San Bernardino

through narrow Cajon Pass which leads through the San Bernardino mountains to the Mojave desert.

Police estimated that nearly 300 persons were evacuated from the region and given refuge in a school. Most of them had time to don street clothes, although a few could be seen in bathrobes.

Police commanded city buses to evacuate the residents. Everybody was grimy with soot and sand if not in your eyes, and you could feel the grit on your teeth.

Mrs. John Baker, whose home was saved by a wind shift, said her neighbor was "a roaring inferno... the heat was terrific."

The burned home was the 525,000 colonial of Mrs. Russell M. Gray. She and the awake about 1:30 A. M. and

"I looked out the window and saw the garage alight. I grabbed my two children 16 and 18 and dashed out to highway. I found firemen and they went back and carried out my 5-year-old mother."

The latter, Mrs. Anna Spierling was treated at a Red Cross emergency center for shock. She was not injured.

The winds swept stinging sands in the faces of some 300 firefighters and caused members for over a mile. At one point, the fire jumped eight blocks, setting a roof alight.

All the city's fire equipment, some 20 trucks, plus help from nearby communities of Redlands, Colton and Bimto, ranged along the fire line.

San Bernardino's northern sector runs into the mountains, and it was there that the fire started, apparently from a power line blown down by the wind gale.

For a half dozen blocks just below where the mountains start their steep ascent to mile-high lake level, the district is largely brush-covered.

Then the city's better residential section starts, stretching a mile south to the country club.

Fire equipment concentrated along this line, and although many spot fires were reported, apparently firemen managed to save most of the homes.

Residents, many in night dress, grabbed garden hoses to wet down roofs. Fire officials said typical California stress construction, largely fireproof, and the fact that many homes have tile roofs undoubtedly kept the loss from mounting.

The blaze burned in a southwesterly direction across the north city limit, finally hitting U. S. Highway 66 two miles west of its starting point. Its path, raked from a few feet to several blocks in width.

A sudden shift of the wind carried it around one new subdivision of 40 homes, as residents desperately played water on the roofs.

A junior high school was opened up by the Red Cross for those evacuated.

Police said there were some reports of minor burns, but hospitals reported no one seriously enough hurt to require treatment.

Two informations were filed by the state attorney, Murray Overstreet and Hubert Griggs. One charges John Forrest Howarth with selling ballot lottery tickets.

He failed to appear in court, and his bond of $500 was estimated.

The other information contains the charge that Foster Smith, allegedly embezzled from J. W. Knowles a boxing ring valued at $100. He entered a plea of not guilty, and will be represented by Karlisle Housholder at the trial.

Dan Keigan will be represented by John Leonard, G. W. Spencer will represent the defendants in the Sheffield, Baker, Hughes and Harper and Rockwell trials.

Tibet Appeals To UN For Aid Against Reds

United Nations Mount Drive To Localize Korean War And To Reassure Chinese

BLAKE SUCCESS, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie today received an appeal from Tibet for United Nations aid against the Chinese Communist invaders.

The appeal was reported to have come from the Tibetan delegation in India. This group originally was sent to New Delhi by the government of Tibet to negotiate with the Chinese. It has remained in India since the invasion of Tibet.

The U. N. cannot act on the appeal unless it is sponsored by a member government. Tibet is not a U. N. member. Informed quarters said India definitely would not sponsor the Tibetan plea.

It was considered likely, however, that Nationalist China might take up the case because of China's close link to Tibet.

The United Nations also must act on a three-pronged diplomatic offensive seeking to neutralize Communist China and to prevent the present campaign from exploding into World War II.

On the eve of the departure from Peiping of a Red delegation to the Security Council, diplomats moved swiftly to keep the war localized.

The basic strategy was to reassure Chinese Communist leaders that U. N. forces had no designs on their territory, would not interfere with China's supply of electric power from North Korea, and would build a united, democratic, independent Korea which would present no threat to China.

This was combined with a clear warning, however, that continued Red Chinese intervention in Korea would lead to drastic action.

As though to point up these facts, a spokesman at General MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters announced that the United States would push toward the Yalu River is just a "limited offensive."

Informal observers here considered this indicated that the U. N. military command also was treating the situation as a limited offensive victory over the North Koreans while giving the Chinese an opportunity to withdraw with a minimum loss of face.

