Glee Club Presents Christmas Program

By DOTIE HIGGINBOTHAM
In a breathtakingly beautiful cathedral setting, the Seminole High School Glee Club called forth the true spirit of Christmas as they sang a full program of carols and Christmas melodies, Wednesday, at their annual Christmas Concert.
The massed choir stood before a background designed to depict five stained glass windows, with indirect lighting making the stage curtains appear a rich purple hue. The effect was to make the choir appear to be standing in a cathedral chancel.
The striking stage setting was designed and built by Larry Gilstrap and Terry Collins.
Following five numbers by the freshman chorus, including "Joy to the World," "What Child is This?" "Come, Shepherds," "The First Noel" and "Good King Wenceslas," Miss Mary Helen Washburn and Miss Sandy Richards played a piano duet entitled "Christmas Fantasy."
A candlelit procession followed, with the members of the glee club coming down the aisles of the auditorium bearing lighted candles and singing, "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful." On the stage, following the reading of the scripture of the nativity from St. Luke's gospel by Rev. Grover Sewell, the massed choir sang, "Oh, How Joyfully," and "Hasten Swiftly, Hasten Softly." The Double Quartette sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are" and "God Rest You, Merry Gentlemen."

Several songs were sung by the Triple Trio, the entire Choral ensemble sang the "Little Drummer Boy," and the Girls Glee Club sang "Shepherds."
Solo numbers were sung by Lynn McCord, Patty Glenn Johnson and Donna Beard and in the Gloria, the solo part was carried by Miss McCord.
The moving "Ave Maria" by Schubert was beautifully sung by the entire Glee Club and Choralists, with Patty Glenn Johnson carrying the solo.
To the strains of "Silent Night" the choir relighted their candles and departed in a candlelight recession, leaving on stage a tableau of angels, surrounding a cradle scene of Mothers and Babe.
Pidgin English originally developed as a language as a result of the trade between Chinese and Englishmen. "Pidgin" is said to be a corruption of the English word "business."

Teachers Attend Demonstration Of New Techniques

Three Seminole High School business education teachers, Miss Anna Vitsaris, Miss Rebecca Stevens, James Martin and a Stetson University teaching intern, Mrs. Virginia Easter recently attended a demonstration talk on Skill Development Through Instrument Training, held at Stetson University.

Robert J. Ruegg, director of Business Education from the Division of Educational Development Laboratories in Huntington, N. Y., conducted the demonstration-talk on new teaching techniques in business education which may be used in the current teaching situation.

The phases of business education discussed by Ruegg were beginning and advanced typing, shorthand transcription and filing.

The instrument training techniques were presented so that everyone could actually participate and develop an understanding of skill development. The areas covered in this phase of the program were the Ten-Key keyboard training, typing, bookkeeping, filing, business math and shorthand transcription.

Preceding the program, the local teachers joined the teachers from other central Florida schools for dinner at the Union cafeteria.

Kennedy Leaves For South America

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy, aware of but undeterred by reports of anti-U. S. demonstrations in Venezuela, leaves today on another venture in personal diplomacy — a short weekend in South America.

The Chief Executive and his wife planned to take off aboard an Air Force jet transport for San Juan, Puerto Rico. They will be the overnight guests of Gov. and Mrs. Luis Munoz Marin at La Fortaleza, the historic castle-fortress built in the 1530s. Their landing at San Juan's International Airport was scheduled for 3:15 p. m., EST.

From Puerto Rico, the Kennedys will fly southward Saturday for a one-day visit to Caracas, Venezuela. They will spend Sunday in Bogota, Colombia, and fly back to the United States during that night.

The Chief Executive will be back in Washington only three days before going to Bermuda for meetings with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan next Thursday and Friday.

Press dispatches and secret intelligence reports telling of security measures to protect Kennedy in Venezuela poured into the White House preceding start of the trip. Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said there was no "uneasiness" on the part of the Chief Executive about the trip.

The White House and associated federal security personnel, including the U. S. Secret Service, were convinced from one-the-spot reports that protective measures in Caracas were adequate to assure the President a safe, overnight visit with President Romulo Betancourt.

Highway Patrol Warns Drivers

TALLAHASSEE — The Florida Highway Patrol today appealed to all drivers to "start now to save your life" during the Christmas holidays by leading a little extra effort in an attempt to be a better driver.

The patrol has a grim highway fatality prediction for the 78 hour period just before, during and right after the day that St. Nick visits Florida to bring cheer and joy — not death to the state's people.

Careless and reckless driving will result in at least 22 persons being killed in highway crashes during that time this year, the patrol says.

With the statewide death toll running a little below that for the same time last year, the Christmas period death prediction for this year is less than the actual number killed in the 78 hour period last year. The total then was 24.

Record Christmas Sales At All-Time High

"The best business we've ever done," is what Sanford merchants are singing about this week as sales in December reached an all-time high and should surpass previous years in Christmas business, a Herald poll of merchants showed today.

A check of downtown stores reveal that over the past three weeks sales have been at "peak" and that merchants are looking forward to a "gigantic" pre-Christmas rush this week.

Chamber of Commerce officials were singing the praises of the merchants for handling the Christmas business in "superb" fashion.

E. C. Harper Jr., chairman of the merchants division said that last Friday most of the stores had to stay open later than 9 p. m. to take care of all the customers.

The downtown stores will remain open until 9 p. m. for the remainder of the week.

Bryant Gives Reassurance On Free Roads

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said again Sunday that his plan for extending the Sunshine State Parkway will not interfere with the construction of free highways.

Bryant, commenting on the toll road in the first Sunday press release he has ever issued, said, "If the turnpike is to be built at all, it must be done now." He said bond interest rates were going up and construction costs would probably go up, too.

Bryant's Sunday statement was taken as indication that recent criticism of his turnpike policy, especially in regard to possible restrictions on free highway construction, has troubled him.

