Jim: "South rose with his ace of spades and promptly went after the club suit. He cashed his ace, led a second club and finessed dummy's ten spot. He had to find a way with four clubs if he was going to bring the contract home and in that case West was a 1 favorite to hold the jack. The finesse worked. Since West had to follow to two more clubs, South was able to discard the jack of hearts and ten of diamonds, go after trumps and make his contract."
Oswald: "Luck is a strange thing. Playing in a slightly optimistic slam, South brought home the contract because trumps broke 4-2 and clubs 4-1. Jim: "The luck didn't look too good at first. West got off to a heart lead so South could not do anything better than rise with dummy's ace."
Oswald: "The normal way to play the hand would be to take a trump finesse. And at

County Ups Garbage Pickup Cost

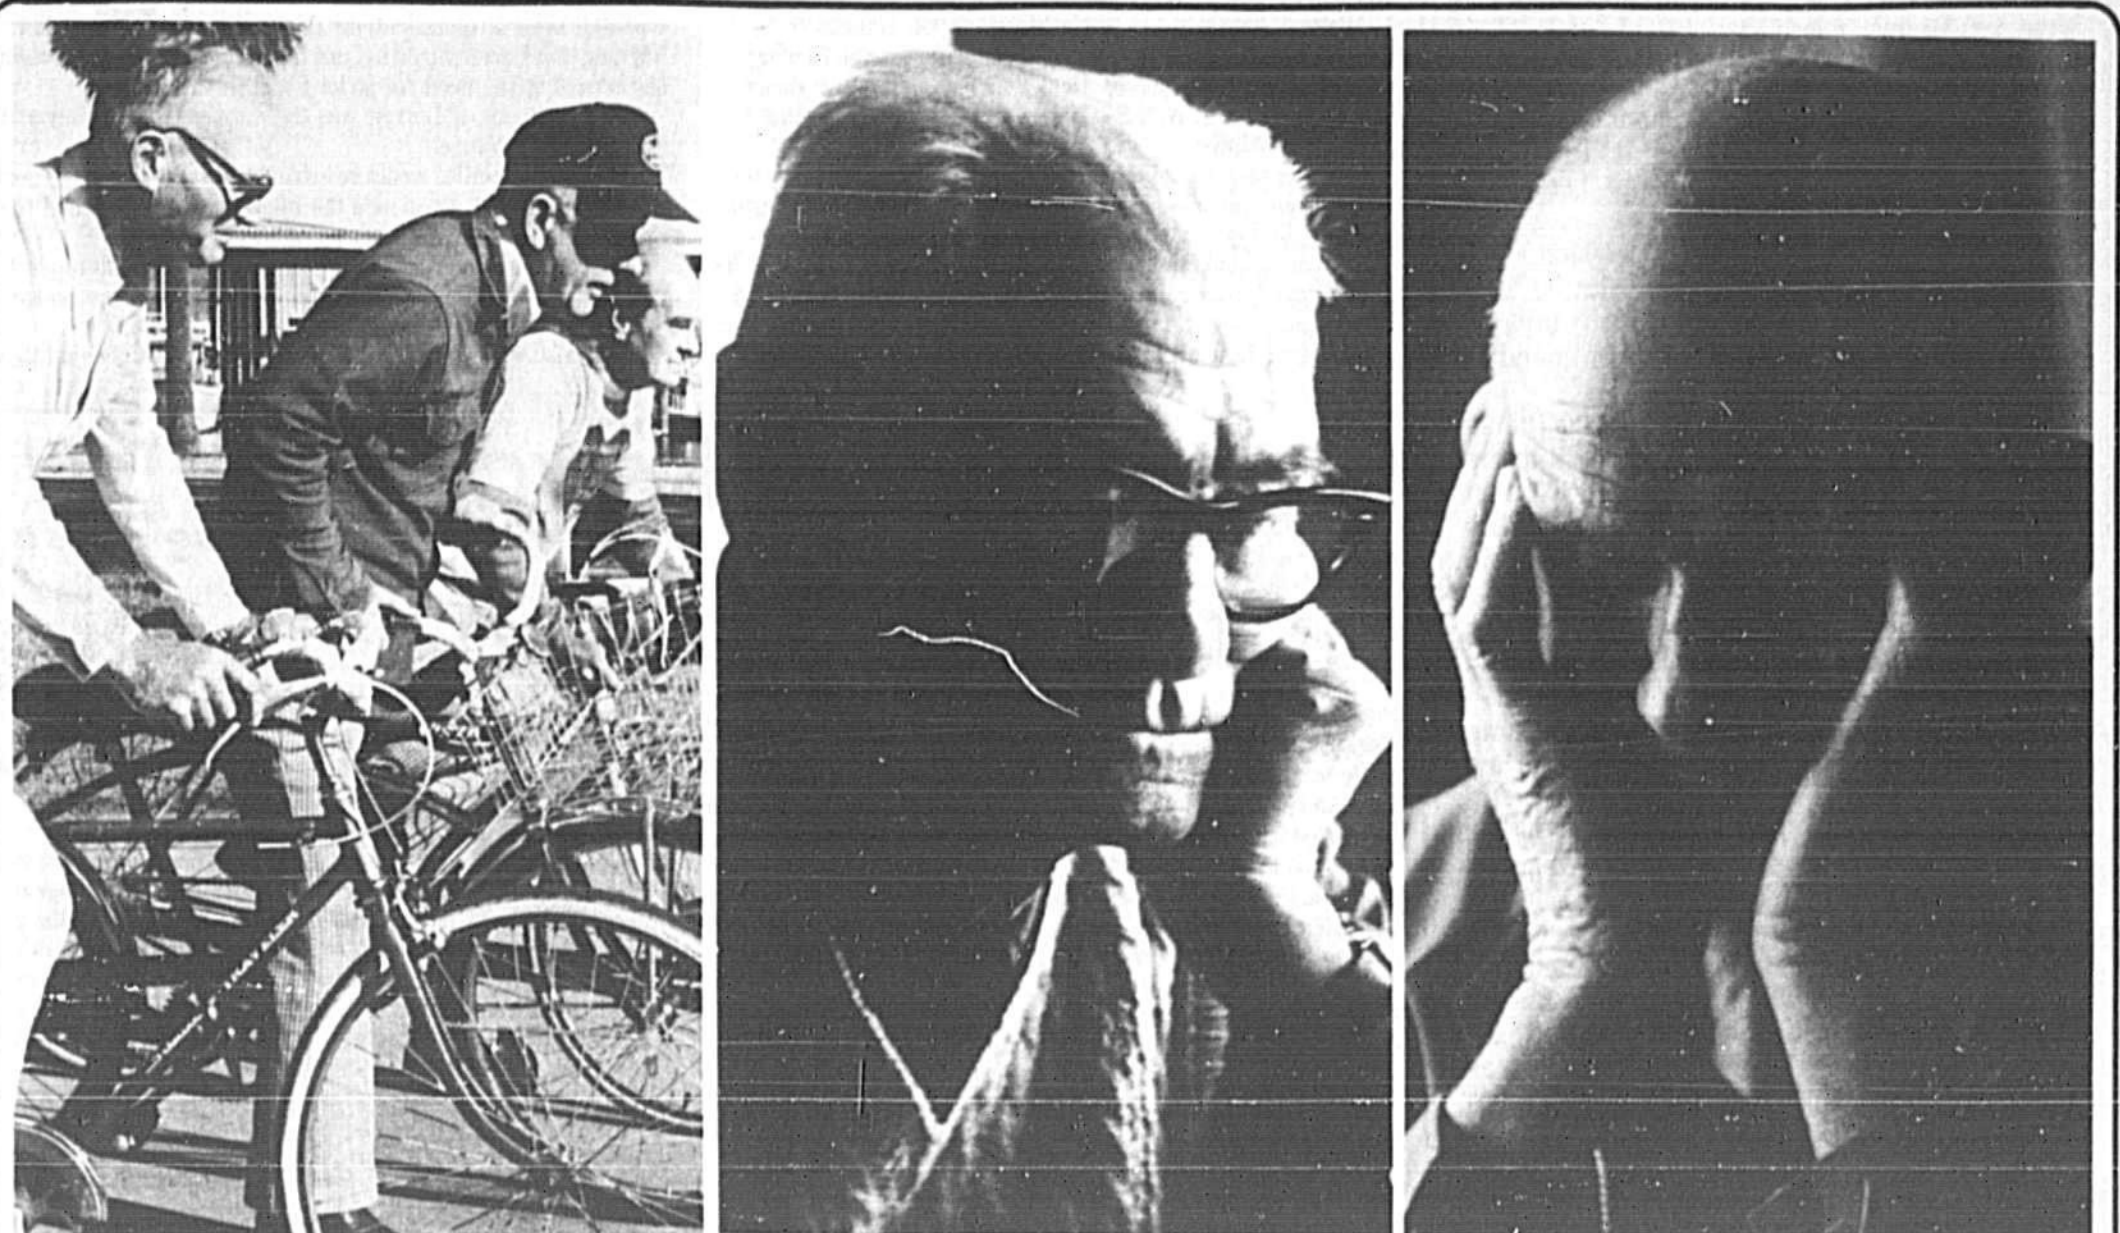

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

Over protests from city officials, the Seminole County Commission today approved an ordinance doubling the rates for disposal of garbage at transfer stations and lift sites and upping the average homeowner's garbage collection bill by 50 cents per month. The decision was unanimous. Commissioner Dick Williams said present rates were costing the county about $12,000 per month. "I don't see a viable alternative," Williams said. Altamonte Springs Mayor Norman Floyd attended the session to protest raising of rates. Concerning the increased rates at transfer stations and landfill sites, Floyd said, "You are inviting them (the people) to go out and dump their garbage into the woods." Floyd went on to say the increased rates are "harmful not only to us but to private citizens." Floyd said most cities have already established garbage pickup rates. The mayor said changing those rates now would create a big problem. The proposed increases would provide $719,000, the amount needed to make the refuse division self-supporting. The new rates will be effective on Dec. 15. County Planner Bill Kercher explained that the 50 cent per-month increase is an estimate by county officials. He said the actual cost passed on by 17 private firms that pick up garbage in the county will be left to the owners of the firms. It could be as high as $1 per month, Kercher explained. Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway said present rates just weren't providing the necessary revenue. "It was not paying its way," Hattaway said. "Taxpayers were subsidizing refuse collections."