Phone Pickets Riot Briefly In Pittsburgh

Southern Telephone Centers Picketed As Union Shifts Operations To South

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Trouble broke out briefly on a picket line outside the Bell Telephone company's main office in Pittsburgh but eight mounted policemen quickly restored order. There were no injuries or arrests.

Police said the trouble began when a small Bell truck was halted in traffic in front of the building where 150 CIO communications workers union pickets were picketing in a solid line.

A group of pickets surrounded the vehicle. The police on horseback pushed into the crowd and dispersed it. The truck was escorted away from the building.

Several pickets and two off-duty policemen were arrested the day the strike began last week for a disturbance outside the Pittsburgh office.

Meanwhile at the other end of the state in Philadelphia long distance operators reported for work in the absence of picket lines by striking telephone equipment workers but did not man the switchboards. They left the building after an hour.

A spokesman for the operators employed by the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. said arrangements were being made for assurance they would not stay away from work if new picket lines are established.

The long distance operators are not striking but they have been honoring picket lines set up by CIO Communications Workers of America members who are employees of the Western Electric Co., an A. T. & T. affiliate. The strikers struck Thursday in an contract dispute.

An A. T. & T. spokesman said the operators were not asked to cross picket lines but were asked whether they plan to remain on the job. Supervisory employees (Continued on Page 2)

Pastors Say Littlefield Did His Best

Ministers Blame Different Citizens For Open Gambling In Volusia County

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Former Sheriff James Littlefield today asked the Florida supreme court to throw out his indictment by a state grand jury. The court made no immediate decision. Final arguments in the case were the same as those presented in written briefs and preliminary hearings. Jack K. Koe, attorney for the suspended sheriff, said the indictment was invalid because it does not charge a crime and was not signed by a state attorney as required by law.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Two Baptist preachers today came to the defense of Sheriff Alex Littlefield and Constable W. M. Slaughter, who are under suspension from office for neglecting to enforce the gambling laws.

They told Governor Warren in a hearing on the Volusia county gambling situation that law enforcement in the county has been greatly improved in the past couple of years.

Rev. Lee Nichols, pastor of the Daytona Beach First Baptist Church, and a member of the civic affairs committee of the Halifax district which was organized to promote better law enforcement, said in recent months "our county was clean when other counties were wide open."

"If this suspension of our sheriff is sustained it will be a definite setback for good law enforcement because it is commonly held here it is here today because of political pressure," he declared.

Rev. L. A. Colting, pastor of the Deland Second Baptist Church, charged indifference to citizens for whom gambling laws exist in the county.

He said Constable Slaughter gave him a list of suspects to help him obtain evidence against them, but he couldn't even get his own brother to buy tickets to get on to testify to the purchase in court.

Governor Warren indicated he would not base his hearing on affidavits of gambling operations which he based on suspicion of the two officers.

He announced to a crowded hearing room audience that affidavits would not be received.

However, many who signed the affidavits were present in the room.

John W. Moshell, one of the state's attorneys, asked by a reference by J. Walter Hawkins, former state representative, about the "alleged" charges against the two officers, he understood there were no charges and that "we are starting over with affidavits submitted in the past not to be considered."

He said in his opening statement "there is no presumption here of guilt. Nobody here is behind the eight ball. We're here to try to learn the truth and the facts."

Committee Will Probe Into Basic Causes Of Crime

Kefauver Says Gangs Wield Sinister Political Influence

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The Senate Crime Investigating Committee will follow up a survey of juvenile delinquency with an inquiry into the basic causes of crime, Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today.

As for the probe's general findings in the nationwide crime picture, Kefauver said yesterday his group has found organized crime "a very sinister and very great influence of public officials."

He told a television audience that "organized crime in the country today would make kindergarten play out of the operations of the Capone boys."

His special Senate committee has facts to prove that well-organized, tough groups of criminals are operating throughout the country with "interlocking ownership and directorship between all groups," Kefauver said.

He declined to say whether there is one "overlord" of organized crime, but he said the committee's aim is to prove that local law enforcement officers can't do anything about it.

The senator said Chicago was "perhaps the one most important center of criminal activities," although there were extensive organizations in New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Miami, San Francisco and many other cities.

His committee published over the weekend a 250-page study of juvenile delinquency, with special attention on crime comic books.

