

ADOLF HITLER APPEALS TO REASON?

Roosevelt Accepts 3rd Term Nomination

President Declares He Cannot Turn His Back On Call To Service In Radio Talk

Wallace Named Running Mate

Executive States He Will Be Able To Do Little Campaigning

CHICAGO, July 19.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, deciding that in a time of "public danger" he could not turn his "back upon a call to service," accepted the third term nomination from the Democratic convention which amid boos and cheers chose Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace for his running mate.

While fully 20,000 persons sat in the midnight heat in the Chicago stadium, the President told them by radio from the White House that "only the people themselves can draft the great leader." He added "if such a draft be made upon me, I say to you, I will continue to serve with the best of my ability and with the fullest of my strength."

But he explained, as Mrs. Roosevelt had done to the convention an hour earlier, that times were so fraught with danger that he would be able to do little campaigning.

Wallace was Roosevelt's choice for vice president. Amid mixed boos and cheers he received 637 and a fraction of the vote.

Speaker William Bankhead of Alabama got 223 and Paul McNutt of Indiana, despite a plea that Roosevelt's wishes be followed, received 68 and a fraction.

Ten others received the rest of the votes before Wallace's nomination was declared unanimous despite the many objections.

After the President's address, the convention adjourned. He predicted the acceptance of the world crisis developing from wars across the seas.

Roosevelt asserted that he had made plans for a private life of his own choice to begin next January, at the conclusion of his second term.

"These plans like so many other plans," he said, "had been made in a world which now seems so distant to another planet."

"Today, all private plans, all private lives have been repeated by an ever-rising public danger. In the face of this public danger, all those who can be of service to the public have no choice but to offer themselves for service in those capacities for which they may be fitted."

"There are the reasons why I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve. I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve. I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve."

"I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve. I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve. I have had to turn to myself, and how I have tried to serve."

Hull Leaves For 30 Men Enroll In Home Guard

Talk At Havana Countries Will Discuss Co-Operation And Fifth Column

Registrations Will Be Continued At Police Station

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(AP)—Secretary Hull left for Havana yesterday with a prediction that the 21 republics at the emergency inter-American conference would delay realistically from the European war.

The secretary of state, accompanied by 15 aides, took with him a guarded proposal for joint international action on a scale unprecedented in the new world.

A carefully-worded statement indicated that such problems as the status of American colonies of invaded France and the Netherlands, fifth column activity, and co-operation to assure the political and economic security of this hemisphere would be discussed.

"The American republics approach their task in a spirit of complete friendliness toward all nations demonstrating their will to conduct international relations on the basis of peace and friendship," Hull said.

There was a hint that the conference might be expected to produce only preliminary agreements rather than positive commitments.

"By complete exchange of information," Hull said, "the ground will thus be prepared for the adoption of basic and fundamental principles having common support for the common benefit of each and all the Republics."

The party, including trade, economic and military experts, will be in Miami, where they will be joined by delegates from the group will conduct an all-out effort to beat for Havana.

In Tightening the Struggle For Control of the Mediterranean—Britain's Lifeline to the Far East—The 6,800-Ton Australian Cruiser "Sydney" and a Small Destroyer Sunk Off Crete This Morning, Admiralty Reported British planes clashed with Nazi raiders in a fiery battle over the Straits of Dover this afternoon when German bombers swooped down on a British destroyer on patrol.

The warship reportedly emerged unscathed, despite repeated salvos of bombs which spouted 60-foot rays on all sides. One German plane was shot down and eye-witnesses said that four others pursued by British fighters plunged into the sea in flames.

Other Nazi air raids struck at three sections of England and in north and south, and in southwest Scotland, inflicting "considerable damage."

In tightening the struggle for control of the Mediterranean—Britain's lifeline to the Far East—the 6,800-ton Australian cruiser "Sydney" and a small destroyer were sunk off Crete this morning, the Admiralty reported.

The sunken craft was the 5,068-ton light cruiser Bartolomeo Colleoni, one of the fastest warships in the world, armed with eight 6-inch guns and carrying a normal crew of 600 men. It was Italy's first cruiser loss in the war.

The British destroyer rescued 250 survivors.

Amendment For National Citrus Proration Discussed By Growers

The pros and cons of national proration for citrus fruit shipments were discussed in detail at the afternoon session of the directors of the Florida Citrus Growers, Inc., and resulted in the group taking the matter under advisement for definite action in the near future.