Pinter Drops Out Of Casselberry Race Today Planned Sanford City Hall: 'Squatty' Or 'Orderly'?

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Problems with the Dec. 7 Casselberry municipal election piled up today as two candidates withdrew from the contest, a city official and a candidate threatened to file injunctions in circuit court to stop reopening of the candidate qualifying period, and an incumbent councilman resubmitted his qualifying documents. Michael Pinter, proprietor of Club Juana, a topless go-go club in Casselberry, who announced he would seek election to the city council when an investigation into his establishment's operation was ordered, has withdrawn, according to Acting City Manager Mary Hawthorne. Robert Clark, a second candidate, has also asked that his name be withdrawn from the ballot. Both men removed their names from contention when candidates were required to file sworn affidavits of residence that they had been residents of the city for the past 12 months, a requirement of the city charter. The city council Monday night ordered reopening of the candidate qualification period which had originally closed Oct. 22, in line with a federal appellate court ruling striking down a charter requirement that candidates be property owners of record for one year prior to seeking office. Earlier, Councilman Charles Stier had been notified that he could not seek re-election since he had sold his home and moved into an apartment. Stier submitted qualifying documents this morning. The governing body on recommendation of City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh ordered the candidate qualifying period reopened at 8 a.m. this morning and to close at 5 p.m. Thursday. The council action brought a threat from Councilman Nathan Van Meter and Don See PINTER, Page 3A