Despite some exceptions here and there, the report reflected a general feeling of "off in law and order" in the country. But FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the incidence of crime among young people still is "abnormally high."

The consensus of those replying to a questionnaire was that crime comics are not directly related to juvenile delinquency.

The committee itself drew no conclusions, simply publishing the answers it received from more than 40 juvenile court judges, child welfare workers, probation officers, police and prison authorities, child psychiatrists, publishers of crime comics and others.

Kefauver told reporters his general impression after reading most of the replies was that "the good comics are beautiful, the middle ones are so-so and the bad ones are deplorable."

Hutchison States U.S. Paid Bloody Price For Liberty

Armistice Day Crowd Is Told Of Danger Of 3rd World War

The freedom and prosperity enjoyed in this country has been dearly bought with blood, Brig. General J. C. Hutchison told members of the U. S. Florida National Guard, and a group of Legionnaires, veterans and citizens at the Armistice Day program at the Handheld Saturday morning following the parade.

He pointed out that twice this country has been in real danger of being conquered, but was not defeated because thousands of men "were willing to risk an die give their lives to stop the aggressors." Carlyle Housholder, commander of the Sanford Post 53, the American Legion, introduced him.

"We are in imminent danger of a third World War, General Hutchison declared. "There can be little doubt that ruthless plan of world aggression has been conceived, and that Korea is only the starting point. We must accept the imminence of World War III as a concrete fact; any delay, any hoping that Korea is an isolated local conflict, is, I believe, wishful thinking and costly thinking."

"What, then, should be our course?" he asked. "I do not think the American people will accept the action of preventive war. I do not advocate it. As certain as we may be of an intended aggression, we would never strike the first blow. It would destroy our moral purpose as a nation, which is the only thing we have fought for. But we can, and must, be so strongly and completely prepared for war, that, in the event of attack, we can retaliate in a matter of minutes."

"Our position is a great deal more dangerous and complex than we perhaps realize," said General Hutchison. "We are faced with the prospect of global war for which we must be completely prepared, and we are also faced with an extended period of preliminary fighting during which the world might ruin us financially."

The float entered by the Business and Professional Women's Club won first place in the parade, which was viewed by a large crowd on First Street, Park Avenue and in the business section. Mounted on the flat truck, the float was of white decoration dotted with green, and on the front were words, "Measure Up."

Good Fruit Supply Will Be Available For Thanksgiving

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 13.—(Special)—Reports indicate a good supply of fresh Florida fruits and vegetables will be available for Thanksgiving in spite of the earlier unfavorable weather conditions. Oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, beans, corn, squash, okra, tomatoes, field peas and cucumbers are increasing in volume on the market.

William L. Wilson, director, advises, "Quality is steadily improving as shown by the following individual market reports."

While it is not likely the strawberry volume will be sufficient to supply the Thanksgiving demand, the first pint produced this season was picked on November 6 at the Turkey Creek School, Turkey Manure of Turkey Creek, and sold at auction for $200." R. Alvarez, Acting Manager of the Plant City State Farmers' Market advises, Mickey is a young student in the Turkey Creek School, and he and his mother are sharing in the Turkey Creek area of Hillsborough County.

"Manager J. L. Warren announced the official opening of the Pompano State Farmers Market for the 1950-51 vegetable season Nov. 6. While volume is expected to be light for the next three weeks, the quality of beans, squash, cucumbers, okra, field peas and tomatoes is reported fair.

They'll pile up as the month ends, so that industry will be turning more of its output to armaments.

But he told the business men this four-year program calls for a steady rate of build-up. Which means it will try to schedule military orders to industry in an even way to prevent temporary shutdowns or layoffs in industry.

Sanford Forum

The Herald. Recently it was my extreme pleasure to be guest speaker at a luncheon of the Orlando Women's Republican Club...

Even though they were defeated here in Florida they made a magnificent showing and the fact that Seminole County had such a large Republican vote is very gratifying to those of us who have to live in a peaceful, serene America.

The Democrats have jumped us into two major wars in less than half a century and we have the unhappy prospect of a third looming prominently on the horizon.

It is a fact we are already engaged in a third one. The Democrats have perpetrated these sins only by their bungled foreign policy.

It is strange that men like Representative Wright Patman of Texas have never learned that Patman pretends to be the friend of the small business and is a voracious foe of big business.

But the excess profits tax is good politics, because it is easy to make the public believe that it soaks the big corporations...

Man of course has been working hard and glove with Moscow. Under the guidance of the Kremlin he has been giving strong support to the North Koreans...

There is no present likelihood that the Chinese Communists will venture militarily into India or Pakistan. Both those countries maintained strong standing armies and have huge reservoirs of manpower.

SMU Defeat Drops Former 1st Place Team From Top 20

DALLAS, Nov. 13—(AP)—Two weeks ago Southern Methodist was No. 1 in the nation's football. Today it will do well to get in the top 20.

How does it feel, Mr. Russell, to take such a drop in such a short time?

It. N. Russell, coach of Southern Methodist: "We're just as good now as we were then but we've been No. 1 in the first place."

And, moreover, we added "We have a fine bunch of students and fans who understand this situation. That's the biggest regret I have for getting beat."

Russell explained why it was a disaster from not getting up when you are beaten. My boys played great football even in those games. They kept the crowd on its tiptoes, they put on a good show."

"Isn't it remarkable," he asked, "what an inch here and an inch there can do for a coach and my team was No. 10 team. Now just look at us. Take Saturday's game with Texas A. and M. We got to the A. and M. one-yard line and an off-side cost us a touchdown. His points would have made the difference in victory and defeat wouldn't it?"

He wanted it known that he considered his team had done well. "Spirits was the only way we won the game we did," he said. "We had a group of inexperienced players who did the best they could and came through remarkably. I feel we are as good as ever but we never were as good as rated."

By ED HARPER

Six slender points were the difference.

Six points scored on a freak pass from Al Cook to Frank Walston after Florida's risky eight man line had stopped the Bulldogs' lead within six yards of pay dirt on two straight plays.

Cook had failed to pass, figuring the three defensive backs could possibly cover his four open receivers. But the alert factor defense shifted quickly, and senior end Bob Walston, Georgia's pass catching ace, was covered like a flanker.

French and defensive quarterback Williams. Cook was badly rushed, as he had been through-out the afternoon, but the six-foot, five-inch, Massachusetts calmly drifted to his left search for a receiver.

In the right hand corner of the Florida end zone Georgia's right end, Hubcock, was covered; on the left Walston was covered; Cook hesitated briefly, then started to run around his left end.

In the end zone Walston, who had reached the sidelines, backed abruptly and rared back toward the center of the hushmarked goal zone.

Williams tripped as he tried to follow and French stood, unmoving, on the sideline stripe.

The first six quarters being smothered by four Florida linemen, lobbed a gentle, wobbly pass to Walston standing all alone just inside the goal line. That was the only score.

In the final analysis, however, Cook's pass was an interesting sidelight to a game played between the lethargic giants of Georgia's line and brilliant young Florida backfield.

Walston's pass, however, was a masterpiece of timing. When he threw, the ball seemed to travel in a straight undulating line, without waver or arch, into the hands of the receiver. Only truly phenomenal Bulldog defense, usually 5-3-2-1, that smashed his receivers to the ground with brutal force.

New Smyrna Wins 13-6 As Sanford Drops 7th In Row

Sixty Two Yard Pass In Third Quarter Scores Winning TD

By VERNON HARDIN

The New Smyrna Barracudas defeated the Seminole High School Celery Feds by a score of 13-6 Friday night before a crowd of some 500 fans.

The game marked the first conference win for the Barracudas while the Feds dropped their seventh straight contest of the season.

The highlight of the contest came when Art Kinder hit Charles Mainwood with a pass which netted the New Smyrna eleven the winning touchdown. The play covered 62 yards, having started on the Cudas 28 yard line.

The Feds went ahead in the first quarter when Oglestey intercepted a pass from Kinder on the New Smyrna 39 yard line. Minutes later Don Smith hit pat datt for the first score of the game.

With four minutes remaining in the first half Kinder played over tackle and streaked 29 yards for a touchdown to clinch a 7-0 yard drive. The extra point failed and the two eleven were tied at 6-6.

The Feds tried vainly to go ahead again when they drove to the New Smyrna four line marker in the closing minutes of the half. The Cudas defense held and stopped the Fed drive as the half ended.

Pittsburgh's Pilot May Be Replaced By Lou Boudreau

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13—(AP)—Bill Meyer, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates in their flop into the National League cellar last season, learns his baseball fate today. The 57-year-old Tennessee has been summoned to a meeting with Branch Rickey, new front office boss of the Bucs.

Rickey has given no hint as to what he plans to tell Meyer. But recent managerial changes in the big leagues has led to strong speculation that easy-going Hill is out as the Pittsburgh Pilot.

There is irony in Meyer's situation. In 1948 Hill made his first appearance in the big show as a manager. He was hired by the organization to take over from Billy Herman, whose 1947 combination landed at the bottom of the National League heap.

Herman had a year to go on his contract, but the eager Pittsburgh owners bought it up.

Meyer led the 1948 Pirates to a surprising fourth place finish. Hill was named manager of the year and given a new three-year contract. It runs through 1951. Today he finds himself in virtually the same situation as that faced by his predecessor three years ago.

It will be comparatively easy for Rickey to give Meyer the gate—providing he is willing to hand out $40,000 for nothing but a torn contract.

Depositors around Forbes Field this Lou Boudreau, who was fired as manager of the Cleveland Indians last week, will replace Meyer.

Zero Weather Halts Battles In Korean War

Ground Action Slows As Freezing Rains And Icy Winds Hit Shivering Troops

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 14—(AP)—A frozen silence settled over Korean battlefields today. Temperatures of six above zero virtually paralyzed the northwest front where, as estimated 900,000 Chinese Communists face the concentrated U. S. First Corps. It was even colder in the northeast. Ice-tipped winds swept down from mountain peaks on the quilted Chinese and on shivering American, many still in summer uniforms. The U. S. Eighth Army was rushing arctic clothing to the chilled troops.

Parks clad Marines pushed through frozen hills in the center of the line toward Changin reservoir and its great hydroelectric development.

Farther east, two regiments of the U. S. Seventh Division marched along ice-caked roads in sub-zero weather toward the Manchurian border, 30 miles away.

Winds of 40 miles an hour made it difficult for Korean men of the Seventh Division to breathe. Their hands and feet were numbed by the cold.

A thermometer carried by a tiny wind-tossed plane showed them registered 21 degrees below zero. Associated Press Correspondent Tom Stone and the Associated Press staff were all but hit by the 17th Regiment and the 31st "Polar Bear" Regiment.

Shells and rockets carried heavy weapons and equipment through the mountain roads north of Pungsan.

Red mortars opened up on the Yupa three hours after they started the march toward Kapsan, 10 miles northwest. Other Seventh Division patrols reached the Pusan reservoir 35 miles southwest of Pungsan without seeing the enemy.

On the snow-covered hills of the east coast, the South Korean Capital Division beat off a tanked North Korean attack with the help of the eight inch rockets of Marine planes.

NA U. S. Tenth Corps spokesman said today that the South Korean Koreans secure in their positions on the Oranong River, 90 miles south of the Soviet border.

March Of Dimes Will Try For $50 Million

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—(AP)—The March of Dimes has raised its sights for next year and will try to collect $50,000,000 to fight polio—$20,000,000 more than was collected this year.

Announcement of the new and higher goal was made last night by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, sponsor of the annual campaign.

He said the foundation must not only erase a $5,000,000 deficit it expects by the end of the year, but must be prepared for new and higher costs following three years of excessive polio outbreaks.

He said this year is now rated the second worst on record, and follows the two successive record-breaking years of 1948 and 1949.

At present, he said the foundation is helping a third time as many as 12 years ago.

O'Connor spoke at a meeting of the Foundation's state advisors on women's activities.

Phone Pickets Riot As Police Enter Battle

Union Charges Lock-out In New York; Phone Company Begins To Retaliate

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14—(AP)—Striking telephone equipment workers fought police for 45 minutes today in an attempt to keep Bell operators from going to work at a west Philadelphia exchange. The Bell workers finally made it with police aid.

Seven strikers were arrested during the push-and-shove struggle in front of the Trinity Exchange. Twice the picketing strikers burst through police lines and prevented entrance of the waiting operators and other employees.

A third massed police attempt to force their way through the picketing succeeded, but it was a protracted struggle to keep the way open for employees who sprinted from across the street, darting through the line in groups.