Turnpike Bond Negotiations On

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Turnpike officials and a group of bankers opened negotiations today on sale of $155 million in bonds to extend the Sunshine State Parkway from Fort Pierce to Wildwood.

The negotiations are being held in turnpike headquarters in Tampa, but Gov. Farris Bryant is keeping in touch with things by telephone from his capital office here.

He hopes the deal can be closed today, but everything hinges on the rate of interest the group can agree on for the state to pay. Florida law prohibits the interest rate from exceeding five per cent. "If everything works out as hoped, the bonds will be sold today," Bryant said. "If not, they will not."

Kennedy Back, Elated With Trip

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — President Kennedy, suffering from what the White House described as a "heavy cold," arrived here today from his Christmas holiday with his family. Salinger said he knew of no reason to expect a change in this plan.

Kennedy still plans to meet in Bermuda Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and come to Palm Beach late Friday for the Christmas holiday with his family. Salinger said he knew of no reason to expect a change in this plan.

The President arrived at West Palm Beach from Bogota, Colombia, at 7:30 a. m. Kennedy had put in a strenuous weekend traveling from San Juan, Puerto Rico to Caracas, Venezuela and to Bogota and back.

His plane stopped for refueling early this morning at Tampa Air Force Base, Fla., but the President did not get out of bed. He spoke in Bogota Sunday night and a slight huskiness in his voice was noticeable, but he had seemed in excellent spirits. Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said that aboard the Air Force jet transport bearing him northward, the President complained of cold symptoms and discomfort in flight.

"The President has a heavy cold and is going to remain in Palm Beach," Salinger said. "His present plan is to return to Washington Tuesday." Kennedy was met at West Palm Beach International Airport by his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, The President and his wife drove with the elder Kennedy to the estate of Capt. Michael Paul frosting on the ocean. Kennedy still plans to meet in Bermuda Thursday with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and come to Palm Beach late Friday for the Christmas holiday with his family. Salinger said he knew of no reason to expect a change in this plan.

Kennedy was elated at his triumphant weekend visit to Colombia and Venezuela. He left a simple straightforward message with the people of Latin America: The United States stands ready to help those who help themselves. U. S. officials and Kennedy himself were delighted with the results of the whirlwind visit.

Kennedy issued blunt warnings about the dangers of Communist penetration in the Americas. Advance Communist efforts to spoil the trip failed completely. Colombian officials estimated that 600,000 persons turned out to give the President an ovation in Bogota. Salinger "guessed" there were closer to a million.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — A conservative Republican and a New Frontier Democrat, opponents in a special runoff election for the U. S. House of Representatives in about a month, both agree it will be a severe test of party strength in Texas. The Republican, Joe Melancon, 36, said, "The line is clearly drawn. The runoff election will afford a clear test between me and my conservative platform and another candidate who stands—as he says—four-square behind the administration."

The Democrat, Dist. Judge Graham V. Purrell Jr., 42, said, "The Republican candidate is my adversary in the runoff, so it will be clear cut. I look forward to battling this out on the issues." ## OAS May Lift Dominican Curbs SANTO DOMINGO, D. R. (UPI) — President Joaquin Balaguer's pledge to resign spurred efforts today to have the Organization of American States lift the diplomatic and economic sanctions imposed on the Dominican Republic more than a year ago. Balaguer announced Sunday he will head a council of state until his resignation, no later than Feb. 27. Rafael Bonnelly, a lawyer and an opposition leader, was appointed vice president of the council and will succeed Balaguer when he resigns.

The announcement started the machinery rolling for the transition to a council of state which is designed to change the country from a three-decade dictatorship under the late Rafael Trujillo to a representative government by early 1963. Balaguer, in a broadcast speech, specified his country's inclusion in President Kennedy's "alliance for progress" and restoration of the Dominican share of the U. S. sugar market among the economic concessions he wants before he resigns.

India Invades Goa; Portugal Protests

BELGAUM, India (UPI) — Indian land, sea and air forces invaded the three tiny Portuguese colonies of Goa, Damao and Diu on India's west coast today. Portugal promptly demanded that the United Nations Security Council meet and condemn India's action. Indian sources said Damao and Diu had fallen with "no resistance." A spokesman for the Indian Defense Ministry said the attack on Goa was going "according to plan."

The British government called for an immediate end to the fighting in the Portuguese enclaves. The United States expressed "sincere regret" at India's invasion action. Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev said on a visit to Bombay that Moscow regarded with "full sympathy and understanding the desire of the Indian people to achieve the liberation" of the three enclaves.

West Berlin's 50,000 Christmas Lights Cheer Friends Across Wall

BERLIN (UPI) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt flipped a switch Sunday night and 50,000 electric lights on 1,000 Christmas trees along the 28-mile border wall went on to show East Berliners that "they are not forgotten." Klaus Haucks, 9, who escaped to West Berlin on Nov. 5, was at Brandt's side, stamping his feet in the icy cold. The youngster's mother was captured by the Communists and imprisoned. The electric candles on the limbs of the trees twinkled to life, flickering gay colors on the boarded-up buildings on the Communist side of the wall.

"This candle light is shining across the wall to bring a message to our countrymen," Brandt shouted into the night. "The message that they are not forgotten by us who live in freedom."

Brandt and the crowd of 5,000 West Berliners in the French sector's Wedding district ignored a loudspeaker that blared out propaganda and music from the Communist side of the wall.

The lights in the trees showed some scars of communist hate. East Berlin vopos leaned over the wall Saturday and ripped some branches off.

2,500 Trapped In Brazil Circus Blaze; 323 Die

NITEROI, Brazil (UPI) — A flash fire raced up the walls and roof of a circus tent Sunday, trapping 2,500 fear-crazed spectators—half of them children—in a shroud of flaming canvas. Police suspected arson.

Gov. Celso Pecanha of Rio de Janeiro State said 323 persons perished in the holocaust and 600 were injured. Hospital officials feared the death toll would climb even higher.

Firemen said "it was a miracle anyone got out alive."

It was the worst circus fire since July 6, 1944, when 168 persons died in a blaze that swept the Ringling Brothers Circus in Hartford, Conn.

Many spectators were trampled by the screaming crowd that tried to escape the fiery canvas as it collapsed on them. It was the main tent of the Circo Americano (American Circus).

Pecanha urgently appealed to the nation to donate blood, medicine and ice to help treat the injured. Brazilian navy launches transported the overflow of victims from Niteroi hospitals across the two-mile bay to Rio de Janeiro.

State authorities called on volunteer carpenters to build caskets because they feared the bodies could cause a health hazard in the summer heat if they remained unburied. Many of the victims were scheduled to be buried in a mass funeral later today.

Witnesses said the fire started during the afternoon performance along the sides of the Big Top and leaped rapidly upwards. Many of the children and other spectators frantically rushed into the sawdust ring in the center and were trapped when the flaming canvas roof collapsed on them.

Funeral services will be at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Brison Funeral Home. The Rev. John T. Adams will officiate. Interment to be in Oaklawn Memorial Park.

Even after the holidays, Christmas trees have a use. Collected and packed into eroded gullies of the west through organized community action, they are effective in stopping loss of soil.

With the help and cooperation of the Seminole County Juvenile Council the sorority was again able to help needy children through its shoe fund.

The group, finding there were many children in Seminole County who were in need of shoes, has taken this as its major project for the year and is working with the council and schools to render assistance.

Students Present Holiday Program At Casselberry

Students of the first, second and third grades of South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry presented a Christmas program in the auditorium last Thursday evening.

Outstanding among the selections of traditional music and readings was the second grade contribution which featured a clever hand-operated puppet show by some members of the class while the remaining students repeated in unison "The Night Before Christmas."

Cocoa Romps Over Oviedo

Coach Paul Mikler's Oviedo Lions dropped their sixth cage game of the season in Cocoa Friday night as the Cocoa team romped over the Lions 37-14 in a game that saw the Oviedo team headed by fous and superior height on the Cocoa team.

The Indians sparked to an early lead in the first period and held the margin until the third quarter when Oviedo made a desperate play to cut down the lead and succeeded in reducing the Cocoa margin to six points.

Wainwright led the scoring for the Lions with nine points, with Holland taking second place with six points. In spite of efforts by Teslosky and Wainwright, the Indians were able to master the game by halftime with a 22-14 lead on the Lions.

Wally DuPuy led the scoring record for Cocoa with six field goals and three free throws for high scorer honors with 18 points. Bryan came in for second place tallying with 12 points with Mansberry taking a close third with ten points.

Lady Luck Played Big Part In Giant Title Win

United Press International
Call the New York Giants lucky or plucky, but they'll play the Green Bay Packers for the National Football League championship Dec. 31 and that's when they should prove whether they're either—or both.

The Giants didn't exactly "back" into the Eastern Division title Sunday, but there are many who'd say they slipped in sideways when they played the Cleveland Browns to a 7-7 tie. That gave New York a 10-3-1 final record, compared with 10-4 for the Philadelphia Eagles.

The Eagles, whose game at Detroit started an hour earlier than the clash at New York, made a grand bid to throw the Eastern Division race into a tie by defeating the Lions, 27-24.

But whether by good fortune or fortitude, the Giants managed to hang on for the tie which earned them the Eastern Division crown for the fourth time in the past six seasons.

As a Yankee Stadium wag put it: It was the nicest Christmas tie any Giant ever got.

The Packers closed out their season with an 11-3 record by beating the Los Angeles Rams, 24-17; the Washington Redskins scored their first triumph in 24 games by defeating the Dallas Cowboys, 34-24; the Chicago Bears won a wide-open 52-35 game from the Minnesota Vikings, and the St. Louis Cardinals drubbed the Pittsburgh Steelers, 20-0. The Baltimore Colts beat the San Francisco Forty Niners, 27-24, Saturday.

The Giants' triumph made a title-winner of 38-year-old Al Sherman in his first season as head coach. The last previous coach to win in his first year as boss was George Wilson of the Lions in 1957.

When the subject of the Giants' "luck" came up again after Sunday's Browns game, Sherman snorted: "That's a lot of baloney; those guys have all the guts in the world."

But consider what happened in this crucial game:
—Sam Baker, the Browns' punter who had averaged 44 yards per kick, booted a feeble 25-yarder in the first period to set up the Giants' first touchdowns.

—Lou Groza of Cleveland, who has kicked more field goals than any man alive, missed a "chip-pee" from the 17-yard line in the third period when his holder got a poor pass from center and couldn't set the ball down properly. Groza also was short with a 48-yarder late in the game.

—Raf Renfro, as sure-handed as any pass-catcher in the NFL, dropped a 40-or-so-yard pass from Hill Plum on the New York 5-yard line after he had out-manuevered the Giants' secondary defense in the final period.

—And Don Chandler of the Giants, whose punts had been downed on the Cleveland 3-yard line twice during the first half, booted a 64-yard beauty that was downed on the Browns' 7 with less than 2 minutes to play. This one put the Browns in a tough spot for their final offensive thrust.

Sherman called it "the greatest punt I ever saw."

High Riding Seminole Cagers Grab 3rd Victory

The Seminole High Seminoles chalked up their third straight basketball win of the season in New Smyrna Friday night as the Sanford Varsity cagers triumphed over the Barracudas of New Smyrna High 66-60 to come out on the high end of the pre-game prediction of two points.

Sanford's star basketball cager Mike Woodruff walked away with high scoring honors for the night with eleven field goals and two free throws for a total of 24 points, for his second high scorer title in three games played by the Seminoles this season.

