

Rehearsal Buffet Held At Elizabeth Young Home Gloria Dixon Is Bride Of Donahue Stephens

By MRS. R. B. THOMAS JR.
Miss Gloria Annette Dixon, daughter of Mrs. Altamere Dixon and the late Paul Dixon, Sanford, and Donahue Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stephens Sr., Miami, were united in Holy Matrimony July 18 at 4 p.m. at the St. James A.M.E. Church, Sanford.

Rev. Robert Doctor and Rev. W. M. Burke were the officiating ministers at the double ring ceremony.
The altar was decorated with baskets of white gladiolus interspersed with white chrysanthemums. The gladioli and mums also adorned the arch which was topped with two large white bells.

Miss Lorraine Ringling, organist, presented a program of appropriate musical selections and accompanied Mrs. Patricia Merritt Sautler, who sang "Climb Every Mountain," "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer."
Given in marriage by her uncle, Lewman Oliver II, and her mother, the bride was radiant in her formal gown of imported silk organza, enhanced with Chantilly lace scalloped neckline. The A-line gown was accented with applique roses of Chantilly lace and a flowing chapel train. She carried a white Bible, centered with a white orchid, "Ivy-of-the-valley" and cascading white satin streamers. Her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion fell from a corner shaped "headdress" of Chantilly lace.

Miss Lavern Dixon attended her sister as maid of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Lillian Welch, Doris Wright, Barbara Jones, Jacquelyn Fausner and Cynthia Chapman, all of Miami, and Brenda Hatch, Greenville, S.C.
The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed in identical A-line formal gowns fashioned of soft yellow summer crepe, rolled collars and insets at the waistline of gold beaded trim. A head piece of two gold chrysanthemums secured the tiers of veil of silk illusion which fell to the floor.

The maid of honor carried two yellow long stemmed chrysanthemums with white satin streamers, while the bridesmaids only carried one mum. They wore short white gloves.

Wellington Stephens, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsman were Charles Fulec, Edward Stephens, brother of the groom, Harold Jones, Ronika Williams, Alfred Jones and Charles Green, all of Miami.
James Fayson Jr., of Miami, was ring bearer. Joyce Ann Matthews and Cappella Robinson were flower girls. They were attired in mint green formal A-line gowns.

The maid of honor, bridesmaids, and flower girls' gowns and headpieces were all made by the bride.
Mrs. Dixon chose for her daughter's wedding, a mint green worsted silk coat-dress ensemble with iridescent trim and yellow roses and wedding bells, centered the bride's table. The groom's mother wore a surf green silk A-line dress with matching accessories. White carnations and greenery complemented their outfits.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.
The bride's table was covered with a yellow linen cloth, overlaid with a white lace table cloth. Silver and gold appointments were used.
A centerpiece of yellow and green miniature spring flowers in a silver tiered bowl, flanked by two pearl oysters, was the focal point of the table.

The buffet menu consisted of roast turkey, rib roast, green peas, cranberries, glazed carrots, creamed peas with miniature pearl onions, stuffed celery, pineapple salad, ham, buttered rolls, tea and coffee.
Prior to devouring of the scrumptious meal, pink champagne was poured, and the bride and groom were presented with a gift of a silver bracelet.

Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Thelma Hall, Mrs. Doris Thomas, and Mr. Ruth Allen. Honored guests of the wedding party, Mrs. Altamere Dixon, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Annie L. Foster, grandmother of the bride-elect, were Roosevelt George, Verna and Betty Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. James Faison and children, of Miami.
Also Doris Love of Ft. Lauderdale, Lynn and Connie Battle, Dallas, Ga.

Mrs. Willie Graham was hostess at a bridal shower in honor of the popular bride-elect, Miss Gloria Dixon, on July 15 at her attractive Peach Avenue home.

The informal setting and evening was spent chit-chatting, participating in bridal games and enjoying refreshments of punch, cookies, assorted party treats and nuts.
Guests attending included Miss Lavern Dixon, Mrs. Jacquelyn Walton, Miss Ann Dees, Mrs. J. Popino, Mrs. Charles Gray, Mrs. Ruth Hatch, and Mrs. D. A. Thomas.

The summer recreation program held in past years at Goldboro Elementary school no longer exists.
However, the youngsters are still there and are participating in an enrichment program whereby their morning hours are spent improving skills in reading, writing, arithmetic, and arts and crafts.
To some, this may not provide the fun and enjoyment of recreation, but it will enable them to polish up on some of their weaknesses and do even better in the classroom when school opens in the fall.

This Compulsory Program is sponsored through federal funds and can be labeled as one which is most needed, especially when children can reap the benefits.
There are many people who are going away on vacation.

Mrs. Dixon's first trip to Sanford in 30 years. Welcome back to Sanford.
Mr. and Mrs. Willie M. Hatch have as their houseguests their daughter, Brenda, and friends, Ann Goodwin, Gwendolyn Lewis and Annette Kerns of Greenville, S.C. and Rita Walker, of Knoxville, Tenn.

Miss Hatch is a first grade teacher at Paris Elementary School in Greenville and spends her leisure hours assisting at Birnie Street YWCA.
Before returning home, they will travel to Miami and then on to Nassau for a few days.

Alton Burke Sr. and grandson, Denzell, have returned from two weeks in New York City and Rochester, where he was the honored guest of his children. He reports having spent a most enjoyable two weeks in the City.
The Youth Department of All Saints Chapel A.M.E. Church is still in need of Top Value stamps. In case you are not aware of what they need them for, well simply to purchase a piano for the lower sanctuary of the church where all of their social activities are conducted. Please give and give generously to these youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fayson and children, Poppy and Shavon, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lauben, Mr. and Mrs. David Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Stephens, Mrs. Beth Welch, Mrs. Ellis Welch, Mrs. Mary Wright, Mrs. Annette Stephens and Charles Jackson, all of Miami, also attending were Mrs. J. W. Anderson and Mrs. Martha Parker of Ocala; Frank Dixon, Sidney Morris, Mrs. Hazel Stinson and Miss Lorraine Massey of the groom, Harold Jones, Ronika Williams, Alfred Jones and Charles Green, all of Miami.

