The Way To Win

Residents of Fern Park are to be heartily commended for their evident interest in civic matters concerning their area and the future of the county as a whole.

For and against, they packed the American Legion Home on Prairie Lake Monday night to discuss incorporating Fern Park at a public meeting . . . the age old Democratic Way.

Also deserving a large bouquet are members of the eight-man committee who donated their specialized talents and labors to compile a fact sheet on the pros and cons of incorporation in preparation for Monday night's discussion.

These citizens, and others like them throughout Seminole County, leave little doubt in anyone's mind that we will successfully meet and conquer the predicted Nova impact challenge.

Like 'Old Times', A Dollar Buys A Lot At Cowan's Tonight

Do you remember away back when a dollar in your pocket felt like (and really was) a lot of money? Stores carried a long list of choice merchandise, that a person could buy for a dollar, may be even have some change left? Those were the nostalgic "good old days." This week, for three and a half hours, Friday night, Cowan's in Downtown Sanford are bringing those good old days to life again. They have marked down over a thousand pieces of merchandise that can be bought for one single dollar. Some articles are actually listed at two or three for a dollar. Sounds unbelievable, but it's true. There is a big variety of odds and ends—socks may be a little shop worn, but all of it is quality brand-name merchandise that Cowan's regularly carry on their shelves at the much higher present day prices. Here are a few in the various departments: Ladies—skirts, blouses, pants, dresses, bags, P-J's, blouses, undershirts, undershorts, handkerchiefs, ties, shirts. Childrens—gowns, P-J's, shirts, sweaters, dungarees, overalls, and there is more. Adv.

WHICH SIDE?

CHISTIANITY, OR COMMUNISM... Which side are you on? There is a distinct line, "THE IRON CURTAIN," separating the two. Communism is an atheistic, materialistic, scientific, political conspiracy, aligned against God. Communism says, "DOWN WITH THE CROSS!" It declares Man is state-owned property. Christianity, the Bible and God are on one side. The hammer, sickle and Communism on the other. If you are a Communist, you are Godless. If you love God, you are not a Communist. Freedom and a sense of human worth are the Bible's gift to mankind. The hammer blows will falter! The sickle's edge will grow dull! The Bible and the church will endure. WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

Rev. Grover Sewell

Space Not Only Front

No one can deny the fact that we are living in exciting times. There was a time, which some of us can remember, when it seemed that frontiers were a thing of the past. Now we realize that such thinking is out of place in 1962.

Even our figures of speech are having to undergo revision. Do you remember when one of the most used expressions was: "I could no more do that than fly to the moon?" It is very likely that we will have to discard such an extreme expression, as the one above, before much time passes.

It does seem to be true that we have developed faster in the realm of making missiles than we have in moral and spiritual character.

GENERAL ELECTRIC KITCHENS

How Is The Question

Those Americans who demand "total victory over communism" have been chided for not offering strategy and tactics. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading this victory call, now tries to give answer.

The forum he chose was the Air War College in Montgomery, Ala., where he delivered a sober, detailed, 18-page address on the Communist challenge to freedom.

At the outset, he declared that the enemy is Communist power—not Communist nations as such. He would not alter a boundary.

To achieve triumph over Red power, he would have the United States and its friends do these things:

Resume atmospheric nuclear tests immediately, and abandon disarmament efforts.

Turn down all government coalition arrangements such as now proposed for Laos, on the ground that inclusion of Communists stacks them against us.

Withdraw all military and economic support from so-called independent Communist nations like Yugoslavia.

End all trade with either satellite or independent Red countries.

Stop aid to the economies of "unreliable and aggressive neutral nations."

Beyond this, give up general foreign economic assistance on the ground that it will not make a dent in the poverty and disease it seeks to attack, but will only "weaken our assault on the prime target, which is Communist power."

Rid ourselves of "blind devotion to the United Nations and the joining of costly and disastrous (UN) adventures against our own best interests."

Aim at the removal of Communists in power "whether they hold it 90 miles off our southern coast (in Cuba) or in distant Laos and South Viet Nam."

All of Goldwater's proposals but this last one involve clear action. Americans must judge for themselves what, if any, inroads these moves would make on Communist power and its goal of world conquest.

As for his call for more general assault on Red power, the senator is less clear. While insisting that nuclear hostilities need not result from this effort, he says "we must act boldly when military action is indicated."

Short of force, he would have us use "... variegated and flexible methods . . . an intellectual counter-attack . . . legal and organizational methods designed both to hold disputed areas of society and advance into enemy-held positions."

If we are to destroy Communists in power without war, these phrases are the core of Goldwater's plan.

His next step is to explain what they mean—and how "organizational methods" of any peaceful sort can dislodge an enemy possessed of great military strength in its own right.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Alice is like 1,000,000 other teenagers, so discuss her problem in high school or Sunday school. You can't procure happiness just by envying other popular people or by wishful thinking. You must work hard to be a successful, happy person. So learn the rules of the game of life.

CASE 1-428: Alice A., aged 16, is a typical befuddled teenager.

"Dr. Crane, I am so unhappy I just wish I were dead," she began tearfully.

"I'm a poor student. I do my lessons but they aren't correct. So now I hate school. But I also dislike being at home. For my family don't understand me, and they say I am silly. They also tell me I never do my work right as they can't depend on me for anything."

"I feel sorry for myself at times and indulge in self pity. I'm in the mood to run away from home, for everything is against me.

"Sometimes I think I am even losing my mind. And I know I am unwanted at home and a failure at school. Oh, I'm so miserable I can't stand it! So please, 'LEASE' help me, Dr. Crane!"

Life's A Game
Alice must look on life as a game which has definite rules, just like baseball or football or basketball.

Even after you know the rules, it still takes a lot of practice to be proficient, as any ball player can inform you.

So make a daily "agenda" or outline of your duties for tomorrow. Then cross off each item as you finish it.

Include such minor tasks as brushing your teeth, making your bed, doing your share of the dishes, studying your lessons, etc.

And for the benefit of your personality development, also include three compliments per day which you are to pay your family or schoolmates.

If your family says you are unreliable as a worker, then listen to their criticisms and correct your present mistakes.

For example, many girls, even of college age, still don't know how to make a bed properly. If that is Alice's fault, then she should ask her mother to show her the proper technique.

And always finish your tasks with a flourish! Don't leave half the work undone!

