MAKES INSIDE STORY OF LINGLE'S SLAYING MAY BE REVEALED IN TRIAL OF LEO BROTHERS

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—(AP)—While the police commissioner of Chicago (William Russell, who later resigned) stood at the head of his slain friend, Alfred (Jake) Lingle, the nation began to wonder what sinister force lay back of the assassin's revolver.

That power may be based when Leo Brothers goes to trial before Judge Sabath, accused as the hiring killer.

Scarcely had official accounts been published when the subcommittee last June before publication of all descriptions were heralding "the inside story."

Magazines dangled prize baits which drew from the pens of writers a thousand different solutions.

Amateur detectives with a flair of writing snatched backgrounds of facts from police blotters and built them into weird tales of mystery that ran the gamut from the plausible to the ridiculous.

And while the garantuan basket of paper theories was being heaped higher, officials maintained a silence without parallel in a murder case of such magnitude.

Not a theory was advanced. Even when Leo Brothers was arrested and charged with the crime, no one came forward to tell how he had been linked with Lingle's death.

But two theories have emerged from the "solutions" advanced by countless writers.

The characters of the first picture Lingle as an inmate of a "half-world"—a holder of a politico-criminal post in which he won the backing of a dishonest official, for support of the powerful Capone gang syndicate.

They described him as the "unofficial chief of police," as a man who had "arranged the fix" so that Capone beer and liquor trucks could roll through the loop and make deliveries unmolested to thousands of saloons.

They visualized him as forging Capone beer, whiskey, and wine to report proprietors of legitimate places, under threat of summary closing; they said he levied tribute on gambling places and other illegal enterprises.

They wrote of a supposed quarrel between Capone and Lingle when he took $30,000 or more from the gang car and then failed to arrange for the opening of a Capone dog track.

Or there was another theory—that he might be a thorn in the side of the rival Moran gang, and met his death for that reason.

2 Paralytic Cripples Try To End Troubles

CHICAGO, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Twin brothers, 21-year-old paralytic cripples sat in their wheel chairs in home last night and drank a toast to death with poison.

For six months, Thomas and Stephen Hall disappeared by death to end their own suffering and ease the burden they felt they imposed on their family.

Wheeling themselves into a dining room the twins got possession of a bottle of poison while their mother was in the kitchen and drank. Their mother found them collapsed in their chairs. They were taken to a hospital where their stomachs. Doctors said they had a chance to recover.

MOTHER'S WORDS SENTENCE SON TO PRISON FOR LIFE

BRADSTOWN, Ky., Mar. 14.—(AP)—The quivering, halting words of a mother 500 miles away yesterday sent her son to the penitentiary for life.

Confronted with the state's offer to swap a life sentence for a plea of guilty in the murder Feb. 22 of Carl B. James, railroad official. Anthony Piotrowski, was overcome with fear and confusion with happenings of the past few days. He turned to his mother in Detroit for advice.

If he refused the state's offer, he faced trial by jury with death in the electric chair as maximum punishment on a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Agnes Piotrowski, whose lack of funds prevented her attending her son's trial speaking over the telephone from Detroit, sealed her son's fate when she advised his attorney to enter a plea of guilty.

The mother had before her newspaper accounts of the fate of her son's companion, Frank Carson, alleged trigger-man, who Thursday was convicted and sentenced to death by a jury in the same court for the same murder. Both are under 20 years of age.

The youths' attorney said Mrs. Piotrowski could hardly speak for her sobbing, Circuit Judge James Taylor, who had allowed two hours for the mother to decide, then sentenced the youth to life imprisonment in the reformatory at Frankfort.

Thus ended the final chapter of a murder which has stirred Kentucky for days and which was termed by Commonwealth's attorneys as the "most inhuman murder in the history of Nelson County."

James was out for a ride with his wife on Washington's birthday. On the highway they met two youths who halted them and asked for a ride. Carson and Piotrowski had left Louisville that day late in the afternoon and were heading for the South. They were seeking work in the South, they said, but Detroit police said they were fleeing from justice in Detroit and that they were accused of 11 robberies and an attack upon a girl there.

