Trade Body Speakers Urge County Unity

C. of C. Dinner Inaugurates Drive For New Members And Goal Of $5,000

Prominent civic speakers addressed the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at a kick-off dinner at the Mayfair Hotel last night, preliminary to the launching of its annual membership drive, on the importance of unity and co-operation within Seminole County and the need for continued activity by the Chamber of Commerce.

Declaring that we must put into the hands of Chamber of Commerce officers the necessary funds with which to do the work, Karl Lehmann, deputy administrator of the War Savings Staff for Florida, reminded his audience that "No one else is going to do the job that needs to be done if the Chamber of Commerce fails."

Introducing the speakers was W. A. Laffler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who announced that the goal for this year is $5,000, about $2,000 more than last year, but he pointed out that it costs money to get things done and added, "We are worth the money and we are going to give value received."

Other speakers in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce were: Frank Evans, who stressed the importance of good roads to a growing community; T. W. Lawton, county school superintendent, who emphasized unity and co-operation within the county; and Mayor Ed Higgins, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who explained the set-up of the drive.

Rev. Joe Tolle pronounced the invocation.

Mr. Lehmann paid tribute to the work of William Speer and J. L. Ingley in setting up the Second War Loan in Seminole County, pointing out that this was the first time in the county's history that such a drive had been conducted.

Coal Strike Impending As Miners Quit

16,000 Men Are Out In Alabama As General Strike Seems To Be Inevitable

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28, (AP)—The suit coal industry today moved swiftly toward a wage dispute which will threaten a substantial strike and talk of subsequent mine operations behind bayonet lines.

Birmingham, Ala., a walk-out of Alabama coal miners spread to 11 more shafts, bringing the number shut down to 37. The closed mines employ approximately 16,000 men.

The threat of a general shutdown in the country's bituminous coal mines increased sharply from their jobs and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, indicated in New York that none of the miners would work for a settlement not reached by Friday midnight.

In Washington, Government officials strove desperately to seal off a work stoppage in the safe coal mines, whose production is badly needed to keep the Nation's war plants in operation.

George W. Taylor, vice chairman of the War Labor Board, said he had a report that Lewis intended to call a general strike and that this would be the first strike in the history of the U.S. since the controversy Wednesday morning.

While reports of sporadic strikes throughout the bituminous fields continued to reach New York, Lewis and the UMW International policy committee demanded that Secretary Frances Perkins instruct the operators to resume negotiations.

Naval Station Sailors Plan Dance For Girls

Men of the Sanford Naval Air Station will entertain hostesses and sailresses with a dance to be given at the Sanford Armory from 8:30 to 11:00 o'clock this evening. A seven piece orchestra comprising officers, enlisted men and several civilians will furnish the music. This group has already played for officers' dances and entertainments at the Station.

At the USO vaudeville and stunt program to be held at the Municipal Bandshell Saturday evening, the Crocus Academy negro club will entertain the service men.

Scheduled also for the week at the USO are the regular dances, Bingo games, and the ping pong tournament. It was also announced by Director William Walcott that in co-operation with the Sanford Naval Air Station a picnic program may be started soon.

Service men thronged the USO Club on the lakefront Sunday, and although no special activity was carried on during the day, attendance was reported to have been the largest for any single day since the club was started. Hundreds of white clematis blossoms lent a pleasing decorative touch. The men enjoyed the coffee and doughnuts served free to them, also the Easter eggs.

The Easter ham served in sandwiches was stated to have been an outstanding success. A whole ham was prepared, baked and served on the Buffet Bar so that the men could make or supervise the construction of their own sandwiches.

Record Cargo Is Loaded On Arrow

What is probably the largest cargo ever to be loaded on a barge at the St. Johns River Line wharf, was scheduled to leave this afternoon on the metal hull Arrow chartered by the River Line to carry more than 600 tons of canned grapefruit and oranges to Norfolk, Va., according to Otto Caldwell, manager of the Line.

The Arrow, docked yesterday afternoon at the Municipal Pier, while the Diesel powered pilot boat, Virginia Dare which will tow it, was being loaded with canned fruit at the River Line dock.