If you are washing dishes, then remember that job includes washing the pots and pans, wiping off the grease spots from the stove and tablecloth, as well as cleaning the sink and neatly hanging up the dish cloth.

If you are studying your lessons, it isn't enough to gaze absentmindedly at the pages. Instead, wake yourself up by making a true-false or "multiple choice" exam over the assignment.

This will jolt you out of your daydreaming, for in almost every paragraph, you should find some meaty item which you must include in your own exam.

After covering your text thoroughly, you can later review the book in a couple of hours by simply taking your own quiz thereon.

Raise Your Sights
To quit feeling sorry for yourself, raise your sights. Look at the blind or deaf or crippled people who are resolutely doing their chores and studying their lessons, the same as you, but with much greater handicaps.

That plan of comparing yourself with others who are less fortunate, should give you perspective. It will shame you out of your self pity.

And if you feel unpopular, then earn friendships by paying at least three compliments EVERY DAY.

Force yourself to do these things at the start, just as if they were daily medicine, for they will cure you ultimately.

And if you want to know exactly what is expected of modern teenagers, then send for my 100-point "Test for Teenagers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

All happiness must be earned. Wishful thinking will not bring it to you. So get into gear NOW!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Garden Club Hears Agent

Seminole County Agent Cecil Tucker was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the South Seminole Garden Club at the home of Mrs. R. C. Newcomer.

He showed a film strip on methods to root a utility in a garden which members of the club found helpful and informative.

The business meeting was in charge of Mrs. E. P. Richards, president, with members voting to each fill a miniature stocking with pennies which will be turned over to the club treasurer at the end of the year.

Mrs. Kathy Moeck, ways and means chairman, auctioned several sets of costume jewelry to aid the treasury and Mrs. Olive Pearce read a clever poem describing dates for additions of pennies.

Mrs. Hannah Michael, Mrs. Hulda Fisher and Mrs. Evelyn Wier were welcomed as new members.

In Scotland, the name "clam" is applied to what Americans know as "scallops," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

SMOKING MORE, BUT ENJOYING IT LESS!

Dick West Says:

TV Crime Film A Gasser

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Looking back on it, it seems that I was hardly more than a juvenile myself when I first began attending hearings conducted by the Senate juvenile delinquency subcommittee.

I was about 31 years old at the time, which is somewhat advanced for a juvenile, but it was still an impressive age for me. I matured rather slowly.

Being assigned to cover the subcommittee's investigations helped I keep me off the streets and out of mischief. Therefore, I give it part of the credit for the fact that I developed into a fine, upstanding citizen.

Even in my now declining years, I find that the subcommittee continues to serve a useful purpose.

The subcommittee Wednesday renewed its inquiry into the influence, if any, that sex, crime and violence shown on television have on American youth.

I got there early and occupied myself with pencil and notebook at the press table. But this was only a pretense. I was really just killing time until the subcommittee began screening some of the exhibits.

In due course, the hearing room was darkened and the projector began beaming video tape excerpts of an episode from a TV series called "Bus Stop." Man, it was a gasser!

The star of the program was Fabian, but don't ask me "Fabian who?" I didn't catch his last name. But he is some actor, that Fabian.

At the beginning of the program he bumped off an old man, and at the end of the program he bumped off a middle-aged man. The he and some dame drove over a cliff together.

I surely would like to have seen what happened in between the homicides and suicides, but there was so much verbal testimony I guess the subcommittee didn't have time to show the whole thing.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, the subcommittee chairman, apparently had some doubts as to whether this program was suitable fare for the TV screen, particularly at an hour when juveniles might be watching.

Oliver Treyz of the ABC-TV network said his two children didn't usually watch television at the hour (9 to 10 p. m.) it was scheduled.

"I have six and I think they all do," Dodd replied.

Opinion on the subject is so diverse I doubt the subcommittee will ever resolve the question. But I hope the hearings will continue for a long time anyway.

They provide the only chance I get to watch TV shows during working hours.

FBI Man Charged
 GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI) — An FBI agent who shot and killed the wife of a federal fugitive Sunday night during an automobile chase was charged with first degree murder. The veteran agent, identified as Bill Majors, was released in the custody of Circuit Judge Virgil Pittman pending a preliminary hearing later today.

Cowboys had participated in rodeos long before 1887, but spectators first paid to watch them perform their skills in October of that year.

The privileged classes, including entrenched landowners, resented him, and he likewise failed to satisfy Iran's growing middle class of shopkeepers, professional men and students who demanded new jobs and industries, increased civil rights and an end to illiteracy.

Phil Newsom Says:

Iran Rule Corrupt

(UPI)—In the last 10 years, Iran, an important U. S. ally bordering on Russia, has received more than $1 billion in U. S. aid, split about half and half between military and economic.

In most of that same period, through a succession of premiers, the country has been ruled almost single-handedly by Shah Reza Pahlavi whose foreign policy has been based on firm alignment with the West and his domestic policies on far-reaching social, economic and political reforms.

But in Iran, as one writer once said, "the theory of government is one thing and its actual practice is another."

This week, Iran's internal conflict once more had burst into anti-government rioting with university students as the spearhead.

Premier Ali Amin's government retaliated with mass arrests, shootings and tear gas and blamed the outbreaks on what seemed an unlikely combination of Communist agitators and wealthy landlords opposed to the shah's land reform program.

Another wave of rioting last May swept Amin into his job. Amin denounced "inefficient and traitorous" officials and launched an austerity program which included land reform, cuts in government expenditures, reductions in the costs of living and anti-corruption measures.

Cynical Iranians were not surprised when Amin, a former ambassador to Washington, found his reforms slowed to a crawl.

The privileged classes, including entrenched landowners, resented him, and he likewise failed to satisfy Iran's growing middle class of shopkeepers, professional men and students who demanded new jobs and industries, increased civil rights and an end to illiteracy.

Not long ago, a representative of this group, a young Iranian, studying in the United States, attempted earnestly to explain their views to this correspondent. Here are some of them:

Iranian intellectuals oppose Iran's membership in Cento, the defensive pact against communism, because it makes Iran an instrument of U. S. policy. However, this makes them neither anti-U. S. nor pro-Communist.

The Iranian government has ignored free elections guaranteed by the constitution. Corrupt and tyrannical officials remain in office.

Promised freedoms of the press, assembly and political parties have not materialized and opposition voices are harshly repressed.

Whether accurate or not, the young man's views seem to represent an important segment of Iranian public opinion.

