"A Chiel is Among Ye Taking Notes, and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

A newspaper is not altogether published to tell the people what they would like to know, but has to give much of its space to telling them what they ought to know.—Greely.

Special Correspondence to The Herald.

Easter, according to my observations, is the one day of the year upon which a goodly number of the male population of the earth go to church. The ladies, they of course, always live up to this recognized duty. The majority of men, however, are more than apt to forget the admonitions and precepts of the Sunday school teachers of their youth; to remember but dimly and at odd times the existence of such things as the Bible and to indulge in the luxury of prayer only on lengthy, out-of-the-ordinary occasions. The usual causes for this apparent slighting of the spiritual side of life are mostly carelessness and excessive pressure of business and worldly affairs and not that they have ceased to believe in Christianity or the churches.

Since the "Robert Elamere" wave of skepticism swept the country, it has become quite the fashion to "pose" as an idealist, an agnostic, or to give expression to atheistic opinions. It is amusing to hear people talk about "unbelief;" to observe how ready they are with comments on the "phenomena" of the fundamental principles of Christianity!

If the Resurrection—the miracle day—is but a myth—the last of the series of pleasing legendary tales of which the Creation, the Fall and the Deluge form the interesting precedents—I believe that the most perverse dogmatist must admit that it has lost nothing in its twenty centuries of transmission. To-day, even as on the far back actual one, it stands apart from all the year clear and white and shining and is still as it always has been, the greatest feast of the Christian church; the day on which the risen God is honored with the rarest exotics the earth produces; the most inspired strains of music and oratory; the largest concourses of assemblies. Man can do no more than give the best of which he is possessed.

I see the city council is dead against any citizen having a dairy inside the city limits. For several months the life of the councilmen has been made a burden by the numerous complaints of this nature and now they have decided to abate this nuisance. Of course no one objects to a neighbor having one cow backed up against the kitchen window where the flies can swarm in the good old summer time, but when it comes to a cattle range on a fifty foot lot even the members of the church are apt to lose their religion and cease to love their neighbors or their neighbor's cows.

No more can the lactical fluid be extracted from the brindle bovine as she cheerfully chews her cud near the parlor window. It is back to the woods for bossy.

I am as far from being an anarchist or socialist as any man living, but I try to study the situation and am free to say that I do like it. I am all the time asking myself:—"Whither are we drifting?" From my standpoint, the industrial situation is a constant menace and of far more importance than the financial. Too many people fail to realize the fact that the industrial world of fifty years ago—yes, twenty-five years ago—no longer exists. This is the age of improved machinery, electricity and steam, of popular education and progress. Labor is the under dog, and is getting the worst of it. This condition of things cannot always last. Are you thinking about it?

"The fire-light is the more effective," said a girl, as the little company sat in the shadow of the flickering flame. "Yes, I am quite sure the fire-light is far, far better than the moon, even."

Of course the girl was right. You may speak of the sentiment that is engendered in the silvery glow of moonlight—tis potent enough, indeed, but nothing can bring out the other nature of a man as can fire-light, when the room is a medley of soft lights and shades, which build themselves in the brain of the dreamer to shapes of castle walls and summits of glory and perfect peace. And, since man is but a selfish creature and pleases most when most pleased—with himself—he is apt to make all kinds of a natural idiot of himself in the glows of firelight.

For the firelight is the light of the man's home, and the moonlight is the light of God's great out-of-doors, humanity's home, and is too impersonal to itself, quicken the heart to noblest sentiment. The home thought—that explains why men coarsened and offends brutalized in the hard struggle for a little name and a little fame have broken into curses and tears when they have heard even such a song as, "He Never Cares to Wander From His Own Fireside." In season and out of season good and bad, the vilest sinner gets most genuine happiness in the warmth of his own hearthstone, though in the contrary of human nature, he may wander far afield from it, both in body and in spirit.

Oh, yes, the girl was right: "The fire-light is the more effective." There be some of us who would laugh sentiment to scorn. In fact, it is a common jest, is sentiment, and to be called sentimental is far more than most beings can endure. But, after all, thank your Maker for healthy sentiment, for the ability to forget material self for the nonce and let the heart be unreservedly glad, forgetting with not a trace or scorn, even, the hills that are climbed and the hills to be climbed, forgetting all the "practical." And in the end, the "practical" will be the better for it, the day's work will be the lighter for it, and great "practical" end will be achieved.

While on the question of stables as a nuisance I wish to remark that cows are not the only transgressors. There are a number of people in Sanford who keep several horses and mules in the heart of the city and as the stables are in a filthy condition the neighbors have kicked several times but have received no relief. Stables are stables and it matters little whether they shelter a cow or a horse or a mule, the house fly lurks therein and spreads his disease just the same. While the city council is upon the abatement of nuisances don't take it out on the cow alone but look up some other stables. No citizen of Sanford or any other city should be compelled to live through the summer with a stable at his very window.

The railroad will probably move their line and the shops from Sanford and we shall all starve to death because I persist in kicking against the loud noises of the engines at night. Of course this would be an awful calamity for Sanford could not possibly exist without the Coast Line. Of course we all want the railroad to stay but those awful noises will have to go and that beautiful coal chute that blocks several of our best streets should go. After this if the Coast Line wants to go, the chances are that Sanford could manage to exist until some of the other roads get here. We love the Coast Line dearly and have done so for many a year. In fact we love her so dearly that we have been tied to her apron strings and were afraid to break loose.

But those noises must stop!

The fountains have been taken out. In fact they have been more than taken out. They are out so much that we cannot get a drink at the accustomed places and will have to go thirsty until the new fountains can be placed in position on Commercial street.

The ingenuity of a race of men with brains is always set to work to render nugatory all restrictive laws, and the prohibition of satisfying man's appetites and pleasures. Here comes the beer table story from Michigan where they are having all kinds of troubles in enforcing the county option law. The thirsty portion of the population has already begun to contemplate the comfort of a concentrated beer table for use in local option countries. "To us," says the editor of the Pontiac Press-Gazette, with some feeling, "the proposition seems to be fraught with immense possibilities, and, moreover, to fill a long felt want." In his mind's eye the editor has a vision which he describes with unusual truth of outline and eager, spontaneous expression. "Imagine the possibilities," he adds, with glowing eye and fast-runing pen and quickening pulse, imagine the possibilities of picking from the vest pocket a clear, white pill, which, when thrown into a glass of aqua pura, is rapidly transposed into sparkling lager, slusher high or short cut, at the pleasure of the customer."

Ach du lieber, Augustine, Augustine. Scham mit under.

Get ready to attend church Easter Sunday even if you have not attended since last Easter.

Easter will come on the 11th. It is too early to predict just what the new hats will be like. From the few young ones we have seen the merry widow seems to have married the derby. The issue resembles neither parent. The milliners were determined to make something that would keep anyone from trimming her old hat over and they did it.

Florida Truck in Canada

One of the leading commission merchants of Toronto, Ont., who recently visited this city on his way to Sanford, is quoted by the Florida Fruit and Produce News as saying that there is a growing demand for Florida produce throughout Canada and that the mining regions of the Northwest are rapidly developing into one of the best markets for all kinds of produce at good prices. Florida has an abundance of land suitable for truck farming—cheap land, too—for more arable land than is now under cultivation, and all capable of producing two or three crops a year with our even climate.—Times-Union.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Most Comprehensive Ever Prepared by Florida Governor

FIRST DAYS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Senator Hudson Is President of The Senate and Ion Ferris Speaker Of The House

With Senator F. M. Hudson of Dade county, elected as president of the senate and Ion L. Ferris of Duval county, elected as speaker of the house, both being caucus nominees, both houses settled down to the initial business of what promises to be one of the most interesting sessions of Florida's law-making body ever held.

Mr. Hudson's victory over Joseph H. Humphries of the twenty-seventh district, was even more flattering than his most confident friends anticipated. The vote was 20 to 11 favoring Mr. Hudson. It had been predicted by many that the vote for the presidency would be a tie.

Mr. Ferris's victory was also a pleasant surprise in the size of the vote given him. L. E. Robinson of Live Oak was his nearest competitor, receiving only eighteen votes while Mr. Ferris received thirty-nine. James W. Alexander of Volusia received thirteen votes. The oath of office was administered in the senate by Justice Cockrell and in the house by Justice Whitfield.

A feature of today's session was the eligibility of L. C. Massey of Orlando by Senator John S. Beard of Pensacola. Mr. Beard based his objection upon constitutional grounds, claiming that Mr. Massey is ineligible because he is an attorney for the railroad commission. The opposition to the objection was led by Hon. Don C. McMullen of Hillsborough, and the motion of Mr. Beard was voted down, Mr. Massey taking the oath.

For Secretaryships C. A. Finley of Lake City was selected for the senate and J. G. Kellum in the house. Both of these men have had former experience in this work.

Gov. Gilchrist's message, which was submitted today, is one of the most comprehensive ever prepared by a Governor of this state.

Space forbids publishing entire message. In part he touched upon the following subjects:

Health—The state census report shows the death rate in this state to be 6.6 to each 1,000. In the registration area of the United States representing the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia, it is 17.8.

General Progress—We are now producing more than one-half of the phosphate of the United States, and more than one-third of the phosphate of the world. We are accomplishing satisfactory and increasing results in agriculture, horticulture, manufacturing, and in fisheries, in mining, in commerce, in hygiene, in education, in banking, in transportation, religion, politics and climate. In the products of the field, farm, forest and fireside.