A Law Enforcement Administration Agency grant of $31,132 has been awarded to the city to pay the major costs of acquiring the airplane. — Tabled action until Dec. 13 on the requested rezoning of lots 37-44 of Beck's Addition to permit construction of an office building. City commissioners ordered a change in city policy to require that adjacent property owners in zoning change requests be notified of impending hearings before the governing body as well as before the planning and zoning commission. — Approved a change of zoning to general commercial to permit continued use as a farm and garden store, presently non-conforming zoning, for J. Harold Hunziker in block 2, tier 17 of St. Gertrude's addition as recommended by the planning and zoning commission. — Granted use of the downtown area to the Sanford Seminole Art Association to hold an art show Nov. 12 and 13.

Protection Needed Against Jelly Beans

Is some member of your family on a licorice or black jelly bean kick? Never fear, Big Brother is out to protect all those hooked on sweets or other foods which are colored with Carbon Black.

Grandmother, mother and son, all had a preference for licorice among all candies. And if a jar of jelly beans was minus any black ones, you could bet that one of those three people had been there first.

At least two of the three family members have pait for their ingestion of so much of the coloring now determined to be a hazard by our betters.

How about the son? Well, he is working and nearing his 72nd birthday and still hooked on the candy with the dangerous coloring.

Now of course this recital has no bearing on a scientific approach to evaluating anything. But it would be our guess that there may be millions who, through experience, will relate to these people.

From the past batting average of the federal viewers-with-alarm we are not afraid to make an educated guess that their findings may not be any more exact than the above.

Few thoughtful scientists have chosen to speak out amid the emotional turmoil engendered by the food and environmental scares. One has just lately published a book in which he demolishes some of the Ecological Fantasies.

Adler says that messengers of ecological doom often raise alarms about dangers almost as remote as watermelons falling from airplanes being a threat to life.

