Frenchman Kidnapped In Beirut

4th In Recent Days

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) -Unidentified gunmen kidnapped a French television cameraman in Moslem west Beirut, a French embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the gunmen abducted Jean Marc Sroussi, a photographer of a French television station, along with two women, shortly after they crossed from the Christian east in Sroussi's vehicle late Sunday

"The gunmen ... left the two women and the car," the spokesman said. "We do not know to which party the gunmen belonged.'

The southern section of the 3-mile-long Green Line is controlled by militiamen of the pro-Syrian Amal Movement and the Iranian-backed Hezbollah Party, or Party of God.

There was no claim of responsibility for abducting the middle-aged, grey-haired Sroussi, who had remained in Beirut despite a bloody cam-paign against Westerners by extremist Moslem groups.

The kidnapping brought to at least four the number of Frenchmen known to have been seized. The pro-Iranian Islamic Jihad has claimed responsibility for abducting three other Frenchmen, embassy vice consul Marcel Fontaine, 46, protocal officer Marcel Carton, 63, Jean Paul Kauffmann, 37.

On March 5 the Jihad said it killed a fourth French hostage. research analyst Michel Seurat. Kauffman, but no corpse has been found.

Last weeked, the shadowy Revolutionary Justice Organization last week claimed responsibility for abducting a French citizen and gave his name as Marcel Coudari.

The French Foreign Ministry said a French citizen with a similar name, Marcel Khodari. has been missing in Beirut since last February. The group in March kidnapped four French television crewmembers and released two of them later following mediation efforts by Arab states.

The two other crew members still in the group's hands are Aurel Cornea, 54, and Jean Louis Normandin, 34, of the French Antenna 2 telvision

Marriage Rate At 9-Year Low

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Men and women of the baby-boom generation are marrying later and less frequently, which partially accounts for the U.S. marriage rate being at its iquest level in nine years, the government says. Provisional data shows the marriage rate nationwide fell 3 percent between 1984 and 1985, from 10.5 to 10.2 for every 1,000 people in the population. The 1985 marriage rate is the lowest since 1977.

Barbara Foley Wilson, a government demographer, said; "The population of peopic in the marriage ages is gradually declining. Baby boomers are marrying less

No Trace Of Fugitive As Police Storm House

WRIGHT CITY, Mo. (UPI) - Police stormed a vacant three-story house at the break of dawn today but found no trace of Michael Wayne Jackson, the former convict and mental patient suspected of three slayings in a week-old crime spree.

Police, led to the house by bloodhounds, surrounded it auring the night and evacuated 13 families living nearby. The media was moved from the police command post, which is about a block away, to a service station across Interstate 70.

Armed with concussion grenades and tear gas, SWAT officers entered the house with the first rays of sunlight. After a search of nearly 40 minutes, they came out empty-handed.

After a week of chasing false leads and hoax reportings, police thought they had their first big break Sunday night when the owners of an abandoned mobile home in an isolated area 3 1/2 miles south of town reported it had been broken into. Police investigated and found evidence that someone had entered, eaten some food and shaved a beard. Jackson wore a full beard, which he had streaked silver prior to starting his rampage. They said fingerprints found in the burglarized mobile home were smudged.

Bloodhounds led authorities from the mobile home to the three-story house a block from City Hall, which is serving as the police command post for the search. Sgt. Jim Lee of the Missouri Highway Patrol had said, "Of the guys I've talked to, they think it's about 50-50 (Jackson is inside).

The house, which belongs to the town's undertaker, has been vacant for more than a month but is being remodeled for use as a funeral home.

"We're right back where we were a week ago," Lee said.

Asked why the bloodhounds had led officers to the vacant house, Helterhoff replied, "The tracking of bloodhounds is not an exact science.'

Despite the weeklong search involving more than 100 lawmen, authorities have found no evidence that Jackson is in the Authorities also were doubting early indications that Jackson may hav. been wounded in a shootout with two Wright City police officers shortly before he disappeared.

A nephew of Jackson's who was in Wright City Saturday told authorities Jackson owned a suit of body armor. Authorities specuated that the armor may have protected him from the shots.

Jackson, 41, a former mental patient, streaked silver paint on his face and full beard before beginning his murderous rampage Monday across Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. He is suspected in two slayings in Indiana and a third in Missouri, as well as at least five abductions and seven vehicle thefts.

Jackson was last seen the night of Sept. 22 outside Wright City when he wrecked a stolen Cadillac following a shootout with police, in which one officer was Authorities fired six shots at Jackson's car, several of which struck the door in the driver's side. Blood was found on the car's steering wheel.

The trailer that was found burglarized Sunday was about 2 miles away from the site of the gunfight, authorities said.

About 100 law enforcement officers, including FBI agents, had spent a week searching for Jackson in the fields and forests of Wright City, a town of 1,100 people about 40 miles west of St. Louis.

By Sunday, authorities even tried following a flock of nearly 60 buzzards circling over the area of the Sept. 22 gunfight. The buzzards only led searchers to dead animals, said Highway Patrol Sgt. Ron Weidemann.

Local Doctors Support Drug Testing Of Physicians

By Deane Jordan Herald Staff Writer

The old adage "physician, heal thyself," may in Florida soon become physician, test thyself," for drug abuse.

Doctors attending the annual meeting of the Florida Medical Association in Fort Lauderdale recently unanimously adopted a resolution asking doctors in the state to undergo voluntary drugtesting as an example to their patients, a symbolic gesture of doctors' concern about society's illicit drug problem. While the particulars of such a voluntary program are not expected to be drafted until another FMA meeting next month, the general idea has the support of local physicians.

The resolution preceded the release of a study showing 59 percent of physicians surveyed and 78 percent of medical students have used mindaffecting drugs at least once.

Dr. Benjamin Newman, emergency medical services director for Seminole County, is strongly behind the drugscreening measure.

"I think it's an excellent idea because it will show the public that we feel it's very important that physicians the public hold in great trust are free of illicit drugs," he said.

Carter, Reagan Ready To Bury Hatchet At Library

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Ronald Reagan and Jimmy Carter have said some caustic things about each other in the past six years, but the acrimony will be set aside for awhile when the president helps the former president dedicate a library.

Reagan is scheduled to travel Wednesday to Atlanta to join the ceremonies opening Carter's $25 million Presidential Center, which Carter envisions as a combination. library for his presidential papers and "think tank" for a variety of social issues.

The event could be a turning point in their relationship. which has been cool at best since Reagan's crushing defeat of Carter in 1980.

Since the 1980 landslide, Reagan has used Carter as a goad against Republican complacency, citing the preceding administration as a broad example of Democratic politics and policies gone awry.

The Sunday session preceded this week's joint annual conference of the IMF and the World Bank, which formally opens Tuesday.

Study: Drug Use May Cause 'Aging' Effect

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Habitual users of marijuana may be "sliting on a time bomb," as chronic use of the drug and other narcotics may cause the same kind of brain damage associated with aging, researchers say.

The National Institute on Drug Abuse said new findings, based on animal studies and clinical reports, point to drug-induced damage in a brain region ruling memory and emotion.

In a NIDA-funded study at Wake Forest University, rats were exposed to THC, the active ingredient of marijuana, for extended periods. Autopsies showed the rats suffered a loss of cells in the brain's hippocampus. which governs emotional responses and memory and is known to be affected by aging.

"Interestingly, the loss of neurons and glial cells are re-miniscent of changes in hippocampal structure produced by the normal aging of the brain," said Dr. Philip Landfield, who directed the study.

The researchers found further evidence of the drug-aging connection when animals treated with THC had elevated blood levels of hormones that "play a key role in the aging process of hippocampal nerve cells," Landsleld added.

Last week, at a briefing at the Health and Human Services Department, Dr. Marvin Snyder noted that the Wake Forest findings corroborate anecdotal data about human drug users that is "suggestive and alarm-

Snyder, who directs preclinical studies for NIDA, said physicians have reported that long-time amphetamine users in their late 30s are exhibiting symptoms of Parkinson's disease, which typically afflicts elderly people.

That finding suggests that "amphetamine administration damages the same region of the brain" affected by Parkinson's disease, said Snyder. The cumulative effects of chronic drug use and aging means, "We are, in effect, sitting on a time bomb," he said.

NIDA is conducting long-range studies of habitual drug users in an effort to discover other possible health threats, Snyder

Adjourning Congress: An Impossible Dream?

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Republican and Congress adjournment: Democratic leaders are feeling the pressure to adjourn the 99th Congress by Friday so lawmakers can go home and campaign, but the target date seems to become more clusive the closer it gets.

An optimistic Senate Republican leader Robert Dole is sticking to the target date and House Democratic leader Jim Wright of Texas refuses to give up, noting, "Hope springs eternal."

It may be more possible than likely." Wright said. "But it is possible and that is our goal."

Lawmakers up for re-election are anxious to escape the nation's capital for the final month of the campaign, a feeling matched only by their reluctance to return for a lame-duck session.

But the huge agenda for the final week is so all-encompassing, even round-the-clock sessions for seven days may not be enough.

The prospects for adjournment also are complicated by Rosh Hashana, which Congress observes, and which would prevent votes after sundown Friday until after sundown Saturday.

Hanging ominously over Capitol Hill is President Reagan's threat to veto a $556 billion omnibus bill to finance the government for the flacal year, which begins Oct. 1.

In his weekly radio address Saturday, Reagan said he will not allow Congress to go on an end-of-the-year "spending spree" and told lawmakers to strip the bill of "pet projects and wasteful spending programs."

But the "continuing resolution" - an annual tug-of-war between the White House and Congress usually solved by compromise - includes the $100 million package for Nicaraguan rebels, which Reagan has solicited all year.

There are three "must-do" bills facing sector.

 The continuing resolution, approved by only one vote in the House, will be taken up In the Senate early this week with little expectation that the amount will be cut to meet Reagan's objections.

• Legislation to increase the national debt to $2.33 trillion, allowing the the government to continue borrowing. The Senate has passed the bill but attached numerous riders, including a "fix" for the Gramm-Rudman budget law.

 The reconciliation bill, which brings Congress into line with the budget. Senate and House negotiators are meeting to find a compromise between the Senate $13.5 billion cut and the House's $15 billion reduction.

There are also other issues that congressional leaders have placed on the "must" list before adjournment:

 Anti-drug legislation approved by the House but not yet passed by the Senate.

 The attempted override of Reagan's vcto of sanctions against South Africa which appears assured in the House but faces lengthy delay, led by GOP conservatives, in the Senate.

• The impeachment trial of convicted federal Judge Harry Claiborne, which Dole fears will take two or three days.

Other bills supporters hope to get through before adjournment, either as free-standing bills or as riders to the debt ceiling or continuing resolution measures, include:

A $50 billion-plus highway bill, snarled by Senate demands for an increase in the speed limit on rural sections of the interstate system; an extension of the Superfund toxic waste cleanup program, hung up on the way to pay for it; several farm proposals and the sale of the Conrail system to the private

HOPKINSVILLE. Ky. (UPI) - Country music star Johnny Cash read his own patriotic poem, "The Old Rugged Flag," in dedicating a monument honoring 248 paratroopers from Fort Campbell who died in a plane crash last December.

More, than 200 members of the paratroopers' families gathered with about 1,000 local residents and Army Secretary long O. Marsh Jr. at Sunday's commons.

John O. Marsh Jr. at Sunday's ceremony in a 15-acre park, also dedicated to the crash victims.

"Your dad would be so proud to see his name here," Amy Jo Nichols said, pointing out her dead husband's name to her son, Chip.

Sgt. Richard S. Nichols was one of the 248 Fort Campbell paratroopers who died Dec. 12 when their chartered plane crashed near Gander, Newfoundland, after a refueling stop.

The soldiers of the 101st Airborne Division were returning from a six-month peacekeeping tour in the israeli-occupied Sinal peninsula.

Cash said he and his wife, June, drove all night from Michigan to attend the ceremony. He wrote the poem, "The Old Rugged Flag." for the dedication.

The park includes a grove of 248 Bradford pear trees and a copper. larger-than-life sculpture depicting a soldier in a peacekeeping uniform. The names of the dead soldiers are inscribed on five marble plaques at the base of the Mayors Herb Hays of Hopkinsville and Douglas B. Sheppard of Gander also attended the ceremony.

"This memorial is in response to the desires of the citizens of Hopkinsville, Christian County and the Commonwealth of Kentucky to create something that will permanently express their concern for an interest in their Fort Campbell neighbors," the dedication brochure read.

Storms, Floods Strike Midwest

Relentiess rains pelted the Plains and the Great Lakes today, prompting flash flood watches in three states and raising fears of more flooding in Illinois, where high waters left 500 homes damaged during the weekend.

Illinois Gov. James Thompson Sunday declared rain-soaked Lake County north of Chicago a disaster area because of flooding that caused at least $20 million in damage. Flash flood watches were posted for today in east-central Kansas, parts of southwestern Texas and the southern half of Wisconsin, said Bill Barlow of the National Weather Service. Winds of 50 mph to 60 mph were recorded in parts of southeastern Wisconsin and lower Michigan. A strong gust blew the roof off a house Sunday night in Lavonia, Mich., the weather service reported. The storm in Michigan also was accompanied by hall about the size of a quarter.

Downpours Sunday came out of a cluster of heavy storms extending from southern Lake Michigan across southeastern Wisconsin and extreme northern Indiana.

More than 15 1/2 inches of rain has fallen in three weeks in southeastern Wisconsin. In Lake County, Ill., 1.2

inches of rain deluged Mundelein in a 30-minute period Sunday. "aggravating an already critical flooding situa-tion," the National Weather Service said.

In Wisconsin, there were reports of heavy damage in Jefferson County, where several funnel clouds were sighted. One person was injured and taken to Fort Atkinson Memorial Hospital.

"We've had reports of barns down, roofs being torn off. There's been some damage to some homes," said Jean Hoffman, a dispatcher for the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department.

Heavy downpours continued through late Sunday along the Illinois-Wisconsin border, with .8 inches of rain falling in 30 minutes in Pewaukee, Wis. The storms were part of a line of severe weather extending from southeastern Minnesota and Nebraska across lows to northeastern and southwestern Kansas. Thompson, forced to cancel a tour of the area, said field reports from emergency officials indicated floodwaters in Lake County damaged at least 500 homes and 50 businesses and left more than 100 residents homeless. By Sunday night, the Red

Cross had given aid to 1,117

Floodwaters ran 4-feet to 5-feet deep through homes and schools from heavy rains Thursday and Friday, said Tim McGrath, director of the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency and deputy fire chief in Gurnee, Ill.

Early estimates placed damage countywide in excess of $20 million, said James Labelle, chairman of the Lake County Board.

Iowa was lashed by severe weather on several fronts Sunday night, including torrential rains, large hall, high winds and numerous tornadoes that leveled or damaged several farms, authorities said.

Two farms were hit by a tornado in Jasper County, and one of them was leveled, but no injuries were reported, said county Disaster Services Director David Cole.

Numerous power lines were down near Mingo and Baxter. while Mingo suffered extensive tree damage when the tornado skipped over the town, witness Ryan Maher said.

2 Charged With Child Abuse In Beer Party For Teenagers

A Longwood registered nurse and man were arrested on charges of child abuse after police broke up a party involving 300 beer-drinking kids.

The party, at 1321 Myrtle Drive, Longwood, was going at 10:19 p.m. Friday when an officer arrived. The kids threw beer cans at the marked police car, the report said.

The officer said he contacted the owner of the property and asked her to tell the crowd over the loud speaker of the car to break up the party. He said the group was an "unruly mob" She reporteldy refused. The party was for her 15-year old daughter and her friends.

"That was because one of the girls was flying one day and looked out and saw a rattlesnake on the wing. And it was all open cockpits in those days." From 1942 to 1945, Avenger Field was known as Cochran's Convent, after the late Jacqueline Cochran. She was the colonel in charge of the WASP and had made her mark as a racing pilot. Her girls went on to fly 60 million miles in every plane operated by the Army Air Force, and 38 died in service to their country.

They towed targets for military practice, ferried planes across the United States and Buick said she even helped to test an experimental radar that was first used in the battle of Hamburg.

It was not until 1977 that Congress decided to recognize the WASP as true members of the military by awarding them veteran's benefits. They had been considered civil servants before then and terminated abruptly before the end of the war after it seemed certain the Allies would win.

Despite the hardships, being a WASP meant contributing to the war effort.

"I think there was this desperate urge to get the war over with as quickly as possible, and we wanted to do the utmost to help that along," said Robertson, one of the few married women who became WASPs. Most of the women who joined were single or divorced and in their 20s.

"We hadn't heard of women's lib. We were just a little more daring, perhaps," said Tanner, who will serve as WASP president for the next two years and who has written a book about the WASP.

Despite an array of activities planned for the women during the four-day reunion, most just came to see old friends.

"Every year they ask us how much free time we'd like. I say lots, because I only come to visit and see the people I want and get to know other people in different classes," Moorman

"We talk about the good old days and tell each other how young we look," Tanner said.

Last Chance For Immigration Bill

Congress is far away from the border of Mexico. But the problems of the border are brought to Washington — and to every city — on the back of people who cross our border illegally.

The American people want national borders that mean something. is there something weird about that?

Congress must think so. Because Congress has permitted interest groups that thrive on open borders to keep them open.

The American people want immigrants to come here legally. Is there something strange about that?

Congress must think so, because it continues to make it easier to come into this country illegally than legally.

Neighborhoods can't defend borders. Neither can city councils or state legislatures. Only Congress can do it.

Congress now has a last chance to pass an immigration reform bill that would defend our borders with laws — not tanks. The bill is ready to go before the House of Representatives. A separate immigration bill has already passed the Senate.

The bills are similar in all but one major respect — farm labor. Here there is a gaping difference. The Senate has passed a guest-worker amendment, which would give thousands of foreign workers temporary work visas. The House Judiciary Committee has passed a farm-worker legalization program that would give undocumented farm workers legal resident status in this country.

We would settle for either approach as an improvement over the status quo. But House immigration sponsor Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J., is unalterably opposed to the Senate guest-worker program. Senate immigration sponsor Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., along with many others, has deep reservations over the House's amnesty for farm workers.

Neither side appears willing to budge. This could spell the end of immigration reform.

But there is a way out, if both sides recognize the disagreement is a side issue and both is the street of the side of the sides of the

The core of the immigration bill has always been a twofold compromise; sanctions against employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens in return for amnesty for longtime undocumented workers. That core is supported by both houses. It is supported by the president. It is supported by the American people.

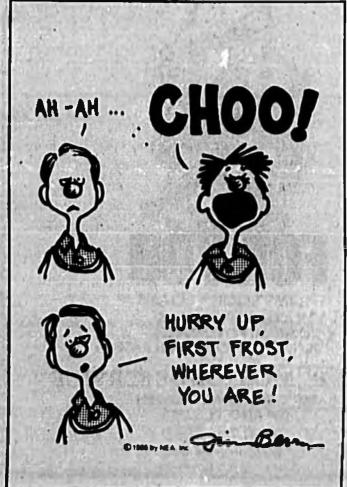

Farm labor is a side issue that should be dealt with directly as an agricultural issue, in the next Congress. Immigration reform is central to the future of this country and to undocumented residents waiting for aninesty. It must be dealt with now.

•The House should strike the farm-worker legalization provision and pass the core immigration bill. Senate leaders should come to conference committee in good faith, and remove the guest-worker provision. Together, they should restore immigration reform to its original form, balancing sanctions with amnesty, and send it back to both houses for passage.

If Congress doesn't act this year, a historic compromise will fall apart and enlightened immigration reform will die. Illegal immigrants will continue coming in ever greater numbers. The American people will rise up in anger. A future Congress will pass draconian measures.

The 99th Congress has two weeks to act.
The mission is clear: Kill farm-labor amendments. Save the immigration bill.

Successful Campaign Soirees Include Moses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There are some light moments during President Reagan's campaign Rozanne Ridgeway, assistant secretary of state, forays, even spiritual.

At a fund-raiser with Reagan in attendance in Los Angeles, actor Charlton Heston introduced Rabbi Yola Butler, who quipped: "Dear Lord, forgive me, every rabbi wants to be introduced by Moses."

Heston is noted for his role as Moses in a biblical movie.

The current issue of Cosmopolitan magazine features six young women at the White House who help the president and the movers and shakers carry out their jobs.

They find their jobs exciting, rewarding and time consuming, but giving them little time for a social life, although some keep a cocktail dress in the office just in case the opportunity arises.

The women serve in personnel and media relations and arrange travel and appointments. But President Reagan has no high-powered women at the White House advising him on policy.

He does have one woman in the Cabinet,

Transportation Secretary Elizabeth Dole. And Rozanne Ridgeway, assistant secretary of state, has some clout and sits in on top-level meetings. But women do not have a say in major deliberations at the White House. They are still the hod carriers, helping to make things work, but not involved in reaching big decisions.

Julie Nixon Eisenhower, daughter of President Richard Nixon, and her husband, David Eisenhower, grandson of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, have written books that will be competing on the stands this fall.

David Eisenhower tapped valuable personal letters from his grandfather for his book. "Eisenhower At War," which has won rave reviews.

Julie Eisenhower has written a touching. engrossing biography of her mother, Pat Nixon, a private person thrown into the political fray.

Mrs. Nixon was a popular first lady with the people and the press. She always went that extra mile to make the White House a hospitable, warm, inviting place.

Her book, "Pat Nixon — The Untold Story." Is an interesting and important behind-the-scenes view of life in the White House for history buffs.

White House policeman are paid to guard the president, and they do that with great courtesy to the public, especially at the gates. They also handle with respect those who have come to see the president to plead their cases but have no appointment.

But sometimes they are assigned another role to hold the press at bay when White House chief of staff Donald Regan passes down the colonnade after waving President Reagan off to Camp David from the south lawn.

Reporters first try to question the president, who is smiling, waving and ignoring them as he heads for the helicopter to whisk him to his retreat. Then they race to see if they can corral Regan, who has his fingers on all the power buttons in the White House.

But Regan has ordered the policeman on duty to hold back the press until he returns to his office. In some ways it was ever thus. But it also accounts for Regan being dubbed "Mr. Prime Minister" and "Deputy President" at times.

Different No Code Meanings

By Larry Doyle UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) - "Do not resuscitate."

When a patient's charts bear this order, it is supposed to mean that if cardiac arrest occurs, hospital personnel won't perform a life-saving procedure. But it usually means much more.

"DNR means a variety of things to different people, and there is confusion in the medical community about what it should mean," says Helene Levens Lipton, a medical sociologist. "It can mean literally what it stands for, or it can signal less invasive or less intensive care for a dying patient."

Lipton, with the Institute of Health Policy Studies at the University of California-San Francisco, says that despite all of these variations in meaning. "I'm not at all convinced that physicians and patients even talk about treatment intensity beyond the basic designation."

But as difficult as these things are to talk about," she says, "they are absolutely essential to talk about."

DNR orders, also called "no code" in reference to the code blue cardiac team, were developed several years ago to allow terminally ill patients to chose death over expensive and often ignominious prolongation of life. In many hospitals, the DNR designation simply formalized already existing practices.

"Before that, it was always something that was communicated with a smile or wink," Lipton says. "And even now with the 'no code,' that appears to be continuing."

Lipton recently conducted a study of 333 patients who were designated DNR at a 450-bed hospital in the San Francisco Bay Area. Her results, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, concluded DNR orders tend to be interpreted as broad prescriptions for less aggressive therapy.

However, Lipton says she was most encouraged by the finding that age was not a factor in whether a DNR patient received less care.

"People have often accused the medical community of making decisions of life and death solely on the basis of the patient's chronological age," she says. "It was very heartening I didn't find that."

Dumping Ground Bill

WASHINGTON (NEA) — As senators and representatives frenziedly jump on the anti-drug bandwagon in an attempt to pass a drug bill before adjournment, the bill has become a dumping ground for old legislation that, in some cases, has been bottled up in Congress for years.

Among the many provisions that could be added to a drug bill are a weakening of rules concerning evidence at criminal trials and the institution of the death penalty for some drug-related offenses.

The House Democratic leadership had hoped to take a "clean" drug bill to the floor and pass it quickly with few amendments. But so many members demanded to offer amendments that, in the end, the leadership allowed most of the amendments to be debated and voted upon.

Then, in the almost circuslike atmosphere that prevailed, conservatives were able to win approval of a weakening of the Fourth Amendment "exclusionary rule."

Severity-two years ago the Supreme Court formulated the exclusionary rule. It prohibited evidence obtained in an illegal search or seizure from being introduced in a trial. For years prosecutors and law-enforcement officials have fought for a less strict interpretation of the rule. In 1984 the Supreme Court modified it to allow evidence obtained with a court-issued warrant even if that warrant later proved faulty, as long as the court had not been deliberately misled in issuing the warrant.

Law-enforcement officials wanted more. In 1984 the Senate passed a "good faith" exception to the rule that allows evidence if law-enforcement officers honestly believed they were operating in compliance with the Fourth Amendment. But civil libertarians objected, and the measure never got out of the House Judiciary Committee, where it was opposed by chairman Rep. Peter Rodino, D-N.J.

Then, suddenly, this "good faith" exception was offered by conservative Rep. Daniel E. Lungren, R-Calif., as an amendment to the drug bill. Before opponents could muster a fight it was accepted by a 259-153 margin — after less than 15 minutes of debate. Although a part of the drug bill, the amendment would not be limited to drug cases.

This so angered some House

This so angered some House liberals that they voted against the whole bill. Reportedly Rodino was furious with the leadership for allowing the amendment to be offered. He argued privately that the amendment had been rejected several times by the Judiciary Committee and should not have been allowed on the floor by a backdoor approach.

After the vote Rodino spoke to reporters: "We are here to fight a war against drugs. Now it seems to me we are attacking the Constitution of the United States."

In the amending process on the House floor, a death penalty was added to the drug bill for drug-related killings that fall under the "continued criminal activity" section of federal criminal law — a section essentially dealing with organized crime.

Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, on the rush to pass legislation and initiate wide-ranging drug-testing programs: "There is no quick fix to the drug problem. Solving it will take more than reconnaissance planes, jail cells and glass jars."

The DNR designation continues to be reserved for the most seriously ill patients. Lipton said.

Playing Nuclear Politics

BONN, West Germany (NEA) — The Soviet nuclear disaster at Chernobyl continues to cast a long shadow over Europe.

The fallout has been political as well as radioactive. Long-building concerns about nuclear energy have intensified since May's events demonstrated how high the price can be for this supposedly "cheap" energy source.

The West German government very sensibly decided to address the issue scientifically rather than emotionally. It commissioned two thoroughgoing studies by separate research institutes which would approach the issue from different aspects. This would ensure, according to the government, that the resulting conclusions and recommendations would not be one-sided.

Surprise. Different approaches reached pretty much the same conclusions.

The report of the Eco-Institute in Freiburg was pretty much what everyone, including most certainly those in the government who commissioned the study, expected. The organization's thing is ecology.

The finding of the Rhine-Westphalia Institute for Economic Research in Essen was not expected. Instead of warning that there would be grave economic consequences if nuclear energy was abandoned, Essen essentially agreed with Freiburg that a gradual nuclear phase-out was entirely possible without undue economic stress. The Essen group found that even a short-term withdrawal. within two years, would not create unbearable dislocation, although it would probably cause an increase in environmental pollution from fossil

The experts' accord has shaken the government, which prefers to look at the nuclear question in the very long term. That means that a cutback and possible total withdrawal may be studied, but no date-setting, please.

Actually, the "gradual" scenario could be considered plenty long term by hard-line opponents of nuclear power. The deadline could be as late as 2010, According to Essen, this would means that, until 1989, plants currently under construction would be allowed to come on line. But after that, no more. And reactors reaching the end of useful service — 20 years — would not be replaced.

Apparently Chernobyl's shadow doesn't reach quite that far.

JACK ANDERSON

Law Enforcers Fight Over Drug Turf By Jack Anderson that began even before President meeting was called at the Justice Guard position paper acknowledged

And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The White House and Congress have declared all-out war on drug dealers. Assuming the fervor lasts beyond Election Day, millions and billions of dollars will soon start flowing to federal drug fighters.

The scramble for these funds has already begun among the various forcement agencies — a battle that is almost as intense as that between the lawmen and the dope smugglers.

There's nothing particularly new either in the drug problem or in the turf battle. A decade ago the CIA and the Drug Enforcement Administration were engaged in a jealous squabble over the sharing of intelligence on dope traffic.

Now it's the DEA, the Customs Service and the Coast Guard vying for the prestige, personnel and budgetary pie that go to the agency that makes the big busts. Our associate Donald Goldberg has dug up some examples of the internecine bureaucratic bickering Reagan and his wife made their joint television call to arms. Here are just a few:

— In Minnesota, DEA and

Customs are contesting for jurisdiction over a drug case involving close to $500,000 in gold, silver, coins and cash, according to Justice Department sources. The case was actually broken by an alert bank officer, who reported that the suspect and two associates had been exchanging Swiss francs for dollars in amounts just under $10,000—the threshold above which such transactions must be officially reported to the government. The suspect has pleaded guilty to possession of 2 pounds of cocaine with intent to distribute.

