American Consul Is Shot By A Woman Who Then Kills Self

Was Born In Atlanta

MILLER PREDICTS MONEY SHORTAGE IN THIS COUNTRY

Urges City to Secure All Of Money Needed For Public Improvement, At Once At A Small Rate Of Interest

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce was urged by E. C. Miller, New York City manufacturer and member of the local chamber in a letter read at the weekly lunch on Friday noon to procure all the money that would be necessary for city improvement in the immediate future. He stressed the fact that the city should anticipate its needs, for the next two or three years at least, and make efforts to secure the money at a low rate of interest.

At the rate capital is being absorbed on the market, he stated, the time is coming when money will be difficult to get and he urged that the local Chamber of Commerce take steps to obtain at once all the money needed for city improvements for the next two or three years.

Enclosed in his letter was a clipping taken from the New York Times, in which it said in part: "A rapid increase in business requirements or a sharp shifting of the funds from America to Europe would probably result in a quick reversal of the character of the present money market, according to the monthly report of the National City Bank."

"It is important to bear in mind that very little available credit outside the reserve banks is actually idle and an increase in the commercial demands and a loss of reserves through a movement of the gold to Europe, would be likely to affect a rapid change in the cheap money situation."

"In the first three weeks of November, the gold imports alone for New York totaled $130,800,000, and the exports about $5,800,000. The report concludes:

Frank P. Forster, in replying to the letter of Mr. Miller, stated that Sanford never would get cheap money. During his recent visit to New York, he stated that he had visited some of the larger insurance companies and was told that Sanford was too small to get any money. He stated that the First National Bank is behind any movement for a "greater Sanfor-

He saw no reason for the city to be alarmed at the letter of Mr. Miller and declared bonds for city improvements had been sold in the past, at a premium, and in one instance they were sold before delivery.

George A. DeCotton, reiterated the statements of Mr. Forster and stated that Sanford would not get cheap money for some time to come, and that the city could get all the funds it needed at reasonable rates of interest. Municipal bonds he pointed out are an excellent investment and Sanford bonds are in demand as soon as they are placed before the public.

TWO SPEECHES IN WINDY CITY BY PRESIDENT

Business Has Integral Part In Agricultural Life. Chief Executive Tells Livestock Convention Members Thurs

First Visit in West In Eighteen Months

Goes to Livestock Show and Views Prize Winners From Every State in the U. S.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—President Coolidge, after a visit to the Middle West, was speeding back to Washington Friday, carrying with him a new picture of the possibilities of agricultural states following his address before the International Live Stock Association.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—President Coolidge visited the International Live Stock, Hay and Grain show Thursday and here inspected exhibits of the finest products of American agriculture.

Coming to the middle west for the first time since he entered the White House, 18 months ago, the president and Mrs. Coolidge ended a busy day by a visit to the blocks of prize winning entries from every state, amid the cheers of stockmen, cattle buyers and a host of city folk, who spent several hours in Chicago's famous stock yards prior to addressing a gathering of representatives of all branches of agriculture at the Stockyards Inn, a rendezvous of stock shippers for more than a third of a century.

The visit to the Livestock Exposition and the address to representatives of American Agriculture was the primary purpose of the president's trip but earlier in the day he delivered a message to business men through an address to the Chicago Commercial Club.

This message was a declaration that neither business nor nations can exist in isolation.

Business, he declared, must henceforth consider itself an "integral part of the life of agriculture, of the life of the country."

"You people of the commerce, you people of the life of agriculture, of the life of the country," he told the business leaders of the Middle West metropolis.

"We can no more assure permanent and stable peace without co-operation among the nations, than we can secure victory in war without allies among them," he asserted in urging application of the principle of mutual aid to international relationships.

The president, in his address, said that the two he plans to make during his visit to Chicago, he liked to think of the Illinois city "as the great market place to which the world resorts to buy and sell its food," and drew a parallel between the Biblical story of Joseph and the famine which drove the peoples of the ancient Mediterranean world to buy of Egypt's store, and Europe's need of American food supply.

"The famine brought the nations to Egypt, and Egypt rescued them," he said. "So the war brought the nations to your agricultural markets and you provided them with food. Some of the results were not immediately pleasant for the Hebrew race and some of the results of the war had not been pleasant for the farmer."

"But out of the Egyptian experience of Israel came the opportunity for its great service in world leadership. And my faith is firm in the conviction that, if we will but realize it, these years of trial and distress for the American farmer will represent only a time of preparation for his opportunity to secure that recognition of his importance, which will enable him to render a supreme service to himself and to his fellow-men."

