Receives Vote Of Confidence SCIDA Director Lauded

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—Seminole County Industrial Authority (SCIDA) Director Jim Daniel received a vote of confidence this morning from city officials and other top level business and industrial leaders in the county.

Meeting at the Quality Inn, Longwood, the county leaders asked Daniel to handle and evaluate all industrial proposals channeled to him from all sources, including the State Department of Commerce.

The leaders said Daniel should refer proposals to whichever city or area he felt could best serve the industrial inquiry.

The group also agreed they will keep in close contact with Daniel, not only for information purposes but also seeking his advice at monthly Thursday luncheon meetings to be held in each community beginning with Altamonte Springs in September.

"We will have no trouble with trust and honesty around here," Daniel said, adding, "By the group working together

Seminole can become industrially a very viable county. "There is too much talent," he said pointing to the leaders present, "around this table to let it get away."

John Krider, former executive director of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and currently a realtor and member of the Chamber's Industrial 25 Committee, said that attracting industry locally, regardless of where it locates within the county will benefit all of Seminole.

Krider noted he currently is working with an industrialist who will invest up to $1 million in Seminole and employ 100 persons. Another industry was approved Wednesday which will employ 50 persons, Krider said.

Phil Lovelace of the Florida Department of Commerce, said that during the past year part of his work has included training directors in industrial development, acquiring the teams with the scope of information necessary in order to attract industry.

The teams, he said, usually include a banker from each area, someone representing the school system and someone from each community.

Lovelace said he will be scheduling local training courses in the near future.

Jack Horner, executive director of the Greater Sanford Chamber, urged that most of the groundwork to attract industries be channeled through the various Chambers of Commerce in the County.

Jim Ryan, director of the Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA), said if names of prospective industries are known by everyone the project on the date promised—the end of November.

"Yes sir," a company spokesman told Stenstrom, "we'll be done in 15 weeks."

Builders Movers defaulted in February. And all work on the ill-fated school ceased.

The projected move from Altamonte Springs to Longwood was scheduled for completion in September. Now, School Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer says the school will be finished in time for the second semester next year.

Parents from the Woodlands area have appeared at numerous board meetings to protest holdups on the school's move.

Woodlands Bid Awarded

School officials Wednesday got the stalled Woodlands Elementary School project moving again with a $236,191 bid awarded to an Altamonte Springs contractor for completion of the facility.

School Board attorney Doug Stenstrom warned school board members, however, that it will "probably" be necessary to take the former bonding agency to court to pay off the bid awarded to Shamrock Engineering.

"We'll probably have to sue them," Stenstrom warned. "Ultimately, it will take a court decision."

Surety Financial Indemnity Co., the bonding agency for Builders Movers Inc., the construction firm which defaulted, wanted to accept a low bid of $115,000 for the school's completion when the project was still in the bonding agency's hands.

Fearing that Builders Movers would again end up with the contract, the board voted to reject the project.

The difference between $115,000 bid by Builders Movers and $236,000 is money Stenstrom fears the county will have difficulty collecting.

It may take two to three years, he said. The attorney also grilled the new construction firm about its ability to complete the project on the date promised—the end of November.

"Yes sir," a company spokesman told Stenstrom, "we'll be done in 15 weeks."

Builders Movers defaulted in February. And all work on the ill-fated school ceased.

The projected move from Altamonte Springs to Longwood was scheduled for completion in September. Now, School Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer says the school will be finished in time for the second semester next year.

Man-On-The-Street Interview

What Is A Mill?—Most Taxpayers Don't Know Answer

By MICK LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Not many taxpayers understand what a millage rate is or how it affects their taxes. At least that's what a man-on-the-street survey showed Wednesday.

From a group of 10 persons questioned, only two men could say the county's proposed 5.34 certified millage meant taxpayers would pay more than $5 for each $1,000 of assessed property they own.

Millage provides ad valorem taxes for government operations.

One mill equals $1 for each $1,000 in assessed property. If the county levies the 5.34 mill, taxpayers will pay $5.34 for each $1,000 of assessed property.

"I thought to know about taxes, but I don't," said Linda Sandage, 22, of Lake Mary. "I don't keep up with that stuff."

