School Board: 'No' To Courtesy Buses

Elementary School, the controversy centers on Candyland Park. According to the safety committee, the "shortest route" is through the park making the traveling distance for the Skylark Parents led by Barbara Chaulk, treasurer of the Skylark Homeowners, objected to the use of the park in determining the 1.95 mile figure. When the park is eliminated the distance to school is 2.1 miles, she said, suitable for regular busing. Mrs. Chaulk listed five reasons why her children should not use the park. The first three reasons were stated in a letter from Longwood Chief of Police Greg Manning, according to Chaulk.

1. The park is isolated providing a potential danger to children. 2. Gates to the park, locked at night, are unlocked in the morning by police officers who might not always be available to open

3. The city of Longwood does not want to be liable for an injury to a child going through the park. 4. Heavy equipment construction along the route has increased

Mrs. Chaulk said Manning recommended the courtesy busing.

The board tentatively denied courtesy busing to Skylark at the ast board meeting based on three replies from the five-person With the fourth report available this week, the Skylark average points came to 32, 18 less than the 50 needed for an elementary school to be granted courtesy busing under school board policy.

Acting on four reports for Mobile Manor, whose children go to Teague Middle School, the board figured an average of 67.55 points, less than 3 points below the 70 point average required for a middle school to be accepted for courtesy busing.

Board member William Kroll explained the school board was responsible for 35,000 students, not just 50 involved in the Mobile Manor request. Hepp replied "Safety comes first" regardless o

Lucadamo burst out: "If you are really concerned about how the people feel toward the school board, you should know a recall election of the entire board has been discussed."
During the recess Mrs. McCauley said the courtesy busers will be back to the school board again and will carry the fight for each one since one hazard might be "sufficient" to approve busing within the two mile limit to state legislators public meeting to be held at the Seminole County Courthouse on Nov. 1.

Police Seek Law Change

Bicycle riders, obeying state law by riding with the flow of traffic, don't have a chance of competing with automobiles, State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs said today, pledging to change the law during the 1960 session of the Florida Legislature.

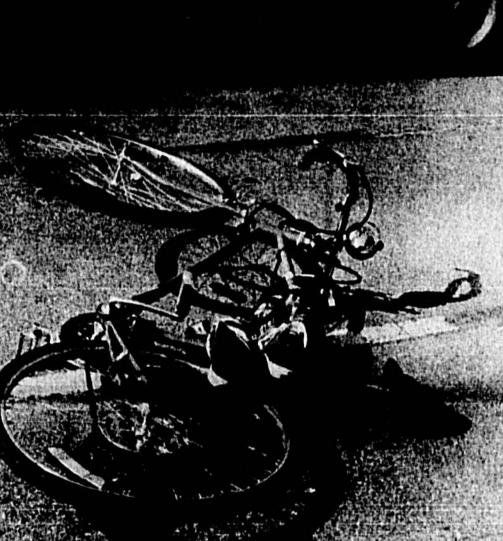

Pointing to the recent death of a 12-year-old bicyclist in the Longwood area, Hattaway meeting with Sanford police of-ficers and Florida Highway Patrol officers Wednesday said he will mount a two-pronged effort to change the law in 1980. Hattaway said he will personally sponsor a bill in the House to change the law back to the old 1999 version which called for bicyclists to ride facing traffic and permitting them to ride on sidewalks in areas other than downtown.

He said today he has already received agreement from State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, to introduce similar legislation in the Florida Senate.

In addition, Hattaway said, he will sponsor a hill before the House transportation committee to get a second shot at

"I'm writing to other states with similar legislation, to obtain their statistics to show how fatalities have been cut by permitting bicyclists to drive facing traffic," Hattaway said. "Bicycle law in Florida is very weak today. Bicyclists have the same rights as automobile drivers and could conceivably ride down the middle of U.S. 17-92 in the left hand lane. Yet the law forbids bicyclists from riding on the sidewalks," lattaway said, noting that law enforcement officers have told him they are not enforcing the ban on sidewalk riding except on congested sidewalks in downtown areas. "Law enforcement officers have told me they instruc bicyclists to ride on sidewalks on highly traveled roads," the Hattaway said he will also include as part of the legislation a requirement, recommended by law enforcement officers, that bicycles not only have reflectors but also have lights. According to Florida Highway Trooper Phil Dixon, 5,461 bicycle accidents occurred in the state of Florida in 1978 resulting in $2 deaths and 5,573 injuries. Some accidents occurred from more than two people riding on a bicycle. accidents could be reduced by 80 percent" if the bicycle

CYCLIST INJURED

Not long after Sanford police and Florida Highway Patrolmen met with State Representative Robert Hattaway to discuss changes in state law to reduce bicycle accidents — their point was dramatically emphasized by an accident in Sanford. Reported in serious condition today at Florida-South Hospital is 17-year-old Joe Turner of 114 Fairlane Circle, Sanford. The youth was riding a bicycle on U.S. Highway 17-92 near the ABC Lounge in Sanford when the accident occurred Wednesday about 2:45 p.m. Police Chief Ben Butler said Turner was riding with the traffic heading north when he was struck from behind. Driver of the car was identified as Virginia Lee Hilton, 19, of 1313 Olive Ave., Sanford. Turner reportedly suffered a skull fracture and multiple cuts and is in the intensive care unit of the hospital. The accident is still under investigation.