CAPITAL "GOSSIP" HEARD IN FORBES TRIAL THURSDAY

When Witness Mentions Name Of Late President's Sister, Judge Orders His Testimony Stricken From Record

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Some of the Washington gossip associated with the Veterans' Bureau under the directorship of Col. Charles R. Forbes was drawn into the Forbes-Thompson conspiracy trial Thursday when the name of Mrs. Carolyn Votaw, sister of the late President Harding, was mentioned by Elias H. Mortimer, chief government witness.

The mention of the gossip quickly was stricken out by Judge Geo. H. Carpenter, and the witness cut off in the middle of it.

In introducing a letter Mortimer identified as having received from John W. Thompson, defendant with Forbes, Mortimer was asked by government counsel to relate a conversation in Washington between himself and Forbes, in which Mortimer said Forbes did not wish Mrs. Votaw to learn about a trip of inspection to the Pacific coast planned by Forbes, Mortimer and others.

Mortimer replied that "Mr. Votaw had threatened to throw Col. Forbes out of a 10 story window," when the judge shut off that statement and ordered it stricken out.

There was extended argument about the relevancy of the letter, but after Judge Carpenter had read it, he said he saw no objection to it and it was read to the jury.

In it, Mr. Thompson advised Mortimer to concoct a story of Mortimer's western trip which would include a visit to his father in Minneapolis, and to say nothing about having accompanied Forbes.

Thompson's counsel said his only objection to the letter was that it would drag in scandal, while Forbes counsel added that the scandal was the only purpose of introducing the letter, and objected to it as of no importance.

In closing the incident, John W. H. Crim, special assistant attorney general, asked Mortimer if Forbes' reason in concealing the trip from Mrs. Votaw was due to her close standing with President Harding and her official standing with the public health. Mortimer said he supposed that was the reason.

The government then turned to the code adopted by the alleged conspirators on their Pacific coast trip to be used in telegrams and letters in referring to each other and the sites chosen for Veterans' Bureau hospitals.

Playground Site Formally Presented To South Side Primary School By City

Impressive ceremonies marked the dedication of the playground and park at the South Side Primary School Friday morning, when Mayor Forrest Lake presented, in behalf of the city, the fine park surrounding the school.

In his address, Mayor Lake stressed the importance of the child playing "clear, both mentally and physically. He enjoyed seeing flowers blooming but thought that the children should come first and have a suitable recreation place. Cornelia McRae, one of the pupils, accepted the park in behalf of the children.

Superintendent of Schools, T. W. Lawton, spoke to the children upon the subject, "Good Citizenship." "Citizenship," he said, "begins in the school, where pupils are educated to play the 'game of life' on a high plane." He urged that they be fair in all of their games and that by so doing they would be assured of being citizens worthy of this nation.

Mrs. Anna DeForrest, regent of the Daughters of American Revolution, presented the school with a large American flag on behalf of her organization. She told the children of the sacrifices that had been made by their forefathers for the flag and urged them to live up to the traditions which had been set by the founders of the country.

George Sanders, one of the children, accepted the flag and expressed the appreciation of the school in a very fitting manner. The flag was then raised, and while at half mast, the children of the First Grads recited their pledge to the flag and upon it being raised into position at the mast head, the assembled school took the pledge of allegiance.

Mrs. Henry Nickles presented the boys of the fourth grade with a football and the girls of the same grade with a basket ball. Vivian Smart and Edwin Campbell accepted the gifts in behalf of the members.

The flag was raised by the following boys: Curtis Coleman, John Courier, Gilbert Duncan and Leon Howell.

At the opening of the ceremony the children sang "America" and closed with "The Star Spangled Banner."

British Officials Take Care Of Duties Surrounded All Time By Armed Troops Following Revolt of Plot

Animosities Toward English Is Held by Egyptians Who Are Resenting Recent Action

LONDON, Dec. 5.—British cabinet ministers and many other officials went about their duties Friday with body guards as precaution against violence by Egyptian sympathizers.

Discovery in Cairo of a plot which is said to have planned outrages against British ministers, was communicated to London Thursday and placed before the cabinet.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The British cabinet ministers have been placed under special police protection, says the Daily Mail. This precaution has been taken because of information received from the headquarters of Viscount Allenby, British high commissioner in Egypt, that a plot has been discovered to assassinate prominent members of the British government.

Under Guard
The home secretary attached so much importance to the information that he immediately ordered, according to the paper, certain of his cabinet colleagues guarded day and night by armed police in plain clothes.

There is every indication, the Daily Mail says, that the plot is the outcome of propaganda, fomented by the World—the executive of the Egyptian nationalists' organization—whose emissaries are spread throughout Europe.

The discovery has impressed the authorities with the necessity of increasing the police force of England, especially in London, which had been greatly reduced through the sanitizing reforms set up by the committee of which Sir Eric Geddes was the head. Recent disclosures regarding alien and communist activities in Great Britain have rendered such an increase imperative, adds the Mail, and Sir William Jowett-Hicks, the home secretary, is determined to add to the number.