The discussion was introduced by Henry Pringle of Lake County, grower member of the citrus-proration agreement committee, who cited the amendment's provisions, while E. F. DeLusk of Gainesville, State Citriculturist, outlined in detail the advantages and disadvantages of such a program.

The proposal calls for an act of Congress amending the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 to provide for citrus fruit marketing quotas, in the same manner as cotton, rice and other commodities are now controlled.

The bill has not been introduced, but is now going the rounds of the citrus industry in the country to determine possible reaction.

President George I. Fullerton, Jr. of New Smyrna Beach, said that the responsibility of industry leadership "is on our shoulders" and urged that the organization recognize that responsibility.

To make it more or less unanimous, Art Lewis of Ocala, chairman of the State membership committee, charged that several of the county units, as well as the State directors were "lilly-lallying" in carrying out their responsibility of building the organization.

There were several other matters discussed during the session, but the principal theme was the need for action—instead of "lip service"—in bringing about a spirit of cooperation in the industry.

W. L. Burton, of Orlando, executive secretary of the growers' organization, pleaded for a return to "the fundamental principles upon which this group was founded—democratic action, concerted action of all instead of delegation of power to a selected few."

The issues of the coming year will demand the full support of a coordinated organization to put them over," he warned.

James Hess, of Orlando, in his talk to the growers said that a "small group of Orange County growers" is ready to "stop talking and do something about it."

Mr. W. F. Basso of this city visited the Executive Center in Sanford last week. He said that the Board of Directors of the Florida Citrus Growers, Inc., is planning to hold a large meeting in the near future.

Fuehrer Says World Empire To Be Ended If English Continue To Resist

BERLIN, July 19.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler, speaking before the Reichstag, tonight addressed "one more appeal to reason in England" and warned that "a world empire would be destroyed if England insists on continuing the war."

He declared he is not asking peace in the voice of a victor demanding capitulation of a vanquished but rather as a victor proposing a reasonable peace.

He said "British statesmen apparently have no conception of the destruction which would be visited on England if Prime Minister Churchill continues to demand a fight to the finish."

"But one thing is sure," he exclaimed. "No Churchill will be left to attempt the rehabilitation of Britain."

"People left behind in London" after the great attack, he said, would have ideas entirely different from those of Churchill and his colleagues.

Hitler said England had tried to stir up trouble between Russia and Germany but he declared that Russia-German relations have been "fixed once and for all by a clear delimitation of interests."

Conditions imposed at Versailles after the first world war, he asserted again tonight, were impossible since they prepared the annihilation of the German state.

The program of the National Socialist movement, he declared, was to shake off the shackles of this treaty.

Germany was pleased, he said, that no war resulted from the early steps to revise the treaty conditions. He accused "Jewish capitalist warmongers" and blamed them for causing the war which finally followed.

The conflict might have been averted when Mussolini made a proposal for peaceful negotiations. "It was only the British warmongers who wanted war," he declared.

Then he reviewed step by step the events which followed and told of Germany's invasion of the Scandinavian countries, the low countries and France. He said Germany had first because she had documentary evidence that Britain and France planned to move into these countries to attack Germany.

After the German conquest of Poland, he said, he warned Britain and France "not to continue this war" but he was "abused" as coward because of these peace proposals. He shouted that "this capitalist clique of warmongers with personal stake in war" caused the conflict to continue.

He paid high tribute to the German soldiers, airmen and seamen for their victories in all parts of the war area and the huge crowd cheered him repeatedly.

He said the strategy of the Allies in the low countries and France had made the German attack easier than expected. He said the fall of Paris had not been planned originally but he declared that the surrender of the French army was the only thing that could be done because its position was "untenable."

Then he praised those who stayed at home and made it possible for German armed forces to win such victories.

He said that Germany faces defeat and destruction in the battle ahead but "I know it will be England." He insisted that the terrible sorrow that has come to fall on France need not have taken place as he offered France peace before the battle but his offer was "untenable."

A Historic Choice

Late last night President Roosevelt shattered American tradition and wrote a new chapter in democratic history when he announced over the radio from his White House office his acceptance of the Democratic nomination for a third term to the presidency of the United States.

