NUMBER 55

FIRST VOTE ON BONUS WILL BE MADE TODAY WITH FAVORABLE ACTION

PARAMOUNT ISSUE IS RECEPTION IT WILL RECEIVE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

NO WORD TODAY

From President as to What Action He Will Take on the Amended Bill

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—A final vote on the bonus bill before adjournment of the senate today appeared reasonably certain. All pending amendments disposed of and general debate begun before recess last night. The treasury apparently was confident the president will veto the bill if it passes as it now stands. Officials indicated the president had not changed from his announced intention to disapprove any bonus legislation which does not carry with it means of raising revenue needed and proposed measure, the treasury attaches say, does not meet that requirement.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—All pending amendments to the soldiers' bonus bill were disposed of yesterday by the senate, but whether a final vote would be reached today depended upon the number and length of speeches.

With favorable action assured, the paramount question in the minds of friends and foes alike was the reception the measure would receive at the white house. There still was no official word from the president, but callers who discussed the subject with him yesterday said they gained the impression that the addition of the land reclamation project and the provision for the payment of the bonus out of the interest on the foreign debt had made the bill even more objectionable than it was in its original form.

Again yesterday the possibilities of a veto ran through senate debate, Senator McCumber, North Dakota, in charge of the measure, contended that as reported the proposed legislation met the objections heretofore expressed publicly by the president. He added, however, that he did not know what new objections might present themselves.

Senator Borah, Idaho, an opponent of the bonus, disagreed with Mr. McCumber, contending that the bill "ran directly counter" to some of the executive's objections and failed to meet others. He referred particularly to Mr. Harding's request for postponement until industrial and financial conditions had reached a more normal state and his disapproval of "piecemeal" payments to the veterans.

Leading proponents of the bill urged throughout the debate that the senate refrain from "loading down" the measure with additional amendments which might furnish further ground for a veto. All proposed changes were rejected by decisive majorities. First the Bursum amendment to pay the veterans half cash immediately and the remainder in five years, was voted down, 44 to 27. Then, without a roll call, the Smoot proposal to pay the bonus with a manufacturers' sales tax was disagreed to.

Senator Smoot presented and argued at length in favor of his plan to give each veteran a 20 year pay life insurance policy, but this was rejected 46 to 18.

As they will on the final vote, party lines disappeared on the roll call yesterday. The Bursum amendment was supported by sixteen Republicans and eleven Democrats, and was opposed by 31 Republicans and 13 Democrats. The Smoot insurance amendment received 15 Republican and three Democratic votes, with 30 Republicans and 10 Democratic votes in opposition.

FRANCE WILL TAKE ACTION IN MATTER OF REPARATIONS AND PREPARED FOR STEP

Intends to Enforce Payment by Force if They Find That Necessary

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Aug. 31.—Allied reparations commission has decided to accept the Belgian compromise on the German moratorium proposition as a solution of the present crisis. A formal vote will be taken before night.

BERLIN, Aug. 31.—The cabinet has decided to reject new demands sent through Herr Schroeder of the German finance ministry by the reparations commission in Paris for some productive or gold guarantees as a condition to the granting of a moratorium to Germany.

PARIS, Aug. 31.—Grim determination to obtain reparations from Germany, secure guarantees and enforce such payments in the event that the reparations commission's decision today should grant a moratorium to Germany without exacting the securities demanded by France is everywhere evident in French official circles.

While official announcement is withheld, in order not to interfere with the work of the commission, and owing to the desire of the French government to allow the German delegates every possible opportunity to make a final proposal which might be acceptable to France, French officials talk and act as if the plan were adopted and France's decision to take coercive measures against Germany had already been decided upon.

The war office also is very busy and is in constant communication with General Degoutte's headquarters at Mayence; large movements of troops were reported from Nancy, Metz and the Rhineland, and there seemed to be no doubt in the minds of officials generally that the occupation of the

"The championships committee in their meeting today made a final check on all matters concerning the big meet that is to be held Friday and Saturday, September 1-2. From the beginning, F. O. King, R. R. Doble, E. B. Mendson, and Roy Symes, members of the local committee have taken a keen interest in the Amateur Swimming Championships and we feel that the finest meet ever held in the South will be staged on Lake Virginia. SEMINOLE COUNTY AND VICINITY HAVE NO SIGNS OF BOLL WEEVIL

BRINGS 22 CENTS

There Will Be Between 600 and 700 Bales—140 Bales Already Ginned

Cotton has been a catch crop for the Sanford section for several years but the fine crop raised this season would give one the fever and the growers would probably like to raise cotton every year if the price was right and if it is right next year there will be more cotton raised in this part of the state.

There was about one thousand acres planted to cotton this season in the counties of Seminole, Volusia and Orange bordering on the Sanford section and all getting their cotton ginned here at the Brumley gin. This gin was erected the year after the war when it looked like cotton would be king again in this part of the state but the prices fell, the boll weevil came and the farmers went back to their old crops. This season looked like such a good season ahead of the cotton growers and there being no weevil to bother them the old war horses like Dr. Puleston, Chas. Entzinger, L. A. Brumley, L. P. Hagan, Ed. Higgins, H. P. Smith, Andrew Mahoney and several others went to work last spring and planted and they have proved the wisdom of their course.

Up-to-date 110 bales have been ginned here from the Leon Springs cotton patch where there are 300 acres and altogether there have been ginned here about 140 bales with some 600 to 700 bales that will be ginned when it is all picked.

There is no boll weevil seen yet and the seed is clean and fine and healthy. The average price has been 22 cents a pound which will yield the growers a nice profit and it again demonstrates that Seminole county and this immediate section can raise anything.

FORD REFUSES TO USE "BOOTLEGGERS" COAL" IN FACTORY

(By The Associated Press) DETROIT, Aug. 31.—Henry Ford today refused to avert a shut down of his automobile plants here September 16 at the expense of the domestic coal users of the Northwest, it was learned by The Associated Press from a reliable source.

According to this information, Mr. Ford charges that territory coal consigned to the northwest has been offered to him by coal brokers in telegrams reaching his office here. The manufacturer refused to purchase the fuel, holding it would not be a humanitarian act to take coal intended to relieve the suffering of men, women and children during the coming winter.

Mr. Ford was quoted as saying that "coal bootleggers" had offered to steal this coal" and sell it to him.

Reports emanating from West Virginia that the Ford company had refused coal offered at normal prices was explained at the Ford plants. It was asserted that the fuel so far offered was steam coal, a product of little use in the Ford industry because it contains a high sulphur content. A low sulphur coal is required for blast furnace work. Ordinary steam coal, it was explained, would ruin the metals used in the Ford plants. Only about 30 per cent of the coal used in the Ford factories here can be of the steam variety, it was stated.

Despite the determination of Mr. Ford to close his factories here unless he can obtain the kind of coal he needs at normal prices, the Detroit industrial district took heart today when it was announced the General Motors Corporation, employing between 75,000 and 100,000 men, had a thirty-day supply of coal available. Closing of the various plants of the corporation in different parts of the country, as explained, would affect hundreds of thousands of workmen employed by concerns depending upon General Motors for various material.

Arrested for Loitering on Railroad Property, Afterward Released

Deputy U. S. Marshal Archie Cameron arrested A. C. Smith for loitering on the railroad property yesterday afternoon and after being in jail for a short time at the request of a U. S. Deputy Marshal from Tampa Smith was released. It seems that Mr. Smith, who is one of the striking shopmen has been driving a car for hire since the strike came on and yesterday having occasion to take Capt. Flitts to the station to board the train for Orlando, Smith went through the waiting room and bought a package of cigarettes and stopped to give one to one of the railroad men at the station indulging in conversation with them at the same time. It seems that Deputy Cameron had warned Smith about the injunction of the government against strikers loitering on railroad property and when he saw Smith yesterday stopping to talk he placed him under arrest with the above result. Smith says he has a right to go on the station property in case he wants to buy something or that the injunction does not prevent any of the strikers going to the station any time they wish as long as they do not remain there with the intention of intimidating any of the strike breakers or do not congregate in crowds or otherwise break any of the provisions of the injunction. It is a question that ought to be settled to keep down any further trouble in the future as everything is quiet here now and the citizens generally want to keep it quiet.

