

P. G. A. Plans $5,000 Purses For Tourneys

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—A long-range plan of tournament operations with a $5,000 minimum purse for all P. G. A. tourneys and the granting of supervisory control of those events to Fred Corcoran, tournament bureau manager, was announced today by Tom Walsh, president of the Professional Golfers Association.

Walsh, who will not run for re-election at next week's annual P. G. A. Convention here, said the organization executive committee already has approved several recommendations whereby the P. G. A. hopes to improve and extend its tournament schedule.

"We've felt the $5,000 minimum has been needed for some time," Walsh said, "and next week I will recommend that first place money in our own P. G. A. championship be increased from $1,000 to $5,000."

"Corcoran is thoroughly familiar with the tournament setup and his efficient handling of past tourneys makes him the man to take charge of these events. It has happened some times that officials who consistently behave in an ungentlemanly manner enter our tourneys and their conduct reflects on the P. G. A. One of Corcoran's jobs will be to pass on the eligibility of the entrants."

In the event of a tie for tournament championship, Walsh said, the players will in the future play for 50 percent of the play-off prize money. Entries will be limited to 150 players and qualifying rounds will be held, he said. In addition, 5 percent of the total prize money of the P. G. A. tournament will be earmarked for bureau expenses, thus insuring permanent retention of the bureau.

"Limiting of the fields to 150 entrants should speed up play and prove beneficial to both players and fans," Walsh said.

The P. G. A. executive said he would recommend next week that Corcoran be given a three-year contract instead of the one-year document which the P. G. A. has extended for several years.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Jack L. Herring

In spite of four losses and one win the Reds have been through a lot this season and very much deserve the credit they received Monday afternoon. Coach McLucas held only a short skull practice, Monday, outlining the Tallahassee offense and defense and expelling some of the strategy which he plans to use against the Lions here Friday night.

Coach journeyed to Jacksonville Thursday night to watch the conference leader engage the Lee Generals of that city in an exciting encounter to which Tally lost. Carter of the Lion squad is a very fine back, in fact McLucas said that he was the finest back that he had seen in several years. Green does all of the passing for the Lions but Carter carries the brunt of the ground attack.

The Tally line averages about 100 pounds. The line is flanked by two very capable boys, Taft and Russell, Taft having caught a spectacular pass against Lee for a score.

Yesterday the locals held only a short practice which consisted mostly of the backs, Brannon and Farrell kicking and the linemen running down under them. Following this, McLucas lined up a second string outfit in the Tally formations and explained the situation which the Reds would run up against Friday night.

BLOTT SHOTS—In spite of the loss of the Friday night did you notice the wonderful school spirit of the student body? Keep it up.—The boys liked the white ball used in the Orlando game because (they said) it was easier to handle and see. We ran up against a couple of all state men and some boys who had gained honorable mention Friday. Maybe we were outclassed.—Don't think that the Indians have left the reservation when you see the Tally players. They paint their faces and hands a gruesome red before every game and smelt some blood curdling yell. You have never heard before. They're trying to scare somebody. BOO!

—A nice crowd turned out for the Sanford-Orlando game, approximately 4,000 the Sentinel said. Thanks folks, the Reds appreciate your loyal support and we will get to rolling yet.—Humors are that maybe Coach will get some help with the crowd in the form of an assistant Coach. He has had to handle all the work this year because (I hope) vacated and the school board elected to include a replacement out.—Here's hoping he can do it. It's kinda hard to handle the boys by yourself.

Gator Coaches Order Aspirin For Georgia Game

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 5 (Special)—Tom Lieb will be the first to admit a Florida victory over Georgia would be an exceedingly satisfying outcome for Saturday's game in Jacksonville, but this is no time to deal in fanciful dreams and hopes, but to face stern realities.

And the reality of the situation is simply that the Florida mentor saw the Georgia Bulldogs in their win over Auburn last week, and he put it mildly, he's ordered an extra supply of aspirin tablets for the headache he's been carrying since last Saturday night.

"This Slinkwich is absolutely all they've said he is," commented Lieb.

"And Georgia has the heaviest line in its history," reflected Sam McAllister, Gator line coach, who once coached the Georgia forward wall.

"And while they've given the great play to Slinkwich, you can put it down that Lamar Davis is just about as great a back," both coaches agreed.

McAllister pointed out that Cliff Kimsey, Georgia's brilliant blocking back, has had only about five minutes relief in a total of four big games.

Lieb, who saw Georgia twice last year—the week before they played Florida, and in the Gator game, says it's a more powerful team by a considerable margin than the 1940 edition.

Last year Slinkwich didn't play. He's the reason most fans figure Georgia will top the Gators by a comfortable margin when the shouting is all over Saturday.

Road To England Is Road To Death, Is Berlin Report

The Salinas was the fourth U. S. navy ship to clash with Adolf Hitler's U-boats in the Atlantic since this war began. The destroyer Greer had a bloodless engagement with a submarine on Sept. 4; the destroyer Kearny limped 400 miles back to port after being torpedoed on Oct. 17, and the Reuben James was sunk on Oct. 30-31.

The Navy's announcement that "it is believed all living survivors (of the Reuben James) were rescued," marked the greatest single American Navy vessel disaster since the U. S. S. Maine exploded in the harbor at Havana, Cuba, with a loss of 260 officers and men.

The destroyer had 142 men aboard when the steel-nosed torpedo crashed into her. Tonight, on the basis of the Navy announcement, 97 members of her personnel were dead; eight were wounded and 37 were safe and unhurt.

Chicago Bears Still Wondering About 16-14 Loss

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—(AP)—If the Green Bay Packers used a secret defense to stop the famed Chicago Bears, 16 to 14, last Sunday it still is a secret to at least three members of the Bear family—and they'd like to let in on it.

These three—quarterbacks Sid Luckman and Bob Snyder and Coach Paddy Driscoll—said so Tuesday to several hundred fans who gathered at the weekly pro-huddle luncheon intent on digging out the deep, dark mystery of the Pack methods in handling the Bears their first 1941 setback.

The fans can't be blamed for looking for mysteries, for there are a lot of stories going the rounds on how the Packers beat the "unbeatable" Chicago club. One is that Ross Letlow, star Varsity, was sidelined by injury for two months, studied the Bears through five games and found a way to stop the Bears "off" formation offense. The Packers have been a little reluctant to say how they did it.

"There was nothing secret about that Pack defense," said Driscoll. "Most teams have used a seven-man line, against it. The Packers used a seven and six-man line all afternoon. We were down and the Packers were up, that's all. I think the boys tried too hard."

Luckman said "it was just one of those days I'll admit I called too many passing plays, but the seven-man line is an invitation to pass. Our running game wasn't of the best and I wasn't hitting my receivers. Did the Packers win the game or we lose it? Friends—the only answer to that one is the score—16 to 14 in favor of Green Bay."

Snyder said his club suffered badly from "Hutonitis."

"We put five guys on that Don Hutson (great Pack end) on every pass play—and then look up to see some other Pack-er catching the ball," he said.

GERMANS REPORT Reaching Black Sea In South

110 miles south of the capital, was claimed to be "floundering" in its third day, with thousands of Nazi corpses piled up on roads south of the capital by savage Soviet artillery barrages.

In the Crimea, however, the Soviet position continued desperate, with split Russian forces backed up to the sea at Sevastopol and Kerch and threatened with the horror of a "double Dunkirk" attempt at evacuation under artillery and dive bomber bombardment.

The Germans were believed within artillery range of the Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol in the south and to the east had planted the Nazi flag at Feodosiya, port 60 miles from Kerch and the narrow Kerch Strait, separating the Crimea from the northern Caucasus. Both Sevastopol and Kerch were under devastating Nazi air attack.

TUNE FOR CARROUSELS

(From Harper's Magazine)
Who rides the painted carrousel
In lands beneath the yoke?
What children love the singing wheel
Since their tight hearts broke?
Who sits the rooster and the roc,
The pony and the bear,
Who bravely clings and breathes
less laughs,
Since death rode down the air?
Who gallops to a squeaky tune
Wonderful and gay
Now that the infant Prince of Peace
Has turned His face away?
In charred and bitter villages,
In blackened countryside,
Who loves the painted carrousel?
Who clambers up? Who rides?

Soaking Little Business Again

Little business men, of whom there are hundreds of thousands throughout the country carrying on under conditions often characterized by the long uphill pull, will be interested to learn from the United States Treasury's recent proposal to Congress that they are soon to have another burr strapped under the saddle in which they are carrying the bulk of the nation's burdens.

Secretary Morgenthau, himself the son of such parents, whose only contact with little business has been in squeezing from it more tax dollars, thinks that the government needs about five billion dollars more to spend and that if little business is soaked again, it will in some way help to avoid inflation. He proposes still higher Social Security taxes and a new income tax levy for which he assists the business men should become the tax collectors.

Let there be some who do not know what Social Security taxes are, let us explain that they are a fixed percentage of every business' payroll collected for the purpose of taking care of the unemployed and of providing pensions, not now, but in years to come, for the nation's aged. But instead of providing relief for the unemployed or pensions for the aged, the money thus collected is used to buy government bonds and then becomes available for the construction of battleships, Army camps or whatever else
the government wants to use it for.

Now this payroll tax is levied, and collected from every business, regardless of whether it is making money or losing it. Many a little business which has been struggling along under enormous burdens during the depression, may be on the very point of bankruptcy but regardless of how much money it may be losing, it has to pay these so-called Social Security taxes before it pays its rent, or even its janitor. If it cannot pay, it has but one alternative and that is to go out of business.

Secretary Morgenthau's plan soaks little business in preference to big business because at this time big business is making huge profits out of the rearmament program and can well afford to pay the increased taxes, while little business has not benefited one iota from national defense, has been given none of the defense contracts and as a matter of fact in many instances is being forced to the wall by the refusal of the Priority Commission to allow it to have the raw materials necessary for its continued production.

None-the-less burdensome is the suggestion that the employers should act as tax collectors for the government in deducting the new income tax from its employees' pay checks. Unless a person has been connected with business, he can have no idea of the great amount of additional clerical work which this seemingly insignificant task imposes.
And for many a little business, which has no bookkeeping department at all, it necessitates the hiring of an additional man.

Soaking little business in this manner cannot fail to injure the commercial life of the country at a time when its greatest strength is needed for the defense of the country. A healthy prosperous nation is the best anti-dote
we can think of for security against foreign propaganda or invasion. New taxes are needed for our defense effort, and something should be done to curtail rising prices, but let the taxes fall on those who are benefitting from the defense program.

A Valued Citizen

Sanford has never failed to appreciate the exceptional abilities of the Rev. Martin Bram who came to live among us eight and a half years ago, remained to marry one of our most charming ladies, and has been showered with honors and duties by almost every organization in town.
But it is so much a part of the tendency of human nature to take what we have for granted, we doubt if many of us ever stopped to realize the gigantic hole which would be left in our community if Mr. Bram ever decided to pull up stakes.

Now that he has decided to go, we imagine most of his time during the next few weeks will be consumed in writing letters of resignation from the various organizations to which he belongs, not merely inactive memberships
just to belong but offices requiring leadership, intelligence and initiative. Since he has been here, he has worked himself unsparringly, and we might say, unmercifully for the good, not only of his own church, but of all denominations, and of all Sanford. It will take a good man, it will take half a dozen good men, to fill his place.

We are sorry to see him go. Every member of his congregation is sorry to see him go. We rather imagine that everyone in Sanford is sorry to see him go. And yet we cannot fail to appreciate the broader field of opportunity which St. Andrews in Tampa offers him. There he will have hundreds of people to preach to where here he has had dozens. There he will have thousands to help and inspire where here he has been limited to hundreds. We haven't the slightest doubt that Mr. Bram will achieve the same eminence in Florida's third largest city that he has right here in Sanford.

In a sense it is a tribute to this whole city that the vestry of St. Andrews came to Sanford to find a minister.

the curtailed coastwise steamer
service and governmental priorities, which will have some effect on trucking, makes it imperative that the refrigerator equipment be handled as expeditiously
as possible.

According to Mr. Roth, the transport time of a refrigerator car in moving a load from origin to destination and return to origin point only consumes one-third of the period involved, the remaining time being consumed in loading, unloading and handling of the equipment at the road diversion yards. Mr. Roth emphasized the fact that increased use of refrigerator equipment in handling fresh meats, packing house products, canned foods, etc., makes it imperative that the equipment be expediently endeavor to bring this about more regional offices have been established throughout the entire

viet declaration that the Nazis
had been halted everywhere along the central front and were urgently digging in, even em-placing tanks as stationary pill-boxes, in an effort to hold what gains they had made.

Hitler, it appeared, had passed at least for the time being from the offensive to the defensive and was for the moment
fighting a mere holding action in the hope of preventing the possible shift of troops from about Moscow to the south.

As to the Crimea, the available information plainly implied that on the approaches to both Sevastopol, the main Soviet Black Sea naval base, the Kerch, which stands at the northeastern extremity of the peninsula and is separated by only two miles of water from the western Caucasus, the Nazis had come down to a substantial halt.

As much was indicated by Berlin's own accounts and by Soviet reports that these thrusts had materially slackened. The explanation seemed to be that the Nazis had reached the outer fringe of strong defensive systems in which the Russians had been falling back in a retreat which was now ending.

Before both Sevastopol and Kerch, British informants said, the Soviet marshal, Semyon Timoshenko, had completed the reorganization of strong and effective forces and was ready now
to join the major battle.

Nevertheless, the German march over the Yailas would present an important strategical gain for it would put the invaders in position to take from the rear the Yailas positions, which are among the strongest in Crimea, and likewise would mean that the Soviet army had

Women Might Be Drafted In Britain

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Freeing Star said Wednesday that women could be included in future military and industrial conscription now being considered by the British government.

Informed sources declined to comment on the report but had previously said women would never be called into the fighting services.

British women now are registered for war work but their service in army navy and air-force auxiliaries is voluntary.

The present conscription acts apply only to men between 18 and 40. Ernest Brown, minister of labor, can direct men of 41
and over and women of any age to work of national importance but cannot order them into service.

Women cut into three sections.
The first section, the most important, will be made up of women who are essential to the war effort. The second section will be made up of women who are essential to the national defense. The third section will be made up of women who are essential to the national economy.

Series Of Programs Ends 6th Broadcast

"Heirs of Liberty," the patriotic series sponsored by the Department of Justice in co-operation with the Patriotic Committee of American Revolutionary Societies composed of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Daughters of the Revolution, Daughters of 1812, Sons of the American Revolution, Sons of the Revolution, and Children of the American Revolution, has just concluded the first six programs in the series, which have been broadcast every Thursday evening from Aug. 28 through Oct. 2.

Due to the enthusiasm which resulted from the broadcasts and the inquiries concerning the availability of the series, a list of the programs has been given out for publication and the entire series of six scripts may be obtained by writing to the Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

The Department of Justice is also making transcriptions of the programs which may be used on radio play-back equipment and may be obtained free of charge by local students, schools, educational institutions and non-commercial organizations upon request, according to Mrs. G. J. Golden, of Tampa, state chairman of the Press Relations Committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The only condition required by the Justice Department, is that a commercial announcement be used at the time the recordings are made. The recordings have been available since Nov. 1, and may be obtained by writing the Justice Department.

The Patriotic Committee and the Department of Justice expect to continue the program and in order to determine the number of scripts which have been received in this way, they are asking that persons send in letters expressing their reactions concerning the programs and whether they would like to have them continued.

It is contemplated that the following patriots will be dramatized when the program continues: James Monroe, Francis Scott Key, George Mason, Edward Randolph, John Marshall, John Hancock, Andrew Jackson, Daniel Webster and John C. Calhoun.

The programs that have already been broadcast and which may be obtained include: George Washington portrayed by Taylor Holmes, a descendant of Rev. Blaine Tucker; Thomas Jefferson, portrayed by George Coulter, a descendant of Virginia; Patrick Henry, portrayed by Bert Lyall, descendant of Mrs. Harold Maya; Benjamin Franklin, by Frank Craven, descendant of Franklin; George Washington, by Richard Waring, descendant of Alexander Hamilton; and John Adams, portrayed by Burgess Meredith, descendant of Agnes H. Rosenbacher.

Church Missionary Society Has Meeting

The Missionary Society of the First Christian Church met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Julian Wilson, with Mrs. J. L. Niblack presiding. A committee was appointed to plan a Woman's Day program at the church for Dec. 1. It was also voted to change the meeting night to the second Monday in each month to avoid conflicts.

Mrs. O. T. Pearson, program chairman, gave the devotional and Miss Bertie Hughes, Mrs. O. D. Landrum and Mrs. Elmer Cordell, gave readings covering home and foreign missions.

During the social hour, Mrs.

Althean Class Has Original Program

Much merriment resulted from the "white elephant" sale which was held in connection with the meeting of the Althean Class of the First Baptist Church at the home of Mrs. Pearl Hanson on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5. W. B. Brinson conducted the sale.

Proceeding the sale, proceeds of which will be used by the class in its welfare projects, a short business meeting was presided over by Mrs. O. C. Gibbs and the devotional led by Mrs. Joder Cameron.

Reports were heard from the various officers of the class and the names of the hostesses for the year were read. A Christmas banquet was planned for members and their escorts and husbands. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hanson, assisted by Marie Letridge, Mrs. Eunice Kay and Mrs. Cameron, co-hostesses.

Present in addition to the hostesses were: Mrs. J. W. Hall, Mrs. G. E. Selman, Mrs. W. C. Lyb, Mrs. A. C. Williams, Mrs. E. E. Rogers, Mrs. E. M. Swain, Mrs. C. D. Forrester, Mrs. R. N. Nipper, Mrs. A. L. Kelly, Mrs. V. A. Williams, Mrs. Irah Hall, Mrs. Jessie Wainwright, Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. E. C. Harper and Mrs. Brinson.

Squirrel Lines House With Flags

PENN YAN, N. Y. Nov. 6.—Flags frequently washed from veterans' graves in the Lake View Cemetery. The superintendent set up a vigil. He saw a squirrel scampering here and there.

Finally he saw the squirrel take a flag in his mouth, climb a birdbath pole and enter the house. The superintendent investigated. He found the Michigan walls lined with 40 flags for the winter nest.

Wilson served refreshments to the following: Mrs. V. H. Grand, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Landrum, Mrs. Cordell, Mrs. Earl Brown, Mrs. George Townsend, Mrs. Niblack, Mrs. Inabinet, Miss Hughes and Miss Sylvia Ann Pearson.

Winter Coats Will Feature Lovely Fabrics

By HELEN FORRIST HALL
NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The new winter coats look like lots of elegant fabrics—and like lots of money, though it isn't necessarily so.

The chemise coat is about the latest one to appear—with flared swinging shoulders. It may be all one color of wool, combine suede and wool or in two tones of wool. It may have fur tuxedo revers, trim or lining. But it's here, on smart women who don't bump or bunch it in but let it go bang.

The wrap around coat, minus button, snap or other fastener, is another important bulk of fabric. It looks sideward for closing and is frequently tied on with a sash to nip it snugly at the waist and emphasize that extravagant use of cloth. We wouldn't know whether these styles are looking forward to a time when we may have no metal for button snappers, eyes and snap fasteners, or whether it was just time for new coat silhouettes.

The long, top-coat coat, the basque coat, the slither-back coat with full front, the trim, skirted, blow-back coat—these are all good and give variety to the most interesting coat seen in years. And while there are tunics and frocks, the swooping hemline may influence the skirt length of next Spring's coat lengths. A wise woman will see to it that there's a fair hem in her new coat, just in case she buys a Spring dress to go beneath her winter coat.

