobbs, who died there early today. Hobbs had been in the hospital for some time. Arrangements are being made by Perry's Funeral Home in Ashburn.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — L. Gordon Cooper made a near-perfect leap into space today and after one circuit of the earth was told to keep trying for a full planned mission of 22 orbits in about 34 hours. Cooper's mighty Atlas booster lifted from its pad at 8:01 a. m. (EST). At 8:10 a. m. he was pronounced in orbit in his vital attempt to advance this country's moon flight program a long step forward. At the end of his first orbit, 9:38 a. m. (EST), Mercury ground controllers told the 36-year-old Air Force major he could keep going for seven. At the end of the seventh, if all is still going well, he will get a "go" order for 17th, and then for the full 22. As he swung over the United States at the end of his second orbit, the control center reported some slight modifications in the statistics of the Cooper flight. The velocity was set at 17,546 miles an hour. The low point or perigee of the orbit was set at 100.2 miles above the earth and the high point 165.8 miles.

It was taking Cooper just 88.45 minutes to whirl one time around the earth. The inclination of his orbital path was 32.5 degrees from the equator. The Mercury control center report at the end of the second orbit

As Cooper went into his fourth orbit at 12:35 p. m. (EST), Walter C. Williams, operations chief of the Mercury flight program, issued this word: "He is very much on top of his mission. He is in good spirits and in good health."

Cooper reported at the end of his second flash around the world that he was "very comfortable."

Cooper's job aboard his 3,000-pound Faith 7 spacecraft was to test further the effects of weightlessness on human beings and to amass information vital to the forthcoming two-man Gemini and Apollo moon flights. Cooper told fellow astronaut Virgil I. (Gus) Grissom, who is manning a station at Guaymas, Mexico, that he felt slightly warmer than exactly normal, but that he was "having no trouble" with his silver 20-pound space suit. Cooper also said that he saw lights on the ground as he passed over the city of Perth, Australia, where it was the middle of the night. The astronaut saw, too, the "fireflies" that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. discovered and that M. Scott Carpenter solved as fragments of moisture clapping off their space capsules during orbital flights last year. As the astronaut's Faith 7 spacecraft flashed into orbit at 17,544 miles an hour, a space agency spokesman said: "It is almost unbelievable."

The 36-year-old Air Force major's own word for his shuddering rush into the sky atop his Atlas booster, during which his 147 pounds multiplied about 7 1/2 times under acceleration, was: "Super."

Cooper did something no other American astronaut had ever done. As his 3,000-pound spacecraft soared toward the Sahara Desert in Africa, he turned on a 10-pound television camera which transmitted pictures of himself and the interior of his cabin. They were relayed from Grand Canary Island to Cape Canaveral. They were described as fuzzy on home television. Later in his flight, if all goes as planned, TV pictures received at the cape will be relayed to Europe. The space agency's relay communication satellite will be in position to transmit pictures overseas between 11:25 and 11:31 p. m. (EST) and again at 5:55 p. m. The American Telephone and Telegraph Co.'s Telstar 2, also capable of relaying television, won't be in position for a satisfactory transmission until about 7 p. m. (EST).

Cooper also said that he saw lights on the ground as he passed over the city of Perth, Australia, where it was the middle of the night. The astronaut saw, too, the "fireflies" that astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. discovered and that M. Scott Carpenter solved as fragments of moisture clapping off their space capsules during orbital flights last year. Cooper told fellow astronaut Virgil I. HE GREW HAIR

Mr. T. A. Melton, Jr., of Hollyhurburg, Pa. (above) gave about 20 minutes of his time for an interview with a representative—saved and regrew his hair in only a few months with the exclusive home method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

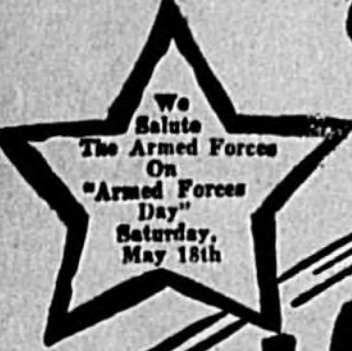

EBB HAIR SPECIALISTS
Home Treatment System

Will be in Orlando, Florida Tomorrow, Thursday, Only

The Ebb Hair Specialists' Staff Director M. J. Hornick on his regularly scheduled visit will be at the Angelbilt Hotel, Orlando, Florida, Thursday, May 16. Every hair-worried person should take advantage of this great opportunity.
The Ebb method is known to many people all over the United States. You can have a conference with the Ebb representative regarding your hair and scalp problems at no cost to you whatsoever, learn how the scalp treatments work, and the results you can expect in a short period of time.
Results guaranteed by the Ebb organization. We don't ask you to take our word. You will be given a written guarantee from the beginning to end on a pro-rated basis. Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Ebb method nor any other method is effective, and the Ebb method will not help those who are slick bald after years of gradual hair loss.
If your scalp is with crusting hair and you have dandruff, or excessive hair fall, excessive oiliness, dizziness, or itchy scalp, you should take 20 minutes of your time to see what you can do.
Many have reported satisfactory results from the methods used by Ebb. Why burden yourself with unhealthy hair and scalp? Any work, and the results you can come in and learn how many people have been helped by the years of Ebb experience plus the wonderful opportunity for help it offers. All go to the Angelbilt Hotel in Orlando, Florida on Thursday, May 16 only, between 1 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Ask the Hotel Desk Clerk for M. J. Hornick. He will do the rest.
Interviews are given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Gene Mauch Says:

Phillies Like Golfer Trying To Make Par

PHILADELPHIA (NEA) — Gene Mauch was elected National League Manager-of-the-Year last season when the Phillies won 34 more games than they did the previous campaign. They bagged 30 of the last 44.

"Naturally, I hoped we would pick up where we left off," said Mauch, who at 38 could be taken for a member of the Philadelphia club's junior set. "But we couldn't hope to keep improving at such a neck-breaking pace. If we did we'd break the major league record for games won."

"This club right now is like an 85 golfer. It will be tougher getting down to par. We're much better than our record so far and our trouble has been making mistakes. We have been weakest where I know we're strongest—on defense. Errors have cost us five or six games."

