James G. Sharon Delivers Address To Townsend Club

James G. Sharon delivered an extemporaneous address to members of the Sanford Townsend Club Thursday night on the National Recovery Act and most of the members agreed it was the best ever given by a local Townsend.

"It is always a pleasure to address fellow Townsends," Mr. Sharon declared, adding that forty-five years in all kinds of business has convinced me that the Townsend Plan is the only remedy for the ills of the country. I have made an exhaustive study and know that the concentration of wealth is a menace to the country.

"Generations ago 82 percent of the population lived in the country, and when the man who had worked the farm reached the afternoon of life, he could turn over his property to the sons to carry on, and he could rest from the heat of the day. But, since Wall Street has gotten control, conditions have changed, and the 'Old Man' is no longer able to take the rest that he has earned, and as a result the younger people have drifted to the city, which has become overcrowded, and because of unemployment there is lack of the circulation of money."

Mr. Sharon added that the Townsend Plan would, to a certain extent, abolish much poverty, crime and disease.

Concluding he declared "No Nation can be half slave and half free." Today we have economic slavery."

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Aug. 12.—(AP)—John A. Mattox, 62-year-old undertaker and local bank official, was killed by lightning yesterday on a golf course a few feet from the spot where he and two friends were knocked down by a bolt 20 years ago last

Reville

Troopers found that there was truth in the words, "You can't get 'em up in the morning." As one bugler complained, "You can blow your brains out on reveille, and no one stirs till the last minute. But let someone come into the company streets shouting 'Sanford Herald!' and they all turn out on the double."

Casualties

They returned full of tales of their short but sharp campaign. They engaged in surprise attacks, swaps and rawaw creeks and streams, gained, lost and regained ground. They had conducted themselves from low-slung enemy aircraft, or fought them off with hidden guns. At one time they passed under fire from enemy 75's, and had frequent sharp encounters with enemy cavalry.

Only once were the Florida troops surprised. In this engagement, Major W. J. Doyle, of Osteen, was "captured" by the enemy, and Colonel Preston Ayres escaped only after swimming a swift stream.

Bull Session

Before leaving, for the field maneuvers, most of the units made a combined "bull" and "jam" session, principally "bull," in D Company, soloists Corporal Fred Ganas and Private Joseph T. (Bing) Thompson featured the entertainment, and Corporal Carmen Woods wielded the baton,

Postmaster Jim Farley Declares "Roosevelt Policies On Trial"

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Declaring that "the Roosevelt policies are on trial," Chairman Farley of the Democratic national committee put in a plug last night for the return of a new deal congress to Washington, in an address prepared for delivery here.

Farley, postmaster general in President Roosevelt's cabinet, was the main speaker at a testimonial dinner staged in his honor by Michigan Democrats. Guests included Gov. Frank Murphy, who maintains his "summer capital" here.

Farley dubbed the 1938 campaign "only a sham battle" so far as the Republican Party is concerned. "They know that if Democratic headquarters closed its doors tomorrow, if not a Democrat speech were made and not a Democratic publication were issued," he said. "The Senate and the House of Representatives would remain Democratic. Their eyes are on 1940."

"Their only purpose this year is to try to break down the popularity of the President, with the fakers hope that two years hence they may be able to convince the people that the new deal has failed and that they should put their trust in Mr. Hoover, or Mr. Landen, or Mr. Vandenberg, or some equally unimpressive figurehead."

Farley charged that "our adversaries have no issue on which to base a legitimate campaign conflict. They have no leader who can put his seal of approval on anything that proceeds from the disorganized groups who, for convenience sake, may be re-

France Eyes War Activity Among Nazis

Military Maneuvers Believed Designed To Put Pressure On Czech Government

By Associated Press
France today instructed her diplomats abroad to transmit immediately to Paris all information available concerning military preparations now taking place in Germany.

Foreign office officials declared reports of Nazi measures of unusual size are being followed by diplomatic circles with the greatest attention.