Boy Scouts Here From Four Counties, Will Drill Tomorrow

Boy Scouts from Miami and From Five Counties in this District Camping

Boy Scouts from Miami and from five counties in this district are here this week camping at the Sanford camp on Silver Lake. They are having a great time and expect to give an exhibition drill tomorrow afternoon on North Park avenue and prizes will be given Friday to the winners—the prizes to be given by the merchants and by the Rotary and Kiwanis Club.

At the Rotary Club meeting today Deane Turner brought up the subject and asked the co-operation of the Rotarians who are always anxious to do all they can for the Boy Scouts—this being part of the boys work program. The Rotary Club decided to give a silver cup or some suitable trophy to the boys Friday.

The Rotary Club had a poor attendance today on account of so many members being out of town. W. K. Curry, of Orlando, was the only guest and had to tell something about Orlando. He made a special trip to this city in order to keep up his 100 percent attendance record. Judge Housholder, vice-president, presided at the meeting and called attention to the attendance record and pleaded for better attendance in September. Deane Turner talked on the Boy Scouts and R. J. Holly, on the Rollins College swimming meet to be held at Winter Park Friday and Saturday.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Mr. Hintemister of the J. H. Hintemister Piano Company contributed a victrola for the use of the visiting Boy Scouts who are at the scout camp.

The Boy Scouts will hike in from the scout camp tomorrow afternoon. They will give an exhibition drill on North Park avenue between First street and Commercial avenue at 5 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to witness these drills. The Rotary is contributing a silver cup to this event.

Friday is visitors day at the Boy Scout camp on Silver Lake. Several hundred people are expected as visitors and people of Sanford are urged to attend. A field meet will be held and prizes are offered to the winners of these events.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Did you say you hadn't seen a lively bunch in Sanford this summer? Well if you want to see one, come to the Methodist church tomorrow night. There's more interest, pep and enthusiasm there than you'll find in a dozen towns. Two hundred and twenty-one at prayer meeting. A record breaker for one church. Our goal: Soul Saving.

Sunday afternoon twenty-five Epworth Leaguers motored out to the County Farm where they held a short service for the occupants of the farm.

Mrs. Lyles and Miss Patsy, have just returned from South Carolina. We are glad to welcome our folks back home. To have them gone makes a missing link in our work.

Dr. L. R. Phillips, the efficient teacher of the Wesley Brotherhood class and wife, superintendent of the Mission Study Circle, and daughter, teacher in the Junior Department, have been spending two weeks at Daytona Beach, returned last week and were in their usual places Sunday. Faithful workers are much appreciated by the church as well as by the pastor.

Miss Lillie Ruth Spencer returned from Daytona last week. Glad to have our choir intact again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Cowan and daughter, Margaret, of Sanford Heights, have been down with that popular "flu" but are reported better.

Russell Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Mitchell, of East Second street, is quite ill with fever.

Miss Emily Griffin returned last week from Daytona Beach where she was the guest of Miss Olive Newman.

When you want a cool, refreshing breeze and to hear something to make you feel better and to forget it's the "hot summer time" try an hour at the corner of Park avenue and Fifth street Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. You won't be disappointed.

Mrs. Sam Bradford was taken to Orlando Monday to enter the Orange General Hospital for an operation. We sincerely trust and pray for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. J. C. Hall and family returned last week from Daytona Beach, having enjoyed the surf for the past month.

Mrs. I. F. Rivers and three children who have been ill with the "flu" are better.

Mrs. J. M. Baggett, mother of Mrs. P. M. Boyd, returned to her home in Tarpon Springs Monday much to the regret of her friends here.

Dr. W. J. Carpenter, one of the leading ministers of the conference and pastor of the First Methodist church of St. Petersburg, was in town Wednesday meeting friends and resting preparatory to an auto trip to Macon, Ga., leaving Thursday morning. Dr. Carpenter is well known to our people all over the state. He held a series of meetings for us here a few years ago and the people of Sanford are always delighted to welcome him.

The Central Florida Epworth League Union will have an all day meeting at Winter Park Monday, September 4th, Labor Day. It is especially desired that every Leaguer be at the League meeting Sunday night at 7 o'clock. Arrangements will be made there for the Sanford League to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Boyd and sons, Mrs. J. M. Baggett and Mr. and Mrs. Abrams, spent Thursday afternoon at the lake, concluding with a picnic supper.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. McAlpina Coursey, a son Saturday, Aug. 28th. His name is William Louis and is already on the Sunday School Cradle Roll.

Misses Carrie Darsay and Viola Booth and two cousins composed a congenial party spending the day at Daytona.

Mrs. J. C. Hall, of Colery avenue, delightfully entertained Monday night August 28th in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Margaret. At 8 o'clock a bevy of fairy like girls gathered at the home, spending a floating evening in games, music and last but not least, refreshments of delicious cake, punch and candy. The children always want to go when it's at Mrs. Hall's for that name insures a good time.

Wednesday is Young Peoples' night at prayer meeting. Sunday school teachers and officers, get busy and get your young folks out and also the mothers and fathers. We have been resting and playing too long this summer and now with fall almost here let us take hold of our work with new zeal and really "sure nuff" help and support our pastor and Brother Boyd. Great things are in store for us if each one will do his or her part. It's the little crevices in the brick wall that keep us weak. Every one do his part no matter how small and we will have a great church for our Master.

Be at prayer meeting tomorrow night. It's a fine place to get acquainted.

Wm. P. Simmons, Vice-President

SPECIAL DEPARTMENT JUSTICE TO INVESTIGATE STRIKES NOW ON IN THE UNITED STATES

The Government Would Find Out Why Trains Stopped in the West

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A decision to institute a special department of justice organization to investigate alleged illegal stoppages of transportation service incident to the rail strike in the West, a formal relaxation of some of the Interstate Commerce Commission priority control of coal distribution, publication of federal safety inspectors' survey of railroad engines, and preparation of official estimates that soft coal production for the week is rising above 8,000,000 tons, or 100 per cent. more than was coming up a month ago, were among elements that emerged yesterday out of the government's actual contact with the industrial situation.

In the middle of these developments John L. Lewis, president of the United States Mine Workers, whose position has been a dominant one in the continuation of the deadlock which has kept the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania tied up, arrived in Washington and began a series of conferences shortly after White House expressions indicated confidence that the long delayed settlement there was to be looked for at once.

Attorney General Daugherty announced that a separate investigation organization would be built up immediately in Los Angeles, in charge of Hiram C. Todd, United States attorney for northern New York, whose duty will be to conduct inquiries into the possible criminality involved in the series of train stoppages and interruptions to interstate commerce in the West. Likewise, the attorney general sent formal instructions to all federal district attorneys to follow up any violations of federal court injunctions obtained by railroads to prevent strikers and their sympathizers from losing operations in shops and yards. The law, Mr. Daugherty said, must be "impressively enforced" in the matter.

"There is a very general let down in the matter of inspection (of locomotives) by carriers which gives cause for concern," the Interstate Commerce Commission reported to the senate yesterday, answering a resolution brought out by the controversy between strike leaders and the railroads over safety conditions of equipment since the shop men walked out. The railroads are failing to make all the inspections required by law, the report continued, and managements are reporting inability to do so because of the strike, while the commission's own staff of inspectors are merely sufficient in numbers to supervise and test the carriers' inspection system. Notwithstanding, Interstate Commerce Commission inspectors during July inspected 4,085 locomotives on 162 railroads, finding 2,488 defective, and 189 unsafe to operate. Many of the defects noted, it was said, were not of importance, but 992 engines still in service were "found to have . . . defects in need of prompt attention."

The decision of the government to relax markedly and immediately the control on coal shipments was carried into effect by an Interstate Commerce Commission order greatly modifying priority requirements hitherto imposed on consumers. Hereafter, upon special designation by the commission and its agents, coal will be shipped first to sections of the northwest whose supply ordinarily moves by the Great Lakes water routes, and to railroads whose needs are pressing to maintain transportation.

A second class of shipments will be maintained as entitled to priority, when certificates of state fuel administrators or committees are furnished railroads that the coal is meant for public utilities, public institutions, domestic and building heating, supply of common carfare, and manufacture of foodstuffs, medicines, and containers therefor.

COLE BLEASE WILL RUN OFF SECOND RACE

WITH THOMAS McLEOD FOR THE NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR OF S. CAROLINA

COLUMBIA, Aug. 30.—Run off of the primary between Cole Blease and Thomas McLeod for the Democratic nomination for governor will be necessary as the result of yesterday's primary. With 1,056 out of 1,800 precincts tabulated by the Columbia Record Blease had 60,000 votes and McLeod 54,000. The other four gubernatorial candidates were out of the running.

HOPE OF RESCUE IS ABANDONED BY THE MINERS

MEN ENTOMBED IN ARGONAUT GOLD MINE CANNOT BE SAVED

JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 30.—Hope of rescue of the forty-seven prisoners of the Argonaut gold mine waned today. Picked miners are working desperately and battered away at the thing but tough wall of slate that separates the Kennedy mine from the Argonaut at the thirty-six hundred foot level. Beyond that wall in the lower levels of the Argonaut are the men who have waited helplessly since the fire above them cut off escape Sunday.

MORE HOUSES NEEDED

EUSTIS, Aug. 30.—Plans for providing adequate housing accommodations for the expected influx of winter visitors are now being worked out by civic organizations. The present dearth of the houses for rent is more pronounced than at any previous period and has awakened Eustis boosters to the realization that unless something is done many desirable residents will be lost.

PROHIBITION ISSUE DROPPED

ST. PAUL, Minn., August 30.—The wet and dry issue has been dropped in the congressional contests thus far in Minnesota for the November election, because of an absence of wet candidates.

All incumbents, including Andrew J. Volstead, have been renominated on the Republican ticket and all are avowedly dry. In no case where a close race is expected between Republican and Democratic nominees was the issue raised.

The Republican nominees are: First district, Sydney Anderson; second district, Frank Clague; third district, Charles R. Davis; fourth district, Oscar E. Keller; fifth district, Andrew J. Volstead; eighth district, Oscar J. Larson; ninth district, Hulbor Steenerson; tenth district, Thomas H. Schall.

The sharpest conflict is expected in the seventh district, where the Rev. O. J. Kvale, Democrat, of Benson, probably will oppose Congressman Volstead. Both are dry. In the third district, Mrs. Lillian Cox Gault, is a Democratic candidate to oppose Chas. R. Davis, Republican nominee. Mrs. Gault also is dry.

There are Democratic candidates in only three other districts and they have not announced a position on the wet and dry issue.

JUNKER SEES GREAT LAKES WATERWAY

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 30.—The Great Lakes—St. Lawrence waterway proposed to link the Great Lakes with the ocean and give a vast expanse of territory in the United States and Canada a direct ocean shipping outlet, is receiving comment in many sections of the world.

An article by Carl Junker, editor of the Ost Post of Vienna is one appearing in Europe. One paragraph of the article reads:

"Westward marches the culture of the world. Likewise, just as the sun travels with its light and life, the old Atlantic ocean must go west too, and as Americans get what the wish, the Atlantic will move west when they say the word."

GUARD KILLED WHILE ON DUTY NEAR AUGUSTA

AMBUSHED TWO GUARDS AT HAMBURG RAILWAY SHOPS OF THE SOUTHERN

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 30.—Attacked from ambush early today while guarding a lonely road leading from the Augusta-Aiken highway to Hamburg shops of the Southern Railway, across the river from here, E. M. Feaster was killed and Reedy Booth was seriously injured, while the assailants escaped.

Both died later in the hospital. Feaster was shot and stabbed. Booth was shot with rifle and beaten over his head.

ELECTION INTEREST INTENSE IN MICHIGAN

LANSING, Mich., Aug. 30.—Michigan voters will go to the polls September 12 to name party nominees for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, members of congress state legislators and local officers. Overshadowing all other contests in point of statewide interest is that for Republican nomination for the United States senator.

There are four candidates in the field—Senator Charles E. Townsend, State Senator Herbert F. Baker, Congressman Patrick H. Kelley and John G. Emery, formerly national commander of the American Legion. The paramount issue in the vigorous campaign they are conducting is excessive campaign expenditures. With Michigan the home state of Senator Truman H. Newberry, "Newberryism" has come to be the slogan of the campaign and all other issues have comparatively been lost sight of.

Baker, Kelley and Emery are basing their campaigns upon a denunciation of "Newberryism." Senator Townsend, in reply, has held steadfastly to the position that his actions in the senate call for no apology. He has declared that he "is as much against excessive expenditures as anyone." In the Newberry case he admits that "too much money was spent but not that any money was illegally spent."

Former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris is unopposed for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

Governor Alex J. Groesbeck is opposed for republican renomination by former State Labor Commissioner Richard H. Fletcher and Theodore M. Joslin of Adrian. Both Joslin and Fletcher are asking for votes as a protest against alleged excessive expenditures in the conduct of the state's business. They also assert that Governor Groesbeck has created an autocracy of which he is the head. The governor will go before the voters on his record.

Of the nine congressmen who are running for renomination all but two are opposed. The Republican nomination is usually considered equivalent to election. Congressman Earl Michener is opposed by S. E. Crawford of Ypsilanti; J. M. C. Smith by Brewster E. Kies, of Hillsdale; Carl E. Mapes by Alvan M. Brown of Grand Rapids; Louis C. Cranston by James McCaren, of Port Huron; Francis O. Lindquist by Bird J. Vincent, of Saginaw; William M. Smith of St. Johns, and Wm. M. Lash of Saginaw; James C. McLaughlin by State Senator Albert Engel, W. Frank James by Martin S. McDonough, of Iron River. John C. Ketchum and Roy O. Woodruff are unopposed for renomination.

Canada's Dairy Export Trade Increases

MONTREAL, P. Q., Aug. 30.—Canada's export dairy trade has made important advances this year. The increase to the British Isles has been especially large, more than 100,000 packages of butter having been shipped compared with 10,000 for the same period last year.

During the month ending July 15, forty-five carloads of butter from Manitoba were exported. Thirty carloads of Saskatchewan butter will reach British markets before the end of the year.

FORD WILL SHUT DOWN BIG AUTOMOBILE PLANTS BEFORE PAYING THE PRICE

Demanded by the Coal Profiteers in the Big Hold-Up Now Being Staged

DETROIT, Aug. 30.—Reiteration that Henry Ford was "not bluffing" in his decision to shut down his big automobile plants here on September 10, as part of a fight against what he terms a "hold up" on the part of coal brokers, and denial of various reports that causes other than the fuel shortage were responsible for his action, were made yesterday at the Detroit manufacturer's offices.

A report from Louisville that when the 75,000 Ford workers in the Detroit district were released on September 10, Mr. Ford would advise them to take employment with the railroads in an effort to break the rail strike, was denied emphatically. The statement was termed ridiculous. "There may be individual cases of Ford workers anticipating the lack of employment making application for work with the railroads," it was stated, "but Mr. Ford certainly is not going to advise the men to attempt to break the rail strike."

Another report that met emphatic denial was that lack of business figured in the decision to close the plants. Figures were cited to refute it. "When the decision to close the plants was reached," it was stated, "we were four weeks behind in orders for Ford cars and three weeks behind in orders for Lincoln cars. We had only just caught up on orders for tractors." The decision to suspend operations came, it was reiterated, at a time when the Ford company was doing the greatest business in its history. Production figures showed that 5,100 cars are being turned out daily against orders for 5,200 a day, it was pointed out.

The petition alleges the law is so vague as to be unintelligible and therefore unenforceable.

Peacock, prominent physician of Thomasville, N. C., committed to the department a year ago for life term, after acquittal for the murder of chief of police, J. E. Taylor, of Thomasville, early today slid down a rope made from bed clothing from his third story cell and escaped. Peacock resided, some years ago in Lakeland, Florida.

A Kansan has designed a machine that crushes the worn out material with which tar bound stone roads are made into ballast for railroad tracks.

There were no developments during the day, it was said, to support the hope that the shut down could be averted.

A statement from Secretary Hoover that present prices of coal would add but $1.50 to the price of Ford cars also came in for sharp criticism, and the inquiry: "Does Mr. Hoover think we should turn over to the profiteers from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 that would be represented in the increased cost of coal?"

