CORAL GABLES - University of Miami quarterback Steve Walsh, who led the Hurricanes to a 23-1 record and a national championship in two years as a starter, announced. Tuesday he will forgo his senior year and enter the NFL draft.

Walsh, 22, needs to complete "four or five" classes to receive his finance degree. He would have been a fifth-year senior in the fall.

The 6-foot-3, 195-pouvnd St. Paul, Minn., native said when he came to Miami, he had four goals: get a degree, become the best player he could possibly be, win a national championship, and earn a shot at the NFL.

"At this stage, all these goals are nearly accomplished," Walsh said. "So I feel right now that it's the best opportunity for me to move

Mall plans finalized

By the year 2000, new facility could be growth center

By J. MARK BARFIELD Herald staff writer

SANFORD - By 1991, ground could be broken for the 1.2 million-square-foot Seminole Mall northeast of the intersection of Interstate 4 and the Seminole County Expressway.

By the early 2000s, the entire 250-acre site could be developed to include three 200-room hotels, 800,000 square feet of offices and 120,000 square feet of warehouse-showrooms. The entire project is expected to cost $183 million. It will employ over 6,800 people earning $107 million annually.

Plans for Seminole Mall were given to Seminole County officials about two weeks ago. Because of its size, the mall plans will require county, regional planning council and state feview. County planners said they have not begun their review, which could take six months to a year.

Melvin Simon & Assoc. of Indianapolis, Seminole Mall's developers, and Sanford Interstate Properties, landowners of the mall site, will face strong competition from two other developers who have each proposed mails within two miles of the Seminole Mail site.

A 1.2 million-square-foot mall in Heathrow, called Heathrow Town Center, has been proposed by The Hahn Co. of La Jolla, Calif. Homart Development Co., a subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co., has proposed a 950,000-square-foot mall northwest of 1-4 and State Road 46. None of the developers, including Sanford Interstate Properties, have announced major anchor tenants for their mails.

James Willard, agent for Seminole Mall's owners, said the owners are prepared for the challenge of competition, but feel they have a alight edge by being the first project to submit a development application and having the best

"We have been working for a number of months putting the project together," Willard said. "We have also spent a lot of money on consultants and engineeers who worked on this. This is unquestionably a serious effort."

Willard said the mall will be have similar stores as Altamonte, Florida or Daytona Malls. He said the land had been purchased for several years expressly for a mail. He said Simon & Assoc.s, a major mail developer, will own a portion of the Seminole Mail site and jointly develop the remaining portions with Sanford ☐See Mall, Page 5A

'Protection' impact fees recommended

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The city systems development fee committee has recommended to the city commission the first police and fire protection impact fees to be implemented in Sanford.

If the city adopts the fees suggested by the committee last night, developers will pay an additional $88.78 for every home or apartment they build and 11 cents per square foot of commercial or industrial property to help pay for the demand on the city police and fire departments those structures will create.

The committee recommended a police impact fee of $25.87 per residential dwelling unit and 7.9 cents per square foot of nonresidential development. The police protection fee is expected to draw $30,272 in revenue annually, or $514,628 through

The fire protection fee offered to the commission is $52,91 per residential dwelling unit and 3.1 cents pur aguars foot of nonresidential development.

While committee members agreed foes should be implemented based on existing levels of service provided by the police and fire departments, they urged the city commission to consider upgrading facilities.

One such improvement considered by the new police communication system. In data prepared for the committee earlier this year, Police Chief Steve Harriett said the system is now overloaded serving a 31,000 population. The committee considered basing the fee on the purchase of a $1.4 million system.

The committee, which began meeting in January, will begin reviewing the recreation impact fee at its next meeting.

Former mayor voices criticism of commission

LONGWOOD - Former Mayor David Gunter says city commissioners have violated the charter and state law and should resign.

Other city officials later disputed Gunter's allegations.

Gunter is the second high-ranking former city official recently to call for the resignation of the commission. Gene DeMarie, who was fired as city administrator, took the same position last week.

TALLAHASSEE - Gov. Bob Martinez urged legislators Tuesday to keep Florida "an unrivaled place to call home" by rejecting new taxes, managing growth, taking a hard line against drugs and improving early education.

But the governor's State of the State address drew only lukewarm applause from lawmakers gathered on opening day of the 1989 session. Legislators are scheduled to be in session for 60 days, two months likely to be dominated by the tight budget and no-new-taxes edict Martinez has issued.

Both House Speaker Tom Gustafson and Senate President Bob Crawford said they agreed with the issues Martinez singled out as important, but said reaching agreement on how to deal with those issues would not be easy.

"Generally the goals are on the right track tough on crime, growth management, more money for education," Crawford said. "The great debate is going to be on how we reach those goals. There is going to be a great deal of disagreement in the Bee Taxes, Page 2A

Martinez' education study plan draws fire

TALLAHASSEE - Commissioner of Education Betty Castor criticized Tuesday Gov. Bob Martinez's proposal to commission a new education study, saying more money, not studies, are needed to improve Florida's schools.

Spiritual advisor charged with homicide

Mil.Ton — & 89-year-old Pace women was arrested Tuesday on an open charge of homicide in the death of 4-year-old Kimberly McZinc, who died of starvation last year.

Santa Rosa County Shrift's Papt. Terry Hardy said Mary, Nicholson and her husband and four children lived in the same mobile home with Darlens Jackson and Kimberly when the child died in February 1988.

Jackson pleaded guilty last month to third-degree murder and child abuse and is in Santa Ross jail awaiting sentencing. She said Nicholson was her spiritual advisor and had persuaded her Kimberly was possessed by evil spirits which could be driven out only by beatings and fasting.

Although Kimberly was beaten, the cause of death was listed as starvation.

Hardy said Nicholson was arrested at her home north of Pace, a small community between Milton and Pensacola. She appeared before Santa Rosa County Judge Colie Nichols and was ordered held in lieu of $250,000 bond.

Because of overcrowded conditions the Santa Rosa jail has only one cell to house female inmates. Because Jackson was in that cell, Nicholson was taken to the Escambia County jail in Pensacola, Hardy said.

Senate won't consider Eastern board bill

WASHINGTON - Senate Democratic leader George Mitchell, citing efforts of the bankruptcy court and negotiations toward a sale, dropped plans Tuesday to seek passage of a bill forcing creation of an emergency board to mediate the Eastern Airline

Mitchell, of Maine, said it was "essential" to give the bankruptcy court "an unimpeded chance" to work out a settlement to return striking machinists and pilots to work and permit Eastern to resume full operations.

He also said there was "reason to be guardedly optimistic" that negotiations will lead to a sale of the airline.

The House approved legislation forcing the appointment of an emergency board to make recommendations for a settlement after President Bush refused to act. The Senate, stymied by a threatened Republican filibuster, failed to consider the bill before it left two weeks ago for an Easter

Truly rockets toward top NASA job

White House plans to nominate Truly, asks Congress for waiver

United Proce International

WASHINGTON - The White House informed key members of Congress it is moving ahead with plans to nominate Rear Adm. Richard Truly as NASA administrator and seeking a waiver to allow the former astronaut to head the civilian agency, a congressional source

"The word we are getting from the White House is that this is the man," said the source Tuesday, requesting anonymity. "They have contacted some of the senators with the words, This is our effort for final clearance. Hope you have no objections.' ... I don't know of any opposition."

Truly, 51, was appointed NASA associate administrator for space flight and charged with rebuilding the shuttle program after the Challenger accident. As NASA administrator, he would replace James Fletcher, who is retiring Friday.

Fletcher, who led NASA during the Apollo and Skylab projects, also returned after the Challenger disaster, which killed neven astronauts and grounded America's space program Jan. 28, 1966.

James R. Thompson Jr., 53, director of the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., a veteran NASA engineer, is believed to be a leading can-didate to become deputy administrator of the space agency.

Reached at his home in Huntsville, Thompson said, "I think Truly is going to be the No. 1 man and then there's the No. 2 spot. ... I expect (an announcement) in a day or two. But that's not for sure yet. That has to come from the White House."

Truly's final clearance includes a background check plus a legal interpretation from the space agency on whether the former estronaut can obtain a necessary walver to head NASA. the congressional source said.

Truly is an active duty naval officer and the congressional act that created the space agency in 1958 stipulated that NASA's adminstrator must be drawn from the civilian sector.

But the White House believes Congress could provide a waiver, the source said, noting Congress has provided such exemptions at the Federal Aviation Administration, which carries a similar restriction for its ad; ministrators.

If approved by the Senate, Truly would become the first astronaut ever to head the civilian space agency. He is well-liked on Capitol Hill and agency insiders are opumistic he will prove an effective leader during his term as administrator.

The White House acknowledged last week that Truly is a leading candidate, and said a waiver is a possibility, but a spokesman said Tuesday he was unaware of any movement on the possible nomination.

After serving as a backup pilot for the first shuttle space flight in April 1981, Truly was named co-pilot for Columbia's second sion, which blasted off from the Kennedy Space Center Nov. 12, 1981. Addressing the commission during its meeting Monday night, Gunter cited what he said were violations by the commis-sioners of the city charter and the Florida Bunshine Law during the time he served as mayor last

He said his decision to speak out was spurred, in part, by the action the commissioners took in February when they ousted Carol Odom in a 3-1 vote for allegedly violating the city

Cunter told the commission that he "was sorry and sad" if what he had to say caused tension, but he felt he should make these violations known to the public.

Gunter said all the commis-sioners have violated both the sunshine law and the city charter in certain instances, in-cluding himself. He referred to meetings at restaurants after commission meetings and at Mayor Hank Hardy's and Commissioner Ted Poelking's homes to discuss matters on the agenda of regularly-scheduled com-

Quality said the meetings took place last year during his term, and that he was in attendance at them. Among other stipulations, the sunshine law requires that meetings between two or more commissioners must be held in Gunter said today he is going to the state attorney's office in Sanford to make a statement.

"I'm going to put myself in a bind, but it's going to be told. I will speak to one of the state attorney's officers now and there will be an investigation," he

"They say it's a vendetta. It's not a vendetta," he said.
He called for Commissioner Rick Bullington's resignation because he said Bullington moved out of his district to Winter Park sometime between "January and August of last

He accused Deputy Mayor Gene Farach of conducting meetings with Bullington and told the other commissioners they have allowed Farach, a structural engineer, to run the public works Repartment by allowing him to assist City engineer Fernand Tiblier, who does not yet have professional engineering status.

Hardy denied Gunter's acations. "He states that the commission discussed agenda items. That's not true. Obviously, what he's trying to do is get even. It didn't happen," Hardy said yesterday. He said that Gunter was 'sore" about being defeated by Farach last November.

Poelicing also denied Gunter's accusations.
"I'd like to know where, when and how come. As far as I know, we haven't violated any of them (laws)," Poelking said yesterday morning. Poelking said he can recall only one instance where the commissioners were gathered at Hardy's house and that was at the victory party after the election.

Bullington denied Gunter's claims about his place of re-

"The only comment I have to that is that it's ridiculous and I don't know where he's coming from," Bullington said yesterday morning.

Farach said he did not know I have wanted what Gunter's motives were. because somet "I don't understand him. I forward and saidon't know why he's doing going on."

he had "express permission" in a written memorandum from Acting City Administrator Don Terry to help and assist Tiblier with the Candyland Park and the fire station expansion projects. He said he would not be stamping his scal to any project, which would be a violation of the charter because it would be a conflict if, as a commissioner, he had to vote on it.

He said he invited Bullington over to his house, but it had nothing to do with city business.

As far as violation of the charter by assisting Tiblier, Farach said

After the Monday meeting. Gunter said they could deny his statements by saying that he had a vendetta but that "they know what I've said is the truth." Gunter said it was a "diagrace what they've done to her (Odom) and this city," he said of Odom's ouster.

Odom called Gunter "heroic" for what he did.

Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, applended Martines' apeech, mying it presented the insue fairly and perhaps most importantly, Martines didn't "bash" anyone.

"In years past, Democratic governors bashed the Republicans and Republican governors bashed the Democrata," Grindle said. "This year, he didn't bash anybody. He called for the Republicans and Democrats to work together. I think that was wonderful."

One key disagreement will be over whether or not to let local governments raise taxes to help meet the mandates of the 1985 Growth Management Act, tax increases that many legislators Martinez once again soundly rejected that idea. "For the sake of our current residents, we must recognise that growth management does not simply mean more taxes," he said. "It means managing our growth so we can live within our means." Martines proposed new initiatives to supplement the growth act, including legislation to discourage urban sprawl. He would encourage growth in "urban service areas" to be created around population centers by withholding state funds from areas outside service areas.

Martines also would require the beleagured Department of Transportation to comply with the growth law.

In his State of the State address, Martinez said he wants to carmark $133 million in lottery profits for direct aid to school districts, which would have total discretion on how to spend the money. The governor also said he would spend $20 million in the middle schools to try to reduce Florida's high dropout rate.

Martinez called for "drug free school zones" including mandatory three-year sentences for anyone caught selling drugs within 1,000 feet of a school.

CareUnit sponsors cocaine addiction seminar

By SANDRA BOUCHAHINE Herald staff writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS -CareUnit of Orlando and Seminole Community College will sponsor a seminar Thursday on cocaine abuse from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at Park Suite Hotel. Altamonte Springs.

Speakers will include doctors and faculty members of CareUnit, a drug and alcohol treatment center in Lake Mary. The seminar has been booked for two weeks, said Brian Faison, a cocaine specialist and director of CareUnit's Cocaine Specific Recovery Program (C.S.R.P.)

Faison said health care professionals will attend the meeting to learn more about treatment of cocaine addiction, a individual addicted to cocaine as Faison said there are still many misconceptions about cocaine. Medical journals as late as 1983 stated that cocaine is not addictive, but today it is known otherwise.

According to information published by CareUnit, more than one million Americans are so dependent upon the drug they cannot stop using it no matter how destructive it is to their health or to their personal lives.

"You have a whole set of other circumstances (with cocaine addiction), physical as well as psychological. A drug is not a drug." Faison said. Therefore, treatment is different for an central nervous system stimu- compared to other types of

Ueberroth still pitching to buy Eastern Airlines

United Press International

NEW YORK - Former baseball commissioner Peter Ueberroth, rebuffed once in an attempt to buy strikebound Eastern Airlines, and a group of investors are close to sealing a deal to buy the carrier from the Texas Air Corp., The New York Times reported Wednesday.

The sale was imminent but the terms of the agreement were not available, the newspaper said, quoting sources close to the talks.

Ueberroth and his partner. Thomas Talbot, broke off talks with Texas Air last Thursday in which they had offered to pay $464 million, including $200 million in cash, for the airline, which has filed for bankruptcy protection.

Under Ueberroth's original offer, Eastern employees would get a 30 percent interest in the company in return for concessions on wages, benefits and work rules.

U.S. Bankruptcy Judge Burton Lifland has scheduled a hearing for Wednesday afternoon to find out why the examiner was not appointed.

t's a start

The Department of Justice settlement of a lawsuit against the International Brotherhood of Teamsters cannot guarantee that union will be corruption-free, but it promises a long-overdue cleanup.

The world's largest labor union, with 1.6 million members, has agreed to some fundamental reforms to avoid a federal racketeering trial that could have led to government takeover. It has agreed that rank-and-file union members would, for the first time, be allowed to vote in election of union officials. Members are to nominate and elect heretofore handpicked executive board members, including president; secretarytreasurer, and 16 vice presidents. The general membership is to vote by secret ballot on these candidates for up to six months after the nominations. Such free elections, of course, are without precedent in Teamster affairs, which have always been in the iron grip of bosses. Also unprecedented is the settlement's provision for three courtappointed officers to monitor Teamster operations for corruption. A court-approved administrator, armed with special authority, at the very least, gives a modicum of credibility to a new Teamster cra.

The agreement, however, is not without serious shortcomings. The union's old guard remains in place. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh has acknowledged that the settlement fails to satisfy key Justice Department concerns, one of which had been to oust current leaders of the union suspected by the government of corrupt activities. Another goal was to bar these leaders from seeking re-election later. The extent to which the government may keep Teamster elections et is far from ceptalp.

And there has to be some doubt that the sew corruption-monitoring commission will be effective, because all three of its members are to be chosen by the union and approved by the judge. The government had wanted the commission to be directed by a trustee with extensive powers, instead it settled for an ostensibly "independent administrator" with veto power over executive appointments in the union as well as money and property transfers by the union. Even so, the veto power can be used only after th administrator determines that "acts of racketeering" have

The big hope, then, rests with honest Teamster elements, who, fortified by free elections, can prevail against organized crime elements within the Teamsters. The magnitude of this hope is measured by the Teamsters' wretched past: More than 100 union officials and consultants indicted or convicted for racketeering, bribery, mail fraud, embezzlement, or defrauding the union's health and welfare plans. And three Teamster president — Dave Beck, James R. Hoffa, and Roy L. Williams - Jailed on federal

It's a new and long journey toward democracy that the Teamsters have embarked upon, and the out-of-court settlement with the Justice Department is only a first

Presidential power can be asserted

No conservative my age can feel altogether comfortable arguing in support of the power of the presidency. We remember all too vividly the days of FDR, when Congress was little more than days of FDR, when Congress was little more than a rubber stamp for an imperial president. In those days the conservative position, not to mention sound constitutional doctrine, clearly required supporting congressional prerogatives against an overweening executive.

But times change. The modern decline in presidential power began during the Nixon administration, when the Democrats, having concluded that they would continue to control Congress whether the Republicans occupied the White House or not, moved to cut off aid to Congress whether the Republicans occupied the White House or not, moved to cut off aid to South Vietnam in direct deflance of presidential policy. The Watergate scandal, exploding shortly thereafter, simply made it that much easier to trim the president's feathers.

For example, Nison in 1978 agreed to sign the War. Powers Act, which severely limits the extent to which a president can deploy and use American forces abroad without congressional consent. Every succeeding president, beginning with Nixon, has openly doubted the constitutionality of this act; but none has sought to test it in the courts, and it remains on the books to this day.

Nixon was succeeded by Gerald Ford, the product of a quarter of a century in the House of Representatives. Arguably Ford's worst concession to Congress was to sign, in December 1974, a bill requiring the executive branch to notify two committees of each house mittees of each house of Congress, in advance, of any covert action taken by the CIA. This involved telling not only the roughly 50 legislators but, as a practical matter, the top aide of each - or some 100 individuals. Since nothing known to 100 people is ever really secret, this requirement effectively prohibited the CIA from engaging in covert activi-

Then there is the line-item veto: the right, demanded by presidents since time immemorial (and enjoyed today by 43 of the 50 governors), to veto individual items in any budget bill submitted to them. Both Presidents Reagan and Bush have voiced the opinion that a president's power to do this is already implicit in the Constitution, but neither has asked the courts if they agree.

The modern decline in Presidential power began during the Nixon administration

Finally, Congress has lately taken to festoon ing appropriations for all sorts of things with provisions that the money cannot be spent unless the president subsequently certifies to Congress that this or that has happened, or unless Congress has subsequently realfirmed its

That is the procedure that President Bush was forced by Congress to agree to, in order to obtain continued humanitarian aid for the contras: By Nov. 30, he must obtain the written consent of four committees of Congress before the funds already appropriated can continue to go forward.

There is probably not much that can be done to moderate the struggle for power between the to moderate the struggle for power between the presidents and the Congress as long as the American people insist on giving Congress to the Democrats and the White House to the Republicans. But one thing is sure: The presidents will keep on losing the battle until one of them stands up on his hind legs and fights back, by defying Congress and testing his constitutional powers in the courts.

The world according to Exxon

BOSTON — They have spilled oil in Alaska. The word "spill" sounds abourdly benign, as if a small child tipped over a milk glass onto the floor. But there is no sponge in the world large enough to mop up 11 million gallons of oil, the incredible cose spreading over the once-pristine surface of Prince William Sound.

The bodies of the victims have already begun to turn up. Scabirds first. Next perhaps the otters. Then the salmon, their homing Instincts confused, their habitats destroyed. Finally the livelihood if not the lives of the people within drifting distance of this crude

The story of this disaster, as it too spills out, is depressingly resonant of other datelines. A company that promised it couldn't happen. Ecologists left to say a delay gists left to say, again, we told you so.

The elaborate safety plans, so impressive in their contruction, but unconscionably slow in their execution. A huge body of water and its inhabitants left in the hands of a few all-too-humans. A ship captain who had lost his license to drive on land not once but twice for drunkenness. A third mate uncertified for this voyage. A search for whodunit, a longing to assess blame. Lawyers in the wings.

And more ominously, another of those episodic warning about the fragility of our world; the terrifying power that humans hold over, literally, everything.

What timing. This was the year when nations began to learn the Esperanto of our era: a language called Environmentalism. Staring at the gaping hole in the ozone, aweating under the "greenhouse effect." they were frightened into some belated recognition of the Earth as the true international sphere.

There were conferences in London and New Delhi this winter that signaled the willingness of nations to act in union. The United States and the Soviet Union both signed a treaty that may be more important to aurvival than the INF agreement: promise to ban fluorocarbons.

For the first time, in my memory, trees, as well as territory, became an international issue. The destruction of the rain forest in South America was regarded as a matter of life and breath in North America. The whole world tardily but loudly criticized Brazil for clearing the land inside its own borders. There is a growing sense that we are in this, or should I say ON this, together.

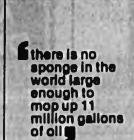

Behind this unity, there have been arguments between the first and the third world about the future of the whole world. The so-called developed nations call on developing nations to abstain: from fossil fuels that head homes and run factories, from the chlorofluorocarbons that fill refrigerators and run air conditioners. Perhaps from development itself.

In turn some of the poorer countries reply that those of us who got rich through pollution have little right to ask that they remain poor and pure, our ecological filter, our tree zoos. China, for example, threatens to go to burning coal and making fluorocabons unless the West helps develop substitutes. And now as America tries to assume some leadership in this new internatonal view, a vessel of oil cracks up on Bligh Reef. We are exposed again as a nation that can't protect its own environment. We lose more than fish and fowl on the pristine sound. We lose the credibility to speak Environmentalism before the

Surely there is a moral lesson pouring out of this disabled tanker. We can't leave the remnants of unspoiled wilderness in the hands of an Exxon. We can't risk trading a bay for a boatload of oil, especially while we ask other countries to abstain.

The President has proposed opening up the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to what he has call "environmentally sound" oil exploration. That phrase has just become an oxymoron. If Bush can see, as he said, "no connection" between this catastrophe and the next, the rest

It will take time and a good deal of luck to clean up this mess. It will take more time to clean up our act. We can start close to home by saying no to developing that remnant of the

The people of the Earth are just beginning to accept an international interest in the trees cut down in Brazil, the coal burned in China. Today in Alaska, it is not just Exxon or just America that has an investment in the life slipping away under that 11-million-gallon oil

NRC balks at appointment

WASHINGTON - The agency that is supposed to regulate nuclear power in America waged an internal, scorched-earth campaign earlier this year in an apparent effort to rid itself of several top investigators.

And the fingerprints of some of the highest officials at the Nuclear Regulatory Commission have been found in the rubble of this

Last year, Congress mandated that beginning this April 15 the NRC will have an inspector general — an independent official inside the NRC who will report waste, fraud and abuse to Congress. Congress called for the creation of that position after repeated revelations that the NRC was too close to the industry it is supposed to regulate and may have tried to stop its own investigators from pursuing wrongdoing by nuclear power companies.

Congressional investigators and agency sources suspect the NRC began this latest campaign to purge a number of those conscientious investigators before revalations that the NRC was too close to the industry it is supposed to regulate the inspector general came on board. With the inspector general in place, it will be harder for the NRC to rid itself of any thorns in its side.

The NRC launched a probe of Ben Hayes, director of the Office of Investigations, for allegedly abusing travel funds and doling out unjustified cash awards to investigators. Another inquiry was launched in a failed effort to find out who provided information to our associate Stewart Harris, who, for the past two years, has reported details of the NRC's coziness with the industry.

But the witch hunt that has piqued the most interest on Capitol Hill involves Roger Fortuna, deputy director of the NRC Office of Investigations.

Behind the scenes stands Victor Stello, the NRC's executive director of operations. A slush fund created by Stello was used to pay an informant to provide testimony and evidence against Fortuna. Unlike the FBI, the NRC is not authorized to pay snitches. So, when the agency hired an informer, it called him a "contractor" and paid him $6,000.

An NRC spokesman defended the "contractor" arrangement, saying it has been used in the past.

The contractor was Douglas Ellison, a former employee at the Nine Mile Point nuclear power plant near Syracuse, N.Y. We obtained a transcript of Ellison's testimony. which shows that the NRC wanted to know if Fortuna had given aensitive investigative information to opponents of nuclear power.

The payment to Ellison appears to have been a waste. He could provide few details. When asked if Fortuna had leaked information to outsiders. Ellison said, "I don't know that for certain." Tape recordings of Fortuna's telephone conversations with nuclear power opponents reveal no disclosure of secrets, according to sources close to the investigation. Fortuna remains suspended from his job. with pay.

The NRC's nemesis. Sen. John Glenn.

D-Ohio, is investigating the payments to Ellison. Reps. Sam Gejdenson, D-Conn., and George Miller, D-Calif., wrote a protest letter to the NRC calling the payments "disgrace-ful" and a "mockery of the NRC's investigative process."

Stello declined to talk to us. An agency official close to the inquiries denied that there was any coordinated campaign to get rid of the investigators.

Engineer says he took bribes for years

ALEXANDRIA. Va. — Former senior Navy engineer Stuart Berlin has told a jury he took bribes for 10 years before he was snared in the Pentagon corruption scandal for agreeing to take up to $25,000 from a middleman for Teledyne Industries Inc.

Berlin said that beginning in the late 1970s, he took monthly bribe payments from three defense industry figures seeking help on government contracts, one identified by law enforcement sources as a former official of the AMEX Corp. of California.

Berlin, who pleaded guilty March 23 to taking payoffs from a middleman for Teledyne and the Hazeltine Corp. in 1987 and 1988, made the disclosure Tuesday while testifying as a prosecution witness at the trial of three Teledyne executives. The conspiracy and bribery case against them is the first to go to trial in the massive Pentagon corruption investigation, code-named "Operation ill Wind."

Ousted governor will run again

PHOENIX - Evan Mecham, the first U.S. governor thrown out of office in nearly 70 years, celebrated the first anniversary of his impeachment conviction by announcing he would try to regain the statehouse in 1990.

Mecham, a feisty conservative Republican who won the governorship on his fifth try in 1986, made his announcement to a cheering crowd of about 500 supporters at a Phoenix hotel.

As he did in his 1986 campaign, Mecham said his theme would be to replace the "power brokers" and "restore the power of government back to the people."

Mecham, 64, borrowed a phrase from President Bush by calling for a "kindler, gentler Arizona."

ATT, unions begin negotiations

WASHINGTON - Two key unions and American Telephone & Telegraph Co. are using conciliatory language as they go into their first contract negotiations since a 1986 strike, but both sides expect tough bargaining.

The telecommunications giant was starting talks today with the Communications Workers of America and the International Biotherhood of Electrical Workers, representing 175,000 AT&T employees. The current contract expires at 11:59 p.m., Saturday, May 27.

Although money issues and improved benefits were top concerns, job security in a changing, flercely competitive industry was viewed as the overriding issue to the unions in the largest round of contract talks in the United States this

Spokesmen for both sides said Tuesday they hope to avoid the kind of dispute that resulted in a 26-day CWA strike in ALBANY, N.Y. — Drug makers said research and development could be hampered by a landmark state court ruling allowing women left infertile by a pregnancy drug before it was banned to seek damages against the manufacturer.

In declaring New York's Toxic Tort Law of 1986 constitutional as it applied to the so-called "DES daughters," the state Court of Appeals cleared the way Tuesday for thousands of workers suffering from exposure to asbestos, chlordane, tungsten chloride and polyvinyl chloride — other chemicals harred in the 1986 law — to also seek damages.

Texan questioned in Wright probe

United Press International

WASHINGTON - Ethics committee investigators ques-tioned a troubled Texas businessman about his relationship with House Speaker Jim Wright, who declared his friend never sought his high-power influence "in any way, shape or form." Wright, D-Texas, told reporters that he was unaware that his friend, George Mallick, had problems in repaying a $2.2 million loan to an imperiled savings and loan association at the time he was proposing relief for troubled

"George Mailick, in all the years I have known him, never asked me to vote for or against any law, or amendment, or any interest," Wright said. Mallick, of Fort Worth, Texas, was questioned in private Tuesday by representatives of the Committee on Standards of Official Conduct and declined to answer reporter's questions.

Rep. John Myers, R-Ind,, a committee member, said no new information was produced during the estimated five-hour questioning of Mallick.

"I would just call this cleanup," Myers said. "Really, everything we discussed today we have looked at before

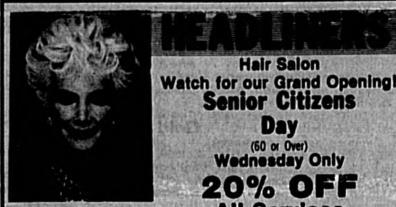

Bill Oldaker, Mallick's attorney, appeared pleased.

"Nothing came up that was unexpected. Everything is fine." Oldaker said.

The ethics committee, as the group of six Democrats and six Republicans is unofficially known, is deep into an in-vestigation of Wright's business and financial dealings, including those of his wife, Betty. Wright has maintained that he has not broken any rules of the House and is fully cooperating with the investigation.

Meanwhile, The Washington Post reported Wednesday that the House ethics committee has concluded that several charges in a complaint against Wright should be dropped, leaving th focus on the speaker's rela tionship with a Fort Wort developer and the bulk marketing of a book he wrote.

Americans buying more gas guzzlers

United Press International

WASHINGTON - Federal officials said Americans have been buying less fuel-efficient cars in recent years, despite rising concern about their contribution to the "greenhouse effect" and U.S. dependence on oil imports.
The officials said Tuesday the trend toward more fuel-efficient automobiles - rising from a national fleetwide average of 14 miles per gallon in 1974 to 28 mpg in 1987 — has begun to level off in recent years.

"While the trend in fuel economy for cars actually purchased has been consistently upward ... data for 1987 and 1988, and preliminary estimates for the first three-month 1989 sales, indicate a leveling of fuel economy progress." John Berg, assistant energy secretary for conservation and renewable energy, said in testimony to a Senate panel.

The officials also acknowledged the drop-off has occurred even though it is now possible to increase the average fuel economy of cars up to 32 mpg by 1995 - an improvement that could save millions of barrels of oil a day.

But the officials said the Bush administration has not yet decided whether to require automakers to boost the fuel economy of their fleets or to endorse a Reagan administration plan to lower the current federal standard from 27.5 mpg to a level between 26.5 mpg and 27.5

mpg for 1990 models.
The officials said Transportation Secretary Samuel Skinner was expected to make a preliminary ruling on the so-called corporate average fuel economy
- or CAFE - standards by the end of the month.

"I want to assure you that the secretary is mindful of the issues of energy conservation and the environment," Howard Smolkin. managing director of the Na-tional Highway Traffic Safety Administration, told a Senate subcommittee on energy regulation and conservation.

Castro dismisses disagreements

United Press International

HAVANA, Cuba - President Fidel Castro, dismissing supposed differences between himself and visiting Soviet lead-er Mikhail Gorbachev, said it would be "absurd" for a tiny country like Cuba to apply Soviet-style economic and political reforms.

"There are no differences, no disagreement whatsoever between Cuba and the Soviet Union," Castro said Tuesday in a 45-minute speech introducing Gorbachev to a special session of the Assembly of People's Power - Cuba's nominal parliament.

"The differences between Comrade Gorbachev and myself ... are illusions concocted by some people ... who start from a simplistic analysis of the way in the Soviet Union they are carrying out the process of restructuring, or perestroika, and the way we are carrying out our process of rectification," the Cuban leader said.

Castro, who has tried to eliminate all traces of capitalism in Cuba, has indicated opposition to the types of economic and political reforms now under way in the Soviet Union.

'Allow me to point out our talks have been excellent... absolutely fraternal, respectful talks," Castro said of his meet-ings with Gorbachev, who arrived Sunday for a three-day visit - his first to Latin America.

Castro said the Soviet Union has 200 times more territory than Cuba and many more people, as well as a different history and culture.

"It would be absurd to purport that we should apply in a country of 10 million inhabitants the formulas of a country with 285 million inhabitants," Castro said as Gorbachev listened

"Our task now is to settle international conflicts," he told

BANGKOK, Thailand -Vietnam announced today it will withdraw its estimated 70,000 troops from Cambodia by the end of September, ending a costly and widely condemned 10-year occupation.

A joint statement by Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos said an international commission has been invited to oversee the pullout and guarantee an end to foreign military aid to parties to the conflict.

"Victnam will withdraw all its troops from Cambodia by the end of September 1989," said the statement released by the official Cambodian news agency

"After the total withdrawal of Vietnamese forces, if the foreign countries do not honor their commitments to put a complete end to the military aid to the Cambodian parties ... the Peo-ple's Republic of Kampuchea (Cambodia) would reserve its legitimate right to call on other countries to give assistance to the Cambodian people to defend themselves," the statement said.

In Bangkok, The Nation newspaper, quoting high-level sources, said Cambodian Prime Minister Hun Sen will announce today concessions aimed at en-ding a decade of fighting between his government and guerrillas from a U.N-recognized coalition based along Cambodia's western border with Thailand.

Hun Sen is expected to announce details on the presence of international observers and a proposed four-party provisional government to organize national elections, the Nation said.

Shamir in Washington for talks

United Frees International

WASHINGTON - U.S. officials, looking ahead Wednesday to a second round of talks on the Middle East, with the arrival of Israell Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, who has been under pressure to help break the negotiating deadlock.

Shamir was acheduled to meet this morning with Secretary of State James Baker, marking the Bush administration's second round of Intensive Middle East negotiations.

The first round came Monday and Tuesday when Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak met and they agreed that the negotiating climate should be improved but disagreed on the precise method of doing so.

Mubarak wants an carly international conference on the Middle East to serve as an umbrella for the face-to-face negotiations. Shamir has flatly refused to attend such a meeting. Baker and Bush said this week they would agree to an international conference, but only after careful preparations.

Shamir paved the way for his trip to Washington with a series with Baker and President Bush, of suggestions, which included the idea of early elections in the Israeli occupied territories on condition that Palestinian uprising be quelled. Mubarak rejected that idea, saying, "Nobody can stop the intifada; let's be realis-

But Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Arens, who visited Washington in March to lay the groundwork for the Shamir talks, told reporters the events in the occupied territories have had a negative effect on Israel's image in the United States.

Israel plans goodwill release of prisoners

United Press International

JERUSALEM - Israel said it plans to release hundreds of Palestinian prisoners and case security measures in the Gaza Strip as a good-will gesture at the start of the Moslem holy month of Ramadan.

The announcement Tuesday came two days before Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir was scheduled to meet in Washington with President Bush. U.S. officials have pressured Israel in recent weeks to take steps easing tension in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip in order to aid the peace process.

In a meeting with local journalists. Arych Ramot Shefman, head of the milltary's Civil Administration in the Gaza Strip, said the army would release hundreds of administrative detainees who are being held without trial.

Assault on Kabul expected

United Press International

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan Moslem rebel rockets killed six people and wounded 24 in the Afghan capital of Kabul amid reports by a Western diplomat that the guerrillas are planning a coordinated assault on the city.

The rocket attack Tuesday was the bloodiest assault on Kabul aince Soviet troops completed their withdrawal from Afghanistan on February 15.

A Western diplomat said the U.S.-backed Afghan rebels are planning an assault on Kabul and civilians are fleeing the city in anticipation of heavy fighting.

But the diplomat said fighting had dimensioned in the architecture.

had diminished in the past week around eastern city of Jalalabad. He said the guerrillas were maintaining their siege of the strategic city, but were having trouble coordinating the assault by various rebel groups.

The rebels launched their offensive against Jalalabad, 110 miles east of Kabul, on March 6, three weeks after Moscow completed a nine-month withdrawal of its 100,300 troops from the country under U.N.-mediated accords. The Soviet Union invaded Afghanistan in 1979 to support the communist regime against an Islamic insurgency. Official Kabul radio reported that guerrilla rockets killed six people and wounded 24 Tuesday in residential neighborhoods of the capital.

The Western diplomat said the rebels, who are based mostly in Pakistan and receive arms from the United States and China among other nations, need a coordinated plan and better weather before mounting an assault on Kabul.

"Mujahideen shooras (councils) around Kabul are attempting to forge coordinated plans for pressure on regime forces in the city," he said. "This, and continuing snow, are delaying military operations."

He said the rebels will wait for the winter's heavy snow to melt and flooding to subside before launching any major push against the capital.

Many homes in Kabul are displaying "for rent" signs, "suggesting that residents are leaving in anticipation of heavy fighting in the spring," the diplomat said. He quoted Western sources as saying more than 9,000 people have fled Kabul for the northern Panjshir Valley alone in recent weeks.

Fuel supplies in the city remain tightly restricted, although the rebels are allowing most supply convoys to reach Kabul along the main highway to the capital from the Soviet Union. the diplomat said. But the government is having trouble recruiting drivers to make the trip.

An unusually harsh winter and a rebel siege caused severe shortages of essential items in the capital.

The diplomat said fighting had slackened around Jalalabad, where "the resistance military efforts ... have been impeded by the lack of coordination between Mujahideen of different parties."

Jalalabad would be the first major city to fall to the guerrillas in the 10-year-old Afghan civil war. Despite initial successes, however, the rebels have met stiff resistance from government forces and have suffered heavy casualties.

The diplomat said the guerrillas have "continued to tighten the ring of their positions around the city. All highway routes into the city are blocked and the airport remains unusable."

He said the government's only remaining means of obtaining supplies is by helicopters, which have been landing inside the city. But he said. "This method cannot indefinitely sustain the needs in munitions and food of the estimated 12,000 defend-

Conditions for the civilian population in Jalalabad are becoming "dire," with the government imposing a 24-hour curfew, the diplomat said.

Lady Patriots widen lead over Lady Hawks

By TONY DOSORMIER Herald sports editor

CASSELBERRY - For a game that involved the two top softball teams in the Seminole Athletic Conserence, Tuesday asternoon's game between the Lake Brantley Lady Patriots and the Lady Silver Hawks of Lake Howell sure got off to a slow start.

While the Lady Patriots jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the top of the first and the Lady Hawks came back to tie the score at 2-2 by the fourth inning, both teams were strangely flat.

Finally, Lake Brantley seemed to shake itself and rallied for a run in the fifth and three more in the sixth to turn back Lake Howell 6.2. improving its SAC record to 6-0 and its overall record to 13-1. The Lady Hawks, who had an opportunity to grab the SAC lead with a win, fell to 5-2 in the conference and 10-4

'Both teams were flat," said Lake Brantley caoch Renny Betris. "Maybe it was because it was the first game back after spring break. But it started out to be a really strange game."

