German Dirigible Is Drifting Helplessly Toward Open Water

Graf Zeppelin Suffers More Difficulties Making Its Progress To Home Port

LONDON, May 17.—(INS)—A Central News dispatch from Berlin shortly after 8 o'clock tonight reported that Dr. Hugo Eckener had wirelessed that he was totally unable to maneuver the Graf Zeppelin which was said to be drifting helplessly.

According to an exchange telegraph from Paris, the zeppelin attempted a landing at Valence but failed.

The huge ship then drifted in a southeasterly direction towards Salians where upon nearing the Alps it changed its course directly south towards Montclair in the general direction of Toulon, the dispatch stated.

TOLL OF CLINIC DISASTER GOES HIGHER TODAY

Scientists Carry On Investigation Into Cause Of Holocaust With Appalling Loss

CLEVELAND, May 17.—(INS)—Forty-eight hours after the Cleveland clinic holocaust, the deadly disease which has already claimed an appalling toll, continued today to count more victims.

Persons who inhaled the gas in rescue work or feeling its blazing building, but at first thought themselves unscathed, returned to the city's hospital today, suffering from after-effects.

This was especially true of firemen, who at first felt only slight illness. As the lethal gas gets in its slow work, they are reporting at hospitals for treatment.

Five firemen and two policemen have applied at Mt. Sinai hospital for treatment, while three others have reported elsewhere.

Dr. A. J. Pearce, Cuyahoga County coroner, temporarily suspended his investigation of the Cleveland clinic disaster today and turned that institution into a research laboratory.

The coroner received a delegation from Chicago, headed by Dr. A. H. Kugel, health commissioner, and the party went to the clinic ruins to make investigations which it is hoped will form the basis of measures for preventing such catastrophes in the future.

At that time unofficial sources estimated the death toll as high as 127, including two gas victims in the last 12 hours. H. L. Rockwood, city health commissioner, had official records of 118 deaths.

Latest hospital reports total 10 patients in critical condition at Cleveland Clinic Hospital, a unit of the H. H. H. Hospital, and 12 more in Mt. Sinai Hospital.

There was little hope that the 28 would be able to triumph in their battle with the dreaded "yellow death" which has cast a pall of sorrow over Cleveland since last New Year when exploding x-ray films filled the clinic with poisonous gas.

Dr. Pearce had planned to question Sam Steele, maintenance man and electrician at the clinic, but decided to defer the investigation until he had been accompanied by Chicago experts to the ruins.

Other delegations from Washington and Pittsburgh were due later in the day. They, too, will question the rubber boots and coats and examine the ruins in the interests of science.

The devastated clinic has, in fact, been converted into a research laboratory where the expert toxicologists will study the conditions under which the deadly gas, now believed to be nitric oxide, was generated.

London Sees Impregnable Air Defense Based Upon New Science, Television

LONDON, May 17.—(INS)—Britain will be practically impregnable from the air soon, according to prophecies of British air defense experts.

These experts have found in the new science of television and television the solution for the successful defense of Great Britain from air attacks.

Distance is no drawback. The television or television camera can reach by the images themselves can be converted into visible rays and transmitted wirelessly to far distant receiving stations.

Within the past few weeks high speed demonstrations of television and television have been given to statesmen, soldiers and airmen. All have expressed surprise at the possibility of using television for defensive purposes in a future war.

Admiral Sir Mark Kerr, after a recent demonstration, summed up the situation as follows: "The importance of television in the future of air defense cannot have any vision."

Nocturnal vision in darkness by means of an invisible infrared ray which is transformed by means of a modified television apparatus into a visible image.

This apparatus, which has 10 times the light penetrating power of the ordinary camera, picks up the object, the television transmission forms into an image which can be seen as clearly as a moving picture on the screen.

Experts predict that the day is rapidly approaching when every aircraft bound for the British coast will be reflected on the television screens in scores of outposts, and the "burners" of the Royal Air Force will be in their midst before they are within striking distance of England.

Stimulated by the warnings of Lord Halifax and Lord Sydenham, and frightened by the weakness of air defense as revealed by the sensational maneuvers over London, the research branches of the fighting services have been working feverishly on schemes for the protection of the nation's vitals from outside air attacks.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The Senate today opened its fight on a re-apportionment bill which is linked to a re-apportionment bill which is linked to a re-apportionment bill.

Senator Black (D-Ala.) led the fight against the bill, which would give the President the power to change the number of representatives in the House and the number of senators in the Senate.

Capone Gets Year's Term For Carrying Concealed Weapons

Philadelphia Authorities Hand "Scarface Al" His First Taste Of Law Enforcement

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—(INS)—"Scarface Al" Capone, notorious Chicago bear baron, and his body guard Frank Cline, pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons in municipal court today and were given sentences of one year in the county prison by Judge John A. Walsh.

The two prisoners called at the spectators in the packed courtroom when brought in by several detectives. Capone apparently took the trial as another one of a long series he has encountered but a way escaped without being convicted. The sentence was the first prison term he had ever received.

The court room doors were closed and barred as curious spectators sought to gain entrance to the crowded room. The trial brought many prominent attorneys from other courthouses as news of the trial spread through city hall.

Arrested with his bodyguard, Frank Cline, as they were leaving a motion picture theater at 19th and Market Streets last night the men were hurried to city hall. Cline also was held in default of $25,000 bail when they were arraigned before Magistrate Edmund Carney.

Carney gave Capone and Cline a verbal raking when they were brought before him. "You are undoubtedly responsible for many murders in the United States," he told Capone. "You are a public enemy. You are a disgrace to the name of Philadelphia. You are a disgrace to the name of Philadelphia. You are a disgrace to the name of Philadelphia."

Capone and Cline were arrested by detectives James "Shoney" Malone and John Carson.

"Hello Shoney," Capone greeted the detectives when he was arrested.

"Hello Shoney," I've got a gun on me," the Chicago gangster added when he saw Malone's fellow detective.

"Then I'll have to take you in," Malone explained as the pair were taken into custody. Cline also was carrying a pistol the detectives told the magistrate.

The two men were searched, photographed and their finger prints taken. Capone had a diamond ring said to be worth $25,000. Money running into four figures was found on each man.

Capone confided to Malone, whom he knew, having met him at the Shoney-Stirling fight in Florida, that he was headed for Chicago.

"I've been at Atlantic City for a few days," he explained. "Went to the shore as soon as I came up from blood. I'm on my way to Chicago."

The pair arrived here about 7 o'clock last evening from the seashore resort. They went to the theater to kill time, Capone said. "I was going to flag the midnight train for Chicago," Capone explained to safety director J. E. Schofield. "Honest, I just went to the movie, to kill time."

The arrests were made shortly before midnight. At 12:10 A. M. the men were arraigned. Secretly had the hearing been concluded when two attorneys came rushing to the magistrate's courtroom to represent Capone. They protested the heavy bail but were not allowed to see the prisoners.

MISS WETHERED BEATS COLLETT IN BRITISH PLAY

American Golfer Has Brilliant 34 In One Round But Falls

ST. ANDREWS, FIFE, Scotland, May 17.—(INS)—Joyce Wethered, England's greatest woman golfer, won the British women's championship for the fourth time today when she eliminated Glenna Collett, the American champion, by two and one in the final round.

Miss Collett, the first American woman to reach the finals of the event in the 26 years of competition, appearing to be great rival on the 45 green after one of the longest-fought matches ever played for the title. She played good golf, but no woman golfer in the world could have beaten Joyce Wethered today.

Making her third attempt to annex the crown which an American girl ever had won, Glenna Collett of the first nine holes of the morning found in 24 two strokes under par, to become five up. But from then on Miss Wethered came to the fore to overcome an apparently insuperable disadvantage. She was only two down at the end of 18 holes and took the lead at the 22, never to be headed.

Miss Wethered was four up after 27 holes and held Joyce even until the 35, but the English girl's lead was too big to be overcome.

Joyce retired from tournament play several years ago after eliminating Miss Collett at Toun, and was induced to emerge from retirement this year only to meet the threat of an American victory. Engaging in this evening that she had lost no other woman golfer in the world could have beaten Miss Collett today.

TEX GUINAN GETS SPOTLIGHT AGAIN OVER LITIGATION

Deposition Discloses He Receives $125,000 To Amuse "Sackers"

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—(INS)—A deposition by Texas Guinan took the famous "whoopee" exponent's part in a suit to collect $25,000 damages from a Los Angeles theatrical concern.

One of the revelations of the deposition was that the "whoopee" Guinan had received approximately $125,000, twice the stipend of $62,500, for the privilege of appearing at the club.

The deposition was prepared in New York and sent here. Miss Guinan claims that the theatrical concern involved used her name without her consent to advertise a show she was to appear in at a local show. She says that she appeared the day and then failed to appear because of illness.

Miss Guinan's suit is in the nature of a cross suit against the theatrical corporation in repayment of a $2500 suit brought against her by breach of contract.

According to papers on file in superior court, Miss Guinan was employed to appear for one week at the theatre when she was in California last Fall to make a musical premiere. After the first day she failed to appear at the theatre.

Miss Guinan attributed her indisposition to laryngitis, which she said was contracted after an automobile accident. The theatrical corporation in its answer charges that Miss Guinan appeared at a local night club during the time she was supposed to be in California and that she failed to appear at the theatre.

To counteract this charge, Miss Guinan has called upon "Fatty" Arbuckle, ex-comedian, and Sally O'Neill and Phyllis Haver, screen actresses, to come into court to testify that she was so seriously hurt in the automobile mishap that she could not go on with her act and that she merely sat at one of the night club tables and did not "make whoopee" or dance or in any other manner sport as an injured person should do.

PLEA TO CANADA TO HELP IN RUN WAR HAS FAILED

Negotiations Started With Dominion In 21 Prove To Be Futile

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(INS)—Futile attempts by the United States over a period of nearly four years to get Canada to agree to issue certificates to American ports of liquor cargoes were disclosed today with publication of correspondence between the two countries.

The correspondence, which was in the possession of the American delegation to the Ottawa conference on Ottawa last January.

The negotiations began Oct. 1, 1925 when Secretary of State Kellogg sent a note to Henry Chittenden, British ambassador in Washington, pointing out the difficulties of the United States in having to prevent liquor smuggling across the Canadian border, and asking that the government already in effect whereby Great Britain had furnished this government information on clearances, be extended to her such clearances as well.

"The correspondence shows that the British government was somewhat dilatory in bringing the matter to the attention of the Canadian government, and several reminders were forth from the American state department. There was a delay in getting Canada to lend an active assistance in the American request. Finally the British government suggested the question of commercial smuggling be referred to a royal commission, and this government acquiesced in a proposal to defer direct negotiations until the commission had reported. The commission, however, was to confer with American officials.

But the United States got impatient when in December, 1927, it appeared that the royal commission would not complete its work until February of 1927, and suggested that Canada enter into treaty negotiations at once.

The Canadian government, through the British ambassador, concurred under date of February 21, 1927 in the advisability of holding a conference, but insisted that the royal commission's recommendation should be first. The commission finished its work in November of 1928, and the much sought conference was arranged for the second week in January of this year.

Former Army Chief Urges U.S. Direction Of Communications

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(INS)—A combination of telephone and wireless communication systems must be effected in the United States to provide adequate competition for the government monopolies existing in foreign countries, Major General George O. Squier, former chief of the army signal corps, told the state senate committee today.

Squier said he favored private operation of the communication systems under government supervision, rather than government operation. He admitted that there were many arguments in favor of government operation.

The former army signal chief caused a stir by predicting that private homes over telephone wires in the future rather than by radio. He predicted as remarkable developments for the wireless communication services as far and wide.

DEBENTURE PLAN FEATURES FIGHT IN DAYS SESSION

Democrats Charge Republicans With Trying To Prevent Vote

WASHINGTON, May 17.—(INS)—The House today stood steadily with President Hoover on the farm relief when it voted to send the $500,000,000 farm bill to conference without a direct vote on the Senate's debenture plan. The Republican majority triumphed after the Democratic spokesmen charged Republican leaders with using a delaying tactic to dodge a decision on the substance.

Washington, May 17.—(INS)—Partisan warfare broke out over the $500,000,000 farm bill today for the first time since the House today when Democratic leaders charged administration Republicans with trying to prevent a vote on the Senate's debenture plan of relief.

Rep. Garner of Texas, majority leader who supported the original House farm program favored by the Hoover administration, led the charge in the debenture plan in protest against a vote on the farm bill which he felt would write it into the law.

The Republican program, which was expected to be carried out today, called on sending the bill to the Senate and House conference committee to iron out differences between the two bodies and then presenting it for final passage.

The Republican plan prevents the offering of a motion to instruct the conferees to stand out of the debenture plan and demand in conference, as seven of the 10 probable conferees already are pledged to kill it.

"There isn't the slightest doubt but that the Republican plan is intended to prevent the House from voting squarely upon the debenture plan," said Garner. "They are afraid to vote on the issue. I have that if a straight-out vote were permitted, it probably would be in the bill by the House."

A growing sentiment for the debenture plan in the House is said to have cooled the anger of some House Republicans, who favored rejection of the Senate bill on the ground that the debenture plan affects revenues and therefore the Senate violated the House's prerogatives in adding it to the farm bill.

Quarantine Against Florida's Fruits Is Put On By 17 States

According to reports received here today by J. W. Monk, state plant board official, many shipments of produce now rolling from this section will be affected by the quarantine which has been established by 17 states and the island of Porto Rico. All Florida fruits and vegetables classed as "hot" to the Mediterranean fruit fly are included in the quarantine regulations.

Mr. Monk's telegram from the office of Dr. William Newell, in charge of the fighting against the pest mentioned the following states as being in possession of the enemy of any Florida produce: California, Georgia, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Nevada, Arizona, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama in addition to the island of Porto Rico. Transportation of fruit by mail, express, rail or any other means was expressly prohibited into these states by Secretary of Agriculture Hyde.

The discovery of an infestation in groves in Black Hammock was also reported from the plant board office this morning.

More State Militia Ordered Into Strike Zone Of Tennessee

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., May 17.—(INS)—Three additional contingents of state militia were to report here today for duty in the Happy Valley textile strike zone, following riots during the week.

One cavalry troop from Nashville and another from Cleveland have been ordered to supplement the five companies which already are on duty here.

The extra troops were ordered to Elizabethton when county authorities declared that the situation was beyond their hands. A fresh outbreak of violence yesterday put the city without water, the conduit supplying the town having been dynamited.

The Benberg and Glanzstoff rayon plants, which were closed down last month by a strike of 6,500 employees, and which resumed operation recently with an unobstructed force, were being protected by the troops.

Richard Grutter, publisher of the Post, told the commission yesterday that O'Malley, purporting to represent the Insull interests, had made an offer of $20,000,000 for his property.

O'Malley admitted that he had discussed the possibility of buying the Post and also the Boston Globe with officers of the Insull group, but denied that he represented the Insull people or that he made a direct offer.

New Men Of Big Leagues Are Hitting Poorly Despite Tales Of Lively Baseball

NEW YORK, May, 14.—(NS)—There are a lot of high powered sensations being aired these days on the matter of what the lively ball is going to baseball but I would venture to say that, as far as the average first year man is concerned, Major League pitchers undoubtedly are using a very heavy, sackweight, wrapped up in covers. With but few exceptions, notably Alexander and Johnson of the Tigers, Averill, of the Indians, and Brannan, of the Reds, the bright young men from the minor leagues are hitting nothing except maybe the hay at night. They are going hungry in the midst of vast crowds, but to make the National League humiliate 117 home runs to 16 in the American and it seems that money-lovy and his little brother are bent on making a mugg out of the much aggravated pitcher. In fact, if it gets any worse, it will only be right if they play the rest of the averages on a has a 300 record. It is not the more disheartening, therefore, that so many of the big-money "buds" are unable to do themselves any good. There is Dick Porter, for example. He was supposed to be a power hitter down in the minors. To date, all he has to show in the American League is .211 against big, international league averages of .260. The full-time pitcher hit him cruelly but finally got of there and right now he is in a sensational manner. No Charlie Gabelt who came to the Cardinals from Rochester, with a .310 record. He was hitting only .211 when they poked him out of the line-up some days ago and yesterday he got back again long enough to go hitless in three additional times at bat. Next, of the Red Sox, hit .454 in the minors last year and unofficially today he wasn't much of anything, over .200. Hal Ryan, of the same outfit, is around .200, too, although he hit .312 on the coast last year. This might be worse if that ex Earl Niecey, another coast leaguer, in proceeding to prove the Pirates rugged their man-power to maintain for breezy, who hit .281 against class AA pitching last year and, according to all accounts, never should have escaped from the Major Leagues in the first place. Today, his average may be .210 but I wouldn't go out and bet my sleeve against it.

KNUTE HANSEN IS AFTER HONORS IN CORPULENT FIELD

Danish Fighter Gains Weight Since He Has Dismissed Manager

PARIS, May 14.—Knute Hansen the lanky Danish heavyweight, who is out for championship honors, is now an honorary member of the two hundred and twenty pounders of Paris. He credits his increase in weight here to absence of managerial assistance. But Knute is not so sure. The two hundred and twenty pounder is an organization made up of gent men whose idea of a boyish figure is something between a creek and a hoghead. Before he can join this select organization he has to be the best at 20 pounds or better. When the members meet it is a gigantic sput of land. Knute (16) of his troubles in Cleveland, Ohio, when he was knocked out by a pugilist named "O'Christy." "Managers got the best of me that evening" said the Scandinavian bruiser. "Because I got mixed up with managers. I had some difficulty keeping my mind on that fight, but his style is not so much. I am anxious to see who wins that contest between Schmeling and Paulino in New York. I am afraid that too many managers are going to be the undoing of theerman fighter. There is a super-boundance." The melancholy Dane of the ring proved himself in the last loss with Gene Tunney when he went out. "A fellow named fight in the ring and in the courts at the same time. But I am copyrighted by Billy Gibson now and I am looking forward to a bright future. I am in Paris to meet all corners, am out for the championship honors and I am ready to battle my way into the crown." "The melancholy Dane of the ring proved himself in the last loss with Gene Tunney when he went out."

Woman Organize To Battle For Repeal Of 18th Amendment

NEW YORK, May 14.—(NS)—Inhibition in its present form has a new and formidable enemy today—the woman's organization which hopes to do for the "wets" what the Women's Christian Temperance Union did for the "drys." According to Miss Louise M. Gross, chairman of the women's committee for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, and a leader in the new movement, the union will have representatives in each state of the country. The union expects to co-operate closely with all existing organizations having similar aims, but it will not merge with any. Principal activity, Miss Gross said, will be carrying on of a campaign of education among the women of the country. The influence will also use its influence to have elected to Congress and to state legislatures. Among those listed as supporting the union are Mrs. William L. Barkness, Mrs. Thomas DeWeese Wood of Philadelphia, Mrs. Chauncy Olcott, Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, Mrs. Emile M. Sweeney of St. Louis, Mrs. Philip K. Brown of San Francisco, Mrs. M. F. Hudson of Memphis, Mrs. Spencer Pentecost of Colorado, Mrs. F. L. Wayland of South Carolina, Mrs. F. Lathrop of Massachusetts, Mrs. Paul Fitzsimmons of Newport and Mrs. Robert Weeks Kelly of New York.

WEST HAS LEAD OVER EAST IN ITS PRESENT SERIES

National League Clubs Lose 14 Games Out Of 29 On Invasion

By Lew Conklin (International News Service) Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, May 14.—In the first inter-sectional tests of the season, concluded yesterday, the West proved stronger than the East in both Major Leagues. The western clubs of the National League demonstrated their superiority by a convincing margin, winning 20 games and losing only 14 on their eastern invasion. In the American League the defending western team, won 23 games and lost 20, gaining the edge by taking nine out of 12 games with the tail-end Boston Red Sox. While the western clubs in the National League were aided by the weak opposition of the Brooklyn Robins, who dropped nine of their 11 inter-sectional engagements, all on the invading clubs showed a winning percentage. The Cubs and Cardinals each won eight out of 11, Pittsburgh won seven and lost three and Cincinnati had six victories against five defeats.

The Athletics made the best showing on the eastern teams in the National loop. They broke even in 10 games. The Giants lost seven out of 10. Detroit had the best record of any team. The Tigers won nine games and lost three, and won all four series. The Yankees won their first seven starts in the National League. Pittsburgh's 5 to 4 victory over Brooklyn marked the Robins' eighth straight defeat. With Mitchell on the mound, the Cardinals trimmed the Phillies 4 to 1. Barney Friberg of the Phils collected a homer and two other hits, and has hit safely in seven consecutive times at bat. Red Lucas of Cincinnati won his fourth straight game in beating the Giants, 12 to 3. Stripp hit two homers.

THE BOND PLAN

The tentative proposition submitted by the representatives of the bond houses who ask only for interest and would refund principal as it comes due, provided a fiscal agent might be appointed by them to oversee the City's financial matters, is not looked upon with favor by a vast majority of Sanford citizens who see in it a virtual receivership without such redeeming features as an impartial appointment by a federal court.

The cry among the people at the present time is tax reduction. Scarcely half of the taxes levied last year have been collected and altogether there are outstanding taxes of nearly a million dollars long over due. And this with a millage which has never exceeded twenty-five and now is only twenty. If it is impossible to collect a reasonable percentage of taxes when levied at this rate, what would be the result if the millage should suddenly be increased to thirty, fifty or forty?

Such an increase is bound to result, we understand, if the plan of the bond men is adopted. The present bonded debt of Sanford is somewhere between seven and eight million dollars at various interest rates of five, five and one-half, and six percent. Five percent on seven million dollars is $350,000, while six percent on eight millions is $480,000. So the taxpayers of this city would have to raise between $350,000 and $480,000 annually for interest alone. That would necessitate a millage of at least twenty-two, and possibly thirty, provided operating expenses could be obtained from other sources and one hundred percent of the tax collections could be made.

But it is not reasonable to believe that one hundred percent of the taxes could be collected. Only fifty percent, approximately, have been collected this year. Only fifty-seven percent, approximately, were collected last year. With an increased millage an even smaller percentage would be collected. But if as large a proportion of the taxes could be collected with the millage at thirty as has been with the millage at twenty, only half of the interest charge of $480,000 would then be collected, and in order to get it all the millage would have to be raised to sixty.

A fiscal agent under the terms suggested by the bond representatives would have the power to levy this excessively high tax and to go as far as humanly possible in efforts to collect it. It is improbable that more than an extremely few establishments in town would be able to survive it. It is almost certain that no new industries could be induced to come here and no new people would establish homes here under such conditions.

The Herald is most positively opposed to any form of repudiation and believes that every honest effort should be made to meet our obligations as they come due, but we fear that the proposal of the bond men affords us little assistance in the solution of our problems. We prefer a receiver appointed by a federal court to one selected by the bond houses.

When The Blind See

Sometimes folks wonder which of the five senses they would rather lose if they must lose one. We have heard men argue on this subject. They have heard some say the sense of smell and others the sense of taste, but we have never heard anyone prefer to lose the sense of sight. Seeing, after all, is one of the most important functions of this life. To the blind many things do not exist at all.

It is difficult for us who have always seen things to imagine what a life of blindness would be like. Not to know the difference between the color of an American Beauty rose and a lily seems incredible. Imagine never having seen the heavens at night with their millions of brilliant stars or an impenetrable Atlantic ocean, with may be a ship or two on the horizon, pounding on the shore! Or just an ordinary sunset!

An Alabama woman by the name of Wagoner was like that. She was born blind forty-eight years ago. She never had seen any of the things which mean so much in life. She married, yes, bore a son, knew what they were like, how tall, how fat, how broad, something of their features, but she never had seen them. She knew only because of her keen sense of touch. Taken ill not long ago, she went to a hospital and there doctors told her that they believed they could restore her sight.

An operation followed, and in a few days the bandages were removed from her face. For the first time in her life she beheld a human being, saw what her own husband and her own son looked like. Her ecstasy is best shown by the spirit of her own words. Thus she describes her sensations: "I clenched my hands and tried not to scream. . . I opened my eyes, and I saw. It was his (the doctor's) face. Think of it! Two eyes a nose and a mouth, just as I had felt them all these years. . ."

"I stand at the window and I see automobiles and the wheels turning and smoke coming out of chimneys and people walking around, and I can't believe it. Think of seeing my son. Do you know, the nurses had to tell me what things were. I would ask: 'What is the long, pointed thing out there?' and the nurse would say, 'That's a church steeple.' I've been going to church all my life and didn't know a church steeple."

A GREAT AND SUSTAINED EFFORT

The reparations conference at Paris meets new crises almost daily and still survives. Nothing could be more impressive than the resourcefulness, the patience and the good will displayed by Mr. Young and his colleagues in their efforts to reach a settlement.

The shock of the German counter offer to the allies of three weeks ago was taken up and dispelled by the emergence of Mr. Young's compromise proposal. This proposal appears to have contemplated an obligation by Germany amounting to a capital sum of something less than $2,000,000,000, or nearly $1,000,000,000 below the figure originally put forward by the delegates of the allies.

Apparently acceptable to Germany, the Young compromise seemed to offer in the aggregate an amount which the allied delegations could and would accept. Then came the disquieting news of a stipulation by the Germans that their railways and industry should be released from the lien of $2,000,000,000, now existing as partial security for the Dawes annuities and constituting one of the most valuable potential features of any plan for marketing reparations bonds. And now new difficulties have

"Shall I be wafled to the skies on flowery beds of ease while others fight to win, the crown through bloody seas?"

The highway to heaven is rough with broken real estate booms, hurricane wreckage, taxes bonded debts and Mediterranean files. But the eventual paradise of material and culture prosperity which is Florida's sure mate would not seem half so heavenly in prospect if it were not for these limitations along the way.

"Well," remarked an old mountain guide in Colorado one day after listening to rhapsodies on the scenery by his tourist charges, "I've been living here forty years and ain't seen no scenery yet." And he hadn't. It is only contrast that makes things beautiful. The contrast between Florida's troubles and Florida's future is what makes future gleam like golden shore.

So much of what lives in history depends upon the faithful news and industry of research historians that Florida owes a considerable debt to Mrs. Annie Moore-Wilson of Kissimmee for the long task she has assumed in preserving and editing of the history, vocabulary and music of the Seminole Indians. Her dictionary of the Seminole language has been placed in the ethnological archives at Washington by Ruth Hagan Owen.

The comparative heaviness of red hair is responsible for the temperament displayed by red-haired people, according to a recent scientific analysis. This begs the real question of whether such people are in fact temperamental. Cleopatra had red hair but so has Calvin Coolidge.

Thomas Edison, lingering over him, at Fort Myers this year with his laboratory experiments in the possibility of growing rubber in Florida, is evidently too hot on the trail to mind the summer heat. Florida's pride in new having cause to interest herself in a protective emotion in favor of an infant rubber industry.

Maybe Mr. Edison could be persuaded to take half an hour off to suggest something that will destroy the Medfly.

It is all very well for southern representatives in congress to resent proposals for a federal investigation of labor conditions in certain southern states. But along with this resentment should go a determination to remedy from within whatever is harsh and unamic in these conditions. The employment of child labor in wracking industrial tasks is a shameful feature of factory operations in some parts of the south. In this and various other respects the south is faced with the duty of putting its industrial house in order. State's rights mean state's duties too.

CANADA COMPLAINS

Complaints were made at a recent Canadian educational conference that "the economic life of Canada is being affected—and the moral balance of young Canadians is being upset by a flood of United States magazines featuring immorality, violence, sensuality and crime."

The speaker who made these charges that "Canada should build on her own literature base, upon moral grounds and in keeping with the high ideals that are the heritage of her birthright and traditions."

While we are satisfied that there is not only a good deal of exaggeration but, also a good deal of sensationalism in these charges, we must acknowledge that not only our Canadian neighbors, but we ourselves have a good deal of cause for complaint regarding a lot of the periodicals literature which is being offered as the literary pabulum for the youth of America. One has only to take a casual where this staff is offered for sale to be convinced that a good deal is being displayed which ought to be decidedly offensive to both the literary and the moral sense of any decent community.

Of course we cannot expect that everybody will read only those magazines in the 35 and 50 cent class, and which are acknowledged "high brow" publications. But there is a lot of trashy stuff, and worse, which can be eliminated and yet leave plenty of decent

Whether or not publishing houses and authors in the United States are the only offenders in this regard, we might all be benefited, on both sides of the border, by expunging from our literary marts a lot of the stuff which is of worse than doubtful morality and even of literary value.

For the PRICE of the CREAM
ONE just naturally loves to sniff the spicy aroma of good coffee. Then, too, it is much cheaper to distill good coffee than poor coffee. By the use of electricity and an Electric Coffee Percolator six cups of creamy, clear and tasty coffee—the kind that tickles the palate of the most exacting, may be distilled for only the price of the cream you use in a single cup of coffee. Isn't electricity wonderful, and so economical, too? Electricity pays big dividends in coffee pleasure.

Hot biscuit — in just about no time at all

It doesn't take much more time to mix up a batch of Snowdrift biscuit . . . than to get out your flour and milk and your mixing bowl . . . It's so creamy, you know, that only a few stirs of your spoon will mix it thoroughly with sugar or flour . . . Just try this recipe and see—

SOUTHERN TEA BISCUITS
3 Tablespoons Snowdrift
1 Cup Flour • 1 Tablespoon Sugar
1/4 Teaspoon Salt • 4 Tablespoons Baking Powder
1/2 Cup Milk or Water

Measure dry ingredients and sift together into mixing bowl. Measure Snowdrift and cut into flour with two knives, and work in with fork until well distributed. Add liquids, mixing with a knife or spoon until a soft dough is made that can be handled on a board lightly floured. Handle and work as little as possible. Roll thin and cut with a small cutter. Place on greased pan or baking sheet and bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F. for 15 minutes.

Easy, isn't it? And what light, fluffy, melt-in-your-mouth biscuits they are! They're good in hot houses Snowdrift itself is so good to eat.

Hints Are Given For Planting In Summer

By Mrs. Henry Wight
The question is often asked at this time of the year, "what can we plant now?" The answer is usually, annuals of course, and marigolds, but there are several other things that flourish just the conditions that our summers provide. One of these has recently been stocked by local dealers at the request of the garden club.
This is schimnee—a little bulbous subject, which comes best in pots, or in half shaded sunny spots in the garden. The foliage is attractive in itself, forming a dense mat, and the blossoms are plentiful and very lovely in shades of lilac and purple, pink, and clear white.
Another bulb which has been stocked in months, one of the very best things one may have for the summer months, as it comes readily, blooms quickly and abundantly, and may be left in the ground from season to season.
There is a little old-fashioned thing called portulaca which is delightfully pretty and most unobtrusive in its demands, as it will grow anywhere. It is wanted rather preferring a dry and sandy place.
Another old-fashioned flower is the globe amaranth or gomphrena, better known as the bachelor button. A pleasing combination is made by planting this among the portulaca.
On June 7 the Barren Club will have its annual garden party, and mid-summer flower show at the home of Mr. Ben Fish and Mrs. Galloway. There should be a distinct effort made at that time to exhibit everything which may be depended upon for summer planting.

Wilson's Bond Bill
Crumbling Quickly

LAHASSEE, Fla., May 17. (AP)—The House steam roller has been attempting to smash all opposition to Governor Wilson's $170,000,000 county bond bill, apparently beginning to disintegrate.

A second vote today on a motion of Pepper, of Taylor, to refer the bill to a committee of the whole to consider the program showed only 70 votes difference. Heretofore the administration forces out-numbered the minority three to one.

Efforts in the Senate to nullify the two-thirds rule which enabled a bare majority to shut off debate and rush measures to a final vote failed. Malone, of Key West, offered the measure.

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Theford's Black-Draught.

Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years, I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place.

"It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go."

"About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three times in succession, if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life."

Headache very often is due to constipation. The waste products that are not properly carried away cause sick headaches and other disagreeable symptoms.

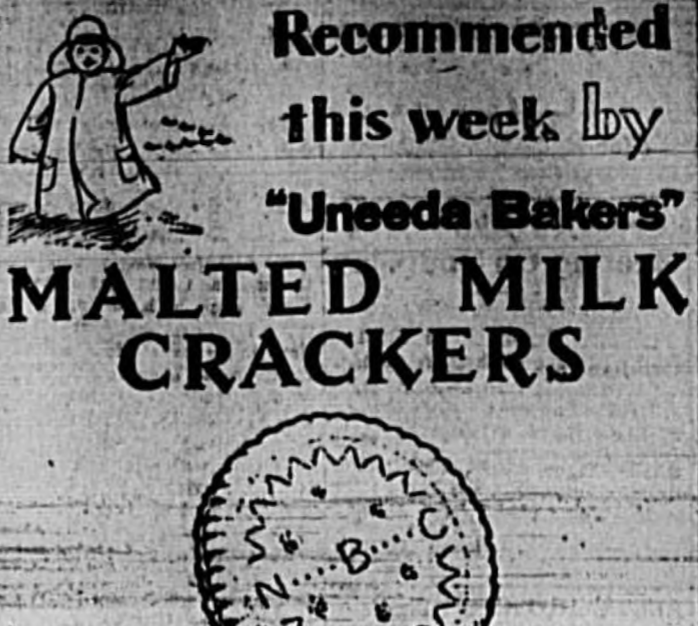

"Take Theford's Black-Draught to cleanse the system and help the digestive system to return to a normal state of activity."