Several persons were knocked over. Buttons were torn from police uniforms and the overcoats of strikers. The policemen, however, did not use night sticks.

The demonstration was the first attempt by the strikers, members of the CIO Communications Workers Union, to keep non-striking Bell workers from going to their jobs. The operators and other Bell (Continued On Page Eight)

The delay was caused by the difficulty of selecting a jury from the panel of prospective jurors, and it was about 11:15 before a jury could be selected and the court recessed. The trial was resumed in a crowded court room at 1:30 P. M.

Murray Overstreet, state attorney; Hubert Griggs, assistant state attorney, and Frank Cannon, Jacksonville, represented the prosecution and G. W. Spitzer, defendant, Mr. Cannon was assisted by the Court as an assistant prosecuting attorney in the case.

Army To Call Up 40,000 Men Next January

McMahon Says Funds For Dispersal Of Federal Agencies Are Badly Needed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—(AP)—The Army today announced a call for 40,000 draftees in January. The new call brings the total Army request to 250,000 since the outbreak of the war in Korea.

The September and October draft requests were for 50,000 men in each month. The November figure mounted to 70,000 and fell to 40,000 for December.

All men brought into the service through the Selective Service system to date have gone to the Army. The Navy and Air Force continue to depend upon volunteers to build up their manpower.

The demand for trained troops in Korea has speeded the overseas movement of reserves, defense officials said. The maintained, however, that this has not broken down the priority system based on age and previous combat service.

Individual reservists and groups stationed in camps around the country have been complaining to their hometown newspapers and officials that they were being rushed overseas while other reservists with less World War II service were being permitted to stay in the country.

The reserve assignment program was announced by the Defense Department last month. This program set up a schedule for the gradual release of reservists and the special system to determine when men would be sent overseas.

Meanwhile Senator McMahon (D-Calif.) said Congress ought to speed up the program. President Truman's request for funds to move some government agencies out of Washington as a safeguard against any bombing attack.

McMahon, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said a state or federal money should be made at the "same duck" session now scheduled to convene Nov. 27.

The President asked Congress last August for $150,000,000 for the "dispersal" program. The lawmakers refused to include the money in the $1,700,000,000 emergency defense bill passed last September.

The plan calls for constructing buildings for some key government agencies in nearby Maryland and other states.

City Decides On Move To Prevent Decay Of Teeth

Contract Is Let To Black Laboratories On Sodium Fluoride

Application to the City's water supply of sodium fluoride, in order to reduce tooth decay among children by as much as 60 to 75 percent was approved last night by the City Commission.

Although Sanford's water supply has traces of sodium fluoride, said City Manager McKibbin, it is only a fraction of what is necessary to limit tooth decay, and therefore a small, additional amount of the chemical is necessary.

The contract for the addition of sodium fluoride was awarded to the Black Laboratories at Gainesville. Dr. Charles Black, head of the firm, who on Nov. 6 told Rotarians here of the benefits of the sodium fluoride water treatment, is president of the American Waterworks Association.

The contract will have an effect on the taste of the water, and even if used of many times the proposed strength, could not be harmful, said Mr. McKibbin. Plans and specifications for the water treatment, however, must be approved by the State Board of Health, he added.

Only about 14 pounds of the chemical will be added.

Governor Claims No Proof Of Neglect Of Duty Has Been Submitted To Him

FAIRMASSE, Nov. 14—(AP)—Governor Warren today took issue with suggestions that Sheriff Alex Littlefield and Constable W. M. Slaughter of Volusia county and reinstated them to office.

He announced at the end of a day-and-a-half hearing that the evidence submitted "did not prove" those officers have neglected to enforce the gambling laws in the county. He said they will go back to office as soon as they meet the necessary orders.

The reinstatement took effect immediately when the governor announced his decision.

The two officers were suspended Oct. 11 without a hearing on the basis of affidavits submitted to the Governor after a Tampa Tribune reporter published a story that he had bought bets to kick and withdrawn a poker game in the county.

The reporter, Ted Shumfield, reported his findings in statements before the Governor today. The Governor accepted no affidavit at the hearing.

Littlefield and his brother-in-law had been suspended at that time by reinstatement of the officers. He said he would like to see the testimony given at the hearing and confer with State Attorney Murray Sarno, St. Orme, who said it can be made.