An authorized source said information in the French foreign office showed important maneuvers will be held in the Reich.

Some belief was expressed that the German military preparation are designed to add diplomatic pressure on the Czechoslovak government as well as Britain and France for a rapid solution of the Sudeten minority problem.

During Japanese air attacks caused heavy damage and casualties in two areas down in the heart of China today. Terrorism gripped Shanghai, Japanese and Russian armies observed an armed truce on the Siberian border and insurgents hammered government position in western Spain.

Bombings, called more destructive than any before in that area, struck properties on the outskirts of Hankow 100 times.

The Chinese said the Japanese dropped bombs from 50 planes on Wuchang, across the river from Hankow. Further south warplanes heavily bombed Wu-chow, a river port 120 miles east of Canton.

A new border event involving Japan and Russia was reported from Sakhalin Island where two countries divide control. Japanese dispatches said Russian temper again flared at the alleged shooting of a member of a Japanese "inspector party" by a Soviet secret vice agent.

Japanese police were rushed to the scene which was near the frontier.

In Spain, Franco's forces on the western Extremadura front drove rapidly toward the valuable government mercury mines. Only six squads of militiamen defended the line, fighting determinedly to hold back the offensive reinforcements arrive.

London, Aug. 12—(UPI)—Great Britain has put discreet pressure on Premier Mussolini and Rebel General Franco to hasten withdrawal of foreign fighters from Spain's civil war.

Premier Chamberlain's purpose is to aid the French government in an embarrassing situation and further the British plan for isolating the civil war.

With French Premier Daladier under fire attack for stopping trans-Pyrenean arms, the British government made these two moves:

1. A suggestion to the Italian premier that Italy was sending more troops and material to rebel Spain were prejudicial to the Anglo-Franco accord which is to be effected upon a "settlement in Spain."

2. Advice to Franco that his explanation of delay in accepting the British plan for withdrawal of foreign soldiers was unsatisfactory. Franco had said "the intrinsic nature" of the plan had been altered so that some fellow has chiseled a basketful of groceries that he might have been able to pay for."

The speaker conceded that the Roosevelt administration "has not cured every ill, and perhaps has not done enough as well as it could have been done had the emergency been less pressing."

"But," he said, "it has fulfilled, as far as it was humanly possible to fulfill, the hopes of our people when they turned thumbs down on a drifting, reactionary regime and charged Franklin D. Roosevelt with the task of saving the country."

".... It should be our job, not only as Democrats, but as patriotic citizens, to see that there is no interruption in the cause of recovery. It is up to us to see that our government is enabled to do its work in the interest of saving the country."

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

DO WE DO AS WELL AS WE SHOULD? It hath shewed thee O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?—Micah 6:8.

THE WASTER

Malcolm died, but there was Malcolm's son; And what, the County asked, would save the farm Left in the hands of one whose work was done. While yet the rocks in pasture still were warm? One who was known to have his plow away After the planting, and with bay cocked high Drove fork and cutter down the stubble clay To shelter iron from the wind and sky? One who set stone to wall where stone was crooked And bound with plaster where but stone would do, And prodded apple roots and clipped the tops, And played a fiddle when the day was through? Young Malcolm laughed, thought not for labor's sake, "Who takes the most time has the most to take." Charles Malam.

Sarasota is planning a hundred thousand dollar yacht basin.

When President Roosevelt makes his decision, we'll let him don't say, "I do not choose to run".

The President, just returned from an extensive fishing expedition, told Georgia voters about the big one he expects to catch in the coming primary.

New York department stores, established in border line areas, have agreed to employ a proportionate number of negro clerks to wait on the colored trade. Time marches on.

The New Deal has been remarkably successful in providing relief for the unemployed throughout the depression; not so successful in eliminating the necessity for such relief.

The women of the country also won a victory in Tuesday's primaries. Senator Hattie Carnegy of Arkansas was re-named to the Senate, and she is the only woman member of the Senate.

The CIOs elected their man Sawyer as Democratic nominee for governor of Ohio. At the general election in November the people of Ohio will have to choose between the CIO and the Republican party. That's a hard one.

Well, the Russo-Japanese conflict seems to have been one unanticipated war which was settled in short order. The Japs found out the Russians would fight, and apparently that was all they wanted to know. Maybe if the Germans could be shown equally as foreseen, another international complication could be solved.

The struggle between the Executive and Judicial branches of government has been extended even down to the appointment of a criminal judge made over an election fraud in Tampa. Gov. Cone appointed Judge Alvin Key West, but attorneys successfully contended that appointment was illegal.

In another case, however,

Mid-Night Speeders

With a large number of property owners on Park Avenue complaining about the excessive speed with which motorists who use the thoroughfare particularly at night drive, the City Commission has instructed the Police Department to use special diligence in regulating traffic on this street and Chief Roy Williams has announced that speed laws will be rigidly enforced.

For some time automobile drivers, whose business keeps them out from ten o'clock at night until two or three in the morning, have been using Park Avenue as if it were the Indianapolis Speedway. Just why it is that people who drive more often late at night should be in so much greater hurry than those who drive in the daytime we have never been able to figure out, but such seems to be the case.

The smaller amount of traffic which one is likely to encounter in the wee small hours of the morning probably makes for greater speed with some people. The broad thoroughfare spreads out before one, long, straight, and as far as the eye can see, fairly deserted, and one is surely tempted to step on the gas and forget the consequences.

However, the fact should be emphasized that despite the small amount of traffic late at night, most accidents occur between sundown and sunrise. It goes without saying that the visibility is bad, and the reduced traffic makes for increased carelessness which more than offsets the advantages. Furthermore, late drivers have a higher percentage of drunken drivers among their numbers than daytime drivers.

Another thing which these mid-night speeders need to have impressed upon them is that 39,500 persons died in automobile accidents last year, not to mention several million injuries. This represents an increase of more than 4 percent over the number who died in similar accidents the previous year. The annual cost of these accidents runs into billions of dollars.

Unless you want to add your own name to this rapidly increasing list of auto victims, you had better be careful. Drive carefully and slowly especially at night. If you have no respect for your own neck, how about showing some respect for the other fellow?

The 1939 Townsend Convention

That there is possibility that the Townsend convention which attracted such large crowds to Los Angeles this year may next year be held in Florida, is evidenced by a report which comes from Editor Eddie Hollums of the Miami Herald.

"If Florida wants to entertain the national convention of Townsends next year," Editor Hollums writes, "She can do it by merely asking for it, in the opinion of some of the delegates to the session in Los Angeles a couple of months ago."

The Ocala Star reports that when a letter was read at the convention from Harold Cole, president of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, inviting the Townsends to Florida next year, more than 6,000 delegates from all over the country came to this state for the convention and roared their approval and for minutes shouted, "We want Florida!"

It is up to the executive committee of the national Townsend organization to select the convention city for next year and it goes without saying that Florida would be highly honored to have one of its cities selected as the meeting place. To have more than 6,000 delegates from all over the country come to this state for the convention would be a tribute worth striving for.

As a matter of fact there is probably no other state in the union where most of the old folks would prefer to have their convention or where they would receive a warmer welcome. Particularly if the meeting is held during the winter months it would be to the advantage of the delegates to have their convention here.

Furthermore, Florida from the very beginning of the Townsend movement, has been among the most enthusiastic supporters of the California doctor and his pension plan. Every member of Congress and both senators elected since the movement started have been pledged to this program, and it is doubtful if anyone could have been elected who had not endorsed it, so popular is the Townsend Plan in this state.

And so we say, by all means let's have the Townsend Convention in Florida next year. Let everyone extend a cordial invitation to the Townsends to come here and let's show them the time of their lives when they arrive.

WE NOTE THAT there is some discussion regarding the lowering of federal income tax exemptions. The present exemption is $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons. The proposed rate is $800 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons. The new schedule if enacted into law will bring a considerably larger number of persons within the tax paying bracket. In our opinion the movement is just started. Notwithstanding the abuse that has been heaped upon the "haven" it is they who are going to have to pay the national debt. The only way under the present scheme of living that they can be made to pay is through the levying of taxes. We predict that not only are exemptions going to be lowered considerably below those proposed, but also that federal income tax rates are going to be increased and perhaps even doubled.—Tampa Star-Advocate.

Roosevelt Bluntly Another Bank Is Announced For Sanford

toning my democracy and to attack my public record. I want you to know that I accept the challenge."

The President, as ever, was lost in the confusion of many persons moving across the platform but Senator George later told newsmen Mr. Roosevelt replied:

"God bless you, Walter. Let's always be friends."

Senator George refused to repeat the former hard-hitting performance at the request of the photographers who had been unable to make it at all clear.

The President referred to George by name several times and said the incident "is beyond question a gentleman and a scholar."

Then Mr. Roosevelt added:

"But there are other gentlemen for whom I have a great affection, regard, but whom whom I differ greatly and sincerely on the principles and policies of the Government and the country."

As an example, the President cited Senator Hale, of Maine, Representative Wadsworth of Connecticut, and Representative Smith of Massachusetts.

The first, the President continued, "I repeat, not least that Senator George and I will always be good men and friends, even though I am destined to make it clear that on some public questions he and I do not speak the same language."

To carry out his responsibility as President, he said, there should be a separation between members of my own party and my off.

"The test is not measured, in the case of an individual, by his every vote on every bill. The test lies rather in two questions:

"First, is the record of the candidate shown, while differing perhaps in detail, a constant active fighting attitude in favor of the Party and the Government as they are constituted today, and secondly, does the candidate really in his heart, believe in the objectives?"

"I repeat that in the case of my old friend, Senator George, I can not answer either of these questions in the affirmative."

The President disclosed that he had responded with George regarding his Barnesville speech, and that what he was saying was "no news."

At one point in his address, the President explained why he had supported Senator Allen W. Barkley for nomination in Kentucky because of Barkley's experience, and was at the same time supporting George.

"In Kentucky," Mr. Roosevelt said, "there was no clear cut issue between a liberal on the one side and a dyed-in-the-wool conservative on the other.

"Neither gentleman, on his record, could be classified as a reactionary. Therefore, the criterion of ergo, especially that of the majority leadership of the Senate of the United States, weighed heavily in favor of Barkley."

The PWA is now receiving applications for grants and loans in Applications are given priority in the order in which they are received, and the deadline for filing is Sept. 30, 1938. Construction work must be started by Jan. 1, 1939. National Emergency Council director J. H. Githrie announced this week.

Taylor Fights Way To Ring Championship

As Tommy McCoy, the boy who fought his way from the slums to the heights, Robert Taylor presents the finest, most vigorous acting job he has ever essayed in "The Crowd Roars," coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Here is the answer to the plea for action in pictures, with Taylor putting every ounce of energy and ability into his first prize-fight role. The picture is packed with thrills, warm romance, gripping suspense.

A cast of champions supports the star: Frank Morgan as his father, ex-Vaudeville trooper; Edward Arnold as the gambler behind the scenes of the fight game; Maureen O'Sullivan as his daughter and Jane Wyman as her school chum and rival for Taylor's affections; William Gargan as the ex-light-heavyweight champ killed in the ring by Taylor, his former pupil; Lionel Stander as the star's trainer; Nat Pendleton as Arnold's gambling rival; Isabel Jewell as Gagan's wife; Gene Reynolds as Tommy McCoy as a boy. Every one makes a standout of his or her characterization.

Richard Thorpe, directing the picture, has kept it moving at break-neck pace without sacrificing conviction or feeling. Sam Zimbalist, producing from George Bruce's original story, has given it all the true flavor of the world it represents.

Farley Declares Roosevelt Policies Are Now On Trial

The job can be finished much more speedily, much more adequately, if the next Congress is composed of legislators who are in accord with the President's objectives. We should have a Senate and a House of Representatives that will continue to be sympathetic with the liberal measures that make for a greater opportunity and a better living condition of the great bulk of American humanity. This administration has not, and never has had, never will have, any purpose of oppressing honest industry, or hampering legitimate business, despite the clamor of those who are willing to make government again the agency of special favor to special interests."

Colors And Fabrics Are Headline News In Fall Fashions

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Fashion Editor

Colors and fabrics are headliners news in 1938 fall fashions.

Black remains a prominent costume hue but a number of new intriguing shades have come to town for the winter mode. Those launched by French designers made their debut in New York this year on the day when they were revealed to buyers in Paris.

This was made possible by arrangement whereby nine Paris designers—Schiaparelli, Molyneux, Patou, Chanel, Longchamp, Maggy Rouff, Creed and Maries—formally founded a New York company United Fashions. Dior with samples of their styles in advance.

Among hues were the rich rusts, terra cotta and ochres to which Paris gave unexpected prominence. The greenish blue Maltese blue tones and the tobacco brown, vivid and dark greens used by some of Paris' best firms are the most striking notes of the newly imported collection, from which many of America's fall fashion colors will be chosen. The violent in fluence in reds and blues. Many soft, lime-yellow and pale purples, as well as amethysts and orchid pinks were among them. Browns included both dark, reddish tones and earthy shades.

To that colored tide New York houses have added a lively lilt ing to grave, muted stone blues. Many of the new fabrics show some kind of surface interest. Coat wools are woven with a compact, smooth rough handle finish raised plateau patterns or an effect faintly suggestive of pebbled point. New day frocks appear in matelasse stripes woven in small discrete patterns or in heavy mossy crepes. Fine wools crepes and jersey weaves are seen too.

The vogue for surface interest is reflected even in the frocks made of plain fabrics which are sometimes quilted, braided or embroidered.

South Called Poorest Area In NEC Report

Poverty In The South Is Described In Detail But No Recommendations Made

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The national emergency council reported to President Roosevelt today that the South, more than any other section of the country, was ill-housed, ill-clad and ill-fed.

Summarizing the South's economic conditions at the President's request, for the information of Congress and the committee, the council said the region's population problems were the most pressing of any. America must "face" them. Declining, these problems were national, it said.

"The South is the nation's greatest un-tapped market and the market in which American business can expand most easily. Northern producers and distributors are losing profits and northern workers are losing work because the south cannot afford to buy their goods."

The report was made public only a few days after President Roosevelt, campaigning in the South for a New Deal Congress, had reiterated his desire to increase southern purchasing power.

One of the council's findings was that at least 1,000,000 families, one half of all the families in the South, needed new homes.

Agriculture, industry, banking, labor, women and children all were described by the council as burdened by the economic difficulties peculiar to the area studied.

Commander Of Large Plane Says Trip To Finish In 20 Hours

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(AP)—John P. Frey, American Federation of Labor official, asserted today that investigators for the Senate Civil Liberties Committee had "close contacts with members of the Communist party, especially in Cleveland." Frey made the charge before the House committee investigating un-American activities.

Previously he had testified he had evidence to show that John L. Lewis, the Labor leader, and his Committee for Industrial Organization had been endorsed by the Communist party.

He also introduced before the committee names of many CIO union officials whom he charged with being either Communists or sympathizers.

Frey offered the committee a picture of Vincent Favato, of Cleveland, Ohio, who appeared before the LaFollette committee in a recent investigation of the little steel strike.

Favato, Frey said, had been on the payroll of the CIO "steel workers organizing committee" and "at the same time was a member of the Communist party."