Many more detectives than usual were present at Albert Hall Thursday night to protect the prime minister and other members of the cabinet who attended the meeting there.

"BULLS" ON WALL STREET BOOSTING RAILROAD ISSUES

New High Water Mark Reached With Transactions Made Thursday's Trading; Gains From One to Eight Points

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Wall Street "bulls" went on another rampage in Thursday's stock market, boosting 101 stocks to new maximum quotations for the year on total sales that ran above the 2,000,000 share mark for the fifteenth time since election day. Net gains in the active issues ranged from one to eight and one half points.

Veteran traders and market analysts had to turn back the pages of financial history nearly 25 years when Gould and Harriman were the heyday of their power to find a "railroad market" to equal the present one in volume and breadth. 37 separate railroad issues Thursday broke through their previous 1924 quotations, some of them attaining the highest prices in history while many others charged heads at the highest quotations in years.

The first great buying movement in the rail shares started on the day after election when it became apparent that the so-called "radical bloc" had lost the "balance of power" leaving the railroads free to carry out consolidation and development plans that had been held up by fear of adverse legislation. Hungry for dividends on St. Louis-San Francisco common and preferred with indications that similar action will be taken soon on the senior issues of the "Katy" and Washash systems, added fuel to the speculative flame which burned with increased fury Thursday as a result of the favorable impression created by the president's message to congress Wednesday in which he looked with approval on railroad consolidation, and urged the passage of legislation to expedite them on the grounds of economy.

Southwestern Carriers
Southwestern carriers led the advance in the rail group, Erie common and preferred, "Katy" common and preferred, the three Washash issues, St. Louis-Southwestern Omaha, and "So" being bid up one to nearly six points, eripid share dividend payers, followed in their wake, Pennsylvania, Atlantic Coast Line, Illinois Central common and preferred, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio being among the long list of new tops.

In their zeal to get aboard the "band wagon" speculators dug up many issues that ordinarily are not traded in for weeks or months at a time. Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, which has been in receipt of a share since 1921, was bid up to $5 a share against a low of $2.87 1/2 Wednesday, an appreciation in quoted value of nearly 60 per cent.

State Will Attract Many New Citizens Says Harry Bodwell

Business men in the north are looking toward Florida as a state in which to reside, especially since the recent election when the amendment prohibiting the levying of income and inheritance taxes forever, was passed, declared Harry T. Bodwell

Come and Get A Christmas Lot Free

HENRY FORD'S MAGIC CITY

LaBelle, Florida

Q Can you afford to miss this opportunity? For three days only, I will give you one lot free with each $95.00 lot purchased in my sub-division No. 3, in the fastest growing county in Florida. Glade county, adjoining Henry Ford's magic City and County. And why shouldn't it be, backed by the greatest financier of all times. A man who through an inventive ability coupled with financial genius has made millions for others and himself. Henry Ford made the Ford motor car and he made the city of Detroit. Henry Ford is now making LaBelle, why? Because this man of vision has discovered that commercial rubber can be grown in Florida, and to prove his assertions he purchased 88,000 acres of land in Hendry County, along with hotel, ice plant, city park, power plant and four blocks of the principle property on main street of the townsite of LaBelle. He has already planted thousands of rubber trees on his land. Can you visualize what this means? First: crude rubber; Second: a manufacturing plant to make commercial rubber; Third: a mammoth factory to make tires; and Fourth, why not a manufacturing plant for fertilizer? Well posted men are talking about Henry Ford's venture since he withdrew his offer for Muscle Shoals. He bought many phosphate mines. The chances are he will make fertilizer. If he does LaBelle will be the greatest City in Florida.

Q Follow the fortunes of the world's greatest financiers, the friend of a working man. Buy one lot in my sub-division number 3, and we give you one free for investment or to secure yourself a home near the coming city of Florida. No where in Florida can a fine, good sized high and dry lot so near a growing city be purchased for so little money. 400 lots to be sold in three days December 4, 5, and 6, prices $95.00 per lot; $25.00 down $2.50 per week or $10.00 per month. Corner, business, and residential lots for same price. No interest, no taxes for one year.

Q Now is the opportunity to buy the right real estate at the right time at the right price. You can make no mistake. You cannot go wrong if you buy in my sub-division number 3. You get one lot free remember for three days only, December 4, 5, and 6. If you are interested in this proposition make your check to Sam Miller and I will send you papers sworn to before Notary Public.

 alone, the President said, and added: "The commercial and industrial side of our nation has been giving too much thought to wheat, and hogs and corn, to their transportation and to their prices, and not enough thought to the men and women who are engaged in agriculture, to their welfare and to their prosperity. We must look beyond the quotations of the market place and see what price we are proposing to pay, what rewards we are proposing to confer in exchange for the hard-working lives of our open country."
 Laying down the broad proposition that "our prosperity, our advancement, our portion of good fortune, must largely depend upon the share that shall be allotted to our neighbors," he declared that American must be constantly ready to help both at home and abroad where American aid is desired and will be effective.
 "We have attempted to perform services for European nations, because by that means in a broad way we are serving ourselves." he concluded. "We want to see them raised up so far as possible to our larger markets for our own production. We wish to help them, more over because it is only through service that we can develop our individual and national lives. It is along this course of action that we are in most likely to contribute to those conditions which will be most effective for maintaining universal peace and most likely to make the largest contribution within our power to the advancement of human welfare."

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU
 To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calolain, the nauseous Calomel tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

FEAR NOT:—Thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel.

THE SMILE OF A FRIEND

Oh, how many hearts are longing For a cordial word of praise, For a smile of recognition That will cheer their dreary days!

—O. Lawrence Hawthorne.

A politician is a statesman who has failed in business.

The burning question of the hour is the price of gasoline.

Folks, who spell our city Sanford, and many do, must think we live in the Sahara.

The trouble with that school girl complexion is that any old hag can buy the same stuff.

Why not get Abe Mitchell and George Duncan to play an exhibition match on the Sanford Golf Course?

The best thing about a lover's quarrel is making up and the little girl down the street as she dobs more paint on her crimson cheeks.

A man's wealth should be measured by the dents in his brain and not by the dents in his pocket book.

Some day Sanford will have a skyline which will make folks over in Enterprise think they are on the other side of East River.

We've bought gold bricks, and we've banded brick bats, but we've yet to be given a gold brick bat.

With all its "bears" and "bulls" and "lamb" and "goats" Wall Street news reads like an account of a menagerie.

When you get to the point where Lake Okechobee looks like a nice little water hazard, then you are just beginning to play a pretty fast game.

A lot of Main Street folks are trying to get to Easy Street by way of Wall Street but they are usually misdirected and end up in some back alley.

There used to be a tennis court at the Country Club, but someone got careless and let it go to ruin. Now if anyone wants to play tennis, he has to go to Deland or Orlando.

Don't know whether it's any judge or not, but the MacKenzie Standard says "White lechtor won the chicken prize at the state fair, but the onion skin 'leg ones' put on the best show."

Folks who have been playing the markets in Wall Street lately had better slip out while the slipping is good and invest their earnings in Sanford real estate where it will be safe.

The Republican campaign committee had several thousand more dollars than it needed. Also several million more votes.—New York Herald Tribune. They go hand in hand all right.

Julius Fleischmann, recently divorced, who, it is rumored, has been planning to marry again, said the other day upon his arrival from France, "I would just as soon jump overboard as marry again."

One drum of a consignment of ten thousand gallons, labelled "paint," sprang a leak the other day and let the secret out. Prohibition agents confiscated the entire shipment.

A local minister believes in a closed Sunday and does not want men employed on the Sabbath, but he thinks the independent ought to have reporters "cover" all church services on Sundays. Hardly consistent, is it?—St. Petersburg Independent. They never are, with the newspapers.

Scare 'Em Into Shopping Early

Still trusting that there are many people in the United States who can be touched with an appeal for consideration of weary clerks and post-office employees, civic clubs here and there are conducting "shop-early" campaigns solely for the benefit of the overworked men and women who will be worn to a frazzle at Christmas time.

Just how much response may be expected from this kind of work is hard to say. The usual thousands of Christmas shoppers will wait until the last shopping hours before December Twenty-fifth, and then rush about, indignant because of their inability to find what they want in the depleted stocks, impatient with the clerks who wearily try to serve them, and so generally irritable and rambunctious they should be sent to jail for thirty days.

As for thinking of the mail clerks and carriers, the always-late shopper gives little heed to them, except as he realizes that delayed mailing of packages may mean they will reach their destination a week or so after Christmas. This happened right often last year, because of the amazing increase in Christmas gift mailing. And they say that this year, due to the general prosperity of the United States, and the general good spirits prevailing in all sections of the country, the largest Christmas business ever known will be handled by the United States Postoffice Department.

So, if instead of taking a chance at arousing considerate thoughts in the minds of the people, the well-meaning civic clubs would conduct a campaign to SCARE the people into mailing their Christmas gifts early, they would achieve their desired results much more surely. Just a few facts known about the time needed by the postoffice for delivery of Christmas mail would start many a Mr. and Mrs. Put-it-off to shopping early.

December 5, for instance, was the date on which packages intended for the Pacific Coast should have been mailed in Sanford. A day later for each three hundred miles east of there was to be allowed. Sanford people can figure that out and see how many chances their packages which have not been mailed have of reaching expectant friends in time for the Christmas morning opening.