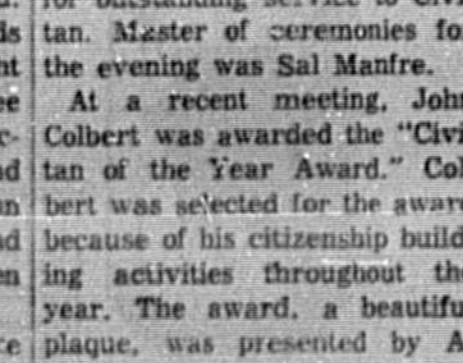

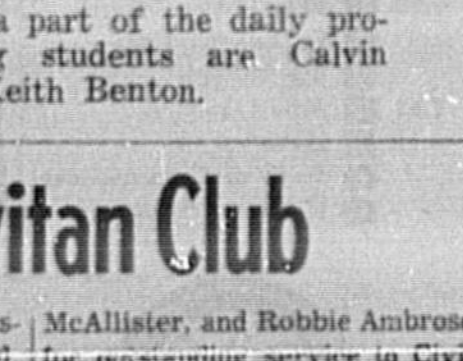

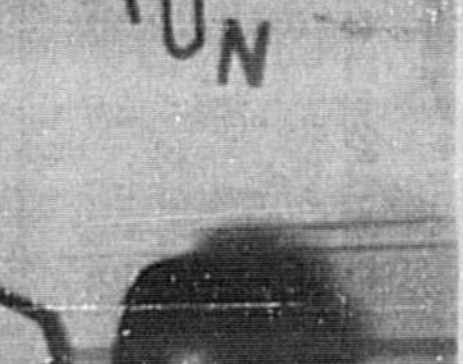

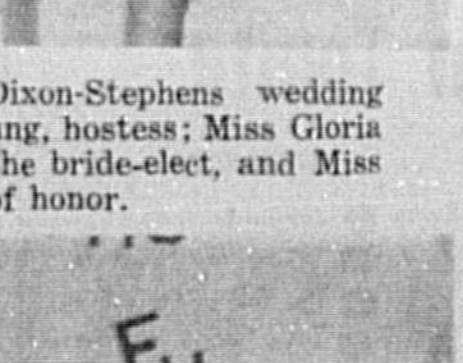

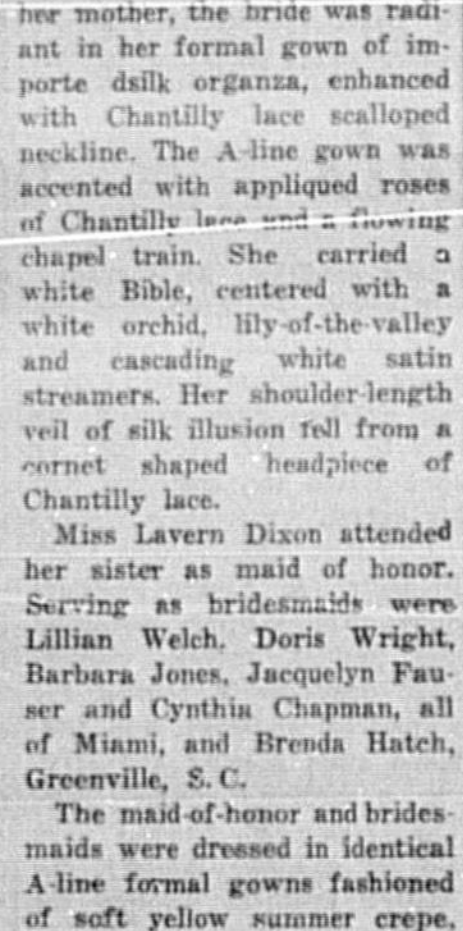

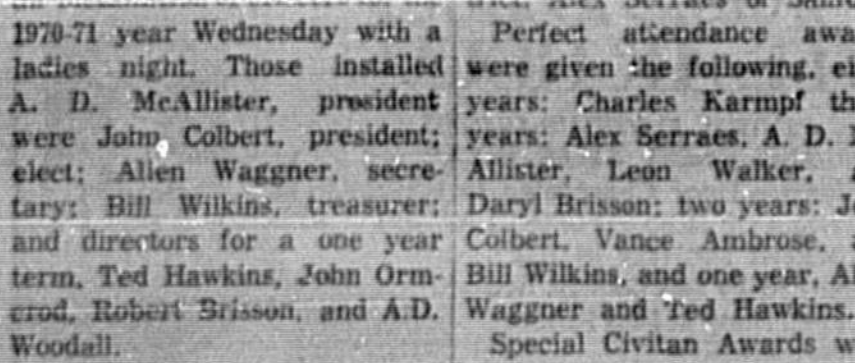

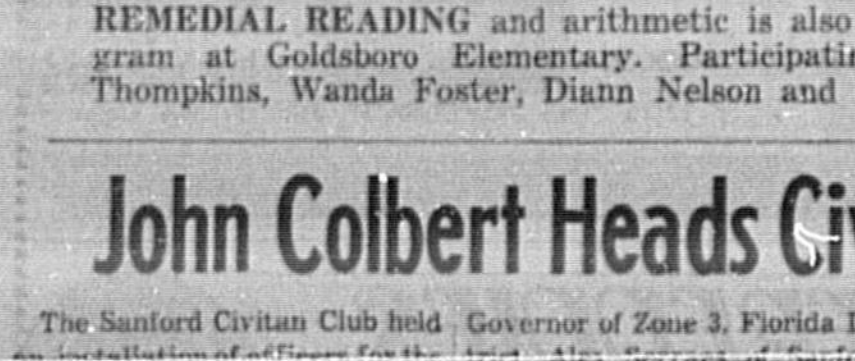

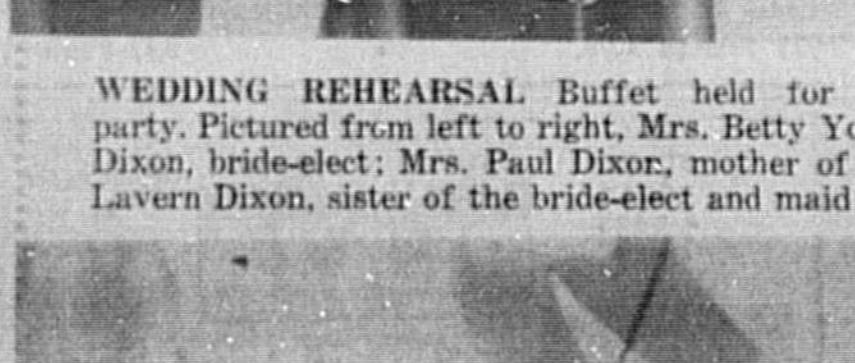

James Fayson Jr., of Miami, was ring bearer. Joyce Ann Matthews and Cappella Robinson were flower girls. They were attired in mint green formal A-line gowns.

Adult Educational Tests Slated At Jr. College

The special services division of Seminole Junior College will conduct the general educational development tests the week of Aug. 17. Reservation for testing must be made no later than Aug. 6. Contact the office of extended services, phone: 322-1450, ex. 20.
Many educationally mature adults (18 years or older) including veterans and servicemen in Florida have not had the opportunity, for one reason or another, to complete the formal requirements for a high school diploma.
Such persons, through reading, travel, self-directed study, and practical experiences of life, have reached a level of educational competence equivalent to that normally required for high school graduation.
Since many of these people cannot afford to spend the amount of time in class attendance necessary to satisfy the requirements for a locally issued high school diploma, the GED testing program was developed to assist these people in securing a Florida high school equivalency diploma.

Girl, 19, Escapes Young Attacker

Downtown Sanford was the scene yesterday afternoon of an attempted assault on a 19-year-old female by an unknown 16-17-year-old bicyclist. According to Sanford police files, the girl exited a First Street store and was approached by a youth who started to make advances toward her using obscene language.
Frightened, the girl began to walk toward her Melonville Avenue home but was pursued by the youth who continued to utter obscenities.
Becoming more afraid, the girl attempted to flag passing motorists and called for help as her tormentor continued to advance on her.
Apparently none of the passersby heard her screams and as the aggressor continued his suggestive remarks, the intended victim turned and ran to a nearby home.
The pursuer, feeling he was losing his prey, snatched a large tin lid which struck the girl on the knee, causing a spur of blood. By this time, the occupants into whose house the terrified victim fled had answered her knocks and screams and the attacker had escaped in the commotion.
Acting as Good Samaritans, the rescuers placed the girl into their car and transported her to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where she was treated for the cut and for shock.
The youth on the bicycle is described as Negro male, wearing no shoes or shirt.

Memo To County Commissioner Vilhen... re/your comment regarding the story on page 8A, "wanting the SGA on the County Commission to meet together, not at a public meeting."
I am sorry to hear that you are recommending you re-read the Sunshine Law...
Why is it that all these people, before they're elected to an office, want all of the publicity that they can get... in order to express their ideas on how they'd solve the ills of the community... and yet as soon as they get into office, "it's keep the press out."
Regardless of the fact that they're all trying to copy Spiro, all I can say is thank goodness William Randolph Hearst said it, "When free discussion is denied, hardening of the arteries of democracy has set in, free institutions are but a lifeless form, and the death of the republic is at hand."
RAPPIN' WITH THE KIDS... don't believe the commotion that "just for the kicks, try it once. It won't hurt you, and you can always drop the habit of an overdose."

Appeal Will Be Taken To County Approval Granted Heliport Off I-4

By MARION BETHA
Approval was granted by the Seminole County Board of Adjustment last night for a special exception permitting a private heliport in Des Plaines Estates. The property is located in the vicinity of I-4 and Longwood Markham Road and is zoned M-1.
Every seat was filled in the County Commission chambers, where the meeting was held, with spectators lining the walls.
The applicant, Dean Gavelly, Zoning Director Robert Brown, who was asked at a meeting in June, when the proposal was originally presented, to obtain information from the FAA (Federal Aviation Agency) regarding heliports, said that the agency advised him that they will conduct an on-site inspection to ascertain if the heliport meets safety regulations.

