Australia, Canada Urge Occupation Of All Korea By UN

Indian Delegate Demands "Cease Fire" Immediately But Opposes Crossing

By TOM OCHILTREE
LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 3—(AP)—Australia called today for the occupation of all Korea by United Nations forces, but India expressed grave doubts about the wisdom of such a course.

India's Sir Benegal N. Rau expressed opposition to an American-sponsored eight-nation resolution (which he said) authorizes by implication the crossing of the 38th Parallel and the indefinite occupation of North Korea.

Australian Foreign Minister Percy C. Spender asked for the complete destruction of the North Korean army as a fighting force to prevent a new aggression in that country. The Indian and Australian views were expressed before the General Assembly's political committee which is debating proposals for pacification and unification of Korea.

In a defense of the crossing by South Korean forces of the 38th Parallel, Spender said:

"It would be useless if North Korean forces were allowed to remain ready again to threaten (continued on page 5)

Parking Of Trucks In City Advocated By Legion Post 53

Sanford Post 53 of the American Legion reacted strongly last night against an unassigned parking area for trucks in the downtown area.

After a hearing, Commander Karlisle requested the members expressed the opinion that in view of the money spent here by truck drivers, the City should furnish a parking space for the downtown, a place not too far from hotels, restaurants and stores.

Dishonorable periodicals were roundly condemned, and Judge Douglas Stranstrom showed a copy of such a paper, "The Daily Worker".

Adopting Jim Singletary exhibited a copy of a periodical, "Awake", that criticized the American Legion and its activities.

Four new members were admitted to membership: O. H. Carroll, merchant; Allen Q. Dawn, barber; George Woodhouse and Aubrey Davis Dewey, truck drivers and Bill Baker, mechanic.

Damage Suit Over Dogs' Love Life Ends

CHICAGO, Oct. 3—(AP)—A $5,000 damage suit stemming from the alleged romance between Skipper, a mongrel, and Snow Queen, a blonde aristocrat of dogdom, was wiped off the circuit court records yesterday.

Skipper's owner, E. W. Nolden, paid $100 damages to Snow Queen's owner, Lowell E. Brierly. But there was one argument by their attorneys before Judge Leonard C. Reid, who wanted to throw the case out of court.

Brierly charged Skipper became the father of a black puppy born to Snow Queen, a Belgian Schipperke, and she never has been the same. He also charged the situation had frustrated his plan to start a new breed of dogs.

"With 1,000 law cases pending," Judge Reid told the attorneys, "the court is called upon to hear the case of a pedigree dog by a mongrel. It is the silliest case in my recollection. I won't permit you to take time of the court. This case is dismissed."

But the arguments continued. Both sides wanted to settle. They returned to Reid, who had a change of heart. He changed his order to read that he assigned the situation had frustrated his plan to start a new breed of dogs.

By Nolden to Brierly.

ENEMY OF HUMANITY

MOSCOW, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Literary Gazette today included Henry A. Wallace on its list of "enemies of humanity" and called the former leader of the American Progressive Party a "political business man."

Wallace was condemned by the newspaper along with a whole list of names in a "Special Review" which included American authors John Dos Passos, as "Truman lackeys."

Austin Charges Russians With Playing Hoax With Atom Plan

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 3—(AP)—Warren R. Austin says the Russians "tried to play a tragic hoax on the peace-loving people of the world with a phony plan for atomic energy control."

Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, made the charge last night as one of three speakers at dinners marking a University of Michigan project to harness atomic energy for peace.

The other two were Gordon Dean, chairman of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, and General Dwight D. Eisenhower, president of Columbia University.

The speeches saluted the start of a drive to raise $6,500,000 for the university's war memorial "Phoenix Project." It is so named for the Phoenix bird of mythology which rose from its own ashes.

Dean, speaking at Ann Arbor, said that privately financed research in unclassified fields is basic to "any program in atomic development."

General Eisenhower, talking at State College, Pa., said "A nation relying on guns alone for its defense would soon become a corpse in armor."

Austin spoke in New York

Burden Of Civil Defense Placed Upon Heads Of States And Cities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The federal government is taking it to its view that states and localities must shoulder the main responsibility for civil defense against possible enemy attack.

This is being made clear in a conference state defense authorities are having with James J. Wadsworth, acting director of the National Security Resources Board (NSRB).

Many state officials have protested that the federal government is not taking an active enough role in civil defense planning and furnishing of emergency supplies and warning devices.

Wadsworth told civilian defense officials from western states yesterday:

"You cannot rely upon the federal government to provide you with all the tools you need to build an adequate civil defense structure. That leaves a grave responsibility in your hands."

"The federal government will help you to the limit of its capabilities," he said.

Air Force Says Price Rises Hit Plane Production

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Air Force said today that due to price rises it will have to cut its expansion program by the equivalent of 750 F-86 fighter planes or else get more money from Congress.

John McCone, undersecretary of air, gave that estimate to the House Armed Services Committee, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) yesterday.

Orlando Pitcher Is Hurt In Accident

Edwin Franklin Brooker, 20, of Lake Mary, star pitcher for the Orlando Senators, received a cut on the right wrist and bruises when in attempting to avert a head-on collision between an automobile which had passed him, and an oncoming automobile, he swerved his 1941 Chevrolet convertible to the extreme right and it turned over nine miles south of Sanford on the Orlando Highway at 10:30 o'clock last night.

According to Highway Patrolman R. D. Harrison, who investigated the accident, neither of the cars was damaged, and the drivers failed to stop to aid Brooker. Milton Helms of Longwood, a passenger in the Chevrolet, had cuts on the forearms and abrasions. Damage to the automobile was estimated at $650.

Australian Currency Tokeman Unchanged

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 3—(AP)—Australia's currency was reported to have decided today not to follow Canada's lead in changing the value of her currency.

Correspondents in Canberra, the capital, said the cabinet agreed not to appreciate the Australian pound from its present pegged value of $24.

The reports could be correct. But some sources say government quarters might have given such reports to newsmen to halt a stream of "hot" money flowing into the country from speculators abroad.

Former Boston Mayor John Fitzgerald Dies

BOSTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Former Boston Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, a Democratic leader for more than half a century, died last night in his Hotel Bellevue suite. He was 87 years old.

He was the father-in-law of Joseph P. Kennedy, former ambassador to the court of St. James, and grandfather of Congressman John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

Fitzgerald served three terms in Congress from 1895 to 1901. He held various city and state posts during his long political career. He served two terms as mayor.

WRONG PUNN

RICHMOND, Calif., Oct. 3—(AP)—Cicero Wilkinson was delighted with the punning sound as he started his automobile engine yesterday.

A block later, the punn had changed to furious cries.

