HOROSCOPES

Friday, Feb. 19, 1999

If you've been looking for a break to come your way concerning your work or career, this could be the year of your dreams. New channels could open up for you that will lead to significant advancement.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Because your judgment will be so keen today and obvious to others, it will be quite easy for you to garner their support for ventures you'd like to initiate. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1786, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) There's a good chance that you could pick up on something of personal value today that has been totally overlooked by others. Keep a weather eye peeled for the ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you get a head start today you could get all your duties and responsibilities out of the way and be able to knock off early. You may feel the need to participate in some pleasurable pursuits.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An objective you may have previously felt was unattainable can now be achieved. Try your hand once more today, because the tides are shifting in your favor.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try to avoid involvements today with persons who only think in the "status quo." Your greatest potential for achievements will be realized through progressive people who think like you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Cancers are sometimes fearful of anything untraditional, but today you'd be wise not to discount a unique idea just because it's a departure from your normal way of operating.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone you'll be speaking with today could express a new but brilliant point of view about something that could be extremely helpful to you. Listen attentively when others talk.

VRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Step-savers where your work is concerned could be developed if you don't hesitate to experiment today. What you conceive could enhance your productivity a great deal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) While your associates might be standing around trying to figure out what the problems are today, your instant, on-the-spot analysis will not only define the issue, but work them out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Although you could have a tendency to leave a few things to the last minute, you'll still be ingenious enough to squeeze them in under the wire today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There's a good chance that something fun and exciting to do will pop up from nowhere today. Try to keep your schedule as flexible as possible because you'll want to participate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Chance and circumstances tend to continue to favor you again today, especially where your material interests are concerned. Through a loving friend, something opportune could develop.

WIN AT BRIDGE

You are 5-3-3-2 and ...

By Phillip Alder

New we come to the crux of the matter. You are 5-3-3-2 with a doubleton in the suit opened by your right-hand opponent. When do you pass, overcall in your suit, overcall one no-trump, or double? Well, first, let's assume your suit is a major. Now it depends on your strength. If you are relatively weak, having some 10-12 points, you should overcall only if your suit is respectable. Having jack-8th, pass; but having king-queen-fifth, overcall.

Remember also that it is better to overcall in spades than in hearts. If you make a one-spade overcall, the responder must go up to the two-level to bid a suit; he might not be strong enough to do that. Yet over one heart, he can bid an easy one spade. In this deal, South should overcall one spade; North bids what he hopes his partner can make. West guesses well to lead the heart queen.

There are three top losers plus a potential fourth in hearts. If you win the first trick and immediately play a trump, East will (should) win and return a heart, setting up that fourth defensive winner. You will lose a trick in each suit. The answer is to lead a diamond first, establishing a discard for the heart loser on the third round of diamonds. But did you win trick one in hand? If not, East can beat you by ducking the first round of diamonds. Then you will have no bid dummy entry to the diamond winner.

So, when minimum, overcall with a decent suit. And when in a suit against, always count your losers before playing to trick one.

ASK DR. GOTT

The inflammation/heart disease link

DEAR DR. GOTT: What's the story on the new research suggesting that heart attacks may actually be caused by an infection?

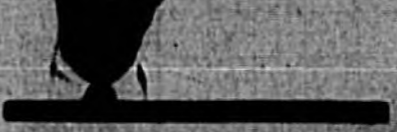

DEAR READER: This is truly one of the most interesting and innovative theories to please the curiosity of the medical profession. There is, indeed, increasing evidence that inflammation may play an important role in arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) and, by extension, may be a major factor in causing heart attacks.

The first indication of this relation came in the form of C-reactive protein, which is a marker (in the blood) for inflammation in the body. The Physicians' Health Study revealed that high C-reactive protein levels in healthy men without heart disease were strongly predictive of subsequent heart attacks. These men with the higher levels were more likely to develop heart disease than were men with the lowest levels.

Following this study, other reports were published that suggested several possible types of microorganisms (including chlamydia, H. pylori and cytomegalovirus) that might be to blame.

DR. GOTT

PETER GOTT, M.D.