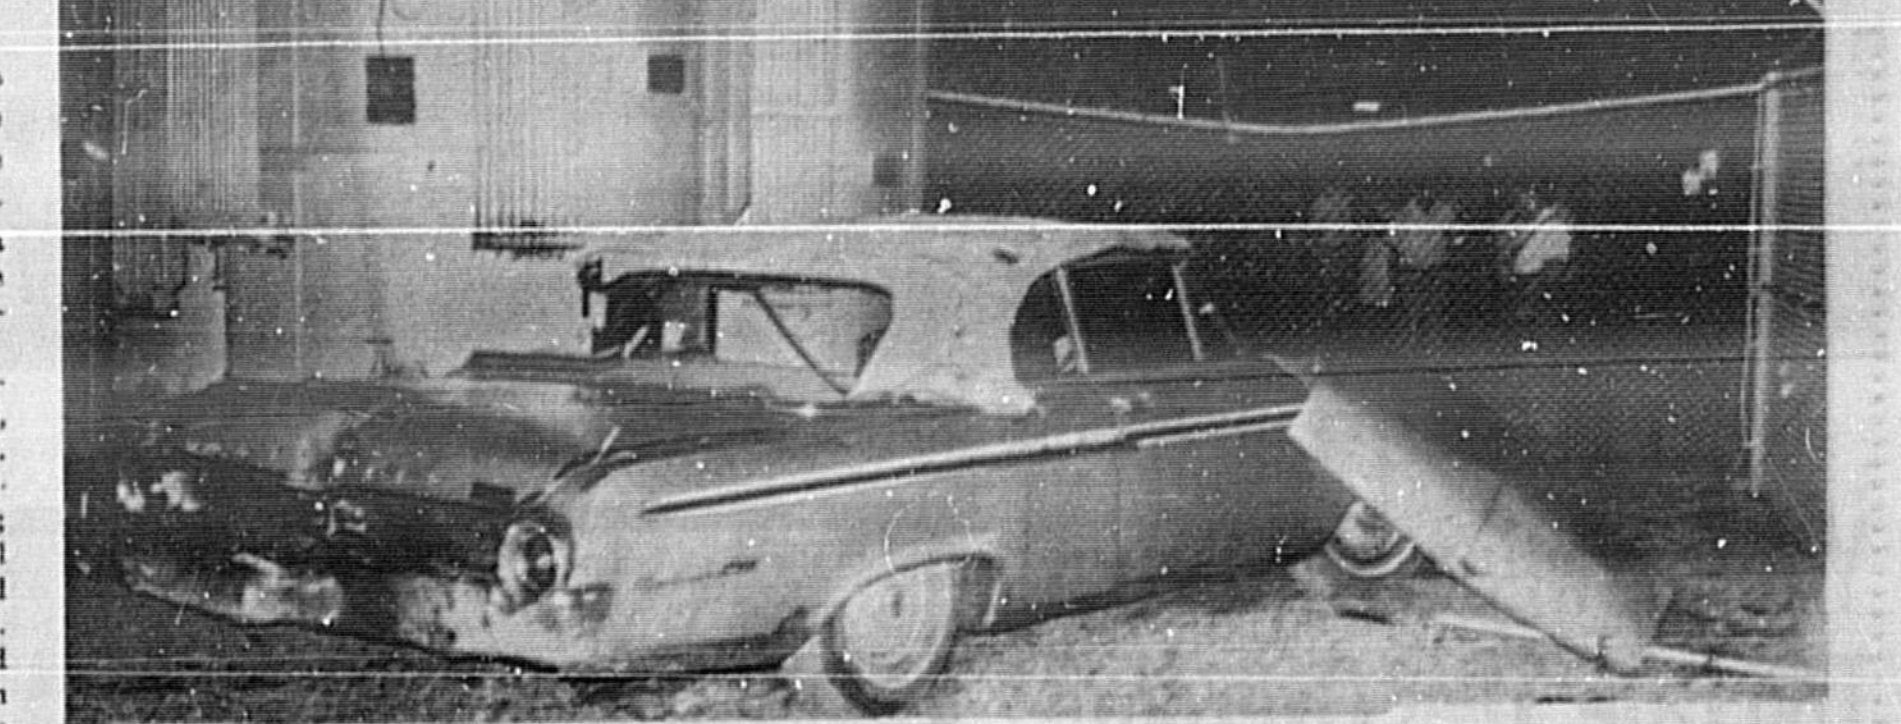

for at DisneyWorld, showed a film on the operation of heliports detailing the details of noise generated in the vicinity of an average city, and comparing it with the noise of a helicopter. The film likened decibels with degrees on a thermometer, and stated that the determining factor is the pitch in sound.

Sanford Goes After Academy

A Sanford contingent will be in Tallahassee Tuesday to make overtures to responsible state agencies concerning the possible Sanford location as a site for the $1 million "Little FBI" academy for police training.
David F. Kelley, Sanford Industrial Commission director, said Sheriff John Polk, A. K. Shoemaker Jr., Sanford Industrial Commission chairman; Ernest Southward, industrial commission vice chairman, and himself would attend a 2 p.m. session at the State Game and Fish Commission building with William Reed, director of the State Law Enforcement Department.
Kelley said the group would attempt to "sell" the law enforcement agency on locating the academy in Building 310 at the Sanford Airport.
The local site is one of many considered from other locations at Tallahassee, Gainesville, Ocala, Panama City, Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Lakeland and Tampa.
Reed is expected to make the recommendation of a site to the governor and cabinet in about a month.
Sheriff Polk said yesterday the Sanford facility opening did not have to wait until 1972 but could be utilized just as soon as approval of a site is made and the necessary preparations completed.
A $1.2 million regional crime laboratory already has been approved for property leasing at the Sanford Airport, and Polk advised the first allocation of the federal funding would be forthcoming soon.
The contemplated academy will be financed by a $1 surcharge on traffic and criminal fines.

Attorney Thomas Freeman, representing residents of the area, told the board that sound is relative to location; that decibels in the city are not as high as in the country. He said that the "peace and quiet" aspect of residents should be considered, and that the allowing of a heliport was "not good common sense." Freeman cited law which stated that a peculiar area cannot be applied to other property in the area, and that there was nothing peculiar in the piece of land. He also said that the heliport would change the character of the area from residential and agriculture, and was designed by the tri-county planning council as a low density area. Freeman said the heliport's resulting traffic would increase density. Freeman went on to explain inverse condemnation as growing from the effect which airports had upon the land, and in which adjoining residents were compensated for their land.
William Bedolie, president of the South West Markham Road Association, presented a map designating 27 homes within a half-mile radius of the heliport and 27 within one mile radius. This was in rebuttal of Snavely's previous contention that there were only 10 homes in a mile radius.
Also appearing in opposition was Dick Williams who told of the steps which the association had taken to remove the property.

Two other residents of the area stated opposition of the noise and dust.
Snavely in rebuttal said that the operation was less noisy than I-4 and the adjacent railroad, and that the noise was minimal compared with the previous Navy jets. He went on to say that there would be no dust generated because it would cause repairs to his 'copter in the amount of $25,000, and that the area would be wooded. He continued that he would sell the property if he could, and that he would have a temporary (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 1)

DON'T FENCE ME IN might well be the feeling of Bryce Glenn Jr., 42-year-old Bookertown resident, who escaped serious injury after a midnight mishap resulted in the demolition of his '62 model car in an unusual accident. Deputy Roy Houghy reported Glenn's car was traveling north bound on Grapevine Avenue at a high rate of speed when it failed to stop at the SR 46 west intersection. The vehicle became airborne for 30 feet before it struck a power pole and did a backward slide underneath a fence surrounding a Florida Power and Light Company generator. Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Walt Glass investigated.

County Judge Explains Reasons For Dismissing Dope Charges

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County Judge Wallace Hall today refuted published reports (quoting Sheriff John Polk) in yesterday's Herald that charges against 11 young people were dropped by Seminole County sheriff's department because warrants taken before a raid on a Fern Park "hippie pad" resulted in the arrests on possession of narcotic charges.
Hall admitted dismissing the charges on 10 of the suspects, but said there was insufficient evidence of possession.
Before the preliminary hearing was held Tuesday and all charges except those against Richard Dale Hash, 20, were dismissed. Thomas Speer, assistant state attorney, said Hash would be prosecuted.

Judge Hall said under the latest appellate court decisions, it must be established exactly what possession means, before further actions can be taken.
Those included dismissal of charges against Richard Dale Hash, 20, for possession of alcohol as a minor; Kenneth Williams Cox, 22, and Heather Erika Munroe for contributing to the delinquency of a minor; Robert Chapman, owner of the apartment house, and charged with operating a place of nuisance; Susan Yentch, 17, Jacksonville, booked on possession of alcohol as a minor, and a 16-year-old juvenile charged with possession of alcohol as a minor.
Sheriff John Polk said Lovett dismissed those charges after ruling the warrants were held too long (four days) before the raid on the house.

Sneaky Snake Snooper

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — It's a sneaky snake, Louis Chacon told sheriff's deputies last week.
Chacon said he found the snake in the toilet of the house into which he had just moved. The snake, he said, stuck its head out of the bottom of the commode but disappeared again if the toilet was flushed.
At times it would stick its head out of another toilet in the home, Chacon said.
Deputies, skeptical about the whole thing, thoroughly investigated both toilets and found nothing. They left.
Wednesday Chacon called the sheriff again. This time he said the snake had become bolder, rising out of the bowl to leer at him.
Deputies went to the home again. There was a five-foot long anaconda peering out of the bowl.
Before they could grab the reptile it retreated down the hole in the bottom. Animal control officers were called in but the anaconda kept ducking out of sight.
Finally the toilet was removed from its moorings and they examined the snake with a net and took it off to a shelter.

Insurance Broker's License Is Revoked
A Sanford man's insurance license has been revoked by the State Insurance Commission after he was found guilty of violating six sections of the state insurance laws.
According to Charles McIntosh, deputy insurance commissioner with headquarters at Winter Park, Edward H. Hester, a resident of Sanford, cannot write any more insurance after a four 1/2 effective date of the revocation.
McIntosh, contacted by The Herald, confirmed that Hester was given a hearing into allegations brought by the State Insurance Commission after an investigation.
The nature of the charges were not revealed but have to do with actions contrary to the insurance code.
Both Hester and Hester's attorney, confirmed the license revocation but Hester said that his client is not prevented from continuing a real estate business.

John Colbert Heads Civitan Club
The Sanford Civitan Club held its 1970-71 year Wednesday with a Perfect attendance awards luncheon. Those installed were: A. D. McAllister, president; John Colbert, president; Allen Wagner, secretary; Bill Wilkins, treasurer; Daryl Brinson, two years; John Colbert, Vance Ambrose, and Bill Wilkins, and one year, Allen Wagner, and Ted Hawkins. Special Civitan Awards were made to Vance Ambrose, A. D. McAllister, and Robbie Ambrose for outstanding service to Civitan. Master of ceremonies for the evening was Sal Manfre.
At a recent meeting, John Colbert was awarded the "Civitan of the Year Award." Colbert was selected for the award because of his citizenship building activities throughout the year. The award, a beautiful plaque, was presented by Allen Wagner.

Educators' Desires, Taxpayers' Dollars Go Into School's Design

By CHARNER LIXONE
Sticks and stones. Glass and mortar. How do you build a school? Changes in educational concepts, multiple spaces, movement, exposure to contemporary art, flexibility of environment — good grief, what must the architect deal with?

This is the day when a "cheerful atmosphere" is considered important in the process of imbibing the three R's. Subtle texture and geometric lines and colors are used to conjure up the desired effect. But it's a whole new language that has developed in schools of today. The little red schoolhouse is no more.

