Attorney General Earl F. Kelly has filed a brief in Volusia County Circuit Court which is reported to be an historic precedent in the state.

The brief, filed by Assistant Attorney General Arthur Canady, calls for a decision on whether Gov. Claude Kirk can be forced to give a deposition in dispute over the District I County Commission post.

After the acquittal, Kirk appointed Hubert Jacobs, a Republican, to the post to succeed Ernest Pook, who had held the office for the interim period under appointment by former Gov. Haydon Burns.

Circuit Judge Horace Bigels ordered Smith reinstated in July with some $18,000 in back pay. Jacobs did not appeal.

Kirk, who has been subpoenaed to give deposition at 1:30 p.m. Sept. 19, at the Hall-Jay Law Center in Holly Hill, declined to respond to a similar subpoena to appear Sept. 2.

Testimony sought is to determine the governor's right to intervene in the lawsuit for the purpose of appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Deadline for an appeal of the suit is Sept. 21.

Citrusmen Have Bright Outlook

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Florida citrusmen are gearing up for the 1968-69 season with a business outlook for brighter than in recent years.

"For the first time since I've been associated with citrus, we don't have to worry whether the crop estimate is 100 million boxes or 120 million boxes," said Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president of Florida Citrus Mutual.

"We can handle it," he told the cooperative's director Tuesday.

Records in the tax collector's office show that Rutledge's son, Ben, who has resigned as a deputy sheriff and already is operating the business, purchased the liquor license from the seller, Mrs. Grace B. Anderson, in a separate transaction.

Chimps Make Monkeys Of People
GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—No. 3 by any other name would still be a three-foot chimpanzee on the loose.

And he's a chimp who amuses himself by picking locks. Sunday he succeeded and straddled away from the University of Florida laboratory where he is used for immunization experiments.

University officials say you'll know him right away. He has No. 3 tattooed on his chest, weighs about 100 pounds and screams.

"But I wouldn't say he's dangerous," noted Dr. Alvin Moreland.

Moreland called police after the 800 chimp fled his cage and clambered over an eight-foot fence to freedom.

Last week five penmates of No. 3 broke the lock of their cage and escaped. All were recaptured the same day, but a tranquilizer gun had to be used on one which was found in a tree near the campus.

Political Puzzle Game Invites Participants

There was, of course, the jigsaw puzzle. This taxed the vision, imagination and perception. But it faded.

Then there was and is the cross-word puzzle. Pursuit, capture and proper placement of words combined with a forced use of dictionaries, maps and similar guides continues.

This year and this day, however, there has come about a complex situation that needs all the capacities of the puzzle-minded. Yes, it is politics and it is the presidential campaign and it requires devotion to minutiae as well as attention to the major event.

For it often is the event which does not get the "Page One" treatment that holds the arrow pointing to the bull's eye of election. Thus there is the need to find the arrow, determine its direction and then define its true course.

In starting out on this intriguing game, it is well to use the major figures closest to the set just how their full and complete picture is being developed.

First nominee who received the official approval of his political party's machine is, of course, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. He was in the presidency during the Eisenhower years, failed to win the office under Democrat Senator John F. Kennedy in 1960, lost the California gubernatorial election to old-hander Democrat in-office Pat Brown, and since then has been practicing politics and law with New York City as a base.

Second nominee is Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey whose selection at the tumultuous and stormy Democratic convention in Chicago is so recent that scar-tissue has not been given time to form.

To play this political puzzle-game, these are the chief pieces whose parts must be put together. Then there is the extraordinary figure of former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, a third-party threat with an outline which defies definition and yet needs to be clarified.

In this pursuit of arrows, the Nixon figure must be observed in terms of the opposition within his own party and the support which is perceptible outside the regular GOP ranks.

Only yesterday, for instance, there was a Nixon-Rockefeller meeting on the GOP's candidate's schedule. This comment is being made before the event but the fact that the meeting was scheduled and where it was scheduled and the announced subject is a case in point.

The personal relations between Nixon and the New York governor have never been cordial. They have had contrasting political philosophies. Thus the choice of the Rockefeller-Pocantico estates for the meeting and the announced subject of discussion, the treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons, are fragments to be noted.

When Vice President Humphrey's case is looked at, there is need to watch a fairly large quiver of arrows and be quick to see who has the bow and what is the target.

The fractured Democratic party has two major fragments. One is the position of President Johnson, recently an enigmatic figure whose political moves have been mystifying.

Yet some of the best informed Washington sources are detecting a pro-Humphrey move by this seasoned warrior and would not be surprised to see LBJ draw an arrow which would make his eye on the international target which would help greatly the Humphrey cause.

This must be watched if the puzzle is to be solved.

Then there is the liberal or Kennedy wing. Here a very definite arrow was sped towards a Humphrey victory when the popular Senator Ted Kennedy stepped out, braced himself and sent an arrow labeled support for the Humphrey ticket on its way.

The one arrow we need to be alert to detect and properly place in the Wallace figure is his selection of the Alabama campaign it can be expected that it will be an arrow which will not follow a direct course or seek a definite target.

How about it? Want to play? If so, remember the game has a November finish and will be a puzzle to the end!

For VOTE!

We heartily endorse VOTE, the voter orientation, training and education campaign being conducted in our state and which now has been further strengthened by the addition of 34 county coordinators.

Florida is not to be sure, alone in the record of voter registration and registrants who vote, which is something of a national scandal. But it does exist here. What is of even more importance is that it need not. For Florida is a state which is growing, an area where newcomers are the rule rather than the exception, where liveliness in all areas of human activity should be the security.

Yet our Secretary of State Tom Adams has been moved by the bad record which Floridians presented in the primaries to gear up this VOTE campaign.

It would seem that all of the controversy, high spirits, intense debates would indicate that all the talkers would be voters. This should be the end. If so it will be far different from the start.

For instance only 44 per cent of the registered Democrats and 41 per cent of the registered Republicans bothered to vote in the first primary last May.

This means only to the registered voters. Mr. Adams says that there are 750,000 persons in Florida who are eligible to vote but not registered. The goal is for at least 200,000 of these to register before the books close on Oct. 15.

In another statistic which should shock even the most apathetic into action is that dealing with the nomination of the candidates for United States Senate by both parties.

The Democratic nominee was chosen by only 12 percent of the eligible voters. The Republican fared worse with only six per cent, the Secretary of State has pointed out.

