Rain Relief In Sight For 'Dry' County

County homeowners and agricultural men may get some relief Wednesday from one of the longest dry spells in the county's history. The weather bureau today predicted afternoon and evening showers Wednesday and possibly all day Thursday.

It will be the first time in 27 days that rain of any consequence is scheduled to fall in the area. County Agent Cecil Tucker today said the predicted rain would be a "blessing" for the entire county. He said that the county's $4 million citrus industry has been severely hurt by the drought. He emphasized that young citrus trees were the heaviest hit. The county's vegetable and horticulture industry has also been "drastically hurt," the county agent added.

But probably the biggest person to hear the news will be the homeowner. No matter how much rain we get during the next few days May will still go down in the county record books as one of the warmest and driest in history. In the last 35 days less than an inch of rain fell in the Sanford area. During the same period last year more than two inches fell. Nineteen of the first 25 days of the month also saw temperatures near or over the 80 degree mark and during 16 of those days temperatures reached 85 or better.

Tucker estimated that 85 percent of lawns in the county were damaged by the long drought. Sanford is also looking forward to some rain to aid the city's dwindling water supply. City Manager Warren Knowles had reported recently that unless the use of water on plants and lawns the city would be forced to put into effect a water rationing program.

U. S. Launches 'Spy In Sky' Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The United States sent up a 24-ton Midas earth satellite today to test a "spy-in-sky" system for detecting hostile missiles within seconds after they are fired.

The free world's mightiest space rocket, an 88-foot, two-stage Atlas-Agena, blasted from the cape at 12:57 p. m. with the limousine-sized moonlet. The rumble may echo in diplomatic halls.

The satellite, dubbed Midas II and essentially a repeat of a shot which failed Feb. 26, was equipped with a super-cooled infra-red sensor to "see" missile launchings from an orbit about 300 miles above earth.

The space-borne alarm system, peering over thousands of square miles each second, would give America a 20-minute warning of an impending missile onslaught. This is about twice the warning time available with present radar systems.

The Air Force planned to test the satellite's "eyes" with flares fired at Edwards and Vandenberg Air Force bases in California this week. It also was reported the Air Force might time the launchings of intercontinental ballistic missiles to coincide with a pass by Midas II.

Information on whether the satellite was placed in orbit about the earth was not expected until about two hours after the launchings. Midas II is part of a missile defense alarm system—the first step in a top-secret U. S. military plan for an international "open skies" arrangement of its own, blinged on space satellites circling in polar orbits above every inch of earth's surface.

Collins Selected As Chairman Of Demo Convention

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Democratic National Committee's arrangements committee today selected Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida to be permanent chairman of the Los Angeles convention beginning July 11.

Sen. Frank Church of Idaho was selected as keynote for the presidential nominating convention. The selections were reported during the first hour of the committee's closed session here. Formal announcement was not expected until a scheduled 4 p. m. press conference.

Collins will succeed to the ravel yielded at the last three national conventions by House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

'Aler' Student Stops Fire Spread

The alertness of the part of a high school senior returned from a Sacramento service school at the Oviedo Post office soon burning down Sunday night.

Donna Weinright, who will graduate from Oviedo High this week, returned from the service at 11:15 p. m. and driving a King 16, noticed the building next to the post office burning.

He called the police and fire department and speedy work by rescue and fire crews stopped the fire from spreading to the post office.

However, postal officials said this morning that there was slight water and smoke damage to the postal building but that no mail had been burned.

Mrs. Marion Jones, wife of the postmaster, said that Mr. Weinright had not turned in the alert when he did, the building might have been destroyed.

Firemen worked throughout the night holding damage down in the fire at Kirkwood's Main Market, next to the post office.

Fire Chief George Wilcox said damage could not be estimated until a check of the postmaster's inventory could be made.

BERLIN (UPI) — Soviet forces announced today they will release nine Americans captured Friday when their Army C-47 transport plane was forced down in East Germany by Soviet jet fighters.

Col. Gen. I. Jacobowski, Soviet commander in Germany, said the eight American men and one woman and the aircraft would be turned over to the U. S. Army at the place where the aircraft landed.

In a formal note to Gen. Clyde D. Edelman, U. S. Army commander in Europe, Jacobowski said the time of the turnover could be chosen by Edelman. Jacobowski's note was in reply to an American note during the weekend demanding the release of the six passengers and three crew members who became lost on an hour's flight from Copenhagen to Hamburg and strayed across the Iron Curtain.

The five days during which the nine Americans were held captive had been filled with rumors that the Russians were going to hand their prisoners over to Communist East German authorities.

This could have created a major international incident since the United States refuses to recognize the East German satellite government. East Germany has attempted similar efforts in the past to force direct negotiations with Washington.

The Communist East German news service ADN said today the Soviet also proposed the violation of East German air space by the C-47 courier aircraft and said the United States bears the responsibility for the incident.

Jacobowski said the decision to release the Americans was taken in agreement with the East German government.

He told Edelman the plane violated East German territory and had to be forced down by the "decisive action" of the Soviet fighters when it ignored signals to land. Other reports said the jets fired warning shots.

Early County Voting Lighter Than May 3

The supervisor of registration said today that results of county and state political races probably will be known by about 9 p. m. today.

Voters were finding the shorter second primary ballot easier to make mark, but apparently fewer of them were being cast during the morning hours than in the same period of the first primary.

Sanford's three precincts showed fairly heavy voting, but reports from Oviedo, Altamonte Springs and Fern Park clerks said it was much lighter than on May 3.

Nearly all the officials reported lines moving through the voting machines without delay during the morning.

The consensus was "take your choice" in the two county commissioner races which hold the most local interest.

There seemed little doubt in that Party Bryant would lead Doyle Carlin in the local election in the county. Carlin appeared the choice of most over Buster Hancock, agriculture commissioner. Sen. Tom Adams was a solid choice to lead the secretary of state race over Tom Yarbrough in the local election.

The governor candidate, lining up with a bang in the big vote area at Miami, scratched right down to the finish. Bryant charged that the Miami newspapers, which was part of a television station, had blasted him out of a portion of a telecast.

The television station controlled by the newspapers is discriminating against me. I'm going to hold their feet to the fire," Bryant said. He said he will protest to the FCC.

The Herald and News of Miami both endorsed Carlin in the campaign. The Carlin - Bryant contest also developed into one between outgoing Gov. LeRoy Collins and former Gov. Millard Caldwell, largely on race issue lines. Moderate Collins endorsed Carlin and segregationist Caldwell backed Bryant.

Collins, just off the train from an industry-hunting trip in the North, told a statewide television audience election eve Florida "needs a man like Doyle Carlin" as governor.

Collins said he was asked in the North if Florida will "continue on its present forward course" in race relations.

Because of this, Collins said, and because of the endorsement of Bryant by Caldwell, he decided to break his long-time party on the governor's race.

He said Caldwell has attacked his administration on the handling of race problems and charged it with being "soft toward integration."

Bryant, speaking on a statewide television show late today, said he didn't think Collins made his 15-minute appeal because Caldwell supported him.

"I think my opponent and the governor have pushed the 'soft button,' Bryant said. "They know the race is lost."

Tidal Waves Lash Pacific From Australia To Alaska

TOKYO (UPI)—Tidal waves up to 20 feet high lashed a great stretch of the Pacific from Australia to Alaska Monday night and today.

Partial reports listed at least 120 dead and many missing from the earthquake-driven seas which rained across more than 8,000 miles of shoreline. Up to 100,000 homes were damaged and 100 million dollars of property lost.

Japan's heavily populated main island of Honshu bore the brunt of the towering walls of water which pounded the coasts at 40 minute intervals for periods as long as 18 hours. Early 400-odd deaths—dead, missing and injured—were reported in Japan alone.

The tidal waves, rolling westward from earthquake-stricken Chile, struck the Hawaiian Islands Monday, killing 22 persons and leaving 27 missing. The waves swept on to Okinawa, the Philippines, New Zealand, Japan, Australia, and most Pacific islands at the rate of 400 to 500 miles an hour.

In Chile, where weekend earthquakes, floods, tidal waves and a volcanic eruption wrought terrible havoc, authorities in Santiago said more than 1,200 persons were dead or missing and 100,000 homeless.

Loss of life on such U.S. Pacific bastions as Okinawa, Johnson Island and others was prevented by timely warnings. However, three sailors were killed on Okinawa.

Rainbow Girls Hold Initiation At OES Meeting

At a recent meeting of Seminole Chapter No. 2, O. E. S., held at Masonic Temple, Eastern Star members were privileged to witness a Rainbow Girls Assembly and initiation. This was the surprise treat promised by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Marjorie Shepard, for this meeting. It was the first Rainbow Assembly that many of the Eastern Stars had seen.

The girls looked lovely in their colorful formal and did their work so reverently it was indeed a treat to watch. One gentleman from Titusville, who had come all the way just to see this ceremony, was so impressed he said "he was returning more determined than ever to get the organization started in his home town for the benefit of the girls there."

Rainbow girls who were initiated were Sylvia Williams, Elizabeth Rhodes, Jo Sanden, Estelle Giles, Dottie Sewell and Linda Tucker.

The O. E. S. meeting that followed was brief due to the lateness of the hour. Two petitions for initiation were received and referred to committees on character.

Birthdays guests of honor for May were Past Patron Harvey L. Dunn and Mrs. Billie Schabel. Each made a contribution to the Rainbow fund and received a small gift.

Mrs. Lillian Cleland and her committee served refreshments after Chapter adjourned.

U. S. Misses Stand Which Dulles Took Against Reds

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
"We forget that men's ability to control the physical depends upon the moral."

J. F. Dulles
WASHINGTON—John Foster Dulles died just a year ago today, 1959, and immediately things which were had enough anyhow, went to the dogs.
It wasn't to do to say that the former secretary of state was getting ready to pull some miracles. He had six years in office to do that. The best you can say is that he fashioned the bottom of the ship of state with the barnacles of many treaties and alliances which showed us up—but may also have kept the water out. Some of us would have liked it better if Secretary Dulles had allowed, instead of continuing, the diplomatic policy of join-everything which commenced with President Woodrow Wilson. Dulles and Wren, both the sons of Presbyterian ministers, felt that this nation had an obligation to go out and save the world.

It may take another century to say whether this missionary zeal was beneficial, but a year is long enough to say something about another quality in Mr. Dulles—a good quality by any measure, but a quality which had better be displayed by a master—or not at all.
It is the quality called moralism. Often it provokes ridicule, for to be moralistic is to seem stuffy and over-righteous even if this appearance is undeserved. To evaluate the former secretary's moralism, as a code of diplomacy, we may apply it to some events that have occurred since his death.

Premier Khrushchev's visit of last year is one. It would never have happened if Mr. Dulles had lived and kept command of the American foreign policy. Not that the secretary was inhospitable or that he was against the exchange of personal visits, but Mr. Dulles believed communism to be an evil thing, and he knew Khrushchev to be a wicked man. Mr. Dulles did not choose to dignify the Red leader with the sort of reception he was bound to receive as an important visitor of a state. It smacked of trying to compromise with sin.
The 1960 summit meeting was another event which Dr. Dulles would have bent all his strength to prevent. The secretary did not want the 1955 summit meeting at Geneva, and he saw no point in a return engagement of the heads of government. Mr. Dulles would have said that, until the Russians had demonstrated their bona fides by deeds and not words, no good could be accomplished and much ill might be done another get-together of glamorous personalities in an atmosphere of show and propaganda.
Mr. Dulles, the moralist, is self-depicted in a new book, "The Spiritual Legacy of John Foster Dulles," which is a selection of his unofficial sermons, addresses and articles. Rev. Henry P. DuVan Dusen, who edited the work, cites a study of the Dulles vocabulary which finds (to the surprise of no reporter who covered the secretary) a phrase of frequent repetition: "righteous and dynamic faith." With no disrespect to the dead, we who heard Mr. Dulles sound off with this and other moralistic explanations of his foreign policy were apt to think "a belonged in a pulpit instead of in the international forum of the great office he held."
But now—looking back and looking forward—may "righteous and dynamic faith" be not so bad for the fix we're in. It never occurred to Mr. Dulles that evil (communism) could triumph over righteousness (democracy). His dynamicism called for taking great risks (brinkmanship) for big stakes. What Mr. Dulles termed "faith" is translatable into the vulgar as "courage" or even "guts." Whatever you call it, Mr. Dulles had it in spades.
Given his hatred of evil, his holy conviction in victory over communism, his Churchillian fortitude, Mr. Dulles would have been a handy fellow to have around this dismal and disastrous 12 months since his death.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Doctor's query should be of interest to all of you readers, for it brings out an analogy that is illuminating the situation of modern medicine. Overgrowth of cells, which is a deficiency of one or more chemicals, is the key to the sea water. The only remedy yesterday was the key to cancer.

CASE 2-401: Daniel and David, aged 24 and 25, are studying at the Indiana University Medical Center.
"Dad," Daniel began when they were home recently for Sunday dinner. "Just how does lack of iodine make the thyroid gland enlarge until it is called a goiter?"
"That is one of the most challenging problems in modern medicine."
The thyroid gland in the neck is the power center for our bodily metabolism. It is similar to the throttle in our automobiles.
And iodine is vital to the proper functioning of the thyroid. But when your diet is low in iodine, your body somehow detects that it needs more thyroid secretion.
The thyroid gland has no "brake," yet it somehow receives the body order for more thyroid (thyroid's secretion).
So it may double its employees (cells) and triple its quadruple them.
That seems logical, for when a steel mill wants more steel output, it would probably try to add more men.
And more men would not produce more steel if the essential raw material, namely, iron ore, were lacking.
Well, the poor thyroid gland doesn't seem to know that it can't make more thyroid without iodine, so it keeps doubling and tripling its workers (cells) until a big goiter forms.
You, the overgrowth of thyroid cells would have been stopped at the outset by adding a trace of iodine to your diet. As was done in the case of Daniel and David.
In leukemia (blood cancer) the white corpuscles likewise begin to double, triple and even increase 50 times their normal number.
Do these white corpuscles simply try to adjust a lack of some vital chemical, new in ocean water but perhaps missing from our soil?
Leukemia, in cancer, the normal cells of the body may also go haywire and start doubling and tripling.
From a tumor mass forms, much like the bulging goiter in the neck when we lack adequate iodine input.

For example, one of my earlier patients was a girl with bone infection. An eroded spot in the skin didn't heal. The skin cells finally became cancerous.
The normal skin cells usually reproduce normal skin cells, but they may ultimately lose this ability to reproduce their own kind. Instead wild cells (cancer) now are formed.
Why do the normal skin cells lose the ability to continue making NORMAL skin cells and revert to the wild, cancerous type?
Could it be a lack of some vital chemical?
Modern medical research is now stressing the importance of furnishing the body the raw materials that our various glands need if we wish the body to manufacture the various secretions required for good health.
If our soil (and therefore our food) lacks 20 or more chemicals, maybe these deficiencies are what ultimately throw our physiology out of balance.
Just as a goiter can develop from lack of one single chemical, namely iodine, maybe cancer and other deficiency ailments may be due to similar lack of one or more trace chemicals.
If you are cancer-free at 25, why should you get cancer at 50?
And why does your pancreas produce plenty of insulin when you are 25 but run possibly 50 percent below par when you are 50, which is the usual time for diabetes to strike most of its victims?

I Split Western Unity Wide Open, Eh, Comrade?

POSTCARDS by Stan Delaplane

A bunch of the neighbors were whooping it up around our place the other night.
The weather—too turned warm and we are back at the old barbecue.
There is a good deal of talk and interest about Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones.
As you may know, the couple will set up housekeeping next month. The Queen will give them a grace-and-favor house. That is the Royal way of saying, for free.
Anyway, we all agreed that Antony is one-up without a mortgage problem.
But we further state that the maintenance will be a killer.
The couple will get Kensington Palace. It was built in the 18th Century by William III. Remodeled by Christopher Wren. It is three stories high.
Let us tell you as veteran house-holders, a house built in 1700—something is going to require a LOT of work.
OUR houses are built in the last ten years. And there is scarcely a Sunday that we are not out hammering something back into place.
"Joe, can I borrow your level? One of the bricks slipped out of the blasted fireplace."
"So the builder said: 'If you leave those cracks there, you're bound to get dry-rot.' Well, this burglar wanted 2000 just to slip a little putty in the . . ."
That is our conversation on the day we visit. Sometimes I think Sunday is harder than the rest of the week.
Wait until the plumbing stops up at Kensington Palace. And they find tree roots have grown into the drain pipes! That costs.
The milkman for Kensington Palace is Mr. Fred Smith. He has shown a proper spirit.
"I am delighted with the news," said Mr. Smith. "I shall be pleased to serve the Princess." He did not mention Antony. But I don't think he will short him on the cream or anything.
Smith has estimated the couple's needs.
"I should think they will have about a pint of milk a day and 12 dozen eggs a week. That costs. He did not say how he arrived at this figure. But he serves the Duchess of Kent and Princess Alice. So we suppose he knows a Royal appetite.
That is a great deal of milk and eggs.
Even without a mortgage to pay off, the household bills will be a fair tab.
While the steaks were burning on the charcoal (and the ladies were upstairs acquiring the new wallpaper—there was a hidden cost!)—we figured the servant problem.
A three-story house just about busts the back of a bankroll.
I doubt if we could get somebody to come in and clean once a week in our neighborhood in such a house.
Most of the ladies who come in to clean are used to one-story ranch house types. They scream like crazy if they have to do an upstairs, too.

You get somebody upstairs, on the third floor. They have forgotten to bring up the polishing wax. You think they are going to run all the way down to the kitchen without a boot?
I look for a lot of turnover at Kensington Palace. Oh, dear, yes!
Otherwise, the house should get off to a good start. The Princess is used to living around Buckingham Palace which is a fair-size place. So she should know how many vacuum cleaners and mops will be needed.
The way we worked it out on paper, Antony is not going to come out ahead on grace-and-favor. It looks good. But did you ever pay for a complete new plastering job? That's just ONE thing we foresee.

WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

LEJ RANCH, Tex. — A vast shaggy dog bounded out of the darkness and threw himself against the senator. Two beagles wagged in circles around the grinning man.
It was 4 a. m. and the senator had just stepped down from the plane that brought him here from Washington via Indianapolis. The breeze was soft, warm; it was the therapeutic wind of the Texas hill country.
Lyndon B. Johnson, majority leader of the United States Senate, had come home to unwind. It would be just the weekend, but, as he said, "When you get back to Washington, you'll never have felt better in your life — a day soaking in the Texas sun and you face responsibilities with new vigor."
Responsibilities — this man has 'em. He is, after all, second to the president in bearing the responsibilities of our nation.
Yet, at midnight, after the two-engine plane rose from the Indianapolis airfield, the senator refused to go to sleep. Lady Bird, his wife, touched him caressingly on the knee and said, "please." And he said, "I'll get my sleep at the ranch."
So, as the plane thundered through the cloudy night, the senator relaxed in his own unique way — by talking, gesticulating, reminiscing, and planning out loud the talks of leadership that lay ahead.
The senator is 51. His stamina continues to amaze me. He had been on the go this day for 18 consecutive hours. And it's like that most of the time.
Once I caught him a brooding mood — in distant meditation, his long ruddy face profiled against the night, and I thought: "In the presidency of the United States for this man?"
Earlier, I sat in the Great Hall of the Indianapolis Press Club and witnessed a phenomenon in politics. His "adversary" on the stage, Sen. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.), chairman of the Republican National Committee, addressed 1,000 Hoosier dignitaries and brought the house down in applause — for praise for his opponent.
He pointed to Johnson as a great statesman and a patriot in his dramatic move to bring the people of our country together in the post-summer crisis — to stand by our president as one. The unusual thing about this was that more than 75 percent of the audience was Republican.

Could Johnson gain the nomination in the face of the many primary victories of Sen. John Kennedy? Despite the fact that the Texan is not an announced candidate, he still has 80 more assured votes for the first ballot at the July Democratic convention than does Kennedy — about 840.

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER
When an author in Baghdad completed his book, "There Are No Thieves Any More," he was asked to discuss it at a symposium of fellow writers.
Only one thing marred the success of the occasion, upon returning to his home, he found that it had been looted by thieves!
Having an unrealistic outlook on conditions in the world is inviting a rude awakening. When such disillusionment occurs, it usually cripples any further attempts to lessen the evils that beset mankind and contributes to making conditions a bit worse by failing to better them.
Avoid extremes. Recognize man's weaknesses as well as his strengths and you will develop the Christ-like habit of leading him toward perfection.
Yes, you will do much more to help your fellow human beings if you remember that, as sons of Adam, we carry the defects of his fallen nature and must continually strive, with God's grace to overcome this inborn weakness.
"A just man shall fall seven times and shall rise again."
Give me the good sense, O Lord to be aware of human weakness and the strength to overcome it.

Congressional Club Teaching Wives How To Help Husband 'Campaign'

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the more exclusive organizations here in the capital is a group of women who call themselves the congressional club.
All a woman has to do to join the club is get her husband elected to Congress. Considering the material most women have to work with, this is no easy job.
As you might imagine, the club is in a position to exert a certain amount of influence in Congress. For this reason, it is known in some circles as the "Kitchen Lobby."

A few weeks ago, the ladies had their husbands all primed to pass a bill donating to them a slice of government-owned land as a site for a new clubhouse. "Then an unfortunate thing happened."
News stories about the project began to appear in the papers and the clubhouse bill suddenly disappeared into a pigeonhole. I assume the fact that this is an election year had something to do with its demise.
However much they might fear to cross their wives, our congressmen apparently decided that in this case valor was the better part of discretion. After all, they don't have to be reelected as husbands.
At any rate, their wives are having to make-do with their old clubhouse. I am pleased to report that on the occasion of my latest visit, there seemed to be bearing up very well.
The ladies were gathered in the club auditorium to hear a talk by Bess Myerson, a New York television performer. As I interpreted it, she was passing along tips on fashion and makeup which congressional wives might find handy when they join their husbands on the campaign trail this summer.
A candidate's wife, Miss Myerson said, should behave as though she were "stage all the time." Then she told about the time she failed to follow this rule.
While delivering a refrigerator commercial, she said, she "went fishing for a bra strap" in the hotel that she was at cameras. As it turned out, the cameraman had missed his cue to focus on the refrigerator door and 80 million people saw her making the adjustment.
Noticing that I seemed to be blushing as she related this episode, Miss Myerson apologized for mentioning unmentionables, but she mistook the reason for my crimson hue.
"I always turn red when I concentrate and in this case I was trying to figure out why it is that television audiences always consist of 80,000,000 people. Some day only 79,999,999 viewers are going to turn in and then I think the entire TV industry will fall apart."
Motivated by this thought, I missed the point Miss Myerson was making. I don't know whether she was warning her audience not to trust cameramen or not to trust brassieres.
Either way, I'll bet she said a lot of unmentionables that day.

Advice To Parents

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—It's normal for children to fear the dark, says University of Vermont human relations specialist Dr. Dalton Vernon. He said, "Your child needs reassurance, not sternness, when he first becomes aware of the dark. Let the children have a night light they can turn on and off themselves. Gradually fear will recede and darkness will become a friendly thing."

U. S. Cars Entered In Race Classic

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (UPI)—Lance Reventlow, son of Woodworth heiress Barbara Hutton, is spearheading the way for American-made racing cars in Sunday's classic Monte Carlo Grand Prix. Reventlow, Miss Hutton's 21-year-old son by her first marriage to a Danish count, is one of two American drivers entered in the race at the wheel of "Scarab" cars, which Reventlow manufactures. The other American driver is Chuck Dalab.

It will be the first time American cars have entered a formula No. 1 Grand Prix race. Reventlow was making his bid at a time when British cars were making most of the European running, following the retirement from racing of the German Mercedes Benz firm and the night decline of the Italian Ferraris and Maseratis.

'Revenge' Bout Scheduled Tonight

DENVER (UPI)—Yama Bahama, an ex-fighting guide from the Bahamas, will try to avenge a Madison Square Garden loss here tonight when he meets Argentine scrapper Victor Salazar in a 10-round middleweight bout at the Denver Auditorium.

Oddsmakers have established Bahama a 7-5 favorite, but then he was a 9-5 favorite going into the nationally televised bout at the Garden last March when Salazar took a split decision. Salazar, who lost a close decision last month to seventh-ranked Dick Tiger, British Empire champion, was expected to have a five- or six-pound weight advantage tonight. Yama was expected to weigh in at 124, his best fighting weight.

What Goes With Koufax Anyway? That's What Dodgers Want To Know

United Press International
The Dodgers are wrestling with a five-year-old question again: Is Sandy Koufax on his way to stardom or was Monday night's one-hitter just another false start? It's the same old question they've been trying to answer about the 24-year-old fireballer

Builders Pace 'Mixed' Bowlers

B. Edwards Builders Supplies, taking four points from Sanford Mfg. Co., added to their lead in the Thursday Night Mixed League, giving them a total of 70 wins in first place.

Powell's Office Supply took over the second spot with 14 wins, and Town & Country T. V. Service dropped to third place with 13.

Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant is in fourth spot, followed by DeBary Pharmacy, Team B and Food Fair, all with nine wins.

V.F.W. Post 3282 has seven wins, Steinmeyer Roofing, 6½ and Sanford Mfg. Co. has 6½.

Ed Hornley was tops for the men turning in a 253 scratch game to bring his series up to 531. Lillian Donald was high for the women, as she rolled a 352. Dot Powell was not far behind as she racked up a big 540 scratch.

Jean Carathers, Ruth Phillips, Ann Conkila, Mike Arcardi and Jim Anderson all round the 3-10 split to their liking as they topped this one easily. Jean Peterson rolled the 27, and Dot Powell picked up the 27 to fill in the split circle for the week.

Eagles Sign Back

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—The Philadelphia Eagles Monday announced the signing of Theron Sapp, a 300-pound back to a 1950 contract. He is presently serving a six-month hitch in the Army.

'Slumping' Greyhounds Lose To Lakeland, 5-3

By JERRY COVINGTON
League leading Lakeland straddled their first place lead here Monday night as they edged the Sanford Greyhounds by a score of 5-3.

It was the Greyhounds third loss in as many games. They travel to Lakeland tonight where they hope to break back into the win column.

Hard throwing righthander Ken Sanders went all the way for the Greyhounds and lost his third game against five victories. He scattered seven Lakeland hits and struck out five. He experienced a little wildness in the first and second innings walking three. All of the walks were turned into runs as the Lakeland batters came through with clutch hits. After surviving three innings he was never in trouble again until the eighth and ninth when they pushed across a single run in each of these innings.

Shortstop Dick Green, who has been experiencing a bad batting slump, finally broke out and was swinging the bat like he did in the first two weeks of the season. He had a double and a single in three trips and drove in one of the Greyhound runs. On his third trip to the plate he hit another line shot that was caught on a good play by Gordon Luv.

To the fifth inning, Ernie Givins of the Indians hit a long ball to the centerfield fence where ball hawking Pat Sisk crashed into the concrete barrier and received a serious eye cut. However, Sisk, who is the finest defensive outfielder in the league, held on to the ball and prevented the Indians from scoring two more runs. The Dub took several stitches to close and Sisk will be out of the lineup for more than a week.

The Greyhounds, trailing by one run going into the eighth, missed a choice opportunity to tie the ball game. With one out they filled the bases on singles by Arroyo and Maloney and a hit batted out, but starter George Denyer struck out Ozie Chavarria and Bill Dube to retire the side.

Tonight the Greyhounds (2-2) Lakeland for a single affair with Big Bob Golick scheduled to go on the mound. Tomorrow night the locals return home to face the Daytona Beach Islanders.

Three hot-shooting Californians, all playing at LaJolla, Calif., paced the nation with seven-under par 129's in preliminary trials scattered across 24 cities Monday, leading 481 players into the second series of tests scheduled in 18 cities June 6-7.

Amateurs M. O. Johnston Jr., and Charles Cortney, both of LaJolla, and pro Dick Collett of Coronado, Calif., sipped around the LaJolla layout in 133 for a one-shot nationwide lead on the near-end name player—Jimmy Clark of San Jose, Calif., who led the field at Little Rock, Ark., with 67-67-134.

But Little Rock was a disaster area for a few name pros who stepped off on their tour of the circuit to compete in the Little Rock section.

Canadian Far Baiding and John McMullin of Fair Oaks, Calif., were among five beaten in a playoff for the last berth. Ferrer, tournament tourist from Winston-Salem, N. C., collapsed in the 90-degree heat and 76 percent humidity and didn't finish.

Edna of Metairie, La., and Gay Brewer of Crystal River were out of it as were Jerry Fridy of baseball fame and John Brodis of pro football note.

Generally, however, the better known players got by the first round since the competition was not nearly as stiff as it'll be June 6-7 when another 68 hot shots who were exempt from local qualifying move in to take their licks.

Plenty Of Gold In Those Golfing Hills

DUNEDIN (UPI)—There will be more gold than ever in those hills for golf's tournament pros this fall—a grand total of $350,000.

J. Edwin Carter, national tournament director for the Professional Golfers Assn., disclosed today that the program for September through December will set new highs both in number of tournaments and in prize money.

The schedule includes 16 PGA co-sponsored 72-hole tournaments, eight pro-amateur events to be staged in conjunction with these

Louis Scheduled For 'Snoping' Episode Today

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UPI)—Joe Louis, who has received more advance publicity than any other "fop" in history, was scheduled today to do some very public "snoping" today at the training camp of heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

The celebrated "Brown Bomber" makes no secret of the fact he wants to learn something that will help Floyd Patterson beat Johansson in their return title fight at New York June 20.

Louis is now an adviser to ex-champ Patterson and announced some time ago that he would visit Johansson's camp today to see what he could find out. Johansson's handlers say Louis will learn the champ is more dangerous than ever.

Navy, Oviedo Take Victories

Navy defeated Florida State Bank, 14-2 in Little League play Monday while Oviedo slammed Lake Mary, 11-1 in Babe Ruth League play.

Civilian and Oviedo will clash for first place in the BRL circuit at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at Memorial Stadium.

Preakness 'Flop' Tampering Victim?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Reports that Venetian Way, the Kentucky Derby champion who flopped in the Preakness, might have been the victim of tampering are under investigation by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau.

"We are investigating thoroughly and will try to run down all those rumors about Venetian Way," said Spencer Drayton, former FBI agent who heads the TRPB.

There were reports that Venetian Way might have been treated with butazolidin, a pain-killing drug which is banned in Maryland but not in Kentucky. However, trainer Vic Sovinski denied after the Derby that Venetian Way was sore or required any special drugs.

Willie Hartack, the jockey who rode Venetian Way to a first-place finish in the Derby and fifth in the Preakness, said after the latter that something was wrong with the colt.

"It had nothing to do with the trainer or the track conditions either," said Hartack.

Joins Knicks

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Knickerbockers signed Kelly Coleman, former Kentucky Wesleyan basketball star, to a professional contract Monday. Coleman, a 6-2, 220-pounder, was the Knicks' second draft choice. He averaged 30.5 points a game in 38 games last season.

Night Baseball Anniversary Set For Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The last major league holdout against night games and the first professional baseball team to play under the light combine tonight to celebrate the 25th anniversary of night baseball.

It was May 24, 1925, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt threw a switch in the White House that illuminated Crosley Field here for the first night game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Philadelphia Phils.

Tonight, the Reds and Chicago Cubs, a team which does not have lights in its home Wrigley Field, will meet to celebrate the silver anniversary of that first contest.

Big Paul Derringer, one of the all-time Cincinnati greats, will toss out the first pitch. He pitched 25 years ago when the Reds defeated the Philadelphia Phils, 2-1, in the first arc light contest.

Cincinnati played seven night games that first year and followed with seven more in each of the next two years. Although night contests caught on here, it wasn't until 1938 that Brooklyn became the second National League team to play night games.

Philadelphia followed suit in 1939, and New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis installed lights in their parks in 1940. With the exception of the Cubs, the old Boston Braves were the last National League team to install lights at their park when they were erected in 1946.

Since that beginning, night baseball has increased steadily throughout the years.

Last year the National League recorded an all-time night game attendance when a total of 5,601, 149 spectators paid their way in to see the NL clubs perform under the lights. In 1950, 308 games were played at night in the National League. This year, 309 games are scheduled under the light in the senior circuit.

Scotch Doubles Draws Bowlers

Sunday evening at Jet Lane was Scotch Doubles Night, and even the losers had such a good time that they were ready to do it all over again.

First place, worth $26, was won by the team of Mary Leighty and Carl Von Herbulis. They turned in a 622 handicapped series to beat out the other 21 couples competing.

Second place money went to George Kenis and Erma Webb, who had a 616 series. Wallace Woods and Pat Foster took third place money and Jack and Barbara Morrison came in for the fourth prize.

The next Scotch Doubles will be held June 5. All bowlers with established averages are invited to come out and enjoy the next tournament. Entries will be accepted until 6 p. m. on bowling night.

Hairdressers Put Spotlight On Glamorous New Styles

By JEANNE WARKNE
Summer clothes and glamorous hair styles were viewed Friday night at the Woman's Club by a large audience. The show was sponsored by the Hairdressers' Assn. and part of the admission was donated to the Enterprise Children's Home.

In the fashion spotlight were 21 models who promenaded across the flower-irradiated stage to show high-fashion ensembles, many with exotic colors with names such as "Cherry Silver" and "Pink Chiffon." Complementing lady's fashions were a pretty assortment of clothes from play togs to evening wear from Howe's Fashion Shop, the Mary-Ether Shop, Sherries, the Duke and Duchess Shop and Cowan's Department Store.

Mary Joyce Bateman proved to be an excellent narrator and gave descriptive comments as each model appeared. Margaret Echelberger, wearing a printed chiffon dress and as chic as any model, sang two songs, "It Might As Well Be Spring" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Her numbers came between fashion breaks and she was accompanied by Joa Wilke at the piano.

Pretty Jo Ann Hardman opened the show wearing a white print dress that featured bell sleeves and full skirt. The dress from Cowan's, one of the most outstanding of the show, was in cool shades of green. It was a wise choice for Mrs. Hardman's copartone hair which was beautifully styled for her by Harriett Sawyer of Harriett's Beauty Shop.

A murmur of comments was heard throughout the audience as Jean Miller walked on stage with her hair tinted blue and which was appropriately named, "Blue Wood" by her hairdresser, Bob Markovitz. He also created "Pink Chiffon" worn by his wife, June Ann.

Mrs. Miller wore another outstanding dress which was from the Mary-Ether Shop. It was a white eyelet party frock lined with sheer organza and was coordinated with

MRS. MUNSON with brooch

DARLENE MASON with ringlets

MRS. BURGESS long hairdo

Hattie Carnegie crystal blue jewel. Lovely Pat Harrell added another elegant touch to the show by promenading across the stage with a large black French poodle which sported a swirl of chiffon at his collar. Pat's coiffure, "Sea Foam Mist," was white beige with black velvet tips and was created for her by Betty Anne Howard of Howe's Fashion Shop. How's Fashion Shop had two hits in bathing suits. Looking as pretty going as she did coming was Anita Mae Thompson who wore a white-embossed suit designed with a low, square back interest. The other suit, an unusual paisley print, was shown with a smart straw hat and beach bag. Rosanne Jorris was the model and her hair with draped bangs and french twist was styled by Phil Dayley of the Princess Mary Shop in DeBary.

"Platinum Beige" and styled in gentle lines with swept-wing sides and bang effect. Teenager, Dianne James, wore a casual and carefree style and another high school student, Lorraine Cameron, wore French bangs that swirled to the side with soft wave. Stage scenery was by Woodruff's Garden Center and a bouquet of roses was donated by Rosette Florist. Many door prizes, from local merchants, were given away during the evening.

LUCY MOUGHTON has been awarded the Sanford Art Assn. scholarship to the summer camp for art students at Florida State University. She is shown talking over the camp with Joe Mathieux, high school instructor who conducts workshops for the association. The award was announced at the auction held Monday night at the Civic Center to help raise funds for the scholarship. Miss Moughton was selected by a committee composed of Mrs. Mildred Babcock, county art supervisor, Mathieux and Mrs. Thelma Sikes of Wilson School. (Herald Photo)

Fitzpatrick, Avery, Williams Elected To County Board

A retired Navy chief, accountant and Sanford businessman were handsily voted into three county commission posts in Tuesday's second primary. James P. Avery defeated incumbent Lawrence Swofford in the District 2 race while John Fitzpatrick won over incumbent Homer Little in District 5 and Ted Williams defeated J. D. Cordell in the District 3 race.

Camilla Bruce, County Commission Chairman John Krider and County Judge Vernon Mize are meeting today at a canvassing board to check all the votes and open the 278 absentee ballots. The absentee ballots are not expected to change the outcome in any of the races.

Avery, retired Navy chief from Lake Mary, unseated Swofford in the District 2 commission race taking 10 of the 18 precincts and collecting 3,453 votes to his opponent's 2,313.

In the first primary, Swofford had been high man in the voting but there were four other candidates in the race.

Although Swofford took two of the three Sanford precincts, Avery proved strong in Oviedo, Goldenrod, Longwood, Lake Mary and Fern Park.

Avery, in a victory speech after the returns were in Tuesday night, said, "I am extremely gratified that so many wonderful people put their faith in me. I'll never let them down," he said.

Fitzpatrick, in besting Little grabbed 3,348 votes to his opponent's 2,584.

Fitzpatrick captured 13 precincts although in many cases the voting was very close. The accountant, who has his offices in Sanford, took all three Sanford precincts in chalking up his victory.

Fitzpatrick thanked his supporters and promised to work toward a more businesslike approach in running the county government.

Ted Williams, operator of his own hardware and appliance store on 25th St., rolled up 3,887 votes to Cordell's 2,884.

Williams rolled up the biggest majority of any candidate as he took 18 precincts in most instances handsily, while Cordell had only leads in Fern Park and Goldenrod.

Williams said he was gratified by the support of the people and thanked his opponent for running a clean campaign.

The three victors will take office Jan. 1.

J. C. Hutchinson, who was unopposed in the second primary collected 5,545 votes. His runoff opponent in the District 1 race, T. V. Brown died a week before the election.

The only member of the present commission who will again serve next year will be Vernon Dunn from District 4.

Commission Chairman John Krider declined to seek re-election this year.

'Spy-In-The-Sky' In Perfect Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's first "spy-in-the-sky" satellite whirled around earth in a near-perfect orbit today, poised for a crucial test of its missile-detecting eye.

U. S. scientists plotted the path of the 2½-ton moonlet, named Midas II, as accurately as possible, to work out a tight series of real and simulated missile firings during its operating life of about a month.

The tests were delayed somewhat Tuesday when, shortly after the satellite had gone into orbit, a key computer malfunctioned and scientists were forced to spend 35 minutes making rough calculations by hand.

The Air Force hopes to prove that Midas II can detect rockets by heat radiations the same way they are launched. This would pave the way for a system of satellites that would patrol the skies around the clock within two years, to warn against sneak attacks by an aggressor.

'Unknown' Takes Committee Race

TAMPA (UPI) — Tampa voters wondering today if the nephew of his name carried Bob Johnson, a political unknown from Jacksonville, to an amazing victory in the five-man race for Democratic National Commission.

Johnson, better known to many as a popular Tampa city judge, Hillsborough County, of which Tampa is the seat, gave Johnson a commanding 23,821 vote Tuesday. It was his most decisive margin anywhere in the state.

State-wide, with 1,000 of Tampa's 1,200 precincts reported, Johnson led the race against the incumbent, John B. Bunch, by a margin of 23,821 votes.

Johnson's victory was a surprise to many in the state.

Bryant Swamps Carlton

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida today acclaimed Ferris Bryant as its governor-to-be and furnished solid endorsement of his deep-South approach to any racial problems that may arise in the next four years.

Bryant rolled to victory over state Sen. Doyle Carlton Jr., in Tuesday's decisive second Democratic primary with a margin of better than 25,000 votes. Bryant carried 55 of the state's 67 counties.

Unofficial United Press International returns from all 1,971 of the state's precincts gave Bryant 501,103 votes and Carlton 406,319. In doing so, Bryant not only turned back Carlton's first bid for the governorship, he also overcame the editorial endorsements of most of the state's major newspapers and the powerful backing of out-going Gov. LeRoy Collins which were given the 37-year-old son of a former chief executive.

Bryant rolled up a more than 2-1 majority in defeating Carlton in the runoff.

Water Consumption At Record High

Sanford's water consumption reached another new high Monday when 2,723,870 gallons were used from the supply already being used at a rate that has taxed its capacity, City Manager Warren Knowles said today.

This was almost 100,000 gallons more than the previous high May 11 and compares to a former record of 2,350,000 for a peak day.

The city water pumps were operating for 20 hours and 30 minutes at full pumping capacity Monday to provide water pressure, Knowles pointed out in repeating an earlier request by the city that residents use water sparingly for lawn and plants and spread the times of watering early in the morning and at night.

Saratoga, Merchant Ship Collide

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The super aircraft carrier Saratoga and a West German merchant ship collided off Cape Hatteras, N. C., shortly after midnight, the Navy said today.

There was no serious damage to the carrier and no personal injuries were reported early today, the Navy said.

The Saratoga was en route to Mayport from Norfolk, Va.

The Navy said a jet fuel line which carries fuel for aircraft was broken and a fire resulted on the Saratoga, but it was quickly extinguished.

The merchant ship was identified as the Bernard Leon Hardt.

The Navy said the Hardt suffered "extensive damage" above the water line. Its radio communications were knocked out.

The ship's engine was running, however, and it got under way for Cape Hatteras, Va., by 1 a. m., escorted by the U. S. destroyer Stripling.

The German ship intended to proceed to Baltimore.

The Saratoga, which carries a crew of 3,500 and is as long as a 10-story building is high, suffered damage to its upper hull and a catwalk, in addition to the fire.

"The applications are piling up," Hahn said, "it would be a loss to this area. If the graduating seniors were forced to leave Sanford in search of employment."

The American crew and passengers, including a woman, had been scheduled to fly to West Germany this morning five days after Soviet MIG-17 jets forced the plane to land in a Communist corral near the Baltic Sea.

After hours of fingernail biting today a spokesman at U. S. Air Force European headquarters here said the plane and the nine Americans were still grounded. He said if the weather did not lift the Americans would be taken to Berlin by car.

Adams defeated Yarborough in the race by a 3-1 vote in Seminole County. Adams rolled up 4,400 votes to Yarborough's 1,421.

In the commissioner of agriculture race, Conner defeated Hancock 2,884 votes to 2,348. Conner took 11 of the 18 precincts although Hancock proved strong in the Sanford precincts.