Mauch professed to be delighted with the deal that brought Don Hoak, the 35-year-old third baseman, from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"Don has satisfied me but not himself," said Gene, scribbling down a batting order for the opening of a series with the Milwaukee Braves at Connie Mack Stadium. "He hasn't been hitting as much as he'd like to."

A platoon from Platoonerville, Mauch platoons such fine left-hand hitting outfielders as Tony Gonzalez, Johnny Callison and Wes Covington. The right-hand hitting Don Demeter shuttles between first base and center field, depending on the opposing pitching.

"There is not a limit to what Gonzalez may do with a bat in his hands," enthused Mauch. "I wouldn't be at all surprised if he led the league."

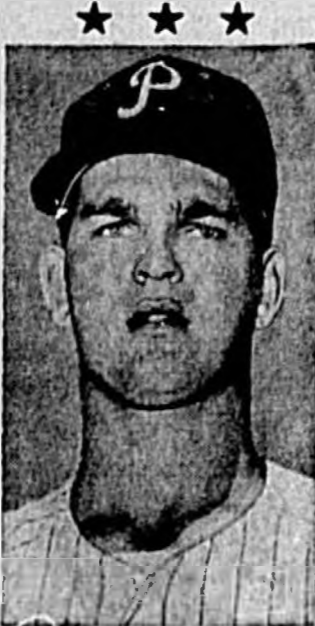

Johnny Callison has never quite lived up to the billing given him as the Chicago White Sox cover boy, but Mauch said he would settle for the California lead, still only 24, just the way he is. Callison had 23 home runs driving in 83 runs and batting .300 last trip.

Covington has regained the stroke that made him a clean-up man with the champion Braves of 1957-58. There were reports that Covington wasn't too compatible with the Sudaville outfit.

"I had a bad knee for a time," explained Covington in the clubhouse, "but it didn't have to be operated on. I just couldn't hit it off on Charley Dressen. And I knew where I would wind up when sold to the White Sox in 1961. I knew I'd be with the Phillies and back with John Quinn, who brought me into organized baseball and to Milwaukee."

"I don't know what Covington's status was with the Braves," said Mauch, "but I consider him a leader with the Phillies. He's a good man to have on a club, especially right now when he is hitting nothing but doubles and home runs."

Mauch added that the Phillies had enough strong arms to have a good pitching staff headed by Art Mahaffey. He said Ray Culp, the newest whiz kid, was the most mature 21-year-old pitcher he had ever seen, one with a live fast ball, and excellent curve and a change-up. The Phillies plucked the six-foot, 200-pound righthander out of an Austin, Tex., high school three years ago for $100,000.

Lakeland Leads Florida League By Full Game

United Press International Lakeland downed the Tampa Tarpons 6-4 Tuesday night to move a full game out in front of Fort Lauderdale in the Florida State League.

Chuck Hayes drove in two runs in the fifth inning and catcher Bill Stenbach got two doubles and a single to lead Lakeland to victory.

Fort Lauderdale pitchers held Miami to two hits but it wasn't good enough and the Marlins won the game 3-1. Two of Miami's runs were the result of Yankee errors.

Orlando beat Daytona Beach 5-4 when right fielder Dick Oschroft singled in the winning run in the 10th inning.

Sarasota split a doubleheader with the St. Petersburg Saints winning the first 6-4 and losing the second 3-2. The Sun Sox got off to a good start in the first inning by scoring four runs, two of them on a single by Teddy Fowler.

In the second game, Saint left fielder Tom Richards scored two runs in the second inning on a double. Ed Montellano got four hits, all singles, for the Saints.

Tonight the Marlins go to Daytona Beach, the Fort Lauderdale Yankees play at Orlando, Lakeland is at Sarasota and the Tampa Tarpons go across the bay to St. Petersburg.

U. S. Favorite In Basketball

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—The United States remained a strong favorite to gallop unheated through the world amateur basketball tournament today, just as it did in winning the recent Pan-American Games championship.

Only the Soviet Union and France among the other six elimination round survivors are given a chance of upsetting the Yanks when the finals open here Thursday. No games were scheduled today.

Joe Pauline Strikes Out 12

The Sanford Atlantic battery had a hitting spree but lost to Florida State Bank 16-7 in Little League play. The winners tallied 12 hits and the losers nine.

Joe Pauline, the winning pitcher, struck out 12. Mike Ferrell, the losing pitcher, hit two doubles and Mike Ruddy, the losing catcher, had three hits, including a double.

Fight Results

NEW YORK (UPI)—Frankie Narvaez, 137 3/4, New York, stopped Lou Anderson, 139, New York, 2.

SHAVED LEGS — SHAVED TIME. Members of the Seminole High School relay swimming team shaved their legs and shaved time to set a new state relay record at the state meet at Gainesville recently. And Sandy Richards scored enough points to place the SIS girls team in 10th place in the tourney. Team members and their dates, with Mrs. (Coach) John Colbert, were dinner guests of Capt. William W. Henderson, M.D., N.A.S., Monday evening at Jim Spencer's. Chateaugay Tops Seven In Preakness

BAITMORE, Md. (UPI)—Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay heads the list of seven likely candidates for Saturday's 87th running of the Preakness Stakes, middle jewel of racing's big triple crown.

Also ready for the mile and three sixteenths run at Pimlico are Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend, second to Chateaugay at Churchill Downs, and Rex C. Ellsworth's Candy Spots, the third place finisher.

There has been mounting support for Candy Spots in the last few days. The handsome chestnut son of Nigro, unbeaten in six lifetime starts and was sent off an odds-on favorite. Despite his failure in the Run for the Roses, Candy Spots may wind up the bettor's choice in the Preakness.

Reason for this has been the intensive training Candy Spots has received since arriving at Pimlico.

The other probable starters are Ambush Stable's On My Honor, T. D. Bull's Lemon Twist, Jacot Stable's Country Square and Mrs. C. D. Morgan's Sky Wonder.

If seven go, the Preakness will gross $178,000 with the winner earning $125,000.

