Teen Is Arrested On Rape Charge

By BILL SCOTT

Ronald Jay Wilcox, 18, Winter Park, has been charged with assault with intent to commit rape of an 18-year-old Altamonte Springs woman, when she picked the bicycle riding, knife-carrying man from a line up held by Maitland police, shortly after the suspect was arrested on a breaking and entering charge.

Det. Sgt. Tony Calangelo said Wilcox was charged after the woman reported she was forced at knife point Thursday to drive to a Longwood cemetery and submit to his sexual advances.

The investigator reported Wilcox was charged with the rape of a second victim, an Orange County woman, which occurred Wednesday, the day before the alleged Seminole County assault.

A "hold" and a Seminole County warrant has been placed on Wilcox, the detective advised.

Wilcox was arrested Friday hiding in a closet of a Maitland house by police, who were summoned by the resident of the house after she saw the suspect's bicycle hidden in the bushes nearby.

The detective stated Wilcox had his knife in his hands when police opened the closet.

Barbara Pietrak, 32, of 840 Lake Katherine Drive, Maitland reported Wilcox came to her home and asked for directions earlier but she was leaving at the time. When she returned home, she found the suspect's bicycle nearby and, becoming suspicious, she called police who entered the house and flushed out Wilcox.

Maitland Police Chief Ralph Jones noted the alert he had just received from Seminole County advising the assault, and called Calangelo, who arranged for the Altamonte woman to view the suspect in a lineup, where identification was made, the detective added.

Summer Crush To Come Million A Month To Disney

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—America's No. 1 mouse is hosting a million visitors a month at his new Florida home and hotel owners are dishing their "No Vacancy" signs for the June-July-August crush. Mickey Mouse is braced to welcome up to 70,000 kids of all ages at Walt Disney World near the central Florida boom country, an Associated Press survey revealed there's still plenty of room at the inn for those who make reservations this month. "May's always been dead around here and 1972 is no different," said Jim Ritter, assistant manager of the Parliament House Motel in Orlando. "But, we expect to be booked full two weeks ahead all summer." Rates at the Parliament House have gone from $15 to $20 for a double since Disney World came to town, but Ritter quickly added, "We're still a great deal behind the prices in Miami during the winter." Miami Beach, once a seasonal haven that virtually boarded up for the long, stalling summer, still runs on a schedule of greatly varying rates, but the occupancy rate appears much higher than in past summers. "Disney World is certainly helping us," said a clerk at Hollywood's Diplomat Hotel. "People don't drive to Florida just to see a big, overgrown amusement park. They want some sun, surf and outdoor sports. For that, many of them come on south." The Miami area is 235 miles south of Disney World, a three and a half hour drive on the Florida Turnpike. Spot checks at hotels and motels in coastal areas to the east and west of Orlando showed a heavier-than-usual reservation rate, but nothing near capacity for the summer months ahead. "When people find themselves getting turned away by Orlando area motels, then we'll start catching the spillover traffic," said a spokesman for a Tampa motel. "We look for calls to begin pouring in come June." (Cont'd On Pg. 2A Col. 8)

OUTSTANDING IN THE STATE
Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Seminole County supervisor of elections, was honored as the most outstanding of the 67 in her position in Florida at the annual banquet of the Florida State Association of Supervisors of Election at Tallahassee. She received the Hodson Drew Memorial Award (inset) for having "contributed the most to the association during the year."

Hearing Set For Sale Of Hospital

The continuing controversy over the sale of Seminole Memorial Hospital is slated for further discussion at a work session of the County Commission beginning at 10:15 a.m. tomorrow. Tax Assessor Guy Allen and County Attorney Thom Rumberger will discuss the assessment of the hospital. At last week's meeting of the commission, Allen was requested to appear in order to offer an opinion as to whether the hospital could be taxed should it become a private hospital. Other items on the work session agenda include a discussion of the personnel board; phase II of the water resources study; drainage problems at "the Springs"; an ordinance reviewing occupational licenses; procedure review of the Planning and Zoning Commission; special districts; fire district policy; engineering study on water requirements; conflict of interest policy, and road problems. The agenda for the regular 2 p.m. meeting is filled with reports on federal matching funds for various county facilities. These include a report by Sheriff John Polk on a conference with state officials for state approval and federal matching funds for jail expansion; a report by County Planner David Fare regarding the status of Seminole County for the parks acquisition matching fund; a report by Commissioner John Kimbrough relative to the status of Seminole County for mental health facility federal matching funds; report by Commissioner Al Davis regarding the status of the county for Juvenile Detention Center. Government Study Meet

By MARION BETHEA
For the first time, the public will have an opportunity to make recommendations and comments to the Government Study Committee, an entity appointed by the County Commission in January. The first public meeting will be held May 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the County Commission room at the Courthouse. The second meeting will be held on May 25 at 7:30 p.m. at Casseberry City Hall. According to Vernon Mize, a member of the committee, these will be meetings in which the public can make suggestions and offer opinions relative to matters which they feel the study commission should consider in appraisal of changes in the county government. The Government Study Commission was appointed by the County Commission, charged with the responsibility of making a detailed study of each and every operation of the county government and to recommend changes which should be made, such as consolidation or deletion of various departments or additions. Mize stated that, in his opinion, such a study is invaluable to the County Commission in determining what changes, if any, should be made. Monthly meetings have been held since January, but this is the first time in which the public has been afforded an opportunity to state views. According to Mize, the study commission has been studying all county departments and interviewing department heads and personnel. Mize remarked that, hopefully, the changes will effect a savings to the taxpayer. However, he stressed, the matter is up to the County Commission, since all the Government Study Commission can do is make recommendations and has no official authority. Some action, Mize said, must also come through the state Legislature. Mize opined it is difficult to tell the early stages of study, just what saving could be realized to the taxpayer but that it is hoped the studies will reflect some alleviation of the tax burden.

