Manning suspicious of city's motives

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Suspended police chief Greg Manning is getting his job back. But for how long?

That's the question asked by Manning, who thinks the new city administrator, who hasn't even been officially hired yet, is out to get him.

Manning is suspicious of the city's motives and doesn't think the matter is over yet. "It's a wait and see game. I think it's very plain," he said. "Before I even met the new city administrator (Gene DeMarie), he had made conclusions about me. He said he thinks I'm too political."

Manning

Terry

DeMarie could not be reached for comment at press time.

While sticking to his original charges against Manning and Capt. Terry Baker, Acting City Administrator Don Terry decided Wednesday to reinstate Manning as of May 5 following a one-week suspension without pay effective today. Terry reversed his tentative decision to fire the chief and reduced the disciplinary action to the week's suspension and six months probation to begin May 2. Manning's performance will be evaluated at three months and six months by the city administrator.

Manning said he will accept his job back, but plans to appeal to the city commission the five-day suspension without pay and six-month probation. He said if they stand by Terry's decision, he will let the court decide.

Manning said he talked to DeMarie on the phone. "DeMarie said he was hoping the matter [of the chief's employment] would be resolved before he comes on board and said the city's financial offer if I resigned is more than fair," Manning said.

Subject to approval by the city commission, a tentative proposal to Manning before his suspension called for the city to withdraw pending administrative charges and pay Manning his salary through Sept. 30 if he would resign. At

David and Connie Bohannon share a happy moment with their new daughter, Angela Marie, who arrived last week from Korea.

Grandparents happy with newly-adopted Korean child

LAKE MARY — Troy Hyang Seon flew half way 'round the world from Seoul, Korea, to the arms of her new adoptive parents David and Connie Bohannon of 354 Cidermill Place, who met her at the airport in New York.

She was the oldest of five Korean babies who came off the plane with their escorts on April 19. The Bohannons' "delivery room" was an airport elevator where the representative of the adoption agency handed them their new baby. "We recognized her immediately from her picture," said Mrs. Bohannon.

This is the start of a "second family" for the Bohannons, who are parents of two married children with children of their own. Their 23-year-old daughter, Tammy Ray, and her baby accompanied them to New York City to meet the new member of the family. Tammy's trip was a birthday gift from her husband, Troy Ray III, son of Seminole County tax collector Troy Ray Jr.

Thirteen-month-old Hyang Seon, who now has a new American name, Angela Marie Bohannon, is teething and cried all during the flight from New York. She stopped crying when new big brother, Johnny, 20,

School zoning changes OK'd; 1,900 affected

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — About 1,900 students in several Seminole County school district elementary schools will be attending different schools next year following adoption by the school board of changes in attendance zones.

The Seminole County School Board adopted three rezoning plans at its Wednesday meeting after public input from some disgruntled parents.

The plans adopted Wednesday night, one on a split vote, were drawn up over a period of several months by a rezoning task force which held public hearings on several proposed plans, all with the goal of relieving overcrowding at some schools.

The plans realign the attendance zones for 18 elementary schools.

An overflow crowd packed the board chambers waiting to comment on the plans which affected their children. The most comments made at the hearing came from parents whose children will be involved in a realignment of attendance zones of Forest Lake, Sable Point and Wekiva schools in the Altamonte Springs area.

Parents in the West Lake Brantley area whose children will walk to the Wekiva school under the adopted plan complained the route is dangerous because of fences not properly maintained and which now pose a threat because they are falling onto sidewalks where children walk.

Complaining parents said they preferred another plan, one originally recommended by the administrative staff, which would have relocated 85 fewer students overall.

The rezoning of the districts was intended to reallocate student populations at the Sabal Point and Wekiva schools and many parents said the Forest Lake school shouldn't have been involved in the rezoning.

Board Member Ann Neiswender made a motion to reject the proposed plan and advertise "Plan A" which most parents in the audience supported. Larry Betsinger seconded the motion, but those two board members were the only ones to vote in favor of the motion.

Neiswender then made the motion to adopt the proposed plan and that motion passed 4-1 with Betsinger voting against it.

Board members also heard several complaints about the proposed rezoning plan for the eastern part of the county involving Keeth and Winter Springs elementary schools, and

Changes made

What: Attendance districts for 18 elementary schools were changed.
Why: Because some schools are overcrowded while other are not filled to capacity.
When: The new districts will be effective at the beginning of the next school year.
Objections: Some parents of students being moved to new schools said their children would have to walk along dangerous routes to school, or that other suggested plans were more equitable.

County to lay off 16

By Klonie Jordan

SANFORD — Seminole County commissioners approved deleting 19 county employee positions and replacing present workers with contracted labor.

Commissioners authorized the Department of Public Works on April 12 to prepare documentation concerning the personnel impacts of using private contractors to perform road side mowing and install asphalt.

The board justified the action under county personnel policies that provide for three vacant positions and sixteen filled positions to be deleted.

According to Montye Beamer, deputy county administrator, the county already has three contractors and one paving company under agreement. The contractors will serve on a rotating basis, she said.

The commission projects that $315,000 in personnel services and another $285,000 in equipment budgeted for replacement this year will be saved with the work force reduction. No projected figures were available for the cost of contracted labor.

The asphalt installation jobs are to be deleted by May 13 and the employees involved in mowing operations will be laid off by Aug. 1.

The positions being deleted include six maintenance workers, five equipment operators, one heavy equipment operator, two senior heavy equipment operators, four equipment operator/truck drivers and one lineman.

According to Beamer, county work force reduction is not a new idea. The board has previously contracted out custodial work to private companies as well as leasing county vehicles, which resulted in personnel cutbacks of mechanics and drivers, she said.

In other action taken Tuesday:

- The board approved a lease for the county to open a second branch office at Wilshire Park in south Seminole. The county expects to open the public service office in late June.

- The board passed a resolution commending the Florida Lumber and Building Material Dealers Association for its "Plant to Grow" program. The FLBMDA donated more than 22 trees which were planted in Red Bug Lake Park by representatives of the local Boy Scouts Council. The board had declared the month of April as "Arbor Month" during a meeting on March 31.

- The board adopted a resolution proclaiming May 1, 1988 as "Law Day" and May 1 through May 7 as "Law Week."

IN BRIEF

Longwood man arrested after "love-tapping" police officer

ALTAMONTE SPRING — A man who allegedly slapped an Altamonte Springs police officer's face and called it a "love tap," has been jailed, charged with battery on a policeman, trespass and disorderly intoxication.

William Charles Hamblett Jr., of 652 Sabal Lake Drive, Longwood, reportedly became angry when a restaurant manager refused to accept his check as payment for a meal.

The manager of Steak and Ale, State Road 436, called police at about 1 p.m. Wednesday after Hamblett reportedly became belligerant and abusive. The abuse to restaurant employees continued even after the manager agreed to accept Hamblett's check, a police report said.

Hamblett allegedly told a waitress he would kill her husband and then she could have "group sex" with him and his girlfriend, who was with him at the restaurant, police said.

Police warned Hamblett he would be arrested for trespassing if he didn't leave. After several refusals to leave, he was eventually led out of the restaurant by his girlfriend, police said.

In the parking lot, Hamblett allegedly approached a police car and officer Emma Oliver warned him to leave or face arrest. Hamblett allegedly slapped Oliver's face with his open hand. She charged him with battery and added charges of trespass and disorderly conduct. He reportedly called the slap a "love tap."

Hamblett was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Slain suspect linked to 17 county burglaries

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — A Seminole County sheriff's investigator is scheduled to met lawmen from eight counties in Ocala Tuesday to exchange information on a suspected burglar gunned down by a Missouri lawman April 19.

Seminole County sheriff's Sgt. Steve Walthers said today the slain suspect, Steven Balliet, 25, has been linked to at least 17 Seminole County burglaries and the thefts of three vehicles since February. Balliet is the suspect in 150 to 200 more burglaries in Alachua, Citrus, Columbia, Hernando, Marion, Lake, Flagler and Volusia counties and Altamonte Springs police have four or five cases in which the same cat burglar is the suspect, according to authorities.

Balliet was shot to death by a Missouri state trooper while he was holding a city policeman at gunpoint during a pursuit in Boonville, Mo., where he reportedly resided. Balliet is originally from New Jersey and his mother lives in the Ocala area, Walthers said. He was serving time in a halfway house in Ft. Myers on a burglary charge when he escaped from that facility in November. Soon afterwards the cat burglar appeared on the scene in Florida. Since Balliet's death, there have been no reported burglaries that follow the same method of operation as those previously reported in the above cases, Walthers said.

Balliet eluded Marion County deputies in the Ocala National Forest on April 11, and Walther's said it is believed he left the state within a few days of that sighting. When he was killed, Balliet had possession of a car stolen in Port Orange, Walthers said.

Auto theft is part of the method of operation that has linked Balliet to the Florida crimes. Walthers said the suspect would typically burglarize several homes at night and then steal a vehicle from the last home robbed.

Homes near interstate highways, including Interstate 4, were targets of the cat burglary, who on occasion, Walther's said, was confronted by victims who were thought to have been either asleep or away at the time.

Although the cat burglar never reacted violently when confronted by a victim — he ran — Walthers said he seemed to have a vendetta against police. "If he knew law enforcement officers were in the area, he would hit twice the number of homes," Walthers said. Balliet's confrontations with police were violent, often involving the exchange of gunfire, but not in Seminole County, Walthers said.

The night burglaries in Seminole County targeted only brown homes, with the exception of one apartment. Investigator Brent Davison, who investigated the Seminole County cases and who will meet with the other lawmen probing the cat burglar cases in Ocala, said the brown homes gave the burglar a dark cover to work against.

The burglar would enter a home through an open door or window, or would remove the door lock with a channel lock, Walthers said. He would take purses and wallets from bedroom dressers and sometimes leave them discarded on the lawn after taking cash from

Stetson University disciplines students, fraternity

By Fred H. Cooper
Herald Staff Writer

DELAND — Stetson University suspended five students, disciplined three others and imposed stiff sanctions on Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity Wednesday for activities involving alcohol and allegations of sexual abuse.

Administrative hearings conducted by a panel which included both female students and faculty members reported the findings to the university, which then ordered five fraternity members suspended for at least two semesters.

Two other students were placed on probation and another given a reprimand.

"I find it repugnant and very difficult to come to terms with," said H. Douglas Lee, president of the school. "It is a tragedy in the lives of the individuals involved. It is also a tragedy for the university."

Lee said the attack "violated the very heart and soul" of a college dedicated to Christian values.

Two residents of the same fraternity at Florida State University have been charged with sexual assault in an attack on a woman student. At Stetson, the woman refused to press charges, requiring an administrative hearing process rather than police action, officials said.

Richard Slaughter, DeLand's police chief, said Wednesday that Stetson officials had not informed him of the matter, officially, adding "I only know what I've read about it in the newspapers."

The alleged incident occurred during a fraternity party on Saturday, April 9. An allegation of sexual abuse by more than one male was reported to the dean of student affairs on Monday, April 11, but the young woman refused to file an official complaint or report the matter to police.

"The state attorney's office is in the same boat as we are," Slaughter said. "We've adopted a wait-and-see attitude. The time element now just about eliminates any evidence except eye witness reports. And if the woman refuses to make a statement or cooperate, we'd have a difficult time doing anything."

A two-week-long investigation failed to prove a sexual attack had occurred, but evidence of alcohol use and sexual activities in violation of the code of conduct was determined, according to the statement.

Of the five suspended students, two men allegedly had sexual contact with the woman and three failed to intervene. Two of the suspended students are seniors who will be denied a chance to graduate, pending their appeals.

Stetson also imposed stiff sanctions against the Pi Kappa Gamma chapter on the campus, including a minimum suspension through the end of the 1988-89 academic year.

Don't bet on ice break-up

By Fred H. Cooper
Herald Staff Writer

Before insect spraying became state-of-the-art, Seminolians—at least the few who were around—spent lots of time scratching. Not to be outdone by the antics in physical maneuvering of the pioneers, modern day residents have taken up scratching for hoped for profits. So, here it's the lottery. In Vegas it's all forms of wagering, but up in Alaska they bet on the weather. At least a part of the weather.

They bet on when the ice is going to break up.