WASHINGTON—(NEA) —

On the same day Department of Labor announced that average earnings of U. S. factory workers have risen to $104 a week—$110 in the durable goods industries — President Kennedy's Committee on Migration Labor announced support for the principle of extending minimum wage legislation to American agriculture.

Farm workers are not now covered by U. S. minimum wage laws which call for raising the rate from $1 to $1.25 an hour—$50 for a 40-hour week—by 1965.

The principal protection which American farm laborers now have is that, before foreign migrant farm labor can be brought into the United States under contract, it must be determined that there are no American workers available for jobs at the same pay and working conditions.

The average U. S. migrant farm worker receives $1,016 a year and the nonmigrant, domestic farm worker gets $1,142 a year, according to Labor Department statistics. This is for roughly a half year's seasonal harvest labor. The figures include from $200 to $250 nonfarm earnings.

Actually, the wages paid United States farm labor are now said to run between 30 cents an hour in Arkansas to $1.50 an hour on the more highly developed farms in California. Raising the minimum to anything like $1.35 an hour will be resisted by the big farm organizations and individual farmers who maintain they can't pay it at present farm prices. Major shifts in the whole farm economy will be required to put it into effect.

This is just what is proposed by the President's migrant labor committee in the 14-point program it has recommended to the President and which he has endorsed.

In addition to House passage of the five migrant labor bills passed by the Senate last year, the program calls for day care for children of migrants, better housing, unemployment insurance, special food programs and more rural area development to give farm labor industrial jobs.

Estimated costs of program are $8 million a year for the health programs and $750,000 a year for the first two years of the education program, after which the states would be expected to pay half the costs.

The Kennedy administration rural development programs are intended to bring small industries into farm areas to give farm families supplementary income.

The implication in all this is that farm income is too low. The conclusion is that farmers will have to make more money before they can pay higher wages. The deduction is that consumers will have to pay more for farm products.

These are just a few of the factors in the farm revolution which the Kennedy administration is planning. A lot more of them will be revealed when the President's farm message goes to Congress at the end of January.

He cites studies made by his department on 18 different types of United States farms—wheat, cotton, feed grain, livestock, dairy, poultry, truck and all the others.

The average figures for all of them showed a net return of only 85 cents an hour to the farm operator. This is $51 for a 60-hour week, or $2,652 a year.

Freeman says this represents a return of only 4 to 5 per cent on an investment of around $50,000. Nonfarm small businesses are said to make more, even though the farmer's life may be healthier, so say nothing of harder work.

Another statistic cited by Freeman is that 60 per cent of United States farms produce only 13 per cent of America's food and fiber. These are the marginal farms which do not show a profit and provide only part-time employment.

New Course To Highlight The Second Semester At Vocational School

By Dot Higginbotham

The second semester of classes at the Seminole County Vocational School begins Monday, Mrs. Penrose Love, principal, announced today.

A new course, "Business Psychology and Salesmanship" is being offered for the first time this semester, to be taught by Mrs. Lydia Watt.

"This course is designed to emphasize personality development in addition to selling ones self and retail selling," said Mrs. Love.

"This course can be helpful to people in their personal relations as well as in business relations," she said. "There is a great deal of benefit derived from learning how to get along with people in any walk of life."

Mrs. Love pointed out that Vocational School can open new horizons, not only for one wishing to enter the business world or planning for advancement, but also for the individual interested in personal development in learning new skills, finishing a high school education, or utilizing talents to enjoy the "golden years."

Other classes which will be of benefit to many other people are Beginning Shorthand, Commercial Law and Business English.

In addition, there is an interesting course in Consumer Economics, plus Bookkeeping I and II, Business Arithmetic, Typing, Office Procedure, Filing, Business Machine Operation and Salesmanship.

Teachers for the day classes at the school are Mrs. Love and Mrs. Watt while evening classes are conducted by Miss Mary George, Mrs. Betty Noyes and Mrs. Watt.

Hours for the various classes are standardized from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Monday through Friday and from 7 to 10 p. m. Monday through Friday.

However, in certain courses flexible hours may be set up to be given at other times if there are enough people to warrant the formation of a class.

"One class in Consumer Economics has been conducted from noon to 1 p. m. for the convenience of a number of persons," Mrs. Love said. The only cost of the classes is the price of the books and materials which are sold to students at cost plus a small enrollment fee.

Students of the business courses are recommended for positions as soon as they are considered qualified, whether they have been enrolled for a month or longer.

The school is in contact with local business and industry and is used as a source of supply for workers.

Classes in Shorthand, which are taught by Mrs. Love in the daytime and Mrs. Betty Noyes at night can only be entered for the next two weeks, because of the nature of the course. Other classes can be entered at any time.

Director of the Vocational School and the Adult High School night courses taught at Seminole High and Lyman High is E. S. Douglass.

1-2 Political Punch At GOP Looms On Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Kennedy administration's sudden sponsorship of a new voting rights bill shaped up today as part of a one-two political punch at the GOP on the civil rights issue.

President Kennedy filed the first job by announcing he would send Congress a reorganization plan to create an urban affairs department to be headed by a Negro, Housing Administrator Robert Weaver.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield capped the maneuver Thursday by introducing an administration bill to ban unreasonable literacy tests against voters in federal elections. His move caught both southern Democrats and Republicans by surprise.

F. STEWART HELMY, owner of Helmy Realty at 2465 South Park Ave., selecting his first week's dinners from the "Meals on Wheels" menu. Both Mr. and Mrs. Helmy are busy professional people who appreciate the tremendous convenience of the new service, now extended to Seminole County. When Mr. and Mrs. Helmy get home from work tonight their dinner will be waiting for them piping hot in a hermetically sealed carton.

Meals On Wheels

A new service, "Meals on Wheels," is now available in the Sanford area. It is comparatively new to central Florida, but has proven highly successful in the southern part of the state.

The food is prepared in modern, streamlined kitchens and delivered to the door in sanitary disposable containers, sealed into an insulated delivery box, so that when the package is opened it is as piping hot as it came off the stove. No preparation and no dishwashing is required.

Next week's complete Meals on Wheels menu appears elsewhere in today's paper. The busy working couple can check off their week's evening meals from a wide variety of dishes, including salads and desserts, enclosing their check for the number of meals desired and the working wife's constant problem of evening meals is magically solved.