After traveling a few miles James' passenger drew pistols and demanded the car. James stopped and all four stepped to the roadside. Willie Carson and James argued. Mrs. James signalled a passing car for help. Confusion followed. That was the end of James' life.

The youths, after forcing another motorist to move on, fled in the James car. Hearing Mrs. James' wailing over the body of her husband.

An alarm was sounded and the James car was chased into the northwestern corner of a field. A few moments later when an officer pointed out the occupants, Carson and Piotrowski were arrested. They had killed James.

Trade Body Plans 2 Meetings Next Week

Officials of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce this morning announced there will be two meetings in Seminole County next week at which time plans for the proposed Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be discussed and town representatives will be chosen.

The first will take place at the Altamonte Springs Community House next Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock. The second at the Longwood Library on Thursday night at 8:00 o'clock. Headed by Mayor T. L. Dulme and the entire Sanford City Commission, all of whom are members of the local trade body, a delegation of at least 15 Sanford men will be present to assist in putting the organization over as far as those two towns and sections are concerned.

The meetings are open to the general public, and it is hoped that large attendances will be reported.

Two Telegraph Men Honored By Company

Because of their "general efficiency, sales ability and service to the community" in which they are stationed, P. N. Wilson, manager and O. E. Sandstrom, vice operator of the Postal Telegraph Cable Co., Sanford office have been awarded high honors by their company.

They were elected to the Look-out Club, an organization within the system which has for its slogan "keen eyes, keen minds, always on the lookout for new business." There are about 600 members of the club, selected from more than 20,000 employees throughout the nation.

In the line of their selection, Wilson is vice-president of the club and Sandstrom is secretary. They were also named and engraved certificates on display in the office.

DENISON GETS ACQUITTAL ON LIQUOR COUNT

Former Member Of Illinois House Given Clean Slate By Jury

Sitting In Judgment

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14.—(AP)—George H. Denison, a member of the House from Illinois for 16 years, and defeated for reelection last November, yesterday was acquitted of liquor possession charges by a jury of eight men and four women in District of Columbia supreme court.

The jury deliberated one hour and took three ballots.

The trial grew out of the finding of an army locker trunk in Denison's rooms at the House office building more than two years ago after he had returned from a trip to Panama with his nephew, Charles F. Lane, Jr., of St. Louis.

Denison contended the wrong bag had been delivered and that the army locker trunk he purchased at Balboa contained dishes for some friends and relatives in this city and St. Louis.

Testimony regarding the dishes was described as a "fairly story" by John J. Sirica one of two assistant district attorneys in charge of the prosecution, in his closing argument.

William E. Leahy, for the defense, described the prohibition unit's handling of the case as a "comedy of errors." He said the government bureau had "passed the buck to these two boys sitting here," referring to Sirica and Irving Goldstein, the other prosecution attorney.

Denison, who was present in court throughout the trial, expressed elation over the result and charged he had been "persecuted and not prosecuted" by the prohibition unit. He shook hands with his three attorneys and each of the jurors.

2 MILLION DOLLAR YEAR EXECUTIVE IS UNDER ATTACK

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Having carried on a heated debate on whether an executive is worth a million dollars a year, Wall Street suddenly finds that apparently it has one in its midst who received twice that amount in 1930.

The American Tobacco Company is estimated to have paid its president approximately $2,200,000 last year, and his services thus rewarded were extraordinary, as viewed from the annual earnings statement.

In a year that was either lean or unprofitable for many of the nation's leading corporations, the country's largest unit in the tobacco industry piled up a net income of $12,000,000 which was more than 40 per cent greater than the previous year.

Nevertheless, the controversy over how a big corporation should reward executive, for extraordinary services rarely. Starting with litigation over the bonus system adopted by Bethlehem Steel Corporation, which netted its president well over a million for 1929, a group of American Tobacco stockholders, headed by Richard H. Rogers, has obtained permission through the supreme court of New York to inspect the company's books to learn details of its stock bonus plan.

