County Bosses Rewarded For 'Outstanding' Work

By Micheal Beha Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's department and division heads have been rewarded with pay increases between 4 and 7 percent for "outstanding" work during fiscal 1982-83.

County commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday night to give the pay raises, recommended by County Administrator T. Duncan Rose, following his evaluation of the employee performance during the past fiscal year.

Budget Director Eleanor Anderson was one of four department heads who received a 7 percent increase. She also received the largest pay increase last year, when her salary was increased by 10 percent to $35,011 per year. Her salary for 1983-84 will be $36,239.

The raises, based on merit, were less than in previous years when department heads could receive up to 10 percent in- office director Pat Warren. creases. Rose said, because the county is trying to save money wherever it can.

The parents and other concerned citizens in a loosely formed group of about 15 families plan to go to the Winter Springs City Commission on Oct. 11 and present the petition. The petition asks for the city's curfew law to be amended to raise the age from 16 to 17 years and to enforce the open container law to prevent open alcoholic beverages on roads in the city limits.

The city ordinance provides for an 11 p.m. curfew for youths 16 years and younger being on the streets

IN BRIEF

N.Y. Socialite Guilty Of First-Degree Murder

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) - A 12-member panel of jurors took just a little more than three hours to convict New York socialite Frances Bernice Schreuder of first-degree murder in the slaying of her multi-millionaire father.

Mrs. Schreuder, 45, faces a sentence of death or life in prison. The penalty phase of the trial is scheduled to begin Oct. 3. Under Utah law. Juries in capital murder trials must first decide the verdict and then sit on a separate hearing to determine the sentence.

Mrs. Schreuder was charged with sending her teenage son, Marc, to Utah in 1978 to kill her father, millionaire auto parts magnate Franklin James Bradshaw. He was 76 when he was shot down in an auto parts store.

The prosecution told the jury the main question in the case was the motive. Mare Schreuder, now 22 and serving a 5-year-to-life sentence in Utah State Prison for second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of his grandfather. testified his mother was afraid of being cut out of her father's will.

Phone Surcharge Opposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A House committee, following up quickly on a Senate committee's tentative vote to suspend a $2-a-month surcharge for telephone subscribers, is working out details of its own telephone legislation.

The Senate Commerce Committee, on a 10-2 straw vote Tuesday, called for a two-year suspension of the $2-a-month residential surcharge for long distance connection, set to go into effect Jan. 1.

A proposal by Rep. Timothy Wirth, D-Colo., chairman of the House Energy and Commerce telecommunications subcommittee, would not nullify the $2-a-month charge on consumers but would limit how high the surcharge could rise in future years. It would provide "lifeline" telephone service for the poor, paid for by telephone companies, but does not specify funding amounts as the Senate version does.

County Ups User Fees By Roughly 20%

Herald Staff Writer

It's going to cost more for building inspections, zoning changes, county maps, and playing softball on county fields beginning Saturday.

Seminole County commissioners voted 4-1 Tuesday to raise fees for county services which benefit only the user with Commissioner Sandra Glenn casting the lone dissenting vote. Mrs. Glenn said the fees for appeals of county decisions are excessive.

"We're trying to make land management and recreation services which benefit only the user pay their own way," said County Administrator T. Duncan Rose. "The county taxpayers shouldn't pay for services which only benefit one or two people."

The higher so-called user fees include increases for appeals of county zoning decisions. Appeals to the county commission of Board of Adjustment decisions will cost $50, up from their present $20 fee.

In general, the increases are about 20 percent for rezoning, special exception applications, platting and site plan consideration.

Developers will pay a minimum of $500 for rezoning their property as a planned unit development, a minimum of $200 for zoning in non-residential classifications and a minimum of $150 for residential and agricultural classifications.

County inspection of engineering. building or curb cuts is included in other fees but if a reinspection is required it will cost $120.

The cost of building permits will increase as well. Projects up to $1,000 in value will cost $6, up from the present $5. Permits for projects between $15,000 and $100,000 will cost $72 for the first $15,000 and $3.60 for each additional $1,000. Projects worth over $1 million will cost $1,800 plus 36 cents for each additional $1,000.

It's also going to cost softball players more to play on county fields. The cost per game per team will increase to $22 from its present $20.

In other business Tuesday, commissioners awarded a bid for $137.972 to Poli Brothers of Oviedo to construct a 50-by-120-foot metal building for fleet vehicle maintenance at the county's Five Points complex.

Commissioners voted unanimously to follow the recommendation of Purchasing Director Joann Blackmon and Fleet Maintenance Director Frank Killgore to award the bid to Poli even though the Oviedo firm did not submit the low bid. That came from H&R Builders of Orlando which bid $136,920 but didn't meet bid specifications. Mrs. Blackmon Seven firms submitted bids on the project, including five from Seminole County.

Commissioners also unanimously approved a resolution seeking to establish Seminole County with its own medical, examiner. The state Medical Examiners' Commission is expected to meet next month to decide on th request.

Seminole is part of a district with Orange and Osceola countles and although Seminole has an associate medical examiner, Dr. G.V. Garay, Orange County, which administers the state funds which pay chief district Medical Examiner Dr. Thomas Hegert and Garay, have threatened to move all operations into Orange County if the new district is not created.

By a 4-1 vote, a contract with the Industrial Development Commission of Mid Florida was renewed. Commissioner. Bill Kirchhoff, who has questioned the benefits received by the county from IDC, cast the lone dissenting vote.

Commissioners recently voted to reduce funding to IDC by $15,000 from the $85,000 annual subsidy it received in fiscal 1982-83.

IDC works to attract new businesses to Seminole and Orange counties.

The contract will extend through Sept.

House Panel OKs Disability Reform Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) -The House Ways and Means Committee is recommending passage of a bill supporters say would end a Reagan administration crackdown that has thrown 350,000 people off the Social Security disability rolls.

'A great sigh of relief will be heard across our land when they learn the committee has passed a disability reform bill," Rep. J.J. Pickle, D.Texas. chairman of the Social Security subcommittee, sald Tuesday after the vote by the full committee.

The measure, approved on an unrecorded voice vote without debate, is likely to be ready for consideration by the full House in October, Pickle predicted. The bill also faces action in the Senate, possibly as early as next month.

Under the bill, the Social Security Administration would be permitted to cut ical condition had improved.

Court Takes Up Challenge To Tax-Cutting Measure

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - A state appeals court was to consider today a legal attack by Miami lawyer Martin Fine on the "Citizen's Choice" amendment, also known as Proposition 1. rolling back taxes to where they were three

The 1st District Court of Appeal will take oral arguments on Fine's lawsuit claiming that the plan violates the one-subject restriction in the Florida Constitution on amendments proposed through the "citizen's initiative process."

Because the proposal is legally defective. Secretary of State George Firestone's decision to place it on the November 1984 ballot should be reversed. Fine contends.

The amendment rolls back taxes to 1980-81 fiscal year levels and restricts future increases in taxes and government spending.

Shuttle Rollout Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) - The transfer of the space shuttle Columbia from an assembly building to its oceanside launch pad was delayed early today but NASA officials said the delay was not serious.

The shuttle was supposed to start its snail-like Journey across Kennedy Space Center to Its launch pad at 7:30 a.m., but the rollout was postponed for an undetermined period.

The shuttle will be moved when technicians complete analysis of the two solid rocket boosters attached to Columbia in search of cracks or deformities in the boosters' nozzles.

The tests were ordered after unexpectedly severe erosion was discovered in the carboncloth lining of one of the booster nozzles used on the shuttle Challenger on its August launch.

The Columbia is scheduled to blast off Oct. 28.

Record Coke Bust Made

PANAMA CITY (UPI) - Authorities have arrested three men and confiscated 873 pounds of cocaine worth more than $227 million from an airplane, a record seizure for the Florida Panhandle, officials said Tuesday.

U.S. Customs officials announced the confiscation at Panama City airport following the arrest of a suspect in Miami.

The man, Fernando Durango, 25, a Miami resident and native of Cali, Colombia, was held by U.S. marshals pending an appearance before a federal magistrate.

Customs agents seized the cocaine Saturday from a Piper Navaho airplane that landed at the airport. It had an estimated street value of $227.7 million, she said. Also confiscated from 'My first reaction is that (policy) is a violation." Ed Redman, chief of the Office of Civil Rights policy branch in Washington, said. "What's wrong is the preferential placement by race."

State Department of Health and Rehabilitative Service officials said they were unaware the policy change could be a violation but admitted some agency members had "reservations" over the proposed change.

"It's subject to debate because some here feel we are policy," said David May, supervisor for the HRS Children, Youth and Families Program, "The child is our client and we're looking to his rights."

Despite disagreement from the Civil Rights office, some HRS black social workers believe the proposed change is appropriate.

Gloria Walker, an adoption specialist for the HRS, said racially mixed children are "nearly always" subjected to some discrmination as blacks. She said a black family would be better equipped to teach the child how to handle those situations.

"It's always been our philosophy that the best plan for admitting that discrimination exists by adopting such a such children is a family most like themselves," said Ms. Walker. "There's no problem in placing a child with white parents if none other are available."

Ms. Walker also said placement in a black home would

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - A Leon tional testimony today on a petition that he temporarily block retirement checks for public officials using a loophole to collect pensions while remaining under salary in Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington, acting both as a citizen and member of the state retirement system, wants the checks blocked pending the outcome of his lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of the loophole.

Judge John Rudd planned to hear additional testimony before deciding on Turlington's request.

At least 11 public officials, all of County circuit Judge will hear addi- them circuit or county Judges, have applied to receive the dual incomes beginning Friday. Two other officials have applied for the benefits to take effect in future months.

'Keep Russians Out Of The Olympics'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) - A million-signature petition drive has been started calling for a ban on Soviet participation in the 1984 Olympics because of the Russian downing of Korean Air Lines Flight 007.

Five Southern California businessmen, including two Korean-American community leaders, launched the 60-day national petition drive Monday to pressure President Reagan and Olympic officials to block Soviet participation in the Games.

"The actions taken as sanctions against the Soviet Union have not been strong enough, and certainly have not been effective in condemning the Soviet Union for massacring 269 innocent men, women and children," said David Balsiger, an Orange County evangelical author who organized the petition drive.

Copies of petitions urging President Reagan and Congress to ban the Soviet Union from the Games through executive order, congressional legislation or denial of visas will be given to world leaders and Olympic officials.

It also urges state legislatures to pass resolutions asking the Soviet Union be banned and asks the Los Angeles, International and U.S. Olympic committees to retract the invitation to the Soviets. It urges support of a boycott of ticket purchases if Soviet athletes are allowed to take part.

A spokesman for the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee, reading a statement made by LAOOC President Peter Ueberroth Sept. 16, said the spirit of the Olympic Games would be violated if Soviet athletes were banned.

"We remain opposed to any effort to punish athletes for political purposes." Ueberroth said in the wake of the airline massacre.

Balsiger is joined in the effort by Ed Anderson, a financial consultant with a Newport Beach, Calif.-based resource firm and a decorated Vietnam air combat veteran. Thomas Rogers, head of an Anaheim-based production company. Hyun Kyung Kim. president of the Los Angeles Korean Chamber of Commerce, and Tae Soo Kim, president of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce.

Stand Up And Be Counted ...

and the second second

The United Way of Seminole has appropriately labeled its 1984 fund-raising campaign "Stand up and be counted!"

We say appropriately because Seminole County residents have done just that in the past when it meant doing for others.

And we expect this year will be no different when the finaly tally is in. We fully expect United Way of Seminole to reach, if not top, its 1984 goal of $450,000, just at it topped its goal ($338,00) last

State Rep. Carl Selph, R-Casselberry, one of the approximately 100 volunteer campaign workers. recipient agency representatives, and other elected officials who were on hand at the UW kickoff breakfast Tuesday, put it in perspective when he said there is nothing better in the United States than volunteerism, "and that's what this is all about...we're doing for others and keeping government out of it."

This year the United Way of Seminole will distribute funds among no less than 25 participating agencies. And those agencies provide a wide range of human services which otherwise might be unavailable to the thousands of county residents who find themselves with nowhere to turn except those agencies.

And United Way isn't just money. It's untold numbers of hours unselfishly donated by volunteers who take pride in their community and meet their obligation to give of self to benefit others less

From now until Oct. 27. United Way volunteers will try to cover every aspect of Seminole County life - community, commercial, industrial, and so on, asking all of us to give a fair share to help them meet the campaign goal.

We have said in the past, and we still believe, giving the United Way is the best way to help in Seminole County.

We Are What We Eat

After wolfing down about a half-acre of alfalfa sprouts, we were surprised and dismayed to find they aren't good for us.

Alfalfa sprouts, along with celery, lettuce. spinach, beets, radishes and rhubarb, may have the potential to cause cancer, we now are told by a blochemist from the University of California at

Some plants manufacture their own pesticides to ward off bugs, and these natural properties have the potential to cause cancer.

Ironically, some foods with properties designated as carcinogens are high on the list of health foods.

The biochemist's report appears in the Sept. 23 isue of Science magazine. It's intent is not to scare the public away from fruits and vegetables. It is to put in perspective their concern about man-made chemicals and pesticides.

Most experts believe there is little to fear from fruits and vegetables, but they warn that we should watch out for meat burned on the barbecue.

Now they are rally getting our attention.

Alfalfa is easy to pass up. A barbecued steak is another matter.

BERRY'S WORLD

"I am riding the crest of the liberal wave that is sweeping the country."

Everyone knows that an overdose of sleeping pills can be deadly. But many people don't know that alcohol works in much the same way.

A person who drinks too much too fast can actually stop breathing and die. People who drink a large amount or pass out after drinking may be in danger. They should be rushed to the emergency room of a hospital where life-saving actions can be taken. Don't just let them "sleep if off."

Numerous examples of this have appeared in the press. It could happen to anyone, but occurs most often with young people, warns the American Council on Alcohol Problems.

In 1976 an 18-year-old college student in Ames, lowa, drank many beers rapidly in a bar. He later drank a lot of vodka, tequilla and brandy at his fraternity house. He was found dead in bed the next morning.

In 1979 a 19-year-old youth in Wiscolish tried to set a drinking record. He drank 46 shots of brandy, whiskey and rum in four hours, collapsed, was taken home, and was found dead in the morning.

Fifty people who watched this event did not object. They didn't know the lethal danger.

It's easy to forget how many drinks are taken during a social event or while drinking with friends. A person can become ill, vomit to get rid of the alcohol, or have to be taken to a hospital for help.

The amount of alcohol consumed is what is important - not whether it is beer, wine, whiskey, vodka or something else.

Body weight is also a factor. A 200pound man can handle twice as much alcohol as a 100 pound man. A woman who weighs half as much as a male companion but drinks as much is in greater danger.

Another warning: sleeping pills and alcohol together are more dangerous than either by itself. Alcohol and other drugs interact in unpredictable ways.

Alcohol can produce cuphoría, but it can also lead to tragic results in a short period

WASHINGTON WORLD

What A Bunch Of Turkeys

WASHINGTON (UPI) - It is probably safe to say that none of the current crop of 1984 presidential hopefuls has caught the fancy of the public.

With the campaign year hard upon us, a charisma gap seems to be developing as expressed in a comment heard with increasing frequency, to wit: "What a bunch of turkeys."

Former Vice President Walter Mondale, we are told, is exceeded only in terminal dullness by Sen. John Glenn; Sen. Alan Cranston looks and sounds like a man who needs a solid meal: President Reagan is developing wattles and repeats himself a lot; Sens. Gary Hart and Ernest Hollings have fine heads of hair but no one can recall their faces; and who the heck are former Gov. Reubin Askew and Vice President George Bush?

There is one theory that this ennul. first noted in 1976, represents a subconscious wish to reinvent John F. Kennedy, a candidate through whom the middle aged can recapture fading youth and vigor and the young can feel involved in the affairs of state.

Certainly neither Jimmy Carter nor Jerry Ford were able to project that kind of feeling and the only folks who got carried away in 1980 by Reagan were people whose salad days coincided with the celluloid collar and the automobile

The problem, of course, is image. Bob Newhart, long before he became a shrink and an Innkeeper, used to do a comedy routine in which he played the part of a public relations type.

It went something like this: "Abe, I've told you over and over, the beard has got to go. And. listen Abe, wear the shawl I sent you. It gives you that homey touch."

It is easy to imagine the same kind of thing with some of the current presidential aspirants. For example, here might be Glenn's "creative consultant" calling the senator:

"John, we've been brainstorming over here and have a couple of things to run up the flagpole. Now, didn't they send a monkey into space before you made your flight? How about if we rent an ape and dress him up in a cute space suit and helmet ...?"

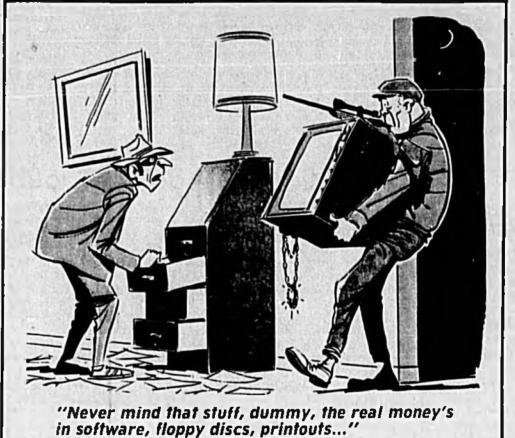

Cranston might get this call:

"Look, senator, bald is out. Ike got away with it, but our research shows that was a fluke that had something to do with winning World War II. So, we've lined up this guy who says he can grow hair on a honeydew melon. Six weeks tops and he'll have you looking hairier than John Glenn's ape.

Or this call to the Oval Office:

"Mr. President, we've got the solution to the gender gap. The polls show it's the young women you are having trouble with, and that's the same group that goes for facial hair. So, we thought something in the way of a neat mustache ... well, look what it did for Errol Flynn,"

Finally, to the vice president: "George baby, I hate to break the news, but the preppy shtick is down the toilet. You need a new gimmick, maybe a workout book like Fonda's. Now, what we need is a cover photo of you in sweats running Tip O'Neill through some aerobics'

JEFFREY HART

More Leftist Hatred

In a recent column from Washington. I reported on the waves of sheer hatred one felt emanating from the recent march, held on the 20th anniversary of Martin Luther King's "I have a dream" speech. The marchers heard the NAACP's Ben Hooks call for Reaganism to be wiped "from the face of the earth," and Hooks caught the atmosphere of the occasion perfectly.

I would like to think aloud a bit here about this hatred from the left. I have been a target of it myself as a columnist. editor and author, and there is something special about it. Frankly, and I don't think I'm kidding myself about this, it goes far beyond the emotions I have found to be quaracteristic of the political right. The nearest thing to it I can think of on the right was the booing of Nelson Rockefeller at the 1964 Republican convention in San Francisco, and that had as much to do with Rockefeller's arrogance as with his

No, the hatred in politics today seems to me to be mostly on the left, which is odd, because it is the political right that is traditionally supposed to spawn "hate groups." But today it seems to me to be the other way around, and I think I know something about the deeper sources of that leftist hatred.

But first a couple of items that have crossed my desk.

In the recent British election, the left had a peculiar obsession. It repeatedly charged that the Thatcher government had caused the Argentine battleship to be torpedoed, and done so not for military reasons, but in order to block a Peruvian peace initiative that might have brought the Falklands war to an end. There was no evidence to support this persisting allegation, and in an essay on the election in the current issue of Commentary magazine, British Journalist John O'Sullivan comments as

"This willingness, apparently sincere, to regard sober, cautious, conventional bourgeois politicians like Mrs. Thatcher and John Nott as ruthless, amoral power mantaes - particularly in the absence of any evidence for this inverted flattery - testifies to the power of ideology to distort the mind, the imagination, and even the evesight. An ideologue, after all, WOULD have sunk the Belgrano, and for exactly the motives suggested. Ideologues are forever congratulating themselves on their hardheaded willingness to sacrifice people in the struggle for power. Perhaps, out of office, they attribute to others the sort of motives which inspire them I or, more precisely, attribute to others the sort of ruthlessness they display in their daydreams of powers."

That seems to me perceptive. It is only in such an overheated ideological atmosphere that such an otherwise sober politician as Denis Healey, a moderate Laborite, could accuse Mrs. Thatcher of "glorying in the slaughter" of the Falklands war.

Item. Michael Novak, a Catholic philosopher, sociologist, and social commentator has moved from being a George McGovern Democrat to being a nco-conservative, and one of his recent books, "The Spirit of Democratic Capitalism," makes a strong argument that the freedom of the marketplace is more hospitable to Christianity than socialism has been.

It has not been enough for the Catholic left to meet Novak's arguments. Novak has been called immoral. The Rev. Andrew Greeley has referred to Novak as a "turncoat." Commonwealth editor Peter Steinfels devoted a two-part article to Novak in his magazine. It was absurdly vitriolic, and depicted Novak as a sort of anti-Christ.

In all of this, it is notable that the highly charged emotions - the hatred - had nothing to do with religion or theology. The whole thing was purely political.

I said earlier that I think I know the deeper sources of all this, and the matter can be put in a couple of different ways, though perhaps both amount to the same thing.

The left is angrier than the right because its axioms admit of much less deviation, and those axioms, or rules, cover much more of existence than anything comparable on the right. If you deviate from them on anything important, you are politically excommunicated, bell, book, and candle.

VIEWPOINT

Media's 'Gender Gap'...

By John Patrick Cregan

(Editor's Note: Mr. Cregan, a former legislative assistant to the late Rep. John Ashbrook of Ohio, holds a MA in Soviet and East Europe history from John Carroll University. His columns are distributed by the USBIC Writers

The horde of reporters, commentators, and network correspondants who operate in the nation's Capitol are known for their ability to swell the English language with catch-all phrases and "buzz words."

"Reaganomics" once promised to become one of the more enduring of these creations. Now it appears to have gone the way of reduced taxes and balanced budgets. Although originally identified with the President's economic program, "Reaganomics" soon became synonymous with unemployment, record deficits and the slashing of social programs. It was the signature to every harangue leveled at the Reagan program. Throughout the recession, the media warned that Reaganomics threatened the President's reelection chances. When the President's plan threatened to spur the recovery, "Reaganomics" seemed to lose its appeal as a buzz word.

The liberal media, in its productivity, has contrived a new buzz word to incorporate certain of their misgivings over Reagan policy. The "gender gap" is supposed to express the trouble this President encounters in wooing the political support of women. It asserts the President has a severe image and credibility problem with increasing numbers of the gender who view him as militaristic and insensitive to their interests.

barrage of women's caucuses and convocations. Thus, the "gender gap" story has garnered headlines. Although these get-togethers were convened for different reasons by different groups, they seemed to be united by an eagerness to denounce the Regan administration. This was to be expected. The attendees at these meetings are overwhelmingly composed of activists in behalf of causes the President does not support. Knowing of Mr. Reagan's long-held opposition to such issues as liberalized abortion and the Equal Rights Amendment, this overplayed outcry should not be viewed as a new or startling development.

The women at these wigwams do not necessarily speak for their gender or even as representatives of their gender. They are more accurately, partisans of particular interests not endorsed by this President. It's that simple. The liberal media has nonetheless become fascinated with the "gender gap." As with "Reaganomics." "gender gap" is a phrase which can be used to house all the gripes that some groups have with Mr. Reagan, Implying, however, that the concerns of liberal women's groups have somehow trickled down through the gender gives the impression of a relentless movement that will hurt the President's reelection

This is not the first time the gap phenomenon has entered into Presidential politics. JFK was successful in capitalizing on the "missile gap."

CIA's Casey: A Secretive Loner

WASHINGTON - President Reagan's most controversial appointee is also the most secretive. He is William J. Casey, who abandoned his roost amid the glass canyons of finance to head the CIA.

With an obsessive if sometimes fumbling dedication, he promotes the kind of secret government the CIA favors. He has put up a dogged fight in the backrooms for the expansion of our counterintelligence and counterinsurgency operations - the better to battle the communists at their own game.

Usually, information about the 370-year-old Casey surfaces only when he's involved in some controversy he can't keep the lid on. So I assigned my associate Dale Van Atta to dig into Casey's background and character. Over a period of several months, he interviewed Casey's friends and enemies in and out of the CIA.

The composite picture they etched is of a loner who operates out of his hat; who lives in a continuous state of crisis: whose mind is encased in a Republican hard shell; who talks of American-Soviet relations, for example, in terms of "showdown": but who has surprising tolerance for the views of others. Here are closed-door glimpses of the CIA - Casey doesn't run the CIA. He's a lone wolf who prefers to leave the detail work and public relations chores to his deputy director. - His style in clothes can best be described as "contemporary disheveled." He sometimes falls asleep in briefings. His typical speech pattern mumbling in a rich New York accent has led to an in-house joke that he's the only CIA boss who doesn't need a voice scrambler on his telephone.

- Since he dislikes minding the store at CIA headquarters in Langley, Va., he is frequently on the road. In a speech to CIA employees, Casey boasted that in his first six months on the job he had "traveled to Europe, Asia, Central America and the Middle East and met with over 20 station chiefs in those

- Many sources agreed that Casey has improved the quality of CIA intelligence analysis by allowing competing views to appear prominently in agency appraisals. Under his predecessors, dissenting viewpoints were relegated to brief footnotes.

A bedrock political conservative, Casey is not inflexible. He's intellectually honest enough to change his hardline Republican outlook if there's solid evidence to refute it.

- He has a habit of sending his subordinates clippings from odd publications that his right-wing friends thrust on him along with notes asking why the CIA didn't know about this or

- Casey loves the covert-action side of his job. "The cowboys down in the ranks will send up a harebrained proposal, and the next thing you know they're in his office plotting with him," complained one source. Other sources expressed concern that this sidesteps the checks and balances designed to prevent preposterous clandestine operations. - Some who served under Casey in the espionage business during World War II remain unimpressed. "He sat there safe in London drinking his coffee and issuing some stupid orders that nearly cost me my life for nothing," said a decorated Office of Strategic Services veteran. "And then he got all the credit for the big stuff."

- Casey is an unabashed political animal. It was only because he realized the political damage it might do President Reagan that he agreed to put his financial holdings in a blind trust. - He dumped his spymaster-friend. Max Hugel, not because of the damaging admissions in taped conversations of Hugel's financial dealings — but because of Hugel's salty language. Casey was afraid the tapes would be heard by the president and the first lady, who would have been offended by Hugel's language. - Casey can be childishly petty in dealing with people he doesn't get along with. One source insists it was at Casey's personal order that the admiral's flag was flown upside down at a farewell ceremony for Adm. Bobby

Inman - as a calculated snub. But probably no one knows the real Casey behind the blinking, owlish face. There is a wariness and tenseness in him - a sense of beleaguerment as though he were at war with ubiquitous

Better Bundle Up! Farmer's Almanac Predicts Cold Winter

DUBLIN, N.H. (UPI) — Pull up a warm puppy and stock the woodpile cold, winter east of the Rockies is high. The Old Farmer's Almanac expected to be relatively mild and predicts winter will arrive early and dry until late in the season. Then pack a cold punch.

Abe Weatherwise, the fictional weatherman for the nation's oldest continuously published periodical, is back with his annual rhyming predictions, which are said to be 80 percent accurate.

Old Abe accurately forecast the huge April 1982 blizzard that crippled New England and some Yankees prefer the mustard-colored almanac over the up-to-the-minute, radar-equipped weathermen on television.

This year, Abe says winter will come early with colder-than-normal air but normal amounts of snowfall. His advice: "Snuggle up to your favorite pup."

Even early November will be "bright but with a bite" as the cold settles in. Ponds will be well frozen by Christmas resulting in a "skater's waltz" while you'd better be "crusin for a bruisin" by mid-February.

Lasers Provide Ray Of Hope In Fight Against Blindness

MIAMI (UPI) - Bolts of laser light can effectively seal off leaking blood vessels within the eye, repairing one of the leading causes of blindness, a four-year study has confirmed.

According to the $4.6-million study, laser treatment can greatly reduce patients' chances of losing vision because of abnormal bleeding in the retina - the screen that transforms visual images into tiny nerve impulses that are interpreted by the brain.

The study, one of six federally funded attempts to learn how laser treatment can affect the eye, was conducted at the University of Miami's Bascom Palmer Eye Institute and 11 other centers around the country.

Researchers used lasers on the eyes of patients with three types of abnormalities that can cause bleeding within the retina. The abnormalities can also affect the macula, which produces sharp images needed for activities like reading and driving.

The first phase of the study involved about 300 patients with senile macula degeneration, a disease that generally afflicts the elderly. The second phase involved 60 patients with idiopathic macular degeneration, a similar condition that occurs in people of all ages.

The third phase involved 245 patients with a disease called ocular histoplasmosts syndrome, a rare complication of a fungal eye infection transmitted by bird and bat

The mysterious disease, which only strikes people in the Ohio-Mississippi River basin, scars the retinas of about 4 percent of those who get it. The scars can trigger growth of fragile blood vessels, which can hemorrhage.

The National Eye Institute estimates about 100,000 people have the progressive infection that can lead to niinaness

During the third phase of the project, researchers used laser surgery on patients, and it proved effective in two-thirds of the cases, said Dr. J. Donald Gass, head of the UM research team.

Without the treatment, vicitms are three times more likely to lose their sight.

"This group of disorders is America's leading cause of blindness." Gass said.

"We looked at the patients in many different ways. We looked at age, we looked at sex, we looked at race - any way you look at it, the treatment groups are faring better," he said.

At 40, Walesa Says It's No Time To Quit 'Ideals Of Solidarity Will Win Out'

GDANSK, Poland (UPI) - Lech Walesa, who turns 40 Thursday, looked full of the old fire. Doubts gone, there was steel in his voice. He jumped out of a comfortable yellow armehair.

his arms beating the air.

"I think the ideals of Solidarity that we spread must win out and will win out - for sure," he shouted.

He sank back into the cushions, surrounded by advisers, journalists and children. His wife, Danuta, banged about in the kitchen of the couple's five-room apartment in the Baltic port of Gdansk.

Asked about his leadership of the remnants of Solidarity's organization, his voice went hard as he swept away the weeks of speculation over his future that followed the visit of Pope John Paul II to Poland

There is a necessity to continue my leadership at this time," he said. "It is no time to quit. I shall quit when we have attained our ideals."

Reflecting on the three years since he climbed over a wall into Gdansk's Lenin shipyard to begin organizing the now outlawed free trade union, Walesa

"I have come to the halfway point of my life. I never thought before 1980 that I could achieve so much. I mapped out my goals during that period. My task is now to speed up the process of reaching them." Solidarity, once a seemingly unstoppable force of 9 million members, is now in ruins, its leaders silenced.

driven abroad, underground or in jail. But Walesa said he is convinced it will rise again on the tide of dissatisfaction with stiff price increases brought in during the martial law period between December 1981 and last July.

"Someone will tell this government. How can you rule? As if your 400 percent price rises are not enough."

He frowned over the prospect of a new round of price increases, now in preparation for January and expected to average 30 percent to 40 percent.

"Search people's pockets for money," he said. "See if any is left over. "A workers' upheaval is inevitable, sooner or later." Walesa said Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski's government could not survive in the face of Poland's chronic economic problems - inflation, food shortages, housing shortages, ailing industrial production and mountainous foreign debt.

"They have solved nothing. It is only a matter of time and the price we will have to pay,

"The implementation of Solidarity's ideals will take time. We are geared only for peaceful methods, but we will implement them for sure. The victory will Walesa is carrying middle age well. At 180 pounds, he still fights a flab problem, but there seemed no new lines around the impish eyes and no sign of gray in the "Viva Zapata" moustache.

Yet Walesa has paid a price for the tensions and pressures of the past three years, which saw him yo-yo from humble electrician to union boss. 11 months of internment during martial law, and now back to a $270 a month "private citizen."

He has stomach ulcers. "They're painful," he said. "I' in looking for some kind of drug. The doctors tell me to rest. But there is no time. I am so much involved with my work."

He said he had ridden out the internal upheavals within the union as the authorities dismembered it. "The (Solidarity) people who were against me are for me now and have apologized," he said. Street demonstrations and strikes during martial law brought no great gains and fatigued supporters.

"People can see these methods were not efficient. Many were fired from their jobs, beaten up and jailed. Not everyone wants to go to fall and people know they cannot win against tanks."

And the future? 'We are locked into a compromise. We must negotiate. We have a (new) concrete program, a safe and sensible program, which I will announce on Dec.

That is the 13th anniversary of the bloody, 1970 anti-government riots in Gdansk, when some 50 workers died in street battles with police. Walesa's arms were beating the air again, his eyes twinkling.

TITUSVILLE (UPI) - Prosecutors woman matching the teenager's away tears and her voice wavering. said a taped confession by mass murderer Gerald Stano would prove to jurors today that the former short-order cook killed a Port Orange teenager in 1973.

Prosecutor Alan Robinson said he would play the tape recording of Stano detailing the murder of a girl matching the victim's description during testimony today.

"This case has been solved out of the mouth of the defendant," Robinson said.

Stano, already facing six life prison terms and two death sentences, is accused of killing Cathy Scharf, 17. The girl's skeletal remains were discovered by hunters in the Merritt Island National Wildlife Refuge on Jan. 19, 1974 more than a month after she was reported missing.

Lebanese Peace Talks Set Today

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - Lebanon's warring factions agreed to meet for talks today on building a permanent peace out of a fragile cease-fire threatened by sporadic rebel attacks on government troops.

State-run Beirut radio reported that talks aimed at achieving a national reconciliation between the Christian-led government and its Moslem opponents would begin this morning. No site was announced.

Beirut radio's report on the talks followed a day of violence in which rival Palestinian guerrillas battled near Tripoli and the Lebanese army repelled sporadic attacks by rebels violating a cease-fire that began Monday.

At least 10 people were reported killed and 24 wounded, including an Italian soldier, as Lebanon slowly recovered from 22 days of all-out civil war.

Walesa Tried To Stash Cash

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) - Solidarity leader Lech Walesa, with the pope's help, planned to stash in the Vatican bank $1 million he got from Westerners, state-run television said. The Gdansk electrician denied the charge.

In a 30-minute documentary shown after the evening news Tuesday, the television ran a lengthy tape recording said to prove Walesa and his brother Stanislaw discussed the plan Sept.

"I thought about it. This pries has an idea that they will open an account in that papal bank. They give 15 per cent interest there. That means that in 10 years the whole lot will double," Walesa was purported to have said.

U.S. May Probe Bombing

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) - The U.S. Embassy has been asked to investigate reports of indiscriminate bombing of civilians by the Salvadoran air force using U.S.-supplied warjets, a military observer said.

"It's got to be investigated. That's a very serious thing," the observer said Tuesday, referring to witnesses' reports that at least 18 civilians were killed and dozens of civilians and soldiers wounded in the bombing of Tenancingo northeast of the capital. Fighting entered its third day around the town.

U.S.-supplied A-37 "Dragonfly" warjets dropped 500 pound bombs on Tenancingo, 17 miles from San Salvador, after it was invaded by leftist guerrillas Sunday.

Last February the U.S. Embassy conducted a probe into the air force bombing of the town of. Berlin, in which some 15 civilians were killed. but its report was never made public.

Palestinian Rebels Say Arafat Massacred Their Men

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) - Two Palestinian gurrilla groups today accused Yasser Arafat of committing a massacre at the northern port of Tripoll and wrned they would punish the "deviant rightist."

The rhetoric ended a day of flerce fighting at Tiplot's Baddawl camp Tuesday where guerrilla oppornts of the longtime Palestine Liberation Organization leader lost as many as 20 men killed and 30 wounded.

The losers, the Syrian-controlled As Saiqa grap and the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine leneral Command, condemned Arafat as "a deviant rights) who is doing his utmost and offering his free serves to ensure the success of the conspiracy" againt the Palestinian movement and Syria.

In statements broadcast over Damascus Radioloday, the two groups said Arafat "was renounced ly the revolutionaries of Al Fatah after they exposed his criminal connections and intentions of starting bufflet among the Palestinians and between the Palesinians and Syria."

Dissidents in Al Fatah, the largest of eight PLO factions, rebelled against Arafat last May because they said he was too soft on Israel. The revolt died down after weeks of fighting in Lebanon's eastern Bekaa vally, but recently crupted again.

The PLO rebels, denouncing the Baddawi battle as a "barbarian massacre," warned "these treacherous acts by the rightist traitors will be met with dire punish-

The broadcast statements said Arafat ordered 300 PLO fighters to storm the positions of As Saiga and the General Command, which were manned by 25 men.

"They managed to take our positions after a four-hour battle that sometimes took the form of hand-to-hand fighting," they said.

The commander of the General Command's garrison. a guerrilla named Abul Fida, was captured and executed, the statement said.

The General Command said 12 of its men were killed and an undisclosed number wounded. As Saiga said several guerrillas and civilians were killed or wounded but did not disclose how many.

A Beirut radio broadcast said 20 guerrillas were feared dead and about 30 wounded.

The battle further widened the split between Arafat and the Syrian regime of President Hafez Assad, who expelled Arafat from Damascus in May and supported his rival for Al Fatah leadership, PLO Col. Said Moussa.

Beirut reports said about 1,000 Arafat loyalists remain surrounded by Syrian troops in the Hermel region of northeastern Lebanon after refusing to surrender their

Rinkavage Rises After Big Night

Seminole's Ed Rinkavage had one of the county's best defensive games of the season Saturday against Lake Howell as he accounted for 15 solo tackles and three assists. The big night moved Rinkavage into second place among the county's defensive leaders. Rinkavage's teammate, Bryan Debose had another impressive outing as he had six solo tackles, two assists, recovered a fumble and had one quarterback sack to increase his county-leading total to six in three games.

Raines Reaches Milestone

some legends can be chased, but awfully difficult to Raines became the first player since Ty Cobb - and the first National League player ever - to drive in 70 runs and steal 70 bases in the same season Tuesday night in leading the Montreal Expos to a 10-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Raines drove in four runs with a three-run homer, his 11th of the year, and a triple to increase his RBI total for the year to 71. He also stole one base, bringing his league-leading total to 86.

Not since 1915 has anyone bettered those totals, but Raines still has a long way to go if he wants to catch Cobb. All Cobb did that year for the Detroit Tigers was steal 96 bases and drive in 99 runs.

"It means a lot. It's a milestone," Raines said. "It's not the kind of thing you go into a season thinking you're going to do, especially being a leadoff hitter like I've been most of the year.

"I've got to give a lot of credit to my teammates and manager for helping me do it. It's a tough thing to do." Lonnic Smith of the Cardinals barely missed the 70-70 mark last year, finishing the season with 69 RBI and 68 stolen bases. St. Louis Manager Whitey Herzog and

The winning streak of the and couldn't regain its intesity. Seminole High volleyball team was snapped Tuesday night as the Tribe dropped both ends of a tri-match with Lymen and Daytona Beach Mainland at Seminole High. The Lady Seminoles didn't just drop a pair of matches they were favored to win - they looked awful doing it.

"I don't know who was in our uniforms tonight (Tuesday), but it wasn't us," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "I've never seen us practice as bad as we played. We couldn't get anything going no matter what we put on the floor."

Going into Tuesday's tri-match. Seminole had a three-game winning streak and was undefeated in the Five Star Conference. Going out of nailed down the victory with two Tuesday's tri-match, the Lady Tribe winners as Seminole eveed the had a two-game losing streak and match with a 15-10 second-game had dropped to 3.2 in the conference and 3-3 overall.

Lake Howell had its winning streak brokes Tuesday as it dropped a tough match to DeLand after beating Daytona Beach Seabreeze in the opener of a tri-match at DeLand. Lake Mary's Lady Rams also split its two matches Tuesday, losing to Lake Brantley and subduing Apopka at Lake Brantley High.

Seminole opened up by losing to Lyman's Lady Greyhounds, 15-13. 10-15, 15-5 and then lost to winless Mainland, 15-10, 15-5. Lyman came out with a pair of wins Tuesday to up its conference record to 3-3.

"The only thing that had been really consistent for us was our passing," Corso said. "But that went down the tubes tonight. We didn't do too many things right." After dropping a close first game to Lyman, Seminole came back to play its best volleyball of the night midway through the second game.

However, Seminole cooledoff again near the end of the second game Lyman bolted out to an arly 9-3 lead and looked as if it mint sweep the Lady Seminoles. Bu. Corso called a time out, put in a ouple of subs. and Seminole climbd back into the game.

With Dec Gobelbecker serving. the Tribe cut Lyman's lea to 9.7. Seminole got the serve bak again without allowing Lyman b score and Katy Barbour sered six straight points to give Serinole a 13-9 lead.

Lyman cut it to 13-10 burave up the serve. The serve went ack and either team could score again. Barbour got back the seve and

"We were playing well in the middle of the second gameagainst Lyman," Corso sald. "But, fter the 13th point, things started to fall apart again. We had to goall the way back through the ptation before we won."

The Lady Tribe will have he rest of the week to practice andwill be back in action next Tuesdy in a dual match (JV and varity) at Apopka.

Lake Mary had much the same Brantley, 15-9, 15-13. The Lady they got the job done." Rams fell to 3-3 in the concrence and 4-4 overall.

"We just plain didn't playwell." Lake Mary coach Cindy Hent said. "Nobody is really playing up in their ability. We're folding under pressure and not communicating at

The hitting of Laura and Peggy Glass enabled the Lady Rams to survive a possible loss to an Apopka team that has yet to win a match in the Five Star Conference, or even come close to winning one.

"Apopka is a pretty weak team," Henry said. All they do is return the ball, they don't attack. We should have beaten them much easier than we did."

While Lake Mary held up enough to beat Apopka, the Lady Rams came crumbling down against Lake Brantley. The Rams missed 15 serves against the Lady Patriots and It cost them the match.

"That many missed serves in one match is ridiculous," Henry said. We have to start getting our serves in. it's killing us.'

Lake Mary will try to rebound forth for an entire rotatio before. Thursday when it faces a tough opponent in Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks. If the Rams play like they are capable. Henry said it should be a good match.

"I'm really looking forward to it." Henry said. "We are two teams with the same style of play. It should be interesting."

Lake Howell is also looking to rebound Thursday as the Lady Hawks lost their first match of the season to DeLand Tuesday night. 17-15, 15-12. The Lady Hawks beat Seabreeze 15.9, 15.9, in the first match of the night. Lake Howell now stands at 4-1 in the Five Star Conference.

New Deal Nets Megabucs For Bird

BOSTON (UPI) - Larry Bird goes from rich to richer today. The Boston Celties consensus All-Pro forward will agree to a deal paying him more than $15 million over the next seven years.

The deal, more than three times what he had been making, contains no incentives and thus may be even more valuable than Moses Malone's $13 million, six-year pact, which has about $300,000 a year in incentives.

Pro Basketball

Bird's signing is the first official act of the team's new group of owners, who received the NBA's blessing last Friday. The deal was all but completed Monday when Bird, agent-attorney Bob Woolf, General Manager Red Auerbach and the new owners caucused in Boston Garden. Phone calls Tuesday closed it.

"It was amazing to see it all come together. I'm thrilled," Woolf said.

Woolf had set Oct. 1 as the deadline to complete the deal. Bird is entering the fifth year of his original $3.25 million contract and was prepared to become a free agent if no agreement was reached.

While the two sides were wrapping up negotiations on Bird's contract, Celtics' vice president Jan Volk was talking with Robert Parish's new agent, Wayne Traynham. Parish wants his $650,000-a-year contract renegotiated and the Celtics aren't in to renegotiating.

Parish has threatened to not show up for training camp, which opens Friday. "Our position is very clear and will remain unaltered. We intend to honor our end of Robert's contract and we hope he will do the same." Volk said. 'I presented our position and Wayne went back to explain the current situation to Robert," Volk continued. "I'm hopeful that the dialogue can produce positive results." Traynham, who has been Parish's agent for only three days, also suggested there could be an agreement.

'We explored some alternatives to renoegotiation." he said. "An extension of the contract was one of them, a signing bonus was another.

"I believe there was some sort of lack of communication between Robert and his former attorney." Traynham continued. "Robert took such strong action because he believed the Celtics had known for awhile about his request. According to Jan Volk, the team was -Chris Fister unaware of the problem until last Friday."

Stewart Gordon rambled for 163 yards and three touchdowns as the Seminole High freshman football squad rolled to a 18-0 blanking of Lake Brantley Tuesday night at Seminole High.