The ice broke up Wednesday on the Tanana River, heralding the beginning of an early spring in Alaska and making several people thousands of dollars richer.

Every year Alaskans try to guess when the ice will go out on the Tanana, paying $2 per guess to win the Nenana Ice Classic jackpot.

Only twice before in the 71-year-old guessing game has the ice gone out this early in the year. In 1926, the river broke up on April 26, and in 1940 it went out on April 20. Until Wednesday, the ice had never broken up on April 27.

Don't guess we could bet on when the ice will break up on Lake Monroe but maybe some intrepid gambler can think of something. With the lottery going on the computer, let's bet on how many bytes in a winner on a warm day.

This weekend will be for howling—full moon time. Rest up you lovers.

No hope for any change in the weather, if you were so hoping. Maybe next week. It was cold yesterday in Yellowstone and Gunnison. Hot atBullhead City and Yuma. If you don't know the states involved don't worry, you weren't going there anyway.

Thunderstorms dumping heavy rain battered the mid-Atlantic Coast today along a cold front from New York City to North Carolina, the National Weather Service said.

The front extended from eastern North Carolina to southeastern New York, where thunderstorms were observed throughout the New York City area early today, forecaster Lyle Alexander said.

Rainshowers were expected to also prevail today from lower Michigan and the Ohio Valley to the middle and northern Atlantic coast, Alexander said. Rain was expected to be mixed with snow from the central Appalachians to western New York and showers were forecast across northern California and the Pacific Northwest, with a few showers developing over Arizona and Southern California.

Most of the nation reported clear to partly cloudy skies early today. Readings will warm into the 80s today from the desert Southwest across most of Texas to western Louisiana and over much of Florida.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 25 degrees at Yellowstone, Wyo., to 79 degrees at the Key West Naval Air Station, Fla.

Light rain showers spread from the central Appalachians across Ohio to parts of Indiana and Michigan. Showers and thunderstorms developed in parts of Oregon and Washington.

(Reports by United Press International and data provided by the National Weather Service were used in compiling this report.)

Reagan reaffirms support of Meese

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan rose to the defense of embattled Attorney General Edwin Meese Wednesday, declaring he would ask his longtime friend to leave his Justice Department post only "if he had a complete change in character."

During an Oval Office photo session with Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney, Reagan displayed a flash of irritation when asked about a reported move by some close associates to orchestrate Meese's departure.

The Wall Street Journal reported that former Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and seasoned political adviser Stuart Spencer are among those now convinced Meese cannot continue to serve under an ethical and legal cloud.

The Journal said Weinberger, Spencer and other longtime friends and associates have been considering how best to take the issue to Reagan and find a smooth way for Meese to resign and be replaced swiftly by someone of high stature.

Vice President George Bush was reported to be among those sharing the view that Meese cannot remain in office. First lady Nancy Reagan was said to be aware of that sentiment, but wary of pushing the issue with her husband.

While insisting he was "not aware" of the report, Reagan hastened to assert that the Journal story "was completely inaccurate." When pressed on whether he would approve of such a plan to force Meese out, he replied, "No."

Asked finally whether he could envision any circumstances under which he would ask Meese, who first joined his staff more than 20 years ago, to resign, Reagan replied, "Well, if he had a complete change of character."

Meantime, Elaine Crispen, the first lady's press secretary, denied that Mrs. Reagan has been pushing for Meese's ouster as she did in the case of former White House chief of staff Donald Regan. "Mrs. Reagan has not been making any phone calls," she said. "She has not discussed it with the president."

Meese's ethical, legal and financial affairs — ranging from his contact with the Wedtech Corp., a New York defense contractor, to his involvement in a proposed $1 billion Iraqi pipeline project — have been under investigation by independent counsel James McKay.

The swirl of controversy around Meese has caused an exodus of top Justice Department officials. Two of them, William Weld and Arnold Burns, held a secret meeting with Reagan last week, during which they spelled out their concern that Meese's problems have crippled the Justice Department and eroded his ability to continue serving as the nation's top law enforcement officer.

Economic news appears good

This year's annual report of the Council of Economic Advisers published a few weeks ago didn't get as much attention in the media as it deserved. The reason, perhaps, is that it was so full of good news.

The U.S. economy continues to roll in the longest peacetime expansion, now in its sixth year. Since 1983, nearly 13 million new jobs have been created, five times as many as Japan came up with and nearly 100 times as many as West Germany, the economic powerhouse of Europe.

Unemployment has fallen from 10.6 percent in late 1982 to about 5.5 percent now. Sixty-two percent of working-age Americans hold jobs, up from 60 percent in 1985. Contrary to popular misconception, these new jobs are not primarily mental. The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that about half of them during the last 12 months were in the managerial and professional categories.

These skilled or managerial entry positions, in fact, pay more than $20,000 a year. Such employment has grown by an astonishing 21 percent since 1982, even as the slowest job growth was in such unskilled fields as food preparation and janitorial services. Nine-tenths of the new jobs are full-time and more than 80 percent of those in part-time work prefer that to full-time jobs.

The remarkable rate of job creation is generating a social revolution. Beryl Sprinkel, chairman of the council, points out that between 1982 and 1987 jobs grew at an average of 2.7 percent annually but increased 4.7 percent for blacks, 6.8 percent for Hispanics, and 8.2 percent for black teenagers. And while the unemployment rate was falling 5 percent for all Americans, it fell 8 percent for blacks, 7.1 percent for Hispanics, and 16.1 percent for black teenagers.

Women who made up 31 percent of the U.S. civilian labor force in 1954 increased their participation to 45 percent by 1987, as Mobile pointed out in a recent public-service message. Although men continue to outnumber women in higher-paying jobs, the number of female managers and professionals increased threefold during the last decade; the trend is altogether encouraging.

As might be expected, living standards have been rising steadily for the American family. Again, blacks are showing a larger increase than other groups. Their real income rose 15.5 percent per capita compared with 13.1 percent for whites and 7.6 percent for Hispanics.

A small discordant note is that real compensation per worker for the entire U.S. labor force fell 0.8 percent last year.

More significant, perhaps, the U.S. labor cost of producing and item—unit labor cost—has fallen during the last two years after following an upward curve for decades. American industrial production, which was static during the 1970s, has been improving since 1982. The share of manufacturing in gross national product, stable for the last 20 years, is now near its postwar peak of 23 percent and is, in fact, rising faster than GNP, thanks largely to an increase in exports.

It is not surprising that the political implications of all this are reflected in recent polls that indicate a great majority of Americans believe they have personally benefited during the Reagan years. The AYBO question—are you better off—looks very good just now for the Republicans in the 1988 election.

The bad news is that there are still terrible, threatening problems:

The large trade deficit, as the London Economist emphasizes, is "not from other countries unfair trading practices but from America's over-consumption." The country's unbalanced trade position and the federal deficit have sent the United States from being a net creditor of $106 billion in 1980 to being a net debtor of $377 billion in 1988. Unless we check our extravagant spending and consumption, we will spend ourselves into bankruptcy despite all of our heartening economic developments.

Dukakis shows knockout punch ability

By Joseph Mianowany
UPI Political Writer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The overwhelming support Michael Dukakis demonstrated in Pennsylvania Tuesday showed he should have little trouble putting away the presidential effort of Jesse Jackson, who failed in a crucial bid to sell his electrifying message far beyond a core support group.

Nonetheless, Jackson has likely succeeded in changing the tone of Democratic politics, at least for the 1988 election, and may force the party to deal with a myriad of liberal issues overlooked in recent years. In the process, some Democrats worry, Jackson could hurt as much as he could help.

The Pennsylvania battle — the first one-on-one showdown between the Massachusetts governor and the civil rights leader — was the culmination of a trend that has been building since a week after Jackson stunned the Democratic Party with a shocking defeat of Dukakis in the Michigan caucuses late last month.

Even though that victory came in a contest decided by a relatively tiny sampling of the state's voters, it — combined with several other surprising Jackson wins — granted him a legitimacy he had not enjoyed before and raised serious questions about Dukakis's ability to register a knockout punch in the convoluted Democratic presidential race.

It also allowed Jackson to claim that his message of hope for the economically disaffected was reaching far beyond his traditional black constituency.

However, in the key primaries that followed — from Wisconsin a week later to New York April 19 and finally to Tuesday's battle in Pennsylvania — Dukakis used a quiet but driven efficiency to not only win, but to do it in overwhelming fashion.

In Wisconsin, he accomplished it in a four-man field that included Sen. Paul Simon from neighboring Illinois and Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee. In New York, he had no trouble in a three-man race and finally, in Pennsylvania, he crushed Jackson in their first head-to-head battle.

For Dukakis, each of those wins appeared more impressive than the one before it, while for Jackson, each defeat more clearly showed that while he had made some inroads outside of black voters, he had not been effective enough.

Perhaps the most disturbing thing for Jackson was that his appeals to working class and poor people of all races to join his campaign had only limited success.

NBC News exit polls in Pennsylvania showed Dukakis won every demographic group except blacks, while Jackson received 93 percent of the black vote but just 12 percent of the white vote. Those figures indicated Jackson's white support had declined steadily since Wisconsin.

But by becoming a major player, Jackson focused attention on issues that might otherwise have been ignored and he, in a sense, has forced Dukakis to sing a similar tune.

Dukakis knows that in a general election battle against Vice President George Bush, he would need Jackson's black support — a loyal and consistently Democratic voting bloc. He can afford to do nothing to alienate that group.

America's history special?

WASHINGTON—Publication of The Rise and Fall of the Great Powers by Paul Kennedy of Yale University has resulted in an argument over whether America is special.

Norman Podhoretz, editor of Commentary, recently criticized Prof. Kennedy, saying "To Paul Kennedy, America represents nothing special in history." He faults Prof. Kennedy for allegedly over-emphasizing economic factors in the strength of a nation and neglecting "political, moral and ideological forces." The argument has a bearing on the nation's response to economic, foreign policy, and military challenges in the 1990s.

To someone not directly involved in the argument, the truth seems to be that the future of America will be shaped by all these factors. Mr. Podhoretz says that a nation can be "economically weak and yet command overwhelming military strength," as in the case of the Soviet Union. But the USSR is a country with two economies: the consumer economy, which is deprived, and the military-KGB economy, which has access to all the resources and skills in the Soviet Union. In the United states, strategic industries are deteriorating as the consumer economy is doing well.

Mr. Podhoretz fails to consider this strategic economic weakness of the United States, which impairs its ability to carry out its foreign commitments. Surely he is wrong when he says it's not true that "a nation's power is necessarily a function of its economic and technological resources." We live in a world of technology which is basic to national security.

Mr. Podhoretz is right in emphasizing political, moral and ideological forces. Unfortunately, America's strength has deteriorated in those areas as well. Prof. Kennedy, in a reply to Mr. Podhoretz, said:

There are areas in which the United States is, indeed, 'special' nowadays. It has transformed itself from being the world's greatest creditor nation to being the world's greatest debtor nation in the space of seven years, an all-time record. It has the world's largest trade deficit. Among the modern, capitalist democracies, it has unparalleled rates of homicide, divorce, drug abuse and inner-city poverty.

BEN WATTENBERG

Worst still to come

It is being said that the Soviet defeat in Afghanistan can be equated with the American loss in Vietnam: two superpowers that went too far, stayed too long and were driven out with their tails between their legs. There is some truth to that — and some critical differences.

Recall some facts: Vietnam fell more than two years after American troops left. While American troops were actually there, South Vietnam was a fairly stable place.

Not Afghanistan. The Soviet troops are there right now, under attack. Unlike Vietnam, it is superpower troops that are fleeing. The Soviet army lost, not their surrogates. It is the first Soviet defeat since World War II.

There is also a logistical difference. Americans were fighting 12,000 miles from home. The Soviets were fighting next door — as if the United States were fighting the Canadian province of Manitoba. The Soviets had an easier military task. Their defeat is therefore that much more telling.

The biggest differences concern geopolitics, the domestic situation and timing.

America didn't have a ring of conquered nations nearby, nor scores of nationalities within her borders, all yearning to be free. That's what the Soviets have in Eastern Europe and inside the Soviet Union. What message does Afghanistan send to those restive peoples? Might they be looking at Moscow and saying, "That dog won't hunt?" Perhaps. Remember: Even with a sure-fire Soviet military threat, there have been uprisings in Eastern Europe — in Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Within the Soviet Union we have seen nationalist sentiments expressed recently in Armenia and Kazakhstan. The Ukraine smolders. So do the Baltic states.

Domestically, America was in the midst of an economic boom during the Vietnam War. But the Soviet economy is a shambles, that's why Gorbachev is trying perestroika (restructuring) and glasnost (openness).

And there is timing. We already know what happened in the 15 years since Vietnam. We cut defense spending, but then raised it.

We backed off in some Third World spots as Soviet influence expanded, but now we are pushing back. We heard isolationist rhetoric, but our grand alliance is still intact. Our European allies went for missile deployment, forcing the Soviets into a treaty. American ships now patrol the Persian Gulf. We are the brokers in the Middle East. China looks toward America, not Russia. And all over the world the American cultural imperium is stronger than ever.

American movies, television, and music are everywhere. The 150 million VCRs in use today, including those in Iron Curtain countries, are pumped full of American tapes. Nations experiment with democracy and free markets. But in intellectual centers all over the world, the idea of communism has lost its luster.

Of course, it's not all been peaches. The ongoing intramural war in Congress about Nicaragua shows that the "No More Vietnams" syndrome in America remains potent.

WILLIAM RUSHER

Will 'news' tilt to the left?

It is a truism that during the past 30 years technology has vastly increased the influence of the media, especially television. By the judicious selection of what stories to cover and how to cover them, the news producers and editors of the major TV networks are able, as Richard M. Cohen (then senior producer of foreign news for the CBS Evening News) bragged last August, to "form and maintain" the "American consciousness" on any subject that strikes their fancy.

But technology is a soulless monster that will serve any master who knows how to command it, and the wonders of computer science have recently enabled the Media Research Center — a brilliant new conservative monitor of the antics of our liberal media — to compile a devastating list of just a few of the hot-eyed liberals currently infesting the heights of the journalistic profession. It doesn't take much imagination to visualize the job these adept propagandists will be in a position to do on "the American consciousness" between now and Election Day.

Since one has to start somewhere, we will begin with the American Broadcasting Co. Bear in mind that what follows is far from a roster of all the liberals working in that influential organization. This summary merely lists the current high-ranking employees of ABC whose names were tossed up by the Nexis Data-Retrieval System when it was asked to tag any who had a public record of working for some political cause. If you've noticed that the gumbo fed to you as political "news" on ABC in recent years had a funny taste, here may be some of the reasons why.

Near the very top of ABC sits David Burke, executive vice president of ABC News. He brings to that job the insights he acquired as chief of staff to Sen. Ted Kennedy from 1965 to 1971 and press secretary to New York's Democratic Gov. Hugh Carey thereafter.

Burke has a political soul mate in Jeff Gralnick, vice president of ABC News "for political coverage." Gralnick was press secretary to Sen. George McGovern in 1971.

Based in Atlanta, as chief of the Southern Bureau of ABC News, is Rex Granum. That should be convenient for keeping in touch with Jimmy Carter, whom Granum served as deputy press secretary.

JACK ANDERSON

Victim of U.S. plane gets only sympathy

By Jack Anderson
and Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON — On the morning of Dec. 4, 1983, an American fighter pilot bailed out of his crippled plane and splashed safely into the Mediterranean. He was lucky, but a family on the ground was not. The pilotless plane veered back over a coastal town in Lebanon and smashed into the home of Abdo Tabet.

The incident is a lingering reminder of the bungled U.S. air attack on Syria. Because of it, Tabet lost his wife and his home, but he has yet to receive anything more than condolences from the U.S. Navy.

Tabet was outside working his vegetable farm when the flaming A-7 Corsair speared the three-story house he had inherited from his father. Inside, Tabet's five children were still sleeping; his wife was fixing breakfast.

In a blinding flash, his house was blown to rubble and his family severely burned. Sixteen hours later, his wife died. One of his sons was left with no outer ear. The other children are scarred, their skin blackened. A gold bracelet melted on the wrist of his youngest daughter, Hyam.

The Tabets were not anti-American. They lived in Zouk Makayel, a pro-American, Christian town. And they expected the United States would help them recover.

But their trauma and loss were not noticed in the day's action. The U.S. plane that destroyed their home was one of two U.S. planes knocked down by the Syrians during the early morning raid which came in retaliation for a Syrian attack on U.S. reconnaissance planes. The U.S. raid was the first time since the Vietnam War that any American aircraft had been downed in combat. The headlines focused on American pilots who were killed or captured, not on the one who dropped safely into the sea, and not on the woman cooking breakfast and the children sleeping in Zouk Makayel.

Tabet didn't expect the U.S. government to compensate him for his emotional loss. But he figured it could compensate him for his monetary loss, which he estimated at $440,000 for damaged property, $29,150 for medical expenses and $56,000 in lost earnings.

Our associate Jim Lynch obtained a copy of the letter Tabet wrote to the White House explaining his predicament. "I couldn't estimate the damage of my great major loss, my wife's tenderness who is more valuable to me than the whole world's jewelries," he wrote. Then he asked for compensation for his material losses, "so as I may be able to re-support my family."

Six weeks after the accident, the U.S. Embassy in Beirut wrote back and told him there would be no compensation.

Tabet then wrote to the U.S. Navy's claim judge. But the judge said the United States didn't pay foreigners for damages arising from combat. Tabet could expect only apologies. "Please be assured of the sympathy ... in the loss of your wife and injury to your family," the judge wrote. "I am constrained by law, however, from rendering a more favorable reply."

As far as the Pentagon is concerned, the case of Abdo Tabet is closed. Last October, Rep. Lee Hamilton, D-Ind., inquired into the case, and a Defense Department judge sent a response that echoed the Navy's original conclusion. A Defense Department spokesman told us this month that there are no plans to reconsider.

Tabet can't afford a Washington law firm to plead his case. Instead, he has relied on the help of groups like the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee. "The government is playing hardball," said Albert Mokhiber, director of the committee's legal services. Mokhiber brought the case to the attention of Hamilton who chairs the House Subcommittee on Europe and the Middle East.

Tabet has rebuilt his house and still holds hope that the United States will decide to at least partially compensate his family for what it has endured. Mokhiber said he doubts the Pentagon will change its stance until public outcry forces it to.

Mulroney, Reagan stress cooperation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan and Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney today glossed over differences on acid rain and praised their cooperation on other fronts in a cordial start to two days of official talks.

Reagan rolled out the red carpet to welcome Mulroney, a fellow conservative, in remarks that made only passing reference to the touchy issue of acid rain, which Canada blames in large part on air pollution from the United States.

"Both our countries have made substantial progress in improving air quality," Reagan said during outdoor welcoming ceremonies at the White House. "More can be done on improving our environment, but make no mistake, we are moving."

Mulroney, sharply critical in the past of Reagan's go-slow approach to the acid rain problem, said only that the issue "remains a challenge for us" and avoided any public rebuke of the U.S. position.

"This, as you have said, is a problem for both of us," he told Reagan. "We must continue to work and we shall for an equitable solution to this challenge."

During a photo session at the start of an Oval Office meeting, Mulroney told reporters the two sides would "try to move along toward resolution of a very complicated trans-boundary problem."

A senior U.S. official later said Mulroney privately offered some ideas to Reagan on what a formal U.S.-Canadian agreement on acid rain might entail.

But the official, who said Tuesday there is little chance of such an agreement until Reagan leaves office—at least in the form sought by the Canadians—indicated the two leaders remain deadlocked in their approaches.

When asked for Reagan's response to the ideas from Mulroney, the official said, "We will look at them." Beyond that, the official said the well-known differences on acid rain "not only were not bridged, nobody tried to bridge them."

Their dispute over acid rain shoved aside, the two leaders focused attention on the new U.S.-Canadian Free Trade agreement and expressed confidence Congress and Parliament will approve legislation needed to implement it Jan. 1.

"We are unshackling our trading relationship to make our two countries more prosperous at home and more competitive abroad," he said, adding the pact will make the United States and its northern neighbor "the world class competitors we must be."

Reagan also gave Mulroney the assurences he had sought that there will be no obstacle from the United States if Canada turns to Britain for a planned purchase of 10 to 12 nuclear attack submarines.

The Trafalgar-class submarine being considered by the Canadians, unlike a competing French vessel, has a nuclear propulsion system based on American technology. Any transfer to a third country would require U.S. approval.

Reagan claims a lack of scientific consensus about the causes of acid rain and the means of prevention, and the U.S. official who spoke Tuesday on the condition of anonymity predicted no change of stance before he leaves office.

The Washington Post reported today that U.S. officials negotiating an international pollution pact in Geneva had rejected a Canadian-backed compromise on the U.S. discharge of nitrogen oxide, a contributing cause of acid rain. The Geneva talks were not mentioned in the Reagan-Mulroney talks, the U.S. official said.

Mulroney arrived in Washington late Tuesday, ready to speak to Reagan and Congress about what he sees as the U.S. failure to move decisively on reducing the air pollution blamed for 50 percent of the acid rain strangling streams, lakes, rivers, forests and fields in Canada.

Today's White House meeting was billed as Mulroney's last chance to plead with Reagan. At the same time, Reagan's lame-duck status and the rush of election-year politics dashed any expectations of action this year.

Since he took office, Mulroney has seen his political fortunes rise and fall on his policy of cordial relations with the United States in general and with Reagan in particular.

And while pressure to have that relationship bear fruit — at least in the eyes of Canadian voters — pushed Reagan to endorse a $5 billion five-year program to examine acid rain control measures, progress has been slow.

Martinez signs Stano death warrant, execution set May 19

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez signed death warrants Wednesday for three condemned murderers and prison officials set execution dates.

Gerald Eugene Stano is scheduled for execution at 7 a.m., Thursday, May 19. The death warrant is the second for the serial killer's two Volusia County murders.

Stano has been sentenced to die for the December 1975 murder of Susan Bickrest and the November 1977 death of Mary Kathleen Muldoon. His first execution was stayed by a circuit court in December 1986.

Stano has had two warrants signed in a separate Brevard County case.

Martinez also signed death warrants Wednesday for Alphonso Cave and Daniel Karr Johnson. Both are scheduled for execution at 7 a.m., Thursday, July 7.

Chrysler sales delay plant closing

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp., the nation's No. 3 automaker now embroiled in national labor talks with the United Auto Workers union, said today it will delay the closing of its Kenosha, Wis., plant until the end of the year as it boosts output at several plants because of strong sales.

The continued production of subcompact and large luxury cars at Kenosha and compact cars at its Jefferson Avenue plant in Detroit means those facilities will continue building their current products through the end of this year "unless there is a sudden change in the market outlook," company chairman Lee Iacocca said at a press conference Wednesday announcing Chrysler's first quarter earnings.

Chrysler announced first quarter profits of $183.7 million, down 31.8 percent from $269.4 million in the first quarter of 1987.

Net income per share amounted to 83 cents compared with $1.24 a share in the year-ago period. Worldwide sales rose 27.9 percent to nearly $7.71 billion from $6.03 billion.

Chrysler's St. Louis and Dodge City plant near Detroit will also benefit from the production increases, which will add about 110,000 cars and trucks to its output during the second half of this year, Iacocca said.

Despite the increases, Iacocca said production of its compact Dodge Aries and Plymouth Reliant K-cars now built in Detroit could still be consolidated in Mexico next year if demand for those cars remain strong after it introduces a new compact code named the A-car to be built at its plant in Newark, Del.

"This is a big flap over nothing," Iacocca said regarding reports this week that the decision had been made to move production to its plant in Toluca, where workers earn about $2.50 an hour.

"We are not moving any jobs to Mexico," he said, adding that any continued production of the K-car past 1988 would only mean more American jobs since a large percentage of parts are U.S. made.

He said building the K-cars along side he subcompact L-bodies to be moved from Kenosha next year, as the UAW has suggested, would be prohibitively expensive.

UAW Vice President Marc Stepp, the union's chief negotiator, warned last week that a growing list of problems in the talks could lead the union to break off bargaining possibly until the summer.

Negotiations between the two sides begain April 18 with the hope of reaching agreement long before the current pact expires Sept. 14 for at least 66,000 Chrysler workers. Both sides earlier had expressed hope of reaching an agreement within three weeks.