One of Sanford's first couples to try the new service is the F. Stewart Helmys. Mr. Helmy is owner of Helmy Realty at 2465 S. Park Ave. and his wife, Elizabeth, is a secretary in the Orlando law firm of Maguire, Voorhis and Wells. Like most working people, they are members of several clubs and organizations demanding their evening hours.

Meals on Wheels is also suggested as a thoughtful gift to people confined to their homes, or who suddenly find themselves with unexpected guests.

Sorority Holds Informal Meeting

Members of the Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held one of the popular "come as you are" meetings, Monday night.

The program committee, composed of Mrs. Paul Lewis, Mrs. Garnett White, and Mrs. Cameron Lawrence, called each member or contacted her personally and requested that she wear to the meeting exactly what she had on at that moment.

As a result three members showed up in nightclothes, one with pinicula, one dressed for church, and the others in casual clothes. Fortunately, no one was called while taking a shower.

The theme of the program was "You and Your Audience" and the committee members each gave a talk emphasizing the qualities that are necessary to communicate with an audience. Then each chapter member was asked to draw a subject and give an impromptu one-minute speech on that subject. She had the alternative of talking instead on "The Funniest Thing that Ever Happened to Me."

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Cameron Lawrence. Members attending were Mrs. Jack Erickson, Mrs. Reid Iverson, Mrs. Tom Lergen, Mrs. Jack Little, Mrs. Bob McKee, Mrs. Burt Revels, Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. Stuart Stetson, Mrs. Art Lee, and Mrs. Dick Houghton.

During the business meeting plans for the spring rush program were tentatively outlined.

KEEP IT COOL
Keep perfume and cologne tightly stoppered and away from heat. Excessive heat evaporates the solvent, spoils balance of the fragrance's ingredients.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager who is not trusted by my parents. I don't know why they don't trust me but I know they don't. Will you please tell me how I can prove to my parents that I am dependable and can be trusted? I know lots of other teen-agers with the same problem.

ed 4 wonderful children in the happiest home you could imagine. My pride was wounded, too, but only for a day, for I know he really loved me. He has made up for that hurt in a thousand ways. I am glad I forgave him. WISE DECISION

NOT TRUSTED
DEAR NOT TRUSTED: Trust must be EARNED. Your parents should give you a few added privileges and then let your actions determine whether you are able to handle them. If you prove to be unreliable, then those privileges should be withheld for a while. Most parents would be pleasantly surprised to know how dependable their teen-agers could be if given the chance.

DEAR WISE: How very wise you are. No one should be punished a lifetime for one mistake.
DEAR ABBY: I wish there were a magic mirror for grandparents who brag about their grandchildren. I can excuse grandparents who are still thrilled with their first grandchild, but I cannot for the life of me understand people who have had four and five grandchildren and continue to bore their friends with their pictures and cute sayings. Don't think I am jealous because I have six grandchildren of my own and, believe me, I could brag plenty, but I have too much consideration for others. Please print this. I want to buy twenty newspapers, and clip this item and send it to some of my friends.

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from the wife who wanted to leave her husband because he had an affair with another woman. Perhaps my story will help her and others like her.
My husband had an affair with a married woman for about 6 years. They enjoyed their "secret love" for one year. And he spent the next 5 years trying to get rid of her. Legally she could do nothing, but she made life miserable for him, threatening to tell me if he quit seeing her.
Finally, in desperation, he came to me with our minister and told me. He had been such a wonderful husband and father that I thought he was joking. Oh, how he suffered inside for his mistake! That was 18 years ago, Abby. We since have rear-

Rollins Stage Extended For Upcoming Wolfe Play

Front row and center at "Look Homeward, Angel," Jan. 30 to Feb. 3, will be on stage and center. Technical director John Erell has extended the Annie Russell Theater stage all the way to the first row.

This is one of the daring innovations that Erell has in store for the audience at Rollins' presentation of the Pulitzer Prize drama. The play, adapted for the stage by Ketti Frings, is a study of Southern provincial life in the early years of World War I. It is dramatized from the great novel by Thomas Wolfe. "This is probably one of the most difficult shows ever produced on the Rollins stage," Erell said. "It will certainly have the tallest set."

A big, old Victorian frame house, part of which will be on a revolving stage, will be the main set. The house will remain on the stage during the entire play, although some scenes will be played in front of it. Besides designing the sets, Erell is also in charge of costumes and lights. All the

He won the spade in his own hand and toyed with the idea of leading a diamond toward dummy's queen, but gave that up because East had dropped a high card on that first spade lead. Instead, South cashed his three high hearts and all the spades while East discarded down to four clubs and the big-jack of diamonds. South then led a club from dummy. If East played the club ace

We The Women:

Among the reasons given why women rarely make good executives, according to a survey by the University of San Francisco, is the fact that women are "less forthright than men." Well, if failing to reach executive status in the business world is the price women pay for being less forthright than men, it doesn't seem to be too high. If we start training girls to be forthright so they can become executives, how are they going to fare in their personal lives? Not too well, if you happen to know women who pride themselves on being perfectly frank and forthright, you know that they irritate men, who size them up as being bossy, opinionated, unfeminine, and completely lacking in charm. A man respects another man for his forthrightness, but when he meets forthrightness in a woman it either frightens or repels him. But that's not all. Other women don't care too much for the woman who is completely forthright. Nothing so irritates a normally feminine-minded woman who tries to please those around her as feeling relaxed, and comfortable, that a woman who prides herself on being completely honest at all costs.

For the cost, in human relationships, is all too often at the other person's expense. When a forthright woman tells another woman exactly what she thinks without bothering to soften the blow, the other woman isn't grateful for her forthrightness. She is probably just plain mad. So, since a completely forthright woman has such a hard time getting along with both men and women, what woman in her right mind really wants to be forthright? Women will gladly leave that quality to the men—even if it means that the men get the executive jobs. After all, who gets the executive? A woman with the good sense to be charming instead of forthright. Men: more insight on the gals. Read Ruth Millet's booklet, "Happier Wives (Hints for husbands)." Stephens Inks Canuck Pact

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Sandy Stephens, a Uniontown, Pa., high school star who found success and fame in leading the Minneapolis Golden Gophers back to football prominence, had the pro contract he demanded today. His no-cut, no trade agreement with the Montreal Alouettes in a three-year pact at a reported $100,000 was to be formally ratified here today. He came to terms with the Canadian Football League club Thursday and Alouette officials immediately flew into town to announce the agreement. It was the first big "steal" of a name U. S. college player by a Canadian team. Stephens decided to forego the chance to be the first Negro quarterback in the U. S. pro ranks for the kind of a contract he wanted. He was sought by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League and the New York Titans of the American League.

