Stetson Clash Showed Up Defects In The Rollins Offensive, Says Coach Orr

By Paul Hilliard

Stetson's defeat by Rollins was not a defeat which showed up the defects in the Rollins offensive, says Coach Orr. It was a matter that will come up again on Armistice Day when the two teams meet at the Mercer stadium in Sanford.

Stetson met defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Stetson team 11 to 0. The score, however, does not tell the tale. Those who witnessed the battle saw a blue team put up an impressive fight every minute of the game.

The fact that the team could not maintain a consistent offense against Stetson's heavy forward defense, will not have much bearing on the Tars' chances to break ahead of the Mercer outfit.

The Stetson game was the first conflict of the season in which the Tars met strong resistance. So, Coach A. & M. offered little resistance to the heavier Tar line. Springfield Athletic Club was victorious, but still not sufficiently

Many Noted Performers Of Turf World Are Now Quartered At Seminola

LONGWOOD, Fla., Nov. 4.—Lured by the attractive list of horses being up for distribution during the 15 or more days session which will be inaugurated on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, horses and horsemen are now arriving at Seminola Park from practically every point of the compass. Included among those already on the grounds are many of the most noted performers known to the racing and pacing world.

Arrivals during the week included the well known string headed by A. T. Morrison, Dr. E. Vall, B. Carmichael, J. H. O. H. Lowen, R. Walters, E. McQuilly, C. Yoder, Dr. James Dunn, F. Watts, J. E. Williams, S. Burdett and numerous others of similar prominence.

The Morrison string, which shows somewhat of a sensation at the Grand Circuit meeting at Lexington, Ken., appears to be one of the most formidable now quartered on the local course located on the Dixie Highway between Sanford and Orlando. On two consecutive days of the Kentucky meeting Mr. Morrison, known to many as "Hump," scored double victories, which is somewhat of an unusual feat for a driver on the Grand Circuit.

The following is a complete list of horses already on the grounds along with their respective records and ownership: Carlotta (2:11) Mrs. A. K. Vail, North Randall, Ohio; Direct Hair (2:16 1/4) Mrs. J. F. McQuillo, Cleveland, Ohio; Milton Wood (2:00 3/4) Mrs. A. K. Vail, North Randall, Ohio; Ohio Lass (2:19 1/4) Mrs. J. P. Princeton Leaves Tonight For Game With The Crimson

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Princeton's eleven leaves tonight for the first of the year's Big Three classics in the Harvard stadium Saturday. Harvard, continuing to break precedent under the new regime of Arnold Horween, has announced its probable starting lineup.

Princeton stars of other years have donned the crimson jerseys of Harvard to scrimmage the Tiger varsity into a fighting unit this week. Out of the mediocrity that marked early season play against Amherst, Navy, Lehigh and Washington and Lee there has come a drive that the Princeton line has been missing all year. Even the former heroes that crowded the Tiger scrub backfield could not step the short passes that have demoralized Harvard for two years. But Jake Slagle, ace of Princeton backs, still is favoring his wounded ankle and may be held for an emergency role Saturday.

In the Harvard stronghold, aces of former elevens have run through the plays that Princeton is expected to use. Putnam, Miller, sayles and Guarnaccia are announced as the starting backs.

Yale seems to have her eleven running smoothly again in preparation for Maryland. The veteran Bill Kline is back ripping holes in the scrub line. Navy is working against a southpaw forward passer because scouts report the West Virginia Wesleyan aerials will come from that side Saturday. Speed drills are the Army diet with Notre Dame an objective rather than Franklin and Marshall the immediate foe.

Rogers and field lead a ripening offense against scrubs in the Pennsylvania workout for Penn. State.

New York University gladders are fairly flying around in the silk trousers and rubber hip pads Knute Rocke made stylish and expects to outspeed Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh and West Virginia have wound up heavy work for their clash. Georgetown plays are buff, fling the Syracuse varsity in scrimmage. Columbia has finished the heavy grind for William and Mary.

Tax On "Personal Liberty"

In the province of Tabasco in Mexico, those who drink or smoke in public must pay a tax for the privilege, the money thus raised being devoted to fighting locusts which are a pest in that district. If a policeman sees a man smoking or showing the effects of liquor he is privileged to ask him to show his tax receipt.

Walters, Muncie, Indiana; Amby Silk (2:17 1/4) J. E. Williamson, Kenton, Ohio; Hazel A. (2:23 1/4) F. L. McQuilly, Springfield, Illinois; Orator Brook (2:18 1/4) Frank Tracey, Columbus, Indiana; F. B. L. (2:24 1/4) C. F. Boswell, Booneville, Indiana; Clay Simpson (2:14 1/4) J. H. Armstrong, Woodville, Sandusky, Ohio; Pat J. (2:21 1/4) J. H. Armstrong, Woodville, Sandusky, Ohio.

