

Speer and Lehman Defeat Opponents In Local Election

Former Beats Lawson By 5 To 1 Majority While Latta Tops Miller By 2 To One

City Commissioners V. A. Speer and H. J. Lehman, opposed for re-election for three-year terms by former commissioner F. L. Miller and J. B. Lawson, were returned to office by substantial majorities over their opponents, the official count of the 935 ballots cast revealed today.

Mr. Lehman running against Mr. Miller in Group No. 1 received 620 votes against 204 for Mr. Miller, a more than two to one majority. Mr. Speer's victory was a five to one victory for the speaker, 751 votes against 164 for Mr. Lawson. Bob Lawson received one vote, the only variation in the returns.

The election itself found the clerks and inspectors busy throughout the day, with an almost steady stream of persons visiting the polls. From the time that J. L. Hurt voted the first ballot until Karl Schultz appeared at the poll at about 5:30 o'clock, five minutes before the polls closed the voters were on hand either in a long line or in groups of two or three.

With 935 votes polled out of a possible 1328 qualified or nearly a 70 percent expression of the will of the electorate, the election lacked some 20 percent of bringing out as many persons as voted in a primary election of 1928.

While an official total of the number of straight or split tickets is not forthcoming, observers at the polls during the counting of the votes last night undoubtedly reported that the Speer-Lehman combine pulled a straight ticket vote of nearly 575, a clear win.

Referendum No. 62 To Be Considered At C. Of C. Meeting

Referendum No. 62, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and dealing with the subject of railroads is being brought to the close attention of a Seminole County Chamber of Commerce committee, which will make a series of recommendations and report to the Board of Directors at its next meeting next Tuesday night. The report will be okayed or rejected and sent on to the National trade body as one of thousands from every part of America.

The committee, represented among the railroad, waterway, trucking, farming and commercial interests of the county, had a preliminary meeting Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to further study the referendum. Six new names have been added to the membership list, J. O. Adams, George Balfanz, S. O. Shinkles, J. F. Wathen and Mrs. Moll Whitner.

New First Lady Of The Land Expected To Be Charming Ruler Over White House

NEW YORK, Nov. 9. (AP)—How will the new first lady reign over the White House? At a recent party at Hyde Park, home of the Franklin Roosevelts, a guest asked an interestedly as Mrs. Roosevelt sat on the lawn, talking with amusement.

"A charming family," said this friend, "and a charming hostess." It was a compliment spoken of a woman whose social experience and background include residence in two capitals, Albany, where she presided over the governor's mansion, and Washington, her home during the time her husband served President Wilson as wartime secretary of the navy. She is no stranger to the White House, once home of her uncle, the late Thomas Roosevelt, and friends extend the knowledge of its social ways to her of value to her in directing the duties of the next four years. Her guests, they predict, will be of dignity to be loved by the proper measure of informality.

She and Roosevelt probably will be the only continuing resident members of the family at the White House, they believe, but often there will be family visitors, especially the children. There are five children of the family now. Mrs. James Roosevelt is the eldest of eleven children. The children are James Roosevelt, who married Betty Ross, who married Betty Ross, who married Betty Ross.

Setting in the spacious living room of his club at 50th and Lexington street, President Hoover, who has followed the early route from the East and South with considerable interest, listened, according to the Associated Press, to a delegation of the party chief Franklin D. Roosevelt will at that time was not, but in a mingling, standing and of frequent throng in the on the receiving room of the Waldorf Hotel in New York city.

The program was simply a road. It began, "I congratulate you on the opportunity that comes to you to be of service to the country. It concludes, I wish you a year of congressional administration."

Half an hour later, Frank Speer, chairman of the party, presided at a company luncheon, presiding at the White House of back up from the party in front of a very great number of statements. Thanks Citizens For Their "Mighty Vote Of Confidence" And Asks Co-Operation

(By The Associated Press)
Franklin Delano Roosevelt, dynamic governor of the state of New York who at midnight last night was congratulated by President Herbert Hoover upon his election as the 32nd president of the United States, in a radio message to the nation early this afternoon thanked the electorate for "the mighty vote of confidence" and asked for "the continued co-operation of all the voters in the happy task of reconstruction."

At that time, approximately 1:00 o'clock, the vote was Roosevelt, 11,068,293; Hoover, 9,590,432; and American Labor, 1,000,000. At the same hour, it was concluded that the electoral college vote would give Roosevelt 312. Hoover had only 206 of these electoral votes to rely on.