Last week, top UAW negotiators were outraged after Chrysler disclosed that Iacocca made nearly $18 million in salary, bonuses and stock options, calling it "an incredible ripoff of the company.

Iacocca was hard pressed to defend his remuneration, only saying that the bulk of his pay - $13.4 million in stock options - was realized because he was a company investor, not an employee.

"What should I do? Should I root for the stock to go down?" Iacocca asked reporters.

Chrysler said a one-time charge to cover the costs of previously announced plant closings in Chrysler's Acustar parts-making subsidiary resulted in a $93.1 million reduction in net earnings. Without this charge, earnings would have been $1.25 per share for the quarter that ended March 31.

Chrysler announced earlier this year it would sell or close four Acustar plants within 17 months instead of selling the entire subsidiary.

Study says homeless want work

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Most transients are only a helping hand away from financial stability and would prefer to stay in one place, a Florida State University researcher said Wednesday.

FSU professor Janet C. Barber conducted a study of homeless people aged 45 and over who came through the Tallahassee area during a recent 30-day period.

"They want employment, even the oldest we interviewed, who was 83 years old and too frail to work," Barber said. "Their priorities typically are to find some type of regular employment and then find a place to live."

But Barber says the one or two-night limit on stays in most Florida shelters hinders chances of finding regular employment. It forces the homeless on the road several times a week while trying to survive on low-paying mental work.

"Most of the people we interviewed had some kind of income, but it wasn't sufficient to let them have a permanent residence," Barber said, noting that one man in the study was living in a gas station bathroom in exchange for keeping it clean.

Most of those interviewed had lost a job within the previous year and were unable to pay rent. Barber praised programs that provide a residence for a short period of time so the homeless can get on their feet and try to find a job.

This year the governor has proposed increasing Florida's budget for homeless programs to $1.5 million. The Legislature is considering sums in excess of $5 million to begin funding local homeless coalition initiatives.

"Everyone we talked to wanted to get out of the situation," Barber said. "They were not resigned to living without a permanent residence."

Estimates of the homeless population often are based on the number of people seeking public or private shelter. In Florida, that number is about 10,000 a day. But Barber believes twice as many are on the streets.

Barber works with the FSU Center for the Study of Population.

N. Ireland violence continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — The outlawed Irish Republican Army Wednesday claimed responsibility for killing the second British soldier in 24 hours in Northern Ireland's continuing anti-British violence.

At the same time, about 3,000 government workers ended a 24-hour strike after a left-wing extremist group withdrew a threat to kill Social Security fraud investigators.

Only Department of Health and Social Security workers in Londonderry city, where the strike began, remained off the job. But union officials said they were expected to vote later today to return to work.

In a statement issued in Belfast, the IRA said it set off a remote-controlled bomb that killed a 20-year-old British soldier at the Londonderry county village of Carrickmore late Tuesday. Two other members of the foot patrol were wounded.

The blast followed the shooting death earlier Tuesday of an off-duty, part-time militiaman of the Ulster Defense Regiment about 20 miles away. The IRA, fighting to end British rule in the province and unite it with the Irish Republic, also claimed that killing.

The province's social welfare system was virtually shut down Tuesday when the Irish National Liberation Army, a Marxist splinter of the IRA, issued death threats against welfare fraud investigators. Welfare workers responded with an immediate protest strike.

The freeze on welfare payouts for 200,000 people so angered the public that INLA was forced to withdraw the death threats within hours.

INLA claimed a major fraud crackdown was under way to uncover people illegally collecting unemployment benefits while holding off-the-books jobs in Londonderry, Northern Ireland's second largest city, 85 miles northwest of Belfast. INLA said any fraud investigators brought in from outside would be identified and shot.

Londonderry's 260 welfare workers immediately walked out on strike.

Trade bill passes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a landmark trade reform bill designed to reinstate America as a leader in world commerce, but President Reagan, who opposes one provision, says he will veto it.

Although the Senate adopted the measure by a comfortable margin Wednesday, the 63-36 vote demonstrated there would not be enough strength to override the president's certain veto, greatly reducing chances for trade legislation this year.

U.S. Trade Representative Clayton Yeutter said on NBC's "Today" program today there could be a trade bill if the Democrats act immediately after Reagan's veto.

"It looks to me as if the veto will probably take place the week after next because the Senate is out next week," Yeutter said. "If the Democratic leadership wants to, it can send a bill back in days after that veto."

Only one Democrat, Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin, voted against the trade bill because it would relax the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act.

Year-long amnesty period for illegal immigrants ends May 4

MIAMI (UPI) — Illegal immigrants seeking to live legally in the United States at the end of a yearlong amnesty period are causing "last-minute hysteria" among lawyers and federal officials.

"We're going crazy," said attorney Bernard Perlmutter, who has represented applicants from Legal Services of Greater Miami. "There's all this last-minute hysteria."

The immigrants have until May 4 to legalize their status, which could eventually result in citizenship. They must pay a $185 application fee and bring documents showing they have lived in the United States continuously for more than six years.

Officials predicted between 2 million and 4 million aliens would apply, although only 1.6 million have applied so far. The response has been less than expected, but officials are feeling the pressure.

"In the last couple of weeks, it's started to become tense," said Mike Rodriguez, of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Fort Lauderdale. "There are enough people, but it makes it difficult to give people information and process it."

Although the House of Representatives voted to extend the filing deadline for six months, the effort faces an uncertain future in the Senate.

Since last May, 101,087 people have applied in Florida. The last-minute rush has resulted in 600 to 700 new applications daily.

Disabled submarine under tow; cause of 3 deaths unknown

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The USS Bonefish, an attack submarine crippled by a series of explosions that also killed three crewmen, was being towed today by a Navy salvage ship toward its home port in South Carolina.

The USS Hoist began pulling the diesel-powered submarine Wednesday afternoon, proceeding slowly northwestward from off Florida, where the accident occurred Sunday, said Lt. Cmdr. Aaron Long, an Atlantic Fleet spokesman in Norfolk.

The Navy expects transit to Charleston, S.C., take two to four days. No final decisions have been made regarding repairs to the 29-year-old submarine, which is based in Charleston, Long said.

The bodies of the three dead crewmen were found in the Bonefish early Wednesday, but the causes of their deaths was not known. Two bodies were found inside the control room and a third in an administrative compartment, Navy officials said.

Leaders gloss over dispute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After almost four years of bilateral bickering, President Reagan and Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney appear resigned to treating their dispute over acid rain as an agreement to disagree.

Public words that had sharpened in recent years to charge U.S. inaction were softened Wednesday as Mulroney prodded Reagan a final time while making clear that his own hope for a change in American policy now rests with Congress and the next administration.

Today, having been feted at a formal state dinner Wednesday night, the prime minister and his wife, Mila, were invited back to the White House for lunch with the president and his wife, Nancy, before an evening return to Ottawa.

At home Mulroney will not be able to claim tangible progress on acid rain. If anything, he and Reagan reaffirmed their political deadlock, but they did so while trying not to allow that disagreement to sour bilateral relations.

Army report says Israeli girl killed by armed escort

JERUSALEM (UPI) — An army report says a Jewish teenager was killed accidentally by an armed escort who showed a "lack of caution" during a clash between Israeli hikers and Palestinians earlier this month.

An official army report on the April 6 killing was released in Jerusalem Wednesday, the same day Israeli troops killed two guerrillas who slipped into Israel from Lebanon and wounded a civilian truck driver.

The border incident occurred one day after three Arab guerrillas and two Israeli soldiers died in a clash in the same area, the army said.

Military officials told state-run Israel Radio that documents found on the guerrillas killed Wednesday indicated they intended to take hostages and demand the release of Palestinian prisoners held in Israeli jails.

U.S. in talks with Noriega

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — A senior U.S. State Department official who met twice with Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega last week secretly flew to Panama for more talks amid reports the Reagan administration may soften demands for Noriega's departure, sources said.

The reported Wednesday arrival of Michael Kozak, a deputy to Assistant Secretary of State Elliott Abrams, came as police raided the offices of opposition activists on the eve of a planned demonstration today by the anti-government Civic Crusade.

Prosecutors said they had uncovered a "plot to subvert public order" and ordered the arrests of an unspecified number of opposition organizers.

Government television said police had seized photocopiers and subversive leaflets.

Troops sent to New Caledonia

NOUMEA, New Caledonia (UPI) — More than 200 French marines were flown to New Caledonia to help put down an uprising by Melanesian separatists holding 23 French hostages, including a judge and the leader of an elite anti-terrorist squad.

The French judge and seven policemen were taken hostage Wednesday as they tried to negotiate the release of 15 officers captured last week by tribesmen demanding independence from France, authorities said.

The captures came as authorities announced between 220 and 250 French marines were being sent to New Caledonia to control the latest uprising that began last week.

Officials said Wednesday the marines left their base at Nantes, France, and were flying directly to New Caledonia. The troops, from the marine infantry division, DIMA, are members of a rapid deployment group specially formed for action in France's overseas territories.

them. He would also steal jewelry. He would typically treat himself to a soft drink or a beer and food before leaving the home.

Except in the apartment robbery, in all the Seminole County cases, the burglar cut telephone lines before entering the home. Walthers said that was also done in other counties.

The cat burglar stole a car in Paola, but discareded it about a quarter-of-a-mile away from the burglarized home. It is believed he fled in a waiting vehicle. He stole a Bronco in Forest City that has yet to be recovered although the vehicle's license plates have been found. An all-terrain vehicle was stolen at the same time as the Bronco.

Balliet is believed to have traveled by interstate to the areas he hit and would flee in a stolen car, Walthers said.

Except for about $6,000 in jewelry taken in the apartment burglary, and other than the vehicles, Davison said, the ca burglar's haul in Seminol County totaled only about $500.

Walthers said in local cases lawmen were not able to find fingerprints at burglary scenes that could help link the cases to Balliet. However, he said the methods of operation are those attributed to him and victims who saw the burglar have reportedly named Balliet as the same person.

that time he would have continued to receive his bi-weekly paycheck until all compensatory time owed him was used up.

DeMarie, part-time city manager of Florida City, is scheduled to work in Longwood one or two days beginning next week, pending commission approval of his contract, and assume the position of city administrator full time in mid-May.

"The new administrator indicated he was part of the new administration and basically would like to pick his own police chief, but I won't quit," Manning said. "I'm going to stay and fight using every resource available to keep my job."

According to Terry's letter, Manning's future evaluations will not involve the events which led to the findings, conclusions and disciplinary action, but he will be accountable for any other management or law enforcement matters which were not involved in these proceedings. During the six-month probationary period he will be eligible for any general wage increases granted to all other department heads on an across-the-board basis, but eligibility for a merit increase will be at the city administrator's discretion.

During his porbation, Manning does not have the rights given Baker, who will be entitled to grievance or appeals procedures and permitted to utilize the usual Police Review Board procedure in case of any disciplinary action. In Baker's case, disciplinary action must be based on violations of city rules or policies—not on arbitrary or capricious reasons, according to Terry's written statement.

Manning is concerned that he could be dismissed for no reason without the right to appeal.

After reviewing and considering the April 19 advisory decision of the Police Review Board that the evidence did not sustain charges against Manning and Baker, and other pertinent information, Terry said he still adheres to his original findings and conclusions spelled out in his April 14 letter.

In determining what final disciplinary action to take, Terry said he considered Manning's "lengthy period of service, inaction of previous city administrators and commissions and other relevant matters."

He said Manning took the option of using a week of his vacation pay in lieu of the suspension. In view of the reduction in Manning's penalty, Terry said Baker, who had previously taken vacation time instead of the five days' suspension without pay, will have has vacation time restored, but will still be on probation for six months. Baker's continuation in the rank of captain will be based on whether the rank continues to exist in the Longwood Police Department and the decision of whomever is the police chief at the time, not on the events which pre-dated his reinstatement, Terry said.

Terry said Friday will be Richard Beary's last day as Longwood's acting chief and Baker will serve in that capacity until Manning resumes his position as chief. Baker returned to work Monday at his same rank and pay.

Beary had been on loan from the Altamonte Springs Police Department since Manning was suspended with pay on Feb. 22.