"Now we find that this gentleman testified before the LaFollette committee last week," said Fred, "and his testimony was given as an organizer of the S. O. C."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(AP)—An undercover agent told the House Committee on "Non-American Activities" yesterday that the Nazi movement in the United States aims to set up a "vast spy network" and "powerful sabotage machine" for use in case of war.

Sanford Units Of National Guard To Arrive Tomorrow

Over 100 national guardmen, comprising three units of the Sanford detachment, will arrive in Sanford tomorrow at the Atlantic Coast Line station aboard a troop train some time between the hours of 10:00 and 11:00 o'clock.

The troops have been engaging in the annual maneuvers in Mississippi.

Nearly 30,000 men have been taking part in the war games, said to have the most exciting and important since world war days.

Major Gen. Albert H. Blanding of the Florida National Guard explained the purpose of the maneuvers prior to leaving for camp.

"This will be extremely valuable training," he said. "The concentrations will re-ordinate the artillery, infantry, cavalry, engineers and other units and show mutual conditions in the field."

Blanding commanded a "brawny force of approximately 25,000 men, thoroughly tested by enemy action in the Gulf Coast, and has been determined by the commandant to be the best in the country."

German Ship Is On Return Voyage Across Atlantic

Commander Of Large Plane Says Trip To Finish In 20 Hours

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Germany's giant air liner Brandenburg took off from Floyd Bennett Field at 8:02 A. M. E. S. T. today for its return flight to Berlin, the 13th transatlantic flight of the summer.

Capt. Alfred Heide, the plane's commander, said before the take-off the ship would fly just south of the great cays and hoped to land in Germany in about 20 hours.

The weather was clear and bright but the fliers expected to encounter some rain over the Atlantic.

The four-motor ship arrived here Thursday, 21 hours and 56 minutes after a surprise take-off from Berlin, 3,975 miles away.

In a message at 10:00 A. M. it gave its position to the Radioactive Corporation Station at Chatham, Mass., as about 650 miles northeast of Chatham.

Five hours after the take-off, the coast guard here intercepted a wireless message from the plane giving her position as latitude 64°21' west. The coast guard said that was roughly 100 miles east of Cape Sable, Nova Scotia.

KIEL, Germany, Aug. 13.—(UPI)—A Czechoslovak passenger plane crashed here today, killing 11 persons and seriously injuring one. Details of the accident were not available immediately.

Corrigan Utilizes Gum As Gas Gauge

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Doug Corrigan's cruse, which was equipped with a Boy Scout compass, a pine board seat and a baling wire latch for its door, also had a chewing-gum gas gauge.

When Corrigan brought the plane down yesterday after its first test since his ocean hop, he brushed four wads of gum from a wiper.

"What's that?" someone asked.

"Well," he said, "on that flight, whenever I took ran dry I had to switch to another in a hurry. I had to know, too, how many tanks I had left. So every time a tank ran out, I'd stick a wad of gum there. You see, I don't have a gas gauge on this ship."

The main points of the 60-page statement were:

The South, with a wealth of economic resources, is the poorest section of the country. With 28 percent of the population of the country, it has only 10 percent of tangible assets, including factories, machines, and the tools with which people make their living.

In the search for jobs, southerners in the prime of life leave the South in the greatest numbers, tending to make it a land of the very old and the very young.

The average income in the South in 1937 was $314, compared to $604 in the rest of the country.

The richest state in the South ranks lower in per capita income than the poorest state in other regions.

The assessed value of taxable property in the South in 1936 averaged only $463 per person, while in the northeastern states it averaged $1,370.

The South, with one-sixth of the Nation's school revenues, educates one-third of the nation's children.

Endowments of all the colleges and universities of the South are less than the combined endowments of Harvard and Yale.

Four million southern families, representing one-half of the total in that region, should be rehoused. Homes in the rural South are the oldest, have the lowest value and the greatest need of repairs of any farm houses in the United States.

Many have left the southern states and are in better condition this year than ever before, according to the chamber of commerce.