Under the hood, (dancing on the hot engine block, he found a cat and three kittens.

Allied Patrols Stab Fifty Miles Over 38; Planes Bomb Column

Southbound Traffic From Manchuria To Red Korean Capital Is Said Destroyed

TOKYO, Oct. 3—(AP)—A Far East Air Force (FEAF) spokesman said Allied planes pounded heavy southbound traffic columns today on the highway leading from the Manchuria border of Communist China to the Korean Red capital of Pyongyang.

The air officer did not specify the nature of the traffic or where it originated. He said FEAF pilots reported it was moving toward the Red Korean capital on the road from Antung across the Yalu River border in Red China.

Antung is 100 or more miles west of Pyongyang but the road mileage is considerably longer. The spokesman said the northernmost attack line by the Allied planes was 30 miles south of the Manchuria border.

The South Korean penetration army commander conferred urgently with two top U.S. generals in Seoul today to discuss the strike south of the Parallel 38 border on Korea's east coast, to meet him.

Pilots making the strike along the international highway to the North Korean capital of Pyongyang reported they destroyed 36 trucks and five other vehicles. They claimed damage on 12 other trucks and a dozen other vehicles.

The increased traffic on the road from Antung, Manchuria, to Pyongyang was first noted at 5:30 P.M. Monday (4:30 A.M. EDT), an Air Force spokesman said.

At midnight, 420 northbound planes failed to find any trace of the vehicle columns.

Further patrols were sent to the area shortly after dawn Tuesday. The first flight failed to sight any traffic.

The air spokesman said 25 of the 50 trucks reported destroyed (Continued on page 5)

Rhee Thinks ROK Units Crossed 38 Without Orders

SEOUL, Oct. 3—(AP)—President Syngman Rhee of the Korean Republic expressed a belief today that his South Korean troops crossed into northern Korean territory without orders from the Allied U. S. Eighth Army.

The 73-year-old chief executive found back in an easy chair behind his desk in the presidential mansion. He looked out of a paneled window across a yellow lawn to grapes turning violet in the crisp autumn weather.

"I think if they have gone over (the Red boundary at Parallel 38) they have gone over without orders from the Eighth Army," he said. "But I don't believe the Eighth Army will force them to come back."

He added, "I think at least the worst is over. But one most urgent need now is housing. Some whole villages have been destroyed."

He sighed and looked through a window at the city.

Plans Completed For Visit Here Of George Smathers

Sanford and Seminole County prepared to give an outstanding welcome today to Rep. George Smathers, who has not appeared here since the rainy day, April 18, when he spoke to a large downtown gathering in behalf of his candidacy for the U.S. Senate in the Democratic primary in opposition to Senator Claude Pepper.

Rep. Smathers was scheduled to arrive here at 2:30 o'clock from Deland, one of the Florida cities that he has been visiting in his "thank you tour" through the state.

He was to be greeted first at the Kirk Motors Co. on Sanford Avenue by his old school friend Bill Kirk, head of the local Smathers Committee, who introduced him when he spoke here.

Prior to the reception, scheduled to start at 4:30 o'clock at the Tourist Center, Mr. Smathers was to visit Florida Fashion at the Municipal Airport where he was to be greeted by company officials including George Tully, public relations manager, and on a tour of the buildings, and make a short talk to employees.

Turn To Seaward Is Forecast For Storm

MIAMI, Oct. 3—(AP)—The small but severe Atlantic hurricane moved slowly in the direction of Cape Hatteras today but is expected to begin a seaward turn before striking land.

The 100-mile wide spinning storm, seventh hurricane of the season, 175 miles to the east-northeast, and if predictions hold the winds will bypass Cape Hatteras, 490 miles west-northwest of the center. Jacksonville is 840 miles west-southwest of the center.

TEXAS CAPTAIN WITH ROK FORCES IS FIRST G.I. TO CROSS 38th PARALLEL

By HAL BOYLE
WITH ROK FORCES IN RED KOREA—(AP)—A tall young Texan had the honor of being the first American to cross into Red North Korea with troops from the Republic of Korea (ROK).

Capt. William R. Williams of Texarkana, Tex., drove over the Parallel 38 border Sunday night behind the leading ROK soldiers.

The jeep flew two flags—those of the Republic and of Nationalist China.

And the Captain apologizes to Texas for not having a Lone Star State flag along.

"They're a little hard to find this far north," he said.

Williams explained that one of his South Korean bodyguards had picked up the Chinese Nationalist flag and hoisted it on the jeep.

Williams is an American advisory officer with Lt. Col. Kim Jung Sun, commander of a regiment of the Third ROK Division that led the march across the frontier into the enemy's country.

The regiment stopped Saturday night at Chamunjin. This is a small port on the Sea of Japan

Main Force Reaches Kansong, 30 Miles North Of Line Without Much Opposition

By HAL BOYLE
WITH SOUTH KOREAN TROOPS IN RED KOREA, Oct. 3—(AP)—Forward elements of the advancing South Korean army stabilized to 30 miles inside Red Korea today.

The main South Korean force, moving ahead almost unopposed, pushed into Kansong by midday. Kansong is 30 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

Patrols stabilized ahead in Kansong, 40 miles north of Parallel 38.

The South Koreans had Allied air support on a steadily advancing front line and steadily naval air support along their east coast shore.

Cash Income From Farm Produce And Livestock Goes Up

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—(AP)—Florida was one of three states in which cash income from farm products, livestock and livestock products showed a gain during the first seven months of this year.

An Agriculture Department report shows the returns were up slightly more than one-half of one percent in the state. For the nation as a whole, the farm receipts were down 0.9 percent from the similar period last year.

The department said these probably would be a rise shown for the nation's farmers in the nine-month period which ended Sept. 30 to put the receipts within about four percent of those for the similar 1949 year.

Communist School Changes Its System

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—From now on, pupils at the Communist Party's Jefferson School of Social Science will be anonymous.

Instead of filling out detailed personal cards and answering classroom calls, they simply will look at tests in classroom admissions.

The school is the principal training center for Communists and Communist sympathizers in this area. The action followed by 10 days the passage of the new subversive control act by Congress.

The change was announced in the Body Worker, official Communist newspaper, by Mrs. Rosalind Berry, school registrar.

AUSTRIAN STRIKE

VIENNA, Oct. 3—(AP)—Austria's government rejected today a Communist strike ultimatum and armed Vienna police in anticipation of possible disorders. The Communists set midnight as the deadline.

The Communists also issued a proclamation asking full support of all workers for a general walk-out and demonstrations tomorrow. The government calls to meet its demands for increased wages. The threatened strike call affects at least 50,000 workers in the Russian-administered plants in and near Vienna.

COUNTY BOARD

The Seminole County Commission will meet in regular monthly session Thursday morning at 10:00 o'clock, O. P. Herndon, county clerk, said this morning.

Senator Claude Pepper's old friend Drew Pearson, who has been called a liar by practically everyone who is anybody at all except Claude Pepper, turns on his old friend who succumbed to George Smathers' relentless attacks last Spring and reveals that he is now on an airplane junket of European countries in an Army Air Force plane at the very time when every plane the Army has is so urgently needed in the Far East. Far be it from us to call Drew Pearson a liar. Let his old friend Claude Pepper do that. And after Pearson also revealed that Pepper is flying around Europe in the company of Republican Senator Brewster of Maine, whom Pepper's special wire-tapping committee is right now supposed to be investigating, we expect he will. It takes a pretty good man in politics to remain loyal to his friend after he is defeated.

This is "National Employ the Handicapped Week". From Oct. 1 to Oct. 7 newspaper writers, public speakers and civic leaders in general will be busy pointing out to employers the wisdom, from an economic as well as a humanitarian point of view, of employing those who are in one way or another physically handicapped. We hope they don't forget it just as soon as this week is over. Pious speeches and fine phrases won't help the physically handicapped. We have been making it a practice for some time to give employment to those who are physically handicapped wherever and whenever we happened to have a suitable opening because we found it good business to do so. It's the ability of the man that counts, and not his disability. And we have found that a little of the latter often tends to strengthen the former.

Join the Navy and see the world. Join the Army and get a free education at the expense of Uncle Sam. Thus have many American boys been lured into the Army and Navy during the past five years while President Truman and Secretary Johnson issued and reissued soothing reassurances that peace had been secured and the nation was secure from any possible conflict. With these promises still ringing in their ears, these boys, many of them 17 and 18 years old, suddenly found themselves in a strange and hostile country, utterly unprepared, psychologically or from the standpoint of handling the equipment they were called upon to use, fighting a bloody and costly war, at first overwhelmed by sheer numbers and driven almost into the sea. That they were able to hold at all, that they were able to come back with a tremendous victory and fight for one of the greatest triumphs in our nation's history, is a credit to the courage and tenacity of the boys. Fighting men, and one of the most remarkable achievements in the military history of the United States.

The Saving Of Europe

In the days when United Nations forces in Korea were being pushed slowly backward toward the sea, reports from Europe told of a feeling of hopelessness sweeping over the continent. Europeans were staggered with dismay that American forces, to which they have looked as a shield against Russia, were unable to stem the onrushing Reds. Now that command of air and sea and superior strategy have proved their advantage over mere superior numbers on land, perhaps Europeans may enjoy a partial recovery from their attack of nerves.

The lesson should be plain, nevertheless, that the saving of Europe is up to the Europeans. The United States can help, and wants to help, but can't take over the job. The strength of a defense line across Europe depends largely on what the European nations are prepared to put into it.

Must Europe face the prospect that it would be overrun in a Communist assault, even as Korea was overrun? That is the probable outlook. If an assault should occur. In these days, it is not conceivable that a prepared line of defense can be made so strong that it can be neither broken nor outflanked. The military hope of Europe must rest on defense strong enough to make an aggressor's prospect of ultimate victory so small that his hand will be stayed. Can this hope be realized with bankruptcy?

If Europe can muster sufficient determination of its own behind a military effect, the need may become less. Hopelessness is an invitation to aggression, as much so as complacency. If Europe will plant its own feet more firmly, as a reaction to the events in Korea, the likelihood of a European counterpart of Korea can be materially lessened.

They Have Their Day

It's an old saying in the professional boxing game that up in the top class, the heavyweights, a man is champion only once. Joe Louis, the man who held the heavyweight title longer and defended it more times than any other, now had added his name to the list of those who have tested the adage and found it accurate. It is an illustrious list. James J. Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey, Max Schmeling, every one a man who made his own peculiar contribution to ring legend. Champions have their day, but only the one. They don't come back.

As for Ezzard Charles, he has clarified his previously disputed right to the heavyweight crown, at least in America. He looked so much better against Louis than in his other title fights, the thought is born that his chief need may have been for better competition. Facing the radio microphone, Charles said he hoped he can be as much of a credit to the title as the man who held it before him. We hope so, too.

Asylum For A Rebel

Does a leader of rebels, having been put to flight by the forces of government, become a political fugitive or a common criminal? This question is before the International Court of Justice in a dispute between Peru and Colombia. A Peruvian revolutionary, fleeing from police, took refuge in the Colombian embassy in Lima in January, 1949. He is still there.

The embassy would like to be rid of him, but does not want to turn him over to Peruvian police claiming he is a political refugee and entitled to asylum under international law. Peru refuses to allow the rebel to be removed from the country, calling him a common criminal. The finding in this interesting case might have a bearing on the American Communist problem.

Too Late To Classify

Anything that Florida can do to create good-will among her Latin neighbors to the South will prove very much worth while, for these rich and rapidly developing Pan American countries are not only good customers but as Republics are citizens of the Free World and lovers of Freedom.

This week a group of 60 distinguished agriculturists from the Republic of Colombia arrived in Miami by plane and are now touring Florida inspecting our agricultural areas. The tour was arranged by "Agricultural Tropical," the leading agricultural magazine of Colombia, published in Bogota. Leader of the group is Walter E. Salas, director of the magazine assisted by Luis Bernardo Ortiz, official of the United States Department of Agriculture are acting as hosts.

Following their arrival in Miami last week and the party has traveled over a good portion of our state visiting the rich truck growing areas of Homestead, the Sub-Tropical Experiment Station in Belle Glade and spending a day at Clewiston where they inspected the vast plantations and sugar mill of the United States Sugar Corporation. That night they were guests of the Convention Inn, famed as the smartest and finest small hotel in the South. Stopping at the Cattle Experiment Station at Ona, they gained some knowledge of Florida's development as a great cattle state.

Sweeping into the rich citrus section they were guests at the Lake Alfred and Winter Haven experiment stations. At Tampa they inspected our industrial plants, cigar factories, fertilizer plants and canneries. Moving on to Gainesville, they spent a day or so at the University of Florida and then moved into Georgia where they visited Tennessee, the Carolina and complete their tour in Washington, D. C.

Florida is the cross-roads of the Americas and it is gratifying to have our Latin neighbors visit and acquaint themselves with our methods and practices. Florida should reciprocate by arranging tours of Latin American countries for such good-will missions would do more than anything else to cement friendly relations and create good-will.

Two years ago, in a great of our country and my privilege to visit Cuba. Unfortunately, my stay was limited and I did not enjoy the privilege of visiting Bogota, the capital, but I had a great deal of the coastal area and was very much impressed with the country. It is beautiful and my stay there was most enjoyable.