Sanford took the lead early in the first period of the game and held it until the buzzer at the end of the fourth. At the end of the first period the Seminoles had five points on the 'Cudas with a 16-11 edge with backboard - beating Dutch Riser and Mike Woodruff for the Seminoles to 37-25 by halftime. One honor was yielded to the 'Cudas. Woodruff's scoring record for Sanford of 24 points was overcome by Jimmy Jenkins of New Smyrna with 26 points.

Ken Gustavson and Barry Brown put up a fight for Sanford in the second period and boosted the lead points, with Jimmy Williams close behind in third with 12 points.

The Greyhounds forged ahead to a ten point lead at halftime with a score of 31-21. In the third quarter the Rebels paced by Swain were able to reduce the Lyman lead to seven points, but were held back as the Greyhounds triumphed to a ten point winning margin.

The Lyman High Junior Varsity B Squad overwhelmed the South Sumter Junior Varsity Rebels in the opening game of the night 47-21.

Lyman's Jeff Leonard took the lead in the first quarter with eight field goals and eight free throws for top scorer listing with 24 points, Garry Ferrin took second place in the scorer listings with 13 points, with Jimmy Williams close behind in third with 12 points.

The Greyhounds got their basketball season off to a flying start in Dushnell Friday night by whipping the South Sumter Rebels 58-48 in a game that saw the scoring drive shift from one team to the other by quarters, with Lyman coming out on top in the end.

South Sumter took the lead of the ball game early in the first period to end up with a first quarter score of 12-10 in favor of the Rebels. Dale Swain of the Rebels pushed in points for South Sumter but was unable to stop the Greyhounds from taking a decisive lead in the second quarter.

Lyman's Jeff Leonard took the honors for the night with eight field goals and eight free throws for top scorer listing with 24 points, Garry Ferrin took second place in the scorer listings with 13 points, with Jimmy Williams close behind in third with 12 points.

There's a leak in that San Diego Charger umbrella, and if coach Sid Gillman isn't worried he ought to be because his men entertain the Houston Oilers next Sunday in the American Football League championship game.

For the second time within two weeks an opponent tore the San Diego defense to shreds Sunday. This time it was the Boston Patriots who rained touchdowns all over San Diego's Balboa Stadium to hand the Western Division champion Chargers their most humiliating defeat, 41-0.

It was only San Diego's second loss of the season, but the manner in which it was inflicted indicates the Chargers, who won 11 in a row before Houston dumped them, 33-13, on Dec. 3, are ready to be had again.

The Oilers, meanwhile, wrapped up their ninth straight victory and the AFL's Eastern Division title for the second straight year by whipping the hapless Oakland Raiders, 47-16. The key to their success since Wally Lemm replaced Lou Rymkus as head coach has been a high-scoring offense led by former All-America Billy Cannon and veteran quarterback George Blanda.

In the regular-season finale at San Francisco, Blanda, the AFL's top passer, threw four touchdown passes, kicked a field goal and added six extra points. Cannon, the league's ground gaining champion, scored one of the touchdowns—on a 25-yard run late in the game against Raiders. He finished with 145 yards in 21 carries for 648 yards on the season.

The football teams coached by Knute Rockne won 103 games, lost 12 and tied 5.

Barnacle Bob In SOKC Spotlight

A young greyhound who skyrocketed to fame last summer, gets the spotlight in tonight's featured ninth race as the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club starts its first full week of racing for the new season.

He is Carl Tracy's Barnacle Bob, a two-year-old who is regarded by many racing enthusiasts as the country's top juvenile. Competing in Oregon, Barnacle Bob won the $4,000 Multnomah Sapling Derby and finished second in the Multnomah Derby.

Then taken by jet plane to Massachusetts Bob won the Mr. Fairview Stakes at Fairview Park and cracked a track record for the Fairview Course. Entered in the $25,000 Taunton Derby the young star won two of the elimination heats and finished fourth in the Derby.

In 18 starts at the Multnomah meet Bob chalked up a fabulous score of 13 wins, 2 seconds and one third.

Schooling here Bob took just one of his starts but at that time he was 6 1/2 lengths in front at the wire.

Seven ace greyhounds oppose Barnacle Bob tonight. They are O. B.'s Jay Walk, who won all three of his schooling starts; Big Barker, winner of the Sprint Challenge at Pueblo; Harold Express, Pro Model, Sabana, Bronica, and Ethel G.

The annual Christmas tournament was held Sunday at Mayfair Country Club. Some 40 persons took part.

The first winning team included Bond Walker, Bob Billheimer, Peter Duncan, Bill Hutchison, which was plus 13 points.

The second team included Mack McInnis, Harold Sherwood, Dick Shilling, John Dickey, which was plus 10 points.

The individual prize winners included John Ivey, with plus 11. Closest to the pin on number 10 was G. R. Pessano, who was three feet from the cup.

This special program reports and evaluates the President's trip to Venezuela and Colombia, made to strengthen social and economic relations with South American countries. Frank McGee is anchorman. 8:30-9 p. m. CBS Window on Main Street. Thus far, novelist Cameron Brooks (Robert Young) has been ironing out other people's problems, but this time he's involved in a bit of mental depression as he recalls the last Christmas he spent with his wife, now deceased. A janitor, extremely well played by Ludwig Stossel, snaps Brooks out of his lonely feeling with a rather sensible, if quite familiar, lecture. A warm but not overly sentimental episode.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I just read something in your column that made me grit my store-bought teeth. YOU say that dentures are every bit as good as one's own natural teeth. All I can say, Dear Abby, is that YOU must have all your own teeth and you ought to be ashamed of yourself for making such an erroneous statement.

BEEN THERE

DEAR BEEN: I have and I am. Forgive me.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl in the ninth grade with a serious problem. I have tried to talk to my mother about it, but she just laughs at me. Abby, I am in love with one of my teachers. He is 27 and I am only 14. When he looks at me I feel like I was hit on the head with a million stars. This is no joke, Abby. I have never felt this way before. Should I talk to him about it? He isn't married.

HIT HARD

DEAR HIT: Don't talk to him about it. What you feel is not "love"—it is a crush on an older man. It happens to many girls your age, but they outgrow it. You've day-dreamed yourself into a hopeless situation. Now, face reality. Settle down and have fun with kids your own age, concentrate on your school work, and think of your teacher only as a good friend.

DEAR ABBY: My name is Steve Zondiak and I am 12. I wrote a poem. If you like it, you may keep it.

GOD'S SHELTER Let's make a bomb of love and prayer, For take-off fuel, let's use God's air. Let's send it out for all to share. Our plea, against nuclear despair. Let's ask the leaders from all lands For peace. And then Let's all shake hands!

DEAR ABBY: Please advise me as to the proper conduct in this situation. My former husband, to whom I was married for ten years (over 20 years ago), is dying of a lingering illness. We never had children. I have since remarried and so has he. He has children by his present wife. We have met on occasions since our divorce, and have been friendly. All former grievances have been long forgotten.

When he passes away, would it be improper for me to attend his funeral? I would not want to embarrass any of his family, or become the subject of gossip.

AN EX-WIFE

DEAR EX-WIFE: Since "all grievances" have been forgotten, I see no reason why you would embarrass his family or be the subject of gossip. Go, if you wish.

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of this paper.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

If asked what makes a woman a good wife how many wives today would include in their carefully considered lists: "She should baby her husband?" Not many. Babying husbands, most would tell you, went out when women gained equality with men. Yet in a recent poll where men were asked what makes a woman a good wife a lot of them mentioned that she ought to baby her husband a bit. And since no wife is a good wife unless her husband thinks she is a good wife for him—may be women ought to give this matter of babying a man a little thought. Just what is babying a man? Nothing surely that is beneath any wife's dignity. It's catering to a man's comfort, building up his ego, guarding his health, and trying to please him in small ways. That's not too much for a wife to do to keep a man happy, is it? As the breadwinner for a family, a man should get a little special attention and consideration, shouldn't he? And isn't it actually much more feminine for a wife to enjoy babying the man she loves than it is for her to worry about equality, or to insist on togetherness, or to put her children's demands always ahead of her husband's. So no boots of derision, please, for the big, strong men who want to be babied. Men ought to get something out of marriage besides being handed the monthly bills and an apron.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Even when your contract is lay down it pays to be careful. Otherwise, you will lose occasional tricks by what I call, "Unsafe plays." Playing at three no-trump, South wins the second spade lead and sees that there is no way to lose his contract. He will win three diamonds and two tricks in each remaining suit no matter how badly the cards lie for him. The careful player will make at least 11 tricks. He will lead the deuce of diamonds at trick three. West will have to play his king and now South will have 11 running tricks. Careful discarding by East and West will hold him to five odd.

Bridge score table with columns for North, West, East, South and various trick counts.

Treat Coming!

County residents will be getting a big food treat in the near future and will probably put this county on the map as one of the best eating places in the state when a new "Riksha Inn" opens here in the very near future.

A new and different industry—a chain of Oriental food-drive-ins will be started here and Jeno F. Paulucci, president of Chun King who has a home in Sanford is the person we can thank for this exciting venture.

According to Paulucci, around the clock work is now going in to rush completion to Riksha Inn No. 1 (the first of some 36) to be located on Hwy. 17-92 south of Sanford. Riksha Inn No. 1 will serve as a prototype for other Inns in the projected chain.

Decision to embark on the Riksha Inn program stems from the Chun King operation of the "Old San Francisco Chinatown" restaurant in New York's Freedom Land Park in 1961.

Paulucci estimated that the new program would call for the investments of millions of dollars both here, throughout the U. S. and even overseas.

Paulucci is widely known throughout the food industry for his pioneering innovations in marketing and we thank him for starting his program here . . . right here in his "second home."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Are your children being trained for unhappy adulthood? Are you making them wallflowers and poor marriage risks? Under 18 years of age, a child's poor personality is largely the fault of his parents. After 18, it is his own laziness. Be sure you get a copy of my 100-point "TEST FOR MOTHERS."

CASE K-418: Jerry J., aged 8, is a shy little fellow with blue eyes.

"Dr. Crane, Jerry has such an inferiority complex," his society mother protested, despairingly. "He is timid about trying anything new. He doesn't want to play with other children, but hangs back on the sidelines. He likes to watch them, but refuses to participate in their games."

"His governess tells me he is very bright and can learn rapidly, but he lacks confidence. He seems to think other children can do things much better than he can."

"Dr. Crane, his father was always timid and of a retiring nature. Do you think Jerry could have inherited his lack of confidence?"

CONFIDENCE IS LEARNED No, indeed confidence is not a heritable trait, it is a matter of habit, like piano playing. And lack of assurance is also a result of habit.

When children can do anything well, they enjoy that type of work. And they have confidence in their ability. This holds for adults, too.

However, many a bold, athletic star gets stage fright before a radio microphone, for that's a new realm.

Or a big business executive will blush and perspire when he must deliver a speech at the Rotary Club.

We can thus be confident in one realm, but have a severe inferiority complex in another.

Part of the job of parenthood consists in developing all-around confidence in our children. But how?

Well, teach them to do the usual things of their group, such as skating, riding a bicycle, swimming, standing on their heads.

Take them to a restaurant. Let them order their own meal. Enable them to earn their own money. Let them spend it much as they will.

Better that 8-year-old Jerry waste his 25 cents on a foolish purchase now, and profit from the lesson, than that he be shielded till the age of 21, and then foolishly waste his entire inheritance.

BUILD CONFIDENCE Confidence correlates with success. The more things your child can perform successfully, the greater his self-confidence!

Jerry has been shielded. He has a governess, and wearsissy clothes. His mother dresses him like a Little Lord Fauntleroy. Jerry realizes his conspicuous appearance, even if she thinks he is so cute.