TAMPA FEBRUARY 6-17

BY JACK TRIM

A talk with Sid Porter, chairman of the governor's St. Johns River Valley Advisory Committee reveals that there is a genuine effort underway to get more small boat launching ramps established along the river.

The committee already has obtained the use of some sites through the cooperation of county commissioners, including Seminole, and individual property owners. These are few and far between, though, and a lot more are needed.

The committee's first series of meetings confirmed what has been the general opinion—that a lot of people can't make full use of their boats because of the overcrowded launching facilities.

This condition applies especially to the Seminole County section of the river, since we are also the logical launching area for residents of Orange County, who have registered a total of more than 8,000 pleasure boats.

What most folks don't know is that about 20 percent of all the pleasure boats registered in Florida's 67 counties are in the seven counties along the St. Johns. That's a total of 25,000 craft which are potentially frequent users of the river.

The river committee recommended to Gov. Bryant in its first report to him that the state find some way to acquire public access sites on the river. There was no specific suggestion, but the group urged the governor to consider the advisability of purchasing sites with any funds in the various state budgets.

Florida ranks sixth in the United States in the number of boats in operation in local waters and the committee's recommendation that the state not overlook the importance of this statistic is a good one.

In the meantime, if any generous landowners have a suitable site along the river which they have no plans for, the river committee would be glad to get it converted into a public launching ramp. Any other suggestions also are welcome at the committee's office at 202 West Rich Ave., DeLand.

Plans are being firming up for the annual St. Johns River Marathon which will be held May 6. Officers of the marathon association met last Sunday at Shell Harbor in their second planning session for the Sanford to Jacksonville and return race and decided to cogitate a little further on some rules modifications.

D. H. MacGillivray of Sanford, secretary of the association, reported that some changes are contemplated which will make the race more interesting for the drivers.

Another aspect which the group's directors are considering is spectator interest. They're trying to figure out a way to increase the fun for viewers of the competition at such key locations as Sanford, Shell Harbor, Palatka and Jacksonville.

Braves Catcher Torre Looks For 'Impossible'

By United Press International
Joe Torre, who "did the difficult" for the Milwaukee Braves in 1961, is prepared to attempt the "impossible" in 1962.

Joe, a 21-year-old catcher who answered a minute man call from the Braves last season so well that he was considered one of the outstanding rookies of the season in the National League, thinks he can replace Del Crandall as the Braves' first-string catcher this year.

"I know that Crandall is the captain of the team and has been a star catcher for several years," said Torre after signing his 1962 contract Thursday. "But I expect to catch 135 games this year. In other words, I expect to be first-string catcher again."

Torre, 6-1 and weighing about 210 pounds, batted .278 with 10 home runs and 42 runs batted in while playing in 113 games last season. He signed Thursday along with pitcher Tony Cloninger, who posted a 7-2 record after being recalled in mid-season.

Next to Torre, shortstop Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers was the biggest "name" curialed in the signing league Thursday. Wills, who batted .283 and stole 85 bases last season, signed for an estimated $24,000, an increase of $3,000, over his 1961 salary.

The Chicago Cubs signed their 32d player when relief pitcher Dick Ellsworth agreed to terms. Ellsworth, 21, had a 10-11 record and a 3.85 earned run average in 1961.

The Baltimore Orioles reported the signing of utilityman Dick Williams and first baseman Mary Thronberry. Williams hit .306 and Thronberry .228 last season in which neither played regularly.

The Washington Senators signed rookies Ed Brinkman and Dalton Renfro.

'All Star Night' Scheduled At Sanford Kennel Club Saturday

The highlight of the week at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club is Saturday's "All Star Night," a new feature that will probably become an annual affair. Twenty-four of the track's best greyhounds will run in three races and try to win a special cash bonus for their owner.

The All-Stars events will be the eighth, ninth and tenth races and the winning speedster who posts the fastest time will snare the money.

In tonight's featured tenth race of the 11-race program, Carl Tracy's A. H. Ewbanks will probably rate as the favorite though he had a rough trip on his last outing and finished last. However, the speedy 66-pounder cannot be overlooked for he won the inaugural last season and holds the local record for the 3/8th-mile course.

Opposing the racy star will be Lashes, Refuel, Freedom Seven, Gay L., Sandy Emma, Mrs. Mops and Sunny Glade.

Littler Holds 'Lucky' Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gene Littler, with one of his self-admitted "greatest shots" behind him, led off in the second round of the $50,000 Lucky International tournament today holding a two-stroke lead over the star-packed field.

The National Open champion, former National Amateur king and three-time Tournament of Champions winner, had his finest day since winning the Open last summer when he posted six-under-par 65 Thursday on the "heavy" Harding Park course.

That was two strokes better than the 67 posted by veteran Marty Furgol of Coghlin, Ill., and three better than 10 other shotmakers at 68.

Picking On Girls!

By Ronnie Broadway

A team composed of the Lyman High School Coaches came from behind in the fourth quarter to defeat the Arkansas Travelers by the score of 53-50 Thursday night in the Lyman Gym.

The Arkansas Travelers are a professional girls basketball team that plays men teams by men's rules and regulations.

They wear no numerals on their jerseys, only their first names. The team is owned by Hazel Walker, who plays herself, and they come from Little Rock.

They pulled several crazy antics throughout the game and proved to be a hilarious as well as exciting team to watch.

The game started fast with the Travelers taking the lead. The coaches managed to keep up the pace, however, and at the end of the first period the score was 13-12 in favor of the Travelers.

Second half action saw the game progress rapidly with the two teams matching each other in the scoring department. The Travelers exhibited fancy passing and antics such as crawling between the coaches' legs in order to get to the basket. By the time the second quarter had ended, the score was tied at 26-26. During the halftime intermission, a free throw demonstration took place. Hazel Walker downed Coach Helms in standing free throws. Coach Gratton in kneeling free throws, and Coach Dzurus in sitting free throws.

The Travelers took over in the third period and outscored the Coaches 14-10, and at the end of the third period, the Coaches found themselves behind 40-36.

The Coaches really poured it on in the final period. Despite having to use a weighted basketball for a moment, the Coaches, behind the sharp-shooting of Coaches Dzurus and Gratton, the Coaches started pulling away at the last and when the final buzzer sounded the Coaches had won 53-50.