Lady Golf Pros Gain With Marilyn Smith

ATLANTA (UPI)—The Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) has received a boon in the late emergence of Marilyn Smith as a tournament winner—for duffer to picture herself in the shoes of most lady pros. But Kansas-born Marilyn is the housewife's delight. She wears flattering skirts, sweaters and earrings and isn't adverse to being emotional.

When the 34-year-old Miss Smith, who now lives in Jupiter, Fla., with her parents, won the Titleholders at Augusta, Ga., last month in a playoff against Mickey Wright, the top lady pro in the nation, she won the hearts of the gallery by breaking into tears.

A week later, when she won the Peach Blossom tournament at Spartanburg, S. C., she was all smiles — thus showing that, like a woman, she was unpredictable.

On the morning before the Titleholders' playoff, Marilyn sat in the club house talking about the day ahead.

"I just can't afford to think about it," she said. "I really want to win so badly that I'm sure I'll go to pieces if I think about it."

Just the night before, after blowing a three-stroke lead and finishing in a tie with the powerful Miss Wright who was after her third straight titleholders' crown, Marilyn sadly told a news conference: "I wanted to call my dad tonight and tell him I had won that green coat (symbol of Titleholders' champions)."

Crooms High Will Defend State Title

The 1962 state double "AA" baseball champions of Crooms High School will play their last regular season game today at 3 p.m. at Crooms athletic field.

The Panthers are sporting a 24-game winning streak going into this game. Regardless of the outcome, they will participate in the state baseball tournament on Friday at Daytona Beach. (Cleveland Indians minor league training base.)

Coaches Richard Evans and E. Bradley are optimistic about repeating as state champions. However, they will readily admit that this year's team is a little weaker than the championship team of 1962. Coach Evans says he is relying heavily on his little ace righthander, Wesley Houston and big Lefty William Hartstaff. Both pitchers are undefeated in high school competition.

USSR Favored Over Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI)—A report by the Institute for the Study of the USSR calculated today that Russia should outscore the United States in the 1964 Olympics, 712 to 518, despite U. S. improvement in gymnastics, marksmanship and sailing.

The figures, based on worldwide performances in Olympic sports during the last two years, were contained in a report written by Yury V. Marin.

By Bill Vincent Jr. Meadors Marine, Murra Marine Corporation, Sanford Atlantic Bank, Beverly Manufacturing Company, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, Gator Trailers and Brunswick Boats, Inc.

The U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary facility boats will patrol the course. Referee will be Marty Howard. For any further information, contact E. K. Meadors or D. H. MacGillivray.

Grant's Down Kingswood 11-9

Grant's wood Kingswood went on a batting spree but the former won 11-9 in the Men's Softball league. Grant's scored 11 runs off 12 hits and Kingswood had nine runs off 10 hits. Gerald Bowling was the winning pitcher. Lisk, of Grant's, and Mangum, of Kingswood, belted out four-batters.

Earl Evans held McRaney to four hits but yielded six runs when Badoock defeated McRaney 11-6. The Badoock nine tallied 14 hits. Earl Evans was the winning pitcher.

Rides Triple — Henry Wajda scored a riding triple at Suffolk Downs Tuesday, winning with Twin City ($7.40) in the first race, Gold Brick ($4.80) in the sixth and Oxford Lass ($4.80) in the feature eighth.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. The Great Farm Vote of '63. You don't have to be a farmer to get the full impact of this program. Its eventual outcome will effect us all. The total point is next Tuesday's voting by American wheat farmers on the administration's program for stricter wheat controls. As the program points out, this decision will play a major part in the mushrooming agricultural revolution, which will in turn play a major part in the political potential of the administration and the economic structure of the nation. Both sides of the issue are dramatically depicted and vocally aired by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Charles B. Schuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. The Virginian. "Women From White Wing." (Color). (Rerun). Barry Sullivan is expert enough to act the good guy and play it convincingly. But he has few peers when he dramatizes the evil that can fill a man's spirit, which he excellently depicts tonight. The object of his venom is Judge Garth and the victim of his wrath is the judge's daughter. It is hard to say whether the veteran actor Lee J. Cobb or the youngster Robert Shore better fills their emotional responsibilities. At any rate, neither of them beats the performance of Sullivan. James Drury and Doug McClure are featured.

9:30 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillbillies. Even rabid fans of this series may be disappointed with this one because it becomes ridiculous to an irritating extreme. Psychiatrist Twombly (Herbert Rudley) is on hand again to analyze Jethro (Max Baer) but is more fascinated with Granny's superstitious practice of mountain medicine. Cousin Pearl (Bea Benaderet) mistakenly assumes he's really fascinated with her.

9:10 p.m. NBC. The Bob Hope Show. Bob Hope's final show of the season is not his best, but it's better than the slapstick farces he presented on his previous TV Guide Awards Show. As usual, his monologue is slick with timely gags, most of the barbs here aimed at Khrushchev and the expanding Kennedy family. A sketch laid in a Moscow hotel room is a bit too non-sensical to be hilarious, but a later sketch with Fred MacMurray as a man from Mars is quite funny. Patti Page participates in the first sketch fairly effectively, but really comes to life in her singing spot where she scores splendidly with "Say Wonderful Things" and "Our Day Will Come." A bit strained is a quickie sketch between Hope and golf pro Arnold Palmer.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. The Dick Van Dyke Show. "Oh How We Met on the Night that we Danced." (Rerun). It's hard to imagine a good Van Dyke show without Morey Amsterdam and Rosa Marie, but this is it. And the reason is Van Dyke. The multi-talented showman shows off a few facets of his capabilities in a story about how he met his wife (Mary Tyler Moore) while he was an army sergeant and she a USO entertainer.

Miss Lucinda May, Willard Holden Married In Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Lucinda Kathleen May, daughter of Mrs. Michael Thomas and the late Rev. E. Forrest May, and Willard Lester Holden Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holden, of Cleveland, Tenn., were married May 3 at 8 p. m. at the First Baptist Church, in Sanford.

Rev. Fred Chance officiated at the candlelight, double ring ceremony, using a ceremony from her late father's marriage book.