THE NATION TODAY

By MAX HALL (For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Until recently, it was widely accepted that the population of the United States would reach its peak during the second half of the 20th century and then start slowly downward.

That conception has been jolted almost out of existence. Some experts now put the peak in the early 21st century. Others challenge the idea that we will necessarily reach a peak at any time. All are approaching the subject with new caution and humility.

The thing that did the jolting was the astonishing upsurge of the population during the last ten years. In the decade that started in 1940, the population grew by 14 per cent, not 7 per cent as had been expected.

One of the biggest surprises had to do with the birth rate. In most previous wars, the birth rate had gone down (the French-Russian war of 1870 was one exception). But in World War II, the birth rate soared.

War psychology may have helped. It is certainly most fascinating and naturally I would like to stay here long enough to really do some good for our people and for our country. Florida's Representatives have very little seniority in the House of Representatives. As a matter of fact there are at least fifty individual Members of Congress who have more seniority than all of the members of the Florida Delegation put together.

We use such address as you put on your letters or telegrams but occasionally some people neglect to give their complete address. If you haven't received an acknowledgment of your communication with our office we hope you will write us again giving your complete address so we may get in touch with you. Our office, having been returned by your post office, this situation exists only in those cities where city delivery service is in operation.

One of the biggest day-to-day jobs a member of Congress has is the seemingly simple task of handling correspondence. Of course we are delighted to hear from our people and want to answer every letter or telegram. As a matter of fact we do answer all of them, but lately a number of our replies to your letters and telegrams have been returned to us marked "insufficient address."

Professional students of population growth are not so conservative. It runs only to 1950 and has an unusually wide range of alternatives. Like the other figures, it gives three sets of figures—"high," "medium" and "low," based on different assumptions as to births, deaths, and immigration.

Now this all has to do with me and bears. And my resources for fighting bears is not great. But just taking into account one me and one bear and my sensitive nose piece, I'd certainly do my best to keep brain from conning with all the wiffling in the forest while I tried to reason myself out of the situation.

Reason in a deep forest more often turns out to be basic, or the reasoning one is not long an infant.

In the center of the group sat a big, unsmiling Russian in uniform.

Within four hours the RKAs had entered and taken Yangyang, the first North Korean town in their path. It lies five miles north of 38 and the Reds had honey-combed its streets with sandbags and ditches. But they didn't stick to these ditches long either.

"We took the town with just a few rounds of fire—and we didn't pick up any prisoners," said Williams. "There hasn't been my man surrender on this 'atch."

Williams praised the endurance of RKAs fox troops who have been advancing steadily for 15 days. Since jumping off from the Pong-hang port area Sept. 19 they have come about 275 miles. Williams said most of them made the journey on tundra, rail, and truck.

"One day they sent 30 miles," said Williams. "I never saw anything like it."

FIELD GOAL NOW!

Of Me And A Bear

Kuwanoo Keho

This may be a fable. But if a bear were after me, I think I'd either run or try to out fight him. And if it were a shrewd and greedy beast I think I'd not try to get his "schmoo" and appease it with gooey goods and produce that it would eat and then eat me. And if it were a more or less thinking bear and sent a shunk to deplore me, I'd think I was living through the largest fair tale I'd ever heard of, but if I had to endure the perfume I'd certainly try to modify the source.

Now this all has to do with me and bears. And my resources for fighting bears is not great. In the center of the group sat a big, unsmiling Russian in uniform.

Within four hours the RKAs had entered and taken Yangyang, the first North Korean town in their path. It lies five miles north of 38 and the Reds had honey-combed its streets with sandbags and ditches. But they didn't stick to these ditches long either.

"We took the town with just a few rounds of fire—and we didn't pick up any prisoners," said Williams. "There hasn't been my man surrender on this 'atch."

THE WORLD TODAY

By DeWitt MacKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Now that the Red invasion of South Korea has been smashed by U. N. Forces—principally those of America—just what does this costly operation mean to us? That is to say, why should the United States send its soldiers to the other side of the world to defend—and even die for—a people so strange to us? What reason have we to risk a major war by intervening in the crisis of a small peninsula?

Well, U. N. General Walter H. Walker, U. S. Eight Army Commander in Korea, gave us one answer a few days ago. He declared the victory worth the price, saying it would mean "a free and untrammeled society for all Koreans, with the dignity of the individual fully restored." And he added:

"Human freedom is always worth the price we have to pay for it." That's the idealistic, the altruistic viewpoint. It certainly is small potatoes, but we have to look a lot further to get the complete picture.

American self-defense entered into the situation, and in a very big way.

This Korean "Civil War"—involving the invasion of Anti-Communist South Korea by the forces of Communist North Korea—is of course part and parcel of the global conflict between the Communist bloc and the democracies. And small as it is, it represents a highly important development in the ideological conflict.

The invasion of South Korea by the Soviet backed North Koreans has been in reality a test case. By using North Korea as a cat's paw Moscow has discovered very conclusively what it takes to make the democracies strike back with force. It was a great gamble, but by keeping well into the background Russia was able to operate without too great a risk of becoming directly involved.

Of course Communism is bound to lose some face by its defeat in Korea. This practical demonstration that the peace organization is willing and able to act as well as talk will have a tremendous impact on world opinion.

Thus we see that the South Korean victory is a great gain for the democracies the world over. And in that sense it is a marked contribution to the defense of the west against Bolshevism. In short, the reason why America has been in this Korean War is to protect herself.

There is still another lesson to be learned. It is grave warning of future danger. President Truman said the other day that the United States must let its guard down, now that the Korean fighting has started a victorious class. This was followed by a State Department statement of policy which describes Russia as "a power-hungry government that is bent on spreading its power by force, terror."