Coach Gratton led the scoring for Lyman with 16 points, followed closely by Coach Dzurus with 14 tallies. A 5-11 gal named "Goose" paced the Travelers with 19 points with a girl called Toby taking second honors with ten points to her credit.

Coach Bud Layer's Sanford Seminoles will be going after their eighth victory of the season tonight as they play host to the Wildwood Wildcats at 8 p.m. in Fleming Memorial Gym.

The Seminoles will be seeking revenge for their 62-40 defeat handed them by the Wildcats earlier in the season. The Junior Varsity tilt will begin at 6:30.

The Seminoles are in top physical condition for the contest and Coach Layer feels that it will take a good team to defeat the Seminoles tonight. The Seminoles are (7-4) in regular season play and (2-4) in the Conference.

The Wildcats will be paced by 6-5 Ronnie Thomas and his brother 6-4 Robert Thomas. Roger Hensley should also carry a big part of the Wildcat scoring. The Seminoles will send in 8-1 Barry Brown and 6-2 Ken Gustavson to handle rebounding chores and to take care of a large part of the scoring. Bubba Davis, Mike Woodruff, and Butch Riser should round out the Sanford quintet.

The Wildcats are favored slightly over the Seminoles, but if they expect to repeat their earlier win, they will have to make good every opportunity that they will have to do so.

Oviedo Plays Bunnell Quint

Coach Paul Mikler's Oviedo Lions will be trying to get back into the winning column tonight as they take on Bunnell at Bunnell. The Lions will be after their third win of the season. Their season record is now two wins and 13 losses.

The Lions will once again go with Wainwright, Holland, Tealnsky, DeShazo and Courler as the starting five. The Lions have the makings of a good team in these five men, but have so far been unable to keep up with the competition, although there have been some close games in their schedule up to this point.

Next to Torre, shortstop Maury Wills of the Los Angeles Dodgers was the biggest "name" curialed in the signing league Thursday. Wills, who batted .283 and stole 85 bases last season, signed for an estimated $24,000, an increase of $3,000, over his 1961 salary.

Civil Strife Hits Suffolk

LONDON (UPI) — Civil strife has broken out in Suffolk, and the marquis of Bristol finds himself in a stage of siege. The village of Ickworth has risen against a plan developed by his lordship to dispense novels about sex and violence from slot machines.

The battle was joined when the villagers woke up one morning and found three one-armed bandits arrayed beside the town post office just outside the gates of the marquis' stately home. One bandit, when properly encouraged by a coin, yielded candy. Another would give a rattle and roar and produce chewing gum. The third dispensed the novels of Mickey Spillane.

A curious crowd assembled and there was much speculation about the identity of the person who had introduced a rural beauty of Ickworth. The marquis of Bristol owned up immediately. Seems he opens his stately home to tourists for a small fee and, since most tourists with money are Americans, he wanted to make them feel at home. Few residents of Ickworth were familiar with the collected works of Mickey Spillane, but one glance at the covers of the paper backs gave them a working knowledge of the author's literary style and subject matter. It was the eternal battle of the sexes with a male shooting, stabbing or whipping a female. Sometimes vice versa. The females all apparently had just sent their entire wardrobes to the dry cleaners and were facing a blood-curdling situation stirred only in wisps of tulle or satin.

CARE To Take Over Medico

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two international relief organizations, CARE and Medico, will merge next month. Officials of the organizations who announced merger plans Wednesday said that Medico will operate as a service of CARE. It will continue to send teams of American doctors, nurses and technicians overseas to aid medical and clinical health services, training and education.

CARE will take over the administration of Medico and provide material support. Medico was founded by Dr. Peter D. Comanduras and the late Dr. Tom Dooley. Comanduras, secretary-general of Medico, will continue in charge of the program as assistant executive director of CARE.

Reds Open Big Laos Attack

NAM THA, Laos (UPI) — Pro-Communist rebel forces mounted a strong offensive against this provincial capital today and the city was expected to fall within hours. As Red forces pounded the outer defenses, authorities mobilized every available man for the final fight. Non-combatants prepared to flee. It was the biggest offensive by the Communist rebels since the Laotian cease-fire agreement went into effect late last year.

Byrd Foresees Billion Deficit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman Harry F. Byrd, (D-Va.), of the Senate Finance Committee, predicted today President Kennedy's record peacetime budget would produce $1 billion to $5 billion deficit rather than the $500 million surplus claimed by the President.

Byrd, who plans to launch a major fiscal inquiry, joined Republicans in challenging Kennedy's optimism about a surplus in the $2.5 billion budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The Jaycee Story Aggressiveness, Leadership

TOURIST INFORMATION center attracts visitors every day.

HOW COULD a fish escape all those hooks on Fishing Rodeo Day?

CRYSTAL LAKE picnic shelter stands idle on a cold day.

Group Busy All Year-Long Working For The Community

The most active, energetic and resourceful group of young men in the county is undoubtedly the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees.

Busy all year long with a continuous program of affairs, ranging from a children's fishing rodeo to community safety, to advanced studies of civic improvement, this outstanding organization of young men, between the ages of 21 and 35 from all walks of life, now have an entire week dedicated to them.

This year, the Jaycees are headed by Garnett White, dynamic young insurance and real estate salesman with the John Alexander firm.

Who is assisted in the management of the organization by first vice president, Jack Wilber; second vice president, Bud Stewart; third vice president, Stuart Stetson; secretary, Hammond Polk and treasurer, Charles Tetenbaum.

On the board of directors of the organization are John Alexander, Paul Lewis, Wendell Agee, Harold Johnson, Glenn McCall, Jimmy Smith, Bob Drabik, Bill Gramkow and Gary Hudgins.

The Jaycee organizations primary aim is the development of leadership. And this is done by using the brains, brwn, resources, talents and abilities of the young men of the organization to better the community, while they develop and grow, find self-expression and learn how to lead and how to work with other men.

The weekly programs of the Jaycees, held at the Civic Center every Thursday noon, bring interesting and informative subject matter and speakers of renown to the city to speak on everything from missiles to medicine, and from flying saucers to sports car racing.

Below is a partial listing of some of the many Jaycee activities that has benefited the community during the past year.

JAYCEE WEEK LAST YEAR

This was highlighted by the Past President's luncheon and the Awards Banquet, with the whole event being under the chairmanship of Dr. Leo Kerwin, local chiropractor.