"You've got to sit down and think about it," says Casseberry resident Jack Flinn.

He explained—counting on his fingers—that 5.34 mills is "a lot of money" and that he didn't know what it meant.

Bill Sabar, county assistant property appraiser, said most people fail to understand the taxing system based on millage.

"Most people don't understand taxes except from the standpoint that they get a tax bill," Sabar says.

"It's hard to talk taxes to people. You have to work with it before you understand it. Most people don't even know who sets the millage," Sabar said.

The property appraiser's office certifies millage for the county, school board and municipalities. Sabar said Friday is the final day to file petitions seeking review on the appraisal. He said the tax bills will be mailed Nov. 1 and delinquent after April 1, 1976.

Mrs. Putty Kinard, whose family recently moved to Sanford, said she plans to purchase a home soon, but says she has "no idea" what millage means.

"I have no idea, other than it has something to do with taxes on property, doesn't it?" Mrs. Kinard asked.

Geneva Howard, 19, 1511 W. 12th Street, Sanford, said she does not understand what a mill means.

"I don't understand, not really. All I know it's ridiculous that taxes are so high," she said.

W. A. Ludwig, a long time Sanford resident, says he understands millage.

"I've been fighting it all my life," he said. He says the county's 5.34 millage will mean more than $5 in taxes per $1,000.

"I learned the hard way," he said. "By paying." Ludwig said he formerly owned property, now rents an apartment.

John Chester, of Orlando said "I could only say it was related to taxes," when asked what millage meant.

Alvin W. Horning, vacationing in Sanford from New York, where he pays taxes, says he doesn't "understand taxes."

"I don't pay much attention to taxes," Horning a construction worker, said.

Lake Mary City Council Denies Zoning Request

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY—Property owners were successful in blocking a commercial rezoning request before the City Council here Wednesday night.

On a 3-2 vote, the council refused the residential to commercial request of P. Zeuli and Sons to permit construction of a professional building.

Opponents contended the change would be spot zoning and would create a "cancer" that would continue eating" until the character of the long-term residential area was lost.

Councilmen Harry Terry and Martin Bacon Sr. were unsuccessful in persuading colleagues that the area will be commercial in the future.

Bacon said a special four-member committee of the planning and zoning board favors a change to commercial in the long range planning for that area and will recommend the change to the full advisory board for inclusion in the comprehensive Land Planning Study.

Plans are to build sites for both an adult and young family community on the site. Opponents had claimed the rezoning—from agriculture—would endanger the water recharge area and increase traffic from the expected 650 new residents in the mobile home park on Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard.

Terry insisted, however, the city desperately needs low income housing, adding that several additional approvals on roads, water lines, drainage and sewage disposal will have to be obtained before construction is completed.

"In other business, the council:

—Agreed to purchase a used four-wheel tractor with front loader and back hoe for $2,800. Mrs. Griffin said the equipment is needed in both the public works and utilities departments.

—Approved an increase in utility deposits for new customers on water meters up to one inch at $25 and over one inch at $50. Terry said the new deposit fee will not affect present customers.

—Appointed, on Terry's recommendation, Mrs. Griffin to join Terry as city representative on the 208 Water Quality Advisory Committee. Council also authorized Terry to request the committee to include, in the survey of water quality in the five-county area of Central Florida, water quality in Lake Mary, the means of preventing further pollution in Lake Mary lakes and the determination of the cause of loss of water in the lakes.

—Agreed to schedule a workshop with the county commission on the paving of Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard. The council earlier had refused to participate with the county in paving the two roads after the county had requested that the city pay 80 per cent of material cost for the project.

So you're asking yourself why would a picture of a sign appear in your friendly newspaper? Take a close look at what's written on the sign. You still don't see the significance of it all? Take one more look, okay. All right, we'll tell you what it's all about. If you'll notice, there's supposed to be a 20,000-square foot office building on the location of this sign—French Avenue (US 17-82) between 24th and 25th streets in Sanford. The completion date on the sign says it's to be finished by December, 1974. Seems rather strange that the site is nothing but an overgrown lot and the sign remains—eight months after the expected completion date. Now you get it? (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent)

The Sanford Airport Authority today unanimously approved the request of Henry Wight and Aero Services, Inc. for a one-year lease with the entire terminal building at the Sanford Airport.

