

U. S. Production Goal For Bombers Will Be Doubled

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—William S. Knudsen said Wednesday that the production goal for giant four-motored bombers had been increased from one month to 1,000, an announcement that underscored the opinion of defense officials that the Pacific war must be won by bombing Japan.

The director of the Office of Production Management, in his first public pronouncement since the Japanese assaulted Pearl Harbor, declared new bomber production facilities would have to be built and that every warplane factory would have to adopt the 168-hour work week.

In a war which apparently is to become increasingly a battle of bombers, Knudsen said the new aircraft facilities would be placed "inside the mountains" deep in the interior beyond the reach of enemy bombers.

A number of Japanese, just landed from Terminal Island, where there is a large Nipponese settlement, are pictured in the San Diego, Calif. ferry terminal, detained for questioning by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The Navy has a base on Terminal Island. The move was in line with President Roosevelt's orders for the authorities to place under arrest all aliens dangerous to the state in this emergency.

All Men Rated 1-A May Be Inducted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11—(AP)—A selective service official said Wednesday night that local draft boards had been notified that they may induct all 1-A men on their lists, if they desire to do so, without regard to their quotas.

These instructions were issued in anticipation that more men will be needed for the armed services soon. No mandatory order for the induction of all 1-A men, however, has been issued so far.

Holland Rebukes Bonding Company

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 11—(AP)—Governor Holland declared Wednesday that exchanges of original bonds for new bonds in a refunding handled by E. E. Crummer and Company "have already been effected" although "Mr. Crummer certainly made board of education that no exchange of bonds was made."

An chairman, he said the State Board of Education "is not willing to purchase any of the new refunding bonds from you (Crummer Company) at a price to net 3 1/2 percent on the investment, as offered."

Instead, the board will hold $435,000 per value of original bonds until the call date for redemption Jan. 1.

"In this way," Holland said, "any appreciation of any premium derived by the counties will be retained for the purpose of retiring the original bonds and will accrue to the advantage of the county at interest."

Russia Rejects Peace Feelers Made By Nazis

Hull Expresses Confidence That Reds Will Do Their Part In Fight With Axis
Peace Talks Are Wanted By Hitler
Full Understanding Said Reached By U. S. And Soviets

(By Associated Press)
On the winter bound Soviet front, Russia today rejected Berlin "peace feelers" and claimed the recapture of 200 villages in the Olets sector, 220 miles southeast of Moscow.

(By Associated Press)
A Russian peace with Germany would be made only by joint agreement with Britain and the United States. Soviet officials declared last night in announcing that Germany had put out peace feelers to the Soviet Union.

The official Communist newspaper Pravda said of the situation: "The Hitler gang is ready any day to sign a peace with Russia if only our government would talk with them."

In Washington, Soviet Russia's ambassador, Maxim Litvinov, said that the Soviet government is ready to discuss any peace proposal.

Litvinov's assertion, a few hours after the United States went to war against Germany, was followed close upon a statement by Secretary of State Hull, expressing confidence that the Soviets "will do their full share" in the all-out struggle against the Axis.

Hull's statement was in the manner of a reply to reports that the Soviet Union is reluctant to give aid to the United States in the bitter battle of the Pacific for fear of becoming involved in war with Japan and forced to fight on two fronts.

The Hull statement appeared to be a refutation of reports that Russian aid to the United States might be possible only on a "cash-for-cash" basis by the United States. "The Japanese mainline appeared to be 'doubtful' or that it was dangerous to expect any great collaboration from Russia in the Pacific."

Some of these reports speculated that the holding of the German drive on Moscow might be a preliminary to a Russo-German alliance.

Both Hull and Litvinov were direct in spiking the "peace" reports.

"I have no doubt whatever that we will continue resistance to the German as a final complete victory," said Litvinov.

In Madrid, with five simple words, "We are all in this," the Spanish government proclaimed its complete determination to stand at the side of the United States and maintain at any and every cost the mighty barricade of the Allies.

And, he pointed out, British and American war planes have been flying over the Spanish coast, and the possibility of the new world war being won by the Allies.

Former Florida Governors Will Aid In Defense

Holland Plans To Head Advisory Board

TAMPA, Dec. 12 (AP)—Governor Spessard L. Holland stated yesterday that five former Florida governors will be asked to serve with the State cabinet to form an advisory committee concerning State defense.

Mr. Holland made the announcement in an address before the Florida League of Municipalities at its convention here, and received other information pertaining to the subject.

Mr. Williams stated, "I believe we will have a blackout here soon. I want to commend an editorial in yesterday's Herald concerning blackout instructions and would like to have it printed on the front page today. I advise all citizens to clip these instructions and save them in case such an emergency arises here. It will benefit everybody to study these instructions thoroughly."

They are as follows:
Stay at home, get off the street.
Put out lights. Stay away from windows.
Don't scream. Keep quiet and don't run for shelter.
Don't believe rumors; await official notice.
Keep your radio turned on.

Do not telephone.
Cooperate with your air raid warden at all times.
And for the protection of your home:
Make advance preparation to darken every window, skylight, glass door, and exterior opening wherever lights are used after dark.

Instructions For Defense Council Told

Headquarters States Personnel Must Become Prepared To Serve Country

All divisions of the Seminole County Defense Council must be put in shape at once to arrange the personnel so that they will be ready for immediate service, according to instructions received yesterday by J. L. Ingley, chairman of the council, from State Defense headquarters at Tallahassee.

Specific instructions were the addition of auxiliary men to the police and sheriff's force to increase the normal force by three times. Chief of Police Roy Williams now is going through the registration lists to accomplish this order. In addition, air raid wardens are being selected by a ratio of one for every 500 population and the force will be large enough to assure active 24 hour duty if necessary. The air wardens are in a separate division from air warning posts, which have already been set.

Mr. Ingley made it clear that the committee chairman of the various divisions have full authority to act on the duties of their division, subject only to the approval of officers of the defense council. Any members of the committees who have not been fingerprinted are asked by Mr. Ingley to report to the Army and Navy for this purpose at once.

Commenting on the need for volunteers and emphasizing the importance of defense duties to the community, Mr. Ingley said that any person who has special qualifications should volunteer to the committee chairman of the group that he or she is best qualified to serve.

The committees and division chairman of the Seminole County Defense Council are: Water, Division of Civil Protection, Roy G. Williams; Industry and Material Resources, O. P. Herndon; Transportation and Communication, C. S. Tolson; Power and Fuel, H. H. Coleman; Water Personnel, Jim Gillen; Water Supply and Fire Protection, Fred Williams; Food and Agriculture, Alex E. Johnson; Health and Housing, Chas. L. Park, MD.; Information, Education and Moral, Herman Morris; Finance and Budget, V. A. Speer; Women's Participation, Mrs. A. W. Knox.

British Report Destruction Of German Regiment

Say They Advanced Beyond Tobruk In 2-Day Sandstorm

The British reported the destruction of the German 361st Africa regiment today and said they advanced 60 miles beyond Tobruk in a two-day sandstorm.

The British reported the destruction of the German 361st Africa regiment today and said they advanced 60 miles beyond Tobruk in a two-day sandstorm.

Some enemy units which took refuge behind defenses west of El Adem and south of Tobruk were attacked; British armored units also drove off a number of German tanks which tried to break up operations west of El Adem by Indian and English forces.

These appeared to be Axis rear-guard actions.

(In London, a British military source said he believed the main movement of British forces northwest from El Adem might be the start of a big new battle of encirclement.

The Yugoslav command said last night from Cairo that a Yugoslav army of 80,000 Serbs under Gen. Draza Mihailovic, "continues to hold its positions" south of Belgrade despite heavy Axis pressure.

These Serbian troops who took to the hills after the defeat last Spring were reported fighting seven Axis divisions in the Morava river valley near the towns of Knagujac and Knjasevac.

Nazis Replace Army Chief On Moscow Front

Russians Pursue Foe In Southwest Area As Germans Abandon Settlements

KUIBYSSHEV, Dec. 12 (AP)—Field Marshal List has replaced General Von Bock as commander-in-chief of the German armies on the Moscow front where the Germans have been trying for more than two months to advance against the Soviet capital, it was announced yesterday.

Although it was not known whether Von Bock was killed or recalled, the change was regarded as a result of the unsuccessful German offensive, and continuing Russian counter-drives said to be pressing the Nazis steadily westward.

Military dispatches said Red army tank units cleared the Germans from the Tula-Serpukhov-Moscow highway by smashing Col. Gen. Heinz Guderian's fourth Nazi tank division. Tula is 110 miles south of Moscow.

The Germans were reported being pursued southwestward, and abandoning settlement after settlement in the Orul sector near Yelka. Thirty more villages near Yelka of Moscow also were retaken, the Russians said.

Newspapers jubilantly proclaimed Russian successes and said the Soviet army must not only liberate cities and villages, but must exterminate the invaders.

Draft Office States Change In Procedure

Some Classes Cannot Secure Extension Of Deferments

Since the United States is in a state of war, there will be no extension of deferments for men who have been classified by the local selective service board in the category of 1A, 2A or 2B, according to instructions received by E. D. Carter, in charge of the office on Second Street.

In addition to written information from headquarters, the draft office had an official visit this week from Major Byrd Sparkman on the day following President Roosevelt's declaration of war against Japan and the two men discussed informally classifications of prospective selectees.

Class 1B includes men who are good for "lighter service only" according to classification made through physical examinations. Classes 2A and 2B are composed of men who are taking highly specialized courses such as medicine or some branch of engineering and men who hold "key positions" in industry.

This morning instructions were sent to the board to "disregard" men who have had full time in some branch of service and reclassify this group. Men with dependents will not be exempt from reclassification since those who have been in the Marine, Navy or the Regular Army "will be experienced and therefore necessary to the service," the draft office pointed out.

The office personnel has been "swamped with questions," Mrs. Carter who is employed with her husband, stated. Mr. and Mrs. Carter went to Orlando Wednesday to check on its instructions. Qualifications for the Navy, as of the Selective Service, will be lower, but both offices are waiting for further instructions and information as to the extent, Mr. Carter said.

Secretary Of Navy Knox Is In Hawaii

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12 (AP)—Secretary of Navy Knox arrived at Honolulu Thursday afternoon. This was announced early last night by the Navy department which gave no other details. It had been known only that Knox was absent from Washington.

While all official information was lacking, the purpose of the Secretary's trip apparently was to make a personal investigation of the smashing Japanese surprise raid on the naval base and other defense installations at Honolulu Sunday.

Bear Killed In Wooded Swamp Near Chuluota

Maurice Jacoby and a hunting party of five men were in Willingham Swamp, north of Chuluota, yesterday in search of deer and after their dogs scented the trail of a bear, the group tracked the animal from noon until Mr. Jacoby shot him yesterday about 3:30 P. M.

The hunters started out on their trip early yesterday morning and took along four dogs. One of the hunters laughed and remarked, "The best dog we had with us took one smell of those bear tracks and lit out for camp! He didn't even see the bear!"

The bear was of the black "grizzly" variety and weighed 400 pounds. Besides Mr. Jacoby, there were five hunters on the trip: J. M. Jacobs, George Jacobs, Nolan Ford, Morgan McClelland and Noah Jacobs.

There is more reason now than ever for building a new Seminole County Hospital. The cost of the project will pale in insignificance as the government steps up its spending for defense to something like 150 billion. Besides if we ever need a hospital in Seminole County we will need it during the next few years.

Someone has said that this war will be won by that nation which has the last loaf of bread. If that is the case, there is no reason at all why the United States should not win it for surely if there is any country prepared to feed itself and its allies it is the United States. The farmers of this country have an important job to do and they will do it well.

The Germans are "going into winter quarters" on the Russian front, while they prepare some new devilment elsewhere in the world. It may be they are planning their long awaited push through Spain to seize Gibraltar and northern Africa from which they can try to control the South Atlantic and perhaps launch an invasion of South America.

Someone, whose name is not necessary to be mentioned, requested the Citizen to omit the name of a friend who got into the lot of the law. The request naturally was refused on the ground that we play no favorites in the Citizen. If anyone thinks that the Citizen will stifle itself for the sake of the grip of a subscription or for any monetary loss they are mistaken. That is all—Key West Citizen. Don't they believe in a square deal for everyone?

Sometimes, even in a lifetime, the life time of one in particular a thousand reporters, come an opportunity for a really big story. Such an opportunity came this week to Cecil Brown, CBS reporter, who was aboard the British battle cruiser, Repulse, when it was sunk off the coast of Malaya the other day under heavy attack from Japanese sea bombers. Mr. Brown was reported to have been taken to Singapore where he is recovering from his wounds.

Colin Clark, a British writer, has written a book called "The War of Wits." It is a study of the mental and physical qualities of the great leaders of the world. He says that the greatest of all was Napoleon Bonaparte.

The United States Census Bureau reveals that the combined populations of the principal nations opposing Hitlerism, but not including South America, are over 1,317,000,000; while the Axis powers, including Hungary and the principal Balkan nations have only 306,000,000 people. The total area of the nations involved is 30,000,000 square miles for the democracies and 1,443,000 for the Axis.

With respect to natural resources we find that the United States produces 14 percent of the world's wheat; Britain, 13 percent and Russia, 27 percent; while Germany produces 3 percent; Italy 5 percent and Roumania 2 percent. Altogether the Axis powers and all the nations they control produce only 21 percent of the world's wheat as compared with 64 percent for the democracies.

Much the same story is told by the figures regarding other raw materials. The democracies produce 63 percent of the world's iron ore; the Axis nations only 4 percent and the Axis-controlled nations, 14 percent. The United States alone produces 63 percent of all the oil in the world, while the Axis and the nations they control produce only 3 percent.

In a long war these figures will make themselves felt in a decisive way. We can build more tanks, airplanes and battleships. We have more oil to supply them and more men to operate them. We have more food to eat. The only advantage which the Axis has lies in the fact that it has been preparing for this war for a long time; whereas the democracies are just getting started.

We may expect some early reverses, but it is the last battle in any war that really counts.

The Line-up

Although the element of surprise and the advantage of preparation which in the beginning have been on the side of the Axis may cause considerable losses early in this war, in the long run victory should come to the Allies because of their vastly greater superiority in manpower and natural resources.

If You Want To Get Ahead—

Maintaining that "opportunity is all around us," E. J. Thomas, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, in an interview in Your Life Magazine, lists the following points to be followed by anyone who wishes to get ahead in his chosen field:

- Know your job. Accumulate additional skills. Show qualities of leadership outside your job. Think always of what you can do for your employer. Do not be selfishly ambitious. Don't be a yes-man. Always endeavor to be worth more than you're paid.

Feathered Harvest Hands

War-time increases the need for ergot, a drug which controls hemorrhage, and which was formerly imported from the Balkans. Ergot is a disease or fungus growing on grain. The diseased grain is now being successfully raised on Staten Island.

Just as the commerce department officials were writing help-wanted ads for workers to pick the fungus off the grain a pigeon flew into the warehouse and went to work. He gobbled up grain but spat out all the ergot. The ads were withheld and the grain spread out in the most convenient arrangements for pigeons. This optimism proved justified. The entire job is now being done most satisfactorily.—U. S. Week.

It is about time to cast about for a 1942 almanac. You youngsters probably do not remember that green-covered Hougster's Bitters almanac—or the yellow-backed Ayers one—that grandpa kept hanging at the end of the cupboard. Probably during the summer it would accumulate a freecroing of fly-specks.

and the ground allowed to dry out until the self-binder can get to work. For 200 years the Carolinas and Georgia led in the production of this grain but the war of 1861-65 ended that because of labor scarcity and the growing drifted to Mississippi, then to Louisiana which now produces 48 percent of this food grown in the U. S.; Texas, Arkansas and California are the next largest growers the best named. The average yield is about 35 1/2 bushels per acre and the average price over a four-year period has been $1.14 per bushel.

The December issue of the National Geographic Magazine is of particular local interest because its concluding article describes by pen and picture, the bringing to the surface of 23 of the 50 cannon aboard the British warship Winchester which was driven to the reefs, about 40 miles south of Miami and wrecked in a hurricane on Sept. 24, 1895. The find was made by Negro fishermen who revealed the location to the author, Charles M. Brookfield, who confided in a neighbor and with the assistance of Commodore Hugh M. Matheson's equipment, raised the shell-encrusted guns from the perhaps 25 feet of water. The shock of the impact when the ship struck had piled the guns into a mass on the shore-side of the ship; they measured from six to 11 feet in length. The date and identity of the ship were obtained through the records of the British admiralty, certain signs on the cannon making positive identification as an English war vessel. She was homeward bound from Jamaica after a foray against the French colony of Haiti in June, 1895. A few coils were found, among them an English one bearing date of 1894 and a Spanish "bullet" mitted in 1872. Mr. Brookfield made his first haul in December, 1938, and a second haul in June, 1940. This Florida coast is known as "the graveyard of the sea" and has helped land with the hulks of scores of ships that have gone down on the jagged coral reefs. Old Spanish maps group them as "The Martyrs." Caryfort Light-house, one of the six danger signals between Miami and Key West, takes its name from a British ship of that name wrecked there in 1770.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

By MRS. IRVING FEINBERG

"Windswept," by Mary Ellen Chase, is a novel set on the coast of Maine, where Chase knows well and which is the background for her earlier novels, "Mary Peters" and "Silas Crockett." But the scene of her new story is Eastern Maine, that less known region of the open, trackless, often barren land facing the open sea.

"Windswept" is the name of a house on a high promontory of land miles from villages or towns. The name suggests alike the nature of its background and the character of its atmosphere. It is the home of the Marston family, but under tragic circumstances was built by his children and by their children. And yet its long influence is felt by others to the Bohemian Jan and Anton, to Antienne and Jelle into whose life it enters and whose thoughts it forms.

"Windswept" thus becomes more an American novel than one on any of the straight lines of New England for in it Miss Chase has portrayed the past and the present of America, the gifts and graces of her new-comers as well as the customs of her older stock.

"Windswept" is a story of life as well as an absorbing story of tragedy and conflict, pain and pleasure, sacrifice and fulfillment. Against its wide, somber background of wind and sea and sky, the story is set, both in the past and in the present, and the answers to their questions and through it discover that life in a confused world may preserve its order, nobility, and grace.

"Windswept" could happen here," Philip Marston thought, "nothing mediocre or mean. Perhaps that was why men had shunned it as a dwelling place, having been made vaguely dignified as well as fearful by its solitude. Events could not pass here into the naivete of forgetfulness. Whatever dramas were enacted here upon the stage, again at these settings, behind this orchestra of wind and surf, should by night call forth in those who played their parts only constancy and honor. For this was an old house and, a long unaltered, and forgotten spur of a new world which elsewhere seemed to grow newer instead of older. Here one could, if he would, catch something of that wisdom which life in such places and under such circumstances leaves unfinished, even undiscovers."

Every one who has ever read any of her books realizes that Chase writes unusually beautiful prose and that it is at its best. "Windswept" is not only the title of Miss Chase's novel, but also the name of her own home in Maine. The house in the story is, however, an imaginative one and would be any place on the barren Maine coast.

One of Noel Coward's latest novels—which he sang from London to an American radio audience in October—has the same title as Phyllis Hittone's new novel. The title is "London Pride" and in Mr. Coward's story it refers to a London street flower. In pronouncing Miss Hittone's name the second syllable of the last name rhymes with home and takes the accent.

Ernest Hemingway was awarded the Nobel medal of the Limited Editions Club on Nov. 26, for writing "For Whom the Bell Tolls"—the book published in the preceding three years, considered "most likely to attain the stature of a classic." The award of the "Bell Tolls" is the third award of the Limited Editions Club. The first award was made in 1935 to Donald Culross Peattie for "An Almanac for Moderns." In 1938, the second award was awarded to Van Wyck Brooks for his book, "The Flowering of New England."

Gladiola Club Has Election Of Officers

By MRS. IRVING FEINBERG

Highlight of the meeting of the Gladiola Club, O. E. S. which was held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Toll on Summerfield Avenue last evening was the election of officers for the coming year. Pink roses and fern decorated the living room of Mrs. Toll's home for the meeting.

Mrs. M. F. Smith was elected to serve as president; Mrs. W. C. Erickson, vice president; Mrs. C. C. Walsh, secretary; and Mrs. C. C. Briggs, treasurer. The other officers will be appointed by the president.

A shower of gifts for needy persons was held in connection with the meeting. The chapter will begin working on plans for an extensive defense program for the coming year in view of the present crisis.

British And Dutch Ships Destroy Two Of Italy's Cruisers

85,000 Germans Are Reported Killed As Reds Announce Complete Victory

Nazis Sustain Losses In Libya

Winter Aids Reds In Their Routing Of Hitler's Armies

A pack of British and Dutch destroyers, pouncing with sudden, effective fire on two Italian cruisers in the Mediterranean, sank one and left the other burning from stem to stern, the Admiralty announced today. Thus, with an Italian cruiser believed to have been sunk by a British submarine yesterday, the entire flotilla of three Italian cruisers apparently has been destroyed.

It is announced the other side of a crumbling German front of 750,000 men on the Moscow front with 20,000 German killed and 23 of an original 41 divisions either scattered, surrounded or retreating.

A special committee report of German troops in flight on both fronts in the Caucasus and the Crimean Desert last night, supported by point-blank warship shelling of the Axis base of Derina and other naval action.

"Flascs of German plans for surprising and capturing Moscow was the title of the announcement wirelessly abroad by the Soviet Information bureau.

Germany was said to have thrown 13 tank divisions, 15 infantry divisions and five motorized infantry divisions into the "second general offensive" against Moscow that started Nov. 16.

The plan was to strike at Moscow from the north, south and west, encircling and capturing the city.

"Up to Dec. 8, our forces conducted fierce defensive battles, holding back attacks by enemy shock groups on the fronts, and repelling artillery thrusts," the communiqué explained.

"On Dec. 8, our troops on the western front, having worn down the enemy, launched counter-offensives against the enemy flanks," it continued.

"As a result of this offensive both enemy flank groups have been routed and are rapidly retreating, leaving behind them a trail of wreckage and suffering from heavy losses."

"The enemy has retreated approximately 50 miles west of Tver, through two days of bloody combats, the Soviet forces of the front, Eighth Army, have captured a German tank division and other units."

"The total number of German tanks captured since the start of the offensive is 150, including 100 captured in the last two days."

Bill Is Passed For Many New Fighting Ships

Congress Calls For 30 Percent Increase In Navy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—In swift reaction to the Japanese stroke at Pearl Harbor, the administration yesterday proposed a bill authorizing the construction of seven or eight 45,000-ton battleships and about 100 other fighting ships — an overall increase of 30 per cent in the two-ocean Navy.

The bill was offered in the Senate just before that branch passed a $10,772,500,000 measure to expand all military activities.

The latter bill, embracing cash and contract authority, went through without a record vote.

It was sent immediately to the Senate-House conference committee for adjustment of $2,325,000,000 added by the Senate to a similar bill passed previously by the House.

Chairman Walsh of the Naval Committee had requested him to introduce it. This measure was referred to the Navy Committee.

Walsh said the Budget Bureau had informed him that initial appropriation requests for the new fighting ships would be for one-third of the total, or 300,000 tons, because that was all that could be handled at the present time.

Under normal conditions, he said, the total additions would cost about $3,000,000,000 and under present conditions "probably much more."

He said the bill would authorize the building of seven or eight 45,000-ton battleships, six or seven 10,000-ton cruisers, 20 1,000-ton destroyers, and 67 1,000-ton submarines.

The present authorized strength he listed as 1,045,000 tons of battleships, 44,000 tons of aircraft carriers, 200,000 tons of cruisers, 475,000 tons of destroyers, and 172,000 tons of submarines.

Before passing the bill, the Senate approved a $1,500,000,000 lend-lease bill approved by the House.

It also recalled the existing limit of $200,000,000 on the number of Army divisions that might be in service at any one time.

The bill also authorized the Secretary of War to increase the number of Army divisions to 100.

St. Johns Canal Project Said To Be Unfavorable

Rivers And Harbors Committee Report Made To Engineer

The St. Johns-Indian River canal project has been reported unfavorably by the committee on Rivers and Harbors of the House of Representatives, according to a notice received yesterday by Fred T. Williams, City engineer from J. S. Bragdon, United States division engineer.

The notice concerned a resolution that was adopted by the House committee in 1937, which authorized the project on a favorable report by the United States Engineering Department.

Two main reasons were given for the present unfavorable ruling. The benefits to be received from flood control and navigation would not be sufficient to cover the carrying charge on an expenditure of $3,500,000, the estimated cost of the canal. Also an investigation last August of the St. Johns and Kissimmee Rivers drainage area, authorized by the Flood Control Act, is expected to show means for protecting the Sanford area from floods with less expense than the provisions contained in the canal plans.

Provision of appeal on this report will be allowed by anyone interested in the project. Appeals may be made until Jan. 7 to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors at Washington.

Company D Honors Captain Runge At Party At Blanding

Captain William F. Runge was honored at a dinner party given by the officers and enlisted men of Company D, 16th Infantry at Camp Blanding, Thursday at which he was presented with an auto radio and a gold watch and chain by the men.

Captain Runge was expected to be released from his duties as commander of Company D because of his age, but the war emergency may cause a deferment of his release. He is the fourth commander Company D has had, and he is a veteran of the first world war.

A letter from Lieut. Col. Henry W. McMillan, Jr., stated: "I have known Captain Runge for approximately 14 years, and to my personal satisfaction that his loyalty, ability, trustworthiness, and devotion to duty are unsurpassed. His personal record in his home community is one of unquestioned integrity. He has proven at all times to be a leader of men, and I recommend him as an officer and gentleman whose personal conduct and moral habits are an example to his men."

Knox Calls For More Ships, Planes, Men

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 12.—(AP)—More ships, more planes, more men — faster and faster — were demanded Friday by Secretary of the Navy Knox in a message from Roosevelt.

The message, delivered to the Inspector of naval aviation here and relayed to Army companies and other war industries read:

"The enemy has struck a savage, treacherous blow. We are at war, all of us. It is not time now for delay or for any kind of excuses. We must have ships and more ships, planes and more planes, men and more men, and fast."

"There is no time to lose. The navy must lead the way. Speed up — it is your duty and your nation's."

House Is Urged To Pass Draft Act Extensions

Men From 19 To 44 Would Be Liable For Army Service Under Bill Rules

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—(AP) Secretary of War Stimson urged the House Military Committee to approve promptly far-reaching extensions of the draft act to provide "a great pool of men" to meet any emergency.

In a letter to Chairman McNamara (D-Ky.) as the committee opens hearings of legislation to register all men from 19 to 44, inclusive, liable for military duty, Mr. Stimson said:

"The broad purpose of the bill is to provide a framework into which we can steadily and solidly build the structure which will accomplish victory," he added.

Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, estimated that 10,000,000 between the ages of 19 and 44, inclusive, would be available for Army or Navy duty.

The remainder of the 40,000,000 would be on call for non-combatant service.

Women may be registered later, but department warranting, but this is improbable unless the nation suffers tremendous reversals.

Under the program for males, aliens from enemy nations would not be called unless they are accepted by the War Relocation Authority. Citizens or subjects of neutral nations would be exempt. American citizenship would be denied them, however, if they claimed exemption.

The nation never before has undertaken such a sweeping draft program.

One of its major clauses provides that the government would be authorized to draft men who are members of married men who were inducted into the combat forces or called for civilian duty.

The measure was introduced in the house by Chairman McNamara at the request of the war department.

Before it was offered, it was discussed at a conference among Secretary of War Stimson, Mr. Harber, Speaker Rayburn, Majority Leader McCormack, Republican Leader Martin, and Representative Wadsworth (R., N. Y.), co-sponsor of the original selective service act.

Plans were made to snap it through both chambers.

Officers Get Orders To Stop Tire Sales

Orders to enforce the newly passed nationwide law prohibiting the sale or delivery of new automobile tires and tubes were received today by the police department and sheriff's office, Chief Roy Williams asserted.

The report was signed by Governor Holland and came from the Florida Highway Patrol. It stated that the Office of Production Management at Washington has ordered all sales or delivery of new tires and tubes to be stopped until Dec. 25, and all officers are to enforce the ruling.

Dr. Park Announces Sub-committee Heads

Dr. Charles L. Park, chairman of the local defense council, announced his sub-committee chairman today as follows: H. M. Watson, of the Housing committee, Lucile Pagan of the Hospital Administration committee, and F. E. Rommelt of the Drugs and Supplies committee.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Our Beloved Country is now engaged in a gigantic war, unprovoked by it, with nations which would destroy the liberty of mankind and reduce men of all nations to a state of virtual slavery; and

WHEREAS, almost immediately after the adoption of the Constitution of the United States there were adopted ten amendments to that Constitution, which amendments enunciated rights that are inviolable, and secure the blessings of liberty to the people of our Country and have been known ever since as the American Bill of Rights; and

WHEREAS, December 15th, 1941, has been designated by the Congress of the United States as Bill of Rights Day and the President of the United States has so proclaimed;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, W. C. HILL, as Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, do hereby request the people of the City of Sanford to observe December 15, 1941, as Bill of Rights Day and urge their attention to the principles of liberty and justice in said Bill of Rights contained, and to offer a prayer to Almighty God that said rights may be preserved and our Country prosper.

WILLIAM C. HILL, Mayor of Sanford, Florida.

Gardening Should Not Be Abandoned, Says Club's Head

Pointing out that at a time like this it behooves everyone to have some hobby in which he is interested and to enjoy it as long as he is able until something better comes along for him to do, Tom Bolt, president of the Seminole Botanical Society, told the members meeting in the City Hall last night, that their interest in gardens and plans for the coming winter should not be abandoned because of the war.

If the time comes when they want to dig up our camellias and plant squash and cabbages to feed the people of this country," he said, "I am sure every member of this club will be glad to do it. But until we are given some job to do, we had better go right along with our plans for beautifying our gardens and finding recreation and relaxation by working out of doors."

President Bolt appointed Dr. H. H. McCaslin, L. E. Spencer and E. H. Bennett as a committee to arrange a program for the next meeting which will be held on the second Thursday in January.

A report on the constitution and by-laws was made by Ed Stowe, who submitted a copy of the constitution of the Orlando Men's Garden Club and suggested that it be adopted with such changes as were necessary to make it conform to the Sanford club's needs. This suggestion was adopted.