Last summer, researchers in the Helsinki Heart Study reported that other protein markers (known as immunoglobulins) also predicted an almost three-fold increase in coronary events. This relation held true even when the data were adjusted for age and smoking history. These findings prompted some scientists to recommend antibiotic therapy for people with heart attacks.

Obviously, the inflammation/heart disease connection requires more definition; there are still many pieces missing from this complex puzzle. Fortunately, new and expanded research is underway. Experts caution that it's still too early to make blanket recommendations about using antibiotics to cure coronary disease. But the preliminary findings are intriguing and, if confirmed, may well revolutionize the treatment of cardiac disorders, vascular diseases -- even the consequences of aging blood.

Use the title.
DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a 70-year-old woman. I took estrogen shots for 10 years following menopause. After I stopped them, I developed an excessive growth of hair on my face and body. What causes this and what can I do about it?

DEAR READER: Your accelerated hair growth may result from the small amounts of male hormones that every woman normally produces. After menopause, this hormone is no longer counterbalanced by the powerful female hormones, so hair growth may occur. Check with your gynecologist to see if the judicious use of hormone replacement therapy (in pills or patches) might ameliorate your problem.

Chad Parsons has gone from playing very little as a junior for Lake Howell to being one of the best players in the Seminole Athletic Conference

Parsons stars in supporting role

Chad Parsons, who wondered where he fit in on last year's district champions and was concerned he would never get a chance, has been one of the biggest success stories on the county, racking up the points and leading the Hawks to a conference title and second-place in the district race...

Tribe softball team rolls to second win

DAYTONA BEACH - Seminole High School's girls' softball team upped its overall and district record to 2-0 after defeating Matland 11-5 Wednesday afternoon...

The Fighting Seminoles had strong hitting in the win. Maria Duval went 4-for-5, including two doubles, and knocked in two runs; freshman Joelle Moore went 3-for-5 with a double and five runs batted in and Ginny Carnes added a triple. Carnes (1-0) was also the winning pitcher, allowing two runs and striking out nine in her four innings of work.

Seminole will play its third Class 5A-District 5 opponent in as many games this week, hosting Spruce Creek for Parents Night on Friday at 7 p.m.

"The kids just didn't do what I wanted them to," said Lyman coach Norm Remy. "Last night we played great defense and tonight we didn't play any."

"Lake Howell was just shooting very well and that coupled with our lack of defense hurt us. We'll have to get it next year."

In the first semifinal, Oviedo battled DeLand to a 24-24 halftime draw but the Bulldogs came out of the locker room smoking and doubled the score on the Lions, 20-10.

Oviedo won the fourth period 22-16, but the damage had been done. Leonard Wallery led DeLand with 17 points, while Chris Jackson chipped in with 14 points. Larry Wharton (17 points) and Aska Howell (10 points) paced the Lions attack.

On Friday night at 7:30 p.m., Lake Howell will tip off against DeLand for the third time this season. The Bulldogs have come from behind twice to edge the Silver Hawks.

"I can honestly say that we are looking forward to the opportunity to play them. We'll just have to see what happens," Kohn said.

That game should certainly be quite a battle.

FISHING FORECAST

Expect good snook and flounder action at Sebastian Inlet. Bouncing the bottom with finger mullet is great for flounder, while snook prefer jigs, swimming-minnow lures and live bait worked around rocky structure. A few trout and redfish are also present. Bass action is great in the river. Slough mouths, deep bends, steep banks, and sand bars are all great places to find hungry bass. If you want to catch a lot of fish and have a ball at the same time, think tiny. Use an ultra-light spinning outfit rigged with six-pound test. Tie on a tiny Rapala with a loop for better action, and hang on. Bass this time of year are feeding on grass shrimp and tiny ditch minnows that are forced into the main channel by dropping water levels. I have caught shad, bream, speckled perch, and loads of bass using this strategy.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports that dirty water offshore has slowed down action. The seas should be cleaning up with the recent calm weather, but this recent cold front may churn things up again. There are lots of cobia on the wrecks, inside the Port, expect flounder and sheepshead. Trout and redfish are rated as fair on the flats of the Banana and Indian Rivers. Sheepshead, drum, redfish, bluefish, flounder, jack crevill and ladyfish are providing non-stop action at Ponce Inlet. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Seminole girls netters win opener

SANFORD - Seminole High School's girls tennis team pulled out a season-opening win Wednesday night, defeating Apopka 4-3 at home.