The afternoon affair opened with Lake Brantley's Stacy Brandenburg taking a called third strike, which is uncommon as you can get on slow-pitch softball. But then Lake Howell pitcher Diann Lowe walked two batters and gave up a single to Tina Wilson that loaded the bases.

Oddity struck again on the next play as Pam Wittig lifted a fly ball to left field. Lake Howell's Julie Barton, one of the most sure-handed outfleiders in the SAC, moved under it to make the catch, only to drop the ball and allow two runs to score.

The Lady Hawks were able to retire the Lady Pais (with another strikeout, no less) before any more harm was done, but the strangeness wasn't over yet.

Lake Howell shortstop Missy Martinez hit a sinking line drive to left field, where Stacy Brandenburg (who's in the same superior de-fensive class with Barton) charged in to make the play, but saw the ball bounce out of her glove.

Martinez came around to score on a single by Marie Peters and a sacrifice fly by Leslie Barton. When Julie Barton singled sharply to right, it looked like the heavyhitting Lady Hawks were really going to challenge Lake Brantley.

But Lady Pat right fielder Wittig fielded the hit cleanly and threw a strike to shortstop Tracy Branden-burg, who turned and made a perfect relay throw to Mishelle Karr at third to nail Peters.

Both teams then went into an offensive holding pattern. Lake Howell deviating a little in the fourth when Leslie Barton banged a double off the left field fence, took third on a ground out by sister Julie and scored on a ground ball by Christy Dees.

Lake Brantley retook the lead for good in the fifth inning, when Chris Rabaja and Chris Calabrese opened with singles. On the hit by Calabrese, Julie Barton made an errant throw to second, allowing Rabaja and Calabrese to move up a base. But then Dees overthrew third, allowing Rabaja to score and Calabrese to take third.

"We were able to capitalize when they made an error," said Betris. "One thing we did today was bring runners around from second and third. We hadn't done that our last couple of games.'

The Lady Hawks weren't ready to fold yet. After a line drive out, Stacy Brandenburg hit a hard grounder to shortstop. Martinez looked back Calabrese, then threw out Brandenburg at first. When Calabrese broke for the plate on the throw, Lady Hawk first baseman Katherine Foldeak threw home and. ☐See Softball, Page 2B

OVIEDO - Greg Hughes came up with a game winning single in the bottom of the ninth inning to give the Oviedo Lions a tough 4-3 victory over Kissimmee Osceola Tuesday night before 251 fans at Oviedo High School.

The Lions improved to 9-11 on the season and will return to action in their final home game of the year against Lake Mary on Friday. The Kowboys fell to 14-8 on the season.

"It was a heck of a game," Oviedo coach Mike Ferrell said. "I think we gave them on of their runs but we battled back and kept our heads in the game. We hung tough which is a real good sign.

Osceola broke on top early when starting pitcher Kevin Connell drew a base on balls and moved to second on a sacrifice bunt by Scott Birchlen. Danny Gatson then stroked a run scoring single to right to put his team up 1-0.

The Kowhoys opened their lead with another run in the top of the third inning when Mark Bee Oviedo, Page 2B

Oviedo's B.J. Calapa (reaching for base) drove in a run with a hir-and-run double as the Lions came from behind to beat the Kissimee-Osceola Kowboys in extra innings Tuesday night.

Lady Raiders rally for split with Lake City CC

By DEAN SMITH Herald correspondent

SANFORD - Rallying for two runs in the bottom of the seventh inning, the Seminole Community College Lady Raiders posted a 2-1 come-from-behind win and earned a doubleheader split with the Lady Timberwolves of Lake City Community College in Mid-Florida

Conference softball play on Tuesday.

Becky Arrowood opened the home half of the seventh with a single, then scored the tying run when Jaudon Jonas tripled. Pinch hitter Sandy Rodriguez then delivered Jonas with the winning run as she hit a double.

Jan Hafer and Leah Clamping singled in two runs each during a six-run sixth inning as Lake City won the opener 8-4.

The victory was the first ever conference win for the Lady Raiders against Lake City and also was a team record 30th win on the season. Now 30-13 overall and 14-6 in conference play, SCC is in the running to finish among the top three teams in the conference and advance to the state tournament in Pensacola later this month.

Later this week, the Lady Raiders will host Florida Community College of Jacksonville Thursday starting at 3:00 p.m. Defending conference champion Lake City falls to 34-7 Bee SCC, Page 2B

Central Florida rips into Raiders

By DEAN SMITH Herald correspondent

SANFORD - Jose Vazquez blasted a firstinning grand slam while Bill Hurst and Oviedo graduate Alan Greene combined on a four-hitter to lead Central Florida Community College to an 11-1 whipping of Seminole Community College in Mid-Florida Conference baseball action Tuesday afternoon.

The game was called after the eighth because of the 10-run mercy rule.

Vazquez also tripled in another run and scored three runs of his own as CFCC pounded out 11 hits against three SCC pitchers. Rick Trowbridge also had two hits while the other seven players picked up one hit each, three of which were doubles.

The Patriot pitching was overpowering as Hurst struck out nine in his six innings of work and gave up two hits. Greene came in to pitch the last two innings, giving up two hits and striking out

The win boosted CFCC's record to 24-18 overall and 9-5 in the conference while Seminole fell to 7-22 and 2-11. The Raiders play host to Valencia Community College today and Lake City Community College Thursday. Both games start at 3:00 p.m. at Raider Field located on the Seminole Community College campus. Vazquez' blast followed a single by Robert Crosnoe and two walks as the Patriots jumped on top quick. Seminole came back to score its only run in the bottom of the first on four walks, Dale Stevens scoring the run and Byron Overstreet pickin up the rbi. But that was all for the Raiders.

CFCC scored a pair of runs in the fifth, then blew the game out with four in the eighth.

The Seminole hits, all singles, were collected by Kevin Monahan, Stevens, Teddy Craig, and Steve

Seminole out-hit Lake City 13-12 in the first game but also committed five very costly er-rors. Maria Mazeroski led the way for the Lady 'Wolves, going 3-for-4. Maria Woodward, Becky Gutierrez and Jan Hafer had two hits aplece.

For the Lady Raiders, Theresa Lisk had a 3-for-4 game while Julie Clark and Jackie Story each knocked out two hits. SCC jumped in front in the Migliori (who had singled earlier). Lake City came back to take a 2-1 lead in the third on a single by Woodward, a double by Cindy Davies, a ground out and an error. But Seminole came right back with a run of their own in the third on a single by Tracie Smith, a walk to Kim King, and a single by Lisk.

The Lady Raiders assumed a

3-2 lead in the fifth on singles by Story and Clark and a grounder by Lisk, but Lake City exploded for the six run inning in the second inning of the first game sixth. Lake City picked up six when Story singled in Sue hits in the inning but it was two errors and a bloop single to left that keyed the inning.

Kim King blasted a long home run in the seventh for SCC's other run. The second game was totally different as both pitchers sailed through the first five innings virtually untouched. Lake City finally got on the board in the sixth when B.J. Hodges singled and went to second on an error. Hope Thomas went in to pinch run and scored on a single by

LAKE MARY - Pounding out 22 hits in four and a half innings, the Lady Rams of Lake Mary High School romped past the Lyman High School Lady Greyhounds 29-1 on Tuesday afternoon in Seminole Athletic Conference softball action.

Lake Mary's efforts were aided considerably by the 11 errors made by the young Lady 'Hounds. Shannon Stoddard, Lake Mary's new designated hitter, led the Lady Ram attack by going 2-for-3 with a grand slam, five rbi and two walks. Lake Mary also benefited from three-hit games by Renee Sanvilce (3-for-4 with two doubles, two triples and three rbi). Tracey Mitchell (3-for-5 with four rbi and three runs scored) and Dena Morasch (3-for-4). Now with 3-2 in Seminole Athletic Conference play and 8-6 overall, Lake Mary returns to action today, hosting St. Cloud this afternoon.

Oviedo-

Rusat led off with a walk and moved to third on an error by Oviedo pitcher Jody Spelman. Connell then dropped down a squeeze bunt that scored Rusat to up the lead to 2-0.

Spelman, who finished as the winning and only pitcher for Oviedo, had another tough game as he allowed just two earned runs, struck out 10 while walking three.

"Jody (Spelman) had another solid performance," Ferrell said. "One day we'll get out and score some runs for him. Osceola took a three run lead coming up with its final score of the night in the top of the fourth inning. After an out Mark Williams doubled to left center and after the second out Paul Shipe tripled to right to build the lead to 3-0.

Oviedo then picked up its offensive production and worked itsself back into the ballgame. Spelman helped his own cause and led off the bottom of the inning with a double off the left center sield wall. Brian MaCinness then walked and both runners advanced on a passed ball. After a pop out, Todd Tocco ground out to short to score Spelman and cut the lead to 3-1. The Lions came up with another single run in the bottom of the fifth when Kevin Twiggs led off and was hit in the chin by a pitch. After an out Oviedo worked the hit and run play to perfection as B.J. Calapa doubled off the left field wall to score Twiggs and trim the lead to 3-2. After two extra inning Oviedo finally capped off the comeback, capitalizing on an error and a base hit. Kinnaird led the inning off and dropped down a bunt which was handled by relief pitcher Mark Williams, who threw the ball over first base, allowing Kinnaird to advance to second. After a strikeout Hughes singled over short and Kinnaird scored to end the game.

SEMINOLE SCENES

When on assignment, Herald phoptographers shoot a variety of pictures, each with a different composition, pose or angle.

Not all of those are published.

From time to time, the Herald intends to assemble some of those "outtakes" for a second look, from a different perspective, at news and feature events.

Here is the most recent collection of scenes from around Seminole County.

Her cookbooks form a library

Herald correspondent

SANFORD - Fortunately for her figure, our Cook of the Week is not addicted to food. She does seem, however, addicted to cooking it.

Barbara Watson is a true cooking enthusiast. Far more than just a dabbler, this Sanford woman devotes a lot of time and energy to her avocation. But it is by no means a chore to her.

Watson began learning to cook when she was around 12 years old, by watching her mother. "I had a natural interest in cooking," she said, and her mother. who was experimental in the kitchen, encouraged the same in her daughter. "We had a lot of versatility in our diets; my mother cooked all different kinds of things. She had lots of different cookbooks and was never afraid to tackle anything."

She said she grew up with "a very well-rounded taste for food" because her mother always made her try new things. She was not required to like them. but had to try them before forming an opinion. Watson used the same philosophy with her children and said it must have worked because "today they like everything.'

Watson inherited her mother's affinity for cookbooks; she has a collection of at least fifty she has acquired over the years. In her den are two stacks of reading materials she chooses from in her spare time. One stack is literature; the other, various kinds of cookbooks.

Although she learned basic cooking from her mother, she has picked up practice in other areas by experimenting with recipes. The first time she tries a new one, she fixes it the way it is written. From there she adjusts. using more or less of a certain spice or leaving out an ingredient altogether. She liked the more difficult recipes.

"I gravitate toward them because I find them a challenge," she said.

Not intimidated by detailed instructions, and easily bored with monotony, she looks for recipes on which to hone her skills. It is through this process that Watson benefits from cooking.

"I find it very therapeutic," she said. "Some people find it frustrating. I find it relaxing."

Of course, her family benefits as well. When her children. Pamela and John, and their families come for dinner, the kids rate her cooking on a scale from one to 10. When she gets in the nine or 10 range, she said, she knows she's doing fine. She has never gotten a rating of one—only because she knows their favorites and enjoys fixing them, she said.

Watson was born and raised in Barrington, N.J. Her husband, Jack, lived in a small town nearby, close enough to ride his bicycle when he came to visit. After marrying, they moved to Stuttgart, Germany, for three years until Jack's Army tour was up, then settled in Collingswood, N.J., near their hometown.

Jack's transfer with Southern Bell brought them to Florida in 1970. They lived in Longwood for 11 years before moving to Sanford, where they have been since. Watson likes her home and the many friends she has made in Florida, but misses the seasonal changes and deeprooted traditions of New Jersey.

She put her love of cooking to work for her in January when she became pastry chef at The Quilted Rose, a Sanford restaurant. Some of the treats she has put on the menu include black walnut fudge, whipped cream pound cake, caramel brownles with ice cream and caramel sauce, and apple pie cake with rum sauce and flavored whipped

She loves her Job-both the people she deals with and the work involved. Her kids aren't home to cook for on a daily basis anymore, she said, and "I can't eat everything I like to cook (I'd be in trouble then), so I go to work and cook."

She said she will never forget the first cake she tried to make. The recipe called for 12 or 13 eggs, along with various other ingredients. Things were pro-

The cake was one she made for neighborhood kids who visit her backyard pool every day in the summer. There were about 15 of them, she said, and she was running out of things to feed them. She used the cake recipe because it was inexpensive. containing no eggs, butter or milk. Years later she realized it was good for people on special diets. It has a rich, chocolately taste that will satisfy a sweet tooth, she said.

Watson also keeps her eyes open in out-of-the-way places for recipes she might want to try. She found the one for Apple Caramel Cake written on a paper plate and tacked to the wall of an apple stand in Tennessee.

When she is not cooking. Watson enjoys crewelwork and a weekly ceramics class. Some of her favorite recipes follow:

GAZPACHO (COLD SOUP)

l large cucumber

1 46-ounce can tomato juice 14 cup finely diced onion We cup finely diced green pepper 1/2 cup finely diced celery

35 cup wine vinegar

2 teaspoons salt 2 teaspoons crushed garlie

Carbonated milk tickles the nose

Scientists at USDA's Agricultural Research Center in New Orleans have brought milk into the 20th century. They've carbonated it.

"You get that tingling, re-freshing sensation of carbonation that you get in soft drinks. and you're also getting calcium. protein, and Vitamin C from the milk and Juice." says food technologist Dr. Ranjit S. Kadan.

Scientists have produce two types of this carbonated milk-one mixed with filtered apricot juice, the other with artificial strawberry flavoring.

The soda milk is made by bubbling carbon dioxide gas through a mixture of water, nonfat dry milk, juice or flavoring, and other ingredients. The mixture is kept under pressure and immediately bottled so the carbonation doesn't escape.

Aside from IIs nutritional advantages, carbonated milk may spur consumption of milk. "Carbonated milk would be a big help for children, who need calcium as their bones develop."

Kadan said. Commercial companies are interested in making such drinks. which would contain calcium and protein, and create a new market for surplus nonfat dry

Ham leftovers need not be limited to sandwiches

What to do with the leftover ham? Most of the time it is a matter of a pound or so of meat left over from a holiday ham. It can be used for some very fine

Use the food processor to finely chop the meat, and the microwave to cook these quick and easy recipes that require a small amount of cooked ham.

A ham loaf that combines a small amount of ham and sausage will provide a tasty entree for a springtime meal. Serve with fresh asparagus, sweet potatoes, and Waldorf

GLAZED HAM LOAF 16 pound smoked ham, ground

- 1/2 pound lean pork, ground
- 15 cup cracker crumbs
- 1 egg 4 cup onlon, minced

W teaspoon black pepper Combine all ingredients. Mix until thoroughly blended and mixture is firm. Shape carefully into a loaf and place on a microwave roasting rack.

Glaze ham loaf (recipe follows) and cover with wax paper. Microwave the ham loaf on a 50 percent to 70 percent power setting until the correct temperature is reached.

Once the correct temperature has been reached, remove the loaf from the microwave oven and let stand 5-10 minutes. Slice and serve hot, accompanied with raisin or plum sauce.

Serves 3, but is easily doubled to serve 6, with a cooking time of 16-22 minutes.