Said to have been a former "side wheeler" on the Great Lakes, the barge attracted much attention with its length of 165 feet which gives it the appearance of a small freighter. Its Captain, P.A. Lokey, estimated that the trip to Norfolk would take two weeks, the entire route being through the coastal inland waterways.

Fully loaded, the Arrow draws a depth of 9 and a half feet of water. It is 22 feet wide. The Virginia Dare, which can load a 100 ton cargo, is captained by A. W. Burrell. These boats were specially chartered, according to Manager Caldwell, in order to carry the canned fruit to the U. S. Naval Station at Norfolk.

Burlesque Trade Let's Cleaning Business Down

By ROBERT N. COOL, AP Features Writer

CLEVELAND—Burlesque business has let Joe Goldberg down, and his cleaning and pressing shop now depends upon unromantic travelers.

"Before the war, three and sometimes four burlesque shows would be playing in Cleveland at once," Goldberg sighed. "And the girls seemed to wear many in those days. Now one show across the street. And whatever they're wearing isn't enough to keep the wolf from the door."

"My door," he added, amid a cloud of steam.

For 20 years Joe has been known as Cleveland's theatrical pants presser. Autographed photos of Ann Corio, Sonia Henie, Margie Hart and Eddie Cantor as well as many lesser caudellous decorate the booths in his two-roomed shop. It is plain in the trash-filled traveler, marooned in one of the booths, that Goldberg's heart is still behind the footlights.

Evils of Nudity

"Too much nudity isn't good," says Mr. G. "It's bad for moral and business. Ah, the things I have seen in the old days."

Muddled with darting black eyes and a ready smile, Joe Goldberg is proud of his reputation among traveling road companies. "Jack Kirkland came on Cleveland in 'Tobacco Road,'" he recalled. "I did work for Mr. Kirkland, but from the cleaning point of view. Tobacco. It was a flop. They had to have their costumes changed."

The did not apply to the Ballet Russe and the Metropolitan Opera Company, however. They are good customers.

Goldberg got his start, he says, through a brother who was a burlesque booking agent in New York. The strict trousers playing Cleveland needed someone they could trust to take care of clean-up costumes. On his first job he established his reputation for reliability.

Recently he worked until dawn to get flimsy garments back to the dressing rooms at certain times. His reputation spread far and wide.

Ran From Circus Fire

Last summer he saved a circus a lot of money. Six hundred costumes were in his truck when he drove onto the grounds, just as the broke out. It was a disaster that cost the lives of many and had sent round quantities of equipment, but the costumes were saved.

Business seasons during the day were prosed over by Pierre D. Martineau, of the Memphis Publishing Company, and John H. Hoagland, of "The Louisville Courier-Journal." Ramon S. Cram, of "The Columbus Dispatch," president of the association, was general chairman.

by Joe Marsh

Charlie Jenkins writes me from down at camp: "Dear Joe: Somethin' mighty swell happened to me on my last day's leave. I'm standin' on the corner, not knowin' anybody in town, when a stranger says 'hello, soldier, how'd you like a chicken dinner at home with me and the wife?'"

"Well, it turns out they were the kind of folks who couldn't do enough to help out soldiers. They'd invited two other fellows and just as soon as we're introduced the lady brings us a glass of beer before dinner. "We had a fine dinner, talked till ten... Honest, Joe, I'll never forget their hospitality. Makes me feel good fighting for people like that."

sixth county in the entire state to reach its quota, and added that some $40,000,000 worth of bonds have already been sold in Florida this month on a quota of $45,000,000. He also commended the fine work being done at the Sanford State Farmers Market which, he said, not only was the first to be organized but also ranks first in the state. Declaring that the subject of his talk was "Doing Life", Mr. Lehmann said that everything we cherish in the world is now at stake and that the final outcome depends upon how we conduct ourselves throughout the war years to come and during the period of readjustment which will come after the war. Although he admitted that this nation had exceeded the production goals as established a year ago by the President, Mr. Lehmann pointed out that while Great Britain reached the peak of her production capacity last year, this year it was not until 80 days later that the United States equaled Great Britain's production and will not reach its maximum production until next August. Suggesting that most of those present were probably democrats, Mr. Lehmann hinted that there might be some republicans in the audience and said that if there were, the Chamber of Commerce probably represented the only place in Sanford where they could get together and talk. He added that some were Methodists, some Presbyterians, some Episcopallians, some Elks, some Masons, some Woodmen of the World, and he doubted each thought his own group of superior excellence, but he added that the Chamber of Commerce provided a common meeting ground where all these various groups could get together and exchange ideas. He further illustrated this point by referring to the various economic groups in this community - the agricultural interests, the railroad men and to the business men, all of whom worked together in their own groups, but who found the Chamber of Commerce the only place where they could work together with other groups for the common good. "The Chamber of Commerce is the only real voice the community as a whole can have," he said. "Every community must have such a voice which is not tied to any political faction."