Varsity Squad of the Mercer Bears

The Mercer University football squad of Macon, Ga., poses at Sanford Armistice Day, to battle the Rollins Tars of Winter Park, Fla., it will be the first and only Georgia team to play in the Sunshine State this season.

The NUT CRACKER by Joe Williams

We hope Mary Garden is not seriously contemplating an engagement with Gene Tunney. Mr. Dempsey had an engagement with him last month and—well, it was not altogether a pleasant thing.

Now that Harvard has won two straight games it is unlikely that a change in coaches will be made before the middle of November at the earliest.

Of course, Harvard still has a long way to go before it can be accepted as a re-established football power. We doubt, for instance, if Mr. Cashanderry Pyle has ever heard of the place.

The king of Rumania, we hear, has ordered the queen to return home right away. He's probably forgot where he put his house slippers.

Suzanne Lenglen gibbers that clean sportsmanship should be the basis of every game. And, in her case, it is essential to add the filthy lucre.

Illinois has a fireman in her backfield. It should be no trick for the young man to end every game in a blaze of glory.

Grover Cleveland Alexander is writing the history of his life. It probably will be entitled "From Swinging Doors to Swinging Bats."

As long as Mr. Cashanderry doesn't take the six-day bike races and make a tour of the country with them we'll promise to string along with him.

We hope Tony Lazzeri reads the story Alexander is writing it for no other reason than to find out what the old man was throwing just him in the last game of the world series.

Mr. O'Goofy doesn't care much for the sentiment behind the song called "Drink to me only with thine eyes." The gent does admit, however, that the song may be all right for oculists.

England is reviving rooster fighting. If a pretty fair four pounder can be developed the boys ought to match him with Joe Beckett.

It's embarrassing enough to learn that the fighting Irish of Notre Dame are wearing silk pants on the football field this season, but it could be worse—sup-

A bunch of semi-pros batted Alexander all over the lot the other day. It seems that he had nothing on his cork-screw ball.

The National Boxing Association has ruled that Rosenbery is no longer thebantweight champion. Having seen him fight we are in a position to state he never was.

Queen Marie dined with the Coolidges when she was in Washington and will bet Cal bared her stiff titties about that four-pound bass he caught last summer.

We are pleased to note that old Lee Fohl is finally getting the breaks. A

The Oberlin football team in the Southern Conference is using Chinese backfield formations. And instead of "check" the quarterback always barks "checker."

The barnstorming Ruth is pitting on now will be nothing compared to the storming Colonel Rupert will display when contract time comes around.

Not only did Harry Wills quit the ring a very rich man, but with a very rich laugh at the expense of the fighting public.

Jack Dempsey has been given a belt to remind him he was once the champion. If the belt fails of its purpose there are always these suits Mr. Kearns filed.

Still, there is nothing comparable to the enthusiasm of the under grad as he goes out to die for the college colors. Of course his mentality may be open to question but that is another thing.

Southern Conference Is Winding Up Training For Its Deciding Conflict

(By The Associated Press)

Southern conference football squads were winding up training camps today for deciding games of the season Saturday, with interest directed at the Alabama-Kentucky and Tennessee-Sevaneoc encounters.

Alabama freshmen, using Kentucky plays, went through the Cranston line almost at will yesterday, while Kentucky looks to its forward pass defense to give the Tide its first setback of the season.

Tennessee, second in the conference standing with three victories, has gone through hard practice sessions this week for the strong Swannec aggregation, which two weeks ago held the Alabama huskies to a two to nothing score.

Supporters of Tulane's Green Wave except the return of Morgan and Gamble, veteran linesmen, who have been out with injuries, to improve chances of victory over the Mississippi Aggies, which in practice sessions against the scrubs have acquainted themselves with Tulane's plays.

Georgia Tech, following its defeat last week by Coach Rockne's Notre Dame warriors, was at home this week to withstand a Vanderbilt onslaught, and 23 members of the South Carolina squad were to move against the stronghold of Virginia Poly.

Washington and Lee, following a week of rest, was prepared for the Virginia clash and North Carolina was out to continue its winning streak against Military Institute of Virginia.

After a week of intense training which included the reinstatement of virtually the first string squad, the University of Georgia was for an invasion by the Alabama Poly.

Clemson, loser last week, re-enters conference action Saturday in a contest with Florida, which was humiliated last week's clash with Georgia Tech.

While Maryland journeyed to Haven for an interconference match with Yale, Louisiana State led for a non-conference match with Arkansas and Mississippi North North Carolina was to meet the conference for conference Southwestern and Louisiana State.