There were no developments during the day, it was said, to support the hope that the shut down could be averted.

Bituminous Coal Strike Ended With Signing by Pittsburg Coal Co.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 30.—Bituminous coal strike in the Pittsburgh district ended shortly afternoon today when the Pittsburg Coal Company, the largest commercial producer in the region, signed an agreement with the district officers of the United Mine Workers. This company was the last in the district to accept the union terms under the Cleveland agreement.

Harding Objects To Amendments On The Bonus Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A White House caller who discussed the bonus with President Harding came away with an impression that the executive regarded the addition of the McNary reclamation and Simmons foreign debt amendments adopted yesterday in the senate, as making the measure more objectionable than in its original form.

Sir Thomas Lipton is still trying for the cup.

And they tell us it will continue for another month in order to let the boys go fishing.

The public is tired of the railroad strike and when the public gets tired there is usually something doing.

They are killing them up in Ohio with iron bars now. That makes a killing much cheaper and with little noise.

The Anti-Saloon League in a statement made from New York says that it will take twenty five years to put prohibition into effect and the League will have to be on the job at least that long. This ought to be encouraging for the higher officials.

Congress will not enact measures for emergency legislation for the railroads until things get more billous. There is no hurry they say since no one is being injured in the rush. It looks like hands off by the government and the public although neither the government or the public will stand for any acts of violence. That day is over.

Frank Dupre the young lad who killed an officer and wounded a citizen in Atlanta last year while grabbing a diamond out of a jeweler's window has been denied a respite by the governor of Georgia and will hang Friday of this week. It is hard but this is the ending of the young lads who go wrong and commit murder to further their ends. And we believe that when murder is committed the guilty should be punished.

Statements in Newspapers say that in six states the coal bins are already empty. That means people freezing to death because a few striking miners and coal operators were framing up to raise the price of coal. It also means that more people will come to Florida this winter than ever before. This also means that many of them will come to Sanford. This also means that a hundred more houses ought to be built and at least six apartment houses.

Business is picking up and we are all getting ready to start a big fall and winter campaign that will eclipse anything ever before attempted in this line. The railroad strike is holding back business. If it continues it will ruin the prospects of the Sanford farmers and the Sanford business men generally. It is something to think about and the people in danger of losing their business are thinking about it more and more and when they speak there will be an end to the strike regardless of who wins or loses.

Hoover says that Henry Ford can get coal but we opine that Henry knows more about his own business than Herbert does and Henry is also the arbiter of his own destinies and when he shuts down he will probably gain by the operation. Ford is no fool and he knows as much as Wall Street about finances and he does not purpose to have any railroad strike or coal strike interfere with his own business. Ford states that when the people get hungry they will listen to reason and the big prices and useless extravagance of the past four years will have to stop right now—for the crisis is approaching.

DIRTY TACTICS The cold blooded murder of two guards of the Southern Railway near Aguatn deserves the censure of every American citizen in every state in the union. These guards were doing duty as the guards of railroad property. They were standing on their rights when they ordered two men off the railroad property at night. They were within their rights when they went to investigate the railroad yards in the lonely spot where they were shot from ambush later. The railroads have the right to police their property in the time of strikes. These two guards had not fired at anybody. They had not threatened anybody, they merely were on guard duty when shot from ambush, shot down by a bunch of cowardly rascals without a chance to defend themselves. And after they were shot down one of them was mutilated with a knife by a human being who ought to smoke in hell for doing it. That is the way we feel about such a crime committed in a civilized community and that is the way we expect to feel about such a crime as long as we live and we don't care where the crime happens or who commits it. When it comes to ambushing people at night, killing them and then mutilating their bodies we are ready to take the war path and there are millions of other American citizens in this country in the same frame of mind. Such barbarous tactics will never get anyone anywhere and regardless of why it was done or who did it we think it was a relic of the middle ages or worse and American Indians in their scalping days could have done nothing worse.

FLORIDA IS PREPARING

Last summer at this time many persons in Florida expressed doubt regarding the number of Tourists who would visit the state during the winter. Depressed business conditions in the north, high railroad fares, and high prices in the resort cities were pointed to as factors which would tend to reduce the number of visitors.

This summer an entirely different feeling prevails throughout the state. No matter to what section a person goes he finds a strong belief that the coming season will be the best ever experienced by Florida. Everyone is confident that more Tourists will come than during the record season of 1920-21. There are no doubting Thomases. The pessimists seem to have vanished from the scenes.

Floridians are not resting content with merely expressing the belief that a record season is in sight. They are busily engaged in making preparations for receiving the Tourists when they come. Building operations are being carried on in the resort cities at a rate which was never equaled in the past. New facilities for providing entertainment for the tourists are being completed. Each city is forging ahead, endeavoring to outdo its rivals in getting ready for the Tourist tide.

All this preparation is not being made with the selfish aim of making money from the winter visitors. Millions of dollars are being spent in public improvements, for instance, from which the tax payers can never hope to derive direct profit. The improvements are being carried forward to make Florida such an attractive state that Tourists will become imbued with the stay-in-Florida fever and will never want to leave. All of which benefits those who come to Florida to spend the winter months and it benefits Florida as well. It is the way by which the Sunshine State is growing—growing as it has never grown before.—Tourist News.

IS NATIONALIZATION THE REMEDY.

The persistent opposition of the striking railroad unions to every form of compromise of the existing strike troubles, tends to give color to the opinion that they are looking forward to the ultimate government control of the roads.

Possible they are remembering with regret the halcyon days of government control, beginning with the passage of the Adamson bill at the behest of the unions, and continuing to the time when the roads were turned back to their owners. Then, they had only to indicate their wishes, and a congress and administration hastened to comply. Samuel Gompers was a great man in those days, but he has shrunk amazingly in the public eye of late. It listens to his rhodomontades and passes them by a negligible.

The railroad men should remember that in the days when their every request was granted, and some of them even anticipated, as in the case when they were given a raise just before the roads were turned back to their owners, we were at war, and it was of the utmost importance that transportation should not be interrupted. Those days have passed, let us hope forever, and the tactics that availed then, are no longer powerful.

Suppose the railroad strikers should get their wish—if they have such a wish—and see the roads turned over to the government once more. Have they any guarantee that their case would be any better? The government is struck with the bug of economy, and the people are groaning over their high taxes and demanding retrenchment in every department.

They would be very likely to insist that they have a word in the granting of salaries to government employees, and they would be very likely to cut them down to a level with other salaries, and wages in similar lines of business.

The representatives of the mail carriers went to Washington to urge higher salaries for the carriers, but they got their walking papers instead. A strike of postal employees is as unthinkable as a wage of $8.00 for an eight hour day is unattainable.

Politicians are certain to remember the 100 million people in the United States, most of whom—the farmers instance—get very much less than $8 per day.

The farmers well know that under nationalization of railroads and coal mines they would have a more direct in their prosperity than ever before for they would have to pay the taxes to make good the probable deficits, and they would insist on the strictest economy. And the consumers who would be affected adversely by government management very largely out numbered the railroad men and coal miners. The public may be forced to accept government operation of the roads as the only means of securing will be an evil day for the workers when that happens.—Tampa Times.

DISTRIBUTING THE SURPLUS

How the mighty have fallen. James Stillman, the New banker, who was the law and the gospel on questions of finance, and incidentally the boss of financial legislation in Washington, slipped and fell. He had too much money. It came too easy. He dealt so largely in futures and deceits that he evidently regarded life as a chest and fraud with nothing in it sacred. He had to have diversion. He went the way of many a rich man. He divorced his wife who helped him make his fortune, and took unto himself a chorus girl who cared not for him, but the things his money could buy. His wife finally followed a half-breed Indian off into the woods and an almy divorce suit followed, which showed the career of Mr. Stillman so bad, and his morals so nauseating, that his resignation was demanded as head of a number of big financial institutions and he has been literally deposed from any position in the business world. His presence in business or social circles is no longer wanted. This once powerful man, much sought after, is now so disgraced that he was gone down into the wilderness of Louisiana and bought a lonely island where he may live, remote from the gaze and the pointing finger of shame of the same society he once assumed to lead. He shaped his own career; he is reaping his own reward.

