

WOODCOCK IS OPTIMISTIC IN DRY LAW VIEW

Picture Of Prohibition Being Successfully Enforced Is Painted By Bureau Director

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A picture of prohibition successfully enforced was unfolded yesterday by Prohibition Director Woodcock before the representatives of a majority of the nation's dry organizations, meeting in executive session.

Coming before the National Association of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment after the dry leaders had approved his request for 500 additional agents, Woodcock commended the new non-poisonous alcohol demerit and urged the speeding of prohibition prosecutions. Woodcock answered questions for more than an hour.

"I told them," he said as he emerged, "that our efforts will be successful against the commercial violations of the national prohibitions through education."

"We propose to use the courts and the law against commercial violations and education for the non-commercial breaking of the law."

"Among the questions with which the dry advocates piled the prohibition director were those concerning actual enforcement measures in various parts of the country and the sale of grape concentrate toward the sale of grape concentrate."

SINCLAIR LEWIS AWARDED PRIZE FOR LITERATURE

Author Of "Babbitt" Is Presented Award By Ruler Of Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Sinclair Lewis, author of "Babbitt," was awarded the Nobel prize for literature.

With him in the auditorium of Stockholm's concert hall, bright with flowers and bedecked with flags and hanging rugs, three other leaders in their fields received the Nobel awards.

The prizes, including checks, were handed them by King Gustav V.

Facing the stage where sat the winners were the most notable men and women in Swedish national life, and on the left was a crescent-shaped group formed by members of the Swedish Nobel Institute.

The long, lanky Mississippian didn't appear all together at ease as he sat in the presence of people whose names he had never heard of.

15 Persons Held In Attempt On Life Of Chilean President

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 11.—(AP)—More than 15 persons, including two major generals, were held in connection with the plot against the life of President Carlos Ibanez which was thwarted Tuesday night by government agents.

The agents, familiar with details of the plan, permitted the plotters to go ahead and even watched dynamite under a railroad bridge across the Rio Mapocho, 8 miles from Santiago, a short time before the presidential train was due to pass.

Then the agents swooped down upon them, captured the plotters and disconnected the electric wire which were to have set off the charge.

The President, unmoved by the incident, went about his work in his usual fashion. The public reaction against the plotters, however, was severe and the press united in demanding the stiffest penalties. The names of those arrested were not made public but the government press bulletin described the group as a "number of high persons in conjunction with an anarchistic element."

The newspaper Dario Illustrado says one clue which led to the discovery of the assassination plan was the purchase in a Santiago hardware store of 1600 yards of electric wire. The purchase was considered so unusual that the police were informed and began watching those who had bought the wire.

Scheme Is Approved To Expedite Building

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Removal of restrictions on competitive bids and construction contracts to expedite the $400,000,000 federal building program today was approved by the House building committee.

The step was recommended by Assistant Secretary Noah, of the treasury, who said it would permit completion of the program by 1935 instead of 1938. The committee declined, however, to approve the provision authorizing the treasury secretary to select contracts in special cases without competition on payment in lump sum.

PROTOCOLS OF WORLD COURT GIVEN SENATE

Hoover Asks Consideration Just As Soon As Relief Legislation Gets Enacted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The protocols for American adherence to the World Court were presented to the Senate yesterday by President Hoover.

Friend and foe in the Senate immediately expressed the view that there was little hope for consideration at this session and Senator Wats of Indiana, the Republican leader, proposed that it be put into completely legislative session in the spring.

The subject reached the Senate in the midst of a letter speech against Mr. Hoover for his criticism of those seeking relief legislation above that recommended by him and as it went to the foreign relations committee the ranking Republican of that organization, Senator Johnson of California, denounced the injection of the issue at this time.

Chairman Booth of the foreign relations committee announced he would call it up at the next regular meeting a week from yesterday. He believed the committee would report the question to the Senate shortly after the holidays.

Mr. Hoover took the opportunity in his message to the Senate to endorse the revised protocols, which were modified to meet one of the Senate's reservations which never was accepted by the other powers.

The provisions of the protocols were from any amendment in the diploma of ratification," he said. "We cannot be summoned before this court, we can come from time to time to our own country, by agreement with the nations. These protocols permit our withdrawal from the court at any time without reprisal or ill will."