After losing the first two matches of the evening, Seminole's won the third, fourth, and fifth singles encounters.

But in the end, they needed a victory in number two doubles from Kim Westbrook and Shara Volk to take home the victory.

"I told the girls before they went on the court that it was up to them," said Seminole coach Lynn Wilson of her advice before Westbrook and Volk's 8-1 win.

This year's team has reason to expect good things this year. "We have a pretty good team," said Wilson. "We have some well-seasoned girls, and we also have depth. Our three, four, five, and six on the depth chart are pretty good."

The Noles also have youth to build on. The players occupying third, fourth, and sixth place on the depth chart are all freshmen.

While only five players compete at each meet, Wilson feels her number six, Brittany Hughes, is a good player who will prove herself when she gets the chance.

The girls will be at home again on Thursday, hosting Lyman at 3:30 p.m.

Tribe boys win again

SANFORD - Seminole's boys tennis team also needed the final match of the evening to defeat Apopka 4-3.

"We're looking really solid," said Seminole boys head coach Scott Casco.

After all of the other matches had finished, the score of the number one doubles match stood tied at 3-3, with the overall score between the two schools also tied at 3-3.

But the duo of Bryan Knodt and John Good, both of whom had lost their singles matches to their doubles opponents, would save the home forces, coming out on top, 6-5.

"The experience factor paid off for them," said Casco of Knodt and Good who played as doubles partners last year.

The Fighting Seminoles cause was furthered by wins from Matt Davidson, Ken Rios, and Tim McAfee.

Seminole is off to an 2-0 start this season, and will next face off at Lyman in a rematch of their season opener on Monday in Longwood at 3:30 p.m.

nole County's best hope at a run towards states. At one point, the Hawks were the fourth ranked team in the state before losing a heartbreaker to DeLand and the late slide.

Parsons has continued to put up the numbers throughout the slide. Despite playing much as a junior last year, he decided to stick it out after the Hawks lost four starters.

"I didn't play much last year and it was just because we were too deep," Parsons said. "It was frustrating last year but I talked to the coach a lot and he told me I needed to play. He always kept in contact with me. I always knew I would end up playing."

After the Hawks lost to Edgewater in the state regionals last year, they were left with Reggie Kohn and little else with experience.

That's when Parsons finally got his chance.

"We knew a lot of teams would just key on Reggie this year and Coach told me I would have to take over a lot of the scoring load."

He did immediately and despite an entirely new starting core to go with Kohn, the Hawks played even better than last season.

Only an early tournament loss to Winter Park (they pounded Winter Park in a regular season rematch) and a pair of devastatingly close losses to DeLand blighted the season until the late slide with losses to state powers such as Dr. Phillips.

Parsons said this year's Lake Howell team is a lot different than the one that won the school's first district title last year.

"Last year we had more quickness," Parsons said. "We were bigger and had more size, but this year we're a lot better at shooting and we play a lot smarter."

He and his "supporting cast" behind Kohn, have more than done their part. Guard Jamaal Turner has been key and forwards Justin Kane and Brad Hollar have made Lake Howell devastating on the boards.

But Parsons has added the scoring and given opposing defenses someone to worry about besides Kohn.

"Reggie makes us all better players," Parsons said. "He really knows the game. I can't get it into the basket if he doesn't get me the ball."

Parsons will still be getting the ball after basketball season is over. He is the ace of the Lake Howell baseball team's pitching staff and will probably head for college to play baseball. He's being recruited as a pitcher, but for now he's a basketball player.

If he's a basketball player for two more weeks, he'll be headed for Lakeland and the state Final Four.

victory for Oviedo.

Lake Mary took a 2-0 lead with single runs in the second and third innings. In the second inning, Schmoock doubled and came around to score on a pair of ground outs. Horwath singled to lead off the third inning, stole second base, and scored on Matt Allegra's double.

Frey (1-0) was the winning pitcher, working four solid innings. He gave up two runs (both earned) on three hits. He struck out three and walked three. Blass worked the fifth and sixth innings before Grayson closed.

Ryan Trettein (0-1) suffered the loss after being touched for seven runs (five earned) on five hits over 3.1 innings. Justin Roberts worked the final 2.2 innings for Lake Mary, giving up one run on one hit.

Grayson led Oviedo's six-hit attack by going 2-for-4 with a double, three RBI, and a run scored. Goodwin added a double, single, and one run. Schulte clipped in with his three-run homer, Kenny Starling singled, Holmes had two RBI and scored a run. Lubrano scored two runs while Jeff Knapp scored once.

Providing the offense for the Rams were Tornios (solo home run); Horwath (double, single, two RBI, run); Schmoock (double, two runs); Allegra (double, RBI); Matt (single, run, RBI); Brandon Haney (RBI); and Coleman (one run).

In Wednesday's other game, Brad Gamswech struck out seven in five innings as Winter Park (1-2) smacked Edgewater (0-2), 11-1.

GFC seeks to expand its aquatic enhancing programs

SANFORD - Florida is an angler's paradise, and the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) is planning to keep it that way. The GFC is seeking $90 million over the next 20 years from the Florida Legislature to enhance fisheries habitat in lakes.

Fisheries biologists in GFC's Aquatic Resource Enhancement Section have identified 60 lakes (31 targeted for restoration) throughout the state in need of lake enhancement projects, such as drawdowns, muck and tussock removal, re-establishment of native submerged vegetation, removal of willows and semi-aquatic vegetation in littoral zones and other fishery habitat enhancements.

"Our current spending authority of $1.5 million per year is insufficient to complete major lake projects," said Ed Moyer, director of GFC's Division of Fisheries. "We are seeking $4.5 million per year for the next 20 years from the Legislature to restore vital fisheries habitat in Florida's lakes."

Long-term stabilized water levels in Florida's lakes, which are often the result of flood control practices, have resulted in the need to restore fish and wildlife habitat. Storm water runoff, sewage treatment plant discharge and agricultural activities resulting in nutrient enrichment of lakes are also major factors in degrading lakes.

"As a result of stabilized water levels, many Florida lakes have large accumulations of muck, and undesirable vegetation is growing rampant," Moyer said. "The goal is to enhance fish and wildlife habitat through various management techniques to counter ongoing degradation of our lakes."

Drawdowns are the most economical and proven technique for rehabilitating lake fishery resources. Drawdowns mimic natural droughts and consist of partially draining a lake for several months to dry out bottom sediments and stimulate desirable plant growth. After refilling the lake, fish populations increase dramatically. Drawdowns are especially effective in combating the effects of stabilized water levels.

The following 31 lakes are targets for restoration:

- Lakes Cypress & Hatchineha, Osceola County.
- DeHart Lake, Walton County.
- Deer Point Reservoir, Bay County.
- Lake Griffin, Lake County.
- Lakes Helen Blaine and Sawgrass, Brevard County.
- Lake Istokpoga, Highlands County.
- Lake Jackson, Leon County.
- Lake Jessup, Seminole County.
- Lake Kissimmee, Osceola County.
- Lake Lochloosa, Alachua County.
- Lake Miona, Sumter County.
- Montgomery Lake, Columbia County.
- Lake Munson, Leon County.
- Lake Mystic, Madison County.
- Ocheese Pond, Jackson County.
- Lake Panacea, Sumter County.
- Lake Parker, Folk County.

Bears get bullish

Winter Springs crushes Hamilton County; faces Pensacola Catholic for 3A girls state basketball title

By Jeff Bertrich
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE LAND - Mark Huaman, assistant coach of the Winter Springs girls basketball team, had a message for his player about 15 minutes before tip-off of their state Class 3A semifinal meeting Wednesday night with Jasper-Hamilton County at The Lakeland Center.

"You have five more minutes to be nervous," he told them.

The Bears actually took a little while longer to get over their nerves but rebounded to run up a 68-35 rout of Hamilton County to send them to the state finals Friday at 4 p.m. against Pensacola Catholic, which defeated Cocoa Beach, 66-56, in the first semifinal.

Cocoa Beach beat the Bears in the district finals which sent Winter Springs on an odyssey all over the state to reach the finals in Lakeland.

The road trip actually started before the loss to Cocoa Beach as the district tournament was at Cocoa Beach High School. After the loss the Bears traveled to deep south Florida twice and the Gulf Coast once. If anything, the Bears said the road trips made them even more determined.

"Being on the bus so much pumped us up," guard Mary Lou Johnston said. "We just decided that we weren't traveling to lose."

Loosing wasn't a question last night after Winter Springs solved the Hamilton County press. The Bears held a significant height advantage and Johnston was able to get the ball over half court enough so the front line could convert easily underneath.

"I invite them to put the press on us because we know we can beat it," Johnston said.

The game was never close. Hamilton County (26-7), which has been in the FHSAA state tournament 18 times while Winter Springs is in only its second year of existence, led 3-2 early, but Winter Springs dominated play throughout.

The Bears seldom allowed a second shot as the front line of Kris and Bev Dedelow (who combined for 23 points and 18 rebounds), along with Danal Hicks (who scored a game-high 16 points), dominated the boards, while Johnston (11 assists) led the offense.

The Winter Springs bench came into play early, but three Danal Hicks (above) scored 16 points and Kris Dedelow (right) chipped in with 14 points as the Winter Springs girls dominated Jasper-Hamilton County in all phases of the game Wednesday evening to win 68-35 and advance to Friday's 4 p.m. Class 3A State Championship Game against Pensacola Catholic at The Lakeland Center.

Top seeds to face off in 6A-3 boys final

By Kellie Werner
CORRESPONDENT

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS - Emotion can make all the difference in a basketball team.

If one team has it and the other team doesn't, the down team doesn't stand a chance.

That was the difference in Wednesday night's Class 6A-District 3 semifinal game between Lyman and Lake Howell at Lake Brantley High School.

The No. 2 seeded Silver Hawks defeated the Greyhounds, 89-45, to break a four game losing streak and advanced to the District Championship game to face top-seeded, and once-beaten, DeLand, which defeated Oviedo in the early game, 60-56.

"Lyman came out a little flat after a very emotional win last night," said Lake Howell Coach Steve Kohn. "It's hard to get that up two nights in a row."

Lake Howell, on the other hand was well rested after a four day rest and came onto the court with a lot of emotion.

Early in the first period, the Silver Hawks went up 16-3.

Lyman's defense was almost non-existent and by the end of the quarter, the Greyhounds were on the losing end of a 28-7 score.

They would never be able to catch up despite a very impressive second quarter.

Lyman scored 24 points in the period, although that wasn't enough to keep up with the 28 that Lake Howell put on the board. At the half, the Silver Hawks were resting comfortably on a 56-31 lead.

While wins may have been in short abundance this season for Lyman, heart certainly was not. The Greyhounds took the court for the third quarter and gave everything they had. Their defense picked up a bit. Their shooting didn't.

Lake Howell began sinking everything it threw up. Reggie Kohn hit three three-pointers and was well on his way to the 17 points he racked up in the game and his teammate Chad Parsons made everything he attempted, totaling a game-high 21 points for the night.

Jamaal Turner also scored in double figures for the winner's, tossing in 14 points.

At the end of the third quarter, Lyman was down 74-39 and still trying to figure out something that would help close the ever increasing gap.

It took Lyman until there were 37 seconds left on the clock to score in the final period. Its defense finally picked up as Lyman held Lake Howell

Balanced Lions rally past Rams

By Tony DeBorja
CORRESPONDENT

LONGWOOD - Oviedo High School baseball coach Kenne Brown has said that for his 1999 Lions to be successful this year, every player on the roster has to be ready to contribute every game.

Wednesday night's game was a case in point.

Eight different players contributed a hit or a run scored to support the efforts of pitchers Steve Frey, J.C. Blase, and Larry Grayson as the Lions rallied for an 8-6 victory of the Lake Mary Rams in the Lyman Invitational.

"I'm very pleased with the team unity we've shown in the early going," said Brown. "We're getting contributions all the way through the lineup and all of our pitchers have down what we need them to do."

"That's the only way we're going to be able to be competitive this season. We don't have one or two dominant players that we can turn to. Everyone has to be ready to contribute every night."

Trailing 2-0 heading into the bottom of the third inning, Oviedo tied the score on an RBI fielder's choice by Justin Holmes and Grayson's RBI single. Blaine Schulte followed with a towering three-run home run that put the Lions ahead to stay.

Oviedo added three runs in the fourth inning. Holmes lifted a sacrifice fly to score Brett Murphy. After Paul Lubrano walked, Grayson doubled to the left-center field to drive in Jered Goodwin and Lubrano.

Jose Tormos cut a run off the lead when he hit a solo home run in the fifth inning for the Rams.

In the sixth inning, Lake Mary cut the deficit to two runs. Matt Main chased home Eric Schmoock with a single before Matt Horwath doubled in courtesy runner Eric Coleman and Main.

Grayson, who started the game in center field for the Lions, pitched a perfect seventh inning, striking out two, to save the

Scholarships are available for high school seniors

SPECIAL TO HERALD

ORLANDO - The end of each school year finds many high school seniors scrambling to complete college applications and study for their entrance exams. Florida Water Services supports this pursuit of higher education by offering a scholarship program for children of Florida Water Services customers who are high school seniors and planning to study at any accredited four-year Florida institution.

"Florida Water is happy to offer this scholarship program for the third year," John Cirello, Ph.D., P.E. president and CEO of Florida Water Services said. "It represents just one of the many ways we give back to the communities we serve."

Eighteen students of Florida Water customers will be awarded the $500 scholarships by May 1999. Selection is based on academic record, leadership and participation in school and community activities, honors, work experience, a statement of educational and career goals and an outside appraisal.

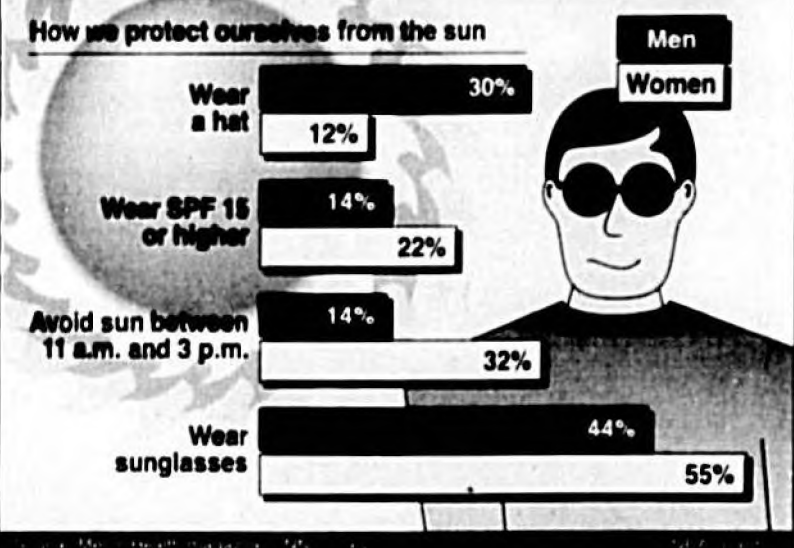

Interested students must complete an application and mail it along with a current school transcript to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation of America (CSFA) postmarked no later than March 1, 1999. Students can pick up an application at their local Florida Water customer service office or download a copy from the Florida Water web site at www.florida-water.com. For more information about the scholarship program, please contact Marilyn Dorsey at (407) 880-0058, Extension 150.

Florida Water Services (www.florida-water.com) has more than 30 years of experience in providing services to the state's citizens and commu-

Rebecca Campbell, a student at Winter Springs, spent a day last week job shadowing at the Seminole Herald. Rebecca wants to be a journalist. She also traveled to Heathrow Elementary School where she spoke to students about a special Valentine's Day project. Her story appears below.

Students at Heathrow Elementary School prepare Valentine Baskets for senior citizens at the Guardian Home and the Good Samaritan Home, both of Sanford.

Baskets of love are plentiful

By Rebecca Campbell

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

LAKE MARY - Passing off sincere love at a young age is not rare, but to find a school full of those kids is. Students at Heathrow Elementary School have been bursting with love over the last few weeks through their project, "Valentine Baskets for Senior Citizens."

It all started about three weeks ago when student council sponsors, Chris Harding, Kathy Sargent and Diana Congden, came up with the idea and contacted the Guardian Home and the Good Samaritan Home, both of Sanford. In conjunction with the nursing homes, the sponsors created a list of ideas for the Valentine baskets of things that would be useful to the seniors, ranging from entertainment and magazines to food or personal items. The list was sent to all of the teachers in the school along with information as to what was being done. Each class was asked to collect the items for the seniors.

By Thursday, the classes had placed all the items in the basket. Some basic things showed up such as shampoo and stationery, but then some of the classes got creative and included remote controls and shower caps. All the students had decorated their baskets and some even included a class picture with it. A Heathrow mother, Susan Greenhut, also donated 50 boxes of chocolates, enough for one in each of the 48 baskets.

Student council officers coordinated the activities. Kathryn Hendrix, president, was pleased with the efforts. "It is really satisfying to see these people who might not have these things otherwise be happy," said Hendrix. "If it makes people then that makes us happy."

Half of the baskets were delivered to the seniors at the Guardian Home on Friday night by the sponsors. The Heathrow Chorus delivered the other half to the Good Samaritan Home on Saturday as well as entertained them with skits and songs.

Upcoming events for the student council include the fourth annual World's Largest Baby Shower in April where they collect for the Coalition for the Homeless. This year, they have also collected Beanie Babies for the sick children at Arnold Palmer.

Maybe Secretary Annie Wu summed it up best by saying "Valentine's Day is so give some love others, and that is just what we did."

Enforcing restrictive covenants is necessary

MANNY ACEVEDO

People's Law

Correspondent

Back in December we discussed property restrictions which usually are designed to enable the developer to attract a particular type of buyer during the initial selling phase, to maintain a general building scheme, and to maintain a certain level of "quality" throughout the development. Additionally, we discussed how these restrictions are usually established, who may enforce them, and the three requirements to enforcement: (1) notice; (2) reasonable demand for compliance; and (3) compliance with any applicable procedural due process considerations.

While property restrictions are designed to benefit owners, sellers, and buyers, the "power" to enforce restrictive covenants often rests in the hands of few people. Therefore, in order to ensure that restrictive covenants are not being capriciously enforced by a homeowners' association or other grantee, a number of defenses to the enforcement of a restrictive covenant exist. Of these defenses to enforcement there are two that are, by far, more common than the others. They are changed conditions and waiver.

As its name implies, the defense of changed conditions would be applicable when the character of a subdivision has changed to the point that it would be unfair to enforce the restriction. For example, if a covenant restricts the use of property to residential purposes and ten years later the subdivision has developed into a commercial and industrial center, there is no longer a general building scheme and a covenant restricting use to residential purposes is not likely to be enforced. Naturally, as each property and its surroundings are unique, the viability of this defense will be determined on a case by case basis.

In addition to the defense of changed conditions, a property owner charged with a violation of a restrictive covenant may raise waiver as a defense. In a residential context, this defense is the most common of all. The defense of waiver would be applicable in cases where the violation complained of has occurred on other properties and the restriction has not been enforced. Again, as each property and its surroundings are unique, the viability of this defense will be determined on a case by case basis. In particular, the likelihood of success of a waiver defense depends on the frequency of the violation complained of and the proximity between the properties. If previous violations occurred sporadically and/or in locations so distant that they did not affect the general building scheme of the subdivision, waiver is not likely to apply.

The law allows for the placement of certain restrictions on what an owner can do with his or her property. However, there are requirements that must be complied with before a restrictive covenant may be enforced and as noted above, there exist defenses that help property owners avoid the capricious enforcement of those restrictions. In the coming weeks we will discuss other aspects of property law.