A CIGARETTE MADE WITH P.A. IS THE MONEY

THAT very first pull will tell you that no other tobacco is like Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes. How cool and refreshing it is, like a shower-bath after fast exercise. How sweet and mild it is, without sacrificing that "body" experienced smokers demand.

Never has a home-rolled cigarette tasted like that before, unless it was made with this same wonderful tobacco—good old Prince Albert. You'll like the way P. A. rolls too. It's crimp-cut and stays put in the paper as you roll it—doesn't blow away.

When you open the tidy red tin and drink-in' that fragrance of real tobacco, you know in advance you are going to make the finest cigarettes you ever rolled. One right after the other—that's the way you'll roll 'em and smoke 'em with this better tobacco.

Prince Albert is equally delightful in the bowl of a pipe. It doesn't bite the tongue or parch the throat, no matter how often you load up and light up. Home-rolled cigarette, or pipe, or both, P. A. is the money. Get yourself some Prince Albert today and see!

PRO LEAGUE HARD UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(P)—Harold Hansen, manager of the Newark professional football team, has withdrawn his team from the American League because of financial difficulties. Three rainy week-ends in succession have piled up losses, he says. Cleveland withdrew from the C. C. Pyle circuit earlier this week. Humbert Fugazy announced that his Brooklyn Horsemen in the same league will share in the club's profits from now on, although the same have been zero to date.

At Loss of $1,500

The bungalow of M. E. Patterson at Second Street and Avenida Avenue was destroyed by fire early this morning, less than two hours after Patterson boarded a train for Waycross, Ga., to go to the bed side of his sick wife. The loss was estimated at $1,500 by Fire Chief Mack Cleveland.

The cause of the fire was not definitely established. The fire department was called shortly after 8 o'clock. The roof of the bungalow had already fallen in when the alarm was sent in.

Carry On, Mrs. Owen

An article which is of much interest to Sanford people appeared recently in the Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican. This newspaper, as many readers of The Herald know, is one of the most influential of northern journals, and what it has to say about people, parties or politics is always of considerable interest.

It is reported that there will soon be a vacancy in the vice chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee, which for a good many years has been ably filled by Mrs. Emily Newell Blair. The Republican suggests in the following impressive and eulogistic manner that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Coral Gables could fill the vacancy most admirably.

"Perhaps the most shining name among the possible candidates is that of Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Coral Gables, Fla.

"Daughter of a famous father, she is said to have all his ability as a speaker, more than his political acumen, and an ability and charm quite her own. Her name would mean much to thousands who revered and loved her father; she has the strength and the leisure which are necessary for the task. Her sincerity of purpose is one of her strongest qualities and she has experience in organization gained in the various activities of her life, especially during the war, when she worked as secretary and treasurer of the economic relief committee in England, of which Mrs. Herbert Hoover was chairman.

"They say that she would make an admirable vice chairman for the Democratic National Committee, and 'they' certainly seem to have good grounds for their opinion.

Sanford people are much interested in Mrs. Owen, who made a wonderful impression here when she was campaigning for the office of representative to the United States Congress. So popular did she make herself among the voters that in Seminole County she polled four hundred more votes than her nearest opponent, the present incumbent, the Honorable Joseph Sears.

Since that time Mrs. Owen has been prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for delegate-at-large to the 1928 Democratic National Committee. It is sincerely hoped by a host of her supporters that she will make her wishes known in regard to offices which she might be induced to fill and especially do her many friends desire that she not retire from active politics but continue to carry on the splendid work of her father.

Consider the Election Upset
The Ball That Missed
Tut's 18 Death Boats
BY ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright 1926, by Star Co.)

THE ELECTION figures come out all disappointing, and all pleasing to someone. They seem unimportant to the people out on the Mojave desert, in California, where this is written. The couple digging a well with pick and shovel now down 140 feet, back in the valley care little about the biggest or littleness of Al Smith's vote in New York, George Brennan's vote in Illinois, or Butler's defeat in Massachusetts.

The husband is down in the well, hammering his way through hard pan, not more than 18 inches gained in a hard day's work. His wife at the top, hauls up the dirt by windlass power.

Not who is elected, but how much further down to water, is their question.

MR. VERNON Bailey of the agricultural department is here busy on the hot sand, making a moving picture of a slide-wind: rattle snake, desert turtles and trantulas, with their hairy legs, and fierce courage. They bite at a horse's hoofs, as they would at a small lizard.

WHAT THE larger primates have been doing at the ballot box naturalists here is less important than the problem of wiping out gophers.