Senator Johnson in a statement later asked "what kind of a court is this that can be called by the President?"

"If ever we have the misfortune to join," he continued, "an unratified withdrawal would be met by such an avalanche of abuse, insult and such a storm of criticism from our internationalists at home that withdrawal would be well nigh impossible."

"This thing has been accomplished by signing at this particular time the League of Nations court in the Senate. Some people may be distracted by it and public attention may be diverted from our pressing domestic problems and our lack of leadership in solving them. We have unfortunately in this country some whose thoughts are ever abroad, whose hearts thrill with sympathy for the distress of other nations, and who are blind to the suffering of our own people."

Johnson said he was opposed to giving the "slightest heed" to the court at this session. Senator (Continued On Page Four)

VICKERY'S TRIAL IS BEGUN TODAY IN CIRCUIT COURT

Jury Is Selected And Two State Witnesses Are Put On Stand

J. M. Vickery, former Sanford policeman who pleaded guilty to a indictment of murder in the first degree in connection with the fatal shooting of Sam W. Hall, his son-in-law, went on trial for his life this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and the Herald went to press two of the State witnesses had been on the stand.

The case, which drew a large crowd of spectators to the courtroom where Judge Wallace W. Wright of the 2nd Judicial circuit is presiding, is the first of two murder cases which remain to be heard before the criminal court docket is closed for the regular fall term. It is expected that it will be decided by Saturday, Monday morning, another murder case will come before the court when Roy White and Percy Brown must answer to having fatally stabbed W. T. Blunt, a resident of Oklawaha.

Over two hours' time was required this morning in the selection of a jury of 12 men and 12 women were questioned before both the state and the defense were ready to begin trial. Just before the selection jurors began Vickery's attorney filed a plea to quash the indictment because it is not and insufficient for the following reasons: The indictment charges no offense against the laws of the State and the indictment is vague and uncertain. The motion was made a matter of record, Vickery was then arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Permission Asked To Increase Size Of Parcel Post Boxes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The Post Office Department yesterday asked the consent of the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase the size of packages to be handled by parcel post and to its additional postage rates to care for handling of the larger packages.

The department also proposed to increase the limit for single parcel to 10 pounds.

"It having been found after experience that the existing parcel rates are inequitable," Postmaster General Brown wrote the commission, "that they do not produce sufficient revenue to pay the cost of handling and transportation and that the weight limits to the more distant zones are such as to prevent the shipment of articles desirable to induce their recommendations and apply to the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The House yesterday passed a bill providing a 14-hour week for seasonal postal employees.

The bill sent to the Senate yesterday is a Saturday half holiday for post office employees. Provision is made that if service requires employment on Saturday afternoon, the employee shall be given 100 per cent pay for the following week.

Cost of the legislation is variously estimated at $2,000,000 a year upward.

Einstein Arrives In New York With Message Of Peace

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein, father of the scientific theory so complex that few human beings understand it, landed today and gave to the American people by radio, a simple and forceful message pleading for an end to military armaments from the drawing room of the liner Belgenland.

"I speak in German. Kill the number of military armaments. Your political and economic position today is such that you can entirely destroy military armaments whenever you so wish and to do so. Your country through the peace and labor had reached a preeminent position in the world. Through your free government you have not liberty above the power of any tyranny."

The address was translated by his wife to a hundred reporters and cameramen who met the scientist and he posed with them in his native tongue causing many a good camera shot to be missed because the cameramen laughed just as capturing the picture.

Heavy Fog Blankets Portions Of England

LONDON, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Shipping in the English Channel moved at a snail's pace when it moved at all last night, sending the floating of aires through the thickest, coldest fog for this part of the county has experienced this year.

All air service was cancelled. The port of Hull was freezing as well as fog ridden and the fleet of trawlers lay outside not daring to come up the channel.

CITY AND BOND MEN AGREE ON DELAY OF WRIT

Keefe Optimistic Over Outcome Of Meet And Hopes For Early Solution Of Trouble

An impenetrable veil of secrecy today guarded the outcome of the negotiations, between the City Commissioners and the representatives of the Sanford bondholders, which were entered into yesterday afternoon in executive session at the City Hall. The meeting was in session from 1:30 o'clock until 4:30, but nothing could be learned from the Commissioners whether anything had been accomplished.

That an extension of time for compliance with the writ of mandamus had been agreed upon, was learned, however, from Kenneth Keefe, one of the members of the Bondholders Protective Committee, who shortly after the meeting made the following statement for publication:

"I consider the meeting a most satisfactory one, and I believe that something will result which will be to our mutual advantage. The Bondholders Protective Committee has agreed to a thirty day extension of time for compliance with the writ of mandamus, and our attorneys have been ordered to draw up the necessary papers in the matter."

"The City's suggestion as to setting the writ of mandamus is to be delayed to allow us to consult together with other members of our committee."

"You can be sure that the bondholders' committee is anxious and willing to come to some settlement."

Fresh Riots Break Out Again In Cuba Resulting In Death

HAVANA, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Fresh rioting between students and police was reported to have broken out in several parts of Cuba yesterday, resulting in the death of one youth and the wounding of an undetermined number.

The newspaper El Pais reported reports last night that Felix Beltrán, president of the Students' Union, had been killed and six others were injured in a clash at that hour.

The fighting developed as the police were taking to young men, arrested Tuesday night, to a railway station for transportation to Havana.

El Pais also reported several students wounded in a clash between youths, involved at the University normal school and the central guard, a branch of the army.

Another battle occurred at the central terminal here last night when police were unloading several students arrested in the interior, to police trucks for transport to Havana jails.

Some apprehension was felt that Havana would see further disturbances and reserves of police were ordered stationed at product stations.

TER START OF MIDIRON SEASON DELAYED BY TIGERT

Suggested Aid to Southern Teams Because Of Climate

CHAPMANVILLE, Dec. 10.—(AP) An amendment to the by-laws of the Southern conference, which would permit institutions to begin their football schedules at a convenient time after the opening of school, and to continue 10 consecutive weeks will be proposed by J. Tigert, president of the conference, he said here yesterday.

Tigert's proposal would be for the benefit of Southern schools which under existing conditions must play some of their games in September and October under conditions, he believes, are unfavorable. The proposed amendment would allow the football season to be started at 10 games played with a minimum number of consecutive games during any part of the calendar year. No member of the conference shall engage in any intercollegiate football games after the close of its regular schedule without the consent of the conference.

Tigert contends the football season now ends the first Saturday in December and was established as the result of climatic conditions prevailing in the north.

ATLANTA, Dec. 10.—(AP) The violation of conference rules by a charge against Tennessee, recently settled, indicates a probable change in the by-laws will furnish the main discussion at the meetings of the Southern conference and the Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The conference meets at Chapel Hill, N. C., Friday and Saturday morning, a coaches' conference on Thursday, while the S. I. A. A. officials assemble at Memphis Monday and Tuesday. B. Finkhouser, Lexington conference secretary, said today that the executive committee voted to refer the charge against Tennessee for early football practice to the university officials for action. Finkhouser said the charge was submitted by Coach Robert McWhorter of Tennessee, at the conference here in September when Tennessee was ordered to show cause at the conference December meeting why the university should not be suspended.

Answers to a questionnaire, regarding subsidizing of athletes, were received at the Association today by Dr. J. W. Provine, of Mississippi college, president of the S. I. A. A., said that unless information results in revising the by-laws or a statement of conclusions, the data will not be made public. Dr. Provine termed the answers "very interestingly confidential."

The Mississippi State Teachers' Association and the Murray (Ky.) Teachers are expected to make application for membership in the S. I. A. A.

Both conferences probably will consider a proposal for a central governing agency for football officials in the various games. Another much discussed proposal, always calling for discussion in hotel lobbies, but rarely in the conference floors, is subsidizing of the groups into intercollegiate units, the S. I. A. A., with intercollegiate playing members, and the conference with 23, are both in connection with teams from Louisiana. Prominent members have expressed the opinion this matter will not come up at the two assemblies this year.

The annual election of officers, location of sites and dates for basketball tournaments, track and other athletic events, and arranging of football games for next year are listed. Indications are that several coaches' conferences following the completion of their contracts, may be held with new schools new year.

WEST POINT AND NAVY WORK HARD FOR BIG MEETING

Army To Be Handicapped By Injuries In Contest Saturday

WEST POINT, N. Y., Dec. 10.—(AP) With the entire corps of Cadets and an improvised band along the sidelines, the Army football squad went through one of the hardest scrimmages of the season yesterday in preparation for Saturday's charity game against the Navy.