"Today, all private plans, all private lives have been repealed by an over-riding public danger," he said. "In the face of that public danger all those who can be of service to the public have no choice but to offer themselves for service in those capacities for which they may be fitted."

Declaring that the right to make that call rests not alone with the Democratic party but with the American people, he continued, "If such a draft should be made upon me, I say, in the utmost simplicity I will, with God's help, continue to serve with the best of my ability and with the fullness of my strength."

"We must confess that we had not expected the President to make so great a sacrifice. We had not regarded the danger to this country as being of such a character as to necessitate the violation of the third term tradition. We have heard the warning from many high political sources that we should not change horses in the middle of a stream, but we have never subscribed to that theory."

It is always possible to conjure up an emergency which requires us to do what we want to do. President Roosevelt was elected in 1932 because of a great national emergency though that very act was changing horses in the middle of a stream. It is possible that in 1944 there may be another emergency. The war will be over then and it will be necessary not to change horses in order to insure a just and enduring peace. And by 1948 another depression, which always follows great wars, may have begun and there will be another emergency.

That the international situation is serious, no one can deny, but this reason alone hardly necessitates Mr. Roosevelt's continuing in office if he doesn't want to. Roosevelt confronted a serious international situation after the German break-through at Sedan, but the Daladier government was supplanted by the Reynaud government and later by the Petain government. And who can deny that the recent substitution of Winston Churchill for Neville Chamberlain as Prime Minister of Great Britain was not in the interest of stronger government?

One can only conclude that President Roosevelt wants to remain as President and hopes to go down in history as the first man ever to be elected to a third term. He is an extremely persuasive orator and a master of political strategy and it may well be that his wish will be granted. As he himself said, "We face one of the great choices of history."

Wallace For Vice President

After the Republicans turned to a Democrat for their presidential nominee, we suppose it is only natural that the Democrats should nominate a Republican for their vice presidential candidate. For Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, and President Roosevelt's choice for the vice presidency, was long a Republican before his support of Roosevelt in 1932 gained him his present cabinet post.

His grandfather, who founded and became the first editor of Wallace's Farmer, an agricultural magazine published in Des Moines, Iowa, was a great supporter of that other Roosevelt, "Teddy," the Republican, and at one time was a member of a special commission appointed by the President to study ways and means of improving agricultural conditions.

His father, Henry Cantwell Wallace, also a Republican, served as Secretary of Agriculture under President Harding after a life devoted to agriculture both as a farmer and also as editor of Wallace's Farmer. The present Wallace followed in the family tradition, was educated in agriculture at Iowa State College, became editor of Wallace's Farmer, and under Roosevelt became Secretary of Agriculture.

It was Secretary Wallace, who more than anyone else was responsible for the Agricultural Adjustment Act and all the government's farm policies of the past seven years. He has been a consistent advocate of crop control, reduction of surpluses, benefit payments, and all the other methods which were devised to raise the farmers out of the economic doldrums.

His selection as vice presidential candidate completes the purge of old time Democrats in Administration circles and leaves the New Dealers without a dissenting voice. Al Smith was one of the first to go. Then came Senators Glass and Byrd of Virginia, then George of Georgia, Cotton Ed Smith of South Carolina, Tydings of Maryland, and now Jim Farley and John Garner.

The selection of Wallace also counteracts to some extent the effect of Senator McNary's nomination for Vice President by the Republicans. McNary is known to be strongly influential among the farmers of the Middle West on account of his constant advocacy of better farm legislation. Wallace also has that support and, besides, is himself a native of the Middle West.

Too Small Acreage Seen As Handicap To Farm Comeback

Too small acreage has seriously handicapped many farmers who are sincerely trying to make a comeback from a distressed position. George D. Livingston, Farm Security Administration Supervisor for Jackson County, believes...

Supervisor George D. Livingston said today that the Farm Security Administration has discovered that many small farmers are being handicapped by the fact that their acreage is too small to produce a sufficient quantity of crops to make a living.

