

Lilienthal Points To Proof Of Need For Utility Rules

Roosevelt Idea Sound Grounded On Facts, TVA Head Says

CHATTANOOGA, Mar. 21.—World's Electric, Tennessee Valley Authority power director, yesterday cited a Chattanooga municipal electric utility as an example of the need for regulation of utility companies.

Conn Guild, president of the Tennessee Electric Power Co., a subsidiary of Commonwealth and Southern Corporation, said an electric utility in the community will not sell its local distribution system to the federal power commission unless persons wishing to enter should call at the George Drexel Hotel in the Metropolitan Arcade, New York, for the necessary sum being used to pay costs of advertising and securing the six prizes which will go to the winners.

"This refusal of Commonwealth and Southern to consider sale of the local system to the people of Chattanooga is due to the agency's insistence on strict control of such holding companies as provided for in the pending Rayburn-Wheatsell bill," he continued.

"The holding company which controls Tennessee Electric Power Company common stock now is permitted to override the wishes of consumers and the electric corporation in a number of areas, and disregard the best interest of local investors," he continued. "The refusal to sell threatens a heavy loss to holders of preferred stock and bonds of the power company."

Brady Cowell, named Stetson Head Coach

DELAND, Mar. 21.—Walter (Brady) Cowell, yesterday was named athletic director and head coach of the DeLand High School football team. He succeeds Harry L. Allen, president of the institution.

Chief Football Trainer, Harry H. Bishop, has been appointed as Cowell's assistant in football and physical education, and coach of basketball activities.

U. S. Revenues Show Big Gain Over Last Year

Roosevelt Estimates Become Step Nearer To Realization

WASHINGTON. Mar. 22.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's revenue estimates for the current fiscal year became a step nearer realization recently with the announcement by the Treasury that receipts through February 1 had amounted to $241,479,065 over the corresponding period of last year.

The annual budget messages estimated the year's receipts at $2,397,000,000. Results for the first eight months of the period have reached at the rate of $225,000,000 monthly which would indicate total receipts for the year of only $2,600,000,000 if the present ratio continues.

However, Treasury officials said that the remaining months are among the most lucrative, due primarily to the fact that the first four months of the year on this basis are due in March, a levy which is expected to return at least $30,000,000, before Mar. 31.

On this basis, responsible officials said it is believed strongly that the budget estimates will be reached.

On Capitol Hill, the Treasury figures evoked even more robust judgment. Speaker of the House John W. Davis said: "The depression is over." and then added:

"There's nothing that gives a better indication of the true condition of business than tax payments."

While Byrnes preferred to leave future tax plans to those he termed the "experts," other Democratic leaders said they believed Congress might not confront the question of immediate laying-in new levies.

In line with this, a move to prevent re-enactment of the federal excise tax on gasoline which expires June 1, was under way today in the House.

A small group headed by Representative Driscoll, Democrat of Pennsylvania and Disney, Democrat of Oklahoma, brought up a bill and the measure and Disney said the matter would be presented to the Ways and Means Committee in the near future.

Meanwhile, the Treasury reported that the January receipts amounted to $151,340,000, a gain of $75,845,661 over the same month of last year.

Alcoholic beverages have registered gains of 27.7 percent during the first eight months of the present fiscal year. Liqueur, however, was not made legal until December, 1933, which accounts for the whole disparity.

Revised Rules Of Contract Bridge To Be Explained

WASHINGTON. Mar. 22.—(AP)—Revised rules of contract bridge, which go into effect May 1, were explained yesterday by a noted authority, Leon M. Gruenber, in a series of four daily articles.

The series will give players a chance to learn what has been accepted.

He assisted in framing the American committee which co-operated with Miss F. Stone, PERA administrator.

"I flew over the Orca National Forest, too," said the official. "Do you know that trees are taller than any other spot on earth? Do you know that in west Florida pine trees grow faster than on any other spot in the entire country?"

"Asked the direct question, 'Will Florida get the canal?', Mr. Tugwell replied:

"I feel certain of its construction."

"Do you base that merely on been almost identical with actual returns for the first eight months of the year. In this case the alcohol beverage taxes for 1935 were $2,000,000, while returns of $1,800,000 are forecast on the basis of eight months' receipts.

In December, 1933, beer returned with $8,651,000, while returns of $8,000,000 are due in March, a levy which is expected to return at least $30,000,000, before Mar. 31.

Broad Program Of Changes Adopted By Planning Board

General Sales Tax Not Mentioned In Recommendation List

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 22.—(UPI)—A broad program of recommended changes by law and constitutional amendment in Florida's governmental machinery was adopted Wednesday by the state planning board and submitted to Gov. Dave Shultz for consideration.