Everything depends on where you are, and what you are doing. Traveled three thousand miles out here, where the mail ships fly overhead and the wind roars across the mountains from the Pacific, and you wonder that "who's elected" could ever seem important.

FOR YOUR consolation, if disappointed, remember that one election in the life of a nation is not more important than one little convulsive kick in the life of a newborn baby. It would have made no difference had that particular kick never occurred. It would have made no real difference had yesterday's election never taken place.

THE EVIL that men do lives after them, especially when it is foolish talk to their children. Mammolo Zamboni thought he was an anarchist and talked anarchy against all government to his three sons. The war's end made anarchy seem so near, that Zamboni lost his taste for it and joined the Fascist, following Mussolini.

BUT HIS 18 year old son, Anteo, remained faithful to his father's theorizing. The father, last Sunday night saw his young son's body in the Bologna police station, stabbed and kicked to death by a mob for attempting the life of Mussolini. Be careful about the seed you sow in young minds.

WE NOBLE white westerners are different from the Japanese. For instance, the event that excites us is a great prize fight. The Japanese get excited about their marvelous annual chrysanthemum show.

Japanese sympathize with their empress just now, because her husband's illness keeps her from the show. We generally speaking, think ourselves more civilized than Japan. The Japanese reject that theory.

THE THIRD chamber of King Tut's tomb (everybody calls him that now), which reveals 15 boats of the sort designed to carry the Pharaoh's soul from earth to heaven.

It would be hard to set sail from our earth dock now. We know that it whirls round, pointing in all directions, and it's hard to steer from a whirling dervish. Besides, perfectly respectable men, even clergymen, now doubt that the soul is a reality. It must have been a comfort to believe, as ancient rulers did, that God was their cousin and expecting them to come and spend an eternity.

NEW YORK'S wet and dry referendum proves overwhelmingly that New York city yearns for light wine and beer, as the wanderers yearned for the flesh pots of Egypt.

Yearning and voting, however, will have little to do with getting light wine and beer. The eighteenth amendment is there, and will stay. Congressmen are in deadly fear of ferociously earnest prohibitionists, that never forgive and never forget to vote.

NEW YORK'S vote will have some effect. Public officials will take the vote as justification for "going easy" with bootleggers, possibly for going "fifty-fifty" with them.

That will make bootleg whiskey and gin more plentiful. But beer and light wine? No. They are far in the future, it would take a revolution to bring them back.

The bootlegger is entitled to his inning, and is having it.

SCIENCE RISES from little things to big, and has not really started on its journey. Ancient doctors in the time of Homer and long before, took the temperature of human beings, as nearly as they could, counted the heart beat, then said what was the matter. Marvelous when the holders.

Now at Mount Wilson observatory, Dr. Adams and his assistants will take the temperature of the planet Mars, and take it exactly. And they will analyze that planet's atmosphere.

The things we shall do years hence, we can believe now. The things we now would have done, we can believe 100 years hence.

Editor Sanford Herald:

In Wednesday's Herald you printed a letter written by Mr. Sam Baume, stating the local merchant's point of view in regard to the Mail-order houses.

This letter interested me strangely, because there were so many arguments in it that are open to discussion.

He says that a local merchant will make any adjustment on any article of merchandise, even if it is worn or handled. I remember too well, my experience with a local shoe dealer once. I tried to exchange a pair of shoes that were too small for a larger pair, but in the trying on process, I had slightly soiled the soles of the shoes. I had to keep the shoes, as the merchant said that he could not sell soiled goods. Not so with the catalog houses. One of them made a statement a short time ago in Farm and Fireside, saying that they had made up some handsome bridal outfits and that every one of them had been sold, but in due time, every one, but one, had been returned to them. The brides, being thrifty, and having no further use for the outfits, had returned them, after wearing them once, and received their money back, and then ordered something else. You could not expect a local merchant to do better than that.

About two years ago, I ordered some articles from one of the largest of the catalog houses and after waiting a reasonable length of time I wrote and asked them why my order had not been sent to me. They answered back and said that they had never received it but if I would make out a duplicate order, they would fill it, just the same as if they had received the money, taking my word that I had sent the money and that the letter had been lost. They did not even ask for the PO order receipt. The order amounted to $6. Can you rival that? I wonder that if I were to go to Mr. Baume's store some day and tell him that I had lost my money while on my way to his place to buy a dress, whether I should get the dress.

The catalog expense seems to bother Mr. Baume. He says the customers pay for them. Well and good. So they do, but who pays for the regular buying trips that local merchants make to New York twice a year, and who pays for the expensive cars they drive? (Food for thought.)