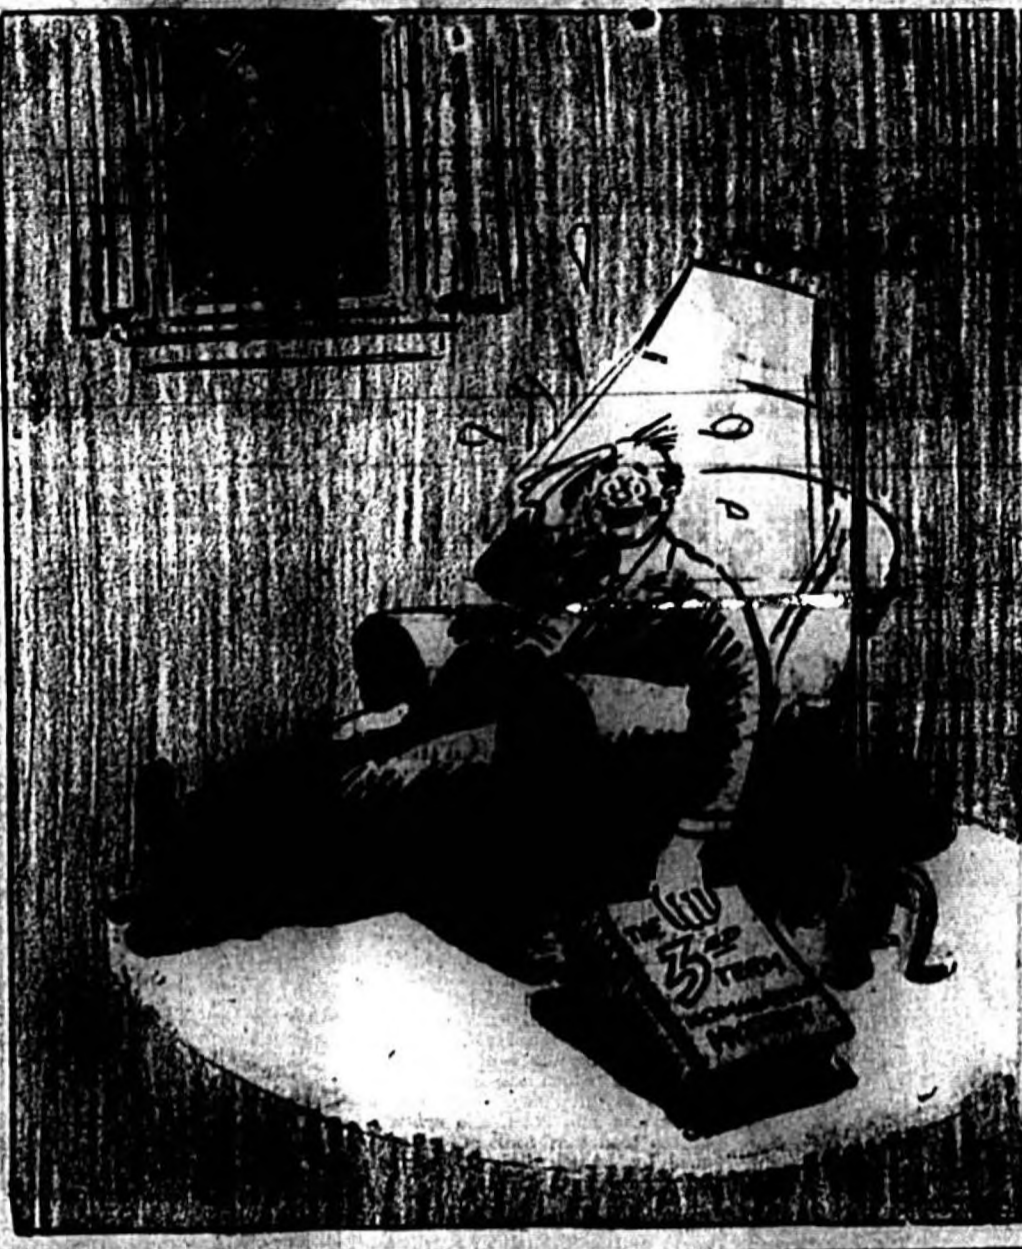

Livingston said that the Farm Security Administration is now making a study of the problem of small acreage and is planning to take steps to help these farmers. He said that the government is interested in the welfare of these farmers and is determined to do all that is possible to help them.

"WHEW!"

Nomination For Third Term Is Accepted By FDR

The night session got underway at 7:34 o'clock and Dr. Clyde Magee of the Bethany Union church of Chicago came forward to pronounce the invocation.

"We pray for the guidance of the spirit to attend our ways," Helen Gahagan, stage and screen actress, read a tribute to the flag and sang the national anthem.

About this time reports were spreading through the hall that a fight might develop over the vice presidential nomination despite the White House no-fight policy.