While discussing that matter of fabric, bags and hats to match the coat are smart and popular in all price brackets.

27,860 Are Killed By Automobiles To Date

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Americans who keep an eye on the way sons slaughter overseas could direct their attention to a sizeable slaughter in their own country.

The national safety council informed them that 27,860 men, women and children lost their lives as a result of motor vehicle accidents in the United States during the first three quarters of 1941.

The toll for the nine months was 17 percent greater than during a similar period last year.

College Men Are Eager To Join R. O. T. C. Now

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 6—(Special)—Student interest in military training at the University of Florida, slack for many years after the demilitarization of this country, in the early twenties, has turned back to the University's crack R. O. T. C. unit with the national emphasis on defense and service training.

Boasting today a total enrollment of 1,800 cadets, more than 60 percent of the University's ranks are made up of the young men interested in student life. The most modern of motorized equipment, steam-driven methods of teaching from able technicians, plus the opportunity for commissions in the reserve army, the military training at the University one of the most sought-after activities.

Through the years, despite small allowances and little equipment the Florida R. O. T. C. unit and others throughout the country continued their work so that today reserve officers are available as the backbone of the new army as well as instructors who are training the new-comers.

The place of the college graduate in national defense is found in part through the training camps, which picks the best of those enrolled in basic military for advanced training.

All physical fit students under 21, take the basic training. The completion of this two-year course allows the student, if superior in scholarship and military activity to continue for two more years in the unit, serving as a cadet-officer. At the end of his four years the student receives his commission in the reserve.

This entails today, of course, active service for most.

The Florida R. O. T. C. which has received "excellent" rating at the yearly inspection, the highest possible grade in the national organization, is an infantry unit shortly after World War I, is under the instruction of fourteen regular army officers headed by Col. S. B. Honkins. This is in sharp contrast with the 1926 staff for four men.

Back in those days the unit consisted of only one small infantry group which drilled on the campus center. Now there are both artillery and infantry units, a modern convenient, armory and stables, and a large and well-kept drill field. Equipment includes rifles, machine guns, 75 millimeter gun, trucks, pistols, horses and uniforms.

At the end of this year, the University of Florida will contribute 150 trained young men to the Army, ready to take their places in the ranks of the commissioned officers. More than 150 juniors will attend the R. O. T. C. training camp in the summer, testing ground for the embryonic soldier.

According to the University military authorities, almost all of the unmarried graduates who completed their training in the last six years, have gone into the army.

All Egg Prices Advance Sharply

CHICAGO, Nov. 6—(AP)—Sharp advances in all egg classifications, which sent average prices to the highest level for November since 1929, were recorded in the wholesale market Wednesday. Prices ranged from 1-2 to 2 cents a dozen.

Beat eggs were up most with extra firsts at 37 1-3 cents a dozen and firsts at 35 cents. Both grades sold about 15 cents a dozen wholesale about the same time last year.

Traders on the Chicago mercantile exchange said seasonally declining receipts, which normally send prices higher in the autumn, were a factor in the advance, although receipts were somewhat larger than yesterday.

Another factor in the upsurge, traders said, was government buying for export and domestic relief purposes. The government bought 4000 cases of eggs in north central states yesterday, the exchange reported, paying as high as 38 3-4 cent or 1-2 cent a dozen above the price of late last week.

Sponge sales on the Tarpon Springs Exchange for the first 10 months of this year total $1,107,087.03, greater than the sales for any previous year in the history of the industry.

Oviedo Church Filled As Old Members Gather

Last Sunday was the Eighth Annual Home Coming at the Foster Chapel Methodist Church in Oviedo. Once more the little white church, surrounded by the great oaks that were already there to welcome its arrival when it was moved to its present location more than half a century ago, became the mecca of old members and friends who came from almost every part of the state to fill the auditorium to the point of overflowing.

The Sunday School, under the direction of T. L. Lingo, superintendent, presented a special Rally Day program. Two of the three adult Bible classes were taught by guests. The Home Builder's Class heard their former teacher, Mrs. H. B. McCall, of Sanford, and the Men's Bible Class was taught by Judge R. W. Ware, also of Sanford, a long time friend of this church.

The guest speaker at the Morning Worship Service was the Rev. R. C. Holmes, of Orlando, who has been superintendent of the Orlando district of the Methodist Church since last June. He brought a timely message on the subject, "Going Home," in which he pictured the Church as an intermediary "Home" connected, on the one hand, with our parental homes, and on the other with the Eternal Home which is the hope of the Christian Faith.

Music was furnished by the regular church choir which has been organized within the past year and is under the direction of Mrs. T. L. Lingo, pianist and director of music.

Dinner was served to more than 250 guests by the Young Women's Circle of the local Women's Society of Christian Service. Mrs. R. Murphy was in charge of the preparation and serving of the dinner.

The high point of the day's program came at the informal song service after dinner when the Rev. J. W. Austin, who served this church as pastor in 1900, spoke on the subject, "As I remember." Much of his talk was devoted to his associations with Jim King and J. H. Lee, pioneer settlers in this community and charter members of this church.

He paid special tribute to his immediate successor as pastor, the Rev. J. T. Mitchell, who he believed was the inspiration to the Eternal Home Coming within the past year. He also spoke of his two daughters who were tiny tots when he came to Oviedo. Both of them are now married to Methodist ministers, the elder to the Rev. E. L. Holliday, now of New Smyrna Beach, and the younger to the Rev. B. M. Montgomery, chaplain of the hospital at Camp Blanding.

The "old timers" were delighted at the many improvements being made to the church property. These included complete reconditioning of the leaded glass windows, the installation of folding partitions in the educational addition, the landscaping of the churchyard, and the redecorating and refurbishing of the living room and dining room at the parsonage.

He paid special tribute to his immediate successor as pastor, the Rev. J. T. Mitchell, who he believed was the inspiration to the Eternal Home Coming within the past year. He also spoke of his two daughters who were tiny tots when he came to Oviedo. Both of them are now married to Methodist ministers, the elder to the Rev. E. L. Holliday, now of New Smyrna Beach, and the younger to the Rev. B. M. Montgomery, chaplain of the hospital at Camp Blanding.

The "old timers" were delighted at the many improvements being made to the church property. These included complete reconditioning of the leaded glass windows, the installation of folding partitions in the educational addition, the landscaping of the churchyard, and the redecorating and refurbishing of the living room and dining room at the parsonage.

Discharged Men Must Register Under Selective Service Act

ST. AUGUSTINE, Nov. 6—(Special)—With thousands of men who have been serving in the Army scheduled for release from the armed forces before Christmas, Brigadier General Vivian Collins, State Director of Selective Service, today warned that such men must register under the Selective Training and Service Act upon their discharge.

Although, under certain conditions, the Director said, some men discharged from the Army will not be liable for further precatina training and service under the Selective Service Act, it is incumbent upon them to register upon expiration of their service if they were within the age group of 21 to 36 on Oct. 16, 1940, and if they have not already registered.

General Collins said: "The Selective Training and Service Act is specific in requiring registration of men within the age group of 21 to 36 who have served in the Army. Those men who were in the active National Guard on Oct. 16, 1940, and who have completed six or more consecutive years in that service are relieved from peacetime liability for additional service and training, but they must register. Men who were members of the National Guard and who have completed less than six years of service are relieved neither from registration nor training.

Drivers May Appeal License Suspension

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6—(AP)—Persons whose automobile drivers' licenses have been suspended or revoked in Florida may apply to the state parole commission for review of their cases.

Chairman Francis R. Bridges, Jr., announced today the commission will meet Dec. 2 to hear such appeals, and thereafter will meet on the first Tuesday of each month. The cases will not be considered at any other time.

The drivers' license law provides for appeals in instances of suspension or revocation to be made to the parole commission or to the courts.

Cigar Companies Oppose State Sign Laws

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6.—(AP) Two Florida cigar manufacturers—the Ewisher Company, Jacksonville, and the Hav-a-Tampa Company, Tampa—Tuesday attacked in the Supreme Court provisions of a 1941 billboard law which require commercial signboards to be 5 feet beyond highway rights of way. The cases were appealed from Dural and Hillsborough county circuit court decisions upholding the act, and the two companies contended the law outlaws their signs and that the setback provision has no reasonable relation to public safety, morals, health or welfare. They maintained that aesthetic considerations were not enough to uphold the statute, which was passed by the legislature with backing of garden clubs, and small organizations. Donald Chroll, assistant attorney general, argued that the act is constitutional and the public safety is involved in the signboard regulation. He cited several recent cases of other supreme courts which he said showed that the beautification arguments are in point. None of the attorneys attacking the act objected to provisions which require signs to be moved off highway rights of way and prohibit their erection within 100 feet of cemeteries, schools, parks and churches. Tom Whitaker, Tampa, representing the 13 v. A. Tampa Company, said the law made certain signs illegal because of the effect it would have on them rather than because of their location. He said that a commercial sign within 15 feet of the right of way would become legal if it were painted over and the owner of the property on which it was located used it to advertise that land for sale. The city of New York had a population of less than 100,000 a hundred years ago.

Trucks, Buses Told To Prepare For War

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—(AP) The country's trucking and bus industry was advised Tuesday to formulate a plan of their own for back-topping other transportation facilities in war-time emergencies.

The transportation industry will be advised by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is conducting a study of the industry's ability to handle such situations.

RALEIGH, N. C.—Best for our soldier boys! "Pop Eye," Grand prize blue ribbon winner over all beef cattle entries in North Carolina's annual State Fair, one of the country's biggest. 10 months old, 863 pound Hereford, typical of the Tidewater South's growing cattle industry, he'll shortly provide steaming steaks for the army boys at nearby cantonment. 11 year old Max Vannoy, generously freckled, shows off his pet proudly though he cried when his pa told him "Pop Eye" would be sacrificed to National Defense.
With the building up of pastures and forage crops and the introduction of pure-bred bulls to cross with scrub cows in the Carolinas Georgia and Florida, the Southeastern states have made great advances in the livestock industry, according to experts at the North Carolina State Fair.

Marines In China Cities May Withdraw

Government Is Considering Taking Troops From Three Important Towns

No Decision Is Reached

President Says Move Has Not Been Discussed With Japan

Associated Press
President Roosevelt today declared the government is considering a withdrawal of American Marines from Peiping, Tientsin and Shanghai, China.

He did not know when the decision will be reached and declined to elaborate.

The President said in reply to a question there has been no discussion between the United States and Japan of the presence of marines in China.

Japan's patience has "reached the point of exhaustion" and her army may strike next at the Burma Road to cut off American supplies to China unless the United States comes to terms with her special envoy, Saburo Kurusu, the foreign office organ, Japan Times and Advertiser, declared last night.

There is always the possibility, even the probability of a direct march on the Burma Road," the editorial said.

"If we force America to abandon what is tantamount to direct military operations against Japan at the expense of the American people," it said.

Kurusu's trip by plane across the Pacific was described as "the last opportunity (for the United States) to make demands for a withdrawal and restore the situation to an amicable settlement."

Trade envoys, however, said the Japanese government has not yet decided whether to permit a direct march on the Burma Road.

Japan has troops in Manchuria, Siberia, and in southern French Indo-China opposite Singapore. She also has a neutrality treaty with Russia and belongs to the Axis pact with Germany and Italy.

Japan sent a sharp protest to Russia yesterday and demanded a prompt reply to her charges that the Russian fleet in the Black Sea was a threat to the Japanese navy.

Bolt Elected President Of Men Gardeners

Group Changes Name To Seminole Botanical Society

Thomas C. Bolt was elected president of the men's Garden Club at a meeting in the Recreation Building last night which saw the name of the organization changed to the Seminole Botanical Society and the membership increased to 50.

Other officers elected were: R. L. Dean, first vice president; Les Leaker, second vice president; Al Hunt, corresponding secretary; Frank McNeill, recording secretary; and Dr. H. H. McCaslin, treasurer.

Copies of the constitution and by-laws of the Orlando Garden Club were distributed to the members present and a committee composed of Mike Minarik, Ed Rowe and E. H. Bennett was appointed to consider them and report at the next meeting.

Suggesting a plan whereby members might exchange flowers with one another, Mr. Bolt stated that the purpose of the club was for the enlightenment and entertainment of its members and that from time to time experts in horticulture would be asked to give talks at the meetings on how to get the best results from one's garden.

The members decided that meetings would be held once a month during the first week of the month and that the exact date would be fixed by the executive committee and announced a few days in advance.

Bishop Lawrence Dies

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Rev. William Lawrence, 91, of Protestant Episcopal diocese of Massachusetts, died suddenly Thursday at his residence here.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS on May 20, 1941, with a view to ensuring the most effective correlation and use of the instruments of civilian defense, I established by Executive order the Office of Civilian Defense; and

WHEREAS by my proclamation of May 27, 1941, I declared that an unlimited national emergency confronts this country, which requires that its military, naval, air, and civilian defenses be put on a basis of readiness to repel any and all acts or threats of aggression directed toward any part of the Western Hemisphere; and

WHEREAS it is the manifest duty and desire of every person in the United States to participate in measures essential to civilian defense;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the period commencing on Armistice Day, Tuesday, November 11, 1941, and continuing through Sunday, November 16, as a time for all persons throughout the Nation to give thought to their duties and responsibilities in the defense of this country, and to become better informed of the many vital phases of the civilian defense program and of the opportunities which it offers for the participation of every individual American in the defense of our precious heritage; and I request the Governors of the several States, Territories, and possessions of the United States to issue similar proclamations.

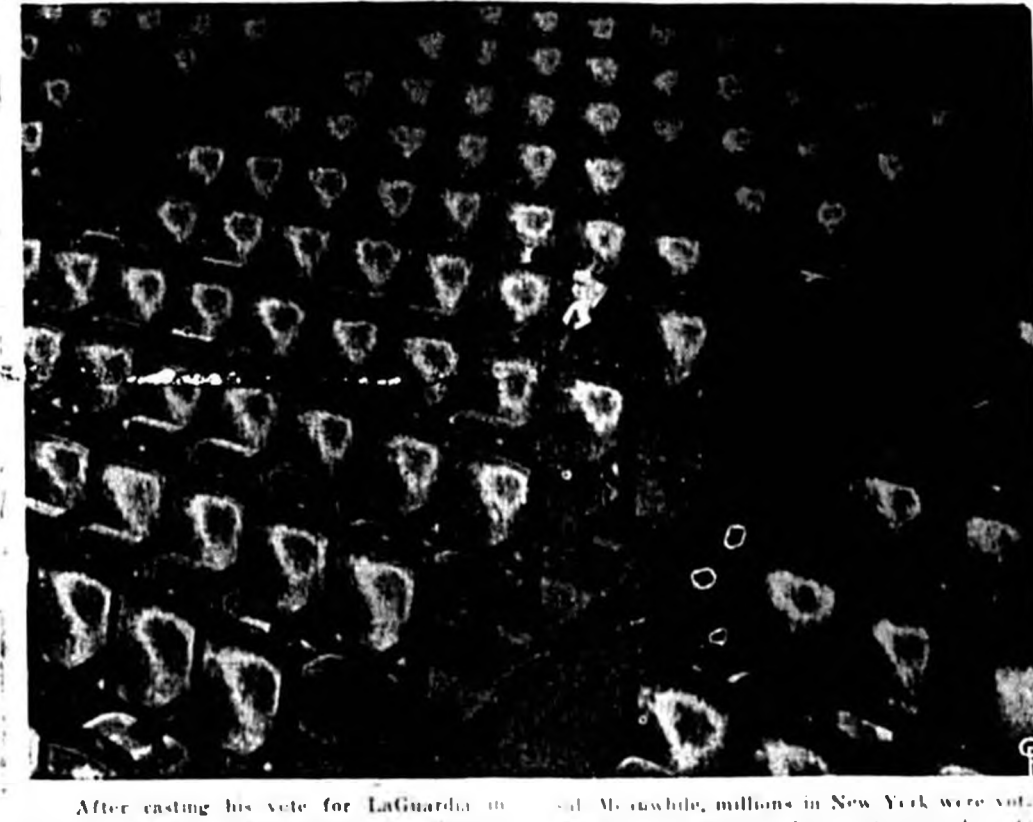

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-second day of October in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-one and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-sixth.

Stalin Is Optimistic In Speech

Red Premier Says Reich Is Bleeding To Death And Facing Disaster

No Gains Claimed By German Forces

Soviets Advance In North And Hold Ground In South

Associated Press
Premier Joseph Stalin, in a speech to the Russian people today, reflected optimism in the fight against Germany, and said "Germany is bleeding to death and facing disaster." He also predicted the Reich would "burst under the weight of her own crimes."

The speech marked the 24th anniversary of the Russian revolution. Stalin added that "German invaders are straining their last forces."

The counter-attacking Russians reported they were driving the Germans into retreat in the Volokolamsk sector, northwest of Moscow, and were continuing the push after recapturing several towns. In the South, the Germans admitted stubborn resistance to their Crimean offensive.

German military commentators acknowledged the halting of the Moscow offensive by bad weather and the Germans' appearance in force for a bleak winter in the trenches around Leningrad and Moscow.

The British reported that they are considering opening a new fighting front. The British press association said the time might be near for the establishment of a new front.

The Germans appeared last night to have about given up for the foreseeable future. Efforts to take Moscow and Leningrad and there were plausible suggestions that Hitler now was preparing to turn the main force of his northern and central armies southward soon to join his already immense southern columns in a great struggle on the Caucasus and the Crimea.

First, there was a report by British informants that most of the German aerial squadrons were being withdrawn from both Moscow and Leningrad fronts, some being sent directly to the south and others going back to Germany for refitting and reorganization of pilot personnel.

This substantial concession of Moscow offensive—London described it as so, indeed, it seemed to be on the basis of the available information—was attributed principally to the inability of the air arm to smash the extremely strong Russian outer defenses before Moscow and Leningrad as it had done in so many other theaters. The British thought, too, that the lack of supplying advanced aerial bases over 1500 miles of contested communication lines had proved too great.

Second, in Berlin, there was speculation of the possibility of a grand offensive down upon the broad Caucasian isthmus between the Arax and Caspian Seas. An operation of such scope would imply the use not only of the existing southern German armies, which are approaching the Caucasus from the west, but a thrust to the south of the strong forces now all but immobilized before Leningrad and Moscow.

Informed London sources said today the Russian counter-attack on Volokolamsk appears to be developing into a powerful offensive which may completely reopen Moscow-Leningrad communications and relieve the siege of Leningrad.

The official Finnish radio circulated abroad an important statement of aims which said Finland's war with Russia may be ended "as soon as the threat of a renewed attack has been removed and frontiers have been made secure."

Methodists Advocate Stopping War Steps

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Methodist World Peace Commission declared to nearly eight million Methodists in the United States today "its belief that our nation can best serve mankind by abstaining from further steps toward full participation in present wars."

The statement was adopted at the annual meeting.

Anti-Inflation Tax Action Postponed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.), announced Thursday the House ways and means committee had voted to defer temporarily its consideration of a treasury request for immediate study of an anti-inflation tax program designed to raise in the neighborhood of $5,000,000,000.

Doughton said the desire of the committee to see what happened regarding the pending price-control bill "might have had something to do" with the deferral of the new tax program.

The chairman declined to hazard a guess as to when the tax matter might be taken up again.

It appeared unlikely, however, that Congress would complete action on it by the first of next year.

Mullet Season To Be Enforced

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Florida's closed season on mullet fishing will be rigidly enforced this year along the Atlantic Coast and on the Gulf coast as far north as Passaic county, State Conservation Supervisor S. E. Rice said Thursday.

Local laws exempt all catches from Passaic to Escambia on the Gulf coast from the closed season from Dec. 1 to Jan. 30.