So he shies away from social contacts with other boys, for he is afraid of ridicule. He can play the piano, but not baseball. So he feels like an alien when with normal children. It is largely his mother's fault.

He should be sent to a public school, and equipped with the conventional habits of adjustment to a boy's modern world. Give him a dog and some boxing lessons, just for his own self-defense.

SOCIALLY DEFORMED Let him learn to play the games of average third graders. At present he is socially deformed. His mind has been trained in French and music, reading, etc.

But his social life has been abnormal. He feels this weak spot in his development, which is why he has his social inferiority complexes.

Jerry can't very well remedy the condition, for he is too young. It is his mother's responsibility.

But you timid, wallflowers of adult years CAN change conditions. You are no longer entitled to blame your parents.

Until the age of 18, you may partially blame them, but every adult can make himself speak correct English, dance, play a musical instrument, carry on an interesting conversation, and become a vital, attractive personality by his own efforts at least by the time he attains high school age.

So don't alibi or pass the buck to your parents, if you are above them to earn their own

1961 Replica Of Gutenberg Bible Being Published, To Bring $750

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bible publishing has become big business, but the biggest Bible of all has been issued by a small business whose owners are trying to recapture the flavor of the 18th century literary world when book sellers were publishers as well.

The Bible being published in 1961 is a facsimile edition of the most famous volume of scriptures, the Gutenberg Bible of 1455, the first book printed from movable type.

The publishers are Henry Chafetz and Sidney Solomon, proprietors of Cooper Square Publishers, whose headquarters are a musty, book-crammed store on New York's famous "book-sellers' row" on Fourth Avenue just east of Greenwich Village.

Their asking price for copies of the limited edition of The Cooper Square Gutenberg is $750. They have had 1,000 copies of the two-volume Bible printed and all but four were put on sale.

Chafetz and Solomon, bibliophiles who specialize in publishing out-of-print books sought by scholars, began thinking big a few years ago by publishing a 167-volume edition of the United States Library of Congress Catalogue. They had 800 copies printed and sold nearly all of them for $1,500 each.

"We were so successful at that," Chafetz said in an interview, "that we asked ourselves, 'what else is important on a universal basis that you don't see around?' We found our answer in the Gutenberg Bible."

The answer created an even bigger question: How do you go about reproducing a museum piece?

The book dealers knew that there were 47 copies of Gutenberg Bibles in public and private collections. But none of these priceless volumes could be used for a reproduction because a book must be taken apart, page-by-page, for such a purpose. They knew also of a facsimile produced in Leipzig, Germany, in 1913-14, and they were able to buy a copy of that for around $1,000.

Chafetz and Solomon studied the Bible facsimile and original Gutenberg carefully and in the course of five years were able to find American artisans to create a new facsimile edition. They came as close as they could to reproducing the paper used by Gutenberg. Through elaborate printing processes, involving seven separate press runs for the illuminated pages, the publishers obtained the facsimile they wanted for an investment of $300,000.

Some copies of the two-volume numbered sets weighing more than 40 pounds have been sold to libraries, clergymen and book sellers. The publishers predict that the facsimile edition will become a collector's item in time and value will be much greater than the $750 sales price of 1961.

"We hope to make a profit of $200,000 if the edition sells out," Solomon said, "but we did not do it originally for the money. We wanted to do something that 500 years from now people would point at and say, 'this was done.' This is the Book of Books. There still is no other book as perfect in design."

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Senator Estes Kefauver's current two weeks of hearings before his Judiciary subcommittee on monopoly practices are final preparations for next year's congressional consideration of new legislation to regulate the drug industry.

For two years the Tennessee senator and House Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler of New York have been riding this hobby hard. Their crusade has been given popular appeal by emphasis on charges that drug prices are unnecessarily high because of monopoly practices by the manufacturers.

The problem is a lot more complicated than that, however. It involves long-established medical practices and changes in controls now exercised by Food and Drug Administration.

It's a tremendously technical and complicated business. What's at stake can be clarified a little by a few examples understandable to anyone who has ever taken a pill:

Some physicians contend that aspirin is the best and only medicine to use in treating arthritis. Other doctors believe some of the new steroids are more effective.

What controls should be exercised over their use? A slightly more complicated example is offered by the fact that all chemicals now being used for the treatment of cancer are considered dangerous. Yet Food and Drug Administration allows them to be used because in some cases they do good.

Who should decide what is safe for use, and how? It is the contention of the medical profession that physicians should have the right of free choice of drugs.

Spokesman for the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Assn. of 140 companies that produce 80 percent of the U. S. drugs now admit that they should produce substantial evidence as to the safety and efficacy of their products. This they now do in chemical and clinical statements that average 800 pages long.

Food and Drug Administration then judges the merits of these claims and grants or denies licenses for their use, except for non-toxic drugs to treat minor diseases.

American Medical Assn. says this latter control is unnecessary. It would let the doctors decide.

Eugene Bessley of Indianapolis, president of Eli Lilly and chairman of FMA, as spokesman for his industry, says Food and Drug Administration should be the judge in these cases. But he would deny to FDA the authority to test all new drugs to determine their safety and efficacy. He would limit control to licensing and inspecting manufacturers.

A question of "relative" efficacy on "substantial" evidence comes in, with the adjectives hard to define. This example is cited:

If one drug proves efficacious in four out of five cases, and another drug is efficacious in one out of five cases of the same disease, both should be licensed for use.

The argument given is that the drug proved useful in one out of five cases might provide beneficial treatment for the fifth case in which the other drug might not be of use.

The interesting new development here is that the drug manufacturers are not opposed to broad regulation of their industry by the Food and Drug Administration.

On the other hand, American Medical Assn. spokesmen in previous testimony before the Kefauver committee have opposed every restriction on their freedom of action.

In addition to regulation of drug manufacture for safety and efficacy, the Kefauver-Celler bills would make illegal any contracts between manufacturers which would restrain trade or fix prices.

