However, if Mr. Combs refuses to back the club, another man stands ready, Mr. Packard said. He failed to disclose the identity of the latter. He also said that Mayor Edward Higgins had pledged his support in smoothing out present difficulties.

Watson appealed to the City Commission yesterday for an ordinance but was denied on the grounds that the City was without authority to appropriate funds for a private enterprise.

A letter to The Sanford Herald signed by Mr. Watson as president of the Sanford Baseball Association is as follows:

The Sanford Baseball Association as a private enterprise could not solicit funds with which to continue its team in the league and its only way of raising money to continue was to appeal to the City to advance a small sum to protect its investment until other sources of revenue could be found.

"Since the beginning of the season we have encountered difficulties for which one was to blame. We carried on as long as money and credit lasted and only quit when forced out."

GENEVA, June 2.—(AP)—China asked the League of Nations yesterday to take "urgent and effective" measures to halt what she termed Japan's bombardment of non-combatants.

The protest against "wholesale slaughter of human beings" in aerial bombardments such as recent attacks on Canton was addressed to the League assembly, council and advisory committee on the Far East, of which the United States is a member.

It recalled the League resolution of Sept. 28, 1937, saying the League then found there "could be no excuse" for aerial bombardment of open towns (towns behind battle lines) in China.

"Since the beginning of the Japanese military aggression in China not a day has passed without Japanese aircraft severely bombing Chinese open towns and inflicting a heavy loss of civilian life," the protest said.

Dispute In Peru And Ecuador Adds To World Problem

Peruvians Massing Troops After Clash Over 107-Year-Old Boundary Argument

Japanese Cabinet Again Shuffled

Chamberlain Announces New Protests Against Air Raids

Dispatches from Hong-kong said Japanese bombing planes had killed 50 persons in a Canton textile factory and caused great loss of life among homeboat dwellers along the Canton River.

War over the border dispute between Peru and Ecuador was added today to the world's menu of international trouble.

Two Ecuadorian soldiers were killed and a third wounded yesterday in a clash with three Peruvian gunboats in a jungle that had figured in a 107-year-old dispute.

Ecuador ordered her troops to "defend themselves with all their characteristic valor" and Peru was reported to be massing troops.

The Czechoslovakia-German situation which had reversed for two weeks between hot and mild warm slimmered anew with a fresh protest from Berlin to Praha about new incidents in which members of Czechoslovakia's German minority were said to have been mistreated.

Japan completed a drastic cabinet reorganization, Lieut.-Gen. Seishiro Itagaki taking the war ministry, as the Chinese defending the railway approach to Hankow appeared to be weakening.

Prime Minister Chamberlain announced new British protests against the aerial bombardments in China and Spain in protests addressed to Tokyo and the Bureau of Investigation.

With the Spanish non-intervention committee in accord on a plan to withdraw foreign soldiers from the war, the Spanish government spokesman in Paris admitted the "possibility" of British-French mediation.

Driver Injured As Trucks Sideswipe West Of Sanford

A heavily loaded truck belonging to the Walker Fertilizer Company of Orlando and a semi-trailer belonging to the L and L Freight Lines, both headed toward Sanford, sideswiped on the Seminole Boulevard approximately 1:00 o'clock this morning.

The driver of the L and L truck, James Potter, was badly bruised and lacerated when he was thrown or jumped from the truck after the collision but an attending physician stated that he had sustained no serious injuries. Curtis Moore, negro, driver of the truck and trailer, escaped injury.

The accident occurred, it was reported, as the L and L truck attempted to pass the truck driven by Moore. The front corner of the semi-trailer struck the truck and trailer, throwing the front of the L and L truck into the side of the Walker Fertilizer Company's truck.

The entire front wheel and axle assembly was knocked from under the L and L truck and, locked together, the two trucks plowed into the left shoulder of the road.

The truck and trailer was loaded with spray while the L and L truck was loaded with miscellaneous freight for Sanford and points southwest. Neither of the drivers was arrested. Sheriff C. H. Sand, who investigated the accident, stated the loads on the trucks were not damaged.

The largest dump-truck in England is at Savannah. It weighs 4,000 tons.

Final Meeting Of Control Committee To Be Held Soon

A final meeting of the Florida Celery Industry Control Committee will be held in Lakeland near June 15, J. C. Lettice, secretary-treasurer of the committee said today following communications with Vice Chairman Loring Raul in Sarasota, who is heading the activities of the committee in the absence of Chairman J. C. Hutchinson.

The definite date for the meeting has not been announced but Mr. Lettice stated that it will be held near this time and that officials of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration will be present at the meeting to discuss problems with the delegates and the growers and shippers of celery who desire to attend the meeting.

The weekly meetings of the committee were abandoned several weeks ago and a final meeting will be held in which reports of the committee's activities for the past season will be made. It was expected that the meeting would be called for this week.

Unless another grower referendum is held in which growers of celery vote to discontinue the operation of the marketing pact, the agreement which is operated under the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1937, will automatically be continued for another year.

A petition has been filed with the Secretary of Agriculture for a re-hearing on whether growers wish to operate under the agreement for another year but dates for these hearings, if granted by Secretary Wallace, have not been announced.

Commission To Study British Trade Act

WASHINGTON, June 3. —(AP)—President Roosevelt said today he was sending a commission to England this summer to study the British trade union act. The President told his press conference the study would have no relation at all to the Wagner Labor Relations Act in this country. Declaring idea of the study was his own, Mr. Roosevelt said its real purpose would be to clear up a great deal of misinformation in this country regarding the British law.

He said he could not say who would serve on the commission because the membership was not complete.

School Financial Director Confers With T. W. Lawton

Dr. Edgar Morphett, State director of school finance, visited Superintendent T. W. Lawton today for discussion of school finances for next year, Mr. Lawton reported.

Dr. Morphett said that in spite of losses in school revenues a number of schools were operating full terms and that most of them would be able to operate full terms next year.

Fear was expressed that most of the schools next year will feel the loss even more than this year that will be able to operate full time.

Plans were discussed for the state convention to be held in Daytona Beach the 19, 20, 21, and 22 at the Riviera Hotel. All county superintendents are expected to be present.

Mr. Lawton declared that the State revenue this year would be nearly $2,000,000 less than was estimated. The estimated figure was based on revenue for the previous year.

Boats Are Used As Searchers Broaden Area Of Hunt

Princeton, June 3. —(AP)—Searchers extended James Bailey (Skeegie) Cash's hunt for his 5-year-old son's body and had been found.

Meanwhile, Mr. Cash was in bed under the care of Dr. A. J. Bertram of Miami. Cash emerged barely able to get up from his home with his brother, W. F. Cash, and two federal agents and entered his automobile. With the father driving, the party sped at an 80 mile an hour clip by roundabout route to a dump a mile east of Homestead airport, south of here, where a negro woman had found something decomposed in a barrel. It turned out to be a dead dog and the party returned after half an hour.

Hoover arrived at the FBI office in Miami late in the morning, leading to the supposition he and his men had worked far into the night. With him were Clyde Hodson, his aide, and E. J. Connelley, an investigator from Washington. All were uncommunicative.

Social Security Act Benefits Are Told By Weaver

Paul K. Weaver, manager of the Orlando field office of the Social Security Board, said today "that the sharp spur of fatal accidents has resulted in a better understanding of lump-sum insurance payments under the Social Security Act."

Mr. Weaver stated that a man was killed in an automobile accident recently, and that a friend of the family familiar with the provisions of the Social Security Act read of the accident as reported in the newspapers and advised the widow to see the Social Security Board.

As the worker had been employed in work covered by the act, Mr. Weaver explained, and had not yet reached the age of 65, the wife was entitled to file a claim for three and one-half percent of her husband's earnings as reported under the act.

"As a result of the payment of this claim," he added, "relatives of several other workers who had died, but who did not before realize that they were entitled to file a claim, did so."

Mr. Weaver pointed out that several other fatal accidents have been instrumental in causing survivors to file claims for lump-sum payments.

"In most instances of this kind, he said, "the employers are notifying the Orlando field office of the Social Security Board, his results in getting the claim under way promptly."

Wildfowl Marshes

Repairs to the continent's great "duck factory" are underway in Canada this Spring in a new movement supported by thousands of the country's duck hunters to boost wildfowl crops by assisting Nature, according to the More Game Birds Foundation in a current newspaper release.

Organized as Ducks Unlimited, Inc., a nation-wide non-profit organization of wildfowlers, the movement aims at restoration and protection of vast duck-breeding marshes in the prairie provinces, bourne of the bulk of America's wild ducks but largely ruined in recent years by drought and agriculture, the foundation's report states.

Co-operating in the program are the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta governments and conservation organizations. Dominion officials have offered for use as waterfowl breeding sanctuaries hundreds of water conservation projects in process of establishment throughout the Canadian drought belt.

First construction work under the Ducks Unlimited program was started early in May at Big Grass Marsh, Manitoba. Formerly over 50,000 acres in extent and productive of hundreds of thousands of waterfowl, the marsh was unsuccessfully drained for agriculture. Land ownership now has largely reverted to the province through non-payment of taxes.

Ducks Unlimited's field staff of engineers and technicians is said to be supervising erection of a simple dam across the abandoned main drainage ditch to restore the marsh. Use of the land is being provided free by the province and local authorities are co-operating in furnishing labor.

Work also is said to be underway on a similar project at Waterhen Lake, Saskatchewan, aimed at reflooding 1,000 acres of the finest waterfowl nesting ground in the province, according to Thomas C. Main, former Canadian National Railways conservation engineer directing the program.

Hordes of predatory crows, found to consume a large percentage of duck eggs, are being controlled under co-operative campaigns sponsored by Ducks Unlimited and the provincial Departments of Natural Resources. In Saskatchewan alone, both agencies have appropriated a total of $5800 for cash awards for crow shooting. Regulation of grazing and marsh burning, and organization of volunteer rescue crews to salvage helpless ducklings during droughts, is being sponsored.

"This practical program may well solve the duck depression and deserves the support of all wildfowlers. Without protected places in which to breed no wildlife can survive," John C. Huntington, Vice-President of Ducks Unlimited declares.

Florida's Weather

Every time it rains, or every time it doesn't rain; every time it freezes, or every time it boils; every time the wind blows and every time it doesn't; it's interesting news to the people. There is no other subject which is so perpetually good for a headline. All of which leads the St. Augustine Record to suggest that Florida has "the best weather of any state in the union."

"Florida has the least cause for complaint about the weather of any state in the nation," the Record says. "For conditions here are about as perfect as can be found at any spot on the globe. And yet the weather is the most fruitful topic of conversation among Floridians. Winter visitors who have left fields of ice and snow, rail bitterly at each cool snap. Natives mop their brows during the summer, even though a glance at the paper will tell them that the mercury is practically bursting out of the thermometers up North."

"Recently Florida has been suffering something rare, a drought. Of course, Florida's drought is nothing like those out West, where cattle die and dust storms howl, but, nevertheless, there has been a long dry spell and crops have suffered. The farmers and everyone else have been praying for rain, and now Nature in her wisdom is sending it. But will anybody be satisfied a few days after the drought dangers have been done away with? Oh, no. Rain interferes with fishing, ball games and trips to the beach. Pretty soon everyone will be muttering, 'Isn't it going to do anything but RAIN?' and feel pretty good about it. So even in Florida, where the weather is seldom at an extreme, they still complain. Perhaps the whole thing is best explained by the old adage:

"By the rule, Man's a fool; When it's hot He wants it cool, When it's cool He wants it hot, Always wanting what is not."

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHELSON Democratic National Committee

Because Harry Hopkins has expressed a preference for one candidate for the U. S. Senatorship in Iowa, his native State, horses and amazement is expressed by some of those who always express horror and amazement at anything done by the present administration at Washington or any member thereof.

They see in this episode a desperately attempt to use the appropriations for the WPA, of which Mr. Hopkins is administrator, as a weapon to campaign against all of those who have opposed any of the President's policies.

It appears that Harry Hopkins, when asked by newspaper reporters what his view was on the primary contest between Congressman Wearin and Senator Gillette, replied that while he was no longer a citizen of Iowa, though he was born and educated there, he would vote for Wearin, if he still lived there.

To cast our minds back a few years, how much excitement would it have caused during the Coolidge administration had Postmaster General Harry New expressed a preference for one or another of the Republican candidates for Senatorial nomination in Indiana.

In fact, I seem to remember that Harry New's comments on Jim Watson were pretty sizzling. To go a little further back, there did not appear to be very much criticism when President Theodore Roosevelt and National Chairman Mark Hanna went out after Senator Foraker's scalp, and got it. And some people may recall that in the Hoover administration a number of people high up in the administration arranged with grocer George W. Norris to get into the fight to confuse the people who wanted to vote for Senator George Norris.

Would anybody have been greatly excited had Secretary of the Interior and ex-Republican chairman, Dr. Hubert Work, concerned himself with Colorado politics? No, in those good old days the Republicans high command made no bones about picking the Senators and Congressmen. They went out after them in the freest as supervisor, as secretary, as director of welfare organizations—which, incidentally, is how he came to be chosen for the big job when the great emergency welfare situation came along.

He will have to spend a lot of money this year, and for some years to come. Unfortunately, good times and bad times do not coincide with political happenings. No way as yet has been found of declaring a moratorium for relief campaigns. People get hungry and cold in election years as in other years. But during campaigns, particularly campaigns conducted on the principle that whatever the incumbent administration does must be wrong, it is perhaps inevitable that the party in power should be accused of using the Works Progress funds to promote the candidacies of the administration's friends.

You may perhaps have noticed that we never get any details in these charges. Under our system of government, the ballot is secret. The WPA worker or the men and women on relief can and do vote as they please, and in Iowa, for example, nobody is ever going to be able to tell whether individual Democrats in the primary cast their ballots for Congressman Wearin or for Senator Gillette.

Now, in 1936 there was a mass of relief disbursements in Maine and Vermont. Governor Landon's supporters thrilled loudly, particularly at the way money was being poured into Maine by the relief administration. If there were anything to the theory of amazement at the Hopkins statement, it would appear that Maine and Vermont were the only States in the Union that could not be bought.

As a matter of fact, the distribution of the Government relief is, for the most part, in the hands of Republicans in Republican territory, and presumably Democrats are more prevalent in the administration in Democratic territory. Actually, some of the bitterest criticism of the establishment has come from Democrats who have organized as seeing fine and important places in relief administration given to Republicans, picked for the job simply because they were supposed to be better qualified than the other fellows.

In the distribution of the dozen billion dollars' worth of relief there have been no scandals, no conspicuous fraud, and I have an idea that as many of those who were caught in wrong-doing and punished for it belonged to one party as to the other.

It is doubtful if prior to his advent in the Roosevelt administration, anybody knew or cared what political faith the administrator subscribed to. I think that among those who did not know was Harry Hopkins himself, for his work followed no political lines. He rose

Lookouts Nose Out Palatka Azaleas By 9 To 8 Margin

Holland's Single Scores Musso For Needed Margin

Joe Pinder And Chef Cook Give Up Only Six Bingles To Visiting Azaleas During 10 Inning Encounter

A single to short right field last night by Florida's Holland, pinch hitting by Big Chief Cook, scored Louis Musso from second base to give the Lookouts a 9 to 8 victory over the Palatka Azaleas.

Joe Pinder started on the hill for the local and finished with seven innings, giving up only one hit through the 10th and the visitors scored from only four in the seventh. Pinder allowed seven of the visitors but allowed seven walks.

Pinder, after putting two men on the bases with no outs, singled from the hill in the eighth in favor of Chief Cook who went on to get credit for the victory. Cook in that inning allowed three runs, two of which were credited to Pinder. He was nipped for only one hit during his stay on the mound. Cook allowed one hit in three innings and issued three walks while fanning one of the Azaleas.

The Lookouts got to Jack Gaddy in the early portion of the tilt as they scored three runs off him in the first and two in the second to take a lead. However, Gaddy tightened down and hurled scoreless ball until the seventh when the Lookouts scored three more. Gaddy was taken out in the tenth for a pinch hitter but his record included two strikeouts and a lone base on balls.

He was replaced by George Ellwood who was nipped for two hits and one run and was credited as the losing hurler although he pitched only one inning.

Leading the hitting for the Lookouts was Louis Musso and the Runners who collected three hits in five trips to the platter. Every man on the local outfit hit safely last night except Whitley Watts. St. Turbomelon led in bases with a pair of singles in five appearances at the platter.

Hull Asks Americans To Assist International Recovery

By Associated Press
Japanese planes twice raided Canton today and it was feared casualties might be even greater than those of last Saturday's raid when 750 were killed and 1,350 wounded.

The unpredictable Chinese-Japanese war today provided one of the strangest spectacles in the strangely disordered world as six Chinese junks, rigged out in armor plate, figured in a naval engagement with the Japanese.

They attacked no mighty warship, only a patrol boat off the south China coast. However, a Japanese naval spokesman conceded: "This amounts to an extension of guerilla activities to the sea," and added "we are prepared to cope with it."

United States Secretary of State Hull was moved last night in a speech at Nashville to call on American people to support a program to replace "international anarchy" and "savagery" with "order under law."

He said he was willing to join other nations in steps to restore international economic order, "humanize" warfare, and reduce armaments.

Japanese land forces reported further success in a westward drive along the Lungshai railway to open a push against Hankow.

A week of war in Spain ended with the insurgents virtually halted in a struggle to widen the breach in government territory and capture Castellon de la Plana and Valencia.

Growers Seek Government Control Of Celery Acreage

A petition requesting government control of the celery acreage over the United States and payment of $50 per acre for all celery land left idle by growers is being circulated in this area and is receiving favorable response.

The growers are favoring control of the acreage rather than the control of shipments as provided under the marketing agreement under which the industry in this state operated during the past season.

The petition, after it has been signed by as many growers as care to sign, will be sent to Florida's representatives in Washington. The petition asks for the "protection of the celery industry of Florida under the Agricultural Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act."

"We believe that in protection of the celery industry under the said act, a provision should be made which will give us compulsory celery acreage control under the act for tobacco and cotton," the petition reads.

"We further believe that the government should pay to each of the growers a sum of not less than $50 per acre for any portion of his celery lands left idle under the conservation plan," the petition continues.

"We request a prompt investigation of the industry in Florida with the view of immediately placing the industry under the Agricultural Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act."

In order to operate under this act it is understood that an act of Congress must classify celery with the basic commodities and that operation under the act must be approved by a majority of producers of celery over the nation, including California, New York and Michigan which with Florida are the leading producers of this commodity.

In advocating the plan, leading growers who are sponsoring the movement, point out that controlling the supply of the commodity all allotments is more advisable before the crop is planted than after the crop is ready for harvesting and the high cost of producing has been increased.

It was also pointed out that operation under an agreement of this kind would prevent the rapid rise in the annual acreage of celery planted which has been the trend for the past several seasons.

The petition has been placed at the Roundhill and Anderson Drug Store at the corner of Park Avenue and First Street and all growers desiring to affix their signatures are requested to do so as soon as possible.

Those who have signed the petition to date are: Fred Holly, Ed Carraway, Gus Schmah, Roy Bynes, J. J. Holly, E. H. Hendrick, John G. Harbet, H. J. Kurland, Henry Thurston, Fred Thurston, Henry Richter, Ralph B. Chapman, C. S. Lee, Fred Harrison, Otto Schmehl, T. F. Adams, R. G. Hickson, C. F. Branan, Edmund W. Meisch and C. P. Ford.

$27,462.39 Is Collected By Jinkins In May

Tax Collector Reports $217,657.38 Paid For 71 Percent Of Tax Roll For 1937

Collection of State and County taxes during the month of May totaled $27,462.39 bringing to the total tax collections on the 1937 tax rolls to $217,657.38, County Tax Collector Jno. D. Jinkins reported today.

Although $217,657.38 is credited on the books for payment of taxes since last November, only $212,019.65 have been added to the State and County coffers since a total of $5,637.69 has been deducted as discounts allowed for early payments. The collections to date represent 71 percent of the total amount of taxes assessed for 1937, Mr. Jinkins stated.

Contributing largely to mounting the tax collections for May was the payments of $13,511.80 by the Atlantic Coast Line, the Florida, East Coast and the Southern Airlines have paid approximately 50 percent of the taxes assessed against them by the State Railroad Assessment Board, Mr. Jinkins said.

Payment of the remainder of their taxes is being withheld pending the outcome of a hearing in the courts for which they have appealed. The railroads claim that the assessed valuation of their property as set by the State board is too high. The State Comptroller, Attorney General, and the Treasurer consult the Railroad Assessing Board.

Intangible personal property tax collections are slightly higher than for real taxes, Mr. Jinkins reported, adding that to date collections totaled 84 percent of the amount which was assessed. Delinquent intangible personal property taxes are a lien against real estate and tangible property until paid, Mr. Jinkins declared.

Mr. Jinkins stated that he is now preparing to advertise as delinquent all real estate on which taxes are assessed and remain unpaid and on which there are no outstanding State tax certificates for 1932 or subsequent years.

However, Mr. Jinkins declared, any real taxes may be paid until June 10 without payment of penalties as provided by law. After that date he said, advertising costs must be paid at the rate of 10 percent for the first year, 10 percent thereafter, Mr. Jinkins said, adding that these rates are fixed by law.

Licenses To Wed Show Decline In Past 12 Months

Records Reveal Were Issued 13 Less Than For Preceding Year

Time was when the slogan of matrimony was "two can live as cheaply as one" but it appears that youth doesn't put much faith in the statement.

At least, it seems as if records at the County Court House are not all wrong.

Marriage licenses issued at the Court House show that for the 12 months past there were 13 less licenses issued than during the 12 months preceding.

From June 1936 to May 1937 there were 397 licenses issued in the office of County Judge R. W. Ware, whereas from June 1937 to May 1938 there were only 284.

Seminole County records also send another tradition spinning into oblivion. June, traditionally the month when most weddings take place, falls short of being the top month. Rather, it is March which wins the honor for the 1937-38 period having 52 with February leading in the 1936-37 period with 53.

Schools Close To End Studies For 1,500 Students

Pupils Are Asked To Call For Report Cards On Friday

Schools of Seminole County closed their doors yesterday afternoon and approximately 1,500 students finished another school year.

Carefree students, with books tucked under their arms, left schools behind their only thought being the three months of vacation that stretched out ahead.

At the schools, however, teachers and administrators will continue to pour over records and plan through files for another two weeks, seeking to bring the mass of data, records and reports for the 1937-38 terms up to date.

Also at the high school a class of nearly 90 seniors remain to present themselves as candidates for graduation at the exercises to be held in the auditorium Monday night.

The graduates, according to Prof. R. E. Kipp, principal of the Grammar School, have spent collectively a total of 64,000 days in classrooms during their first four years of high school. In this period their instructors recorded 1,800 grades for them while through the elementary grades these students attended classes a total of 115,000 days and their instructors recorded 4,720 grades.

During the 12 years of their study this group has attended school a total of 180,000 school days and in the files are recorded 6,120 grades. These grades for many in the class are the final scholastic records as graduation Monday night will mark the end of their formal schooling.

Instructors will continue in the classrooms and the final reports for students will be completed the latter part of next week and students of the Sanford Grammar School, Junior High and Seminole High Schools have been asked to report at their respective schools between 9:00 and 12:00 A. M. next Friday to obtain their report cards.

James Cash Is Resigned To Death Of Son

Father States Conviction That Kidnapers Eventually Will Be Captured

CASH, Fla., June 4.—(AP)—His shoulders bent and his eyes bloodshot, James R. Cash today emerged from his home today expressing resignation to the death of his only child and a conviction that the kidnapers would be caught.

Appearing briefly on the porch of his home, Cash was asked whether he thought the kidnaping would be solved.

"Yes, I think so, as far as catching the fellow who did it is concerned," he replied dejectedly. "Once we catch them we will be able to find out what they did with the boy."

"I expect a break within the next week or ten days," he remarked, but declined to amplify the statement beyond indicating he did not expect his son, five-year old James Jr., would be found alive.

He said J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, visited him last night for the first time and "naturally" was confident of a solution.

Mr. Cash, who had been under a physician's care, was feeling "some better," he added.

Seventy-five volunteers and like number of officers were sent today on what may be the last organized search in south Florida.

Senate Kills Measure For PWA Project Aid

WASHINGTON, June 4.—(AP)—The Senate beat down yesterday an attempt to relieve West Virginia, Florida and Georgia from the necessity of providing 55 percent of the cost of projects undertaken by the Public Works Administration.

Without a record vote, senators killed a relief bill amendment by Senator Neely, Democrat, West Virginia, authorizing the PWA to allot the entire cost of projects in states and subdivisions where constitutional limitations prevent local contributions toward the cost.

Neely said West Virginia, Florida and Georgia, whose constitutions prohibit issuance of state bonds, would be the principal beneficiaries.

Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado, floor manager of the relief bill, objected on the ground it would be unfair to other states. Nor would he withdraw his objection when Senator Andrews of Florida proposed to limit the allotments to the amount the state would receive if the 45 percent grant limitation applied.

Dollars And Sense

You've heard a lot about reading the ads before you buy. Maybe you do as a matter of course. Maybe you need to, but have slipped out of the habit lately.

That the ads save you money is one of those handy truths. Something everyone knows but sometimes forgets. And the ads do more than save you money. They help you get greater satisfaction in your purchases.

An advertisement is better than average advice. Better than average advice is better than average service. And the merchant who spends the money to advertise it.