Plébos put on Naval plays with considerable success. Johnson, Blue back, repeatedly bored through the line for substantial gains. On the attack, the Army again experimented with the same line formation, which was first tried by Lettner and then by Sebastian. Both these players were unavailable for the Navy game and Basse next Frenzel and Gilley in the position. A new formation made its appearance on the field in the drill. Coaches said it had been designed for use against Notre Dame but weather conditions prevented its use. They said it will be effective Saturday.

Ed Messinger, right end, joined the injured list with a shoulder injury. Trainer Wayne Huxek expects to have him in condition by Saturday.

At the close of yesterday's drill, Coach Spivey said, "The Army will meet its full strength Saturday, but will not have it. We will go into the game more seriously handicapped by injuries than any other game this season."

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Dec. 10.—(AP) "Navy Bill" Ingram, who gained his name through five years of coaching football at the Naval Academy, professes not to be carrying a great deal about the charity game with the Army at New York on Saturday.

"It's just another game, and we are preparing as we would for any other team," he said after a strenuous afternoon with his charges, "we'll give 'em a battle." Nevertheless, the Naval Academy is making preparations in far from "another game" spirit. Four teams were on the field yesterday, and they went through a scrimmage to the accompaniment of cheers from the midshipmen grouped in the stands to music from the band.

Ingram put his first string men through a skeleton scrimmage, using nothing but tackles and runs against them in an attempt to smooth their blocking for the plays to be sprung against the Army style of offense.

Ingram is planning to use his best backfield to start the game, with Baugh at quarterback, L. O. Kirt and Johnny Cannon at the halves and Owen Hagerst at fullback. If that combination he used yesterday, and alternated it with another having Rusty Williams at quarter, Joe Teschert and Tommy Hurley at the halves and Jack Campbell at fullback.

Mail Order Houses In North Are Said To Be Preying Upon Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 10.—(AP) Governor Carlton yesterday received warning from Finley Perkins, industrial commissioner for New York state, that "fly by night" mail order houses in New York city are preying on the poorer classes of Florida.

The governor was asked to enjoin residents against answering advertisements offering to supply household goods, and others with "home work which will pay" but asking a small deposit to insure the company in sending materials for sewing at home.

The New York commission warned that the deposits amount to large sums within a few weeks, the firms go out of business and the victims never hear from them again.

Tomorrow morning the first of two alleged murder cases will be tried when J. M. Vickery, indicted for murder in the first degree will plead his case. Vickery is charged with "having unlawfully and feloniously killed the said Sam W. Beal by shooting him with a pistol."

The shooting occurred early in the morning of Nov. 12, at a cigar factory on the corner of Sanford Avenue and Eighth Street where a party in celebration of Armistice Day was in progress. Beal, a son-in-law of Vickery's, was a member of the group, and was said to have, according to Vickery, engaged in an argument with him which resulted in the killing. Vickery claims that during the tussle and ensuing fight he was thrown to the floor by Beal whom he claimed was trying to take his Vickery's gun from his pocket. Vickery said that he was using his best efforts to keep Beal from securing the gun when suddenly it went off, the load entering Beal's right chest, and coming out at the back of the head. Beal was rushed to the Fernald-Laughton Hospital where he lived for about six hours in an unconscious state. Vickery gave himself up upon the arrival of Sheriff J. E. McClelland. For the past two weeks he has been out on bond.

Rule Violation Of Vols Is Condemned By School Itself

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 10.—(AP) Assembling of freshmen football candidates before the opening of school last September, a violation of Southern conference rules, was condemned by the University of Tennessee yesterday through its athletic council.

By doing so, requirements of the executive committee of the conference were met, and university officials consider the matter dropped. In a statement issued through Professor N. W. Dougherty, athletic director, the university said "The act was without the knowledge or consent of the university."

The statement given out read in part: "The University of Tennessee humiliated itself, through its representatives, the good name of the Southern conference is involved and we express our deep regret to the other members of the conference that such violation took place at this institution."

"We assure the executive committee and the conference that we will do everything in our power to meet the obligation of the conference in the future."

Professor Dougherty called attention to a letter sent out by the executive committee to Southern conference members, the last paragraph which reads: "The matter, therefore, is hereby dropped by the executive committee and referred back to the University of Tennessee and considered closed except for such action as the University itself has indicated it may take."

