

Daly Has Ideas For Politicians

NEW YORK (AP)—John Charles Daly, a charming, glib-tongued actor who also is vice president of the American Broadcasting Co., has some ideas that may help politicians this year.

Notice of fact, ABC and its network stations are setting up television teaching schools around the country to guide political candidates making their first appearances before the cameras. Many will need help, he will the public.

But about the candidates making their TV debut, Daly's first advice is this:

"Relax. Be natural. Remember, the TV camera is so intimate as your drawing room. Talk as if you were talking to a small group of people in your drawing room."

(Editor's note: And remember these common touch. Don't, for heaven's sake, refer to it as the drawing room or you'll be laughed out of every living room in America.)

"Don't roar and pound the table. That's not the way you'd talk to guests in your home."

"TV is a means to conveying your personality. Don't build a

Lawrence Welk Is Giant-Killer Of TV

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A soft-spoken accordion player from Strasburg, N.C., is the new giant-killer of television.

When Lawrence Welk and his band went on TV, not many expected him to do very well. There were three strikes against him:

1. He was up against stiff competition in the prized Saturday night time slot.
2. He was on ABC, not noted for high ratings except for Disney-land.
3. Bands have never clicked on TV.

But Welk baffled all the doubters. He amassed healthy ratings, even whipping some spectaculars that were pitted against him. Now both NBC and CBS are replacing the shows opposite him, including Jimmy Durante, Janis Paige and Herb Shriner.

Welk attributes his success to the loyalty of his fans. His loyalty is no accident. It is the result of his entering to the likes of sweet band devotees. Furthermore, he coddles the fans like no one else in the band business.

"Most leaders like to take a 15-minute break between sets," he says. "I don't. I always stay on the bandstand and talk with the people. Of the 2,000 people who come to see you, usually 1,000 want to talk to you. They want to say how their two-year-old pronounces 'Lawrence Welk,' how she can dance like the champagne woman and so forth."

Welk is no stay-at-home bandman. He often embarks on one-night tours through various parts of the country, making friends as he goes. He's also on radio five times weekly and has a strenuous recording schedule.

It's apparent that the other networks are bringing up their big guns to blast away at the Welk ratings. NBC is moving Sid Caesar back to Saturday night to oppose him. But the bland bandman isn't worried.

"I don't think he'll give us much trouble," he commented. "If he does, we'll just have to give away some more cars."

Mayor To Throw 1st Ball In All-Star, Cub Game Thursday

With true big league fashion the baseball game between the Cubs, champions of the Rotary league, and the All-stars will get underway when Mayor F. D. Scott throws the first ball in the tussle at Memorial Stadium Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Who will catch the toss from the fireball artist has not yet been told, for Commr. John Pope is seeking some equally prominent man capable of handling the pitch - no matter where it goes.

Prior to the game itself there will be ceremonies in which miniature gold baseballs will be given to the members of the pennant winning team and the Sonny Powell and Roy Holler trophies will be awarded.

Ken McMurray, mound star for the Cubs and his battery-mate, Doyle Corley, are in fine fettle and undoubtedly will get the call for the Thursday evening battle of bats and balls.

During the season, pitching chores have been handled by Lester Bush, Bruce McCoy, Cecil Handridge, Earl Summersell, Wendell Brooks and Charlie English. Mgrs. Sonny Powell and Bill Hutchison, therefore, have quite a field from which to choose. Handridge, McCoy, George Harriet and Tony Getman have all worked as receivers. After a siege with mumps, and some enforced rest, Earl Summersell has had a sore arm and unless it has improved in the last week, he probably will be seen at an infield position.

The Cubs will have a chance to work into their lineup one of the leading defensive players in the league for they selected Dave Bramlett to play with them. Dave as a member of the Tigers is a head-up infielder and his .238 batting average for the season will be a nice addition to the welcoming willows of the champs.

Election Party Begins Tonight At 7 O'Clock

The Sanford Herald's Election Party will begin tonight at 7 o'clock when returns from all over the State will start trickling in from the early reporting precincts.

It is expected that returns will reach their greatest peak about 9 o'clock this evening on the statewide races as well as all of the statewide races.

Local returns, however, on the important county offices, will be reported earlier than ever because of the use of voting machines in seven of the county's precincts. Two of the three machines will be in use.

The Sanford Herald will have the returns posted on a huge board which will be lighted. A public address system is being installed so that the entire crowd gathered at the Sanford Herald Building will have an opportunity to hear the returns as they come in to the local paper's headquarters.

Statewide results will come to the Sanford Herald by Associated Press leased wires while local returns will be tabulated by the Sanford Herald Staff.

Everybody is invited to the Herald's Election Party where returns will be available momentarily as they are reported from around the state and from the local 18 precincts in Seminole County.

It is expected that the voting in Sanford and Seminole County will run as high as 8,500 out of the 10,388 registered voters.

Enthusiasm High In Local Election

Enthusiasm is running high in the election of local officials in Seminole County.

Voters were at the polls early this morning ready to cast their ballots as the polls opened at 7 o'clock with lines forming in order to name their favorite candidates.

Sanford polling places are equipped today with Shoup Voting Machines with most of the voters familiar with their use. However, miniature machines are on hand at each polling place in order to instruct those who do not know the use of such voting procedures.

First persons voting this morning at precinct No. 15, located in the National Guard Armory on East First St., were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Moore.

Early estimates of an 8,500 vote in Seminole County seem to be edging upward with the possibilities of even a greater percentage of registered voters turning out to mark their ballots or turn the lever opposite the names of favorite candidates.

Candidates are still busy, at press time today, urging voters to go to the polls to cast their ballots in possibly what might be the heaviest vote ever tabulated in Seminole County.

Returns will start pouring in to The Sanford Herald shortly after 7 o'clock this evening when tabulations will be made momentarily on the total vote cast for each candidate.

A crowd is expected to gather at The Sanford Herald building this evening at a gay election party when loudspeakers and bulletin boards will carry final results from each precinct until the final tally is made in the smaller precincts where voting machines are not yet in use.

Speculations as to the outcome of today's election are being made in every section of Sanford with those who have followed the election closely attempting to pinpoint the outcome ahead of time.

Voting began this morning in the 18 precincts in Seminole County simultaneously. No Seminole County precinct reports ahead of time and all polls will close at 7 o'clock this evening giving every voter an opportunity to cast his or her ballot.

Drive Begins Tomorrow

Seminole County's initial effort to identify itself as a vital part of the state-wide movement to raise the standards of mental health in Florida will be packed into a two-week period starting tomorrow and ending May 23, it was said today by Mrs. B. E. Chapman, local publicity director.

The committee that has undertaken the assignment to point out the importance of the drive is made up of George Touhy, F. D. Scott, Mrs. Charles Park Sr., Mrs. Sidney Ives III and A. L. Wilson. Mrs. Gustav Damberger as treasurer and Mrs. Chapman complete the local campaign group.

Civic leaders many of whom have been conscious of the importance of raising the standards of care of those suffering from mental illness are expected to lend their enthusiastic support to the drive. Research has been seriously handicapped by lack of funds and this phase of work in meeting the ever-increasing number of cases cannot be over-emphasized it was said. Public officials are aware of the need for more hospitals, more doctors and nurses, better food and conditions in the state institutions but under pressure from other sources for tax monies, have not met the issue squarely, a local professional man has said.

Civic organizations dedicated to the improvement of conditions are being asked to support this brief drive vigorously, giving not only of their funds but of their time with each member soliciting five friends. Work packs are going out to club presidents today.

The funds raised through this local effort and ones like it throughout the state will be used in part both for research and for bringing to the active attention of legislators and other interested state officers the urgency of increased appropriations for this segment of society. Sixty-five per cent of the Seminole County funds are used in the county, the balance goes for the state-wide activities. At the present time there is only one paid worker in the mental health work within the state with patient care.

A majority of the money going for this county should be extremely concerned with the success of the drive, for it is being considered as one of the sites for the proposed Central Florida State Hospital. It is hoped that a decision on this matter can be reached in the next session of the legislature.

Weir Tells Rotary Of Improvements In Care Of Patients

With the emphatic statement that the new Seminole Memorial Hospital "is your hospital, dedicated to heal the sick, to relieve pain, to train those interested in the profession of nursing and to aid in medical research," Harry M. Weir, administrator of the new local hospital told his fellow members of the Rotary Club at its weekly meeting yesterday noon at the Yacht Club some of the tremendous improvements made in the care and treatment of patients since Florence Nightingale, whom he called "The Mother of Nursing" first became interested in the care of the sick and injured during the Crimean War.

Weir told of the filth, the lack of proper facilities for nursing in those days and the changes Florence Nightingale effected. He spoke of the progress noted since the turn of the century and of the rules and regulations that modern hospitals found necessary to put into practice. The speaker touched on the criticism to which hospitals are subjected, some of it well founded but much of it unnecessary unless practicable suggestions were offered at the same time the unfavorable comments were made.

Among the many very important items so urgently needed here was a blood bank in which an ever-ready supply of the precious fluid would be available, Weir stated. His talk, made in connection with the local observance of National Hospital Week, was well received.

Announcement was made of the meeting next Monday at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station which will be held just prior to Armed Forces Day. All civic clubs have been invited to hold the meetings at the Station by C. Robert W. Jackson, commanding officer of the local facility.

Inspector General Rates Local Guard Unit 'Excellent'

Major Roy D. Greene, Post Commander, of the local National Guard, received word yesterday that Company "B", 154th Armored Infantry Battalion was rated "Excellent" by the Inspector General from the Third Corps Headquarters, Atlanta, Ga.

The inspection was conducted recently of the Sanford Armory facilities which included every phase of the Company's operation.

Captain Joseph D. Bryant, Commanding Officer of the local National Guard Company, reported yesterday to Fort Knox, Ky., for a two weeks officers refresher course at the Armored School.

During Bryant's absence Company B will be commanded by First Lieutenant John C. Keeling Jr., of Sanford.

800,000 Turnout Predicted

Early reports of extremely heavy voting in major population centers indicated that a forecast of 800,000 turnout in today's Democratic Primary election may have to be revised upwards.

Florida Democrats are having their say today in a bitter all-man gubernatorial race in which gaff and personality clashes.

Warm weather and scattered, afternoon showers forecast for the primary election in which the voters are marking a long ballot listing candidates from constable to U. S. senator.

Republicans also hold a primary but no statewide contests are expected to vote on the GOP side. No crossing of party lines is permitted in the primaries.

The racial issue boiled up in the governor's race on the proposition of methods of preserving segregation rather than upon the question of segregation itself, state all four major candidates took a stand for continued separation of the races.

Gov. Collins, who has contended that integrity in government was the real issue, has said that he favored preserving segregation by all legal means but "without emotional furor and disorders."

Two of his opponents, Sumner Lowry, 63-year-old retired National Guard commander from Tampa; and Fuller Warren, colored 51-year-old former governor, have charged that Collins actually favored gradual integration and demanded that he take a stand.

The State's major candidate, Sumner House Speaker Farris Bryant, has charged Collins lacked legislative leadership and has attacked him on other issues.

Collins, Warren and Bryant closed out their campaigns last night with radio and television appearances in the Tampa Bay area where almost 800,000 of the state's 1,277,000 registered Democrats live.

Lowry wound up his campaign in Jacksonville where he repeated charges that "the state is well along toward integration in all phases of our economic life under Collins."

The four returned home today to vote.

All four candidates made forecasts of eventual victory but none made an outright claim of winning in the first primary. If no candidate gets a majority, the two top men go into the May 20 runoff.

Collins is rated to have his greatest strength in Duval where almost 200,000 registered voters reside, and in adjoining Broward and Palm Beach.

Two years ago Duval gave Collins a 57,000 vote majority when he won election over Charles E. Johns for the last two years of (Continued on Page Eight)

Mediterranean Fruit Fly Traps Placed In County

Mediterranean fruit fly traps are being placed in Seminole County simultaneously with traps being located in seven other Central Florida counties.

The belt of traps was stretched across Central Florida today to measure the amount of infestation in the deadly pest's second invasion of the state.

The brightly colored fly was found in a large orange producing area of Broward County yesterday, the first invasion of commercial groves found to date. It had been found last week in the town of Davie, a few miles to the east.

Growers still have thousands of boxes of fruit to sell and now face the possibility of an embargo.

Pest experts found two more invasions in Fort Lauderdale and two more in Hollywood yesterday. The center of infestation apparently lies in Dade and Broward counties.

But fly fighters spread the traps in Polk, Hillsborough, Osceola, Orange, Seminole, Lake, Volusia and Palm Beach.

No flies have been found outside Dade and Broward. But if any fly shows up in the Central Florida traps the battle lines will have to fall back and the traps will be set for an all out fight similar to that which followed the fly's first invasion in 1929 and 1930.

Illegal Whiskey Still Destroyed Last Night

An illegal whiskey still of a 250-gallon capacity was destroyed early last night by Sheriff Denver Cordell and his deputies.

The huge moonshine operation was located immediately northeast of Chuluota in a dense hammock that could be reached only by crossing a number of pastures.

Sheriff Cordell said that the still was located late yesterday afternoon, just after a heavy rain. Eight barrels of mash had been completed. Charcoal, in two interchangeable pans underneath the still, was still hot and glowing when the stills were torn down and destroyed shortly after 7 o'clock last night.

Those in the Sheriff's party confiscating the still included Deputy Sheriffs Cotton Brown and Denton Prevatt and Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway.

Sheriff Cordell stated that the still would be valued at much more than a thousand dollars.

Twenty barrels of mash were confiscated and destroyed. The total amount of mash being fermented and ready to run off was estimated at more than 1100 gallons.

A skid tank usually used for loading and transporting gasoline made up the boiler part of the still. This was placed on four (Continued on Page Eight)

Five Pilot Club Members Attend Spring Convention

Five members of the Sanford Pilot Club attended the session.

This is the first convention it was reported today, to be held by Anchor Clubs in Florida. These young girls, working under the guidance of Pilot Clubs, are composed of outstanding high school girls with potentialities toward leadership and their desire to be of service in their community.

At the Sunday morning session Judge Renfrow of Tallahassee spoke on the great need in the communities, county, state as well as the entire nation of the care for those suffering from mental disorders. The 42 Florida Pilot Clubs went on record to support the Mental Health program of the state and the Mental Health drive that opens tomorrow and continues through May 23.

Mrs. Edith McBride Cameron, President of Pilot Club International was the Pilot International Representative at the district meeting and spoke at the luncheon held Saturday in the Swanee Room of the University of Florida.

Mrs. Cameron, at the Sunday session, installed the District Officers for the coming club year.

Pilot delegates attending from the Sanford club were: Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson, president; Mrs. D. K. McNab, first vice-president; Mrs. Joel Field, treasurer. Mrs. Marion Raborn served on the nominating committee and Mrs. Harvey Swanson, immediate Past-President, acted on the Pages Committee.

Feeley Says Kridler Contributing Factor For Giants' Return

In an exclusive interview with Edgemoor Feeley, Treasurer and Attorney for the National Exhibition Company, owners and operators of the New York Giants, the question was asked "What do you think was the greatest contributing factor in the Giants' organization returning here to establish their Farm System's training center?"

Feeley, in the telephone interview, said "John Krider has done more than any one person toward bringing us back to Sanford."

"He hasn't stopped working for two years—and throughout that time there has been a continual stream of letters, telegrams, and telephone calls, all relative to the establishing of our spring training camp in Sanford," said Feeley.

In his words, "John Krider has at no time let up in trying to get us back here."

Feeley admitted in his conversation with The Sanford Herald that "We should have never left Sanford." And he added, "The people are wonderful to us there and we are looking forward to great things with the New York Giant Organization back in Sanford."

Weather

Scattered showers and thunder showers today and a chance of a few widely scattered ones tonight and Wednesday; little temperature change today.

SPEAKING OF CARDS

"OPEN SESAME!" Probably the most widely known of two-pack Solitaires and one exceedingly difficult to win is the game of Forty Thieves, whose aliases are Napoleon at St. Helena, Big Forty, and Roosevelt at San Juan. To play this Solitaire, shuffle to get the two full decks of 52 cards and lay out a row of ten cards face up. Deal three more rows of ten cards each face up on the first, overlapping so that all indexes show. These forty cards form the tableau. Put the rest of the pack face down at your left to form the stock. Now turn over the top card of the stock and pretend you're All Baba. You'll quickly discover it takes more than "open sesame" to win this Solitaire. Move the right card, as they become available, to a row above the tableau. They are the foundations and are to be built up in the same suit and in upward sequence to the King. Object of play is to get all 104 cards built on to the foundations. You may build on the tableau by moving cards from pile to pile. But here you must build in downward sequence and in the same suit. Only one card may be transferred at a time from one pile to another; that is, only the card nearest to you of each pile is available for play. Turn the stock cards up one by one and lay them in an overlapping line toward the right. Top card of this line is always available for building on to the foundations or the tableau. When a card is so removed from the pile, the card next below it becomes available. You may run through the stock only once. Whenever all cards from one of the ten piles of the tableau are moved elsewhere, forming a space, any card available for play may be put in that space. Unless you get spaces early and often, the game cannot be won. Making the best use of spaces is one of the two points at which the skill of the player may be utilized. The other point is in building on the tableau. To win the game, you must make a build, as a rule, only when you see an immediate advantage to be gained. Official rules for playing Forty Thieves, along with those of five other popular games of Solitaire—Pyramid, Golf, Calculation, Tournament, and Spider—may be obtained free of charge by addressing a card or letter to the Playing Card Association, 439 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N. Y.

S. Freud Likened To Columbus

By SAUL FETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer
Sigmund Freud, who was born 100 years ago yesterday, has been likened to Columbus. Both set out searching for a new route. Both ended up discovering a new continent.

Seeking a new treatment for emotional disorders, Freud found the continent of the human unconscious. There had been vague glimmers of this strange dark land before among writers and philosophers with rare but fragmentary insights. Freud came up with a total picture, still disputed in details but now generally regarded as profoundly sound in its broad strokes. In fathering psychoanalysis, he gave the world a new concept of the human personality.

He found the basic needs and fears of a human being like a powerful stream. You could cover it up, dam it, divert it, but you couldn't destroy its force. Deny, forget or distort them, these needs could be driven into dark unconscious alleys but they would still strain up seaward—as a nagging sense of anxiety or guilt; as an emotional storm in a life that seemed to have all the ingredients of serenity; as a sudden paralysis of an arm for which there was no physical explanation; as a driving, insatiable need to succeed beyond success itself.

He saw the rational and irrational parts of human behavior as belonging and being explained by the one whole. He saw the lucid, not as a separate mental species but as an extension of the troubles plaguing so-called normal people. He saw method to our madness. He saw sense in the nonsensical—in wild, unreal dreams, in forgetful human errors. He saw these as outcroppings of our unconscious thoughts. He saw the man being explained by the child. He saw human activity being determined not think but by what we unknowingly think. He related the past to the present, the dark to the light, the shameful to the accepted, the unconscious to the conscious.

Freud turned the mind of medicine on itself. Among the 9,000 psychiatrists in the United States today, some still seek the basic causes of emotional disorder in brain defects and other physiological factors. But the big majority base much of their viewpoint and technique on Freudian concepts. Among philosophers and religiousists, Freud has been soundly denounced for his thesis that belief in God was a neurotic notion. Among many laymen he has been ridiculed as the man who provided a self-indulgent tool for the "weak-willed" rich. Among cartoonists and wits, analysis has proved an endless butt of humor.

But among people who seek mental origins for mental illness, there are today no anti-Freudians as such, according to the American Psychiatric Assn. Some feel he didn't go far enough. Some think he was too rigid and narrow in emphasizing the conflict between sexual drives and the restrictions of society to explain neurosis. But none deny his basic contribution—his dynamic concept of the unconscious.

Even among his worst critics there is something to his impact. Dr. Carl Jung, who split with Freud to form his own analytical movement, recently told the AP's Lynn Heinswager in Zurich: "The same Freud can never be deleted from the history of learning at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th Century. Freud's method of analysis has touched upon probably every single section of contemporary spiritual life except the exact natural sciences; it has touched all wherein the human soul comes forth decisively, that is, primarily the wide-ranging fields of psychopathology, then psychology, philosophy, esthetics, ethnology and—last, but not least—psychology of religion."

CITY STREET SWEAR KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (A) —Thirteen motorists were headed into city court for conducting a smear campaign down a Knoxville street. Police said they had crossed freshly painted center stripes, ruining the job with their tires.

BOAT ON THE MOVE PARIS, Ky. (A) — Joe Glavin woke in the wee hours to find his boat had bounced into his garage, knocking out part of a wall. Parked on its small trailer near the street, the boat was struck by a passing automobile.

DETECTIVE MEMORIES
CAMBRIA, Minn. (AP)—A memory game played by the three young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bowen led to the breakup of a juvenile crime ring. The girls read the number of a car parked at a filling station, memorized it and made it into a game. When Bowen learned the next day that the station had been robbed, the girls told him the license number and he gave it to authorities. The car was traced and its owner implicated other youths who later admitted a series of breakins.

A Doctor in the Family

By Elizabeth Smart

STAFF

There is a story of a young man who was a doctor in the family. He was a doctor in the family. He was a doctor in the family.

CHAPTER ELEVEN

THE LITTLE group of five was formed. Captain Blake led it. He was a doctor in the family. He was a doctor in the family.

Captain Blake did not reply at once. He looked up to see the other gazing across at Margaret. A troubled expression upon his face. "I—" he said then, his manner hesitant. "I've been meaning to talk to you about that."

He was a nice chap, not actually handsome. Without his cap, he looked his full age, which must have been in the early forties. He was a Reserve officer and had the trained soldier's erect bearing, and his tightly contained manner. "My wife, you know," he continued, "is a chronic invalid. It's a nervous—or mental thing. Several years ago, she was in an accident. Suffered a head injury—they knew at the time that there had been some brain tissue damage. I don't know the terms."

used Captain Blake's car. The little hangover showed signs, and when the Captain opened the front door and entered the living room, Mrs. Yearley, the nurse, rose from a chair near the radio. He explained the purpose of the visit. "Has my wife gone to bed?"

"I'll get her ready at nine, like I always do. She may be in bed..."

"Their remarks hung upon their backs, the men moved to the bedroom. Mrs. Yearley followed, lifting her voice to call, "Fern, honey, you got company!"

Alan stood up. "I am interested," he said, "but, without seeing the patient, I could venture no kind of opinion."

Alan nodded. "Mrs. Yearley, the nurse, mentioned a Doctor Zeller who has an office near us. I agreed, and the man came. He made Fern comfortable for that night, and came back the next day. I was at home then, and he discussed her case with me. He brought your name into the discussion."

"Oh!" said Alan. "How was that?"

"He called Fern's condition a matter of nervous imbalance. He had heard—and he wanted to use some sort of machine on her. I—well, in arguing for his idea, he said—not too flatteringly, I'm afraid—that you probably would tell me that Fern could be cured. He said—his words were, 'Thornton fancies himself a brain surgeon.' Alertly the Captain looked across at Alan."

Alan smiled. "You can stop that," he said. "She says she needs attention." "Possibly she does. But Zeller—" he coughed, and said no more.

Path Is Cleared For Tony De Marco To Meet Martinez

BOSTON (AP)—The path was cleared today for former welterweight champion Tony De Marco to meet Vince Martinez June 18 at Fenway Park without first boxing Hoselnie Khalif of Algeria in Bangor, Maine.

Requests by Bangor promoter Leon Gorman Jr., and the Maine State Boxing Commission that De Marco be suspended for refusing to fight Khalif were rejected yesterday by the Massachusetts commission.

De Marco was suspended by the Maine commission last Thursday for allegedly withdrawing from a scheduled bout with Khalif May 14 at Bangor. The Maine commission asked Massachusetts to go along with the suspension.

However, Massachusetts Boxing Commission Chairman Henry Lamar ruled that upon review of all the evidence regarding promotion of the alleged fight by Leon Gorman Jr., no action is thought necessary.

"No evidence has been produced or forwarded nor has the commission found evidence that a contract exists," Lamar said.

De Marco, the No. 2 contender for the welter crown, and Martinez, the fourth-ranked contender, signed last month for the outdoor 10-rounder in the home of the Boston Red Sox.

Ben Van Alstyne, Michigan State golf coach, joined the Spartan staff as head basketball coach in 1926.

White Refuses To Be Nervous

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill White, 22-year-old New York Giants rookie, is a somber young man who refused to be nervous over his first appearance in a major league lineup.

The speedy six-foot Negro from Warren, Ohio, last night couldn't see why he should be jumpy over his first major league game after all he was with the Giants in spring training.

It was the St. Louis Cardinals who became nervous when White smashed a home run his first time at bat, then added a double off the right field screen and a single for a 3-for-4 evening.

Stephan Ballarini, who has appeared in grand opera, is the agent for Chilean jockey Carlos Cruz.

White refused to be nervous. He was a professional. He was a professional.

Zuverink American League's No. 1 Relief Pitcher

BY ED WILES

The Associated Press

George Zuverink, the guy nobody wanted, right now is the No. 1 relief pitcher in the American League, getting the job done almost on a daily basis for the Baltimore Orioles who can hardly do a thing without him.

The 23-year-old righthander, who in his 11-year career has failed to hang on with Cleveland, Cincinnati and Detroit and who wound up in semipro ball as a free agent after his first year in the minors, has stroled in from the bullpen in 18 of Baltimore's 30 games this season. And of the nine games the Birds have won to date, he's saved six and won two.

Zuverink, purchased in desperation from Detroit last July, was called upon for the third time in two days last night and with two pitches snapped off a Tiger rally that lifted Baltimore into sixth place while reducing his earned run average to a nifty 1.50.

Pitching was the part word in the other three games played in the majors yesterday, too. In the American, Tom Brewer struck out nine and cut off Cleveland on four hits in a 3-1 Boston victory. In the National, Milwaukee's 3-1 on six hits to retain the Braves' slim hold on first place, and St. Louis, helped by a wild five-run inning and dandy relief pitching by Lindy McDaniel, Gordon Jones and Jackie Collins, smacked the New York Giants 6-3 to tie the Cincinnati for second place.

Zuverink, who finished both ends of Baltimore's doubleheader sweep against Detroit Sunday, came on last night after the Tigers had scored a tying run off starter Bill Wight in the ninth. Zuverink's second pitch to Harvey Krenn was rapped into an in-ending double play. Then after relief Al Aber had walked the bases full in the Baltimore ninth, Hal Smith banged a single to break it up.

18-Year-Old Father Has School Ball Club in Uproar

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (AP)—An 18-year-old father of two children has the New Jersey high school baseball world in an uproar and major league baseball scouts in a sweat to sign him.

He's Lee Owen, a righthander who has pitched three no-hitlers for Asbury Park High School and allowed a total of only nine hits and four runs in six games. Scouts of the New York Giants, Cleveland Indians, Milwaukee Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds, Pittsburgh Pirates and Kansas City Athletics have looked him over in the past month, although they can't sign him until he graduates next month.

Owen married the former Nancy Heisel at 13 and the young couple have two boys, Billy, 17 months, and Bobby, one month.

Besides his three no-hitlers this year, Owen pitched both ends of a doubleheader against New Brunswick, the defending state champion.

Three singles, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a sacrifice fly brought the Cards from behind at starter-leader Windy McCall. Hoyt Welch and Marv Griesom had their troubles hit he sixth inning. Red Schoendienst, who has hit safely in 13 straight games, singled the tie breaker across in the frame. McDaniel, a bonus baby, won his second with a hitless sixth in relief of Ben Flowers.

Rotarians To Pit Skill Against Cubs

BY BOB SMITH

An added attraction will be on tap for the spectators at the Rotary league game between the Cubs and the Allstars Thurs. at 7:30 p.m. Immediately after this Little World Series battle, a picked team of Rotarians will pit their skill against the winner of the pennant, the Cubs.

Sonny Powell has gathered an impressive array of talent to make up the starting line-up of the civic club team and he says he figures that if the Cubs get their act together in their All-star conflict, the Rotarians will have a better chance of coming out of the five inning fray as winners.

Bowell says he will catch slams, siders and sliders of the erstwhile pitching great, Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. This battery will have the faultless (he says) support of an infield made up of Orville Touchton at second base, Dr. Billy Epps at shortstop, Dr. John Morgan on the hot corner and Dr. Charlie Park Jr. on the first sack.

Powell adds that maybe the hustling infielders might be a "little erratic," but he adds "how can they throw them over around Charlie Parks?"

In the outfield there is a "wealth of talent," the manager avers. He says that long ball hitters are the specialty, although speed in hawking the club scrapers that might possibly get out there is a well established attribute of his gardeners.

"If I had putted like yesterday," said the lean Texan, speaking of the Colonial National Invitational Tournament, in which he finished second, "I'd have won that one in a breeze."

Bold and Little had a best ball of 61, Mawhinney and Tucker a 70. Balding and Gordon Brydson of Canada walloped Mike Souchak and Cary Middlecoff 3 and 4. Balding amazed even his teammates with his wizardry on the greens. Balding and Brydson, who played a terrific game himself, had a best ball of 64 despite a double bogey 6 on the 15th hole.

The Balding-Brydson duo won the full three points (one point for each nine and one for the match) and it was up to the other team match — Doug Ford and Ted Kroil of the United States vs. Bill Kerr and Stan Leonard of Canada — to decide the issue.

Ford and Kroil managed to win the second nine cup after the teams tied in the first. Thus the United States got 3 1/2 points to 1 1/2. It would have been a flat tie of 1 1/2 points each but for a missed birdie putt by Leonard on the final green.

... between an Oldsmobile 88 and the other lower-price cars!

You know you're in a big car . . . from the way it rides and handles! With your first touch on the accelerator—that 230 h.p. Rocket Engine answers with all its winging power and speed!

And what flashing performance in the middle range! The Rocket is designed to give you full benefit of high torque—340 pound-feet at normal engine speeds. That means there's always plenty of reserve power—when you want it, when you need it for safety's sake.

This rugged Oldsmobile "88" is built to take all that power, too! For instance, there's an extra-right, five cross-member frame to give you ideal, shock-absorbing balance.

Economy? Well, Oldsmobile's "88" (and the Ninety-Eight, too) took top honors in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run!

There's a powerful difference, all right! Both in the car, and in our quality-minded way of doing business. So come on in now. Take the wheel of an Oldsmobile Rocket away . . . today!

Social & Personal Activities

By MARY FOWLER
Friends and neighbors are welcoming the return of Mrs. Einar Tidman to her home where she is participating in two major operations and a month's stay at Fish Memorial in DeLand. Mrs. Tidman wishes to thank those who sent her flowers and cards (we counted 178 of those) wishing her a quick recovery.

Richard Hofstetter, building inspector, tells us he has issued over a half million in De Bary building permits during the first four months of this year. With the report that 400 homes are soon to be erected on the West side of 17th, there is a sure growth of homes for many young couples as well as retired people wishing to locate their families away from the hubbub of commercial locations.

May will burn with activity among the De Bary organizations which are staging their final celebrations of the season. Plantation Meister Women's club will hold a luncheon and style show at the Langford Hotel Wednesday of this week; the POA picnic will be the 15th at DeLeon Springs; the De Bary Women's club luncheon at Chimey Corners on the 19th and the C of C Ladies' night on May 20.

Laura Platt Brown tells us she has been visiting with her husband, in Sarasota, where there was a happy reunion of four families formerly of White Plains and now residents of Florida's West coast. The Browns also visited in Jacksonville last week. Mother's Day will be especially the term of Gov. Dan McCarthy who died in office.

In an election eve statement, Collins forecast he would lead the field and hoped the lead would be big enough to put him over in the first primary.

Bryant predicted he would run second to Collins and go into a runoff with him.

"The upsurge of strength and confidence that we have experienced in the last two weeks makes certain that we will run a strong second in the first primary," Bryant said.

Warren forecast he would carry more than 50 of the 67 counties and would lead the ticket.

Lowry claimed he would lead the ticket also.

Other candidates are Peaslee Street, Lake Park constable who is the only candidate to endorse integration; and W. B. Price, Jacksonville used car salesman, who has made limited campaigns.

Lowry has made segregation his only issue and has urged adoption of an interposition resolution as a means of heading off integration. Warren has urged amending the 11th Amendment to the federal Constitution to put integration on a local option basis. Bryant has urged joint action by Florida and other states toward preservation of states' rights.

U. S. Senator George A. Smathers has drawn nominal opposition from a political newcomer, Erie L. Griffin, Macclenny attorney who has charged Smathers with a weak stand on segregation. Smathers replied he was 100 per cent for segregation.

Two Democratic congressmen—James A. Haley of Sarasota and D. R. (Billy) Matthews of Gainesville—are opposed and three Democrats are seeking the right to oppose Republican congressman William C. (Bill) Cramer of St. Petersburg in November.

Also with opposition on the Democratic side are veteran Secretary of State R. A. Gray, Atty. Gen. Richard W. Ervin, Railroad Commission Alan S. Boyd and Supreme Court Justice T. Frank Hobson and Stephen C. O'Connell.

The Democratic nominee for governor will oppose the Republican candidate, William A. Washburne Jr., in November. Florida is overwhelmingly Democratic statewide but has pockets of Republican strength.

Polls opened at 7 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

California Man Collects Quart Size Milk Cartons

The Chamber of Commerce staff receives some unusual requests. They have been asked to locate baby sitters, vacuum cleaner salesmen, and arling husbands. School children write letters begging for "samples of the products your city manufactures." Collectors want (for free) postcards, pencils, match-covers and telephone books.

Now comes one that the staff feels is even more out of the line of Chamber of Commerce work. Roland C. Atwood of California writes:

"Dear Sir: I collect quart size milk cartons for a hobby and have 1200 so far but none from your city. Is there anyone in your office that buys milk in cartons in the stores? If so I would like a couple of different companies, please. Cut off the top and bottom as close as you can and throw away. Then cut along the seams and send four sides. I was in the dairy business 35 years ago. Hence the interest. Thank you."

Anyone interested in adding to Atwood's collection may send contributions to him at P. O. Box 891, Hollywood 28, California.

There is nothing in the C of C postal budget to cover shipments of milk cartons.

Children, Teachers Playwriting Team, Injured In Wreck

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—More than 100 schoolchildren and teachers were injured yesterday when their baseball excursion train was wrecked in a collision with a loaded gravel truck.

The diesel locomotive remained on the tracks, but 30 of the 100 cars hurtled off the rails. The train was carrying 807 pupils and their adult escorts from Portage in south central Wisconsin to Milwaukee for a Milwaukee-Brooklyn baseball game.

A total of 101 persons were admitted to two hospitals. Thirty-seven, 23 of them children, remained overnight. None were listed in critical condition.

The truck driver, Gordon Hinchley, 33, Wales, Wis., suffered compound fractures of both legs and internal injuries but was listed in "fair" condition.

The crash occurred at the DuPlainville crossing, five miles north of here and 23 miles west of Milwaukee.

Engineer George Ives, 36, Occanowoc, said the truck "hit the first coach so hard that gravel was thrown over the coaches. That car was struck so hard that it went off the track first, causing derailment of the other nine coaches."

Ives said the crossing is designated as a 70 mph zone and that he had slowed down to that speed.

Playwriting Team, Novelist Awarded Pulitzer Prizes

NEW YORK (AP)—Pulitzer Prizes have been bestowed on MacKinley Kantor for his play, "The Diary of Anne Frank," and on a husband-wife playwriting team for their Broadway hit, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The 1954 Pulitzer awards in Journalism, literature and music were announced yesterday by the trustees of Columbia University. Kantor's novel, the story of the horrors of a Confederate prison camp, won the Pulitzer Prize for fiction.

Albert Hackett and Frances Goodrich won the drama award for their stage adaptation of the diary of a 13-year-old Jewish girl who died in a Nazi concentration camp in World War II.

The annual Pulitzer Prizes are awarded by the Columbia trustees under the will of the late Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the old New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. The first prizes were made in 1917.

None of this year's winners had won a Pulitzer Prize before.

sections of steel railroad rails.

The copper coils were in a huge oak hogstead over which was mounted a pump which drew water from a nearby stream.

The still was completely equipped even with food and cooking utensils. A number of tarpaulins were fastened which were used to cover the still in case of rain.

No one was found at the still at the time it was located and confiscated. However, Sheriff Corbett pointed out the number of the leading from the still into the hammock land which would prevent anyone being caught at the site if intruders were heard approaching.

The major portions of the still which could be used for evidence or had any value were loaded onto jeeps and brought back to the Seminole County Jail.

Corbett said that the still was located about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon shortly after a downpour of rain.

Enthuriacism

election and Democratic Primary, voters will again be faced with casting their ballot in a special election in the House of Representatives on May 22. The regular runoff primary will be held on May 23, an unprecedented year, voters will go to the polls three times during the month of May to cast their ballots.

Undoubtedly there will be runoff elections in five of the groups bidding for local high offices. The May 20 primary will undoubtedly include the names of successful candidates to weather today's primary in the race for House of Representatives, Clerk of Circuit Court, Sheriff, County Assessor of Taxes, and for County Commissioner, District No. One.

Several candidates have predicted that they would be named in today's primary election and would have no opposition in the forthcoming runoff. However, with the high percentage of voters expected to storm the polls before the 7 o'clock closing hour this evening, it is doubtful if any candidate in groups where more than two are vying for office will emerge without runoff opposition.

With the weather clear, and possibilities of only light showers facing those who had not yet voted before the noon deadline at The Sanford Herald, it is expected that the heaviest part of the voting day will come during the afternoon and early evening hours.

Members Of Cub Team Will Receive Baseball Awards

The Rotary club will present gold miniature baseballs to the members of the championship Cub baseball club just before the opening of the All-Star vs. Cubs game at the Memorial Stadium Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Comm. John Pope, head of the baseball project of the Rotary club, also said that two trophies given each year by Sonny Powell and Roy Holler would be presented at that time when the names of the winners will be announced.

John Keeling, sports announcer for WTRR, will handle the public address system at the game to give the fans full information on the participants in the game.

Officiating the contest will be W. C. (Red) Hires, who has been calling balls and strikes during the five week season, and Brack Perkins and Orville Touchton, both of whom have seen service during the past weeks, dispersing themselves around the slacks.

Mrs. George Slime and Ben Wiggins feel confident that the sterling team play that has marked the Cub's performance all year and that got them through the season with only one loss will bring their club in the winner. Undoubtedly they will start their dependable battery combination of Ken McMurray and Doyle Corley. The hitting order, however, has not been announced.

The All-star mentors, Sonny Powell and Bill Hutchison feel that with the wealth of material on the roll, they should have little trouble knocking off the cocky Cubs. They have no less than six players who have pitched during the season and there are four receivers on the roster. They, too, are pointing the best line-up of their hitters. These master-minders believe they have more long-ball hitters than have the champs and this punch will be a big factor in the outcome, they feel.

April Sales Tax Hits New High

Sales tax collections during April (based on March sales) hit a new high for this fiscal year of $9,214,251 and for the third time passed monthly collections of the gasoline tax which had previously been considered the state's largest single revenue-producer.

Seminole County sales tax collections for the month ending April 30, 1958 based on March sales totaled $31,071.52. The increase over the collections for the corresponding period last year amounted to nearly five-thousand dollars, which is a corresponding increase as pictured over the entire state.

This is the highest collection ever reported since the sales tax was enacted into law in 1910. The increasing sales tax collections are a reflection of the increasing economy of the state and further strengthens the prediction that revenue from the sales tax and other state revenue sources will be more than sufficient to meet all legislative appropriations for this fiscal year, with a sizeable cash carryover available for next year's appropriations.

April collections represented a 20.09 per cent increase, $1,541,464, over the $7,672,847 collected for the same month the previous year, and an increase of $544,090 over the $8,070,165 collected during the previous month of March.

Total collected under the sales tax this fiscal year is $71,663,780, an increase of 16.88 per cent, $10,337,841, over the $61,325,944 collected at this time last year. Total gasoline tax collections for the same period amount to $74,772,397, only $3,108,611 more than the sales tax.

Ike Will Undergo Complete Physical Examination Friday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he will undergo a new head-to-toe physical examination Friday, including a check on his heart condition.

Eisenhower made the announcement at a news conference. He had been asked whether he planned another full-scale checkup in advance of the Republican National Convention which opens in San Francisco, Aug. 20.

Replying to the question, Eisenhower said that as a matter of fact he is going to have a major physical checkup day after tomorrow.

Calling it a head-to-toe examination, he said the checkup was not related specifically to the heart attack he suffered in Denver last Sept. 24.

But he added that during the course of the examination the doctors planned to check the condition of his heart with cardiograms and other usual procedures.

Eisenhower did not say what prompted the decision for another full scale checkup at this time.

Douglas Stenstrom Reelected To Senate

Senator Douglas Stenstrom emerged from yesterday's primary election by being reelected to the State Senate from the 37th Senatorial District.

Stenstrom polled a vote of nearly six to one in Seminole County when a total of 5,013 was reported in the unofficial returns this morning with only 983 for Candidate Paul Miller of Brevard County.

In Brevard County, Senator Stenstrom carried the northern end of the county when he took seven out of 28 precincts including Titusville and Miami. Brevard County polled 3034 for Miller and 3010 for Stenstrom in the returns received in Seminole County this morning.

Sen. Stenstrom defeated Paul Miller for his reelection by a final tally of nearly two to one in the overall two-count tabulation.

Senator Stenstrom said this morning, "I'm deeply grateful for the splendid vote of confidence given me in yesterday's election by people of both Seminole and Brevard Counties."

"I was particularly grateful," said Stenstrom, "at the wonderful way the people of my home supported me. I hope I can continue to represent the people of my district in a manner which will merit their continued confidence. May I thank each and everyone who worked so hard in my behalf."

Candidate Paul Miller conceded the election to Senator Douglas Stenstrom about 1:30 this morning.

Lowry 2nd

Gov. Collins won unprecedented first primary nomination for a full term yesterday on a cascade of ballots he subscribed to a policy of progress without furor.

The 47-year-old Tallahassee lawyer's vote total in more than three-quarters of Florida precincts exceeded the combined vote of his five opponents by over 75,000.

Returns from 1,447 of 1,779 precincts gave Collins 386,381 votes to 137,678 for Sumner L. Lowry, 90,020 for former House Speaker Farris Bryant, 81,365 for former Gov. Fuller Warren, 4,839 for Peeslee Streets and 3,001 for W. B. Price.

While segregation talk dominated the campaign, Collins said he regarded "integrity in government" as the major issue.

Many political observers considered his oneshot victory as being due more to his personal popularity rather than to his views on maintaining segregation.

All four of the major candidates took a stand against mixing of the races, and the issue shaped up on methods of preserving segregation rather than segregation itself.

Collins said he favored preserving segregation by all lawful and legal means, but "without emotional furor and disorders."

His opponents, particularly Lowry and Warren, charged that his stand wasn't vigorous enough. Lowry and Warren claimed he actually was in favor of gradual integration.

Collins built up his big majority largely on the strength of heavy votes in the big city areas but he also polled a surprisingly strong vote in some of the smaller counties.

Not since the two-primary system was adopted in 1933 has a Florida governor won nomination in the first primary.

Collins has a Republican opponent in November, William A. Washburne Jr., of Nokomis, but Democratic nomination is tantamount to election in Florida.

U. S. Sen. George Smathers won re-nomination without campaigning. He defeated Eric L. Griffin, 38-year-old MacClenny attorney, 422,061 to 56,047 in returns from 1,111 of 1,779 precincts.

In a statement issued after he had been mobbed by a jubilant crowd of supporters at his headquarters in Tallahassee early today, Collins declared:

"The great and overwhelming victory we have achieved is, I believe, reaffirmation of our people's determination to continue on the sound and stable progressive course we have steadfastly pursued for the past 18 months."

Bryant, former House speaker, conceded defeat at 11 p. m.

Lowry, who pegged his entire campaign, to maintenance of segregation, said in a postprimary statement that "defeat is hard to take . . . nevertheless there is much satisfaction in making a good showing against an opponent who held every political advantage."

He promised "this campaign is only a beginning of a great struggle."

Warren said — "I respect the right of the people to elect anyone they want to for any office and I hope they always have that right."

After it had been established that he had become the first man in Florida's political history to win the governorship nomination in the first primary, Collins led his supporters to St. Johns Episcopal Church in Tallahassee to offer a prayer of thanksgiving.

Pilot Club Accepts Proposed Budget; Reports Are Heard

Members of the Pilot Club voted to accept the budget of approximately $1,000 as presented by Mrs. Harvey Swanson, finance chairman, at the first meeting of the new year of the group held in the Yacht Club last night with the new president, Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson, presiding.

Mrs. B. E. Chapman, publicity chairman for the Mental Health Association for Seminole County, explained to the club members the "crying need" for clinics and hospitals for mentally ill so that they won't have to be placed in the county jail awaiting entrance to the now overcrowded institutional psychiatric services; and the stimulation of an educational program.

The Pilot Club went on record as endorsing the program in Seminole County and pledged its assistance and support in the establishment of a Central Florida Hospital and Clinic. A voluntary contribution was made toward this effort and turned over to Mrs. Chapman to be applied on the "Chain of Dollars."

Mrs. George A. Stine reported on a recent meeting of the Bicycle Safety Club. The club voted to give one of the groups a winner next sometime this summer and also pledged its support of the Safety Club.

Mrs. Walker Carter, Milk Bank chairman, reported that during the past year a total of $23,464 had been spent to furnish milk for 20 indigent families in Seminole County.

A report of the state convention held last weekend in Tallahassee was given by Mrs. Joel S. Field, Mrs. D. K. McNab and Mrs. Swanson, who served as a page. Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. M. L. Raborn, Sr., who was a member of the nominating committee. Mrs. McNab stated that there are now 10,746 members in Pilot International in eight counties. There were 243 delegates, alternates and visitors attending the meeting of District Four in Tallahassee and approximately 100 Anchors Club girls, an organization sponsored by Pilot International.

Mrs. Field and Mrs. Swanson related some of the highlights of the convention and especially the F.S.U. Circus which was held on Saturday evening.

Members last night endorsed Mrs. Dorothy Horstall of Jacksonville, a past district governor, as a member of the Pilot International executive board. The election will be held at the P.I. convention in Miami in July.

Fire Of Unknown Origin Destroys Restaurant Today

A fire of unknown origin destroyed a restaurant in Goldsboro this morning shortly before 6:00 o'clock.

According to the Sanford Fire Department which answered the alarm at 5:55 a. m., Eddie's Restaurant at 1000 Southwest Road was completely destroyed.

The fire, outside of the city limits, was fought by two trucks from the Sanford Fire Department. However, officers say that the building was so involved that the flames could not be overcame without additional water. Fire hydrants were not close enough to the restaurant to run hoses.

The restaurant, it is reported, is owned by Eddie Morgan.

Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. could not be contacted for comment on the early morning blaze.