It doesn't do much good to urge people to shop early. It does not do much good to remind them of how they might contribute to a happier Christmas for the store and post-office people, if they would not do any last-minute shopping or mailing.

But it does do a lot of good to call up a picture of that sorry-looking, Christmas package arriving three days late, when everybody is thoroughly sick of holly paper, Santa Claus ribbons, and Christmas seals.

Get that shopping finished, and the "Don't-Open-Till-Christmas" parcels mailed.

Time To Begin

The statutes of city and state are replete with laws regarding traffic. Every conceivable form of driving and every conceivable situation is carefully providing for in the books. If all the laws were strictly obeyed it is difficult to see how any accident could possibly occur.

And yet of all these laws, only one, it seems, is any where near properly enforced. Speeders on town and country roads are quite likely to be arrested, as they very properly should be, but some folks drive around for probably a lifetime, perhaps never dimming their bright headlights, perhaps very frequently without any tail light, often on the wrong side of the street, and incessantly cutting corners. But they almost invariably are ever unmolested.

Scarcely a week ago a prominent citizen of Lakeland was motoring at night on a country road near Ocala. Without warning he crashed suddenly into a truck parked without any lights on the side of the road. Why his own lights failed to reveal the truck is not known, nor does it matter. What is of interest to us is that the truck was parked on a public highway at night without lights—and that a man was killed.

The situation is getting to be one of paramount importance. Scarcely a night can one drive into the country without meeting some car whose driver refuses to dim his light, without encountering some car with perhaps only one headlight or no tail light. Drivers of such cars are of far greater menace on our public highways, than a man who may exceed to some extent the speed limit. And the same may be said for the man who drives with bad breaks or a loose steering gear.

It might be a good idea to inaugurate a traffic law enforcement campaign, and it might be a good idea not to wait until everyone has been killed.

THE FOURTH ESTATE

MIAMI HERALD

The newspaper business has been subject in recent months to a number of bitter attacks on the part of some of the self-constituted critics of whatever is. Some of these ungarine writers claim inside information from former association with journalism while others attack frankly outside observers. All of them seem to be united in declaring that the press is in a deplorable, desperate condition, contemptibly unworthy of the public.

If that the things are true which are being said, the fourth estate has fallen far in the time that has passed since Burke declared it was more powerful than the other three estates of England. Since we hardly permit the bare statement of the charges which are brought against the press. These touch not only on motives but on methods. They leave journalism tattered and torn, shamed before the world. Fortunately the ravings of the critics are largely senseless, the product of their own disordered minds, or they have application only to a few papers.

One of the most serious charges is that the papers are dominated by the advertisers, who dictate policies not only in the news columns but on the editorial page. It is quite possible that there have been a few instances in which large advertisers have accomplished the suppression of news of importance to the public. It is not true that in general this can be done by an advertiser, or that it is attempted. Advertising, more than ever before in the history of journalism, is a commodity to be bought and sold on the basis of its value to the advertiser. In the better class of papers there is less relationship between the advertising department and the editorial department than there has ever been since advertising became a factor. The advertiser does not attempt to dictate the editorial policy. He has found that it does not pay. On the

As Brisbane Sees It

THREE NEWS headings on the front page. One tells of Lord Northcliffe sending a spirit message from heaven to Lord Beaverbrook, another newspaper owner, through the late Bonar Law. You read that, smile and turn away. That sort of miracle doesn't interest you.

THE NEXT HEADING, "Pictures by Radio Sent from London to New York in Twenty Minutes." You see pictures of the British Premier Baldwin and Calvin Coolidge accurately sent through the ether without wires. That MIRACLE does interest you. No fake about that, no medium having a convulsion and turning down the lights. No "ectoplasm," just science and truth.

THE THIRD NEWS heading tells you that science travels faster than religion, according to John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Talking to his Bible class, he says: "The development of mind and matter has so far outstripped the development of the spiritual values in human life." And, Mr. Rockefeller asks, "Has civilization outgrown religion?"

THE ANSWER IS "No, and the Woolworth Building hasn't outgrown the Rocky Mountains."

Men in a few years will take the rocky trip around the world in twenty-four hours and all the rest of science for granted. But they will never take the Sermon on the Mount for granted. In the words, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven," there is power greater than the much-discussed power locked up in the atom, greater than all the power that would be produced by harnessing all the waterfalls, all the tides, or the sun itself. The only real, eternal power is in ideas.

HOW THINGS HAVE changed in "mighty Egypt" since Antony, a great Roman, married the ugly Cleopatra, that he might use her power, and especially her gold, in his fight against Caesar. And now little Cleopatra, daughter of the Egyptians, could have imagined that within a few centuries her country would be submitting to utterly humiliating orders from a little foggy island on the north-west coast of Europe, the land from which they used to bring the slaves with yellow hair and blue eyes to the shores of the Mediterranean.

