American Legion Produces Headline Attraction For Fight Fans Next Thursday

Harry Godale's matching of Mel Manning with "Gob" Sharpe as the headline bout of the American Legion's boxing entertainment on Thanksgiving evening is being hailed as one of the best attractions that has been brought to Sanford for many moons. The scrappers are scheduled to mix it in a 10-round affair.

Manning is described as a very clever boxer having made a good record on the Pacific coast. He numbers among his fights a six-round draw with Fidel La Barba, bantamweight champion. At present Manning is in Orlando where he is holding daily workouts at the Athletic Club.

Manning is a rugged two-hand fighter who mixes it in every round with his opponents. He numbers among his conquests a number of bouts won by the knockout route. He is aggressive and carries a wicked punch in both fists. He will, however have a worthy foe in Sharpe who has won his last four fights.

Sharpe is a cool and cunning scrapper. He fights best when under heavy fire. He possesses unusual strength and has won several fights in the final round of two after apparently being beaten. Sharpe already is booked as a headline attraction in other Florida cities after a successful tour in Jacksonville, Tampa and Atlanta. He is scheduled to appear in Jacksonville, Tampa and Miami in the near future.

In the semi-final mixup, Godale will present Tiger Cooper and Kid Lancaster, two negro scrappers. The promoter promises in the scrap and fight that will please the fans. Plenty of action and speed is promised the local followers when these two boys step in the ring for an eight round mill.

Although there will be 29 rounds of boxing on the program, being a holiday, the fight program is expected to draw a large crowd. Ladies will be admitted free, it was announced today by members of the American Legion.

1st Year Of Betting Tax In Britain Gives Few Unique Results

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The first year of the Betting Tax in Great Britain ended on October 31st and its first year's working certainly led to some curious results.

Its most startling result has been a reduction of 16 per cent on all race course receipts during the year. This effect has not affected the owners of tracks, but, according to the bookmakers it has split "disaster" to the layers of odds.

So far as the Treasury anticipations from the tax are concerned the receipts have been, according to Winston Churchill, between three and four million pounds. His estimated revenue for the year was six million pounds, and his receipts would have been still less had not a million pounds from greyhound racing helped out the Exchequer.

Bookmakers' societies say that the tax is being avoided more and more and the law-abiding bookmakers have to make up for the deficiencies of those who escape the law.

As the anti-gambling societies are now attacking the legality of betting on greyhound racing, the return from the Betting Tax seems likely to decrease considerably next year.

Army And Navy Are Drilling For Game On Next Saturday

WEST POINT, Nov. 22 (INS)—With electric flood lights set up for secret night drill, the Army today began taking its grooming for the Navy clash Saturday with considerable seriousness.

Monday's session found few of the regulars in action but the reserves had a hard day. The coaches were openly displeased with the scrub showing against arduous Saturday.

With Nave back at his quarter position today, his first appearance for command since the Notre-Dame game, the Army captain expressed satisfaction for the first time in years, with the outlook in general.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 22.—(INS)—The Navy today was offering up gentle prayers for a bit of rain Saturday. Not because the Navy's business is generally wet but because the middies feel they have become exceedingly adept under wet ball conditions. Training, much of the season, has been under dripping skies and on a soggy field while several of its major contests have had similar scenic background.

Today's training session was no exception. The field was heavy and the ball water-logged.

Middlekauff On Star Team to Play in West

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 22.—(INS)—Middlekauff of the University of Florida's team was included in the 29 southern football players tentatively selected for the all-southern team that will meet an "all pacific" team at Los Angeles, California, Christmas.

The selections were made by coaches in charge of the California trip under McGinn and Alexander. Final selection will be made December 10.

Other selections for the team were as follows:

Shivers, Nash and Smith, Georgia; Sparr, Sharpe and Cresson, Vanderbilt; Butcher and Barnhill, Tennessee; Crowley and Hood, Georgia Tech; Menville and Brown, Tulane; Paterson and Shott, Auburn; Brown, Bowdoin and Pickard, Alabama; Spotts and Tippet, Washington and Lee; Monday; V. M. L. Cardwell, Virginia; Thomas, Maryland; Eskey, Clemson; Warren, North Carolina; McDowell, N. C. State; Godfrey, Louisiana and Cohensole Misa.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
 A NEW EARTH.—Let the sinner be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless thou the Lord, O my soul, praise ye the Lord, Psalm 104:35.
PRAYER: Lord, we shall dedicate our lives to the superb task of personally bringing souls to Thee.

THANKSGIVING

A mockery of words men raise to Thee
 In praise for life and food,
 Alayed disease,
 A common gift to man and beast
 And why should man alone give thanks for these?

I thank thee, Lord, my little day called Life
 Wast cast in Time since Christ—and not before
 In days when bastard Right in selfish strife Man oft begot, and ravished Justice bore.

I thank Thee, Lord that Christ has lived and died—
 Divine or not, or Greek or Jew, 'tis one
 To me—His Church by none can be denied,
 Its growing blessedness to man and tree.

I thank Thee, Lord, for all the good—and yet
 I'm glad the imperfections still appear,
 Or else my soul should ever feel regret
 That I found naught to do while passing here.

Were I a perfect garden set to tend Where never thorn nor grass amid the flowers
 Arose, and growing there, with them content,
 Not long could I endure the idle hours.

But grant me this: That when I've gone my way,
 Some traveler coming after, burdened sore,
 Will, finding here the going lighter, say:
 "A workman true has passed this way before."
 —By Harry R. Hughes.

A man over in Palatka broke his arm the other day cranking his auto. Then there are a few cranks left.

What we can't figure out is who's running those Colorado mines, the owners, the workmen, or the National Guard.

We know where there is the sweetest place for shooting mallards, but you've probably got some secrets too, haven't you?

"I will die in the chair with a smile on my face," George Remus, the kind who usually says the blindest.

Benjamin Levin, famous ex murderer, who caused a riot and much excitement in Tampa last Spring, was executed at Raiford yesterday. Crime is becoming increasingly dangerous in Florida.

The total amount of damage caused by the recent flood in New England is now said to be only about $25,000,000 less than one fourth the amount of damage done by the hurricane to Miami.

I ain't it funny, this medieval attitude of George Remus of threatening the prosecutor and bluffing the court? Evidently there are still some people who do not know that the age of the buffalo is past. The auto automatic has made all men equal.

Ed Biggers of Biggers Dairy farm wishes us to call attention to a error that occurred in his advertisement Saturday night. In the ad Biggers stated that the Valdes Hill milk was the best Grade A milk. Biggers admits his is the best milk. It is not Grade A milk. It is Grade B milk. What he has to do is to get his milk to be Grade A.

Thanksgiving For Giving Thanks

Thanksgiving -day, I fear,
 If one the solemn truth must touch,
 Is celebrated, not so much
 To thank the Lord for blessings o'er,
 As for the sake of getting more!

As Will Carlton wrote these words he was not thinking of the first Thanksgiving-day when New England colonists, after the terrific winter of 1621 during which many of their companions had starved to death, got down on their knees and thanked God for the luxurious crops which the summer had brought undoubtedly saving the lives of those who remained.

Perhaps Sanford people can take a lesson from these vigorous pioneers, and make this Thanksgiving-day a day for thanks giving. We too, have passed through a rigorous year. The battles fought and the hardships endured by most of us would compare rather favorably with the campaigns of early American settlers against Indians and starvation. We too have seen the glowing heat of strife and felt the pangs of hunger.

But all this is rapidly passing. A new light can be seen dawning for Sanford. Out of this period of depression we can see our friends emerging, like those Massachusetts pioneers, a stronger, if more thoughtful people. The wrongs they have endured will only make them more vigilant; the hardships they have suffered will cause them to appreciate more fully the blessings of the future.

Things are happening every day that show the crisis has been passed. Announcement was made a few days ago that the Sanford Hotel-Realty Company will open its hotel here this winter under new management. The Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville, the largest institution of its kind in the state, has so much confidence in Sanford that it is going to open a bank here, the first branch bank the Atlantic National has ever owned. Then we hear of a colossal missionary home in Longwood costing millions, of wonderful development in Oviedo and Lake Mary, of the astounding growth of Geneva, and Altamonte Springs. We learn of a tremendous refrigeration plant to be constructed in Sanford, and we see thousands of fertile acres yielding their rich vegetable products.

If there ever was a time that Thanksgiving-day could be properly celebrated in Sanford, that time has come. Tomorrow let us not content ourselves with savage gorging over turkey and cranberry sauce; let us give a thought to the real significance of the day that is with us. Let us shake out of our minds and emotions the feeling of gloom which has been gripping us; let us thank God that we have been men and women enough to survive the evils which have beset us.

Who Will Take Their Places?
 The nation's attention will be turned with renewed interest upon Washington on December 5 when the Seventieth Congress convenes, facing one of the heaviest legislative programs in history. Many problems, several of them of tremendous importance, will claim the attention of the half a thousand legislators, while hundreds and hundreds of smaller matters will be placed on the calendar for disposal one way or another. As viewed by the closest political observers, the approaching session is the most important since the World War.

However it is not from the standpoint of the work which faces that interest in the new Congress altogether lies. We are thinking of the familiar faces that will be missing, the legislative veterans who for one cause or another will not be present when the opening gavel is sounded. We were thinking of those picturesque figures who have long formed the background of Congressional life, but those dominant personalities will play no part in the approaching session. It will be interesting to watch Congress to ascertain who will take the place of the departed leaders. New champions will be made and other names will be pushed to the forefront of congressional activity.

Among those who will be conspicuous by their absence on December 5 will be none other than Oscar W. Underwood, who has retired from public life after thirty years during which he served as the Democratic leader in both houses. Underwood was one of the ablest men who ever went to Washington and a Congress without him will be minus one of the greatest debaters and parliamentarians of the past several decades.

Another whose spectacular tactics made him one of the most talked of men in Congress and who will not be among those present this year is Will D. Upshaw of Georgia, defeated for re-election last year. One of the bitterest foes of liquor that ever went to Congress, the Georgian furnished an interesting comparison with John Philip Hill, a strong opponent of prohibition who also will be absent.

Then there are others, James W. Wadsworth of New York and Irvine Lenroot of Wisconsin, both of whom were prominent in the senate. J. N. Tinscher of Kansas, the largest man in congress, Benjamin Fairchild of New York, Edward Voigt of Wisconsin and others of lesser importance will be gone. Congressmen who were promoted to the Senate where they are expected to make still greater names for themselves include: A. W. Barkley of Kentucky, William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, Carl Hayden of Arizona and Millard E. Tydings of Maryland.

Meanwhile the country awaits the approaching assembly with mingled interest and curiosity. Its work of course will claim the most attention, but the advent of new leaders will be watched with almost as much interest. Who will take Underwood's place as the South's spokesman and who will resume the work of Upshaw? Who will fill Hill's shoes and who will figure in public print? All of these things are interesting to contemplate.

ERRORS IN NEWSPAPERS
 WINTER HAVEN CHIEF

Many people criticize the news paper for the errors, typographical and otherwise which appear in their columns, all un mindful of the fact that there are a hundred times as many possibilities of errors as those that actually occur. A noted authority some time ago brought out the fact that there are chances for 74,600 errors in every column of printed matter—or nearly a hundred chances to every word in said column. Therefore, it is a matter of wonderment that more errors do not occur. Even at that the smaller papers are comparatively free from errors when compared to the larger publications. This may be surprising to many, but when did you see as many errors from small papers cited as those that occur daily in the larger ones? This refers to "bulls" in headlines and in stories to typographical mixups. Every day we read of outstanding examples from the leading papers of the country. The Literary Digest always cites a number of them. Among those noted recently were such as this form the dignified New York Herald-Tribune: "Gland Operation to Grow Supermen Says formed, Produce More Wool, and humans Can Be So Treated." Of this Sioux Falls Times: "Estelle Taylor Historical and Swoons When End Comes." Then the Oregon State Journal comes along with this headline: Handbags to Hatch Shoes," and the well-known Nashville Banner features this headline: "Crowd of 4,000 at Lawrenceburg, Fair Brings Out Great Collection of Swine." While Our Great Collection of Swine."

THE FORUM
 LAKE LAND, Fla., Nov. 23, 1927.
 Editor Sanford Herald,
 I note in your Saturday issue a letter signed by one of your dairymen in regard to the grading of milk.

The Standard Milk Ordinance of the United States Public Health Service requires that grade "A" milk shall contain not to exceed 50,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter and that grade "B" milk shall contain not to exceed 200,000 bacteria per c.c.

The majority of Florida cities follow this grading. The milk report for the month of October, shows that of twenty-two dairymen supplying the City of Lakeland, the highest bacteria count was 17,400 and the lowest 300 per c.c. No grade "B" is sold.

FOUR MINERS killed, 20 wounded, including women in the Colorado coal strike. The national guard is sent and the governor declares martial law.

The richest country in the world should find some better way of settling strikes than shooting coal miners or shooting state police. Compulsory arbitration is difficult, but not impossible. It works successfully in some other countries.

PRESIDENT Coolidge talked to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, about soft coal labor troubles in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Laborers charge that railroads are united to depress prices of coal for fuel purposes.

GOVERNMENT might fix in certain cases affecting public welfare, the prices of the product and the labor that produces it. There was no hesitation about fixing the wheat prices during the war, a fixing process that cost the farmers about $2 on every bushel that they might have got and didn't get on every bushel.

THE MUCH discussed "companionate" marriage of a young man of 20 with the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. Julius Haldeman is not as new as it seemed. After marriage each will live at home to solve problems of housekeeping, while the bride continues her work in high school and then in college, and the young man continues studying at the University of Kansas.

If the marriage doesn't turn out to be perfect, the plan is to arrange for a divorce.

THAT IS looking farther ahead than young people generally care to look. Life, marriage and other things may not be perfect, but the young think, hope and believe that they are.

And thinking, hoping and believing "gradually" build up what is worth while in life.

THE DUPONT Company went on a $10 basis yesterday. Stockholders got their regular dividends on the $10 basis, amounting to $6,654,045, and an extra $11,312,116, dividend on General Motors stock owned by DuPont.

THIS EMPHASIZES the dominating position of General Motors Company in the automobile world. One hundred and fifty-three automobile manufacturers produced in October 221,292 cars. Of these General Motors sold 150,833, almost 70 percent of the total output.

THERE ARE various ways of dealing with a jury in our democracy. High finance hires private detectives to trail each juror and report which one is "open to reason" or interested in an "automobile as long as a city block."

IN CHICAGO, the simpler way is to warn the jury that convicting an accused man, important in underworld crime, means a bomb thrown in your window or a blackjack on your head.

Eight witnesses testified that they saw a certain individual kill a junkman who had refused to obey gang orders. One juror wanted to convict, but was afraid for acquittal when the 11 others warned him that to do so was to endanger his life and his family. The accused gangster having shown justice "where to get off," walked out of prison, "free and vindicated."

WILLIAM C. HOVERTER just elected city treasurer of Reading, Pa., on the socialist ticket, will not escape criticism by any "regular" politician. His job is worth $20,000 a year, and he accepts only $6000, saying: "Where the average citizen finds it hard to make ends meet, an official should not get $20,000 a year."

That is no way to make socialism popular with practical politicians.

THE ITALIAN King called Mussolini to power when the fascist marched on Rome, but has never adopted the fascist salute. When people cheer him the king uses regulation military salute, avoiding the fascist salute, which requires the arm held out straight with great vigor.

The Italian king lives in fortunate safer days. Poor Louis the Sixteenth of France put the cockade of the revolution in his hat, but even that didn't save the head under the hat.

THE PRICE OF cotton went up violently as the estimate of the crop went down by 13,000,000 bales yesterday. The rising price is good news for the south and the whole country. But it is a pity that the cotton man must depend on the boll weevil or a Mississippi flood for recent prices.

milk shall contain not to exceed 50,000 bacteria per cubic centimeter and that grade "B" milk shall contain not to exceed 200,000 bacteria per c.c.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions
 Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.
 "I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S. which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a try. It cleans up the skin; makes it strong and fills you with energy. Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 W. Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.
 You owe it to yourself to take S.S.S. It helps Nature to use up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.
 S.S.S. is sold at all good stores in two sizes. The large size is more economical.

Rod LaRoque Stars in 'Fighting Eagle' At Milane Thursday

A common ordinary barrel has stepped to the fore as the newest thrill producer for the movies! Rod LaRoque, who portrays a swashbuckling young officer of Napoleon's army in "The Fighting Eagle," which Donald Crisp directed for DeMille Pictures, while on a mission for his Emperor, is intercepted by the enemy. During a fast and furious chase over the hills of France, LaRoque, although overtaken by his pursuers, escapes upon an empty wine barrel, slipping into the bogged and rolling hills.

This drama is one of the many "Adventures of Gerard," as chronicled by Gerard DeMille in his novel "The Napoleonic Era," which touches 200 pages adapted to the screen. In this picture, the young hero is played by LaRoque, while Sam DeLeonis, Max Baucus, Julia Faye, Sally Rand and Clarence Burton also are seen in supporting roles. "The Fighting Eagle" will be on view at the Milane theatre on Thursday night. It is said to be packed with action, thrills and laughs.

Mulhall Picture At Milane Is Season's Best Comedy Offer

"Smile, Brother, Smile," a First National picture at the Milane Theatre today, is described by those who have seen it as an unusual photoplay. Unusual in the sense that it treats of a phase of human endeavor that doesn't often win its way to the screen. The commercial traveler has not often been accorded the position of importance which he is entitled in the field of business.

Consider that every article you consume, practically, first reached the corners of the stores via the medium of the traveling salesman. You foodstuffs-package goods and bulk; your clothing, your toilet articles, your books, your furniture—all were sold to the merchant by a salesman "on the road." He has a finger in almost every pie you eat.

That's why he deserves consideration, and he gets it in "Smile, Brother, Smile," which Charles R. Rogers produced for First National Pictures and in which Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackall have the featured leading roles.

Jack is the commercial traveler and he makes good by his own determination and ability with the invaluable assistance of the telephone girl played by the charming Dorothy Mackall.

John Francis Dillon wielded the megaphone on this picture which as a genuine theme, a plot that is filled with interest and plenty of good clean comedy.

A fine supporting cast, some admirable settings and a general quality of originality lift this film out of the average class and make it really a novelty.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Consistent coughs and colds lead to trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the germs, and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ENGLISH WOMEN TAKING PART IN ALL ATHLETICS

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Nov. 23 (INS)—Manpower taken from Britain in the World War is being replaced manifold by the new vigor of her womanhood.

Aristocratic Newnham College gives evidence of the new dynamic-feminism—energetic, powerful and productive; but still reserved and womanly.

Strenuous rowing—most exacting of all college sports—is practiced daily throughout the year at Newnham and by one fourth of the girls in the college. Bicycle riding, rain or shine, warm or cold; study rooms at a temperature to "freeze" the American girl; these things suggest the coming British feminism.

This modern English girl is not a Victorian. Neither is she worldly and masculine. She does not, like her trans-Atlantic sister, drink and smoke and rouge her face and become boisterously hilarious. She is far more moderate!

Many Activities

An interview with the captain of Newnham College crew reveals these things. Sixty girls of the two hundred and forty enrolled in the college are now rowing in the eight-oared shells. They train, she says, "Diet the American girl would call it." They row fall, winter and spring. They race with two other girls' colleges. And with a third they have a contest for good rowing form. The races are on the Thames over a course about one mile long. The girls, weighing full weight, full-length oars manage to keep a stroke between 27 and 30 per minute (a stroke creditable to a professional crew).

for a "varsity" crew in practice. The girls' daily row is something over two miles. They have water-tight coaches, either men or women. At Newnham about ninety per cent of the girls have their own bicycles. They depend on them to classes rain or shine. Some have motorcycles; others automobiles.

In America room temperature means 70°. The American girl is cold at 68. At 62 or 63 the English girl is warm and comfortable.

Weak and Run-Down Misses Woman Got Strong and Well Says Cardui Started Her On Road To Health.

Clarksburg, Mo.—Mrs. T. G. Hines of this place, says: "For two years I was in very poor health. Some of the time I was almost past going. I was very weak and run-down. "I tried to make the most of my little strength I had by taking frequent rests, but I could find nothing which would start me on the road to health again, until one day I decided to try Cardui. "I had heard about other women who had been benefited after taking it, so I made up my mind to try what it would do for me. I took Cardui for several months and was very much gratified with the results. "I began to do my own work, which I had not been able to do a long time past. My color, which had been pale and sallow, became natural, and my complexion cleared up. I gained in weight and was pleased to have an improved appetite. "When I finished my last box of Cardui I was feeling better than I had in years. Now I am strong and well." At all drug stores.

MAKING STARS IN FILM DOM IS NEW PROGRAM

High Salaries Demanded By Former Shining Lights Lead To Discovery Of Others

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Nov. 22—(INS)—Is this the era of the unknown in the history of motion pictures?

Producers seemingly prefer to establish their own stars rather than pay exorbitant prices demanded by those already arrived, and newcomers are finding equally as great favor on the screen as the results made by celebrities.

The past year has definitely settled the newcomer as a potential favorite, says Director Fred Niblo, who numbers Lois Moran, Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell among the younger generation who have made sensational strides toward stardom.

Ralph Forbes a recent recruit from the legitimate stage, was chosen by Niblo to play opposite Lillian Gish in "The Enemy," although many more mature artists competed for the part.

Vilma Banky, who was selected to appear with Ronald Colman in his next picture, "Flower of Spain," was unknown to American film fans when she made her debut in "The Dark Angel."

Gilbert Roland won his cinema stardom as a leading man in Norma Talmadge's "Cavalleria."

"The new era" in Hollywood should commend to youth and non-cently grown men in his struggle to master the art of "if this year reflects permanent pictures," Niblo concludes.

The blond and brunette will abate their rivalry when F. W.
Murnau, noted German director, will complete the cost for "The Great Silence," which will make the blond the "queen" of the stage and the other dark, for the picture.

Aside from their opposite complexions, Murnau requires a tall perfect type, between 17 and 21 years of age, between five feet one and five feet three in height and with figures in proportion to their stature. They also must possess that elusive quality which registers photographically, but stage or screen experience is unnecessary.

With "Lilac Time," Jane Cowell's stage success, selected as the next screen vehicle for Colleen Moore her producer-husband is casting about for a suitable leading man to play the British soldier-hero for the diminutive star.

Marceline Day was provoked to tears during the filming of "The Big City," in which she plays a gangster leader.

The script called for copious tears, but Marceline was not in a tearful mood.

The orchestra played "Trumpet" Lon Chaney told her doleful stories. Her sister, Alice, recited pitiful tales about crippled urchins.

Director T. Ince was about to give up in despair, when Marceline broke down and wept so long and bitterly that Comedian Bert Roach had to do his hilarious capers to stem the salty flood.

If you disbelieve it, Browning says wait and see the picture.

Karl Dane and George K. Arthur, who ramped through a citizens training camp in "Rookies," and through college in "Baby Mine," are to favor next in the sawdust ring under the "big top." A large circus is to be chartered for the team's next venture, to be directed by Edward Sedgwick.