Asheville's Troubles

Bank failures in Asheville have brought to the attention of the public a situation not so very different from that which once existed in Sanford.

The casual reader wonders why a bank failure should call for the resignation of a city administration, says the Tampa Tribune.

No matter what other steps may be taken to save the city, the Citizen says the government of the city and county must be absolutely non-political and of unimpeachable integrity and competency.

But, nevertheless, declares the Citizen: 'As public officials they have destroyed themselves. They have plunged the community headlong towards destruction.'

'The city officials of Asheville will be men of adamant if they can withstand the demands of the public that they resign.'

In The Wing Of A Plane

Such rapid strides have been made in aviation during the past three years that one hesitates to consider what the next ten years may bring forth.

As we write this we are looking at a photograph of a new Junkers' model, called the G-38, and said to be something of a sister ship for the DO-X.

But the remarkable feature of the G-38, and the feature which is attracting the most attention since it is something entirely new, is the fact that for the first time the wings of an airplane are being used for something besides lift.

If this type of plane proves practical, and the test flights of over six thousand miles seem to indicate that it will, the efficiency of the airplane will have been materially increased.

The time may reasonably come when airplanes, like the greyhounds of the sea, will boast swimming pools, dance halls and libraries.

THERE IS LITTLE doubt that Florida today faces the greatest period of business activity she ever has experienced. From an economic point of view the state has every reason to prosper.

PATROLLING IN THE AIR... The New York Police Department registered a novelty in crime detection this week when it attempted to trail a homing pigeon in a police airplane and track down a gang of kidnapers to their lair.

WORLD'S WINDOW

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

After eighteen months' absence Fedor Chulapin returned to Paris from South America the other day. Had he seen anything of all those little revolutions in that part of the world?

But I don't want to run them down... They'll learn. They gave me a magnificent reception, anyway. And what now? I came to Paris and by chance I got linked up with the Russian Opera.

The time has come for a great wrong to be righted—for Oliver Cromwell, the greatest Englishman who ever steered the ship of state, to be given a national burial in Westminster Abbey.

CAPTAIN—And if you don't catch any moths red-handed while they're drilling holes, pull 'em in on suspicion anyway.

AVIATOR COP—Okay, Cap. (The police plane roars down the runway, off on its dangerous mission.)

CAPTAIN—Now, Sergt. Doob, you better strap on your parachute, because I got a tough assignment for you.

REURANT—Yes, sir. What is it?

CAPTAIN—Over in South Brooklyn a gang of tough moths have been drilling holes in people's clothes. They've been doing it right under the nose of the police.

REURANT—Don't worry, captain. We'll break 'em up.

CAPTAIN—You better! The commissioner's particularly anxious to eliminate these moths from the whole precinct, so as after

Illustrated Songs Creating Interest

The illustrated songs that are being rendered each night at the revival at the Christian Church are creating a great deal of interest. Last night Mrs. Minges sang "Abide With Me" which was illustrated with 10 very beautifully colored pictures. The hymn, "Let The Lower Lights Be Burning" will be sung and illustrated tonight. Last night Evangelist Minges spoke on "Christian Union."

He selected as his text from the Seventeenth Chapter of John. He declared the division of the Protestant churches to be the greatest weakness within their ranks, and said that if all were one this world could be evangelized within 10 years. He stated that Christians were being saved more rapidly today than ever before and that each year the Lord's Prayer, as found in John 17, is more fulfilled than the year before.

One place where Christian Union could be brought about and that was on the New Testament alone. Tonight Mrs. Minges will speak on "Jesus In The Mist."

Mrs. Lee Entertains For Sans Souci Club

Complimenting the members of the Sans Souci Club, Mrs. A. W. Lee Jr. entertained with a bridge party Wednesday afternoon at her home, 2416 Laurel Avenue. Throughout the afternoon the guests enjoyed progressions of bridge and late in the evening scores were added. High score prize, decorated red candles, went to Mrs. G. Emmett McCall.

Adorning the rooms where the guests were entertained was a profusion of gladioli and cypress thymus, accentuating a high-bred color motif. At the tea hour a salad and sweet course was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Edmund McCall. Those present were: Mrs. Charles E. Park, Mrs. Edmund McCall, Mrs. J. Linton E. Allen, Mrs. R. G. Fox, Mrs. Emmett McCall, Mrs. Lee Conley, Mrs. Clyde Boyd and Mrs. R. L. Baggett.

Also present were: Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. B. D. Caswell, Mrs. W. C. Hill and Mrs. W. A. Adams.

Of the latter Woodcock said the question hinged upon "intent" in violation, and that if this was proved against grape concentrate manufacturers they would be prosecuted.

Almost immediately upon hearing of the announcement of Dr. James M. Moran, commissioner of industrial alcohol, that a new non-poisonous alcohol denaturant has been discovered known as "alcolate," which he said "leaves a taste and smell about the same as spoiled eggs and garlic," the denaturant was immediately being used.

The conference emphasizes again that prohibition carries with it no mandate to drink and even if the new denaturant has all the effects of a sea voyage it is taken on at the option of the drinker. Earlier Dr. Moran had explained "alcolate" was made from California and Mexican petroleum, and that orders would be issued in about three weeks to put it into use.

Among the resolutions adopted by the conference was one condemning any proposal to change the Eighteenth Amendment or to hold a referendum upon it. The dry leaders endorsed all the prohibition bills touching upon prohibition enforcement, and asked that the two $10,000 requests for general alcohol and narcotic bureaus be returned. In addition they endorsed "the enactment of the series of bills recommended by the President on Jan. 13, 1930, for the expeditious trial of cases."

"Madam Satan" Holds Thrills For Throughs Seeing It At Milane

A clever but simple story, embellished by a thrilling masked ball aboard a repellent, and the long string of sparkling tunes, and several novel ballet numbers, make Cecil B. De Mille's "Madam Satan," which opened last night at the Milane Theatre, an attraction of wide entertainment merit. De Mille, author Jeanie MacArthur and dialogists Gladys Unger and Elsie Jani, have created a delectable talkie novelty out of the always popular situation of a husband falling in love with his wife.

There is much that is reminiscent of the old De Mille dramas in the early part of "Madam Satan," when Reginald Denny and Kay Johnson quarrel because Mrs. Johnson is a "too-perfect wife." But the wife learns that men aren't kept at home by household efficiency, and she begins to fight for her love with the same weapons the "fascious Lilian" has used to snare the handsome Mr. Denny. And then, lo and behold, at a gorgeous masked ball on a requiem given by the always amusing Roland Young, the exotic, voluptuous "Madam Satan" appears!

It is just at the denouement of this situation that a storm pulls the Zep from its mooring mast, and the "Henry the Eighth," "Rescue," "The Spirit of Innocent Prude," and hundreds of other guests from the end of the staff to a shelter. Their departure from the Zep via parachutes comes under the head of a thrill that is both pictorial and new.

Long Anticipated Jazz Opera Opens In Chicago Theater

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—(AP)—The long-anticipated "jazz opera" written by the young Chicagoan, Hamilton Brown, was presented in its world premiere last night by the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

Mary Garden's first appearance of the season in the title role of the revolutionary character of work aroused an interest that approached excitement.

The title role of "Camille" was played by the young Chicagoan, Hamilton Brown, who has been enthusiastic ever since he started writing "Camille," and the opera was so original, the dramatic effect so intense, the jazz innovations so important in their possible influence on American music that the "jump at the chance" to sing the leading role.

Her protégé hoped "Camille" would be a forerunner of a series of "truly American operas."

"Good jazz," said Forrest, "can be the highest type of music. It is our American creation."

Charles Hackett played opposite Miss Garden as Armand.

Hints were all, however, the scene was carefully guarded and no details of the altered plot or the stagecraft were revealed.

255—Liquidator Files His Ouster Writ Answer

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 11.—(AP)—J. H. Therrell, liquidator for the closed bank of Bay Biscayne at Miami, yesterday filed with the supreme court his answer to a quo warranto writ issued against him recently on application of Attorney General Davis.

The attorney general contended Therrell had no right to act as liquidator for the bank, since his appointment by Comptroller Amos had never been confirmed by the court of the proper jurisdiction.

In his answer the liquidator contended he was legally entitled to the position. The attorney general filed a motion for a judgment of ouster notwithstanding claims in Therrell's answer.

The supreme court took the matter under advisement.
