

ONE-THIRD OF YOUR TOWN'S INCOME

.....May Be Going To Other Towns!

That is the alarming situation in many small cities of this country, a recent business survey shows.

WHO GETS THIS MONEY?

Large city stores that have no interest whatever in this town of yours.

So Pitifully Few

A word to the wise, they say, is sufficient. The trouble is that no few of us are wise; that so few of us comprehend a simple problem.

A wise citizen quickly sees how gravely his town is hurt by having a third of its income spent in other places.

But so few of us are wise . . . so pitifully few of us.

They do not pay salaries to this town's people.

They do not come here to spend any of their money.

They pay no taxes, nor license fees to support your local municipal government.

Senate Group Approves Bill For Marshall

Legislation Needed To Enable Army Man To Serve As Secretary Of Defense

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress today to make an exception and let General George C. Marshall serve as Secretary of Defense even though he is a military man. The Senate Armed Services Committee immediately approved the necessary legislation.

The vote was 10 to 2. Congress has to act because the law says nobody who has been on active duty as an officer of the armed forces within the past ten years can be Secretary of Defense. The Senate group acted even before a bill was introduced formally. The House Armed Services Committee postponed action until Friday.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House group said the matter is so important "that I want a full committee present if possible."

The bill may be called up in the Senate tomorrow or Friday, in a quick follow-up of the Senate committee action.

"I don't look for any difficulty," Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) told reporters.

Tydings said it was clear Mr. Truman wanted the exception to apply to no other person than Marshall, in no other circumstance and no other time in the future.

Mr. Truman wrote Tydings and Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the corresponding House committee, asking for the necessary legislation.

Three Out Of Ten Children Need Eye Help In Schools

Need of visual aid for three out of every ten children beginning school was stressed in a talk to Lions yesterday by Dr. Ralph Meade, Orlando optometrist. He was introduced by John Kader.

Dr. Meade, speaking under the sponsorship of the Central Florida Optometric Association, pointed out that by the time pupils reach junior high school, about half of them require visual aid.

Pupils whose eyes do not move smoothly across the page, and who do not know how to read properly are, however, expected to learn their work, he said.

Some catch words and syllables backward, he stated, and their comprehension is very poor.

One of the modern instruments used by optometrists to induce better reading skill is the tachistoscope, which flashes digits at a blinding rate of speed on a screen. College students who on first taking the test were unable to read three or four digits flashed on the screen at 1/15 of a second, were later able to read 10 digits at 1/50 of a second.

Dr. Meade described advanced reading methods.

Johnston Advocates Get Tough With Reds

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 12—(AP)—Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-S.C.), who says he is tired of "striped pants and cocktail diplomacy," advocates getting tough with Russia, even using the atom bomb.

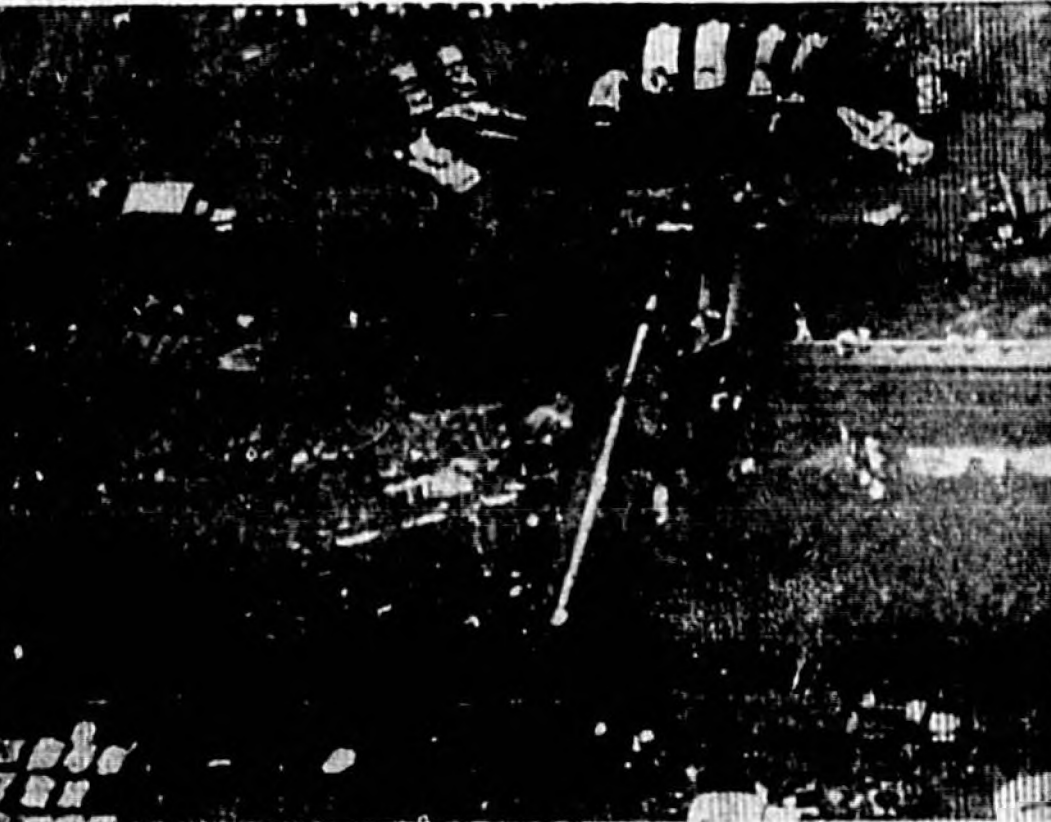

He told the convention of the National Federation of Federal Employees:

"We should serve notice on Russia without delay that the next act of aggression will mean that the United States will no longer fight in the remote corners of the world but will carry the fight to the very heart of Communist aggression, Russia itself."

Russia has not progressed so far with the atom bomb as has the United States and I for one would not hesitate to use the atom bomb. The time has come to let Russia know that she can not go on forcing Communism on the rest of the world."

Big Three Discuss Issue of Rearming Western Germany

U. S. Position On Japan Peace Treaty To Be Subject Of Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
NEW YORK, Sept. 13—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and Foreign Ministers Bevin and Schuman held a two-hour meeting on Germany today, reportedly devoted to a debate of the critical issue of Western German rearmament.

The foreign policy chiefs of the United States, Britain and France met for their second day's round of negotiations in mid-morning and wound up the session shortly after noon. They were scheduled to resume talking at 2 P.M.

Into their conference today the ministers took top experts on Germany. Acheson had beside him in the meeting room German High Commissioner John J. McCloy, among others, and also his special-

Paul B. Butner World War II Vet Dies In Lake City

Paul Bynum Butner, veteran of World War II, died last night at 8:00 o'clock at the Veterans Hospital at Lake City. Funeral arrangements will be announced soon by the Erickson Funeral Home.

He was born June 12, 1899 at Winston-Salem, N. C. A graduate of Rhetorick College, Institute, he taught music there for a number of years.

Mr. Butner was a member of the Sanford Hills Lodge and played in the Elk's Band. Pepper To Ireland So Probe Is Postponed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—A Senate investigation of wiretapping in the nation's capital was put in moth balls today with little prospect of a resumption until after the November election.

Senator Neely (D-W.Va.), acting chairman of the District of Columbia subcommittee making the inquiry, ordered a recess when enough senators to make a quorum failed to show up.

He said Chairman Pepper (D-Fla.) is in Ireland, attending the interparliamentary union meeting, and that Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) had been called away by the critical illness of his father. The only other member of the District of Columbia committee present was Senator Darby (R-Kan.).

First Moves Are Taken To Finance Auction Market

More than 40 growers, cattlemen and business men met last night at Ginders garage in Giddensville and took initial steps to form and finance a new Seminole County Farmers Auction Market.

C. T. Dawson, county agent, was elected temporary chairman, and Bonner Carter, west side grower, temporary secretary.

A large number of memberships were subscribed at $10 to $100 each and in date more than $2,000 has been placed in the bank to the credit of the organization, said Mr. Dawson this morning.

Charles T. Lawson was named to head the building committee. A site selection committee was named, with Frances McWhirter as chairman.

Orin Mathieson, president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, said this morning that it had been voted to sell as many memberships as possible, and that business men and merchants will be contacted as well as growers and cattlemen.

Another meeting has been set for the evening of Thursday, Sept. 21, and by that time it is expected that electric light will be available at the old airport, to enable them to hold the meeting there.

Record Citrus Crop Is Seen By Growers

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 13—(AP)—A record 1950 citrus crop was predicted by Florida growers at the eighth annual convention of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association, Texas and California growers reported their states were making strong comebacks from last year's bad freeze.

Speakers yesterday gave these 1950 crop estimates:

Florida—105,000,000 boxes, including 65,000,000 oranges, 35,000,000 grapefruit and 5,000,000 tangerines. Such a crop would send the state over the 100,000,000 the first time in history.

California—47,000,000 boxes, 70 percent of normal, including 13,000,000 oranges and 4,000,000 grapefruit.

Texas—18,500,000 boxes, 55 percent of normal. The new estimate includes 11,000,000 boxes of grapefruit and 4,500,000 oranges. Last year's crop was only 8,300,000 boxes.

TROOPS READY HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 13—(AP)—High praise from high official quarters spurred American troops today as they passed the "citizens" in the mock defense of Western Germany and began regroupings to shift over from "retreat" to "attack."

General Mark W. Clark, chief of all U. S. field forces, who came here specifically to judge the combat readiness of American forces in Europe, pronounced them "superior" last night after watching them in action for two days in one of the biggest training maneuvers since the war.

PALESTINE DISPUTE TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 13—(AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said today that his country had taken control of disputed territory along the Jordan River at the northern boundary between the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan and what was formerly Palestine. He said Jews already had begun to place on the land in the area were again.

This confirmed at least partially earlier reports from neighboring Arab countries that Israel had "invaded" the land. But the army spokesman said the territory in question had been granted to Israel under terms of the Arab-Jewish armistice.

Senate Committee Declares Jaffe, Field, Browder Are In Contempt Of Congress

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—Finest Crenshaw of Alaska, called on Senator Schroeder today "as a matter of honor" either to prove or retract his charges of Communist activities in the Interior Department and the Alaskan statehood campaign, generating more the demand in a face-to-face meeting with Schroeder at a Senate Interior Committee hearing. The group is looking into the Kansas Republican's charges against Secretary of Interior Chapman, Reclamation Commissioner Michael Strauss and others.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations committee voted today to ask the senate to cite Communist leader Earl Browder, Frederick Vanderlilt Field and Philip Jaffe in contempt of Congress.

The three were involved in an investigation by a foreign relations subcommittee into the charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Communists had infiltrated the State Department.

A resolution requesting contempt proceedings was adopted by the committee.

C. Of C. Directors Endorse Program For Auction Mart

Ingley Is Appointed Chairman Of Nominating Committee

Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce met last night and President W. A. Patrick appointed a nominating committee in order to select officers for the coming year, and to report at the next meeting.

Named as members of the nominating committee were J. L. Ingley, chairman, Gene Tucker, John Ingley, W. V. Ingley and H. H. Coleman.

Lea R. Leiber, assistant manager, reported this morning that the Chamber of Commerce went on record as endorsing the auction and cattle market program now being promoted by growers, cattlemen and members of the Seminole County Farm Bureau and the Veterans Co-operative.

Mr. Leiber stated that with Henry Simpson of Geneva, he is making a survey of all industrial plants in the county. This includes an inventory of machinery and skills which may prove valuable in expanding industry, and an awarding was contracted.

Former West Point Football Hero Leads Task Force Trapping Reds

By LEIF ERICKSON
TOKYO, Sept. 13—(AP)—Swift-acting "Task Force Davidson" fanned out a trap today on 1000 Red Koreans on the northeast coast.

The secret sweep by a composite force of Americans and South Koreans was led by Brig. General G. Davidson, former West Point football hero and head coach. Davidson's speedy end run across what he called "hilly goat" terrain of a mountain corridor northeast of Kyongju. It lifted a major Communist thrust to important Pohang airfield on the Korean east coast.

It was the highlight of the day's action on the whole 125-mile warfront, which was whipped by the fingers of a typhoon.

In the northeast sector, the Red thrust last week-end threatened Pohang airfield. The Communists drove a wedge five miles deep and three miles wide into the Allied line between Pohang and Angang, nine miles southwest.

They watched the penetration and it gradually grew worse. Davidson, Army right end in the mid-1920s and West Point head coach from 1933 to 1937, May General John H. Church, commander of the trail blazing U. S. 24th Division, sent Davidson into the battle.

Davidson led a flying column of South Koreans and American doughboys. They struck west from the Pohang area in a sweeping left end run.

A column of South Koreans already had sealed the northern gate of the mountain corridor northwest of Kyongju in which the regiment of Red troops was massed.

A series of three ridges dominated the southern pass.

Engineer Takes Stand At Probe Of Train Wreck

Says He Was Trying To Make Up Time As Crash Occured

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 13—(AP)—A spare, grayed Pennsylvania Railroad engineer testified today he was trying to make up time when his crack passenger train rammed the rear of a troop train, killing 33 National Guardsmen.

William Eller, 65-year-old engineer of the Pennsylvania's "Spirit of St. Louis," testified in near whispers at opening of an investigation into the fatal Ohio crash by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the railroad, the Ohio Public Utility Commission and the Army.

Eller testified he was 29 minutes late leaving Pittsburgh and had lost another minute enroute. He said visibility at the time of the wreck in the predawn hours Monday was restricted because of fog. The crash occurred near Co. station, Ohio.

The veteran engineer, described by his fireman as "one of the most alert and capable men I know," told how he reduced speed but "not enough" at the first approach block before the stalled troop train.

Eller guessed his speed at the time of the crash was 15 to 20 miles an hour.

Free Beer To Stay As Frontline GI's Will Get Can A Day

TOKYO, Sept. 13—(AP)—Front line troops in Korea who live here will continue to get 14 free cans of beer a day.

This is on the word of a high Army official who declined use of his name lest he get all framed or in controversy.

An Army order removing the one-can-a-day ration in Korea raised a howl of protest heard as far as Washington.

The source said today this he received in a compromise.

Combat troops had been getting a small can of beer as a free ration. Some of the boys who don't like beer wrote home about it. There were protests. Beer was struck from the ration.

"What was not made clear back home was that the beer was in addition to normal rations and did not take the place of other items," said the source.

"Bottles of soft drinks also have been given to frontline men and many chose cokes over beer. And there was always water, coffee and con."

Under the new arrangements, no more beer will be furnished troops from appropriated funds—taxpayers' money allocated by Congress.

But the Army has non-appropriated funds. This is revenue from small charges for various items in post exchanges and theater admissions.

The source said beer will not be free to rear echelon soldiers. They can buy it in rear areas. But the men at the front, where it's 24-hour duty and no time for shopping, will get a can almost every day, if they want it.

Soft drinks will continue to be available.

General Walker Announces Plans As Americans Flatten Northwestern Bulge

By LEIF ERICKSON
TOKYO, Sept. 13—(AP)—Allied troops got word today that they will kick off on the offensive soon against the big Red Korean war machine they have battled to a standstill for a month.

General Walton H. Walker, Allied ground commander in Korea, said in a fighting talk to his frontline troops.

"Soon we are going to give up the attitude of defense. We are going to start forward and break the crust in front of us, the enemy will fall.

"We can feel a weakening of the enemy now in some positions they actually are pulling out."

The U. S. Eighth Army commander described the long weeks of delaying action as necessary "agony and suffering."

Only through such an ordeal, he said, could the Allies build up power for an offensive.

Walker's fighting talk came as Allied troops flattened the Red Korean bulge on the northeast front in a triple-thrust power drive.

The United Nations gains in a three-day offensive were the greatest in nearly a month. They sealed much of the gap four last week by Communists in their massive breakthrough south from Kiweo near the east coast.

Resurgent South Korean troops, driving east from Yongchon and northwest from Kyongju, rolled back the Communist advance.

Big guns of the U. S. 25th Division repulsed two efforts by the Korean Reds to storm dominating heights south of the Nam and Namdong ridges.

The 155-mm. artillery wiped out 500 Reds in the second assault this afternoon. Desperate survivors snatched across the battlefield after the shells rained onto them.

A number of Reds fell back. The bill is four miles south of the confluence of the two rivers on the southern front. It was a major step toward the Nam.

Elsewhere, the main action on the southern front was a bitter, behind-the-lines battle with at least 300 infiltrators. Engineers, (Continued on Page Two)

August Crops Gain In Spite Of Little Rainfall In State

ORLANDO, Sept. 13—(AP)—August crops in Florida made good progress, even though rains were below normal in most areas.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, making the report as of Sept. 1, said today there was beginning to show dry effects but rains averted any serious conditions.

The Aug. 30 report of stem brought some crop damage to the northwest during harvest. Following this, the Gulf hurricane which entered the central part of the state did some citrus damage, but not very much. To report said, however, complete damage could not very much. The report said.

Harvest of Florida's main crop got under way during August and farmers had made considerable progress before damaging weather set in.

In the northwest, cotton picking continued with well over half the crop ginned before the storm hit out of the Gulf over the Panama City area.

Peanut harvesting increased but stalks in the field were damaged considerably.

Pasture conditions dropped during August because of dry weather.

Lots of kids are going out for cheerleading this week. I heard someone say that most of the freshmen didn't want to go out and were a little scared. Whether this is true or not I don't know for sure, but I hope not. Even if you go up there (shaking in your shoes) like we all silly and don't win a thing, there's always another time. Last year a lot of freshmen went out and two won. You can't expect (naturally) to all win when there are a lot of upper classmen that everyone knows better, but then when you're a sophomore and go out they'll know you better if not already. It's mostly being in the spirit of things. There's something about the fall that you naturally link football games and cool weather and cheerleading practice together. You can't imagine how much fun it is to practice. I'm not saying you won't win, just asking that you try.
Some of the people interested in cheerleading this year are Jackie Reel and Ethel Giesler; Gretchen Kerchoff and Rosa Coker Boyle. Many more too.
Seems Betty Lou's date the other night was from Alabama rather than Daytona as I said. Excuse me...
Joann Moore seems rather interested in a new boy up at school, while a certain sophomore blonde denies that she looks like Chuck Herron. Norma Faye Harvey had on the cutest orange sash on the other day...
I hear Joan Wright is singing "The Love I Long For" since someone graduated. Are Boddy Bass and Luther David becoming lone wolves? I see Calvin Wright and Janette Ratliff talking away in Spanish. What freshmen girl is it that Sammy Katz likes so well? We were awfully sorry to hear about Joyce Jones going to the hospital...
Linda Leonard and Bobby Graham are still going steady. It must be love...
Louie Huey looks quite smashing smoking that pipe...
Mary Jo Hayman looks awfully nice at Pat Brown's wedding last Friday. Saw Jane Davis and Edward Gordon at the show...
Barbara Kozner and her boyfriend...
Morgie Morrison had on a darlin' plaid the other day...
I wonder if Ceell Koonka ever got his subjects fixed?
Our fountain in the upstairs hall came in handy these hot days. It was given to us by the senior class of '50. Lucky nice!

Yankees Trim Cleveland Indians 8 To 7 In Heart Breaking Game

CLEVELAND, Sept. 13 (AP)—Hank Greenberg voiced the thought that was in the minds of most baseball fans today when he said:

"Now we will see just how good the Yankees are. Here is their biggest challenge of the season. Can they bounce back? They've been losing out such medicine all season. Can they take a dose of the same?"

The Cleveland general manager was referring to the Yankees' heart-breaking 7-6 loss to the Indians last night. It was a game the defending champions appeared to have all wrapped up. Although they had blown an early 6-0 lead they still held a 7-4 advantage in the ninth. Then the blow fell.

Two walks, a double by Bob Kennedy and a two-out three-run homer by Luke Easter and a welcome Yankee victory was turned into a numb defeat. Instead of leading the American League by a half game, the Yankees sent the Yankees spinning into second place a half length behind the Detroit Tigers.

"Yes, sir," Greenberg continued. "It wouldn't surprise me if this game costs the Yankees the flag. It may have far-reaching effect. It can't help but hurt their morale. There was a game they had all wrapped up and ready to take home. One more out and it was over. Then bang. One swing and it's over. Only they lose instead of win."

"Now the shoe is on the other foot. We gave them a taste of what they handed us in New York a couple of weeks ago. They put the skids under us. We couldn't come out of it. Now let us see whether they can bounce back."

It was impossible to learn how the Yankees felt about the loss. The doors of their clubhouse were locked to all visitors.

The end came with dramatic suddenness. The Yankees had built up a 6-0 lead in the first two innings on homers by Joe DiMaggio, Phil Rizzuto and Yogi Berra. Round trippers by Larry Doby and Easter cut the margin to 4-4. A seventh Yankee run in the eighth seemed superfluous, especially the way Allie Reynolds had strolled following his two home-run pitches in the middle rounds.

Then came the fatal ninth. Reynolds, who had fanned 10 Indians to wrest the strikeout leadership away from Cleveland's Bob Lemon, walked pinch-hitter Joe Gordon and Thurman Tucker with one out. Manager Casey Stengel summoned Tom Ferrick, his ace reliever, from the bullpen.

Kennedy worked the count to 2-2, then lined a double between left fielder Johnny Hopp and DiMaggio. That scored Gordon and sent Tucker to third. The Yankees appeared out of trouble when Ferrick fanned Doby on three pitches.

As Easter strode to the plate, Catcher Berra went to the mound to confer with Ferrick. Stengel joined the conference. Whatever was the decision, it proved wrong. Easter swung at the first pitch and smashed a long, hard drive over the right field barrier.

The Yankee double took one look and headed straight for the dugout steps. They knew the game was over. When Easter hit home plate there wasn't a Yankee in sight.

LaMotta Expected To Tame Dauthuille

DETROIT, Sept. 13 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Jack LaMotta is expected to tame Laurent (Tarsan) Dauthuille of France tonight in a promising 15-round title bout at the Olympia Stadium. Ring time is 10:00 P.M. LaMotta is a 6 to 5 favorite. Promoter Nick Louder of the International Boxing Club looks for a crowd of 15,000 to pay $100,000.

LaMotta expected no trouble making the 160-pound limit at the 10:00 A.M. weigh-in. He hit 160 on the beam yesterday and probably will weigh 159. Dauthuille will be about the same although he was only 156½ when he beat LaMotta last year.

Guard May Release Simmons To Pitch

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Sept. 13 (AP)—There are rumors going around the federalized 25th division of the Pennsylvania National Guard that Pfc. Curt Simmons will be released to pitch in the World Series if the Philadelphia Phillies win the National League pennant.

Simmons' commanding officer, Capt. Howard Emhardt of the division's artillery, wouldn't object to

Crackers And Barons Take Playoff Leads

Atlanta and Birmingham, the one-two teams, put their best feet forward and tripped Nashville and Memphis in the opening games of the Southern association playoffs.

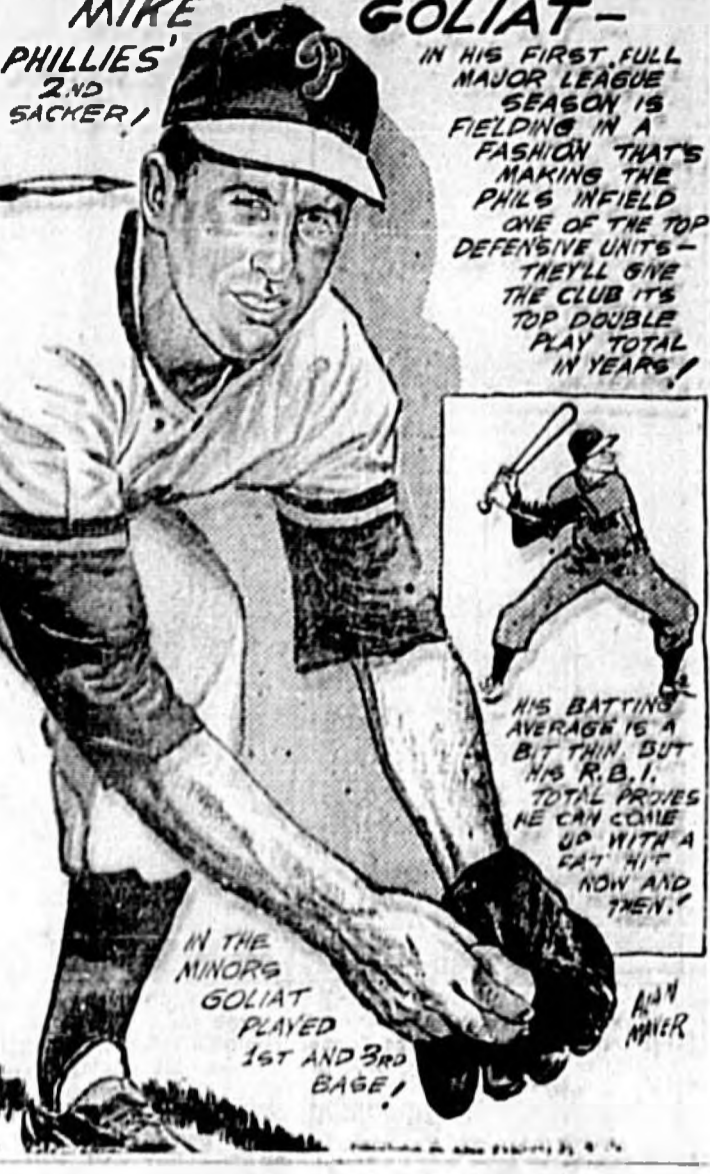

Fans in the winning cities couldn't be happier. If there's anything they want to see, it's Atlanta and Birmingham tangle in the playoff final. That's still a long way off. They need three more victories in the four-of-seven series, and Memphis and Nashville certainly won't bow out just to please Atlanta and Birmingham fans.

Crackers downed Memphis 3-2 last night, and the Barons topped Nashville's Vols 5-4. Memphis is at Atlanta again tonight, and the Vols remain in Birmingham. Then come series between the Barons and the Barons.

Gene Tucker And Jim Higgins Win In Men's Doubles

Gene Tucker and Jim Higgins won the men's doubles championship in the City tennis tournament at the Mayfair courts yesterday afternoon when they triumphed over Gordon Dean and Frank Bowen 6-2, 6-2.

Tucker and Higgins won their way to the finals by defeating Bernard Guthrie and George Herndon in the semi-finals Sunday afternoon after previously defeating Bob Cornell and Joe McGee.

Playing almost flawless tennis Tucker and Higgins took the first three games in short order yesterday when Dean won his serve, but the only other game he and Bowen took in that set came when they broke through Higgins' serve in the seventh game.

However, Higgins, who has not been playing much since the tournament last year, surprised his opponents and the gallery with his fine volleying and overhead game which did not seem in the least impaired by his long injury. And he also won his other three serves.

The mixed doubles are expected to start this afternoon with the finals being played Sunday afternoon. Gene Tucker is in charge of arrangements for these matches in the absence of Mrs. P. M. Higgins who has left for her vacation.

Golf Champion Falls In Women's Amateur

ATLANTA, Sept. 13 (AP)—The queen no longer defends her crown in the 1949 National Amateur Women's National Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Mark A. Porter, known in golf simply as the German Porter of Westmont, N.J., whipped the field to win the 1949 National Amateur, but here at the East Lake course she lasted no longer than the second round.

Mrs. Porter yesterday took a 1-up whipping from Mrs. J. Albert Hayes of Philadelphia on the 19th hole. The Porter putter fell on numerous greens, especially on the 19th where she missed a four-foot run to the cup. Mrs. Hayes played almost as poorly on the 6,821-yard course as the champion. Her moral score for 19 holes was 89, the same as Mrs. Porter's. Par is 37-38-76.

When he came to bat in the fifth inning of last night's game against the Cardinals, the "Old Man" hadn't had a hit in 21 times at bat. Max Lanier tossed the ball, and swung—he had his hit and the Phillies had won the ball game, a game that preserved their six and one-half game lead over Brooklyn.

Sports writers have dubbed Andy "Grandpa White" because he's older than the youngsters on the team. But it's the youngsters who look to Andy for the whop, holter and fight.

"I get tired sometimes along about the end of the second game of a doubleheader," Andy admitted, "but I'd rather be tired and playing than sitting on the bench, full of bounce."

Seminick's Homer Wins For League-Leading Phillies

By MERRI ALTSCHULL
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13 (AP)—Let those who wonder about the success of the Philadelphia Phillies study the case of Andy Seminick:

Two years ago, the Philadelphia fans heard Seminick every time he appeared on the diamond and that year the Phils finished sixth. Today the fans hoot and holler for joy at the sight of Andy—and the Phils are leading the National League.

They had plenty of reason to cheer the Whiz Kids' catcher last night. Seminick won a ball game with a home run, his second of the year. He won it for Robin Roberts, who pitched a five-hit 1-0 shutout over the St. Louis Cardinals, his 19th victory against eight losses.

He also won it for Andy Seminick. Andy celebrated his 30th birthday yesterday but it was just like any other day for Seminick. He caught his 17th straight game, including a string of doubleheaders and extra inning games.

Out in Chicago, two weeks ago, Seminick hit an inside-the-park home run. "Humph," Andy said yesterday. "Andy said I was the shutoff player on the team."

"Do you know," Andy added, "public opinion from his eyes, 'that I was the fastest player on the team four years ago. I won a race to prove it.'"

Andy is always on the move, hustling down to first to back up plays, hurrying to the screen to try for impossible fouls, whooping it up when another player is at bat. He's all hustle all fight.

They boo Andy in New York since he and half the Giants get into a clubhouse that would up in a fist fight. Twice in recent weeks Andy answered those New York jeers by socking the ball out of the park.

Sports writers have dubbed Andy "Grandpa White" because he's older than the youngsters on the team. But it's the youngsters who look to Andy for the whop, holter and fight.

Southeastern Gridiron Practice Starts With Whacky Work-Outs

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Kentucky Wildcats of the Southeastern Football Conference have asked the Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League to move over.

They want squatter's sovereignty on some of this whacky business. Shift your tympanum a bit to the leeward and listen to what happened at the Wildcats' practice session yesterday.

The boys held their scrimmages on the grid's softball diamond, and one of the hokies was shaken up while taking a bath. That's like meeting Jesse James without a pistol or Santa Claus without a beard.

Coch Paul Bryant took it all in stride, however, and noted that his squad was showing improvement. It was something of a moral victory that the boys didn't make a touchdown at second base, seeing as how they were practicing on a baseball diamond.

This business about being tossed out of a bath did no more than shake up quarterback Bill Farley, whose injured knee was getting a whirlpool treatment. Especially impressive under Bryant's eye was walloping Walt Yowarsky, a tackle, who looked "very good."

Coch Bob Neyland of Tennessee, a wise guy in any tight spot, is trying to get off of one by shouldering aside the pre-season dope that makes his Vols a 14-karat outfit.

Neyland wants none of this deopster stuff. Some of the boys who call themselves experts have tagged the Vols the nation's third best team.

This is the way he put it to a civic club in Knoxville yesterday: "They did it to Vanderbilt last year and look what happened. The people in the Southeastern Conference who are giving us the big buildup are laughing behind our backs."

So what the mentor, and so ripped the laughter. At Tuesday's workout he tossed a word of praise to Ted Daffer and John Michaels at guard, centers Bill Jasper and Gene Mueller, and Roy Smith, a tough tackler.

At Baton Rouge, the lights were the main thing that sparked last night at Louisiana State's full practice game. "We'll have to improve 100 percent before we can play the kind of ball expected of us against chell who weighs 205."