We are, as we are sure you are, opposed to government by a minority. Yet if the citizens, the eligible voters will not take the steps needed to let them express their convictions in the one way which democracy affords—by registering and voting—the minority could very well rule. Who will complain then?

"Frankly, I Don't Know Where to Put My Money!"

Political Notebook:

The New Political Gimmick

By WARD CANNEL, NEW YORK (NEA) — As we were saying, it seems to be a common definition that a presidential campaign is a national illusion two weeks long and two tons deep and held together by a pair of paper clips in crumpled shirts.

That may be overrating it a bit. But the fact remains that there is a persistent mistrust of most campaign orators. To the national ear, the typical election speech falls down to three spry sentences, namely: "Much has been done. Much remains to do. New times bring new ideas."

The general theory seems to be that if candidates for public office would wring the wind and rain out of their recitations and start telling it like it is, the voters could make a rational choice of leadership.

Whether it would work out that way in real life is hard to say. Our suspicion is that telling it like it is might make for a pretty difficult session in the voting booth.

But, as it says on our business card, we'll try anything once. Even the truth. To wit: LET'S FACE FACTS

A Campaign Address BY THE HON. N. GRITTY

My fellow citizens, every thing in it is a big mess. That is nothing new, of course. Everything is always in a big mess. That is because everything is so messy.

Peace Feeler To Viet Cong

By RAY CROMLEY, NEA Washington Correspondent

—Word reaching this correspondent from the highest levels in Saigon is that a number of South Vietnamese of very high standing are attempting to make personal contact with the Viet Cong hierarchy to explore the possibility of peace.

The men seeking contact are making this move as private citizens, not as government officials.

It is known, however, that they have the unofficial backing and encouragement of the South Vietnamese government and of high U.S. government officials.

The names of the men seeking this contact cannot be disclosed. But it can be said that they are men of unimpeachable motives, patriotism and public standing. They are in contact with the Viet Cong leadership to explore the possibility of peace.

Numbers of low and middle-level Viet Cong leaders have grown disaffected with the whole insurgency operation. There is strong evidence that a god many VC would like to shake the whole war but don't know how.

The talks now being sought are an attempt to give these VC an honorable way out.

This strategy is based on the belief that 80 per cent of the Viet Cong are not Communists, but ordinary Vietnamese. As mentioned above, it assumes that many, or most, are now disillusioned by Ho's Communist rule.

Though no decisions have been made, it is understood that a good many of the top leaders in South Vietnam have been some way new to be found to allow members of the Viet Cong to participate fully in community life and to run for and hold office as individuals in popularly elected governments.

Some South Vietnamese officials are understood ready to allow the ex-VC to organize a political party, provided it agreed to work within the law and seek office through free elections.

South Vietnamese leaders are dead set against a coalition government. They believe a coalition would give the Communist organization direct channels to secretly subvert the government from within.

The men attempting to develop these negotiations are understood to believe it will take a long time before the stage can be set for the face-to-face talks they seek.

Like most top South Vietnamese, the negotiation seekers have relatives and old associates among the Viet Cong who could serve as channels.

But the men responsible for South Vietnam operations so distrust the Viet Cong top leadership that they have surrounded them with a ring of suspicious security advisers very difficult to pierce.

Crane's Worry Clinic:

Stimulants And Depressants

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASEY CRANE, 47, aged 42, has high blood pressure.

"Dr. Crane," his wife began, "Lon is now taking tranquilizers and his blood pressure has dropped to 140/90."

"Meanwhile, his physician ordered him to stop smoking."

"But if I am elected it's not going to work out that way. George Manly has an awful lot of votes in his pocket. Some of my best friends and advisers have been divorced. A lot of state, county and local governments don't do so well with the political power they've got now."

And as for our involvement in foreign wars, well, I think we ought to get out. And we will—just as soon as our national interests have been served.

Modern men have the same basic gastric and erotic appetites as their ancient cave-man ancestors.

With one major exception! Modern men often depress one or both appetites by means of drugs!

The cave-men didn't have access to these depressants or demoralizing herbs.

You laymen can readily perceive that anesthetics will produce total unconsciousness, so the surgeon can remove your appendix without your feeling any sensations whatsoever.

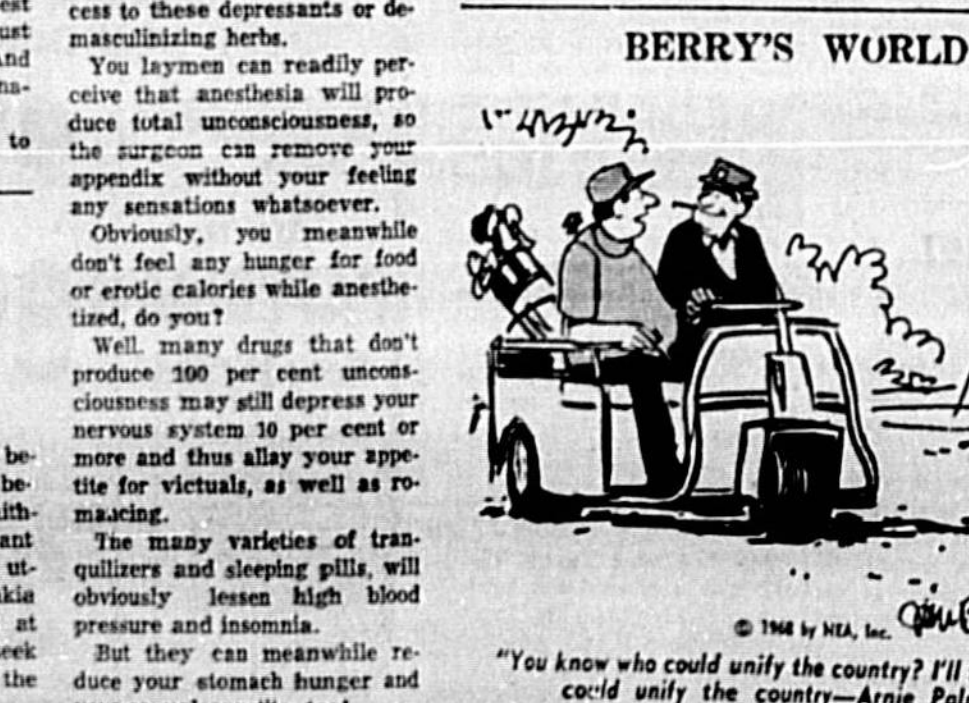

Obviously, you meanwhile don't feel any hunger for food or erotic calories while anesthetics do your job.

