Our chief objective in the operation of this and our other tracks is the betterment of greyhound racing, the sport of gentlemen," Mr. Goldberg said today. "Our record in the past and the operation of this plant, which the public will observe, is our guarantee of fair dealing and confidence, without which no sport can long endure in the hearts of the public."

A trained staff of nearly 100 employees, most of them recruited from Sanford and Orlando, and 85 percent of them bona fide residents of Florida as required by State Racing Commission regulations, received final instructions from Mr. Goldberg this morning. With carpenters and mechanics having ended their assignments, dog owners ready to show their wares, and the employees of the track ready for their part in the opening program, only the weather-forecast can put a crimp in carefully laid plans for the inaugural. Clear, warmer weather is in the offing for tonight.

BOWLING SCORES

Week Ending Dec. 25

Bowling with the new Red Crown pins for the first time was not so good for the majority of the bowlers. The new pins have to be hit right in the pocket or else efforts for a split result in a split, which the pins usually do.

This week's high scores go to E. E. Bandy for a three game total of 330 and the single game scores go to E. Bandy with 202.

THE BAT MAN WILL FLY

Clem Sabo, the man who originated the human bat jump, will be seen in action at Sanford Municipal Airport Sunday afternoon during the air show to be staged under the auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

All Is In Readiness For Big Air Show At Municipal Airport Sunday Afternoon

Clem Sabo and his bat-shaped biplane, and Bob O'Dell and his sky-writing bomber have returned to Sanford and all is in readiness for the big air show to be staged at the Sanford Municipal Airport Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 4:30 o'clock. The affair is being sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Admission charges will be made and Santa Claus is expected to appear in the vicinity of the airport. The show will be closed to all but through traffic during the hours of the entertainment. "Bat Man" Sabo is expected to be the leading attraction, as his stunt is something entirely new in aviation circles. He jumps from a biplane at a height of 10,000 feet and glides safely to earth at least he has always managed to land safely by use of his bat-shaped wings fastened to his arms and legs. Sabo and O'Dell are booked to engage in aerial "dog fights" during the show. Flying planes equipped with 300

Snow Falls In Marianna, Cold On Way South

Flakes Melt As Fast As They Fall; Low Temperatures Will Not Continue Long

Blizzard Rages Along Atlantic

Atlanta Hard Hit By Worst Winter Storm In Last 30 Years

Snowflakes fell at Marianna, in northwest Florida today as another cold wave hit the state. The flakes melted as fast as they fell and the unusual sight lasted only five minutes. General cold in Florida also will be short, lived the Weather Bureau said.

Meanwhile a raging blizzard covered the middle Atlantic coast with six inches of snow, and swept on into New England, leaving in its wake at least 16 deaths and millions of dollars damage. High winds whirled the snow into deep drifts and the weather bureau warned that the thermometer, hovering around 16 at midday, would drop sharply tonight and average eight to ten above zero for next and north Georgia.

The South varied slowly from a paralyzing ice sheath caused by the worst winter storm in 30 years. Atlanta bore the brunt of the damage which public utility companies and city officials estimated at $2,000,000. With streets covered with thousands walked to work. Candles provided the only illumination in many homes. "At least only half of the snow and ice melted by Tuesday. Preparations for heavy weather by Tuesday night," the weather forecaster said.

With Tennessee and the Carolinas also in the grip of the storm, trains ran late from the north and west. South Carolina was hit with removing from five to six inches of snow from the highways.

There was a thin coating of snow on the coast of the great Mississippi river at Greenville, Mississippi. In habitants said it was the first time in their memory that this happened.

28 Degrees In Sanford Tonight
The mercury climbed to 76 degrees yesterday, fell to 48 early this morning and a continued drop to a low of 39 degrees in Sanford tonight is predicted by the weather man. There is no danger of frost, according to Meteorologist E. S. Hillson, who telegraphed his forecast to County Agent G. S. Dawson today noon. His prediction of 39 degrees temperatures tonight is the coldest in Sanford and Orlando in the winter.