Guardian angel rescues accident victim

DEAR ABBY: In December of last year, I was traveling to college to take my final exams when I was in a serious automobile accident. It had been snowing most of the morning and I lost control of my car. I hit the guardrail, a large truck, a tree — and ended up in a ditch.

When my car stopped spiraling out of control, I got out, and as I stood in the snow, I screamed but no sounds came out. I was crying, but no tears rolled down my cheeks. My body was in shock.

The first person to stop at the accident was Molly. She came to me, put her arms around me and held me. When she did that, I collapsed. I was so scared and so alone. She took me to her car where it was warm and safe. She calmed me by telling me about her young children and her Christmas tree. She was like a guardian angel. We sat in her car until the state police arrived.

After the police and rescue arrived, everything happened so fast I never got the chance to give Molly a hug and properly thank her.

Abby, would you please print my letter and my message to this dear woman? I'd like to say, "Molly, thank you for what you did for me. You were an angel, and I'll never forget you."

SHEBA COTE, WINSLOW, MAINE

DEAR SHEBA: I'm pleased to publish your letter and message. Guardian angels are people who think first with their hearts. If Molly wasn't a heavenly angel, she was as close to one as a human being can get on that snowy day. Thank you for sharing your story.

DEAR ABBY: My stepdaughter and her husband have been married just five years, and now they want to renew their wedding vows. Their first ceremony was a "quicker" before a local judge with no family or friends present.

Would it be proper for them to renew their wedding vows in a church with a reception afterward? If so, who pays for the event, and do the guests bring gifts?

CONFUSED IN NEW JERSEY

DEAR CONFUSED: A renewal or reaffirmation of wedding vows has become increasingly popular in recent years, usually for couples who have been married 10 or more years. Traditionally, wedding vows are repeated on the couple's anniversary, with each promising to continue to "love, honor and cherish."

There is no right or wrong way to renew one's wedding vows. It can be done as formally as a church ceremony (white gown and all), or as casually as giving a party, inviting a clergyman, and verbalizing your love and commitment to each other in the privacy of your living room, surrounded by family and friends.

The couple pays for the event, including the reception. No gifts from the guests are expected, although it would be gracious to bring the couple a gift to mark their latest wedding anniversary. They may wish to exchange rings again, either old or new.

old Chapman. The copyright will be held by the Society and masters will be offered to the Seminole County Public Schools for use with second graders. The goal is a summer publication for a release in September to coincide with the city's birthday.

A report on the Pace-Jackson Cemetery project was given by Sanford Museum curator, Alicia Clarke. Members of her staff have spent innumerable hours locating, cleaning and photographing the gravestones and also compiling the data. There are over 3,000 people buried in the city's portion of the largely black cemetery, 780 of which have been identified. During the process, two black Confederate soldiers were found in the city's portion.

Several months ago, the Society had pledged to raise $15,000, to be matched by the city, for the restoration of the gazebo in Lakeview Cemetery. It was announced that approximately $15,650 had been raised from members of the community. The bids for this project have been accepted and the work will begin soon.

Cases and other equipment are now being built for the Sanford Museum's Sports Exhibit. This will include mostly memorabilia from local sports heroes. The projected opening of the exhibit is this fall. This is being funded by the Society, using funds from their Andrew Carraway bequest.

The membership report included the fact that 1998's membership was over 137, 43 of whom were new members.

It was reported that the Society has sold over 385 1999 historic calendars which continue on sale at the Sanford Museum and at Knights Shoe Store. Members receiving free individual memberships in the Society for selling the most calendars were Grace Marie Stinecpher, Don Knight and Bette Cannavino. Serena Fisher and Harold Chapman received honorable mention.

A letter was read from the Sanford Historic Trust thanking the Society for their contribution of $1,500 for the photographs to be included in that group's Walking/Driving Brochure. This publication will be presented during Preservation Week.

Outgoing president, Millard Hunt, reviewed the many projects that the Society had participated in during the past year and also gave thanks to those who had rendered outstanding service in various areas.