Tom McDonald was winner of the Distinguished Service Award and W. G. "Bill" Meyers, was named Young Sailor of the Year. The Outstanding Young Farmer was George Hardin, cattleman and Mrs. Patricia Olsen was named Young Teacher of the Year. Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider was the recipient of the Good Government Award.

POLIO SHOTS

They are given several times a year in accordance with the time limit specifications for the Salk vaccine, and have now reached a grand total of 2900 shots, administered by volunteer nurses and physicians as a public service. This year's Polio Shot Day Chairman was Bud Stewart.

THE COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT SURVEY

Headed by Jack Wilbur, this project took several weeks and many, many evenings.

The committee spent hours reading the questionnaires, analyzing them and preparing the recommendations to be presented to the next administration as projects for consideration.

A copy of the recommendations, as suggested by the hundreds of private citizens who answered the questions, was also presented to the City Commissioners for their information.

CRYSTAL LAKE

BEACH PICNIC SHELTER

The shelter, bathhouse, rest-rooms, fence, tables, fire-places were all built by the Jaycees to provide an outstanding recreational facility for the community of Lake Mary.

Chairman of this project was Pharmacist Glenn McCall and he estimates that well over 1,000 manhours of manual labor were spent on the construction of the buildings and erection of the facilities.

RADIO DAY AND PANCAKE DAY

Both these days were combined this year, under the leadership of Paul Lewis, manager of the local credit bureau and Jim Smith, Florida Power and Light employe.

During that entire day, members of the Jaycees took over Radio Station WTRR, manning the mike, broadcasting the news and weather reports, making announcements, playing records and reading commercials. The Wives Club did their part by sponsoring a musical fashion parade.

While back at the Civic Center, the griddles worked over-time turning out delicious Aunt Jemima Pancakes, served up with sausage, syrup, orange juice and coffee to hundreds of people, from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m.

THE FISHING RODEO

It was a hot day, but Chairman Arch Hosick, school teacher from Oviedo, watched over approximately 850 kids from one year of age to fourteen who came to fish, lining the banks of Lake Carola in Fort Mellon Park, shoulder to shoulder.

Prizes were awarded for the most fish caught, the largest and the smallest fish. A girl beat out the boys and caught the largest one, a 15-oz. catfish.

NAVY APPRECIATION

This day climaxed the Bombing Derby Awards and coincided with Open House on the base and a display of air power put on by the Navy. Harold Johnson, county attorney, was chairman for this event in November, which was held at the Golden Lake recreation area on the base, with food and fun for all.

SCHOLARSHIP

This is of prime interest to the Jaycees and they have several phases of their scholarship program in effect.

The highest award is the $250 Past President's Scholarship Award, presented to an outstanding high school graduate of the county on Class Day.

The Jaycees also present scholastic awards to "Straight A" students and Honor Roll students at each high school on Class Day. In addition, Leadership Awards are presented to an outstanding senior boy and girl from each school on Senior Class Day.

They also underwrite expenses for a high school boy to attend Boy's State, each year.

BALLOON SALES

This money goes toward the financing of the St. Luke's Haven Children's shopping tour just before Christmas. Last year 15 boys and girls were given a portion of the money raised by the sale of balloons at the Christmas parade to go on a shopping tour, conducted by Jaycees.

Chairman of the shopping tour event this year was Jimmy Wade, a retail merchant.

THE CHRISTMAS PARADE

This is one of the largest projects that the Jaycees undertake. Every year, the parades get bigger and better and every year, more and more people line the streets of Sanford to see the colorful floats, bands, and marching units which stretches for two miles as it winds it's way down First Street and back up Second St.

Chairman this year was GAC Finance Manager, Hammond Polk and he was assisted by just about every other Jaycee in the organization in the myriad phases of the giant parade. Working with the Jaycees on this are the merchants of Sanford and entries are made by almost all civic organizations and schools as well as businesses.

Other important projects were the Mutt Show, under the direction of Gary Hudgins; the Easter Egg Hunt, headed by Ed Taft, and the Sav-A-Life Flare Kits, which were distributed under the chairmanship of Fred Wilson.

HEADQUARTERS

The Information Center has proved to be a boon to travelers, Navy people coming into, or leaving town, persons with apartments to rent, and people looking for apartments, plus a wealth of every kind of information on people, place and things, not only in Sanford, but all over Florida.

Here the Jaycees really live up to their full title of Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"A LITTLE STING NOW, HONEY, to save a lot of pain and grief later on," says Public Health Nurse Mrs. Hulda Kibbee to a sad little lad. (Herald Photo)

 That must have been quite a meeting the Sunshine Committee of the Chamber had ... some 40 hours later the temperature dropped 20 degrees.

Tax Collector John Gallaway Friday made an appeal for Seminole County motorists to get their license plates now and avoid the last-minute rush. If we had a collection office in South Seminole I'll bet the number of plates sold would double.

State Auditors in the courthouse are a little bit upset over cost bills turned in by peace justices. They asked for an attorney general's opinion on the matter. It seems that justices of the peace have exceeded their jurisdiction in regard to misdemeanors. The auditors are worried over approving certain cost bills turned in last year.

Kills Wife In Cocoa Beach Club

Orlando Man Hunted In Jungle Area

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—A customer at a night club bar here shot his estranged wife to death early today and fled into a nearby palmetto, mangrove and scrub pine jungle where scores of officers sought to track him down.

The fugitive was identified by Cocoa Beach police as Leonard Folds, 32, of Orlando. The victim was Betty Jean Folds, about 29, a waitress in the club. Police said she and her husband had been separated about two years.

The shooting took place in the Paladium club at the Starlite Motel at about 1:50 a. m. when the bar was practically deserted except for half a dozen waitresses, three bartenders, and five members of the nightclub show troupe.

Witnesses said Mrs. Folds saw her husband seated at the bar. He got up and moved to the serving counter behind which she was standing. They talked quietly for a while.

Then, according to police, he drew a pistol and shot her. She fell to the floor and he emptied the gun into her body. Then he ran through the door, dashed across Atlantic avenue, and disappeared from view in a wooded and swampy area.

Cocoa Beach police quickly surrounded the woods and summoned help from Cocoa and the Ilwaco County sheriff's office. Reserves were mobilized to help search the jungle.