Mr. Baume seems to think it is the handsome pictures in the catalogs that the people "fall" for. If it is as easy as that, why don't the local merchants try it, as he says they copy a good many of the mail order methods.

In the last part of Mr. Baume's letter, he makes a very strange and weird statement. He says that you can not buy goods over the counter of a mail order house. Has he ever tried it or is he speculating?

My brother-in-law who lives in Atlanta, Georgia, goes to Montgomery Ward's mail order house there and buys tires for his car, over the counter and there is no difference in the price, except the transportation charges.

I too, like Mr. Baume, think the people should be educated along buying lines and that they should be taught where to get the most for their money.

Very truly yours,
MRS. MAE H. WILLIAMS.

EDITORIALS
ASHVILLE CITIZEN

"What are the purposes of editorials?" asks a contemporary, and answering without undue consideration this paper suggests there are four classes of editorials, each with its own purpose—to convince, to encourage, to inform, to entertain. Certainly this classification embraces the great volume of editorials.

The four classes are sometimes blended, but more often one purpose is accentuated and the predominance of purpose and method of attaining it varies greatly among newspapers. This paper, if the personal note be permitted, tends toward the informing and encouraging classes—often the combination. A large percentage of its editorials give information about the progress of this section, this State, the South, and emphasizes this to encourage further effort toward success.

The effort to convince is not lacking of course—this paper is so convinced of the merits of certain policies that it seeks to bring others to the same conviction. It, for example, is steadfast in the support of law and order, of Prohibition, of the Democratic party, but it may get less of credit therefor because it is not demonstrative in its method of appeal.

This method, we think we can correctly say, is not of the assertive type. There is resort to bare assertion, of course, but generally this is fairly well confined to matters not in dispute, as for example, considering our readers of a high grade of intelligence we incline to appeal to them by such argument as we can command rather than demand that they accept our opinion as the law laid down.

The power of the assertive type of editorial largely passed with such great personalities of journalism, Watterston, Dana, Greeley, Bennett. They were outstanding individuals whose opinions many deliberately adopted as their own, accepted in blind faith. The assertive editorial of today lacks this personal element and so succeeds far less than in the long ago—but we note that it persists.

THE NORRIS MURDER TRIAL
MIAMI NEWS

Attention of the nation is focused on Fort Worth, Texas, where J. Frank Norris, a clergyman, is being tried for the murder of Dexter E. Chappes. Circumstances surrounding the killing were devoid of startling features and the unusual interest that attaches to it is explained by attempt of the defense to convert it into a religious issue, by awakening prejudices and passions that may have more influence on the verdict than the evidence that will be adduced at the trial.

Dr. Norris, a stormy petrel of the public mind, twice before been prime in criminal courts. The Atlanta Journal, in reporting the trial, says that Norris, the son of an Anglo-Irish family, was born in England, and was educated in London.

men and women who are able to inspire and retain the affection and trust of the multitude, but it is unfortunate that in the two cases cited this praiseworthy loyalty has been capitalized to obtain publicity and to obscure the true questions at issue.

Preachers of the Word of God should enjoy no special immunity because of their calling. On the contrary, if any distinction were to be made before the law between writing minister and others, it would be logical that severe punishment be meted out to those who by virtue of their education and training are supposed to be better equipped withstand temptations and con-

Donations of Idlers Bridge Club Totaled On Fifth Anniversary

When the Idlers Bridge Club met Thursday at Mrs. G. D. Hart's, the interesting fact was brought out that the club was five years old today.

Those present found great pleasure in reviewing the annals of this rather unique group, organized as it was of very busy women not members of other bridge clubs. From the very beginning "the play was the thing."

Prizes were so insignificant at first as to be almost a joke, but every meeting each woman brought 25 cents dues, which sum has been managed during the five years by Mrs. Harry Heeren, who was appointed treasurer.

The personnel has changed slightly on account of moves or home duties of members, but the original plan is still maintained, and in addition to the pleasure its members have had in their fortnightly games, the following donations have been made from their treasury.

- Linen for hospital $10.00
- Fountain for Woman's Club 62.00
- Children's Home Society 10.00
- Clock for Library 25.00
- Paid to H. C. DuBose for Seminoles Co. Welfare 25.00
- Children's Home Society 20.00
- Book 20.00
- Total $164.00

In addition to these donations, the club has never failed in devotion to its members in times of sorrow and joy, remembering them with flowers and gifts.

The present members of the Idlers' Bridge Club, are Mrs. John Meisch, Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. G. D. Hart, Mrs. O. P. Herndon, Mrs. Alex Vaughn, Mrs. Endor Curlett, Mrs. W. D. Tunnicliffe, and Mrs. Harry Heeren.