The 1930 pay check of American Tobacco's president, George Washington Hill, amounted to a cool million, and in addition the distribution of stock to employees, assessed by the directors last year, put 15,446 shares into his strongbox at the low price of $25 a share, or a discount of about $1,283,000 from the current market price.

Mr. Rogers and his group charge that this plan, as applied to all officers and employees who participated amounted to a bonus of about $30,000,000. He seeks to explain this use of stock to "insiders" as he called them, at such bargain prices.

Citrus Growers Will Hold Meeting In City

For the purpose of outlining a series of organization plans for the coming year, and electing a Seminole County man as a member of the Committee of Fifty, the state-wide governing body, high officials of the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association will be in Sanford Wednesday afternoon for a meeting at the City Hall at 2:30 o'clock.

Every citrus grower in this county is urged to be on hand whether they are members of the association or not, for in connection with the business above mentioned, a round-table discussion on growing conditions and fertilizer will be held.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

ROOSEVELT MAY BE AFFECTED BY GOTHAM SCANDAL

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—(AP)—New York's bewildering maze of civic scandal has significance outside the city and the state because of the possible bearing on the political future of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who is mentioned as an outstanding possibility for the democratic nomination for president in 1932.

When the hunt for delegates to the democratic national convention begins, the nation will hear in detail the story of exposures that New York has been hearing during the last few years.

Roosevelt, who entered politics 20 years ago as anti-Tammany Democrat, was accused in the last state campaign by his Republican opponent, Charles H. Tuttle, of protecting the Tammany administration of New York from investigation by the Republican-controlled legislature.

The governor denied the charge, and was re-elected with a plurality of 750,000. Now he has appointed an independent Democrat and foe of Tammany—Samuel Seabury—to investigate the official conduct of District Attorney Thomas C. Crain, a Tammany sachem.

Another Roosevelt went from the executive mansion at Albany to the White House, via the vice-presidency, after receiving opposition to Tammany. But he was a Republican. Tuttle and other critics of the present Roosevelt have accused him of ambitions to travel the same route—eliminating the vice-presidency—with the help of the wigwag.

Governor Roosevelt has held the position during the many investigations into charges of municipal corruption in New York City, that the state authorities should intervene only when specific charges have been made against specific officials. He has refused to authorize a general inquiry into the city administration.

The governor has, however, stepped in from time to time. He authorized a grand jury inquiry into the charge that George F. Ewald bought an appointment as a city magistrate a charge that three trial juries refused to turn into a conviction.

Chaplin Gets Mixed In German Politics

BERLIN, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Charlie Chaplin today found himself unwillingly enmeshed in a German political discussion. The "Young Guard," communist youth organ quoted the movie actor as declaring to its editor "My greetings and all my sympathies are with the communist youth of Germany."

The conservative nationalist Boerszeitung asserted if remarks are true they constituted an unwarranted meddling with Germany's internal affairs. Chaplin would make such a statement.

Woodmen Of World Honor Sanford Man At State Meeting

C. C. Collins, well-known Sanford resident who has been connected with the American Express Co. for many years in the Sanford office, was honored at the annual convention of the Woodmen of the World which concluded a two-day meeting at Gainesville Monday.

Mr. Collins was elected as head clerk of the order for the year 1931, a position which he is said to have maintained because of his long years of continued service as a Woodman.

The Florida convention members were given the privilege of meeting and hearing a number of members of the National Lodge, including W. A. Frazier, President of Omaha; T. E. Patterson, Chattanooga, vice-president; J. T. Yates, Omaha, secretary; S. L. Caine, Columbus, Miss., editor; R. G. Plunkett, Mason, waterman; Wm. Bates, Cleveland, auditor; W. M. Crawford, Birmingham, auditor; A. D. Cloud, Omaha, medical director; and Dr. E. Bradshaw, Omaha, general attorney.