Seminole opened up a 6-0 lead on its second possession of the game as Gordon went over from three yards out for his first TD of the night. The extra point failed and the Tribe held a 6.0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Gordon made it 12-0 early in the second quarter as he cruised 50 yards for a touchdown. Gordon came back late in the second quarter to score his third TD. this one coming on a seven yard sprint as the Tribe built a 18-0 lead by halftime.

The Seminole defense, led by Keith Denton and Troy Turner, turned back the Patriot frosh every time they had the ball. Lake Brantley threatened to score for the only time with less than two minutes to go when it drove inside the Seminole 10 against the second string defense. The Tribe then went back to its first string defense, and it preserved the shutout.

Denton led the defensive effort with eight solo tackles and seven assists while Turner had eight solos and five assists and also recovered a fumble. Darryl Williams also recovered a fumble for the 'Noles and Dwayne Willis had an interception.

Offensively, Charles Shaw was the second top ground gainer as he picked up 68 yards on seven carries.

Dodgers Add Another Nail To Braves Coffin; Phillies Can Clinch NL East With Win Tonight

By United Press International

Unless Atlanta's Chief Noc-A-Homa can conjur up some voodoo magic and that eternal optimist, Pittsburgh's Chuck Tanner, can pull a miracle out of his pocket, the Philadelphia Phillies will be meeting the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League playoffs next

The Phillies, despite having their 11-game winning streak come to an end, clinched at least a tie for the NL East title and watched their magic number shrink to one Expos 10, Cardinals 4 Tuesday night when Tanner's Pirates lost to the New York Mets, 4-3.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, saw their magic number for clinching the NL West championship drop to two when helping the Expos to victory. they beat the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4, and the Braves were beaten by the San Francisco Giants, 6-2.

"It's been a heckuva year, whether we win it or not," said Tanner after George Foster's fifth inning sacrifice fly just about ended the Pirates' pennant hopes. The Yankees added to their lead with two more runs in the fifth against Mark Clear on a leadoff walk by Joe Beckwith, who relieved starter Rick Honeycutt Griffey, a double by Winfield, a walk to Baylor loading > Boston's second run came in the sixth on a single by Wade Boggs, a double by Jim Rice and a flelder's choice RBI by Tony Armas.

> New York's final run in the eighth came when Meacham singled, stole second and scored on an RBI single by Cerone. Tigers 9, Orioles 2

At Baltimore, Jack Morris pitched a six-hitter to win his 20th game of the year and Lance Parrish knocked in four runs, including two with his 27th homer, to hand the Orioles only their fifth loss in their last 19 starts. Morris, attempting his 20th triumph for the third time. boosted his record to 20-12, marking the first time in his career that he has reached the 20-victory plateau. He walked four and struck out nine while becoming the first pitcher in the AL this year to beat every team. Joe Coleman, in 1973, was the last Tiger to win 20 games.

Scott McGregor, 18-7, took the loss and John Lowenstein hit a homer for the Orioles.

Rangers 6, Twins 1

At Minneapolis, Buddy Bell hit his 14th homer, a solo Terry Francona also homered for Montreal. The blast, and Billy Sample had three singles and two RBI to pace the Rangers. Mike Smithson, 10-14, posted his 10th complete game. Twins starter Al Williams, 10-14, was tagged with the loss.

Brewers 8, Indians 4 At Milwaukee, Cecil Cooper drove in three runs with his 28th homer and a single and Mike Caldwell, 12-11, went the distance for the Brewers. The loser was Cleveland starter Larry Sorensen, 11-11.

Angels 7, Blue Jays 1 At Anaheim, How bad have the California Angels been this season? Well, it took an inside-the-park homer to determine that they were still living.

Rookin Any Pettis confirmed there was a spark of life in the team by legging out the rare homer Tuesday night en route to a four-hit performance and Ellis Valentine cracked a three-run homer to carry the Angels to a 7-1 victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

In snapping a five-game losing streak, the Angels unloaded a four home run barrage to support the combined five-hit pitching of Byron McLaughlin and John Curtis. McLaughlin, 2-4, yielded four hits in the first six innings before his arm stiffened. Curtis pitched the last three innings for his fourth save.

A's 5, White Sox 4

At Oakland, the Chicago White Sox are not laying back in their final games of the regular season because they have clinched first place in the American League Westgained a playoff berth.

The Oakland A's stopped the White Sox Tuesday night at the Oakland Collseum with a 5-4 victory on Rick Peters' bases-loaded single in the ninth inning.

Mariners 4, Royals O

At Seattle, Mariners' pitcher Jim Beattle capped the best season of his career in dramatic fashion, firing a one-hitter Tuesday night in a 4-0 whitwash of the and bring the Dodgers one step closer to clinching Kansas City Royals.

The one-hitter was Beattle's 10th win of the year, the most he's had in one season since coming into the Braves dropped a 6-2 decision to the San Pedro Guerrero slugged his 32nd homer of the season Tuesday night to help the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 7-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds the National League's West Division. The Dodgers Increased their lead over Atlanta by 41/2 games as Francisco Giants.

Kelly Qualifies For State

Sanford's Kimatha Kelly compiled an overall score of 35.0 which was good for second in the all around competition and a berth into the State Gymnastics (9-11 age group) Competition. Kelly accomplished this feat on Sept. 24 and 25 at the USOF 1st/Local Class III competition in Largo.

Kelly, representing Sanford Gymnastics, earned the second in the overall competition by finishing second on the floor exercise, third on the uneven parallel bars and fifth on the vault. Kelly's coach at Sanford Gymnastics is Eugene Petty.

Also competing in the 9-11 age group from Sanford Gymnastics were Sheri James, Camilla Kennedy, Jennifer Kopp, Shannon Wilcoxson and Tracy Kalcel. James recorded an overall score of 29.75 and she qualified for the Sectional Gymnastics Competition in November.

Competing in the 12-14 age group from Sanford Gymnastics were Cherie VanCamp, Sharl Slegrist, Shannon Raynard and Nika Lorman. VanCamp and Siegrist qualified for the Sectional Gymnastics Competition as Siegrist finished with a overall score of 30.95 and VanCamp posted a 29.90 overall score. An overall score of 29.0 or better was required to qualify for the sectionals.

Szabo Tosses Two Hitter

Tom Szabo hurled a two-hitter and Don Causseaux tripled in the winning run in the top of the seventh Tuesday night to lead Uncle Nicks Oyster Bar to a 2-0 shutout over Session Time in Sanford Men's Softball League play.

Szabo and Session's Wayne Crocker hooked up in a pitching dual for six innings before Uncle Nicks broke the scoreless tie in the top of the seventh. Joe Ervin led off the seventh for Uncle Nicks by drawing a walk and he scored as Causseaux drilled a triple to right center. David Price singled in Causseaux to provide an insurance run and a 2-0 Uncle Nicks lead. Session Time could not get anythig going against Szabo in the bottom of the seventh.

Causacaux had a pair of hits to lead Uncle Nicks while Kenny Myers had both of the hits for Session Time.

In other action Tuesday night, Mark Whitley went 4 for 4 and Fred Aiken added four RBI as the Pookie Bears hammered Sanford Landing. 19.2.

Don't Call Me, Call The Coach

This column is long overdue. The Evening Herald makes an effort to cover sports at every school in Seminole County and all of the youth football and soccer in the county.

Without the coaches help, however, it is impossible. Prior to the season, the county high schools were asked to call in the results of their games between 9 p.m. and 12 midnight on the night of the game or 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. the next morning. Preferably, the night of the game since it allows us more three to get together the article.
When the response wasn't are hot. I called every principal and asked them to reinforce the procedure.

This received a better response, but the effort is still lacking. It seems every year the same schools are more responsible than others. Volleyball and cross country coaches seem to be more dependable than freshman or junior varsity football coaches.

Lyman, because the athletic director and the principal make it known reporting scores is important, does the best job of having its coaches call - with one exception. Last year, when a coach did not report a score, the coaches' namewas listed. But, this pressure tactic didn't do a whole lot of good. Some coaches care for their players' future - others don't. And exposure for a young athlete can make the difference between a scholarship or sitting home.

Now, I realize there are circumstances when a coach may have called and couldn't reach us. If that occurs, then he should call the next morning.

Enough for high school. The Seminole Youth Sports Association opened its season last Saturday. SYSA has a very simple procedure for getting results. A form is made available on Saturday when the games are played. All the coach has to do is fill out the form and get it to Lilla Stresen-Reuter at the SYSA office by Monday. It is important to list a players' roster since pictures are take every Saturday. I pick them up Monday night.

This plan, however, will only work if we have some dependable coaches.

So, the next time your kids' game isn't in the newspaper, don't call me, call the coach.

UMW's Luncheon Features Cookbook Specialties 2 T. lemon juice

PEOPLE Editor

Too Many cooks spoil the stew. Or so some may dare

But not when it comes to an enterprising group of women putting their heads and recipes together to compile a truly unique cookbook.

And the frosting on the cake is when they prepare recipes from the cookbook for a Tasting Luncheon.

"Burnt Offerings II," a project of the United Women of the First United Methodist Church, Sanford, is hot off the presses. The cookbook features chapters on Appetizers And Beverages, Breads, Cakes And Frostings, Casseroles, Cookies And Candy, Main Dishes. Pastries And Desserts, Salads and Vegetables and a potpourri of miscellaneous information.

Previously, the UMW has held an annual Fall Bazaar, But, this year, according to Nancy Terwilleger, UWW president, a Tasting Luncheon, open to the public, will take the place of the annual event to benefit missions, including local needs. Limited bazaar items will be available that day, also.

The food served at the luncheon will inleude Main Dishes, Casseroles, Salads And Vegetables and Desserts featured in the cookbook. Breads and beverages will be included in the $3.50 donation.

The idea is that luncheon patrons will sample the tempting array of specialties prepared by the churchwomen in fellowship hall, Thursday, Nov. 3, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mrs. Terwilleger says that two identical serving areas will be featured with four lines forming for the bountiful buffet.

Mrs. Terwilleger adds that no tickets will be sold at the door. Tickets must be purchased in advance from UMW each sausage into thirds. Cut cheese into squares and members or at the church office, she says.

of the church members.'

Mrs. Boone explained that the UMW members and church members submitted "two or three recipes each." The committee selected 350 of the recipes for the cookbook. This is the first time in 15 years that the churchwomen have published a cookbook, and it is the sequel to "Burnt Offerings I."

And Mrs. Boone can guarantee that all of the recipes have been kitchen-tested. She said the committee spent endless hours editing the recipes and eliminating duplications. "They're hand-picked," she says.

The cookbook features more than tantalizing good things to eat. Measures and substitutes, roasting charts and charts on the various cuts of meat are also explained. A list of the common causes of baking failures may be of interest to the novice cook or even the

An entire chapter is devoted to 427 household hints including cooking, cleaning, sewing and first aid. Do you know that a slightly dampened aspirin tablet is recommended for relieving chigger bites?

The cookbook, priced at $5 is available at the church office, from UMW members or can be purchased at the Some of the recipes of the community's best cooks

Mortician Wants To Bury Jokes

Dear

funeral director (mortician) who is fed up with people who make jokes about my profession. I am very easygoing and enjoy good humor, but enough is enough!

Abby Have you any idea how many times I've heard the lines, "I'll bet people are just dying to do business with you!" and, "How's business? Dead, huh?

I'm sure I speak for many funeral directors. Please print this for people who think they're being clever or original. They're not; a few hundred others have already beat them to the punch. Thanks a lot.

DEAD SERIOUS IN CALIFORNIA DEAR DEAD: All right, let's call a spade a spade. The mortuary business is a grave undertaking, so how is this for a sequel? "All men are cremated equal." DEAR ABBY I can't receive a personal letter because my husband brings in the mail, so,I hope you will answer me in your column.

Before we were married, I told my husband I wasn't a virgin, but I didn't tell him how much of a virgin I wasn't! I admitted to having had only one lover, and I've wanted to correct that lie many times, but I never did. Now I am the guiltiest person on earth.

I never was a tramp; I was a lady who had some special friends with whom I shared some very special moments. I don't have a long list of lovers in my past. but there was more than one.

I hate myself for lying and wonder if I should tell my husband the truth now. We've been married only a short time, and I don't know what would happen if I told him. He tends to be rather jealous.

I've been praying to God for an answer. Maybe he will NEEDS AN

ANSWER

DEAR NEEDS: Many wives have written to tell me that the most regrettable mistake of their lives was telling a jealous husband about the lovers that preceded him. We humans all have imperfections. Let that be yours. Your husband will be happier not knowing, and your marriage will be healthier.

DEAR ABBY: Tell poor, shy "No More Reunions," who accomanied his wife to her 30th high school reunion in Minnesota, that he should have tried a little harder. (Nobody paid any attention to him, so he went out to the lobby and sulked.)

My wife and I traveled more than halfway across the country to attend her 45th high school reunion. We were duly registered and given name tags. Rather soon I found myself left out of the action, so I sought out the best-looking gal in the crowd and took a sneaky peek at her name tag. Giving her a light, one-armed hug while clapping my other hand over my name tag. I shouted, "Jennifer, I'll bet you don't remember me!"

After letting her squirm a bit, I told her to stop suffering, that she'd never seen me before in her life. It worked as such a wonderful icebreaker. I used that play four more times - always successfully. I know it carned me high marks among the tagalong spouses. It sure beats going out in the lobby and sulking

Treat The Family To A Harvest Of Savings

Roadside stands, urban farmers' markets and 13-inch circle. Fit loosely into 9-inch ple plate; trim. season's most abundant gifts - vine-ripened tomatos. multi-hued squash in a myriad of shapes and sizes. glistening eggplants, tender sweet corn, shiny apples. rosy pears and bunches of plump red, green and purple grapes. Although we no longer depend upon the harvest to sustain us year 'round, we still wait with anticipation for the colors, flavors and textures the fields and gardens

Besides rewarding eager appetites, the season's bounty stretches food dollars - deliciously. Fruits and vegetables which are "in season" are at their peak quality and lowest prices. So, now's the time to stock up, enjoying some of the harvest immediately and freezing, drying or canning the rest. Months later you can reap the rewards in the form of lower grocery bills.

To lower grocery bills even further, create your own supermarket game plan. "Stretching Food Dollars." a new booklet from The Quaker Oats Company, provides

One Broiled Eggplant Sandwich; Hold The

Men are marching into the kitchen, tying on an apron and preparing foods.

Two simply delicious recipes that will make marvelous weekend fare are Eggplant Sandwiches and Fresh Polish dessert. Pear Pumpernickel Pudding. They both use fresh and readily available ingredients, which provide the best taste and nutritional advantages, that are easy to prepare and uniquely delicious.

Eggplant, once considered an exotic vegetable relegated to a few Mid-Eastern or Mediterranean ethnic dishes, is one of America's most popular vegetables, Eggplant Sandwiches use the vegetable in place of bread, an idea that will appeal to all ages at an informal nical. A typical treatment of eggplant is to fry it; this recipe avoids the clicke by baking it instead.

EGGPLANT SANDWICHES

1 large eggplant I large onton, sliced

6 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted 14 cups wheat germ

3 cggs

14 cups shredded mozzarella cheese 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese ¼ teaspoon dried leaf oregano, crumbled

2 tomatoes, sliced 2 tablespoons water

Cut eggplant crosswise into 4-inch slices. Soak slices in a large bowl of salted water 30 minuts. Rinse and pat dry. Brush both sides of eggplant slics and onion slices with butter. Dip eggplant in wheat germ to coat both sides. Place eggplant slices and onion slices on a lightly greased baking sheet. Broll 2 to 3 minutes on each side until eggplant is lightly toasted and onion is tender. In a small bowl stir together 1 beaten egg, mozzarella, Parmesan and oregano. Spread mixture equally on half the eggplant slices. Top each half with one tomato slice, one broiled onion slice and top with eggplant slice. Beat together 2 remaining eggs and water. Dip sandwiches in egg mixture and remaining wheat germ. Return to baking sheet and broil each side 2 to 3 minutes until golden brown and cheese melts. Makes: 4 to 6 servings.

FRESH PEAR PUMPERKICKEL PUDDING 14 cup butter or margarine, melted

Stuffed Flank Steak Company Masterpiece

entertaining must look for menus that can be largely prepared ahead of time yet will retain a just-made, fresh

Vegetable Stuffed Flank Steak certainly wins in this category because it meets the criteria of do-ahead preparation of fresh and delicious ingredients that also provide eye appeal.

The flank steak is a colorful array of fresh vegetables - zucchini, sweet red pepper, onions and mushrooms that are sauteed before being spread on the meat, which is then rolled and tied. The preparation can be done the day before you expect company and simply refrigerated until cooking. A tossed salad with leafy green lettuce such as romaine and carrots, cucumbers and celery, is all that's needed to complete the main course.

Dessert follows along the same fast yet fresh theme. made ahead in just minutes and is absolutely delicious.

Grapefruit is in plentiful supply now, according to the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, which advises consumers to choose fruit heavy in relation to its size, and avoid those that are soft or wilted. In addition to vitamin C, grapefruit offers a wide variety of nutrients, including trace elements.

The cranberries, too, are high in nutrients as they are in taste. Low in sodium, they also provide vitamin C. Entertaining with top-quality fresh foods like these will insure a delightful and relaxing evening for the

VEGETABLE STUFFED FLANK STEAK

- I flank steak 2 to 21/2 pounds 2 tablespoons vegetable oil, divided
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 34 cup butter or margarine
- 1 medium onion, chopped (% cup) I small red pepper coarsely chopped (% cup)
- 1/2 pound fresh mushrooms I medium zucchini coarsely chopped (1 cup)
- 11/2 cups fresh whole wheat bread crumbs
- 11/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 16 teaspoon pepper 34 to 1 cup beef broth
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 6 tablespoons red wine

Pound steak with meat mallet until it is 1/2 inch thick. Score on both sides with sharp knife. Combine 1 tablespoon oil and lemon juice; rub on both sides of meat. In a large skillet melt butter; saute onion and pepper until tender. Chop enough mushroom stems and caps to measure 11/2 cups; reserve remaining caps for garnish. Add chopped mushrooms and zucchini to skillet; cook 3 minutes longer. Add bread crumbs, egg. Worcestershire and pepper; mix well. Spread stuffing on meat, leaving a 1 inch strip around edge. Roll up lengthwise: tie in several places with string. In same skillet, heat remaining I tablespoon oil; brown meat on all sides. Add ¾ cup beef broth. Cover. Simmer slowly 11/4 to 11/2 hours, or until tender. Turn meat occasionally and add more liquid if necessary. Remove meat to

Citrus Base Of 'Sippers'

Lazy days and evenings when guests gather round are the times for refreshing "sippin" drinks." When made with a citrus juice from Florida as a base, they satisfy and provide a mellowness with a rewarding zest.

One of the best of the "sippin' drinks" is the Sherbet Shrub, which combines different flavors and luscious colors to refresh the eye as well as the palate. The first requirement is lots of ice, followed by orange and grapefruit concentrate for easy-to-make coolers. Minty Sherbet Shrub starts with a tail glass filled with crushed ice. With a little grenadine for pinkness, zesty grapefruit juice is blended with bitters and mixed with pineaple sherbet to make this as cooling as a dip in the Icy Orange Shrub combines frozen orange concentrate from Florida with lemon sherbet and apricot preserves over crushed ice. This velvety surprise should be sipped slowly to savor the wonderful flavors.

Grapefruit juice, raspberry jam and raspberry sherbet are fizzed up with club soda in Pink Fizz Shrub, a just-sweet-enough concoction that children will adore.

The flavor of the South Pacific makes Tahiti Shrub an exotic drink that impresses and is also a great pick-me-up.

Microwave Magic

Fall Brings On Spicy Desserts

The fall reminds me of those spicy baked desserts full of cinnamon, nutmeg, and ginger. These spices have a dual purpose in recipes prepared in the microwave. They become the browning agent that gives color to the product, as ; well as flavor. Chocolate added to a recipe adds the color and the flavor too.

Gingerbread is a great dessert for this time of the year. The Lemon Sauce is delicious with it and the Old Fshioned Bread Pudding. If you are a chocoholic, you'll be interested in the Chocolate Bread Pudding.

Cinnamon Apple Tea Bread is drizzled with a glace made with freshly brewed tea.

Warm Up To Cozy Treats

On a chilly afternoon, there is nothing quite as welcoming as a hot beverage accompanied by a fragrant loaf of homemade bread.

After working outdoors, what better way to restore your strength — and improve your mental attitude at the same time — than with quick warm-up snacks made with wonderfully delicious ingredients. A cozy almond tea nog topped with a frothy sweetened cream can easily be paired with a warm slice of cinnamon apple tea bread livened with raisins and walnuts. Or, try warming up to a soothing cup of cran-orange drink to help you bear the cold or to brighten soggy spirits.

Like all good and natural things, these recipes start with wholesome ingredients: high quality water and caffeine-free herbal tea bags. Not surprisingly, the gentle taste, warm colors and fragrant aroma of these cozy comforts result from a combination of tea with a delightful blend of herbs and spices and water that's fresh in taste, free of odor and crystal clear.

CINNAMON APPLE TEA BREAD

1-14 cups high quality boiling water 4 cinnamon apple herbal tea bags

1 cup raisins 1/2 cup honey 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

3 cups all-purpose flour 1 tablespoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup chopped walnuts 1/2 cup confectioners sugar Preheat oven to 350°.

In teapot, pour boiling water over cinnamon apple herbal tea bags; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags and reserve 2 tablespoons tea. In large bowl, pour remaining tea over raisins, honey and butter and cool completely; beat in egg. In medium bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to tea mixture, blending well after each addition. Stir in walnuts.

Turn into greased and floured 9"x5"x3" loaf pan and bake 1 hour or until bread tests done. On wire rack, cool 10 minutes; remove from pan and cool completely before glazing.

Meanwhile, in small bowl, gradually add reserved tea to confectioners sugar until desired thickness; drizzle over bread. Makes about 8 servings.

ALMOND TEA NOG

2 cups high quality water 4 almond pleasure herbal tea bags

I cup milk

2 tablespoons brown sugar Brandy (optional) Sweetened whipped cream

In medium saucepan, bring water to a boil. Add almond herbal tea bags; cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags. Stir in milk and sugar; heat through. Just before serving, stir in brandy and garnish with whipped cream and sliced almonds. Makes about 4 servings.

CRAN ORANGE CUP

2-¼ cups high quality boiling water 6 gentle orange herbal tea bags ¼ cup cranberry juice cocktail, heated to boiling

2 tablespoons brown sugar In teapot, pour boiling water over orange herbal tea bags: cover and brew 5 minutes. Remove tea bags. Stir in remaining ingredients. Garnish, if desired, with cinnamon stick and orange peel. Makes about 4

Collapse Maybe Not Caused By Epilepsy

DEAR DR. LAMB - Has the diagnosis of epilepsy become a cut-and-dried thing or is it still in the "if-and-or-but" category?

A few months ago, it was very hot where we live. I had been working very hard for about a month. I collapsed in my bedroom and eventually wound up in the hospital emergency room.

I could have been dehydrated or low on salt or had a low blood sugar. My doctor says it was none of is standing heels together and toes together with your eyes closed a good test for epilepsy or is someone giving me the runaround?

DEAR READER - If you have typical scizures and have typical findings on your EEG (brain wave). you can be diagnosed as having epilepsy with certainty. That doesn't explain why epilepsy has occurred.

Brain damage from automobile accidents results in a large number of new epileptics each year. So will brain damage from strokes. But once you have eptlepsy, regardless of the cause, you have it and you need appropriate medical treatment for your case.

There are many causes for convulsions and fainting other than epilepsy. These include sudden slowing of the heart to cause selzures. A deep faint can cause convulsions.

If you are doubtful of your diagnosis, you should ask for a consultation with a neurologist, provided your doctor is not a neu-

DEAR READER - Yes. that is why the concern over a reasonable amount of nitrates and nitrites in food products can be overdone. Your own body already forms far more nitrites than you will possibly get in food.

The source is from bacterial action in your colon. The nitrites and nitrates formed are then absorbed by your bloodstream. They leave the circulation and enter the salivary gland to be excreted into your saliva. Then you swallow the saliva introducing these substances into the stomach. There they may be converied to nitrosamines.

Vitamin C seems to inhibit the formation of nitrosamines and that is one argument for taking some vitamin C with each meal in the form of fresh fruits, fruit juices or Arta line ionaloes, build by

Reagan, Congressional Leaders Unite Behind Troops Compromise

Senate leaders, armed with a pledge from President Reagan that he will work with Congress, pressed for decisive votes today on a plan to keep U.S. Marines in Lebanon for another 18 months.

After two days of debate, the Senate was expected to act on crucial amendments and possibly get to a final vote on the measure. The House, where debate is limited by rule, also hoped to act on its version of the resolution.

· Prospects for approval were improved Tuesday when Reagan said he will work together with Congress" if it becomes necessary to keep the Marines in Lebanon beyond the planned 18 months or to expand their mission.

His letter to congressional leaders was intended to assure Congress he will abide by a compromise agreement that allows the Marines to remain in Reagan was meeting with a delegation of House GOP leaders this morning to discuss the war powers compromise.

The letter indicates the president would not act on his own - either in extending the Marines' stay or in expanding the size or role of the troops now deployed in Beirut as part of the multinational peacekeeping force.

Doubts about Reagan's commitment to the compromise arose following statements by Secretary of State George Shultz, who declined to say if the White

EPA Aide: White House Prevented Agency From Doing Job Properly

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Testimony from the top aide to former EPA Administrator Anne Burford shows White House officials acted as "a backdoor channel" to allow corporations to undermine the agency's implementation of new regulations, a congressman charges.

John Daniel, Mrs. Burford's chief of staff and among 21 executives to resign from the Environmental Protection Agency last spring, told a House subcommittee Tuesday that officials of the Office of Management and Budget repeatedly blocked the EPA's regulatory Defending Mrs. Burford, who was called to testify under oath today to the House Energy and Commerce panel. Daniel placed much of the blame on the White House for laggard enforcement during her stewardship of the agency. Daniel said he assumes corporate representatives were secretly prodding rulemaking procedures. "The inescapable conclusion," said Rep. Albert Gore, D.Tenn., upon hearing Daniel's testimony, "Is that they just sat over there (at OMB) and acted as a backdoor channel to allow corporations to hotwire the regulatory process to get what they wanted."

"I think you have characterized it correctly," Daniel replied.

Daniel and three EPA attorneys also said Mrs. Burford pressed for approval to yield to the demands of congressional subcommittees for the agency's Superfund toxic waste files, but was blocked from doing so for months by the Justice Department and White House

He said that at one meeting last Feb. 25, she appealed personally to President Reagan to release the files and asked for a presidential pardon to protect her against a contempt of Congress citation.