Population—"The condition of the state is satisfactory. The last United States census report shows that the population has increased 35.5 per cent for the preceding ten years, showing greater increase than in any other state except North Dakota, Oklahoma, Idaho, Washington, Texas and Montana.

The Declaration of Rights Declares: "No man shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

The pure food law should be amended so that the sheriff, his deputy, or any constable should have authority to draw samples and send samples at the expense of the state, to the state chemist. This would be especially beneficial in determining promptly the difference between "soft drinks" and intoxicating drinks.

The following recommendations of the railroad commission are concurred in: "A valid law requiring separate passenger coaches for white and negro passengers."

"A law empowering the commission to prescribe joint rates for railroads and water carriers." "A law making penalties imposed by the commission liens on the property of the carrier, until they are paid, or until they are determined in favor of the carrier." The object of this is that, in case a railroad should go into the hands of a receiver, the penalties may be preserved. "A law making the powers of the commission in some instances more specific," thereby saving law suits.

There is no good reason why telegraph companies should not be placed under the operation of the railroad commission. The primaries are too expensive. The law should be amended so as to provide a public clause. It should require at least every candidate and some specified workers to certify to the public, under suitable penalties at some time previous to said election, a statement of the amount of money expended, and from what source the money was received.

In a lengthy treatise of the convict question Gov. Gilchrist favors setting aside a sum each year for the erection of a state penitentiary. The convicts were leased this term to the Florida Pine Co., for four years at $281.00 apiece.

It is recommended that there be a thorough revision of the license taxes. There are many industries on which this tax bears heavily.

The express companies, like the insurance companies, pay but little tax on property, because, as the report shows, they own but little. It is recommended that the license tax of the express companies be like that of insurance companies, such a per cent of their gross earnings. The total receipts in Florida of the Southern Express Company, for the year ending June 30th, 1908, were $628,934.15. I understand that this sum does not embrace that part of the interstate business which would be credited as coming to or from Florida.

SANFORD LAND IS MOVING

Over 500 Acres of Valuable Land Sold THIS Week

While the tourists and pleasure seekers are leaving the other cities in Florida, Sanford has just started to fill up with prospectors, and many of those who have been wintering at the different resorts are ending up their tour in Sanford, and buying some land etc. departing for their homes.

This week witnessed the greatest activity that has even been known in Sanford and over 500 acres were sold the first of the week. Space forbids more than a brief mention of these sales this week. Our next issue will give a detailed report.

Holly in The Village

Editor Holly, of The Sanford Herald was a breezy visitor to the village today. He reports great doings in the city of Sanford. Promises to take us a ride on the new trolley system as soon as finished. He stood on our brick streets and imagined he was in Sanford of the future. He looked up Orange Avenue, where we once had a street railway for a mile and two miles in other directions, but which we tore up to give place for our crowding automobiles and sighed for the good day dawning on the celery delta.

He departed from the country village to his home city on Lake George feeling depressed and sad that Orlando is so slow that he could hardly cross the street for the push of autos and people and doubtless he felt no better until he arrived on the spot where there is more room to spread himself and sniff the air from the noble St. George.—Reporter-Star.

The editor of the Reporter-Star is rather mixed in his geography. We are not quite so far from Orlando as from Lake George although his wish is probably father to the thought. Orlando's former railway was a mule car and can scarcely be compared to Sanford's new trolley line. If his royal nib would spend more time improving Orlando than the world at large he would be more of a prophet in his own country. Holly's cordial reception in Orlando explains the story.

For Advertising Lucky Sanford

A preliminary enquiry was received by our Board of Trade this week in reference to a co-operative plan of advertising outlined by Mr. Percy P. Vyle, of the well known Jacksonville Advertising Agency. The central idea of Mr. Vyle's plan is that if Sanford, DeLand, Orlando and Kissimmee contribute to a central fund, larger space could be obtained and greater prominence given to the varied resources of each of these flourishing localities situated in the "Heart of Florida."

The same enquiries have been received by the Boards of Trade of DeLand, Orlando and Kissimmee, and it is upon the nature of the respective Boards' replies that further outlining of the plan rests.

Mr. V. W. Gould, secretary of the DeLand Business Men's League, has spoken favorably of the plan from a personal standpoint; as for The Herald, we certainly speak a careful consideration of the plan, as we believe Mr. Vyle to be exceptionally capable of handling it to the benefit of Sanford, having known of him and his work for a number of years.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Items of Interest Concerning Society People.

POINTS PURELY PERSONAL

How Celery City Vandy Fair While Away the Golden Hours—Social Gossip.