John A. Burton IV and associates have been in the business of building schools for some time now. They are qualified to discuss the trends employed now in building a school. Two of the area schools, still under construction, carry their distinctive "mark" as Lakeview Middle School and Seminole Junior College.

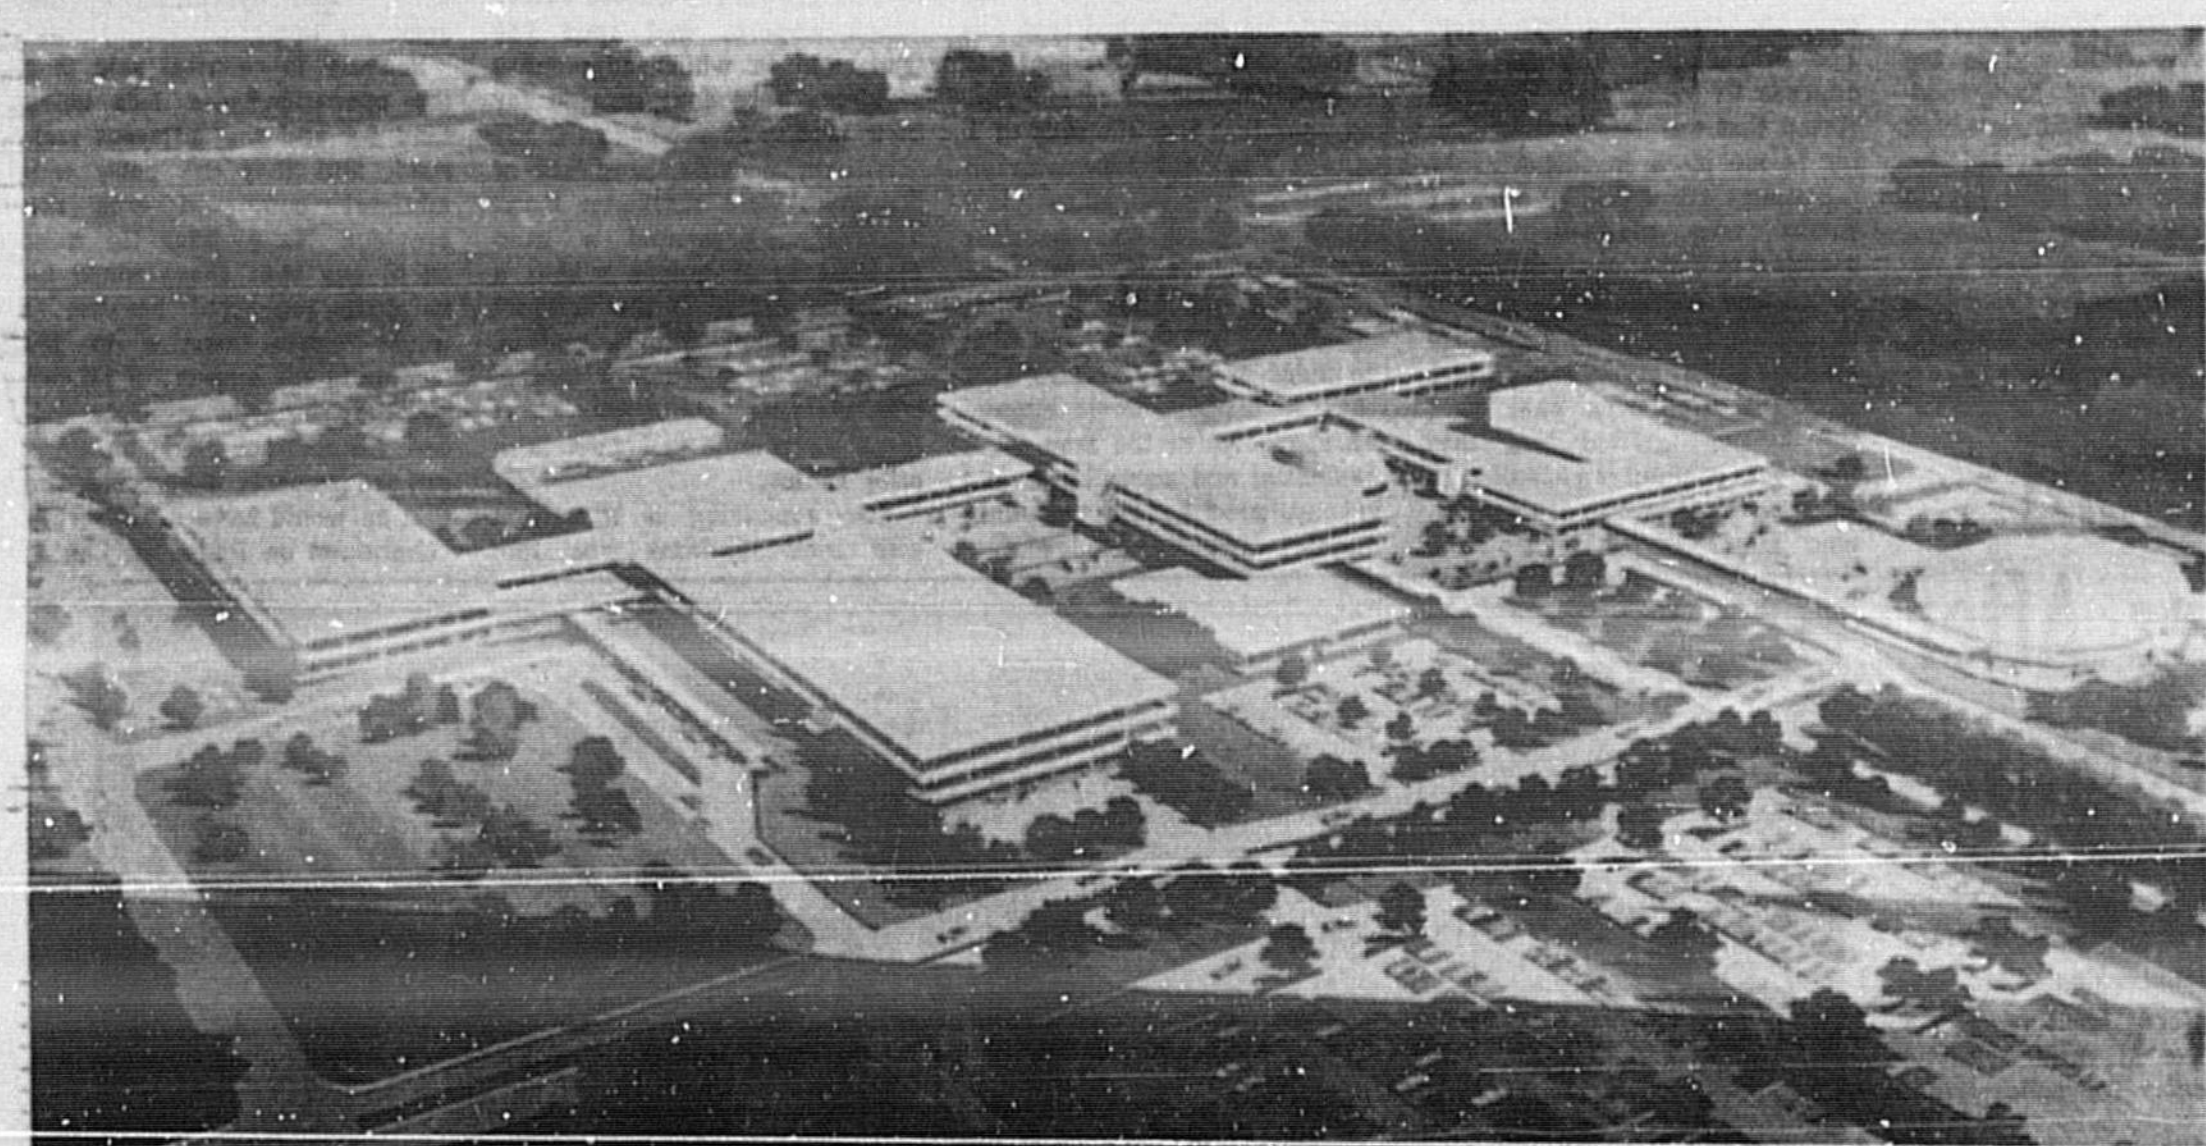

In the actual design of a school, the philosophy behind the actual structure was determined and the architect's plans were adapted to the specific needs of the children and young adults who would be using the facility. The schools were literally tailored to meet the needs (education, emotional and physical) of the students.

So special esthetic enjoyment and quality are built into the schools right along with the concepts the educators deem most important. The evolution of a project such as the junior college or the middle school is intricate. Basically it is this: An open work session with all department heads puts everyone on the same path; then the departments meet to learn the feelings and reactions of each member of the team; the information thus gleaned is analyzed and the overall direction for the project is obtained.

"The need to improve our environment has never been greater than at the present time," claim Burton and his associate architects. They note the importance of the visual world. There is no need for that world to be unpleasant. "There is no better area to start a reversal of the average man's complacency about this environment than in the schools he attends." For it is in the schools that the backdrop for his life is found. It is in the schools that tastes in quality and comfort are formed.

Youth Swears Off Drugs Too Late; Dies Overdose

By SARA FRITZ
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — When his father died a few months ago, Joe Vertullo trimmed his long hair and swore off drugs. Vertullo, 18, a 10th-grade dropout, took over his father's window-installing business and began seeing less and less of his old friends. After dinner Tuesday night friends said Vertullo stopped at a street-corner hangout in the Mt. Washington section of the city. Six hours later Vertullo and a companion, George Reis, also 18, were dead, apparent victims of an overdose of dilaudid, a pain-killing drug 30 times more powerful than morphine.

Vertullo, Reis and three other youths apparently injected the drug into their veins at a party in the middle-income section overlooking the city. The three others survived the drug dose. Keith Sherlock, 20, who worked in a neighborhood supermarket, was hospitalized in critical condition today. He was still unconscious. Cathy Augustine, 19, a petite dark-haired girl, and John Diaro, 20, who were wandering dazed from the drug when they were found, were released from a city hospital Wednesday night.

Convicted Of Extortion

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI) — Trenton Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and four others were convicted Wednesday on charges of extortion and conspiracy which the government called "cold-blooded, calculated" corruption in the state's largest city. The federal court jury found all five defendants guilty on all counts in the 64-count indictment arising from a kickback scheme from which the defendants allegedly netted $1.4 million from companies doing business with the city of Newark.

Trenton Leaders Guilty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate subcommittee was told today most brands of dry cereal provide little nutrition and many of the least nutritious brands cost the most and are advertised heavily on children's television shows. Robert B. Choate, a civilian engineer who has worked on a number of government nutrition projects, said poor children particularly suffer as a result of misleading commercials equating strength and athletic prowess with a brand of breakfast cereal. "The worst cereals are huckstered to the children on a totally anti-nutritional basis equating sweetness with health and ability, while the very few good cereals are sold to adults in a manner all but denying nutrient cost analysis," Choate said in testimony prepared for the Senate consumers subcommittee.

Cereal Foods Slapped By Senate Committee

Choate, a Republican, was an assistant on the staff of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, and a nutrition consultant to both the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs. He presented today's testimony as a private citizen, and said he obtained the brand-by-brand information from cereal manufacturers. Of the 60 brands, he said, "Clearly the best from a nutrient standpoint" were Kellogg's Product 10, General Mills' Kaboom and General Mills' Total. He rated six others "nutritionally mediocre to poor." They were Nabisco 100 Per Cent Bran, Quaker Oats Life, General Foods (Post) Fortified Oat Flakes, Kellogg's Special K, General Foods (Post) Super Sugar Crisp, and Kellogg's Sugar Smacks.

Cab Driver Held

MIAMI (UPI) — Police arrested a Miami cab driver early today on charges of killing two women in a tomato field Monday after the daylight robbery of the Coral Gables Western Union office. The suspect, Milton Niport, 37, was arrested after he stepped off an airliner from Los Angeles at Miami's International Airport shortly after midnight. A dozen officers were waiting at the departing ramp when Niport stepped off the plane. He struggled briefly with the officers, but quickly was subdued.

Citrus Farmers Lash Back At Migrant Film

By CELIENE BRUCE
Florida citrus farmers, indignant at what they called one-sided tales of poor migrant living conditions, lashed back Wednesday with stories of drab farm workers who ruin housing a week after they move in. "They get drunk on weekends, take Monday to sober up, work pretty well until they get paid Thursday night, and then start again," said Albin Crutchfield of Deerfield Groves Co., Waikona. "We've had some groups that have broken windows, torn out plumbing and instead of using the bathtub, filled it up with items for storage," said Crutchfield. "This isn't true of all of them," he said. "This isn't all their problem. It's a community problem."

Convicted Of Extortion

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI) — Trenton Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio and four others were convicted Wednesday on charges of extortion and conspiracy which the government called "cold-blooded, calculated" corruption in the state's largest city. The federal court jury found all five defendants guilty on all counts in the 64-count indictment arising from a kickback scheme from which the defendants allegedly netted $1.4 million from companies doing business with the city of Newark.

Trenton Leaders Guilty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate subcommittee was told today most brands of dry cereal provide little nutrition and many of the least nutritious brands cost the most and are advertised heavily on children's television shows. Robert B. Choate, a civilian engineer who has worked on a number of government nutrition projects, said poor children particularly suffer as a result of misleading commercials equating strength and athletic prowess with a brand of breakfast cereal.

Cereal Foods Slapped By Senate Committee

Choate, a Republican, was an assistant on the staff of the White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, and a nutrition consultant to both the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs. He presented today's testimony as a private citizen, and said he obtained the brand-by-brand information from cereal manufacturers.

Citrus Farmers Lash Back At Migrant Film

Florida citrus farmers, indignant at what they called one-sided tales of poor migrant living conditions, lashed back Wednesday with stories of drab farm workers who ruin housing a week after they move in. "They get drunk on weekends, take Monday to sober up, work pretty well until they get paid Thursday night, and then start again," said Albin Crutchfield of Deerfield Groves Co., Waikona.

Cab Driver Held

MIAMI (UPI) — Police arrested a Miami cab driver early today on charges of killing two women in a tomato field Monday after the daylight robbery of the Coral Gables Western Union office. The suspect, Milton Niport, 37, was arrested after he stepped off an airliner from Los Angeles at Miami's International Airport shortly after midnight.

One Political Milestone Passed-More To Come

Now the candidates have "qualified"—a purely legal designation not to be confused with the real meaning of that specific and important designation a person's ability and capacity—the time for intra-party debate is on us.

Next milestone in the race for elected office is Sept. 8th when the first primaries will be held. On Sept. 22nd the second primaries take place and on Nov. 3rd the General Election Day.

Thus what every voter is confronted with are some weeks when oratory will be at a maximum and the keenest attention will be needed to reduce all this to facts on which to form judgment.

However, there are some results which can now be listed. One of these is that Gov. Claude R. Kirk, Jr.'s widely heralded hope for Republican majorities in the next state legislature has lost almost all semblance of reality.

Democrats will control the senate as the GOP does not have a chance to upset the Democratic ma-

Majority there. So far as the 119 seats in the house of representatives are concerned, Democrats are assured of 54, where no Republican has qualified to contest. The balance of six which will be needed to continue the Democrat majority there are practically assured of being won.

For Seminole County, however, this matter of representation in the state legislature has been reduced to a situation which approaches "taxation without representation." Among all the candidates from the Orange-Seminole legislative district there is only one who lives in Seminole.

He is Rep. E. Pope Bassett (R) of Altamonte Springs who has both Republican and Democratic opposition. This reduces the one man, one vote theory to the ridiculous.

Mr. Bassett, it should be remembered, is one of the delegation who has communicated with his constituents during his term. This is a condition which has been spotlighted by the lack of communication from others.

But he will have to fight for his nomination in the Republican primaries and, if defeated, would remove the only resident of Seminole County from the legislative representation this growing county certainly deserves and needs.

Among these top offices has been made by our brethren of the Fourth Estate that the most intriguing result of the qualifying period is the obvious fact that the Republicans are challenging for all the top offices—United States Senator, House of Representatives, Governor and Cabinet Posts.

But the existence of a true two-party political condition is yet to be created in the lower echelons of government in Florida.

Among these top offices the primary fight will also produce the fireworks. For the Republicans this has the possibility of the most eye-opening display while the veteran US Representative William Cramer of St. Petersburg drives for the seat of retiring Senator Sprossard Holland (D) and is opposed by former Federal Judge Harold Carwell of Tallahassee, whose chief asset is his identification with the conservative wing.

On the gubernatorial race, the drive by incumbent Governor Kirk is off and running with Central Florida as its key command post. He has important rivals and this intra-party feuding will deserve close watching.

Democrats are in the same sort of fix with rivalries expected to make a contest for their gubernatorial nomination important as the hopefuls are forced into precise definition of programs they will espouse.

In less than seven weeks the primaries will be here. By then the final day to register to vote—Aug. 8th will have come and gone—and we would repeat the advice which has gone out to voters with increasing vehemence: Register and Vote!

Politicians have complied with their legal necessities and qualified. Can voters do less?

Worth Reading

Now is the time when "Letters To The Editor" gets more attention and becomes more lively with the political winds brewing up to what can very well become "hurricane" intensity.

We are, in line with this situation, printing an editorial from the Williamson (W. Va.) Daily News stating their policy for handling anonymous letters with which we are quite in harmony.

"The Williamson Daily News, like most newspapers, likes to give its readers a voice. The 'Letters To The Editor' section is a much read feature of a newspaper. Heretofore, the Daily News has had a strict rule against anonymous or unsigned letters and has consigned such letters immediately to the circular file (wastebasket) without further ado.

"Now we are making a slight, but important change in the policy covering letters to the editor. Anonymous or unsigned letters will be accepted if they pertain to issues and situations and the same taboo will hold on letters dealing with personalities. In other words you can write complaints about the condition of roads, but you cannot lambast the person who is in charge of the maintenance unless you sign your letter with your name and an identifiable address.

"Letters are never rejected merely because they criticize this newspaper, or, for that matter, any member of its staff. But they are rejected occasionally on the grounds of bad taste, or possible libel, or similar reasons. Letters from any organized campaign or letter-writing on political issues will not be published as concerned letter-writing for a particular political candidate."

Double Take, Pls.

PUSHING UP FOR THE BIG SHOOT-OUT

Washington Window:

"Functional Economic Area"

By LOUIS CASSELL
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some of America's cities are too big and some of its towns too small to be effective units of government.