Drug industry spokesmen maintain that in cases where two companies file conflicting claims for a patent, an agreement between them might be beneficial to the public and should not be barred.

The proposed legislation would also cut down drug patents from 17 to three years, after which there would be compulsory licensing to others under reduced royalties.

The industry opposes this on the claim that it would stifle research for the development of new drugs.

DeBary Girl Scout Troop Observes Centennial At Afternoon Program

By MRS. ADAM MULLER
Mrs. Charles Cain of DeBary and Saudi Arabia was guest speaker at the centennial anniversary observance by DeBary's Girl Scout Troop 20 at the Community Center on the afternoon of Dec. 6.

Mrs. Cain, who soon will leave to join her husband at Aremca (Arabian American Oil Co.) where he is employed, told of life, daily habits and types of food available to the average American living in Arabia.

She said that although she traveled to many countries while living in Saudi Arabia, she finds the best antiques right here in America. She told of her surprise, when upon boarding the only train running in Arabia she spotted the title of the New York and Hartford Line still on it. Since she at one time lived in Connecticut, she said, she immediately felt more at home.

She displayed for the scouts an assortment of odd jewelry, small figurines, articles of brass and numerous bowls made from olive woods. In viewing her colored slide collection, the audience was able to detect landscapes and terrain similar to that of Florida while other pictures showed lava formations in mountainous proportions.

Scenes were shown of American living quarters, gardens, the stores where people trade, including a Singer Sewing Machine shop on one street, and of wells used by the natives for laundry, bathing and to water their donkeys.

Mrs. Cain also showed pictures of the room where the Last Supper took place, of the catacombs under the church in the birthplace of Jesus and of beautiful mosaic hangings on the walls of various churches and buildings photographed during her travels.

Guests at the Scouting celebration were welcomed by Mrs. Lenny Biondi, leader of Troop 20, and were invited to inspect a side-table display of items made by the girls.

Awards presented went to Kathy Schob, second class rank, and to Linda Smith, second class rank and pin.

The Scouts gave Mrs. William Fidler, president of the DeBary Women's Club which sponsors the troop, a rose bush as a memento marking the birthday of Juliet Lowe, founder of the Girl Scouts of America organization.

Refreshments were served to conclude the program from a buffet table centered with a large cake decorated in troop colors and placed amidst a setting of Scout emblems.

The Artics had implements made of iron from meteors and prized this metal above gold, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

Macmillan Wins Vote Of Confidence

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan won an overwhelming vote of confidence last week on his attempts to get a cease-fire in Katanga Province. He said that Britain and the United States are basically in accord on Congo policy.

As President Kennedy took steps in Washington to secure peace in the Congo, the House of Commons passed a motion backing the government's position on a cease-fire in Katanga without a dissenting vote. Earlier, a Labor amendment to a motion accusing the government of "equivocal" policies on Katanga and bringing the nation into international "disrepute" was beaten by a vote of 320-226, with 11 absentations. Laborites then did not oppose the confidence motion which called for an immediate cease-fire and the peaceful unification of the Congo.

Referring to the American and British positions, Macmillan said: "There is no difference between us in our long-term aim. We both believe in the unity of the Congo and we both believe in conciliation. The only difference is on a precise tactical position which should be secured before a cease-fire can operate."

Macmillan told cheering members of Commons that he had received a "hopeful first reply" from Acting United Nations Secretary General Thant on efforts to obtain a cease-fire.

Service Hospital Benefits Curbed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has told the armed forces to charge military men a dollar every time their wives and children visit service hospitals or dispensaries the Army - Navy - Air Force Journal reported today.

The authoritative service publication called that a "miserly action." It would apply, the publication said, when the relatives were treated but did not stay at the hospital.

The Journal said McNamara also had told the Army, Navy and Air Force secretaries no provision would be made in future hospital construction for care of family members, including maternity.

The Journal said imposition of the one-dollar charge infringed a right that had been traditional in the services "since the first days of the republic."

The Baring Cross bridge, first across the Arkansas River, at Little Rock, was completed in 1873.

Well Field Inadequate, Engineers Tell City Commission

$1 Million Water Expansion Project Necessary

A group of engineers Monday night warned the City Commission of "acute contamination" of the present well field and urged the board to start construction of a new million dollar well field on the golf course property, including four new wells, a water treatment facility and a network of transmission lines into the city's distribution center. Cost of the project according to consulting engineer Jesse Dietz of Clark, Dally and Dietz, who, with local engineers Lefler and Bush, drew up a water report, is estimated at a million dollars. Dietz emphasized that the second well field would be used in conjunction with the present field located on Hwy. 17-92 near the Movieland Drive-In. City Manager W. E. Knowles explained that the city had gone into a temporary water improvement program to get by the "next couple of years" by putting down a 12-inch well and the booster station at 26th St. and French Ave.

"This adds about 600 gallons a minute to our supply but it is strictly temporary," Knowles added. Knowles pointed out that the present water treatment facility on 13th and French would be uneconomical to expand. Dietz, in a comprehensive report, said that improvements have been made. They include an additional well having a capacity of 600 gallons per minute discharging the raw water transmission line to town. However, Dietz stressed, that these projects do not "constitute any major improvements to the water supply facilities beyond the pumping station at 13th and French. In order to provide adequate services for the present population, improvements are needed at the 13th and French pumping station and in the distribution system," he said. Dietz said that the source of supply consists of nine wells, eight of which are located south of the city and the ninth at the 13th and French pumping station. The well located at 13th and French according to Dietz has a water quality "undesirable" for any except emergency use, due to the high chloride content.

"The other eight wells, because of their location" are subject to contamination which has been demonstrated on a number of occasions. Industrial sewage discharges in the well field area raise the possibilities of potential and actual contamination," he said. "In order to provide a safe and adequate water supply, it is recommended that the new well field with treatment facilities be developed as soon as possible. Present water facilities in the city are inadequate," Dietz emphasized, and "if for no other reason than to insure a continuing safe source of water, this improvement should be undertaken," he said.

