Ravenna Park Open House Attracts 1,500 Viewers

The Ravenna Park Homes open house attracted families from all over Central Florida Sunday to see the seven models of three and four bedroom homes.

The door prizes, an electric blanket, donated by Sanford Electric Co., went to Mrs. P. L. Elmore of 1101 Lincoln St.

Parents showed interest in the family planned homes and kiddies were wide-eyed waiting for rides on the ponies in the play area of the park.

The home with the solid oak block floors drew the largest amount of attention along with the demonstration of the Partio

Cart, a deluxe all-outdoors cooking and serving unit. It was demonstrated by Lucy Nowlin, home economist for Florida Power and Light Co., and Dave Thrasher, sales representative. A. K. Shoemaker Jr., head of Shoemaker Construction Co., builder of the homes, reported that this was a most successful home showing with about 1,500 people in the area visiting Ravenna Park and viewing the homes.

New York Police Boss Threatens To Call Out Marines On Strike

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York City Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy threatened today to call out the Marines if discontented policemen carry out a massive "sick" strike on election day.

Kennedy, buffeted by a feud with his own force, added that if the Marines were not available Nov. 8, he would call on the militia, the military police or the paratroopers to protect the "sacred" right to vote in peace. He also said he would fire any policemen involved in such a strike.

However, John J. Cassese, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association which has long called for Kennedy's resignation, denied any "sick" strike was afoot for election day when the entire 24,000-man force is used because of the voting. Kennedy said Monday he had reports that large numbers of policemen planned to call in sick and say they were too ill to report to the police surgeon for a checkup, making it impossible for the police doctor to verify or object to all sick reports by making house calls.

The election day strike report followed a traffic ticket "slow-down" or strike exactly one week ago, allegedly called by leaders of policemen who objected to Kenney's sharp crackdown on the illegal but prevalent practice of "moonlighting," in which patrolmen hold outside jobs to supplement their salaries.

Run Down:

We often unconsciously compare our own body mechanics to that of a watch. You'll hear people say: "I'm run down." Why not carry the analogy one step further? When a watch is run down and doesn't work right we have it adjusted. We can do the same for the body through Chiropractic treatment.

The result in both cases is the same. The watch and the body are both made up of hundreds of tiny parts, all of which must be meshed together in perfect co-ordination and balance, and with nothing to impede the flow of vital energy. The main spring of the watch is its "brain." With human beings the brain is the main spring of all our actions conscious and unconscious. Our system of interlocking gears, to transmit vital impulses from the brain is our spinal cord. Shock, fatigue, a fall, any one of a hundred causes can throw the spine off balance, interfere with proper channeling of nerve impulses from the brain to the other organs of the body. When we're "run down," it is a symptom that, like our watches, we need adjusting. The Chiropractor corrects the distortion that has altered or obstructed the proper channeling of nervous impulses and restores the body to the desired equilibrium. Are you a Chiropractic case? One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FA1rfax 2-7412.

Here's 'Foxy' Story

Three young campers received the surprise of their lives last Saturday night when they were awakened by having their faces licked by a friendly little gray fox!

The boys, Bruce McKibbin, Jimmy Higginbotham, and Ralph DeJong had pitched their tent in a field near the Pinecrest school, when the little fox joined the party at about 1 a. m.

When the excited and somewhat fearful boys roused up to see what kind of nocturnal creature had invaded their campsite, the little fox, also startled by their sudden movements, ran away.

But she soon came back and began to frisk around the boys, uttering friendly little noises, and behaving much like a dog. Upon capturing the unexpected guest, the boys made a beeline for Jimmy's house nearby, and pounding on the door, quickly aroused Jimmy's father, who sleepily pronounced that it was indeed a fox, but that apparently she was somewhat "pet" as she seemed quite at home among humans.

When the excitement of having a real live wild animal for a friend had died down a little, the boys took the new friend back to their camp, where she settled down with them, and made herself at home.

A breakfast of dog food, seemed to satisfy her in the early morning, and she stayed in Jimmy's house all day, only dashing under the couch, when strangers in the form of all the neighbor-

Navy Set For Guantanamo Seizure

EDITORS NOTE: United Press International reving reporter Jack V. Fox is on the scene at the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo-Cuba. In the following dispatch Fox tells how the Navy is prepared to defend against any attempt by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro to seize the base.

GUANTANAMO NAVAL BASE, Cuba (UPI)—The U. S. Navy has put plainly marked mine fields around Guantanamo base as a defense precaution against any possible attack by the revolution-ary government of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

The Navy disclosed that land mines have been planted along the 24-mile perimeter dividing the key naval base from Cuban territory. The mines are all inside a steel mesh and barbed wire fence and there are warning signs in Spanish and English.

The action was taken by the Navy on the possibility that Castro would do the unthinkable and order an attack on Guantanamo. Although Navy officials believe such a move is highly improbable, they are equally determined to repel it if it comes.

Rear Adm. Allen M. Smith, commander of the 10th Naval District, which includes Guantanamo, and Capt. C. W. Schoen-wels, commanding officer of the base here, went to great lengths to emphasize that the precautions are not aggressive.

Both pointed out the Navy is going ahead with plans to bring families of servicemen here on the assumption that Cuba will honor its treaty obligations.

They admitted, however, they cannot read what is in Castro's mind and they will not rule out an assault.

They feel that Castro is more likely to conduct a campaign of

We'll Stick With Kennedy

After carefully weighing the qualifications of the presidential candidates, the editor and publisher of the Sanford Herald has decided to cast his ballot on Nov. 8 for Sen. John Kennedy.

The decision was not without some misgivings about portions of the national Democratic platform that we consider immoderate and unsound. Yet, when we consider the broader picture, Sen. Kennedy inspires confidence as a vigorous and imaginative young man capable of brilliant leadership through the uncertain years ahead.

Jack Kennedy is an idealist who places the greatest emphasis on human values. He is, at the same time, a man skilled in practical politics who has demonstrated his ability to work in harmony with those of different political shadings. Moreover, it seems likely that the Democrats will continue to control Congress in the foreseeable future—and the greatest progress can be expected with a president and legislature of the same party.

Sen. Kennedy's Catholic religion definitely is a valid campaign issue and should be discussed frankly. It is our belief, however, that America has nothing to fear. If he becomes the first American president of the Catholic faith, Kennedy will be more apt to "lean the other way" to avoid any appearance of church-state involvement.

Republicans are fond of a phrase they have invented — "the new Dick Nixon." Presumably, we are to believe the vice president has evolved somehow from the businessman "subsidy" he accepted while serving as senator a decade ago. Today, we are told, he has risen far above the hatchetman political techniques through which he consorted with the late Sen. McCarthy to smear and defeat Sen. Tydings in Maryland.

We hope it is true. We hope there is a new Nixon. But America can't afford to gamble on it. As far as we're concerned, we'll play it safe with Jack Kennedy.

CROSSROADS OF THE WORLD

By William Drury

Frankfurt, Germany, is high on the list of places I can hardly wait to visit. In the hope of drumming up custom, British Overseas Airways Corporation suggests a tourist attraction near that fair city that should curl your hair.

Nothing less than the actual home of the original, gem-wine Frankenstein monster.

It makes a bit of a switch from the usual rosy promises of air lines, accustomed to describing the lands they serve in highly rapturous terms, offering calypso in the Caribbean, leis and lazy days in Hawaii, the old world charm of Europe and enchanted moments in the Exotic Orient.

out to search for the mysterious killer. They were poking about in a meadow near the forest that surrounds the castle when suddenly the moon was blacked out.

Looking up, they saw a fearful monster.

Rushing to the castle, they begged Baron Frankenstein for help. The Baron's son, a bonny young knight, said, "I'll take care of this Dad." And, reaching for his sword, went forth to do battle with the beast.

To use the terner vernacular, he should of stood in bed.

The found his body in the forest at dawn. Without a head. And all around him the trees and bushes were trampled flat, as though a cyclone had struck.

The monster must have been satisfied. It never appeared again.

"Today, travelers to the Frankfurt area may visit the Frankenstein castle," says B.O.A.C. "In its chapel relics of the fight may be viewed, along with a bust of the young knight, which, according to legend, was sculpted by someone who had known him."

Probably the monster.

Only the staid British air line offers you the home of a monster.

Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley, wife of the poet Percy Bysshe Shelley, based her famous spine-chiller, "Frankenstein or The Modern Prometheus," on an old German legend. And history insists that the legend was based on fact.

In Mrs. Shelley's novel, published in 1818, and in the well-known Hollywood movie, Frankenstein was a doctor who built a man in the exact image of Mr. Boris Karloff.

In other words, a living doll.

The real Frankenstein of history was a nobleman, not a mad scientist. He lived in the 18th Century. And none can say whether the monster that haunted his castle was man or beast, for no description of it survived the ages.

This Baron Frankenstein did not invent the monster. Matter of fact, he would not have touched it with a 10-foot pole. The brute loosed up production. So long as it was running around loose, no peasant dared go forth to kill the Baron's fields.

The peasants had good cause to be alarmed. Whenever one of them went gallivanting after dark, his body would be found next morning, minus some of its parts.

One night, armed with pitchforks and stakes, the peasants set

WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

IN PENNSYLVANIA WITH NIXON — There are two views, really from this whistle-stopper.

One is the postle beauty of the autumn hills. This is yours for the idle looking from the train window of your compartment. The other is the saucy razzmatazz off the rear platform. This occurs only when the train stops, but this is the main show.

Stop after stop you melt back into the crowd and become swept up in the storms of desperate indignation of the man up there on the platform shouting words which say that only he can save America.

It's wild-swinging, do or die, for Vice President Richard Nixon. But you knew what was coming back at Union Station in Washington. Dick and Pat stood midst the bunting of the platform and the vice president called out, shaking a fist: "You haven't seen anything yet!"

And, h said: "We're going to pour on the coal." And that's the way it was all day. He not only poured it on, he raked the coals — and Sen. John F. Kennedy over them.

The recklessness of Senator Kennedy's Cuba and Quemoy positions became more and more menacing as the train pulled westward across Pennsylvania.

Nixon started this way, shortly after dawn in York: "The most irresponsible suggestion ever made by a candidate for president of the United States." He referred to Jack's inference that he should have helped Batista in Cuba. A violation of five treaties, said Nixon.

And by the time he hit Altoona, the vice president was saying of his opponent: "He has disqualified himself as a candidate for president . . ."

But everything wasn't going the vice president's way on the first of four days of whistle-stopping.

In York he scowled at a half-dozen sarcastic, crudely lettered signs: "We lost our job at . . . We've never had it so good."

Each sign named a different industry.

And at Harrisburg Pat and Dick climbed — reluctantly it seemed — onto the top of the blue cushions of an open convertible for a ride to Market Square. It was a windy 42 degrees. The vice president was hatless. Mrs. Nixon was scarfless, goose pimples on her flesh.

"Aren't you cold?" I asked her. She gave a sick shiver. Her lips were blue.

Then, as balloons, released from the crowd, swirled high in crazy capers against the gray sky, Nixon, looking miserable with the cutting cold, waited to address the 12,000 assembled.

George Bloom, Pennsylvania Republican chairman, stepped up to do the introductions. For 10 minutes he yelled vainly into a dead microphone: "Can you hear me . . . Do you hear me?"

But rewards were greatest in Altoona. Here, the vice president found within himself a strange, new buoyancy.

Perhaps what brought it on was the sight of the crowd — 7,000 jammed in close in a heavy snow-storm.

"Would you apologize to Khrushchev?" he cried. And the echoing shout almost blew the snow away: "NO!"

That one response, the vice president thought, was worth the entire trip.

Nixon says over and over "Prestige Abroad Was Never Better." I ask: Prestige abroad such as when Nixon was stoned in Venezuela? Prestige abroad such as when Eisenhower was humiliated in Paris? Prestige abroad such as when James Hagerly and Douglas MacArthur Jr. had to be rescued from their car in Japan? Prestige abroad such as when Eisenhower was denied a visit to Japan?

May God help us should we be so forgetful, so short-sighted and so stupid as to permit continuance of such Republican brand of "Prestige Abroad."

I'VE GOT THE WINNER, BUDDY!

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

CASE G-414 Henry H., aged 38, is a business executive.

"But, Dr. Crane," he began, "I get off on the wrong foot most mornings.

"I barely get ready in time to catch my bus. In fact, I may scald myself with hot coffee as I gulp a few swallows, for I haven't time to eat.

"Then my irritation causes me to bark at my wife and snap at my two youngsters.

"Maybe if I got up earlier, I'd be able to enjoy a leisurely breakfast, but I am always dead for sleep, so I try to take advantage of every possible minute. Is there any solution?"

The main purpose of sleep is to rest your heart. In a few hours your arm and leg muscles are generally ready for work.

Indeed, the depth of sleep is greatest at the end of the first hour and by the end of the second, you are sleeping almost as lightly as at the 8th hour.

If Henry tries to benefit his heart by 15 minutes more shut-eye in the morning, his heart gains about 60 extra rest periods. For it beats about 72 times per minute during the leisurely waking state. While asleep, it may drop to 68 beats per minute.

Thus, his heart gains 4 rest periods per minute for those 15 extra minutes of slumber, making a total of 60 salvaged heart beats.

But by waking late and thus being in a mad frenzy each morning to get ready for work and catch the bus, his heart zooms to 80 beats per minute for at least the 40 minutes he is rushing around the house. Thus, it wastes an extra 8 beats (80-72) for 40 minutes or a total of 320 beats.

Subtract the 60 beats he gained by sleeping 15 minutes longer and his heart is still handicapped by a net loss of 260 beats.

So it is smarter to sleep less and then be more leisurely during breakfast. Note the contrast below:

By sleeping 15 minutes longer you actually penalize your heart by at least 260 beats, due to your frenzied morning rush.

Furthermore, your pulse may race faster for several hours, due to your initial irritation, for you may quarrel with clients or employees and further prod your heart into 1,000 needless beats.

Beware of eyestrain by watching late TV shows, especially when you must be on the job promptly next morning.

If you can't get your eyes open in the morning, after 8 hours of slumber, better reduce your evening eyestrain. Put an earlier curfew on your TV.

And have your eyes checked.

Moreover, dieting will give a 9-hour sleeper approximately the same refreshment in 8 hours, so long off the excess calories.

Weekend Picks

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fraley's follies and the weekend football "winners" — along with a few reflections on sports in general.

Game Of The Week

Iowa over Minnesota — Iowa a one-point choice, has a slightly better offense but a more porous defense in this battle of the undefeated. In one like this, go for the firepower.

The East

Syracuse over Army — officials should stop the piling on. Yale over Penn — Maybe it isn't dead, but boxing's critically ill.

Cornell over Brown — you see better fights at a hockey game. Princeton over Harvard — I'd rather watch Arcaro than Lady Godiva.

Also: Penn State over Maryland, Dartmouth over Columbia, Rutgers over Lafayette, Boston College over Villanova, Bucknell over Colgate, Buffalo over Connecticut, Holy Cross over Dayton, VMI over Lehigh, VPI over Davidson and Delaware over Temple.

The Midwest

Pitt over Notre Dame — Bet you didn't know a "toxophilite" was an archer.

Ohio State over Indiana — Or this badminton once was called "pooma."

Michigan State over Purdue — That Shakespeare made a billiard player out of Cleopatra. Illinois over Michigan — Or that Martin Luther was a bowler.

Also: Northwestern over Wisconsin, Kansas over Nebraska, Missouri over Colorado, Oklahoma over Iowa State, Oklahoma State over Kansas State, Detroit over Marquette and Miami over Toledo.

The South

Navy over Duke — The Giants were feeble minded to pass up Casey Stengel.

Auburn over Mississippi State — Soccer is the biggest world wide sport aside from eating.

Georgia over Florida — Walking was a big spectator sport in the '90s.

Kentucky over Vanderbilt — That was B.T.A. before the auto. Also: George Tech over Tennessee, Alabama over Furman, LSU over South Carolina, Mississippi over Chattanooga, Clemson over North Carolina, Miami over Florida State, and Wake Forest over North Carolina State.

The West

UCLA over California — Played infallibly, checkers has to be a draw.

Oregon over Stanford — If you understand cricket you got something on me.

Oregon State over Washington State — Golf's good for us old fellers.

Washington over USC — Getting half the daily double makes racing too strenuous.

Also: Air Force over Denver, Utah over Colorado State, Montana State over Montana, and Wyoming over Utah State.

The Southwest

Arkansas over Rice — Jitters racing will put you to sleep.

Texas over Baylor — Baseball men wonder if Tony Kubek will be gun shy.

Texas Aggies over SMU — Penn's Billy Carr was the prettiest runner I ever saw. Tulane over Texas Tech — Soot in the eyes of Texas.

Also: Arizona over Idaho, Arizona State over Texas Western, New Mexico over Brigham Young, North Texas State over Hardin Simmons, Houston over Cincinnati and Tulsa over Wichita.

Seminoles Play Rugged Wildwood Friday

The Sanford High Seminoles will really have their work cut out for them Friday night.

The locals will journey to Wildwood to meet the sixth ranked team in the state. Thus far this season, Wildwood has been unbeaten and untied with a 7-0 record. Coach Jim Pigott, who calls this till the biggest game of the season, said his charges have been working all week stressing defense in the hopes of "corraling the fastest backs in the state."

The Seminoles will be going into this game with a 3-2-1 record.

In their last tilt, they played Leesburg to a scoreless tie. Thus far this season, Wildwood has scored easy wins against Ocala, Leesburg, Lakeview and Auburndale.

Pigott reported that his charges came out of the Leesburg scrap in good physical condition.

Pigott reports he plans to go with about the same lineup he used Friday night and may start Bubba Davis in the left half slot.

Closer Cooperation In Majors Asked

NEW YORK (UPI) — Commissioner Ford Frick promised future National and American League cooperation on expansion today while Branch Rickey called for Congress to supervise the job.

At the same time the disappointed official who tried to get Dallas-Fort Worth declared a major league territory declared they are no longer interested in the attempt and might get out of baseball completely.

These were the latest repercussions of the American League's bombshell announcement last week that it will expand into a 10-team circuit with new franchises in Washington, D. C., and Los Angeles and with the Senators allotted to Minneapolis-St. Paul effective in 1961.

"I don't want the right hand not to know what the left hand is doing because we get into trouble that way," said Frick, who announced he had obtained an agreement from league presidents Warren Giles and Joe Cronin to take future expansion moves jointly. "When one group goes off half-cocked on expansion, there is fighting and recrimination. You ruin the city you're going into and you hurt expansion."

"I am interested in one thing—expansion. I don't care who goes where."

Michelsen Named Coach Of Week

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — With any kind of a break, his team could have one of the best records in the country but they've had two ties and two losses to tough teams by a single point each.

He was up against the defending national champions—Syracuse University—with the longest winning streak in the nation—16 games. Syracuse hadn't tasted defeat in 22 straight games dating back to the middle of the 1938 season.

But coach Johnny Michelsen's Pitt Panthers smashed both winning streaks by beating Syracuse, 19-0, last Saturday, and today Michelsen was honored for this triumph by being named college football's "coach of the week" by United Press International.

Collegiate Grid Career Over For All-American Candidate

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The collegiate football career of Mike McKeever, one of the University of Southern California's twin line All-American candidates, is at an end.

The husky guard was reported in satisfactory condition today at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after undergoing surgery Tuesday night for the removal of a blood clot on his brain. But doctors said his college gridiron days are over.

Buddy's Sweeps City Kegler Play

The Sanford City Bowling League action last Wednesday evening found the leaders still winning, the laggards having troubles with their "pin-action," and the middle of the pack playing "dog eat dog."

Buddy's Auto Service managed the only sweep of the evening to pull into a tie for second when Harry's Liquors lost one of their four. First place Lance took three out of four, as did fourth place Jt Lanes.

High team series for the evening was rolled by Jim Spencer's team, with a 2683, while high team game fell to Harry's Liquors 977. Dick Richards rolled a 594 for individual series, with Howard Harrison's 235 topping the single game scores.

Rinaldi Named Boxer Of Month

NEW YORK (UPI) — Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, the first light heavyweight to beat champion Archie Moore in nine years, was named "fighter of the month" today by The Ring magazine and boosted from fifth to second among contenders.

Rinaldi, who outpointed 46-year-old Moore in a non-title fight at Rome last Saturday, is now rated just below unbeaten Chic Calderwood of Scotland.

Perfume manufacturers use about two thousand tons of orange blossoms a year.

Banks Deal Called Far Out

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The dream of bringing Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs to Milwaukee is still alive, but the chances of pulling such a deal are "pretty far out," according to Braves general manager John McCallie.

The issue — a lively topic during the World Series — was brought up again today in the Milwaukee Sentinel by sports writer Lew Chapman.

Center Sidelined

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Trainer Gene Paszkiel said Tuesday that tackle Ed Burke will be available for duty when Notre Dame plays Pittsburg next Saturday but that center Tom Hechemovich will be lost for the remainder of the season with a shoulder injury.

Iowa Looms Slim Favorite Over Gophers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Top-ranked Iowa is a 1½-point choice over Minnesota and third-ranked Navy is a one-point choice over Duke in two of the key games on next Saturday's college football program.

The Iowa-Minnesota game is the No. 1 game of the day inasmuch as it pits the first and second ranked teams in the nation against each other. Each carries a 6-0 slate into the game.

Navy, which barely squeaked past Notre Dame last Saturday will be up against a tough Duke squad that has lost only one game.

Fourth-ranked Missouri is a 13-point pick over Colorado, seventh-rated Washington is 3 over Southern California, eighth-ranked Tennessee is 10½ over Georgia Tech, ninth-ranked Syracuse is 7 over Army and 10th-ranked Rice is 2½ over Arkansas.

Michigan State at Purdue and Northwestern at Wisconsin are listed as pick 'em games and fifth-ranked Ohio State is such a strong favorite over Indiana that no line was issued.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The tradition of stopping the clocks when someone dies stems from an old Irish superstition. It was said that if the "devil" could hear a sound in that house, he would return to claim another spirit. They also turned all the mirrors to the wall so they wouldn't get dark and smoky. Then they went out to the beehive (if they had one) and whispered the news of the death to the bees, lest they leave the hive. Don't ask me why they did all this.

FROM IRELAND

DEAR ABBY: According to my grandmother, who is 92, only one clock was stopped in the house when a person died. The reason being that when the coroner came around to write up the death certificate there would be no question as to the exact time of the death. There was no superstition to it.

MONICA

DEAR ABBY: The custom of stopping the clocks when a person died originated in Scotland in the 17th century. In those days all clocks were the loud ticking type, and out of respect for the deceased, they kept complete silence.

M. Mc T.

DEAR ABBY: Stopping the clock at the moment of death is an old Jewish practice. It is symbolic that "time" has run out for that person and, therefore, in his honor, everything "stands still" until he is laid in his eternal rest.

HAD JEWISH NEIGHBORS

DEAR ABBY: Where do people get the idea that stopping the clock when someone dies is an "old superstition"?

It is still done today and the reason is a good one. When friends make condolence calls, they don't have to ask, "What time did he pass away?" They can just look at the clock.

"DOC"

DEAR ABBY: When I was a little girl, I recall seeing my mother stop the big grandfather clock that stood in our hallway. I asked her why she was stopping the clock and she told me my brother had died, and there should be no chimes or bells in a house of mourning. She was Hungarian-born, so I imagine this was an old Hungarian custom.

OVER EIGHTY

DEAR ABBY: If you find out why they stopped the clocks when a person died, please print it. And while you are investigating this superstition, also find out why they throw out all the water that happens to be in the vases at the time of death, and why they cover up all the mirrors and pictures.

CURIOS

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. She answers ALL letters.

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

Dear Edyth: "Should I color my drab gray hair? My husband objects and so does my son, but they greatly admire the looks of a neighbor who has colored her gray hair for years and uses makeup artfully. Yet I am criticized for ever thinking out loud about getting some face powder. I am fifty-six and have only one son, grown—Mrs. T."

Out Of The Mail Box

You sound as if you were rather unhappy with your situation, which is only natural. In this instance I would suggest that you have your hair colored and have a nice makeup, natural and in "understatement" and I'll wager your son and husband will look and—like it! Try it.

Kennedy, Nixon Don't Spend Much Time In Voteless Capital

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The presidential candidates don't spend much time in the voteless capital except to drop in now and then for a change of lines and a moment with their ghost writers. That does not mean, however, that the unfranchised city is not in the thick of it. Every day at high noon, publicists for the Republican and Democratic National Committees meet in the street and blaze away at each other with mimeograph machines. I don't know how effective these exchanges are from a political standpoint, but they certainly are good for the paper and ink business. Over the weekend, the Kennedy and Nixon camps issued enough press releases to fuel a campus bonfire on the night before the Homecoming Game. The GOP publicity mill, awesome enough in its own right, was augmented by a perpetual motion handout grinder privately owned by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., a leading practitioner of saturation technique. Keating's office distributed separate releases for Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, Sunday and Monday morning newspapers, thus supplying something for every edition. The Democrats had nothing to match this in singles competition although they found a strong con-ting out loud about getting some face powder. I am fifty-six and have only one son, grown—Mrs. T."

leader in Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who came through with her "Campaign Wife" column and announced a national "Calling for Kennedy" week as well. In addition, the Democratic Advisory Council zeroed in on the Sunday papers with a policy report on natural resources. It was to be sure, only one report, but the report was 37 pages long. It remained to be seen whether this broadside method would offset Keating's scattergun delivery. Meanwhile, the two national committees stepped up the pace of their contest to see which could form the largest number of satellite groups before election time. The Democrats struck early with a "National Committee of Arts, Letters and Sciences," which brought more than 250 authors, painters, actors, musicians, teachers, poets, scientists, editors, publishers and architects to Kennedy's aid. The Republicans promptly countered with one new organization, "Americans Abroad for Nixon Lodge," and beefed up the "Lawyers for Nixon-Lodge Committee" and the "National Committee of Women for Nixon Lodge." Besides the usual run of campaign schedules and speech texts, the paper blitzard also included a flurry of new reports from the "GOP truth squad" and the Democratic "Correction, Please" Department.

Laramie Actor Loses Leg

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERRY
Jack Henry tells about a hypo chondriac who pestered his doctor until the latter described some pink pills for him. "These are potent pills," cautioned the doctor "so be absolutely sure you never take more than three a day. A month later the worrier was back, looking jubilant for a change. "Those pills were just the ticket, Doc," he enthused. "They've cured me of every thing." The doctor chuckled. "Now you can know," he said, "that those pills contained nothing but bread." "Holy mackerel!" screamed the worrier. "White or whole wheat?"

OK Tire Store Open For Business

In March of this year Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Boone sold their OK Tire Store in Tuscaloosa, Ala. preparatory to opening a similar business somewhere in Florida.

Then for the next six months they traveled over 3,000 miles searching the State for a town that appealed to them the most, finally settling in Sanford.

The OK Tire Store is now open for business in a new building built specifically for the purpose at 2413 French Avenue.

There are over 1,400 OK Tire Stores scattered throughout the Nation with 36 of them in Florida. With this widespread coverage, Boone says, the company finds it easy to maintain their nationwide written road hazard guarantee on all new and re-cap tires. A formal grand opening is planned. Associated with Boone in the business is Mrs. Boone as bookkeeper and office manager, and Joe Duggar of Sanford as service manager.

The Boones have one daughter, Judy, 8 years old, and now reside in their new home at 2611 Iroquois Ave.

East Pakistan Hit By Second Cyclone

DACA, East Pakistan (UPI) — Shattered communications blocked government efforts Tuesday to find out how much death and destruction were caused by the second cyclone to raze Pakistan in three weeks.

Winds up to 100 miles an hour slammed into offshore islands and shore areas on the Bay of Bengal Monday night.

It caught civilians and government crews still cleaning up from the last cyclone to hit the area Oct. 10. That one left an estimated 6,000 dead. So many bodies were washed out to sea the exact toll will never be known.

You Can Be In Television Series Film

A National Broadcasting Co. crew was busy this morning getting ready to film circus pictures here this weekend and the producer invited Seminole County residents to be in the films. Producer Jack Emanuel and unit manager Dick Larson were setting up the machinery to begin shooting background film and some acts by the Cristiani Bros. Circus troupe. They said they would provide a free afternoon of entertainment Sunday for area residents. This was worked out in cooperation with Paul Cristiani of the circus and officials of Circusland. "There will be some real good circus acts beginning at 1:30 p. m. Sunday and we will give the kids cotton candy, circus balloons and the trimmings," Emanuel said. Tickets for the performance can be obtained at the entry to the circus quarters grounds at the Farmers Market on Hwy. 17-92. Parents are asked to escort their children and pick up tickets. General background film will be shot Saturday, starting about 9 a. m. and spectators are invited to watch this also and be in the scenes, Emanuel said. The film being made here will be part of a pilot film for an NBC television series to be called "The Big Tent." It is scheduled to begin in February.

Kennedy Names Krider To Water Advice Group

John Krider, former chairman of Florida Waterways Commission, has been appointed by Senator John F. Kennedy to his Natural Resources Advisory Committee, the Democratic presidential candidate's headquarters announced today in Washington. "I am particularly glad to have Mr. Krider on this committee, because of his special knowledge of Florida water resource problems," Kennedy said. "The committee has an important role in the campaign clarifying the issues in this field, which has been retarded and neglected by the Eisenhower-Nixon administration. The committee will then make the recommendations for an action policy on natural resources for my administration."

Krider said he had discussed the waterway development problems of Florida with Kennedy's closest advisers in this field. "I am convinced," Krider said, "that real progress can be made toward the achievement of our goals under the Kennedy-Johnson administration, through sound investment in our natural resources. I am pleased to serve on the committee, not only to help point up this issue during the campaign, but in order to help determine the policy of the new administration." "We have been a long time without anyone to give us a final boost on our efforts concerning waterways in Central Florida and this is a real instance of recognition of our problem," Krider said.