Asa G. Candler, the multimillionaire, who made his wealth out of coca-cola, a drink of little cost and less value, was so interested in big financial investments and increasing his wealth that he forgot to give attention to his son. Like many another wealthy father he assumed that money would buy character, social standing and a college degree. Like many another father, he knows better now.

Walter Candler is defendant in several disgraceful suits in which a woman figures, and is plaintiff in a suit in which he admits that he was caught in a drunken and maudlin condition in the stateroom of the woman who is suing him, but he says he was blackmailed by the woman and her husband. Blackmail is quite possible with such people, but Candler is responsible for associating with them and making blackmail possible. People who are possessed with great wealth, not a dollar for which they have earned, and who only know the game of spending are very often found investing too heavily in wine and women.

Harold G. McCormick, left a vast fortune by his father, married another still more extensive, but he could not understand the value of the purpose of money, never having earned any, and became involved with chorus girls and wine parties, and finally divorce. He followed a demand for resignation from the great harvester company his father had founded, and the sound financial interests of this country have shown a disposition to shake him because his name does not inspire confidence.

It is significant that John D. Rockefeller figures prominently in those financial house-cleanings. John D. is one of the few very wealthy men who has succeeded in rearing a son who is worthy of following in his father's shoes as financier and an industrial leader. The young Rockefeller, like the elder, has shown no disposition to wander off after the false gods and stage moths.—Reporter Star.

OFFICIALS GAZE AT HALF MILLION FIRE

ORLANDO, Aug. 30.—There was a half million dollar fire in Orlando this morning. It occurred at the gas plant of the Orlando Water and Light Co., but the fire department was not called out and but few of the town citizens knew of the tremendous conflagration.

As a matter of fact, it was a private fire, staged by the officials of the water and light company, led by W. P. Beeber, president of the organization, who is here from Williamsport, Pa. It was witnessed as well by J. Y. Chenoy, assistant general manager of the company and Leonard Thornton, of the clerical force of the corporation.

The fire was the burning of the bonds of the company, liquidated through the transaction of the city buying the water and electric light departments company of the line of municipal ownership.

STRAWBERRY HINTS

Strawberries can be grown in every section of Florida as a garden crop. Growers usually select moist, flat-woods soil, preferably with a clay subsoil near the surface. Such soil will usually produce berries without irrigation but, if irrigation is possible, they can be grown on light, sandy soil. However, irrigation will be a great advantage during the fruiting season.

If the land is well-drained and dry, it is best to set them in 18 or 20 inch rows; or, if they are planted out in the field on a larger area, they should be set wide enough to be worked with a horse-drawn cultivator. In either case in setting them the buds should be a little above the level of the ground to give good drainage in case of a hard rain.

If they are planted on poorly drained lands, it is best to put them on 40-inch beds, three 12 inch rows on a bed, and the plants 12 inches apart in the rows.

Before attempting to set plants, see if the soil has a fairly good amount of vegetable matter. There is nothing better than stable manure, although any decomposed vegetation will answer the purpose.

Strawberries require liberal applications of fertilizer; two applications at the rate of 2000 pounds per acre, in addition to the stable manure is advisable.

Twelve hundred plants will plant about a tenth of an acre, and a bed this size should give ample berries for the average family. If the season is favorable, it will provide more than an average family can use as fresh fruit.

The best varieties for moist soils are the Klondike, Excelsior and Missionary, and plant growers throughout the state will have these for sale when the planting season arrives.

PHONES TO BE MADE WIRELESS RECEIVERS

EVERETT, Wash., Aug. 29.—Telephones at Everett, already equipped with a device which measures conversation, are to be made into wireless receiving stations through the use of an attachment supplied by the Puget Sound Telephone Company, and Independent Corporation which serves this city.

To hear concerts, news bulletins and other features thrown onto the air by broadcasting stations of Seattle, 30 miles from here, Everett radio fans will simply hook their receiving sets onto the attachment, which is known as the radio adapter, and which will fit into the telephone bell box. Expensive aerials and wiring will not be needed.

In addition to supplying the adapter, the telephone company, working with the Seattle Radio Association, will mail to its radio subscribers weekly programs of the broadcasting stations and will collect $5 a year from each fan to defray the cost. The Seattle association hopes to have telephones in all other cities within a radius of 100 miles, equipped with the adapter.

The conversation-measuring device which, it is said, is not used anywhere else in the world, has been operated here for eight months, and enables the company to charge for the telephone service according to the length of the conversation.

When many residents found that the device, called the telechromometer increased their monthly bills, they protested to the State Department of Public Works, which is to hold a hearing September 6 to decide whether the affair must be abandoned. In the meantime 629 Everett residents have signed applications for new telephones to be installed if the machine is given up.

Friends of the telechromometer say that some of the opposition was caused by the fact that it made "listening-in" on party lines cost just so much for every minute the telephone receiver is off the hook.

FLORIDA SUMMERS.

The Grower has had a great deal to say about the Florida summer weather, much to say in its praise. The party of 60 who went west this summer experienced such weather as often made them long to be back in Florida again. While the weather topic is no new one and we do not claim to be the original boosters for our summer climate I was both amused and surprised recently for on picking up an old copy of the Florida Farmer and Fruit Grower, dated August 20th, 1891, I found therein a letter from two Ohio ladies, who were visiting in Polk county, to their home papers. It wound up as follows: "We pronounce Florida weather far from unendurable, and have no doubt but that if the temperature here were compared with that of most of our northern cities throughout the summer, Florida would stand the test much better than they. Such an item of news as that a man is overcome by heat or that a horse has fallen dead from sunstroke is unknown in Florida papers and there seem to be no bad effects from working out in these almost direct tropical rays. There is indeed very little sickness of any kind about here. Almost constantly a breeze is blowing from some quarter, and if one can quietly sit down in the shade, even in the middle of the day he can be very comfortable. The evenings are delightfully cool and pleasant. Every day except two out of the twenty-one since we came here we have had a rain storm, not a shower but a perfect down-pour of rain, and it is the refreshing and delightful feature of the day, always making the air cool, and restoring to life in general a roseate hue."—The Florida Grower.

Thirty-eight canvas tents are pitched, besides the tents there are eight wooden buildings, one being the mess hall, one the kitchen, one a commissary building; one a canteen building where the boys leave letters, buy cold drinks and confectionary. There there is a building known as the camp headquarters where two of the directors stay and orders are given from these. The other cabins are occupied by Scouts themselves. Four leaders are in charge of this encampment, Mr. Lord, chief director; Mr. Hewitt, who teaches the boys first aid; Mr. Boyd, who is a signaling expert, and Mr. Spooner, a rope expert. FARMERS ACTIVE IN POLITICS NOW

WINNIPEG, Man., August 30.—The recent election of John Bracken as premier of Manitoba, lends greater emphasis to the rise of farmers to political power in Canada, in the opinion of leaders of the farmer movement. Premier Bracken unanimously was selected to head the provincial government following the triumph of the farmers' party in Manitoba, these leaders point out. The new premier is an expert agriculturist and never has taken an active part in politics or attended a session of parliament. Mr. Bracken is one of a company of distinguished farmers who in the last few years have risen to political prominence in Canada. Premier Druy of Ontario, Premier Greenfield of Alberta and Premier Oliver of British Columbia all are farmers. In the last Dominion election, 66 farmers were elected out of a total membership of 235 in the federal house of commons. Mr. Bracken, 39, is the youngest premier ever elected in Canada, with the exception of the late Sir Richard McBride of British Columbia. He was born on a farm in Leeds county, Ontario, and was warden of his county while still in his teens. He graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, taking three scholarships and one efficiency medal. He was a member of the first live-stock judges' teams which won the championship at the international livestock show in Chicago. Having supplemented his college course with post-graduate work in universities in the United States, he came to Manitoba as representative of the Dominion Seed Branch and on the formation of the province of Saskatchewan in 1905, was made superintendent of institutes and fairs and livestock commissioner. When the University of Saskatchewan was opened at Saskatoon, he was made professor of field husbandry and won international fame as an authority on dry farming. Mr. Bracken went from the University of Saskatchewan to the University of Manitoba as president in 1920. From this position, he was elected premier.

DEATHS

DEATH OF COL. A. M. THRASHER

A cablegram was received by Woodruff & Watson yesterday announcing the death of Col. A. M. Thrasher that occurred at Sierra, Switzerland, on Saturday, August 26th. Col. Thrasher was well known not only in Sanford where he resided for many years and was one of the pioneer residents but in other parts of the state and in Georgia. He was a native of Atlanta where the Thrashers were one of the ante-bellum Southern families and Col. Thrasher came from Georgia to Sanford about the year 1876. He practiced law here for many years and at one time was one of the most prominent criminal lawyers in this part of the state and was engaged on some of the famous cases of the early days. The old Thrasher home was at the corner of Park avenue and Third streets for many years but for the past twelve years or more they have been living in Europe and for the past four years in Switzerland. Col. Thrasher, although many miles from Sanford and in a foreign country, never lost his citizenship or his love for Sanford and wrote many letters to the Herald and to the New York and other papers in the country. He kept a close touch on political and business affairs in the states and up to the time of his death was able to write most interesting letters home about affairs of Europe and America. Col. Thrasher was 82 years of age at the time of his death and a few days before had written a letter to W. E. Watson, of this city, stating that he had never been sick since he left the marine hospital at the close of the Civil War. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Durling, to mourn his death and many relatives in the south. His wife and daughter were with him at the time of his death and as far as can be learned here he will probably be buried in Switzerland.

COUGHS DISTURB SCHOOL WORK

School teachers should give the same advice to children who have coughs as this Florida teacher. "I recommended Foley's Honey and Tar to the children in my school who had the 'flu' and good results came whenever it was used," writes Mrs. L. Armstrong, Okeechobee, Florida. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Stood the test of time serving three generations. Quickly relieves colds, coughs and croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

SIXTEEN GUNMEN WERE AT SHOOT AT GUN CLUB

Gettng Ready for the Big Time on Labor Day Sixteen of the local boys and two visitors were out to the Sanford Rod & Gun Club traps yesterday, the best attendance for several weeks. The occasion, perhaps, is the coming state shoot to be held next Monday, Labor Day, here and the boys are all out getting their batting eye ready for the big day. High score for the day was a tie between Ralph Wight and Joe Hutchison, each breaking 47 of their 50. Next came Roy Harden with 46 and Will Hill with 45. Practically everything is ready for the Labor Day Shoot. The new trap has been installed and the old one moved to give plenty of room for both traps. While there has been some trouble with the new trap on account of breaking one of the parts, a new part has been ordered and will be here in time for Labor Day. The traps will be open for practice or Saturday, as some of the contestants from other cities will probably be on hand to accustom themselves to the trap grounds. All indications point to a good crowd of shooters here on Labor Day and it is expected that this will be a big day in Sanford. R. B. Wight has been appointed field captain by the president and will have charge of the contest. Mr. Beckwith, of Tampa, will act as the cashier and the veteran Bill Jamison, with his corps of assistants will keep the traps running at full speed during the entire day. The results of yesterday's contest are as follows:

FORT PIERCE ELECTS NEW CHARTER BOARD

FT. PIERCE, Fla., Aug. 30.—The commission manager proposition for Fort Pierce was indirectly endorsed by the electors today when a charter board was elected charged with the duty of compiling a new city charter for the submission to the electorates, the chief feature of which charter is to be substitution of the commission manager form of municipal government for the present councilmanic form. Following were elected to compose the charter board: E. L. Price, president of the Fort Pierce Bank and Trust Company, F. Q. McMullen, president of the St. Lucie County Bank, J. A. McNeill, prominent realtor and turpentine factor, Mrs. D. E. Austin, county chairman of the League of Women Voters, and W. E. Tylander, manager of the East Coast Lumber and Supply Co. These were all recommended and endorsed at a recent meeting of charter reform advocates. The vote was light, only 69 votes being cast, practically unanimously for the ticket named.

MODERN PARADISE, FOUND WHERE ONE MAN TO 14 WOMEN

Romance Pictured by a Sea Captain Stranded There

HONOLULU, Aug. 28.—A sunny coral isle in the south seas, where lazy palms fringe the coral atolls and the woman, young and beautiful, outnumber the men more than 14 to 1, where 30 cents lasts a month; this is the story told of Tagawa (an islet of the Ellice group), by Captain J. A. T. Olsen, of the American schooner Henrietta, wrecked July 16.

Captain Olsen and members of his crew are in Honolulu today with the British steamer Hauraki, which picked them up at Tagawa, and is taking them to San Francisco.

And the captain's tale follows: "Tagawa is the only habitable island of the Ellice group. Its population consists of 150 persons, of whom only twelve are men.

"Our schooner was swung off her course and onto Nukualili reef by the heavy seas.

"We struck at night, and at dawn we tried for the shore. Before we hit the coral we saw native men, clad only in loin clothes, pushing an outrigger canoe into the water, and with their assistance we made shore in safety. If it had not been for the natives we probably would have lost our lives in the heavy surf.

"Our coming was hailed with joy by the natives, who pass their existence in a state of isolation. The women outnumbered the men fourteen to one, or more, and some of them are beautiful. Their ages range from 12 to 18 years, and there are only a few older.

"The chief of the tribe, a husky Samoan, turned over his grass hut palace to the mate and myself to be used as our private quarters. He also tendered me one of his daughters, a beautiful dark-haired girl with a lovely figure, as a servant. Other pretty girls were assigned to the mate and to members of the crew to wait on them.

"We did not lack for entertainment. I had a great time and would not have missed the experience for any money.

"I had only 30 cents in my pocket but money was no object. Many dinners were given in our honor and native maidens in grass skirts performed hula dances for our amusement.

"All inhabitants of the island are Christians and all lead upright lives.

"We had a hard time getting away. The women wanted husbands and they pleaded with us and coaxed us to stay. Owing to the isolation of Tagawa, most of the men of marriage age have left it. Some have gone to sea as sailors and others are scattered throughout the southern ocean and as far west as Australia.

"On our twentieth day on the island Mate T. P. Jensen sighted the masts of the steamer Hauraki. We put out in a motor boat and signalled repeatedly, finally catching the attention of those aboard her and they picked us up.

"We were not worrying, for if the Hauraki had not sighted us we would have been taken off the island by the London Missionary society boat, which calls at Tagawa twice each year."

TENNIS CHAMP GAINS MORE LAURELS

KAMAKURA, Aug. 29.—Kukuda, who leaped into the limelight of the tennis world when he won the Tokio club championship in May, has added another leaf to his wreath of laurels by defeating Kumagae in two straight sets in an exhibition match played here July 15th. The score was 6-2 and 7-5. The heat was trying and Kumagae seemed to suffer from it more than did his opponent. Fukuda is being hailed as another Japanese aspirant for international honors. He contemplates a trip to California.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST WILL HOLD CONVENTION STARTING TODAY, ENDS SEPT. 3

WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 29.—Representatives of more than 1,500,000 members of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) will appraise the work of the denomination at the annual international convention to be held here beginning today and continue through Sunday, September 3.

"Around the World" is the theme of the convention program which will open this afternoon with the reading of reports of the various church enterprises.

The Rev. Stephen E. Fisher of Urbana, Ill., will deliver the opening convention address. Dr. Fisher is president of the convention. The convention sermon will be preached Sunday morning by Dr. Vernon Stauffer, professor in the divinity department of Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.

Acute problems of denominational faith and policy will come up for settlement during the convention, leaders here predict. One question will be the removal of the College of Missions from Indianapolis to some great University center. Invitations have been extended to locate at the University of Chicago, Yale and Columbia Universities. The removal is advocated by the college officials in the interest of more adequate training for missionaries.

Conservative and progressive forces within the denomination will come into conflict during the convention, it also is believed. The Ultra-conservative movement which has become active in several Protestant denominations, and whole members call themselves "fundamentalists" has many adherents among the Disciples of Christ.

Period of Inflation May Follow Strikes, Authorities Predict

Price Boom to Meet Strong Resistance This Fall

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Both indications as to the trend of business and finance, and opinions as to fall prospects, have shown marked diversity during the past week. Settlement of the soft coal strike is generally expected to be reflected in a sharp gain in production, a figure as high as nine million tons a week being mentioned as likely to be realized in the immediate future. On the other hand, it is pointed out that the government scheme of priorities must remain in until the needs of the northwest have been taken care of, so that the steel industry is likely to feel the restriction imposed by fuel shortage for some weeks to come.

The 20 per cent increase in steel wages, meanwhile, is interpreted as indicating that steel manufacturers expect to be able to dispose of all their available production this fall at favorable prices. Whether steel prices will rise materially above present levels, however, remains to be seen, since coal prices have already touched scarcity levels and some observers anticipate a decline as the scarcity is relieved.

As far as the railroad strike is concerned financial quarters have not entirely abandoned hope of a settlement and do not seem alarmed over the prospects of a finish fight. Car loading statistics show the roads are continuing to move a volume of freight comparing favorably with the best performances of the year. On the other hand, it is recognized that a car shortage during the fall is inevitable.

Arguing from the increase in wages in coal and steel industries, which are symptomatic of a shortage of common labor, and the higher prices of coal and steel products some observers conclude that the country is entering a period of "inflation." What is probably meant is that something like a boom, short lived or otherwise, is to be a general rise in commodity prices.

On the other hand, some authorities divided. Those who refuse to subscribe to this view, point out that the present increase in prices is due to abnormal situations arising from the strike and that as such the higher prices are likely to be temporary. Such critics also emphasize the fact that certain commodities, such as rubber, are cheap and are likely to remain so. In addition they maintain that with grain prices at existing low levels, the farmers' purchasing power will remain moderate, and conclude that no great boom is possible until the farmer can take part in the movement. They also point to Europe's low purchasing power and the general consumers' resistance to high prices.

According to this view, the situation is likely to continue to show a marked lack of uniformity. Shortages and high prices in some commodities, and industries are expected to exist along side of quiet markets and moderate prices.

Sentiment in the grain and cotton markets has been affected somewhat during the past week by the adverse developments in the European situation and the resultant weakness in the exchanges of Germany and the continental Allies. Wheat has hovered just above the dollar mark with weather conditions and crop prospects little changed. In the cotton region, hot dry weather in the southwest and boll weevil damage in the other growing areas have induced private crop estimates to place the condition at about sixty per cent, and the probable yield of eleven million bales which is some 500,000 bales below the last government estimates.

The next government report will be published September 1st.

Little, if any change, has been apparent in the money market.

FISH AND GAME MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Seminole fish and game protective association at the court house Friday, Sept. 1st, at 8 p. m. All members and others interested are requested to be present.

Twenty-Three Cities of Florida in League of Municipalities

Will Hold Meeting in Orlando September 7-8-9.

BARTOW, Aug. 29.—Twenty-three Florida cities and towns have been sold on the idea of pooling their kindred problems in the way of government, health, finance, etc., and have come into the recently organized Florida League of Municipalities, according to the secretary of the organization, E. S. Jackson of this city.

Mr. Jackson is issuing a call for a meeting of the league at Orlando, September 7, 8 and 9, expresses the hope that its membership will be materially increased. The first meeting incident to the organization was held at Tampa, whose city manager, A. W. D. Hall, conceived the plan, and is president. The organization was later perfected at Jacksonville with 16 cities and towns represented.

The purpose of the organization was outlined by Mr. Hall, as primarily that of bringing the municipal officials together. Many of the problems falling those in charge of the municipal government alike, it was pointed out. This applies to health, sanitary, finance, uniformity of traffic ordinances and other local laws and the like. However, the work of the league, it is said, may ramify at the will of the members.

"Getting together of representatives of city governments for the purpose of securing ideas which might be of value in the conduct of city government affairs is of comparatively recent origin," said Secretary Jackson, "and is particularly new in Florida. It was regarded as 'new-fangled' by many when the idea of forming a Florida league was first mooted. However, the good results from association are beginning to make themselves felt even among those who at first refused to come in and I look for an increase from twenty-three to fully 100 members at the Orlando meeting.

"The Florida league, though small when gauged by members, has been very active through the various committees and has made its influence felt throughout the state. This has been particularly true of the committees which have been gathering data and we have gathered it from the 'outs' as well as the 'ins' the former have been given opportunity to learn the value of membership in the organization and many of them have manifested a disposition to be found in line from this time on.

The following municipalities are represented in the league: Bartow, Bradentown, Callahan, Fort Myers, Green Cove Springs, Kissimmee, Jacksonville, Lakeland, Miami, New Smyrna, Orlando, Punta Gorda, St. Augustine, South Jacksonville, Tampa, West Palm Beach, Gainesville, Key West, Lake City, Live Oak, McIntosh, Okeechobee City and Sanford.

HARRIMAN PLAN LIFE IN FLORIDA

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—The marriage of Miss Alice A. Laidley, 19-year-old niece of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, to Miss Alice A. Laidley, also 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Laidley, of Chicago, at Port Chester N. Y., on August 12, was made public today.

The belated announcement of the marriage was made today by Howard Chandler Christy, illustrator, who has been acting as Miss Laidley's guardian during her mother's absence in Europe. While in New York Mrs. Harriman, who is a vivacious brunette has been studying music and dancing. Her husband, who has tutored at Princeton university, has decided to enter the real estate business with his uncle, Frank Carley, Jr., in Florida.

Mr. Harriman said his marriage met with the approval of his parents.

THE LARGEST BARRACUDA

FORT LAUDERDALE, Aug. 30.—What is believed to be the largest barracuda caught in South Florida for a number of years was landed here recently by Charlie Filppen. The fish weighed 43 pounds and 8 ounces and was 5 feet 1 1/2 inches in length. It was landed on light tackle and probably will bring Filppen a prize from the Anglers' Club. A number of smaller barracuda also were caught.

Lake County C. of C. Will Pull Big Barbecue Tavares Monday Next

We have received a circular and an invitation from Willis Powell, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce inviting us to attend the big barbecue and annual basket picnic at Tavares on Monday, September 4th. This is an annual affair in Lake county and is really the annual meeting of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce at which time all the people of Lake county get together to hear what the Chamber of Commerce has done during the year and to discuss the plans for the next season. The Lake County Chamber of Commerce has made an enviable record chiefly through the efforts of the active secretary who is one of the greatest boosters in the south or any other country and backed up by the board of governors and the people generally all over the county. We would like to be there and will be if possible. Lake county is our first love in Florida and we cannot forget her entirely.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

LETTER FROM HOYS AT SANFORD SCOUT CAMP

Silver Lake Camp, Sanford, Fla., Aug. 30, 1922.

The boys from Orlando, Kissimmee, Cleimont, Mt. Dora, Eau Gallie, Miami, Sanford and Vero are sure enjoying the beautiful camp site at Silver Lake, three miles south of Sanford.

The boys are having the best of fun and the cooking is great.

The weather has been all sunshine and you know the boys have been enjoying the swimming in the lake and have been taking a great many tests for higher honors.

The boys have good leaders that know Scouting and will sure teach and take care of the boys. Deputy Commissioner Ford in charge of the Miami boys was made Camp Director on account of Capt. Cundy being very ill in the Orlando hospital. Capt. Cundy was not only sick of body but very sick of heart to think he could not be with the boys he had hoped to be with.

The boys will give a demonstration of life saving, etc., in Sanford today about 2:30.

Friday (the big day) will be "Visitors day" and the boys are sure going to make a big thing of it. Races of all kinds and Scouting tricks will be sure to amuse the visitors.

The boys are very thankful to the people of Sanford and other towns, that they come in contact with, for the good times they give them.

Some of the boys enjoyed a theatre party last evening, and not only had a good time themselves but every one else in the theatre seemed to enjoy having the boys with them. They hope to have another theatre party before leaving.

Camp breaks up Saturday morning. The three trucks filled with Miami boys will leave at sunrise. They hope to be back in the Magic City Sunday night. The boys from other towns will break camp around noon.

JAPANESE TRADE FIGURES

TOKIO, Aug. 30.—The Empire's foreign trade for the first half of the current year resulted in an excess of import over export to the gross amount of 368,370,000 yen, the former aggregating 1,103,566,000 yen as against the latter totalling 735,196,000 yen.

The adverse tendency of the first half year's trade, however, was accompanied by a reassuring feature each month showing a more advantageous balance of trade.