Lake County Landmark Destroyed By Flames

By GARY TAYLOR
MT. PLYMOUTH — An historic Lake County landmark, known by residents of this area as "The Castle," burned to the ground Sunday as its owner delivered a sermon to the congregation of the Zellowood Methodist Church. It was ironic that the 44-year-old house was destroyed by flames on the day that it was to be "dedicated to the work of God." Louis Wright, who lived in the house with his wife and two daughters, was delivering a sermon at the Zellowood Church, filling-in for the pastor who had been called away because of a death in his family. Wright arrived at the fire about 2 p.m., an hour after the blaze broke out. The Mt. Dora Fire Department responded to the blaze after the Sorrento Fire Department encountered mechanical difficulties with its fire truck. Wright blamed "44-year-old wiring" as the probable cause of the fire. New electrical equipment also was destroyed in the blaze. According to Wright, he already had contacted an electrician working on a nearby job about rewiring the old structure. R. L. V. Laitte Jr., of Shingle Creek Methodist Church, Orlando, was scheduled to dedicate the house "to the work of God" later in the afternoon. Wright, who owned "The Castle" only one year, could place no monetary value on the house but commented "150,000 couldn't replace it." The house was originally built by Sam Stokes, an architect-artist who designed many of the houses in the area. Wright is retired from the Air Force and lost "20 years worth of service memories" in the fire. "I watched 40 years of my life go up in flames, but that 40 years ends right now. The second 40 years has just started."

Solons To Cut UN $$

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee, apparently retreating for the expulsion of Nationalist China, today recommended a sharp cut in the United States' contribution to the United Nations.

The committee wrote into a $4.58-billion appropriation bill a provision that the U.S. share of the U.N. operating budget for fiscal 1973 not exceed 25 per cent.

The assessment approved for fiscal 1972 provided 31.5 per cent of the U.N. budget.

The proposal would chop $13.2 million from the $50.1 million President Nixon has requested for the U.N. in fiscal 1973.

The committee recommendation fell short of Rep. John J. Rooney's threat to drop the entire U.S. contribution. The New York Democrat, chairman of a subcommittee that drafted the bill, was among 336 House members who petitioned the President to take action against the ousting from the U.N. of the Taiwan-based Nationalist Chinese government and seating Communist China in its place.

3 Public Hearings Slated

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Three public hearings are slated for tomorrow's 4:30 p.m. meeting of City Council.

Included are a request for a variance at San Sebastian Heights; abandonment of the center cul-de-sac at the Altamonte 100 building, which was continued from last week and North Lake development which is required under Planned Unit zoning.

Board To Meet

Four public hearings are on the agenda for tonight's 7 p.m. meeting of the county Board of Adjustment. The meeting will be held in the County Commission chambers of the courthouse.

Among the public hearings is a request by Jack Cooper for a special exception in an A-1 agricultural zone and RM-2 residential mobile home district for a borrow operation and remove muck from the property, excavated from areas already backfilled or made into a lagoon. The property is located north of Lake Kathryn, east of U.S. 17-92.

District Question On Agenda

Sanford City Commission this afternoon at a work session was to consider formally placing the question of districting on the December city election ballot to allow residents to vote whether they would prefer having City Commission candidates reside in each of four districts.

City Commission tentatively agreed to place the districting question on the ballot but since it is coupled with a new city charter also to be voted on in December, the panel has been reluctant to make districting a part of the charter vote, since it is thought the new charter might not pass if districting is included with it.

Longwood Divided Over Ex-Fireman

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Vote of confidence was given to Fire Chief Carl Lommer by the city's volunteer fire force following an unusual unofficial public meeting of the City Council to discuss future employment of the city's first paid fireman.

Lommer, who had offered to resign the position he has held for several years in order to keep harmony in the department, followed a lengthy council meeting, members of the board agreed to permit the former fireman, Charles Nield, to file an application for another city job with council to make a determination at this Thursday's council meeting whether the man will be rehired.

The controversy over Nield's quitting and taking the walk developed at Thursday night's regular meeting of the city with sharp words exchanged between the mayor and members of council concerning the former fireman's fitness to be rehired in another department.

At the council session Friday night, Lommer said although Nield did a good job at fighting fires, he failed to accomplish other duties required by the job. He said he hoped Nield would continue as a volunteer.

The chief said he had instructed the fireman to keep the fire hall clean, to perform regular maintenance duties with the trucks, to keep them clean and gassed and to make sure batteries were charged and ready to go.

Nield admitted to the council he had not done the things he had been instructed to do, but insisted that the chief should not have written down the infraction, he said. "I did a good job," he declared. "I can't remember." The fireman also said the city violated state law when hiring him as a fire

Million Visitors Monthly

The fast-building Disney World area became overladen with people last fall, the castaways were overflowing facilities as far away as Daytona Beach and the Cape Kennedy area on the East coast and the Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater area to the west.

"No matter what you hear, there's always room somewhere," said one Orlando motel manager. "Only two nights have we had to give up and tell people there were no rooms anywhere in our town."

A Disney World official said much the same.

Disney World has the 1,057-room Contemporary Hotel at its property along with the 500-room Polynesian Village. Current bookings show rooms available at the Polynesian for only three days in June, six in July and three in August. The Contemporary has rooms for eight June dates, 12 in July and 18 in August.

"We welcomed our 5 millionth visitor April 28," said the Disney spokesman. "During two weeks around Easter, we admitted 600,000. Our single-day high was 70,000 the Wednesday after Christmas."

Although all highway entrances have become jammed on certain big holiday weekends, Disney World surprisingly finds Saturday-Sunday business less than overwhelming through most of the year.

"Apparently, everyone says, 'Let's avoid the weekend crush' and decides to come during weekdays," said Myers. "The days when we attract our largest crowds are Monday and Tuesday."

Pleasure Boaters Rescued

Seminole County and Sanford police rescue "boats" early Sunday after removing 47 passengers from a paddle wheel excursion boat stalled near marker 104 in Lake Monroe, according to county reports.

Mr. H. Robbins and Howard Mullins, county deputies, joined with Sgt. Charles Tate, Sanford policeman, to rescue the passengers and crew from the Paddle Wheel Queen, after the craft's motor conked out.

Robbins reported he and Tate made three trips each in separate police and sheriff's craft to carry the pleasure seekers ashore. Once ashore, the group was loaded on a bus and transported back to the pleasure cruiser's embarkation point.

Robbins stated there was no injuries involved in the rescue. Authorities were alerted to the problems of the boaters by one of the passengers, who rowed the paddle wheeler's dinghy to shore to summon aid.

The man then rowed back to the pleasure craft to inform those on board help was on the way.

Liquor Sales Extended

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Final action to extend open hours for establishments selling alcoholic beverages from midnight to 2 a.m. Monday through Saturday was approved by a four-to-one vote by the City Council.

Schraw and his attorney insisted the city's antiquated zoning ordinance requires 75 feet frontage at lot lines and his unusually designed plot plan met the requirement.

Mayor Kenneth Brown said, however, that although Schraw is a "very smart man" the interpretation given the ordinance stated not the intent of the law.

Councilman Dick Crenshaw said Schraw's design which cuts the property into peculiar shapes was "pure and simple, a method of trying to stretch the imagination and intent of the subdivision ordinance."

In other business, the Council denied three buildings permits requested by a Martin Company engineer Kenneth Schraw for construction of three duplexes on property with 200 feet frontage on Georgia Street.

The permits had earlier been recommended denied by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

Cadillac '72

It's a great time to buy the great car.

If you've ever considered owning a Cadillac, even if you haven't, there are some especially good reasons for considering it right now.

For one, consider what Cadillac can mean to your vacation plans. It affords a degree of comfort, spaciousness and elegance that can help turn long, tedious trips into truly pleasurable ones.

Consider, too, the variety of Cadillac models currently offered. From the beautiful Coupe DeVille shown above to the elegant Eldorado Coupe and Convertible, there are nine great cars. And right now, your authorized Cadillac dealer can probably supply just the model you want just the way you want it.

Perhaps the most decisive reason, though, for buying a Cadillac now is the most practical one—the move to Cadillac ownership is especially easy at this time. Because of this, and because Cadillac's resale value is traditionally the highest in the land, buying a Cadillac now is an especially attractive investment.

So visit your authorized dealer soon. It's a great time for it.

Dan Blocker Succumbs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dan Blocker, whose portrayal of the gentle, hulking Hoss Cartwright on the "Bonanza" television series made him one of America's best known actors, will be buried in the small Texas town where he grew up.

Blocker died Saturday of two blood clots in the lung. He was 41.

A family spokesman said Blocker developed an infection after undergoing gall bladder surgery May 1. He died a few hours after being readmitted to a hospital.

Tentative plans call for the 300-pound, 6-foot-4-inch actor to be buried beside his father this week in O'Donnell, Tex.

Blocker's bulk and West Texas draw disguised his being a millionaire and former school teacher. But his friends said the broad humor and tenderness he displayed before 400

Mexico and then began work on a doctorate in education at UCLA.

To help support his family he looked to acting, and quickly got roles in "Gunsmoke" and other television series. He attributed his success to his size: "If I'd been an average-size guy, I never would've stood a chance. There were only a few big guys around."

He moved his family to Switzerland last year hoping to avoid the recognition that made it impossible for him to take his wife to a restaurant or his sons to a ball game.

Blocker was married for 20 years to his 5-foot-3-inch college sweetheart, Dolphina, who was with him when he died. They had twin daughters and two sons.

Funeral services were held today with burial in Oaklawn Memorial Park, Gramkow Funeral Home in charge.

"Conflict of Interest" Vital Issue

If there is one topic which is sure to draw sparks when put on the anvil of public discussion of government and politics it is that of "conflict of interest."

This year there have been such headline making events as the ITT episode, the Illinois race tracks scandals and the criminal conviction of the Speaker of the House in Texas that a comprehensive study has been made by Common Cause.

It is so timely and, in a responsible way, alarming that some of its paragraphs will be included in this editorial comment.

Conflicts of interest are in a wide variety. What is being discussed now is when a public official has a "personal financial stake in the matters on which he must act officially."

Four "musts" are defined: "We need controls on campaign financing at every level of government. We need controls on lobbying so that the citizen can know precisely what special interest is spending how much for what purpose."

"We need conflict of interest statutes and financial disclosure requirement. We need to end the secrecy in government that makes it easy for special interests to betray the public interest behind the scenes."

The Common Cause memorandum reflects the down-to-earth approach to public problems which this privately-financed and non-partisan organization under the competent direction of John W. Gardner, chairman, has made.

Illustrative of this are these paragraphs: "I can smell the meat acookin', said the late Paul Powell, former Illinois Secretary of State and member of the legislature for 30 years who, on a salary of never more than $30,000 annually, left an estate of some $2 million including $800,000 in bills, in shoe boxes, briefcases and strongboxes stashed in his hotel closet."

"His salty remark could be the slogan for officeholders everywhere who blur the line between their private financial interests and their public duties. They live, consciously or not, by another Powell aphorism: 'There's only one thing worse than a defeated politician and that's a broke one.'"

The Common Cause memorandum is directed especially to Congress. It notes moves that have been made and are being made to deal with this admittedly complex and hard-to-define problem.

Here in Florida there was a major example of what happens when conflict of interests, lobbying and the public good factors meet head-on. This was when the corporation profit tax was at issue and Gov. Reubin Askew plunged boldly for the public interest, aroused the voters and stopped the well-financed and organized drive by private interests to defeat it at the polls.

It is not, of course, confined to either the highest or lowest levels of governmental operations. Conflicts of interest are almost an occupational hazard for lawyers and bankers. Common Cause points this out.

It's The Landing That Surprises

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to admire and accept as much as he wants something new to deride and reject. When time's moss obscures one of his heroes, he immediately searches for a fresh one to replace him.

Man finds few gods after 35, literary or otherwise. But you are probably still growing mentally if you can name offhand five books you've enjoyed reading since your 33rd birthday.

Sometimes older people who take up new enthusiasms and enlist in passing fads may seem foolish to others, but one of the things that make youth such a memorable period of our lives is not only its ability to scorn but its capacity to be impressed.

Man needs to find new things to admire and accept as much as he wants something new to deride and reject. When time's moss obscures one of his heroes, he immediately searches for a fresh one to replace him.

The safest man to lend money to is the office hypochondriac. Your chances of getting it back are 10 times better than if you lend it to the office alcoholic.

Isn't it odd that emergencies rarely happen if we are prepared in advance to cope with them? Thus, if you always carry an extra pair of shoelaces in your pocket, the ones in your which has our backing is "disclosure." This most properly should be brought about by wise and effective legislation. But that is highly improbable if not impossible this year.

But voluntary disclosure is needed and can be made now. Citizens should demand that those running for office this year disclose information about their financial interests and direct themselves of holdings that conflict with their official responsibilities.