The joys and gladness of Easter have rent the dark and sable curtain of the Lenten season, letting sunshine and brightness dispel the gloominess of the penitential time.

The paths of the post-Lenten social season are bright with promise, and they will take on that activity which pleases society. Again that realm will have its increment, and the dance will have its sway.

The weather, up to the present time, has extended a very cordial invitation to the usual Easter costume. Sometimes the spring styles are such in shape and color that even the most zealous devotee of fashion is a wee bit reluctant to adopt them, but this year there is no complaint of that character. The big sleeve, which was ridiculed when it was at the height of its glory is now mourned and would be gladly welcomed back. The hats will prove that the milliner's art is still resourceful of invention, but the woman with a light Easter bonnet and seal skin jacket and other winter wraps, will not feel more comfortable than a man with his spring headgear accompanied by a winter ulster, and it is more than likely that the services at the churches Sunday morning will not be made more interesting by the usual exhibition of spring suits, with bonnet accompaniment. And by the way, we all remember how the ministers and the over-pious sisters, used to decry the wearing of the best clothes to church, where they distracted the congregations and set the spirit of envy into active operation. It was said that the practice was encouraged by the old boy himself, because the minister with his words of counsel and admonition could not hold the attention of the congregation so long as they had good clothes to look at. It is different now, and to church service is given the best that every one has. And why not? It is a place where honor and praise is given to Him who gave all things, and a place worthy of the best of words—the best of everything and certainly the best of garments cannot be out of place, if accompanied with proper spirit.

The Herald gives its Easter greeting to every one, and trusts that the gladness of the season will enter the homes of the people.

In Honor of Miss Clayton

Decidedly the most enjoyable social event of the season was the dance at the Sanford House last Friday night, given by W. J. Thigpen in honor of Miss Rose Clayton of Atlanta.

Miss Clayton has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. H. Marks, and has been the recipient of many favors during her sojourn in Sanford. Being of a sunny temperament and vivacious disposition, Miss Clayton has made a host of friends who assembled Friday night for the farewell occasion. The Sanford House never presented a more entrancing picture, the hallways, parlors and dining hall being decorated with palms and vines.

In the receiving line were Mrs. H. P. Driver, Miss Clayton, Mrs. A. W. Brown, and Mrs. Samuel Puleston, and the guests were made welcome upon their arrival. At nine o'clock the celebrated Stinson orchestra struck up the strains of a march, and, led by Mr. Thigpen and Miss Clayton, the merry dancers executed several figures, and then swung into a rollicking two-step and the dance was on. From then until the midnight hour the delights of the terpsichorean were indulged in, and inspired by the strains of the orchestra, even the elderly folks were gay. In the spacious hall a large bowl was kept filled with delicious punch, a la prohibition, and here the guests regaled themselves in the interim of dances.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Antoinette Stearns of Orlando, Miss Platt, Miss Gettier, Miss Ingraham and Miss Wright, and Messrs. Tiff Hammond, Dr. McElroy, Frank Guernsey and Frank Myers of Orlando.

Over sixty guests were present, and this delightful occasion will long linger in the memory of those participating.

Miss Clayton departed last Tuesday for her home, to the regret of her many friends, who hope to have her visit Sanford again next season.

OVIEDO OCCURRENCES

Special correspondent to The Herald.

At a recent meeting of the Oviedo Magazine Club the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Mead, re-elected president; Mrs. Yonge, vice-president to succeed Mrs. Alexander; Miss Anjta King, secretary, successor to Miss Mary Aulin. Mrs. Mead is so eminently qualified both as regards literary and executive ability for conducting the club that she has given it an impetus it never had before. The Friday afternoon meeting of last week was held at Mrs. Dean's, who entertained in her usual charming manner. The subject was "Rome" with descriptive readings of the "Eternal City" and its people. At the conclusion of the program delicious cake and ice cream were served amid a social flow of chat. Then all bade their hostess good-bye, voting it one of the most pleasant of all the meetings.

Mrs. Foster, a winter visitor here for many years, contributed through the Magazine Club, $25 toward the fund for the new marl sidewalk which is being laid. Mrs. Foster has always had the welfare of Oviedo at heart, and this is only one of her numerous acts of beneficence in behalf of its advancement. It was with regret her friends bade her good-bye as she departed for her home at Clifton Springs, N. Y.

Mrs. Tunstill, who has for some time been visiting Mrs. Yonge, returned to her home in Madison, Wis. By her culture and charming personality she made friends of all with whom she came in contact. We hope each winter will see her back again.

The warehouse which for several weeks has been in course of erection for the Lawton brothers is now completed. This young firm is full of energy and enterprise, with every promise of success before them.

Mr. H. B. McCall, now occupying the store he recently purchased of J. S. Moore, has quite an attractive establishment. He has added to it a furniture department and his stock includes handsome goods in all lines.

Mr. B. G. Smith, the newly appointed postmaster, is now in charge of his office, succeeding Mr. J. S. Moore. The latter will soon move his family to Sanford where he is largely interested in celery growing.

Mrs. Brannon is now at home again after closing her school at Gabriella with interesting exercises followed by a picnic.

Dr. Crawford of Orlando is a frequent visitor here and seems charmed with our little village. We are glad to see people attracted to Oviedo.

Mr. Harry Alexander made a flying trip to Lakeland and return last week. He was much impressed not only with its beauty but also its business activity.

Basket ball is soon to be one of the diversions of Oviedo, as the young ladies are about to start an organization of the kind.

The Oviedo Magazine Club have another dramatic entertainment in contemplation and are now selecting their play.

To The Happy Hunting Ground Tallahassee, the Seminole chieftain, the noblest of his race, has passed to the happy hunting grounds of his fathers, and a nation of red men mourn his passing away, which occurred at Hungry Land, near Lake Okeechobee a few weeks ago. The Indian notification is: "Tallahassee, big sleep, one moon." The old chief had lived in Florida for more than ninety years, and to many old settlers was well known. The past twenty years he has spent much of his time by his own camp fires, but prior to that time he frequently made pilgrimages to the cities of Florida, where he was always cordially received. He was one of the noblest and proudest of the Seminoles, and had the distinction of never having yielded to the demands of the United States. He gave very little trouble to the people of Florida, preferring peace to war. He was buried among his people in Hungry Land.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Why We Need Blankets.

The blankets that we sleep under at night are thicker and heavier and warmer than the clothing we wear during the day.

If we lie down on a couch to take a nap in our day clothing we are almost sure to take cold unless we add some sort of covering.

In this case the reason may be found in the circulation of the blood. The warmth of the body depends on the circulation being vigorous.

If the beats are ten less each minute they are 600 less in one hour, and in eight hours, an average night's sleep, they are 4,800 less.

American History Gams.

Here is a game in which all the members of the family may take part. It is hardly fair that boys and girls should contend with grown people in games of an ordinary kind.

Any number of persons may play. Having seated themselves around the sitting room table or with books in the lap on which to write and appointed a timekeeper, who shall act as leader and judge.

The leader gives notice when the time is up, and the player having the largest list of names has the number 5 put to his credit.

Skillful Mind Jogging.

The Hindoo jugglers and acrobats are the most skillful in the world, and we are always hearing new stories of them. One of the latest stories is about a performer who went through many wonderful feats perched on top of a single bamboo stick.

An Unexpected Reward.

Some people never perform an act of kindness without hoping to receive a reward. Often such people are disappointed.

"If you find my piece of money I will give you a cent." The boys began hunting eagerly for the lost coin.

Conundrums.

When is a man hospitable and at the same time a cheat? When he takes you in. Name that from which if the whole be taken some will remain.

Good Roads Meeting

The annual meeting of the County Commissioners and Good Roads Association of Florida will convene in the city of Palatka, Tuesday morning, April 27, 1900.

The annual meetings have always been on the third Tuesday in June, but owing to the legislature occurring this year, the meeting is called earlier.

The subject of improved roads is commanding more active and practical consideration at this time than any other question of internal improvement in the states and territories of the American Union. Agricultural, commercial, industrial, transportation, religious, educational, social, and public interests are demanding a system of permanent highways commensurate with the needs of the country. The proceedings of the convention will include addresses and discussions upon the scientific, ethic and economic phases of the subject and its relation to industrial progress and development. Legislation pertaining to state co-operation and supervision, financial ways and means, the use of convicts and other details of the subject will receive practical consideration.

State and county officials, mayors of cities, officers of commercial, agricultural, industrial, transportation, development, civic improvement and all good roads advocates are earnestly requested to be present.

A special invitation is extended to the press of the state.

Palatka spreads royal welcomes to her guests and bids you come.

Special hotel rates. Badges for all delegates.

The trip will do you good and your presence will encourage us.

Don't forget the date, Tuesday, April 27. J. W. Wirtz, President.

Bye-Lo Hotel Improvements

The Bye-Lo Hotel is undergoing a wonderful transformation under the able direction of Mr. and Mrs. Fielding and is now fully equipped to feed the multitude. A full announcement will be made next week.

ANOTHER HOTEL FOR SANFORD

DeMont Building Will Be Put in First Class Shape Without Delay

One by one the old eye sores that have stood for many years in the way of progress in this city are disappearing and new structures are either taking their places or the old ones being repaired in such a way that the former remains cannot be recognized. For many years the DeMont building on First street has weathered the storms outside and weathered a class of poor tenants inside. The building is of brick three stories in height on the First street side and when thoroughly overhauled should make a first class hotel, and such it will be.

The new proprietor, F. Viering, is a first class hotel man and at the present time is proprietor of the Pearce House in Gainesville. Mr. Viering has long anticipated embarking in the hotel business in Sanford and up to the present time could not find a suitable building. The DeMont house naturally did not appeal to him in its present shape but S. Runge, the public spirited citizen who has charge of the building recognizing the value of a first class establishment has granted Mr. Viering full swing in the matter of improvements and in a few months the old structure will not be recognized.

This will mean a great improvement for First street and when several of the other rookeries are either torn down or remodeled our city will be up-to-date in every particular. Mr. Viering will take charge at once and a large force will be put to work in order to open the hotel as soon as possible. Sanford during the season will be filled to overflowing with tourists and homeseekers and the citizens will accord the new proprietor a hearty welcome and assist him in every way to get in shape for the accommodation of the exodus of visitors.

From letters received every day it is estimated that Sanford will have over 2000 new people in the city by December 1st.

Better Service for Apopka

Hon. H. H. Witherington of Apopka was in the city last Saturday conferring with the A. C. L. officials regarding a train service between Sanford and Apopka. The train to Trilby now going via Clarcona could be backed up to Apopka and give the people of Apopka a chance to make connection with East Coast points via Sanford. As the railroad officials are not in favor of backing trains up to the stations at any point it is hardly possible that Apopka will get this service, although it would be the means of bringing many more people to Sanford.

Why Do You Wait?

The Sanford Building & Loan Association has 700 shares taken up and should have that many more. The public-spirited citizens of Sanford should subscribe at once for more stock. Try it at once and see how fast our people will build houses and how much it will help to stimulate trade in all lines during the summer months, besides being a good way to save a little money which will undoubtedly pay as an investment. Remember that this is purely a co-operative home association.

New Delivery Wagon

The Sanford Grocery Co. is sporting a new delivery wagon, and it is a thing of beauty and a joy forever. It was "made in Sanford" by the Sanford Carriage Works, under the careful supervision of W. H. Underwood, the master of fine carriage work. The wagon serves two purposes: it is a good delivery wagon and advertisement for the Sanford Grocery Co., and a good "ad" for the Sanford Carriage Works. No need to send out of Sanford anything.

Harry Ward Arrives

Harry Ward, president and general manager of the Ward Fence Co., of Decatur, Ind., accompanied by John A. Falk, another prominent citizen of Decatur arrived in the city last Saturday and they are busily engaged in buying up all the available lands and city property. Mr. Ward has chosen Sanford for his adopted home and considers any investment in this section the best in the United States.

More Houses on First Street

Contractor C. I. Hughes reports that he has made contracts for several new modern houses on the west side. The first of these will be erected at once for T. C. Carlson, who contemplates the building of several more commodious houses. Thus does Sanford build. That section is destined to be a residential as well as an industrial part of the Celery City.

Get In The Game

A meeting of the Sanford Base-Ball Association is called for tonight at the office of Geo. A. DeCottes. Plans for the season of 1900 will be discussed. All citizens are invited as Sanford proposes to put a winning team in the field this year. The new ball park to be established along the line of the Sanford & Everglades Ry., should also receive the attention of the Association.

REGARDING SANFORD

Improvements that Would Make A Greater Sanford

FROM A WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW

Becky Sharp Writes an Interesting Letter About the Needs and Deeds of Sanford

First Street

I have heard many things lately, but one of the greatest interest has been settled—the fountains. It was the only thing to do. Sentiment is a perfectly beautiful thing, but when progress is concerned, banish it, sentiment I mean. Now the next turn to meet in our road is the getting rid of the apparent end of our business street. To a stranger the appearance is appalling, and why can't those old buildings do they are no credit, anyhow. Tear them down; build something better; thus allowing the street to be cut through. Use natural advantages. True, "Rome wasn't built in a day," but they had to select a day to begin on, didn't they? Well, with as enterprising and ambitious a mayor and council as we have, we can do lots of good. So tear down the old end apparent, cut First street through. Sanford avenue isn't the end of town.

For a Club House

Suggestion is good for thought, and if I give you material to feed upon, there is no reason whatever why you should not go to work, because, if you intend to go to work, there is no better place than right where you are. It is not a strenuous task of labor for labor's sake, but a task that means much in our combined social and intellectual side of life. Thus, why doesn't Sanford and her people come forth and build them a building that would embrace the library, and have a free reading room that would be open every afternoon and evening wherein strangers within our gates could go and spend a pleasant hour. There is an energetic library club of ladies in the city; then, too, a social club. Why can't these folks all combine, and grow to something worthy of more than passing note? Don't say "we can't afford it," we can. Of course it means work, but this city is fast growing, and what did satisfy us, will far from do it now. We want the man, woman and child from the North, East, West, and our South, but we must eventuate things by which to hold them when once they come.

If there is a chance, even the shadow of a chance, let us build a house that will give us a room for a library, and then have another such room for a meeting place for social affairs, "because a little nonsense, now and then, is relished by the best of men," and in truth you know it is the social life that makes life worth while. At all odds, let us do something, and if you have any ideas, pro or con, let us hear from you. Understand this, that the right sort of a club house, because such it would be, will bring about greater things than some of you dream of. "Living in one little groove all the days of your life, isn't going to improve you or your city. It's well enough for you to sit down and say "nonsense," that is because you haven't given such matters as these the proper consideration. You want this city to grow; you want to advertise it broadcast, and you are willing to sell your land, but listen! your people who are new comers, who have bought your land, and are developing it, bring life into your town, that even three years ago was literally stagnant financially, in comparison to this date, these same people need your attention. Compensate their coming. They have helped you, revived the life, and they will help you in an undertaking that means betterment. Among your new people you have the "salt of the earth" in your midst, and I appeal in their behalf that something be done. There are enough of you who are of the social side inclined to do what is necessary, and of the intellectual side we all of us aim to bring out the best that is in us; and remember that environment is a great factor, and the right hand of fellowship extended in the right place is a benefit to all concerned. Of course there is a line to draw, but let me say the one you may be thinking of omitting from your list is the very one who doesn't want to be counted among those present, and anyhow there are some very capable women in the city who could assume all the responsibility in this matter, and there are enough men who have sufficient wampum to contribute. So now, gentlemen, loosen up the cord to the purse and give the ladies a chance to help you. Form a civic club, too. It's a good practice for you, too, because you know the predictions for Lucky Sanford. Well, help to live those same convictions into realities. What say you? —BECKY SHARPE.

FLORIDA AN ELDORADO

Writer in Chicago Tribune Gives Some Facts

GREAT POSSIBILITIES OF STATE

The Real Place For The Homeseeker—No Longer Only Rich Man's Playground

There is a new "land boom" on that bids fair to eclipse anything of its kind ever inaugurated in America, says the Chicago Tribune. For years Florida, "the neglected state," has been known principally as the winter playground of the rich. Magnificent hotels along the east coast of Florida have catered to the whims and fancies of those of unlimited wealth; fabulous fortunes have been spent in providing luxurious accommodations for those who could afford to escape from the rigor of the northern winter and bask in the smiles of the perfect climate of Florida. Paradoxical as it may sound, it might be said that the rich—the more or less idle class—has been the benefactor of the new Florida.

Men of affairs from the north coming to Florida to disport in the surf at Palm Beach, or to idle away the hours in the orange groves or along the palm-embowered walks of Daytona could not close their eyes to the possibilities of the state. Upon every hand they saw evidences of enormous agricultural wealth, simply needing the man behind the plow to develop its wonderful resources. They saw an empire in itself, providing everything necessary to the health, wealth and happiness of its inhabitants. It was not difficult to picture Florida as a future agricultural paradise where men weary of the fruitless struggle against reluctant nature in the north, might come, and almost for the asking, take fortunes from the fruitful soil of this wonderful country.

To such men, to think was to act. Co-operating with the railroads of the state—always the advance guards of civilization—they went forth and spread the gospel of Florida. They poured their money into enterprises designed to develop its natural resources, and in every way known to man advertised the advantages of this section of the United States.

Gradually the farmer and homeseeker of the frozen north began to sit up and take notice of the "land of dreams." The reports of the wonderful productiveness of Florida read like fairy tales to the discouraged agriculturist wrestling an existence from his barren field. He found it hard to believe that in Florida the soil produced three, and sometimes four, crops in one year. It was impossible for him to conceive of a land of perpetual sunshine, where ten or twenty acres of ground could be made to produce more than 100 acres in the north. However, there were enough venturesome spirits to take the plunge and see for themselves what this new Eldorado had to offer.

What they discovered in Florida is history. They found, indeed, that the half had not been told. They found a land where fruit grew wild in luxuriant profusion—a land where the soil produced almost every crop that could be grown in the north, a climate that exceeded the liveliest imagination, a country teeming with possibility. They found that celery could be made to yield as high as $600 an acre profit, grapefruit $400 an acre, potatoes and all kinds of vegetables as high as $300 an acre. Is it any wonder that they named it the enchanted land?

It is almost impossible to describe Florida without recourse to superlatives. It is easy to understand poor Ponce de Leon's faith in his fountain of perpetual youth after one has experienced the delights of a sojourn in Florida. No pen can do justice to the magnificent vistas of waving palms, luxuriant vegetation and wide sweeps of primal verdure.