is a disgrace. The road to Ovidio goes all the way around Lake Jesson while we could have built a direct road over Bird Island straight across Lake Jesson to Ovidio for less than $100,000." Suggesting that the Chamber of Commerce make plans now to get these roads built just as soon as priority restrictions on road building are removed, Mr. Evans pointed out that the State Road Department and most other states now well are accumulating funds for a gigantic road building program to begin as soon as the war is over. "The people of the county town," he added, "should support the Chamber of Commerce and do their part to see that these road projects are lined up so that they can be built as soon as possible."

Professor Lawton quoted from William Pitt who said, "Be a people" and attributed the success of that great Anglo-Saxon country to the quality of unity in adversity. We too should have a great unity of purpose, he said. "I have never seen in Seminole County we haven't always practiced this policy," Mr. Lawton said, pointing out that when we had gasoline it was too easy to go to larger towns outside the county to do our shopping. "That phase," he added, "is now taken care of by gasoline rationing but we still don't live as close in spirit as our shopping. Expressing his belief in the county unit system of schools, Mr. Lawton said that the schools have worked wholeheartedly in every campaign placed before them by city, state or federal officials and added, "We have practically changed the three Rs from reading, writing and 'rith' matic to raise, rationing and registering. "Our children are taught to believe in the oneness of purpose. We want all our people in the county to be one big family."

Commenting the work of the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Lawton said that every problem we have ever submitted to it has been handled promptly and efficiently. "In fact," he added, "I don't see how we could get along without it." Mr. Lettier explained that the Charter Rules Committee had adopted a recommendation that voting privileges in the annual election should be limited to not more than 10 votes for each individual regardless of the number of memberships he might own. He also said that all funds are budgeted by the Association and that the officers are living within the budget. The organization and team captain in the drive as explained by Mr. Higgins, are as follows: Les R. Leaser, general chairman; Jno. D. Callahan, chairman, Park Avenue West; Avocado; Roy Miller, chairman, Park Avenue East; Mellowville; Leo Butler, chairman, West Side; Francis Meriwether, chairman, East Side; and Henry Schumacher, chairman, South Side. Jim Tyack Deserves Hall Of Fame; All He Asks Is To Play For Athletics

By DILLON GRAMAM AP Features Sports Editor NEW YORK—There should be a niche somewhere in baseball's Hall of Fame for long Jim Tyack. Never heard of Jim? Well, never did I until the other day. Fact is, I've never seen him play. He's one of those ancient who are to be found among this year's war-time rookie class. Jim concedes that the possession of a wife and three children may have more to do with his being with the Philadelphia Athletics than his batting average. Tyack belongs with those other standouts in baseball's shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., because he's a stand-out, too. Jim's in a class by himself because of a fourteen word sentence he uttered when first he walked into Shibe Park and realized that at last, he was a major leaguer. "Let 'em cut me if they want to, just so I stay up here!" That was it. That declaration put Jim in a class apart from all others. Perhaps never in the history of modern baseball has a player expressed such sentiments. To heck with the pay, Jim says, I want the honor and the glory of being a major leaguer, of playing this grand game in the fastest league of all. "Golly, I've heard ball players say 'let 'em send me back to the bushes, just as I get the same money.' Well, let 'em cut me if they want to, just so I stay up here!" That's my man, Jim, talking. Your average ball player is thinking of money first, his hits second and then love of the game. Every spring brings its floods of Heath, Lombardi, Niekirk, all asking, where's the dough? Now there's nothing sinful about craving a few more cabbages and more power to those gentle who can wrangle an extra cipher on their pay check. That's your modern ball player, but my Jim is a throwback because of love of baseball and were overwhelmingly astonished at being paid for playing a game. Of course, baseball is more of a big business now, and a career for a man, and I don't blame you

BASEBALLS GOING ON - By DILLON GRAMAM

NEW YORK—What's going on? Detroit fans are wondering whether the 1945 baseball season will turn out to be a better buy than the 1944 one. Little talk about about Frank Oceanic, southern pitcher, cost he figures the ball amount. Individual fans who have field brought the two teams. Everyone continues to say that Wakefield, touted as a star, is still a bush league in fielding, and now the fan base also discovered a better pitcher clubbed on his hand. Wakefield, because the young star pitched in the Southern League, will not be in the line-up. Both Wakefield and Oceanic played with the New York Yankees. Because of the war, the baseball season is being held in a makeshift stadium, and the game is being played in a makeshift stadium. The game is being played in a makeshift stadium, and the game is being played in a makeshift stadium.

Coach Gary Bodie Has More Stars Than He Can Use

By ROBERT L. MOORE

AP Features
NORFOLK, Va.—Memorandum to 16 major league baseball managers: Coach Gary Bodie has more stars than he can use.

But don't rush, boys, because what baseball playing these fellows do this season is going to be done for the Norfolk Naval Training Station—and after the Sailors get through with their regular navy chores.

You ought to get a squirt at the Sailors' pitching roster. There's Charlie Wagner, formerly of the Boston Red Sox; Walter Masterson, of the Washington Senators; Tom Earley, of the Boston Braves; and Freddie Hutchinson, of the Detroit Tigers.

Wen 32 Out Of 107
That's not all. The Yanks have a flint of minor league hurlers, several of whom helped the training station a year ago roll up an amazing record of 92 victories in 102 contests against all classes of competition.

Hutchinson led the Sailors in pitching last year with 23 wins and a single defeat. The minor leaguers include Maxie Wilson, who chalked up a record of 22-2 for the Sailors in 1942; Hank Palmeter, owned by the Boston Red Sox; Ray Volpi, of Louisville and Kansas City last season, and Carl Ray, farm property of the New York Yankees.

The catching assignment goes to Vincent Smith, the former Pittsburgh Pirate, who handled Bob Feller's slants for the navy nine a campaign ago, when he battled 287 for one of the team's best averages.

Pin-sized Phil Rizzuto, the little scouter of the American League champions, the Yankees, will take care of the shortstop duties. Benny McCoy, of the A's and Murray Franklin, of Detroit, are the second-sackers.

Home Run Hitter
The Sailors have Eddie Robinson, who cracked 37 home runs for the Baltimore Orioles in 1942, available for first base. Robinson likely would have played first for the Cleveland Indians this summer if...

Jim Carlin, who had a trial with the Philadelphia Phillies in 1941, or Jack Cooney, who hit 10 home runs and 10 RBIs last year, will take care of third base.

The outfield has this talent: Don DiMaggio, Red Sox; Don Padgett, Cardinals; Jim Gleason, ex-Columbus ace in the American Association, who had several trials with the Chicago Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds; Hal Froms, with the Boston Braves for a spell, and Fred (Rip) Collins, formerly of Kansas City, or Hooks DeYants, of Oakland in the Pacific Coast League.

Two Negroes Drive While Drunk, Fined
Two negroes, each charged with driving a car while drunk, were given heavy penalties in City Court Friday evening by Judge F. H. Miller. These were: Leroy McClendon who was given a fine of $200 ($150 suspended) or 60 days in jail, and whose driver's license was revoked, and George Burton, who for the same offense was given a like penalty. For driving without a license and costs of 60 days.

There were only three white cases; Ed Green and Mitchell M. Bernhill, charged with drunkenness and from each of whom $11 fine was extracted, and Sam Kenis, drunkenness and disorderly conduct, $15 extracted.

Negro cases included: Julio Fischer, charged with drunkenness and costs of $15; Florence Solar, larceny, $40 and costs of 90 days; Gray Bribbling, drunk and disorderly, $10 bond extracted; Hazel Collins, drunkenness, $5 and costs of 15 days; T.C. Sanders, disorderly conduct $15 and costs of 15 days.

Other cases of disorderly conduct of negroes included: Berry Marshall; Dorothy Wright, Manly; Lewis, Eddy Time, Bernice Time and James Mitchell, from each of whom a bond of $11 was extracted, also $15 each was extracted from Nathan Burns, Sammy Kinard and J.W. Edwards; Alonzo Duke and Mack Duke, each got $5 and costs or $15 days.

For drunkenness the following negroes had $11 bond extracted: Walter Gale, Richard Jackson, Russ Collins, Lem Udell, Daniel J. Sawyer, Thomas B. Keitt and Henry Alkan.

Lois Mae Holloway, negro, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct had her case continued. Ella Lee Williams, negro, $11 bond extracted.

Post-War Stabilization Even the Experts Don't Agree on Stabilization!

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

HOW TO GUARANTEE stabilization is one of the most difficult problems to be solved, as insurance against a badly gummed-up state of international economics in post-war days.

It is a subject for experts to discuss. Ordinary folk haven't the remotest understanding of it. Well, why don't they get the experts to explain it to them? And that is as mean a puzzle to tackle as the other one. The experts' trouble is that they don't understand it, either. Some of them pretend to, but they disagree among themselves to such an extent that their discussions don't mean anything.

The two outstanding sharks at the argument are Treasury Secretary Morgenthau and Lord Keynes, the British treasury's chief counselor. The North and South Poles are no farther apart geographically than that pair are on post-war stabilization. They are poles about it, but that is ALL they are.

At Variance
Of course, the ignorant, unscientific theory is that stabilization consists of getting a balance into the keel of a boat or a plane, so that it will float right side up or get back to "stability" after winds and waves have jiggled it.

This stuff, though, is international currency stabilization—keeping two or more countries' respective kinds of different money on a balance, so that one of them won't sky-shoot while the other is slumping. If that happens, it is as if you go into a store to place an order of groceries—and the grocer won't recognize your dough except at a heavy discount and you won't recognize his prices.

Now, basically, countries swap goods with one another. If they are different kinds of stuff—goods that we want and do not have and that they want but do not have—why, it is a simple enough transaction.

The trouble is that such deals are not so straight-away. This is illustrated in our transactions with Latin America. The Latins have oodles of tropical or semi-tropical raw material that we require and we have industrial goods that they are anxious for.

We generally get along with them pretty well on that basis. Argentina is an exception. That republic really is in competition with us. With the rest of them we are on a swap-even basis. But it is on a conspicuously unharmonious basis that we and the Argentine maintain our mutual relationship. The Argentine will have to get in line ultimately, but it will be reluctant. If it could get away with it, it might be pro-Axis—but for commercial reasons.

Look at them! The Latin America can make much more money out of us, and the rest of the world, than otherwise. In the long run Argentina will profit by acquiescing in the inevitable.

It doesn't so much matter as to a little country like the Argentine. Europe's small nations will be satisfied with what they can get out of the post-war settlement.

The situation for the great powers is not so easily solved. How are monies going to be swapped? Is it to be done between the United States and Britain alone? Well, then, how are they to be fixed between us and the others? It reaches international proportions. There is where we get to international economics.

SEASON OPENS
SARASOTA, Apr. 28. (FNB)—The tarpon season officially opened here last week when Col. Bob Newhall brought a 72-pound tarpon to raffi after a 28-minute battle. This is the first one reported for the season. He was accompanied by Jabes Cooper, Pittsburgh banker, and Dewey Hathcock.

Manpower Shortage Hits Yankee Outfit

AP Features
NEW YORK—It is a bit unusual to find a fat and prosperous championship team like the New York Yankees changing players from one position to another to round out a ball club.

But the wartime manpower shortage has brought this unique situation about. Hard-pressed for outfielders, after losing Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich and George Selkirk to the armed forces, Marva Joe McCarthy converted pitcher Johnny Lindell into a fly-chaser.

McCarthy never was sweet on Lindell as a chucker but he liked the healthy cut Johnny took at the ball. So when things got tough this spring, McCarthy waved Johnny off the mound and into the garden. He hit well during the exhibition games, and opening day found him on the bucket line with Charley Keller and Stormy Weatherly. The shift still is in the experimental stage. Maybe it will pan out and maybe it won't. McCarthy is optimistic.

HEAVY CITRUS BLOOM
Clearwater, Fla., Pinellas County citrus groves are blooming heavily and a good crop should be forthcoming next season if conditions are favorable, County Agent J.H. Logan reports.

Farmers eligible for electric utility connections may obtain necessary materials for "on farm" wiring through certification of their needs by county war boards.

Bees insure pollination of many seed and fruit crops.

Here's a glamorous sauce for French Toast—and you know how good it must be! This offers another use for blackberries, fresh or canned, and, of course, other fruit may be used as well. Try this for a Sunday night supper dessert, or as the main attraction for a party breakfast. You'll like it.

FRENCH TOAST WITH FRUIT SAUCE
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 cups blackberries
1 cup orange sections
4 slices French Toast

Melt butter or margarine, blend in brown sugar. Add orange rind, blackberries and simmer 5 minutes. Add orange sections and cook 3 minutes longer. Serve on French Toast.

FRENCH TOAST
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
Sliced stale bread

Combine slightly beaten egg with milk and salt. Dip bread in egg-milk mixture and saute in butter or other fat until browned, turning to brown on both sides.

Legal Fees Amount To Three Percent In Collecting Tax

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 28. (FNB)—It cost Florida's counties less than 3 percent in legal fees to collect $2,449,034.06 delinquent railroad taxes running back to 1928 in some instances, according to tabulations submitted the Shanda committee by Comptroller J. M. Lee, who also attached to his report copies of court orders "finding" that the counties had employed the Tallahassee law firm of Keen & Allen to represent the counties and directing the comptroller to deduct from moneys collected in the litigation the amount of the fees contracted to be paid by the counties and which the comptroller's submission showed totaled $64,374.

These were paid over a period of more than three years as the long contested items of delinquency were decided by the courts and paid by the railroads. The committee asked the comptroller to rework his report to show payments by counties and this is being done.

Railroads who paid the contested items and amounts collected were: Seaboard, $1,200,000; Atlantic Coast Line, $824,200.22; Florida East Coast, $331,578.32; Louisville & Nashville, $27,945.03; Atlanta & St. Andrews Bay, $14,411.57; Atlantic & East Coast Terminal Co., $7,850.34; Live Oak, Perry & Gulf, $103.89.

The railroads' injunction suits had been hanging fire as far back as 1927, when the counties, through representatives meeting in Orlando in the summer of 1937 named a committee to employ counsel. The committee put their interests in the hands of the Tallahassee law firm and they had won their first decree by July, 1939. Judge J. B. Johnson's decision awarding them more than $1,000,000. Subsequent litigation reached its climax in early summer of 1942 when Judge F. C. Love ruled with the counties on valuation theories that established a basis of assessment which maintains railroad assessments for future years at more than 50 percent above the level sought to be established by the railroads.

Lewis Defies President In Coal Dispute

Miners Quitting In Doves As Hour Approaches When Present Contract Dies

(By Associated Press)
The United Mine Workers repudiated President Roosevelt's back-to-work order today with a declaration "they want an agreement," "we want to work," and reiterated the charge that the War Labor Board had prejudged the case.

John L. Lewis, UMW president, made public his reply after a session of the Union's international policy committee in New York. Several committee members said the telegram meant that in the absence of an agreement there would be a voluntary stoppage of work at midnight tonight when the present contract expires.

The miners called for a "renewal of collective bargaining" and contended "our every request" could only be denied by W.L.B.
Walkouts in the soft coal mines swept toward any industry tie-up with the miners already quitting in droves.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 30, (AP)—A historic showdown between President Roosevelt and John L. Lewis was at hand today.

With more than 77,000 soft coal miners idle and a national shutdown threatened Roosevelt served notice yesterday that he would use all his vast powers as commander-in-chief "to prohibit the national interest stoppage of work at midnight tonight when the present contract expires."

Farmers Refuse To Sell Potatoes At Ceiling Price

Want City Market To Face Breakdown After OPA Ruling

TAMPA, Apr. 30, (AP) Market officials yesterday reported a serious breakdown of trading at the farmers' market at Plant City, Fla., after the OPA's ruling on a ceiling of 18¢ a bushel for new potatoes far below the supply and demand price.

The ruling is believed to have been made for a Saturday afternoon to be followed by the OPA investigators but the farmers refused to sell and the buyers, unable to get the potatoes, for which bidding was refused to take leave or squish.

The situation has been developing for a week or more until it became about as bad as it could be.

"We had 400 tons of vegetable; some of it was bought, some was taken back home, and some probably was sold up back at all."

There is no ceiling on squash. The permit really sells but it is customary to make up a couple of ton loads and a load without new potatoes today is no load at all.

Long said William I. Wilson, director of state markets, probably would go to Washington the next day or two. Farmers said they already had applied to Chester Davis, who found administrators.

Harvest Show Is Formally Opened On First Street

Amendment To Ban Closed Shop Goes To Voters

Senate Passes Resolution 23 To 11 After Approval By House

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 30, (AP) The legislature sent to the voters yesterday a proposed constitutional amendment to prohibit the closed shop in employment with the right of collective bargaining specially preserved.

It will be voted upon in the general election of November 1944. A majority vote of the people would put this into the constitution.

"The right of persons to work shall not be denied or abridged on account of membership or labor organization; provided that this clause shall not be construed to deny or abridge the right of employer by and through a labor organization or labor union to bargain collectively with their employer."

Unions Less Urgent
President Leo Hill of the Florida Federation of Labor said the amendment would "outlaw and kill the trade union movement" in Florida.

"I predicted a long period of unrest and upheaval in Florida if this amendment should be adopted by the voters. Naturally it will mean the end of conservative leadership for an outraged and a enraged labor population will turn to a leadership of more radical nature."

"Radicalism always begets radicalism, and this amendment is the most radical departure from a democratic process of government ever witnessed in any state in the union," Hill declared.

Sanford Station Wins Seven Bouts With Vero Beach

Frank Smith Shows Real Class As Top Heavyweight Boxer

The Sanford Naval Air Station pugilist dominated the scene at Sanford Municipal Park last evening as he picked winners from out of eight bouts on a team from the Vero Beach Naval Air Station. Their opponent team victory was for the Banana River Naval Air Station, recently.

Comdr. F. Masale Hughes of the Sanford Naval Air Station and Mayor Edward Higgins were at the ringside as honorary referees, and a large crowd was present.

Three technical knockouts were won by the Sanford team. These came in the last three bouts of the evening. Outstanding was the first bout, when Frank Smith, a big newcomer of 235 pounds, and former Golden Gloves champion of Los Angeles, loped with his opponent, Charlie Chaney, 185, of Vero Beach for two rounds, and then cut loose in the third with a barrage of blows to Chaney's head that resulted in a TKO decision.

C. A. Spangler, 164, second class seaman, and former Golden Gloves champion of North Carolina, making his first fight appearance before being detached for duty as a Paratrooper School, celebrated with a TKO over Wayne Miller, 165, of Vero Beach. He would be missed in the future contests by his ardent fans from the Air Station, with whom he is a favorite.

Sanford got another TKO decision in the seventh bout when Marine Corporal Tippett, 160, easily defeated Vero Beach's Ben Stron, 165.

Warning Is Issued Against Pirating

A warning against labor pirating of farm workers was given Wednesday by G.M. Simmons, manager of the U.S. Employment Office at Orlando, who visited County Agent O.H. Deaton at the Court House, to confer with him on labor problems.

Referring to the modified "job freeze order" issued upon the order of President Roosevelt by McNutt, on midnight of April 18, Mr. Simmons stated that agricultural workers, being employed in an essential industry, were included in the freeze.

"Agriculture workers are not supposed to move from one job to another," he said, "from one employer to another without approval of the U.S. Employment Service. This order was made to prevent labor pirating, which has been a serious problem in other industries and ships."

"Any employer who hires a worker who was employed during the freeze without government bonds being offered with the view to investigating some of the sinking funds, will be liable for a fine of $5,000 or a year in jail," he said.