Into the list went proposals to abolish state-purpose ad valorem tax on real estate except for the constitutionally required one mill for schools and to establish a state agricultural commission of 11 members to govern the citrus industry. There was no mention of a general sales tax.

The Florida cross-state canal, which government engineers have estimated would cost $169,481,000 was endorsed along with a proposal to have the legislature enact laws setting up a definite status for approximately 18,000,000 acres of land now off the tax assessment rolls because of delinquent taxes.

Elimination of the state-purpose ad valorem tax on real estate was endorsed in a lengthy report by the planning board's legislative committee. The present levy is 6 1/8 mills, including the one mill for schools.

The planning board's report will go to the governor for his consideration, and for presentation to the legislature in the form of recommended legislation if he deems it wise. Among the various proposals were:

Establishment of a state tax commission of three members with the state comptroller as chairman for handling taxation matters.

Establishment of state planning board of five members serving without compensation.

Consolidated city, district, county and state tax assessments under the county tax assessor, and consolidated collection of these taxes by the county tax collector. This proposal, if enacted, would eliminate city tax assessors and collectors.

Assessment of intangible taxes on a basis of 100 per cent valuation, with a tax levy increased from the present two mills to five mills. Comptroller J. M. T. reported that in the last fiscal year collections of intangible taxes totalled $205,000, with assessment varying according to the type of property, and the levy ranging from one tenth of one mill up to two mills.

Assessment and collection of railroad, telegraph and utility taxes by the comptroller with reference to county officials and providing that no fees be paid to county officials on such taxes.

Broadened powers for the state auditing department to also supervise over municipal accounting.

Requiring county tax officers to deposit in the proper county funds, immediately upon receipt fees collected by their offices, and provide for payment of expenses of these offices upon warrant approved by the county commissioners. (There was an additional proposal by the board to abolish the fee system for county officers and place them on straight salaries according to population of the counties).

Increase in stamp tax on real estate sales to one percent of the sale price. (The present documentary stamp tax levy on such transactions is one-tenth of one percent). The proposed stamp tax on sales would not apply on mortgages, notes and such papers.

Five constitutional amendments were proposed. They were:

Establishment of a state board of education consisting of seven members, with a state commissioner of education to be selected by the board, and county school superintendents to be selected by a board of five members elected in the county. This is the same as a recommendation previously made by W. S. Cawthon, state superintendent of education.

Prohibit passage by the Legislature of local laws that would amend general laws, and provide that no local law should become effective until ratified by a referendum election.

Authorize consolidation of two or more counties if electors approved at a referendum.

Provide for consolidation of city and county governments when desired by a majority of the qualified electors in the area affected.

The proposed state agricultural commission to direct citrus marketing would be given five major powers under the planning board's proposals. These were outlined as authority to:

1. Advertise Florida citrus.
2. Provide necessary regulations for a standard grade and pack of Florida fruit.
3. Provide necessary regulations for inspection of fruit and fix standards of maturity for shipment.

4. Make the necessary regulations to cover the shipment of all Florida fruit.

5. Make and enforce above regulations, together with such others concerning the marketing of Florida fruit as may be for the best interests of the growers, shippers and all others interested in the fruit industry.

Members of the 11-member commission, the planning board recommended, would be appointed from among persons who had lived at least five years in Florida and whose business interest was citrus.

Establishment of a state agricultural commission to handle the marketing of other types of farm products on the same basis as the citrus committee also was proposed.

Endorsement of the proposed cross-state ship canal was in a report which also recommended other waterways improvements estimated to cost $236,433,000. Other projects included $1,400,000 for St. Johns river improvements at Jacksonville, $2,348,000 for inter-coastal waterway projects, $133,000 for dredging the Apalachicola and Chattahoochee rivers to provide a channel nine feet deep to Columbus, Ga., $19,571,000 for providing a similar channel in the Chattahoochee river from Columbus to Atlanta, Ga., and $5,719,000 for a nine foot channel in the Flint river from River Junction, Fla., to Albany, Ga.

The recommendations approved by the planning board were drafted by various sub-committees after several months of study.

Herman Smith Loses Try To Cheat Chair

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 21.—(UPI)—Herman Smith's hope to escape the electric chair by having the parole board commute his death sentence to life imprisonment failed yesterday as the board denied his plea.

Smith was sentenced in Orange county last year for the murder of Jewel Caudell. His conviction was affirmed by the Supreme Court and the parole board said it would not interfere.

A death warrant for Smith probably will be signed later this week, Gov. Dave Shultz said.

Assessment and collection of railroad, telegraph and utility taxes by the comptroller with reference to county officials and providing that no fees be paid to county officials on such taxes.

Broadened powers for the state auditing department to also supervise over municipal accounting.

Requiring county tax officers to deposit in the proper county funds, immediately upon receipt fees collected by their offices, and provide for payment of expenses of these offices upon warrant approved by the county commissioners. MIAMI, Mar. 21.—Robert A. E. Martyn yesterday filed suit for divorce from Mary Kirk Brown, New York and Atlanta socialite, and reputed mistress of Max Baer, heavyweight champion of the world.

Martyn said his wife, now in her early twenties, deserted him 15 days after their marriage a year ago in Fort Lauderdale.

Baer and Miss Brown are now said to be $480 per month.

Assessment of intangible taxes on a basis of 100 per cent valuation, with a tax levy increased from the present two mills to five mills. Comptroller J. M. T. reported that in the last fiscal year collections of intangible taxes totalled $205,000, with assessment varying according to the type of property, and the levy ranging from one tenth of one mill up to two mills.

Assessment and collection of railroad, telegraph and utility taxes by the comptroller with reference to county officials and providing that no fees be paid to county officials on such taxes.

Broadened powers for the state auditing department to also supervise over municipal accounting.

Requiring county tax officers to deposit in the proper county funds, immediately upon receipt fees collected by their offices, and provide for payment of expenses of these offices upon warrant approved by the county commissioners. (There was an additional proposal by the board to abolish the fee system for county officers and place them on straight salaries according to population of the counties).

Increase in stamp tax on real estate sales to one percent of the sale price. (The present documentary stamp tax levy on such transactions is one-tenth of one percent). The proposed stamp tax on sales would not apply on mortgages, notes and such papers.

Five constitutional amendments were proposed. They were:

Establishment of a state board of education consisting of seven members, with a state commissioner of education to be selected by the board, and county school superintendents to be selected by a board of five members elected in the county. This is the same as a recommendation previously made by W. S. Cawthon, state superintendent of education.

Prohibit passage by the Legislature of local laws that would amend general laws, and provide that no local law should become effective until ratified by a referendum election.

Authorize consolidation of two or more counties if electors approved at a referendum.

Provide for consolidation of city and county governments when desired by a majority of the qualified electors in the area affected.

The proposed state agricultural commission to direct citrus marketing would be given five

ability to march.
Thousands and thousands have had varying degrees of training
in the storm troops, Schutz Staf-fel, air corps, cavalry and motor camps, all under the often repeated Nazi protestations that they are purely innocent games
and exercises.

No one but the highest officials can say how many men Hitler
can put in the field today,
but I estimate several million.

The least important factor is the spirit of the people, tired of international bickerings for years and, since the Nazi-savant, fed on propaganda that the whole world
is their enemy waiting to annihilate them.

An estimate of Germany's military strength must include the following details: New automomobile roads built or planned; linking the extreme borders; new canals and air fields spread country wide and concentrated particularly in the northern part of the country; ammunition factories
also in the north equipped for extensive manufacture of war materials; new ships, although intended primarily for commercial use; recent imports of horses;
large nitrate deposits; reports of new gass and technical experiments
the purpose of which can only be imagined; new types of locomotives of great speed; increasing agricultural production designed to make Germany self-sufficient and independent of foreign importations; vigorous drives to develop substitutes for things Germany can produce only with great difficulty—oils, cotton, textiles and rubber.

"So much of this has been done
the last year or two it is difficult to estimate its extent."

This informant expressed the belief the Nazis, from the moment they seized power, embarked on a program designed ultimately to result in Germany's defiance of the military clauses of the Treaty of Versailles.

building up Navy bases; the proposed acquisition of a 4,200-acre
Army base in Hawaii to serve as a station for bombers, and an already-approved Navy plan for converting the Sunnyvale, California, dirigible base into an airplane
training center.

The $20,000,000 Army bill—
expenditure exclusive of proposed acquisition of land—cost $400,000,000, the fate of which is in doubt—would increase total enlistment to 165,000 men and 12,400 officers, roughly a 40 percent rise, while providing for the addition of 6,000 men to the National Guard, now 190,000 strong.

The Navy bill, still in early stage and not outlined in detail, is estimated to run above $6,000,000.
Prospectively set aside for new ship construction is $140,000,- 000 against $42,000,000 for last year;
$22,000,000 to replace necessary against $6,000,000 last year; $12,000,000 for new planes. A total of 76 warships is authorized under treaty limitations to be laid down before 1937.

The pre-World War American Army numbered 92,000 but during that conflict the country mobilized 4,265,000 combatants at all arms,
the smallest of any of the great powers. Today, Uncle Sam counts his land forces at 135,000 against 80,000 for Russia, 644,000 for France, 510,000 for Italy, an esti-

are exclusive of what military re-

On the sea, America has 373
warships, Great Britain 276 and Japan 220. But, of that 373 vessels there are but 115 that will be under way in 1936, including those under construction as planned.