The board took no action and placed the report under advisement.

The city hall grounds were called "Jai" last night at the City Commission meeting by Commissioner Earl Higginbotham. "Let's make it look like Florida, instead of New York," said the outspoken Earl. "You would never know this lawn was in Florida," he added. Tom McDonald quipped, "Put up a sign."

Inch-Plus Rain Quenches Thirst Of Dry Seminole

Sanford and Seminole County were drenched with heavy rains Monday night and early this morning. More than an inch and a half fell. No heavy damage was reported to county roads or city streets in the heavy downpour which lasted over eight hours. It was the first heavy rain in the area for almost three months.

Around the nation Polar air stabbed into Texas and Tennessee today and snow was falling from the Pacific Northwest to the Great Lakes. Floods left nearly 2,000 persons homeless in the Deep South. Precipitation in one form or another was the rule in all but the desert Southwest, and even there mountain areas reported snow.

There were heavy rains from the Gulf to New York. Sleet and freezing rain covered the Ohio Valley and New England with a glassy veneer. Thunderstorms pounded Florida and Missouri. A mixture of rain and snow pelted the Pacific Coast from northern California to Canada.

Nearly half the nation was under cold wave warnings from an arctic air mass with temperatures as much as 40 degrees below normal. West and Middle Tennessee were in the cold wave belt. The temperature was forecast to drop during the day, to 20 by morning in the Memphis area and to 15 at Nashville.

The death toll since the weather onslaught began over the weekend reached 53 today. Indiana had 11 dead; Iowa six; Texas five; Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin four each; Oregon, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts three each; Maine, Utah and Mississippi two each; and New York, Connecticut and Colorado one each.

Yule Party For All Longwood Children

Longwood Mayor Al Lormann reported today that some residents are under the mistaken impression that their children may not attend the annual Christmas Party Thursday night unless they had been registered in advance. The registration was requested only to give members of the Volunteer Fire Dept., sponsors of the party, some idea as to the expected attendance, he said, adding that the firmen have wrapped some 600 gifts and that all children, registered or not, will be welcomed for Santa's visit.

The gifts were made possible through donations from businesses, organizations and individuals and a big boost came from the $100 received from a more than generous citizen who wished to remain anonymous, Lormann said.

Tshombe Flies To Parley With Congo President

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—Katanga President Moise Tshombe flew off to Kitona with U. S. Ambassador Edmund A. Gullion today for a conference with Congo central government Premier Cyrille Adoula. The meeting was brought about through a massive United Nations attack on Tshombe's forces in Elisabethville and President Kennedy's efforts to resolve the Congo turmoil.

It could provide a dramatic breakthrough in the agonizing efforts of this giant African land to achieve peace and unity. Fighting was stopped in Elisabethville—at least temporarily. UPI correspondent Neil Smith reported that the Katanga capital that the halt to the fighting came Monday after the city had taken its worst pounding yet from United Nations forces.

City Okays Sewage Unit

The City Commission by a 4-1 vote Monday night approved final plans for a near half million dollar sewage treatment plant and was informed by the State Board of Health that sufficient federal funds were available "at the present time" to construct the facility.

The complete, "compact," readily expandible plant as described by City Manager W. E. Knowles is expected to cost $367,000 with the federal government kicking in $129,400. Sidney Berkowitz, assistant director of the Florida State Board of Health, told engineers Lefler and Bush earlier in the day that "previous commitments of funds were somewhat changed at the present time by reason that cities having higher priority rating had not exercised their rights to the funds since July of 1961."

Berkowitz stated that the federal grant would be available to Sanford for their project provided that the city took immediate steps to insure that the financing for the remainder of the project would be carried out by issuance of necessary revenue bonds or other financing. City Fiscal Agent Loomis Leedy was in the audience and emphasized that the city is in sound fiscal shape and can borrow all the money it needs for the sewage treatment as well as water improvement program. Indications are that the commission, if it carries out the water improvement and sewage program, would go into 30-year terms and possibly raise water and sewer rates for each user.

"There's a just no painless way to borrow money," commissioner Earl Higginbotham said. "The only commissioner to vote against approving the plans was J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps who said 'You gonna have to get the federal money in hand before I'm going to talk.'"

The plant would be constructed on a four-acre tract on Hwy. 17-42 west of MIA creek at the city's sanitary landfill area.

Bar Doors Shut

The City Commission changed its mind again Monday night and voted to clamp the lid on bars opening at 12:01 New Year's day. The vote was unanimous. The latest change of events occurred some two weeks after the board voted to keep the bars open New Year's eve, seven days after they changed their minds closing the bars on Sunday but opening at the stroke of 12:01 and closing them at 3 a. m. New Year's day. There was hardly any discussion on the matter and the commission passed quickly to the next item on its agenda.

In other business, the Board backed up City Manager W. E. Knowles' stand to allow the Seminole High School swimming team to use Ft. Mellon Pool only if they pay $16.74 per day. The Swimming team wants the pool open Jan. 2—some 155 days before the city's operation begins. "The county school system won't support their activities, why should the city taxpayers," Knowles said. Knowles said the proposed use would require continuous operation of the filter and a total cost for the city of about $2,000 for the 155 days. The board approved a plan for Golden Gates Subdivision; Open bids on resurfacing material for Jan. 4; The major projects in the resurfacing program are 24th St. from French Ave. to Park Ave.; Myrtle, from 24th to 25th; Sanford, from First to Fifth; First St. from Sanford to Park; Magnolia from the railroad to 20th and Palmetto from Sevenths to 20th St.

Agreed to proceed with the six inch water line for the proposed new Del-Mar Cabinet Company to be located on Country Club Rd.

putting the finishing touches on one of the figures in the scene. Clyde Harris, right, touches up another figure. The retouching job was completed Monday. (Herald Photos)