Although these problems of too much and too little may seem to be at opposite poles, both can be solved by application of the same concept, says Dr. Karl A. Fox, who heads the Department of Economics at Iowa State University.

Fox's basic idea, as he outlined in this reporter, is that both urban and rural communities should be organized on the basis of "functional economic areas" of not less than 100,000 or more than 500,000 population.

The size of these units would vary according to population density and might range from a few square miles in metropolitan areas to several counties in sparsely settled sections.

Included in the group are men and women representing an assortment of new left and revolutionary organizations and one Robert Sherr, former editor of Ramparts magazine and a candidate for the U. S. Senate from California.

The aim of the mission, say Cleaver and Sherr, is to brainstorm the American people and, by telling the truth about a part of the history that has been lost and still exists in Korea—a history of U.S. imperialism in Korea, to make the American military presence in South Korea a new target of the anti war movement in this country.

One wonders if these people can be for real.

There is nothing Americans would like better than to be able to end their "imperialism" and bring home the 50,000 troops that have been stationed for the past 17 years in South Korea, a dozen or a score of whom are murdered every year by an ambush by the North Koreans along the armistice line.

They know, of course, what would happen if they did, and so do the South Koreans.

Hemp Control: Birth Control

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Up to now, the most sought-after document published by the U.S. government has been a booklet titled "Infant Care" which sells for 20 cents and has about 15 million copies in print.

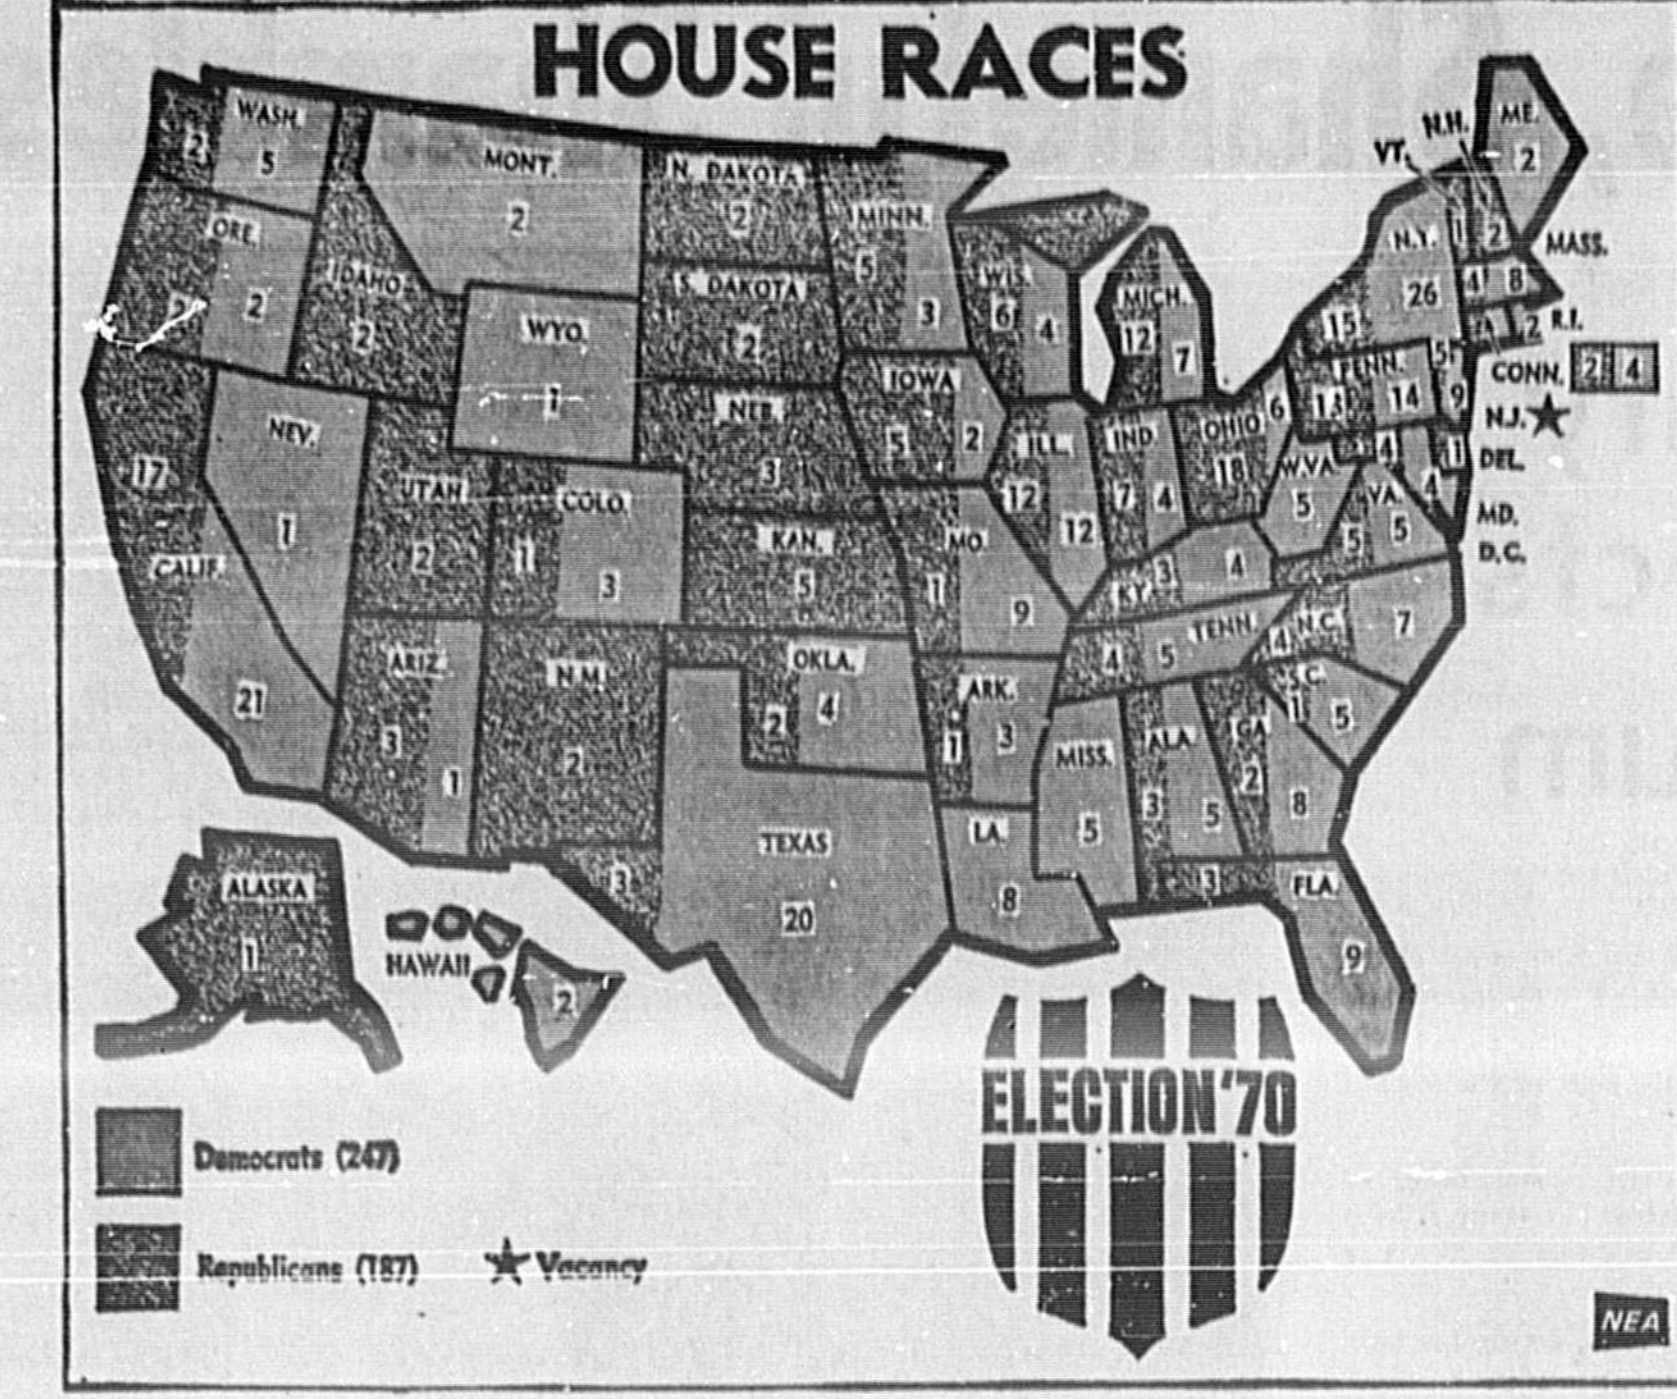

But I will say you odds that this popular publication will soon be overtaken by a pamphlet titled "Wild Hemp—How to Control It," which has just gone on sale at the Government Printing Office for 10 cents a copy.

In case you are wondering why the government has developed such a keen interest in wild hemp, let me explain that the Spanish word for that particular plant is marijuana (pronounced "mari-wana").

The stuff grows wild in many parts of the United States. Which makes enforcement of anti-drug laws rather difficult. So, as a public service, the Agriculture Department, in cooperation with the Justice Department, prepared the pamphlet on wild hemp control.

The pamphlet tells where to look for wild hemp. It is usually found in uncultivated areas such as abandoned fields, on ditch banks, in fence rows, and along low railroad tracks.

Candidates Air Views

C. L. Cooper
This is C. L. Cooper's statement to the people of Seminole County, who may wish to compare him as their Republican candidate for County Commissioner in District Four.

I am a Navy veteran and a family man, residing with my wife, Ann, and our children at 18 Lotus Lake in Caselberry.

My education includes a major in social science at Martin Jr. College in Palatka, Tennessee and Florence State Teachers College in Florence, Alabama. Later I took a year of health engineering courses at the University of Tennessee.

I have lived in Seminole County eight years. During that time I have received the "Physical Fitness Award," and also their Distinguished Service Award. In 1966 I was named Optimist of the Year, by the South Seminole Optimist Club.

Presently I serve as a member of the Board of Directors of the Orlando Youth Center, hoping to gain insight and experience into the operation of all phases of this type of facility. For the past six years I have served as president of Seminole Little League, an independent non-profit organization attempting to provide a program of recreation for approximately 900 boys and girls of Seminole County.

Having served for two years on the long range planning recreation committee for Seminole County, I am very anxious to see the county purchase and preserve some of our more beautiful natural areas as parks. This would serve as an aid both in providing recreation areas, and in preserving a pure water supply and game habitat.

Those of you who know me are aware of my interest in the youth of Seminole County. I consider them to be the greatest natural resource available to us today. The majority of them are creative, capable, intelligent and moral, and not at all deserving of the rejection and criticism sometimes heaped upon them. The biggest problem I have encountered with the bewildered minority of troubled children, is in protecting them from unscrupulous adults.

Our juvenile officers, counselors, the courts and the departments of welfare who deal with the needs of our youth have done a superb job considering what they have to work with. It is my earnest desire to see these dedicated people provided with a good juvenile detention home. From my close association with these people, I know it is not their wish to see children lodged in the county jail. I will cooperate with any workable existing plan to correct this situation or work diligently to plan and carry to completion whatever facilities are necessary.

Dr. J. C. Ringling, Sanford dentist and Democratic candidate for Seminole County Board District Number One, said today he would like to re-visit the School Board Advisory Committee to help the board make proper decisions concerning the operation of the county's 28 schools.

Ringling, father of three children, one still attending school, issued this statement along with a platform advocating his beliefs relative to the operation of the county school system.

Ringling said he was a part of the advisory group composed of parents and taxpayers.

Relating his candidacy to school board, Ringling said "decisions should be made with the interest of the children in mind and what is best for their education."

He continued, "the people,

Re: Seminole Turf Club. For 65 days Central Florida has had thoroughbred racing at its finest.

Horses running in record time, going on to the Gaines Motor in Miami and winning.

While the meet has not been a financial success, I do feel it has been successful in planting the seed for thoroughbred racing to become one of the most popular spectator sports in this area.

Seminole Turf Club has excellent facilities for the horsemen. The patrons were pleased with grandstand and club house facilities. While patronage was low it was enough for a start that will surely grow to far greater success for Seminole Turf Club.

Ringling has received awards from St. John Baptist Church for civic and community relations, Junior Achievement, Boy Scouts and Citizen of the Day on Radio Station WTRR.

Ringling said provisions should be made for the anticipated growth of the county and acceptable programs should be worked out with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) to prevent a loss of federal funds.

A native of Tallahassee Ringling graduated from Florida A&M with a B.S. degree before attending Howard University Medical School for his D.D.S. degree.

With a year of oral surgery at Washington, the dentist attended various clinics on Periodontia, Prosthodontia and Oral Surgery.

He is a member of the American Dental Association, Florida Dental Association, Central District Society, Florida Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association's board of directors, National Dental Association and Seminole Memorial Hospital staff.

Ringling belongs to the Masonic Shrine, Elks and Chi Delta Mu fraternal groups.

His public service record includes Seminole Chamber of Commerce member, Junior Achievement advisor, Office of Economic Opportunity local treasurer, Manpower Committee member, Crown High School Quarterback Club business manager and gives four days a month free service to indigent school children at Seminole Health Center.

Fan Tells Why Turf Club Closed

Editor, Herald:
In answer to why the Turf Club had to close, the following points are important.

- 1) Payoffs slight. Favorites usually won.
- 2) Beer price way too high—a draft at standing bar, for 60 cents. Must build up patronage of dog and Jal Alai fans.
- 3) In the opening week high drink prices aren't good salesmanship. Even though concessions not controlled by track, they could have done something. The dog and Jal Alai fans come out first for curiosity purposes and on second thought they are hungry. The thirsty and hungry were taken on one trip was enough then back to 35-45 cent beer at the corner bar.
- 4) Too long between races compared to a lot of tracks. Don't know if anything can be done.
- 5) Did not have Quinlan first week when attendance was high and this discouraged fans.
- 6) Six pack fan

Group Carries Grievances To County Commission

Food Stamp Program, 'Action's' Grant Is Aired By Delegation

By MARION BETHA

In grievances which were brought to the attention of the County Commission by the citizens of the county, the controversial Food Stamp program, and grant to Seminole Action in the amount of $39,000 were among points of contention.

County Commission Chairman John Alexander told the group that the county was used as a check-point for such programs as Head Start and food stamps, and that because the commission took exception to the grant to SCA, did not mean total rejection of the concept. He continued that he had no information which changed the position, that in the grant $45,000 is allocated to salaries, and $12,000 to emergency grocery orders.

Alexander said that this was the program which was submitted to the county and was a matter of public record.

He continued that he failed to see the need for such a food stamp program which already had been implemented by the county, and that if federal funds were available, the entire amount should be allocated to emergency food or immediate implementation of the program.

The proposal has never been re-submitted to the commission, according to Alexander, and the commission still "doesn't have the application of what the $38,000 is."

Rev. William Burke questioned Alexander concerning the commodity program in adjacent counties, and why Seminole county varied.

REMARKS FOR FOOD

Alexander told Burke that a federal and local program, in expansion of available welfare programs, were earmarked for food in lieu of any other cash adjustment, and that the $5 emergency grocery order was funded from local taxes.

Rev. E. E. Murray queried how much the county designated for emergency food, to which Alexander replied that there was $10,000 in the county budget.

Murray criticized the local welfare by the statement that "they act as if it's their money down there." Alexander retorted that it was the responsibility of the employees to determine if there were bona fide needs, and to administer the money to qualified individuals.

He continued that this was the first accusation he had heard against the welfare department, to which Murray shot back:

"You mean this is the first time the program has been criticized?"

Commissioner Robert Parker said that he was "not against the food stamp program," but against allocating $12,000 for food as opposed to six salaried workers at $6,000 each. Parker continued that he planned to attend the next SCA meeting to state that he was against the program as submitted to the commission, Murray injected, "Would there be any different action if it were approached by white?"

"NOT A GOOD PROGRAM"

Alexander answered this question by saying that "I don't feel that it is a good program in what has been presented."

Commissioner Greg Drummond continued along these lines by saying that he endorsed black administration of the program, since the white person could not feel what was going, and he was bad psychology for a white man to tell the black what to do. Drummond recommended that all concerned talk about recommendations so that the recipients would receive the most from the program.

Murray told the commission that it was the commission of the black community that the program was being rejected simply because it was to be administered by blacks.

Alexander retorted this charge by saying that it was not good sense to survey a program for documentation which has already been put into effect, and that based upon original information which was submitted 80 per cent of the grant was allocated to salaries and 20 per cent to food.

Mrs. Louise Crawford, SCA's executive director of SCA, said that the original proposal submitted to the commission was for suggestions and not approval, and that after receiving information that too much administrative costs were involved that the SCA took the suggestions and "re-worked the proposal," which she said Rev. Amos Jones re-submitted to the county.

Alexander rebuffed that "no body re-submitted the application to the board." He continued that the county was a check-point that they were a check-point that they were a check-point.

Gl's Forced To Abandon Base

Yanks Clobbered By Heavy Fire

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SANQUO (AP) — Heavy Viet and Vietnamese fire that killed 24 Americans and wounded 35 in the area in the past three weeks forced the United States to abandon a patrol base in the northwestern sector of South Vietnam.

The U.S. troops hastily pulled out of Base Ripcord north of the Laotian border, slipping some to their own artillery, less than 24 hours after a patrol operating a mile away suffered the heaviest casualties in a single action in 2 1/2 months.

A command spokesman said CH-53 Chinook helicopter was shot down during the evacuation but there were no casualties.

The base was evacuated on Tuesday night, and at least three more Americans were killed and 10 wounded in the withdrawal.

The base on a 1,000-foot ridge north of the A Shau Valley and 15 miles from Laos had been in operation for the past 3 1/2 months and had been under mortar siege since July 1.

Troops of the 101st Airborne Division, operating in and around the base screened enemy infiltration corridors leading from Laos and North Vietnam toward South Vietnam's northern coast.

As one officer put it, the paratroopers were to "keep track of what's going on and to prevent the North Vietnamese from moving into the lowlands where the population is."

It was the first time since Nov. 2 that U.S. forces had abandoned a patrol base under enemy pressure and destroyed the guns to keep them out of enemy hands.

On Wednesday, the enemy swung an ambush as the patrol was operating a mile east of the base.

Osceola Field Tests OK

Battles In Offing For Party Posts

By MARION BETHA

One of the controversial items which will come under discussion at a meeting of the County Commission Tuesday relative to the use of Osceola Air Field as the county's central sanitary landfill, is a report currently being studied by representatives of the county, from Ardman and Associates, The firm is an engineering laboratory with offices in Orlando, Sarasota, Cocoa, Tampa and Tallahassee.

In a report, sent to the office of County Engineer William Bush on July 8, a comprehensive study and investigation was made of subsurface soil at Osceola.

The report indicated that due to heavy underbrush of pine trees and palm trees, the accessibility to the site by the firm's drilling equipment was limited. However, the field investigation consisted of making four standard penetration borings and the site conditions are satisfactory, according to the report, for a conservative evaluation of the bearing capacity of sandy soils and has been widely accepted by foundation design engineers and architects.

A continuous drilling procedure was used. The soil sampler was driven into the ground two feet at a time, then extracted for visual examination and classification of the retained soil samples. The soil under heavy required penetration and the texture of the soil were recorded for each foot of drilled depth. Samples were taken at every five feet of drilled depth and at each change of soil strata and brought to the laboratory in air-tight jars for further evaluation and testing if necessary.

The soil profile, according to the report, indicates at various depths from 2 to 2 1/2 that the soil composition is very loose, loose, medium compact, and fine sand with some broken shells.

Tests were made of the ground water table and indicated in test holes from 1-4 feet depths of 3.5 feet, 13 feet, 23 feet and 30 feet.

The report continued that on the basis of the soil borings, the geology of the area and site conditions, it is the opinion of the firm that the use of the Osceola site is satisfactory and would not be harmful to adjacent water bodies, such as Lake Harney or the artesian aquifer. This, according to the report, is because the piezometric level is such in this area that very little downward percolation would ultimately reach such an aquifer. Should any rainfall eventually percolate downward into the aquifer such water would have to seep through a considerable amount of fine soils where the soil would act as a purifier, and it is the opinion of the firm that such seepage, if any, would be purified prior to reaching the aquifer. The other possible cause of harm or contamination resulting from use of this site for a sanitary landfill is contamination of the ground water table in the immediate vicinity of the site. However, the report continued, based upon the understanding that the site would be developed with the perimeter ditches would stop such contamination and Ardman does not foresee any harm to adjacent water bodies lying outside the site.

Fire Plan May Be On Ballot

By MARION BETHA

County Commissioner Sidney Vilhen Jr. brought to the attention of the commission that the issue of a fire district in Loch Arber, near Green, Ravenna Park, Hillside and Greenview.

Vilhen advised that the Loch Arber Fire Department no longer will provide services to this area, and therefore, residents should be organized to form a fire district.

Commissioners also heard a statement from Commissioner Greg Drummond that he had received complaints of pollution from the Little Wkiva River from the High Acres Concentrate Plant. County Sanitarian Val Robbins told the board that the plant was closed for two weeks prior to an inspection by his department, but that it was progressing with control of pollution. Robbins will review the matter and report to the board.

On another matter Robbins reported that all industrial polluting ponds in the county have now been fenced as per county regulations.

John Morris, president of the Sanford Seminoles Jaycees, appeared before the commission, reporting that in the lease agreement with the county for the Tric Park, the Jaycees are having maintenance problems. Morris said that five acres are being problems, particularly with drainage, and cited a ditch in the southern portion of the park as compounding the problem.

The secretary stressed again that by next spring U.S. forces will be down to 28,000 troops or fewer — about half the U.S. garrison in Vietnam when the Nixon administration took power in January 1969.

Briefly mentioning the controversial incursion of Cambodia, which touched off widespread campus demonstrations in May, Laird said: "Evidence multiplies that the President's strategy and his doctrine are producing the desired results."

The Pentagon chief did not say what that evidence is, but he indicated he meant lower battlefield casualties in the Vietnam war and forward movement in the troop withdrawal program.

Ex-Orange Aide Seeks Millions

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Former Orange County Solicitor Collins White filed a $5.5 million libel suit in federal court here Wednesday over a book about the life of convicted firm head Glenn T. Turner.

White was charged last year with conspiring to bribe Turner, chairman of the board of Kosco Interplanetary, Inc., allegedly in return for holding up legal action against the firm.

White denied the charge and later was exonerated of all charges.

His suit also names the author of the book, Pulitzer prize winning reporter John Frasca, along with Drake House, Inc., and NCG Publishing Co. as defendants.

Draft News Is Good: Average Will Go Down

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today draft calls for the rest of 1970 will average below 10,000 a month, a return to pre-Vietnam levels.

Laird made this forecast in a speech for about 500 students working as summer interns with the government.

"In the remaining months of this year," Laird said, "I anticipate that draft calls will average below 10,000 per month."

In the past, he has predicted that total draft calls this year will fall between 150,000 and 160,000, young men compared with the 290,000 drafted in 1969.

Aides said Laird still expects that forecast. Through August, draft calls this year have totaled 124,500.

In his talk, Laird assured the students that "We are doing all we can to plan and implement a program that will reduce draft calls to zero and enable us to establish an all-volunteer force."

But he cautioned that, in order to make the shift, Congress must provide a major increase in the defense budget.

Miss Sharon Wyatt And James A. Cress Exchange Vows

By MARYANN MILES

Miss Sharon Marie Wyatt and James Andrew Cress were united in Holy Matrimony Sunday, June 7, 1970, at 3 p.m. at the Forest Lake Seventh-Day Adventist Church, Forest City.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Wyatt, Forest City, and the bridegroom is the son of Elder and Mrs. Charles Cress of Orlando.

Pastor Cress was the officiating clergyman for his son's wedding, before an altar decorated with white mums and aspidragos and two branched candelabra. Miss Nancy Lou Cress, organist, presented a recital of appropriate nuptial selections. Soloists were Miss Susan Danforth and Thomas Brown. Given in marriage by her father, the radiant bride chose for her vows a formal full-length gown of nylon over net and white tulle. Delicate white daisy lace with white satin ribbon insertion decorated the Empire style dress with a graceful A-line skirt. A demure stand-up collar and long sleeves, puffed full with lace and satin insertion trim, fitted at the wrist, completed the lovely gown.

The full chapel train was lavishly embroidered with a daisy lace trim and fell from a bodice of matching lace. The bridal nosegay was of white daisies with baby's breath edged with greenery, white streamers with daisies on the end of the streamers.

Miss Marilyn Lettner was maid of honor, dressed in yellow tulle with yellow taffeta with flocked white daisies and a matching wide brimmed hat trimmed in daisies.

Bridesmaids were Eulita Wyatt, sister of the bride, Joy Smith, Pat Harris, Cindy Fowler and Myra Walton, a cousin of the bride.

Flower girls were Mona Loyd and Natalie Nestel, cousins of the bride.

Wayne Swilley was best man. Other attendants were Bill Hoyle, John Cress, Bobby Peeke, Doug Foley and Bachman F. Palmer Jr. Ushers were Clifford Myers, Rick Tryon and Vic Kostako.

The candle lighters were Deana Wyatt, sister of the bride, and David Cress, brother of the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wyatt chose a short-sleeved turquoise silk shantung dress with an orchid corsage complementing her outfit.

Mrs. Cress, mother of the groom, wore a blue silk dress, also an orchid corsage.

Very special guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wyatt, grandparents from Zephyrhills who celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary on May 21.

Mrs. Wyatt chose a silk blue dress for the occasion of her granddaughter's wedding. Mrs. Opal Podstom, another grandmother coming also from Zephyrhills, chose a soft pink silk dress for the wedding.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Academy Cafeteria. Miss Betty Jeff was in charge of

Bridal Party At Morrison Home Honors Jacalyn Angel

By DORIS WILLIAMS

Society Editor

Excitement and activity reign at the lovely Loch Arbor home of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Morrison as three busy, attractive and youthful hostesses were all glitter making plans for a magnificent bridal shower to honor the bride-elect, Jacalyn Angel, who will become the bride of Dennis Crawford Friday night, July 25.

Sharing the hostess honors with Cyndee Morrison Jarrell, Jay Morrison and Candi Wharton were their equally attractive mothers, Barbara Morrison and Sylvia Wharton.

A large round imported hand-laid brass table in the living room was overflowing with beautifully packaged gifts which the excited bride-elect nervously opened to the delight of the guests.

In a French Provincial setting, the dining room table centered before a picture window overlooking the terrace and lake, reflected the ultimate in a bridal motif. The table, overlaid with shimmering lace, featured a tasteful arrangement, an antique silver candelabrum with glowing white tapers accented by a magnificent arrangement of pink roses and baby's breath. A cut glass pedestal punch bowl graced one end of the picturesque table which was further appointed in silver and crystal.

Colorful counters threw their calculators to the winds as they devoured the luscious peanut butter and lemon meringue pies served by the hostesses.

Invited to the evening pre-nuptial party were Mrs. Doris Angel, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. John Crawford, the future bridegroom's mother.

Also the Misses E. E. Anderson, Ross Adams, O. L. Banks, Arthur Beckwith, J. B. Crawford, Carl E. Chorpensing, Fred Gans, Price Heard, R. L. Harvey, John Ivey and C. O. Jones. Also Misses R. W.