Terry said the two officers have the right to appeal his disciplinary action to the city commission.

Manning's former secretary, Val Hockenberry, who was suspended with pay along with Manning and Baker for mismanaging funds, was transferred by Terry to the Public Works Department with a six-month probationary period. She has requested a hearing before an in-house grievance board made up of three city employees.

Terry said he is reviewing Hockenberry's case as a result of his action regarding the two police officers and will have a decision early next week whether to change her status. He said he purposely delayed action in her case until after the final decision was made in the case of the two officers.

Terry said, in spite of the police review board's 3-2 vote, he still feels the employees are guilty of mismanagement of police funds and failure to keep proper records.

In spite of statements by a few former city officials that they had no objection to the Longwood Police Benevolent Fund being treated by Manning and other police department employees as a private fund, Terry said, Manning and Baker owed the city an obligation to make certain the fund was administered in such a manner as to avoid the appearance of impropriety, but didn't do it.

Terry denied an accusation by William Barfield, the lawyer representing Manning and Baker during the hearing, that Manning did not receive warnings or counseling prior to his suspension. "You most assuredly received adequate notice of the nature of the charges against you," Terry told Manning in Wednesday's letter.

"I wanted to make sure I acted correctly in Manning's case and I think being returned to duty with a six-month probation is appropriate," he said.

Terry also disputed Barfield's contention that the personnel code Manning was accused of violating didn't became effective until June 1, 1987. He said that not only did the Police Benevolent Fund continue in full effect after June 1, 1987, but that prohibitions under the Sept. 21, 1981 policy were the same as the type of conditions under which he was charged.

Inefficiency, negligence and conduct injurious to the city are listed as reasons for dismissal, Terry said.

Barfield, who was present Wednesday when Manning and Baker were told by Terry of his decision, said he would be responding to the city in writing on behalf of his clients.

How to play lotto, CASH 3

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Here is an explanation of how to play the Lottery Department's new on-line computer games, CASH 3 and lotto.

CASH 3 tickets cost either 50 cents or $1 dollar. A winning $1 ticket will pay twice as much as a 50 cent winner.

To play, go to any on-line retailer and select any three numbers from 000 to 999. If those match the numbers drawn by lottery officials that night, you win.

There are five different ways you can place your bet, with different odds and winnings for each type. In the "straight play", the highest-paying CASH 3 play, you bet your numbers will be drawn in the order you picked them.

If you picked 1-2-3, the numbers drawn must come up 1-2-3, in that order. A $1 winning bet on the straight play will win $500; a 50 cent straight play will win $250.

The odds of winning a straight play are 1 in 1,000. Odds on the other types of play range from 1 in 1,000 up to 6 in 1,000, with prizes from $40 up to $330.

The winning numbers will be drawn each night using a ping-pong ball blower machine. The drawings will be televised at 7:57 p.m. EDT.

CASH 3 winnings can be collected from any CASH 3 retailer.

When you play Lotto, you first get a play slip containing five play panels from the retailer. You can play one or all of the panels, at a cost of $1 per panel.

Use a black or blue pen or a pencil to mark out six numbers in each panel. The numbers range from 1 to 49. If three, four, five or all six of the numbers you picked match up with those drawn by lottery officials at each Saturday night, you win.

The amount you win will be determined by how many people played that week, and how many other winners there were in your category.

The Lottery Department will put half of the money it brings in each week into the prize pool. A grand prize winner, that is, someone who matches all six numbers, will collect half that winning pool, plus any grand prize money not collected in prior weeks.

If, for example, 2 million lotto tickets were sold the first week, $1 million would go into the winners pool. If two people matched all six numbers, they would divide half that pool for a prize of $250,000.

It is very unlikely, however, that there will be two grand prize winners the same week. The odds of matching all six numbers are 13,983,816 to 1.

Because unclaimed grand prizes carry over, the grand prize will grow very quickly. The United States' record lotto award exceeded $40 million.

Lotto players who match five numbers will divide 13 percent of the winning pool. Players who match four numbers divide 19 percent, and those who match three numbers will divide 18 percent.

The odds of winning a second place prize are 54,200.8-4 to 1; of winning third place, 1,032.4 to 1; and of winning fourth place, 56.66 to 1. Overall, the odds of winning a prize are 53.66 to 1.

To collect your prize, first get your ticket validated by any lotto retailer. The retailer will immediately pay any prize of up to $599.

Prizes of over $599 must be collected from one of the department's regional offices, in person or through the mail. Grand prizes of more than $1 million will be paid out in equal annual payments over a 20-year period.

Lotto drawings will be held each Saturday night at 10:58 p.m.

Judge threatens Iran-Contra dismissal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal judge presiding over the Iran-Contra legal action warned Wednesday the case could be dismissed unless problems involving the access to classified documents and immunized testimony are resolved.

In a contentious pretrial hearing, U.S. District Judge Gerhard Gesell reiterated his concern about the treatment of classified documents and independent prosecutor Lawrence Walsh's exposure to immunized testimony given to Congress.

Gesell is hearing the case against former national security adviser John Poindexter, his former White House aide Lt. Col. Oliver North, and two of North's private operatives in the Iran-Contra scandal — retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Richard Secord and his business partner, Albert Hakim.

Report: Cowboys' sale imminent

DALLAS (UPI) — Billionaire Denver oilman Marvin Davis is close to purchasing the Dallas Cowboys, a Dallas newspaper reported today.

The Dallas Morning News said in a copyright story that Davis is negotiating to purchase 100 percent of the Cowboys from a partnership led by H.R. "Bum" Bright.

"I think they already have cut a deal," a source close to the negotiations told The News.

3A-6 track runs tonight

Seminole chases twin titles

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

WINTER PARK — Tonight will be Seminole High School's first look at class 3A competition as they compete in the 3A-6 District Championships at Showalter Field. Both the boys and girls team look like strong contenders so Seminole could come home with twin district titles.

Field events and running prelims start at 4:30 with finals at 7:30. The top four individuals from each event and top four relays advance to next weeks' region meet at the University of Florida.

Seminole dropped down to 3A this season after the girls team won two straight titles on the 4A level. The boys team also won consecutive state crowns in 4A in 1985 and '86.

The Lady Seminoles have the talent to win the Class 4A title this season but the move down in class will actually make the third title a little tougher to achieve. Many of the top athletes in the state are competing in Class 3A.

Shownda Martin and Dorchelle Webster have more than made a name for themselves in their years at Seminole with Michelle Pearson, Adrian Hillsman, Chineta Gilchrist, Nadrian McGill, Yolonda Baker and LaShon Cash adding strong support.

Webster has Florida's fastest times in both the 110 yard high hurdles and the 330 yard low hurdles. She signed with Florida a few weeks back. Martin, Florida's fastest female in the half mile will also be in the spotlight as she owns the state's best time and ranks high in the mile.

TRACK/FIELD

The Lady Seminoles also own the state's fastest time in the mile relay powered by Webster, Baker, Hillsman and Martin.

Pearson, one of Seminole County's top hurdlers, adds depth behind Webster. Pearson hasn't been in the limelight but has been a steady force in the 110s and adds more depth as she runs on the 440 relay team.

The boys squad will look to pick up points in the field events and perform well in both relays. Lewis Butler has the best effort in the triple jump for 3A competitors and has gone against the state's best all season. Walter Hopson also has the best effort in the high jump, clearing 6-8, in 3A to add some depth for the Tribe.

Alan Seward will be going after both hurdle events as he is beginning to peak at the right time. Seward was the Seminole Athletic Conference winner in both hurdles and will look forward to a challenge with Oviedo's Karl Wright in tonight's matchup.

Steve Warren will add strength in the sprints as he is one of the Tribe's top 440 and 220 runners. Freshman George Frison has come on as of late and won the 220 in the SAC meet with an impressive time of 22.7.

Robert Moore will also give Seminole help as he will compete in both the long and triple jumps. Kyle Faulkner will be in the high jump also and has cleared 6-2 this season, and could bring home some big points for Seminole.

Seminole's George Frison crossed the finish line in the 220 days. Frison hopes to help Seminole to a district title tonight at Showalter Field in Winter Park. The 3A-6 District meet begins with field events at 4:30 with running finals at 7:30.

Oviedo has two athletes capable of reaching next week's regional in Wright, who is listed among the state's best in both hurdle events and the 100 meters and Brian Wilson has also come a long way this season and cleared 6-4 in the high jump in the SAC to take second place. The Lady Lions have one of the top 3A high jumpers in Suzanne Hughes.

Baseball: Oviedo vs. Seminole

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

KISSIMMEE — Oviedo and Seminole will hook up in what promises to be a great baseball game in the class 3A-6 District Tournament semifinals to be played at the Osceola County Stadium. Orlando Edgewater and Kissimme Osceola will play in the first game at 5 with Seminole and Oviedo following.

Oviedo (15-8) finished tied for second in the Seminole Athletic Conference and beat Seminole twice during the season. Seminole (11-15) won just one SAC game but played most every team tough, Oviedo especially.

"Oviedo has two one run victories over us this season and both games were well played," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said. "We'll have to take advantage of every opportunity and not make any mental errors in this game. I'm expecting a close game and whoever executes should come out on top."

In the last meeting between the two schools Oviedo used four Seminole errors to build up a 7-1 lead, entering the final inning. The Tribe, though, battled back and scored five runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, with the tying run on third base, give the Lions a scare.

"We picked up some confidence when we came back on them (Oviedo) like that," Ferrell said. "We're expecting to face Alan Greene, we faced him once already this season and he was on and really did a nice job against us."

Seminole will be pitching Jeff Blake and in the first game with Oviedo Blake and Greene were opposite each other with Oviedo claiming a 1-0 victory.

"That was a real tight game," Ferrell said. "Jeff Blake was picked off first and our next hitter ripped the ball down the right field line, if Jeff hadn't been picked off he would have scored easily."

With that in mind, Ferrell concentrated his past few practices on base running and what to look for against the Lions squad. Ferrell's troops stole 13 bases against Jones Tuesday night and will hope to keep running against Oviedo.

"Our base running seems to be the thing that gets us going," Ferrell said. "When we're able to run, our hitting becomes better and everything seems to fall in place."

"In our first game with Oviedo we lost a base runner and that turned out to be a big difference," Ferrell said. "We don't want to make that mistake again and go out and play good baseball."

Seminole has been playing well since its last meeting with Oviedo and hopes to continue in tonights matchup. Ferrell knows for his team to win, they must continue to do the three things that have got them this far in the district tournament.

"We have to keep hitting, pitching and fielding well," Ferrell said. "If we have a lapse in any of those area's we'll be in trouble. Oviedo is a very good team and will capitalize on those type of mistakes, so we can not afford to give them anything."

Twins add to Orioles' woes

BASEBALL

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — The Baltimore Orioles should gain 24 fans the moment they leave town.

The Minnesota Twins seem sympathetic, even though they've beaten the Orioles twice in two nights and will try again today.

"We went through a whole season like this," Twins third baseman Gary Gaetti said Wednesday night after Minnesota extended Baltimore's losing streak to a record-tying 20 games with a 7-6 victory. "The pitchers didn't pitch, the hitters didn't hit or they never did it at the same time."

That's what's happening to the Orioles, who tied the 1906 Red Sox and 1916 and '43 Philadelphia A's for most consecutive American League losses. One night after squandering some solid pitching, Baltimore scored six runs but allowed seven.

Kent Hrbek and Tim Laudner greeted reliever Bill Scherrer, 0-1, with consecutive homers in the eighth, snapping a 4-4 tie and pulling the Orioles within three decisions of the modern major-league mark of 23, held by the 1961 Philadelphia Phillies.

"If I ever had a worse game in my life I don't know what it was," said Scherrer. "You've got 24 guys on a team and I'm sure everyone feels it (when you lose) but when you're the pitcher, it feels worse."

"When they're out on the field it's not their record that matters," Anderson said. "They don't care what my record is, I don't care what theirs is."

Gaetti agreed. He recalled the 1982 season, when the Twins finished 67-95, 31 games out of first place. He said several factors can conspire to keep a club on the skids.

"Sometimes it's just the rotation," he said. "You seem not to miss the aces, or you run into the team that's hot, or then you have to go on the road. Sometimes you run into a team that's due. Sometimes it can seem insurmountable.

"They've gone through a lot of changes. You can see it in some of their plays, when people run into each other or don't know how much ground each other can cover."

Baltimore nearly tied the score in the ninth. Cal Ripken and Eddie Murray singled home runs to make it 7-6 but Fred Lynn grounded out to end the game.

"We're encouraged but we're not looking for encouragement, we're looking for wins," Baltimore Manager Frank Robinson said. "What I am proud about is they battled. They didn't give up and they battled right until the end."

Robinson then blamed himself for the loss.

"Maybe I didn't give them a real chance to win it in the eighth inning," he said. "I don't think I did a good managing job in the eighth inning."

Robinson refused to give details, but no one quarrelled with his decision to let a left-hander, Scherrer, open the eighth. Perhaps Robinson was second-guessing himself for not pinch-running for Larry Sheets in the top of the inning. Sheets was thrown out on a strikeout double-play to close the eighth.

Baltimore also lost left fielder Jeff Stone with a middle finger injury suffered as he was thrown out trying to steal third.

"He's got a dislocated finger," Robinson said. "It's going to be pretty sore. It's on his throwing hand, too. So I would think he'll probably have to be (placed on the disabled list)."

Just about everything the Orioles do draws sympathy. And the Twins will show some, just as soon as this series ends.

4A-9: Rams face Creek; Pats take on Lyman

Brantley, Mary hope to lock horns for title in what would be third meeting of season

Randy Green takes a rip in a game earlier this year. Green may get the pitching start tonight at Lake Brantley faces Lyman in the semifinals of the District 4A-9 Tournament at Conrad Park in DeLand.

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — Lake Mary's Rams and Lake Brantley's Patriots may be on a collision course for a third meeting of the season, but they first must get by underrated but talented teams in tonight's semifinals of the 4A-9 District Tournament at Conrad Park.

At 5:30 p.m., Lake Mary (20-6) takes on Spruce Creek's Hawks. The Rams have lost twice to the Creek this season but it will be tough for the Hawks to pull a third upset. Aaron Iatarola (5-0) will be on the mound for Lake Mary.

At 7:30, Lake Brantley (21-7) takes on Lyman's Greyhounds (14-12). The Patriots own two victories over the 'Hounds but Lyman is capable of beating anyone if it gets consistent pitching. Brantley could pitch either Randy Green or Greg Ebbert while Lyman will go with either Jim Lucas or Matt Pedrotty.

BASEBALL

Lake Mary opened the tournament with a 2-0 victory over Daytona Beach Mainland in which it managed only six hits. Spruce Creek edged Lake Howell, 4-3, in the first round with the winning run scoring on a bases-loaded walk.

Lyman came back from a 4-1 deficit to defeat DeLand, 5-4, on Tuesday, knocking off the defending district champion. Lucas started the game, but pitched to only three batters so he will be ready if called on tonight. Pedrotty has pitched well all year as he leads the county in earned run average and his last outing was a one-hitter against Trinity Prep.

Lake Brantley, which drew a first-round bye and plays its first tournament game tonight, is looking to get back to the district finals for the second year in a row. Last year, the Patriots upset Lake Mary in the semifinals, then were routed by DeLand in the finals.

Brantley would like nothing better than to get another shot at Lake Mary. The Patriots lost twice to the Rams during the regular season and it was the only two losses suffered by ace lefthander Ebbert who won 10 games on the year.

Lake Mary certainly wouldn't mind playing the Patriots again. Coach Allen Tuttle said the Rams are confident no matter who they play at this point. Lake Mary has won 14 of its last 16 games.

The winners of the semifinal games will meet Friday night at 7 at Conrad Park. The district champion goes on to play the District 10 winner (Orange County) this coming Tuesday.

What looms on horizon for popular redfish?

Many salt water anglers are concerned about the current closure on redfish. What looms on the horizon for this popular species of fish?

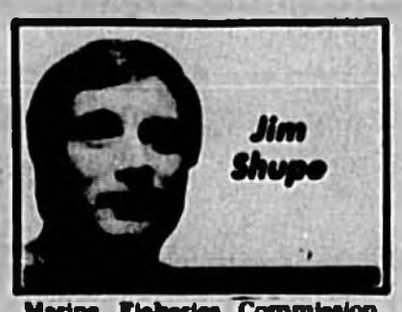
The Florida Marine Fisheries Commission began the development of management plans for redfish during a week-long meeting in Tampa last week. The Commission received a great deal of public testimony and scientific information on red drum and voted to consider three alternative rule proposals during a final public hearing at the Commission's next regularly scheduled meeting in July.

One alternative would establish a size limit of 18 to 27 inches for red drum, set a daily bag limit of one fish per person with no closed season, and allow sale of red drum during the month of February under a 200 pound per vessel daily bag limit for commercial fishermen, provided only trammel nets or hook and line gear are used. A five day grace period to allow sale of red drum after the commercial season closes would also apply, and red drum would be considered as a "restricted species," which would require fishermen harvesting above the recreational bag limit to have a special endorsement on their salt water products license. This rule would be in effect for only one year after passage to allow the Commission an opportunity to evaluate the rule's impacts.

A second alternative would prohibit all sale of redfish, and establish a size limit of 18 to 27 inches and set a daily bag limit of one fish per person with no closed season. A third alternative would continue the current state-wide closure to all harvest of red drum.

All three plans would exceed the Commission's stated goal of achieving at least a 30 percent escapement to allow a spawning stock biomass of at least 30 percent.

Fishermen and conservationists expect a battle royal at the July meeting of the Florida



Marine Fisheries Commission. Commercial fishing interests are expected to put up strong resistance to keep redfish on the market.

The proverbial handwriting is on the wall for the redfish. One only has to look at other coastal states such as Texas, where red drum populations were hopelessly decimated by unrestricted commercial fishing. Texans took strong action, declared redfish a gamefish, and pursued an active re-stocking program. Thanks to these positive measures, redfish are once again plentiful on Texas flats.

We can only watch and wait while the future of the redfish hangs in the balance. Let's hope that the Marine Fisheries Commission takes a look to the future and prohibits the sale of this great gamefish.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

Fishing is in a transitional period as fresh water action slows down with the increasing heat and salt water fishing improves with the calmer weather. Why not change with the seasons and try the salty species?

FISHING FORECAST

Rick Rawlins at Highland Park Fish Camp reports that bass are schooling in Lake Woodruff early in the morning and late in the afternoon. Bream and catfish are rated as good, while speck fishing is over for the year. A few good bass are still being caught in the lilly pad fields of Lakes Dexter and Woodruff.

Dell Abernethy at Osteen Bridge Fish Camp said that some bass are schooling in the cut. When the bass are not on the top, use a plastic worm or a shiner on the bottom to pick up some bigger fish. Bream and catfish are biting all over the river, including the pilings of the new bridge. A few straggler specks are being caught, but for the most part, the season is over for this species. With the dropping water level, look for more bass to be concentrated in the main river channel.

Snook are still strong at Sebastian Inlet, with most anglers at least hooking some fish. Most of the snook are on the small side, under 14 pounds, but what they lack in size they make up for in fighting ability and edibility. One-ounce jigs are the standby, while lures such as the Maverick account for many fish. Some bluefish and seatrout are also being caught by snook anglers.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral repris that some fishermen are loading the boat with dolphin. Most of the fish are coming from water over 200' deep, but some good catches have been made in 130' of water. Skirted Ballyhoo or strips are accounting for most of the dolphin. Quite a few wahoo are also being caught, with most of the fish running under 30 pounds. Inside the buoy line, action is slow, with only a few tripletail and Spanish mackeral being caught. Sheepshead, bluefish, and flounder are keeping anglers busy inside the Port, while trout are improving daily in the Banana and Indian Rivers. Fish the flats with gold spoons or topwater plugs for some fast action.

Big bluefish are stealing the show at the New Smyrna jetties. The north tip of the north jetties is the hot spot, while the big blues are hitting any type of lure that vaguely resembles a baitfish. The beach side of the south jetties is producing a lot of flounder for fishermen who bounce finger mullet across the hard sand bottom.

Conn. frontons lose licenses

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — The state suspended the licenses of Connecticut's two active jai alai frontons Wednesday because of violence and vandalism as striking players picketed over the weekend.

At its regular monthly meeting, the state Gaming Policy Board unanimously voted to suspend the licenses of Bridgeport Jai Alai and Berenson's Hartford Jai Alai.

The move came a day after state officials closed the frontons because of fear for public safety, causing the cancellation of a performance in Bridgeport.

But one of the frontons won a small victory Wednesday when a Superior Court judge in Bridgeport judge issued a temporary restraining order restricting players' picketing of the Bridgeport fronton.

The order was issued against the International Jai Alai Players Association, which went on strike at two frontons in Connecticut and others in Rhode Island and Florida April 14, demanding recognition of their union.

The restraining order, issued by Superior Court Judge Burton Jacobson, prevents players from entering Bridgeport Jai Alai, threatening any fronton employees and limits picketers to five per gate.

Ed Harrigan, a spokesman for the state Department of Special Revenue, said the restraining order would not have much of an effect on the strike.

"Nobody's playing, nobody's there, there are no pickets, there are no patrons," Harrigan said.

Brigeport Jai Alai spokesman Bob Beslove said the fronton would now request permission from the state to reopen immediately because the restraining order would eliminate problems on the picket line.

McEnroe rips Connors

ATLANTA (UPI) — John McEnroe, insisting he can return to the top of tennis, Wednesday night beat Jimmy Connors 7-5, 6-1 in the opening round of the $500,000 AT&T Challenge.

McEnroe, attempting a comeback after a seven-month layoff, used a powerful serve and crisp groundstrokes. He fired nine aces and outplayed Connors from the baseline in the 1-hour, 42-minute match.

In other matches in the round-robin tournament, Sweden's Stefan Edberg beat Yugoslavia's Slobodan Zivojinovic 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 and Czechoslovakia's Ivan Lendl defeated Sweden's Mikael Pernfors 6-3, 6-3.

McEnroe was playing on clay for the first time since being upset by Horacio de la Pena in the first round of the 1987 French Open. McEnroe, a former No. 1 ranked No. 15 in the world, won the Japan Open two weeks ago for his first Grand Prix title since October 1986.

"My goal is to be the best player in the world," he said. "I still believe I can do it but I know it's going to be a long shot. You have to be confident to come back. Tennis is a very mental game."

McEnroe wore down Connors "psychologically and a little bit physically," with backhand drop volleys the 35-year-old American could not reach. Connors, behind some stinging service returns, jumped ahead 3-1 in the first set before McEnroe evened the match with a delicate drop volley. Another drop volley gave McEnroe the first set and he overwhelmed Connors in the second.

The fun begins: NBA playoffs start tonight

United Press International

The NBA postseason, a two-month dance that usually ends in Boston or Los Angeles, begins Thursday in Detroit, Chicago, Dallas and Portland.

The Central Division champion Pistons open against the Washington Bullets, while Michael Jordan and the Bulls host the Cleveland Cavaliers. In the West, Dallas faces the Houston Rockets in the first all-Texas playoff matchup in seven years and Portland will attempt to overcome its regular-season jinx against the Utah Jazz.

On Friday, the Celtics open the best-of-five first round against the New York Knicks and the Lakers host the San Antonio Spurs. The Atlanta Hawks host the Milwaukee Bucks and the Denver Nuggets meet the Seattle SuperSonics in the other conference quarterfinals.

The playoffs always produce their share of surprises, but the betting line in Las Vegas favors the Lakers and then the Celtics to win the title. And with good reason.

The two teams hold one of the best edges in the postseason — experience. They have met in the finals three of the last four years and this season they posted the best records in their respective conferences. Los Angeles finished the year at 62-20 and the Celtics at 57-25.

However, experience also brings along age and there are plenty of young legs in the 16-team field ready to knock off the old war horses.

Let the postseason begin.

Detroit vs. Washington

The Detroit Pistons will most likely open without power forward Rick Mahorn. The 6-foot-10, 260-pound ex-Washington Bullet is suffering from a bad back.

"If I'm not 100 percent, I'm only messing up a lot of things," said Mahorn, who has not practiced in more than a week. "If I'm giving my all at 80 percent I'm cheating myself and cheating the team."