The church was decorated with two large baskets of white gladiol and small palms on each side of the altar. A prayer bench was placed at the front where they knelt for the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Marvin Milam, organist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied soloist Miss Suzanne Jones, a cousin of the bride. She sang "Whither Thou Goest," "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Michael Thomas, Miss May wore a princess gown of imported embossed satin in horizon blue. She wore a shoulder length veil of blue illusion, matching satin slippers and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white feathered carnations centered with two large white orchids. Her only jewelry was a tiny heart centered with a diamond, a gift from the groom. Maid of honor, Miss Ann Carter, of Winter Park, wore a yellow embroidered cotton satin, with matching slippers and a short veil of yellow illusion. She carried a cascade of yellow mums.

Bridesmaids, Miss Pam Jones, wore a dress identical to that of the maid of honor in blue and Miss Willa May, junior bridesmaid's dress was the same as the maid of honor.

E. Forrest May, father of the bride, was best man and serving as ushers were Kirk May, another brother; James T. Westlund and Charles C. Bates.

The bride's mother chose a printed silk crepe with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Adams. Two large baskets of gladiol stood in front of the fireplace and arrangements of dahlias and glorioza lilies were placed throughout the party rooms.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a satin damask cloth and centered with a crystal and silver centerpiece with blue and white cascading flowers. Assisting with the reception were Mrs. M. L. Nichols, Mrs. C. O. Jones, Miss Suzanne Jones and Miss Suzanne Fletcher, of Greensboro.

For a wedding trip to the East Coast, Mrs. Holden wore a yellow and white embroidered suit, with white accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

They are now residing at the Hollywood Trailer Park, on Hwy. 17-92.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Adams and Mr. and Mrs. William King, all of Jacksonville; Dr. Byron Cole and Mr. and Mrs. Grover Whiddon, Orlando; the groom's parents, of Cleveland, Tenn.; his sister, Miss Alma Jean Holden and cousin, Miss Carlotta North, of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Miss Suzanne Fletcher, of Greensboro.

Teachers' Group Attend Luncheon

At a Founder's Day luncheon held recently at the Langford Hotel, in Winter Park, the members of District Four of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, honorary teachers' organization, celebrated the founding of the society in Austin, Texas on May 11, 1929.

Irene Lighthizer, of Orlando, presented the Founder's Day program. A large globe encircled with a lei was surrounded with red candles. As each founder's name was read, a candle was lit. Seven gold birthday cakes decorated with red roses and candles were placed around the globe.

The cakes represented the birthdays of the seven chapters of District Four. As each chapter's name was called and the year of its beginning read, the president of the chapter lit the candles on her cake.

Music for the event was under the direction of Mrs. Yun Neelo Black, of Orlando and featured a violin solo by Mrs. Alberta Frey. Mrs. Oswald Delgado, of Winter Park, spoke to the group on "A changing world challenges women." She named women who have been challenged by changes from Bible times down through the centuries.

Members from Seminole County in Beta Chapter who attended the meeting were Mrs. P. J. Westgate, William West, Ron Wiggins, Sal Manfre, William Layer, Charles Meriwether, M. B. Smith, William Wray, L. T. Milwee, Walter Teague, D. G. Walton, Lucille Snyder, Nancy Brock and the Misses Ethel Riser, Mable Chapman and Mildred Wright.

Members in Itho Chapter attending were Mrs. Walter Morgan, Guy Allen, Lloyd Coleman, C. E. Carlton and Thelma Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Methany were guests of honor at the home of Miss Doris Faber in celebration of their 48th wedding anniversary.

The Methanys were married in Oakland, Maryland, in 1915. Mr. Methany retired from the Hope Gas Co. in Clarksburg, W. Va., after 29 years service and came to Enterprise and built a home on Broadway.

A son, Earl, and his family live in Osteen; one grandchild and four great grandchildren are living in California.

A group of close neighbors and friends enjoyed the celebration with them. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ashby Nelson, Margaret Magenheimer, Miss Katherine Litch, Mrs. Robert Cox and the hostess, Miss Faber.

Accey Deucey Club Sponsoring Dance This Saturday

The Accey Deucey Wives Club is sponsoring a Hoaring Twenties dance this Saturday at the Accey Deucey club at the Naval Air Station, starting at 8:30 p. m. All first and second class personnel and their wives and friends are invited to attend.

Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. One will be given to the couple with the most original costume and one each to the best dressed flapper and man individually. But you do not need a costume to come and join the fun.

Several skits will be presented by members of the club, their husbands, and friends. Dancing will be enjoyed to the popular music of Wes Harringer and his band. The committee for this gala affair is Miss W. J. Richardson, chairman, V. N. Elliott, N. C. Blanks, and R. A. Cleven.

SIXTH GRADE STUDENTS of the Southside School had their mothers as guests at a Mother's Day luncheon, Friday, at the school lunchroom. The green and white place mats trimmed with white kleenex pom poms were made by the children. Yellow mum corsages were presented to each mother and the tables were centered with gerbera daisies. Special guests were Hugh Carlton, principal of the Junior High School and Mrs. Margaret Golt elementary county supervisor. From left are Mrs. J. C. Mitchell, principal of Southside School, Mr. Carlton back of her and three mothers and their children, Mrs. B. C. Hamilton and Nancy; Mrs. Dick Aiken and David and Mrs. John Angel and Jackie. Garden Circles New Arrivals

CENTRAL CIRCLE
The final meeting of the year for the Central Circle of the Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Volle Williams Sr., in Lake Mary. Mrs. B. C. Moore led the devotion and Mrs. S. R. Wood conducted the business session.

Committee reports were given by Mrs. A. F. Collins, Mrs. Paul Johnston and Mrs. Wurt W. Warner. Mrs. Collins explained the rules for selecting the garden of the month.

It was announced that a flower show is scheduled for next April. Each circle was asked to choose what they preferred and Central Circle chose publicity. A bazaar is being planned for November and Central Circle will furnish flowers for the hospital in June.

Fragrance gardens were recommended for the blind, so they may enjoy the fragrance even though they cannot see. Mrs. Francis Boz told how much she enjoyed the carnations in her garden.

