TODAY'S BIG NEWS

Now
12¢

That favorite pocket tin of fresh Tuxedo tobacco which has cost you fifteen cents or more for the last five years, is yours for just twelve (12) cents from now on!

Just two things have made it possible for us to give you this 20% reduction on Tuxedo:

1. A reduction in the cost of Kentucky Burley tobacco and in package materials, as well.
2. The consolidation of three of our big plants into one. (Mr. Ford may not be in the tobacco business but he is right about consolidation.)

This gives us a chance to pass an advantage along to all our friends; to share a good thing.

We haven't lost any time in taking advantage of this opportunity.

You know that it is the desire and policy of The American Tobacco Co. to extend to its customers the maximum of service.

Reducing the price of a great favorite like Tuxedo—the moment it's possible—is our idea of delivering this service.

So now you're getting the familiar tin of Tuxedo tobacco at 12 cents instead of 15 cents.

Tuxedo is always FRESH. Every package is—

FOOTBALL UPHELD TO PROTECT GAME

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 20—A suggestion that college authorities should correct dangers that threaten college football is contained in the 1923 report of E. K. Hall, chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. There are any dangers threatening the prestige or good name of the game, he declared, "they are in our opinion, of such nature that they can be averted by a framing of rules."
 Mr. Hall urged the N. C. A. A. to work through the academic and athletic officials of the colleges in upholding the football code, stating that the apparently unlimited and general interest and support necessitated vigilance in preserving the good name and integrity of the sport.
 "The responsibility," he continues, rests on the friends of this greatest of academic sports to make certain, not only that the game while being played, is kept free from unfair and unsportsmanlike tactics, but that the preparation for the football season and development of the teams are entirely free from anything which suggests unfair competition and unsportsmanlike tactics.
 "The game itself is played in the open and under the supervision of officials who will not tolerate unsportsmanlike tactics. If the preparations for the season and the building up of teams are likewise made in the open and under supervision of neutral officials who will neither tolerate unsportsmanlike practices or standards in their own institutions by approving schedules on which appear teams whose first concern is having a strong team and whose second concern is how they get it, the efforts of the rules committee to make the game a good one will be powerfully supplemented."
 The rules committee has put its faith on record as opposed now to making any fundamental changes in regulating the gridiron game.

BAN B. JOHNSON SAYS RED SOX TO BE IN 1924 RACE

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—President Ban Johnson of the American League said Saturday the deal between Boston and Cleveland involving the sale of seven players was a strategic move that will result in making the Red Sox a contender for the 1924 pennant. He said that Bob Quinn, president of the Red Sox, had displayed "a world of baseball intelligence" in engineering the deal, which also had strengthened the Cleveland Club.
 "Since Quinn took the reins at Boston he has been one of the most energetic men in baseball and is trying to give the Boston fans a winner," President Johnson said.
 "He acquired one of the most promising shortstops in the country by getting Dudley Lee from Tulsa. His next move was to get a veteran to play alongside the younger, and Wamby should fill the bill.
 "With Steve O'Neill behind the plate the pitching staff should show up well. The acquisition of Veach will give the club one of the hardest hitting outfielders in the league. Pitcher Moore should develop into a great hurler under Manager Fohl and O'Neill. Connolly also may be expected to become a great pitcher.
 "The Cleveland Club, in getting George Burns back into the fold, is getting just what it wants. Burns is one of the best first basemen in baseball and is well thought of by Cleveland fans. I do not think that either club was materially weakened by the deal. Fawcett and Walters have a lot of baseball left and will help the Indians."

HAUGHTON TO BE COLUMBIA COACH AGAIN THIS YEAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 20—Percy Haughton will return to Columbia next fall, announced James R. Knapp, chairman of the Columbia University football committee, at a dinner Friday night at the Columbia University Club, 4 West Forty-third Street, where the former Harvard mentor was the guest of honor. The announcement was greeted with prolonged applause by the 500 or more alumni of the Morningside institution who crowded the large dining room of the club. Later, Mr. Haughton, when he rose to speak, guaranteed a better team than the Blue and White had last fall.
 The famous "P. D." would make no statement as to how the report happened to emanate from Boston to the effect that he would not return in the fall. However, Mr. Knapp said that the head coach had not only been misquoted, but Milton L. Cornell, president of the Columbia University Club, spoke in a humorous vein and said that according to the newspapers Morningside Heights had tackled Percy Haughton, but had apparently failed to hold on. He had only praise for "P. D." saying that an excellent foundation had been laid, good support had been given by all at Columbia and everyone was delighted with Haughton.
 No Criticism Ever Heard.
 Mr. Cornell said he had never heard any criticism of Haughton's work, and then introduced the Blue and White head coach. The man who piloted Harvard to one successful season after another greeted the gathering, then proceeded with a discussion of football, particularly as it concerns Columbia.
 Mr. Haughton's talk follows, in part:
 "We don't plan any changes in the principles, which we believe are fundamentally sound. I don't know everything about football, but if we stick to the fundamentals I am convinced that we cannot go wrong. There are certain essentials in football, such as the necessity of running hard, tackling, interfering, etc. But when I first came to Columbia I found that none of these principles had been taught as I wanted them taught."

OLYMPIC WINTER SPORTS WILL BE HELD CHAMONIX

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 21—The addition of three events to the Olympic winter sports program, speed skating, skiing and bob-sledding, has developed this branch of competition into one of the most interesting features of the 1924 games in France. Four years ago fancy skating and hockey were the only events on the Olympic ice program.
 Almost every country interested in these sports, including the United States and Canada, has sent entries to Chamonix, the French Alps resort at which the winter sports will be held, beginning next Friday. Unusually keen competition is expected in the opening features of the 1924 international program.
 Sweden and Canada were the leading winter sports winners in the 1920 Olympics. Representatives of the former captured places in the three figure skating events, while Canada won the hockey title. The all-star hockey team which represented the United States, was the runner-up in that sport, while in the figure skating arena, Theresa W. Blanchard of Boston finished third in the women's singles, and with Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston as a partner, finished third in the pair skating competition. Niles was sixth in the men's singles.
 Mrs. Blanchard and Mr. Niles are figure skating entrants this year, and Miss Beatrix Louphran of New York also has been sent abroad to represent this country. Three of the hockey players of the 1920 team, George Geran and Frank Synnott of Boston, and Herbert

Dempsey Loses On Sale of Furniture

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20—They auctioned off the furnishings of the Jack Dempsey homestead recently but it wasn't because the owner is going "over the hill" to the poor house or anything like that.
 When the heavyweight champion recently sold his residence on Western avenue and purchased a couple of apartment houses he decided to get rid of his furniture.
 More than 2,000 prosperous-looking folk thronged the spacious grounds, bent on buying a rug the fight champion had trod on, or perhaps a chair on which the mauler has loved his bulk.
 Despite spirited bidding, a Persian rug, for instance, declared by a solemn auctioneer to have been the property of a princess, brought only $1,350.
 "It cost Jack $1,000," said his brother Johnny, with tears in his voice.

BIG MOMENTS OF SPORT

The transformation of a deep-court driver into a sharp and deadly volleyer, who won against a player rated as the greatest volleyer in the world, was witnessed in the fourth round of the men's national lawn tennis championship tournament at the Germantown Cricket Club, of Philadelphia, last September, when Francis T. Hunter defeated Vincent Richards in five furiously fought sets.
 Hunter has ever been noted for the power of his forehand drive—in fact, his whole game was built around that one stroke, and he only sought the volleying position on rare occasions. In many previous meetings Richards had always beaten Hunter, and was expected to repeat on this occasion, especially after Richards had won 2 sets to 1 and at 4 games to 1 in the fourth set, and at 3-1 in the fifth.
 Hunter, who always plays with the tenacity of a bulldog, suddenly came to life in the middle of the fourth set. Richards appeared supremely confident, but Hunter refused to be discouraged. He began to follow in to the net behind his furious drives, and from close to the net he started brilliant sessions of volleying that baffled Richards and amazed the spectators. Hunter, the newly created volleyer, won the set at 6-4, and then began a fight for the fifth. Again Richards gained a commanding lead and again grew careless, and once more Hunter stormed through, his volleying carrying all before it, to take the set at 6-4 and the match.