So wherever and whenever America fights Bolshevik aggression, she is in reality fighting in self-defense.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The man with one of the most familiar voices in radio is on his way to becoming one of the most familiar faces in the movies.
He is Basil Ruysdael. It was his distinguished voice that delivered those repeat commercials on the J. H. Henk Kay Kyser and Hit Parade programs.
"People hated me," he admits. "Sometimes I even hated myself."
For 14 years, Ruysdael dined out the catch slogans, flanked by tobacco auctioneers. He was a favorite of the late George Washington Hill, whom he never met.
Ruysdael has had a number of careers since he finished studying electrical engineering at Cornell. He was a tool maker in a machine shop the now has his own shop and proudly displays his name on his conventional. He was a Marine in the first World War.
He sang at the Metropolitan Opera House with his friend, Enrico Caruso. He covered with the Marx Brothers in "Cocanuts" and with the Dunham sisters in "Helen Tom's Cabin." At 40 he turned to intoning commercials on the air.
A couple of years ago, he began his latest and most successful career at the age of 60. He had moved out to Hollywood to do his broadcasting. The brother of a neighbor turned out to be an agent, who suggested that Ruysdael try pictures.
"Not me," he laughed. "I tried it once—with the Marx Brothers in 'Cocanuts.'"
But like all agents, this one wouldn't be dissuaded. Ruysdael was on a deer hunting trip when he received a call to test for "Colorado Territory" at Warners. Much to his surprise he got the role and has been working steadily ever since.
"I've done 15 pictures in 23 months," he reported. "I've worked every day for the last 90 days."
Among his films have been "Come to the Stable," "Pinky," "Broken Arrow," "Raton Pass," "High Lonesome" and "Carrie," which he just completed.
I asked him how he accounted for his success. His reply was frank: "Good agent."
But he added: "I guess I'm something of a freak—I'm big (six feet, three) with a little pinhead. And I've got a good voice that can be understood and can learn lines because I'm an old stock man."
Ruysdael gave up radio and hopes to be in the movie business for a long time to come. He has no fears of being typed. Among his roles so far have been an outlaw, a priest, a general, an admiral, a lawyer, a western land baron, a psychiatrist and a saloon keeper.
Cap-sule review: "To Please the Lady" marks another effort to bring Clark Gable's career back to pre-war standards. This is reminiscent of the action dramas of those years, since he is cast as a fast-moving race driver. But the impression remains that the whole thing is old-fashioned. Except for some good racing scenes, there is little excitement in this story of the tough driver and the lady columnist. It has all been done too many times before. The columnist, played by Barbara Stanwyck, is one of the most implausible characters of the year.

Mrs. George Touhy of the First Presbyterian Church will accompany the chorus on the organ and Miss Catherine Clark of the First Methodist Church on the piano. A Hammond organ will be brought to the auditorium for the purpose.
Adding in the program will be a number of choir directors including Mrs. Stewart Gatchel of the First Methodist Church, Mrs. Albert Phillips of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, and Mrs. E. R. Roulmit of All Souls Catholic Church. Mrs. E. S. Verway, former choir director of the Presbyterian Church has also volunteered her services, said Mr. Harris.

Civil Defense

sources in terms of today's economy. But the job is always and everlastingly yours."
An order by President Truman establishing a federal civil defense administration has been drafted through not yet formalized.
Wadsworth arranged to meet today with civil defense directors of states east of the Mississippi River. This group, headed by Director Leonard Dreyfuss of New Jersey, expressed concern in advance about federal-state relations.
Dreyfuss told a news conference the eastern directors are concerned about making loyalty checks of their civil defense workers. In that connection, he said, the directors agreed to call on their state attorneys general to seek revocation of state charters of organizations classified as "subversive" by the U. S. attorney general.
Another in Dreyfuss' group, civil defense Director Donald S. Leonard of Michigan, complained about a recent Air Force order changing their smaller titles with the federal government and the local authorities," Leonard said.
Asked for an explanation, the Air Force said today it had been compelled to eliminate the old 15-minute "blue alert" from its warning system simply because the speed of modern jet bombers have made it impracticable.
The Air Force said the setup is a provisional system planned and operated by the Air Force and is limited, among other things, by existing communication facilities.
"The Air Force feels," said a spokesman, "that warning signals in the event of a surprise attack by present day, high speed bombers, it will be necessary, in the interest of safety, to also have areas with first and early warnings, then smaller areas with the final warning of red alert. It may not be possible for the Air Force to give graduated or selective warnings."
The spokesman said the system works Yellow alert—a private one-hour warning sent to civil defense officials so they can get their machinery organized for operation. It is to be issued when unidentified aircraft, possibly hostile, approach the Western Hemisphere.
Blue (which now has been eliminated) issued to the public and provides a 15-minute warning that attack on specific cities is targets could be expected.
Red notice that attack would come within eight minutes.
White—All clear.
The change eliminates not only the blue alert but the estimates of time in all the others.
The Air Force explanation appeared to add up to this: With enemy planes streaking in at 600 miles an hour, perhaps only 20 minutes might elapse between the time the preliminary yellow alert is issued and the time bombs begin to fall. There no longer can be any guarantee of one hour, 15 minutes or eight minutes to get to safety.
The NRRB warned last night that, in case of war, critical target areas in the United States city under "more severe" attacks than the World War II

Robin Roberts, Vic Raschi To Hurl In Opener For Yanks And Phillies

By JACK HAND
 PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3—(AP)—Young Robin Roberts, the Philadelphia Phil's life saver in the pennant clincher, probably will be Manager Eddie Sawyer's pick to face the New York Yankees' Vic Raschi tomorrow in the world series opener at Shibe Park.

Sawyer may decide to go with veteran Ken Heintzelman, his grey-thatched lefty, but most of the "experts" figure Roberts a must. A definite announcement was to be made today, during the Phil's final pre-series workout in this baseball mad city.

Roberts, a strong-armed 24-year-old kid, pitched 10 tiring innings Sunday. But he worked with only two days rest some eight times this season. Last week he started Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday going 22 innings in five days. He last week hit his classic job to rank with the masters.

"Roberts works better with two days rest than he does with three," said Sawyer yesterday.

"I'm ready and I can go," said Roberts.

No other pitcher on the staff, no matter how brilliant, could possibly give the 13 to 5 underdog White Kicks a lift like Roberts' (20-11) after Sunday's thrilling performance.

In Roberts, their first 20-game winner since Cleveland Alexander in 1917, the youthful Phils know they have a stopper. They know they don't need too many runs to win. And they haven't been getting too many runs lately, losing it mildly.

The Phils listed to scout George Earnshaw's report on the Yankee yesterday in their own locker room while the Yankees limbered up briefly at the Yankee stadium in New York.

Earnshaw followed the Yanks through the west on their last western tour. He has an extensive "book" on each New York hitter and pitcher.

"Most of them are fast ball hitters," Earnshaw told the kids who listen about Joe DiMaggio, Yogi Berra and Phil Rizzuto except what they have read in the papers.

The players did not appear overwhelmed at the prospect of playing New York. They rooted for the Yanks to win the pennant so they could slice a larger series melon. Now they are confident of victory and look at the top-heavy odds favoring New York.

Stengel wasted little time in picking Raschi (21-8) for the opener. He said Allie Reynolds (16-12) will pitch the second game with Ed Lopat (18-8) ready for the third.

"Raschi is my man," said Casey. "Vic has been my big pitcher all year. He deserves the shot."

Raschi pulled up with a sore shoulder in Chicago two weeks ago but came back to beat the Boston Red Sox in a vital game five days later. He was shelled hard by the Philadelphia A's in his last outing Thursday.

The Yanks' right-handed ace definitely will have an edge in experience over Sawyer's choice. Raschi pitched in four world series games in 1947 and 1949.

Stengel spoke with respect of the Phil's ace at the odds.

"That's a good ball club over in Philadelphia," he said. "It had to be good to beat a red hot Brooklyn team in the biggest game of the year for both clubs."

"Of course I think we'll win but they've got some tough pitchers. That's the only way they can win—if they get great pitching. I don't think they're outling us."

There is no doubt that a bulging capacity crowd of some 34,000 will jam Shibe Park tomorrow long before the 1:00 P. M. starting time.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler was to obuddle with President Ford Frick of the National League and Will Harridge of the American League and series umpires at his hotel today.

Country Club Plans Golf Tourney Sunday

A handicap golf tournament for ladies and men, using the full handicap, will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock at the Seminole Country Club. A large list of prizes will be given.

Following the tournament at 6:30 o'clock a barbecue will be served.

It is expected that from 60 to 70 players will enter the tournament, and several nearby cities will be represented, said Col. S. G. Harriman, chairman of the event.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
 NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Dept. of utter confusion—or, listening to football scouts: Jack Lavelle, who has been watching Cornell, "has it" and the Big Red's tussle figures Lefty James' team really with Princeton could be the best game in the country Oct. 28.

"The most overrated team in the East" because its offensive line hasn't been functioning, another scout's eye version is that Syracuse failed to click against Temple Friday because passer Bernie Cusatis, a Philadelphia boy, was too busy waving at friends in the stands to pay attention to Giant defense that stopped the doings on the field.

That Cleveland Browns' passes was simply a four-man "outfield" with one end dropping back to help cover receivers, but the moves of the defensive tackles, which made it hard to trap them, played a very important part.

Now all the other pro teams will be trying to copy Steve Owen's innovation.

Fighting Irish Are Best In Nation, AP Sports Poll Says

By MURRAY ROSE
 NEW YORK, Oct. 3—(AP)—Notre Dame still is the No. 1 college football team in the nation but it looks as if the Irish are going to have to do a lot more fighting to hold on to their cherished laurels this year.

The first Associated Press poll of the season found Frank Leahy's lads at the top again—just where they left off last November.

But four other collegiate aggregations—Michigan, S. A. T. S., Southern Methodist, Army and Oklahoma—are bunched right behind the Irish, ready, and apparently able, to move up if Notre Dame should falter.

The Southenders barely nosed out North Carolina, 14-7, Saturday.

A total of 190 sports writers and broadcaster, representing a vast, to coast panel, voted the Irish No. 1, with 1,500 points and 63 first place nominations.

Only eight points separated the next three elevens. Michigan State, surging to the fore on the strength of its upset 14-7 triumph over mighty Michigan, gained the No. 2 position with 1,298 points.

Two points behind came Southern Methodist whose passing circuit to coast panel, voted the Irish No. 1, with 1,500 points and 63 first place nominations.

"Wreck Tech" Cry Florida Gators In Practice Session

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 3—(AP)—Florida's Gators sounded the cry of "Wreck Tech" yesterday as they opened the week's drills for Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets and their first Southeastern Conference contest of the year.

Gator backfield coach Frank Broyles, an all-southeastern quarterback with Tech in 1944 and 1946, himself keynoted the rally, the cry as the Gators went right to work on offense and defense in prepping for the Atlanta clash.

Head Coach Bob Woodruff pulled the club for the second victory in as many starts.

"I'm proud of the way they scrapped Saturday night," he said in commenting of the Gators' 27-14 victory over Dequesne Saturday night.

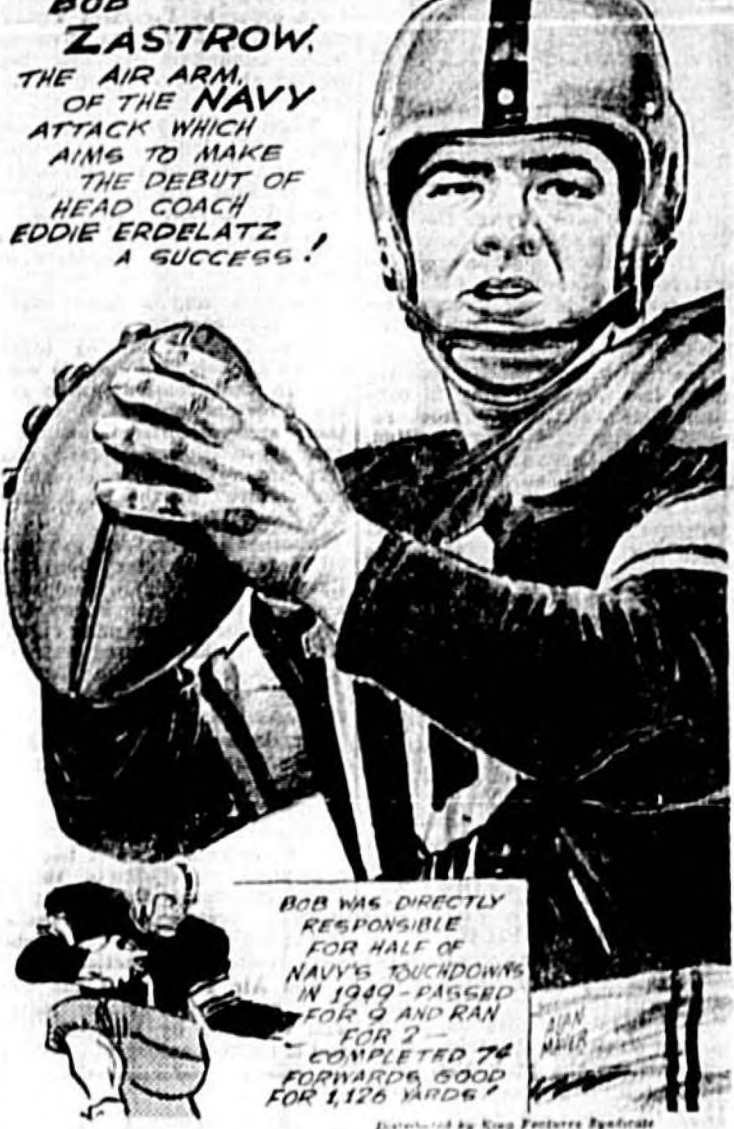

Woodruff, nevertheless, began worrying over the Yellow Jackets team which will be out gunning for a victory after two parring losses.

A report from freshman coach Tommie Coleman who scouted the Jackets and movies of the Gators work last week were among his big worries.

Only Tom Hall, sophomore back from Tallahassee, was injured in the Duquesne fray, and trainer Tom Lanford has predicted that the Jackets' injuries will make them a "one-dimensional team."

ed the fifth ranking with 1,025 points.

