John Temple Graves says in the Times-Union that the proper solution to colored voting is in "qualifying." To qualify to vote in Mississippi, one has to believe in cettain party principles. There might be a better way to quality a votes such as requiring him to be able to read a part of the Constitution or sign his name, As Mr. Graves says, "Given whites and blacks educated enough, characterful and responsible enough situations will, even if not all the way, tend to right them-

The Army should not suffer from its new system of promotions which went into effect last week with the signing of a law by President Truman which makes merit the basis of promotion rather than seniority. The Army was not to blame for the old system since it was in accordance with another law passed by Congress a long time ago. The idea was to prevent favoritism in connection with promotion, and it was based on the theory that all men were created free and equal and remained that way throughout their lives; that is, one officer was just as much qualified for otion as another provided he served the same length of time. It failed to take into consideration the fact that some officers apply themselves to their jobs, are conscientious, and de-serve promotions; that other of-ficers spend all their time court-ing other officers wives and at-tending cocktail parties. Henceh, we may have some 60 year captains and 90 year old gen s; and then we will hea of favoritism again, as

Thrifty Americans

We are often considered to be a spendthrift nation with all our money frittered away, but apparently that is mis-judgment.

George Gallup, with his insatiable curlosity, has been asking people what they would do if someone handed them $1,000. Evidently many of those questioned haid dreamed of such a windfall, for they came up with ready answers. The replies were on the whole very sensible.

Thirty-ene per cent would save the money, 24 per cent would buy a home or improve the one they had, 14 per cent would buy a car, furniture, clothes, and so forth, with small percentages for other laudable purposes. Only 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes. Only 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, of this 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes. Many of this 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, of this 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, of this 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, of this 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 3 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable purposes, only 4 per small percentages for other laudable percentages for other laudab cent may never have had any fun, and might be quite justified in having a thousand-dollar fling.

The only way, sad to say, that most of the people questioned are likely to get a thousand dollars is by earning it, and that process, by its very nature, makes the spending of the money a matter for careful thought. So the bulk of most people's money will undoubtedly continue to be put to very good use,

Post-War Italian Women

From Rome, where women have for generations led uded lives, Marie Seton writes that her sex is gradually oming freed from the fetters of custom.

The without market supper from should now be clear to many who have been morally alseep. If really, sciously or unconsciously acite it awakened, they can find ways to and accept its help, terrorism on hait the senseless terror. secluded lives, Marie Seton writes that her sex is gradually becoming freed from the fetters of custom.

Italian womanhood is the mother of a three-year-old son, and keeps house in a modern apartment for her husband and her father. Dressing modishly, keeping up with public affairs, and coping with the food problem under black market conditions, she manages besides to be an active partner in a business making artistic films.

Italy has been a backward country in many ways, but perhaps fuere is a chance for her return to the prestige she enjoyed in the days of the Caesars. With women taking and marketing of the state multiactive part in business and professional life, enlightened active part in business and professional life, enlightened million dollar from regotally cross-changes may be made it imprises well safet that a country while a writed from her within a rises no higher than the status of its women.

Atoms And Destiny

This is the third year of the Atom Bomb, observes a commentator, and it has split the world. It has accomplished various things of a practical nature, and will doubtless accomplish many more. It holds up to the world a vision Kissimmee has a club which put of almost infinite power. "Atomic energy" has become a of ten days or two weeks, on a beautiful quadrille. So could magic phrase, with the scientists of the world competing for its secrets, each realizing that it may destroy the other. or be destroyed by it.

To the average man in the street this new phase of enlightenment and the significance of what we call "matter" may mean little or nothing. But we may be sure that the foremost scientists of the world have at least a considerable view of what it is all about, the possible length of life on this planet, and possibly even of the destiny of man himself.

Feds Trim Orlando And DeLand, Drop Game To Sens

Scene By Police

The Sanford Celery Feds continued their drive for the first division over the weekend as they won two contests and dropped one. Friday night the Feds came from behind to win a 10 to 8 tilt. Saturday night the locals nipped the Orlando Senators in a nip and tuck battle that nearly ended in a free for all by a 2 to 1 margin. Yes terday the Feds invaded Tinker Field in Orlando for a return engagement with the Solons and were defeated in a 2 to 0 affair. Saturday night Carl "Goose" Kettles opened on the hill for the Feds and was removed in favor of Charlie Bissen. As the Celerymen entered the top of the sixth, the Red Hats were leading by an 8 to 1 margin, but the locals tallied fivs runs in the sixth and tied the contest in the eighth. Sanford accored two markers in the ninth frame to cop the tilt.

The Sanford Celery Feds continued the first which the collection was made for the players.

Yesterday the Senators evened the series as they defeated the Feds at Tinker Field by a 2 to 0 score. Joe Jones went the route for the Senators and Johnny Tomat hurled the nine inning affair for the Feds.

The Senators tallied their first score in the fifth inning on 'a double by John Garrison and a single by Rex Throop. The final Sen fally came in the eighth as Craig Lybrand singled, was sacrificed to second by Gerry Manning and Lydrand arched home on a Fed boot.

Jones was in hot water from the time the game started till the curtain went down in the ninth, but three fast twin killings by the Senator infielders and asveral sensatorial spears of hit balls that seemed destined for extra bases proved fatal to the Feds.

Tonight the locals motor to Leesband with a tilt with the Pirates and will return to the Municipal and w

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Ohio State University divers placed 1-2-3-4 in the 1946 intercollegiate championships, but no one was surprised. The Buckeyes have had diving champions to spare since Jimmy Patterson first flipped the trick

In 1938-'39 and '40 the Buckeyes, Al Patnik carried on—losing only one diving contest during his collegiate career—and that to teammate Earl Clark.

In 1941 Clark annexed the Big

In 1941 Clark annexed the Big Ten, NCAA and AAU crowns. Frank Dempsey and a young freshman, Miller Anderson, carried on the next vear to keep things going Ohio State's way.

Back from the wars Anderson co-captained last year's Scarlet and Grey crew, with swimmers Jim Counsilman. Such water aces as Bill Smith, Jack Hill, Bob DeGroot, Jack Ryan and Hilo Hirose made the Buck swimmers hard to beat and the sure points in the diving events—as in the NCAA champion-ships—kept them unbeatable.

ships—kept them unbeatable.

In the Buckeye tradition Andewon's stiffest competition comes from teammates. Most serious threat to the former Army flyer's reign as the nation's No I diver is a curly-haired, 21-year-old former Navy physical instructor from Philadelphia, Bruce Harlan. Harlan did his first competitive diving while at Bainbrige (Md.) Naval Base in 1945; then placed 8th in his first AAU-championships.

then placed 8th in his first AAU championships.

Four months later, at the AAU outdoor trials, Harian had improved to the point of placing second against the same competitors. A year later, in the '45 AAU outdoor championships, Harian copped the 3-meter spring-board diving championship of the U.S.

Then Harlan enrolled at Ohlo

Then Harian enrolled at Ohio State for, as he says, "if you want to beat the beat divers you have to work along with them, compete with them, even in practice."

And while Harian, a smart competitor, obviously learns from observing reammates, they also profit from his enthusiasm and willingness to help them along.

Harian hits the books as well as the diving boards. He is as proud of his B plus rating in his physical education courses as his diving schlevements. He was elected to Phi Eta Sigma scholastic hondrary and Romophos, freshman activities honorary, at Ohio State last year; also found time to serve as a cheerleader where his tumbling skill thrilled thousands at the Buckeye's foothall games.

Harian's termed h "natural athiete" by his coach, Mike Peppe, and OSU Track Coach Larry Sny-