Sanford is being considered as the next convention city, and an announcement is expected that effect within the next few days. The local branch of the order was well represented at the Gainesville meeting, and returned with reports of a successful convention, the largest ever held in this state.

Last Of 6 Wendell Sisters, Possessors Of Fortune, Is Dead

NEW YORK, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Miss Ella Wendell, last of the Wendell sisters who inherited the vast fortune of John Gottlieb Wendell, died in her sleep last night at the age of 89. Death came in the red brick mansion on Fifth Avenue which stood through the years now and lowering office buildings as a monument to the family whose motto was "buy but never sell real estate."

There were six daughters and one son to inherit the hundred million dollar fortune which John Wendell started in the fur business as a contemporary of John Jacob Astor. George John, Jr., became the head of the family upon his father's death. He frowned on marrying for money and daughters were urged to stay out of so-called live-in marriages. The youngest daughter, however, married a young man of fortune.

THRONGS ATTEND OPENING NIGHT OF AUTO EXHIBITION

Latest In Motordom Is Put On Display In Rooms Of Mayfair

With throngs of persons packing the decorated lobby and hall room of the Mayfair hotel, eagerly seeking to inspect the latest models of motordom, Sanford's annual automobile show was opened yesterday. Today, officials responsible for the exhibition are expected to receive a large number of visitors.

According to Sam Higleyman, chairman of the committee on arrangements, the affair surpassed the expectations of those in charge and was gratifying to every automobile dealer participating. A combination of warm weather, the light-hearted gaiety of those attending, and the inviting luxuriance of every article on exhibit tended to create a pleasing picture.

After an inspection of the motor cars which included the latest models of Ford, Chevrolet, Hudson-Cover, Buicks, Packard, Graham Paige, Chrysler, Pontiac, Oakland, Willys-Knights, LaSalle, the throngs moved past the displays of accessories, radios, motor oils, and electric apparatus, to the former dining room of the hostelry where the Lake Mary Serranaders furnished music for dancing.

Tonight will ring down the curtain on the two-day exhibit, and an even larger crowd is expected to be on hand. The motor concerns represented were: The Sem-Tone Motor Co., Wright Bros. Co., White-Higleyman, Inc., Marshall Motors, Inc., Sanford Buick Co., Kent Motor Co., and the Sanford Motor Co. In addition the following firms had displays: Texas Oil Company, Pan-Am Oil Company, Seaboard Oil Company, Gulf Refining Company, Atlantic Refining Company, Sinclair Refining Company, San Juan Sunoco Company, Hill Hardware Company, Randall Electric Company, Hot-Mac Battery Company, Automotive Electric Company, Florida Power & Light Company, Pearlman Auto Insurance Company, Celso-Elder Spring Fire-Pure Company, and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

Single Bandit Holds Up Passenger Train

BIRMINGHAM, Mar. 14.—(AP)—A lone bandit held up an express car of a Louisville and Nashville passenger train near Bessemer today and escaped with an express package which police were told contained $5,000 currency.

The Bessemer police said they were told that the bandit dropped from the train and disappeared in a lumber yard after the robber boarded the train in Birmingham. Two trainmen, in the express car, were held at gunpoint while the robbery was in progress.

Robbers Escape With Loot After Entering Jewelry Store Of Winter Resort

PALM BEACH, Mar. 14.—(AP)—Robbers who had the key to the door and combination to the safe entered the Palm Beach branch of Charles T. Co., New York jewelry store Thursday night, and escaped with loot estimated between $650,000 and $750,000. Some officials said the total might reach $1,000,000.

Ott Wegner, local manager and trusted employe of the firm for 20 years, and combination gave the key and combination to three or four men who kidnaped him and threatened his life unless he obeyed their commands.

G. A. Paacock, member of the firm who was here for the season, said preliminary check of the loot showed the total amount of the loot would be at least $750,000. The robbers, he said, appeared to have made a careful selection. He listed a part of the loot as follows:

- Pearls, $250,000.
- Diamond brooches, $150,000.
- Diamond bracelets, $100,000.
- Diamond rings, $75,000.