The official U. S. weather bureau forecast for tonight and tomorrow is as follows: Fair to cloudy, light, somewhat cooler in extreme north; light frost in north and central sections and possibly in extreme south portion of Florida in extreme north.

In interior of central Florida, partly cloudy with warmer weather. Extreme temperatures about 50 tonight and 24 to 27 in interior of the coast tonight. Tuesday, cloudy and warmer.

'Chiselers' Scored By Air Show Head

Less than 450 of an estimated crowd of 4,000 persons at the air show in Sanford yesterday afternoon paid the 25-cent admission charge and as a result the aviators who put on every air stunt known on the calendar despite the inclement weather received barely enough to pay for the gasoline they burned in their planes. It was stated this morning by Andy Carraway, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee which arranged the event.

"I really believe there are more 'chiselers' in Sanford than in a city as large as New York," Mr. Carraway said. "Thousands of persons defied the law and drove onto the field without paying a nickel. And they didn't pay because they didn't have the money, because many of them drove fine, new, costly cars, and some are even on the city payroll."

Air Stunts In Gusty Weather Thrill Crowds

Perfect Landing Is Made By Bat Man, Dog Fights Held, Baby Plane Flies

Despite low hanging clouds and gusty weather with sudden blasts of driving rain every few minutes, stunts in the air put on a thrilling exhibiton at the Sanford Municipal Airport Sunday afternoon before a crowd estimated at close to 4,000 persons. All advertised stunts were in addition to some not on the schedule. The events were not marred by accidents, though one parachute jumper had a close call.

The last and most exciting event on the afternoon's program was the flight of Clem Sohn, the "bat man," and he made a perfect landing, though he delayed the opening of his parachute until a few feet above the ground so the landing could be made on the field instead of in a tangle of undergrowth on the other side of the highway. The low ceiling prevented Sohn from starting his flight at his usual high altitude and therefore his glide was not as long as advertised. However, he jumped from the plane at such a height that he was barely a speck against the black sky.

Another parachute jumper leaped just as a sudden gust of wind turned the plane and his lines became entangled in it, but he tore off the door of the cockpit, got clear of the machine, and landed safely.

Art Davis and Bob O'Dell thrilled the crowd with their aerial "dog fights," their racing planes emitting clouds of smoke often almost touching in the leaden sky. An added attraction was put on by Al Stringland, aviation instructor at Melbourne, who flew a plane so small it "could turn around on a dime." When high in the air he throttled it down so low that the wind blew the plane backward, and after several interesting exhibitions the aviator brought his craft down to a perfect three-point "dead stick" landing.

There were loops, barrel rolls, spiral dives and all the stunts ever performed in the air at yesterday's air show in Sanford.

Bottle Shortage Cause Of Change In Worm Control

There's a shortage of bottles, hence there is to be a change in the method of screw worm control in Seminole County. Heretofore pine tar and benzol, used in the eradication of the pest, have been doled out by M. R. McClelland, county supervisor, from the control work, from the office of County Agent C. R. Dawson in the basement of the Court House. But Mr. McClelland and Mr. Dawson can't get any more whiskey bottles in which the mixture has heretofore been placed, state law prohibits using such bottles the second time.

Bombs Dropped From Planes Halt River Of Molten Lava Near Hilo Water Reservoir

HILO, Hawaii, Dec. 30. —(AP)—The river of rumbling, flame-spitting lava, which Army aviators bombed Friday in an effort to save Hilo's water supply, stopped Sunday within three miles of the municipal reservoir. But a fiery red gash on the slope of Mauna Loa showed the volcano still was pouring out lava. Hilo business men rushed today for an emergency meeting plan for Tuesday to devise measures for protecting the water source.