In reviewing the tendency of the Empire's foreign trade during first half of 1922, economic experts and critics are at once unanimous in concluding that the situation does not yet admit of any too optimistic views with reference to the future prospects of the country's trade, because the ebbing of excessive import itself. The decline of import is attributable largely to the practical exhaustion of the specie reversed abroad of the Japanese exchange banks. This cause has, however, been removed now as a consequence of the brisk export of raw silk, thereby releasing the issue of sale drafts and letters of credit by the exchange banks to the encouragement of import trade once again.

TALKING TO THE DEAD

At the prayer meeting at the Methodist church tonight Dr. Walker will talk on a message from the dead.

It is desired every one interested in the Methodist church attend the meeting tonight. Special message, special music, special meeting. So come and help in the attendance contest as well as getting a blessing your-self.

The love of money is also the root of all industry.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Advice received by the Chamber of Commerce from authoritative sources is to the effect that Florida will probably experience the greatest number of winter visitors than ever before in its history. It is even expected that Florida bound travel will be heavier than during the halcyon season of 1917 and 1918, which is admitted to be the record seasons in the annals of Florida resorts. There are a number of reasons which substantiate the claims for a prosperous season, principally amongst which is the coal strike which will result in a shortage of this commodity in the North. Sanford will receive an even greater percentage of tourists this year and it is necessary that accommodations be provided to take care of those who desire to winter in Sanford. The Chamber of Commerce will maintain a free listing bureau as was done during the past season and those having furnished houses or rooms for rent will be requested to list them with the Chamber of Commerce.

The publicity which has been carried on by the Chamber of Commerce is certain to attract a large number of people to Sanford this year. Correspondence received by the secretary a number of individuals advise that they are contemplating visiting Sanford this winter for the purpose of permanently locating. The publicity to be given the golf course in golfing periodicals is also bound to attract those tourists who are anxious to try out new courses. The golf course, in addition to other recreational features which have been developed here since last season will be the means of holding these visitors for a much longer period than they have heretofore spent in Sanford.

It has been hoped that the street paving program provided for in the recent bond issue would have been started by now. The delay has been caused by the strike, and the uncertainty of securing materials. However, these improvements should be well underway by the time winter visitors arrive and the psychological effect which they will experience upon seeing the many improvements being made and contemplated will create a desire on their part to identify themselves with this progressive community. Nothing is more contagious than a spirit of progress and the faith which Sanford people have evidenced in their own community is bound to communicate itself to outsiders.

The weekly membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce are held every Friday at 12:15 p. m., in the Palm Room of the Valdez Hotel and every business man who is vitally interested in the development of a greater Sanford should be present at these meetings to lend counsel in the deliberations of those who are working toward this end. The progress which has been so evident here during the past two years is not in the nature of a spectacular boom. It is a natural and healthy development brought about by the proper exploitation of the section's wonderful resources by the Chamber of Commerce. It develops upon every citizen of the City Substantial to affiliate with this organization and assist in the expediting and increasing the economic growth of the City Substantial. An excellent opportunity is offered at these weekly meetings of the Chamber of Commerce to get into the real work of the city building. Irrespective of the demands made on one's time by other organizations the business men of Sanford should arrange to be present at the weekly meetings. The City Planning Committee of the Chamber of Commerce had a meeting last Monday evening, at which time a number of important matters were brought up, which will be submitted at Friday's meeting of the membership, for endorsement by the Board of Governors and the membership at that time. A report of their recommendations will be made public later.

GOLD MINERS ARE ENTOMBED WITHOUT HOPE

JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 29.—Volumes of nauseating gas is issuing from the burning depths of the Argonaut mine led to the belief that the men now said to number forty-seven imprisoned in the mine at midnight Sunday night by fire, all perished. The Argonaut is one of the most widely known gold mines in the country.

JACKSON, Calif., Aug. 29.—Held in grip of despair families and fellow workers of forty-eight gold miners imprisoned since midnight Sunday nearly mile below ground in Argonaut mine today clung stubbornly to hope that they are still alive, although most optimistic hope was to reach the men within eighteen hours. Flames which started at three thousand foot level had worked up above twenty-four hundred foot level today.

JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 28.—Mine rescue crews worked without avail today in the Argonaut gold mine in which forty-eight men were entombed at midnight by fire. The men were thought to be between the 4,500 and 1,500 foot levels, while the main body of the fire was more than 1,000 feet above them.

Employees of the mine were sent into the Kennedy mine which connects with the Argonaut mine through a tunnel but which is closed by a concrete bulkhead, with instructions to break down the bulkhead and enter the Argonaut.

It has been reported that the Kennedy tunnel had collapsed but the report was not verified. Early today W. S. Garbarini of the Argonaut succeeded in restoring the cut off air supply to the 2,800 foot level and efforts were continued to extend the air supply.

The Argonaut mine, one of the famous gold producers in California, was opened 25 years ago. It is controlled by New York men and is a short distance from Martell, in Amador county. The Kennedy mine adjoining, was opened in the 60's and always has been productive.

If the tunnel in the Kennedy has collapsed, little, if any hope is expressed for the entombed men. During the day pipes were put into the Argonaut to carry water down to the burning timbers. Before that water had been sent down in skips.

"BI GFOUR" UNIONS PLAN MEETING THIS WEEK IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—A conference of the leaders of the "big four" railroad transportation brotherhoods probably will be held here Monday, at which some plan for handling trouble among the members resulting from the shopmen's strike will be worked out, it is believed in brotherhood circles here.

W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the only one of the big chiefs in Cleveland, said tonight, however, he had heard of no such conference.

Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and D. B. Robertson, president of the Firemen and Enginemen, are expected to return Monday from New York, where they attempted to mediate the shopmen's strike. L. E. Sheppard, president of the Railroad Conductors, who was with the other brotherhood is expected to stop on his return to Cedar Rapids.

"I don't know what the attitude of other brotherhood leaders will be," Mr. Lee said in regard to handling sporadic refusal of the brotherhood members to remain at work, "but I will continue, as I have in the past, to insist that the constitution of my order be lived up to and that no men go out on illegal strikes."

LAND RECLAMATION CLAUSE MAY BE IN THE BONUS BILL SUPPORTED BY THE SENATE

Reclaiming Waste Lands Would Help to Build Up the Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Senate debate yesterday on the soldiers' bonus bill centered largely on the land reclamation amendment offered by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, neither that nor any of the other amendments offered came to a vote.

The unanimous consent agreement limiting discussion on amendments to 20 minutes to each senator will become operative today and leaders were hopeful that a final vote on the bill itself could be had before adjournment.

In the discussion yesterday Senators Wadsworth of New York, and Sterling of South Dakota, Republicans, voiced their opposition to the bonus, although Senator Sterling supported the reclamation project. Senators Nicholson, Republican, Colorado and Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, supported the bill, the former also arguing in favor of the McNary amendment.

Senator Nicholson attacked big business men opposing the bonus, mentioning particularly the United States Steel Corporation and the Standard Oil Company. He charged that "unconscionable" prices charged during the war and declared that it had become Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the steel corporation, to oppose adjusted compensation for the veterans when his company had made "great profits" during the war.

HOUSEHOLDERS PREPARING TO BURN WOOD INSTEAD OF COAL

READING, Pa., Aug. 29.—The Berks County Conservative Association's campaign, urging throughout the county the use of timber of little marketable value to avert a possible fuel famine, has been endorsed by the state department of forestry at Harrisburg. The plea of the association to Berks land owners has already borne fruit, and many householders have laid in a supply of wood. The association is posting placards thruout the county urging householders to use cord wood cut from such timber, in order to save coal for hospitals, schools, churches and industries.

Harvey F. Heinly, president of the association, has received the following letter from Major R. Y. Stuart, State Commissioner of Forestry:

"I think the Berks County Conservation Association's plan of calling the attention of the public to the availability of suitable wood, particularly blighted chestnut, for fuel as a means of averting distress this winter, is an excellent one. The department in turn is encouraging the use of chestnut on the state forests for this purpose. I believe the campaign will do much good, particularly, in those sections of the state wherein it is feasible to use wood as fuel without a change in equipment. Further, to the extent to which blighted chestnut can be utilized, the owner and forest are benefited."