'Scientist Dream' Satellite Orbits

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States hurled a "scientist's dream" satellite into orbit for its 12th space success of 1960 early today.

The complicated, 90-pound Explorer VIII satellite is designed to investigate the mysteries of an unpredictable "atomic roof" known as the ionosphere—layers of ions that reflect radio waves and television communications either possible or impossible on earth.

Its findings in a wide-swinging orbit may lead to improvements in radio equipment for earth stations. Scientists also hoped it would find a "window" through the ionosphere for communications into space free of interference.

The launching of the silver satellite, shaped like a child's top, went like clockwork. The brainy little instrument roared aloft right on schedule atop a 76-foot Juno II rocket and three minutes later the Army tracking station at Ft. Belvoir, Mo., picked up the "high-precision" satellite signal.

Its task is a delight for scientists but a bewildering puzzle for the average television viewer who may wonder why his TV picture is brilliant one day and fuzzy the next. Scientists explained that the ionosphere is made up of atoms of atmosphere stripped of their electron coats by ultra-violet rays from the sun.

Procedures for cleaning, widening and improving the Web and Howell Branch as water outlets were worked out at a meeting Wednesday at Orlando when the two commissions met with engineers to decide what to do. "We reached agreement on the total projects and procedures for getting the work done and expect Civil Defense approval," John Krider, Seminole board chairman said today.

Presidential Politics

By United Press International
Sen. John F. Kennedy made a final one-day invasion of the Southwest today with a searing counterattack at Vice President Richard M. Nixon's charge that he had told a "bare-faced lie" about the GOP's record.

Campaigning in Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma, the Democratic presidential candidate swung back to a direct assault on Nixon, after winding up a two-day tour of California with a climactic cold war proposal.

In a speech to a capacity crowd of 25,000 at the Cow Palace in San Francisco Wednesday night, Kennedy called for creation of a volunteer "peace corps" of talented young men who could serve three years in underdeveloped countries as "an alternative for peace-time Selective Service."

"ambassadors of peace" also would be recruited from "among talented young women as well—and from every race and walk of life."

Today, in remarks at Albuquerque, N. M., Kennedy returned to more partisan domestic ground by recalling that Nixon accused him of a bare-faced lie in having said the Republicans always had opposed Social Security.

Kennedy again lengthily recited the GOP's history on Social Security legislation, starting in 1935 when "Franklin Roosevelt first asked for a Social Security bill and 90 per cent of the Republicans voted against it."

Mr. Nixon may convince the voters to ignore party labels," Kennedy said. "But he can hardly expect them to ignore party records—and the Republican party record is one of consistent opposi-

Nixon fresh from the cheers and confetti of Manhattan, headed for Texas today to aim his campaign fire at Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, a native Texan and the Democratic vice presidential candidate.

Nixon flew to Columbia, S. C. for a late morning rally on the state Capitol steps, then sped by jet plane to Johnson's home state for speeches late today in San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth.

Nixon carried new encouragement from President Eisenhower, along with mounting confidence on his part that the GOP campaign is snowballing toward victory next week.

Before leaving New York where he campaigned Wednesday with the President and Henry Cabot Lodge, the GOP vice presidential candidate, Nixon fired off an advance blast at Johnson and Sen. John F. Kennedy for having been worlds apart on significant issues prior to the Democratic convention.

Nixon said in a statement that Kennedy and Johnson disagreed on "one out of every four or five votes they have cast in Congress over the years" on everything from Quemoy and Matsu to federal laws on fireworks, from tide-lands oil and civil rights to postal rates and loyalty oaths.

Americans Win Nobel Prizes

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UPI)—The Nobel prizes for physics and chemistry were awarded today to two American atomic scientists in California—Donald A. Glaser and Willard F. Libby.

Libby, 51, a former member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, was the chemistry winner. He devised the "atomic time clock"—a method of dating organic matter through radioactivity that has enabled scientists to tell the age of such things as the dead Sea Scrolls.

Glaser's discovery, now in wide use, enabled scientists to mass produce photographs showing what happens during the process of atom smashing.

Board To Review Tax Requests

The County Commission began an inspection tour this afternoon of properties involved in equalization board hearings and expects to wind up the hearings by Monday. Commissioners will review the properties and make final equalization request decisions next week.