The Golden Age Olympics to be held Nov. 5-10 in Sanford are made up of fun and games for seasoned citizens 55 and older, but this year there is a new emphasis on the "fun" part. An effort has been made to plan "Jubilee" events in the evening that will provide entertainment and relaxation for all the participants. In addition there will be the usual gold, silver and bronze Golden Age Olympics medallions given winners in Jubilee events.

Gas Explosion Injures 15

STANDARDSVILLE, Va. (UPI) - A gas explosion that destroyed a historic 19th-century courthouse and injured 15 people, six seriously, will be investigated by a National Transportation Safety Board team. The blast Wednesday, inside the county clerk's office next to the Greene County Courthouse, blew out the front of the courthouse and detonated boxes of bullets stored there by sheriff's deputies. Flames shot 10 feet above the State police said the explosion was caused when a backhoe involved in construction of an addition to the courthouse apparently ruptured a gas line. "We had somewhere around 10 minutes before it blew," said Hunter Birckhead, a county school official. "They came in and told everybody to get out. "Some workers went back inside to see what happened and the whole front -of the building blew off," he said.

Cafe Blast Kills 2 Women

LATHAM, Kan. (UPI) - A propane gas tank exploded like a "bomb" in Latham's only cafe minutes after closing Wednesday night, killing two employees and leveling nearly an entire block of the small town. The blast, heard 15 miles away, killed the two women managers of the Latham Cafe, who were alone inside cleaning up, and injured five other people in the southeastern Kansas town of 200. Five buildings, including some housing city offices and the post office, were destroyed or heavily damaged. The two women, Carla Hodges, about 40, and Kate Bing, 31, apparently were alone when the tank exploded.

House Reverses Gas Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) - What a difference a day makes at least when it comes to gasoline price controls. On Friday, Oct. 12, the House passed by three votes — 191-188 — a proposal by Rep. James Courter, R-N.J., to end all price controls immediately on gasoline and also end most of the government's power to allocate gasoline from one area to another in time of shortages. But on Wednesday, the House overwhelmingly reversed itself — 225-189 — and allowed current price and allocation powers to remain. They will end anyway two years from now, under current law.

Bishop Abel Muzorewa, and, in principle, by Magabe and Nkomo. But the guerrilla leaders continue to haggle over such thing as compensating white farmers for land that may be confiscated by a new government. This suggests that they have not yet fully reconciled themselves to a constitution that protects the political and economic rights of all Rhodesians, white as well as black.

It is worth remembering that Mugabe and Nkomo have always insisted upon a degree of

Thus, the guerrilla leaders may again be tempted to abandon negotiations and return to the battlefield, particularly if they decide they can yet win unconditional power by continuing a war that currently kills 40 Rhodesians per day.

Britain has sought to disabuse them of this notion by announcing that it would conclude a separate agreement with the Muzorewa government if Mugabe and Nkomo walk out of the conference. This is tantamount to a declaration that London would recognize the Muzorewa government and lift the trade embargo enforced against the breakway British colony since 1965.

As the guerrillas well know, a military victory over Zimbabwe Rhodesia's security forces would like far more difficult if Bishop Muzorewa's "government enjoyed active political, economic, and possibly military support from Britain. Clearly, the tough stand taken by Britain's new .Conservative government can rightly be credited

Big Weight Loss? Delay Any Surgery

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 20-year-old woman and I successfully lost over 100 pounds in a little over a year. I carried most of the weight in my stomach area and was left with excessively stretched skin and stretch marks. I read in your column where you once advised a person to wait a year after her weight loss before she had surgery to take up the excess skin. I've waited a year and haven't noticed any semarkable improvement. I've usercised through the entire eight loss and for several are before, which has helped mendously.

Thank God I'm thin at last.

DEAR READER — First, congratulations. That's a major. congratulations. That's a major achievement. The fact that you've been able to keep it off suggests that you have improved your life style so that you can avoid obselty in the future if you really want to.

I do advise people to wait a year after a weight loss before year after a weight loss before And don't forget to keep up they undergo surgery. That is your exercise and proper diet

To make the housing outlook even more gloomy, the September increases came before the Federal Reserve Board's sharply tightened credit on Oct. 6, which sent mortgage interest rates even higher.

Food prices, the department said, increased by 0.9 percent in September. That was the biggest jump since last April and ended three consecutive months of stability. Fruit and vegetable prices were the biggest culprits. They rose by 2.7 percent. On Tuesday, most other major banks boosted their prime rates - charged on loans to top-rated corporate