Wallace Is Giving Senators Jitters

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Alabama's Gov. George Wallace is, in his own mind, so serious a candidate for the presidency that he doesn't have to say so any more. Charged up for Michigan's May 16 Democratic primary, he leaves that out and just acts the part.

Things have gone so well for him here a couple of times that he has held an evening doubleheader, giving two speeches back to back to take care of overflow crowds.

Not since Florida has he had his rivals so jittery. Here we are in Michigan, where Democratic party politics is by powerful United Auto Workers' leaders and others in labor. But Sens. Hubert Humphrey and George McGovern treat the place as if it were a giant suburb of Tallahassee.

Even in a year when predictions are so hazardous, forecasts of a Wallace victory in Michigan are easy to come by. You can, of course, find some cagey appraisers who say he'll be caught and passed, most likely by Humphrey.

Wallace himself, taken lately to offering reporters finely tuned analyses, suggests he might drop a little here by voting time.

You'd never guess he felt that if you watched him perform, as I did again the other evening in Flint. He was more fired up than in Florida, where he knew he was going to win big.

His partisans, packing the floor and four tiers of balconies in Flint's auditorium, cheered lustily as he announced his Tennessee primary victory. They'd been revved up by the Rev. George Mangum, Wallace's church master of ceremonies, who told them they were going to be on live television.

On stage in the supporting cast for the evening were a released prisoner of war from Vietnam, John Sexton, and one Caleb Smallwood, who carried a little cardboard box filled with the names of 4,700 Wallace backers.

Wearing a large white and red paper flower on his lapel, Wallace told his fans he was going to the Democratic convention at Miami Beach with "more delegates than meet the eye."

The fact is that halfway through the 23 primaries plenty meets the eye. His speech was his usual flamboyant blast against Democratic party candidates and spokesmen who he says have "knewledged to exotic noisemakers and elitists and ignored the average citizen."

Flint's average citizens rose happily from their red plush chairs as he told them: "You are the kings and queens of American politics today. The average man has more political clout than ever before. Because of these 1972 primary results."

The governor, mindful of studies a while back that show many Michigan voters moved almost without inertia in opposition to school busing for racial balance, thundered the obvious: He has got more issue stands to their liking than any of his primary opponents.

Of them he said: "They're too busy taxing the average man to death and giving the money to a bunch of welfare loafers and Hottentots (foreign aid)."

Wallace was so flushed with the sense of triumph (another primary win in North Carolina was looming) that he couldn't slip into his favored clownish vein when telling his standard anecdotes.

A serious candidate must look the part. So he told his jokes like a scowling Jack Anderson disclosing another batch of secret papers.

But still the funny stuff scored. Wallace is some kind of threat and he'll be tough to beat in Michigan.

A Look Inside High Schoolers

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It may be that the nation's youth don't quite fit the stereotype we've drawn.

A survey of 23,000 high school junior and senior student leaders conducted last summer by Merit Publishing Company and later tabulated by computer contains more than a few surprises.

More than half said that when they have children they will handle their offspring the same way their parents raised them. Only 12 per cent thought their parents too strict. A surprising 5 per cent think them too lenient.

Almost half believe the lines of communication with their parents are almost always open. Only 17 per cent were negative. The rest feel the open door is there 50 per cent of the time. Fifty-one per cent think they're understood half the time. Only 16 per cent feel their parents hardly ever understand them. A startling 31 per cent hold that their parents almost always understand them. Girls feel more understood than boys.

More than 80 per cent believe in marriage as it exists today. The same heavy majority feel their parents are happily married. Half want their husband or wife to be a virgin when they marry.

Almost 70 per cent of those who replied, including half the black student leaders, were against the busting of school integration school systems. But more than half of all the students (including 81 per cent of the blacks) believe the government is not doing enough to promote desegregation and equal opportunities in all areas of life.

Jackpot Primary

Humphrey-McGovern Clash Seen

By FRANK MACOMBER

LOS ANGELES — One sure thing and several intangibles are shaping up California's June 6 winner-take-all primary as a big stepping-stone toward the Democratic presidential nomination next July.

The for-certain development is a head-to-head confrontation between Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, and George McGovern of South Dakota.

The uncertainties are the Golden State's new youth vote and the emergence in earlier primaries of the so-called hard-hat or blue-collar worker election turnout.

Eight Democratic presidential candidates started down the California campaign trail early this year, hoping to wind up in Miami Beach, Fla., on July 19 as a "Godfather" when the Democratic National Convention opens there.

Today the only two serious contenders left in this state are Humphrey and McGovern. Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, whose 1968 role as a spoiler during the presidential campaign has climbed to that of a contender himself, failed to qualify for the California primary ballot. The name of Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine is on the June 6 primary but he dropped out of a realistic bid for the nomination after a series of poor showings in early primaries.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington followed Muskie's lead after a disappointing 8 per cent of the vote in the Ohio primary. Yet both he and Muskie will get token support in California, where the entire whopping 271 delegate vote will go to the winner.

The other primary dropouts who were eligible to compete in the California primary were Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty and New York Mayor John V. Lindsay. Former Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota and Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York never were considered serious contenders here.

California campaign lieutenants for Humphrey and McGovern, already hard at work in the state, concede the 271 ballots could decide which candidate eventually will corral the 1,509 votes required for nomination at Miami Beach.

"Godfather" Replays

If You've Seen It, Shut Up Now!

By TOM HORTON

WARNING: If you have not seen "The Godfather," but plan to do, do not read this column. It could ruin it for you.

Due to a lot of loose talk, I am scared of "The Godfather." Scared that I will finally go to see it and I will not think it is simply the greatest motion picture that I have ever seen in my entire life. Scared that I already know all the best lines.

I almost wish it were summer. During summer, the first thing everybody says to me is, "Hot enough for you?" Then we talk about the weather. All springtime the first thing everybody has said to me is, "Have you seen 'The Godfather' yet?" I say, "Not yet." They say, "It is simply the greatest motion picture that I have ever seen in my entire life. Then we talk about "The Godfather." The conversation is always the same. "Did you read the book?" "Yes, I read the book."

"It follows the book pretty closely." "Good!" "Yeah, it's great. Remember the part where they're in this little Italian restaurant and..."

"I try to stop them. I yell, 'Don't tell me! It'll ruin it for me!' They say, 'Just let me tell you about this one fantastic scene where Sonny is...' I put my fingers in my ears and turn my back. They say, 'OK, OK. All I'll say is that it is simply the greatest motion picture that I have ever seen in my entire life.'"

I could take that. What scares me so much is not that I will finally go to see "The Godfather" and not like it — for I sin sure I will think it's great — but that I will have the feeling I have already seen it. It will be sitting there saying to myself, "I remember this scene; Joe told me all about it. This is where she..."

My friends have all cast themselves for "The Godfather." I have one who is the Godfather. Every time I see him, the corners of his mouth turn down and he glares at me. He starts reciting threatening lines from "The Godfather." This friend tried to make himself look like a piece of ice. He looks at me and says, "I'll make you an offer you can't refuse."

I started to see and hear "The Godfather" even before time was released. Even before time, I could have kissed him.

Charge Undue Violence

Students Protest Police

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Student government leaders at the University of Florida are compiling statements charging police with unnecessary violence and arrests in the wake of last week's antiwar protests on the Gainesville campus.

Student Body President Sam Taylor said Sunday that more than 150 signed statements have been collected from witnesses to the demonstrations.

The statements will be used in an attempt to get charges dropped against some of the 300 persons arrested and possibly to press for a grand jury investigation, Taylor said.

Taylor added that he talked to Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., about the matter when Chiles was in Gainesville Saturday night.

"We're trying to get Sen. Chiles to look into the problem," Taylor said.

Taylor said the City of Gainesville has offered a form of amnesty to those arrested for illegal assembly, but he added that it may not be acceptable to student leaders.

The amnesty would put those arrested on six months probation, without ever defining the area, exceeding their jurisdiction by a Catholic chaplain coming on campus; and tearing dormitories and other university buildings.

Camul said his group, accompanied by a Catholic chaplain from the university and Gainesville Mayor Dick Jones was conducting a slide show on campus Wednesday night when tear-gassed by police.

Taylor said many of the arrested demonstrators were not students. He said he believed many of the confrontations with police were sparked by outside agitators.

In Miami Sunday, a flotilla of antiwar demonstrators turned loose hundreds of colorful balloons in Biscayne Bay near the Florida White House to protest President Nixon's mining of North Vietnamese harbors.

Five boats carrying 30 protesters were ticketed for littering by police and marine patrol cruisers near the one-mile restricted area encircling the presidential compound on Key Biscayne.

McGovern Sees Michigan Upset

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

AP Political Writer

In Texas, incomplete returns from precinct and county conventions picking delegates to the June 13 state convention gave Wallace 23 per cent, McGovern 21 per cent and Humphrey 13 per cent, while 38 per cent were uncommitted.

The state convention will pick the 130 delegates.

In San Francisco, Gov. Ronald Reagan told a spring meeting of California Republicans that in his opinion President Nixon is not a cinch to win re-election.

Alaska Republicans closed their state convention at Mt. McKinley by naming 12 uncommitted delegates to the national convention.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York also planned to campaign in Michigan.

Humphrey will spend the day in the Baltimore area, while Wallace campaigns in Washington suburbs and Annapolis.

Wallace, in his strongest campaign bid so far in the North, is generally expected to run first in both Michigan and Maryland and perhaps win a sizable majority of Maryland's 53 delegates.

While the presidential candidates concentrated on Tuesday's primaries, a number of states proceeded over the weekend with their selection of delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

In Louisiana, eight congressional district caucuses picked 29 uncommitted delegates, eight for McGovern and three for Wallace. Sixteen of the 40 delegates are black. Four more delegates will be chosen June 9.

In Kansas, McGovern won 12 delegates and his backers claimed four more among 18 listed officially as uncommitted. Five more will be picked June 10.

In Tennessee, 29 of the 40 delegates picked Saturday said they will follow the primary law and vote for Wallace, who is entitled to all of the state's 49 votes on the first two ballots because of his May 4 primary victory. The other 11 remained publicly uncommitted or said they would vote for someone other than Wallace.

Allies Reoccupy Base After Fierce Fighting

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces reoccupied Fire Base Bastogne 12 miles west of Hue today after 36 hours of fierce fighting and B52 saturation strikes, field reports said.

The base fell to the North Vietnamese April 28. The counter-attack that retook it was the second on the northern front in three days by South Vietnamese forces who in six weeks of setbacks had retreated 30 miles below the demilitarized zone and given up the provincial Capital of Quang Tri City.

Associated Press correspondent Robert Arnett reported from the northern front that South Vietnamese infantrymen were only a stone's throw from another important fire base called Checkmate on a hill overlooking Bastogne.

In the central highlands, North Vietnamese forces made fresh probes during the night of the defenses of Kontum City, and sources said they believed them to be preliminary to an all-out assault.

On the southern front, enemy forces cut the Saigon-Phnom Penh highway 25 miles northwest of the South Vietnamese capital, and heavy fighting was reported near Trang Bang, a district town.

North Vietnamese gunners rained 2,500 artillery rockets and mortar shells on Lon, 50 miles north of Saigon, continuing a 6½-week old siege, and light ground fighting was reported. The North Vietnamese were reported still holding sections of the northern part of the city.

The South Vietnamese command said the drive to Fire Base Bastogne was part of a plan to enlarge defense lines around Hue.

The drive to Bastogne and Checkmate was made by 2,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen. Helicopters took some of them to the ridge lines. Others advanced on foot behind a shield of artillery and fighter-bombers.

In Cambodia, government troops abandoned one of their last positions near the South Vietnamese border in the southern portion of Takeo Province, the military command reported.

Nip Pirates, 26-24

Oviedo Cardinals Pull Another Upset

In what was without a doubt the wildest game of the season in Oviedo Little League play the surprising Cardinals scored three times in the seventh inning to edge the Pirates 26-24.

The Cardinals, who only won once in the entire first half, have two wins to their credit in the second half. They pounded Pirate pitching for 23 hits with every Cardinal starter getting at least two hits!

In the first frame the Cards pushed three runs across the plate with his coming off the bat of Gerry McBride, Mike Seiple, John Lee and Jim Dike.

Each team scored five times in the third. Big hit in the Pirate rally was a double by Lance Hillard. For the Cards McBride had a double.

The Pirates came back to tie the score with three runs in the fourth. Each team counted three times in the fifth to keep the score tied at 23-all.

Senior League action was more down to earth as the Athletics upset the Indians, 4-2 behind the strong mound effort of Glenn Patterson.

The Long And Short Of Milady's Tresses

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures Writer

Young people are returning to hairdressing salons, say members of the hair fashion committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, a group which recently held a show of spring and summer hairstyles in New York.

In some areas they say, young people are going back to salons in droves, and in other areas the trend is slow but sure. According to interviews with stylists in four areas:

In Maine young people want permanent waves, shag haircuts and curls.

In St. Louis they like geometrical haircuts.

In Jackson, Mississippi they want the feminine look.

In Detroit they are asking for a natural look.

In addition the wig rage is tapering off, say hairdressers from those localities.

Bernard Desjardins, style director of the hair fashions group, attributed increased business at his salon in Lewiston, Me., to the tapering off of wig wear.

"More young people want an over-curlly lioness hairdo, and they are accepting permanent waves that are necessary to maintain curly styles, but shag hairdos are also bringing young people into the salon."

Ether Richardson, from Jackson, Miss., says, "Women are returning to the kind of feminine look in clothes and hair that men like to see."

Her hair design for the show was a substart of curls around the face.

College kids are pouring into our salons, and many of them are cutting their hair short around the face, leaving the back long so it can be worn up for a short look or pulled down for a long one or tied back with a ribbon."

Miss Richardson says, "Wigs are no longer replacing hair styles, but they are popular because of the heat and handy to own if you are a swimmer or boater."

July 4 Card Released By Daytona

DAYTONA BEACH — The schedule of activities for the upcoming Firecracker 400 and Paul Revere 250 hot-rod racing program has been announced by Daytona International Speedway officials.

The 14th annual Firecracker 400 NASCAR-PFA Winston Cup Grand National event over Daytona's famed 2.5-mile trioval will get the traditional starting flag at 10 a.m. on the morning of July Fourth.

The colorful Paul Revere 250 over the 3.81-mile road-track course is again set for a midnight starting time, July 2.

The activities begin with registration and tech inspection Friday morning, June 30, and the first practice runs for both Grand National and Grand American cars are on the schedule for Friday afternoon.

Vacationing race fans will be able to watch some of the most spirited qualifying sessions in stock car racing Saturday and Sunday, July 1-2.

The coveted pole position, along with the rest of the top 15 starting berths in the 400-mile will be decided Saturday and the top spots in the 250-car Paul Revere field will be up for grabs Sunday. The second 15 positions in the Firecracker 400 will be decided Sunday.

Night practice for the Paul Revere race is set for Saturday and Sunday nights, and final practice trials for both events will be held Monday, July 3.

Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., drove his Harry Hyde-built Dodge to victory in last year's Independence Day classic, averaging 161.947 mph.

Veteran Buck Baker of Charlotte, N.C., drove a Pontiac Firebird to win the Paul Revere 250 the night before.

According to Dr. O. E. Frye, director, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Hunting and Fishing Day officially recognizes the role of Florida sportsmen in conservation and outdoor recreation, and asks hunters and anglers to again lead the public in a re-dedication to the conservation and respectful use of wildlife and natural resources.

As a part of the observation of this special day, sportsmen and conservation clubs throughout the state are being asked to hold open house for the public — with volunteers displaying all types of hunting, fishing, and camping equipment, and putting on special demonstrations of outdoor equipment use.

According to the resolution adopted by the Fla. 50 legislature, there are few pursuits providing more opportunity for healthy exercise, peaceful solitude and appreciation of the great outdoors than does hunting and fishing.

Frye said, "Hunting and Fishing Day will be recognized at both state and National levels. Many states have adopted resolutions similar to Florida's."

Nicklaus Is Target Of Confident Heard

By BOB GREEN

PORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Heard is a casual, relaxed, quietly-confident young man, who has immediate goals now, especially after his victory Sunday in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"I want to knock off Jack (Nicklaus)," he said, lacking even a trace of bravado. "I'll play next week in the Dunlop Thomas-Memphis Open starting Thursday, but I'm not sure what I'll do after that. I want to be right for the U.S. Open. I want to get Nicklaus."

Nicklaus announced earlier this year his hope of winning the Big Four titles this year, the United States and British Opens, the Masters and PGA. He has won the Masters. The U.S. Open is scheduled June 15-16 at Pebble Beach, Calif.

Nicklaus skipped this event but will play in Memphis. Heard's $25,000 first prize increased his four tournament wins this season to $100,000, second to Nicklaus' $154,000.

The NIT was his third career victory and second this season. He blew a two-stroke lead with a double bogey on the 17th hole which dropped him in a tie with Fred Marti. But he won on the 18th by two strokes when he sank a 25-foot birdie putt.

Marti finished with a 72-77, alone in second. Dave Stockton, a one-time winner here, took third with 72-78 while Phil Rodgers, tied with Marti going into the final round, slipped to a 74-79.

They were the only two players able to break par for four days. Only two outpar scores were recorded on the final date with Art Wall shooting a 66-286 and Bob Murphy a 69-286, good enough to place him fifth.

Saturday's Results: New York 1, San Francisco 0; Los Angeles 2, Philadelphia 1; San Diego 5, Montreal 0; Chicago at Atlanta, rain; Cincinnati 11, St. Louis 2; Pittsburgh 6, Houston 11, 12-innings.

Sunday's Results: Cincinnati 4-2, St. Louis 3-0; New York 5, San Francisco 4; Montreal 9, San Diego 3; Houston 7, Pittsburgh 6; Atlanta 2, Chicago 1; Los Angeles at Philadelphia, rain.

Monday's Games: Chicago (Jenkins 3-2) at Philadelphia (Fryman 3-1), night; Montreal (Stoneman 3-2) at New York (Matlack 3-0), night; St. Louis (Gibson 9-4) at Pittsburgh (Ellis 5-1), night; Atlanta (Kelly 4-3) at Houston (Roberts 3-1), night; Los Angeles (Downing 3-2) at San Diego (Arlin 2-3), night.

Only games scheduled: Tuesday's Games: Oakland at California, night; Texas at Kansas City, night; Minnesota at Chicago, night; Baltimore at Detroit, night; New York at Cleveland, night; Boston at Milwaukee, night.

Rosewall Successful In Defense Of Title

By DENNIS FREEMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS — Ken Rosewall overcame fellow Australian Rod Laver and fatigue, the deadliest enemy of all for a 38-year-old tennis professional, to successfully defend his world Championship of Tennis crown Sunday on a dramatic tie-breaker in the fifth set.

Rosewall, for the second consecutive year, defeated Laver in the finals for the $50,000 check — tennis' richest prize. The match lasted three hours and 50 minutes with Rosewall prevailing 4-6, 6-3, 6-7, and 7-6.

The last set went down to the WCT best-of-12 point tie-breaker with Rosewall winning 7-5 as Laver netted a backhand.

Rosewall was so tired at the end he was stumbling and his head sagged as he gathered strength between points.

"I knew he was exhausted and I had a great chance," said a disappointed 33-year-old Laver, a tennis millitairist who twice won the grand slam.

"He's tough. My record is very good against him overall but there is just something about this tournament that makes him hang in there."

Laver got a consolation prize of $20,000 and vowed to take the trophy next year. Rosewall, for the second consecutive year, defeated Laver in the finals for the $50,000 check — tennis' richest prize.

Shower Honors Miss Elizabeth Moon

By LIZ MATHIEUX

Miss Elizabeth Moon, popular bride-elect of Ted Aulin was honored at a shower recently at the lovely Oviedo home of Mrs. Jane Simmons by Mrs. Carol Hooker and Mrs. Jane Simmons.

A soft pastel pink table cloth, bordered with antique white lace covered the serving table. The table was centered with an exquisite lead crystal punch bowl which was flanked by silver candelabras, holding long pink tapers.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served along with an assortment of pastel mints and nuts.

Those invited to attend were Mrs. Jan Dann, Mrs. Karen Jacobs, Mrs. Diane Keller, sister of the bride-groom-elect, Mrs. Linda Graham, Mrs. Lorraine Moon, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. Donna Gammage and Miss Mary Courier and the Misses Donna Moon and Patty Moon sisters of the bride-elect.

Miss Moon received her guests wearing a delicate pastel dress and was presented with a corsage of pink carnations by the hostesses.

The bride received many lovely remembrances of the occasion. The hostesses' gift was a personal item.

The wedding is scheduled as an event of June 24, at 4 p.m., at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Union Park, to which all friends and relatives of the couple are invited.

Requests for women's news and photo coverage (parties, clubs, etc.) should be made at least a week in advance. Area correspondents are listed daily on the editorial page.

Husband's happiness is worth some aggravation

DEAR ABBY: My husband retired nearly a year ago, he has started one project after another, but he hasn't finished any of them.

First, he thought it would be nice if he had a vegetable garden, so he dug up the backyard and bought all kinds of seeds. However, he never got around to planting anything.

Then he decided we needed a patio, so he bought a truckload of sand and a load of bricks. It's been three months, and the bricks and sand are still piled on our back porch, and he hasn't started to "build" anything yet.

Now he is gathering equipment for a woodwork shop in our basement! Abby, he is such a dear man who has really earned his retirement, but all he does is read "How To" books and whittle as he takes off to the hardware store to do some more shopping.

I hate to nag him, but what can I do? GOING CRAZY

DEAR ABBY: I hope LOW-SLUNG IN BROOKLYN got a lift from your letter telling her that plastic surgeons can actually lift a person's behind. I know I did.

And while we are in that general area, I wonder if your readers know that false eyelashes on the market for women who are flat in back? I should know; I've been wearing one for years.

If you use my letter please don't use my real name. Make up one. MRS. X

DEAR MRS. X: How about "SITTING PRITTY" or "MRS. BUTTINSKY"? Sorry, but you really backed into that one.

DEAR ABBY: Even 2,000 horticulturists can be wrong if they tell you that begonias can be grown only in moist, tropical climates.

We grow huge, lovely begonias in Anchorage, Alaska. And I mean out of doors in the summer. Because of our long day-light hours and the absence of intense heat, our begonias are probably the most beautiful grown anywhere in the world.

MRS. L. A. IN ANCHORAGE

DEAR MISS L. A.: Many others who read me in the Anchorage Times write to tell about their gorgeous begonias. But more surprising was a letter from Dorothy Pearson advising me that HER begonias were blooming profusely in hot, dry Concordia, Kansas!

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to visit a nephew who lives in another city. While there, I attended church with him. When the collection plate was passed, my nephew took a five-dollar bill from his wallet, placed it on the collection plate, then took two dollar bills from the collection plate and placed them in his wallet! I was shocked.

Abby, I had never seen anyone "make change" from a collection plate before. Is this proper? SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Why not? Far better to put in five and take out two than to put in nothing because he had only a five, which may have been beyond his budget.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 16, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning brings some upsets so don't be surprised if you have to make changes and plot your day anew because of unexpected conditions that arise. The afternoon and evening are good for entertainment or romantic outlets depending upon whether or not you are objective and not over-sensitive.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Aug. 19) Handle vital matters at home, but don't get upset because a family tie is in a bad mood, since this soon will change. Try to establish more harmony there and tonight you can entertain.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you keep appointments on time and complete routine duties, you make this a profitable and satisfying day. Read your mail well and fine opportunities to advance are found tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan how to add to present income in the morning and then take the initial steps in the afternoon. Economy measures can be taken later. Be sure you have simple working capital. Be wise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) A good day to dress charmingly and then get off to social gaiety that brings advancement easily. Know what it is you most want to do and go after it wisely. Don't be impulsive.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) An ideal day to plan the future, keep out of the limelight for now, and then contact advisers and listen to their fine suggestions. Avoid one who has an eye on your assets.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget dull routine in the morning and visit good pals who are progressive and have fine ideas for your advancement. Now is the time to do something constructive about personal aims.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Concentrate on business affairs in the morning. Start with the morning and then then you can enjoy the rest. A high-up job can help improve your image. Take advantage of it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have a new interest that requires study of facts and figures if you want it to be a successful enterprise. Obtain the data via telephone. Show that you are endowed with patience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't waste time while handling important business matters in the morning. Showing more affection is not only wise but right. Avoid happiness can come from this quickly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can now come to a far better understanding with associates in every category of your life and increase happiness. Outside pressure can be handled quickly and well now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The morning starts slowly, but later life favors come your way which should be accepted. Don't get bogged down with too many details. Put that creative idea to work as early as you can.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A good day to tie up loose ends and gain a feeling of security. Put aside any anxieties that may suddenly appear. Then have fun with congenials. Show that you are wisdom.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who could develop a harmful trait of being over-sensitive. Teach early to stand on own two feet and make big headway into the world of activity. The field of merchandising is fine here, and the family life will be quite ideal. Be sure to give religious teaching.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

We grow huge, lovely begonias in Anchorage, Alaska. And I mean out of doors in the summer. Because of our long day-light hours and the absence of intense heat, our begonias are probably the most beautiful grown anywhere in the world.