Simultaneously, word was circulated that Roosevelt had informed his leaders that unless Wallace were nominated by himself, would not accept first place on the ticket.

"Compensation would be paid to France after the war for use of the requisitioned ships, it was said.

(Continued from page one) England, he added, should take warning "and for a change believe me this once" before it is too late.

WASHINGTON, July 19 —(AP)—Describing as "sacred" the traditional limitation of two terms for a president, Senator Burke, Democrat, Nebraska, publicly denounced his support for Wendell Willkie yesterday and offered to lead a campaign of education against another four years for President Roosevelt.

The Nebraska Democrat, who has long been at odds with some New Deal policies, made public a letter to the Republican presidential nominee which said: "As one who feels deeply that in the light of present world conditions it is essential for our country to maintain the two-term limitation on the tenure of office of president, I shall vote for your victory at the polls in November."

July Marks Third Anniversary Of Jobless Program

TALLAHASSEE, July 19.—This month marks the third anniversary of Florida's participation in the Unemployment Compensation program of the Social Security Act and Harold C. Wall, Chairman of the Florida Industrial Commission, pointed out that this federal-state program has been instrumental in securing jobs for thousands of Florida citizens and has placed more than six million dollars in the hands of the state through the payment of jobless insurance to eligible unemployed workers.

The State Unemployment Compensation Act was passed by the 1937 Legislature and began operations in July of that year with a staff of six, under the direction of Harold C. Wall, present Chairman of the Industrial Commission, which is the supervising agency of the Unemployment Compensation Division and the State Employment Service. The Unemployment Compensation Division now has a personnel of 123 persons and is directed by Fred B. Bradshaw who succeeded Wall in June, 1939.

In 1939 the State Employment Service was organized under the direction of Foss A. Hathaway and began accepting applications for jobs. In a little over a year this agency has accepted 147,148 applications and made 50,822 placements. At the present time it has 20,523 applications in its files and an all requests for any number of workers for any type of work. There is no charge to the employer or the worker for this service.

On January 3, 1940 the Unemployment Compensation Division began receiving applications for jobless insurance and to date $6,228,400 has been paid to eligible Florida workers who became unemployed through no fault of their own. Wall pointed out that these benefits have been paid in every county in the state and they have benefited the communities and the merchants, as well as the unemployed who in a great number of cases would have had no other means of support.

The two divisions now have a trained personnel of 265 persons and every position was filled by competitive examination under the merit system. This provides job security for the personnel and greater efficiency in the operation of the agency. The administrative expenses of both divisions are paid by the Federal Government.

All claims for jobless insurance must be filed through a State Employment Office, and since the local office of the Service is closed, the claimant had to state more than $100,000 had been paid to the unemployed in this territory.

DeLand Trips Seminoles In Tenth Inning By 5-4 Score

Catcher Joe Justice Lets Ball Get By Him With Bases Loaded

Toenes Wins 19th Victory Of Season As He Hurls Fine Ball In Relief Role; Jeter Faces Ocala Here Tonight

After tying up the game in the ninth, the Seminoles let it slip away from them in the tenth and went down to a 5-4 defeat in DeLand last night. Daytona Beach won its tenth straight game and cut Sanford's first place margin to a scant five and one-half games.

Tonight the Seminoles are expected to get back in the win column in the home ball park at the expense of the Ocala Yearlings. Old Jeter, known around the league as a money pitcher, will be Manager Whitney Campbell's choice as starting hurler.

After Frank Hudson had hurled the first eight innings, he was relieved for a pinch hitter, and Jodie Howington, who had beaten the Red Hats the night before was sent in to pitch.

The Red Hats scored their winning run in the 10th inning. Roede singled and Valenci walked. The bases became filled when Halting's fly to left fell safe. Roede scored on an attempted squeeze play when Trammell missed the pitch and it got by catcher Joe Justice.

Hal Toenes, DeLand's ace pitcher, hurled two and one-third innings after relieving Pugh and received credit for the victory, his 19th of the season. Toenes has won more victories than any other pitcher in the Florida State League. Howington received credit for the loss.

Earl Pugh pitched good ball, allowing six hits before being relieved in the eighth frame with the tying run on second base.

Each team made six hits. Sanford presented a patched-up line-up during the game. Al Kimbrell started off catching and was in the game long enough to bat twice, then Jack Russell came in for one trip to the plate. He was followed by Joe Justice who came in from third base to don the pitcher's togs. Red Marion moved in to third base and Al Nixon went out to the left field pasture.

Catcher Roede and third baseman Halting led DeLand at bat, each getting two hits, while no player on the Sanford team got more than one bingle. One of Roede's hits was a home run.

Hudson struck out six men and walked four. Pugh struck out five and walked four. Sanford had seven men left on base and the Red Hats six.

Four Billion Dollar Navy Bill Signed

Roosevelt Okeys Measure Designed To Give Nation Two Ocean Naval Fleet

701 Vessels By 1946 Is Goal

President Also Signs Bill Restricting Political Activity

WASHINGTON, July 20. (AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a bill authorizing a $4,610,000,000 expansion of the Navy designed to give the United States a two ocean fleet capable of meeting any hostile combination.

The Chief Executive has already asked Congress to provide $83,000,000 to start work on the new program which when completed in 1946 or 1947 would give the nation a total of 701 fighting ships.

The President also signed the legislation extending to many thousands of state and local government employees the existing restrictions on political activity by federal workers and limiting the size of campaign contributions.

The new law, which will affect officials and employees working on projects financed in any part by the federal funds, becomes effective immediately.

It was authored by Senator Hatch, New Mexico Democrat, who wrote the original act restricting political activities of federal employees.

Contributions for campaigns for federal offices are limited to $5,000 a year and no political committee is permitted to receive more than $5,000 a year.

Improvement Of Schools Studied By Local Teachers

Nine Seminole County school principals and teachers have taken active part in development of the Florida Program for Improvement of Schools this summer by participating in college activities conducted by the State Department of Education at the University of Florida and Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, today.

Seminole County participants were as follows:

Bulletin production, University of Florida: C. W. Iabill, Lake Mary.

Vocational agriculture conference, University of Florida: A. E. Johnson, Sanford, and E. F. Cooper, Ocala.

Program planning for the general school, Florida State College for Women: W. L. Steer, principal, and E. Harrison, Marysville.

Production of curriculum materials for national defense, University of Florida: A. E. Johnson, Sanford, and G. E. McKay, principal, Seminole County High School, Sanford.

Red Cross Ends Drive For Funds To Aid Refugees

Chapter's Efforts To Raise Entire Quota Falls Short By $200

The Seminole County Chapter of the American Red Cross has concluded its drive for funds for the aid of war refugees in Europe nearly 3,000 short of its goal of $2,000, Mrs. Jean Adams, treasurer of the chapter, reported today.

Mrs. Adams declared that the chapter received a net total of $1,800 from the drive.

In connection with the drive, Mrs. Adams expressed appreciation to those who made donations toward it. They included the Coca Cola Bottling Company, the S. J. Bottling Company, the management of the Mayfair Hotel and Joe Moss, who said:

There are a few of the campaign contribution boxes scattered over Sanford and the contributions that are placed in them will be collected next week and the amount forwarded to the national headquarters.

If there is anyone desiring to see a list of contributions in the fund, they should send the amount to Mrs. Adams, or to the Seminole County Red Cross headquarters on Palm Bay Avenue, adjoining the Fire Station.

New Bridge

The bridge between Sanford and Palm Bay, which has been under construction for some time, is expected to be completed by the end of the month.

The meeting of the board was held at the home of Mrs. W. E. O'Connell, 1000 E. 1st St., at 8 p. m. tomorrow night.

Hull Arrives In Cuba For Conference

Argentina's Attitude May Cause Trouble For Pan-American Defense Delegates

Secretary of state Hull arrived today at Havana for the Pan-American conference on hemisphere defense and economy—bringing with him, delegates hoped, a plan for decisive action that might hamper her trade with Germany and other totalitarian European nations.

Secretary Hull said "We are today witnessing in the international field a situation unparalleled in history, how long it may continue and how far it may reach we cannot, of course, foresee."

"We are hopeful that the tide of events may change but in all events we are desirous that the calamities of other parts of the world may not reach our shores to any greater extent than they have through the dislocation of trade and commerce and of free interchange of things worth while."

Meanwhile delegates to the Pan-American defense consultations opening Sunday divided their attention between reports of Hull's "secret" conference plans and Argentina's apparent reluctance toward any commitments which might affect her European relations.

Washington reports indicated Hull already has formulated attitudes on such problems as the status of American colonies of invaded European nations, fifth column activity and broad questions of economic and political security.

Reports that Hull intends to deal "realistically" with hemisphere problems cheered Oscar Schmuck of Chile, Luis Lino Cordova of Peru and Lopez de Mesa of Colombia, because of the possibility of gaining immediate action on the war-diminished commodities of the American public.

Others were not so encouraged, fearing as they did another "American" conference, which would be the traditional "talking shop" between North American and Argentine ideas.

Argentina has indicated she wants freedom of action on any proposal affecting her heavy over-seas trade.

Arthur Hale Broke Pipeline Promise, Say Railroad Men

LAKE CITY, July 20.—(AP)—Florida railroad men protested to the state road department yesterday that former Chairman Arthur B. Hale of the department had broken a promise in granting permission for laying an oil pipeline under state roads.

Hale, who resigned May 29, had issued the permit to the Southeastern Pipeline company, they charged, without giving the pipeline a hearing as he had pledged.

There must have been a collusion somewhere between the chairman and the pipeline people, declared J. T. Hodges, Lakeland, who represented the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers at yesterday's meeting.

J. W. Perkins, DeLand, who succeeded Hale as chairman, agreed that the board had promised no permit would be issued without letting the railroad be heard, and said Attorney General Gibbs had been asked for an opinion on whether Hale's action could be revoked.

"The governor is very much exercised over this matter," Perkins told the delegation, "and he wants to do what you want to do if he has the authority."

John B. Sutton, Tampa, general counsel for the Atlantic Coast Line railroad company, said the railroad wanted the road department to rescind its action and conduct a hearing on the pipeline company's application for a permit.

W. J. Oren, Tallahassee, counsel for the Seaboard Air Line railway, questioned legality of Hale's permit on grounds that it should have been approved by the full board.

Mutual Monroe Doctrines For All Americas To Be Talked At Havana

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—Behind the Monroe Doctrine headlines have been reading the deliberate battle of wits between Washington and Berlin with Washington on the offensive.

The primary aim in Washington is to bring strikingly to the attention of the American public both above and below the Rio Grande—the original Monroe Doctrine and its championship of independence for the nations of the Western hemisphere as well as its warning to European power to keep off.

In effect it is a certain raise for the meeting in Havana later this month of the 21 American republics. It might even portend a mutual Monroe Doctrine for the hemisphere to supplement the purely United States doctrine pronounced by Monroe in 1823.

An American state department official has been itching for some time to get the Monroe doctrine on Page One, so to speak, in the

U. S. Inquiry Is Begun Into Sinking Of Merchantmen In Neutrality Zone

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—The state and navy department yesterday began an extensive inquiry to ascertain the facts in the sinking of two British merchantmen near the West Indies, apparently within the inter-American neutrality zone.

Official spokesmen refused to comment on press reports that British merchantmen near the West Indies, but were actively seeking information through diplomatic channels. The gravity with which they viewed the situation was emphasized by the prompt inquiry which they pressed their inquiry.

The sinkings give a dramatic background to the Pan American conference which was held at Havana Sunday to debate problems posed in this hemisphere by the European war. The conference established the so-called safety belt last year and it subsequently was violated by British and German warships which fought a terrific battle off the coast of Montevideo.

LONDON, July 20.—(AP)—The British navy was confronted yesterday with the threat of a fresh German sea raider at large in the Atlantic.

Mrs. Ward Is Added To Recreation Staff

Mrs. Alice Ward has been added to the recreation staff of the city. It was announced today by Miss Kennor Morrison, city recreation director.

Mrs. Ward specializes in nursery and kindergarten work and has considerable experience in that field.

Parties with children of preschool age are urged to bring them to the playground. Under the new plan, they will have good supervision and will learn to cooperate with other children. Mrs. Morrison said in announcing the appointment.

Roosevelt Not To Get Support From Anti-New Dealers

Minority Group Differs On Question Of Joining G. O. P.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—(AP)—Leading anti-new deal Democrats agreed yesterday they would not support President Roosevelt's third term candidacy, but differed sharply on the question of taking a "walk" into Republican ranks.

Senator Cotton Ed Smith, veteran South Carolina Democrat, joined his Nebraska colleague Senator Burke, in refusing to back Roosevelt's president, stating that he would support another four years in the White House.

Smith, intended victim of Roosevelt's all-starred political party nomination, believed "Roosevelt's nomination is an end to democracy as we have known it."

"On the other hand," Smith added, "I will not vote the Republican ticket."

Another anti-new deal Democrat refusing to support Roosevelt's candidacy was Senator Holt of West Virginia, but whether he would throw his support to Willkie was not known. Holt, who like Burke had been defeated for re-nomination, was preparing to introduce and press for passage of anti-third term resolution.

Holt charged "political bosses" on instructions from the White House, railroaded Secretary Wallace into the vice presidential nomination.

Another Democrat who bolted and threw his support to Willkie today was Stephen F. Chabriel, former national commander of the American Legion. Chabriel's defection was announced by the Republican national committee here.

With Smith on record against a third term, the reaction of other would-be purges—including Senators Gillette, Iowa, Tydings Maryland, and George Georgia—was a matter for speculation.

Former Representative O'Connor of New York, only victim of the purge, recently pledged himself to try and defeat Roosevelt and asked cooperation of Democrats.

The biggest question mark in the capital today was Vice President John Nance Garner, who was dumped over-board by the administration. Garner, an old-time Democrat, made himself unavailable to newsmen.

For the fifth successive day, Garner's office door was locked and bolted. A telephone call to his office brought from Mrs. Garner, his wife and secretary, the crisp response: "No news."

Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, termed the Democratic gathering at Chicago a "totalitarian convention."

He expected the American people to "agree again" in November to Thomas Jefferson's view "that any third term presidency would strike at the heart of democracy."

Public Is Warned Of Horrors Of Nazification To Sow Distrust Of Leadership

Blitzkrieg Is Believed Near

Hitler's Airmen Report New Success In Island Forays

Germany turned her radio propaganda guns on the British public today warning of the death and destruction it may face if it persists in refusing to take Adolf Hitler's "final" road to peace.

The Nazi objective seemed to be to sow distrust of their leadership in the British mind. The English translation of Hitler's speech yesterday was broadcast again and again to England.

Elsewhere, the impression grew that Hitler's long threatened attack in force against the United Kingdom had come closer.

Italy's authoritative Fascist weekly, Relazioni Internazionali, voiced a feeling, predicting the vast offensive now is "only a question of days."

The German high command talked up new operations against Britain in report that Nazi bombers had blasted the harbors, anti-aircraft defenses and supply stations, sunk a 5,000-ton merchant ship and damaged three.

Seminole Gun Club Is Incorporated By Florida Law

The Seminole Gun Club was duly incorporated under the laws of Florida as a non-profit organization yesterday with the approval and the endorsement by Circuit Judge Millard H. Smith of the application presented by George A. Speer, Jr., local attorney and one of the charter members of the organization.

Membership in the Club has been increased by 27 members, Ned Smith, secretary of the organization, announced today. With 18 charter members, this brings the total enrollment to 45.

"I shouldn't be at all surprised if we had 60 to 70 members by the end of next week," said Mr. Smith. "Any number of people have signified their intention of joining, but have not paid the initial dues as yet. The 45 we now have are members in good standing."

Work on the range will commence soon, and it is expected that members will be out shooting at targets inside of two weeks, Mr. Smith reported.

Members of the club who have joined recently are: A. X. Gunter, I. J. Byrd, C. H. Shearer, J. A. Toward, G. L. Duncan, S. J. Nig, A. D. Smalley, Rudy Tietjen, C. J. Hatter, R. C. Whittier, George Feare, Ray Fox, Robert Knight, V. A. Adams, C. C. Welch, W. R. Aulsen.

Stunt Night To Be Held Monday

Fans will be given an added treat in the way of a stunt night which is being arranged by Charley Morrison when the Sanford Seminoles meet their arch rivals, the Orlando Nationals, at Municipal Park Monday night. Circling of bases, punt and run to first, accuracy throwing by catchers, distance throwing, and fence batting for distance are just a few of the events in which players of the two teams will compete. Lake Mary fans, who have had their night rained out twice, will get another chance at Monday night's game. Tickets must be secured at Lake Mary. Matching Hyer's speed with that of any Orlando player should be a thrill in itself and a large crowd is expected for Monday night's clash.

LOCAL WEATHER

Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday, scattered thunderstorms Sunday and along the coast tonight.