Fidel Ouster Move Loses

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (UPI)—Stymied in its efforts to get Fidel Castro's Cuba kicked out of the Organization of American States (OAS) immediately, the United States pressed today for a face-saving declaration of principles and a quick end to the conference here.

The hemisphere's foreign ministers prepared to vote on a watered-down resolution saying the Castro regime should be isolated from the inter-American system but leaving it up to the OAS Council to determine how it should be done.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk appeared to have missed by one vote the necessary two-thirds majority needed for immediate expulsion.

When the chips were down Argentina and Haiti, which had shown interest in the plan to suspend Cuba promptly, each failed to pledge the vital 14th ballot.

Jaycees Face Big Challenge, Says Parrish

The tremendous events which will take place in Central Florida in the coming years will present a challenge to Jaycees, "young men on the way up," Senator Bernard Parrish told the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees and their wives at the DSA Banquet Saturday.

"Four things are needed to insure healthy and wise handling of the problems that will face you," he said.

"They are, education, industry, moral valuations and cooperative efforts."

"Education is a process of growth from birth to death," the Senator said. "Many are exposed to education, but absorb nothing. But the young man on the way up learns every day."

Good morals, ethics, high standards are based on the Ten Commandments Parrish gave three examples of what a man might do.

"If he is intelligent and industrious, he will get ahead. If he is educated and personable, but lazy, he is still a bum, but if he is energetic and industrious, but stupid—beware!"

Parrish prefaced his more serious remarks with a rapid-fire routine of highly humorous remarks and stories, for the audience of more than 100 gathered at the Civic Center for the Jaycees Awards Night banquet. (Jaycees award winners on Page 2.)

Mothers March Set For Friday

The Annual Mother's March of Dimes is scheduled for Friday, with more than 200 Sanford mothers calling upon every home in Sanford to raise contributions for the National Foundation.

Many mothers plan to start out in the afternoon and others in the early evening. Plans are to cover all parts of the city, including Pinecrest and Sunland.

Mrs. Richard Mapes, march chairman, asks that Sanford-ites turn on their porch lights as a courtesy to the women, as some sidewalks prove hazardous at night.

Half of the money remains in Sanford for local polio cases and inoculations. The remainder will be used for research in birth defects and arthritis.

All marchers are asked to bring their collections to the Sanford Herald office, collection headquarters for several years.

Mrs. Mapes asked any worker unable to participate to contact her team captain so that she may be replaced.

Police Outnumber The Mourners
Lucky Luciano Laid To Rest In Italy
 NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano was properly laid to rest today after a "super-deluxe" funeral attended by a Neapolitan beauty, squadrons of police and hard-faced mourners who refused to give their names.

Police outnumbered the mourners at the funeral of the former U. S. underworld king, who died here of heart failure Friday.

American and Italian policemen mingled with the guests, taking pictures and trying to identify the reluctant out-of-town visitors who hid their faces behind their hats whenever a flash bulb popped.

But one mourner was dark haired Adriana Rizzo, the 24-year-old beauty who was reported to have been planning to marry the 63-year-old Luciano.

Today's burial was expected to be only temporary. Relatives hope to win official approval to take the vice czar's body back to the United States for burial.

A requiem Mass was sung at St. Joachim's Roman Catholic Church. Then Luciano's body was taken by the largest hearse in town through the streets of Naples to the cemetery. The huge, ornately carved wood and glass hearse was drawn by eight black horses.

When asked who Lucky's mourners were, a U. S. policeman said: "You can't tell them without a scorecard. But I'm sure that when the films are developed they will come in very useful; if not now, in the future."

Orbit Preparations On Again At Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Project Mercury officials geared today for another attempt on Thursday to send astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. on a globe-girdling flight.

The long and elaborate preparation was renewed Sunday after Glenn and his rocket-ship crew ground crew reated up from last week's effort that ended in postponement because of bad weather on Saturday.

Glenn spent an hour in his Friendship-7 capsule as part of a six-hour rehearsal of launch-day operations. Backup astronaut Scott Carpenter also entered the spacecraft for a brief run-through.

Glenn was reported "rested and chipper" as he donned his silver-coated flight suit and climbed into the capsule at 4 p.m., EST, Sunday. Space agency officials said later that both the capsule and the towering Atlas missile were "checking out very well" in the preliminary stages.

Two Orlandoans Hurt In Crash

Two Orlando residents were injured in a one car accident in Oakland Hills Sunday afternoon, the Florida Highway Patrol reported.

Injured were Mrs. Louise Kincaid, 35 and her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Camerer.

Trooper Bill Stringfield reported that Mrs. Kincaid, apparently suffered a fainting spell while driving her car along SR 431, ran off the road and slammed into a culvert embankment.

Stringfield said the car leaped 18 feet in the air and rolled some 207 yards.

Mrs. Kincaid suffered face lacerations while injuries to her mother had not been determined this morning.

Around the state two accidents which took two lives each boosted Florida's weekend traffic death toll to at least 13.

Snow Blankets Some Of Dixie

Temperatures in the 80s sent southern Californians flocking to the beaches to cool off. New England and upstate New York had sub-zero cold. At Caribou, Maine, the temperature dipped to 15 below zero early today.

Milwee Blames Absence Of Re-enforcing

Supt. of Schools R. T. Milwee today ordered an "extensive investigation" into what caused a concrete block partition to fall in the Lake Mary School Lunchroom injuring three youngsters early Friday afternoon.

Injured when the partition fell during the busy lunchroom period were Karl Rosman, Julie Renkes, and Larry Finkel. All were 11-years-old-age.

The Rosman child suffered a broken leg, Renkes a broken bone in one foot and the Finkel child a broken toe.

All were treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital and released shortly after the accident.

Milwee today said that he has called in Architect John Burton, and attorney Douglas Stenstrom for a complete study of the accident.

He added that apparently the contractor had neglected to put in re-enforced steel rods to boost the three foot concrete separator.

Milwee said that specifications called for the reinforced rod and that the building was inspected in the spring of 1960.

"It was one of those hidden things you can't see but it will be all aired and I'll get to the bottom of it," Milwee said.

Contractor on the Lake Mary School was J. Hilbert Spay of Orlando.

In November of last year, the school board threatened legal action against the contractor for a series of repairs at five Seminole Schools including the one at Lake Mary.

"At that time there was no mention of the re-enforced steel rods.

Spay had recently been indicted by the Volusia grand jury in connection with school construction in that county.

The Herald attempted to contact Burton this morning but he was out of town.