The Battle Dead Tell No Tales, Leave Few Clues Behind In Korea

By HAL BOYLE
KOREA—(AP)—Those who die in battle rarely leave mementoes. Infantrymen in particular must travel light. Every unnecessary ounce is a tax on their strength. And when they are killed and stretched out in rows, there is little to tell them apart except the nature of the wound through which their life drained out.

The fixed look of death robs their features of their usual individuality. The dreams that marked their faces in life no longer stamp them. Was this closed eye once eager? Did this shut mouth often open in complaint or only to say good things? There is no way to tell. They share an eternal languor that holds all their secrets. The dogtags to be placed upon their crosses in temporary cemeteries give only a few identifying facts—rank, name, army serial number, and religion. Ironically, the tags also list the type of blood they no longer use. But these bare statistics are poor clues indeed to the personalities of the voiceless dead.

Their pockets tell more about them than does their clothing, their death-softened faces their dogtags. But it is surprising how little they tell. They usually hold a few sheets of crumpled paper, a stubby pencil, a comb and a religious medal or prayer book.

In their wallets are small amounts of money, perhaps a treasured letter from home or an envelope containing a lock of a child's hair and pictures of those the soldiers loved. As this army was long in Japan, many of the faces in the photo are those of Japanese girls.

"I always feel a little sad when I open a wallet that has no photos in it," said a sergeant whose job is to catalog the personal belongings found on combat casualties. "I feel that soldier must have had a awful hard life—and no chance left to make it happier."

He said he often wondered what manner of men those he buried had been. It is perhaps unfair to wish to invade their final privacy, but it is only human when you see the battle dead to want to know more about them.

Sometimes, later, you do find out more about them in odd ways. It was that way with "Lieut. Blood" to give him another name.

He fell only a few days after his outfit went into battle. A few days later I visited the outfit and found a captain friend putting some things in a cigar box. We chatted a while and I mentioned I had about run out of notebooks. The captain picked up a notebook from a small pile of objects before him, thumbed through it a moment, then said: "Here. Take this. We found it on the lieutenant we lost."

I demurred but the captain insisted so I took it. "You know, that stuff ought to be sent to the quartermaster corps so they could send it home," objected the company mail clerk. "It was my friend and I'm going to send his things on to his dad myself," said the captain. And he began to wrap up the cigar box. He showed me a recent picture of the outfit's officers.

The slender face of the lieutenant—a handsome, boyish face topped by close-cropped blond hair—laughed out from the photo.

"He was a fine one," said the captain gently as he began addressing the cigar box. "He was a lot of fun."

"That night at my billet I had a chance to inspect the notebook and learn more about the young man who had only half filled it when he died."

He must have been meticulous and philosophical as well as laughter-loving. The back pages carried neat charts of the weight of army vehicles and the exact number of lashings needed to fasten each on the ships that carried his battalion to Korea.

The first few pages had a few hand-drawn jokes, and it was perhaps because of these the captain hadn't wanted to send the notebook home. They were followed by this entry:

"The only equipment a second lieutenant needs is a big appetite and a hard head."

And then came his last entry: "There is still a lot for all of us to learn."

Hollywood
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12—(AP)—The movie makers have found one trouble in filming the life of Enrico Caruso, who will play the role of the tenor in the picture "The Great Caruso."

"The man has been dead only 30 years," said Joe Pasternak, who is producing the picture. "But nobody can agree on him. Take four people, all of them who knew him intimately, and each will have a different idea of what kind of a person he was."

"We are not going to try to show his whole life. To do that would take 74 hours on the screen; we have only two. We are filming a story based on his career. It will be a story of a young Italian boy who found fame and wealth in the United States. I think it should be a film that will help sell the American way of life throughout the world."

The film, said the producer, will not try to "erode opera down to the public's throat."

"We are not in competition with the Met," he said. "We will have a lot of singing, but it will be familiar and melodic—like the sextette from 'Lucta' and the quartet from 'Rigoletto.' And we will have some pop stuff, too. One of Caruso's biggest selling records was 'Because.'"

Some of the more famous aspects of the tenor's life will not be touched, Pasternak indicated. Mario Lanza, who will play the lead and has a lusty appetite himself, will not be seen eating one of the tremendous meals Caruso used to consume.

Caruso will have only two loves, his Italian sweetheart as a boy, and his wife, played by Ann Blythe. His death (in 1921 at the age of 48) will be suggested but not actually pictured.

Here are some of the facts studio researchers uncovered about Caruso:

He was a great friend of cops and always sang at police benefits. He sometimes sang in the streets

Three representatives of the Florida State Road Department Information Station met at Mr. Leisher yesterday afternoon with Mr. Leisher and Misses Hartman. They were Miss Shirley Rodgers, director of the information booth, Miss Margaret Flynn and Miss Nancy Pfeholz. Plans were outlined for the Road Department's publicity plans for the coming year.

Since the official opening of Florida's state-owned and operated Information Station on Nov. 4, 1949, said Miss Rodgers, nearly 28,000 visitors have been provided with information on Florida's highways, cities, and attractions. More than five gallons of orange juice is served free to visitors daily, and 40,000 free picture postcards have been provided. Nearly all of the 10,222 automobiles which brought these visitors bear the "Guest of Florida" windshield stickers.

Among the information available at the station are brochures from 80 Florida cities and 25 state attractions, she stated. S. Kennedy, as manager of Jacksonville initiated the program while a member of the State Road Board during the last administration.

techniques in correcting near sightedness in children. The previous method used was to rely on the boy's glasses had to be strengthened frequently. Today the child is taught to see in the distance, and glasses that are not of full correction are used in the boy's eyes.

King Lion Harry Robson commended Dr. Meade for his talk and stated that the Lions Aid to the Blind Committee, headed by Clyde Ramsey, will check into the situation.

John Kader, chairman of the Lions Blood Bank Committee, reported that a blood donors day from his carriage for the people who couldn't raise the money to see him in opera houses. He had dozens of old friends on his payroll as a means of giving them charity. He never would let anyone else pick up the check when he died out.

Caruso was not acclaimed on his first appearance in this country. He received lukewarm notices from the critics when he made his debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in "Aida." He wanted to return to Italy and only the urgings of friends kept him here.

Before each performance, he inhaled a quantity of tepid salt water, took a drink of whiskey, another of sparkling water and a quarter of apple. He believed this put his voice in the best working condition. He loved to see his clippings and pasted them in a scrap book himself.

He liked to wear fancy clothes and had many dozens of suits. For some strange reason, he was fond of the boy's glasses had to be never used them. He was a good cartoonist and caricaturist.

He said that his last name meant "a dear use," and he firmly believed that applied to his voice. He felt that it was God-given and that it was more important than anything else in his life. That will be the theme of the movie to be called "The Great Caruso."

were four other Senate seats, 41 house memberships and six governorships.

Here's a summary of top races in those states:

ARIZONA—Senator Carl Hayden and other members of the Democratic congressional delegation were renominated. Their Republican foes in the general election had no primary opposition. A woman, former state auditor, Ann Frohiller, appeared to have won the Democratic nomination for governor. The Republican candidate was unopposed.

COLORADO—Senator Eugene D. Mihkin was renominated by Republicans without a contest. The Democratic nominee is Rep. John A. Carroll, also chosen without opposition. Former Governor Ralph L. Carr was picked by Republicans as their gubernatorial candidate to oppose Governor Walter W. Johnson, Democrat, in November.

VERMONT—Winston L. Prouty, 44-year-old lumber dealer making his first bid for a statewide office, won the Republican nomination to the state's only seat in the U. S. House of Representatives. In traditionally Republican Vermont, he is virtually assured of taking the place of Rep. Charles A. Plumley, Republican, who is retiring. Senator George D. Aiken, Republican, was unopposed for re-nomination.

MICHIGAN—Republicans picked former Governor Harry F. Kelly as their candidate to oppose Democratic Governor G. Messen Williams in the November election. Kelly led his closest opponent in the five-way GOP primary by almost 50,000 votes in incomplete returns.

MINNESOTA—Republican Governor Luther Youngdahl swamped four little-known opponents to gain the nomination for another term. Harry H. Peterson, former state auditor, was the only challenger.

Washington-W. Walter Williams, 49-year-old Seattle businessman, led two other candidates for the Republican nomination to the Senate. Democratic Senator Warren G. Magnuson was unopposed.

Florida's 1,577,000 layers on farms produced 18,000,000 eggs in August—same as last year—with the total so far at 190,000,000—one million more than the same period in 1949.

Kearns said he saw the flagman of the stopped troop train standing just east of the stalled train. He testified the rear of the stalled train was about 50 car lengths beyond the flagman.

Excess Profits Tax Men Win Strength Test

House Votes 225 To 106 On Motion To Act Upon Proposal; May Quit Saturday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The House shouted overwhelming approval today of a resolution calling on Congress not to adjourn until it has a chance to act on a multi-billion dollar excess profits tax. This action came after the failure of an effort to write a $6,000,000,000 super levy on big pending general tax boosting bill. That measure bogged down in House rules on procedure.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—An effort to put a $6,000,000,000 corporation excess profits tax into general tax boosting bill failed in the House today. It bogged down in technicalities of rules of procedure. Speaker Rayburn ruled that under the rules and precedents, the House could not instruct a Senate conference committee to insert the big profits levy in the pending $4,500,000,000 tax bill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Members demanding immediate action on a multi-billion-dollar excess tax on corporations won the first test of strength in the House today.

The test came on a vote of 225 to 106 to receive and act upon proposals dealing with a super tax on big profits.

Rep. Eberharter (D-Pa.) was ready with a motion to instruct House conferees on the pending $4,500,000,000 general tax boosting measure to insert in that bill a $6,000,000,000 profits levy.

However, there were indications that the motion might be ruled out of order, on the basis that the rules of Congress prohibit a House-Senate conference committee from writing new subject matter into a bill already passed by the two bodies.

Eberharter had another plan for use in the event the motion failed. He proposed that Congress shall not adjourn until it acts on an excess profits tax.

The fight today was on sending the tax bill to a House-Senate conference committee.

500 Students Are Registered At Seminole High

Girls outnumber boys by a considerable margin at Seminole High School this term. Of the total enrollment to date of 500 students, 279 are girls and 221 are boys.

Principal Herman E. Morris announced this morning. Enrollment was 496 at this time last year.

At the initial assembly program held this morning in the school auditorium the Rev. J. E. McKinley of the First Methodist Church spoke on "The Rules of the Game."

He was introduced by Clarence Clause, president of the Student Council.

He based his talk on the first Psalm. "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of scoffers."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—President Truman being willing, George Washington is here to stay.

McClung To Open New Dime Store On First Street

M. L. McClung, who formerly operated dime stores in this state and more recently in Napa, Calif., announced today that he will open a store of this type during the winter in the Evans Building at First Street and Magnolia Avenue where extensive alterations are being made under direction of W. W. Dawson.

Mr. McClung and his family live at 112 West Twentieth Street in the two story home recently purchased from Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Smith. The family includes three sons, Joseph, Charles and Alfred. The home has been redecorated and painted.

Coming to Florida for the first time in 1938 after serving with the U. S. Army, McClung organized the U. S. Army Dime Store in Louisiana, operated ten stores in Dade City, Fla. from 1942 to 1948 he was in the military service, and was exchange officer of Oliver General Hospital, Augusta, Ga., and emerged with rank of captain.

In 1948 following his Army service he opened a dime store in Lake Worth, which in 1948 he sold in a national chain out of New York, and moved to California.

He stated that he hopes to be able to open his new store between Dec. 1, and Jan. 1. Mr. McClung termed Sanford one of the most beautiful in this section, for which he predicted a bright future with its vegetable, citrus and cattle industries.

The new store will have an additional middle entrance on First Street, windows are being lowered, and air conditioning will be installed, he stated.

PAYROLL ROBBERY

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Two gunmen opened fire on two messengers today, seized a $23,000 payroll, and dashed off through Manhattan streets in an automobile.

The two employees of the Morand-Lindell Company, 428 Madison Avenue, were shot down as they left a stairway into the lobby with the money, police said.

Police believed that one of the gunmen wounded his partner since bloodstains were found on the curb outside. They sped away in a dark green automobile driven by a third man.

Visitors introduced by Col. S. G. Harriman were Tom Burgess, Mr. Dora; George Park, St. Louis; and Bob Walker and Clancy Northrup, Orlando. John Galloway announced the birthday of the Rev. Angus Melnick, who was saluted in song. Leon Cornell and Dr. H. W. Rucker led in singing.

Coaches Predict Bright Year For Seminole Griders

Bright prospects for the 1950 Seminole High School football team were predicted yesterday in talks to Kwanians by Coach C. F. Kettles, by Assistant Coach W. G. Fleming, former SHS football star, and by Principal Herman E. Morris.

Coach Kettles pointed out that he has an experienced team, and in Clarence Clause and Frank Steadman, the fastest backfield he has ever had. He predicted an aggressive team. On the negative side he pointed out that the linemen are not big, and that the team lacks depth in reserves.

The Celery-Feds will present a fine appearance with orange head gear, orange jerseys and white pants, he said. He told of the improved condition of the football field and bleachers.

Mr. Morris in introducing Fleming, told of the big scores made by the Celery-Feds back in the 1940-41 period when the latter was a half back for the team, and pointed out that his mother, Mrs. W. G. Fleming, is a teacher at Junior High School.

Mr. Fleming declared that he is very happy to be back at Seminole High School, predicted a fine team this year, and praised his 100th grade world history students as being "very sharp."

Principal Morris told the Kwanians that Coach Kettles gives inspiration to the boys on the team, and trains them in gentlemanly conduct off the field and on.

"No hotel or restaurant has complained to us about their conduct," he added. Mr. Morris pointed out that practically all of the members of the team were sophomores last year, and will give a fine account of themselves during the coming season and that following.

Following the suggestion of President-elect Joel Field, the Kwanians voted to endorse the "Physically Handicapped Employment Week" program.

Visitors introduced by Col. S. G. Harriman were Tom Burgess, Mr. Dora; George Park, St. Louis; and Bob Walker and Clancy Northrup, Orlando. John Galloway announced the birthday of the Rev. Angus Melnick, who was saluted in song. Leon Cornell and Dr. H. W. Rucker led in singing.

Churchill Proposes Vote Of Censure; New Election Looms

LONDON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The Labor government announced today it will take over the British steel industry about Jan. 1.

Winston Churchill, the Conservative leader, promptly declared he would ask the House of Commons to adopt a virtual motion of censure. The motion will be debated next Tuesday. If passed, it might lead Prime Minister Acheson to resign and set for a new national election.

George Strauss, the minister of supply, announced that officers of the corporation will be named Oct. 2. It will be headed by S. J. L. Hoole, chairman of the British Oxygen Company.

Strauss, under whose department the industry will operate when nationalized, said it will be taken over on Jan. 1 "or as soon as practicable thereafter."

Churchill jumped up and said he will offer a motion "regretting that at this most critical period in our national safety and affairs abroad we should be by this act of the government plunged into the fiercest party controversy at home."

More Than 10,000 Students To Enter U Of F Fall Term

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 14.—(AP)—University of Florida President J. Billis Miller said today that new students are expected to enter the university to begin the fall term.

He said the estimate was reached on the basis of 12,548 applications for entrance on file, a figure compared with the 12,295 applications received a year ago when the University registered its largest enrollment of 10,511 students.

Dr. Miller said that the estimate indicated that despite the onset of the Korean war the university would continue to be faced with building and financial problems similar to those of a year ago.

Registrar J. S. Johnson, who compiled the figures, said the estimate has been based on past experience where there was a fairly stable annual ratio between the number of applicants and the number of students who actually registered.

The current applications show that the number of women students will increase in the new enrollment. Applications from 2,475 women have been received, of whom it is estimated some 1,900 will enroll.

Of the 12,548 applications on file, 5,065 represent new students; 2,818 represent former school students who expect to return, and 4,665 represent students registered the spring term who will be back in school.

Orientation week for new students begins Monday with classes opening on Sept. 25.

Senator Bridges May Is Granted Says Korean War Only The Prelude

Truman Administration Is Hit For Numerous Errors

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—(AP)—Senator Styles Bridges, ranking Republican member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, today called the Korean fighting "the prelude to World War III."

Using almost mobilization and 100 per cent economic controls at home, the New Hampshire Senator proposed marshaling anti-Communist forces everywhere in the world, including:

1. Training and arming as many West German divisions as possible, as well as Japanese divisions under General MacArthur's supervision.

2. Inviting Spain to join the Atlantic Pact to give us bases in that country.

3. Using Chung Kai Shek's Chinese Nationalist troops in Korea.

Speaking out at the Truman Administration, he asserted: "Our predicament is the result of many errors. It is the result of many misapprehensions. I fear of outright treason."

Meanwhile in Washington, General J. Lawton Collins, the Army chief of staff, pointed today to a "lost boy" who failed to return home from school yesterday.

He is Charles Stafford, Jr., 2416 Sumner Avenue, and is described as four foot six inches tall, of slender build and having dark eyes and black hair. He was wearing a yellow shirt, discolored pants and brown and white shoes.

On his plea of guilty, he was sentenced yesterday by Police Judge John T. McCormick, who once received pre-operation care from the prisoner at the Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., hospital.

Washington Denies Report, But Admits Navy Attacked Near Port City Of Inchon

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Heavy attacks by Allied warships and carrier planes on Korea's west coast an apparent prelude to the promised big push—prompted the Reds last night to claim four U. S. landing craft and three destroyers were sunk.

The U. S. Navy in Washington said it had no report of any landing-type vessels being involved in the heaviest surface bombardment of the war by British and American ships in the vicinity of Inchon, west coast port for the Red-held capital city of Seoul.

The Navy said the Reds did in fact "suffered damage" on three U. S. destroyers during the Inchon bombardment Wednesday.

With ground action a lively reality and American commanders predicting future offensive operations against the North Koreans, Allied forces in Tokyo said it sounded as if the Reds were trying to manufacture a "victory" by implying that a landing effort had been repulsed.

Far East naval headquarters said earlier that Task Force 77 wrought damage along a 210-mile western strip, the main blow being at Inchon.

The attacks against troops, gun emplacements and airstrips were described by the Navy Thursday.

Allied ground forces either held firm or gained on the beachhead perimeter 160 miles to the southwest.

Particularly active was the northern front from the northwest corner before Taegu to the southeast.

U. S. Was Warned Weeks In Advance Of Korean Attack

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 14.—(AP)—The United Nations Korean Commission disclosed today that South Korea's intelligence chief had warned it six weeks in advance that a Communist attack was imminent but that U. S. officials disagreed.

The disclosure was made in the 111 page annual report of the commission, submitted to the General Assembly.

The report held the North Korean regime completely to blame for the conflict and described the June 25 attack as an act of long-premeditated and unprovoked aggression.

Replying to Russian charges that it was the South Koreans who started the war, the report said:
