Monday—Tenth annual reception of the Parish of Holy Cross Church given by the rector, Rev. A. S. Peck.

Monday—New Year's Ball at the Country Club.

ANNUAL BALL

The most brilliant social event of the season and which is anticipated with much pleasure each year is the Annual Ball given by the Social Department of the Woman's Club, and which was held last evening at the Valdez hotel. The ball surpasses any affair given previously by the social department.

Red and green, the club colors, were this event. Green and red festoons were suspended from the columns to chandeliers and corners of the large dining room and lobby. Potted plants and ferns were effectively placed at intervals around the room, while the French baskets of roses were used in charming effect.

In the receiving line were Mrs. R. A. Newman, chairman of the Social Department; Mrs. R. E. Tolar, president of the Sanford Woman's Club, and Mrs. E. H. Galloway, vice president of the State Federation. Mrs. Newman was beautifully attired in gold and black lace over metal cloth, while Mrs. Tolar's becoming frock was of brown Spanish lace over brown satin. Mrs. Galloway wore a creation of pink crepe metéor with pearl trimmings. Her corsage was of sweet peas in pastel tints.

In the Palm room the prettily appointed punch table was arranged, where delicious fruit punch was served throughout the evening by Mrs. Forrest McAllister and Mrs. Tolar. Mrs. McAllister's costume was of pink taffeta.

The music which was splendid, was furnished by Peter Schand and his orchestra. Favours of vari colored ribbon confetti and squakers were given after refreshments of sandwiches and coffee had been served by Mrs. Ben Caswell and Mrs. Ed Betts. Mrs. Caswell's were peach satin with overdraperies of silver lace. Mrs. Betts was gowned in black satin draped model.

Mrs. W. T. Langley was chairman of the Floor committee and was assisted by Mrs. Raymond Phillips. Black satin and lace, fashioned the costume worn by Mrs. Langley, while Mrs. Phillips was lovely in white Spanish lace over satin with trimmings of silver.

The decorations committee and to whom much credit is due, was Mrs. Howard Overlin, chairman; Mrs. Jno.

Meisch, Mrs. R. W. Pearman, assisted by Mrs. A. E. Hill.

Quite a number of out-of-town guests attended this lovely affair, among them Miss Sara Webb of Atlanta, the guest of Miss Anna Mason. Miss Webb's lovely frock of copper colored changeable taffeta. Miss Eleanor Lytle, of Jacksonville, the guest of her aunt, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, wore a stunning gown of red pafine velvet.

Miss Macle Sheldon of New Smyrna, the guest of Mrs. A. W. Fitts wore a beautiful gown of black velvet.

Mrs. Bart Peterson of Jamestown, N. Y., the guest of her mother Mrs. H. J. Starling, wore a peach satin embroidered with silver, and worn with a bird of paradise headdress.

Miss Sanderson of Orlando, the guest of Miss Sarita Lake was becomingly attired in a gown of silver cloth. Miss Lake wore flame satin with beaded overdraperies. Mrs. Forrest Lake wore toast colored with lace draperies.

Miss Dorothy Singletary of Jacksonville wore a chic frock of orchid crepe de chine.

MERRIE MATRONS BRIDGE CLUB

Entertaining in her usual charming manner, Mrs. D. P. Drummond was hostess yesterday afternoon at bridge to the members of the Merrie Matrons Bridge Club.

The rooms where the card tables were arranged were bright with a profusion of cut flowers, yellow chrysanthemums and roses being effectively used.

During the afternoon a spirited game of bridge was played, and when scores were counted, it was found that Mrs. Harry Heeren held high score and was presented with a silver bon bon basket. Mrs. Fred Walsma was given a lovely old fashioned corsage of violets and Dorothy Perkins roses, for having low score.

At the conclusion of the card game the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Drummond's guests included Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. Harry Heeren, Mrs. Fred Walsma, Mrs. C. E. Henry, Mr. H. B. Lewis, Mrs. Charles Feilder, Mrs. A. W. Fitts and Mrs. W. T. Langley.

EVERY WEEK BRIDGE CLUB

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Every Week Bridge Club were most pleasantly entertained by Mrs. J. G. Sharon at her home on Tenth St. Quantities of lovely cut flowers adorned the rooms where the card tables were placed.

In the interesting game of bridge played, the prize for high score, a crystal candy jar, was won by Mrs. Forrest Lake.

Following the awarding of the first prize the hostess served a tempting salad course followed by a sweet course.

Substituting for absent club members were Mrs. T. L. Dumas, Mrs. J. G. Ball and Mrs. S. D. Chittenden. The regular club members present were Mrs. Walter Wight, Mrs. S. E. Barrett, Mrs. Forrest Laky, Mrs. L. F. Buttolph and Mrs. W. H. Thiggin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pelot and Mr. W. S. Jordan of Jacksonville returned last evening from Bradentown, and other places of interest on the west coast and are the guests of Judge and Mrs. J. G. Sharon.

Mrs. E. A. Douglas is entertaining at bridge this afternoon at her home on Sanford Heights, honoring her daughter Mrs. Bryan Storman of Atlanta, and Mrs. Howard P. Smith of West Palm Beach.

BIG DEVELOPMENTS AHEAD FOR CITY AND COUNTY SANFORD AND SEMINOLE

BIG BUILDINGS, RESIDENCES, NEW ROADS, STREETS, MANY IMPROVEMENTS

FOR THE NEW YEAR

Finest Prospects for the People of the Best County in the Great Southland

The year just passed has been one of the best in the history of Sanford and Seminole county in the building and general improvement line. The building figures for 1922 are well over the million and a half mark which does not include some of the new buildings that will start this month and be finished some time during the year of 1923. Neither does it include the improvements that will take place as soon as the contracts are let for the building of a library and boat basin and pier and streets and many other improvements that will aggregate many thousands of dollars. It does not include the million dollar tourist hotel of which the Herald has said nothing and of which this paper will say nothing until the actual work has been started some time during the summer months. A glance over the city demonstrates that in the business section of the city and in the residence section of the city there has never been so much activity. The six-story First National Bank building, the four-story Puleston-Brumley building, the I. W. Phillips building, the San Juan garage building, the H. & O. garage, the Smith building, the Melch building, the T. J. Miller building, the Cates building and many others will grace the principal corners of the downtown business section of Sanford and cause most favorable comments of the visitors.

The contemplated boat basin and pier, the Country Club and the golf grounds, the Elks home, the tourists playground on Second and Magnolia street or will afford the tourists and winter visitors the greatest range of sports supplemented by the fine fishing and boating and hunting. In the business portion the city is growing faster than any other city of similar size in the state. In the residence section the growth is slower but none the less sure and with more money for investment in the year of 1923 there will be a half million spent on new homes and residences both in the city proper and in the suburbs.

The banks all report a fine condition with larger deposits than ever before and every business in Sanford reports a fine holiday trade and bright prospects for a big year ahead. The vegetable prospects were never brighter with a good market assured for the great celery crop and f. o. b. buyers here already making contracts for the early celery. The spring crops also have a good prospect and the outlook for new residents and tourists is better than it has ever been. The Chamber of Commerce, the schools, the churches, the clubs and all the civic organizations are facing the new year with renewed hopes and well satisfied with the old year but pushing forward for a bigger and better year in 1923.

The Herald cannot take up all the many industries and the buildings and the many big things in this issue that have all been mentioned in the past year. But without mentioning them it is safe to assert that the year of 1922 was the banner year in our history in industry and in building and in general business despite the many handicaps that occurred during the fall season and it is also safe to assume that with the big prospects in big business north for 1923 and with all that we face here in this great section of Florida that Sanford and Seminole County will have one of the greatest years in history in 1923.

And this activity is not confined to Sanford for all over Seminole county in the smaller towns and hamlets and villages and on the farms and groves there is building of homes and warehouses and packing houses and the clearing of lands and big development along every line. In fact the country is going ahead just as rapidly as the larger places in all the county.

This is no bubble that will burst; it is no fairy tale to be told to bolster up business. It is no romancing to say big, it is the solid truth backed

FIRST NATIONAL SHOWS GROWTH, IS REMARKABLE

Attention is called to the report of the First National Bank published in this issue and to the remarkable gain in deposits made by this institution for the past year. The total deposits are also remarkable when you stop to consider the peak is not reached until April or May. This increase of business of the First National is an expression of the good will and confidence of its more than three thousand depositors and is in keeping with the policy of the bank to be progressive yet conservative in the management of its affairs.

The year just closed rounds out the thirty-fifth year of President Forster's active leadership of the bank and the thirty-seventh year of his banking career in Sanford. Close behind him comes Cashier Whitner with thirty-three years in the First National to his credit and the junior officer, A. L. Betts, with sixteen. This is a record that will stand with the majority of banks in the country.

The First National has far outgrown its present quarters and is handicapped by the lack of space in its banking room. To offset this condition and in keeping with the progress of Sanford they have started the erection of a six story bank and office building on the opposite corner. The banking rooms in the new building on the opposite corner. The banking will be among the finest in the state. They plan to be in their new quarters by the first of August or September.

Seminole County Schools Win Loving Cup

AT FLORIDA EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION CONVENTION

Supt. T. W. Lawton and Principal G. E. McKay and something over 20 of the teachers of the Sanford and other Seminole County schools returned Saturday from the Florida Educational Association meeting held at St. Petersburg. They report the finest meeting in the history of the association, both in attendance and interest. The enrollment at this convention was approximately three thousand, which is about five times as great as at former meetings. The attendance was over twelve hundred, whereas in the past an attendance of three of four hundred was regarded as very good.

The principal speakers before the convention were its president, Supt. C. R. M. Sheppard, of Volusia county; State Supt. W. S. Cawthon, U. S. Commissioner of Education J. J. Tiger, of Washington; President B. R. Payne, of Peabody College; Arthur S. Otis, author of the Otis Intelligence Tests, and Governor Cary Hardee, of Florida.

Of especial interest to us is the fact that Seminole county won the beautiful silver loving cup offered by Hon. C. R. M. Sheppard for the counties in the fourth congressional district. On Friday night, at the last session of the convention, President Sheppard presented the cup, with his congratulations, to Supt. T. W. Lawton, of Seminole, who accepted it with a brief address of thanks to Pres. Sheppard and to the teachers of Seminole county schools, whose interest in the Florida Educational Association won the cup for Seminole.

It will be necessary for a county to win the cup three times before permanently retaining it, and Supt. Lawton is confident his teachers will keep up their record until the cup is won twice more and becomes our permanent possession.

up by the actual building and by the facts and figures.

It means that Sanford and Seminole County and all her people can start the New Year with the feeling that it will be a big year filled with big things in civil, religious, industrial and social life.

BIG CITIES CELEBRATING NEW YEAR

CHICAGO IS OPEN WHILE NEW YORK WAS CLOSED UP TIGHT

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Federal prohibition agents and city police joined hands early today in what was declared to be the first successful attempt to dry up New York city during New Year's celebration. They centered attention on Boardway and nearby streets and at least one hundred were arrested for violation of the prohibition laws.

ALL POWERS ALONG THE RHINE TO FORM AGREEMENT BE NO WAR WITHOUT CONSENT

Of All the People in a Popular Referendum—Appoint a Guardian or Trustee

(By The Associated Press) HAMBURG, Jan. 1.—Germany's proposal to France for non-war pact among all the powers interested in the Rhine, which France rejected, was made in belief that stable peace in Europe is attainable only if all nations decide to stand on the foundations of reality, declared Chancellor Cuno in his sensational revelation here of Germany's latest move in connection with the reparations problem. The chancellor's announcement was made in a speech before the Bourse yesterday and showed that the German government had sought to obtain France's agreement, as a means of alleviating French fears to the taking of a solemn pledge by all powers interested, that for a generation none of them would wage war upon the others without specifying the authorization from all their people in a popular referendum and that some world power not interested in Rhine would act as guardian or trustee of this pledge.

PARIS—The proposed non-aggressive engagement, referred to in his Hamburg speech by the German Chancellor Cuno, was suggested by the German ambassador in Washington to Secretary of State Hughes, it was semi-officially announced here today, but the state department, it was said, did not transmit it officially to the French government.

SHIP BELIEVED TO HAVE BERGDOLL ABOARD IS EXPECTED IN TODAY

PENSACOLA, Jan. 1.—The German steamer Jupiter, on which Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, notorious draft-dodger, is reported to be attempting to slip into the United States through Pensacola, under ordinary weather conditions should arrive here either Sunday or Monday.

The Jupiter sailed from Fayal, Azores, December 13, according to J. Garriga, legal agent for J. Carreras-Ferrer, which has the vessel chartered. Unless adverse weather is encountered it usually takes a vessel of the Jupiters' type seventeen or eighteen days to arrive at Pensacola.

Bergdoll has been aboard the Jupiter for more than a month, according to the local agent, if he sailed aboard her from any port in Germany. She sailed from Cardiff, England, he says, with a cargo of coal November 20 for the Azores, where his company chartered her.

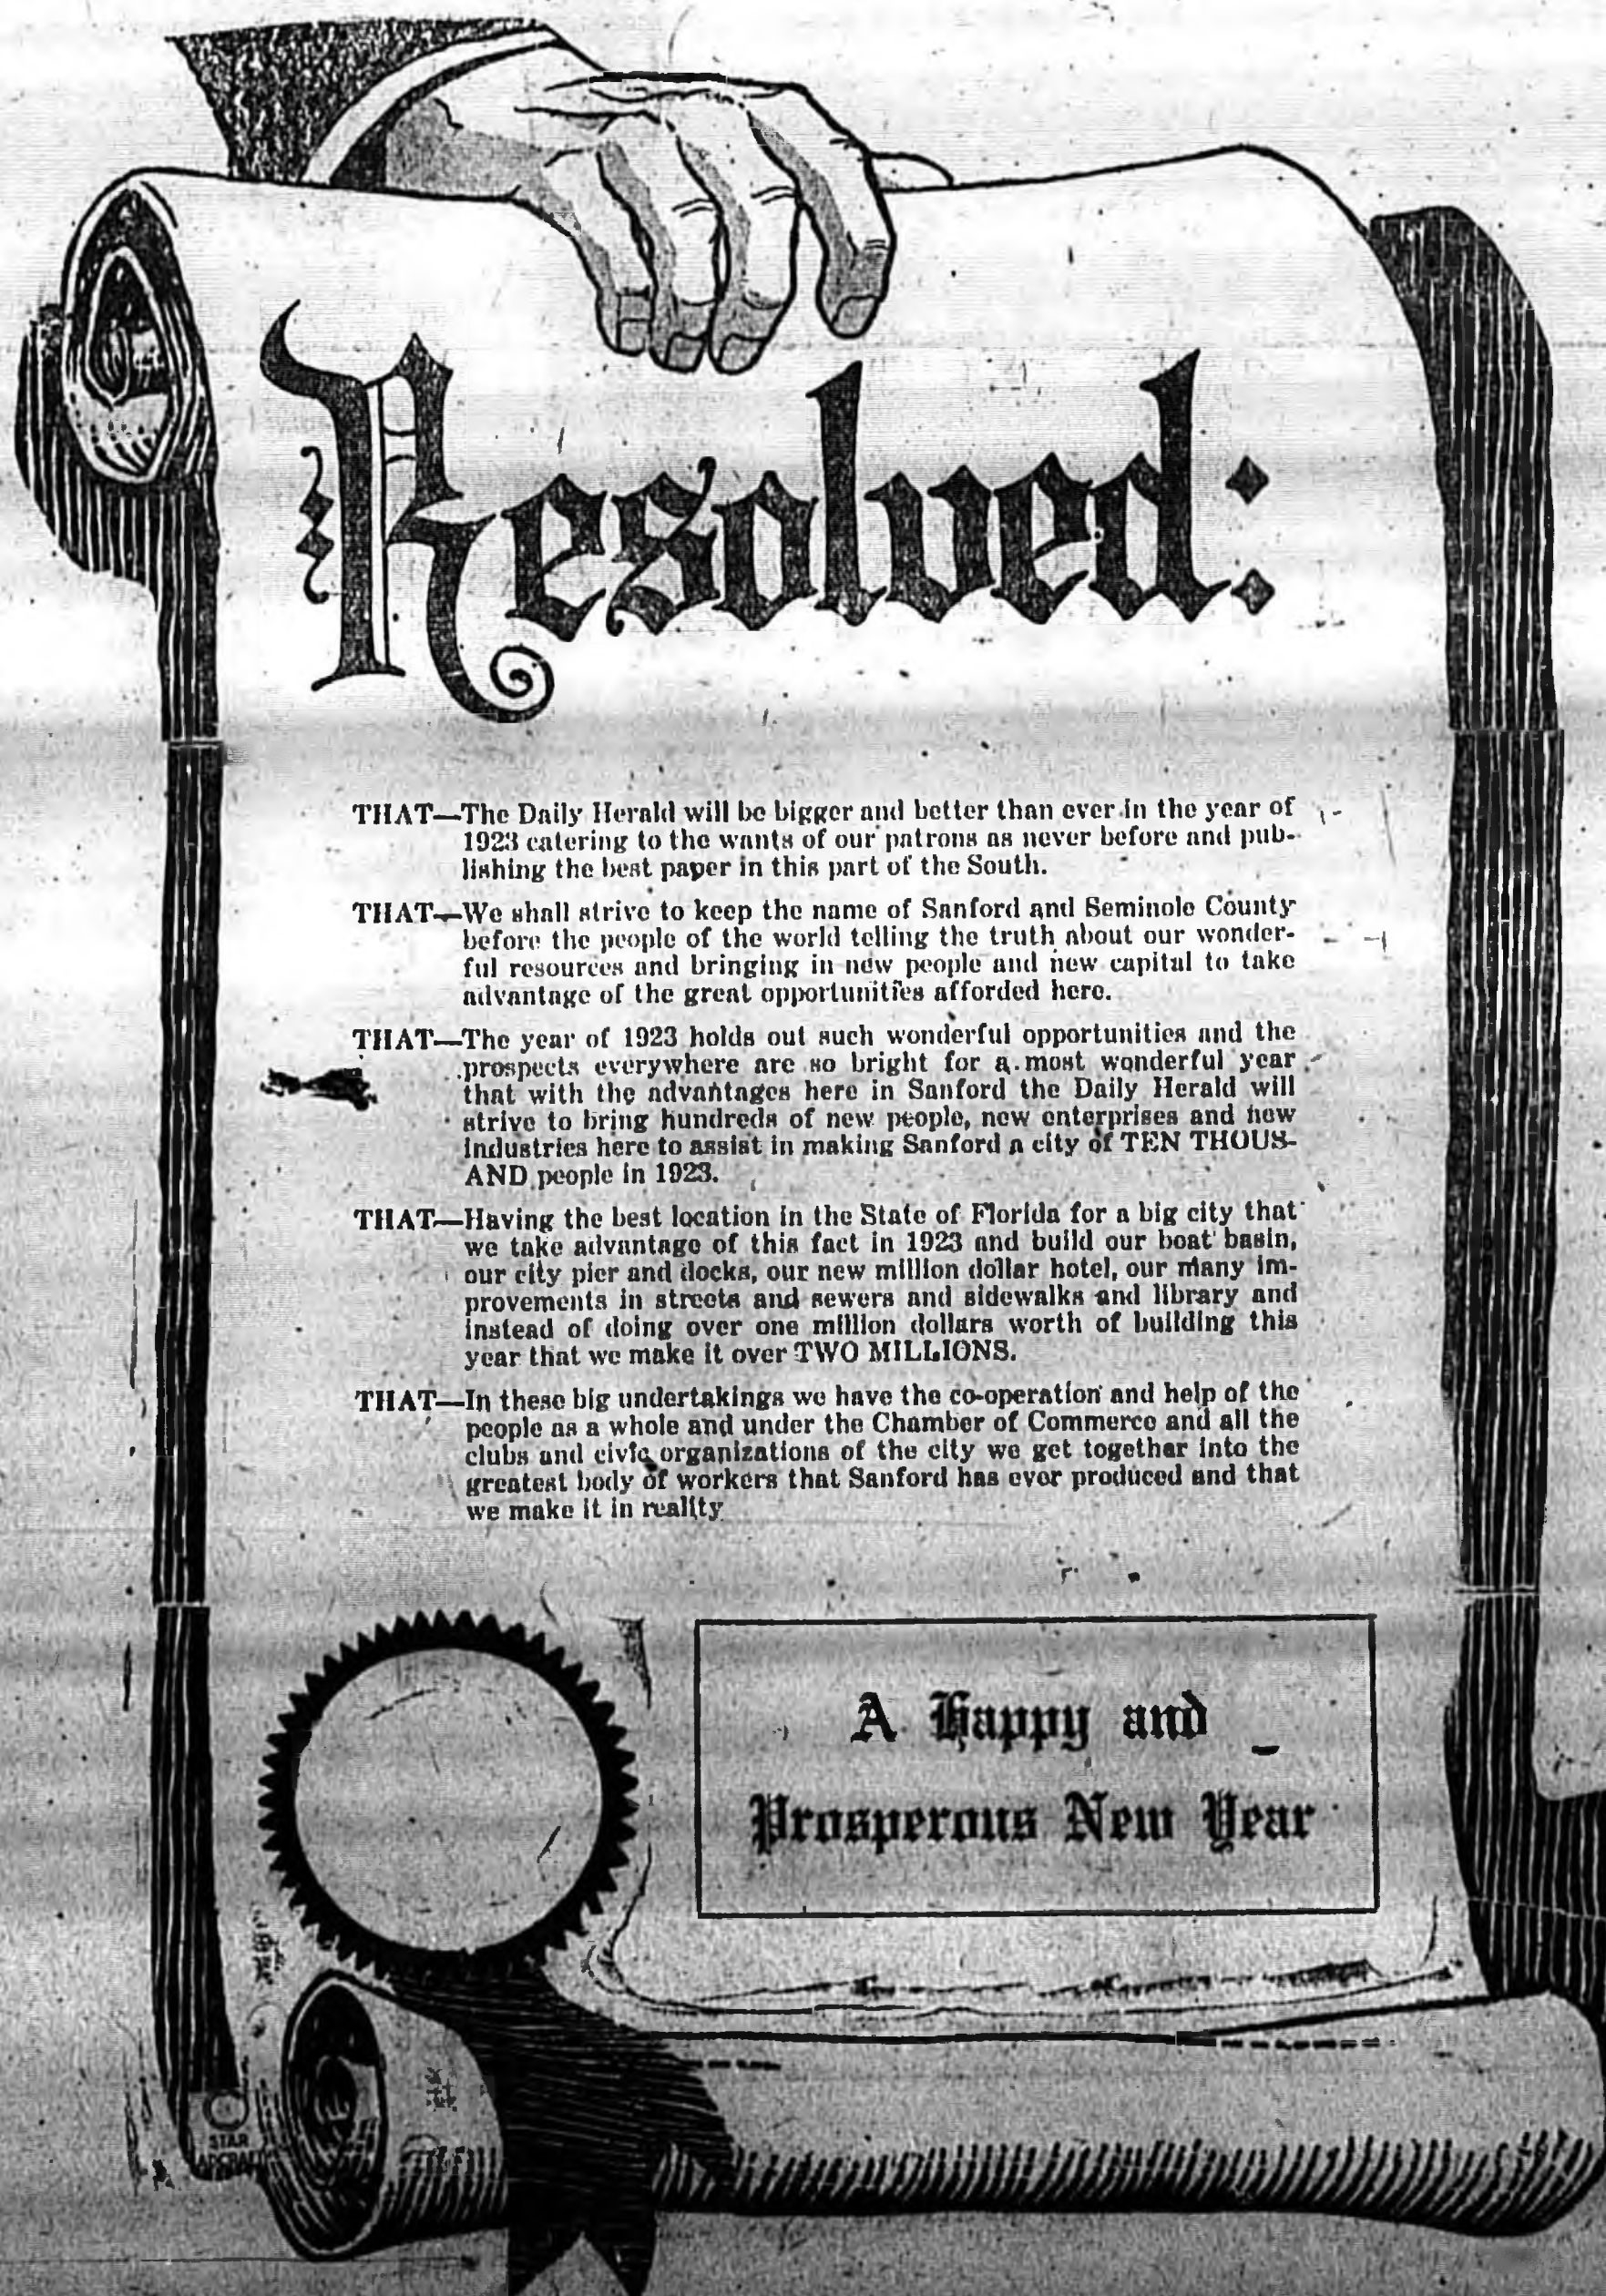

Local customs and department of justice officials are keeping constant vigil for the vessel and she will be boarded immediately upon arrival.

WEEKLY CITRUS REVIEW

ORLANDO, Jan. 1.—The weekly citrus review by F. L. Skelly as issued from the office of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., says:

Oranges: Open weather and a brisk holiday trade coupled with generally reasonable prices have done much to clean up the accumulation in many markets. It is probable that the absorption of oranges into consumer channels during the last ten days sets a new record for this country, noted always for lavish holiday expenditures. Slowing down of shipments has held the market steady, though a few places still show accumulated stocks on hand. If supplies in the immediate future go forward in accordance with actual demands price levels should continue steady. The supply of California navels may be expected to exert effect. Of the estimated crop of 20,000 carloads of navels (400 boxes to the car) approximately 4,500 carloads had moved up to December 23. California shipments were greatly restricted prior to Christmas because of generally unsatisfactory prices, but are increasing now.

Elephants seldom sleep more than five hours a day.

THAT—Having the best location in the State of Florida for a big city that we take advantage of this fact in 1923 and build our boat basin, our city pier and docks, our new million dollar hotel, our many improvements in streets and sewers and sidewalks and library and instead of doing over one million dollars worth of building this year that we make it over TWO MILLIONS.

THAT—In these big undertakings we have the co-operation and help of the people as a whole and under the Chamber of Commerce and all the clubs and civic organizations of the city we get together into the greatest body of workers that Sanford has ever produced and that we make it in reality

THE SMALL TOWN PAPER

The small town newspaper, whose enterprise and influence is the most important factor in the growth and expansion of its town and territory invariably receives ready recognition from its contemporaries of the great cities.

As to this recognition, in its own section, the Spokane Spokesman-Review says:

"The story of the rural newspaper, the paper published in the village or small town, has significance for the student of American society. The influence of the rural press is close, constant and pervasive. When the paper of a small town appreciates its opportunities and is judiciously conducted, it becomes a member of every family within its field in a way that the great newspaper cannot rival."

When people refer to the editor of the weekly newspaper as "our editor" they give the best evidence of local pride in what the paper has done and is doing for the good of the community. "They want to put our editor in the legislature," writes a county correspondent of a county paper, "but we need him here at home in a bigger job than that."

That's another illustration of town and county pride in the home paper; and where that sentiment is universal there is real community prosperity.

For it means loyalty to the town's best interests, and the most effective work on the pull-together plan.

And pretty soon the local weekly becomes the live little daily; it "branches out" in every way. It is the friend of every home and the best home-builder of them all.—Atlanta Constitution.

STATE AND COUNTY SECURITIES AND TAXATION

Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record and well-known winter resident of Florida, gives his views on the question of whether or not the State and county securities should be subject to federal taxation. This is a matter that is being threshed out day after day in newspapers and magazines as one of the by-products of a tax system that has proved to be the worst handicap ever introduced into American business life, curtailing enterprise and creating more liars than the world has ever before contained at one time. The Biblical statement that "all men are liars" must have been prophetic of the time when the income and other "infernal" revenue taxes would be imposed on a long suffering people. Until something better is devised, we will have to put up with things as they are. In the meantime it is interesting to note some of the sidelights. Here is one:

"The proceeds from the sale of state and municipal securities are being expended for schools, roads, drainage and various public improvements which are just as important as any industrial or railroad enterprises. The assumption that the proceeds from such bonds are wasted and thrown away is purely gratuitous and demonstrably untrue. Moreover, the capital quickly and beneficially redistributed throughout the country. It does not go abroad; it is not lost. It stays with us and we have it.

"If the tax-exempt provision is withdrawn from securities issued by the Farm Loan Board wherewith to finance loans to farmers, the cost of such money will be increased by say one per cent. No municipality is going to gain anything by having its securities taxed. The increase in income taxes paid to the federal government will not compensate for the higher local taxes. Individuals will have to pay to meet local loans floated at a high interest rate.

The public ought to be able to borrow money at a rate less than individuals have to pay.

There are objections to tax-free securities, it is true, but they are not such weight as to justify any state in renouncing its independent financial position. When state issues are subject to federal taxation, there will be no state independence left. The power to tax is the power to destroy. Few states, for instance, would be powerful enough to compete for money with the Federal government in the open market.

"There are objections to tax-free securities, it is true; but they are not of such weight as to justify any state in renouncing its independent financial position. When State issues are subject to Federal taxation there will be no state independence left. The power to tax is the power to destroy. Few states, for instance, would be powerful enough to compete for money with the federal government in the open market.

"There are some big foreign loans contemplated by international bankers. They say they do not want money thrown away by states and municipalities. We think that it is a lot safer for our own municipalities to spend it than to have it handed to a notion in near-bankruptcy, willing to pay a high rate, such as the international bankers like. The idea that the local taxpayer does not watch local expenditures is far from the truth. He watches them much more closely than he watches Washington, which has a record in wasting money that few cities or counties in the United States can match."

A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR FACES US

Some blunders and absurdities have crept into today?

Cheer-o There is tomorrow. Forget past mistakes and push on; the glorious future is ahead!

"Build thee more stately mansions, O my soul,

As the swift seasons roll! Leave thy low vaulted past!

Let each new temple nobler than the last,

Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,

Till thou at length art free, Leaving thine out-grown shell by life's unresting sea!"

What of yesterday and what of today and what of tomorrow? We can judge the future somewhat of the past or could in the early days of this country but it is a difficult matter to judge the future of the past now for things are changing with kaleidoscope rapidity and no one knows what the future holds in store. And not knowing why should we worry. The same Divine Providence will guide our destinies in the future that has guided them in the past and all we need to do is to keep to the right and keep in the right path putting our trust and our faith in the King of Kings who will continue to reign in the heavens above regardless of the changes in the world below. Each changing year holds much that is good and some that is bad, much of joy and something of sadness—but in the aggregate the good predominates over the bad and the joy is usually much greater than the sadness and sorrow. Those of us who have good health have much for which to be thankful and our financial status is only a secondary consideration.

Looking ahead and pushing on with that great aim of greater achievements we can face a prosperous new year in 1923 if all signs are true and some of them are almost sure enough to be called sure things. We have much behind us in the year just passed that will not have to be undergone this year. Strikes and labor troubles seem to have been settled for the time being which no doubt means for the next year or so and maybe for the rest of our life time. Labor and capital is getting together on a sounder and a safer basis and each side has the idea of giving and taking and keeping the wheels of progress turning. This is a big thing for the year that faces us today. Keep moving. Keep planning something bigger and better. Keep up the work of building. Keep the wheels of industry turning.

If we have profited by the misfortunes of the past we should be a wiser and better people in the year of 1923. We have made many mistakes in the year that is now behind us. They have been mistakes that could have been avoided had the people and the leaders used common sense and if

"GOOD-BYE, OLD YEAR"

Good-Bye, Old Year!—the fickle World Pursues another Flame, And Time—the ruthless, changing Time—Will now erase your name.

And yet your younger rival with His aspect bright and new Is but an unread version of The hopes we had in you.

The apple-blossoms of his Spring, The little seeds that lie Deep buried in the Hearth of Earth, Will live again—and die.

He, too, will give the warmth of Sun, And days of slanting rain, As he deals out our yearly share Of happiness and pain.

The big round moon and silver stars That lighted up your skies Will shine upon as many loves In just as many eyes.

And he will bring the fragrant June When crimson roses nod, And hurry through the Summertime To flaunt the gobletrod.

The painted pathway of his Fall Will be with clouds o'ercast, Because his Winter footsteps reach The Portal you have passed.

Good-bye, Old Year!—we loved you well; We found your treasures dear, But you have died as monarchs die— And so—Long live the Year!

—Nan Tertell Reed, in N. Y. Times.

year in the affairs of government, in state and county and city affairs everywhere this will be the best and most prosperous year of our existence. It is asking too much of our public officials that they make no mistakes in the year of 1923 and we know that they are only human, but they can profit by their mistakes and resolve today to serve the people better in years to come and let their policy be "service above self" always.

All the indications point to a prosperous year in our national life. The big financiers of the United States and this means the world today say that everything points to a big year, a year of great achievements, of cleaner politics, of better government, of bigger and better things. We can at least hope this is true and today are starting all over again for another year at least can give them benefit of the doubt and start the year with high hopes of youth that must be served. We are young again today and facing the world just as we did in the early days of youth, making new promises, planning new things joyful over the prospects that seem within-reach now even if we never attain the goal of our ambitions. Let us then be up and doing, With a heart for any fate. Still achieving, still pursuing, Learn to labor and to wait.

POSING AS DINERS, BANDITS MAKE A BIG CASH-JEWELRY HAUL

(By The Associated Press) DETROIT, Jan. 1.—Nine armed bandits, who are said to have invaded an outlying road house early yesterday held up the diners, robbed a small safe and escaped with cash and jewelry said total approximately $28,000, are being sought by county and city authorities, although no official report of the holdup and robbery had been made.

Despite reports that between fifty and sixty guests were at the road house when the holdup occurred, authorities late yesterday were having difficulty in learning what took place.

The story in which they place the greatest credence is that the nine men drove up to the road house in three automobiles. Eight of the bandits are said to have entered the road house, the ninth remaining outside, cutting the telephone wires and tampering with the ignition systems of all the automobiles in the yard.

When the eight had seated themselves and ordered a meal, one of them walked over to the piano player and said:

"Let somebody play that can play." The bandit then began playing and when the interest of the guests had centered upon him, his companions flashed revolvers and ordered "hands up."

After robbing the guests and a small safe belonging to the proprietor of the house, known only as "Kid" Harris, the bandits escaped in their three automobiles. Pursuit was balked when the ignition systems on the remaining machines failed to operate.

SEEK GREATER DEVELOPMENT CITY MANAGER PLAN GOVERNMENT

(By The Associated Press) LAWRENCE, Kans., Jan. 1.—Greater development of the city man-

advocates point out, centralizes municipal responsibility and gives the citizens more service per tax-dollar will be the object of the National City Managers' association, which recently chose the University of Kansas as its national headquarters. A monthly magazine devoted to efficient city administration will be one of the methods used to further this idea in government, states John G. Stutz, secretary of the association.

"In 1912, there were two cities with the manager form of government," Mr. Stutz says. "Since that time, 287 cities in thirty-eight states representing a population of 5,500,000 have adopted this plan. Among the larger cities with this form of government are Cleveland, Akron and Dayton, O.; Houston, Tex.; Nashville, Tenn.; Wichita, Kans.; Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, Mich.; Albuquerque, N. M.; and Sacramento, Pasadena and Long Beach, Calif."

ECONOMIC PROGRAM BEFORE SO. DAKOTA LEGISLATURE

(By The Associated Press) PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 1.—Economy will be the keynote of the biennial session of the South Dakota legislature, which meets early in January, according to statements from senators and representatives. Pressure on the part of the people for a reduction in expenses, voiced in a large number of the communications, is expected to result in a program of strict necessity.

Among the more important bills which members have announced would be introduced include a law to place state and county school officers on a non-political ballot in elections; revisions in the primary election law; inauguration of state owned enterprises; a law to make the fish and game commission a body composed of sportsmen to serve without pay, excepting mileage, and a measure authorizing the construction of three bridges across the Missouri river. One influential senator said his program was "passing of necessary appropriation bills, repeal of inefficient, useless, obsolete and unenforceable laws and simplification of those that remain, and adjourn."

SOCIAL RESEARCH AND TRAINING SUBJECT OF SOCIETY

The membership is composed of persons interested in the scientific study of social problems.

The rural sociology and social research section will discuss among other things, the distribution of poverty and philanthropy in a large urban community, a study in rural community organization, a survey of the farmers' standard of life and the family as an environment for child development.

A report on the study and preliminary organization of a neighborhood of 30,000 negroes, will be heard at the session on social theory and evolution together with a discussion on rural sociology as a college discipline.

INCREASE IN CAPITAL STOCK HUNDREDS OF CORPORATIONS IN THE LAST THREE MONTHS

Standard Oil Company and Subsidiaries Lead the List of Corporations

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Increases in capital stock of several hundred corporations in the last three months of 1922 have amounted to more than $2,000,000,000 and indications are that the total soon will be greatly increased.

The Standard Oil Company and subsidiaries have led the list in the size and amount of their stock dividends. The industries involved have included safety-razor companies, the banks, cotton mills, insurance companies, machine shops and manufacturing concerns.

The big movement to capitalize the surplus earnings of corporations began last October when the Gulf Oil company, of New Jersey, announced its plans to form the Gulf Oil Company of Pennsylvania, and give the stockholders in the old company an equal share in the new company and a 200 per cent stock dividend.

This was followed by rumors in the financial districts that other big oil companies and corporations were contemplating stock dividends after capitalizing their large surpluses. Stock quotations of those companies rose sharply, but almost invariably fell off again after the stock dividends were declared.

The Standard Oil of New Jersey on announcing an increase in capitalization of $15,000,000 and a 400 stock dividend, stated there was no reason to believe that the old rate of dividend would be maintained on the new stock.

Many of the stockholders receiving stock dividends on their holdings found, in effect, that they had received the equivalent of four quarters for the dollar they had held before, as there was no prospect of receiving more cash dividends in the future on their increased stock holdings than they had received previously.

The general belief in Wall street is that the reason for the great number of stock dividends declared is that the companies with large surplus earnings feared legislation designed to levy on their surplus capital in the near future. There was a referendum in Switzerland last fall on a proposal to make a capital levy on corporations and wealthy individuals.

Spokesmen for the Standard Oil companies have stated that their companies have always been under-capitalized and that the surplus earnings on which taxes have already been paid were turned back into the companies' business; "plowed under" it is termed.

WEST LEADS EAST IN THE NUMBER OF INTERSECTIONAL GAMES WON NOW

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—West-ern college football teams hold the lead in the list of east vs. west games held each New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., where the University of South Carolina and Pennsylvania State College meet today in the sixth intercollegiate intersectional contest.

Since 1916, when the first Pasadena east-west game was played, the western representatives have won three, the eastern teams have won one and one game has been tied.

In the first game, Washington State College, representing the west, defeated Brown University 14-0, and in 1917 the University of Oregon won from Pennsylvania University by the same score. In 1918 there was no game, and in 1919, and contest between the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, and the Mare Island team won by the former 17-0 was substituted.

The third game, probably the most famous of all, came in 1920 when a great Oregon machine went down to defeat 7-6 by a greater team from Harvard University. In 1921, the University of California, playing its first East-West game, defeated Ohio state, Big Ten champion, 28-0. Last year California was again selected and played a tie with Washington and Jefferson.

California won the coast championship again this year but declined to be a candidate for the honor of representing the west, so the Pacific Coast Conference selected Southern California, which had held the champion Bears to 12-0, the lowest score of any game won by California during the season.

Southern California has had a good season, winning every game except the California contest. In today's game, the Trojans will be playing against the Beazek style of football, something the westerners have not met this season. Hugo Beazek, coach of the Penn State team, formerly coached at Oregon but has been in the east several years.

SPORT GOSSIP PICKED AT RANDOM

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 1.—The discoverer of the play chiefly responsible for the modern-day style of football—the forward pass—has just been found. He is Fielding H. Yost, veteran coach at the University of Michigan. Twenty-five years ago, nine years before the forward pass was used in football, he introduced the spiral throw, using it first at Ohio Wesleyan University to teach punters how to kick a spiral.

Using his hand instead of his foot, for Yost says he was a poor punter, he explained to his squad how to impart a whirling motion to the oval, to give it speed and direction. For many years he used this trick in coaching his backfield, and in 1905, the year before the present-day forward pass, he published in a book on football, illustrations of his method of getting off the spiral throw.

"In executing the spiral throw" Yost said in his 1905 article, "place the ball on the hand as in the illustration. The ball should lie diagonally across the palm from the base of the thumb to the end of the little finger. The arm should be brought around forward in a horizontal line and, just as the ball leaves the hand, it should be caused to revolve on its axis by suddenly jerking the hand around the ball and to the left. The oval will thus be made to rotate like a spiral kick. The end of the ball that is ahead in the picture must be kept ahead all the time. The ball in this manner can be thrown with ease from 30 to 40 yards. The revolution of the ball on its axis should be rapid. This pass can be made with or across the wind and with practice the player can control its distance and direction almost as well as if the oval were a baseball."

Many versions of the "Ty" Cobb hit controversy have filled the columns of baseball gossip, but the truth is that President Ban Johnson of the American League refused to accept an unsigned box score as official.

When Johnson announced after several weeks of dispute in newspaper articles, that the hit was awarded to Cobb because the official box score was "unauthenticated," he meant "unsigned."

An unsigned box score, Johnson held, was like an unsigned check—no good. The discovery of two discrepancies in the unsigned box score was brought to Johnson's attention by the American League official statistician as a routine matter and the Associated Press box score was substituted for the official box.

Careful checking of the season's box scores for final official averages brings to light, it is learned, many disputes and obvious errors which are corrected by the official statistician, if plainly erroneous, without becoming known. Some official scorers, it is said, have been prone to omit such undisputed events as double plays and home runs.

"The Life of Bat Nelson," former light-weight champion, who met them all and retained his title until Ad Wolgast won the crown, fails to reveal the money saving capabilities of the former slugger and punishment absorbing Dane, although it relates his life's ring career authentically.

Nelson recently returned from the east where he was awarded $1,000 damages following his arrest on a charge of shoplifting, which he proved to be untrue. Enroute home, he learned that the price of a sleeping car berth would be nine dollars. Rather than spend that amount, "Bat" says he sat up all night and when he finally dozed off to sleep all the windows in the coach were opened causing him to take a cold which prevented his talking for several days.

"That nine dollars cost me $900," he said, "and you can believe me, hereafter when I want a sleeper I'll pay the price, because I have got to have my voice in my business."

Pittsburgh Wins Over Stanford U.

STADIUM STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Jan. 1.—The University of Pittsburgh's Panther football team defeated the Stanford University eleven, 6 to 7 here Saturday before a crowd of approximately 10,000 persons. For three periods, Stanford was entirely on the defensive but in the fourth quarter it displayed an offense that resulted in its lone touch down. During most of the game, proved superior in nearly every department of play.

Lewis-Dempsey Expect to Stage Mixed Match

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 1.—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, champion heavy-weight wrestler of the world, announced yesterday that arrangements had been completed for a mixed match between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight boxing champion and himself. Lewis produced signed articles covering the match which were drawn at Wichita, Kans., and carried the signature of Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey.

Lewis said: "We have made this match. There are only a few details to be worked out. When I meet the champion of the world in the fistic line he will learn he is meeting the champion of the world in a style of combat that doesn't call for putting on gloves."

"I do not want to boast but if I am thrown against the firing line with the world's champion pugilist the people who like sports will get the same shock they received when Ski whipped Carpenter."

The date and place of the match were not announced.

WICHITA, Kans., Jan. 1.—Tom Long, wrestling promoter of Wichita over whose signature a $300,000 offer for a mixed bout to be held in Wichita between Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Jack Dempsey was made to Jack Kearns, knows nothing of signed articles drawn at Wichita for the bout, he said yesterday.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 1.—Jack Dempsey said yesterday he had not been informed articles had been signed for a mixed bout between him and Ed Lewis, as announced in San Francisco, but declared he was ready for the match.

Tars Ready for Game With Cuba University Team

WINTER PARK, Jan. 1.—All is in readiness for one of the unique football games on record, the clash between the powerful University of Havana eleven and the Tars of Rollins College which will take place this afternoon on Miami's polo grounds as a feature of the Magic City's New Year celebration. The game is being played under the auspices of the American Legion of Miami and indications point to the largest attendance of any football game played south of Atlanta. Thousands of tourists in and about Miami, who will witness this game, will have an opportunity of recounting the story of America's only game of international football played this season. That a Florida team, that of Rollins College, whose eleven ranks among the leading small teams of the South, has the distinction of representing America in this gridiron struggle is a source of much pride to Floridians and the Tars are certain to receive the plaudits of thousands when they prance upon Miami's fashionable polo center to face the international rival.

Kline, Gainesville Coach, Resigns, and Acosta May Succeed

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 1.—Coincident with the resignation of W. G. "Bill" Kline, head coach at the University of Florida, his resignation to become effective immediately, John Acosta, of Jacksonville, former Yale football star, who coached the Florida freshmen eleven this fall and whipped into shape a yearling team that defeated every opponent it met, has been mentioned unofficially as a possible successor should Kline's resignation be accepted. None of the athletic officials have discussed him, however, and mention of his name is mere speculation.

Kline said he was quitting coaching to go into business and while he has made no definite plans, probably would locate in Miami.

Kline came to Florida three years ago from the University of Nebraska where in one year he turned out a football eleven that won the championship of the Missouri valley conference.

No successor has been selected and it is unlikely any official action will take place until the meeting of the athletic board next week.

Griff's New Infielder May Displace Old Peck

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Where does Washington intend to use short stop Gagnon?

Gagnon is the infielder recently secured from Detroit in a trade for Pitcher Ray Francis.

Washington has one of the veteran shortstops of the game in Roger Peckinpaugh. Roger is slipping a bit but is still a great fielder.

It is hard to figure that Gagnon has a chance to displace Peckinpaugh at short. There is the possibility that the coming of Gagnon may mean that Peck is to figure in a trade.

It is also possible that Gagnon is to be tried out at third base. Washington was weak at her far corner last year, using a half dozen men with ordinary success. Possibly Gagnon will fill the bill there.

Harris is a fixture at second. So Gagnon must be in the whirl at third, unless Peck is to be traded.

Gagnon is a former Holy Cross college star. He joined Detroit at the close of the college season last year. After being carried as a bench warmer for about a month he was sent to Rochester of the International league for further seasoning. He had a good year there and is said to be ready for fast company.

OCLAWAHA VALLEY RAILROAD ORDERED TO SUSPEND OPERATION

PALATKA, Jan. 1.—All traffic over the Oclawaha Valley railroad, operating between Palatka and Ocala, ceased Saturday under an order issued to A. Christensen, receiver of the property, by Judge W. H. Bullock, of the Marion county circuit court. The order was issued on a report of the receiver that the road was not meeting expenses and that there was no prospect it would be able to do so at any time in the near future.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

By W. R. Pearman, Secretary

Mr. Lewis O'Bryan, of the law firm of O'Bryan and Sharon, has been appointed chairman of the legislative committee of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce to succeed E. F. Homeholder. Fred T. Wiltson, who has recently come to Sanford to engage in the practice of law, has also been added as a member of this committee. The legislative committee will hold its first meeting under the chairmanship of Mr. O'Bryan, Wednesday evening, Jan. 3. This meeting will be held in conjunction with the city planning committee, at which time a city zoning bill will be prepared which will be submitted at the next session of this legislature.

Map Contest Ended—Decision Awaited

The map contest for students of the grammar school and which was inaugurated by the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce has ended, and the best of these maps have been selected, awaiting the decision of the judges. These judges were appointed at Friday's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The maps submitted are of Seminole county and the majority are very efficiently prepared. They would do justice to students of the higher grades and the committee will have a very difficult proposition in selecting the best of those submitted.

C. of C. to Determine Reason for Out-of-Town Buying

Considerable discussion was indulged in at the meeting relative to a previous suggestion made on sending out a questionnaire to local people or why out-of-town purchases are occasionally made. A. E. Yowell, of the retail merchants' committee, offered some very excellent suggestions and signified his intention of having the committee go after new business during the coming year in an aggressive manner. This committee, at its next meeting Tuesday night, will discuss the plans for a big feature day in January.

Hon. W. T. Bland to Address C. of C. Jan. 11

Hon. W. T. Bland, president of the First National Bank, of Orlando, has accepted an invitation to be the principal speaker and guest of honor at the next evening meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held Thursday evening, Jan. 11, at 7:30 p. m., in the Valdez hotel. The guest of honor for the evening meeting scheduled for February will no doubt be Mr. J. E. Ingram, of St. Augustine, to whom an invitation is being extended.

C. of C. Move for Postoffice Improvements

The cramped conditions as the post-office were aggravated by the unprecedented Christmas business. This subject was brought to the attention of the meeting, and it was moved that the chamber take whatever steps are necessary to interest representatives in congress and endeavor to make more adequate quarters provided to handle the postal service in Sanford.

Aid to Elimination of Mosquitoes

Forrest Lake stated it was the intention of the city commissioners to take steps to eliminate mosquitoes from Sanford by bulk-heading that portion of the lake-front within the city limits. It was Mr. Lake's belief that this would require a special act of the legislature, and he suggested that the Chamber of Commerce appoint a special committee to investigate the matter fully and report the findings to the city commissioners and permit the latter to benefit by same.

Referendum No. 10 from the United States Chamber of Commerce report of the committee on education was submitted to the educational committee for action.

Inauguration Daylight Boat Line Deferred

The proposed daylight boat line between Jacksonville and Sanford which was given such wide publicity some time back, will not be put in operation this year, according to advice received from its promoter, Captain Deakne of Kearsburg, N. J. In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce he advised that the price and scarcity of coal caused his financial associates to look with disfavor upon the proposition at this time.

To Encourage Tourists List Accommodations With C. of C.

Inquiries on Sanford continue to come to the secretary's office each day in greater volume, and if but a portion of these people come to Sanford this winter, the city will experience the greatest touring season in its history. Anticipating the demand that will be made on the already acute shortage of accommodations, an urgent appeal has been sent to all local people to list all available accommodations with the Chamber of Commerce.

Report from New York on Sanford's New Hotel

Interesting excerpts were read from a letter received by the organization from Mr. W. T. Donnelly, of New York, relative to his progress on the tourist hotel for Sanford, and was to the effect that Mr. Donnelly's progress in this direction was most promising and that he had been successful in interesting other individual means in the project.

NEW YORK DIGGING WAY OUT OF FIRST SNOW OF SEASON

(By The Associated Press)
 NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—Thousands of veteran snow handlers were called yesterday to help dig New York out of its first big snow storm of the season, a blizzard of snow and sleet, which, starting Thursday under moderate temperatures became overnight an icy gale which threatened to paralyze transportation.

The storm took its toll of hundreds of injuries to persons who had fallen victim to the treacherous ice-covered streets. Most of the hospitals were crowded to capacity. At least two persons are reported to have been killed in falls. The wind reached a high velocity. Combined with the unaccustomed burden of snow, it worked havoc with above-ground power and telephone lines, street car transmission cables, roofs of buildings and large trees. Lives of pedestrians in some sections were endangered by falling signs, tumbling chimneys and smokestacks. Thousands of dollars' worth of damage was believed to be sustained on Long and Staten islands, where numerous small craft were washed ashore. Along the waterfront the toll of damaged buildings was reported heavy.

City officials were out early in a personal canvass of Bowery "soup kitchens" "flap houses" and "bread lines" recruiting snow shovelers with which to augment the force of 24,000 advertised for Thursday night.

Throughout the storm some 6,000 reinforcements, armed with shovels, labored with the city's snow-removing engines, but the mechanical plows were unable to do more than keep the thoroughfares passable. Streets and elevated car lines were partially incapacitated; despite the brave efforts of night crews to keep tracks clear.

"Florida's first step in highway beautification is to save the natural beauty in which the state abounds and after that to supplement this natural beauty by the orderly planting of trees, shrubs, vines and other flowering plants along the highways according to well worked out plans. Plantings must be made of materials that will not require watering and fertilization. There is an abundance of native plant life available and it should be used first" said Warren H. Manning, of Boston, world-famous architect who is in charge of the plans being worked out by the Orange county beautification commission at the meeting of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce.