Fortnightly Party To Be Held Tuesday

The regular fortnightly bridge party given for the members of the Social Department of the Woman's Club will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members expecting to attend are requested to notify either hostess, Mrs. Osborne Herndon, or Mrs. George Davis Hart, not later than Monday. Members may bring out of town guests, or residents who have lived in Sanford less than one year.

Mrs. Carrie Marlowe returned to Daytona Beach Friday, where she attended the realtors convention.

Miss Lucille Newby motored to DeLand Friday, where she attended "Home Coming" at Stetson University.

Mrs. John Register of Miami, who has been the charming guest of Mrs. Edward Lane for the past week, leaves Friday afternoon for Jacksonville where she will visit her mother, Mrs. Lulu Clay, before returning to her home.

Joseph Lee of Fort Myers, a former resident of Sanford, spent the day here Friday on business.

Miss Helen Vernay, who is attending Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee, arrived here Thursday evening and is the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernay. Miss Vernay came especially to attend the Doudney-Hutchinson wedding, which takes place Saturday afternoon at Holy Cross Episcopal church.

Miss Georgia Mobley arrived here Thursday evening from Tallahassee where she is a student at the Florida State College for Women, to spend the week end here with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Mobley.

Mrs. John R. MacDonald, a former resident of Sanford, but now of Eustis, stopped over in Sanford Friday for a short while. She was en route to her home from Providence, R. I., where she has been visiting relatives. Mr. MacDonald met her here.

land in addition to routine business, it was voted to have a social evening each month. Leon Leroy, C. Bouton, and R. J. Holly, of Sanford, delivered most interesting talks relative to Lake Mary and Seminole County and were most enthusiastically received.

The Halloween Carnival on Thursday evening at the Community church was well attended and a financial success. The church was decorated in Halloween fashion, and the ground gaily lighted. The tent was in charge of Clarence Priest, who most cleverly masqueraded as the Fortune Teller. Other tent with amusing side shows in charge of Mrs. Donald Anderson, and Walter Flanders. The both of Black Cats which were awarded for skill in throwing was ably conducted by W. J. Hopkins Jr. Hot coffee, pie and doughnuts were served by Mrs. August Scharf, Mrs. Wm. Dunn and Mrs. W. J. Hopkins Jr. Mrs. W. E. Cole presided at the Candy and Peanut Table. Mrs. Elmer Hoyt-laine was general chairman of this affair.

On Friday evening, the young people of Lake Mary, and their friends, conducted a Halloween Masquerade in the hall of the Evans Building. The hall was decorated with orange and black for the occasion, and music furnished for dancing by the Seminole Synchoppers. Mrs. Martina and party were the winners of the prize Waltz. The Charleston was ably demonstrated by Miss Ethel James, Clarence Priest, and Stanley Peckham.

This enjoyable affair was planned and carried out by a committee composed of Miss Ethel Hoyt-laine and William Dunn, Mr. Williams and Howard Boteler won the verdict of the judges for the best costumes.

Mr. Charles Eldridge, and sister Miss Bernice, entertained some 30 of their friends with a Halloween party Monday evening. The festivities were held in the Smith cottage of Bright Wood estate and it was very attractive indeed in its Halloween attire of orange, red and black, crepe-paper and autumn leaves being used very effectively in its adornment, with witches, black cats and jack 'o lanterns artistically placed. The evening was delightfully spent in mystic games, ghost stories and fortune-telling. At a late hour delicious refreshments of doughnuts, toasted marshmallows, pumpkin pies and fruit punch were served.

The families of Dr. McKee's and R. L. Crown's attended the Halloween social in the Methodist church lawn of Oviedo Friday evening and reported a very happy time.

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce held its monthly business meeting on Monday evening.

Mexico Tries Fraternizing

In order to promote a friendly feeling among the Indian boys of the various tribes in Mexico an assembly of representatives of the various tribes is being held frequently by the federal department of education. They will be given special training adapted to their needs and ability during the assemblies but the main idea is to make one tribe acquainted with the other.

Permanent Wave in China

Chinese girls have gone in for the permanent wave in hair dress. Miss Qui Wong, a young woman who studied hair dressing and beauty secrets in Europe, has returned to her native land and is talking hobbled hair, permanent viewed with some alarm by the waves and manuring. She is older women, but she expects to get her trade from girls under twenty.

Bridgeton, Scotland, recently has had an era of battles between unemployed youths, who attack each other with razors, iron bars, hammers and hatchets, and steps are being taken to round up the fighters.

The modern dwelling now under construction, owned by Edgar Hall of Suburban Homes, was sold last week to Dr. Perry M. Lichtenstein of New York to be occupied by himself and family, as a winter home. Dr. Lichtenstein's family consists of his wife and two small sons, Mortimer and Joseph. Mrs. Grace Hampson of New York City is also of the party.

He comes recommended as a man of high standing in the professions of law and medicine, being an authority on no mean ability, and an expert in mental disorders.

Mrs. Whaley, Bettenetti, Lichtenstein and Hampson motored to Hovely in The Hills, Sunday and spent the day.

Everyone was glad to see Mr. Henderson back on his mail-route again after his several days absence, because of the serious illness of his wife.

Several from here were present at the Halloween celebration put on by the Chamber of Commerce at Maitland, Saturday night.

Motion Pictures For Children Discussed at Parent-Teachers Meet

An unusually interesting meeting of the South Side Primary Parent-Teachers Association was held Thursday afternoon at the school auditorium, with a splendid attendance of members. The chairman, Mrs. A. K. Powers, presided over the business session and the usual routine of business was carried out.

Many important points were discussed, among them being the motion to co-operate with the Moving Picture Committee of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club, for appropriate pictures for children. A committee was appointed to meet with the department. Those named were Mrs. W. Morton Thigpen, chairman; Mrs. St. Claire White and Mrs. C. P. Henderson.

Plans for "Stationery Week", to be held the middle of the month, were also discussed and committees appointed.

An enjoyable program had been arranged for the afternoon by the program chairman, Mrs. Ernest Housholder, which included piano selections by Miss Pearl Robson, and a group of readings by Miss Eloise Lanier.

A most gratifying report from the lunch room chairman, Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, showed that the lunch room, was proving a decided success.

At the conclusion of the business session, a social hour was enjoyed, the hostess, Mrs. Harold Viera and Mrs. R. G. Hickson, served hot chocolate and wafers.

Pearls Reported to be In High Favor in the World of Fashion

Despite the present vogue for necklaces of many colors and combinations, pearls appear to be the choice of many smart women. For immediate and Fall purposes they are some very lovely things made up in three strands. The pearls are in uniform or graduated sizes. When more than one strand of fine pearls is worn at a time there is a tendency for them to become twisted. To avoid this one designer has introduced an innovation which has to all intent turned out to be a new style in itself—the flat necklace.

At either side of the throat where the necklace leaves off the flat back part, he has used a double row of pearls about two inches long. These are joined to the triple strands and give the effect of a narrow lace insertion. This idea is further carried out in the wholly womanly necklaces with fine fringe, drops, rattoons and single pendants.

Another means of preserving the flat appearance in the triple necklace is the use of a very tiny metal bar inserted in the necklace on a line with the pearls. These bars are matched to the pearls and have stones.

Man Announces List of Officials Who Are To Conduct Seminole Meeting

Sanford, Fla., Nov. 5.—The successor of any official is dependent upon the manner in which he is elected, Edward A. Pohlman, general manager of the Seminole Club announced today that he has secured the services of the most prominent officials in the sport to preside over the more day-meeting to be held at beautiful Sanford on Armistice Day.

Announced by Mr. Pohlman are such nationally known officials as J. M. McGraw, of Columbus, Ga., and Andrew G. Harrison, of Lexington, Ky., and J. H. Pohlman, of Cleveland, Ohio, who will serve as president and secretary respectively. All of these officials are well known in the Grand Circuit and will be the most successful in placing the horses and well as arranging a program of racing under the hands of Tom Ga-

The NUT CRACKER

by Joe Williams

A significant thing about the knock down and drag out pastime in its present aspects is that the reformers no longer attack it. This may only mean, however, that they are getting their seats on the fifty-yard line now.

Back in the old days, when Bill Bryan was just beginning to break into the headlines and folks were beginning to think that young Harry Thaw never would amount to much, Poppa Clarke used to be the queen's ankles.

Poppa Clarke wouldn't let any of the 1926 Pirates forget that he used to be a roaring cannon on the Gattysburg front, and a sure catch of a flyball when first bounce in to the whiskers was out.

Steve Decatur wanted his country, right or wrong, but Poppa Clarke evidently wants his yesses both ways, in the order named.

Acting as spokesman for the conscientious objectors, Max Carey, the offside evangelist, told Poppa to dust off his toupee, braid his hair, try a new lumbago cure and pipe down.

As a direct and comical reward, Signor Carey was exiled to Brooklyn, placed on a milk and porridge diet and denied the nightly privilege of listening to Goldy and Dusty.

Alabama Expected To Win South's Best Game Saturday

South to Alabama in final light work-out clash tomorrow. Alabama and South are expected to see the strongest game of the season in their Southern conference.

Highly touted grid football for its attempt to ward off Alabama's attack, which leads the conference with five victories and an undefeated record. The men from Alabama have entered the fray with a record of four victories to four, which made it a two-way tie with Alabama a week ago. Standing as the chief contender for the championship are the heavyweights from Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech, and Notre Dame.

Alabama's return from the hospital, increased strength, and the chances of the Green Wave against the University of Virginia's Cavaliers.

Alabama's machine, functioning after a week of intensive preparation, was prepared to with-stand the onslaught of the Alligators.

Alabama's non-conference schedule, Louisville University of Kentucky, and the University of Tennessee.

Pimlico Futurity To Have 24 Starters In Readiness For Race

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Twenty-four two year old colts and fillies were named overnight to go to the post today, in quest of the glory of a Pimlico futurity victory and the richest stake of the Maryland turf season.

With $40,000 in added money and prospects of a record number of starters in the mile event, all previous futurity purses also were expected to be eclipsed.

Vajorous, winner of the Jockey Club stakes at Churchill Downs, and considered an outstanding contender in today's race, headed a quartet of H. P. Whitney entries which included Whiskery, Maid O' The Mist, and Bostonian. E. B. McLean, also was represented in the numbers with Jock, Sport Ball and War Eagle.

The Greenways stable entrusted its colts to Adios, to be ridden by Earle Sando, and Saxon; E. B. Bradley, who twice has won the juvenile classic, bossed Bewithum and Buddy Baer for another try. Lord Chaucer and Gold Coin were named to go to the barrier for the Sagamore stable.

Johnny Walton was scheduled to ride Tehran, wearing the silks of W. J. Almon. Outstanding among the fillies was Felties, winner of the fillies stakes at Laurel Park.

Fair weather was forecast and a lightning fast track is in prospect.

Harvard Is Favored To Win Over Tigers In Saturday Clash

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Eleven Harvard huskies sought relief today for tomorrow's battle with Princeton, a team that in the past has made football emergencies famous by rising to them.

A roaring undergraduate demonstration sent the Princeton eleven off to Boston to the chant of "Tiger, Tiger, burning bright," said the firm conviction that everything was "Jake" with the Jungle Cats. Once more the odds favored Harvard and again Jake Slagle, the triple threat, is fit for the fray, a combination of circumstances that has preceded overwhelming Princeton victories in the last two clashes of the historic Big Three rivalry.

Slagle has been punting with old time power after a three week lay-off from injuries. His short flashing passes have flipped over the line again with deadly accuracy. All the floundering of the early season is forgotten by Princeton men who believe the Tigers will rise to additional heights tomorrow.

One of the most remarkable developments in football history has made Harvard a favorite. The line of the first two games of the season has been a revelation of the Harvard coaching staff.

Harvard's coaching staff has improved team into the top notch each successive Saturday.

Pennsylvania is in line to meet Harvard in the next game.

Here is What New Yorkers Are Doing

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(AP)—More news issues from New York concerning those who reach the top of the ladder than those who slide to the bottom.

The home to an eagerly devour every detail of the success story of the lad or lass who started out to conquer the great city. How proudly, too, do the achievers write home from Manhattan when they have done something that sounds, at least to them, important!

But what of the tens of thousands who just go away and drop out of sight? Most of them continue in respectable mediocrity. They rise to salaries of a hundred or so a week and that's that.

Those who slide to the bottom are not much more numerous than those who reach the top. It is easy enough to reach the top of the ladder, says Broadway. The slide is not so easy. All of them do not "slide" by a leap out of a 20-story window. If they did, the streets would be unsafe. They are swallowed up by the cheap cabarets, the burlesque wheels, the small-time acts, the odd-of-the-way movie houses.

When all other efforts at job-getting fail, there's always the "stag agency" to fall back on. But few girls stand ready to fall to this level. The "stag outfits" provide dances for "bachelor dinners." It's understood that the "stag dinner" boys demand a nude dancer.

Sickening, isn't it, that men should choose to sit around—well fed on banquet fare, well liquored up with a hundred dollars or so. At times, too, she doesn't care any more. It's an easy way of picking up a hundred dollars or so.

It is those timid ones making their first visit to the "stag agents" that seem to me most tragic. What struggle with self, what surrendering of pride and decency preceded the visit!

Perhaps you think me sentimental.

Very well! About two weeks ago a girl crashed to the street from the window of an apartment. She was picked up, crushed and dying, a crucifix in her hand.

She was unable to speak, but wrote a message telling detectives to go to a certain room number in the building. There they found two men. The girl said she had leaped to escape them.

Tracing the activities of this girl—she died a few days later—they found she had gone from agency to agency. She couldn't get work. Then they found her name on one of the "stag" lists.

And that was the end!