Mrs. Moore presented the program on "Azaleas." She suggested that they be cut back when they are through blooming. They should also be fertilized, banked with plenty of oak leaves and watered freely. Mrs. B. W. Turner told of her luck with growing daisies.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Wood for her work the past year. Mrs. Williams made the presentation in behalf of the members. Two new members, Mrs. Fred Yackle and Mrs. Con Chaplet were welcomed into the circle.

Others present were Mrs. Frank Evans, Burward H. Walker, L. Tinsley, A. C. Benson, J. M. Thompson, W. N. Kieffer, G. S. Chapman, N. H. Brewer, J. B. Fields and a guest, Mrs. C. D. Henley, of High Point, N. C.

Accept a guest's "No, thank you" about food without argument.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am getting a little sick of all those deep-rooted psychological reasons why children do this and that. One, for instance, is the theory that when a child steals something it is a symptom of an unfulfilled need. They say the child who steals a flashlight really wants his mother's love and is not getting it. Couldn't there possibly be another more obvious reason why a child steals a flashlight?

DOUBTING THOMAS

DEAR DOUBTING: Yes, I suppose the child could simply want a flashlight.

DEAR ABBY: What can a sensible wife do about a husband who is excessively generous to an employee? She is very well paid, so all these extras are uncalled for in my opinion. We get bills from the dentist for Susie's teeth straightening, and from the optician for Robert's glasses. He has lent money to this employee and, as far as I know, she has never paid him back. We are not poor, but if I am going to give away that kind of money I'd rather do it through my Missionary work at church, or CARE.

VERY MUCH ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Tell your husband that every day isn't Christmas, and he is not Santa Claus. I usually advise wives to stay away from their husband's offices — but in your case I think I'll make an exception.

DEAR ABBY: For the past 16 years an old shipmate of my husband's from World War II has come to spend his summer vacations with us. He stays about three weeks. He never wants to go out. He only wants to sit around and have dinner at home every night. Naturally, I have to cook company meals while he's here. Also, I would never think of serving him left-overs, which makes it hard. My husband says that after four days he is no longer a "guest," and I should go back to my normal way of cooking. I can't do that, Abby. To me a guest is a guest as long as he stays. I would appreciate your advice.

JOHN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I think your husband is right. Give your "guest" the company treatment for the first few days, and after that relax and pretend that he is "one of the family." And don't hesitate to serve the left-overs.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MOTHER MARY: And when HER birthday rolls around, forget the past and remember the present!

Yes, Abby will send you a personal reply if you send her a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your problem.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

South's bidding was definitely of the slam-bang type, but as he pointed out afterwards he had a pretty good play for seven hearts and it was only bad luck plus good defense that beat him at his small slam contract.

He won the opening diamond lead with his ace and promptly led out the ace and king of spades. West ruffed, went into a long huddle and led the king of clubs.

Dummy's ace held the trick, South ruffed back to his hand, ruffed the five of spades with dummy's eight of trumps, ruffed back to his hand again, ruffed his nine of spades, came back to his hand to draw trumps, but had to go down one when East showed up with three trumps to the jack. Where did the brilliant defense come in? Ninety-nine players out of 100 would have led the queen of diamonds from the West hand after ruffing the second spade. In that case South could simply ruff one spade in dummy and run out all his trumps. On the last trump lead West would have to discard down to one club in order to hang on to the jack of diamonds. South would then throw away dummy's last diamond and East would have to jettison a club in order to hold the high spade whereupon South would make the last two tricks with the ace and seven of clubs in dummy.

While there can be no valid criticism of South's play, if he had known where all the cards were he could have made the hand by either of two other lines of play.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

How annoying, those people who always say—

When looking at a group picture, "It's terrible of me,"

When shamelessly bragging,

"I don't want to brag, but..."

When confronted with someone else's problem, "Just don't worry, everything will turn out all right."

When telling something they shouldn't be telling, "I wouldn't tell this to anyone but you."

When interrupting a busy person, "I hope I'm not interrupting."

When describing a person who is arrogantly careless about his dress and social niceties if he also happens to have wealth, "He's as plain as an old shoe."

When writing stacks of picture postcards while on a trip to "get away from it all" — "Wish you were here."

When going all-out to have a really big party, "We're having a FEW friends..."

When getting one bad break, "That's just my luck!"

When seeing someone for the first time in years, "You haven't changed a bit!"—even when the changes are startling.

When they are excited over having seen a celebrity in person, "You know, I ordinarily wouldn't walk across the street to see a celebrity."

When telling you a long and involved story about Sam, "You'd really have to KNOW Sam to appreciate this."

When offering unsought advice, "I know it's none of my business, but..."

When paying a drop-in visit that may last anywhere from one to three hours, "I can only stay a minute."

MIAMI (UPI)—U. S. Marshal Guy W. Wilson and County Sheriff T. A. Buchanan were ordered by a circuit court judge here Monday to show cause why ex-Venezuelan dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez should not be released from the county jail.

The U. S. Supreme Court cleared the way Monday for Secretary of State Dean Rusk to proceed with the extradition of Perez, but Balaban's order prohibits the removal of Perez until the hearing.

UN Assembly Eyes Deficit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United Nations General Assembly today turned to its budget committee to seek ways to make up a $100 million deficit and avoid threatened bankruptcy.

In the second day of a special session convened to discuss the financial burdens of UN peacekeeping missions in the Congo and Middle East, the 111-nation administrative and budgetary committee scheduled a 3 p. m. meeting.

The 111th nation was added to the committee and the assembly Tuesday with the admission of Kuwait as the latest UN member.

The budget committee was called to hear a report of the unsuccessful efforts of a working group of 21 countries to agree on a financing plan for peace-keeping efforts.

Good Faith Fizzles Out

The ironies in the realm of nations affairs are sometimes incredible. Take this one:

There is an outfit called the Council of State Governments, whose whole purpose is to make the 50 states more effective in instruments of government.

The Council has various arms—the Governor's Conference, the National Association of Attorneys General, the General Assembly of States (made up of state legislators), and so on.

All these working arms are designed to heighten the grasp of state officials, to encourage solutions below the federal level, to promote interstate co-operation where that seems feasible.