Wight presented the board members a progress report on recent expansion of equipment and personnel that will enable Aero Services to provide all necessary ground support for the largest planes flying today.

The electrical power and air start equipment is equal to that used on the nation's major airports, Wight said.

Passenger stairs acquired this week will serve the large 747 and DC-10 planes, he said.

Wight introduced the firm's new operations manager, V. C. Palmieri, and called on Gene Eiselein, marketing director to report on contacts that have been made with more than 60 air carriers, nationally and internationally, plus major tour agents of the region and the nation.

In other action, the board approved leases for King Diaper Service, C & H Enterprises, PepsiCo Building Systems and Southern Shortening Corp.

Dr. Robert Rozemond, chairman of the authority, emphasized the value to the local community of such available structures as the 40,000 square foot building No. 301 that had been built by the Navy for a barracks.

Little Defense Makes Closing Arguments

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Defense attorney Marvin Miller says he plans to point out evidence in closing arguments today that supports Joan Little's contention that she killed a white jailer in self-defense and not as part of an escape plot.

The defense began closing arguments late Wednesday afternoon in the 21-year-old black woman's murder trial after the state concluded rebuttal testimony.

One of three prosecutors was to follow Miller as the defense and the state alternate closing arguments.

Defendant Joan Little claims she stabbed jailer Clarence T. Alligood with an ice pick in self defense against a sexual attack. The prosecution says she killed Alligood as part of an escape attempt. The jury of six blacks and six whites is expected to get the case about noon Friday.

Miller said the prosecution presented only the physical evidence to support its theory that Miss Little killed Alligood to escape.

Miss Little testified that she stabbed Alligood with an ice pick, without intending to kill him, after he forced her to perform oral sex on him.

During rebuttal testimony Wednesday, the state succeeded in contradicting Miss Little's testimony for the first time.

A Washington, N.C., telephone operator testified that a person who identified herself as Joan Little made a collect call from the jail to Anna Eubanks in Chapel Hill, N.C., between 3 a.m. and 3:30 a.m. on Aug. 27, about the time Alligood was stabbed.

Miss Little has denied making the early morning call. She testified that she phoned Mrs. Eubanks from the jail office around 10:30 p.m. on Aug. 26. The state has sought to link both calls with an escape plot.

Robert Rhodes, an attorney for state property appraisers, asks the Cabinet to handle a new manual on tax assessments in a certain way because of APA requirements.

The purposes are two-fold: To be sure that persons affected by rules have advance notice and are affected an opportunity to object to them; and to have legislative lawyers review all rules to make sure they don't go beyond the law.

Procedures Act Popping Up Just About Everywhere

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The new Administrative Procedure Act probably could fit the definition of ubiquitous with the state bureaucracy.

The law passed by the 1974 legislature went into full effect last Jan. 1 with the goal of erasing the "phantom government" of state agency rule writing.

Examples could be cited in virtually every field.

Ninety per cent of Floridians probably will never be directly touched by the law or need to know its requirements, but it eventually affects 100 per cent of them because it touches on everything from issuing auto tags to regulations on liquor licenses.

"The agencies are beginning to take into account before they make a move to pass a rule that they first have the statutory authority to do so... which they apparently had not thought about before," said Sen. Philip Lewis, D-West Palm Beach, chairman of the House-Senate APA Committee.

"The quality of the new rules coming through is improving all the time... but we haven't scratched the surface on the old rules," Lewis said.

"We give no consideration to whether it is a good or a necessary rule, that's up to the legislature to decide," said Carroll Webb, committee director.

The APA law also established a Hearing Officers Division to examine citizen objections to agency rules.

"We take the rule in the left hand and the statute book in the right hand and ask, 'is the rule authorized by the legislature,'" Lewis said.

"The lawyers are not likely to run out of work soon."

State agencies have 11,538 rules which range from ones which affect nearly all Florida residents to ones which affect a tiny number.

Lewis and Webb said the biggest improvement has been that all agencies now realize they are under the APA, even the universities which objected strongest.

It's not bad but it is an impediment on agencies that want to act swiftly," said William Moore, general counsel for the Board of Business Regulation.

"I don't think it's done anything but benefit industry" in the board's attempts to provide rapid punishment for liquor, restaurant and pari-mutuel wagering licenses, Moore said.

The notice requirements sometimes put the PSC "in a squeeze timetable," but the commission has tried to follow written rules of procedure for years, PSC General Counsel William Weeks said.

"It's not bad but it is an impediment on agencies that want to act swiftly," said William Moore, general counsel for the Board of Business Regulation.

U.S. Industry Thinks Small For Survival

The shrinking American family is forcing U.S. industry to "think small" to survive.

The Census Bureau reports that the size of the average U.S. household dipped below three persons in 1974 for the first time in history — the exact figure is 2.97 persons — and the trend toward small families is expected to continue.

Women of child-bearing age claim they want smaller families. "When married women today are asked how many children they expect to have in their lifetime, more than 25 years old say they believe they will have just enough for zero population growth," the Census Bureau says.

People are living longer and the elderly aren't moving in with their children. They keep their own homes or apartments. Young people are moving away from home after graduation from college. The child who used to stay home until marriage is leaving the nest earlier.

These people will still need the goods and services produced by industry. But they will need them in a different shape. Smaller households mean smaller houses. Smaller automobiles. Smaller packages of food. Smaller appliances. Different types of entertainment and amusement.

Some of the changes are apparent already, caused, in part, by the pressure of recession. Rising gasoline prices and shrinking budgets have prompted Detroit to put new emphasis on the small car. "No-frills" houses provide a bright spot in an otherwise gloomy construction picture.

Investment counselor Jesse Siff says industry is going to have to change its thinking even further or get left behind.

Business and government spokesmen tend to discount reports of entire industries going out of business because of disappearing markets, particularly in the area of products designed for babies and children.

"There will be every bit as many infants, but they will be spread out over more households," said Herbert Zeltner, senior vice president of Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc., a New York-based advertising agency.

HOUSING

Most of the experts agree that houses will get smaller for several reasons. Building and land costs have skyrocketed. More women entering the work force have neither the time nor the desire to take care of a large house. Smaller families need less space.

Zeltner said the living space of the future may be the cluster home, with a group of individually owned houses sharing common walls and some appliances in an extension of the current townhouse facility. "Why should each family have the expense of a complete kitchen and laundry unit?" Zeltner said, suggesting instead that homes of the future might have small kitchen appliances, washers and dryers and share large ovens and cleaning facilities.

Siff said there will be an increasing use of new materials and new techniques — some of them adapted from research being done in connection with the space program to determine the effects of living at very close quarters.

AUTOMOBILES

Economists inside and outside the auto industry agree that the small car is here to stay. They are less certain about the fate of the large car.

Siff predicted that in 20 years, very large cars "will be an anachronism, maybe even a collector's item."

Norm Crandall, market research director of Ford Motor Co., said he believed large cars were here to stay. But he said that the cars would become "more fuel efficient and what we call more passenger efficient" by providing more interior space while cutting overall dimensions, a trend already apparent in some 1975 models.

FOOD

Rising food prices, the growing consumer movement and demands for natural ingredients already have put a dent in the convenience food industry. Zeltner said he believes there will be even more changes.

Scott Offers 'To Deliver' Patty Hearst To Authorities

PHILADELPHIA (AP) Walter Scott, brother of sports activist Jack Scott, says he has twice seen missing newspaper heiress Patty Hearst and his brother has offered to deliver her to authorities. Scott says he saw Miss Hearst twice last summer, once at his parents' apartment in Las Vegas and again at an unspecified place in New York City in Las Vegas, Miss Hearst was disguised as a pregnant woman, he said. He also indicated he knows where she is. "I think she is in the United States, as long as you remember there are 50 of them, not 48," Walter Scott told reporters Wednesday. Scott also claimed that he and his brother had met recently with Miss Hearst's father, San Francisco Examiner president Randolph Hearst, and the meeting ended in a fist fight between Hearst and Jack Scott. Neither Hearst nor Jack Scott was available for comment. The FBI declined comment. The interview, Walter Scott's first since his name was linked to the search for Miss Hearst, was arranged by the FBI and held in a downtown Philadelphia hotel. Four Philadelphia reporters and an FBI agent were present. Scott is being held in protective custody by the FBI at his request because he says he fears for his life. Jack Scott rented a South Canaan, Pa., farmhouse last year where Miss Hearst reportedly stayed for a time. A Harrisburg, Pa., grand jury is investigating the incident and Jack Scott has vowed not to cooperate with investigators. Walter Scott, said by his brother Jack to have a history of alcohol problems, said Jack offered to deliver Miss Hearst to the government in return for immunity from prosecution and $100,000 to $200,000. But Walter Scott claimed negotiations on the matter have broken off. Scott said one reason his brother wanted to turn in Miss Hearst was because Jack, who he termed an avowed communist, now considered her to be a liability to radical causes. He said his brother and other left-wing sympathizers did not like Miss Hearst because they thought she was not a dedicated revolutionary. Miss Hearst was kidnapped in February 1974 by the Symbionese Liberation Army. She later renounced her family, said she had joined her captors, and is now being sought on federal charges of bank robbery, kidnapping and various weapons offenses. Scott indicated that one of the times he had seen Miss Hearst was on a stopover while she was en route with his parents and his brother across the country, from West to East. He did not say where they had been or where they were going. He said he believed Miss Hearst was now "in a position where she is being able to benefit comfortably financially... I don't think that her economic condition is such that she has to live in a ghetto in Detroit."

To Speak To 3,000

Kissinger Drives For Policy Support

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is continuing his campaign for popular support for his foreign policy and, in the process, cultivating a powerful senator.

He pointed out that so far this year Kissinger has made speeches in St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis and Milwaukee in an evident move to build a popular base for his concepts. The Birmingham speech had a more particular motive as well, the officials said. Kissinger accepted the invitation to please John J. Sparkman, Alabama's senior senator and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The secretary has complained recently of increasing opposition in Congress to his policies and an irritating and increasing interference by members in the day-to-day conduct of U.S. diplomacy. Kissinger's speech, which will be a general review with no particular focus, is designed to overcome that opposition by going directly to the people and to pull Sparkman to his side in his attempt to beat back the congressional critics. In addition to the speech, which will be carried live on Alabama radio and television, Kissinger has scheduled private meetings, with those he considers state leaders and molders of community opinion. For instance, he has scheduled a private luncheon with the state leaders of the Farm Bureau and will hold talks just before returning to Washington late this afternoon with Birmingham civic officials. The secretary has also scheduled a news conference for local reporters and the handful of Washington newsmen who came to Birmingham for an opportunity to ask questions of Kissinger. He has not held a news conference at the State Department in several months and none in Washington since the current Middle East peace initiatives gained important momentum.

HENRY KISSINGER

He has not held a news conference at the State Department in several months and none in Washington since the current Middle East peace initiatives gained important momentum. Attending the meeting were Longwood Mayor James R. Lornam, Lake Mary Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. and Harry Terry and Building Official Francis Jenner; Thomas Binford of the Port Authority; Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland; Altamonte Springs City Commissioner Cal DeVoney; Casselberry Councilman Charles Sizer, and SCIDA Chairman Ed White.

Public Hearing Planned For September

Winter Springs Completes Budget

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS — Holding the line at the certified tax millage, City Council has come up with a final 1975 fiscal budget totalling $458,257.15 without sacrificing current services. This figure includes a $30,000 carryover in the building fund from this year.

Included in the budget is an overall five per cent cost of living raise for city employees, which amounts to $9,855.49, including salaries and Social Security. Eliminated is the animal control program which is being turned over to the county. For the first time, there will be expense reimbursement for volunteer firemen and two additional full-time firemen will be hired to bring the paid force up to six. Also included will be funding for purchase of a new tractor and attachments, two new fire trucks and the construction of the $7,400 first phase of a maintenance complex. The planning commission will receive $5,000 to support preparation of the land use plan. Other departmental budget totals include: Police, $141,412.35; Fire, $80,380.45; Public Works, $52,556.45; Building and Zoning, $22,850; Office, $43,700; Court, $10,550; Finance, $71,773. A public hearing is planned for early September on the proposed budget.

SCIDA Director Lauded

Phillies In Tailspin; Critics Rap Ozark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies are in a tailspin and the natives are getting restless. The Phils, given their chance to take over the National League East lead from the stumbling Pittsburgh Pirates, have declined the offer. Pittsburgh has lost seven of its last eight. The Phils have dropped five of their last seven. And now they're calling for Manager Danny Ozark's head in the City of Brotherly Love. "How good are the 1975 Phillies? How far can they go?" asks the Philadelphia Inquirer. "We may never know if Ozark is allowed to spend the last month and a half of the season on the bench." The Philadelphia Bulletin counters that Ozark isn't doing a totally miserable job... he just lacks charisma. "It doesn't affect me," said the 51-year-old skipper. "That's the perils of the job. I don't think it will affect my team. It shouldn't."

'Improvement' Key Word For Patriots '75 Season

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — The New England Patriots started the National Football League by winning their first five games and six of their first seven in Coach Chuck Fairbanks' second season last year.

Then they were hit by crippling injuries and won only one of their last seven outings. But their 7-7 record was the club's best in eight years and even Fairbanks was pleased by the improvement in what he called "one of the most demanding and difficult" seasons in New England's history. Now the key word in Fairbanks' vocabulary is "improvement" in all phases of the game as he prepares the Patriots for the 1975 campaign. "We learned that we could win last year," Fairbanks said. "Now I hope we can take the field expecting to win. By that I hope our team will be aggressive, taking the initiative and forcing things to happen."

Palmer Wins No. 18; Tigers Falter Again

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Palmer got his 18th. So did the Tigers. Palmer is Baltimore's ace right-hander, the winningest pitcher in the major leagues this season and perhaps on his way to the best year he's had in a long time. He boosted his record to 18-7 Wednesday night with his fifth straight victory, a dazzling two-hit, 3-0 shutout of Kansas City that enabled the Orioles to resume their charge toward the top of the American League East. The Detroit Tigers are close to becoming the losingest team in the majors this season and perhaps on the way to the worst year they've had in a long time. They dropped their record to 46-73 with their 18th straight defeat, an 11-inning 6-5 loss to Texas that continued their plunge toward oblivion in the American League East.

Redskins, Thomas Part; Pats' Neville Breaks Leg

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Washington Redskins have apparently had their fill of Duane Thomas. "He's free to do whatever he wants to do," Tim Temarrasio, director of player personnel and assistant general manager of the Redskins, said Wednesday of the controversial running back. "He can make a deal with somebody else and then worry about compensation." Coach George Allen had said two weeks ago that no one, including Thomas, would play if he missed all of the two-a-day practices, which ended last week. Thomas, who had played out his option and became a free agent on May 1, did just that, not reporting to camp. Thomas, 28, reportedly was seeking a raise from $60,000 in 1974 to $168,000. The No. 1 choice of the Dallas Cowboys in the National Football League's 1970 college draft, Thomas was the rushing star of Dallas' 1971 Super Bowl victory over Miami, gaining 95 yards. Traded after a dispute with Coach Tom Landry, he sat out the 1972 season rather than report to New England or San Diego. The Redskins obtained Thomas in 1973 for two draft picks, but he played sparingly despite injuries to a number of other running backs. The controversies which marred Thomas' stay at Dallas followed him to Washington. He was suspended by the Redskins for seven days after a training camp altercation, was fined for being late for practice and failing to attend luncheon, raced into the stands after abusive fans in Buffalo and was placed on probation by the NFL after a marijuana conviction. Elsewhere, the New England Patriots lost 11-year veteran offensive tackle Tom Neville for the year when he suffered a broken left leg during a routine practice drill.

College Grid Playoff Under Consideration

CHICAGO (AP) — "The climate is better than ever" for a national college football championship and a plan for one might be forthcoming in a few months, according to the head of a special committee formed to study such a tournament.

"We'll meet again in October and we hope to come up with a proper plan to present to the NCAA convention in January," Ernie Casale, chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's Division I Football Championship Feasibility Committee, said Wednesday. Casale said the newly formed 17-member committee—which includes Coaches Darrell Royal of Texas and John McKay of Southern California—held its first meeting earlier this week in conjunction with the special NCAA cost-cutting convention which opens here today. "We had quite an interesting discussion and I feel we're going to come up with some sort of recommendation this time one way or another," Casale said. "Either we'll determine there shouldn't be a Division I football championship or, if we determine that there should be one, we'll come up with a plan. "We three several plans around and, at least for the time being, the opinion is that we should do something. We did determine two things—if at all possible, we don't want to disturb the present bowl structure and there should be a tournament committee to select the participating teams." Casale said there is "quite a bit of backing" for either a two-team or four-team playoff starting after the 1976 season since a plan could not be voted on by the NCAA's member institutions before the annual convention in St. Louis next Jan. 14-15. Casale said most previous plans for a major college football championship would have started in December, finishing in January. "A problem with that is the exam schedule at most schools in December," he said.

Angels 8, Red Sox 3 Mike Miley's two-run single capped a six-run third inning that permitted the Angels to breeze past Boston and cut the Red Sox' lead over Baltimore to six games in the East. Yankees 3, A's 1 Catfish Hunter beat his former Oakland teammates for the third time this year, this time with a three-hitter. Sandy Alomar's squeeze bunt gave the Yanks the winning run in the third inning. Twins 5, Brewers 2 Solo homers by Steve Braun and Danny Thompson in the sixth inning and a two-run belt by Phil Roof in the eighth offset a pair of blasts by Milwaukee's Darrell Pataer and carried the Twins to victory. White Sox 4, Indians 1 Pete Varney drew a basesloaded walk from Rick Waits to force in the 12th-inning run that enabled Chicago to top the Indians.

Negotiators Settle On Master Contract

Teachers, School Board Reach Accord

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A 75-page master contract agreement for Seminole County's 1,462 school teachers has been reached between School Board negotiators and the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

At a Thursday meeting, the two teams hammered out 10 SEA proposals and settled on a $300 raise for beginning teachers.

"We came up with a good first year contract," said Harry Pelley, the board's chief negotiator.

SEA Executive Director Gene Grooms said he wasn't satisfied with the $300 raise, but said the agreement is "one of the best first-year contracts that I've seen."

Representing more than 164 hours at the bargaining table, the contract will be presented to teachers for ratification after they return to classrooms Aug. 20.

The agreement must also be approved by the School Board before it goes into effect.

School Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer said today he plans to take the contract to the board "as soon as possible," probably by the end of August or the first of September.

"I'm very glad agreement was reached," Layer said. "It's to the best interest of both sides."

"I'm not satisfied with the monetary gains at all, but it's something for the teachers to look at," Grooms said.

"I feel the contract was very good for both sides and I think we worked long and hard. Each side has given, and each side has taken — which is good faith bargaining," Pelley said.

Although SEA Executive Director Gene Grooms said he wasn't satisfied with the $300 raise, he said the agreement is one of the best first-year contracts he's seen. Meanwhile, Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer said the agreement was for the best interest of both sides.

— Also, when cases are taken to arbitration the loser pays the cost.
— On the other hand, SEA won a host of rights. Many of the items won allow teacher input into the educational process.
— Among the most important are:
— Payroll deduction.
— The board doubled its contribution for insurance.
— A $300 raise in base pay.
— Duty free lunches.
— Extra pay for teachers substituting during preparation periods.
— Limited number of faculty meetings.
— Reduced requirements for P.T.A. meetings.
— A grievance procedure.
— Curriculum advisory committee representation.
— Building committee representation.

— Free use of school facilities for association meetings.
— Use of an exclusive bulletin board or space for communication purposes.
— "I had to look very seriously at protecting the rights of the board and the superintendent," Pelley said.
— "But at the same time, we recognized that teachers needed to have input," he added.
— Seminole is one of a few Florida counties to have bargained through to a successful contract agreement.
— Many other Florida counties are at impasse.
— For a time, Seminole was at impasse also, but Pelley and SEA negotiator Steve Rosenthal got together and called Thursday's meeting in an effort to produce a contract without the costly procedure of impasse.

Ex-Georgia Governor Seeks Democratic Nod

Carter Brings Campaign To Sanford

Jimmy Carter came down from Georgia today to tell Seminole Countyans that as President of the United States he would make this country "a nation of pride — instead of embarrassment."

His stopover in Sanford marked the 178th city he's visited in his effort to "find out" what the people in this country are thinking.

"What are they thinking?"
"There are two basic questions," the 56-year-old former Georgia governor said. "One is, can this government in its present fashion continue to exist?"

"The second is can the government be honest and decent — something all Americans wish it to be?"
Carter's answer to these questions is "yes."
Yes, that is, if this nation's people choose him for the highly touted job he's seeking — that of President of the United States, he says.

Carter stumped casually in a chilly metal chair at The Herald office, touching the clump of silver hair that persisted in falling over his forehead.

He pulled at the dark blue businessman's socks and he dusted lint off his pin-striped suit.
"When he looked his eyes and forehead turned into a sea of wrinkles. On issues, his voice becomes soft, persistent — like a schoolboy wailing his first date."

"It boils down to a race between me and Gov. Wallace," Carter says.

He asks when the last time Wallace was in Seminole County. Or for that matter, when was Wallace last in Florida?
"The soft spoken Georgia Democrat today to tell the people he's concerned about unemployment, energy and the present administration's philosophy of running this generation of government — called democracy."
Carter says America is "going to be out of oil" in 35 years. But, he believes there's enough coal to use as an energy source to last 200 years.

He also is an advocate of nuclear energy and believes this country eventually will shift to nuclear plants for generation of electricity.
He also believes the nation should concentrate on solar energy.
The reason we haven't, he says, is because of pressure from big oil companies.
Along with his thoughts on energy, Carter believes in protecting the environment and would like to see "strict conservation measures" adopted and enforced.

He d put them to work in both public and private industry. Get them jobs as teacher aides, nurse's aides, working in day care centers, picking up garbage off the streets — a lot of jobs that presently go begging.

For those able to work who won't work — Jimmy Carter is not your candidate. Because he doesn't believe in paying persons not to work.

In 1946, Carter graduated from the United States Naval Academy. Adm. Hyman Rickover, Carter says, looked him in the eye and asked, "Did you do your best?"
Realizing he hadn't, he his best, Carter, after a long pause, admitted he hadn't done as well as he could.

Hattaway Tapped To Head Solar Energy Committee

Hattaway will be traveling to Washington, D. C., to try to obtain the $50-million solar research project for Cape Canaveral.

After attending a meeting in Cocoa Beach on Wednesday with the Governor's Task Force on Solar Energy, Hattaway said, "Florida has been in the forefront of solar energy development and I can see no reason for the state not to be the site for the national center."

"Florida has an advantage as a site because we can tap the resources of 15 major corporations in close proximity of the Solar Energy Center and our climate will provide an easier testing area. Arizona and New Mexico (the other leading contenders) are already suffering from air pollution problems," Hattaway said.

The Subcommittee will be responsible for analyzing the development of solar energy in Florida and its potential as a viable alternative source for meeting energy needs of the future.

A major responsibility will be working with federal officials to establish the National Solar Energy Research Center in Brevard County, where the Florida Solar Energy Center is located.

"Our purpose in acquiring the site in Florida," he added, "is to provide employment to many people in Central Florida."

Hold Line On Millage, Mayor Says

LAKE MARY — Mayor Walter Sorenson will recommend to the City Council that the tax levy remain at three mills during Saturday's 9 a.m. workshop on the 1975-76 budget.

Sorenson told The Herald today that the city reduces its property tax level to the 1.55 millage rate certified by Seminole Property Appraiser Terry Goembiel, the city will have to search for another source of income in order to retain its federal and state revenue sharing funds.

The state and federal money is dependent upon the city having revenues of a three mill equivalency, Sorenson noted.

In addition, he said, property taxes can be used as an income tax deduction by the city's tax payers of $1,000 of assessed valuation.
