Layer Fires Principals Students March For Redding

By JEAN PATTESON

Defying the Seminole County School Board Wednesday night before more than 300 agitated onlookers, School Supt. Bud Layer repented his intentions to fire two school principals—Jack Redding and Robert Clinkert—and stuck to his guns today as more than 400 students demonstrated in support of Redding outside Layer's office.

On a motion by Stuart Culpepper, and supported by the other four members of the beseched Layer to reverse his decision, but Layer refused, saying that he was under no legal or moral obligation to do so.

"My recommendations stand," Layer informed the board.

Layer, after obtaining an opinion from the Department of Education in Tallahassee, informed Redding that he was fired because Layer wanted "a more qualified individual." The same reason was given for dismissing Clinkert.

Layer learned that under state law, he has the power to dismiss principals, and unless the board gets involved in a lengthy court battle, is powerless to stop him.

The board cannot reverse Layer's decision and name its own principal until prolonged, costly court fights are over. Redding showed up briefly at the start of the demonstration, said that Chief of Police Ben Butler had contacted him as he was leaving town on vacation to seek a new job, and had informed him of the intended demonstration.

Redding said he came to remind the students to behave in the manner in which he expected.

"They are ladies and gentlemen," said Redding. "They know how to behave. If they are asked to leave I know they will do it promptly and quietly. I have confidence in every one of them, just as they have confidence in me."

Legally and morally I am not obliged to tell anyone but Mr. Redding my reason for not recommending his reappointment," Layer told four Seminole High School students in his office this morning.

Elijah June, a black student who organized the demonstration, said in the meeting with

Layer, "You made a statement to me and six other students in this office last week that you didn't stand up to in the school board meeting last night. You said you would present reasons why Redding's contract would not be renewed."

June said the Seminole High students wanted to know Layer's reasons and intentions, because they are concerned about Redding as a man.

Layer replied that he has given the reason in writing to Redding and it is up to Redding to divulge it if he wants to.

Supporting June at the meeting with Layer were students Pearl Mason, Charles Sweet and Dennis Stuart.

June said at the onset of the demonstration that he had been planning the walk around Layer's office ever since he first learned of Layer's intention to terminate Redding's contract. Bennie Payne and Bobby McQueen were the students who had helped him organize the march and make posters proclaiming support for Redding.

Turner Settlement Blasted By SEC

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission says the proposed settlement of a class action lawsuit against Florida millionaire Glenn Turner and his maze of corporate holdings "suggests imminent violations of securities laws."

Richard Nathan, the SEC's assistant general counsel, made the statement at a hearing before U.S. District Judge Gerald Weber on Weber's proposed settlement, which involves liquidation of Turner's holdings and a stock offer.

"So what does the commission plan to do about it?" Weber challenged Nathan.

The SEC attorney said he wanted only to inform the judge that the commission viewed a notice of the proposed settlement as an offer of securities that should be registered and to warn him that some of the language in the notice "invites litigation."

The proposal is scheduled to go out on May 1 to some 75,000 persons who purchased distributorships or invested money in any of Turner's holdings.

Weber asked if he should interpret Nathan's action as a request for an injunction to stop the notices from going out. The SEC attorney replied he was not authorized to make that request.

Specifically, the settlement would provide that all of Turner's holdings be liquidated and the assets, said to be about $4.7 million, transferred to Candida Holdings.

In return for Turner's assets, Candida would issue 1.8 million shares of stock to be divided proportionally among individuals with claims against Turner.

Polk, working closely with Butler, handled the operation, and stood outside the school board office with school Supt. Bud Layer.

Polk met with student leaders, both before and after the 45-minute demonstration, and commended them for their peaceful tactics.

In addition to the city and county forces, state troopers from the Florida Highway Patrol were on hand, including Lt. N. B. Tharhill, commanding officer of the DeLand District, which includes Seminole County.

Dozens of plainclothes officers, mostly detectives, patrolled the area around the Commercial Street office, and identifications officers from both departments used camera and video tape equipment to take pictures of the demonstrators.

Deputies, Officers Stand By

By GARY TAYLOR

More than 50 law enforcement officers, many off-duty, went to the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction office this morning.

Although the demonstration was peaceful, officers from the Sanford Police Department, Seminole County Sheriff's Department and Florida Highway Patrol were ready for any trouble which might have developed.

Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler ordered every off-duty officer from his department to report, while Sheriff John Polk said off-duty deputies who lived nearby were called.

Dozens of plainclothes officers, mostly detectives, patrolled the area around the Commercial Street office, and identifications officers from both departments used camera and video tape equipment to take pictures of the demonstrators.

In addition to the city and county forces, state troopers from the Florida Highway Patrol were on hand, including Lt. N. B. Tharhill, commanding officer of the DeLand District, which includes Seminole County.

House Grants Majority

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A House committee today approved a bill to give anyone over the age of 18 all the rights of adulthood, including the right to drink liquor and enter into contracts.

The Judiciary Committee voted 4-0 to recommend adoption of the bill which passed the Senate earlier this week.

"We already have given to 18-year-olds the highest rights and privilege of a society—the right to vote," said Rep. Don Tucker, D-Tallahassee, the bill's sponsor. "We also require of them service in the military where they risk their most valuable possession—their life."

"It's important they now have the full privileges and rights of adulthood."

Tucker predicted the bill would sail through the House easily and then into law—or allowed to become law—by Gov. Reubin Askew.

Tucker said he doubted that Askew's testifying views would pose any roadblock. "I don't think the governor is going to impose his religious beliefs on the state of Florida," said Tucker, who also is a non-drinker.

Weather

Yesterday's high 74 low this morning 39. Generally fair through Friday. High today in the low to mid 70s. Cool again tonight with lows mostly in the mid to upper 60s.

Unusually cold weather frosted much of the East and parts of the South again today while growers assessed damage to fruit and vegetable crops hit by record-low April temperatures Wednesday. Below freezing temperatures dipped south as far as North Carolina and frost nipped northern Florida.

SPECTATORS JAMMED INTO TINY MEETING ROOM To hear Layer tell board of dismissals

Marching Students Want Layer's Reasons

By DONNA ESTES

"Why won't the School board tell us why they are firing Mr. Redding?" one of the more than 400 students from Seminole High School peacefully demonstrating around the school administration office asked this morning as his companions chanted "We want Jack back."

"He treats us equally. It makes no difference to him whether we are black or white. He is color blind, he sees us all as students. He is our friend," a member of the junior class declared.

"He has accomplished something at the school. We have no racial problems now. Mr. Redding held a black awareness day" so we could understand each other better. This is America and a man has the right to know who is accusing him and what he is being accused of. Why won't they tell us what they think he has done wrong so we can explain his reasons?" another asked.

The young people in a very orderly manner carrying their placards marching through the parking lot behind the school office and around it talked among themselves. "He talks to us — you know what I mean — he communicates. He understands us and our problems are important to him. He respects us and we respect him."

"Is there anything wrong with us liking our principal? Must we have one that we don't like?"

Reforms made under Redding's administration of the school were mentioned over and over again. "He gets us together in assembly. He allows the seniors to go off campus for lunch. He put a juke box in the lunchroom. With our parents permission, he allowed us to smoke in the flagpole area. No one took advantage of these privileges. We just appreciated them."

"This is a free country, isn't it? We have the right to make our voices heard. We want Mr. Redding back," a young blond-haired young man with a mustache said and his friends agreed. "We want Jack back," the group chanted.

Sanford, Orlando In Airport Battle

By BOB LLOYD
Sanford is now in a time battle with Orlando to develop airports drawing non-scheduled charter and tourist flights and air cargo operations requiring a U.S. Customs Station, according to Don Rathel, manager of Page Airways Inc., fixed base operator at Sanford Airport.

Rathel told Airport Authority members today Sanford can justify a two-year jump on Orlando by funding the salary of a customs agent and providing facilities.

"With a customs station we can draw seven foreign flights a week plus numbers of corporate jets and fees collected will be more than enough to fund the operation," he said.

Rathel said the U.S. Treasury Department has indicated it will place a customs agent at Sanford Airport if his salary of $30,000 a year is paid and facilities provided.

Rathel presented a Page proposal to provide the facilities and collect the fees from foreign flights and give the airport authority 25 per cent from which the agent's salary would return any overage to Page.

Airport authority members clearance must now detour to Tampa for document checks before landing at Sanford. "This can cost a carrier $1,000," Rathel said.

Rathel predicted that Orlando will take over McCoy Air Force Base within two years and naturally seek a customs station. The Defense Department reportedly will announce the closing of the Air Force Base Friday as an economy move.

Rathel also predicted Orlando's Herndon Airport will be planned out because the land is too valuable for commercial development.

"Take a little gamble with us on the customs agent," Rathel said. "You can't lose more than $20,000."

He said benefits could be the establishment of Sanford Airport as a major port of clearance for foreign bonded cargo shipments by importers and exporters and also a "home" for international non-scheduled passenger flights destined for Central Florida.

"If we get established now I feel we can keep the customs station for supplemental air carriers. Let Orlando have the scheduled air lines, we're not trying to attract them," Rathel said.

The airport authority stands to gain revenue from fuel sales and user's fees if the airport development comes about.

Airport manager J. S. Cleveland pointed out proposed federal regulations would require airports handling non-scheduled carriers provide the same security facilities that are now required at airports handling scheduled carriers.

"My bags are packed," he said.

Pentagon Planning To Close McCoy

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The Pentagon is expected to announce Friday that McCoy Air Force Base, a 36-year-old military installation with a pioneer history in airpower, will be phased out, possibly within 34 months, it was reported today.

Indications were that the bulk of the $61 million facility would be acquired by the city for jet part expansion.

The Orlando Sentinel said in today's editions that a high source in Washington confirmed McCoy, a Strategic Air Command mainstay, is one of several dozen defense installations to be shut down for economic reasons.

He said the Orlando Naval Training Center and Patrick Air Force base, the administrative nerve center of Cape Kennedy, will not be touched, the newspaper reported.

Last year Air Force officials described McCoy, home of the 380th Bombardier Wing, as particularly vulnerable to pending closures because it is a perimeter SAC base. The Air Force says long range plans call for SAC bases to be situated near the nation's more easily protected mid-section, rather than along the coasts.

"I knew the Department of Defense was working on it," said Brig. Gen. Edward O. Martin, commander of the 42nd Air Division headquartered at McCoy. "I don't know anything about it however. I figure there will be some kind of official release and then we will start getting our instructions."

Orlando Mayor Carl Langford said chances are "better than 96-36 that if the base is closed the city is the logical successor to the military as far as operating the airfield and any facilities attendant to the airfield."

The total military population at McCoy is slightly under 10,000 with some 2,300 servicemen and 6,000 dependents.

The Sentinel said it was told McCoy's housing will probably go to the naval training center and the administrative center of Cape Kennedy, will not be touched, the newspaper reported.

Langford said he expects to go to Washington to put in the city's bid.

"My bags are packed," he said.

POW Explains Statements

'This was my way of letting (America) know I was alive... he suffered from a broken leg and was in pain...'

PARSOLS also said he held no grudge against the Vietnamese. "The Vietnamese are humans just like we are," said the 27-year-old helicopter pilot. "They love, hate and experience emotions just like we do. I don't have any hatred for the Vietnamese. I hope that rebuilding of North Vietnam will go smoothly."

Purcell, who was a lieutenant colonel when he was captured in 1968, said he was not tortured to the extent described by other returning POWs. "However, I considered the four and one-half years of solitary confinement and strict break with the world perhaps a long-term, low-key torture," he added.

Purcell said he kept his sanity with mental games and handicrafts.

"I exercised a lot and would make plans for a house I wanted to build someday," he continued. "Then sometimes I'd just put my mind in neutral and let it drip."

Daugherty, captured in 1969, said his living conditions were a form of torture to him. He said he was held in a small room with no ventilation and it was extremely hot.

Meanwhile, Army Maj. William Hardy, who spoke to a civic club in nearby Augusta, said his Viet Cong captors worked him "like a slave" seven days a week doing digging chores.

"Two weeks after I was captured (in 1964), those people started working me like a slave, digging," he said. "Fortunately, I was healthy. They did not beat us. They simply worked the devil out of us."

U.S. Dollar Maneuvers

Applause From European Watchers

Dollar devaluation and the upward float of other monies has left Europeans groaning with grudging admiration. They think their finance ministers were outmaneuvered Napoleonicly.

Washington's "benign neglect" of the dollar's foreign exchange value results from benign neglect of Uncle Sam's waistline, which could stand some belt-tightening, some Europeans say.

Adams Facing Ouster?

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida laws were violated in the state Commerce Department during Lt. Gov. Tom Adams' tenure as secretary, says the chairman of a legislative committee.

Two Commerce Department employees testified Wednesday that they were forced to quit their jobs on Adams' orders and then were assigned a vacant office with no duties.

Easter Eggs And Other Things

By HELEN M. PAGEL Copley News Service

Along with a lot of other things, Easter customs have changed over the years. For instance, about 100 years ago in England on Easter Monday the children formed a circle around the church by joining hands and facing outward.

Then you could paint faces on the empty shells, make little bonnets or hats and paste them on and then glue the finished product to a little block of wood, and there were dolls, as many as you cared to make, all saying "Happy Easter" just by being in existence.

Aid To Vietnam

Major Test Of Nixon's Doctrine

The Nixon Doctrine enunciated by the President on Guam in 1969 envisioned a system of free world alliances in which support of the United States of America would be provided through the supply of military hardware and technical assistance rather than by the commitment of combat troops.

The Soviet Union and Communist China. Both of those countries, much to the grief of constituted governments the world over, have been and still are pursuing a doctrine of their own, providing supplies, weapons and technicians to their allies in "war of national liberation."

Woman's Club Presents Easter Fashions On Parade

Members Model Own Creations

By FANNETTE EDWARDS

DELTONA - Special event at today's meeting of Deltona Woman's Club was the Easter parade of women's fashions, made by the gifted members themselves, who modeled their own creations.

Eight models showed dresses or pantsuits, each ranging from daytime wear to formal floor-length models.

Among the alluring costumes presented were a stunning two-piece daytime orchid straight line polyester crepe, with a full length coat of green, white and orchid coordinated colors of double knit, made and worn by Mrs. Henry Langknecht, vice-president and now president-elect of the club. She wore white accessories.

Mrs. Edward Brehove jauntily displayed a multicolored print crepe pantsuit for day or evening wear in bold orange and brown, drip dry wear, with orange chiffon fall length sleeves.

She was followed by Mrs. Cleveland Ashman, chairman of the style show, wearing a polyester double knit Kelly green and white day time dress accented with white pearl beads and bracelet. She wore white slippers.

SJC All-Sports Awards Honors Vesco Bradley

VESCO BRADLEY SJC'S TOP ATHLETE ... Receives Award from John Mercer, Coach Terry Long

By RICHARDS
Herald Sports Writer

Five-event Junior College All-American, Sophomore Vesco Bradley, was named Seminole Junior College's Outstanding Athlete at the Sixth Annual All Sports Banquet at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club Wednesday night.

The SJC sprinter, who paced the 1972 Raider track team to second place in the national meet received that award and his second track letter from John Mercer, President of the United State Bank of Seminole, which sponsors the annual event that honored 76 athletes and their coaches.

Freshman Bessie Shaw was named Best All Around Basketball Player, while Frank Caciatori, Bill Sellers and Richard Haisten were so honored in baseball, cross country, golf and tennis.

The Raiders' track team, with important divisional, state and national meets upcoming reserved naming its best and most improved athletes until after the nationals in May. However, Bradley, again, is one of the top cindermen under consideration.

Seminole Athletic Director Joe Sterling expressed his hopes to take an unprecedented fifth straight Division II All-Sports award at the banquet, with the Raiders' efforts being paced by a division leader basketball team.

Coach Jay Bergman's diamond crew arrived a little late for the fete, but not without adding something to the festivities—a 64 1/2 inning win over conference rival Valencia Community College, to give the Raiders undisputed ownership of first place in the division.

Ending in the week, Coach Larry McAdams got team won its tri-month with Florida

Raider Nine Stops Valencia In 12-Frame Battle For First, 6-4

By J. RICHARDS
Herald Sports Writer

Jack Podynkowsky and Mel Gattis each pushed across a run in the top of the 12th inning to give Seminole Junior College a much-needed win over second place Valencia Community College, 6-4, as the Raiders moved even closer to taking the Division II baseball title.

The Raiders, now 12-3 in the division and 22-12 overall, fought off the two Valencia tying efforts in the fourth and ninth innings to put the Matadores away in their bid to gain a numerical loss tie with the Raiders in the formerly tightly packed race. The 'Dores are now 11-5 in a tie for second with St. Johns of Palatka.

Seminole ace hurler Mike Kelley (5-2) and Sam Swanger (5-2), who took a relief win, worked the Matadores, giving up seven hits, three of them for extra bases, but more than

Human Factor, Not Machines: Detroit's Billy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

In our computerized society, baseball remains a nearly unaltered business where humans still operate and success or failure depends on men, not machines.

Shotout Kevin Stephenson was named Outstanding Freshman play at the keystone and a solid bat at the plate. Wayne Weska was given the team spirit award, while pitcher Mitch Meyer was honored as student-athlete with the team's highest grade point average.

Martin's Tigers dropped a 3-1 tangle in 12 innings against Baltimore Wednesday and the box score tells you that designated hitter Tommy Davis doubled the deciding run. Don't you believe that Tiger left fielder Jim Northrup is the guy who doubled it home.

Northrup misjudged Davis' fly ball and it fell for two bases and brought home the winning run.

Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, the New York Yankees proved that Gaylord Perry is no machine, beating Cleveland's ace, 4-0, Oakland defeated Texas 12-3, Kansas City defeated Texas 6-1, and California beat Minnesota 4-1.

In the National League, New York edged St. Louis 5-4, Atlanta beat San Diego 8-1, Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 4-1 and San Francisco beat Houston 5-4. Chicago's game at Pittsburgh was postponed because of rain.

Martin spent some extra time in the shower, letting the steam escape from his ears before trying to discuss Baltimore's winning hit.

"That ball was a routine fly," said Martin. "It was a human part of the game. Northrup just came in and the ball went over his head."

That's what happens when you depend on humans instead of machines.

The Tigers, whose only run came on Norm Cash's second homer of the season, were leading 1-0 in the seventh when designated hitter Davis singled home the tying run.

Then, in the 12th, Don Baylor doubled and dashed home with the deciding run as Northrup turned Davis' fly ball into a double. Merv Rettenmund's single delivered an insurance run.

Mel Stottlemyre's two-bitter beat Perry for the Yankees. New York battered the Cleveland ace for 12 hits, three of them by Bobby Murcer, who managed only two hits all of last season against Perry.

Stottlemyre, who turned in his 27th career shutout, ended the Yankees four-game start-of-season losing streak. He knew because of darkness.

They are to play the two with Lakeview after the regular season. But it may not be possible for the two to play due to the fact that no one knows just how far a team can go in the district playoffs.

So, the standings may remain as they are or the race for second place could become very tight.

New Smyrna can breathe a little easier, however, the worst they could do is finish in a tie with either Lakeview or Oviedo.

In Wednesday's only other basketball action, Kentucky defeated Carolina 115-105 to take a 1-0 advantage in the ABA's Eastern Division finals.

Tonight Utah and Indiana will meet in the opening game of the ABA's Western Division finals at Salt Lake City.

PLENTY TO SING ABOUT ... Celebrate Banquet after Valencia Win, 6-4

Sports Digest

VESCO BRADLEY, Seminole Junior College's five-event track All-American is SJC's most Outstanding Athlete at the Sixth Annual All-Sports Banquet that also honors 72 other SJC athletes.

RAIDER BASEBALL fortunes rise in a hectic 12-inning game with Valencia as the Seminole team comes back twice to regain the lead for a 6-4 win to take a solid hold on first place in the Division II standings.

OVIDEJO'S BASEBALL Lions have a shot at second place in the Orange Belt Conference Tournament, but must make up three games that were called at a tie to do so. Osceola has sewn up the loop championship with a three-way battle for second.

CLIFF RICHY, San Antonio, Tex., beat Brian Gottfried, Fort Lauderdale, Fla. 6-3, 5-7, 6-2 in World Championship Tennis.

BILLIE JEAN KING defeated Farel Footman, San Francisco 6-3, 6-1 in the first round of the Virginia Slims of Boston tennis tournament.

ENGLAND'S TONY JACKLIN fired a five-under par 67 to tie countryman Neil Coles for the first round lead in the $65,000 Spanish Open Golf Tournament.

Oviedo Diamond Hopes Still Alive

By GREG SINDAD
Herald Sports Staff

With post season tournaments rapidly approaching for area baseball teams, most conferences have their standings already established. But in the Orange Belt Conference there is still some doubt as to how several of the teams will finish.

First place in the OBC has been sewn up by the Osceola Cardinals. The Cards, behind the great pitching of Darryl Turner and Peter Peterson have compiled a 15-1 record so far this year and stand alone in first place in the OBC with a 9-1 mark. Osceola's only loss was to Lakeview, 2-1.

But in the OBC there is a hot race on for second position with three teams vying for the spot. Currently in second place are the Barracudas of New Smyrna Beach. They own a 12-4-1 mark on the season with a 7-2-1 record in the conference. But they are still to face Oviedo whom they tied 5-5 in a game in Oviedo which was called because of darkness.

A new game is planned for the two teams, but it is uncertain when the game is to be played. The second team looking for the number two spot in the conference is Lakeview with a 11-4-2 overall record and a 4-3-2 conference mark. But they have a rainout to play with Osceola and two ties with Oviedo to play off. And they could end up in that second place position.

The third team, Oviedo, has had an up and down year and at this time own a 7-7-3 overall record and a 4-3-0 OBC mark. They must play off three games, one with NSB and two with Lakeview. The Lions have played most of their games in extra innings this year and all three of their ties have been called because of darkness.

They are to play the two with Lakeview after the regular season. But it may not be possible for the two to play due to the fact that no one knows just how far a team can go in the district playoffs.

So, the standings may remain as they are or the race for second place could become very tight.

New Smyrna can breathe a little easier, however, the worst they could do is finish in a tie with either Lakeview or Oviedo.

In Wednesday's only other basketball action, Kentucky defeated Carolina 115-105 to take a 1-0 advantage in the ABA's Eastern Division finals.

AT NEW SMYRNA, MELBOURNE TRACKS PLENTY OF WEEKEND RACING

Wayne Heitmann will be looking for his fourth consecutive feature win Friday night at the New Smyrna Speedway, after capitalizing on Wayne Heckle's bad luck for the second straight time last week.

Gates open at 6:30 p.m. with the racing action underway at 8:30 p.m. at New Smyrna. Saturday night action at the Melbourne has the first event and also set for 8:30 p.m., with the gates opening at 6:30 p.m.

Heitmann, a late model modified ace from Zephyrhills, appeared to have lost the event going into the final laps, with Orlando's Heckle way ahead and going strong.

Heckle, behind at the start, had worked his way up through the pack, caught Heitmann and had a commanding lead. Then it happened. Heckle's shift linkage broke and he had to pull into the pits. That left Heitmann all alone out front as he sailed to the win.

Last week it was a flooded carburetor that spoiled Heitmann's chance for a win and allowed Heitmann to take the checkered flag.

Tonny Funk was second and Eric Bass, both of Orlando, finished third in one of the most exciting races of the season.

Henry Pullen, winner of the first late model heat race, crashed during the feature. Snodgrass of Eau Gallie Spangler crossed the finish line first, but Snodgrass put up the money for a protest and a look at Snodgrass's engine. Technical inspectors at the track ruled it illegal and awarded first place to Snodgrass.

That pushed Melbourne's Wayne Marshall into second and Ron McCreary of Titusville into third place. Snodgrass was the first limited stock heat, while the disqualification of Snodgrass gave the second heat race to Bill Molenaar of Cocoa.

Doreville Crash Wilson and his death-defying automotive act, plus nine exciting stock car races, make up Saturday's program at the Melbourne Speedway.

Marshall grabbed an early lead and managed to hang on to win last Saturday's limited stock feature at Melbourne. Marshall finished unchallenged, while Molenaar edged out Melbourne's Kenny Coleman for second place.

Two-time feature winner Jack Carl of Melbourne was trying for his third consecutive limited stock feature victory at Melbourne, but his engine exploded in the race, dumping oil all over the track and sending him to the pits.

Pete Starr of Merritt Island and Spangler, winners of the two heat races, were battling for second when they tangled and both were knocked out of the action.

Bill Magles chalked up his third straight mini-stock feature win in his little Sunbeam, with the Melbourne ace simply out-running the rest of the field.

Promoter John Collins, who put a $50 bounty on Magles a week ago, has boosted it to $75 for anyone who can beat him in this week's action.

Don Hatcher was second in mini-stock class, with the Melbourne ace driving in an English Ford. Another Melbourne entrant, Don Peel, finished third.

Ronnie Guarnie of Melbourne was the claimer class winner, while Pat Dunn and Glen Bennett, also from Melbourne, were second and third, respectively.

Two heat races and a feature are planned for each of the three classes running at the quarter-mile paved track Saturday night.

During the intermission, Crash Wilson, a veteran auto daredevil, will have the crowd on its feet for a pair of stunts. Wilson will split a burning car into two pieces with another machine, and then challenge a 3,000-pound wall of solid ice with a head-on crash in an open car.

Dave Gallor had the other homer for the winners, with George De Palmer, Mike Maples, and Walt Gallaway connected for triples as C&H jumped to a 15-3 first-inning lead after Famous Rispin took a 3-0 lead in the top of the first.

Clark and Hirt then scored 13 and 12 runs in the second and third, blanking their opponents, who managed just four more scores in the fourth frame before the game was called on a 15-run lull.

Among the Auto Trainers who hit were Wall, Leon Elzy, Richard Johnson and Robert Williams.

12 States Involved Extra Income Lies In Trees

Landowners who allow their land to remain idle instead of growing trees are missing a sure bet for extra income, according to the Southern Forest Institute, Atlanta, Ga. "With land values and taxes soaring steadily throughout the South, it's more important than ever for private landowners to realize the income-producing potential of their land," says Bentley H. Bost, executive vice president of the Atlanta-based forestry institute. "And for a long-range investment, often requiring only minimum care and attention, growing timber on currently non-productive or under-productive forest land still makes good business sense."

ARTISTS EXHIBIT AT DEBARY CELEBRATION

MRS. JULIA HARR of Deltona exhibited her oil paintings at Saturday's show in conjunction with 25th anniversary event.

"These are the days of the absentee landowner," the city-dweller who sees his land only two or three times a year, if that often. And it's because he visits his land so seldom that the landowner is more likely to neglect his property's timber-growing potential.

In fact, most private landowners are quite unconcerned about making money from growing trees. Many have inherited their land and use it as a place to get away from it all. Or they've bought land simply as a speculative investment.

Professor Finds Job Surprising

NEW YORK (AP)—When he accepted a 3½-week "professorship" at the University of Oklahoma last month, Gilbert Fitzhugh, chairman of Metropolitan Life Insurance, really didn't know what lay ahead.

In his first year, the industry's Businessman in Residence program was untested. Fitzhugh, an intense conservative, and the students, aligned to his left, were separated by age and ideology. But distrust evolved into respect.

A week after returning, he received four or five letters from professors with whom he had his biggest arguments, generally liberals. "While they told me they didn't necessarily believe as I do, they thought it was good," he said.

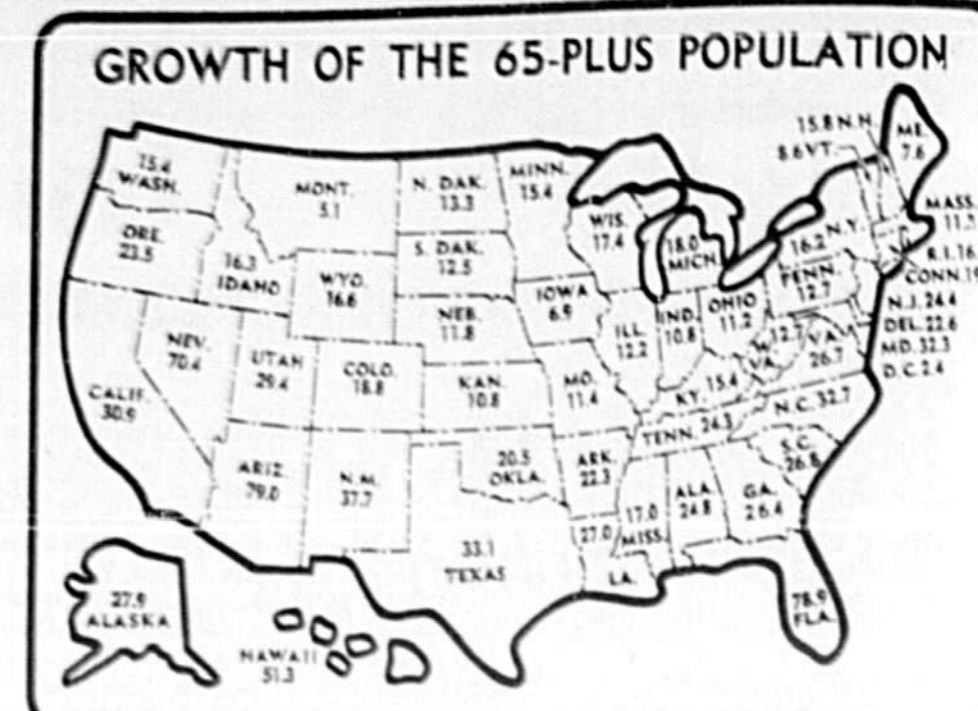

The students expressed similar feelings, and one paid him an unwelcome compliment. "We were glad you came so we could learn what a conservative is," the youth said. "One thing you're consistent, maybe because you're a conservative."

Said Fitzhugh, head of a company with $10 billion of life insurance in force: "They really couldn't believe I'd be interested in coming. In listening to them, they were really surprised."

Here he was, not fossil but man. Here were they, not intellectual embers but mature, thinking human beings. Fitzhugh also was surprised.

"My prejudice told me that university faculties generally lean to the left and I still think so, but it's not as bad as I thought. They're less liberal than I had realized."

"My prejudices told me that you'd want to universities to teach their elders what they had to learn. Now I think the kids have found it doesn't pay to have that attitude."

The number of Americans aged 65 and over increased by about 3.5 million, or 21.2 per cent, between the 1960 and 1970 censuses. During this period the number of elderly rose from 15,560,000 to 20,060,000. Relative to the total population, the number of senior citizens rose from 5.2 per cent in 1960 to 5.9 per cent in 1970, says Metropolitan Life statistics.

PERSONAL FINANCE Air Conditioners Now Noise Rated

It's hard on the family nerves, as well as the family finances, to spend several hundred dollars on an air conditioner only to find that the noise is driving everybody crazy.

When existing systems are noisy, the ARI offers these suggestions: -May be only you—sometimes you, and the neighbors as well, when outside units used for central air conditioning are noisy.

It's cheaper to prevent this than to correct it, and householders can save both dollars and annoyance by learning how to make use of the new "sound rating number" (SRN) system recently adopted by the air conditioning industry.

Sound rating numbers are now found on outdoor condenser units of "split" cooling systems, and on "single package" systems, which bear the blue and white ARI Sound Rating Seal of the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute.

As the engineers of this industry have discovered, measuring noise is not as simple as one might think. The number of decibels, by itself, doesn't tell you everything you want to know about noise.

Some sounds, such as a vibration or a screech, may be low in volume but still be very annoying. While others may be loud but relatively pleasant, the ARI explains, the SRN rating is a measure of both the volume and the quality of the sound produced by the unit.

Your installer (if he knows his business) can crank the SRN figure into a formula developed by the institute. It takes into account the distance of the unit from walls and other sound barriers, and tells the installer how many decibels of sound will be produced.

Foreign Flavor Mutual Funds Bombing Seen

RUSSELL VAN DENBURGH
Copy Editor Service

Investors can count on being bombarded later this year with offerings of mutual funds that have a foreign flavor.

The reasons are the excellent investor acceptance of New Perspective Fund, Los Angeles, which managed four other funds that have assets totaling more than $2 billion. They are Investment Co. of America, American Mutual, Washington Mutual Investors and Amcap.

The continuous offering of shares of New Perspective Fund to the public is scheduled to begin in mid-May.

Among the funds that have been in the formation stage to tap the changing monetary patterns is one that will concentrate primarily on gold and silver shares and directly in such precious metals as silver, platinum and palladium.

The closed-end fund, put together by knowledgeable money-metal financiers, is aptly named Au-Ag Corp.—the symbols for gold and silver.

In the performance field, the three top performing funds for the 12 months ended Feb. 28, 1973, were international. A survey of 291 funds by Kalb, Voorhis & Co. shows the top performers for the period were International Investors, up 45.4 per cent; Templeton Growth, up 44.5 per cent; and Scudder International Investors, ahead 27.8 per cent.

These gains compare with the 291 funds' average decline of 11.7 per cent. The average growth fund was off 7.9 per cent, while the Dow Jones industrial average advanced 2.9 per cent.

In addition to the three leaders for the period, the top performers were Chemical Fund with a gain of 15.3 per cent, Putnam Investors 11.8 per cent, Life Insurance Investors 9.8 per cent, American Birthright Trust 9.6 per cent, Keystone 5-9 per cent, Canadian Fund 8 1/2 per cent and Financial Industrial Fund 7.5 per cent.

Also contributing to the interest in New Perspective Fund was the fact that two of the top-performing funds are based in Canada. Investments in Scudder and Templeton subject U.S. investors to the 11.25 per cent interest equalization tax imposed by the United States on overseas investments. The third fund, International Investors, concentrates its investments largely in South African gold issues.

Child Care Deduction Watch Tax Forms For Help

This year's income tax form offers an opportunity to claim one of the largest single deductions ever granted by the federal government," points out tax expert Sanford Kahn of Chicago.

"This is commonly known as the child care deduction," he says, "and is for household and dependent care expenses."

"Before 1972," Kahn explains, "the child care deduction amounted to $500 a year at most and usually only those with incomes below $6,000 could obtain it."

But now the child care deduction can be as high as $900 a month or $1,080 a year. And it can be claimed by many single persons with a child or by many married couples, provided both spouses work at least three-quarters of a work week and provided their combined income is less than $7,600.

According to Kahn, the deduction is related chiefly to employment-related expenses incurred for services in and about the taxpayer's household. Basically, the requirements for the deduction are these:

—Single persons or married couples (both employed) who pay for the care of children under 13 are eligible. The deduction stops at the child's 15th birthday, whenever it occurs during the year.

—Household and dependent care payments qualify if they are made to almost any domestic worker in the house, except those such as gardeners or chauffeurs and except for relatives or other dependents of the taxpayer. "If a maid is at home merely to open the door for the child on a regular basis, you may still deduct up to $400 of her monthly wages," says Kahn.

"The full $400 deduction may be made if the family income is less than $18,000. After that, the deduction is reduced by $1 for every $1 of income up to $7,600. As an example, an eligible family earning $9,000 a year could deduct up to $3,000 a year or $318 a month. Families with incomes above $7,600 forfeit the right to claim any child care deduction."

"The deduction applies primarily to payments made to those who are hired to help look after a child at home," Kahn says. "But there is also a provision for out-of-the-household expense that usually means day-care centers."

"Deductions permitted for day-care centers or other out-of-household expenses are $300 a month for one child, $300 for two children and up to the limit of $400 a month for three or more children. These amounts cannot include tuition or similar educational expenses for children in the first grade or higher."

"The main effect of this deduction," says Kahn, "is to allow the stay-at-home spouse—typically the wife—to be gainfully employed."

Dodge Index Construction Rated High

NEW YORK — Surging non-residential building work pushed the Dodge Index of construction contract value to a record high of 191. It was announced by the F. W. Dodge Division of McGraw-Hill Information Systems Company.

I.K. Brown Named To Committee

At the request of State Comptroller Bud Dickinson, the Board of Directors of the Florida State Bank of Sanford has appointed a Consumer Counseling Committee.

Mrs. Irene K. Brown, corporate secretary, will serve as the chairman of the committee and will be assisted by Mrs. Leslie Pauline, installment loan department; Mrs. Carolyn Cohen, secretarial department; James Jarrett, assistant cashier; and William L. Hackett, assistant cashier, commercial loan department.

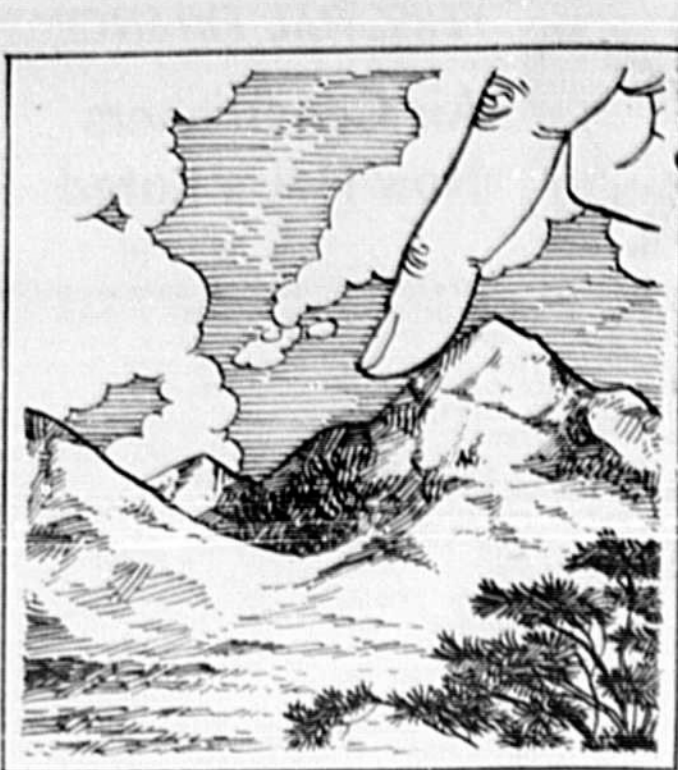

While the NFIB surveys do not go into the types of jobs that are open, it is assumed that not many require highly trained technical skills and that the majority of them are probably in the lower pay brackets.

Although independent retailing employs a large number of people, only 18 per cent of the retailers surveyed report unfilled jobs averaging 1.3 per establishment. On the other hand 34 per cent of the independent manufacturers report unfilled jobs with an average of 4.8 jobs open per firm.

Citrus Meeting Set

LAKELAND — The regular monthly meeting of the Florida Citrus Commission has been called for 1 p.m., April 18, in the auditorium of the Department of Citrus building.

In announcing the meeting, Ed H. Price Jr., chairman, said five committees will meet that morning, with the first, Advertising and Merchandising, scheduled for 9:30.

Disability? Job Hunt Difficult, Not Impossible

By SECRETARY OF LABOR PETER J. BRENNAN

L. W. of Owensboro, Ky. writes: Last year I had a serious back injury which prevents me from doing heavy work. I have a 30 per cent disability and find that many factories are unwilling to hire me. Where can I place I can go for help in finding a job?

Dear L. W.: The U.S. Employment Service, through its affiliated state employment offices, provides special services to handicapped people who are looking for work. Every public employment office has one or more staff members who are responsible for assisting you.

J. R. of Cadillac, Mich. writes: My friend and I were discussing union membership and disagreed on whether or not most union members are factory workers. Could you settle this dispute?

Dear J. R.: For many years most union members were in manufacturing. However, in recent years, as employment in service industries has exceeded that in industrial manufacturing, the composition of the unionized workforce has undergone significant change.

Form 1040A Back; Can Be Bit Costly

Absent since 1968, the familiar Form 1040A—the so-called short form—is available again during this year's tax-filing season.

The short form isn't all that easy to complete for many, says tax expert Sanford Kahn, "but it can be costly in many other ways because they take the easy way out instead of searching for ways to save on their tax returns."

Those eligible to use the short form are taxpayers whose 1972 income consisted of wages and salaries in any amount and who received no more than $300 in dividend income and/or $200 in interest income.

But those who are candidates for the short form don't have to use it, nor should they feel they're "expected to," Kahn asserts. "They're simply going to review their own situation first and then decide."

Kahn is tax supervisor for General Finance Corp., a subsidiary of CNA Financial Corp. General Finance operates tax advisory services in its offices in 19 states.

Kahn points out that use of the short form could result in paying unnecessary tax dollars because it prevents claiming itemized deductions—plus employee business, sick pay and moving deductions, and retirement income, estimated tax, investment, foreign, motor fuels and regulated investment company tax credits.

So it's essential to determine if you're entitled to claim any of these deductions and credits and whether claiming them will reduce your 1972 tax bill," says Kahn. "For example, if you have a mortgage on a home, you can deduct all the interest payments. The Internal Revenue Service estimates that 31 million of the nation's 76 million taxpayers fall within this category."

Those who are candidates for the short form don't have to use it, nor should they feel they're "expected to," Kahn asserts. "They're simply going to review their own situation first and then decide."

Welfare Responsible? More Jobs Than Takers

One of the major questions that has long perplexed the independent business community is this: "How can there be such high unemployment, so much welfare, and yet it is difficult or impossible to find people to fill jobs?"

The first returns to the 1973 field survey of the National Federation of Independent Business indicate that 20 per cent of the respondents report they have jobs they are unable to fill.

This federation survey also shows that of those that have unfilled jobs, there is an average of 2.7 jobs open at each firm.

Projecting these first returns from this survey against the independent universe of 5,500,000 enterprises would indicate that there are now 2,970,000 jobs open.

While the NFIB surveys do not go into the types of jobs that are open, it is assumed that not many require highly trained technical skills and that the majority of them are probably in the lower pay brackets.

Although independent retailing employs a large number of people, only 18 per cent of the retailers surveyed report unfilled jobs averaging 1.3 per establishment. On the other hand 34 per cent of the independent manufacturers report unfilled jobs with an average of 4.8 jobs open per firm.

The need largest short area is in the field of the independent builders, of which 24 per cent report unfilled jobs with an average of 4.8 new employees needed per firm.

American Way Of Life Aids Soaring Costs

NEW YORK (AP)—The American way of life, primarily the quest for a cleaner, safer, more secure environment, is contributing inexorably to the problem of rising prices.

Cleaner air, safer cars and more employment security are some of the more positive and desirable factors that can lead to higher prices. But negatives, such as poor workmanship, are equally potent inflators.

Closed to 37 million vehicles have been recalled in six years for the correction of safety defects, at least some of which can be attributed to faulty workmanship at the design or assembly stage.

Another negative factor is theft. In a new book, "Security Control: Internal Theft," Bob Curtis, a business and government consultant on retail store theft comments:

"Employee theft is the most critical element in store inventory shortages. It accounts for an estimated 60 to 75 per cent of a store's losses, and nearly a third of all business failures, are brought about by employee theft."

Environmental issues, however, appear to be second only to rising demand itself in pushing up some prices, not just for gasoline, fuel oil and electricity but, it is claimed, for new housing also.

A home mortgage Corp., a device advance lender, claims that ecological restrictions already are pushing up prices.

It is not only the demand for quantity that's pushing up prices; the demand for quality is, too.

Short-Stay Surgery Due

Winter Park Memorial Hospital this week inaugurates a Short-Stay Surgery Service for relatively minor surgical procedures.

The service might be called "Out-patient surgery" since it involves a same day in-and-out process. It will expedite scheduling, eliminate delays, reduce patient costs and produce more efficient use of staff and facilities.

The service is intended for patients who need surgery but not hospitalization, where post-operative care demands are minimal but operative services and facilities such as anesthesia and recovery-room are required.

Some procedures are possible in the special service, and will arrive early, have some final tests, visit the operating and recovery rooms in the morning, remain under observation for a time and then be checked out if there are no complications.

Meagher said, "This out-patient medical center in keeping with the ever-broadening role the hospital is playing in its growing service area."

The service will work this way: The physician and patient will decide on the need for surgery. The physician will schedule the surgery for certain times and rooms allocated to Short-Stay service. Lab tests and other preliminaries, including financial arrangements, will be made in advance.

Dear Abby

Wife spies on truth of hubby's business trip

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1973 by Charles Tribbiani, N.Y. News Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Quite by accident I saw my husband's car parked in a strange place when he was supposed to be out of town on business. I hid and waited for him to return, and several hours later a young girl drove up with Bob in the car. He kissed her goodnight, got into his own car, and drove off. I followed the girl home, rang her doorbell and told her who I was. She was shocked because she didn't know Bob was married. [She's 22, Bob is 41.] I then drove home, and Bob acted glad to see me. He lied about the "business trip" and after giving him enough rope to hang himself, I told him what I had done. He was furious with me for "spying" on him, then he stormed out of the house. I immediately called his mother and told her the whole story. She very nonchalantly said, "What do you want ME to do, spank a 41-year old man?"

Bob moved his clothes out of the house and refuses to have anything to do with me. We have three children who need a father. I've begged him to forgive me, but he's still angry. Abby, why should I beg HIM to forgive ME? He should be begging ME to forgive HIM. How can I get him back?

LOVE EYES

DEAR HEED: You may not be able to. Moral: A woman will forgive an unfaithful husband faster than a man will forgive an emasculating wife.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 18-year-old girl, recently graduated from high school, and now I have a steady job that pays well.

I recently moved out of my parents' home to assume full responsibility for myself and my life.

My problem is this: I am constantly approached by adults who ask me how I got my education. When I reply, "Because my parents have done so much for me that I decided it was time I did something for them," they look at me like I'm crazy.

Abby, that's the way I feel. I think the best way for a child to repay their parents for all they have done is to become self-supporting and self-sufficient as soon as possible, and relieve parents of the responsibility.

In this day and age people are so used to condemning the youth for doing something wrong, they condemn them even when they do something right. Or am I wrong?

INDEPENDENT IN OHIO

DEAR INDEPENDENT: Not every 18-year-old child is able to leave the nest and become self-sufficient and self-supporting, but those who are deserve congratulations not criticism.

Problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 67766, L.A., Calif. 90029. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 13, 1973

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have many duties ahead of you, so don't rush off on any tangents, but carry through conscientiously. Get away from some trap from persons who like to blame others on their inordinate. Sleep well tonight.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are apt to look at yourself in a wrong light, so be kind to yourself instead. Don't spend too much money today. Make sure you do not lose your temper with anyone and get along better.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you get those duties handled at home early you can relieve the tensions there. This evening is not good for entertaining, so put it off until a better time. Avoid the who-likes-to argue.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) Try not to make a mountain out of some molehill, to be the vegetable, think before you speak and avoid trouble. Particular care in driving and other activities as severe as possible accident.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) If you improve your budget, you won't be out of touch with any targets, but carry through restored. Get your property in better condition, but stay within your budget. Use much ingenuity in so doing.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 22) You have to take better care of your health if you want to get ahead faster, have more goodwill from others. Improve your appearance. Not a good day for the social life. Rest tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have many small tasks to handle so get busy early on them in a conscientious and efficient manner. Not a good day for pleasure. Postpone fun until you have more leisure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try not to tease a good friend or an unimpressive severance of connection could result. Have a serious, courteous manner. Put effort into gaining your finest aims, and they are yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) With fewer outside activities you can now handle home affairs and improve your appearance. Too strict care of a high-spirited who is looking for someone to whom to vent. It will be you otherwise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have a new friend who needs careful handling if you are to deepen the friendship instead of suddenly breaking it off. You have real tact and can now use it wisely. Get good results with everyone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) With all that work ahead of you, get it at early and clear it up quickly and efficiently. Don't run off on any tangents. Take better care of your wardrobe and make sure you do not ruin it by careless action.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) This is a good day to have a good talk with an associate and get right things therefrom. How to get agreements worked out more efficiently. A little assistance can be most wise now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those inordinately clean young people who has to have order around him or her, but teach early not to insult others by pointing out their lack in such matters, otherwise your offspring can become a recluse and not popular at all. This can be a good chart for a nurse, whether male or female, the teacher, or the secretary, or the office worker, etc. Do not force sports on this person early. Care in diet.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Use New Burlap When Hooking Rug

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. E. O. who wants to make a hooked rug with her acrylic knit scraps. The strips should be cut with the grain or against it but never on the bias. Unless the burlap bag you want to use for backing is tightly woven and in excellent condition, I suggest buying new burlap as the finished rug is only as strong as the backing. Work from the front of the rug as you hook it, like to use a metal crochet hook and pull a loop through every other space to start a new strip in the same hole you finish an old strip so as to lock it in place. Strip a row of spaces between each row of hooking. Prepare your burlap by sewing a 1/2-inch wide strip of fabric all around with a double row of stitching. This is to be turned to the back and slip stitched down as a binding when the rug is finished and also prevents the edges from fraying as you work. This type of rug should last for years.—KAREN

Brokerage Houses Aid Youth

By JUDITH G. RHOADES
Copley News Service

Q. As a senior in college, I earn approximately $7,000 a year at my job. I have my own car and I live at home. Since I am only 19, what red tape will I encounter in order to purchase stock in my own name? — F.R.P., Alameda, Calif.

A. Although there are some brokerage houses which will probably not allow you to open an account in spite of the 18-year-old majority rule, you will find many firms that will. In addition to the general information on the account form, such as your Social Security number, bank and employment information, you will most probably need a birth certificate or a driver's license as proof of your age. Several houses will require a signed statement stating your present address, and that the office where you are opening an account is in the same state. Last, but not least, especially in the eyes of the brokerage house, your parents or guardian will be required to sign an account guarantee even if you are entirely self-supporting. Most brokerage houses will look forward to your business and take the time to help you not only purchase securities, but also to become reliable and responsible clients.

Q. Do you have any predictions as to how the stock market will perform over the next few months? — A.R.J., Long Beach, Calif.

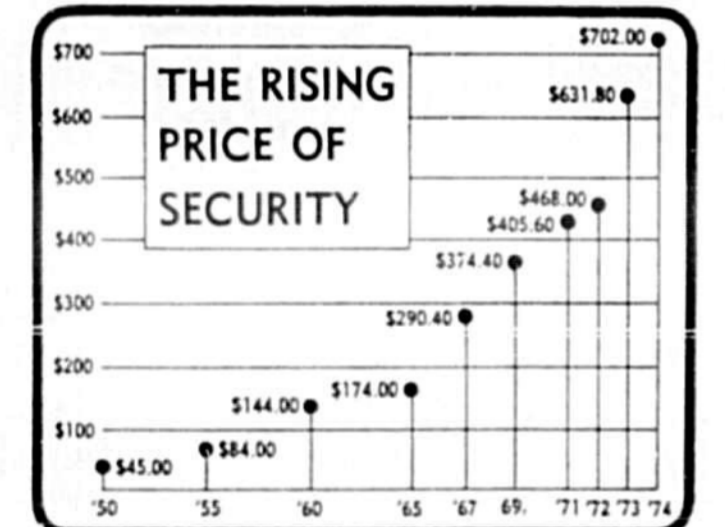

A. My opinion is that of many others to the effect that the stock market over the next two or three months will be unsettled — neither steadily up nor down. The reasons for the market being skittish are unclear. Although there are many factors that affect the market, the market seems particularly sensitive to the gold crisis, the pendency of the Phase 3 program and the uncertainty of Nixon's economic policies. Add to that the power of unions and the threat of wage increases. Because the price of food continues to go up, labor may not be too cooperative as far as contract renegotiations are concerned. In view of the uncertainties of the market, I find that the best securities for low-risk investments are high-quality, low-multiple stocks.

Q. I have been looking at Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) as a possible investment since generally the return is very high. Do you have any comments as to the pros and cons of such an investment? — R.G.M., St. Louis, Mo.

A. Probably the major potential drawback of a REIT investment is that the prices of their shares are particularly sensitive to the prime rate. Most REITs are lenders of money rather than investors whose earnings grow as the prime rate grows. Conversely, if the prime rate is frozen or declines, their earnings also decline. Notwithstanding that risk of fluctuation, REITs are gaining a larger share of new construction financing each year. The figure last year of REITs' share of construction in the U.S. was $4.8 billion. Yet REITs did not even finance 12 per cent of the total lending required by the construction industry. Thus as an investment, the REIT industry has merit. The return of a REIT is reasonably assured and its downside risk is relatively low. As to choosing a particular REIT, just as you determine the best company in a particular area for investment, you must look at the REIT in the same way. Ask your broker about the trust's loan organization capability. That capability is a key factor in maintaining the REIT's growth in earnings. If trusts' asset base continues to expand, it is more likely able to offset higher interest expenses and any leveling off which might happen in mortgage yields.

From a minor deduction 20 or 30 years ago, the Social Security payroll tax has risen rapidly—and more onerously in recent years. Originally designed as a supplementary pension to prevent poverty among the elderly, Social Security is increasingly viewed as a retirement pension. The deduction is scheduled to rise to $702 in 1974 for employees (matched by an equal amount paid by employers), representing a 5.85 per cent tax on a wage base of $12,000.

Milk's Role In Diet Has Proven Valuable

By Doyle Conner, Commissioner

Milk has played a prominent role in the diets of people since primitive man. At first, milk was important probably because it was a filling and available food. Then too, many societies attached mystical and magical powers to milk.

Today milk still plays a prominent role in our diets but for a different reason. Sound nutrition research has established milk as a valuable food. Milk is the richest source of calcium of all foods commonly eaten in the United States.

The human body cannot survive without calcium. This mineral is vital for growing bones and teeth. Even after bones and teeth stop growing, calcium is needed to maintain them in a healthy condition. Calcium also is essential for nerve function, muscle reaction, for the clotting of blood, and for regulating the use of other minerals in the body.

One wonderful feature of milk is that the consumer gets quite an array of other important nutrients.

'Formidable' Opponent 'Askew Against Impeachment Efforts

By KEN GEFFERT
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — House members seeking the impeachment of Lt. Gov. Tom Adams must face the formidable opposition of (Related story on Pg. 8)

Gov. Reubin Askew to get the two-thirds vote needed to bring the ouster charges. Askew revealed Thursday night several hours after a House select committee voted 32 to recommend Adams' impeachment for misconduct that he "strongly" disagreed with the decision.

Committee Chairman James Redman said about 25 articles of impeachment against Adams, 56, will be presented to the House within the next month.

Two-thirds of the House must vote to bring the charges to send them to the Senate for trial.

If the House concurred with the committee, it would mark only the fifth impeachment in Florida history. No official has ever been convinced in the Senate where a two-thirds vote also is required.

"On the basis of our findings and the action we took," Askew said in a statement, "together with reports I've received on the select committee's hearings, I strongly disagree with the degree of the action by the majority."

The committee minority wanted to censure Adams.

Askew said he hoped "all members of the House will dispose of this serious question with both fairness and dispatch."

Askew ordered his own investigation of Adams in February after news reports that the lieutenant governor was using a state employee to run his Garden City farm and another to clean his apartment.

Afterward the governor asked Adams to resign as Commerce Secretary, had him repay the state $1,700 and said Adams would not be his runningmate next year.

House Speaker Terrell Sessums said he would meet with Rules Committee Chairman Murray Dubbin today to "see what our next step is."

Moratorium Vote Freezes Funds

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A joint House-Senate committee on school funding recommended unanimously today a moratorium on virtually all new state spending until a way can be found to guarantee fair property assessments throughout the state.

The committee voted to hold spending at the 1972 level for funds involving education, the judiciary, aid to cities and health and rehabilitative services—comprising about 95 per cent of the state's budget.

On all other agencies, the committee recommended an "austere" budget with only absolutely necessary increases being granted.

House Appropriations Chairman Marshall Harris, D-Miami, said that $32 million to $60 million would be held in reserve for a special session of the Legislature next fall.

At that time, supplements will be made to state agencies as required. In the meantime, a new system of school funding — aimed at forcing tax assessors to up their assessments to full market value — will have taken effect, said Harris.

The vote broke a deadlock which developed Thursday between the House and Senate sides of the joint committee on what to do about this year's budget.

House Speaker T. Terrell Sessums, who first called for the moratorium on new spending, said he was pleased with the committee's report and will call the House out of the recess if it has been in all week while the committee was at work. Senate President Mallory Horne is expected to do likewise.

Marchers Take To Street Again Supporting Redding

By BOB LLOYD

Sanford Police estimated more than 750 teenagers marched in protest around the Seminole County School Administration building just before noon today, the second day students rallied behind their principal Jack Redding.

The youths, most believed to be from Seminole High School, carried signs supporting Redding.

But Lyster, who has announced he will not renew Redding's contract, agreed to talk with a "small committee" of demonstrators, but told newsmen, no matter how many or how long the demonstrations, he won't change his decision to oust Redding.

Lyster said he still principal at Seminole High until the end of the term, and therefore it is up to Redding to take any disciplinary actions against the students.

Some demonstrators said they plan daily demonstrations

superintendent's level or higher," he promised.

He added that he was at a loss for words to explain his dismissal.

"I don't know what Lyster meant by saying 'I want' and 'qualified'," he continued, "and neither do most other people."

Lyster continued to fend off reporters' questions, referring them to Redding.

Lyster said Redding is still principal at Seminole High until the end of the term, and therefore it is up to Redding to take any disciplinary actions against the students.

Some demonstrators said they plan daily demonstrations until they get Redding back on a parole permit, issued by the city, were escorted by motorcycle officers and patrol cars. At the Downtown school board office, the marchers were met and joined by more than 100 youths already on the scene. They quickly cordoned themselves around the building in double-file, and marched in a clockwise fashion, carrying their signs.

Redding, who was reportedly leaving town to look for another job before Thursday's protest march, remained on campus Friday, and issued an ultimatum to "go to class or get off campus" to the students.

When asked about disciplinary action, Redding commented, "You've got to have the names before you can take disciplinary action. You've got to take everything into consideration and do what's in the best interest."

Redding said he urged students not to make the march this morning. "I did everything in my power. I'm just trying to keep them calm, to keep them from getting upset."

"As far as I know, Lyster's decision is final. I've made no decision to fight it," commented Redding, who revealed today that he has decided to seek employment locally and "make every attempt to stay in Seminole County because of the faculty and student support."

'Explosive' Bills Filed In House

JEAN BRYANT
Explosive bills

By JEAN PATTESON

According to Mrs. Jean Bryant today, vice-chairman of the Seminole school board, there are two bills now in the House Education Committee which she considers to be "highly explosive."

The first is HB 254, which pertains to school sub-districts. This bill would allow a sub-district in each school district, with three to seven advisers empowered to recommend to the school board hiring and firing of school personnel. These advisers would be teachers, parents and others.

HB 157 would authorize a school superintendent to transfer or demote any administrative or supervisory individual to lower levels, although no pay adjustment could be made for one year.

Reg. Gen. Ertle is sponsoring HB 157, and also the House Education Committee is Sen. Ken Plante.

Mrs. Bryant says, "I think HB 254 is politically explosive, and HB 157 would give a school superintendent too much power."

Casselberry Annexation City Takes Pocket Areas

BY DONNA ESTES

CASSELBERRY — Notice will be going out either today or the first of next week to 14 property owners of islands of land completely surrounded by the city that their tracts are being annexed.

The action is to be taken under authority of a charter amendment which allows annexation of islands without the owners' consent.

City Council Monday night authorized preparation and posting of an ordinance to annex the islands, but did not specify the location of the individual parcels.

When one member of the board asked that they be identified, he was told to go in the city office during the day and look at a map.

The parcels, according to reliable city sources are in Section 8-21-30, the south