Ham Loaf Glase Place 1/2 cup brown sugar, 14 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon orange marmalade (or apricot, or pineapple pre-serves) and 2 tablespoons water

A taste of college life

These 32 students from Seminole County high schools and Seminole Community college are all smiles after their return from a weekend at Florida A&M University, Taliahassee. The occasion was FAMU's 12th Annual Student Preview on March 10-11. The chaperoned students toured the campus and discovered what the university has to offer.

Baby with glasses has bécome public spectacle

DEAR ABBY: I have a young child who has worn glasses since she was 4 months old. She is not to be pitied. We consider it a blessing that the problem (strabismus) was disgnosed and corrected at such an early age. Perhaps in time her glasses will not be such an oddity.

Abby, I am finding it increasingly difficult to be gracious to every well-meaning soul who wants to engage me in conversa-tion about my daughter's eyes and treatment while I'm shopping, dining out, etc. Then there are the rude remarks: "Look at that baby!" "How old is that child?" And, "Poor thing—what else is wrong with her?"

These comments come not only from strangers but from our extended family and friends as well-although those familiar to us tend to use the not-so-subtle, "Will she always have to wear those glasses?"

Certainly I do not mind talking about it with people. I know, but when I'm out running erranda with two young children in tow. must I give my undivided attention to strangers just to satisfy their curiosity? How I wish they

LOSING PATIENCE

DEAR LOSING PATIENCE: You have written a very important letter. Young children, on seeing something unusual, will ask questions to satisfy their natural curiosity. But adults should know better.

Adults helped with education, reading skills

SANFORD - Poor reading skills, an incomplete high school education and not knowing English as a second language can be embarrassing and inhibiting barriers in an adult's life. The adult education programs at Seminole Community College are tailored to resolve those problems, so that an individual can advance himself further in Classes and labs are available on SCC's Sanford campus and at study centers throughout Seminole County. The programs and study materials are free, and both day and evening classes are offered on a year-round basis.

Parents who participate in the adult education programs build their own basic skills and selfesteem, says Nancy Williams with the program. Their children benefit from their parents' better attitudes toward school and increased assistance with homework, she says.

Testicle removal will affect his sexuality months ago I had a prostate gland operation and in the process, the surgeon removed both testicles. Is there any possibility of having an erection?

DEAR READER: Ordinarily. orchiectomy (removal of the testicles) is an operation reserved for men with prostatic cancer. Many such cancers are hormone-dependent, meaning that they grow more quickly in the presence of the male hormone testosterone. Because the testicles are the prime source of testosterone production, they may have to be removed if prostatic cancer is to be con-trolled. Ask your doctor why you required this operation in conjunction with your prostatic surgery.

Since normal sexual functioning, including erection, depends on testosterone, I predict that you will develop impotence. This may not occur immediately, but it is a virtual certainty. You will also lose sexual interest because it, too, is dependent on testosterone. I wish your surgeon had given you this information before the operation.

In the event that your orchiectomy was not performed because of prostatic cancer, your 35 Beef fat doctor can advise you about whether hormone replacement (or other treatments for impotence) is appropriate for you.

For more information, I am sending you copies of my Health Reports "Impotence" and "The Prostate Gland."

DEAR DR. GOTT: This seems hard to believe, but my 7-yearold has a problem with body odor. He has dry skin and atopic eczema which is made worse because of all the showers he takes. He's too young to use deodorant. What should he do?

DEAR READER: Unpleasant body odor in a youngster is very unusual because this condition is usually dependent on skin oils

DEAR DR. GOTT: Some that are secreted after puberty.

Perhaps your son's problem is related to his eczema, a troublesome skin affliction often caused by allergies. Patients with cezema have a tendency to skin infection, which could cause an unpleasant odor.

I suggest that you seek advice

Three no-trump would have been doomed to quick defeat with a heart lead, so the decision by North to bid five clubs was a designed to elicit a no-trump bid when South holds Q-x of hearts. But when South completed the description of his distribution, North bid game in clubs. But there was still need for careful play.

Declarer won dummy's ace of hearts and played a club back to his king. West casually played low. Declarer returned to dummy's diamond king and played another club. When East showed out. West won the jack and continued hearts. Declarer ruffed, but could not afford to lead another trump at this point, since West would win and force declarer to ruff once again. So good one. North's bid of two there was nothing to do except hearts on only a three-card holding is a normal procedure, dummy's queen of spades won the trick, declarer cashed the spade ace and then began running his diamonds. Because the 10 of clubs remained in dummy, West had no way of ruffing in with a low club to beat the contract.

It's worth noting that a careless play of the club 10 from dummy on the second round of clubs would have cost South the contract, placing West in the position of being able eventually to ruff in with the five of clubs.

WINDHOEK, Namibia - South Africa, charging that thousands of Cuban-backed SWAPO fighters were poised along Namibia's northern border. warned that a U.N.-administered independence plan for the colony will collapse unless guerrilla incursions are halted.

South African Foreign Minister Roelof "Pik" Botha made the warning Tuesday in a letter to U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar as the death toll in four days of flerce border clashes between South African-backed forces and the South West Africa People's Organizaton rose to 199 and U.N. peacekeepers seemed unable to control the crisis.

Botha cited reports of a com-bined Cuban and SWAPO unit of 450 troops positioned 600 yards north of the border and a similar battalion at Ongiva, Angola, 22 miles north of Namibia.

He said 4,450 SWAPO forces were within 100 miles of the border, and a tank brigade had redeployed since March 21 to within 31 miles of Namibia. Some 1,000 SWAPO troops already in Namibia were in "continuous radio contact" with command posts in Angola, he strength and halt the bloodshed.

"It is my duty to bring to your attention that unless active and effective measures are taken within the next few hours to stem the rapid deterioration of the situation, the whole peace process in Namibia is in danger of collapse," Botha said.

Botha's letter, also distributed to the ambassadors of the five permanent members of the Security Council, coincided with intense diplomatic efforts in the region to end the bloodshed and save the territory's indepen-dence plan, which has been a full decade in the making.

The plan would end 74 years of South African rule over the sparsely populated, mineral-rich territory also known as South West Africa, where SWAPO has waged a war for independence since 1966.

"The facts of the developments over the past three days speak for themselves," Botha said. "The South African government cannot be expected to implement its undertakings under the relevant agreements while SWAPO continues to act in flagrant violation of the provisions of those agreements with the acquiescence, tacit or otherwise, of the Security Council," he said.

"In such circumstances, South

Pretoria gloats over UN problem

Africa has the undoubted right to suspend its compliance with its obligations. SWAPO must now face up to the realities. Effective and immediate steps must be taken to ensure its compliance with all its obligations," the South African foreign minister said.

Otherwise, Botha concluded, "the South African government will have no option but to consider its reciprocal obliga-tions suspended until such time as UNTAG (U.N. Transition Assistance Group) is in a position to ensure SWAPO's scrupulous observance of the provisions of the relevant agreements."

The agreement effective Saturday was to include a cease-fire and called for the confinement of South African and South African-backed Namibian troops to their bases while SWAPO fighters remained north of the 16th parallel in Angola.

Some 2,000 members of the South West Africa Territorial Force were freed from the restrictions after the SWAPO incursions began — a decision a U.N. spokesman acknowledged had put the peacekeeping mission in a "vicious dilemma."

BAGHDAD, Iraq -Iraq's new parliament is expected to endorse a revised constitution and a controlled multi-party system that keeps key powers in the hands of President Saddam Hussein, Western diplomats and government officials said Tuesday. The government made public the names of all 250 deputies who won seats in Saturday's elections to the National Assembly and they include many officially sanctioned independents and war veterans owing allegiance to Saddam.

"The next step is to endorse the constitution and pass a law allowing more parties." a government spokesman said Tuesday. Only the Arab Baath Socialist Party and two small pro-government Kurdish groups participated in the elections.

The previous two legislative elections in Iraq, whose society and politics are tightly controlled by the govern-