Customs originally took the lead in the investigation, on grounds that there might have been an international money-laundering operation involved. But DEA officials have been trying to wrest the case away from Customs. The day after the Reagans' TV appeal. a high-level

Department to discuss which agency will get the case. The winner could get the contraband $500,000.

— Customs and the Coast Guard are scrapping over the use of four radar-equipped E-2C aircraft provided by the Navy to patrol the entire southern border. Not only Treasury Secretary James Baker (who runs Customs), but Sen. Dennis DeConcini. D-Ariz., and Rep. Glenn English, D-Okla., have written Attorney General Ed Meese on behalf of the Customs Service.

Customs, the two members of Congress wrote, "has the statutory mission; it has the aircraft capability to carry out a total drug interdiction mission, including surveillance, intercept, tracking and arrest in all environments, and it has a decade of experience in operating a sophisticated, full-scale air drug interdiction mission."

The Coast Guard, meanwhile, says it could operate the Navy planes around-the-clock, while Customs would have to pay its crews overtime. An internal Coast Guard position paper acknowledges that a different airpiane would be preferable, "but in order to get the mission, Coast Guard is willing to operate the Navy E-2C aircraft on an interim basis."

Mexican authorities have forbidden U.S. drug-busters to chase suspected smugglers across the border, but the Bahamas permits such pursuits. This is a great advantage, because some 70 percent of the illicit drugs entering the United States come from the Caribbean Customs has responsibility for the operations, but the State Department has jurisdiction over relations with foreign governments, and Foggy Bottom wants DEA personnel aboard each interdiction flight in the name of inter-agency coordination. Customs officials point out that their crews fly out of Homestead Air Force Base, about an hour's drive south of Miami, where DEA is based. Customs argues that the smugglers could be long gone by the time the DEA agent shows up.

Republican House Seat Primary Heats Up

By Paul C. Schaefer Herald Staff Writer

The Republican primary race between two candidates for state representative has become heated during the final week befor the Sept. 30 run-off election, which will determine who will face Democrat Jeff Book in the Nov. 4 general election.

The three are vying for the State House of Representatives District 27 seat, being vacated by Rep. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, Brantley is running mate of governor candidate Bob Martinez, Tampa.

Tully Patrowicz, R-Mt. Dora, says his run-off opponent Stan Bainter, R-Mt. Dora is running a campaign which is "taking on negative aspects."

Recent Bainter campaign material claims that Patrowicz is a longtime Democrat, who changed party affiliation just before qualifying for the Republican primary. The material also says that Patrowicz contributed $1,000 to the campaign of Democratic Gov. Bob Graham, who is running for incumbent Republican U.S. Senator Paula Hawkins' scat, Patrowicz said.

Patrowicz doesn't deny any of the claims, but is 'disappointed by these personal attacks."

"This is an attempt to direct attention away from the issues, and that is disturbing. Patrowicz said.

Patrowicz said his "family heritage" is aligned with the Republican party, but when he moved to Florida in the 1950s, he said he registered as a Democrat so he would be able to vote, since the state was predominantly Democratic, and there were few Republicans for whom to vote.

"I have never voted for the Democratic presidential candidate, and I support President Reagan and Paula Hawkins," Patrowicz said.

He said he did officially register as a Republican about 17 weeks ago, in order to run for state representative as a Republican.

He added that the $1,000 contribution to Graham's U.S. Senate campaign came when he and his wife attended a $500 a plate fund raising

High Court Ultimately To Decide Legality Of Tests

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Mandatory drug tests in the workplace are catching on around the country, despite concerns about their constitutionality and their accuracy. Ultimately, the Supreme Court will decide if forcing government workers to take a urine test violates the right to privacy and the Fourth Amendment prohibition against unreasonable scarches and scizures. In the meantime, legal experts expect a flood of challenges to various drug testing programs in government jobs and private industry. "If states and the federal government begin to move as quickly as they seem to be, you're going to see lots of suits around the country," said Michael Milleman, professor of constitutional law at the University of Maryland.

Milleman said he believes drug testing programs will meet constitutional standards only if they are based on actual suspicion of drug use and only if they are narrowly tailored to "employees in highly sensitive areas."

"There is a heavy burden upon the government" to justify the tests, Milleman said. "It suggests to me that absolute carte blanche mandatory tests are unconstitutional. It seems to me there has to be an individualized suspicion."

So far, most court cases involving drug testing have involved public employees because the government is subject to the Fourth Amendment prohibition against unreasonable searches. Private companies have more latitude in setting restrictive conditions of employment, although challenges are possible based on state laws or contractual grounds.

According to recent reports, 25 percent of the nation's Fortune 500 companies have implemented drug testing programs. The list includes Ford Motor Co., IBM, Lockheed and The

The public was largely unaware of the growing use of drug tests until earlier this month when President Reagan ordered federal agency heads to eet up mandatory testing programs for employees in sensitive government positions.

The president's action prompted a federal suit

in Louisiana where the National Treasury

Employees Union already had challenged the testing of Customs Service workers. "We believe most of our members are against this kind of drug testing," said NTEU spokesman

"We're not against drug testing when there is reasonable suspicion that an employee's work has been impaired, when an employee's action on the job is not up to that employee's standard," King added. "But the president's mandatory order says you are guilty until proven innocent. which is just the opposite of the philosophy of our basic system of justice."

The American Civil Liberties Union also has opposed the drug tests on constitutional grounds. arguing the tests are unreliable and could be used agaist the innocent. ACLU Director Ira Glasser said the most commonly used test "cannot distinguish between common cold medicines and illegal substances."

Lower courts have been divided on the issue, but the majority have said tests by the government must be based on "individualized suspicion.'

In Newark, N.J., U.S. District Judge Lee Sarokin threw out the results of surprise drug tests conducted on Plainfield, N.J., firefighters, ruling earlier this month the tests represented "George Orwell's 'Big Brother' society come to

Last year, a state superior court judge in Hackensack, N.J., struck down a school board's policy requiring drug tests of high school students, finding that the policy violated the "reasonable privacy expectations of

said he believes the weight of precedent is with the administration, noting that the only two federal appeals court rulings on the issue have upheld mandarory tests. The most recent decision in July by the 3rd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld New Jersey's random testing program for race horse jockeys. The court said the state had a compelling interest in protecting the integrity of the racing industry and jockeys had given up a degree of privacy when they chose to enter "this pervasively regulated business." The other ruling occurred a decade ago when the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals approved of the testing of Chicago bus drivers involved in serious accidents.

The Justice Department recently got involved as a "friend of the court" in a case from Boston, where the Police Patrolmen's Association is challenging the city's plan to test randomly all police department employees once a year.

Willard, who wrote the brief, said the program "furthers the substantial governmental interest in ensuring the reliability and effectiveness of public employees who provide services affecting public health, safety and security."

Time For Boring County Offenses To Get Offensive

What has happened to the Seminole Athletic Conference high school football offenses this

Except for a pair of Lake Howell games, the SAC offenses have been invisible, making every contest a defensive strug-

Lets face the facts, watching a game where points are hard to come by every week is boring. There is no getting around it. Offenses take longer to jell than defenses, but these teams have, been practicing for a month and a half.

There is absolutely no excuse for the horrid performance of the offenses so far this season. Players are simply not playing well. Period.

Lake Howell's Mark Wainwright is the leading passer in the SAC. In a typical year Wainwright would probably be last in the conference. But this is no typical year. There are very few points being scored making final scores sound like hockey scores instead of football.

Lake Howell's 27-0 win over Edgewater and 19-10 decision over West Orange have been the explosions so far. Lake Howell (3-0) can thank its mammoth offensive line for the victories. it's made running fun for fullback Nate Hoskins and tailback Cornel Rigby.

Lake Howell will get a good test on Friday when it travels to Apopka in a critical District 5A-5 encounter.

The SAC teams have looked nothing short of pathetic offensively. Take Lyman for example. The Greyhound have led one oliensiae toncuo this season, yet they are still 2-1. Try to figure that out.

It has been the Lyman defense that has kept the 'Hounds above .500. It was a pair of defensive touchdowns that gave Lyman a 14-6 win over Brantley last week. The offense struggled once again. The defense has outscored the offense. Lyman moves the ball effectively between the 20-yard lines but comes up with a case of the ,oal-line flu when the end line approaches. The only bright spot in the Lyman offense has been the play of tallback Robert Thomas. Thomas is really playing well. He's been over 100 yards twice. The quarterback problems are continuing at Lyman. Lyman coach Bill Scott has given both Darren Boyeson and John Burton starting opportunities but neither has been able to produce points. The Greyhounds will have a tough game on Friday when they travel to DeLand to take on the Bulldogs in an important

District 5A-4 game. Seminole, 0-3, also has problems at quarterback where Dwayn Willis, an excellent running back, has been trying to carry the load. He hasn't been able to throw the ball with any effectiveness, however, com-pleting just 2 of 11 passes for five yards. The ground game, behind hard-running fullback Curtis Rudolph, has had its moments but with no passing threat other teams gang up. looking for the run.

Although the Tribe's defense has played brilliantly in the three losses, the offense has yet to hit double figures in points. It has scored 7, 9 and 3 in successive setbacks. The defense has allowed 16, 16 and 7. Six of those points came on a punt return and two more when the ball was snapped over the punter's head for a safety.

Jeff "The Franchise" Blake, Seminole's injured quarterback who hasn't played this year, goes to the doctor Thursday. After that visit, a decision will be made on his availability, coach

Dave Mosure said. Seminole hosts arch-rival Lake

Mary Friday. Lake Brantley (0-3) has been haunted by its kicking game. It was a bad snap on a punt that gave Oviedo a touchdown and a victory over the Patriots. Against Lyman, a blocked punt resulted in a Greyhound touchdown proving to be the margin of victory.

championships. Tim Raines is biding his time en route to being the top hitter in the National League.

Raines, making use of every at-bat over the weekend against Philadelphia. judiciously squeezed out 2 hits in just five official trips to push his average to .327 and take an eight-point lead over Tony Gwynn and an 11-point advantage over Steve Sax in the race for the N.L. batting title.

Raines, who has never been the loop's top hitter, must hold the lead for the final seven games to achieve that Player Raines, Mil Gwynn, ED Sex, LA

"I'm swinging the bat real well," he said last week. "I'm confident at the plate. You don't care whose pitching when you're hot."

Although Raines was not expected to be a contender when the season started, a quick check of his past revealed that his cycle was on the upswing. After batting .272 in 1982, Raines hit .298, .309 and .320 in successive seasons.

He also has been an excellent September-October batsman, usually boosting his percentage over .300 with a torrid stretch run. Last year, he batted .352 during the final two months to push his average to a career-high .320.

This year has been no different. Raines has been hot — and selective.

Blessed with a good batting eye, the 27-year-old Montreal left fielder singled once in two trips Saturday. He also stole three bases to give him 67 in 75 attempts for the season. He needs just three more to reach the 70 plateau for the sixth consecutive year, a major-league record. On Sunday, Raines was 1 for 3. San Diego' Gwynn, who won the title two years ago, was 0 for 3 Sunday while Sax severely hampered his hopes with an O for 7 day. Gwynn had one hit in five at-bats Saturday. LA's

Sax's slump came after three hits in three trips which put him back into contention Saturday.

Lady Patriots Chip Away t Winter Park's Dynasty

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

The Winter Park swimming dynasty is still alive and floating but Seminole County is beginning to make waves in what were once smooth Central Florida waters for the perennial powerhouse Wildcats.

The biggest ripple being created is by the Lake Brantley High girls team while Lyman's boys and Lake Mary's boys and girls are surging toward the area's elite.

Winter Park won both the boys and girls meets at the Bishop Moore Invitational Saturday at Longwood's Sharidan Aquatic Club, but, unlike in the past, the Wildcats could see the competition when they looked

In the girls meet, Winter Park compiled a score of 341 compared to 323 for the talent-laden Lady Patriots of Lake Brantley with Lake Mary third at 227.

On the boys side, Winter Park was well out in front at 438.5 with Lake Mary at 240.5 and Lyman 236. It could have been closer but both the Rams and Greyhounds were without two of their top swimmers.

Lake Brantley's girls were led by double winner Christy Bridgewater who took 3rst in the 200 free at 1:55.32 and came back to win the 500 free with a 5:05.02, more than 15 seconds better than the second place

Swimming

Brantley also got firsts from two more of Central Florida's finest as Kristen Pauley won the 100 fly at 1:02.95 and Manda Davis took the 100 breaststroke at 1:10.13. The Lady Patriots also grabbed the gold in the 400 free relay with a 3:42.74.

"The Brantley girls are really strong." Lake Mary coach Walt Morgan said. "They have six to eight real strong swimmers. I don't know if we have enough to compete girl for girl with them. We'll have to rely on our depth."

While Lake Mary and Lyman pursued Winter Park, school records continued to fall for Seminole as freshman flash Cissy Burgess crased two marks she broke on Wednesday. Burgesa set another mark in the 100 fly with a 1:06.7 clocking to nip her previous best by .1. She clipped .2 off the 200 individual medley standard with a 2:29.7 effort. Burgess was third in the fly and fifth in the IM.

Coach Donalyn Knight's 200 medley relay team of Burgess, Shannon Rivers, Kristy Keeling and Mindy Bogue too ninth in 2:15.3. Rivers, a sophomore, also added a sixth place in the 100 break in 1:19.95.

Seminole returns to action Wednesday with a four-way meet against Lyman, Lake Brantley and Orlando Bishop Moore at the Sharidan Aquatic Club.

Highlighting the meet for the Lake Mary girls was the performance of Kelly Wise and the 400 free relay team. Wise churned to first place in the 200 individual medley with a time of 2:17.58 and took second in the 500 free at 5:20.36.

Wise would also come back to turn in a tremendous anchor leg on the 400 free relay team which took third with a time of 4:06.70. Joining Wise on the relay were Stasi Bojanowski, Shannon Campbell and Lesa Dittmer. In the preliminaries earlier Saturday, the same Lady Ram foursome (Knutson). broke the school record in the event with a time of 4:05.61.

"Kelly (Wise) did a really great job in she added. "We work hard and holding off (Lake Brantley's) Davis in the we're out to win as a team." 200 IM," Morgan said. "And I think she (Wise) was a little upset with her time in the 500 free so she got mad and really went out in the relay and passed three teams on her held the five-point cushion, 9-4.

They may not order their Whoppers with the same condiments, but when they get on the volleyball court Oviedo's Lady Lions are about as together as you can get.

The Lady Lions were at their cohesive best Saturday in rallying to three victories and the single-elimination Bob McHardy Invitational title at Winter Park High School.

Oviedo won the tourney in three matches to up its season record to 7-1. The Lady Lions open play in the Seminole Athletic Conference Tuesday night at Seminole High.

"We know we can win as long as we all play together." Oviedo senior captain Cindy Wood said. "We're not really a tall team, but we make up for height with hustle and teamwork."

The Lady Lions opened play in the tournament Saturday morning at 9 with a 15-10, 6-15, 15-12 win over Orlando Oak Ridge. Oviedo then knocked off Orlando Edgewater 15-13, 10-15, 15-6, made a trip to Burger King, and returned to defeat Lake Howell in the final, 15-13, 15-6.

we piayed the lirst and last match of the tournament so we were pretty tired at the end," Wood said. "But it was worth it. And as long as we stick together, we'll be all right."

While Wood continued to play steady all the way around for the Lady Lions, setter Kelly Davidson had an outstanding tournament along with setterhitter Jill Knutson and hitter Suzanne Hughes. Hughes' presence on the front row was important with senior Kelly Price out with a sprained ankle.

'Spiking is definitely my biggest improvement," Hughes, who played junior varsity a year ago, said. "Kelly (Price) has helped me out a lot and it helps to have a couple of great setters like Kelly (Davidson) and Jill

"The most important thing is we did really well as a team."

In the first game of the final against Lake Howell, Oviedo jumped out to a 5-0 lead and until Stormi Littrell served five points for the Lady Hawks to tie it at 9-9. Lake Howell eventually

Luckhurst Kicks Bucs, Falcons Stay Unbeaten

By Mike Andrew Special to the Herald

TAMPA - Mick Luckhurst's three clutch field goals - the last with 2:20 remaining in overtime - kicked Atlanta's to a 23-20 victory over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before 38,580 in Tampa Stadium Sunday.

Luckhurst's two fourthquarter boots, including one with no time remaining, put the game into overtime. He drilled a 34-yarder in OT to keep the Falcons unbeaten and hand Tampa its third loss in four games.

Atlanta, which trailed the Bucs at the half, 20-7, was able to score 16 second- half points while holding the Bucs scoreless for the come from behind victory. This marked the second week in a row that the Falcons were able to pull out the game in the waning moments. Last week, a Luckhurst sield goal in the final two minutes beat the Cowboys, 37-35, for only the second time in Falcon history.

"We've got some believers on this team." He said. "We've got some people who are willing to put in everything that it takes to get it done," he said. "That's the difference between us, and other teams we've had in the past.

Tampa was led by quarterback Steve Young, who was 12 of 20 for 156 yards passing and a touchdown, but he threw a critical interception with only 2:20 remaining in the game to give the Falcons the ball back eventually leading to the wing field goal at the end of regulation. Young also led the Bucs in rushing with seven carries for 71 yards, including a 21-yard first half touchdown.

The critical play came after the Bucs had held Atlanta to a territory after Charlie Brown was catch. Following the kickoff.

Hawks Sweep 'Unique' Meet By Chris Fister

Herald Sports Writer

Dwarfed by the established meets, such as the Daytona Seabreeze Beach Run, the first Seminole High Invitational drew just four girls and three boys teams Saturday morning. And although it was just an amoeba in the Central Florida cross country culture, the meet was far from infinitesimal to those who attended.

The few teams who don't like to run at the beach or couldn't find another meet to attend Saturday were pleased with the change of pace the Seminole High Invitational provided.

'It was a different course and different conditions and it was nice to have that kind of meet at this point in the season," Lake Howell girls coach Tom Ham-montree said. "It was a shame for Sid (Blackwell) that he put the meet on and almost everybody that asked him to do it decided not to run in it. I hope he puts it on again next year."

McEnroe Feeds Off Crowd Energy, Derails Connors

DALY CITY, Calif. (UPI) - For once, John McEnroe praised the crowd instead of taunting it.

McEnroe, seeded fourth, defeated second seed Jimmy Connors 7-6 (8-6), 6-3 in the final of the $289,000 Transamerica Open Sunday before a sellout crowd of 11,622 fans at the Cow Palace.

"It was very satisfying to win a match like this and there was a lot of energy out there," said McEnroe, who has defeated Connors 19 of the 31 times they have met. "A good crowd and one of my best competitors that's what you like to go up against

Embrace East Title United Press International What the Boston Red Sox's

clinching of the American League East title lacked in suspense, it made up for in emotion.

After Bill Buckner squeezed a pop-up from Kelly Gruber for the final out in Sunday's 12-3 victory over Toronto, the jubilant players embraced on the infield while the faithful fans at Fenway Park did the same in the stands.

The victory eliminated Boston's only potential challenger - the defending champion Blue Jays. The Red Sox, who last won the division crown in 1975, soaked each other with champagne and expressed their satisfaction with the moment.

"This is what it's all about, from the start of spring training," said Boston's Don Baylor, whose two-run, broken-bat single keyed a five-run second inning. "This champagne sure tastes sweet right now. It's a great feeling."

Buckner, who played for the Los Angeles Dodgers in the 1974 World Series, had champagne foam dripping off him when he sald, "It's been 12 years since I was able to pop the champagne and it feels great."

The Red Sox, whose last world championship came in 1918, will meet the AL West-champion California Angels in the best-of-seven championship for the American League pennant, beginning Oct. 7 at Fenway Park.

Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd, who struck out nine and scattered eight hits, posted his career-high 16th victory of the season, against 10 losses.

"I just went out there and threw good baseball. From the sixth inning on, we just had it," said Boyd, who retired the last

Stallings Alters Mood For Dallas

ST. LOUIS (UPI) - Former St. Louis coaches Don Coryell and Jim Hanifan had little trouble creating a mood of hatred when it came time to play the Dallas Cowboys. But current coach Gene Stallings is different.

Stallings spent 14 years as an assistant coach under Tom Landry at Dallas before landing the Cardinals' coaching job last February.

The two teams meet at 9 tonight on Orlando's WFTV-9 and Stallings said he understands how St. Louis fans and players dislike the Cowboys. who have beaten the Cardinals in 12 of their last 15 meetings, and are off to a 2-1 start this year.

"I can assure you, I won't like them this week," Stallings said. "Most people do hate Dallas. But they've got fans all over the country. You either like them or you don't.

"You know, you're always a little envious of someone who does well. When you can't, you have a tendency to throw rocks. I want to be as successful as Dallas.

But Stallings is off to a rocky start in St. Louis. The Cardinals are 0-3 and have numerous starters who are injured and cannot play. Among the injured are wide receivers Roy Green and Pat Tilley and running back Stump Mitchell.

Landry said he knows Stallings can turn things around in St. Louis.

"It's tough right now," Landry said. "Injuries are hitting him now. When he gets it straightened out, I have no doubts about his ability to be a

"Gene was an excellent coach for me for a number of years. He took a load off my shoulders because he handled his job so well. Gene's a great competitor."

Stallings is one of six current NFL head coaches who coached or played under Landry. Going against a former assistant like Stallings is difficult, Landry said.

"I played against Mike Ditka (of Chicago) last year and he beat ua. I nere always seems to be more intensity going into a game like this.'

Stallings said he admires his old boss.

"I have great respect for Coach Landry." Stallings said. "Very few coaches will match the success that he's had for the Cowboys."

But Stallings said he will not visit much with Landry before

"I doubt Coach Landry would invite me to dinner when I go to Dallas," Stallings said.

It will be the Cowboys' second Monday night game this year, Dallas is 15-14 on Monday's, including a 31-28 victory over the New York Giants in this year's opener. That victory came after an 0-5 preseason.

"I knew the ingredients were there for a good season," Landry said. "We had indications that some of our new people would help us."

Landry mentioned running back Herschel Walker, offensive lineman Crawford Ker and tight end Thornton Chandler.

Running back Tony Dorsett is running well for Dallas and Landry said that is a key. Dorsett enters Monday's game just 177 yards shy of passing O.J. Simpson on the all-time rushing list. Dorsett has had six 100-yard games against the Cardinals - more than he has against any other team.

Dorsett is listed as questionable because of a spained knee for the game. But Dorsett said he will play. "I've always prided myself on being able to line up every Sunday and play," Dorsett said. "It's always a doglight playing St. Louis. We watched the Cardinals play the Bears in preseason and that's the kind of game we expect."

Dorsett said it will be special when he passes Simpson.

"I'll really be proud to pass O.J. because he is one of the immortals," he said. "When I came in the league 10 years ago at 185 pounds they said I wouldn't last."

The Cardinals outplayed Buffalo in all categories last week except for the scoreboard.

"Statistics are for geniuses and losers," guard Joe Bostic

Despite being winless, the Cardinals are not down on themselves. "We're a family." said fullback Earl Ferrell. "There's no finger pointing. We win, we lose. But so far, we're losing. We all have to come together and win a game."

WEEK 4 Falcons First, Raiders Last, Dolphins Lost

United Press International A quarter of the way into the 1986 NFL season, the Atlanta Falcons are in first place, the Los and the Miami Dolphins appear to be headed no place.

The Falcons Sunday continued to be the surprise team of 1986, getting a pair of 34-yard field goals from Mick Luckhurst - one on the final play of regulation time and one 12:35 into overtime - to defeat the Buccaneers 23-20 at Tampa Bay.

The triumph moved Atlanta to 4-0, the best start in its 21-year history. With the Rams losing to Philadelphia, Atlanta moved into sole possession of first place in the NFC West.

And these Falcons are developing a dramatic touch. Last week, Atlanta had shocked Dallas 37-35 with a last-ditch 88 yards to position Luckhurst's winning 33-yard field goal. The Raiders also won Sunday, but that did little to improve their position in the AFC West.

At Los Angeles, Marc Wilson threw for 314 yards and two touchdowns to help the Raiders defeat the San Diego Chargers 17-13. Still, at 1-3, the Raiders are off to their worst start in 22 years. Also, Denver is 4-0 and Seattle and Kansas City are 3-1 in the AFC West. The Raiders share last place with San Diego at 1-3. Raiders cornerback Lester Hayes is not yet ready to concede. "The other teams in the AFC are in for a tough time now, now that our offense can score points again," Hayes said. "Two touchdowns, that's stupendous and we held Dan Fouts to 13 points. That's an unbelievable defense.

"If we get Marcus (Allen, who missed the game with a sprained ankle) healthy again, our chances of catching Denver, Seattle and Kansas City are stupenduous.

The loss was the Dolphins' first at home in September since a 31-21 defeat to the Oakland Raiders Sept. 22. 1975. San Francisco improved to 3-1, including two straight victories with Jeff Kemp playing for the injured Joe Montana. The Dolphins have given up 142 points in four games, the most since their inaugural season of 1966, when they surrendered 144 over four games.

"I'm bitterly disappointed in my football team, including myself," Dolphins Coach Don Shula said. "I didn't do anything to help us in any way. # 'Canes, Testaverde Clear Path To No. 1, Heisman

MIAMI (UPI) - The Miami Hurricanes and Vinny Testaverde have put themselves on a clear path toward their second national championship and first Heisman Trophy.

The Hurricanes, 4-0, were the only Florida college football team to post a victory. Fourth-ranked Michigan edged No. 20 Florida State 20-18, Mississippi State upset Florida 16-10, Grambling beat Bethune-Cookman 30-24, Tennessee State topped Florida A&M 34-12; and Akron handed Central Florida its first defeat of the season,

With Saturday's victory over No. 1 Oklahoma behind and an easy schedule ahead, No. 2 Miami might not face another ranked team until Jan. 1. No. 20 Florida State is the only rated school remaining on the Hurricanes' schedule and the Seminoles will probably fall out of the Top 20 after dropping to 1-2-1 with Saturday's loss to Michigan.

Similarly, the Heisman Trophy is Testaverde's to lose. Testaverde threw for 261 yards and four touchdowns in Saturday's nationally televised 28-16 upset of Oklahoma to put himself and his teammates atop the college football

"We're going for 12-0," Miami defensive tackle Jerome Brown said. "I don't think anybody can stop this team."

The Sooners couldn't stop Testaverde Saturday, even when their defensive linemen mounted a pass rush. On Miami's first touchdown drive. Testaverde eluded two rushers to throw a 13-yard pass to Alonzo Highsmith, and two plays later scrambled across the field for a 10-yard gain - bouncing off defenders the entire way.

"He's complete," Miami Coach Jimmy Johson said of Testaverde. "He doesn't just perform. He calls the plays, sets the formations, audibilizes, sets the play in motion and only then performs physically.'

Testaverde also makes good on his promises. He told his father Al, a mason from Elmont, N.Y., he would throw a TD pass as a birthday present. Al Testaverde turns 54 on Wedensday.

Testaverde might present his father with the Heisman Trophy for Christmas, but apparently doesn't believe in shopping too early. "I try not to think about the Heisman Trophy or anything like that," he said. "The type of game I had is a reflection of my teammates. When the offensive line blocks the way they did and the receivers catch the ball, all I'm doing is standing back there and Testaverde completed a schoolrecord 14 straight passes - including all eight third-quarter attempts - and threw for TDs of 30 and 5 yards to Michael Irvin, 8 yards to Charles Henry and 6 yards to Alfredo Roberts. He completed 21 of 28 attempts with no interceptions.

The Hurricanes' most impressive accomplishment was silencing Oklahoma linebacker Brian Bosworth. Bosworth, the most celebrated and most quoted defensive player in the country, gave only a short statement to the Oklahoma Sports Information Director before slipping out of 'the lockerroom without talking to report-

Bosworth's statement was: "You've got to give credit to Testaverde, he really played well. Mistakes in the kicking game in the third quarter gave them momentum and changed the game around."

Bosworth was credited with 14 tackles but was not a factor during Miami's 21-point third quarter. The outburst extended a 7-3 halftime lead to 28-10 entering the fourth quarter.

GATORS CONTINUE STRUGGLE

In Starkville, Miss., the Florida Gators continued to struggle in losing their third straight game. Mississippi State used 262 yards in total offense from quarterback Don Smith to drop Florida to 1-3 and 0-2 in the Southeastern Conference. The Bulldogs are 3-1 and 2-0.

"We are out of the conference race." Florida Coach Galen Hall said. "It's very difficult for us right now to go on to win the conference, but I think we'll be a factor for the rest of the teams down the line.'

The Gators lost four of six fumbles.

BEMINOLES FALL SHORT, 20-18

In Ann Arbor, Mich., Florida State went through another quarterback change but fell short against the Wolverines. Danny McManus, last year's starter before being sidelined with dizzy spells from being hit. stepped in for Chip Ferguson with 1:20 left and led the Seminoles to a touchdown and 2-point conversion.

"I probably should have made a change sooner," FSU Coach Bobby Bowden said. "We're going to have to ' give McManus and Peter Tom Willis a close look."

Ferguson was 6 of 19 for 73 yards, a touchdown, and was intercepted 3 times. The Seminoles scored on a 31-yard field goal by Derek Schmidt, a 3-yard pass from Ferguson to Tanner Holloman, and a 20-yard pass from McManus to Herb Gainer. The Seminoles are 1-2-1 while Michigan is

"I felt I was able to move the team," McManus said. "Once I hit a couple of passes, it was no different than before I got hurt. I never thought I'd see the day (when he would play again). I thought my career might be over."

Saturday night's college football game between the University of Central Florida and Akron was a game of streaks. Akron's 20-17 win at the Rubber Bowl in Akron snapped UCF's five-game wining streak and extended the Knights' road losing streak to eight games.

UCF (3-1) was leading 17-13 in third quarter before the Zips (3-1) engineered an 80-yard drive with just 3:10 remaining im the game for the winning touchdown. The drive was capped on tailback Mike Clark's second touchdown run of the game, a 37-yard scamper.

Clark ate up the Knights on the ground as he rushed for 255 yards on 31 carries. UCF's Aaron Sam ran the ball well as rushed for 57 yards on 13 carries. Tailback Eigin Davis had 10 carries for 42 yards and two touchdowns. UCF will host Murray State on Saturday at Orlando Stadium in a key contest for the Knights.

UCF quarterback Darin Slack had an average game as went 14 for 32 good for 237 yards. Ted Wilson led the Knights' receivers with 6 catches and 84 yards. Bernard Ford had another fine game with 98 yards on three catches.

Akron scored a touchdown in the first period to grab a 7.0 lead. UCF retaliated with a pair of second-quarter touchdowns. Elgin Davis capped off a 78-yard drive with a two-yard touchdown run.

A fumble recovery later in the period gave the Knights the ball at the Zip 30 yard line. Davis scored on three-yard run giving the Knights a 14-7 advantage.

Akron came back with a score just before halftime. The PAT was missed giving the Knights a slim one-point edge at the half.

UCF kicker Eddie O'Brien kicked a 25-yard field goal in the third quarter, giving the Knights a 17-13 edge.

South African Parties Prepare For Rumored New Elections

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) - Supporters of President Pieter Botha's ruling white National Party gathered today in the coastal city of East London for the fourth and last provincial congress before a possible general election.

Party sources said they expected Botha to announce a Nov. 26 general election during his address to the party congress tonight. Others said they expected him to schedule the election for April and to announce it in January when he opens the 1987 session of Parliament.

In neighboring Port Elizabeth, members of the ultrarightist Conservative Party made election strategy the central theme of a congress Sunday. The congress adopted motions urging conservatives to ensure that they are registered to vote and urged the party leadership to distance itself from para-military white resistance groups. But Botha is not obliged to call an election until 1989.

French Parties Fight For Election

TOULOUSE, France (UPI) - France's first election since the Socialist government's defeat in a March general election ended in a draw, with the two mainstream parties each winning four of eight national assembly scats.

Commentators said the outcome of Sunday's voting solidified the positions of the nation's two main political groups - the Socialists and the ruling center-right coalition of the Rally for the Republic and Union for French Democracy parties.

Socialist Party First Secretary Lionel Jospin, 50, second only to President Francois Mitterrand in the party hierarchy, and Toulouse Mayor Dominique Baudis, 40, of the ruling coalition, headed their parties' tickets in the special election for eight parliament seats from the Toulouse region of Haute-Garonne.

Author Daughter Held In Father's Beating Death

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) - The 30-year-old daughter of a former New York City cab driver was being held in the Broward County jail Sunday after confessing to police that she beat her father to death with a wood 2-by-4.

Police arrested Lisa Faye Keller Friday in connection with the Sept. 2 murder of her father, Morris Keller, 70, at the Whitehall Condominium. Keller claims her father abused her and her mother, Dorothea Keller.

Officials were initially told by Dorothea Keller that her husband had not come home from a condominum association meeting. They said Dorothea Keller was a witness to part of the attack. Detectives are investigating Morris Keller's background in New York but so far they have found no arrests or complaints against him while he was in Florida.

According to a report in Sunday's Fort Lauderdale News/Sun-Sentinel, Lisa Keller, who holds a New York City taxi license, is the author of a book of science fiction, "Temper of the Night," which was published in 1982 by Todd and Honeywell of Great Neck, N.Y. A second book is due to be published next year by the Hartford Press of Hartford, Conn.

Voters Head Toward Polls

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - The neck-and-neck and often bitter battle between Democrata Steve Pajcic and Jim Smith winds up Tuesday as Florida voters name their candidates for the Nov. 4 gubernatorial election.

On the Republican side, former Tampa Mayor Bob Martinez appeared headed toward an easy victory over former U.S. Rep. Lou Frey Jr.

A light turnout was likely in the state's partisan runoff elections - wrapping up a campaign that has attracted little attention among the voters.

Pajcie and Smith carned spots in Tuesday's Democratic runoff by finishing 1-2 in the state's Sept. 2 primary election, but neither man was able to attract enough votes to avoid the runoss. Recent polls have shown the two headed toward decision day in a virtual deadlock.

Martinez has had an easier time of it in the Republican race, with one poll putting his lead over Frey at a whopping 24 points last week.

In addition to the gubernatorial race, voters will choose a Democratic candidate for attorney general and a Republican nominee for education commissioner.

State Considers Lake Lawsuit

TAMPA (UPI) - State environmental officials acknowledged that they were considering filing suit against dairy farmers whose drainage water contributes to the pollution damaging Lake Okeechobee.

"We're seriously considering it. The lawyers haven't finished working it all out," said Elton Gissendanner. executive director of the Florida Department of Natural Resources.

Gissendanner spoke to the Florida Wildlife Federation in Tampa Saturday, suggesting that the state wants an environmental group to join a class action suit against the

The Sunday meeting was the fourth and longest in the series of talks between the two men in New York. They had met for two days in Washington, Sept. 19-20.

He is president of the Florida Society of Ophthalmology, past vice chairman and present member of the Lake Sumter Community College board of trustees, and past president and present member of the Lake County Executive Club.

Bainter, who is self employed in the insurance business, has been a Florida resident since 1959, and is a veteran of the U.S.

He has been married to his wife, Marilyn for 35 years. They have three children: Jon. 31; Pat. 26; and Dara 30.

Here are the candidate's answers to questions submitted to them by the League of Women's Voter's:

1) Florida's new growth management legislation requires that adequate infrastructure (schools, roads, social services, etc.) be in place concurrent with development. What revenue sources would you support to fund the requirements of this legislation?

Bainter: "Growth itself provides much of the revenue by increasing the tax base. Before we increase sales tax, let us first have a full investigation of every state department for waste. HRS. DOT, the Insurance Department, etc. Finally, let's implement workfare programs to reduce the cost of welfare."

Patrowicz: "Florida's growth management legislation called for comprehensive planning which can be implemented with agency funding. Florida's infrastructure can be funded through broad based taxation vehicles (eg: repeal of some sales tax exemptions) only after economy in state government spending programs is demonstrated."

2) How would you solve the problems of overcrowded criminal court systems and the overpopulated prison system?

Bainter: "The 5th Judicial Circuit is not overcrowded. We must legislate a penalty system so severe that it will create a deterrent to crime. It may cause an immediate overcrowding, but it will reduce crime and overcrowding in the long run. Light sentencing does not Commission currently can only work.'

3) The Carnegie Report, released in May of 1986, says: "We do not believe the educational system needs repairing; we believe it must be rebuilt to match the drastic changes need in our economy if we are to prepare our children for productive lives in the 21st century." What measures would you support to repair or rebuild Florida's educational system?

Bainter: "As long as the drug and alcohol problem exists. students do not have the will nor ambition to learn, particularly in a group. Treat the causes rather than the systems by controlling drugs and alcohol first. Separate repealed. Please give reason for those who want to learn from those who cause the problems.

Bainter: "None. I believe in Home Rule. However, I feel each county should have more authority to regulate violators of voter registration, absentee and incorrect ballots. Countles should also strive for correct voter mailing addresses."

Patrowics: ''Voting/balloting/campaign violations and abuses should be the responsibility of our local supervisors of elections. In general I favor local governmental control versus state governmental control."

Thirty-nine percent of the medical students admitted trying cocaine, and four percent use it regularly. Five years ago, only 21 percent said they had used the drug.

Over half the doctors up to age 40 have used drugs some time in their lives. And 38 percent of those under 40 have continued to use drugs, mostly marijuana and cocaine.

Only one percent of the doctors said their drug use caused them to give their patients poor treatment.

Father's Letters Become Legacy Of Love For Sons

DEAR READERS: Once upon a time there was a young father named Patrick Connolly, who suffered from a conflict many busy parents face. He left for work before his children woke up and frequently got home after they had gone to bed. His sons were 8 and 10 when he started to leave little notes for his sleeping children, offering advice, encouragement and loving messages to let them know that he was thinking of had found a wonderful way to them. He even illustrated some communicate with his children. that included every member of with common-sense messages the family plus the family dog. These notes were varied, from little poems, riddles, wholesome to grow up to be decent, honest bits of philosophy to simple and hardworking. It's written reminders — "I love you, guys." with a sense of humor, yet reminders — "I love you, guya."

Another reads: "It's a new day. God gives us new days so we can continue with our successes, or start over if we goofed yesterday." Each note was signed, "Love, Dad."

Two years ago, the Connolly boys received their last daily note from their dad. At the age of 41, Connolly died suddenly of a massive heart attack. After his death, his family looked through the priceless collection of notes that Mrs. Connolly had saved in a show box and selected the most meaningful to publish as a Family fun is the theme of this year's All Souls Catholic Church Fall Festival, Oct. 3-5 on the church grounds, Ninth at Oak Street, Sanford.

From special attractions for children to a teen dance to an auction and old-fashioned games for adults, the festival is geared to provide wholesome entertainment at moderate cost. Admission is free.

"We have purposely kept prices as low as possible so the whole family can take part." said Karen Reilly-Morton, co-chairman with Joan Hoening for this year's event. "We want to encourage community involvement, and believe that keeping it as economical as possible, we will

As part of the community involvement interest. Mrs. Morton said a number of government and private service organizations will take part in the festival. Among the groups are the Missing Children's Center, which will provide fingerprinting of children: Seminole County Sheriff's Department and Explorers; Sanford Police Department: Sanford Fire Department: Centrl Florida Zoo, which will bring a petting zoo on Saturday, Oct. 4; Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross; East Central Florida Transplant Association: and Central Florida Regional Hospital. All their displays and exhibitions are free, said Mrs. Morton.

Another aspect of community involvement is the "grudge dunk," pitting techers and administrators from Lake Mary and Sanford Seminole high schools. It is aimed at promoting friendly rivalry between the neighboring schools. Mrs. Morton said, and also will provide students a chance to prove their teachers really are "all Other city and county officials also are being lined up to participate in the dunking

Also spotlighted on Sunday will be "oldfashioned contests," such as determining Sanford's best hula-hooper, or fastest ice cream and pie eater. Other contests include egg and water-balloon toss, and wheelbarrow and threelegged races. Pre-registration for these contests is required at festival grounds, with a fee of 25¢ per person per event.

Saturday will have two special night attractions. For teen-agers, there is a free dance in the festival courtyard, featuring as disc jockey Lt. Bo Taylor of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department. For adults, there will be an auction of new merchandise donated by Sanford are businesses. parishioners and friends of All Souls Catholic

A Kiddy Land for the young children will operate all three days. Children in Kiddy Land will have a full scope of activities, including "clown facing." fingerpainting. "kiddy crafts." and a fishing pond booth with live lish (which not be hooked; they are there for looks only!).

Meals will be served daily, with fast foods available all the time of the festival. Dinners will be catfish from 5-7 p.m. Friday; spaghetti from 5-7 p.m. Saturday; and barbecue chicken from 1-5 p.m. Sunday, at a cost of $3.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. A Sunday breakfast will be served from 9 a.m. to noon, at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children 3-12.

The low meal prices underscore the parish wide effort being made to support this year's festival, Mrs. Morton said, as parishioners and friends of the parish have donated most items for the meals, helping keep the prices more affordable.

Other highlights of the festival include homemade arts and crafts and baked goods, and a rame for a new, 1986 Pontiac 1000. Tickets for the raffle are available from parishioners or at the festival for a donation of $3 each.

Hours of the festival will be from 5 to 10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3; from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 4: and from 1-6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 5.

To get to the church grounds, take State Road 46 exit off Interstate 4 and go east of Park Avenue in downtown Sanford. Turn south on Park and go to Ninth Street. Turn right on Ninth and go one block to Oak Street.

The Fine Arts Theatre of ered. Seminole Community College announces its 16th season for 1986-87. Productions planned allow a "light" reflection of several topics confronting the human condition.

"Joe Egg" by Peter Nichols. directed by Sara Z. Daspin, will be the season opener. John Simon describes it as: "... a marvelous demonstration of how people cope, or try to cope, with the impossible: how their small successes are heroic and heartwarming and excrutiatingly funny: how their failures are infinitely forgivable." Production dates are Oct. 29-Nov. 2. The second production is "Coming Attractions" by Ted Tally, music by Jack Feldman and lyrirs by Bruce Sussman. "Coming Attractions" sticks a satiric needle into celebrity cults. pop culture and the criminal as an artist. Does society allow an individual of questionable character to pursue wealth, name and fame? Performances are planned for Dec. 10-14.

"Arms and the Man" by George Bernard Shaw is one of his earliest works. When first produced this comic demolition of martial heroics and the Victorian concept of romantic love was shocking enough to elicit "boos." Performances will be presented Feb. 18-22.

April 8-12 will be the fourth production of the season with several comedies being consid-

The final production of the Fine Arts Theatre's 16th season. Ayn Rand's "The Night of January 16th," will require the audience to decide the ending of the play. The audience site in the jury box and chooses whether Karen Andre is guilty or innocent in this classic courtroom drama/comedy. Production dates are June 10-14. Curtain time for all performances will be 8 p.m. Sunday matinees will be at 2 p.m. Season tickets may be obtained at $20 for general admission and $16 for students and senior citizens. Individual ticket prices are $5 and $4. The SCC Fine Arts Theatre Box Office opens

SCC Theatre Open To Public Oct. 14 for season tickets. Hours are 11 a.m.-4 p.m. Monday through Friday. For further information call 323-1450 or 843-7001 extension 399.

Hair Growth May Go Away, But May Not

DEAR DR. GOTT - I'm Can they be cured? female, and about five months ago I had an adrenal gland removed because of Cushing's disease. Many of the typical symptoms (moonface, water retention, bruising easily) have disappeared, but I still have an abnormal amount of facial hair. Will I ever lose this?

DEAR READER - That's hard to say. Often, the hair growth that is a consequence of Cushing's disease (excess adrenal hormones) disappears in weeks or months. In other patients, the excess hair remains and may have to be removed.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Every piece of clothing I wear gives me a crawling sensation. I had a few blood tests and one showed that my thyroid reading was high. but the others were normal. The doctor says this sensation is due to anxiety. I'm 21. Do you agree with his conclusion?

DEAR READER - If your thyroid-hormone level is high. your symptoms may be due to a physical cause, not anxiety. Overabundant thyroid hormone can cause skin sensitivity, as well as a host of other reactions, including nervousness, rapid heart rate, weight loss and increased sweating. Have your thyroid level checked by another doctor, preferably one who is more familiar with thyroid dis-

DEAR DR. GOTT - I don't know if I'm a bundle of nerves or if it's my heart. Sometimes it thumps so hard that I think it's going to jump out of my chest, and I get short of breath. Do I need to see a doctor?

DEAR READER - If you are as bothered by heart-thumping as you seem to be, you should see a doctor. Everybody has palpitations once in a while, but when they are forceful or frequent, a medical checkup usually will show if they should be treated.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I have 62 Antipathy cysts on the outside of my lungs and have to see my family doctor every two months so he can give me a prescription to help manage my chronic bronchitis. The doctors all say that nothing can be done about the cysts unless they give me problems.

DEAR READER - The cysts you describe may be bullae - a bubbling of small portions of lung. These air-filled sacs are permanent and can appear in patients with asthma, emphysema or chronic bronchitis.

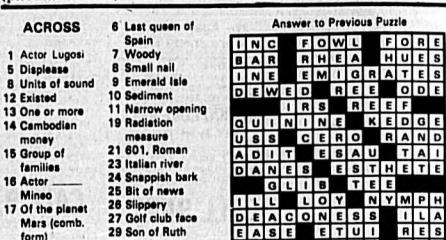

The cysts will not harm you unless, like weak parts of a balloon, they break, releasing air outside the lung and causing partial collapse of lung tissue (pneumothorax). The bullae cannot be cured, but, if necessary, they can be surgically removed.

To give you more information about lung problems in general, I'm sending you a free copy of my new Health Report, LIVING WITH CHRONIC LUNG DIS-EASE. Others who would like a copy should send $1 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Bruce Ferguson of Boise is considered to be the number one player in Idaho and several neighboring states. I admire the quality of his expertise because it is lacking in self-consciousness. Although he rarely makes a mistake, he's not embarrassed to talk about it if he does err. Cover the East and West hands of today's deal and see if you would do better than Bruce did as declarer.

at five hearts, When North passed from fright, Bruce took that as will- the contract.

ingness to play six, so he bid the slam. He ruffed the opening heart lead and played A-K-Q of diamonds. Declarer could now run the jack of clubs. When that won the trick, he next played a club to his queen. When West showed out on the second club, declarer had to go set a trick.

In retrospect, the right play is obvi-ous. Since West might well hold a singleton club, declarer should play only the ace and king of diamonds, preserv ing the diamond queen as an entry to dummy. Then he should play a club to Bruce, as South, had no real chance the queen. When that wins, a diamond to investigate slam after East had to the queen draws the last trump, and jumped right to four hearts. Bruce now the jack of clubs from dummy thought he had settled in a safe five-diamond contract, but West sacrificed er can shed two spades on the clubs, ruff one of his spade losers and make

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring... YOUR BIRTHDAY SEPTEMBER 30, 1986

Your financial prospects look encouraging for the year ahead. The same people who have been helpful to you in the past will create ways for you to add to your resources.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Someone with whom you've had a problem may try to make amends today. If you are not receptive, it could irritate this person further, and he or she may give up trying. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

BCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A situation that thus far has not been working out too well is about to improve. You won't get all you want, but you will be better off than before.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A material objective for which you'll be striving today can be fulfilled, but you must take care that you do not alienate associates in the pro-

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Treat others kindly today. but don't act against your best interests just to placate a sorehead. You know how to do what needs doing without making enemies.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You won't make points with a friend today if you keep reminding this person how much you have done for him or her and how little he or she has done for PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) In order for a collective effort to succeed today, all parties must be in complete harmony. If there is discord, you might not attain your goals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Jobs that you enjoy doing will be a snap for you today, but if you are required to perform a task you dislike, production could come to a halt.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A joint venture you are involved in is a touch-and-go situation to-day. It could collapse if the parties involved behave in a selfish fashion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's best today that you follow through on a commitment that you made to another, even though you'd like to revoke it owing to a change in circumstances.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't expect immediate acknowledgement of something you'll do for another today. But your helpfulness won't be overlooked, provided your motivation is sincere.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's not a wise policy today to spend money that you expect to receive shortly. If it's delayed, it would throw your budget out of whack.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

There is a possibility that you might step out of character today and not be as grateful as you should to persons who are trying to help you.
