Oviedo store investigated

Investigators are continuing to look into an Oviedo convenience store that was allegedly dealing in stolen property.

On August 11, investigative officers from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office and the Orange County Sheriff's Office conducted a sting operation at the Express Deli and Convenience Store, located at 1389 West Broadway Ave. in Oviedo. The store was suspected of receiving and selling stolen property.

Investigators conducted a search at the business and recovered golf clubs, computers, power tools as well as counterfeit apparel such as Oakley sunglasses, collegiate clothing and name brand watches, said Sheriff's Office Spokesman Steve Olson.

The operator, 43-year old Viet Anh Tran, and his 20-year old nephew He Minh, were arrested and charged collectively with eleven counts of dealing in stolen property and one count of delivery of alcohol to a minor.

Investigators are still trying to determine how long the illegal activity was operating, Olson said.

Anyone with information can contact the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, District Four, at (407) 977-0077.

Maitland man appointed to state post

Maitland resident William "Bill" Donegan is among the five appointed to the Florida Commission on Ethics Friday by Governor Jeb Bush.

Donegan, 59, is director of government relations with ZHA Inc. His term begins Aug. 20 and ends June 30, 2001.

Other appointments whose terms begin Aug. 20 and end June 30, 2001, include Ronald S. Spencer, Jr., 69, of Tallahassee, senior vice president of SunTrust Banks of Florida Inc.; Dr. Mack King Carter, 52, of Fort Lauderdale, senior pastor of Mount Olive Baptist Church; and Rabbi Bruce S. Warshel, 62, of Hillsboro Beach, publisher of the Jewish Journal and the Sun Sentinel Community News Group.

In addition, Peter Prieto, 38, of Coral Gables was reappointed for a term beginning Aug. 20, and ending June 30, 2000. Prieto is an attorney with Holland and Knight LLP.

Commission looks to create new park

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Three acres of property on 13th Street may become Sanford's newest park.

The Sanford City Commission on Monday will consider accepting the land, located in the 800 block of 13th Street, as a donation and developing it into the new 13th Street Recreation Complex.

The city currently has 35 designated parks, plus 25 other recreational areas, and more than 310 acres of park land.

"I think we should accept it," said Sanford Mayor Larry Dale. "It's a pretty good sized piece of property, and it would be a nice addition for the community."

The new Recreation Complex would feature five basketball courts, lighting, and a picnic shelter with picnic tables and grills. The total cost of the project is estimated at $287,512.

If the City Commission accepts the property, funding would be sought through grants and donations.

Construction of the park would begin this fall, and may take two to three years to complete, said City Landscape Architect Howard Jeffries.

"The big thing is where is the funding coming from," Jeffries said.

Construction would be performed in three phases. Four-foot fencing, a drinking fountain, bike rack, waste receptacles,

Sanford airport prepares to expand terminal

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — As Pan American Airlines prepares to bring domestic service to the Orlando Sanford Airport, work is underway at the airport's terminals to brace for expanded flights.

By late September or October, Pan Am expects to begin regular service between Sanford, Chicago, Ill., and Portsmouth, N.H., said John Nadolny, senior vice president of Pan Am.

"It would be imprudent to speculate on dates," Nadolny said. "But, we are getting close."

A second set of flights, to be established at a later date, would connect Sanford with Atlanta, Portsmouth, and San Juan, P.R., Nadolny said.

Two Boeing 727's are being reconfigured to allow for greater passenger room. The planes, which normally seat 179 people, will now seat 149, Nadolny said.

Construction on the Orlando Sanford Airport's domestic terminal expansion program is set to begin in September, and the $24 million project could be complete in January of 2001.

The first phase of construction is expected to last six months and cost $5.5 million.

The second phase is expected to last eight months, and cost $10.4 million. By the end of the first two phases, in October of 2000, the airport will have five

Armored rescue vehicle

Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger, center, is joined by Polk County Sheriff Lawrence Crow, right, and Linda Gregory for a dedication of the department's new armored rescue vehicle. The vehicle was purchased from the Department of Defense for $1 and refurbished for approximately $16,000. Below: Gregory, whose husband Eugene was killed in the line of duty for the sheriff's department, says the vehicle could have saved her husband's life.

SANFORD — This is definitely not your father's Oldsmobile.

Seminole County Sheriff Don Eslinger officiated the christening of the department's armored rescue vehicle Friday, telling a gathering of law enforcement officials and the media, "I hope we never have to use it."

The converted military armored personnel carrier would be used in extreme situations where gunfire and hostile, standoff situations might develop, similar to last year's incident in which deputy Eugene Gregory was killed by a mentally disturbed Geneva man who held deputies at bay during a 13 hour gun battle before being shot to death.

His widow, Linda Gregory was among guests at the christening and told the audience, "This type of vehicle may not have saved my husband's life, but it would have ended the situation a lot sooner."

The Sheriff's department purchased the rescue vehicle for $1 through the Department of Defense and Textron Marine & Land Systems based in New Orleans.

Renovation of the vehicle and modification specifically for law enforcement purposes cost about $16,000.

"That's less than the price of one new patrol vehicle," Eslinger said.

For the past several months a total of 66 individuals and 25 different companies have lent a hand in restoring and modifying the vehicle that can operate on both land and in the water.

The department received donations in kind exceeding $4,000 on the project and more than

Grace to present trimmed budget to board

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — County Manager Kevin Grace has trimmed the 1999-'00 county budget and will present his paperwork to the Board of Commissioners on Tuesday.

Grace said Friday that his cuts will not reduce the safety nor services to the county's residents and businesses.

Grace will tell the commissioners that 12 of 30 proposed staff additions are not necessary. Sheriff Don Eslinger will get the personnel he requested - 21 fulltime positions and 4 part-time. The Board tentatively improved these.

Asked to trim $300,000 from the county's general fund, Grace trimmed $800,000. He did so because there is going to be a substantial increase in the health insurance for county employees - monies no one had penciled in previously.

The commissioners will approve the final budget after two public meetings in September.

"Well have to suck it up, provide the best service we can but forego some improvements we wanted to make for another year," Grace said. "We've established priorities. The overall budget is $450 million." Some $3.1 million is being held back from capital improvement funds.

Grace said that $1.8 million will be used for the design and

Seminole school board debates whether to allow soft drinks to be sold during school day

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Seminole County School Board on Tuesday will consider allowing carbonated beverages to be sold in high schools.

A ruling by Florida's Cabinet on Aug. 12 changed the State Board rules to enable the sale of carbonated beverages, at the high school level, during the school day. Until January 1998 Seminole County allowed the beverages to be sold.

Seminole County high schools are not obligated to wait until the board's decision on Tuesday to turn beverage machines on.

Under federal regulations, carbonated beverages still cannot be sold in areas where reimbursable meals are eaten or sold. Florida's Cabinet also said that full strength juice must be sold in the same area as the carbonated beverages.

Selling carbonated beverages provides schools with revenue to be used toward extracurricular activities, such as field trips and purchasing athletic equipment and uniforms. Local school boards now have the option of whether to allow carbonated beverages to be sold in high schools.

Seminole County high schools generated $300,000 in revenue through the sale of carbonated beverages during the 1997-98 school year, the last full year that the machines were in operation, according to the Food Services department.

"All of that revenue is used for the benefit of the students," said Linda Daniels, assistant director of Food Services for the school district. "We're expecting quite an impact."

Because of a change in state regulations in January of 1998, carbonated beverage machines in

Oviedo council approves parking, boardwalk proposals

By Bill Kerns
 Staff Writer

OVIDEO — The Oviedo City Council took a key step toward passing new parking restrictions this week.

The council unanimously passed the first reading of a parking restriction ordinance on Monday. The measure will come before the Council again for a public hearing on Sept. 7.

Under the ordinance, large vehicles would be prohibited from parking in a public road right-of-way directly adjacent to any residential property.

The vehicles prohibited from parking across from residential properties would include boat and camping trailers, recreational vehicles, semi-trailers, temporary living quarters, travel trailers, truck campers, tractors, or single-unit trucks.

The Council considered a draft ordinance during a Feb. 15 workshop that established parking regulations separate from the City's existing regulations. The Council asked staff to return with the revisions that were passed on first reading on Monday, deleting the term "commercial vehicles" from the ordinance because council agreed that the term is difficult to define.

The Oviedo Police Department would be authorized to issue fines and tickets in relation to parking violations.

"We're not going to be driving around looking for these vehicles," said Oviedo Police Chief Dennis Peterson. "It would be something we would do as we run across it."

Parking fines are $15, unless changed by the City Council, Peterson said.

Vehicles would be prohibited from parking in the right-of-way for the purpose of a display for sale or rent. In addition, vehicles could not be left parked in a right-of-way for washing, greasing, or for making repairs except in the case of an emergency.

Single unit trucks are defined by the ordinance as a truck typically measuring greater than 9.5 feet in height, eight feet in width, or 25 feet in length. Residential streets are defined by the ordinance as those streets whose function is to provide access to single family or multi-family purposes. In other action Monday, the council unanimously approved construction of the boardwalk at Sweetwater Park.

The City Council in July authorized construction of boardwalks at Sweetwater and Round Lake Parks at a cost of $397,978. However, Round Lake Park is not yet ready for construction of the boardwalk.

Construction of the two boardwalks separately will cost the city an additional $8,750. "Sweetwater Park is ready to have the boardwalk installed," said City Manager Eugene

Williford. "There have been delays at Round Lake Park."

The council did not gain a consensus to approve waiving water and sewer connection fees for public and private schools. Council members John Benson and Bob Dallari opposed the measure, while Gary Gotwalt said he did not favor waiving fees for private schools.

City staff said they would research how much waiving the fees would cost Oviedo taxpayers.

"It's kind of hard to justify waiving fees for schools when we're asking private businesses to pay their fair share of the cost," Dallari said.

In other action, the council also:

- Approved a special exception permit for Auto Mech & Muffler, to be located at 1301 W.

Broadway in the former Family Hut Lumber location. The permit allows the use of a motor vehicle repair and maintenance shop for operational vehicles in commercial zoning, with no long term storage longer than 30 days other than for vehicles being repaired.

- Passed three variances to the Land Development Code for driveway separation requirements requested by Watson Realty Corporation on a site plan of approximately 152 acres located on the east side of State Road 334 south of Chapman Road.

- Approved a contribution of $500 to help defray expenses for the Oviedo Little League Senior Girls Team to travel to Louisville, Kent, for the National South East Regionals. The team defeated Portland in the first game of the World Series.

Loving this dog of mine

No one should have a dog as good as Sneakers. And, I doubt if anyone does. Sneakers is better than most humans. She's a lady and a pal.

Sneakers is part Lhasa apso and part bichon-frise. A splendid combination. She looks like she is wearing the cutest, white sneakers. Hence the name.

Sneakers only weighs a pound or two more than the New York Times that she fetches early on Sunday mornings. We do the crossword puzzle together. Then, while I look at the sports page, Sneakers reads the A section - she's quite the news hound.

One of the countless things I love about Sneakers is her performing skills. This little girl can dance on air like Ginger Rogers and give good face like Rita Hayworth. She's got the attitude to put anyone in the mood - especially when you give her people food.

We had pizza last night - Sneakers and I - pepperoni and extra cheese. Ever since we watched the home video of As Good as It Gets, Sneakers has been big on bacon. She thinks I'm better than Jack Nicholson. H-e-r-e-'s Johnnnny!

So, last weekend Sneakers and I drove around town to check out what was going on.

These are the dog days, you know. We saw one dog - a boxer - sparring in a sprinkler system. We spotted a thirsty Chihuahua at Taco Bell. The goofiest thing was happening at Jean Metta's 4th Street soup kitchen - a dozen junk yard dogs looking for handouts. One of the neighbors came out with a poop-scooper. Sneakers snickered.

Sneakers wanted to go to Taintsville. She had read about it in the Herald. She thought we made it up. She really didn't believe there was a Taintsville. That it was a fictional place like Pleasantville. Then, she saw the sign - Taintsville. We toured Taintsville and headed toward Longwood.

Where do they have the arts & craft show, Sneakers wanted to know. They may not have one this year, I said. Some folks are suing the city because they can't get in and out of their old town homes. Too bad, Sneakers said. We found out that they also stopped the annual dog day contest. "I have a bone to pick with them," Sneakers said.

Sneakers recently celebrated her second birthday. The youngsters in the neighborhood came over. They love to take Sneakers for walks. She's the kind of dog who's no trouble. She behaves. She makes the kids giggle. Grownups giggle, too.

The wife and I had a mutt named Lucky, who lived with us for 17 years. When Lucky died, our sons cried. Lucky had been with them a long time. She was definitely family. The boys are married now. One has a retriever named Molson. The other has two cats. My wife thought we would never have a dog.

Then, a friend brought us Sneakers.

Like I say, no one should be as lucky as we are.

Our View

Above Average

It would be easy to take for granted the high test scores of Seminole County students.

Once again, Seminole County students scored above state and national averages on standardized test scores released this week.

The composite score for Seminole County's graduating seniors taking the ACT exam for entrance into college was 21.9 on a scale of 1 to 36, well above the state's average of 20.6 and the national average of 21.0.

Seminole's scores remained steady, while the state's scores dropped slightly from 20.8 in 1998.

Lake Mary and Oviedo high schools particularly deserve credit. Lake Mary had the highest composite score in the district, while Oviedo's scores improved by the greatest number of points.

The scores reflect only graduating seniors who are seeking admittance into college. Statewide, 36 percent of graduating seniors took the test. However, Seminole County students are consistently making high marks in a wide variety of standardized tests.

County 10th graders tied the top math score on a statewide test measuring mathematics and reading skills. County 10th graders also tied for the top writing score for the 17 largest school districts in the state in a test measuring writing skills.

County students scored above state averages in all areas of the Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test and the Florida Writes! tests. County 10th graders ranked second in reading, and second overall on the writing portion of the test.

Seminole County's elementary, middle and high school students made gains in every category of the FCAT and Florida Writes! tests.

Among Seminole County students taking the post-secondary education test in 1997-98, 70.6 percent passed all three sections of the test, the highest percentage in Central Florida.

In addition, out of the 740 Seminole County public school students who entered the state university system, 96.6 percent passed all three areas of the test.

If revisions to grades issued in a statewide review are accepted by the Florida Department of Education, Seminole County would be the second highest ranking district in the state.

The consistent high performance of Seminole County students is a testament to teachers and leadership district-wide. The overtime that many teacher put in tutoring students and working with parents is paying off.

Daub thanks those who lend a hand

To the editor:

I am a single mother on Welfare that uses the Commodity food that is distributed on a monthly basis.

Upon my last trip I was handed several articles saying that no one uses this or needs this service they provide for the needy.

They give all they can and help so many of us each day. On a pick up day there are normally 25 people waiting in line a half hour before they open. Once inside several volunteers take our name and family history.

Each one of us appreciates, needs, and supports the continued efforts of the staff. Our voices need the ears of the public.

We are not ignorant nor pit-ful. We work, raise children, keep a home if possible and do the best we can to survive. If it weren't for places like the Salvation Army, The Christian Sharing Center, The Human Crisis Council, The Food Commodity Bank and Goodwill many of us would go without food, shelter, clothes or dignity.

Thank you for your time, Ms. Daub

Daugherty wonders about zoo donation

To the editor:

I was surprised when I read the article about the school board giving all that money to the zoo. I read that the teachers and parents have to bring in pencils and paper for the students.

I think it is time that someone looks into how much money the lotto is giving to schools and how it is being used.

Holcomb disagrees with White's column

To the editor:

I had planned to write a lengthy rebuttal to Russ White's Sunday article on Larry Dale but decided he wasn't worth it. Anyone who resorts to the ploy of using unidentified "we" and "us" to prop-up his obviously biased opinion is in shallow water. His laudatory comments regarding the mayor and insulting remarks regarding Ft. Mellon Park, such as "It's the city's park not theirs. Reclaim it." suggests egomania or at least a total disregard for the citizens of Sanford.

And as a citizen, I do not agree with White's closing remarks, "It is the good fortune of Sanford to have you as its mayor. You are a success." Who is White to make such an illogical and erroneous statement? Neither Russ White nor Larry Dale is stupid, but can be mistaken and misdirected much like Icarus in his ill-fated attempt for the sun. Watch out, less these conjectures melt the wax on your wings. "...our Best Mayor Ever" is a White statement so wrong it is ludicrous and a slap in the face of all the previous mayors of Sanford.

Shame on you Russ White using your journalistic pulpit to espouse ideas and opinions that do a disservice to the city of Sanford.

Sincerely,
Mark Holcomb

The Meter

Who measured up this week? Not the skit writers at the annual Hob Nob. With acting like that, the boys from UCF will have another Blair Witch Project on their hands. Never fear though, Sheriff Don has got just the vehicle for such theatrical assaults. Read On!

Sign on the dotted line: Longwood petitioners backed up their rhetoric by collecting 886 signatures guaranteeing voters get a say on charter amendments. Now comes the real battle — explaining all 13 to voters.

Rolling Thunder: It's armor-plated and can swim. More importantly, for $18,000 it could prevent another Geneva shoot-out incident and keep deputies out of the line of fire. Rumor has it Sheriff Don has contacted the Pentagon inquiring about surplus Stealth Bombers.

Hobbled nob: The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce needs a geography lesson. No more Hob Nobs in Orange County. Have the thing at Ft. Mellon Park. Or try the soup kitchen on Fourth Street next time. No more skits and warm beer. The Hob Nob last week was a loser. Ask Grant Maloy!

Looking for Mr. Wright: Is Ken Wright really Superman? He's everywhere. Every committee. Every County meeting. Gov. Jeb Bush just tapped him to head the state environmental team. Attorney Wright represents developers trying to build here. He also does legal work for the county commission. Spike Lee may do a Ken Wright movie - "The Man Who Do Too Much."

On the ball: Speaking of Superman, his colleague at the Daily Plant, cub reporter Jimmy Olson, must have kin in Seminole County — specifically Steve Olson. In his first week on the job as spokesman for the Seminole County Sheriff's Office, the former Channel 9 reporter, shows he actually understands how the media works and respects the concepts of deadlines and news cycles. Now if he could just redo that lead ...

Midway Roadrunners: Talk about being prepared. When Principal Sharon Tanner and her students at Midway Elementary knew Lt. Gov. Frank Brogan was paying a visit, they showed him more than a red carpet. One lad even taught Brogan how to play a violin.

More bark than bite: How serious are the WATCH DOG folks? Not very if their petition to the Ethics Commission is any indication. They made a lot of noise about county commissioners conspiring to do evil then promptly misfiled their petition. The ethics board rejected it for failure to follow even the simplest of procedures. Will they refile the complaints? Don't count on it. They've ridden that political pony for all it's worth.

Party-boy past should make Bush more compassionate

Whether or not he'd make a good president, George W. Bush seems a likable guy. By all accounts, he is easygoing and affable, lacking the meanness and moral hypocrisy that have characterized too many GOP leaders over the past several years.

It is unlikely that his near-admission of past use of illegal narcotics will damage his standing with the voters. The American public is mature enough to accept something less than perfection in its politicians, understanding that it would be hard to find enough people to run the country if they all had to swear to a history untainted by adultery, illegal drug use, drunken escapades or foul language.

But as the runaway front-runner for the GOP presidential nomination, Bush needs to own up to the good fortune of his race and affluence, which have combined to allow him to escape the harsh punishments doled out to black and brown users of illegal drugs.

America's hard-core prisons count among their inmates men and women whose only crimes have been to abuse their own bodies and betray their own families. Bush needs to moderate his tough law-and-order stance enough to admit that the so-called war on drugs is nothing but a race- and class-conscious farce.

For months, Bush has attempted to dodge questions about whether his party-boy past included using cocaine. While all the other presidential contenders have issued broad denials of cocaine use, he has refused to do so. And last Wednesday, he gave only limited denials, the first in response to a question from The Dallas Morning News about background checks for high-ranking presidential appointees.

"As I understand it, the current form asks the question, 'Did somebody use drugs within the last seven years?' and I will be glad to answer that question, and the answer is no," Bush said. Later, Bush said he had not used illegal drugs for a period of at least 25 years.

Though that is unlikely to put the matter to rest (even Oklahoma Gov. Frank Keating, a prominent Bush supporter, has urged him to stop dodging the question), it is also unlikely that the voters would care if Bush were to admit having used cocaine. Last year's race for the Georgia lieutenant governor's post shows an electorate willing to forgive such things.

During the campaign, Democratic nominee Mark Taylor was confronted with admissions of his own past cocaine use — admissions that became public because they were part of sworn proceedings during his divorce. He still won handily over a well-financed Republican opponent, drawing heavy support from conservative rural areas. If Georgia's Bible Belt voters didn't care about Taylor's past cocaine use, it's unlikely to make much difference for Bush.

Nevertheless, there is something troubling here, more troubling than whether a high-profile politician ever abused illegal narcotics. Bush — like Taylor — seems never to have compared his own experience to that of the thousands of men and women who have been sentenced to long stretches in prison for nothing more than possession of small amounts of cocaine, usually in crack form. Might some of those men and women have gone on to become productive citizens — public officials even — if they had not been ensnared by an unfair criminal justice system?

As the GOP front-runner, Bush has a prominent post from which to denounce the inequities in federal drug laws. Under federal law, it takes 100 times as much powdered cocaine as crack to land you in jail.

Here's another inequity: Though African-Americans make up 13 percent of the nation's regular drug users, they represent 35 percent of narcotics arrests, 55 percent of convictions and 74 percent of those receiving prison sentences, according to the Sentencing Project, an advocacy group that lobbies for alternatives to prison.

It doesn't matter whether Bush used cocaine seven years ago or 17. What does matter is whether the ease with which he has rebounded from all his youthful indiscretions left him with compassion or merely arrogance.

George W's real problem

George W. Bush's real problem is not the cocaine he may or may not have tried somewhere in the distant past. His problem is that he doesn't have the kind of people around him to handle his equivalent of "bimbo eruptions." He needs a cadre of ethically challenged minions such as President Clinton had and has, who follow their leader and lie to anyone about anything in order to get their guy elected and keep him in office.

Cal Thomas

This president has so lowered the moral, ethical and legal bar that it is hard to see how anyone can get under it. The national press — many of whom experimented with drugs in their "youth" — refused to hold the Clinton administration accountable when many of its staffers failed to qualify for security clearances. The buzz was that they probably would have had to admit drug use in their very recent past. Instead of telling the truth, they got around it by accepting "temporary passes," allowing them access to government secrets when they had not passed the mandatory FBI background checks.

According to the Media Research Center, at least two networks — NBC and ABC — lagged far behind other news outlets when Juanita Broadrick first charged that Bill Clinton raped her when he was Arkansas attorney general. But they are all over the Bush coaine story, even though no one has made any charge of drug abuse by the governor. Why should Bush's credibility be called into question when he lectures young people about the evils of drug abuse and President Clinton's credibility is not questioned when he advises teenage girls not to have premarital sex? "The questions just won't go away," say the various coiffed anchors. That's because they keep asking them.

When you run for president, you should expect to keep no secrets. Whoever knows what you did wrong in the past will be found by a tabloid, or a reporter, or a political operative working for your opponents. That's why it is important to issue a press release or write a book in which you include every known sin you've committed before you announce your candidacy. The lure for the press is what you haven't told them and what they can find out to advance their careers. If you tell them up front, your wrongdoing loses power and is less useful in their eyes.

Unlike Bill Clinton, George W. Bush testifies to having had a life-changing experience. This resonates with many people who have similar testimonies. I recall a black preacher once saying about a white preacher who used to preach segregation but long ago repented: "I'm not so much interested in where a man was 25 years ago as where he is today." That's a good standard to apply in the case of Bush. If he were a hypocrite and currently leading a secret life, that would be one thing. But none of his challengers for the nomination or Democrats are accusing him of an ongoing, reckless lifestyle.

What should Bush do now? The temptation is to stonewall and not say another word about it. That won't work without a lying staff, an enabling wife and a fawning press. But let him own up in church or before a group of recovering addicts, not at a press conference, where confession is not good for the political soul. There, he can say what he did with drugs and why it was wrong and that he asked for and received forgiveness from God and his family. He should then say that he agrees with President Clinton who said (but apparently didn't mean it) that the politics of personal destruction should end. Bush should say that he wants to talk about the future, not his past or anyone else's past. His past isn't going to help or harm anyone's future. But his ideas about the future could impact the nation.

That approach might not fully silence the press on personal issues, but it probably would satisfy the public. Since surveys reveal the press usually votes for Democrats, the public is the only constituency Bush must please.

Holcomb disagrees with White's column

To the editor:

As Seminole County property owners for over 30 years, we have paid and continued to pay our share of taxes towards schools, etc. Although our children are grown and out of school our grandchildren are now in line and we wholeheartedly support a good school system.

Also, we are not against the zoo. We want them to provide the best care and living conditions for the animals. But... we must question the priorities when we note in recent news (Seminole Herald 8/12/99 and Orlando Sentinel 8/15/99) Seminole County School Board is donating $1 million to the zoo! ...Yet the same news also notes "Equipment donations needed for Seminole County Public Schools." And again on 8/18 Seminole Herald notes that during the hob nob straw vote the majority favored sales tax increase to pay for Seminole County School renovations and new construction.

What part of this do we not understand?

Democratic delegates to meet in Orlando

The Florida Democratic Party's State Convention will be held in Orlando on Dec. 1-12.

The Democratic Executive Committee (DEC) will hold an election at its monthly meeting in October to select the delegates. Those selected will have the opportunity to participate in the convention's straw ballot, which will be the first state contest between Al Gore and Bill Bradley.

The prospective delegates must be registered Democrats in Seminole County and file a qualification form with the Seminole County DEC before Sept. 6.

Qualification forms and further information may be obtained by calling 622-1738 or 324-2776.

The next meeting of the DEC will be held Sept. 9 at the Seminole County Public Library, 215 N. Oxford Road in Casselberry, at 7 p.m.

Longwood considers next step in lawsuit

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—City commissioners will huddle in executive session with city attorney Richard Taylor Monday night to discuss Longwood's next step in addressing a law suit that has been filed against the city over the annual Fall Arts Festival.

Winter Springs attorney Mike Jones filed the suit on behalf of half-a dozen homeowners who reside on Warren Avenue. His complaint contends the closing of Warren Avenue for the two day festival denies property owners there access to their homes, allows trespassing on their property, and denies their civil rights.

The suit against Longwood seeks $15,000 in damages plus attorneys fees and court costs.

There were two related developments this week regarding the suit. One of the original plaintiff's, William DeRosa has asked that his name be removed from the legal action against the city. City attorney Taylor also filed a motion with Seminole Circuit court to have judge Tom Freeman precluded from hearing the case. Taylor opposed Freeman in a previous election for a seat on the Florida Bar's Board of Governors and says past political baggage puts the city in a disadvantage if Freeman is the presiding judge in the matter.

Following conclusion of the executive session scheduled for 6:45 p.m., commissioners will hold a workshop session. They are expected to review Ordinance 99-1486 which amends selected sections of the city's Land Development Code pertaining to permitted uses, conditional uses, and accessory uses.

Also up for discussion is a review of Ordinance 99-1441, repealing and replacing Article 6, dealing with Longwood's sign regulations.

high schools statewide were turned off from the beginning of the school day until one hour after the last lunch was served.

The Seminole County School Board has a current policy on vending that was written to comply with Federal regulations, and is in compliance with the new State Board rule, said John Pavelchak, executive director of finance and budgeting for the school district.

The policy was placed on hold last year when the more restrictive state rule was in effect. Schools are now free to again operate under the School Board's policy, Pavelchak said.

"We will simply go back to doing what we were doing before," Pavelchak said.

Lake Howell High School has a contract to sell Pepsi products. Every other high school in Seminole County sells Coca-Cola products.

Sanford Employee of the Month

Sanford City Manager Tony VanDerworp presents Cynthia Porter with the Employee of the Month Award and City Clerk Janet Dougherty helps out. In her nominating letter, Dougherty said Porter, who is the deputy city clerk, is the "personification of teamwork." Dougherty said Porter is always willing to help others, and many times volunteers her services before being asked.

lighting, three basketball courts and player benches, irrigation and sodding would be installed during the first phase.

A multipurpose play area, restrooms, the picnic area, a paved parking area, park benches, and additional waste receptacles would be installed during the second phase.

Finally, two additional basketball courts, perimeter fencing, complete landscaping and irrigation, and additional player benches and waste receptacles would be installed in the third phase.

The annual maintenance for the facility is estimated to be $2,500. Sanford currently spends $2 million on park maintenance per year, city officials said.

In other action, the City Commission will consider a request from Westlake Plantation-Rose Hill Phase II to rezone 76.85 acres of property located at 4045 South Sanford Avenue from agriculture to planned development, making way for a 334-unit single family residential development.

The site is currently vacant. Rose Hill, a single family subdivision approved for 67 units, is located north of the site and is under development.

City staff is recommending that approval be conditional upon a brick wall being constructed adjacent to lots on Sanford Avenue, Pine Way and Mellonville Avenue, the dedication of adequate right-of-ways, and consistency with the development's master plan.

Dale said he also would like to see a 25-foot landscape buffer installed, and the number of units reduced to 260.

"With these changes, I think this would be a fair way to do it," Dale said. "Now, not everyone's going to like it."

The City Commission will also:

sewer impact fees for private schools.

- Discuss the Sanford Airport Authority's financial report for the quarter ending June 30, and proposed budget for fiscal year 1999/2000.

- Consider amending an agreement with GEI Consultants, Inc. increasing the budget for Gasification Plant work by $215,255. The city's 125 percent portion of the increase will be $26,906.

Attention Kmart Shoppers

On the front page of our Kmart August 22, 1999 Weekly Ad Circular, Girl's Rider capri pants is incorrectly stated as Reg. Price 14.99, Sale Price 11.99. The correct price should read Reg. Price 18.99, Sale Price 14.99.

We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused our customers.

Budget

engineering costs for construction of a Criminal Justice Center at Five Points. The Commission approved the center by a 4-1 vote - District 5 Commissioner Daryl McLain objecting.

Moneys for the Sanford zoo and Kid's Home are included in Grace's accounting, but the sheriff's request for jailhouse expansion has not been addressed.

Importantly, the mileage rate has been cut $1.5 million - giving a the owner of a $100,000 home a $9 tax break.

Tuesday's meetings begin at 9:30 a.m., resuming at 1:30 p.m. and at 7 p.m. Deputy County Attorney Lonnie Groot will give the commission a legislative update in the morning and discuss the 2000 Seminole County Legislative Program.

In the afternoon, Executive Director Dennis Dolgner will discuss the proposed Seminole County Port Authority budget.

The agenda for the evening session includes five future land use amendments, three of them in District 5.

Say Goodbye To Starvation Diets Forever Amazing Fat Fighting Pill Ends Hunger- Guarantees Super Fast Weight Loss!

U. S. Patent reveals weight loss of as much as 28 lbs. in 4 weeks and 48 lbs. in 8 weeks.

Las Vegas, NV - There now exists an all natural, bio-active weight-loss compound so powerful, so effective, so relentless in its awesome attack on bulging fatty deposits that it has virtually eliminated the need to diet.

News of this super pill from Asia is sweeping the country. The product is called FatStopper 2000 and it's dynamite!

In fact, thousands of people are now trying FatStopper 2000 and losing weight faster than ever before! People throughout the country are reporting incredible weight losses.

EXCESS CALORIES ARE FLUSHED RIGHT OUT OF YOUR BODY!

FatStopper 2000 ingredients were developed in Asia by medical researchers. The product contains no drugs whatsoever. It's ingredients are derived from a certain plant that grows primarily in Southern Asia.

The technical name is Amorphophallus Konjac which comes from the Konjac root.

Why the Konjac root? For years it was a widely held belief that extracts of the Konjac root had magical properties. When a person ate a small amount of this unique plant extract they would miraculously lose weight!

Researchers investigated this phenomenon and discovered, through sophisticated testing, that the plant extract did indeed cause the human body to bring about rapid weight-loss.

Actually the way it works is truly extraordinary.

Shortly after taking small portions of the plant extract it dissolves into a completely natural gel which surrounds excess figure destroying calories and prevents them from forming body fat.

This action actually alters the time contact is made with the intestinal membrane! In addition and more importantly this remarkable plant gives you a natural feeling of fullness so you're not hungry while your excess weight comes tumbling off.

The research team was so impressed with the plant extract's abilities that they produced an amazing weight-loss pill which uses the key ingredients of this plant extract.

But what's even more impressive, the FatStopper 2000 pill actually surpasses the incredible powers of this plant extract because the FatStopper 2000 ingredients are so highly concentrated.

In fact, the FatStopper 2000 ingredient is so effective at producing massive weight-loss in record time that it was even awarded a patent for weight loss #3,973,008 by the United States Patent Office.

The clinical studies of both men and women revealed in this patent showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.5 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

The FatStopper 2000 ingredient was awarded patents in other countries as well, including Japan, France, Germany and the United Kingdom.

Another U.S. Patent #3,856,945 was awarded to this incredible product for its added ability to reduce harmful cholesterol levels.

As Japanese medical doctor Mutsuhiko Kuroki explains: when Amorphophallus Konjac enters the small intestines it "Blocks cholesterol absorption - reduces the amount of fat absorbed - prevents a sudden increase in blood glucose levels and normalizes the body's cholesterol level".

Clinical studies on Amorphophallus Konjac have been conducted in some of the worlds leading medical schools and Universities. The results of a number of scientific studies on this remarkable ingredient have already been published worldwide in major medical journals.

EAT ALL YOUR FAVORITE FOODS AND STILL LOSE WEIGHT (PILL DOES ALL THE WORK)

By now it should be obvious the FatStopper 2000 is no ordinary diet pill. Unlike other diet programs, once you've taken FatStopper 2000 there is really nothing else to do. You'll marvel at the way FatStopper 2000 literally reverses years of overeating.

You need only follow the simple instructions. That's it! You can continue to enjoy all those foods you love to eat. FatStopper 2000 makes it easy for you to simply not allow your body to consume and absorb excess calories. Period!

With FatStopper 2000 you can eat all of your favorite foods but because you will experience a natural feeling of fullness you will of course eat less, not feel hungry and thereby lose weight.

Each day you'll notice absolute visible results as your unwanted pounds of fat, flab and cellulite completely disappear.

There is even a low fat, low calorie diet that comes with the FatStopper 2000 pills that together make up the entire program for those who want to eat healthier and lose weight faster. The key, as everyone knows, is not feeling hungry while the excess pounds and inches disappear.

However, a word of caution is in order. Because FatStopper 2000 is so effective at removing years of ugly fatty deposits and because FatStopper 2000 has absolutely no side effects, there is a tendency for some people to over do it. Do not allow yourself to become too thin.

Without changing the way they eat, and by simply adding the FatStopper 2000 ingredient to their normal meals, clinical studies of both men and women revealed in U. S. Patent #3,973,008 showed individual weight losses of as much as 28.65 pounds in 4 weeks - and as much as 48.50 pounds in 8 weeks: the average weight loss for all participants in that same time period was 33.9 pounds.

"I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks!"

"I cannot stand dieting. To me, giving up the foods I love to eat could be worse than being fat. FatStopper 2000 was a real lifesaver! I lost 49 pounds in just 8 1/2 weeks and never felt like I was on a diet. I've never looked or felt better. I know I am much healthier, too! My friends are all green with envy."
-Tanna D., San Diego, CA

Results not typical. Results will vary.

If you start to lose weight too rapidly, limit your pill intake, or even skip a day or two. Have a goal in mind and try not to go beyond it.

Also, before starting this or any weight loss program you should check with your physician to determine that you are in normal health! If you exercise that's great. If you don't, remember that simple walking or moderate exercise such as light aerobics will not only speed up your metabolism but will help tighten and tone muscles and skin as your excess weight and inches begin to disappear.

In addition to sand blasting, painting and decaling, among the modifications made specifically for the department's use were: adding new brakes and wheel bearings on all four wheels; the installation of two semi-truck sized air conditioning units; installation of a totally new dash board that was designed and crafted by deputy Mark Pergola; adding new fuel filters; cleaning and overhauling the vehicle's transmission; patching and covering the military vehicle's gun ports which now host sites for cameras that can feed video of a situation back to department communication centers; and the addition of night vision equipment added to the roof area of the vehicle.

Polk County Sheriff Lawrence Crow, a guest of Eslinger's at the christening told the audience, "In my tenure as sheriff I've seen seven deputies shot in the line of duty. As more people elect to use guns to resolve difficult situations, this type of equipment becomes more important."

On a lighter note Crow added, "We could pull up to a house and turn on the 125-watt public address system and ask someone who is holed up and armed, 'are you coming out or do you want us to come in?'"

Crow, whose department has a sister vehicle to Seminole County's added, "There have been a number of situations where we have used it."

Eslinger said to purchase the

Rescue vehicle's vital signs

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Break the law and chances are you wouldn't want the Seminole County Sheriff's department armored rescue vehicle pulling up in your rear view mirror or your driveway.

It's big. It's bad. And it's versatile, capable of operating on dry land and as an amphibious craft. Here are the rescue vehicle's vital statistics and operational abilities.

Although it has been modified from conventional military purposes for law enforcement work, the vehicle is officially known as a Cadillac GAGE V150S — that's Pentagon talk.

It weighs in at 20,860 pounds and has a payload rating of 7,500 pounds. Under the "hood" is a V8 Cummins Diesel engine capable of generating 202 gross horsepower at 330 revolutions per minute. Engine displacement is 504 cubic inches.

Capable of traveling on land and in the water, the rescue vehicle can hit a top speed of 60 miles per hour and can hit a high speed of three miles per hour when operating in its amphibious mode.

Its road operating range is 500 miles and cross-country range is 400 miles. Ground clearance under the hull is 25.5 inches and under the differential 15 inches.

How does it handle? Chief Deputy Sheriff Steve Harriett said he's taken it for a spin and commented, "It handles pretty good for a vehicle of its type."

Specific modification work completed for the sheriff's department includes the conversion from a 24 volt to 12 volt electrical system. All instrumentation has been replaced. The vehicle's bilge pumps for amphibious use have been upgraded from 46 gallons per minute to 66 gallons per minute. Its winch cable capacity has also been upgraded, from 10,000 pounds to 20,000 pounds. Two air conditioning units and a carbon monoxide detector have been installed as well as night vision equipment and a surround video system.

For communications purposes the vehicle is equipped with a 800 megahertz radio system connecting to the Seminole County Sheriff's department, a 800 megahertz radio system connected to County Net Radio, and a VHF radio system for intercity communications ability.

It has been totally sandblasted, painted "On Duty" green and decaled with Seminole County Sheriff's department insignia.

vehicle new would have cost the department over $300,000.

"We're excited to have it as a resource," he said.

Airport

operational gates for loading and unloading passengers.

The third phase will focus on the terminal's apron, and last 3 1/2 months at a cost of $7.6 million. A ramp will be designed to give the airport greater flexibility in servicing a variety of planes. By the end of the third phase, the airport will have at least seven gates.

The domestic terminal will be expanded by 103,000 square feet if all goes as airport officials are planning. The domestic terminal will also handle overflow international traffic.

Victor White, executive director of the Sanford Airport Authority, said that another seven to eight gates could be needed in the future.

Airport officials are seeking

Federal and State grants and other revenues to fund the third phase.

The airport is currently in the pre-construction phase of the expansion project, which includes preparing design drawings and has an estimated cost of $1.3 million.

White said there is a trend toward carriers such as Monarch and Airtours using larger planes, and the airport needs to build gates that can accommodate the larger planes.

Airport officials have been meeting with Pan Am and other carriers to find out what improvements the carriers want in the terminal. The improvements include greater ticket counter space, windows in corridors leading to international gates, and enhanced food and beverage stands, White said.

White said that even if funding for the third phase falls through, the first two phases could stand on their own.

AAU BASEBALL

ORLANDO - AAU Baseball will conduct individual showcase events across the country this summer with the purpose of aiding young players in their quest to play college or pro baseball.

A staff of qualified college coaches and pro scouts will conduct field testing and games and each participant will receive an evaluation of their playing abilities. This information will be put in a catalog and sent to area college and pro organizations.

Parents and players can also attend a seminar that will explain how to enhance chances of being seen by college and pro scouts, as well as academic requirements at each level of college ball and other pertinent topics.

The showcases are open to freshman through graduated senior players.

The top players in regional showcase will be invited to attend a national showcase at The Walt Disney World.

Local girls lead team to National Championship

Cooper, Swarthout star for Machine

Special to the Herald

LAKE BUENA VISTA - The Softball Machine girls' 16 & Under Class A Fast-Pitch tournament team won the AAU 16 & Under National Championship.

The week long tournament from July 17-23 was held at Walt Disney World's Wide World of Sports complex, a spectacular 100 million dollar softball complex.

The Machine was led by two local area girls, Lacey Swarthout of Colonial High School and Lauren Cooper of Lake Mary High.

Swarthout, a pitcher, and Cooper, a shortstop, were both named to the AAU All-National Tournament Team.

The Machine started out slowly adapting to sweltering 100-plus temperatures.

After the initial bracket and elimination rounds, the Machine stood at one win and three losses, and was tied 3-3 halfway through their final elimination game.

A loss would have sent the team home and in last place.

"I thought that after the Southern California Royals (a Huntington Beach "all star team) put us in the bottom of the elimination bracket that we'd be done," said head coach Don Hillman. "But these girls are tough and they never, ever quit, they wanted to win no matter what."

A switch turned on and the Machine came back to defeat the Texas Rage of Deer Park, by a score of 7-3.

The Machine won the next two games, also against Texas teams.

They beat Texas High Voltage from Baytown (the Texas State Champs) 7-6 by coming back from a 6-1 deficit.

With only the tourney favorite, the Round Rock Rockets from Pflugerville, stood between the Machine and the championship game, the Machine won 4-1.

The Machine was 4-0 against Texas teams in the tourney.

The championship final was against the Coral Springs Alley Cats, a team which had handed the Machine one of their earlier defeats.

The big story of the championship finals was the pitching of Swarthout, a recent addition to the Machine. Swarthout, a pitcher for Dot's Diamonds, an

Manning gone, Gatling arrives

By Russ White
Staff Writer

ORLANDO - Forget the old Magic - the Orlando Magic have begun to scrap the team they never had.

On Thursday, Orlando General Manager John Gabriel shipped Danny Manning and Dale Ellis to the Milwaukee Bucks for Chris Gatling and Armon Gilliam - included in the deal are six dozen of Gatling's game-used headbands.

The four-player swap was the 16th transaction of the summer. The Magic have obtained 18 players or draft choices, dealt or waived 14. They traded Horace Grant to Seattle and obtained his twin brother Harvey from Philadelphia.

Manning, whose bum knees and expensive contract were a concern, spent less than a month on the Magic roster; Ellis was on it since June 30. Manning came to the Magic in the Anfernee Hardaway deal. Ellis came in a draft night deal with Seattle.

Gatling, a 1997 All-Star selection is an eight-year pro who was selected in the first round of the 1991 draft by the Golden State Warriors. He's 6-foot-10, 230 pounds. He's averaged 10 points and 5 rebounds a game. Those numbers were 5.7 and 3.7 last year for the New Jersey Nets and the Bucks. He played at Old Dominion College.

Gilliam, a 12-year pro from UNLV, was the second overall pick in the 1987 draft by the Phoenix Suns. Gilliam's career totals are 14 points a game, 7 rebounds. He was 8.3 and 3.7 last year for the Bucks. He scored in double figures 13 times in 1998-99.

The No. 1 addition to the team is Corey Maggette, the No. 3 pick in the 1999 NBA draft.

Orlando obtained the 19-year-old Duke star from Seattle along with Don MacLean, Billy Owens and Dale Ellis for Horace Grant and two draft picks. Owens and Ellis are gone, part of the re-making and second remaking of the Orlando Magic.

In addition to the player transactions, Magic Coach Chuck Daly retired and Glenn "Doc" Rivers was hired to succeed him. Dave Wohl, Eric Musselman and Johnny Davis were hired as assistant coaches.

The Magic re-signed free agent Bo Outlaw on Aug. 3.

UCF getting healthy

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - A steady rain fell throughout the last hour of practice Thursday but it wasn't enough to wash the smile off coach Mike Kruczek's face as several players returned from the injured list.

Five starters, including preseason All-Independent defensive tackle Justin Moore and cornerback and defensive captain Jeff Fye practiced, as well as receiver Charles Lee, fullback Page Sessoms, and cornerback Davin Bush.

 secutive games at the O-rena.
 Home contests on Friday and Saturday evenings during the 1999-2000 regular season will have a face-off time of 7:30 p.m. Games taking place from Monday through Thursday will start at 7 p.m., while Sunday outings will begin at 6 p.m.
 "We are very excited with our schedule for the 1999-2000 season," said Solar Bears General Manager John Weisbrod. "We are fortunate to have many of our home games land on days that have historically proven to be the most successful for our franchise.

 "With our new affiliation with the NHL's Atlanta Thrashers and our continued commitment towards bringing a championship to Orlando, we look forward to sharing this new era of Solar Bears hockey with the best fans in the IHL."
 Saturday is the popular day of the week on the Solar Bears schedule, as Orlando plays 24 Saturday games, including 10 at home.

 The club will play nine games on Sundays, including the season finale at the Orlando Arena on Sunday, April 18 vs. Michigan.
 Orlando plays three times on Mondays, eight times on Tuesdays, 11 games on Wednesdays, nine on Thursdays (all at home) and 18 times on Fridays. They will host nine of the Friday contests at the Orlando Arena.
 Orlando will also have its share of tough road swings during the 1999-2000 campaign.

 The Solar Bears will travel on their longest road trip of the season from November 13 through November 26, where they will play seven straight games away from home. The Solar Bears will also play 13 of 17 games on the road from October 16 through November 26.
 The Solar Bears will have 16 games during the month of March, the most of any month this season.

season that a two conference format has been utilized.
 The Eastern Conference will be comprised of seven teams with NHL affiliations, including Orlando, who begins its first season with their parent club, the expansion Atlanta Thrashers.
 Orlando's most common opponents will be the Grand Rapids Griffins, another DeVos family owned franchise, and the Cincinnati Cyclones. They will face-off against each other 11 times apiece.
 The Solar Bears play Milwaukee nine games and their arch rivals, Detroit, on eight different occasions.
 The Solar Bears knocked off Detroit in the 1999 Playoffs, coming back from an 0-3 series deficit to win the Eastern Conference championship and advance to the Turner Cup Finals.
 The Solar Bears will also take on Cleveland, Michigan and Houston, the defending Turner Cup champions, seven times each.

 The Solar Bears will play 21 back-to-back contests during the 1999-2000 season, and will also have five different occasions when they will play back-to-back-to-back sets.
 RDV Sports, named for chairman Rich DeVos, is the parent company of the Orlando Magic of the National Basketball Association, Orlando Solar Bears of the International Hockey League, Orlando Miracle of the Women's National Basketball Association, the RDV Sportsplex, Magic FanAttic retail outlets and Magic Carpet Aviation.

 Altamonte Springs team sponsored by Olympic Gold Medalist, Dot Richardson (also a Colonial High graduate), was available to pitch for the Machine as the Diamond's season had ended.
 Hillman, who knows Richardson, teaches Richardson's methods to the Machine players and attends many of Richardson's clinics.

 Swarthout only allowed one earned run and one walk while striking out 20 in her final 14 innings of work.
 "You'd better be looking for her legitimate radared 60 mph fastball and if she can't get you with that her other four pitches will have you on your knees," said Hillman.

 "She is the real deal and in my many years of coaching and playing I've never seen anyone better, she wanted that final game badly, you could see it in her eyes, she's a tough kid."
 Swarthout, only a high school sophomore this past year, was dominant in the final, but still found herself down 1-0 going into the top of the sixth inning.
 A rally produced two runs which held up for a 2-1 victory and a National Championship for the Baltimore, Maryland area team.
 Lauren Cooper, also of Dot's Diamonds, led the team in hitting with a .684 average and an on base percentage of .690. She also scored 13 runs.
 "Coop is a major offensive threat," Hillman said of his highly-skilled slap hitter. "When she comes to the plate you can see the opposition's defense get really edgy and it causes them to force throws and play out of position."
 "She is nearly always standing on third!"
 The Machine hit .305 as a team for the tourney. Hillman was surprised at the high team batting average because the pitching was so good.
 Most teams had a #1 throwing 60-mph, about the slowest was 55-mph, while the pitcher from Michigan was clocked at 62-mph.
 Swarthout's ERA was 1.30 for 43 innings. She was 6-2 with 56 strikeouts and only seven walks.
 Michelle Umberger hit .333 for the Machine and Elder added .273 with several clutch hits.
 Nicole Gilbert had two clutch hits during the elimination rounds to keep the Machine alive.
 Five Machine players were named All-National Tournament.

 them back in," Kruczek said. "That's the good thing about getting into singles. We have a little longer than two weeks to get ready for the first game in singles, which is good."
 Athletics trainer Kevin Mercuri also sees the change to one practice a day beneficial.
 "During two-a-days there's not much time to get adequate treatment or rest for the players," Mercuri said. "When you start having 24 hours between practice the players start healing more. They can come in and get two, three, or four treatments instead of a quick ice down before rushing off to a meeting."
 Some key reserves as well as starting tight end Joey Hubbard, nursing a sore ankle, and starting defensive end Marv Richardson, recovering from eye surgery, remain out. Only Richardson is expected to miss UCF's season-opener against Purdue Sept. 4.
 While the team practiced through the rain, a wet field caused the postponement of open walk-on tryouts. Fifty-five players showed up Thursday for 18 open spots. They will have to return Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m. Ten other recruited walk-ons will join the team after their eligibility status is reviewed.

CAT HALL OF FAME

Sassy, who lives with Walt, Sue, Erin and Kyle Shipman of Brunswick, Ga., likes to have the family dog, Max, chew on her head as if he were looking for fleas. (We assume Sassy waits till after Max has been fed before she submits to this.)

Sanford airport officials proposes $24.7 million budget for next year

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Orlando-Sanford Airport officials are expecting continued growth in the coming year, highlighted by the start of domestic service by Pan American Airlines.

The Sanford Airport Authority is proposing a $24.7 million budget for Fiscal Year 1999-2000, beginning Oct. 1. The City Commission will review the budget Monday during a 3 p.m. work session.

Revenues are projected to increase 6.3 percent primarily because of increased activity from Pan American Airlines and increased revenues in the airport's Commerce Park.

After capital projects and debt service spending, the airport has a projected surplus of $98,000.

Pan Am is planning to provide Sanford's airport with its first regularly scheduled domestic service in late September or October, said John Nadolny, Pan Am's senior vice president.

The first set of flights will connect the airport with Chicago, Ill. and Portsmouth, N.H. A second set of flights, to begin at a later date, will likely connect Sanford with Atlanta, Portsmouth, and San Juan, P.R.

The airport has 1 million passengers per year, primarily from British charter flights.

Operating expenses are also expected to increase 6 percent, because of increased activity levels and increased maintenance burden on the airport's infrastructure and physical plant.

The Airport Authority will seek grant funding to off-set the cost of capital improvement projects.

Several members of the Sanford Airport Authority's Board of Directors have said they are concerned about whether there will be sufficient revenue for future capital improvement projects.

"As long as operating profits continue to be low, grant funds are the only way to fund capital construction projects," said Victor White, executive director of the Sanford Airport Authority.

This year the airport will pursue an application to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) to impose a Passenger Facility Charge. A charge of $3 per passenger is estimated to generate $1.5 million towards construction projects.

"The main problem we have is in dealing with the airport's phenomenal growth," Sanford Mayor Larry Dale said. "We need to look at not doing a capital improvement project until it is fully funded."

Proposed funded projects include continued construction of a parallel taxiway for the new southeast runway, lighting for the new runway and taxiway, and rehabilitation of several taxiways.

Other proposed projects include the acquisition of land to decrease noise in residential communities, rehabilitation of several aircraft ramp areas, and expansion of the existing passenger terminal complex.

"It is critical to continue the creation of new infrastructure and physical plant facilities that will support additional high levels of growth," White said.

In addition, airport officials are forming an aviation master plan to assist in prioritizing capital projects.

The City of Sanford has made a $1 million line of credit available. The line of credit is currently drawn down, but the Airport Authority is pursuing closeout procedures for Fiscal Year 1998 projects.

Once the FAA has approved the final costs of capital projects, FAA repayment is expected to occur during the first six months of the new fiscal year. This will replenish much of the city's line of credit, White said.

To counter a continuing demand for projects, the airport is considering several options including increasing the commercial banking line of credit, or asking that the city increase its line of credit.

Business Briefs

Corporate Investment names vice president

Harold S. Landey, a veteran business intermediary, has been named Vice President at Corporate Investment International, Inc.

Landey, a resident of Longwood, will work in the company's newly created Mergers & Acquisition Division.

Landey, who has more than 12 years experience as a business broker in Florida, joined CII this June when the company acquired Keystone International, Inc. of Winter Park, where he specialized in mergers and acquisitions.

New sales executive at Alaqua Lakes

Cathy Williams, who has 10 years of experience in sales and marketing, is leaving her position as marketing director for Alaqua Lakes to become a sales executive. Williams is a graduate of Concord College in Athens, W. Va.

Construction set for Plaza Venzia

Professional Engineering Consultants, Inc. (PEC), a civil and environmental engineering and land surveying firm based in Orlando, has been hired by Intram Investment, Inc. to perform engineering on Plaza Venzia.

The 28 acre commercial, office and retail center is located on Sand Lake Road west of Interstate-4. Site infrastructure and permitting were among the services being provided by PEC.

Construction on Plaza Venzia is anticipated to start in September.

First American, AmSouth prepare for merger

Officials within AmSouth and First American banks are preparing for their legal merger, which is scheduled for Oct. 1 subject to shareholder and regulatory approvals.

Sloan D. Gibson will be responsible for banking operations in Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana when AmSouth's merger with First American is completed, and Samuel M. Tortorici will become chief financial officer, a position currently held by Gibson.

Claire Tucker, recently named to become head of commercial banking after the merger, will report to Gibson, who will be headquartered in Nashville, Tenn.

Gibson, a senior executive vice president and member of AmSouth's management committee, joined AmSouth in 1992.

Tortorici has been named executive vice president and a member of AmSouth's management committee in addition to chief financial officer. He previously served as AmSouth's Montgomery city president and central Alabama area executive.

Northern Exposure

Staff writer Joe DeSantis and his wife Deb, both long-time Central Florida residents, spent the past year in Alaska prior to joining the Seminole Herald in June. Whenever Joe mentions Alaska he gets a lot of strange questions. Stranger still are some of the myths people still hold about the Last Frontier. Joe thought he would set the record straight with a tongue-in-cheek approach to being your travel guide to the Land of the Midnight Sun.

Don't forget the duct tape!

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

Planning an exotic vacation in the near future? Looking for fun, excitement and adventure?

Tired of theme park world? Want to come face-to-face with a 1,200 pound grizzly? Care to dodge moose and caribou on the highway? Want to have your wife question your sanity?

I highly recommend a lengthy vacation to the most misunderstood state in the Union, the great land of Alaska.

There are three ways to get there. You can fly into one of the major cities like Anchorage or Fairbanks. (Come to think of it, there are only two major cities in Alaska.) You can fly to Seattle or Bellingham, Washington, and finish off the trip by boat on the Alaska Marine Highway, or you can test the resolve of your marriage vows by loading all of your wife's stuff in a 1989 Ford Crown Victoria and driving the 5,327 miles on the Alaska Highway without killing each other.

I highly recommend flying.

We left Orlando on April Fool's Day 1998. By April 2 my wife was threatening to put my butt on a Greyhound bus. In typical guy fashion I wanted to see just how fast we could drive to Anchorage. She wanted to see the Badlands and Mt. Rushmore. (PS: Don't take one of those sissy cruise package trips to Alaska. Seeing the real Alaska from the side of a cruise ship is like seeing the real Florida from a trip down the South Orange Blossom Trail.)

Is it true it's expensive to live in Alaska?

This is one of the great myths about Alaska. It is not expensive to live there. It is ridiculously expensive to live there.

Herald staff writer Joe DeSantis peers out over the frozen tundra of Monoshka Bay on Kodiak Island in Alaska while his faithful friend Chance looks for something to eat. But the views aren't the only thing that are breath-taking — the cost of living in Alaska is among the highest in the nation.

Everything in Alaska costs at least $100. Pack of gum—$100. Oil change—$100. Time of day—$100.

Here are just a few cost comparisons between Florida and Alaska. A carton of smokes runs about $27 here. In Alaska that same carton fetches $42. A two-liter bottle of Coke or Pepsi goes for 69-cents on sale in Sanford. You can be part of the Pepsi generation for about $4 for that same jug of pop.

The most striking price differentials come in the areas of housing and wages.

A modest 1,200-square foot home in a decent neighborhood in Seminole County can be had for $80-90,000. That same structure could run you upwards of a quarter million, especially in a remote location like ours, Kodiak Island. Alaska's answer to the high cost of housing? Don't like the price, take your chances in the woods with the bears and wolves!

Folks in the lower 48, or Cheechakos, as real Alaskans call them, think everybody in Alaska is making a ton of money. Not true. The heydays of the Alaska pipeline have come and gone and with them the $25-$30 per hour jobs. A white collar background and liberal arts degree in journalism are not in high demand.

In the year we were there, Deb and I earned $50,000 and spent every bit of it and more just on living expenses. We returned to Florida with countless photo albums, incomparable memories, and two golden retrievers. For $50,000 we figured the dogs ought to be made of gold.

You can still make big bucks in the land of big bears, however. Licensed carpenters, plumbers, electricians, and construction folks are in hot demand. Or you can risk your life daily on a commercial fishing boat. A four-month summer stint aboard the right boat could net you $80,000 to $100,000 in wages. It could just as easily net you a trip to the bottom of the Bering Sea. Commercial fishing is among the deadliest occupations in the state. Commercial fishermen do not buy life insurance in Alaska because no one will sell it to them.

My suggestion for a lengthy stay is to rent a large U-Haul truck and stack it neatly to its fullest capacity with freshly printed $100 bills. See, I told you everything cost $100 in Alaska.

Is it really cold in Alaska?

Asking that question is like asking, does it really get hot in Florida in August?

Actually certain locations in Alaska are very temperate. Go to Fairbanks and freeze your buns off in winter, sweat them off in summer. Temperatures there can range from -50 from November through March, to the upper 90's in July and August.

In Florida they say "it's not the heat, it's the humidity." In Alaska they say, "it's not the cold, it's the aridity."

Surprisingly, despite the amount of snow and rain most of the state receives on an annual basis, humidity levels are at a minimum, say 35-40 percent. See Alaska, Page 6C

Puttin' on the Ritz

Sanford's historic theater plans to re-open in November

The Ritz Community Theatre at 201 Magnolia Avenue in Sanford is expected to open by the end of the year. More than $1 million in public funds, plus additional private donations and services, have been dedicated to repairing the theater since September of 1996. Work on the building, which opened in 1927 as the Milane Theatre, is being completed using $278,571 in state funding.

Herald staff writer Bill Kerns talked with Helen Stairs, chairman of the Ritz Community Theatre Projects Board of Directors, about progress being made in restoring the theater.

Q: When will the Ritz Community Theatre open?

A: We can open in the late fall. Our Board is starting to look at what type of opening performance we can have, although we're still in the beginning stages. We're open to community suggestions.

Q: What work still needs to be performed to restore the Ritz Theatre?

A: Our most immediate need is to get the chairs sold. To date we have sold 28 chairs, and we need to sell 525. We can't open a theater without chairs. The commemorative chairs are on sale for $500 each. We need help.

We have a state-of-the-art sound system already installed. The balcony and the wood-work have also been installed.

The lighting system is being delivered within two weeks. It just needs to be hooked up, because the interior wiring is already done. The exterior doors are also done. We've bought the dry-wall, and we'll install it after the lighting system is hooked up. We're that close.

We still need money for the Marquee (in the front of the building). We're hoping for donations.

Everything is going wonderfully, so long as the checks arrive from the state grant.

We're expecting to receive the first check for $138,000 soon, hopefully within two weeks. Then, the second check should come in October.

We're grateful to Bart Rush for providing curtain material and labor, and to Vernon Spears for providing the insulation.

Q: What type of performances will be held at the Ritz Theatre?

A: In addition to plays, we're also hoping to have a dance studio and school. We can host lectures, art classes, and youth programs. We're going to present programs and produce programs. The acoustics at the theater are fantastic.

Q: So, what place does the Ritz Community Theatre hold in Sanford's history?

A: It's very important. It opened in 1927 as the Milane Theatre, then it became a movie house and a vaudeville theater. We still have the original 30-by-60 foot stage. But, then it fell into disrepair after its door closed (in 1964).

Your Birthday
Sunday, Aug. 22, 1999

There's a chance you could become more of an independent thinker in the year ahead. This is good, provided your ideas are well thought out and can produce productive results.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) When it comes to any decision making that could affect your mate or partner as well as you, you'd better discuss the issue with him or her first. On-the-spot judgment calls should be avoided. Leo, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Gambles could turn into grumbles.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It isn't like you to have poor taste, but what might be pleasing to your eye today could look sour tomorrow. Before making any impulsive alterations, study things from all perspectives.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Sick to methods or procedures that have served you well in the past, instead of attempting to implement a plan that suddenly pops in your head. Your brain might not be on too straight today.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Before making any impetuous major purchase today, sleep on them and analyze your present financial position to be sure it is elastic enough to handle what you want.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a strong chance you could be unwisely influenced today by someone who is slick with words. Just because a person is glib, doesn't mean his or her ideas are good for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Disappointment might be in store for you today when you discover someone who had promised to take care of something for you failed to do so. Be prepared to do the job yourself!
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Back off and go along with the will of the majority today, instead of creating unnecessary dissension among your peer group. Just smile and join in!
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Should you get involved in any competitive situations today, subdue inclinations of succumbing to thoughtless actions. It will be your own carelessness that could trip you up.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you have something important you want to accomplish today, establish a sensible procedure first and follow it to the letter. If your logistics are poor, nothing will get done.

WIN AT BRIDGE

The maestro makes another great play

By Phillip Alder

PHILLIP ALDER

Who is the greatest bridge player of all time? If you polled 100 experts, you would get several different votes. But someone near or at the top of the list would be Benito Garozzo. As a member of the Italian Blue Team, he won 13 world team championships. For some years, though, he has been a Florida resident.
Garozzo is one of the most imaginative players ever. Look at the way he defeated three no-trump in this deal.
Garozzo led his fourth-highest diamond. Upon winning with the ace, East switched to his fourth-highest heart, declarer's nine losing to West's 10. Garozzo continued with the heart queen, which South ducked, and another heart to declarer's ace. Now South led a low club toward the dummy. How did Garozzo defend?
With no red-suit stopper, North wisely rebid two spades rather than two no-trump.

If Garozzo had played his club six, declarer would have won with dummy's king, then ducked a club, bringing down Garozzo's ace. South would have made his contract, losing only two hearts, one diamond and one club. Seeing this coming, Garozzo won immediately with the club ace, which blocked the suit. Then, to kill declarer's hand entry, Garozzo placed the diamond queen onto the table.
Declarer was given two diamond tricks as a gift, but now he couldn't do better than collect three spades, one heart, two diamonds and one club: two down.

Most players never produce a coup like this, but if you watch Garozzo play

Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Carter III

Cottrill-Carter vows spoken

Victoria (Viki) Lee Cottrill of Manassas, Va., became the bride of Carl B. Carter III of Warrenton, Va. In a traditional double ring and garden ceremony in Bealeton, Va. The Rev. R. Crimm, performed the 6 p.m. ceremony on June 26, 1999.

The bride is the daughter of Patricia Beach of Sanford and the late Jay Winfree. She is the granddaughter of Irene and Joseph Bybee of Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carter II of Warrenton, Va.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Joseph Bybee, the bride chose for her vows an ankle length white satin gown fashioned with short sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. The gown was embellished with lace and seed pearls. Her headpiece was a halo of white rosebuds interspersed with lace. She carried a bouquet of burgundy roses accented with lily of the valley and silver ribbons. For the something new, the bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. The something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings, the something old was a penny and the something blue was a garter.

Lynn Brummette attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a burgundy lace dress and carried a burgundy rose highlighted with sprays of white flowers. Ty Jacob, son of the bride, also was an attendant for his mother.

Groomsmen were the bridegroom's sons, Nicholas and Jeremy Carter, and usher was Kevin Armantrout. Each male in the wedding party wore black pants, a white shirt and a burgundy rosebud.

Immediately following the ceremony, the reception was held at the wedding site, 7324 Oak Shade Road, Bealeton, Va. Assistants were: Mr. and Mrs. Werner Merz, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carter II, Pat Beach, Lynn Brummette and Kevin Armantrout. Approximately 100 family members and friends attended for dinner and dancing.

The newlyweds are making their home at the above address in Bealeton. The bride is a homemaker and the bridegroom is employed as a site foreman for Virginia paving Co. in Chantilly, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie James Wheeler

Ruby Anderson bride of Jessie J. Wheeler

Ruby Dell Anderson and Jessie James Wheeler were married June 19 at the New Life Word Center. The Rev. Ronald Merthle officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Lucille Anderson and the late Booker T. Anderson. The groom is the son of Lida Bell Wheeler and the late Frank Wheeler Sr.

Given in marriage by her son Chaz Bagley, the bride wore a laced top with puffed long sleeves of lace accented with pearls and rhinestones. The formal length gown was accented with lace and pearls. Her chapel train of illusion was attached to the waist of the gown. The head piece of rolled illusion net hung shoulder length. She carried a cascading bouquet of white baby roses enhanced with green buds and lavender lace.

Mary Anderson Seward served as matron of honor. Grace Wheeler served as maid of honor.

They wore lavender floor length sheath gowns with thin shoulder straps. They Please see Wedding, Page 4C

Mountain Top Mission

The mission team from the First United Methodist Church wave good-bye as they leave the church for the Cumberland Mountains in Tennessee to help the mountain folk with home repairs and yard work.

Youth missionaries lend helping hands to the impoverished

Nineteen youths and six adults from the First United Methodist Church of Sanford turned missionaries for more than a week to help others this summer in remote Tennessee.

Under the guidance and coordination of Mike Bedell, director of family ministries for the church, the trip was "great."

Annually, the youth of the church embark on this mission to Mountain TOP (Tennessee Outreach Project) located in the Cumberland Mountains outside of Chattanooga where they are of service to the less fortunate and gentle mountain folk. The youths work hard holding fund-raisers during the year to support the trip for which they volunteer.

This year, Mike said there were other groups of youths from Nebraska, Virginia, Birmingham, Ala. and Knoxville, Tenn. He added the highlights of the trip were "the bonds we made with people from all over and helping people in the name of God." The rewards, he said, were the smiles on the people's faces whom the youths helped.

The volunteer venture wasn't all work, though, Mike said. In addition to repairing the weather-beaten homes, and doing yard work and painting, nightly in the community building, the youths played games, held a hoedown and did a lot of socializing at the camp site they called home for more than a week.

However, the amenities of home sweet home that all expect were not available. There were no air conditioning, television nor other such luxuries. The youths stayed in very rustic cabins and according to Mike, the heat index was 117-120 degrees Fahrenheit.

In spite of the lack of home comforts, Mike said the camp chow was "delicious home-cooked food."

The youths and adults departed Sanford in four vans with a trailer filled with tools loaned by church members and friends. They stopped en route to their destination to go white water rafting which was a treat to the crowd.

A lot of prayers went up for the safety of the entourage and they were surely heard. Mike said just as they turned off on Hwy. 46 coming back home, a tire blew on the trailer. Later, he said that after one of the vans arrived safely in the church parking lot, it died and Please see Dietrich, Page 5C

500 delegates attend 68th choir session

Over 500 delegates from the 50 chapters and unions attended the 68th annual session of the National Convention of Gospel Choirs and Choruses, Inc. of which the late Dr. Thomas A. Dorsey is founder. Bishop Kenneth H. Morales Sr is president.

Hosting this centennial of the founder, Dr. Thomas A. Dorsey, the "father of gospel," was the Greater Orlando Choral Chapter, Rev. Willie C. Barnes is president and pastor of Macedonia Baptist Church.

It has been said that gospel music has seized the international community. Songwriters, musicians, singers, gospel playwrights, gospel rappers, and clergy have all benefited as a result of Dorsey's gospel legacy.

The message of the song, "Precious Lord, Take My Hand," has improved human conditions and moved worship from and into the new millennium.

Various leaders of this week long convention were spotlighted and gave this writer the grand privilege of speaking briefly with these legends of gospel music, Helen Minor, Mother Geneva Gentry, Consecration Coordinator Johnny Lloyd, soloist Bureau supervisor, Sandra Wansley, alumni Choral Co-chairwoman.

Highlighting my visit to this session was the honor of meeting the Rev. Dr. Carl Bentley, Pastor and director of the Washington Unity Choral Union, who is a special young man in my family.

The alumni Choral of over 200 voices were presented in concert, presenting "New Images" the theme of the 66th session and the 100th celebration of Dr. Dorsey's birthday.

The special honor was awarded to the graceful Mrs. Thomas A. Dorsey, who was in attendance at this great and grand session.

We can all receive a new image, but we must remember "It's time to praise the Lord," "Equip the mind to serve the times." Go back to the Old Landmark and give the history of our musical ancestors, who are masters of gospel music and has kept the family together."

Thanks go to Pastor Willie C. Barnes and the Greater Orlando Choral Chapter of the "Father of gospel music," the late Dr. Dorsey.

VINNIE MILLER MARKS 80TH BIRTHDAY

Happy Birthday was the reason for the greeting of the gathering of the Miller family. The links and lineages of the Miller family helps to make the 80th birthday celebration for Mother Vinnie Mae Miller such a success.

Toastmistress and toastmasters were on hand for the gala dinner held at the Marine Hotel Banquet Room in her honor. Family, friends, and well wishers gathered to show their love and give words of special expression for a great virtuous woman, who is a Christian, mother, grandmother, aunt, cousin, and grand lady.

Mrs. Miller was born in Glennwood, Ga. She married and moved to Sanford in 1940. She has been an ardent member of Second Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church for over 53 years, where she has served on many boards, presently on the mother board. She was married to the late Anrew Miller for 58 years, when he passed away in 1995.

Helping to share in their mother's celebration were children: Willie Mae Miller Church. Please see Hawkins, Page 4C

Students participate in Crazy Hair Day at Greenwood Lakes

One of the Holy Cross Choirs entertaining visitors

Crazy hair is a sign of spirit, church holds Family Fun Fest

Greenwood Lakes Middle School had their very first Spirit Day on Friday the 13th. Spirit Day is a chance for students at the school to show their school spirit in ways a little more creative than just wearing a school T-shirt.

And there was a great display of creativity at Crazy Hair day. There was green hair, blue hair, wigs and many creative uses of rubber bands. The interesting thing about the day was how far out the boys went with their displays. The girls tended to be more conservative middle school has a Spirit card. Every time they participate in a spirit activity they get their card punched. At the end of each quarter, if they have participated in the requisite number of activities, they get to attend a before school breakfast party with unlimited donuts, juice and door prizes. Every spirit day, every student gets candy from the PTSA, whether they participate or not.

Other spirit days planned throughout the year include Crazy Hat Day and Hippie Day

FAMILY FUN FEST

Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Lake Mary held their first Family Fun Fest. Family Fun Fest provided groups from the church and groups meeting at the church a chance to set up a display and let the community know what they were all about. Stardust Girls Scouts were there with a recruitment table. They also had a game for visiting children to play and bracelets for girls to make. Cub Scout Pack 529 and Boy Scout Troop 854 also had recruitment booths.

There are three youth groups at the church and all three were signing up for the fall. There is the SYG, which is the high school youth group, JAM for middle school and JAM JR for 4th and 5th grade students. El Buen Samaritano Church also had a display. The Spanish speaking church shares the facilities at Holy Cross.

Girl Scout Troop 1361 hosted a booth for Habitat for Humanity. Children could paint a birdhouse and learn about Habitat. The school also had a display. In addition to the Pre-School classes at Holy Cross, there is now a Kindergarten and First grade class.

Noah's Ark and Planetarium from Christmas brought a display of genuine dinosaur fossils from Wyoming. There were also plastic models so children could see what the dinosaur would have looked like.

For the hungry, the choir hosted a hot dog lunch. They also provided entertainment in the fellowship hall.

If you're interested in finding out more about any of the groups at Holy Cross, just call the church at 333-0797.

Every pupil shares spotlight in this kindergarten classroom

DEAR ABBY: This letter is long, but I hope you'll find it worth sharing with teachers. One of the challenges for anyone who works with young people is to help each child have a better self-worth. Naomi Haines Griffin, a well-known speaker with a background in education and social work, has many suggestions for accomplishing this. We incorporated one of them into our kindergarten classes.

Each week, a class was named "Star of the Week." A spiral notebook was sent home with the student, and the child's family was asked to write special memories or unique descriptions pertaining to the student. Also that week, every child in the class was asked to say something good about the "Star of the Week." The comments of the students and family were then incorporated into a computer poster and were read aloud to the "star" in front of the entire class.

All the students lit up with pride as their comments were read. The "Star" poster became almost sacred to the students, and the activity fostered respect and love for one another.

During that week, someone from the child's family visited our classes and shared a hobby or interest with went to the funeral home to view Rudy's body, we saw Rudy's "Star of the Week" poster displayed by the casket.

Thank you, Naomi Griffin, for showing us the way to help all kids.

BEA HONORED AT FAMILY REUNION

Bea Laurendine, 96, a resident of Sanford for more than 30 years, was honored by her family at a family reunion in Mobile, Ala. Bea was presented a plaque as the oldest survivor of the Savage family.

The reunion for about 250 relatives was arranged by Bea's nephew, Rod Savage of California and Nevada, who spent nearly two years arranging the festive event, including reservations etc for those attending. Bea was accompanied to Mobile by her daughters, Mary Laurendine and Candace Parker. Mary said the reunion was "outstanding...wonderful." She added that they saw family members they had not seen in years and also met many relatives they had never seen before.

Bea is one of 10 siblings with only three living including her two younger brothers who were in attendance. She has four surviving children out of six.

Mary said her mom made the trip to Mobile very well. Incidentally, the day we called Bea, a feisty 96, she was pulling weeds and had a load in laundry swishing in the washer.

cent. That's why a sunny 70 degree day there feels like a 95 degree day here. A piece of advice. Pack lots of skin lotion. Many visitors experience dry, flaky skin after just a few days there. Probably comes from the 18 layers of clothes everyone wears nine months of the year.

Is Alaska a good place to find a husband?

Ladies, don't get too excited about finding Mr. Right in the Last Frontier. The answer to that question is yes and no. With a population of little over one-million, Alaska men outnumber Alaska women by four-to-one. But ladies, before you pack your bags and try to bag a husband, keep a few things in mind.

Alaska men do not bathe on a regular basis. They shave on average twice per year. During the fishing season Alaska men prefer silver salmon to slinky blondes. The rest of the year they tend to keep company with their dogs, pick-up trucks, and other Alaska men while distantly dreaming of the next fishing season and more silver salmon. Alaska men tend to be of the strong, silent mold.

They have to be strong to wrestle the really good fishing spots away from Kodiak bears.

They have to be silent as to not wake those really big bears up from their naps.

Alaska men are not romantic, they will not bestow upon you gifts of flowers and perfume.

A significant gift from an Alaska man that might suggest some level of commitment is a large roll of duct tape. Alaska men use duct tape for everything. Need to tow the car? Get a roll of duct tape. Side of the cabin falling off? Nothing duct tape can't handle. Runners on your dog sled broke? Duct tape to the rescue. Duct tape is equal to American Express in Alaska. No real Alaska man leaves the house without it.

Are mosquitoes really bad in Alaska?

This is another myth about the Land of the Midnight Sun. While Florida has virtually every breed of mosquito known to mankind, Alaska has only two varieties. There's the B-52's you can hear coming from a mile away, capable of carrying off small, annoying children you mistakenly took on your fishing trip. Then there's the tiny ones they call "no se-ums." By the time you've felt the bite and reach up to slap your neck, they've made off with a pint of your blood.

What Alaska does have are masses of black flies. When they swarm they can make the sun disappear for hours.

That draw back is balanced by the fact Alaska has no snakes or fleas. This makes it easier for Alaska men to spend time with their dogs, pick-up trucks, and other Alaska men while they await the next fishing season.

Is there much crime in Alaska?

Outside of a growing drug trade, no. You have to figure that since Alaska has more coast line than Florida, a few drug smugglers will evade the Coast Guard and land their illegal stuff.

Because hunting is such an inherent part of the Alaska culture, everybody is armed to the teeth. When Alaskans argue, fuss and fight, they leave the firearms at home. Everybody knows everybody else has an arsenal back at the ranch, so why bother?

The one exception to this rule is Alaskan divorcees; also known as a "Spenard Divorce," named for a seedy section of Anchorage. Alaskans aren't much on attorneys or court costs. When Alaska men and women divorce, whoever is the best shot gets to keep the house and kids.

The loser, if they survive, gets to keep the dogs with no fleas.

Are the bears really big in Alaska?

Does Florida get a lot of thunderstorms? Bears on Kodiak Island would laugh at the Florida black bears we occasionally see around more rural sections of Seminole County. They would liken them to chipmunks rather than genuine card carrying members of the bear family.

Female Kodiaks average between 600 to 800 pounds. Males can easily go 1,200 to 1,500 pounds. Kind of like Florida State scheduling St. Mary Magdelen in football. They get that big because bear hunting is strictly regulated in Alaska and the grizzlies spend all summer stuffing themselves on lush fields of berries, salmon-rich rivers and streams, and occasionally unsuspecting tourists from Florida.

Florida has an abundance of German shepherds with antlers masquerading in the everglades and woods as deer. Alaska has Sitka Blacktail deer the size of a full grown horse, mountain goats, sheep, bald eagles, foxes, and wolves.

Florida has a really ugly, slow moving, mean tempered, stupid creature called the armadillo.

Alaska's answer to this is the moose. They smell bad as well and will challenge your pick-up truck for road space. A confrontation with a 1,200-pound moose will more than satisfy the deductibility on your auto insurance.

What should I bring on my trip to Alaska?

Because Alaska is such an unconventional place, pack accordingly.

Leave behind the sun tan lotion, sandals, and straw hats.

A wise vacationer packs plenty of blue jeans, good waterproof hiking boots, sweaters, rain-gear, a worthy fishing rod or two, and tons of those hundred dollar bills I mentioned earlier.

Oh, and don't forget the duct tape. Never know when you might have to tie up a moose.