For the first time since Woodrow Wilson's 1912 election, the duties of the high office of president of the United States will be performed by a Democrat and by a man who has been the leader of the Democratic Party.

It will be recalled that in 1912, when the Democratic Party was divided, Roosevelt was elected as the party's nominee. He was elected as the party's nominee. He was elected as the party's nominee.

From the outset of his term, Roosevelt will be faced with the task of reconstructing the nation. He will be faced with the task of reconstructing the nation. He will be faced with the task of reconstructing the nation.

J. Dingfelder Ships Carload Of Peppers

James Dingfelder of the New York and San Francisco commission firm of J. C. and M. Dingfelder has the distinction of having shipped the first carload of peppers to a hospital from Seminole County this season.

At the same time he reported a new high record for the first packing of peppers from a county in 1932. 200 tons were packed from three acres. The report stated that the peppers were among the finest that he has seen in all Florida, and that they came from the Jackson road Jack in properties in Longwood.

GATORS POINTING FOR AUBURN TILT WITH FINE SPIRIT

Team Undiscouraged Over Strength Of Opposing Players

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Nov. 8.—Discouraged not in the least by the disappointing loss to the Tarheels of North Carolina last week, Coach Bachman's Gators started pointing for the approaching Auburn game with a fast and lengthy drill yesterday afternoon. The Florida coach inaugurated some startling changes in his backfield in an experiment to add power in the ball carrying department.

ROLLIN'S ACE

LINTON MALONE
WINTER PARK, Fla., Nov. 8.

Fla., a sophomore, has made good on the Rollins varsity squad in his first year as a candidate and has won a regular assignment as guard. Malone will be seen in action against Miami University next Thursday night, Nov. 10, at Tinkler Field in Orlando where the Tar will try to register their first victory over the Hurricanes.

Coach Bachman is seeking to give more driving power to his quartet of ball carriers, and with Hughes and Stolts playing outstanding ball in all the grid contests so far, the Gator director figures that the change might help. Both Sam Davis and Monk Dorsett were on the second string lineup but as the former distinguished himself in the Tarheel game to such an extent that he will be hard to replace.

Crooms Academy And Ancient Enemy Play

An all important annual football game was being played at Municipal Park this afternoon when Crooms Academy and the Ancient Enemy met their ancient enemies, the griddees from Jones High School at Orlando in a game that had all the earmarks of a classic.

Returning from North Carolina Sunday, after losing a heart-breaking 18-13 game to the Tarheels of North Carolina, the Gators showed absolutely no discouragement at receiving their third straight Southern conference defeat. According to Coach Bachman, the Gators played a fast and heavy game, and outplayed the Tarheels during the entire game.

Auburn, the next foe, is considered by football followers as the toughest opposition that the Gators have as yet met. In fact, the Plainsmen have surprised the Dixie grid world by their performance in downing all opposing teams and will enter the Florida tilt without a blinch on their 1933 program. Nevertheless, Coachman's men are pointing to the Auburn game with a determination to redeem themselves.

Relieved By Taking Cardui

"I was weak and run-down and suffered quite a bit with pains in my side," writes Mrs. Nick Barranco, of Beaumont, Texas. "I was nervous. I did not rest well at night, and my appetite was poor. My mother had used Cardui with beneficial result, so I decided to take it. I surely am glad I did, for it stopped the pains in my side and built up my general health. I took seven bottles in all." Cardui is sold at all drug stores.

Nation's Voters Go To Polls To Choose One To Lead Them

both congressional branches will be won by their party; but the Republicans have no conceded any substantial gains.

Among the outstanding senatorial contests are those involving some of the longest-serving and most publicized legislators. All Republicans have not conceded any gains, of Indiana, Smoot, of Utah, Moses, of New Hampshire, and Jones, of Washington.

If the electorate heeds the calls by the candidates last night to head for the polls as never before, the outpouring will make precedent. For the registration of nearly 47,000,000 surpasses all records, and the new high vote of 1928 was some 10,000,000 less than that.

Arrival of the decisive hours found Republicans and Democrats forecasting results favorable to them.

"We will carry the country," President Hoover told a group of well wishers when his train halted one yesterday enroute to his California home.

Everitt Sanders, the Republican chairman, estimated that the 266 electoral votes required for re-election would be exceeded by 117.

"I am confident of the result," Governor Roosevelt said, James A. Farley, Democratic chairman, envisioned an epochal triumph, asserting that not a single state was absolutely safe for the opposition.

A second Socialist vote is foreseen by Norman Thomas.

The only one who can speak with absolute authority, the people, is doing it from dawn to dark today at elaborate voting machines in cities, and in simple rural meeting places from the Atlantic to the Pacific and border to border.

In some New England quarters, the polls open as early as 6 A. M. East on Time, while in the Far West voters still will be at it when it is close to midnight in New York.

Rain forecast for portions of the states east of the Mississippi caused no undue perturbation among the political managers, inasmuch as heavy storms were held unlikely.

As he did four years ago, President Hoover with his family at Grand Teton in Palo Alto, Calif. Vice President Curtis likewise returned to his Tepeka, Kan., residence.

Governor Roosevelt is voting at his Hyde Park home before going again to New York tonight to hear the returns.

Speaker Garner took time at Uvalde, Tex., for one last fishing trip before marking his ballot and waiting to learn whether he is to move from the House of Representatives' rostrum in March to the presiding chair in the Senate.

Should any voter be hesitant about how to mark his presidential ballot, it certainly will not be for lack of available information on what the candidates and their proponents say on the issues. Right up to midnight, the campaign echoed with such a volume of speeches and spectacular presentations as was far from expected last in June.

The one thing that it was believed would not happen did happen, the series of stump speeches by the President which wound up with his transcontinental trip and addresses in Salt Lake City and Elko, Nev., last night.

Another event that it was frequently asserted would not come to pass did come to pass, that is the vociferous support for the Roosevelt-Garner ticket given by Alfred E. Smith in speech after speech.

It did turn out, as was expected, that economics would provide the main timber of dispute. But few were those who in the summer and early fall could have foretold the vibrancy of the controversy, with Roosevelt and his allies indicting the administration on score upon score; and Hoover and his supporters, determinedly defending all that has gone on.

Not did any one suspect in those early days that the campaign would be so intense in its final phases. It has reverberated with unrelenting exchanges between the candidates themselves on whether a change or maintenance of the status quo would most benefit business, and agriculture.

As to prohibition, Roosevelt at the very outset embraced the repeal and modification plank approved by the convention, H. ex. 66, which the Republican party and candidate on this issue.

Surprising even many in his own ranks, Hoover in his acceptance speech advocated retention of the Amendment, along lines to maintain constitutional control against return of the saloon and to protect dry states, while at the same time urging states which want liquor have it.

The sum total of the complex situations resulted in numerous instances of cutting party lines. Republican backers include Sen. Robert La Follette, of Wisconsin. Former President Coolidge gave his aid to the administration.

Headed by Vice President Curtis and Secretary Mills, one after another of the cabinet has stumped in state after state. Henry Ford and other industrialists along with numerous officials in a variety of organizations have backed up the President.

At Smith went into New York, New Jersey and New England for Roosevelt and Garner.

Now the hullabaloo is over. The voters are deciding who is right. What that decision is should be known before the sun rises again.

Tom Mix's Horse Of Film Fame Put Into Retirement

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Veteran of 20 years' active service in films with his master, Tom Mix, the noted horse Tony has been placed on the retirement list.

In his place on the screen with Mix will be seen Tony, Jr., a chestnut steed, which, like Tony, has a white diamond on each foot and a white equine star, however, is no relation to his dark bay predecessor.

Tony, now 23 years old, was acquired as a sickly pony by Mix for $12.50 in 1909, and was fed by hand on a mixture of milk and oats.

Having trained him, Tom took Tony when he joined the old Selig Film Company and introduced the horse to the cameras in 1912. Since then the horse has bigged Mix a total of approximately $7,500,000.

Tony, retired because of a recent hip injury suffered in work in a film, will be housed in the Mix stables at Universal City.

As a special feature of the Elks party to which all Elks, both local and visiting are invited, George E. Follansbee and his Sanford Elks orchestra will play a concert from 8:30 o'clock until 9:30 o'clock. An additional feature will be an electrical transcription of a speech by Grand Exalted Ruler E. J. Thompson.

nature of a friendly get-together, and all Elks, whether paid-up or not, are urged to be present. Refreshments and other entertainments will be provided.

Robert Bickett, star end of the University of Florida freshman team, was recently elected president of the freshman class numbering nearly 800.
