JR of HOMES in the Sanford - Seminole Area

nce

The excitement of the holidays is upon and how much more exciting it is to decorate . . . plan . . . entertain and gather the family 'round in a new home. Seminole County builders are constructing them to suit every taste and need. How long has it been since you've taken your family for a drive to see the new concepts in building take shape 7

This weekend will be a perfect time for you will see the recently completed four-bed-room, two-bath colonial home in new Green-briar. This home, so typical of Early America, but with all conveniences our modern living calls for has aliding glass door leading from the dining room and kitchen-family room to an L-shaped patio. It is set in a large stand of oak and pine trees with a completely landscaped yard.

For the contemporary minded there is a three-bedroom, two-bath home designed by ar-chitect James Chapman. This home on Highland Avenue is uniquely constructed of redwood, has an unusual design of four gables with glass and overlooks a private garden area. One bedroom has birch panelling and stacked block walls with solid marble tops in the master bathroom. The kitchen features solid black walnut cabinets and exposed redwood beams are used for interest in the dining room.

Out in Ravenna Park three sales have been made and only two of the original five in the new section are left. Right now Shoemaker Construction Company is busy for they have five homes under construction and in various stages of completion.

Holiday

On Idyllwilde Drive (in that prestige area) there is a home nearly completed which certainly bears inspection. At this stage paint colors, fixtures and kitchen appliances to suit the owner may be selected. Ground has been broken for another home near there which will be a twostory - very modern - design.

It will get colder you know . . . and these homes all have central heat with ducts to each room.

So . . . take a look around . . . select the home that suits you best . . . then buy.

Excitement

Growth Told In Stories And Pictures

One and one-quarter pounds of The Sanford Herald today's edition . . . each copy, that is . . is speeding around the globe-extelling the advant-ages of residing in Sanford

For today's issue is the an nual "Progress Edition" of The Herald relating in picture and by word the progress of the community during the last Jear.

A circulation department check has revealed that copies of today's edition have be ordered to be mailed to all 50 states, the District of Columbia, England, France, Germany, Japan and to other countries through the Fleet and Army postoffices (FPO and APO).

Much effort and many hours were put into this special edi-tion by the regular staff of The Herald over a severalmonth period-the advertising department, the mechanical department, the editorial department, and especially the staff photographer, Bill Vincent Jr., and reporter Jane Casselberry.

Along with the regular staff were our county correspondents and, also, our friends along the news beats who wrote articles for us about their specific departments in our local governments.

Too, we must not forget our advertisers, who make this 84-page special edition possible to "tell the world" about the "gracious living" in Samford and Seminole County. It is noted that too late to change the full-page ad we learned that LeRoy Robb had purchased the Carroll Daniel Construction Company locally and changed the name to the "LeRoy C. Robb Construction Company."