Well, many drugs that don't produce 100 per cent unconsciousness may still depress your nervous system to per cent or more and thus ally your appetite for victuals, as well as for mating.

The many varieties of tranquilizers and sleeping pills, will obviously lessen high blood pressure and insomnia.

But they can meanwhile reduce your stomach hunger and your sexual appetite, too!

Junior Achievement Is Headstart On Career

By F. J. LAIN

Miss Lain awards a new Mercury portable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Company, to Mrs. Elizabeth Guye, Riverside, Calif., for her letter.

"I am a high school counselor and suggest the Junior Achievement organization (J.A.) as a topic in Junior Achievement, under the guidance of volunteer businessmen. Achievers form their own miniature corporation to sell stock, manufacture, advertise and merchandise products, keep business records and pay dividends to stockholders. It's a wonderful way for an individual to find out about the business world in which we live, and get a headstart on a successful career."

A — I'm really sorry to say I missed J.A. as a student as I asked a friend, 31, now a consultant and manager Achiever, what he thinks about the program. I told him I wasn't after quotable quotes, but an honest evaluation from a guy who had been there.

"This is the greatest single program for young adults in real life economics. And I let it come in handy later on."

How does J.A. operate? Each Fall, companies are established by national charter with the cooperation of school authorities. The 20 Achievers per company comprise the officers, work force and sales staff of these corporate-like enterprises.

Throughout the school year these companies meet for two hours, one night each week, J.A. business centers. After choosing a product or service (from automobiles to alibers), Achievers raise capital by selling stock at $1 a share.

The next step is the operation of a company bank account and purchasing of raw materials. Machinery is loaned from J.A., Inc. Salary and wage scales are established, business begins, and a complete set of books is kept.

Taxes and Profits. Included in this bookkeeping system is a provision for "income taxes" on a scale appropriate to company benefits. This money finances scholarships and other J.A. activities for its members. Sales, excise and other local and state taxes are paid for real.

At the end of the school year, the companies go out of business. Some 80 per cent of the companies are profitable and the shareholders receive their investment back with a cash dividend. If a company goes bankrupt the corporation. You can imagine that appropriate action was instantly taken to streamline the operation and increase the profit margin.

"The incident gave every member a vital lesson in real life economics. And I let it come in handy later on."

Letters To The Editor

Delegate Blames News Media

Editor, Herald:

The real story of Chicago did not take place in the Convention Hall or on the streets where civil disorder was put down by police and rioters. I had an opportunity to watch both events first hand, but the magazine covers and news events led me to believe I was never there.

The real story of Chicago was the outrageous distortion of the news by major news media. This abuse of responsibility to the public not only included a bias toward certain elements of the political participants, but was most aggravated in its treatment of the so-called "flower people," hippies and yippies. Most of the media coverage characterized these people as "children," "peaceful demonstrators" and "peace seekers."

Chicago's authorities and National Guardsmen received such adjectives as Gestapo, hoods, police state, and dictator. We saw pictures of police clubs on the heads of demonstrators, but we didn't see or read about the provocations, the filthy language, the harassment and conduct of the "demonstrators." We didn't hear much about the 183 police officers who were injured by these peaceful, innocent children. Only reporters told the story of the weapons employed, the bricks, broken bottles, clubs, nails, razors, blackjacks, acid, knives, stretch bombs and other weapons.

Where were the pictures of the innocent children waving Viet Cong flags as they ran from the trees of Grant Park while screaming boys and girls ran half-way around the world to protect their right to life in a democratic society. This same media failed to point out that amidst all of the so-called "police brutality" not one person in the over 15,000 demonstrators was killed. They failed to point out what would have happened to the orderly process of democracy if the police and other authorities present had not kept order. Little was made of the threats to enter the convention hall, poison the city water supply and assassinate the political figures present.

That the police used force in any instances was undoubtedly true and is not to be condoned. It can be understood, however, when all the circumstances are told truthfully, which was not done.

I went to Chicago to perform a civic duty and I did not appreciate the threat of civil disorder, filthy language and pre-communist slogans, many of the so-called peace demonstrators delivered. I was treated with courtesy and consideration by all of the police and city authorities with whom I had contact and was very glad they were there.

If anything needs investigation after Chicago, it is the news media. Maybe someone will discover where they hid the truth.

Apollo OK In Test Run

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Three Apollo 7 astronauts successfully tested an escape procedure Monday that may have saved the lives of three Apollo 1 astronauts had it been used when fire swept their space capsule on Jan. 27, 1967.

Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham escaped from their sealed space craft and rode a high-speed rocket to the base of their 29-story Saturn B1 rocket pad in two minutes and five seconds.

Schirra said his escape procedure made the simulated emergency escape in less than two minutes, but they performed somewhat cautiously to prevent damage to equipment or their space suits.

The fire that swept through the capsule of Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee killed them after going to the detent and ended up in court on a charge of assaulting a female.

The Apollo 1 space capsule was a two-part hatch that required at least 90 seconds to open. White and Chaffee were unable to open it in time to escape the flames inside their space craft.

Schirra's crew was able to open a new one-piece hatch in about five seconds during Monday's drill. When the hatch opened, rescue crews hoisted the three bulky-clad astronauts.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A young New Zealander kissed a beautiful woman in a boat after going to the detent and ended up in court on a charge of assaulting a female.

The court suppressed the name of the woman of whom he was convicted and discharged him without penalty after his defense counsel explained that he had been "in a state of complete shock" following a massive dose of pain-killer at the dentist's.

Said the defense counsel: "The woman of whom he was convicted is in fact a beautiful woman."

Agri-Committee Holds Election

Election of the ABC County Committee for farm program administration in Seminole County for the coming year was announced today by Fred A. Dyson, current chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

He called particular attention to the fact that the committee election this year is a little later than in former years. They are being held during the third week of September in all agricultural counties throughout the nation in order to increase the awareness of this important farm program function on eligible voters.

The farmer-committee system is a unique means of administering national agricultural programs and policies. The ABC County Committee administers the price support, agricultural conservation and other farm-action programs in the county. The County Committee also supervises the administration of the various programs, such as, crop or national origin.