It is good to see that there are some knowledgeable people who will speak out against radical controllers and their promulgators of "Ecological Fantasies."

It is high time to put some of the promoted myths into proper perspective. Perhaps now that the ice is broken more of your thoughtful scientists will speak out loud and clear.

Letters to the editor are welcomed for publication. All letters must be signed, with a mailing address and, if possible, a telephone number so the identity of the writer may be verified.

DON OAKLEY Private Schools Benefit

Despite a decline in the school-age population, despite inflation and despite high tuition, private schools and academies are experiencing something of a boom.

Another feature of independent schools that appears to be attracting parents is their emphasis on moral values as a part of education, whether or not provided in a religious setting.

Men who go down to the sea in ships these days take the comforts of home with them. Officers and crewmen on freighters, tankers and fishing vessels are enjoying entertainment and training programs on color video cassettes designed to relieve boredom on long voyages.

It is high time to put some of the promoted myths into proper perspective. Perhaps now that the ice is broken more of your thoughtful scientists will speak out loud and clear.

Power to the people. That was the quote of the Woodstockers in the 1960s as they chanted themselves high at rock concerts and other festivals across the land.

First, a bit about Williams. His win was a "squeaker." He edged Democrat Dave Gunter by only 61 votes. Of course, one vote would have won as well as 61. But, still, for an incumbent, and a popular one like Williams is in some quarters, the win was a squeaker.

Why a squeaker? My guess is it's because Williams is a staunch Republican and votes and supports the conservative party line. That's okay, but it can hurt in a county like Seminole where a burgeoning population is bringing in new residents.

Well, maybe Ford was all this but I don't think so. In my judgment, Ronald Reagan would have had a much tougher chance of defeating the Democratic presidential nominee. I say this for a variety of reasons.

On Oct. 7, Sindlinger & Co. reported that a new recession was under way. And long before that he had countered the bullishness of some of the highly publicized indicators by saying the best one of all, the assessment of the people, was falling.

Women In Legislature: Progress, But Not Much

WASHINGTON (AP)—Women increased their ranks in state legislatures from 8 per cent to 21 per cent in last Tuesday's election, for a new total of 685 seats. It's progress — but not very fast progress," said Betty Wright, director of the National Women's Education Fund, which has been compiling statistics on women at state and local levels since 1974. "We've got to discover some way we can go from 9 per cent all the way up to 25 per cent in one election period," said Ms. Wright, who prefers that designation. Only then, she said, will women have enough of a base to make significant inroads on statewide and national offices.

Father Couldn't Resist Her 'Twiggy' Figure

DEAR ABBY: You've printed several letters about incest, including one suggesting that it could be the fault of the girls for tempting men by wearing provocative clothing. Well, when I was a skinny 12-year-old (with a 28 AAA bra) I suffered the torment of hell when my own father couldn't resist my "Twiggy" figure. I married the first man who asked me just to get out of the house, but because of those nightclub experiences I was frigid and my marriage failed. I was forced to move back with my parents, and my father started in on me again. That's some way to blame.

College Slates Variety Courses

A class in a revolutionary life-saving technique, "Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation" will be offered by the Office of Community Services, Seminole Community College, Nov. 16 and 18 from 6 to 10 p.m. Enrollment is limited to 16 persons with a $5 registration fee. The Office of Community Services will also offer a "Human Potential Seminar" beginning Nov. 9 at 7 p.m. and running six Tuesday evenings. The course aids individuals in defining their strengths and goals, clarifying their personal values and set up short-range and long-range goals. Fee is $10.

Pension Plan Set For Homemakers

Under-appreciated and unpaid homemakers will be happy to know that Congress has recognized the value of their daily efforts and provided them with a pension plan option for their golden years, according to Willis W. Alexander, executive vice president, American Bankers Association. In the Tax Reform Act of 1976, which the President signed on Oct. 4, Congress amended the law governing Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs), offered by most banks, to allow a qualified IRA participant to contribute additional funds for the retirement of a non-employed spouse. Initially, the law had limited IRAs to employed persons

'Tis Season For Cranberries

Cranberries add their tartness and color to many dishes but too often we cook fail to combine them with other vegetables or stuffings. They do make a welcome new ingredient in such dishes as a succotash. INDIAN CRANBERRY SUCCOTASH 2 packages (18 ounces each) Fordhook cranberries and celery. Saute for 5 minutes. Stir in bread and parsley. Spoon mixture on top of lima beans. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 40 to 45 minutes. Spoon topping in the center of serving platter. Spoon lima around topping. Makes 6 servings.