But so it is. The British lion roars. Egypt says "All right, I will pay what you wish, I will do what you please, and I will get out of the Sudan."

WE LIVE IN queer, dangerous days. In Seattle the Government wants to dismount an innocent-looking broadcasting station. Every evening a lady, wife of the proprietor, sent through the air a beautiful bedtime story. What could be purer, more innocent?

The Government says MANY things could be more innocent, for the bedtime story sent out contained code information for bootleggers. That's queer.

IN CHIP AGO, a respectable bank cashier, Hugh Stewart, driving in an automobile with his wife, sees some men following him. He's not the kind that "tick up" men get away with.

With his automatic he opens fire, killing Detective William Perrin and wounding two other policemen, members of a detective squad. That's the dangerous part.

IF IN THESE DAYS Satan spends his time as in the past, going up and down in the earth, it would be interesting to know how often people try to hold him up or shoot through him.

DR. STANTON COLT, British leader of the Ethical Church in London, says emancipation of women means the downfall of civilization. Many will say if such a civilization as this must fall, let it fall! It will come up again.

The hero of the "Persian Letter" who has been told you that, upon the hearing of women take the veil off, each one getting in husband for herself, would mean the downfall of civilization. So has Dr. Colt, from London.

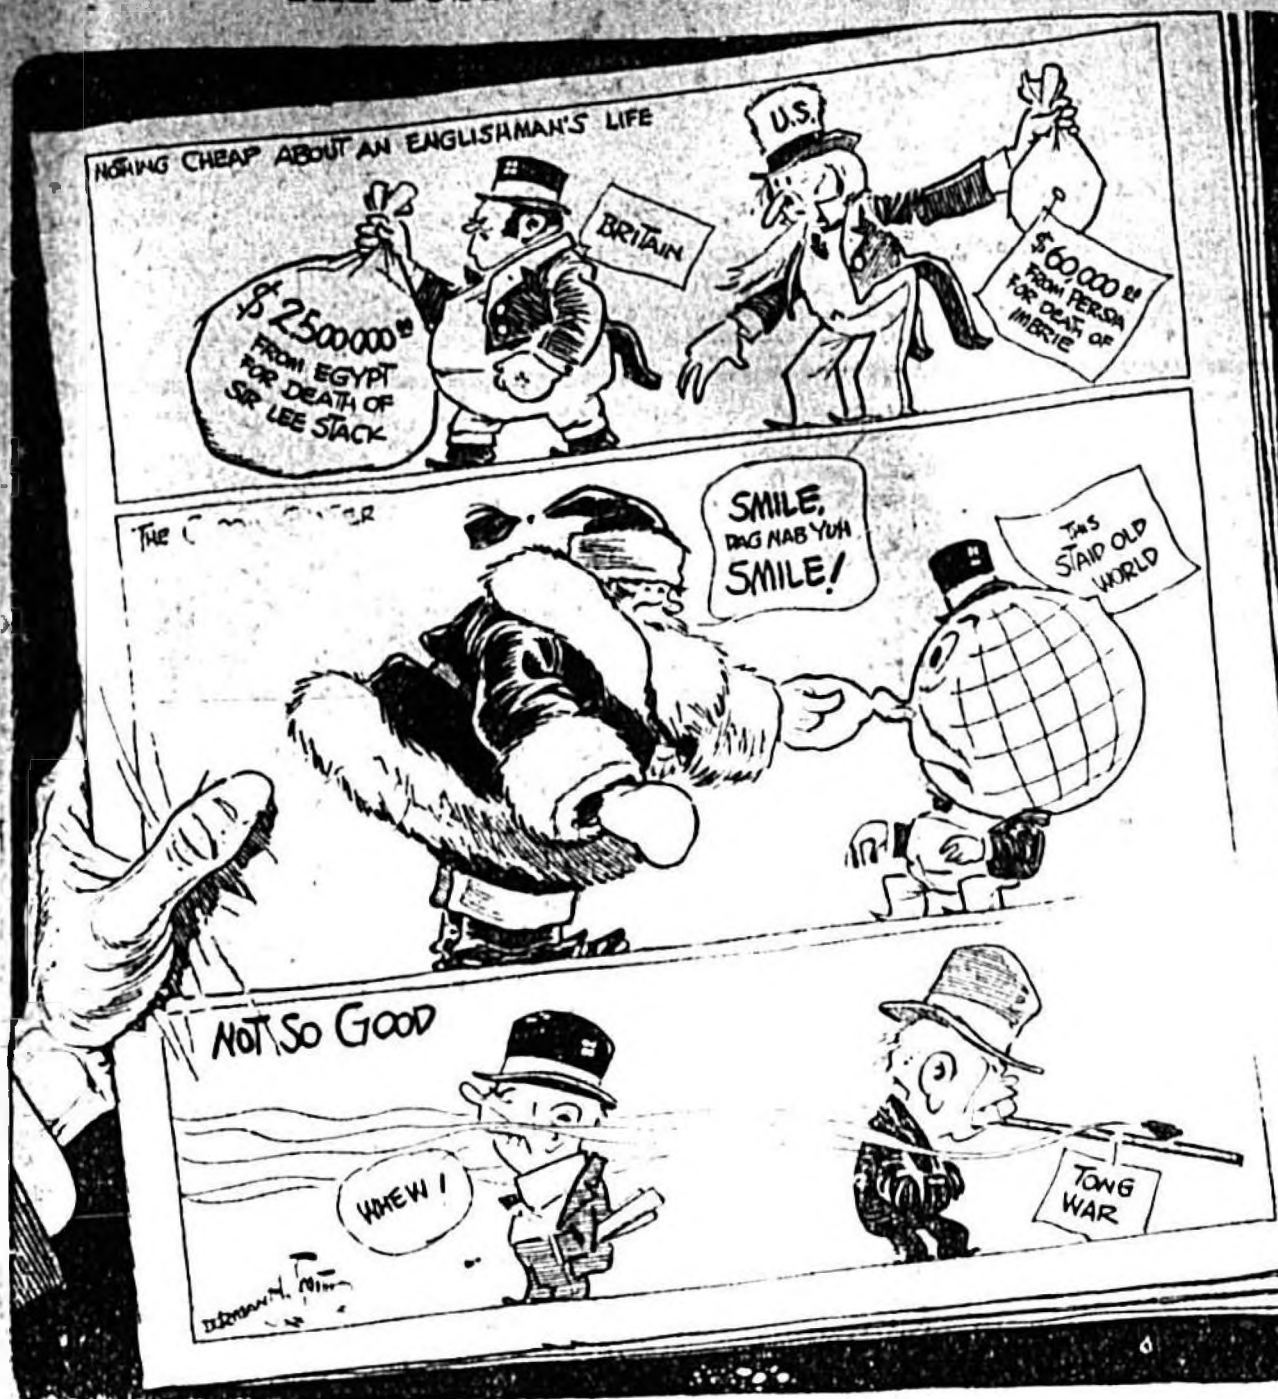

JOHN J. SLATTERY, sentenced to the electric chair, says "Thank you, Judge." Reporters call his tone sarcastic and wonder at his audacity. The man may have been a deformed brain should be grateful to a judge for setting it free.

AS FOR AUBACITY, men with nothing to lose, can't lose anything. The real audacity and fearlessness, according to Dante, was shown by the gentleman in his "Inferno" who, as he sank back into the boiling pitch, looked up toward heaven with an insulting gesture, saying, "That for you."

But he also, being sentenced for "eternity," had nothing to lose.

DR. D. E. GERIN, of France, on his way to America, should have us warmly welcome as we usually reserve for princes and others that never did a day's work. Dr. Gerin comes to demonstrate a new method of treating pneumonia. Before the members of the New York State Physicians' Organization, with this new method six hundred cases of pneumonia were treated, without one death. Dr. Gerin also treats pernicious anemia without blood transfusion.

THE BUSY MAN'S NEWSPAPER

DEMOCRACY IN THE EAST

PROVIDENCE NEWS

Our southern friend The Sanford (Fla.) Herald, is seriously in error when it states, "There is no Democracy in the East, no Democracy worthy of the name. The Democrats there don't know the fundamental principle of Democracy."

Our Florida contemporary apparently is not in accord with a remark it quotes from the Providence News that "among the very liveliest names in this country today is the Democratic Party."

A party that in the smallest State of the Union, namely Rhode Island, can poll 28,000 honest voters in an election is far from being dead.

All of us well remember 1912 when the Republican Party received the electoral vote of only Utah. Vermont, Ohio, and Florida were heard the plummy proclamation that the Republican Party was down and out and that there would be a new political alignment in America. A good many Democrats, including the able Sanford newspaper, appear to be in somewhat the same frame of mind today with reference to Democracy.

The Democratic Party has experienced many defeats in the past, but it still prefers to make past errors and past mistakes and past reverses a means to success in subsequent campaigns, rather than ex-uses to quit the fight and busy itself with futile "alibis."

Because of differences within its own ranks the Democratic Party was late in organizing for the recent campaign, and it was opposed by a perfect machine with unlimited financial resources. As the Philadelphia Record says, "Probably more than half of the voters were sold on the Coolidge idea before the Democratic Party was ready to exhibit its candidate and its issues." In business such methods do not succeed. Why should they be expected to succeed in politics?

We feel quite sure that sober second thought and a little inquiry on the part of The Sanford Herald will cause it to amend its statement that the Democrats in the East don't know the fundamental principle of Democracy. Our friend makes a grave mistake.