He said there were two pearl necklaces missing, valued at $50,000 and $50,000. One diamond ring was listed at $15,000.

Paacock said Wegner was a trusted employe and that he had every confidence in the manager. It was brought out that W. O. Odum, night watchman, went on duty at 7 A. M. and John Cassidy, the day man, came on at 10 A. M. Paacock said he could understand how the robbery could have been carried out in that manner. He said he believed the robbery had been planned for some time and that the robbers were very careful in their work.

No arrests had been made last night, but Sheriff H. C. Baker said Wegner and Odum were being questioned. The sheriff said details of Wegner's story varied. The store is near the exclusive Everglades club and is surrounded by winter homes of the wealthy. Wegner told officers he was seized in front of a West Palm Beach hotel by persons who called him "Ott."

He was taken to a house in southern West Palm Beach, where he was gagged and tied to a sink in a kitchen, and forced to give up the key and combination. The manager asserted he was held prisoner there until nearly daylight yesterday morning, when he was left for about 40 minutes, at that time he managed to free himself and made a report to police.

"We know you have a boy going to college, and have something to live for," Wegner quoted one of the men as saying to him. "You won't be harmed if you give up this combination."

He also told the sheriff the robbers returned some time during the night and related they had trouble with a watchman and had to hit him on the head. The sheriff went to Odum's room and found him sleeping and unarmed. Odum told the sheriff the store had been isolated when he went on duty yesterday morning. However, when Cassidy arrived at 8 o'clock the robbery was discovered.

Chart Shows Lack Of Droughts In Florida

S. G. Gray, local accountant for The Herald office today presented a graphic story of Florida's weather in being one of the best states which suffered the least number of days of excessive drought during the drought period of this summer.

The story is a reprint from the United States Daily. On a map map is printed the number of days each state suffered with maximum temperature of 100 degrees Fahrenheit or more in various states during the drought period. Where California, Arizona and Texas lead the nation with more than 419 days each, Florida is the lowest by 29 of any state, having not more than 190 days of excessive heat. Florida's weather is cooler than the states other south, and, when the

SOME PEOPLE CAN'T DUNK... Simply because they don't go at it right.

But don't despair of mastering this gentle and graceful accomplishment. Take a glass of milk and a box of Unceda Biscuit (those grand old dunkers) to the privacy of your own room.
Practice steadily for ten minutes. Hold the Unceda Biscuit between the thumb and forefinger. Dip delicately and accurately. Never mind getting your little finger so firm. That will come later. Persist. Persist. You'll be a Dunker in no time at all. If your hand is in the right place.
Then you can join the Association for the Promotion of Dunking and Dunking—with full civic privileges.

A Praiseworthy Honor

Rather than being an indictment of the younger generation, we are inclined to view the expulsion of Carlos Proctor from the University as a fine testimonial of the courage and high ideals of the youth of today. It is one thing for a college faculty to expel an average boy for cheating; it is quite another for the students themselves, acting through an honor court, to report, try and expel a popular member who happens to be captain of the football team.

Only the most meager details of this case have appeared through the board of censors which protects the secrets of the University, and we are ignorant of a great deal. We know whether this was Proctor's first offense or merely a second; we know whether he was a member of the football team or merely a cheerleader; we know whether he had been in the University for a year or more. It is impossible to say whether he could go through four years of high school and four years of college to cheat for the first time as he is reported to have done, but it is not impossible. Upon the honor court assuming the duties of football captain, an honor which which depends so largely upon scholastic standing, we men have been known to yield to the temptation of cheating for the first time.

However, this may be, the honor court has shown a most commendable attitude toward perhaps the greatest evil of school life. Cheating by any student is abhorrent, but by a football captain, who is by virtue of his office a hero in the eyes of hundreds of other students, quickly becomes magnified a thousand fold. The student who cannot uphold, protect, and flourish the fine things of life, who then is going to do it? If he is going to fake things which do not belong to him, in the class room, is he going to cheat also on the football field? Then, what of his later life?

Cheating is invariably the first step toward graft and stealing. Cheating, habitually indulged in, unless prematurely checked, is sure to lead the victim through all the muck and quagmire of lies, deceit, crookedness, and corruption. It is apt to be regarded lightly at first, but like the opium pipe it puts its victim to sleep and then fastens itself upon him with relentless tentacles.

The honor board of the University is to be congratulated that it will not tolerate any laxity in this respect among the student body.

Tree-Study Should Be Encouraged

This country once contained 822,000,000 acres of virgin forests. Now only 137,000,000 acres remain. Tell that to your closest friend and ask him what this enormous destruction of the country's tree-life means to him. This is a young nation, as nations are judged. Yet in the years since its beginning, 685,000,000 acres of its forest lands have been swept practically clear of trees.

Within the last twenty-five years, it is true, a movement has been launched for the planting of trees in wholesale fashion. The government which began its forest protection work in a more or less lackadaisical way, is growing enthusiastic on the subject. The long patient prodding of pioneer tree-protectionists is beginning to be repaid in the concern shown by the federal government for the re-forestation of great areas. The meager 137,000,000 acres of virgin forest remaining in the United States are now regarded as a sort of sacred land to be watched over and perpetuated by trained foresters.

But something more should be done in educational lines regarding the value of trees. City schools, and most certainly rural schools, should be giving more time to tree-study. The children should be taught to love trees, and to understand their importance.

Here in Sanford there are many beautiful trees. But there should be more. Throughout Seminole County there should be more. The highways should be avenues shaded by carefully planted, and carefully tended trees. And Seminole County's boys and girls should be growing up, believing that theirs is the duty of keeping the trees alive, and of planting new trees as the years go on.

MEN OF MANY YEARS are sometimes more youthful in their outlook than youth itself. They have lived long enough to have seen the world change and to realize that it still is changing and will continue to unfold. They live brightly enough to find continuing delight in giving a touch here and there—or even a vigorous push—to the course of human thought, and yet hold a certain serene aloofness which speaks their confidence that there is enough wisdom in the world outside their own to assure its safety. Of this type, and perhaps its most conspicuous representative, is Oliver Wendell Holmes, senior Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. He is, as Chief Justice Hughes said in congratulating him on the passing of his ninetieth year, "invincibly young." He has steadily grown in youthfulness, in intellectual suppleness and alertness, through hard but eager work, lightened with humor. —Christian Science Monitor.

TELLING THE WORLD

By NEAL O'NEAL

The New York manner may not be that the city government in New York is proud of its distinctive New York, which colorful, is mostly of a lurid red.

They learn, even without reading between the lines, that the New York police are the finest financiers in the world, that their magistrates are very good fellows when one knows them, that Mayor Walker is deeply concerned about the sort of entertainment the people get for their twelve or fourteen dollars per seat at the play.

The Mayor worries a lot about important guests of the city, too. It is said he gives them a key to the city, a pointed key, as if it were a key to a treasure chest. It is indeed from a treasure chest.

New York has all the best of the world, and it is indeed from a treasure chest.

Only the most meager details of this case have appeared through the board of censors which protects the secrets of the University, and we are ignorant of a great deal. We know whether this was Proctor's first offense or merely a second; we know whether he was a member of the football team or merely a cheerleader; we know whether he had been in the University for a year or more. It is impossible to say whether he could go through four years of high school and four years of college to cheat for the first time as he is reported to have done, but it is not impossible. Upon the honor court assuming the duties of football captain, an honor which which depends so largely upon scholastic standing, we men have been known to yield to the temptation of cheating for the first time.

However, this may be, the honor court has shown a most commendable attitude toward perhaps the greatest evil of school life. Cheating by any student is abhorrent, but by a football captain, who is by virtue of his office a hero in the eyes of hundreds of other students, quickly becomes magnified a thousand fold. The student who cannot uphold, protect, and flourish the fine things of life, who then is going to do it? If he is going to fake things which do not belong to him, in the class room, is he going to cheat also on the football field? Then, what of his later life?

Cheating is invariably the first step toward graft and stealing. Cheating, habitually indulged in, unless prematurely checked, is sure to lead the victim through all the muck and quagmire of lies, deceit, crookedness, and corruption. It is apt to be regarded lightly at first, but like the opium pipe it puts its victim to sleep and then fastens itself upon him with relentless tentacles.

The honor board of the University is to be congratulated that it will not tolerate any laxity in this respect among the student body.

MOPEY DICK AND THE DUKE

"Let's select our bench before the spring now."

The Duke, served in a plat, a wooden matter brought from France; wild rice, which was perfectly delicious and quite spoiled one's taste for the tame respectable variety; and chryse, which may have appeared quaintly foreign to some of the guests. When the DeLand chapter of the

Another feature of the D. A. S. State Convention... I saw Mopey Dick and the Duke... piece of pinch-hitting for one of the singers who was ill. I was much amused to overhear a Sanford late-comer to the concert pick out Mrs. Brennan as the prettiest Russian... how she learned their routines quickly, and she told me that the little fuzzy haired Russian with the great big voice, who sang "O Man River" stood just behind her and kindly volunteered. "We tell you when stand, and me tell you when sit," which goes to show that courtesy as well as what grows along the banks of the Volga.

THERE'LL BE SOMETHING NEW TOMORROW

EVERY time you feel like muttering "There's nothing new under the sun," take up your daily paper and read through the advertisements. Chances are, you'll change your mind. Here's a new wrinkle in sanitary plumbing... there's a new kind of carpet that should have been thought of long ago... here's a decidedly better way of washing delicate fabrics.

These things concern you intimately—they affect your life and the manner in which you live it. They are new things under the sun. And advertisements are the arms with which they reach out and touch you. Read the advertisements regularly. There'll be something new tomorrow... and the day after... and the day after that. Something you wouldn't want to miss.

"SIT TIGHT," RUFF OFF TORNADO, PRESENTS WINNIE LIGHTNER AND JOE BROWN AT THEIR FUNNIEST

JOE E. BROWN and WINNIE LIGHTNER in "SIT TIGHT."

If any doubts have existed as to whether Winnie Lightner and Joe E. Brown are the funniest people in the talkies, it is dispelled by "Sit Tight," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production which opens at the Milane Theatre Sunday.
Winnie appears as hard-boiled Dr. O'Neil, owner of a health institute where the patients, male and female, are pounded, stretched, steamed, psycho-analyzed, and otherwise maltreated, in an effort to become the Venuses and Adonises that nature evidently didn't intend them to be. Dr. O'Neil is also interested in the fight game, and hopes to discover and develop champion material in the course of her work.
Joe E. Brown is her doubtful assistant who calls himself Jojo the Tiger, and brags without end of the puns he has knocked out and the medals he has won. Jojo is a "feminine charmer" among the lady patients. Winnie is compelled to resort to her most hard-awating tactics to keep him in proper submission.
Winnie sings, or rather croons, with her own peculiar roughneck swag and a real melodramatic punch, several songs—that everybody will be whistling. Others in the cast are Lotti Loder, Frank Hagney, Sully Edwards and hundreds of supporting players. "Sit Tight" is a play for the whole family. Rarely has such wholehearted applause been forthcoming as that which last night greeted "Sit Tight."

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS
In regard to State and County Taxes.
Unpaid Taxes will become delinquent April 1st.
The laws of Florida provide that if the taxes upon real estate shall not be paid before the first day of April the tax collector shall advertise and sell the same, the statute reads:
"That the tax collector is hereby vested with the power and it shall be his duty to collect by levy and sale of the goods and chattels, and tenements assessed, all taxes that remain unpaid."
It is suggested that those who can pay early, do so and thus avoid the rush during the last days of the tax paying period.