"Much pleased with the general condition," Dr. Thomas A. Jagger, government volcanologist, was unable to say definitely if checking of the flow could be attributed to the Army's 20-bomb attack—an action which wrathful natives decried as an affront to Pele, the fire goddess.

Many natives expressed regret over the bombing, insisting it would not stop the volcano goddess from sending lava whenever she designed.

Markell, 21, a messenger employed by a Rochester printing supply house, on charges of attempting to extort $250,000 from Frank E. Gannett, publisher of the Gannett newspapers, and Louis A. WPA Costs Must Be Cut, Says Hopkins

Administrator Will Try To Keep Overhead This Year Below $50,000,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. —(AP)—A general overhaul of the WPA administrative staff directed at decreasing overhead costs and increasing efficiency, was said by officials to have been ordered by Harry L. Hopkins.

Along with closer supervision of the projects being carried out, Hopkins was said to have taken action to end delay in paying the more than 2,000,000 newly employed by WPA.

His order called for delivery of pay checks within 72 hours after completion of a work period, instead of the week or more which originally prevailed. To do this, Treasury disbursing agents in the states as well as WPA payroll supervisors have been ordered to pull on night shifts where necessary.

Those given WPA jobs have had to be checked on the dole until their checks actually arrived.

Several months ago, Hopkins borrowed a dozen Army engineers to act as trouble shooters for WPA. Officials explained the men weren't to be called for any one being sent out from Washington but that district WPA administrators were being given wide authority to discharge members of their staffs without consulting national headquarters.

Radio Broadcasts May Be Put Under Federal Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. —(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission is preparing to step into the field of chain broadcasting regulation, an authoritative source said today. Regulations probably will be designed to eliminate undue duplication of programs.

Commission officials said it will be possible during the next few months to chart general station alignments on networks to insure a variety of programs for listeners throughout the country. The regulation is expected to be tied in with a rearrangement of present channels and the stepping up of the power of some stations to bring about greater program "balance."

Won't Nurse Again

Betty Gow, nurse of Col. and Mrs. Chas. A. Lindbergh's first baby who was kidnapped and murdered and who was the state's star witness in the trial of Hauptmann for that crime, has declined a request to re-enter the employ of the Lindberghs in their new home in England.

Nurse Betty Gow Declines Job In Lindbergh Home

Lindy, Anne And Jon Reach England In Search Of Safety

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 30. —(AP)—Betty Gow, the Associated Press learned today, had been asked by the Lindberghs to re-enter their employ but the nurse of their first baby which was kidnapped and slain, told the correspondent: "I don't think I'll go." The little-Scottish nurse said she probably will remain employed in a dress shop here.

She disclosed the invitation from the Lindberghs as they with their second son, Jon, reached Liverpool on a freighter seeking a calm and secure life in the English countryside.

Miss Gow was the star state witness in the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann.

Profit Was Made By Postoffice In 1935

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. —(AP)—The first increase in postal revenues since 1930 helped Postmaster-General Farley claim his second successive annual surplus in government operations of the mails.

Farley's report for the fiscal year ended June 30 listed Postoffice Department expenses of $966,603,253 compared with revenues of $630,795,302, the latter $44,022,136 more than in the 1934 financial year.

The cabinet officer explained that "ship and aviation subsidies, free mail, and other non-postal and adjusted items" totaled $70,772,100 for the 12 months.

Subtraction of that amount left a "net surplus" of $4,964,149 compared with a $12,161,000 "surplus" last year, listed as the first since 1915.

Lecture On Diet Is Given By Richardson

The first of a series of lectures on diet was given by Irwin D. Richardson at the Woman's Club last night. Lectures will be given every evening this week. The public is invited and there is no admission charge. This evening's subject will be "Immunity to Disease by Diet."

In last evening's lecture Mr. Richardson stressed the importance of giving more attention to our foods, their chemical values, and their relation to health. Leading statisticians were cited who say that 87 percent of American citizens are suffering from some form of physical ailment. Mental and physical efficiency, the speaker said, depend largely on the alkaline and acid balance of our foods.

Political Polls May Be Barred From U.S. Mail

Democratic Chairman And Committee To Be Appealed To By Solon Of Oregon

Are Manipulated By Republicans?

G. O. P. Accused Of Making Straw Vote Hit Administration

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30. —(AP)—Contending that straw ballots designed to test the national political sentiment easily may be "framed," Representative Pierce, Oregon, Democrat, announced today a campaign to have them barred from mails.

Pierce said he will discuss the matter with Postmaster-General Farley next week and then with the Democratic National Committee on Jan. 9 because a straw ballot could be planned to throw the majority in a certain way and by "creating a banwagon get a million votes right off the bat." Pierce said he believes the Republicans are manipulating "A current poll which shows the trend away from President Roosevelt."

While the poll being conducted by the Literary Digest was not mentioned specifically by name by Congressman Pierce, that is the only poll of a nation-wide nature being conducted at present.

The last tabulation of the Digest's poll, published on another page in today's Herald, shows that 29 states are voting against the New Deal and 12 for it. Florida is listed as one of the states against it, though by a narrow margin. Out of a total of 10,418 votes cast in this state, 5,141 (or 49.38 percent) are against the New Deal, and 5,277 (or 50.62 percent) are against it.

Wilcox In Louisiana Warns Politicians

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30. —The Huey Long political machine must release its grasp on the election machinery, which it controls by a dictatorial law, Rep. Mark Wilcox (D. Fla.) declared at the opening of a hearing by a congressional committee. The committee set up rules of conduct for the Jan. 21 primary and warned Gov. O. K. Allen that if they are violated, Congress would not recognize Louisiana as having a Republican form of government.

Income Increases

Figures compiled by the Treasury Department and relating to nearly four million people of the higher income groups in the United States indicate that there has been a substantial increase in earnings during the past two years. According to the Associated Press, an actual upturn of 12 percent in the gross income, and 15 percent increase in the net income of the nation's income taxpayers, as compared with the previous year, was reported.

At the same time the Treasury announced December collections were running 42 percent above last year's. Telegraphic advices reported $225,058,321 had been received through December 20, compared with $148,918,171 in the same period last year.

A statement, based on returns filed up to August 31, 1935, showed a gross income of $14,708,558,000 in 1934, from which was deducted $2,252,296,000 for losses, leaving a net of $12,456,262,000. The income for the previous year grossed $13,117,545,254, and netted $10,845,653,532, after making deduction of $2,271,891,722. By way of contrast the peak of prosperity years, 1929, showed a gross income of $29,946,952,209 and a net of $24,300,785,564.

The statement tonight showed increases in wages and salaries and in business income for 1934. The income from wages, salaries, etc., was up 13 percent over 1933, and amounted to $8,189,166,000 as compared with $7,196,829,000. The income from business and partnerships was reported as $2,883,196,000 for 1934, as compared with $1,956,940,000 in 1933.

Dividends on stock of domestic corporations returned a total income of $2,007,019,000, this source of revenue being the most productive except for wages, salaries, etc. Rents and royalties produced $477,480,000. Taxes, and interest paid, supplied the two major sources for deductions during 1934, these items, accounting for $549,700,000 and $506,187,000, respectively, during 1934. Contributions amounted to $267,980,000, and capital gains tax to $174,663,000.

Lynching Records

Though there was an increase in the number of lynchings which took place in the United States in 1935 over the number for the preceding year, there was a substantial decline from the number lynched in 1933; and the general trend toward fewer and fewer lynchings was maintained.

According to the records compiled in the Department of Records and Research of the Tuskegee Institute, there were 20 persons lynched in 1935. This is 5 more than the number 15 for 1934; 8 less than the number 23 for 1933; and 12 more than the number 8 for 1932. 18 of the persons lynched were in the hands of the law; 5 were taken from jails, 6 from officers of the law outside of jails and 2 were shot to death in a jail.