What The Herald needs and a good many other Democrats, North, South and West need, is to cheer up.

The high aims and purposes of the Democratic Party are enduring, and no victory, however pronounced, by its opponents can ever dispose of the vital issues which form the background of the party of Jefferson and Jackson.

One is warning time preaching a funeral over the Democratic Party.

THE NEGLIGIBLE SOUTH

NEW YORK TIMES

The phrase is not out. It was used by the Charleston News and Courier in an article about "The Fight of the South," which was written before the result of the Presidential election was known. The aim was to call the attention of Southern people to "the precarious situation which this section has come to occupy politically."

According to this editorial view, the root of the trouble in the South at the present day lies in the fact that "it has virtually no national program and virtually no national leadership." The News and Courier asks the respondents about the South:

Is it strange that it should be treated by the rest of the country as such a negligible factor? What is its contribution today in the way of political thought? What political leader has it who possesses weight of authority beyond their own state? What constructive policies are its people ready to fight for with the brains and zeal that made them a power in the old days?

The implication of these questions are too severe. The South is not wholly barren in statesmanship. It sends men to both Houses of Congress fit to hold their own with the best men that represent the North. It is not the lack of individual talent that causes the South to appear to be under a political blight. The true explanation is far different. It has been thrust upon the country in one Presidential campaign after another, until now it must have become plain to all. The solid South is a one-party region. For convenience, it calls itself Democratic, but any other name would have sufficed to cover the forced solidarity of these Southern States. They always vote one way. It is known in advance that they will do so. There is no necessity of conducting in them a political campaign, after the fashion in other parts of the country. Political discussion in the South is purely per forma. The result at the polls is fore-gone.

It has long been felt that this state of things has had for the politics of the nation as a whole. So long as there was a solid South, something like a solid North over against it was inevitable. Thus the system tended to stereotype and sterilize political thought in both sections. But it is

Mrs. Wight Makes An Appeal for Near East

Mrs. Henry Wight, president of the Woman's Club, made the following statement regarding the appeal for funds to further relief work in the Near East:

"Through its committee on international relations the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs is indirectly acting as a sponsor for the furtherance of relief work for the Near East. The local club would probably have taken active part in this work except for the fact that the agenda sent out from the International Golden Rule Committee for the Near East was received too late for plans to be made similar to those being so successfully carried out in other communities."

The need is cruel and compelling; a great measure of responsibility falls upon prosperous Americans because of the bounteous blessings which this land enjoys, Sunday, Dec. 7 is the day appointed for contributions to be made to these suffering thousands, and the First Presbyterian Church has planned a program and will take care of all offerings whether of cash or clothes.

"The club women of Sanford should do their bit now, and perhaps plan later for a more specific observance of this appeal to their helpfulness."

Duplicate Bridge Club Entertained Wednesday

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. E. F. Housholder charmingly entertained members of the Duplicate Lunch on Bridge Club. Pink rose buds and sprays of tiny lavender flowers were most attractively combined for decorations.

Preceding the game a sumptuous luncheon was served. Bridge sets, the prizes for high score, were won by Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Housholder. In cutting for the hostess prize Mrs. Ganzales was the fortunate one.

Only the members were present. They were: Mrs. E. F. Housholder, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. F. E. Rounhill, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. R. A. Newman, Mrs. Samuel Paulston, Mrs. F. J. Ganzales and Mrs. E. M. Galloway.

Miss Ward Is Hostess Bon Ton Bridge Club

Miss Fern Ward entertained the Bon Ton Bridge Club most delightfully at her home on Seventh Street, Wednesday afternoon. The rooms were prettily decorated with poinsettias.

Mrs. J. D. Woodruff was presented a lovely bud vase for high score. After the game, refreshments consisting of chicken salad, king, rolls, potato salad, fruit cake and coffee were served.

Those attending were: Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. B. D. Caswell, Mrs. W. W. Ridge, Mrs. Joe Chittenden, Mrs. W. C. Hill and Mrs. Robert Hines.

Benefit for Children's Home Next Tuesday

The chairman of the Social Department of the Woman's Club, wishes to call attention to the error in the announcement of the meeting of this department. The Bridge party and shower for the Children's Home Society will be Tuesday, Dec. 9 instead of Dec. 16, as announced.

A full attendance of the Social Department at this time is requested. Christmas donations of clothing, toys or money for the children of the home society in Jacksonville will be appreciated.

Mrs. Morgan wishes to make this the very best Christmas gift that has been made to Florida's greatest charity from the Social Department of the Sanford's Woman's Club.

Mrs. S. Puleston will be hostess for the afternoon. All who expect to attend are requested to notify either Mrs. Puleston or the chairman, Mrs. W. L. Morgan.