Voting will be by mail, the chairman explained, and ballots have been sent to each known eligible voter. In case any eligible voter fails to receive a ballot through the mail, he should contact the ABC County Office, General Office, 1000 N. E. 10th St., Gainesville, Fla. 32601. Eligibility to vote or to hold office as a committeeman is not restricted by reason of race, color, sex, creed or national origin.

FISH FRY sponsored by the Seminole County Firemen's Association will be held from 4 until 8 p.m. Oct. 5 at Shady Side Park in Longwood. First customer, Altamonte Springs Police Chief F. E. Folsom, buys ticket from Capt. Gary Kaiser of the Altamonte Volunteer Fire Department.

Retirees Slate Friday Meet

Discussion by a three-member panel on the theme "Serving the Community," will highlight Friday's 10 a.m. meeting of the Delray Chapter, American Association of Retired Persons.

This will be the opening meeting of the group for the fall season and will be held in the Firemen's Recreation Hall.

Mrs. Henry Jomquet, librarian, will talk on services of the library to the greater Delray community. Samuel Far, president of the Delray Chapter of Commerce will discuss the chamber's community service program, and Volusia County Sheriff Thelma Thurlby, a director of the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch, will tell of the character building work in this privately supported center for boys who lack outside opportunity.

Details will be announced of a bus tour to Bush Gardens in Tampa and to Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg which has been planned by Rev. Arthur Beatty, activities chairman, for mid-October. Enrollment for the trip also will be taken at Friday's meeting, with priority given chapter members. Applications from non-members will be accepted on a waiting list for available seating arrangements.

Painless Kiss

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A young New Zealander kissed a beautiful woman in a boat after going to the detent and ended up in court on a charge of assaulting a female.

The court suppressed the name of the woman of whom he was convicted and discharged him without penalty after his defense counsel explained that he had been "in a state of complete shock" following a massive dose of pain-killer at the dentist's.

Said the defense counsel: "The woman of whom he was convicted is in fact a beautiful woman."

Strikes And Spares

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

For the past two or three weeks, all I've been yakking about is that there were only a few more days left to sign up for the fall leagues, etc.

You know the old jazz by now, don't you? Well, let's take a quick peek and see what some of your neighbors have been doing, score-wise, here at the lanes in the various leagues.

On Thursday evening, the Toyota Mixed League had a grand time with 10 teams going hot at R. Pete Phillips of the 4-Doors team took individual honors with his 213-556 combination. Price Penick was out of the pocket too often as he finished with a near-miss on the charmed circle with a 168-545.

And although he'd rather I didn't mention it (at least not this way), E. G. Higginbottom is proud that his wife Jackie rolled a 183 game. (Ed. E. G., you want I should tell you your high one, too?)

S.O.S. being run up by Jean Krick, secretary of the Monday Night Mixed Scratch League. Says that she started out with 10 teams, but now is up to nine and would like to see more couples to fill out team number 10. They all bowl on Mondays at 7 p.m.

Just tickles me silly the way some of these 'babes' take their bowling. Like the Thursday morning Shooting Stars League.

As they get ready to leave after league competition, I'll usually try to see a smiling face (assuming the she had a good day of legging) and ask her, "Hey star, how'dya hit 'em tonight?"

Invariably they'll sound off like, "Ah, your crummy lane, all I had was a 170 for my high game."

HAI! LITTLE DO THEY KNOW THAT MANY A NIGHT I'D GLADLY SETTLE FOR A LIL' OLE 176 GAME! I'd just as soon not mention their names, but... in this same league this week, we had a 370 by Pve Patey, Eloise Korkowsky 161, Bonnie Link 167, Jane Gussman 172. A great bunch of gal, as are they all from all of the leagues, I might add.

Yes, many of the times the leagues decide that all they're out for is to have a fun time, but some of them go a little further to give it a little, they do add a schedule which can and does pile up to a healthy prize fund.

Duane Goemmel, secretary of the Tuesday evening U-professionals League, drop-ups on us to see how many of our "friendly" group will have over $1,500 in their treasury.

Invariably they'll sound off like, "Ah, your crummy lane, all I had was a 170 for my high game."

HAI! LITTLE DO THEY KNOW THAT MANY A NIGHT I'D GLADLY SETTLE FOR A LIL' OLE 176 GAME! I'd just as soon not mention their names, but... in this same league this week, we had a 370 by Pve Patey, Eloise Korkowsky 161, Bonnie Link 167, Jane Gussman 172. A great bunch of gal, as are they all from all of the leagues, I might add.

If we get to join the Friday evening group, it's a 7 p.m. league. I'll round it out nicely to ten full teams and make Secretary Betty Drummond very happy.

They bowl at 7 p.m. and have lots of fun to boot. Some of their scores from last Friday include Sara Terry 154, Elaine Kostival 172, Ruth Pettit 162.

Carrying the banners for the pents were Bob Bennett like with the high game for the evening. Marybeth 172, 160. Woodruff rolled a 186, and Woody Wilson clipped in with a 169.161.

★ ★ ★ ★

You really don't have to be that good, though, cause lots of the other scores... well, those folks would, cause as soon I didn't print 'em, believe me.

★ ★ ★ ★

So nice to have all of our friends from Deltona bowling in fall here again. On Friday at 3 in the afternoon, the Pin Busters have 2 full teams, while our Mixed League on Sundays at 6:30 p.m. started with 18 fourosomes and will probably be all filled this Sunday.

★ ★ ★ ★

Speaking of this group, I saw the note circulated to the bowling bowlers... written from Max Carter, a patient at Seminole, and wishing everyone lots of strikes.

★ ★ ★ ★

Another one of our newer leagues in the Community United Methodist Church Bowling League of Casselberry. Seems like those folks have the right idea... you know, it's for the fun of bowling and not necessarily high scores. (How did like that, gang?)

★ ★ ★ ★

Some of those who did find the one-three pocket were Jim Richter 202, Ted Perry 181, Rey Marchand 172. Nancy Copeland 182. And then there was a follow by the name of Richard Heaps who had a 'heap' of strikes to finish with a 221 game.

★ ★ ★ ★

Looking at the Friday morning Cobia Bouts women's league, Lenore Thiel rolled a 156 and 158. Peg Patey a little higher at 166. Elaine Matson set a good opening average with 164, 170, 186.

★ ★ ★ ★

Others who were getting their shares of Xs were Kay Thomson 150, Connie Moore 161, 172, Shirley Smees 134 and Doris Bacon 155.

The Hi Nooners, with 10 teams, had more than their share of the good games this past Wednesday. Some of the 'notables' were Margaret Price 168, ditto for Paye Roberts, Maxine Fehr topped a 174. Kay Samsam started strong with a 153 and 152. Mary Elmore was at 165, Kathy Gray a 154 and Libby Whitehead two pins higher at 167.

★ ★ ★ ★

Lillian Balmer rolled a 156, one less than Mary Pyle's 156 and Carol Dandridge got a 141.

Seems like they all got stuck right around the one-five-oh mark, huh?

★ ★ ★ ★

The Monday evening Singles Classic League got off on a wobbly foot, what with a couple of last minute mid-changers, but it was still right folks who felt that they were a team by themselves... for good or bad, that went ahead and started the fall schedule. If you'd like to join, give a call or else, be at the lanes Monday at 8:45 p.m.

Panthers' Outlook Dims . . . Panthers Lose Four Key Gridders

By BOB THOMAS

Herald Sports Staff

Panther Coach Willie Holt continues to have his work. Four of his outstanding players are ineligible. They are: halfback George Gordon, fullback Art Barkley, offensive tackle Lonnie Jenkins, and Willie Lewis, a running back.

Gordon, the Midway Express, scored 14 TD's last year, and his running threat will certainly weaken Holt's offensive punch. Barkley, a punishing runner and a ferocious defensive back, will be missed. Lonnie Jenkins was a consistent performer at offensive tackle for the past two years as a main cog and his absence will certainly be felt. Willie Lewis was expected to provide considerable depth to the running corps.

However, Holt and his aides are working hard to improve the offensive line. "Our offensive line and offensive backfield will be our biggest problem," said Holt.

Johnny Blake has been moved to the fullback position. David Howard, who is a track star, is being groomed for the first time. He has shown promise as a running back. Nathaniel Williams and Mose Perkins Jr. are expected to bolster the running backs.

The problem at quarterback has not been solved. Friday night the coaches held a look at the boys as they scrimmaged at Memorial Stadium. Holt will decide who will be his quarterback for the coming season.

But then, to spice it up a little, they do add a schedule which can and does pile up to a healthy prize fund.

Duane Goemmel, secretary of the Tuesday evening U-professionals League, drop-ups on us to see how many of our "friendly" group will have over $1,500 in their treasury.

Smith Believes In Action-Not Words

By ROY SPEER

Associated Press Sports Writer

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Larry Smith, black-boning fullback for Florida, believes action—not words—proves it to me. I think after the first game we will know in which direction we are going.

"Yes, sir," or "No, sir" is the way he usually answers questions about football, with an occasional "maybe" tacked in.

But when he puts on his playing gear, Smith is one of the most aggressive players in the Southeastern Conference.

His brash actions on the field are one of the reasons the Gators are favored in the SEC race that we could not put Coach Groza's name on the list.

Smith, who runs the 100 yard dash in 9.9 seconds, has rushed for 1,683 yards in two seasons for the Gators. He has caught 37 passes for 456 yards, and he has hit on all seven passes he has attempted.

Coach Ray Graves said his quiet demeanor is very misleading. "He's a great runner, a great blocker and a great passer," he said.

He is exceptional at every phase he'll go down as one of the finest all-around football players in SEC history.

Smith also is known as a youngster ready to dish it out on the field if he has to. For two years, he and Georgia's 246-pound defensive tackle, Bill Stanfill, have had a private feud going on.

"Larry inspires the whole team—and the coaches," Graves said. "We all want to give him his chance to do the things we know he can do."

Smith played football the past two seasons but has been moved to fullbacks for the 1968 campaign. How does he like the change?

"Fine," he said.

He and his teammates also feel just fine about their chances of winning the SEC title, something Florida has never done.

The Gators have a pair of test quarterbacks in Larry Rantz and Jackie Eckdahl, stand-out blockers in 6-foot-8 tight end Jim Yarbrough and guard Guy Dennis, and an adequate defense.

However, most of the coaches who have labored the Gators at the University of Miami brought back the 1968 campaign with a desire to win because of Florida's schedule.

The Gators do not play four of the league's top teams—Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana State—and their big SEC games against Auburn and Georgia will both be played in Florida.

"We don't have an easy schedule," Graves insisted, "although it's not as tough as we have had in the past."

Denny McLain May Be The Pitcher Of This Century

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain's 29th triumph in 1968 probably will be remembered as something less than a pitching masterpiece. But his stickwork never has been sharp.

The Detroit frebeller climbed within a single step of becoming baseball's first 30 game winner in 34 years when he batted the American League leaders to a 7-2 victory over California Tuesday night.

McLain, 29.5, struck out 11 Angels. But he had to struggle to escape two tight jams and was tagged for nine hits in all, including a pair of sixth inning homers.

"It's the first time I ever had two runs in a game," he said, "and I was all confused, ruffled by the bases."

While McLain boosted Detroit's lead over Baltimore to 8 1/2 games ... with 15 strikeouts ... the New York Yankees continued their late surge with a 2-1, 3-0 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, Oakland trimmed Boston 5-3 and Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-2. Washington and Baltimore were rained out.

In the National League, the Chicago Cubs battered the New York Mets 8-1, Los Angeles stunned St. Louis 3-0, San Francisco defeated Atlanta 4-2 and Cincinnati divided twin bills with Houston, beating the opener 3-2 and taking the nightcap 4-3.

The Tigers staked McLain to a 4-0 lead before he faltered momentarily in the middle innings. The Angels loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but McLain got Tom Seaver on a pop up and fanned Bobby Knop.

Ed Kirkpatrick, Vic Davalillo and Jay Johnston stroked fifth inning singles but Detroit right fielder Jim Northrup nailed Kirkpatrick at the plate on the third hit.

The Angels finally broke the ice in the sixth when Rick Couch and Sam Rice tied the score at 4-4.

McLain pitched 9 2/3 innings, allowing six runs, six earned runs, six hits and six errors.

He pitched 12 1/3 innings in his first major league season, allowing 24 runs, 16 earned runs, 24 hits and 16 errors.

He pitched 16 2/3 innings in his second major league season, allowing 18 runs, 10 earned runs, 18 hits and 18 errors.

He pitched 20 1/3 innings in his third major league season, allowing 12 runs, 6 earned runs, 12 hits and 12 errors.

He pitched 24 2/3 innings in his fourth major league season, allowing 8 runs, 4 earned runs, 8 hits and 8 errors.

He pitched 28 1/3 innings in his fifth major league season, allowing 4 runs, 2 earned runs, 4 hits and 4 errors.

He pitched 32 2/3 innings in his sixth major league season, allowing 0 runs, 0 earned runs, 0 hits and 0 errors.

He pitched 36 1/3 innings in his seventh major league season, allowing 0 runs, 0 earned runs, 0 hits and 0 errors.

He pitched 40 2/3 innings in his eighth major league season, allowing 0 runs, 0 earned runs, 0 hits and 0 errors.

He pitched 44 1/3 innings in his ninth major league season, allowing 0 runs, 0 earned runs, 0 hits and 0 errors.

Home From Holy Land

By DORIS WILLIAMS
"It's good to be back home but I would make the trip again," stated Mrs. Raymond (Evelyn) Sandifer, who has recently returned from a 21 day trip to the Holy Land.

Mrs. Sandifer was one among 33 travelers from 16 states who made the tour, directed and conducted by Dr. H. T. Hanks of Ashbury College, Wilmore, Ky.

Among the places the entourage visited were Cairo, where the pyramids and camel were of interest as well as their stay at a hotel on the Nile.

The next stop was Beirut where Evelyn found the people very friendly and progressive. They visited Biblos (where the Bible's name originated and also the ancient ruins of Nicosia) and Tyre. It was in Tyre that Mrs. Sandifer learned how the Jews divide the Turks from Cyprus citizens.

Five days were spent in Jerusalem where the tourists did a lot of walking and observing and visited the Dead Sea. At Jericho they explored the Quarantary Caves where the ancient scrolls were found.

They had lunch at Old Sodam on the Dead Sea and went through the valley where David killed Goliath. The garden tomb was the most inspiring part of the trip.

A day was spent at Tiberias on the Sea of Galilee from where they flew to Istanbul.

Dog Training School Attracts Area Couple

By LIZA BAKER
Russell J. Hammond of Chuluota has returned home after a week's stay in Winter Park Memorial Hospital where he was treated for a severe head injury suffered in a fall at his home.

At time of the mishap, the Hammonds had just returned from a trip to Northern Virginia where they attended a school for instructors in dog obedience training held on the grounds of Washington, D. C.

They always have "obedience trained" their own dogs and for many years Mrs. Hammond has served as an instructor in obedience training classes for dogs.

Methods used in the courses have changed materially over the years, she advises. "We have been interested in obedience training for some 30 years or more and it is changing constantly. We are learning more each year and today it is a far cry from what it was even five years ago. We now understand these far from dumb animals even better. Research has made great strides, but there is much to be still done," she added.

From the classes, the Hammonds went to Virginia Beach to visit their son, Col. Russell J. Hammond Jr. (Naval Air) and their daughter-in-law and four grandchildren. Russell J. III, Cindy, Pam, and Stephanie. Stephanie was born last October and "Gram" and "Gramp" saw her for the first time during this visit. Completing the household are four dogs, one for each child. Couple Marks Anniversary

By CAROL JAQUES
Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Williamson of East Lake Street, Longwood, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Sunday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Frederick Dudley, 638 Crocus Street, Longwood.

The Williamsons were married on Sept. 8, 1918, in Grady County, Georgia, by Justice of the Peace Bush Sellers. They are the parents of two daughters, Mrs. William (Wilma) Pope of Longwood and (Estelle) Dudley of Longwood. They have seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Moving to Longwood in 1935, the couple attended the First Baptist Church. Mr. Williamson has served nine years on the city council of which he is presently serving as chairman.

In charge of the guest book was Barbara Dudley, groom's daughter. Mrs. Williamson's and floating hostess was Robin Dudley, another granddaughter and Janet Pullmer, a great granddaughter.

A bouquet of yellow mums centered the coffee table in the living room of the lovely Dudley home.

The yellow color scheme was carried to the refreshment table, which was overlaid with a white lace cloth with scalloped edges. A three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature gold bride and groom, centered the table.

Unable to attend her granddaughter's anniversary, Mrs. Gay Seaburg of Fayette, N. C., sent them yellow roses for the occasion. Also, sending flowers were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chase, close friends of the couple from New Jersey.

Mrs. Williamson, wearing a street length yellow brocade dress complimented with a white and gold carnation corsage, received the 78 guests calling between the appointed hours of 2-5 p. m.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pullmer, Jr. and children of Winter Park; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pullmer, Sr., J. G. Pullmer, all from Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Langford, Valdosta, Ga.; Betty Lee Williamson, Ma and Mrs. Willie Bennett and children, Mrs. G. H. Thippen and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Miller all from Sanford.

Cosmetic Surgery On Upswing

By AP News Service
Here comes Johnny Big Nose" or "Look at Gloria's big ears" taunt the children in the playground.

Although parents may tell Johnny or Gloria or any other child with unattractive features or a severe physical defect that "it's what inborn that counts," it is now recognized that what's inside may be adversely affected by the non-conforming outside packaging.

A severe physical defect may permanently distort the child's body image—the lifelong psychological attitude that a child forms toward the body by age 8 or 9—besides causing unmeasurable damage to his personal and social development.

Recently there has been a growing trend toward performing cosmetic surgery on young patients. But even though cosmetic surgery, the branch of plastic surgery devoted to improving physical appearance, can now improve almost any deformity, disfigurement or unattractive feature a child may possess, cosmetic surgery is not for every child.

Much depends on the individual child, how serious his defect is and how he adapts to it. In fact, states Alex Kerr in the September issue of "Family Circle," "Plastic surgeons often refuse to operate when a child expresses no desire for surgery, even though the parents request it."

Since changing a person's appearance can in itself be psychologically upsetting, doctors want to be sure that young candidates for cosmetic surgery are stable and mature enough to handle the emotional impact of the operation. The ideal timing for such surgery varies from one operation to another, depending in many cases on the age at which the feature reaches its full size.

The success of any kind of cosmetic surgery depends not only on the doctor's technical training but also on his artistic ability—the ability to envision how surgery can enhance a set of features.

A family physician may be most helpful in locating a reliable cosmetic surgeon. Medical associations, local hospitals, medical centers or reference books such as "Director of Medical Specialists" are other sources of information. It's best if one gets a specialist in the particular type of plastic surgery to be done for example—a dermatologist (skin) or an otolaryngologist (nose, ear and throat).

If possible try to meet with more than one potential surgeon (consultation fees are usually small) to discuss anticipated results, psychological factors and costs involved which can range anywhere from $300 to $100 for a surgeon's fee, usually not covered by medical insurance, plus hospital charges.

Kay Ellen Branding Bride Of Richard Rountree

Miss Kay Ellen Branding, Rountree, Sanford, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Branding, Jr., of Orlando, and Alvaah Richard Rountree, son of Mrs. A. D. Rountree, Sanford, and the Rev. Robert W. Gray was the officiating clergyman at the impressive double ring ceremony before the altar, completely enclosed with candles.

Two altar vases on either side of the cross and open Bible were arranged with white gladioli and mums.

Robert Ashanour, organist, presented a pre-wedding recital of appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied Miss Judy Russell, soloist, who sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride chose for her trousseau a formal gown of Helvetia lace and Venise lace. The fitted bodice of sculptured pearl Venise lace was fashioned with a halter neckline and petite short sleeves and a band of matching lace enhanced the slim A-line skirt. Her lace-trimmed train fell to an obi sash at the waist back to a sweeping chapel length.

A forward headpiece of linen tulle, accented with touches of lace, secured her imported silk illusion veil and the carried a formal cascade of yellow and white roses.

Miss Patricia Barton attended the bride as maid of honor, attired in a formal gown of mint green crepe overlaid with matching chiffon. A band of Venise lace accented the Empire waistline and the petite short sleeves with two floating chiffon panels cascading from the back neckline. Her circular nose blush was attached to a Dior low, teamed with Venise lace and she carried a cascade of fugi mums.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Jerome Lanaster, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Sally Staten was bridesmaid. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the maid of honor.

T. L. Rountree served his nephew as best man and groomsmen were Jerome Lanaster, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Louis Branding, brother of the bride; Henry Schumacher and John Dinkins. Ushers were David Wilson and Charles Hunter.

Any Lanaster, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Billy Parker was ring bearer. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Branding chose a sheath dress of peacock blue overlaid with matching chiffon. Her accessories were matching and she wore a cor-

Homemaker's Hints

Just for a change, add lemon flavoring to sugar cookie dough. A half teaspoon of the flavoring will be enough for a recipe that calls for about 2 1/2 cups of flour. Along with the flavoring you may also add a little grated lemon rind.

For luncheon salad, toss greens with French dressing, hard-cooked eggs and anchovy fillets. Cut each anchovy into about four pieces before adding to the salad.

The public is invited to attend both of these services.

Mrs. M. C. Ross, women's day chairman, Mrs. A. M. O'Neil, program chairman, Rev. M. C. Ross, pastor.

The Ladies Association Club began its regular fall season at Sept. 3 with a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Willie M. Dixon.

Several projects for this coming year have been planned during this opening session.

The community will be informed of these projects at a later date.

Interested civic minded ladies who wish to become members of this organization may contact the president, Mrs. Matie Holt.

Mrs. Peggie L. Jackson of Newark, N. J., was recent weekend guest of Mrs. Marie Jackson and family.

Richard Brooks, retired janitor of Coombs High School is now confined to Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Mary B. Whitehurst, a graduate of Seminole Junior College will be matriculating at Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona in the area of Music Education.

Mrs. Whitehurst made the president's list at Seminole Junior College during the summer session. Again we say congratulations to her.

Mrs. Annie Walker of Philadelphia was houseguest of her brother Shadrack Brown.

Mrs. Walker had just returned from a vacation in Bermuda before coming to Sanford.

Before returning to her home,

Steak is steak. Always a treat. And when it's Swift's Proten, always tender. (Remember the secret to ProTen meat cookery is DON'T OVERCOOK.)

You can turn this meat treat into a real delight if you'll try a few of these kitchen or cook-out tricks.

Cut a couple of cloves of garlic in two and toss them on the coals while your steak is broiling. The aroma is tantalizing and the flavor to steaks is subtle.

Top your broiled steak with a mixture of soft butter and crumbled blue cheese. Or flavor the butter with parsley and minced onion . . . or mustard.

For steak with a crusty, deep-brown coat and plenty of char flavor, sear one side by lowering grill close to coals for two or three minutes, then raise grill, finish same side. Turn, repeat.

Serve the steak on a platter garnished with halved, broiled tomatoes. Or heat canned mushrooms in butter (season with garlic, if you like) or saute fresh mushrooms in butter to pour over steak.

Remember that even the finest cut of meat . . . marvelous as it looks . . . is much more attractive when served with a border of fresh parsley. Gives a "finished" professional look.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY
BY JANE ASHLEY

Refreshing Pineapple Pie
Great for Fall in this angel food type pie cooked on top of the stove and turned into a no-bake crust. It is best served on the day it is prepared.

Pineapple Pie
1 no-bake (finch) crust
2 tablespoons corn starch
1/2 cup sugar
Dash salt
1 egg white
1 (7 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple, drained
2 egg whites
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Combine corn starch, sugar and salt in a small saucepan. Gradually add water, stirring until it is a thick paste. Boil 2 minutes, then to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Cover with a 1 x 1 1/2 inch or waxed paper laid directly on surface of pan. Cook 5 minutes in pineapple. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form while heat is raised. Gently fold in cooled pineapple mixture. Pipe into prepared crust. Decorate with chopped nuts. Chill. Makes 8-inch pie.

Family Style Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Our friends pass along their best recipes so that we can offer them to you.

Here's a real family-style Appearance Cake that you may want to try. A few notes from the donor:

"My mother's appearance cake—the one I grew up on—is a satisfying dessert when it's dusted with a snowy covering of confectioner's sugar. But at our house it was usually covered with a thick butter-cream icing and garnished with walnuts. My job was to crack the nuts and choose the biggest and most perfect halves for the cake. My Dad and I demanded the frosting. We had sweet tooth and Daddy would have felt underprivileged and deprived if every cake hadn't been covered with some rich concoction. I can still remember how good this tasted and maybe your readers would like to follow suit."

APPEARANCE CAKE
2 cups sifted regular flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 stick (1/2 pound) butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 1/4 cups canned appleauce
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped walnuts

Thoroughly grease a 13 by 9 by 2 inch baking pan. On a piece of wax paper stir together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in sifted flour mixture in four additions, alternately with appleauce; begin and end with dry ingredients. Mix the raisins and walnuts with the last addition of flour and stir them in.

Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—about 50 minutes.

Place cake in pan on wire rack to cool for about five minutes. Turn out on wire rack; with another rack turn right side up. Cool completely.

Frost with a vanilla flavored butter-cream icing and garnish with walnut halves.

'Kiss Of Peace'
BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP) — A rite that dates from the first century of Christianity, the "Kiss of Peace" will be observed at the installation on Sept. 12 of Bishop-designate for the Brooklyn Diocese, Francis J. Mugereau. The bishop will kiss 20 people from the congregation, who in turn will pass on the kiss.

Other rites to be established by the new Bishop include being the first Brooklyn-born bishop of the Diocese, as well as the first Italian bishop for Brooklyn. The new liturgical rite in English will be used for the first time for the installation of the head of a Diocese.

There are 2,000 different kinds of manufactured candies; 77 agricultural products are used in their making.

Meringue Horns For Refresher
By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor

MERINGUE HORNS
2 cups unsifted regular flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. granulated sugar
1/2 tsp. butter
1 package active dry yeast
2 tablespoons warm water
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
at room temperature
2 egg yolks, at room temperature

Combine flour, salt, sugar and butter in a small bowl. Blend together the flour, granulated sugar and salt. With a pastry blender finely cut in the butter. In a small bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to flour mixture with sour cream and egg yolks with a spoon. Beat well. Cover lightly with plastic wrap and an elastic band, refrigerate from 1 to 24 hours.

Remove the meringue horns from the refrigerator and roll into a medium mixing bowl. Stir together the flour, granulated sugar and salt. With a pastry blender finely cut in the butter. In a small bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Add to flour mixture with sour cream and egg yolks with a spoon. Beat well. Cover lightly with plastic wrap and an elastic band, refrigerate from 1 to 24 hours.

Roll out and shape remaining balls of dough the same way. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until golden-brown—15 to 20 minutes. With a wide spatula, remove to wire rack to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes 12.

Meringue Filling: Beat 2 egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/2 cup sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Fold in 1/2 cup finely chopped walnuts.

Use in recipe as directed.

SATURDAY BUFFET
You can prepare this marvelous meal ahead of baking time. Baked Ham, Yam Casserole, Trussed Green Beans and Broccoli Salad.

YAM CASSEROLE
3 pounds (6 large) sweet potatoes
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup grated onion
1/2 cup grated orange rind
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup sweet potatoes in cold water. Cook rapidly, in boiling water to cover with one teaspoon salt, until tender. Peel, scrubbing all pulp from skins, and mash. There should be about five cups. Mix in remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and other ingredients. Turn into a buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole and bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until top begins to brown about one hour. Makes eight servings.

SUNDAY SUPPER
If you like soup you may want to try a new version.
Best Soup Francess
Canned Beef Sandwiches
Veggie Omelette
Beverage
BEST SOUP FRANCESS
1 beef bouillon cube
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1/2 cup boiling water
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) sliced beef
1 to 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup butter/milk

Note: Slices of commercial sour cream and finely sliced green cucumber.

In a one-quarter mixing bowl, dissolve the bouillon cube and the sugar in the water. Turn the beef into a strainer over the bowl. Cut beef slices into thin strips and add. Mix well. Refrigerate to chill thoroughly. Before serving, add salt to taste. At serving time, pour small bowls of soup. Guests and company so guests can add the amount they like to the soup. Makes four small servings.

I Am Loved
NEW YORK (AP) — If a celebrity or notable really loves you on, you no longer need to keep it a secret. Newest craze is to show your affection by sending your loved one "I Am Loved" buttons.

Among the notables receiving buttons are President Johnson, Frank Sinatra, Joe Namath, Jose Ferrer, Sammy Davis, Jr., Mickey Mouse and Sen. Jacob Javits. And the feeling isn't just one-sided. The celebrities will personally acknowledge receiving the button by sending a letter to the fan.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What's the name of this cooking method?
A. Braising.

Q. How is braising done?
A. Meat is browned first in a heavy fry-pan or Dutch oven. Drippings are then poured off. Then a braising liquid, not more than one-half cup is added. For the real braising method, the meat is placed in a covered pot or pan. In other cases, it can be water, tomato, fruit or stock. Juice, or a combination of these, it might also be used. The braising liquid is then poured tightly and the meat is allowed to cook slowly, either in range or in oven.

Q. What meats are suitable for braising?
A. Any meat classified as less-tender should be braised. If the flavor is delicate and needs to be developed, as is the case with veal and pork ribs, braising is recommended. Some of the meats most cooked by braising are beef pot-roast, beef steaks, short ribs, veal shank or neck, pork shoulder, lamb neck, brisket, shank or rib-lets and ribs of meat.

Olive Cheese Spread

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want a pleasant feeling of "being treated" or "being pampered" there's a delicious offering in the house in the shape of a mixture of olive oil and cheese spread. It's a simple preparation—finely chopped pimiento stuffed green olives mixed with mayonnaise, olive oil and slices of homemade bread. The next time the added grated cheddar cheese in the mixture. Still later, the olive oil combination also mixed the olive slices of homemade bread. The finely chopped walnuts.

Nowadays these spreads are likely to be used as much for canapés as for sandwiches. Unlike to put the olive cheese spread in a fat nice crust and present it along with tomato juice or some other drink, as a help-yourself topping for crackers and all sorts of nibbles.

There was no generation gap at our house recently when the Olive Cheese Spread was enjoyed by a group of youngsters ranging from 19 to 18 as well as by a group of adults.

There's something new you can do with this spread: use it as stuffing for celery—wedges or small size tomatoes or serve in an hour if served or salad.

OLIVE CHEESE SPREAD
1 pound mild cheddar cheese
1 cup mayonnaise-type salad dressing
1 jar (8 ounces) usual pimiento-stuffed green olives, drained
About 1 1/2 cups and finely knife-chopped
In a medium mixing bowl mix olives, dressing and cheese. Add remaining olive slices and mayonnaise. Turn into one or two jars or crocks; cover tightly; refrigerate.

Makes about 3 1/2 cups.
Note: For a super sandwich use the Olive Cheese Spread along with sliced ham or roast beef spread.

Take Choice
STANTON, Mo. (AP)—Six players of the amateur club at Meramec Caverns here have correctly predicted the winner of the last five presidential elections. They do it by figuring out if they sell more donkey or elephant oxen figures. If the donkey's number the election is, will be a Democrat year. If the reverse is true, it will be a Republican year.

Correctly, donkey sales are three to two over elephant sales.