MRS. L. A. IN ANCHORAGE

DEAR MISS L. A.: Many others who read me in the Anchorage Times write to tell about their gorgeous begonias. But more surprising was a letter from Dorothy Pearson advising me that HER begonias were blooming profusely in hot, dry Concordia, Kansas!

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago I went to visit a nephew who lives in another city. While there, I attended church with him. When the collection plate was passed, my nephew took a five-dollar bill from his wallet, placed it on the collection plate, then took two dollar bills from the collection plate and placed them in his wallet! I was shocked.

Abby, I had never seen anyone "make change" from a collection plate before. Is this proper? SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: Why not? Far better to put in five and take out two than to put in nothing because he had only a five, which may have been beyond his budget.

POLLY'S POINTERS

There Are Many Uses For Old Computer Cards

DEAR POLLY—J. N. should take all those computer cards she has saved to the nearest elementary school. I have found dozens of uses for them in the classroom.

They make vocabulary drill cards, sentence builders, number flash cards and patterns-to-trace cards. Folded as tents, they label science displays and serve as name cards for parent's night and for substitute teachers. I do not know how I got along before my mother brought me the first of many I have used.—L. B. O.

DEAR POLLY AND J. N.—I have an idea for using those many computer cards for making flowers or mirror frames. Cut the ends of each card to make a point and fasten with staples. Cut out a circle that is about 10 inches in diameter and begin stapling the cards around the edge of the circle. Make another circle of the shaped cards that are an inch or two from the edge of the first one and continue as you wish. I usually draw three or four concentric circles into the cardboard and use that for guides. Buy an inexpensive 4- to 6-inch round mirror that will make a perfect center for your computer card flower.—RHONDA

DEAR GIRLS—Even though she did not say so I feel sure Rhonda must spray paint her computer card flowers before attaching the mirror.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I cannot understand what I do that is wrong for my garden plants. The last one I received was on my birthday and in a month it was dead. Please, someone tell me how to care for them. I water mine just like any other house plant but they just dry up and die.—LILLIAN

DEAR POLLY—When digging a hole in the yard for planting a tree or shrub, lay a paint drop cloth, tobacco sheet or something similar to the side of the hole and toss all the dirt on it. When ready to refill the hole around the new plant all the dirt is in one place and the grass in the yard is not messed up. If there is too much dirt, what is leftover can be easily moved away.—MRS. N. P.

have 10 top tricks. What if West had the king of clubs? West will get a club and five diamonds.

Jim: "If South is a good player he decides not to bother with a club finesse. He doesn't care if East gets on lead with that card since he surely needs four club tricks for his contract. Therefore he lays down his ace of clubs and gets a pleasant dividend. West does hold the king of clubs but that is the only club in his hand. He has to play it on South's ace."

Oswald: "It turned out that West had a gun but it wasn't loaded and South scores game and rubber."

Oswald: "When declarer can make his contract without giving up the lead he can relax completely. He can relax just as much if he can give up the lead with complete safety."

Jim: "Sometimes one opponent represents danger and the other is afforded to let the other one in. Under those circumstances it is up to him to keep away from the man with the gun."

Oswald: "West is the man with the gun today. He is the king of diamonds and sees that his future lies with the club suit. If East has the king of clubs he can finesse against it and will

From 'Nice Day' to 'I Confess'

I've been told there are five levels of communication that can be distinguished. In other words, we relate to each other, share with each other, on five different levels of openness.

The top level of communicating comes only once in a while for a few of us with a few others. It's an absolute openness. It's complete honesty. It may come with a husband or wife, less often with a child, occasionally with a friend.

It's knowing our own happiness or unhappiness is duplicated in another.

8-8 CBS Gannett (Rerun) "Snow Train." (Part 1) This begins a three-part story by Dillon runs into angry Indians seeking to take custody of two men. Dillon is returning to Dodge City. Dillon has the men in custody aboard a train that is halted by the Sioux. Their ultimatum is either release the men to them or face an attack that imperils the lives of all other passengers.

8-9 NBC Town and Martin's Laugh-In (Rerun) Debbie Reynolds leads stars and keeps pretty active dancing, singing and participating in skits. She plays the former "Miss Burbank" who returns to the beautiful downtown of the city, and also portrays a housewife who gets so infuriated by a "Dear John" telegram she fatters the messenger boy. Carson shots focus on Charlie Callas, Jack Carter, Johnny Cash and Dick Cavett.

8-9 ABC The Monday Night Special (Rerun) "The Undersea World of Jacques Cousteau." This one's subject is "The Forgetting Mermaids," a fascinating report of a program that studied the sea cows, otherwise known as manatees, an elusive undersea breed. Jacques is joined by his son, Philippe.

8-11 NBC NBC Monday Night At 7: Movies: "Seven Faces of Dr. Lao." Can you believe Tony Randall as an elderly Chinese man, whose base is a circus in the Far West, which he uses to chase evil spirits, and bring dignity to the town? He blocks a shady railroad deal, off-sets gossip and goes through some deeds to rid the town of its problems.

8-11 ABC The ABC Monday Night Movie "Fantasy Voyage." The film is intriguing. The unusual concept is a journey through a human body. A famed Czech scientist defects and is spirited out from behind the Iron Curtain by American agent Grant (Stephen Boyd), but he suffers brain damage. The tantalizing premise is that men and equipment can be shrunk to microbe size, for 60 minutes, and put aboard a miniaturized submarine with scientists and doctors and injected into the scientist's bloodstream so they can make their way to the brain. All this, and Raquel Welch, too, as a brain surgeon's assistant taken along.

8-11 CBS The Sonny & Cher Show (Rerun) Chad Everett and Lorne Greene join the fun. Everett is featured singing in a production spectacle, and Lorne turns his hand at Shakespeare.