Mahorn last played April 19 at Boston, scoring no points and getting no rebounds. If Mahorn is unable to go against Washington, center Bill Laimbeer, John Salley and James Edwards will take turns trying to stop Malone.

The current odds out of Las Vegas list Detroit as the third choice, behind the Lakers and Celtics, to win the NBA title.

Chicago vs. Cleveland

The Bulls and Cavaliers enter the playoffs as two of the youngest and hottest teams in the league. The clubs split their six regular-season games this year. Cleveland gained the tie with a 107-103 victory in Chicago last Friday.

"They are bigger than we are but we are faster and more experienced," said NBA scoring leader Michael Jordan. "On paper, we don't match up well with them. But on paper we haven't matched up against a lot of people this year."

Cleveland guard Ron Harper, who injured his ankle last Friday, most likely will not play. Cleveland coach Lenny Wilkens said Tuesday that "it doesn't seem possible Ron will play."

Dallas vs. Houston

The Mavericks are looking to erase the stigma of last year's postseason debacle. Dallas won 55 games last year and came into the playoffs with a legitimate chance of battling the Lakers for the conference title.

Dallas lost in the first round to Seattle.

"I think the team is better now than it was then," said first-year Dallas Coach John MacLeod. "I think we are a better balanced team now. We can produce scoring from a lot of different spots on the floor."

The Rockets season was highlighted by the trade that sent Ralph Sampson and Steve Harris to Golden State for Joe Barry Carroll and Sleepy Floyd.

Akeem Olajuwon livened up the year by taking a swing at teammate Robert Reid because Olajuwon thought Reid was spreading rumors the center was using drugs. And Coach Bill Fitch offered to fight a fan who had been yelling at him.

"It's been a real crazy year," said Reid.

The last time layoffs, the Rockets defeated the Spurs in the 1981 conference semifinals, 4-3.

Portland vs. Utah

Portland Coach Mike Schuler and Utah's Frank Layden are approaching the playoffs with much different views.

The Jazz beat the Trail Blazers in four of five meetings during the regular season and Schuler has his team practicing two hours a day and then watching game films for another two hours.

"That's the only way I know how to do it," he said.

Layden looks past the Blazers in getting ready for the opening round. He says neither team has a chance against the defending champion Lakers, so why worry?

Ryan flirts with sixth no-hitter

United Press International

Nolan Ryan summed up much of his career Wednesday night with a flight of sustained brilliance followed by a no-decision.

Ryan edged within two outs of an unprecedented sixth no-hitter before Philadelphia's Mike Schmidt singled. The Phillies went on to tie the score and, when the Houston Astros finally won 3-2 in 10 innings, it was Dave Smith — not Ryan — who earned the victory.

"When you get that close, you really want it," said Ryan, who allowed two hits in nine innings. "But aside from the no-hitter, I really wanted the shutout. I haven't had one in a while.

"I shouldn't have let the lead get away. That bothers me as much as the lost no-hitter."

Ryan entered the 1988 season with 38 major-league records, including most no-hitters (five) and career strikeouts (4,592). But he is just 20 games above .500 for his career (263-243). Last year, he became the first player to lead a league in strikeouts and ERA, yet not win the Cy Young Award. In fact, with 270 strikeouts and a 2.76 ERA, Ryan was just 8-16.

"Nolan gave the fans and his teammates everything he had," Astros Manager Hal Lanier said. "It's a shame he didn't get the win."

Greg Gross led off the ninth against Ryan with a grounder toward second that Bill Doran mishandled for an error. Ryan struck out Juan Samuel, then Schmidt looped a 1-1 pitch into center field to break up the no-hitter.

"It was a curve that kind of hung inside," said Schmidt, who has collected 2,122 hits in a 15-year career, but only seven against Ryan. "There was still somebody behind me. I was going to give it my best at bat. I didn't hit it great, but I got a hit."

Von Hayes flied to left before Lance Parrish doubled off the left-field wall to drive home both runners and tie the score 2-2.

Chris James grounded out to end the inning. Ryan was replaced in the bottom of the ninth by pinch-hitter Terry Puhl and Smith, 1-1, took over in the 10th.

The Astros scored the winning run off Kent Tekulve, 0-2, by loading the bases before Craig Davis grounded into a run-scoring fielder's choice.

Ryan, 41, struck out nine and walked four.

Mets 5, Braves 2

At Atlanta, Keith Hernandez hit a two-run homer and Mookie Wilson drove home two runs with a single to highlight a five-run rally in the ninth that lifted New York. The Mets entered the ninth having managed four hits and trailing 2-0, but sent 10 men to the plate. Paul Assenmacher, 0-2, was the loser.

BASEBALL

David Cone, 2-0, was the winner. Roger McDowell earned his first save.

Cardinals 2, Padres 1

At San Diego, Tom Brunansky hit his first NL homer to break a scoreless tie, then scored the game-winner on rookie Luis Alicea's single to lift St. Louis. Bob Forsch, 1-2, took over for starter Greg Mathews when the left-hander developed a stiff shoulder after three innings. Jimmy Jones, 2-2, took the loss.

Dodgers 4, Cubs 0

At Los Angeles, Don Sutton, 1-2, permitted four singles over six innings for his 322nd career victory and the Dodgers employed aggressive baserunning to down Chicago. Jamie Moyer, 1-2, endured the loss.

Giants 6, Pirates 4

At San Francisco, Kevin Mitchell drove in Brett Butler three times to help the Giants snap a four-game losing streak and the Pirates' four-game winning streak. Dave Dravecky, 2-1, was the winner. Joe Price pitched the ninth for his second save. Doug Drabek, 3-1, suffered his first loss in seven decisions dating back to Sept. 16.

Royals 3, Yankees 1

At New York, Kevin Seitzer and Frank White had RBI hits in the 11th as Kansas City snapped a seven-game losing skid at Yankee Stadium. Charles Hudson, 2-1, took the loss after Dave Righetti blew his third straight save opportunity, allowing Danny Tartabull's tying home run in the ninth.

Athletics 5, Blue Jays 3

At Toronto, Mark McGwire and Dave Henderson hit solo homers to support Curt Young, 1-0, and give Oakland its fourth consecutive triumph. Toronto has lost three in a row. Rick Honeycutt notched his second save. Blue Jays' starter Mike Flanagan, 2-1, took the loss.

Indians 6, Mariners 4

At Cleveland, Willie Upshaw's three-run homer highlighted a five-run sixth inning, giving the Indians a team record 16 victories in April and their best start since 1941. Greg Swindell, after going 3-8 last season, improved to 5-0.

Angels 4, Tigers 3

At Detroit, Jack Howell drove home two runs, his first RBI in 11 games, with a double and triple. Willie Fraser, 3-0, went 7 1-3 innings and combined with three relievers on a five-hitter as California ended a four-game losing streak. Tigers first baseman Dave Bergman homered for his first hit of the season.

Brewers 4, Rangers 3

At Arlington, Texas, Dale Sveum and Joey Meyer homered to give a shaky Juan Nieves the victory. The left-hander, 2-2, allowed seven hits and three runs over 6 1-3 innings. Dan Plesac worked two innings for his third save.

Perez two-hits Reds

MONTREAL (UPI) — Pascual Perez and Mario Soto pitched more like Cy Young candidates than retreads.

Perez threw his first career two-hitter and struck out 10 Wednesday night to help the Montreal Expos defeat Soto and the Cincinnati Reds 1-0.

"I have to prove a great deal," said Perez, who was out of baseball for more than a year because of a drug problem. "I have to prove that Montreal didn't make a mistake when they gave me another chance last August."

Perez, 3-2, yielded a single to Bo Diaz in the second inning and an infield single to Chris Sabo in the ninth. He walked one, and struck out the side in the second and seventh innings. Perez's previous low-hit complete game was last Sept. 17, when he allowed four hits against the Mets.

"Each game I get more and more confident, but tonight I had something to worry about because we didn't get enough runs," Perez said. "I worried that I could have lost the game in the ninth."

Soto also pitched a complete game, surrendering six hits, striking out five and walking two.

"That was the type of game he shouldn't have lost," Cincinnati Manager Pete Rose said of Soto, 1-1. "His record against Montreal is 4-12, but take a look and see how close those games were.

Perez, who was 7-0 after being called up from Triple-A Indianapolis late last season, did not allow a runner past second base. Eight of Perez's 10 career victories for Montreal have followed an Expos loss. Montreal, which has won three of its last four, was beaten 2-0 Tuesday by Cincinnati.

It was also only the second complete game by a Montreal pitcher this season, the other belonging to Dennis Martinez.

The Expos took a 1-0 lead in the third. Tim Raines started with an opposite-field triple to left and Mitch Webster walked. Hubie Brooks singled to center, driving home Raines.

Soto loaded the bases when he hit Andres Galarraga with a pitch but, with one out, Soto escaped further trouble by retiring the next two batters.

Market moderate, prices dip

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in moderate trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which rose 3.15 Wednesday, was down 8.62 to 2039.29 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 185-262 among the 1,161 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape. Early turnover amounted to about 6,390,000 shares.

Prices closed narrowly mixed Wednesday in the slow trading as strength in about half of the blue-chip issues allowed the Dow to post its fifth consecutive advance.

"The recent rally has been a mediocre rally at best, but there are no signs that it is about to give up," said Tom Gallagher, managing director in charge of capital commitment at Oppenheimer & Co.

On the plus side, Gallagher said "some semblance of leadership is starting to develop," particularly among the auto and oil stocks.

...Adopt

held her in his arms when she arrived at Orlando International Airport, according to family members.

The Bohannons have sheltered abused children and taken in girls from Teen Challenge drug rehabilitation programs in the past. But Mrs. Bohannon still suffered from the empty nest syndrome and wanted to adopt a baby.

"Some people are meant to have children around," she said. She said her husband was not ready at first, but when he saw a little Oriental girl at a restaurant, he said, "If we could have one of those I would be willing." Mrs. Bohannon says she wasted no time getting the ball rolling.

Adoption was a family decision that included their son and daughter, Bohannon said. They were also consulted several years ago when Bohannon considered, and decided to go into full-time ministry. "We are blessed with two great children who are supportive of us," he added.

When the Bohannons arrived at their home in Lake Mary with their "little angel," members of the church where Bohannon is pastor—New Life Assembly of God, Sanford—were on hand to greet them. The church members had decorated the living room with pink streamers and balloons for a "welcome home" party. They had planned to shout "Surprise!" but when they saw the guest of honor was sleeping, they delivered their greeting in subdued voices.

Angela Marie, who arrived in this country with only the clothes she was wearing and a baby bottle, was showered with lots of pretty little outfits and toys. She even received a gift of money to open her education fund.

Mrs. Bohannon said the child's parents, who are poor, surrendered her for adoption because of a family crisis. their home burned and they had no money.

"It was a really sad situation," she said. "Fortunately she has been well taken care of by a Christian foster mother in a private home," she added.

Mrs. Bohannon said they took a couple of size 12- 18-month outfits to New York with them, but found that they were too big for her.

By American standards Angela Marie is small for her age—no bigger than the Bohannons' eight-month-old grandchild. In Korea she was accustomed to receiving only six ounces of milk in the morning and two to four ounces in the afternoon along with a few bites of rice, according to Mrs. Bohannon, who plans to fatten her up on American food.

The Bohannons said it had been an anxious two-year wait for a baby—the most emotional two years of their lives because of the many disappointments since first applying to adopt an Oriental child. Not the least of these was when the adoption agency which had done the home study and paperwork lost its license to operate in Florida and its contract for Korean babies.

Mrs. Bohannon said she and her husband investigated and found out they could go through Children's Home Society in Minnesota, which has contacts in Florida. The Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services agreed to do the required follow-up home studies at one, three and six months before the adoption will be finalized.

After all the paperwork and being investigated by the FBI, the Immigration Service, the HRS and the adoption agency and paying fees, Bohannon said he was "shocked to find out she wasn't ours for another six months." He estimates the adoption and related costs such as airfare and hotel rooms will cost them $7,000—quite a bit more than they had anticipated.

They also had to take a six weeks course given by their former adoption agency that made them feel "on trial and emotionally intimidated" because they weren't open to open adoption where the natural parent or parents remain involved in the process, Bohannon said.

"The whole church has been involved. Everyone's been praying for her and us," Mrs. Bohannon said. At first some people wondered why the Bohannons would want to adopt now that their children were raised and if they'd be able to adapt to having a baby in the house again. "Everyone wants to be where you're at and here you're wanting to start all over again with a brand new family," they would say.

The concept of a second family was not foreign to the Bohannons. Both of their parents had "second families," and Bohannon was an adopted middle child.

"We were on vacation the week of Thanksgiving when the adoption agency called and said they had a referral for us," Bohannon said. "We could read the information and look at the picture of the child and could accept or reject her. We asked to Lord to give us an inner witness and there was. All the things we had prayed for were confirmed in the report."

Then there was another month's delay because the U.S. Government required she undergo a total physical before leaving Korea. "It was just another holdup. She checked out and there was nothing new," Mrs. Bohannon said.

We could have gotten an American baby or one from the Philippines or El Salvador sooner, but we had our hearts set on an Oriental child," she said. "But we were pushing 40 and after 40 it's very difficult to get approval."

The Bohannons have had the little girl's room decorated with a canopy bed and matching frilly curtains and bedspread and stuffed animals ready and waiting for eight months, but for the present Angela Marie is banking in a portable crib in her new parents' bedroom so she won't be lonely. In Korea the whole family sleeps in the same room, so the little girl is not used to sleeping in a room by herself.

Mrs. Bohannon plans to take a month off from her part-time job of counseling women at New Life Assembly. When she goes back to working three days a week, she said her daughter will look after the baby.

...Schools

made a concession to the parents by approving courtesy busing of those students from the Ranchlands development to the Winter Springs school.

State guidelines require school districts to bus elementary students to schools only if they live at least two miles from the school. However, many parents in the Ranchlands said their children would have to walk nearly two miles to school along busy Highway 434 on a sidewalk only 30 inches from the curb.

Board members unanimously approved the redistricting plan but with the stipulation that the district provide buses for students who will have to take a dangerous route to school.

The rezoning plan involving realignment of the attendance districts including Lake Mary, Wilson and Goldsboro schools drew only a few comments and was unanimously adopted as proposed.

The board was told it missed an opportunity to use rezoning to reduce the number of black students at Goldsboro School to below 50 percent. Ken Bavin, director of elementary education, said the minority population at Goldsboro will be reduced from 59.8 percent to 52.8 percent. He pointed out that the majority of black Goldsboro students walk to school and are not within walking distance of other schools. One of the goals of the redistricting plans is to reduce busing, he pointed out.

Supt. Robert Hughes said this is the first district-wide rezoning of elementary school zones in county history. The board will face just as difficult a task next year, he said, when it rezones the middle and high school attendance zones.

The elementary rezoning plans will take effect at the beginning of the next school year.

The rezoning plans were proposed because some redistricting was needed to create a new school zone for the as yet unnamed school A being built in the Alafaya subdivision near Oviedo. A district-wide rezoning was then proposed because some schools are overcrowded while others have capacity for more students than currently attend them.

Under the adopted rezoning plans, all fourth grade students will be allowed to finish their final year at the elementary school they attend this year as long as their parents agree to transport them to school if they are scheduled to go to another school next year and live more than two miles from the school they want to attend.

Husband dies, bequeaths legacy of AIDS virus to faithful widow

DEAR ABBY: I am a 58-year-old college-educated, retired professional woman. My husband—a professional man—died of AIDS three years ago. He was not in a high-risk group. Because he was a family man, and because AIDS was unknown in our area, the doctors never thought to test him for the virus until about a week before he died. The results were positive, but these did not come back until after his funeral, and more important for me, after the death certificate was signed. So the certificate bore no stigma, and there was no publicity.

Because not much was known at the time (at least around here) about how AIDS is transmitted, our adult children were tested for the virus at the same time I was. Now, of course, we know that testing the kids was unnecessary because they neither had sex nor shared needles with my husband, and had no contact with his blood. Naturally, their tests were negative. I, on the other hand, tested positive, and was tested again to make certain there was no mistake. Positive again.

I want to make it absolutely clear that there was no anal intercourse—only normal penile-vaginal (missionary) intercourse in my case. I was told that the odds of a straight, monogamous, drug-free person getting this disease is about 5 million-to-1, but that doesn't help if you're the one in 5 million!

So far, I am still healthy but I have the virus—the virus I got from "normal" intercourse.

Abby, I implore you to alert your reading audience to my message. If this happened to me, it can happen to any straight, monogamous woman.

There may be many, perhaps thousands, of women like me. There are no records on us because as I understand it, only full-blown AIDS, and perhaps AIDS-related-complex cases, are reported to the CDC (Center for Disease Control). Carriers are not reported. And if these women are like me, they are telling NO ONE.

Of course, I am not sexually active. But those who are must inform their partners, and insist on the use of a condom, which may still carry some risks but is considerably safer. To do otherwise is tantamount to murder.

ANONYMOUS WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: You are courageous to have written, and I thank you for wanting to warn other women. The message here is: A sexually active monogamous woman can be at risk from "normal" intercourse if her partner is infected with the AIDS virus.

DEAR ABBY: I have some good news for the 60-year-old Ohio farmer who, though married, had not experienced marital relations for many years.

The last 12 years of a previous 35-year marriage were also void of all marital relations. As a healthy male, this caused me considerable frustration. At 53, I wondered if I had become impotent.

At age 65, my sexless marriage was terminated when my wife died. Shortly after, I ran into a former high school sweetheart whose marriage had been terminated (unknown to me) 12 years earlier! Our romance resumed and we were married on Valentine's Day.

Abby, I have no idea how old one must be when the bells stop ringing, but at 65, they rang again for me, and life was every bit as exciting (romantically speaking) as it had been 40 years ago.

It takes the right partner to return love and affection in the same manner it is given. Thank God for my lovely bride!

I am signing my name, and you may use it.

WILLIAM HUFFMAN, WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

DEAR MR. HUFFMAN: And thank you for giving me permission to publish your wonderful letter.

Sharing snacks, memories

Enjoying refreshments at the annual Oldtimer's Reception by the Longwood Women's Club Sunday are, from left, J.R. "Russell" Grant, a former Longwood commissioner; Blanche Kissane, 92, who was honored as Longwood's oldest resident; Wilton Scott; Elda Nichols; and Eula Scott. One doesn't have to be "old" to be an "oldtimer" of Longwood, Nichols said. An oldtimer either lived in Longwood in its early days or has been a resident for several years.

High schools' art to be displayed

SANFORD — The first Senior High Spring Art Exhibit will feature the best art work of Seminole County's six high schools May 2-13 in the lobby of Seminole Community College's fine arts building, with an awards presentation set for May 2.

One hundred students will display drawings, paintings, photography, fibers, sculpture, pottery, print making, crafts and mixed media.

More than $500 in cash and gift certificates for awards have been donated by local patrons interested in art education.

School board chairman Joseph Williams Jr. and School Superintendent Robert Hughes are to present an award for the overall show winner May 2 at 8 p.m. in the lobby of SCC's fine arts building.

"We hope to make this an annual event," said Diane Cuozzo, president of the sponsoring Seminole County Art Education Association. "As educators, we believe it is important to let the community see the new and exciting things happening in our art classrooms today."

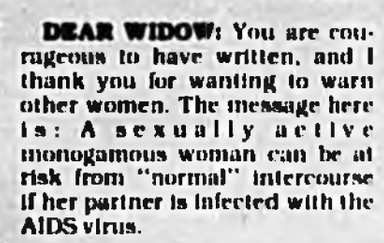
Husband dies, bequeaths legacy of AIDS virus to faithful widow

DEAR ABBY: I am a 58-year-old college-educated, retired professional woman. My husband—a professional man—died of AIDS three years ago. He was not in a high-risk group. Because he was a family man, and because AIDS was unknown in our area, the doctors never thought to test him for the virus until about a week before he died. The results were positive, but these did not come back until after his funeral, and more important for me, after the death certificate was signed. So the certificate bore no stigma, and there was no publicity.

Because not much was known at the time (at least around here) about how AIDS is transmitted, our adult children were tested for the virus at the same time I was. Now, of course, we know that testing the kids was unnecessary because they neither had sex nor shared needles with my husband, and had no contact with his blood. Naturally, their tests were negative. I, on the other hand, tested positive, and was tested again to make certain there was no mistake. Positive again.

I want to make it absolutely clear that there was no anal intercourse—only normal penile-vaginal (missionary) intercourse in my case. I was told that the odds of a straight, monogamous, drug-free person getting this disease is about 5 million-to-1, but that doesn't help if you're the one in 5 million!

So far, I am still healthy but I have the virus—the virus I got from "normal" intercourse.



Abby, I implore you to alert your reading audience to my message. If this happened to me, it can happen to any straight, monogamous woman.

There may be many, perhaps thousands, of women like me. There are no records on us because as I understand it, only full-blown AIDS, and perhaps AIDS-related-complex cases, are reported to the CDC (Center for Disease Control). Carriers are not reported. And if these women are like me, they are telling NO ONE.

Of course, I am not sexually active. But those who are must inform their partners, and insist on the use of a condom, which may still carry some risks but is considerably safer. To do otherwise is tantamount to murder.

ANONYMOUS WIDOW

DEAR WIDOW: You are courageous to have written, and I thank you for wanting to warn other women. The message here is: A sexually active monogamous woman can be at risk from "normal" intercourse if her partner is infected with the AIDS virus.

This slender person seeks to gain weight

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 5 feet 6 and weigh 112. I have a good appetite but can't gain weight. Do you have any suggestions?

DEAR READER: First, see a doctor to make sure that you don't have a medical condition — such as anemia, infection or hyperthyroidism — to explain your inability to gain weight. If you check out all right, then eat more. Some active people, particularly if they are tense, tend to burn calories for energy at a rate that prevents the calories from being stored as fat. By increasing your caloric intake, you should be able to gain a few pounds. Starches and, obviously, sugar products are calorie-rich.

You also might want to calculate your caloric intake, using one of the many good books available in bookstores and libraries. By keeping a food diary, you may be surprised at how few calories you are eating.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My mother is 50, 5 feet 2, 140 pounds and has high blood pressure. About three years ago she began experiencing uncontrollable "kickings" or "shufflings" of the feet when she was on the verge of falling asleep. Lately, her condition has worsened. A neurologist has her taking Parlodel.

DEAR READER: I would tell them that she is probably suffering from a normal and common condition called hypnagogic twitching. These are unconscious movements that can affect people in the period between wakefulness and sleep. Although such jerkings and twitchings are annoying, they are harmless and do not indicate disease. For unknown reasons, blood pressure medicine, sleeping pills and alcohol may make hypnagogic phenomena worse.

I do not believe that Parlodel, a medicine sometimes used to treat Parkinson's disease, will be very effective in relieving your mother's nighttime activity.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Why do I crave ice?

DEAR READER: Probably because of a psychological condition called pica. This ailment is marked by the urge to eat inedible substances such as clay, sand, ice, glue or laundry starch. Excessive ice-eating can produce dental problems. Check with your doctor to make sure that there is no physical basis for your habit.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

There are many inferior contracts waiting to be arrived at in bridge. When you have the good fortune of getting to a sound contract, don't jeopardize it by being cute.

When South opened two no-trump, North decided that he would probably play five clubs, but along the way he thought he might check to see if South might have four spades. So he bid three clubs to ask for a major. Lo and behold, South bid spades and North bid the spade game.

With the lead of the queen of diamonds, declarer could see there would be no trouble unless spades split 5-0, but he wondered if he could not do something clever if East held four spades to the Q-J. He won the ace of diamonds, played ace of spades and then a low spade. His thinking was that he could handle four spades in the East hand (ruff a heart in dummy, pick up East's spades via a finesse and then run the clubs). His blind spot was that he failed to realize the trap if West, not East, had length in spades. Sure enough, West won the second spade, cashed the jack of diamonds and continued a diamond. Declarer ruffed in dummy, came to the club ace and ruffed a heart. But now the defenders took another spade and two heart tricks for down two.

South was too clever for his own good. Sure, his play would work against trump length in the East hand, but why present the opponents with an easy set when West has the trump length?