Florida offers to-day more opportunities to the poor man than any other section of the country. A little capital goes a long way here. At the present time good farm lands can be obtained as low as $10 an acre, and ten acres properly handled should produce a profit of $2,000 a year. The farmer in Florida does not have to work as hard as his brother in the north, and he realizes a great deal more for his labor. Owing to the richness of the soil crops spring up like magic, and at a time when the northern farmer is planting his crops the Florida farmer is almost ready to market his first crop yield.

The movement toward Florida is becoming more and more pronounced as the northern and western homeseeker becomes acquainted with actual conditions in this state. No efforts are being spared by the railroads and other large interests to properly advertise this marvelous section. Millions are being spent in this educational work, and the result is apparent in the thousands upon thousands of inquiries being received by the different commercial associations of the cities of the state.

It is only a question of a short time when, instead of being known as "the rich man's playground," Florida will answer to the title of "the poor man's paradise." Nothing can stop the tremendous tide of wage earners—farmers who have failed of success in other and less productive sections—and homeseekers looking for a place where they can live in comfort and realize a living from their land—from Florida.

Florida offers more inducements to these classes than any other one spot on earth, and while it has taken a long time for Florida to come into her own the next year or two will witness the "enchanted land" taking her rightful position among the agricultural states of the Union.

A Socialist Lecture

Last Saturday evening, J. L. Fitts, a national organizer of the Socialist party, lectured on the street to a large and very attentive audience.

He made many telling points and was frequently applauded. After the speech many questions were asked by the audience, and Mr. Fitts answered them cheerfully, courteously and completely. The audience showed great interest and remained until he closed. Mr. Fitts said in part: "Everybody hates ignorance, poverty, misery, vice and crime. All people want themselves and all others to be intelligent, well-fed, strong, healthy, happy and virtuous. That is why I am a socialist, and you will be a socialist when you understand socialism."

"Capitalists get most of the wealth we make, and want to keep on getting it. They know that socialism will stop this robbery, so they oppose socialism and misrepresent it, to get the working people to fight it."

"Most of their objections are about one-tenth truth, enough truth to sugar-coat the lies."

"Socialism is a philosophy of human society, a scientific interpretation of history, and a political program."

"Our political demands are that the collectively used industries shall be collectively owned and collectively, democratically managed, and that all people shall have equal rights and chances to work, the workers to get the full social value of their labor."

"The industries which we must use collectively (railroads, steamships, telegraphs, mines, factories, etc.) to get our living, have been, are and will be used for the benefit of the owners. They should be used for the benefit of all the people."

"Therefore they must be owned by all the people, owned collectively."

"These industries, now controlled by idle owners who need not care for the health or welfare of the toilers, shall be controlled by the workers who understand them, who suffer on account of bad conditions, who know how they can best be made safe and healthful, and who will benefit most by this improvement."

"In these collectively owned, collectively managed and collectively used industries, all persons shall have equal chance to work, and the workers instead of surrendering four-fifths of what they make, will get the full product of their labor."

"Hear our speakers, study our books, read our papers."

"Learn the science, the philosophy, the economics and the political program and organization of the socialists, then you will vote and work for socialism, and get everyone one you can to do likewise."

Mr. Fitts has been touring southern Florida, and is now on a three weeks' stunt through north Florida, hence west to the Rockies. —A FOLLOWER.

Polar Expedition Returns

Lieut. E. H. Shackleton, of the British navy, and commander of the Antarctic expedition has returned on the barkentine Nimrod to Invercargill, New Zealand, and, although he did not achieve his object, he succeeded in getting within 111 miles of the pole. The Nimrod expedition left England in July, 1907, and after reaching the ice fields and making the most elaborate preparations, the main expedition started on a sledge journey, which occupied 120 days and traversed 1,708 miles southward. The explorers reached latitude 88.263 and longitude 162 east, which was estimated as 111 miles from the pole.

A second party pushed forward to the southern magnetic pole at latitude 72.25, longitude 154 east. The British flag was left flying at both points. The ascent of Mount Erebus was accomplished with difficulty and geological discoveries of great importance were made. Results attained have thrown much light on the past history of the Antarctic continent. There was no loss of life.

Hidden Dangers

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Sanford Citizen can Afford to Ignore

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Sanford proof:

Mrs. Mary Van Bibber, Second St., Sanford, Fla., says: "I suffered a great deal from backache. My kidneys were also weak and the frequent passages of the secretions were positively annoying. In spite of the doctoring I did, and the various remedies I tried, I grew no better. Finally I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and began using them. They removed the soreness and pain from my back and made me feel like a new man."