10 points were tabulated on a 10-8-7, etc. basis with ten points for the No. 1 vote.

Of the first ten, only Washington failed to get a first place nomination. In all, 14 teams received at least one ballot for the No. 1 spot.

The top ten (number in brackets is first place votes):

1. Notre Dame (63)	1,500
2. Michigan State (32)	1,298
3. Southern Methodist (28)	1,296
4. Army (29)	1,290
5. Oklahoma (17)	1,025
6. Kentucky (5)	509
7. Texas (2)	442
8. Stanford (3)	442
9. California (2)	442
10. Washington	211

The Washington Senators are so pleased with their 30-year-old Cuban pitcher, Sandoval Consuegra, they already have signed him to a 1951 contract.

Syracuse University's football team averaged 23 points a game last season and still lost more games than it won.

Former All-American football guard Steve Suhey of Cazenovia, N. Y., has returned to Penn State as freshman line coach.

Feds 'B' Squad To Meet Daytona 'B' Team Here Tonight

Kick Off Slated For 7:30 In Initial Jr. Varsity Contest

The Seminole High School junior varsity Colony Feds will play host to the junior varsity Sandcrabs of Mainland High School, Daytona Beach tonight in the initial "B" squad game of the 1950 season.

The contest, with kick-off time slated for 7:30 P.M., will be played at the high school field.

The Baby Feds, although the underdogs of the contest, are expected to make a good showing against the much stronger Sandcrabs. The Crabs were the victims of a Fed upset last year by a 6-0 score.

The Feds, coached by Fred Ganas and Ed Levy, former first sacker for the Sanford Giants, are a small and inexperienced squad. Composed mostly of freshmen, some of them will be playing their first game of football.

The Seminole starting line-up as announced by Coach Ganas is as follows:

Ends—Wright, Henderson.
 Tackles—Brook, Morris.
 Guards—Skates, Howell.
 Center—Fleisher.
 Backs—Hutchison, Estridge, Rinkavage, Hardy.

Hopp, who wound up the regular and Marty Marion of the St. Louis Cardinals.

During the 1950 Hilsenh racing season, there were increases in wagering at the $2 and $10 windows, with decreases in $5, $10 and $50 window betting.

Phillies, Yankees Agree To Replace Injured Players

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees agreed today on the use of three replacement players for the world series; left-handed pitcher Jockey Thompson and outfielder Jack Mayo by the Phillies and utility man Johnny Hopp by the Yankees.

The agreement was reached at Commissioner A. B. Chandler's hotel suite, and announced by an American League spokesman.

Hopp is a replacement for "Old Reliable" Tommy Henrich, who has a knee injury and will not play in the series.

Thompson takes over the spot left vacant on the Phils roster when pitcher Curt Simmons went into active service with his national guard division. Mayo was accepted as a substitute for outfielder Bill Nicholson, who is ill with diabetes.

Chandler announced that he will meet Saturday in New York with the heads of the two major leagues and with the two player representatives to discuss what shall be done with the $500,000 cap for television rights to the series.

The meeting will be at 10 A. M. at the Sherry Netherlands Hotel. President Ford Frick of the American League and President Will Harridge will attend, along with the two players representatives, Freddy Hutchison of the Detroit Tigers

Miami Faces Four Tough Foes During October Schedule

CORAL GABLES, Oct. 3—(Special)—Four consecutive inter-sectional football dates face the University of Miami Hurricanes in October, the roughest October schedule in Miami football history. Villanova and Boston U. will meet Coach And Gustafson's young men in the Orange Bowl while the Hurricanes venture northward to take on Purdue and Pittsburgh, who already have some scores to settle with teams from Dixie.

Given a not-too remote chance to figure fairly prominently in the national picture this year, the Hurricanes were adequate without being impressive in their opener against the Citadel in a 21-0 victory. Miami did nothing to prove that they could not cope with their future rivals but left the door open for the improvement that could make the team dangerous to any club they have yet to face.

Miami's pass defensive game No. 1 in the nation a year ago looks sound again. Five of nine Citadel passes were intercepted, one completion was held to 15 yards. The Hurricane defensive line yielded only 57 yards in 40 tries, just returns netted the enemy 17 yards, 13 on a fast quarter gallop. If that is a fair indication of what the Hurricanes' defense can do this year, Miami will be very tough for the offense can be improved.

Mike Vaccio, who gained 400 yards as a sophomore, appeared headed for a fine year. He gained 70 yards in the opener, lost a 15 yard TD on a holding penalty, and had a 48 yard kick return stopped at midfield instead of having it go for a TD on a sneaking lunge. Frank Smith at left half, grabbed two passes and is running soundly. Bob Scheidenbach at fullback, was nervous in his opener, yet gained 41 yards and will come through. He played 45 minutes and intercepted a pass. Jack Hackett at quarterback, disappointed himself in the opener but will go better from now on even though he doesn't often duplicate his two TD throws.

If, as some suspect, the Hurricanes were merely taking the opener in stride, they'll come up with their share of gridiron sets during October. October may be mellow but these Hurricanes won't be.

The Brooklyn Dodgers have drawn more than 1,000,000 fans to Ebbets Field in nine of their last 11 seasons.

World Communists Lose Ground As Result Of Fiasco In Korea

By ELTON C. FAY AP Military Affairs Builder WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Communist empire builders lost ground, politically and militarily, in their excursion into a shooting war with the free nations on the Korean battleground.

Unless Russia tries belatedly to retrieve position by rushing Chinese Communist or Russian military aid to the shattered forces of her North Korean satellite, she will find the Korean experiment costly to her military position and political prestige. If the Communists had not gambled, South Korea today would be what it was last June 5, a militarily weak country with a small, lightly equipped army and an internal security force.

Carrier Pigeons And Flying Motor Scooter Are War Reporter's Need

By BILL ROSS (For Hal Boyle)
SEOUL. (AP)—The next time I cover a war like this one in Korea I intend to bring a large contingent of my own carrier pigeons.

After weeks along the southeastern front and the Inchon-Seoul beachhead, I feel that these are war coverage essentials which no well-equipped newsmen should be without.

The motor scooter would come in mighty handy in getting from one spot to another on the front. It could have a lot of wear and tear on hitchhiking thumb—and on weary feet when the thumb doesn't perform effectively.

Many correspondents—and I am one of them—are getting weary of riding jeeps so often. The casualty rates among correspondents in jeep accidents mounts almost every week.

Hours of flying are involved in getting news from the fighting front to a point where it can be sent to the United States. In the past week I have spent nearly 36 hours in the air.

Here is a typical day for a newsman on the northern front: Because Kimpo airfield is the transport and communications hub of the Inchon-Seoul beachhead, most correspondents have been operating from there.

At a particular destination pressmen particular transport problems. The other day, for instance, I wanted to cover the Third Battalion of the Fifth Marine Regiment. To reach that unit I rode a jeep from Kimpo to the Han River, then an amphibious duck across the stream.

I hitched a ride for a few miles on an antique and went a little farther on a six-ton truck. Next I rode on ambulances, then another jeep and finally a tank that took me where I wanted to go.

I spent the night at the front and headed back for Kimpo next morning to file my stories. I was a passenger in order on a jeep ambulance, "liberated" by a Red. I had a tank munitions carrier, an airplane and a jeep.

South Koreans Are Continuing Advance Into North Korea

U. S. Third Infantry Division Arrives In Far Eastern Area; Convoy Is Bombed

TOKYO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—South Koreans thrust reaching spearheads deeper into Red Korea today through ominously silent country.

The republic's bone-weary and footsore Third Division stabled as far as 60 miles beyond the Pashaj 38 border line.

They had all but vanished before the forward most penetration force but signs of battles ahead were mounting.

At least 20,000 South Korean troops, the Third and Capital Divisions, already were well over the border that was breached last Sunday. Behind them, three more South Korean divisions were poised to cross the line.

A few dozen American army men were above 38 as advisers but the North Korean liberation campaign still was a solely South Korean show on the combat level.

Allied forces of the United Nations peace-enforcement armies were kept south of 38 in mop-up and reserve positions—and they were growing stronger.

The arrival of the U. S. Third Infantry Division in the Far East was announced by General MacArthur's headquarters.

It came from the American west coast on movement orders obviously issued by the tide-torn decisively in mid-September on the winning Allied gamble for Incheon and Seoul.

There was only vague indication of the way of least distance before their Pyongyang capital area. Northwest of Pyongyang Allied warplanes spotted—

North Korean Reds Murdered 10,000 In Seoul Streets

SEOUL, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A South Korean official estimated today that 10,000 North Korean Reds were being driven from the capital city by U. S. Marines and dough boys.

"Several thousand more are reported lying in the hills," said Lt. Colonel Choon, chief of the municipal public information section of Seoul. "Many were dumped into rivers by the Reds."

Lee said the city actually had buried only 375 bodies, some of them victims of the street-by-street fighting for Seoul.

Old Capone Gang Rounded Up For Questioning By Kefauver

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Federal and state officials joined today in attempting to round up remnants of the old Capone gang for questioning on two recent slayings and appearances before a U. S. Senate crime committee.

The committee, investigating crime in the nation's major cities, opens hearings on Chicago's underworld activities tomorrow.

Two former members of the old Capone gang were held in jail overnight for further questioning on the slayings of two crime investigators Sept. 25.

Three other top members of the gang ruled by the late notorious Scarface Al, who reportedly fled to Mexico to escape service of subpoenas by the crime committee, also are wanted for similar interrogation by police.

MASS DEPORTATION BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Yugoslavia's official press announced today of mass deportations of "hundreds of thousands" of persons from national minorities in Soviet-dominated Eastern Europe.

The newspaper, Politika, branded the practice a form of "neo-fascist mass extermination of a race" and contended this was the reason why Russia opposed inclusion of the mass deportations in the United Nations definition of the crime.

Turkey Accepts Offer To Join Defense Group

Nation Will Not Be Full Fledged Member, Acheson Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Turkey has accepted an invitation "to be associated with" Atlantic Pact defense planning in the Mediterranean area.

Under the arrangement, Turkey does not, however, become a full-fledged member of the 12-nation defense alliance.

The State Department today disclosed Turkey's acceptance of the invitation by making public an exchange of notes between Secretary Acheson and the Turkish ambassador, Feridun C. Ekin.

Acheson acted on behalf of the foreign ministers of the 12-treaty nations who met in New York last week to plan increased defense operations.

"It is the view of the council that association of the Turkish government with the appropriate phase of the planning work of the North Atlantic treaty organization with regard to the defense of the Mediterranean would contribute significantly to the defense of the area."

GOVERNOR DEDICATES MEMORIAL TO STEPHEN FOSTER ON SUWANNEE BANK

WHITE SPRINGS, Fla., Oct. 4.—(AP)—A memorial to Stephen Foster was dedicated today on the banks of the shady Suwannee River. Hundreds of onlookers gathered for the ceremonies by the stream made famous through Foster's minstrelsy.

The strains of "Way down upon the Suwannee River" drifted softly over the water as Mrs. Jessie Welch Rose, Foster's granddaughter, cut the ribbon across the entrance to the memorial building.

Governor Fuller Warren called the ceremony a tribute to "one of America's greatest composers."

"More than any geographer, Stephen Foster made our Suwannee River a familiar name to the entire civilized world," Warren said.

"We in Florida have been tardy in honoring Foster's memory. Today we make amends. In time, this magnificent building and memorial park will become a shrine for lovers of Fosterland. Eventually the state of Florida hopes to build a 200-foot carillon, and already the school children of this state are planning to contribute pennies, nickels and dimes for a statue of the composer."

John Tasker Howard, author of a Foster biography and a director of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, said the Suwannee "has come to mean a river that flows past the place man calls home, whether that river flows in Georgia or Florida or in the Congo."

"This is a most significant occasion. In a time of stress, of international crisis, when hope and faith are our principal mainstays, the people of Florida, led by their Governor and their state officials, rather to honor not a statesman, not a scientist, not an industrialist nor an inventor, but an unassuming song-composer and poet."

Both the University of Florida and the hundred voice choir of Florida A. and M. College for Negroes offered Foster selections during the ceremonies.

The program was picked up for overseas broadcast by the State Department's "Voice of America."

Smathers Says UN Forces Should Cross Parallel

Quick Turn Of City During Visit Here

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Warring that the campaign in Korea is far from completed, Rep. George Smathers, greeted more than 100 friends and supporters yesterday afternoon at the Tourist Center, expressed the opinion that United Nations forces should cross the 38th Parallel in order to follow the Red Korean Army and destroy it.

He arrived in Sanford at about 3:30 p. m. and was met at the Hill Kirk Motor Co. by a group of friends, invited to the Tourist Center to have a costume taken and was driven to Florida Legion where he was shown through the administration and dining buildings by Michael Gannon and George Lundy. He returned to the Tourist Center made a brief talk, then was hurried to Station WRR for a radio interview with Maxon Harmon.

Pointing out that the United States is facing one of the most critical periods in its history, a field of the up-to-date talk of Russia on peace while preparing for war during the past five years and of Russia's superiority in men, tanks and planes, he declared that Russia, having stolen the secret of the atomic bomb, would not hesitate to use it.