Where these techniques work well, the net effect can only be to hold back new enlargements of federal power.

The irony is that an agency such as the council, thus dedicated to the preservation and improvement of state authority, should be under some assault as "communist."

Normally the 50 states almost automatically vote their annual appropriations in support of the council and its various arms. This year one western state was diverted only at the last minute from a plan to bar the usual funds. Suspicion of communism explained the nearly successful maneuver.

Certain extreme right-wing writers and publications profess to see in the council and related agencies some sort of insidious master effort to communize America below the federal level. The argument seems to be that the Reds ply their trade not just in Washington, but in all the state capitals.

Not only the Council of State Governments but the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, product of the Republican Eisenhower era, is also sometimes rung in on this. The commission likewise seeks the betterment of government at lower levels.

Aside from casting aspersions on some of the personnel in these agencies, the right-wing critics find most damning any and all attempts to promote collaboration among state units.

Thus the council's persistent efforts to promote uniform traffic laws among the states, and many other uniform codes, are labeled "collectivist planted legislation."

The council—and many state leaders—contend simply that if the rising demand for more uniform laws is not met at state level, Washington will move in and do the job.

The council and the advisory commission are reasonably effective barriers to federal encroachment which exist. If their efforts are "collectivist," then what but anarchy is not?

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Cardinal Is Symbol

Back in February, 1949, a dull-eyed man in a Budapest courtroom pleaded guilty to treason against Communist Hungary.

The man was Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

To this day, there has been no clear account as to the methods the Communist used to torture such a confession from the austere Cardinal who had fought both the Nazis and the Communists.

He, himself, had warned earlier that if he should be arrested and brought to a trumped-up trial, no one should believe him if somehow such a confession should be extracted from him.

The Communist court sentenced him to life imprisonment and, except for 120 hours of freedom during the Hungarian revolt in 1956, that was almost the last the outside world was to see of Mindszenty. As the Hungarian revolt crumpled under the weight of Russian tanks, the Cardinal took sanctuary in the U. S. Legation in Budapest and has remained there since.

Cardinal Mindszenty

In recent days, the name of Cardinal Mindszenty has appeared again in the news columns.

News dispatches from Rome, Warsaw, Vienna and Budapest have suggested that negotiations between the Soviet Union and the Vatican to improve their relations already are far advanced, and that safe passage for Mindszenty from Hungary might be part of a package deal.

For the Vatican to attempt to improve the conditions of the "silent church" behind the Iron Curtain is understandable.

Kremlin reasons for reaching or seeking such an accord seem more obscure.

A first reaction must be that it is a confession of defeat, that Communist oppression of religion only has stiffened the determination of the oppressed, and that Mindszenty's presence in Hungary serves as a rallying symbol and a continuing threat to Communist goals.

Certainly, it does not mean that Communism is abandoning the atheism which was one of Lenin's basic concepts. One reason might be an experiment in co-existence which already has had significant results in Hungary.

It began with an assertion from Hungarian Premier Janos Kadar that henceforth he would consider "for" his regime all those who were not actively "against."

One result was the release of an estimated 2,000 to 3,000 prisoners, both criminal and political, from Hungarian jails.

It is possible that Communist leaders now feel they can extend their "humanization" to the church. If such is to be the case, it can only be accepted as good. But it should not be accepted as any basic change in Communist intent to rule the world.

Nobody will know what you mean by saying that God is love unless you act it as well.—Lawrence P. Jacks

MUSIC AT MIDNIGHT

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Marvin wants to fall in love with the girl next door. But they have been pals so long that he looks on her much as a foster sister.

He can't feel romantic about her and he says he'd like to force himself even to kiss her. Yet she would make him an ideal wife, so scrapbook this case and tomorrow's follow-up.

CASE P-438: Marvin G., aged 27, is a successful attorney.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am still unmarried although I have dated many girls."

"I live at home with my parents. They'd like to have me marry a girl next door."

"She and I went to high school together and also attended the state university till I entered law school."

"She is a beautiful girl, I'll admit, and has all the other assets I'd want in my wife, for she is a good church worker and a talented musician."

"At present, she teaches kindergarten, so she is really a super duper type of woman."

"But here's my problem, Dr. Crane. I have known her so long that I can't seem to get romantic about her."

"In fact, I'd have to force myself to kiss her for it would be like kissing my sister or some other member of the family."

"If only she lived somewhere else and I were meeting her for the first time, then I'd probably be madly in love with her."

"But we have known each other ever since we were kids and I just can't seem to look upon her as romantic material. What should I do, for I'd like to fall in love with her?"

William James gave us a superb law of Applied Psychology which I have paraphrased as follows:

"If you go through the proper motions, then you will soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions."

So I advised Marvin to take this girl to a romantic movie and then slip his arm around her shoulders.

"At the proper moment, kiss her," I urged.

"Even if you must force yourself to do so, kiss the girl. And prolong the kiss, for within 3 or 10 seconds you will then shatter your former taboo and react to her as a thrilling, flesh-and-blood woman."

Many of you readers have been in the same boat with Marvin. You have grown up next door to a splendid potential mate, but you have also felt this brother-sister type of closeness that tends to preclude romance.

For in almost every normal family, there is a subtle, unvoiced and untaught taboo against romance between real brothers and sisters.

In psychology, we refer to this as the incest taboo.

But it spreads beyond your immediate family and may involve those who live next door or with whom you have grown up together as pals.

Many ideal marriages have thus been frustrated because a boy and girl had been pals for so long that they just couldn't break that sentimental barrier and sister relationship.

So they married strangers who were much less well suited and whom their parents probably vetoed.

And many of you parents have asked me how to get your son or daughter to fall in love with the person next door.

"Both of us sets of parents would be delighted to have our children fall in love," you have often confessed to me.

