The World beautiful
It doesn't cost money as many suppose,
To have a good time on the earth;
The best of its pleasures are free unto those Who know how to value their worth.

The sweetest music the birds to us sing,
The loveliest of flowers grow wild;
The finest of drinks gushes out of the spring—
All free to man, woman and child.

Such pictures as Nature supplies,
Forever, all over to sinner and saint,
Who use to advantage their eyes.

Kind words and glad looks,
Smiles cheery and brave
Cost nothing—no nothing at all;
And yet all the wealth Mon to Cristo could save
Can make no such pleasures befall.

To bask in the sunshine, to breathe the pure air,
Honest toil, the enjoyment of health,
Sweet slumber refreshing—these pleasures we share,
Without our portion of wealth.

Communion with friends, tried, true and strong,
To love and be loved for love's sake;
In fact, all that makes life happy and long
Is free to whoever will take.....

Exchange.

One cannot go far nor talk to many people without hearing the remark that the seasons are so brief, that it will be but a short time before winter, or to the years come and go so fast as we grow older. But it is a pleasant thing to hear; it is not a dreamy tale by any manner of means.

There is no more distressing thing in life than to have the days or months drag wearily and lengthily—or to appear to drag lengthily. It is the change, the variety, the motion that is enchanting. So when on refers to the flight of time it is evident that with him or her the years are not burdensome nor time an encumbrance upon the hands. Of course the seasons are going by rapidly, and the years flying around as months did in our youth. But there are the same number of heart beats, or nearly the same number, and the mental processes are as active as when the years were slower in their passage.

Life is a mysterious thing. Each life is complete within itself. The few brief days of the tiny insect are quite as much to it as the three score years and ten to us—and no more. The thousands of years of the giant sequoia of California amount to no more than does the span of human existence. And if our lives should have been planned to extend over but a single year, we should have been as happy—and as useful—as we are now.

It doesn't seem to make any difference about time in fact. The time we know is only a moment, any way, the present only amounts to anything—and the present is an eternity. There will be no tomorrow so far as we are concerned; it is today with us always.

Probably the greatest enemy to happiness was the invention of marking time, the dividing of years into seasons, and the seasons into days or months, and the days into hours, and the hours into minutes. How much more glorious would it be if we had no record founded upon the revolutions of the sun—if we cared nothing about when we were born nor when we are to die—to live today with never a thought of yesterday or tomorrow. We should accomplish as much—and have no regrets. We should travel as far—with no reminders that we might have traveled farther. We should begin the tasks as readily and finish them as completely. Verily was the old fellow correct when he said that "time was made for slaves." He might also have told the truth by saying that time also makes slaves of most of us and cowards of all of us.

Another woman took her life in Chicago the other day. The given melancholy of existence now and then asserts its powerful grip upon our souls and then—one swift flash and all is over. We are wont to pass an inconsiderate opinion upon the rash act of self destruction without knowing or trying to know the unutterable burdens which have weighed upon the stricken victims.

A brave word now and then is the light of life, can see for the moment no light for their journey. Like a lost mariner on a limitless expanse of troubled sea, rudderless, with tattered sails and leveled masts, he scans in vain the black horizon for a gleam of hope, but finds it not. And while we may think that the leaver is the better way, what do we know of the grinding conflict and the crushing burden that bears so grievously upon the wavering soul?

Over on the other side, beyond the confines of this world of ours there may be some solace for the hearts whose griefs have been too hard to bear. It is not in the mind of man, nor has he the spiritual gift to know what compensation is prepared for him whose sorrows over-bire his strength. Judge not for you know not what you judge.

I have all the faith and devotion in the world for the ladies and there are times when I think my wife is almost human in her intelligence (especially in smelling my breath) but just now at Christmas time they lose my respect for their economical record. There is hardly anything that a woman won't buy at Christmas time and it seems that the older we get the more childish the gifts that are lavished upon father. We expect to get at least sixteen pairs of carpet slippers so-called because you take them off before walking on the carpet, a few dozen boxes of Cremo cigars, a dozen shaving mugs, thirteen cheap razors and a box of handkerchiefs made small so the entire family can use them. Father is supposed to put up the money for the entire family to purchase him Christmas gifts and on that great day of days he goes into retirement to count up the losses. He is also expected to go into ecstasies over each batch of so-called Xmas gifts. I hope they get up another car of stuff for the poor and needy in the big cities and if Europe for it will give me a chance to work off some of my surplus.

I inadvertently or absentmindedly referred to Sanford last week as being without a place where the boys could indulge in something besides pool and penny ante, when the fact of the matter is that the Episcopalian rector has furnished the parish house for the boys to play in and I want to thank him for it. Now let the boys get off the streets and go over there for an evening's enjoyment and recreation and athletics. Meantime what I said about the men of Sanford providing a place for the boys upon a larger scale, goes and I stand back of it. People have come to me lately with the statement that the parents were to blame for the boys on the streets, to which I reply that the parents cannot expect to keep the young men housed up all the time. They are going out at times and they should go out in the evening for pleasant recreation.

The Duke's Question.

The delicate operation of separating the French Siamese twins, which has just been successfully performed, recalls Lord Houghton's story of a duke of St. Albans who went to inspect the original Siamese twins. The tale is retold in the London Express. The duke looked at the two boys, and then turned to their showman. "Are they brothers?" he asked. The showman's reply has not been preserved.

A Demonstration.

"I distinctly saw you with the policeman's arms around you." "Oh, yes, mum; wasn't it nice of him? He was showin' me how to hold a burglar if I found one in the house."—Life.

TELLS OF BATTLE

German Officer's Letter Pictures Hand-to-Hand Fighting.

Pays High Compliment to French and English Troops—Declares That Losses on Both Sides Have Been Enormous.

London—General French's latest report of the battle of the Aisne given out here quotes this missive found on a German officer of the Seventh Reserve corps:

"Cerny, South of Laon, Sept. 17, 1914.—My Dear Parents: Our corps has the task of holding the heights south of Cerny in all circumstances till the Fourteenth corps on our left flank can grip the enemy's flank. On our right are other corps. We are fighting with the English guards, Highlanders and Zouaves. The losses on both sides have been enormous. For the most part this is due to the too brilliant French artillery.

"The English are marvelously trained in making use of ground. One never sees them, and one is constantly under fire. The French aim perfectly wonderful feats. We cannot get rid of them. As soon as an airman has flown over us, ten minutes later we get their shrapnel fire in our position. We have little artillery in our corps, without it we cannot get forward.

Three days ago our division took possession of these heights and dug itself in. Two days ago, early in the morning, we were attacked by immensely superior English forces. Our brigade and two battalions were turned out of our positions. The fellows took five guns from us. It was a tremendous hand-to-hand fight.

"How I escaped myself I am not clear. I then had to bring up support on foot. My horse was wounded and the others were too far in the rear. Then came up the guard jagor battalion, Fourth jagor, Sixth regiment, reserve regiment Thirteen, and landwehr regiments Thirteen and Sixteen, and with the help of the artillery we drove the fellows out of the position again. Our machine guns did excellent work; the English fell in heaps.

"In our battalion three iron crosses have been given—one to one to Captain — and one to Surgeon — (names probably deleted). Let us hope that we shall be the lucky ones the next time.

"During the first two days of the battle I had only one piece of bread and no water. I spent the night in the rain without my greatcoat. The rest of my kit was on the horses, which have been left miles behind with the baggage, and which cannot come up into the battle because as soon as you put your nose up from behind cover the bullets whistle.

"War is terrible. We are all hoping that a decisive battle will end the war, as our troops already have got around Paris. If we beat the English the French resistance will soon be broken. Russia will be very quickly dealt with; of this there is no doubt.

"We have received splendid help from the Austrian heavy artillery at Maubeuge. They bombarded Fort Cerfontaine in such a way that there was not ten meters of parapet which did not show enormous craters made by the shells. The armored turrets were found upside down.

"Yesterday evening, about six, in the valley in which our reserves stood, there was a terrible cannonade so that we saw nothing of the sky but a cloud of smoke. We had few casualties."

Dexterous Dentist.

"It was a dreadful moment," said the dentist. "I was bathing quietly, when the great cavernous jaws of the shark opened before me." "What did you do?" asked one of the ladies. "I took my forceps out of the pocket of my bathing-suit and pulled his teeth before he had a chance to seize me. It was the quickest and neatest bit of work I ever did."

Where Reform Must Begin.

The adult's habits, customs and ideals are fixed; eternal things may be shot at him or thrust at him, but as "holds the same opinion" that the child's mind is not so fixed and impressions it receives are retained and if they are economical and it will grow into an adult and the principles holding the position. So we must start with the child in the home, the child in the school. This is a reform must begin.

Acosta Already Out

St. Elmo W. Acosta yesterday made the positive and emphatic statement that he is already a candidate for congress from the Fourth Congressional district in the next primary, to succeed W. J. Sears who has not yet been sworn in.

"I shall make my canvass on the same platform I stood on last June, unless the things I advocated then are accomplished before that time," he said, "and in addition I will demand an adjustment of the time in which it is possible for the railroads to change tariffs, so that they will be allowed to change freight classification or rates only on the first of July or the first of January, because I want the merchants and shippers to know that when they attempt to buy or sell for future delivery just what they will have to pay the railroads."

Mr. Acosta said he had not forgotten his Mediterranean fruit fly, nor all the other things urged by him, and which were temporarily put to the rear.

He declared that there will be a fine chance for a man to succeed Mr. Sears after he has been in Washington one term and show that he can do nothing and that the people of the district will be ready for a change. He also declared that with a second primary the congressman elect would have never gotten in, because he received less than one-fourth of the vote cast in the district. He also intends, he says, to see that the primary law is amended so that "single shooting" so common last June, will be impossible. Times-Union.

COUNTY GAME WARDEN IS BUSY

The county game warden was busy this week pinching two white men for using an illegal fish net in the Wekiwa and two negroes for shooting within 300 yards of a residence. The fishermen drew prizes of $10 and costs each and had their seines confiscated. The negroes drew $5 and 2.50 costs. The game warden is right on the job every minute and the guilty will suffer in every instance where they are caught.

New Manager at McCrory's

The friends of Miss Beulah Hutchinson will be glad to hear that she has been promoted to the position of manager of J. G. McCrory's. This is a well deserved promotion following an efficient and faithful service since the opening of this popular business house several years ago. Miss Hutchinson entered the store as clerk at the time it was opened and has since served as chief clerk and bookkeeper. Always loyal to her employer's interests, courteous and considerate at all times to patrons of the store, her bright, sunny disposition has won for her a place among the most popular clerks in Sanford. Miss Hutchinson has given the details of the business careful study and attention as well as the needs of the buying public in her line of goods, so it is safe to predict that under her able management the business will continue to grow and prosper.

RANSELL DEFENDS ADMINISTRATION

SENATOR SAYS RIVER AND HARBORS IS NOT A PORK BARREL

Washington, Dec. 11.—Senator Ransdell of Louisiana told delegates to the annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress today that attacks on river and harbor legislation were unfounded, practically without merit, and many of them devoid of even a vestige of truth. He vigorously denounced attacks on the bill in the session of congress and the filibuster that resulted in the practical defeat of the measure's purpose.

Critics of the legislation, he said, had been unable to suggest a better system than the one that exists.

Senator Ransdell said that under the present method of selecting legislation the nation's waterways had been greatly improved, commerce fostered, freight movements facilitated and transportation rates cheapened in competition with railroads.

Senator Ransdell denied charges that the rivers and harbors program was a lobby. Its activities, he said, had been confined to an educational campaign to create an intelligent public sentiment in favor of proper improvements of worthy navigable waters.

"Attacks were made on the last river and harbor bill," declared Senator Ransdell, "during the debates in congress and particularly during the recent campaign, on emotional and political grounds, and it was freely charged that favoritism had been shown to the south. These attacks are unworthy of their authors. During my sixteen years in congress, in which time I served on the rivers and harbors committee of the house and the commerce committee of the senate, both under Democratic and Republican administrations, I can truthfully say that I have never known neither sectionism or politics to enter into the making up of a river and harbor bill. Republicans and Democrats alike joined in shaping the measure to get the best bill for the entire country, regardless of claims of any particular section."

Senator Ransdell appealed to the convention to insist that "under no circumstances should any water course be improved unless it has real, genuine merit back of it."

Delegates from many states were here for the opening session of the congress. An address of welcome by Secretary Bryan was a feature.

Hon. D. L. Thrasher spent the day yesterday at Eustis where he has large property interests.

CONVENTION TO BE HELD IN PALATKA MONDAY, DEC. 21

MEETING WILL TAKE UP THE ST. JOHNS RIVER INLAND WATER ROUTE

Sanford and Palatka are earnestly striving after the St. Johns river project in its relation to the Inland Canal and the meeting in Palatka will be largely attended not only by Sanford business men but by the citizens of many other cities in the interior of the state as the project affects their freight rates. The following call has been sent out for the meeting:

A call has been issued by the Palatka and Sanford Boards of Trade for a convention to meet in Palatka, Monday, Dec. 21, to organize an association to urge Congress to improve and connect up the inland waterways of Florida. The call in part is as follows:

"A new river and harbor bill will be introduced in the coming congress. Only meritorious projects will be considered. The St. Johns river is the great inland waterway of Florida. Its head waters can be connected with both the east and west coasts. It is not a one-sided proposition. To the east, as to the west of it is a tributary territory possible of most profitable development. The proposed connections to the Atlantic and to the Gulf are inland, with tillable country on both sides."

There should be united effort on the part of the people living along these natural waterways to impress upon congress the need of access by cheap navigation to this wonderful region.

The meeting is being held by H. M. de Montmolle, chairman of the river and trade committee, and Moses Edson, secretary of the Palatka Board, and C. R. Walker, secretary of waterways committee, and F. T. Wagner, chief of the regional commerce and trade.

Citizens of all interested communities in the state are cordially invited to attend. No more important matter has confronted the people of Florida. Cheap and easy access to our fertile acres is necessary to the development of the state.

LEO M. FRANK IS AGAIN SENTENCED

WILL PAY THE PENALTY FOR HIS CRIME ON FRIDAY, JANUARY 22

At 10 o'clock on Dec. 11, Leo M. Frank, who was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, Jan. 22nd, for the murder here in April 1913, of Mary Phagan, a fourteen year old factory girl.

Before receiving sentence, which was pronounced by Judge Ben H. Hill, Frank made a statement denouncing the spirit of mob violence which pervaded the court room at its trial, declaring his death would "lay an indelible stain upon Georgia's name for justice," and charging that James Conley, a negro, who was the state's principal witness against Frank had committed perjury.

Today marks the third time Frank has been sentenced to death for the Phagan girl's murder. Resentance is in accordance with the state's supreme court's refusal to set aside the conviction on the ground that Frank was absent from the courtroom when the verdict was returned.

Frank was taken from the jail to the court house under an escort of deputy sheriffs. The prisoner walked into the court room with a firm step and faced Judge Hill with calmness which has characterized him throughout his fight for life.

SUPREME COURT REVERSES DECISION

ACCORDING TO REPORTS THE ROAD IN JUNCTION STANDS

Word has just received from the Supreme Court that the injunction against the building of the brick roads in Sanford district No. One, this matter has been in the courts for the past six months and has worked a hardship on the tax payers and the people who are compelled to travel through the sand when they are paying for brick and should be traveling on brick. The injunction proceedings were brought to restrain the county commissioners from building the brick road on Union and Mellenville avenues and to force them to build Celery avenue the specified width of sixteen feet.

The election call for bonds specified the road on Celery avenue should be sixteen feet, other roads fourteen feet and some nine feet and should be bricked. There being some doubts about the actual roads to be bricked and the original bond issue of $200,000 falling short the commissioners decided to make Celery avenue 12 feet wide and also give the people on Union avenue part of the benefit of the brick, which was stopped immediately by an injunction suit tying up the disputed roads. Judge Perkins decided in favor of the commissioners and the case was carried to the Supreme Court with the result noted.

The majority of the tax payers of the district are heartily in favor of some compromise being effected in the matter and let the good work of road building continue. The district is now in the embarrassing position of having miles of brick roads built in different parts of the district with intervening stretches of sand and visitors to the city are not favorably impressed by the spectacle.

Boy Eager to Sell Seals

The other day a little boy went into a store, where the Red Cross Christmas seals ornament the window and asked for some stamps to sell.

"I haven't got a cent," he admitted, "but I can sell a lot of the stamps, and I want to do it."

"All right, here are twenty-five," said the woman in charge. "I'll trust you. Go ahead."

It was not long before he was back with the money and anxious to sell more. He was accommodated and is still working for the cause when he can get time to do so.

When the boy was asked why he was so anxious to help sell the seals.

"Well, my father and two sisters are very poor and I know that this money will go to help other sick people, and so I am going to do all I can for you."

Have you bought your share of Red Cross seals?

MODEL STATE LAW FOR STATISTICS

THE BIRTHS AND DEATHS SHOULD BE GIVEN IN EVERY CITY

Announcement has just been made before the Florida State Federation of Women's Clubs at Lakeland that if sufficient interest is shown, an appeal will be made to the next legislature for new or amended legislation for the registration of births and deaths in uniformity with other states having the Model State Law.

It is thought that such a statute should provide at first for the collection of statistics in cities and towns of either 500 or 1,000 population and over to be extended thereafter to all incorporated municipalities, and finally, to the rural portions of the state.

To allow a county to have complete statistics in advance of state-wide registration, it is possible some progressive may be worked out and included in the proposed bill for collecting all its birth and death records, such as well as urban, upon sufficient interest shown and a proper report from such cities.

Model of registration of births and deaths, the large majority of Florida municipalities, at least of the larger ones, should show their interest and desire by adopting the model ordinance and mandating the system of registering the births and deaths of their own citizens. And the present registration cities, those of 2,000 population and over, should show their application of the opportunities already afforded them for comparative showings of healthfulness by complete and prompt reports, under the best possible ordinances.

When the legislature next meets the sentiment of the state should be shown to be so strongly in favor of such a statute by the councils' actions in cities and towns that there should be no doubt of the passage of the proposed statute.

Let Florida be up and doing, and be in line with Georgia and South Carolina, both of which have this year passed state-wide laws and are about to put them into operation.

Mass Meeting

Tonight, 7:30, at the Presbyterian Manse a meeting in the interests of the "Save-a-Baby" Club movement will be held, addressed by Duncan H. Curry of Jacksonville. All are urged to come and learn something about this practical charity, especially the young people of the Christian Endeavor societies. This is an effort to get behind the Children's Home work of Jacksonville, of which Mr. Marcus Fagg is special superintendent.

Promiscuous Shooting

Dr. Howard reports that some boys at boys are shooting air rifles or real rifles in the city and that in the past few days several bullets have entered his office, one of them striking a patient in the face. The doctor naturally feels indignant at the person or persons who are using these rifles in the city and asks that they stop the nuisance at once or he will be under the painful necessity of having them arrested.

ANNUAL REPORT OF PROJECTS IN FLORIDA

THE RIVERS AND HARBORS OF THIS STATE ARE WELL PROVIDED

Washington, Dec. 11.—The annual report of the chief engineers of the army, on the subject of the inland waterways of Florida, contains a large number of important recommendations for the development of Florida rivers and harbors. This report is the means by which congress ascertains what amount of money is to be appropriated for important projects throughout the country and for this reason is especially important to Florida at this time.

Beginning with the St. Johns river the amount that can be profitably expended in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1916, for works of general improvement, is $577,000, exclusive of amount already available; St. Johns river, opposite the city of Jacksonville (no funds are required for the year 1916 as no maintenance operations are likely to be required that soon); St. Johns, Jacksonville to Palatka, $15,000; St. Johns, Palatka to Lake Harney, $15,000; Lake Crescent and Dunns creek, $1,000; Ocklawaha river, $10,000; Indian river, $10,000; St. Lucie Inlet, $200,000; harbor at Miami, Biscayne bay, $150,000; Key West harbor (no estimates made as funds on hand sufficient to complete main ship channel and to maintain north-west channel until March 4, 1916).

Kassimime river, $6,000; Caloosahatchee river, between Punta Rassa and Fort Thompson, $5,000; Orange river, $1,000; Charlotte Harbor (available funds on hand sufficient); Sarasota Bay, present funds sufficient; Manatee river, $35,000; Tampa bay, $9,000; St. Petersburg harbor, $1,500; Hillsboro bay, $120,000; Hillsboro river (balance on hand sufficient); Clearwater harbor and Boca Grande bay, $4,000; Anclote river, $5,000; Crystal river, $3,000; Withlacoochee river, $5,000; Suwannee river, $4,000; removing water hyacinth, $10,000.

Unfavorable reports on preliminary examinations and surveys are as follows: Strawberry river, Cedar Key harbor, Escambia river, Charlotte harbor, Escambia harbor, Hillsboro river.

Boca Grande Approves plan of improvement at estimated cost of $10,700, with $1,000 annually for maintenance; Clearwater harbor and Big Pass not advisable.

Unfavorable surveys are also made on the following surveys: Hillsboro river, between the dam of the Tampa Electric Co. and Crystal Springs; St. Johns river to Lake Beresford.

OLD FIRE PLUGS BEING REPLACED

The Sanford Utilities Co. are putting in new fire plugs in different parts of the city wherever new plugs are needed. The plugs are of the very latest improved type and when the entire city is supplied the water pressure and the fire protection of the city will be the best that can be furnished. This week the force of workmen are busy changing the plug at the corner of Park-avenue and Magnolia and in changing the position of the plug the new pattern replaced the old one. The new owners of the Sanford Utilities certainly believe in giving the citizens the best service that money will buy and other improvements are contemplated.

Progressive Dinner-Dance

That the young ladies of the "It Suits Me" Club are the top notch of hostesses was conclusively proven on Wednesday evening when they gave a return entertainment to the young men of the club. Never has there been a more attractive and jolly affair given in Sanford as was planned and carried out by the girls, to the confusion and surprise of their fellow club members, for it had been kept a secret. The gracious charm of youth pervaded the atmosphere of fun and frolic, while the beauty of the decorations at the various homes was entrancing, and elicited the admiration of the entire party. This too was a surprise to the different girls entertaining, for each had planned a surprise feature. The decorations of the homes, to complete the surprise feature. The members of the club met at the home of Miss Florence Frank at seven o'clock for the first course, "Fruit Cocktail." It was a vision of exquisite loveliness that met the eyes of the young people as they filed into the dining room. The large dining table placed in the center of the room was surrounded by four smaller tables, one at each of the four corners. The center of the table was decorated with a pink paper bow, and a bouquet of delicate pink apple blossoms. On the large table the flowers were peach blossoms. The place cards were cunning little Japanese maids for the men, and Japanese men for the maids. From the chandelier to the four corners of the table were...

found themselves back at the starting place, Miss Frank's home, with the roseate rays of pink shaded lights reflected upon their amazed countenances. Out of breath they arrived at the home of Miss Charlotte Hand, where the "Meat Course" was already disappearing for the "boy who would rather eat than think" was there too. The tables were very prettily decorated with their dainty china and gleaming silver. Upon each stood a basket of punch, coffee, lemon and white star cake. The handles tied with great bows of red satin ribbon. The place cards were pretty hand-painted girls' heads.

The "salad course" was served by Miss Sadie Williams. The first course of the dinner was the charming little Christmas tree upon the parlor table, upon which hung a dozen envelopes, each containing the name of one of the girls to be present. Fearing them open they were found to contain the picture of some stage of her life of the girls present, upon being recognized after some hard guessing and much discussion the correct picture of each was placed on the table. of Billy Clifford's "Love Waltz." The club members are practicing this for the next dance exhibit. Punch was served at the dance. One young lady in the fullness of her enjoyment expressed the sentiments of all when she said they had one grand, glorious time all the way through. The young men sorrowfully admitted, the girls had gone them one better on the entertaining and are already planning something unique and novel for their next turn. Those present were Misses Florence Frank, Sadie Williams, Mell Whitner, Charlotte Hand, Gretchen and Olga Schultz, Belle Smith, Laura Fish, Elizabeth and Vera McLaughlin, Anne and Lilian Higgins, Messrs. Felix Frank, J. D. Roberts, L. P. and Tracy McCuller, F. S. Floyd, Billy Hill, Ernest Householder, Osborne Herndon, Ernest Galloway, Clarence Mahoney, R. H. Marks and Dr. Lane. The menu follows:

Birthday Surprise Party

A charming little surprise party was tendered Miss Muriel Harrold by a number of her young friends on Wednesday evening and it was really truly a surprise for Miss Harrold went off to the moving pictures and returned to find the house filled with guests to greet her with birthday wishes. She was the recipient too of a number of nice gifts, among them being a lovely manicure set presented by the young men of the party. Miss Harrold conveyed with the gift for this delightful entertainment for her charming young daughter and prepared a delicious menu of punch, fruit salad and dainty sandwiches.

The evening was spent pleasantly with music, songs and dancing. Miss Morris sang a number of songs very sweetly and Mr. Allison Witherington played several fine selections on the violin. Piano playing was general and the pleasures of the happy evening closed with a few dances. Surprising Miss Harrold were Misses Gladys Morris, Lettie Caldwell, Helen Rowland, Adelaide Higgins, Kate Brown, Messrs. Hume Rumph, Pope Wicker, Roy and Ned Chittenden, Alison Witherington and Frank Campbell.

Physicians are becoming alarmed over the prevalence in the use of injurious drugs and at the last meeting of the Orange County Medical Society they passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, The use of cocaine, morphine and other highly injurious drugs of like nature and effect prevails to an alarming extent, and particularly among the young men, in Orange county and throughout the state of Florida:

BUILDING "CASTLES IN AIR"

Proceeding That Seems Foolish, If Not Reprehensible, to Some, May Readily Be Explained.

Those who build castles in the air are occasionally spoken of by more matter-of-fact persons with brutal and noisy derision, but oftener with a kind of tender pity which they find, not unjustifiably, far more exasperating. It implies so complete a misunderstanding of the builders' frame of mind. They are supposed to live in a vale of disappointments, but if they be out-and-out workmen with a love of their art they do, in fact, nothing of the kind. Long before one castle has actually fallen, sometimes even before so much as a telltale crack has appeared in the walls, they are planning the foundations of another on a larger and more gorgeous scale. When the crash ultimately comes it is unheard, for the din of cranes and hammers already are hard at work again. We have it on Sam Weller's authority that to take to building houses is "a medical term for being incurable." And very fortunately that is, a fortiori, still more true of castles. It is not, however, this implication of a life made up of disillusionments that is the most difficult to bear. Rather it is the suggestion that those who indulge in day dreams are so besotted as to believe that they will all of them come true. This is at once a slur on their intelligence and on their ability to play their own game properly. It shows that the sympathetic and stupid creatures who make it could never acquire the rudiments of the game if they were to try for a thousand years. As long as the player is trammelled by doubts and wonderings whether anything so beautiful could ever really befall him, he must almost of necessity curb his fancy and turn sadly back from some glorious flight; but, once he has as much as half admitted to himself that he is moving in the realms of fantasy, he can soar away to heights unknown.

Putting altogether on one side the delight that they give in the making, it may well be a question whether any material profit is to be derived from castles in the air.

Is Tobacco a Drug?

An interesting case of splitting hairs has arisen in Ireland in the administration of the national insurance act as to whether tobacco is a drug, a necessity or a luxury, all three views being taken by different authorities, says London TB Hits. It appears that the superintending medical officer of the Dublin district recommended that a consumptive patient coming under the provisions of the act be given tobacco for smoking to comfort him in his last days, offering to pay for the weed himself, but the insurance committee decided that the tobacco was necessary to the patient's treatment and sent in the bill to the insurance commissioners. Two weeks later the local authorities received a lengthy communication demanding an explanation of their action in charging the government with a shilling's worth of tobacco. Their reply was that tobacco was recognized as a drug in the British codex under the title of nicotiana tabacum and that it had been prescribed by a registered practitioner.

Thereupon the commissioners consulted learned K. C.'s and they are still wrestling with the subject. Meanwhile the patient is dead, the tobacco has been smoked and the expense of the disputation has already reached a hundred times the cost of the original tin of shag.

Activities of Women.

There is one wage-earning woman to three wage-earning men in New York state.

When a woman loses her husband by death in Korea she is forbidden from marrying again.

Mrs. Estelle I. Lindsay is running for the legislature in California on the Socialist ticket.

In British Columbia women teachers only are allowed to take the household economics lectures.

The British Red Cross society has over 55,000 nurses enrolled, of which over two-thirds are women.

Canadian husbands desiring to go to war must first get the wife's consent before being enlisted.

The dowager empress of Russia has given a complete field ambulance unit for the French troops.

The women of Nagasaki, Japan, work side by side with the men coaling steamers that come into that port.

Women are being put to work in collieries in Germany, assuring that country plenty of coal.

The women of Serbia as well as those of Montenegro bear arms the same as men during the time of war.

His First Thought.

A well-known athlete says that on entering a Turkish bath one night he found a stranger struggling in the swimming pool. There was nobody near, and the man was evidently unable to swim, having jumped in probably without ascertaining whether the water would be above his head. The athlete swam to the assistance of the struggling man. Grasping him by the hair, he towed him to the side of the tank and assisted him to hang on until he recovered his breath.

What were the first words uttered by the rescued one? Did he stammer out thanks to his human preserver? No. The human mind is a curious affair. As the half-drowned man struggled back to consciousness memories of an old jest seemed to flit through his brain, for he said:

"Lucky for me I wasn't bald-headed!"

Evil's Root.

Apropos of a millionaire's fifth or sixth marriage, Ridley Moore, the Portland sociologist, said:

"Each of his wives divorced him, and yet each time he remarried his bride was a young and singularly beautiful girl. Such things make us cynical about the power of money."

He paused then added solemnly:

"A moneyed man can have anything he loves."

Just Think of It.

Think of the endless litigation which will probably be started when the meek inherit the earth.—Judge.

Modern Conditions.

A laurel wreath and a bald head make an unromantic combination.

Defenses of Babylon.

The River Euphrates flowed through the city of Babylon, and on each side of its banks the walls of the city were carried up to a height as great as at any other point so that even during a siege the city was as formidably defended on the river as on the land side.

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS

For Miss Wilson

One of the series of delightful entertainments for Miss Wilson, the attractive guest of Miss Virginia Smith was the card party on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. G. A. Brower. The game of rook was played, after which music was much enjoyed. Cake and ice cream were served. Invited to meet Miss Wilson were Misses Annie Lee Caldwell, Elinor Scrovens, Bessie Long, Lucy Whitner, Messrs. Weidman Caldwell, Harold Long, Kent Rossetter and Mr. Christopher.

Announcements

There will be a fine program at the music department meeting Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 15.

Tonight at 7:30 at the Presbyterian Manse Mr. Duncan B. Curry, state president of Christian Endeavor, will present a plea in behalf of the "Save a Baby Club." The Endeavorers are urged to come out and bring a friend with you. All interested in this movement will be cordially welcome.

At the Welfare Department meeting Wednesday, Dec. 16, Dr. T. A. Neal will give echoes of the great meeting at Jacksonville, of the American Health Association. A cordial invitation is extended to the women of Sanford to attend this meeting. Mothers are specially invited and all club members are urged to be present.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will hold their annual Xmas bazaar Saturday afternoon and evening of this week in the Welborn block. A special feature will be the delicious supper served throughout the evening.

Attention is called to the change of place for the bazaar of the Daughters of Wesley. It will be held in the Welborn block Saturday, Dec. 19th.

The young ladies of St. Agnes Guild will have a sale of fancy work, candies and other good things Tuesday, Dec. 22nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawton and little daughter, Katherine of Oviedo were the dinner guests of Mrs. W. P. Carter on Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary C. English of St. Petersburg, Fla., will visit Seminole Chapter No. 2, Tuesday night, Dec. 15. Mrs. English is Grand Matron of the Eastern Star.

Dr. J. W. Andrews and Mrs. Andrews of Lakeside, Ill., are registered at the Sanford House.

Red Cross Seals

Attention is again called to the Red Cross Christmas seals on sale at Bower's drug store. There has been little call for them to date. When one realizes the vast importance of the cause these seals represent, there should not be a man or woman in Sanford who does not use their Xmas letters or packages.

To the Mother of Sanford

You are cordially invited to attend the meeting of the Welfare Department, Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Woman's Club rooms on Oak avenue and get the benefit of Dr. Neal's talk to the women. He will touch on subjects of vital importance to our children that it would be well for mothers to know and understand. Teachers are also invited.

Mrs. R. A. TERHEUN, Chrm. Welfare Dept.

Edison Plant Destroyed

West Orange, N. J., Dec. 11.—When the fire which destroyed the ten acre manufacturing plant of the Thomas A. Edison Company here was extinguished today, a hurried inventory of the damage revealed that eleven of the eighteen buildings had been destroyed, others had been damaged and that the loss would approximate $7,000,000.

Seven thousand men are employed at the plant, and half of these it is estimated will be temporarily idle. Under the active supervision of Thomas A. Edison they began tearing down the concrete walls which had to be removed, while the embers were cooling.

Immediate steps to rebuild have been taken.

At least one man perished in the flames. That became known today with the finding of a charred body in the ruins of the film house, where the explosion which started the blaze occurred. Two other men, but both workmen, were reported missing.

The flames were beaten back from the laboratory and work shop of Mr. Edison, where were stored innumerable records and materials gathered from every corner of the world. At the height of the fire men removed the most valuable records to Mr. Edison's home.

Powdery Scab Warning

Washington, D. C., Dec. 8.—The department of agriculture last Saturday issued a warning to farmers of the middle Atlantic and southern states against buying seed potatoes from Maine unless they bear the department's certificate showing the potatoes to be free from powdery scab. They are also warned against the use of table potatoes for planting purposes as these, according to the department, even if they do not show the disease, may have been exposed to it.

"Some dealers," the statement says, "have been buying table stock and selling it for seed. These men are not violating any law, but they are exposing their customers to the risk of a dangerous disease and a quarantine should the powdery scab be introduced."

Postal Rates.

Mail matter addressed to countries in the Universal Postal union is subject to the following rates: Letters and sealed packages five cents for first ounce or fraction thereof, if prepaid, and three cents for each additional ounce, or fractional ounce, if prepaid, except Great Britain, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Cuba and Germany (if sent by steamers plying to Germany direct), to which countries the rate is two cents per ounce.

Blue Mushroom.

A blue mushroom, known as the Tricholoma Nudum, has just been added to the list of edible fungi. It has been produced from a wild wood fungus which in its natural state appears only in the late autumn. Professor Matruchot planted a specimen in the cellar of the Parla observatory, where by careful cultivation he succeeded in evolving a mushroom which will grow all the year round. The purple blue of the wild specimen has faded into a light blue shade.

This new mushroom, Professor Matruchot declares, will be hailed with delight by chefs and gourmets on account of its exquisite flavor, which is faintly reminiscent of aniseed.

Incredulity of Logan.

Thomas C. Logan of Philadelphia is sometimes pessimistic about things in general and always particular about what he eats. One day he went into a restaurant in Chicago, and, after scanning the menu, said to the waiter: "I see here you have some calf's heart." "Yes, sir," agreed the waiter. "Well, how about that?" pursued Logan. "Is it tender?" "Yes, sir," the waiter assured him. "Then," ordered Logan, "bring it to me. If there is in this world such a thing as a tender heart, I want it." Popular Magazine.

Surely Liberal!

"And are the divorce laws so very liberal in your section?" "Liberal! Say! They are so liberal that nobody ever heard of a woman crying at a wedding out there."—Detroit Journal.

THE BULKHEADING WILL MAKE CITY

GREAT WORK OF RECLAMATION WILL TRANSFORM THE LAKE FRONT

"The bulkhead will make a Great Sanford" So thinks Genl Gabbet of this city and many other men who have inspected the great work now being pushed to completion. Mr. Gabbet was in the Herald office on Saturday and most enthusiastic over the outlook for the city, the building of the bulkhead and a new tourist hotel. He will have the bulkhead extended to his beautiful home place on the lake shore and join T. J. Cheek, thus making more than a quarter of a mile of the lake front improvement than was first specified in the city contract. It is thought that property owners on the east side will also meet the city half way in their work and that ere the dredge is taken from the city there will be about one mile of solid concrete bulkhead. Fred Ogrum, who has the work in charge states that he will begin the dredging in a few weeks and that this work will proceed rapidly once it starts. He is waiting for some steel today to reinforce the blocks used to tie the bulkhead and the real work of the concrete piling being put in place will be finished this week if possible. The concrete work is said to be one of the best specimens of this kind of work in the state and experts have pronounced it almost perfect. The immense slabs are heavily reinforced and will be shaped up from the water side as soon as placed in position and when completed will present a finished appearance from the water front. This great work is undoubtedly one of the greatest in the history of Sanford and Mr. Gabbet rightly promises will make a greater city in many different ways. Our beautiful lake will then be appreciated in full and the long neglected water front will come into its own.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAD GOOD MEET

THE SMOKER WAS A MOST ENJOYABLE AFFAIR SIXTY PRESENT

The Sanford Commercial Club smoker held in the City Hall on Friday night was well attended some sixty members and guests being present. President Lake called on C. R. Walker for a report of the recent meeting of the East Coast Canal Association and Mr. Walker gave a very interesting account of the meeting and the purposes of the Commercial Club in conjunction with Palatka and other cities to endeavor to have the St. Johns river designated as the upper part of the canal should the government ever desire to purchase the canal. Secretary Moss Folsom of the Palatka Board of Trade was present and was called upon to address the meeting and made a very fine address upon the subject of the St. Johns river as an artery of trade and the great benefit of water transportation. He also made a strong plea for the co-operation of all the cities primarily interested to meet in Palatka on the 21st of December. Mr. West representing the Times Union gave an outline of the special edition of that paper which he is preparing and in which he is anxious to have Sanford represented.

A. Dorner, G. F. Smith, C. R. Walker and various other growers spoke on the subject of better freight facilities and Supt. Hansel of the Atlantic Coast Line took the floor in behalf of the railroad and a lively discussion ensued relative to the placing of cars and the handling of vegetables. Supt. Hansel promised to give the best service possible and it is likely that out of the discussion a better relationship will exist between the growers and the railroads. It is certain that if the growers of the Sanford section will become active members of the Commercial Club they will achieve greater results than they could hope for by their own individual efforts.

E. C. Hoskins of Orlando, traffic manager of the Growers and Shippers League was called upon to give the growers an idea of the League's work in the state and gave some very interesting data regarding the League and its relations to the problems of the growers and shippers of the state.

Choice Sanford cigars were handed out during the evening and the meeting was very interesting and productive of good results bringing as it did the Citizens, the growers and the common carriers into a better understanding of the needs of the community. Nearly one-half of the total number of women workers employed in the candy factories in Massachusetts earn less than $5 a week on the average, and a trifle more of the average, and a trifle more than fifty per cent of the employees of laundries, who work somewhat longer hours, averaged less than $6 dollars a week during those weeks of the year when they were at work, according to reports just made public by the Minimum Wage Commission.

Davison of the Sanford Furniture Co. wishes to announce that if there are any children in this vicinity who will not have any toys for Christmas and the good ladies of the city will let him know about them that the Sanford Furniture Co. will supply them with toys in order that all of the children can have a merry Christmas. that their hearts are in the right place. Now, if any of the ladies are aware of any families in this section who are in straitened circumstances and will make the fact known to the Sanford Furniture Co. the kiddies can have some of the toys that make the day so dear to the hearts of children.

We need the white way for the Christmas shoppers and the welcome sign for the visitors to the city.

TRACTION LINE TO SANFORD THE CENTER COAST POSSIBLE FOR XMAS BUYERS

PROMOTERS WANT RIGHT TO BEGIN A CONCRETE BRIDGE ON RIVER

The entering wedge for a traction line from Daytona to Sanford via DeLand will soon be driven in the publication in today's Herald of a notice by Michael Sholtz and associates for permission to construct a concrete bridge across the St. Johns river at the Monroe ferry. The notice in legal form reads as follows: Notice is hereby given that I, Michael Sholtz, on behalf of myself, legal representatives and assigns will construct a concrete bridge across the St. Johns river, state of Florida, at their regular meeting in January, to wit on Tuesday, January 5th, A. D. 1916, for leave to establish a toll bridge across the St. Johns river at what is now known as Monroe or Harder's ferry to take the place and stead of said ferry and said bridge to be built at the point on said river where the ferry now is and on the Sanford and DeLand road, the St. Johns river at that point being approximately fifteen hundred and ten feet wide and the depth of the water being approximately from one to fifteen feet deep.

Michael Sholtz and associates are the men who have made the Daytona and Daytona Beach concrete bridge across the Halifax possible and have established the trolley line connecting the three cities of Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze. They have put in a first class power plant in Daytona and have made many other great improvements on the peninsula. That they will eventually connect the cities of Daytona and Sanford with the line is a well known fact and their coming into this territory will be hailed with delight by all of the citizens who feel that not only does the road to the coast need a good bridge but the two cities need the traction connection.

THE PEOPLE OF THIS SECTION OF FLORIDA WILL TRADE HERE

Sanford is the natural trading point of this section of Florida and the merchants of this city have purchased stocks of goods this season that will compare favorably with those of any city in the state. Our merchants are ever alive to their opportunities and they want to get acquainted with the new people in the territory contiguous to Sanford during the weeks prior to the holidays.

The editor of The Herald in part explains the attitude of the Sanford merchants in their relation to the trade. If you will but come to Sanford they will explain the better half of the story by showing you the immense stock of goods that will fill your every want. We are in the new county of Seminole, the best in the state and the business men of Sanford will take a day off if necessary to take the stranger over the city and make him feel at home. We know that we have the goods and we are anxious to have every one in the state know it and this edition of The Herald speaks for the business men of this city.

Not only have they purchased the best line of goods that money would buy but they have placed the prices within the reach of all and the prices will compare favorably with the catalogues of the mail order houses. Here you see the goods before you buy them and the word of honest business men stands behind every sale.

This is a hearty invitation to every lady, every gentleman and the children and babies to make Sanford your headquarters during the season. We will make you feel that you are among your friends and want you to visit our city.

Sanford is headquarters for this part of Florida.

FLORIDA'S REAL BOOSTERS

GEO. F. McLELLAN, EDITOR JACKSONVILLE METROPOLIS

Florida possesses more potentialities of productiveness yet in an undeveloped state than any other large area of the North American continent. Within this state could be produced hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of foodstuffs, live-stock, poultry, etc., not now grown. Florida has more acres of untilled land, susceptible of being converted into profitable producing acres, than any four states in the Union. This is a state of great agricultural and horticultural possibilities, and compared with the state of development in other sections, is the newest state in the Union.

The press of Florida has done more than any other factor in bringing producers to Florida, and bringing the state as far as it has come along the lines of agricultural development. It is up to the newspapers of the state to complete that work and bring the thousands of families here in the next few years needed to develop our lands.

Look over the Florida press, particularly the country weeklies. Nowhere in America is there as strong a press. The papers are ably edited, well printed, have the appearance of brains, business capacity and mechanical skill in their make-up, and all of them are boosters for Florida. There is hardly a plan put forward for the advancement and upbuilding of the state that doesn't originate in a newspaper office, and some of the best plans originate in the offices of the country weeklies. There isn't a movement for Florida that isn't boosted by the newspapers day in and day out and week in and week out. A newspaper's stock in trade is its space. They give freely of that to every enterprise that looks forward to the development and betterment of Florida. If a bank or a business enterprise would give ten per cent of as much of its stock in trade to boost Florida and develop the state, Florida would have more money to spend in publicity and in bringing people here than she would know what to do with.

In the Florida press, and again, we must particularize the substantially edited, strong weekly press of the state, Florida has her greatest asset her greatest army of workers, men with foresight to get a clear vision of the future, and to hammer into the public mind today the essentials of a future development and greatness that will make Florida the leader of American states in the production of agricultural crops, live stock, poultry and fruit.

Presents for the Boys

"If the people of the state take notice of the letter sent out by Superintendent T. T. Cummings of the Florida Industrial School for Boys at Marianna," said a citizen yesterday who is interested in that state institution, "then those boys will all have a sure enough Merry Christmas this year."

The appeal sent out by Supt. Cummings, and which is being given a wide publicity by the press of the state, reads as follows:

"There are over two hundred and fifty boys at the Florida Industrial School for Boys at Marianna, who are earnestly looking forward to Christmas.

"We would be pleased to have you make an appeal to the good people of Florida, through the columns of your paper, calling attention to the fact that any Christmas remembrances will be thankfully received. Any thing along the line of shoes, stockings, caps, sweaters, candy, fruits, nuts and books.

"There is not a mother who does not know what a boy would appreciate as a Christmas present. We want to remember every boy and feel the people of Florida stand ready to aid."

Palatka's Moses Here

Moses Folsom, secretary of the Palatka Board of Trade was in the city Friday and attended the meeting of the Commercial Club while here. He is interested in the St. Johns river as part of the Inland Waterways Canal in Florida and wants Sanford to send a full representation to Palatka on Dec. 21st to the big meeting held there. Mr. Folsom is a world traveler and has pulled the publicity stunt in many places, being at times the travelling passenger and immigration agent of several trans-continental railways. He was a pioneer at St. Cloud when that thriving city started and for several years has been the Moses of Palatka endeavoring to lead the people out of the wilderness of obscurity into the broad light of publicity. He recently compiled a fine descriptive booklet for that city and writes many good articles each week for the Palatka papers and other state papers. He was well pleased with Sanford and took great interest in the truck growing, the bulkhead and other improvements.

In 1821 the printers in Albany, N. Y., went on a strike as a protest against the employment of non-union men.

Tax Assessors Meet Jacksonville, Dec. 14.—State Tax Assessors occupied their time in convention passing on several bills which are expected to greatly assist their work in the future, providing they receive the approval of the next legislature. The entire morning session was taken up with new business before the association, and nearly every suggestion brought up was considered favorably and added to the roster of plans now before the organization. Among the bills to be presented to the next state legislature for its action are the following: A bill entitling tax assessors to increase the compensation for the issuing of state tax certificates; a bill requiring the State Comptroller to enter on the assessor's rolls all lands sold for taxes; a bill to enforce the collection or redemption of all outstanding tax certificates prior to 1912; a bill simplifying the issuance of tax deeds; a bill to cancel and set aside certain tax sale certificates now outstanding in the state and bill requiring a certain style of plat books to be filed with the clerks.

Sanford will have a merry Christmas because the prospects were never brighter for the Big City.