"There were 53 instances in which officers of the law prevented lynchings," writes F. D. Patterson, president of the Institute. "9 of these were in Northern and Western states and 44 in Southern states. In 42 of the instances the prisoners were removed or the guards augmented or other precautions taken. In the 11 other instances, armed force was used to repel the would be lynchers. A total of 84 persons, 17 white and 67 negro, were thus saved from death at the hand of mobs."

Of the 20 persons lynched, 2 were white and 18 were negro. The offenses charged were: murder, 7; attempted rape, 3; rape, 3; altercation with man, 1; activity in share cropper organizing, 1; attacking person, 1; taking prisoner from officer of the law, 1; killed by mob in search of another person, 1; slapping a woman, 1; communistic activity, 1.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows: California, 1; Florida, 2; Georgia, 2; Louisiana, 4; Mississippi, 7; North Carolina, 1; Tennessee, 1; Texas, 2.

THE COMPASS

Gathering Evidence By ARTHUR DUNE

GALVESTON, Texas, Dec. 20.—In 1928 I went to Louisiana as attorney for a New York investment house to investigate a refinery and its operations. He wanted a million dollars to pay off $400,000 of bank loans and to buy out his partner. The needed amount was underwritten and the stock of his company listed in Wall Street.

A few days ago I was in his luxurious private office. Seven years had passed. He was still young—about 35—but crowing bald. "I saw your picture and interview in the paper this morning," he said. "But I can't share your opinion about Roosevelt. The business man doesn't know what to do. He hasn't confidence in anything. The way things are going, we will have nothing left in another four years. We have to pay 15 percent of our profits in taxes now."

"Funny that everyone blames all his taxes on the President," I replied. "He is responsible only for federal taxes. You will have to blame Huey Long for the rest. It isn't the amount of the taxes; it's what is left after you pay them that counts. Is your company in a bad way? Aren't you getting into line shape?"

"We are in line shape," he hastened to assure. "We have $500,000 cash in the bank—don't owe a cent, and our stock sells as high as before the panic. I own over half of it—can leaving next week to spend the winter in California." Somehow, the details of my life that multi-millionaire failed to across my sympathy.

"You are from outside the state," said another in Louisiana. "So I can talk to you. I see that Leche-Alton card in my window because they asked me to do so, and because my brother is a school teacher. I know if I refused today, he would lose his job tomorrow. But when I get in the booth by myself I know how I'll vote."

"I motor 5000 miles a month dealing in oil lands—have visited all parts of Louisiana," a fellow prospect at a tourist camp told me. "The Long candidates will get 95 percent of Louisiana's votes I'm for them myself."

As Beaumont I learn that officials of the State of Texas— all Democrats—told each other at luncheon that day they intended to vote against Roosevelt, and a local newspaper man tells me there is much opposition to the President in that part of the state. This night we stay in a tourist home five miles from the same city. Our beer is 50 cents a glass. None of the companies around here will give a job to a man over 35, he complained.

"The old Huey couldn't have lived. He was right about a lot of things."

"The Mellons own the Gulf Company, its refinery here is the biggest in the world. Wouldn't hurt to divide up some of their millions."

Port Arthur is the only city I have visited which does not light its streets, but they seem to thrive without it. There has been no one on relief in that place for over a year. The relief office is shipping successful oil—everyone is busy.

Men are friendly in a second class hotel. So I sit with them about the open gas heater, discussing politics. They tell me Roosevelt is stronger in Port Arthur—so was Huey Long before. "Five million dollars is enough for any one person," they say.

"The people will for President Roosevelt around here," I ask a Republican campaign of Galveston, as I sit with him in the photo-house. "It is a splendid, double-headed man—will set up in middle life."

He paused to deliberate. "Well, men like myself who work for a living are for him. The rich people are against him. He is the only President we ever had who has shown any real interest in the common man. However, Roosevelt and that fellow before him were running the country for the benefit of the rich only."

There are instances of the feelings of across I talk with every week. And that sentiment is repeated.

AROUND AMERICA AND NEW STATES

New Deal Voted By 29 And Endorsed By 12 States In Last Literary Digest Poll

The popularity of the New Deal evidenced a further increase in the latest returns of The Literary Digest's nation-wide poll as nearly 1,000,000 ballots from forty-one states are tabulated in the current issue of the magazine.

The total of 987,158 votes reported shows a decline of 409,527 votes marked "yes" and 577,631 voted "no" in answer to the question: "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt 'New Deal' to date?"

The percentage of the total balloting against the New Deal is now 58.1 which compares with last week's percentage of 57.0 and also with a vote of 51.15 percent for the New Deal in a poll conducted by The Literary Digest on the same subject to practically the same voters in the spring of 1934.

The magazine points out that in using the poll returns as an indicator of popular favor a variation of 1 percent either way indicates the probable shifting of approximately 400,000 votes normally vote in a national election.

The twelve states of the Midwest farm belt continue to vote heavily, more than 3 to 2, against the New Deal while eleven of the thirteen southern, and border states register as strong support for the New Deal. Also in the South, Florida shows a majority of 80.68 percent and Oklahoma 52.11 percent against the Administration's policies.

Twenty-nine of the forty-one states from which ballots have been tallied so far represent a total of 236 Electoral College votes, or 20 votes over a majority. The twelve states showing support of the New Deal have a combined electoral vote of 132, while the seven Eastern states from which returns are not yet reported contribute the balance of 112 votes.

New England shows the strongest opposition to the Administration's policies in the poll so far. While no votes are tallied yet from Maine or Vermont and the magazine reports that the balloting in the four other New England states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut is still incomplete, the section shows more than 3 to 1 opposition to the New Deal.

Initial returns are reported this week from Arizona, Idaho, Montana, New Mexico, Rhode Island, Utah and Wyoming. All of these states show substantial majorities against the New Deal with the exception of Utah where 53.24 percent of the ballots are indicated in support of Roosevelt's policies.

Arizona which voted more than 3 to 1 for Roosevelt in 1932 is shown with a 57.39 poll percentage against the New Deal policies.

Idaho which voted nearly 3 to 2 Democratic in the last national election now reversed itself by more than a 2 to 1 ratio in opposition to the Administration's policies.

Rhode Island gave the President a comfortable majority of over 55 percent in 1932 and now evidences a 3 to 1 protest against his policies in the magazine poll.

Nearly three-fifths of Montana's first 4522 ballots tallied and over three-fifths of Wyoming's initial 2159 votes are reported marked against the New Deal.

Of the thirty-four states for which returns were published in last week's issue, a fractional increase in support of the New Deal and the other eight states indicates a larger negative vote.

As an indicator of increased counteractive interest on the subject of the New Deal on a national policy the magazine points out that seven states, mostly in the farm belt, have already reversed more than once before.

Commutation To Life Term To Be Hauptmann Plea

Attorneys Will Seek Clemency Instead Of Another Trial

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 30.—(AP)—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's counsel disclosed Sunday it elected to seek clemency before the New Jersey Pardons Court, rather than ask the law courts for a new trial, because of the "broader view" the pardoning tribunal might take of any new evidence offered.

The Pardons Court, among lawyers, is considered more as a board than a court bound by strict rules of evidence.

Counsel for the man convicted of the Lindbergh baby slaying intimated new evidence and circumstantial data might be offered which they hoped would induce the court to commute the death penalty to life imprisonment.

Hauptmann has been sentenced to die the week of Jan. 10. Erbert Rosecrans, of the defense staff, who discussed the defense strategy in electing to make a clemency plea first, indicated no future moves, should the court deny clemency, were yet planned.