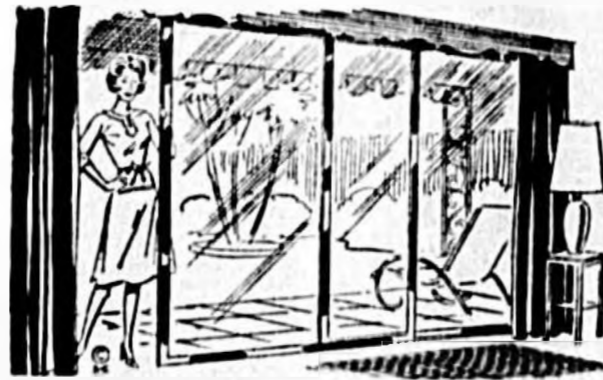

"But how can we produce this miracle, for they take each other for granted?" Store next time.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — There may be a long-range political appeal in the line that Gov. George Romney of Michigan handed out here recently before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce annual meeting.

What Romney is advocating is a "citizens' political party, directed, controlled and financed by citizens, and not limited to the views of business or labor or any other special interest group."

This is nothing that is likely to spring up overnight and sweep the businessmen-turned-politician in to the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. Romney insists in fact, that he is not even a candidate. Until he changes his mind, he must be taken at his word.

Also, it does not take a political seer to predict that the odds now favor re-election of President Kennedy next year. Any Republican who runs against him is therefore just a brave man likely to take a licking.

If the situation does develop this way, the smart Republican with presidential ambitions is the one who plays coy in 1964 and builds himself up as Mr. Available for 1968.

By that time the Kennedy administration may have made so many mistakes that everyone will be sick and tired of the New Frontiersmen.

Then it will be high time for a change to some backwoods boy preaching the simple virtues of good but less government.

"We definitely must mobilize those who are not advocates or beneficiaries of a nationalized government," Romney told the attentive Chamber delegates. "We do not want the federal government to dry up state, local or individual responsibility."

"To stop this, we must go to the ultimate source of power in a democracy—the people. If they are not sufficiently informed, don't take the power from them. Enlighten them. Save America from federalization."

This is no new line for Romney. It has been the basis of his campaign for reform in Michigan.

He began his crusade with six associates who got together to save their state from what they considered political bankruptcy. They finally got some 3,000 followers, held a constitutional convention, instituted changes which Romney now is trying to carry out.

He can't complete this job in one two-year term. He needs at least four years, maybe six. By that time it should be apparent whether his drive for good state government—to take over more of the job from bad federal government—makes sense and has the makings of a national political crusade.

Romney's performance in Washington was appraised as having a lot more to commend it than the recent capital appearances of New York's Nelson Rockefeller and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or even the long-play records of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, criticizing almost everything and everybody.

Romney didn't mention Cuba or communism, Laos or Latin America, Khrushchev or Kennedy. He spoke on subjects closer to his heart at this time.

Romney assailed attempts by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to dictate relief policies to his state. He condemned big business labor massive collective bargaining which fosters monopoly in violation of the anti-trust laws.

"Until such conditions are altered," he declared of the latter, "we are not going to have adequate growth, and we will be headed down the road to disorder and destruction."

More than 1,000 Chamber delegates stood and applauded Romney, even after he told them to stop coming to Washington with their problems.

If all these delegates were to start selling a line like this, hard, after they get home, something might come of it by 1968, if not sooner.

Lot Purchases On Installment Are Tightened

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Legislature completed action today on the administration bill to regulate installment purchases of Florida subdivision lands and gave a big boost to the huge bond financing program urged by the Governor.

The measure creating a five-member commission to check advertising and to license persons selling subdivision lots, went to the Governor's desk after the Senate concurred in several House changes. One change allows rather than requires the regulatory board to make investigations of complaints of fraudulent claims.

Meanwhile, the Senate received and unanimously adopted the report of a special bond investigating committee which, in effect, recommended that the Legislature go along with the Governor's request to borrow up to $125 million to expand universities and junior colleges.

But the committee said it will sponsor legislation to put safeguards on the program, including creation of a bond review board. It would be composed of four legislators and the cabinet, to pass on every bond issue proposed.

It also gave endorsement to two measures put before the Legislature by Sen. John Matthews, of Jacksonville. One writes into law ceilings on interest and other costs of bond issues and the other sets up an interim committee of the Legislature to investigate the entire bond financing field in the next two years.

Well Rested Cooper Goes For 'Broke'

By LARRY VERSHEL

Sorry to disappoint you all, but I'm back . . . Something about this place I can't get out of my shoes . . . Can't forget or leave behind . . . Maybe it's the good friend ship I have with Gene Tucker, George Touhy and Howard Hodges.

Would have been back sooner but I tried to talk the book publishers into using a picture of Charlton Heston on the book jacket instead of mine . . . They wouldn't buy it . . . Tony Curtis wouldn't do, nor Richard Burton. The book will be published the week of June 8.

In The New York Press the Birmingham story rates bigger headlines than Cooper's flight . . . One paper featured 11 stories regarding the violence, bigotry, etc., in the south . . . On the street where my father lives there's a sign by a new apartment house . . . "White tenants only."

To make matters worse . . . Someone stole my sunglasses in New York.

Just not good etiquette to fly torn flags . . . Too many downtown.

May 28 will be a big day at Seminole High School. That's the day the various civic clubs will pitch in to add the Little Red School House . . . It will be called Merry-go-Round . . . More on this later.

That proposed trip to New York by two City Commissioners on that prep school has been called off . . . County put a wrench in the deal, wants 50 per cent on everything the city makes on the proposition. . . There will be a special joint city-county meeting at noon tomorrow.

The only thing the Bryant Committee agrees on is to disagree.

Notice City Clerk Hank Tamm Jr. with a white shirt and tie on today . . . City commissioners making a check of all departments.

Watch for BIG, BIG news in the next 30 days about the former Del-Mar plant. We hear an option has been granted.

Next meeting of the County Commission will be held Wednesday, May 29, rather than the regular meeting day, Tuesday, May 28, according to Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr.

Social Security representative from Orlando will be at the City Commission room here between 9 a. m. and noon on Wednesday, June 5, 12, 19 and 26.

We must have missed a real hot county commission meeting Tuesday. Two county commissioners told us that the commission laid it on the line to Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee that the school board not pick any out-of-the-way school sites when the county has to furnish roads into the site. (Like English Estates).

April 24 saw 3,276,113 gallons of water consumed here. This is an all-time high.

Move is under way to have show fishing in the upper St. Johns River featured in the Florida exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — L. Gordon Cooper reeled off orbit after orbit today as he whirled at more than 17,500 miles an hour through space on America's greatest space flight.

After 7 1/2 hours of sleep in drifting flight, from which he awakened in "very good shape," the 36-year-old astronaut headed into the final laps of his 22.9-orbit mission scheduled to end in the Pacific about 6:23 p.m.

At 8:37 a.m. ground controllers gave him the go-ahead for completion of his flight plan. That was during his 17th circuit of the globe, wrapped up at 9:13 a.m.

A little while later, as Cooper soared over the South Indian Ocean, in his 18th orbit, Lt. Col John A. (Shorty) Powers of the space agency reported that everything aboard the Faith 7 spacecraft was in "emphatic good condition" with capital letters underscored.

Three area sailors are taking part in the planned recovery operation for Astronaut Gordon Cooper, Aubrey L. Whitten, ship's servicesman 1/C, son of Mrs. H. E. Whitten, 608 Elm Avenue, is aboard the destroyer USS C. R. Ware in the Atlantic, and Michael W. Dietrick, fireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Dietrick, R. R. 1, Oviedo, is aboard the destroyer USS Lotherg in the Pacific. David L. Hart, airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther C. Hart, Altamonte Springs, is aboard the aircraft carrier USS Wasp off Bermuda.

Cooper long since had broken all previous U. S. space flight records and at 9:23 a.m. had become the No. 3 astronaut of the world. At that moment he surpassed the 25-hour 18-minute flight of Soviet cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov who flew 17 orbits Aug. 6-7, 1961. Cooper's full mission of more than 34 hours would not, however, come close to the 71-hour and 45-hour Russian flights of last August.

Cooper's job was to get information vital to success of the U. S. Gemini two-man and Apollo moon flights to come. At 9:20 a.m., for example, he took photographs of the earth's horizon. The space agency hopes the horizon will serve as a navigational aid in both Gemini and Apollo flights.

In his 16th orbit, Cooper transmitted an message to an international meeting of African statesmen in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. As he passed over the city he wished success to the statesmen and said, "Good luck to all of you in Africa."

Cooper awoke from his sleep, first ever taken in space by an American, "very calm, very relaxed." He got his go-ahead to complete his mission 24 hours and 23 minutes after he had rocketed into space Wednesday.

The educational committee also approved and sent to the calendar a proposal allowing public school teachers to remain on annual contract for more than a year.

The bill would appropriate $30,000 to get the college started.

The impacted area program, vital to many local education budgets, affect about 11 million students in 4,100 school districts. Last year $264.5 million was spent under the plan, and $69.5 million went to Southern states. Testimony last year showed that over 650 Southern school districts had not taken any desegregation steps.

Under the new amendment, segregated school districts would be required to file an integration plan with the office of education when they apply for impacted area funds. The district would have until June 30, 1964 to put integration into effect.

Negroes staged another big demonstration in North Carolina Wednesday night in a protest against segregation at restaurants and theaters.

On Impacted Funds $100,000 School Loss?

Seminole County schools stand to lose approximately $100,000 in federal aid annually if a bill approved by a U. S. House of Representatives education sub-committee becomes law.

This sum is received by the local schools toward added expenses in educating children of Navy and Air Force personnel assigned to the Sanford Naval Air Station.

School Supt. R. T. Milwee said today the local School Board will "wait and see" if this measure becomes law and then, if so, will await for instructions from the federal government's annual designation of Seminole County schools.

About 650 Southern school districts were threatened today with possible loss of so-called impacted area federal aid funds unless they desegregate their classrooms.

An amendment carrying this penalty was passed Wednesday by a House sub-committee which approved a $382-million, one year extension of federal aid to areas where schools are crowded with children of non-taxpaying servicemen and government employees.

If the amendment is still in the bill when it comes to a final vote, Southern congressmen may be faced with accepting the desegregation or voting to kill the entire aid program.

Two Area Men Questioned In Death Of Paola Barber

Volusia Sheriff Rodney B. Thursty reported this morning he anticipates a report today in the autopsy performed on the body of Floyd S. Dodson, 46-year-old Paola barber, found early Wednesday in St. Johns River.

The post mortem was being conducted by a pathologist at Halifax District Hospital, Daytona Beach, which reported at noon it had been completed but no report filed.

Sheriff Thursty also reported two men arrested in connection with the death were transferred from the Seminole County Jail to the Volusia County Jail. He added that Joe Carey, Sanford, and Fred Gilbert, Highway 46, were charged with intoxication, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and on open charges as material witnesses.

It was incorrectly reported in Wednesday's Herald that Gilbert resided at Crim's teen, reported Wednesday the two men were too intoxicated to give coherent statements. Sheriff Thursty said today.

He added the body had been in the water for several hours before Gilbert reported to the Volusia sheriff's department at 3:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Dodson was a World War II veteran having served with the U. S. Marines in the Asiatic and Pacific theaters.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 a.m. Saturday by Rev. G. D. Boatwright, Church of God, at the Brisson Funeral Home. Burial will be in Sylvan Lake Cemetery.

Milk Marketing Pool Bill Dies

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A hotly-contested bill to set up milk-marketing pools for dairy farmers around the state met its death in a senate committee today after Sen. Dempsey Barron, Panama City, called it "socialism."

The senate public health "B" committee, however, passed and sent to the floor another controversial bill which would change the size and directorship of the state milk commission.

The committee sliced off the controversial part of the second bill before it was passed in taking out a provision to kill the milk commission's power to establish retail prices on milk.

FEC Strike Talks End In 'Failure'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal efforts to end the non-operating unions walked off their jobs Jan. 23 when the carrier refused to give them a 10.28 cents an hour wage increase.

Hall replied to the proposal, made by Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, by saying that "the railway does not desire to submit the issues to non-interested parties to settle the questions in the dispute."

Representatives of 11 non-operating unions striking the FEC said Tuesday they would be willing to accept binding arbitration.