Against that Japan will have 103
and Great Britain 125. These ships constitute the "effective"
naval craft in event of war.

At the first of the year the year the United States had under construction or authorized 68 war-

War Declared On Frit Fly Horde Infesting City

Following a conference between City health authorities and heads of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology in this city, first steps in a campaign of control were taken through the Sanitary Department
and its garbage collectors.

Beginning this morning, all garbage wagons carried large quantities of oil which was poured to a depth of at least half an inch in every garbage can along the route of call.

This oil, intended to cover the thick slimy substance which is held as an ideal breeding place
for the frit fly, will be changed when needed throughout the length of the drive so that a major source of infestation promises to be eliminated within a few days.

At the same time, oil was being made ready to be poured on large quantities of rotting, slimy refuse
in the city dump grounds, another ideal breeding ground.

However, the drive requires the co-operation of every person in the city and county, particularly owners of citrus trees or groves
and truck farms.

In an appeal issued today, city health authorities call upon the immediate and continued support of the public in the campaign against probably the most serious infestation of its kind ever reported here.

The Herald was advised by Dr.
C. F. Stahl and Dr. C. B. Wisser of the Bureau of Entomology
this morning that the frit or possibly the tangerine fly is the most serious pest in the state.

If we can get the co-operation of the people," Dr. Stahl stated,
"we can go a long way toward cleaning up this condition in Sanford. What is particularly needed is the elimination by plowing up of the thousands of citrus fruits which grow this season
prior to the date of the first frost. Unfortunately, we are not certain as to the distance which these insects can cover in flight. But, if every householder, citrus fruit tree or grove owner,
and anyone else who deals with fruits or vegetables, will agree to destroy damaged fruits or vegetables,
I believe that we'll soon
be rid of the insects."

Every section of the state appears to be bothered with the fly at this time. It was inspected, particularly sections
where citrus plants of any kind are operating.

Financial State Of Germany Held Most Desperate

(Continued from Page Four) yesterday of a purported memorandum submitted to President Roosevelt in which an early economic collapse in Germany was forecast and the advisability of closing all American business houses in that country discussed.

(American officials in London characterized the alleged report as "just another unfounded war scare story." It was officially denied that any Americans had gone to Berlin from London to collaborate in such a memorandum as the Paris report said.)

Main headings of the memorandum were reported to be as follows:

1. No peaceful evolution is possible in Germany.
2. The Nazi government will last several years.

3. Financial and economic collapses of Germany is in sight.

4. The supply of raw materials will become increasingly scarce.

5. Confiscation of industrial capital is to be feared.

6. Should American business houses in Germany be closed?

7. Actual resources of Germany are too small for her present population.

8. War in central Europe is a possibility.

The financial situation of the German government is desperate; the memorandum was quoted as saying.

Beginnings of economic expansion were forecast, according to the account of the memorandum, in April owing to the lack of raw materials and expenditures on raw materials.

LEE EXPLAINS INTENTIONS OF HOMESTEAD ACT

(Continued from Page One) amendment, inasmuch as the general taxing authority of the counties to levy taxes on hundreds of millions of dollars of other property has not been impaired nor has the tax of other sources been exhausted or impaired."

"The people voted for this amendment and I think they are entitled to the full measure of all they voted for."

"I repeat, my intention, the home owners to file their application for exemption on the official blank form Act 1, so that erroneous assessments will be eliminated and the officials and legislature will have the benefit of all available information."

"The home owners should promptly to make the exemption effective," the Comptroller concluded.

Senators were expected to express their monetary views on the presentation of the Thomas silver purchase measure, but at first they decided to consider a few other amendments following yesterday's defeat of a rider which would have restored the anti-trust laws suspended under the Blue Eagle.

Without a protest from labor, Donald Richberg took the NRA helm as acting chairman of the Administration Board, succeeding Clay Williams, resigned.

The Treasury Department reported income tax receipts for the first 20 days of March as $2 per cent ahead of last year.

A bill to authorize the War Department to build six powerful air bases to defend the nation's frontiers was approved unanimously today by the House military committee after it had heard the measure described as "essential" by Army officers.

throughout the State and careful fertilization programs must be worked out according to individual requirements. Specific plans will not be generally applicable, but at no time has a general fertilizing program been more important.

Let one District Representative in your continuity of our Research and Advisory Department advise you concerning your problem.

More than forty years experience in the fertilization field in Florida stands back of our recommendations and a wide variety of ideal fertilizers will enable you to select a formula to suit your particular requirements. The following ideal brands have produced splendid

results in your section:
