THE CITRUS DAMAGED OLD WAVE

Fluctuations Drops From Twenty To Thirty Degrees To Cause Estimated Loss

Wet Weather New Record Comes Today Practically All State, Is Report

The Associated Press) Broward county closed on account of weather and temperature ranging as low as 19 degrees reported from various sections of the state, with citrus fruits frozen on the trees. Florida today breathed a sigh of relief as the mercury started its climb back toward normal shortly after day break.

New records of years were set last night's temperature dropping from 60.3 during the night, with the lowest, the lowest temperature of 19.7. No reports of frost were available, although citrus exchange admitted "damage," and promised later in the day.

Last night's record low temperature came a degree of the night before, or thermometer, however, scattered place, and thin ice buckets at outlying points. Gray that freezing temperatures prevailed over the citrus crops. The temperature of many lakes, rivers and streams, however, kept the Lakeland section, and extensive damage, available reports from that section. Temperatures were reported to have dropped to from 20 degrees over the whole state, wreaking extensive damage to citrus crops. Approximately 25 per cent of the section's citrus crop was severely damaged, as estimated.

Severe injuries suffered most damage the Winter Haven section, and thermometer dropped to 19 degrees. There was slight injury to the citrus crop on high land, where there was slight. Vegetables in the section suffered extensively, and ornamental shrubbery suffered a high percentage of damage.

Damage of 25 per cent but injury to groves was reported from DeLand with a minimum temperature of 24 degrees. Citrus crops shivered under a minimum of 21 degrees, but only slight damage to truck was reported.

Reports expressed the opinion that the damage to citrus crops was materially cut by the check. It was believed that estimates had been by sections only of unprotected sections fully exposed.

Reports from the Jacksonville vicinity the night drop was not as pronounced as the night before. The minimum during the night was 24 degrees, as compared to 26 degrees before.

Reports from over the state: Bartow 24; Eustis 24; Myers 24; Ft. Pierce 24; Ft. Pierce 24; Hastings 20; Orlando 24; Sanford 25; Titusville 20. Reports from Key West experienced a minimum of 48 degrees.

Reports from school children were ordered to wear heavy clothing and to wear hats. Reports from the school for the night on Page Two.

Members of the Citrus and the Sanford Country Improvement Society met last night when plans of the year were discussed by the members of the society.

Only 1,800 Auto Tags Issued Here

Only 1,800 new automobile licenses have been issued from the Sanford bureau, with an estimated number of 11,000 automobiles in the county yet to be covered, according to a statement made today by State Automobile Inspector L. E. Jordan, who supervises the work of the local bureau. Only three more days remain for the issuance of tags, Jan. 15 purchase of new tags, Mr. Jordan announced, Saturday, Jan. 15, is the final day.

The office for the issuance of the tags is in room 17, McLander Arcade, on First Street. Mrs. Nettie Torrence is in charge of the bureau.

"Automobile owners are going to save themselves time and money by procuring the tags this week. With at least 8,000 tags yet to be sold, the bureau will be swamped for next three days," Mr. Jordan announced.

"PEACHES" STILL LOVES BROWNING, ASSERTS MOTHER

But Cinderella Girl Never Will Live With Her Mate Again, Avers Mrs. Heenan Who Says Hubby Was Cruel

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—"Peaches" Browning still loves her elderly millionaire husband, Edward W. ("Daddy") Browning, but she'll never go back to him, her mother, Mrs. Carolyn Chamberlain Heenan, declared in an interview today.

"She is afraid of him," said Mrs. Heenan. "Why, he used to sleep with a gun at the side of his bed and act so strange. She was an innocent child when she married Browning but when she left him she was a physical wreck."

Mrs. Heenan scoffed at the statement made in court yesterday by Browning's attorney that the millionaire was "dragged into" his marriage with "Peaches."

"We saw not and did not," said Mrs. Heenan spiritedly. "My daughter didn't marry Browning for his money and furthermore she didn't propose to him. My girl is a saddened and disillusioned young wife—a mighty changed girl."

Prepared to Take Stand
"Peaches" is going through with her forthcoming suit for separation and is prepared to take the witness stand, much as she recoils from such an ordeal, her mother said.

"All this publicity, this notoriety that Mr. Browning does on, my daughter detests," Babe is naturally a retiring girl with the most domestic tastes.

"Her romance wasn't a case of flaming youth and a man at the dangerous age," Babe wasn't the jazzy, wild young flapper type. She was just a wholesome, winsome high school girl when she met Mr. Browning at a Sorority dance. What change was wrought in her (Continued on Page 2)

Police Docket Is Light One Today

Police court proceedings took not more than 15 minutes of Judge W. E. White's time this morning, the docket having but few cases for disposal.

Small bonds were created by Al Raffald and Mrs. C. W. Knapp for alleged minor traffic offenses and John Kumbly and C. J. Matthews were each fined on a charge of reckless driving. An accident in which the cars they were driving on Monday afternoon figured.

Frank Kellogg Goes Before Foreign Relations Group Of Senate In Defense Of Coolidge "Big Stick" Policy

America Aims To Support "Established Order" In South, Secretary Asserts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(INS)—For three hours today, Secretary of State Kellogg labored behind closed doors with the Senate foreign relations committee, endeavoring to convince its semi-hostile members that the administration's "big stick" policy in Central America is justified by the trend of events there.

The general tenor of Kellogg's explanation paralleled closely the message sent to congress Monday by President Coolidge, in which he said the administration's policy in Nicaragua was necessary to protect American interests, the canal rights, and to support "established order" south of the Rio Grande.

The secretary was accompanied to the capitol by a number of aides, bearing brief cases and portfolios of data on the existing state of affairs below the Rio Grande.

Where 76 Lives Were Lost In Theater Fire

Interior of the theater in Montreal, Canada, shows scores of charred seats and debris. The fire broke out Monday in a stampede resulting from the cry of "fire." The tragedy was caused by a flicker of flame from the projection room, and damage from the fire itself was purely secondary.

London Paper Says Monroe Doctrine Has Changed From Negative To Positive Policy

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—Evolution of the Monroe doctrine from a negative to a positive theory is seen by the Times in the policy pursued in Nicaragua by the United States.

"The American intervention there," it said, "is in logical accord with the recent evolution of the Monroe doctrine, which, from the negative proposition that no European country shall interfere in the American continent, has developed into the positive theory that the United States is free to intervene there any time in defense of her interests."

"No people has been so largely benefited as the Americans in championing the cause of independence and national rights, and opposing entanglement in the affairs of other countries, but they are being drawn by the magnet of political and economic interest far into the disputes of Central America, and their spasmodic efforts to release themselves from its attractions at the present moment are less likely than ever to succeed, however unavailing they may be to be numbered among the imperialistic nations."

The Daily News believes President Coolidge is committed to a "very dangerous policy" declaring: "While I profess purpose is to protect American citizens, every body knows the real intention is to support one side of the revolution against the other in the hope of destroying Mexico influence in Nicaragua and substituting United States domination."

MEXICAN BORDER FORCE NUMBERS 15,000, IS CLAIM

United States Has Had Big Force Concentrated Down On Rio Grande For Some Time, Department Reveals

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Fifteen thousand soldiers have for some time been concentrated along the Mexican border in anticipation of possible trouble with Mexico, it was said today at the war department.

It was emphasized, however, that this concentration was in no way connected with the danger of war conditions in the present strained relations between the United States and the southern republic. Officials of the department also added that recent orders transferring an unusual number of army officers to border posts have no special significance in the present crisis.

The army's forces of the Texas and Arizona borders include the only completely organized infantry and Cavalry Divisions, which were described at the war department as "the only readily mobilizable units in the country." These divisions are the 2nd Infantry, with headquarters in San Antonio, and the 12th Cavalry, with headquarters in El Paso.

American forces stationed at or near the border include: Large Force At Fort Houston, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex., and Infantry Division, commanded by Major General William D. Connor, made up of the 1st, 9th, 20th and 23rd Infantry Regiments, and the 12th and 15th Field Artillery Regiments; total strength: 350 officers and 6,100 men.

Fort Ewing, Rio Grande City, Texas—One Squadron of the 12th Cavalry, commanded by Lt. Col. C. O. Thomas, Jr., 200 men.

NO DECISION YET IN SIGHT ON RACE TRACK QUESTION

High Court Indicates That It Will Let Matter Take Regular Course As Study Of Subject Is Continued

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 12.—(AP)—That the State Supreme court intends to let the litigation over the Pompano track take its course was indicated today when there was no intimation that any kind of a decision in the matter is an immediate prospect.

The court is deliberating over an application for a superseas to set aside an injunction granted in a lower court to restrain the Pompano Horse Club, Inc., from conducting a system of certificate selling; a demurrer against the granting of the proposed superseas, and whether the selling of such certificates at race tracks in the state is in violation of the gambling law.

Application for the superseas was filed last Friday. The court heard oral arguments Monday afternoon and still has the whole matter under consideration.

While the court deliberates, those interested in the proposed superseas have apparently left Tallahassee. For four days attorneys for both sides paced the corridors of the court building, expecting a decision, but none came.

Pompano Man Comments
JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 12.—(AP)—"If I am beaten in my case, the death knell of all racing plants in Florida will have been sounded," is the concluding assertion of a formal statement issued here today by Paul M. Beason, president of the Pompano Horse Club, whose appeal from an injunction restraining the track from operation is now under consideration by the state supreme court.

Mr. Beason expressed complete confidence in the outcome of the case, stating that he believes "thoroughbred horse racing in Florida will be unhampered by further attacks of fanatic officials who have nothing to lose and who seem to be acting against an overwhelming flood of public opinion."

Most of the statement was devoted to the explanation of the case appeal.

"The members of appeal in our case may have been confused to the public," the statement said, "because of the fact that it originally entered the supreme court on a mere appeal for superseas."

"But it will be remembered Mr. Carson, representing the complainant, filed a motion requesting the supreme court to decide all the merits of the case."

"The Pompano Horse Club then asked that the case be determined immediately by the court, but pending such determination the court grant the superseas. The appeal was denied for the superseas to remain in effect until the court has studied the merits of the case."

"Because of the public interest in the ultimate outcome it is expected that an immediate decision will be handed down by the court."

"The Pompano Horse Club has been sanctioned and upheld by the state supreme court. This was shown by the offering of a voluntary petition, signed by practically every business man in the county, as evidence in the court. The court could not use this because of technical legal reasons."

Kiwanis Luncheon Featured By The Speeches Of Four Past Presidents

Committee assignments and brief talks by four past presidents of the organization featured the noon luncheon meeting of the Sanford Kiwanis Club at the Hotel Forrest Lake today. The meeting was attended by a large number of members and several out of town guests.

Fast Presidents L. P. Connolly, J. G. Shanon, T. L. Dumas and E. D. Brunswick were on the program and their short speeches were devoted to advancing the interests of the club in the future.

Plans for entering a golf team in the annual club tournament for the Studebaker Trophy, now held by the American Legion, were announced by M. B. Hutton, chairman of the Athletic Committee. A movement was also made for entering the tennis tournament which is to be sponsored by the Sanford Tennis Club.

Landis Ruling Avers That Charges Made By Risberg, Gandil Are Still Unfounded

White Sox "Pool" Given As Reward

Three Pilots And 30 Others Are Cleared By Judge's Decision

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Judge K. M. Landis high commissioner of baseball today exonerated leading Detroit and Chicago baseball players of charges that "throw" games in 1917 and 1919.

The Diamond Czar decided there was no truth in the charges of Charles "Swede" Risberg that the Chicago White Sox paid the Detroit Tigers for "sloughing" them a series of games.

Judge Landis also ruled there was no "sloughing" in the games of September, 1919, "except possibly" by Risberg and "Chief" Gandil, another Black Sox player, who jointly charged the Sox and Tigers for "sloughing" them a series of games.

Only a group of newspapermen was in the commissioner's office when he announced his decision in a five-page document.

The concluding paragraph of Judge Landis' decision is as follows:

"It is the finding of the commissioner that the fund raised by the Chicago players about Sept. 26, 1917, was not collected or paid to Detroit players for 'sloughing' to Chicago the games of Sept. 2 and 3, 1917, but was paid because of the Detroit's beating Boston. That there was no 'sloughing' of the Sept. 2-3, 1917, games, one of the Sept. 25, 27 and 29, 1919, games, except possibly by Risberg and Gandil."

All Of Accused Exonerated
Eddie Collins of the Philadelphia Athletics, Donnie Bush, Pittsburgh Pirates' manager, and Ray Schalk, new pilot of the Chicago White Sox, as well as the 30 other diamond stars, past and present, were absolved of all blame by Landis, who upheld the testimony of the accused men that they had merely given the Detroit team a present for winning games from the Boston Club at a time when Boston was close at the heels of the Sox in the pennant race.

By making the charges against Collins, Bush and other prominent players, Risberg and Gandil had nothing to lose, the commissioner ruled. His decision said about this feature:

"To some it may seem inexplicable that Risberg and Gandil should implicate themselves in alleged corrupt practices. Obviously, that self-implication may have been conceived upon the theory that they have even incriminated themselves, so it must be true. However, being already on the ineligible list, this would not affect them, and it might benefit the 'city whites'."

Judge Landis made no reference to the cases of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, ousted Detroit and Cleveland managers. He said no application for a hearing of the charges made against these men by "Dutch" Leonard, former Detroit pitcher, had been filed with him as yet.

Grand Jurors May Return True Bills Thursday Morning

Criminal proceedings are expected to begin in Circuit Court Thursday morning following the return of a number of indictments by the grand jury late this afternoon. The indictments are expected to be written tonight and delivered to the court tomorrow by Millard Smith, prosecuting attorney.

The arraignment of those named in the indictments will follow on the date for their trials will be almost certain. County authorities are awaiting word from the grand jury as to whether any trial may be made ready for their appearance and witnesses summoned. At least one case of alleged bigamy is to be tried and several charges of lesser importance are to be aired.

LANDIS TO PROBE CLEVELAND DADS DETROIT-BROWNS EXPRESS FAITH IN 'SLOUGH' IN 1923 EX-INDIAN PILOT

Baseball Commissioner Has Decided To Get At Bottom Of Affair Despite Cobb's Emphatic Denial Of Story

By DAVIN J. WALSH
International News Service
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Believing that a "slough" in the hand is worth two in the mind, Judge Landis next will take hold of the story distributed by Ty Cobb, of an alleged rearrangement of a Detroit-St. Louis series in 1923 and, doubtfully but firmly shaking it down, will let the facts fall where they may. Cobb has entered a denial of the statement credited to him by Bert Walker, International News Service Special Correspondent, but this disclaimer is understood to have been deemed insufficient by Landis.

The judge's determination to investigate the circumstances thoroughly is said to have been crystallized during the recent days. The tip is that there has been a development on the St. Louis end. The investigation probably will be launched by Landis immediately following the rendering of his decision on Wednesday in the matter of Gandil-Risberg versus Collins-Schalk-Bowland, et al., in which a verdict of acquittal for the latter appears to be ordained both by fact and by fancy. If there was any "sloughing" carried on in this case, Risberg and Gandil, merely succeeded in proving that they had fore-knowledge of the alleged transaction.

It was while Cobb was on the stand, acting as a witness in these charges, that he was examined by Landis about the interview attributed to him in which he was made to declare that the St. Louis Browns had approached the Detroit team before a certain series late in 1923 and had stated that they would see that there would be no change in the series, but that they would receive a dollar for the Cleveland Indians.

Cobb at first was somewhat evasive with his denial but finally discovered the interview attributed to him, when pressed for a direct answer. Walker was present in his capacity of reporter but went solemnly on with his work, never by even a glance at the end being trying the slightest interest in Cobb's denial.

The disputed interview with the Georgian was published shortly after he had received a suspended decision, in company with Tris Speaker, on charges that they had participated in a gambling coup. Frank Nevin, Detroit owner, was involved in Cobb's alleged countercharges, for Ty was made to claim that he had taken the matter before Nevin immediately after the Browns were said to have "propositioned" him.

However, when faced by Landis on the stand last week, Cobb clearly indicated that he has no wish to testify in any more scandalous matter involving himself. He, in fact, is engaged, to the exclusion of all else, in his attempt to force baseball to re-open his case and grant him another hearing and it might be that, unless baseball hearkens to his plea, he will decline to be present at a St. Louis-Triumph investigation.

Hope Expressed For Tampa Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 11.—(INS)—Ray Farnley, sports editor of the Tampa Times, who suffered concussion of the brain in an automobile accident in which J. Watson Morse, staff photographer of the newspaper, was killed, probably will recover, physicians attending him announced at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

In a comatose condition for more than 40 hours after the accident and believed on a verge of death, Farnley rallied and today he was conscious at intervals, according to the physicians who said he showed some improvement and had better than fighting chance for life.

Rickard To Hold Delaney And Dempsey In Reserve In His Heavyweight Tourney

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The two "light" boxers in the heavy-weight belt, Jack Delaney and Jack Dempsey, apparently will be played until the critical "clash" of the game is involved.

Although Tex Rickard, the principal dealer of the pack, would like to shuffle Delaney in with the rest of the cards, it is increasingly evident that the preliminary play will be made by Maloney, Sharkey, Berlesbach, Hansen, Paulino and possibly Young. Striking, the Georgian, who has outgrown his middleweight and light-heavyweight days.

Rickard already has decided to hold Dempsey in reserve. He regards the champion as ranking next in the line of the pack, Gene Tunney, and plans to discuss with him here in a few weeks a proposal to meet the winner of the championship.

Delaney meanwhile, looms as the "wild card" of the deck. His

Action Is Virtually Identical With That Taken By Board In Detroit With Reference To Ty Cobb, Georgia Peach

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Commissioner Landis' sapper of baseball data from which tomorrow morning he plans to pluck a decision vitally affecting nearly two score players, has been spiked up a bit by the Cleveland city council.

Although six councilmen characterized it as "unbusinesslike," a resolution of confidence in Tris Speaker was adopted by the Ohio city ordinance makers last night.

The Cleveland action virtually was a copy of that taken a fortnight ago by the Detroit council when it extolled Ty Cobb as innocent of charges made by "Dutch" Leonard which linked him, Speaker and "Smoky" Joe Wood with alleged baseball crookedness in 1919.

Neither councilman's resolution is pertinent to the charges which the commissioner is considering today and which go back in Labor day week, 1917, when Detroit lost an important four game series to the Chicago White Sox, Suede Risberg and Chick Gandil, then playing with the White Sox but later barred from baseball because of what happened in the 1919 world series, have charged that the four games in question were "sloughed" to Chicago, and it is these charges involving many men still starring in baseball, which the commissioner will dispose of tomorrow.

The feeling has grown however that the commissioner while passing on the Gandil-Risberg charges also will commit himself in some manner on the Cobb-Speaker case. If he does not, it has been intimated that attorneys for these two will press upon him their demand for a definite ruling on the status of their clients, with the threat of some legal action if the commissioner does not give Speaker and Cobb clean plates.

Paolino Willing To Meet Cuban Champ

HAVANA, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Paolino, the Spanish heavyweight, not only is willing to accept the offer of Antonio Ferrer, Cuban champion, but is ready to post $2,000 for a "private fight" if no promoter can be found to stage the match, but he must be staged soon, Paolino explained, because he is booked to meet Knute Hansen of Wisconsin at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Feb. 7.

"The manager of Ferrer seems to believe that I fear his boxer," Paolino said today. "If I feared Ferrer I would be a man of water. If no promoter can be found to stage the match I am willing to post $2,000 for a private fight if Ferrer does the same."

Paolino recalls the proposal of Harry Wills, once leading heavyweight contender, to have it out with Jack Dempsey at the corner of Broadway and Forty-second street.

Georges Carpentier Plans To Go On Stage

PARIS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Georges Carpentier is going on the stage, but he has no intention of abandoning the ring. L'Espresso today quotes him as saying:

"Whether I devote the stage as a profession or not," he said, "depends on the results, but in any case I will not abandon boxing. I cannot renounce the sport which is dearest to me, and I shall certainly fight again, but I will continue to act until the ruling passion again conquers me."

"I will make my stage debut in Paris at the Palace Theater as the star in a piece called 'A Very Sporting Review.'" manager, Pete Kelly, would like to stick with Humbert J. Fugazy, Rickard's promising rival, but that would mean losing a chance to lift Tunney's crown.

MELBOURNE—Pinellas County Power Company, Florida Power Corporation, and Central Florida Power Corporation merged by Pitkin Public Utility interests.

The outcome is likely to be a compromise whereby Delaney contends to meet Maloney or Sharkey, the winner to face Dempsey and thus determine Tunney's chief rival. Delaney's manager already has started an eloquent campaign to establish the French-Canadian's heavyweight claim. He points to Delaney's knockout victories over such fighters as Powers, Berlesbach, McTigue and Gorman.

Furthermore, to dispel any notion that Delaney isn't heavy enough, Kelly has put forward an up-to-date set of statistics, showing that his charge has gained a dozen pounds in the last year, developed proportionally to his present figure of 175 pounds and promises to scale about 185 when the outdoor season starts.

Clark Griffith Is Now Dickering For Wheat

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Clark Griffith, president of the Washington American League Baseball Club, is dickering for the services of Zach Wheat, veteran Brooklyn outfielder, recently released by the Dodgers. Admittance he was in negotiating with Wheat, Griffith said he wanted the veteran mainly for a pinch hitter. Wheat hit for over 300 in 15 of his 17 seasons.

Dundee Has An Even Chance With Roberts

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Despite his one round knockout at the hands of Red Roberts, of Tacoma, at San Francisco, a few weeks ago, Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, has been accorded an even chance of victory in early wagers on their return match at Madison Square Garden this Friday.

Roberts, training here for the past few days has impressed observers by his speed and hitting ability.

U. S. Not Likely To Defend Sport Honors

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The United States, winner of all five Olympic tennis titles in 1924 at Paris, isn't likely to defend any of them in international games at Amsterdam in 1928 because of the dates selected for the next Olympic competition.

Under the schedule recently decided upon, the Olympic tennis championships next year will take place August 5 to 12. This would interfere with the national championships and Davis cup schedule, always well under way by the middle of August, and prevent the sending of top ranking stars abroad.

Promises To Drink 100 Cups Of Coffee

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Jan. 11.—(AP)—With world's coffee drinking championship, whatever its importance, at stake today, Tom Cough prepared to down 100 cups of the breakfast brew and thus lift the coffee crown from H. A. Street, of Amarillo, Texas.

Comstock is no novice in coffee consuming, having to his credit 50 cups in ten hours flat, six times. He has downed 71 cups in 1925 and 75 in 1926.

Cough will do his drinking at the home of a hotel. He said he hopes to be enough time for 100 cups.

HIGHLAND PARK

Sanford's Outstanding Residential Development.
Artistic, Unique, Distinctive, Different.
In a Class by Itself.

High and Dry—Water runs from it in all directions.
Far removed from the smoke and soot and noise and unsightliness of railroad trains.

All public utilities—sewers, water, and gas—already installed all over the entire property.

Paving under way and almost completed on all its beautiful winding drives.

Right in the center of the broad white belt extending south between the Goldsboro and Georgetown Districts, and with Sanford growing at its present rate, sure to be in the heart of the built up part of the city within three or four years.

Convenient to the new high school and yet in not too close proximity.

Easily accessible to the main arteries of travel—Park Ave., to be the main highway to Orlando; Hughey Street, soon to be the main route to the golf course; French Avenue to the west and Geneva Ave., not far to the south. These main highways will naturally carry the through and heavy traffic for this part of the city, but none of them passes through Highland Park, which will be still further relieved from the annoyances of heavy hauling, by the curving indirectness of its drives.

Three Parks, To Be The Most Beautiful In Sanford, Within Its Borders.

RAINBOW POOL and Garden, on which several thousand dollars has already been expended and hundreds of flowering shrubs and vines have been planted.

SWAN OVAL, beginning at the beautiful Main Entrance and extending south from the big fountain. A water sprinkler system is now being installed over the entire area, and landscaping, planting and beautification are under way.

REVONA PARK, occupying a full city block at Oak Ave., and Franklin Street, now partly covered with a fine growth of pines and palms. Here, as the development of Highland Park proceeds, will be constructed a swimming pool, for which the sewer connections have already been made and the grading is now under way. Courts for tennis, roque and croquet will be built and eventually a club house erected, all these social and recreational facilities to be for the exclusive use of property owners in Highland Park.

Where else in Sanford can you find a site on which to build your home that combines all these advantages? And what other location is so entirely free from every objectionable feature?

And yet, with all these advantages recounted, only half the reasons have been stated that set Highland Park aside as a residential development distinctive, different, in a class by itself. When I bought this property nearly two years ago, two courses were open to me—one, to cut it up in the conventional checker board arrangement of streets and lots, throw it on the market without restrictions, and, as I could easily have done by reason of its superior location, make a quick clean-up and a handsome profit; the other course, to take advantage of this superb location in working out a development such as Sanford needs and of which she might always be proud. The second course meant careful planning, and a large preliminary outlay. It meant real artistry in the landscaping of the property, in the planning and development of parks within its borders; in the planting along the drive-ways, in the architecture of the houses even to the extent of how they should stand upon the sites they occupied, in short it meant to develop on this forty acre canvas a picture which should appeal to all the senses of harmony and beauty and in ever increasing measure as building proceeded and nature worked with me in bringing the picture to perfection.

The restrictions set forth in every deed to building sites in Highland Park control its development along the lines which set it apart in a class by itself. All planting along the driveways will be done by me, and if any tree or plant dies, it must be replaced with another of the same kind. No more than one dwelling and that a single family dwelling, can be erected on any one lot, and I expect most of them to occupy more than one lot, although some lots are nearly three times the size of the ordinary city lot. There can be no business houses, no apartment houses, no two family houses and no apartment garage except such as may be occupied by the servants of the owner. Houses may be built in various styles of architecture, Colonial, English or Mediterranean, which includes Spanish, Moorish, Italian, Venetian, but definite styles of architecture are limited to certain districts and all plans as to exterior appearance must be approved in writing by my architect, as must also the location of all buildings on the sites they occupy, the purpose being to prevent unfair encroachment by builder on his neighbor and to insure that all building shall harmonize with the entire scheme of development. There are restrictions against owners not of the Caucasian race, and against cows, chickens and other livestock. Restrictions as to cost of buildings when this property was first offered for sale in the latter part of January, 1926, were higher than conditions now will justify. They have been materially reduced for the reason that the cost of building is now much less than then, and business conditions have changed decidedly in the last twelve months. But restrictions are still high enough, coupled with the careful supervision as to the style and appearance of the houses erected, to insure that Highland Park will be, as I have planned from the first, the most attractive residential development in Sanford.

When prices on lots were fixed in Highland Park a year ago, they were actually less than lots with few of the advantages I had to offer, were selling for all around it. My prices were conservative at the time. Those prices are still conservative if one looks forward and forgets the temporary lull in Florida real estate. I expect to maintain those original prices and eventually to sell most of the property at a big advance, for when lots, simply as lots, begin to move again, as they surely will, Highland Park lots will come into their own. But in the meantime, with all the city utilities in, with the paving done, with the development proceeding along the lines of high class homes, and to them I am prepared to offer for a short time and to a limited number, such inducements in price and terms as can not be matched elsewhere.

If you are ready to build a high class house and can pay cash for the building site, you will be astonished at what I will do for you.

If you can finance a first class house if you had your lot free and clear, but cannot also pay cash for the lot, I might furnish you the building site and take a second mortgage for its cost.

If you already have a lot or house paid for somewhere else in Sanford and want to build instead in Highland Park, you might be able to arrange a trade with me.

If you want to buy a lot, just simply as a lot, for speculation, expecting to make a quick turn and a profit, I have nothing to offer, for Highland Park lots will sell some day (and that day not so far distant) at several times the price put on them a year ago, and very limited time and in a very limited number.

If you are ready now, or will soon be ready, to build, come and see me at my office, corner Park & Commercial, and let us talk it over, or telephone me and I will call on you. I have a number of books of house plans, by the way, showing many attractive designs, with estimates of costs, in which you will be interested.

While no definite figures were obtainable, reports from points throughout the state show that the light damage was done to some fruit by the cold weather last night. Tangerines took the heaviest damage, with oranges and lemons actually no harm done to the crop, it was reported.
According to reports reaching Chase and Company from field men, slight damage was done to tangerines and oranges at Arcadia, Auburndale, and Geneva, with a slight damage to tangerines also at Sanford.
These cities were the coldest points to report damage to the fruit.

that had his name. Upon questioning, Mr. Hummel admitted that the mortgages on the property he purchased was in default for a period of over a year. These answers came after objection from Mr. Anderson had been overruled by Judge Ames Lewis.
When Mr. DeCottis finished with the witness, Judge Lewis asked a few questions. In reply to one, which sought information on the amount of money rough across, Mr. Hummel told court that he had 40 acres situated for "about $200."
The answer had subsided at a late hour this morning.

"Would Make Good Wife"
To show how domesticated "Peaches" is, Mrs. Haeman escorted the reporter into her daughter's orchard and green boudoir to see "all the things Babe made her self."
"She would make the right kind of a man a mighty good wife," commented Mrs. Haeman proudly. "She's thick, fashioned home like."
"Money wasn't the thing that got the dreadful mother-in-law who broke up his home. That isn't true. I didn't interfere in any way until my daughter telephoned me, with tears in her voice, to come to her—that he was mistreating her. What mother would not respond to such an appeal? When I got to her she was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. I am a nurse, and I know how serious her condition was. So we packed up, and I took her away."
"Money wasn't what we were after. My daughter simply fell in love with his dignified, man-of-the-world manner. I honestly didn't want her to marry so young. We were so happy together. All I wanted from him was that he be kind to her. Instead he bedecked her in trinkets, paraded her about for publicity purposes and soon began treating her most cruelly. That was too much for me."

Lee And Gonzales To Mix In Armory Ring Bout Tonight

Quinn Lee, who is said to be one of the best flyweight fighters in the south, is on the boxing card at the Armory tonight in a 10 round main go with Young Gonzales, who hailed from Havana after a string of victories in that city. Gonzales won his last fight in two rounds and was reported to be one of the best boys to show in a Daytona ring this season. His match with Lee is expected to result in some of the fastest milling ever witnessed in a local ring.
Lee claims the flyweight championship of the south. Where he captured the title, and from whom has not been made public. His display of boxing wares before the eyes of Sanford fans tonight will serve to prove how good he is.
An eight round semi-final is carded as well as a six round preliminary and one other attraction by the short route. Promoter Woodward has announced that he wants to give local fans good shows providing the patronage improves. The patronage will improve, without a doubt, providing the shows turn out to be what the promoter claims them to be.

HARBOR HEARING TO BE HELD SOON IN W. PALM BEACH

Application Of West Palm Beach For Change In Harbor Lines Will Be Heard By United States Engineer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 12.—(INS)—The application of the city of West Palm Beach for the revision of harbor lines along the western side of Lake Worth, at various locations within the city limits of West Palm Beach, will be considered at a public hearing in the Municipal Casino at West Palm Beach at 2 p. m. on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 26, it was announced today by Lieutenant Colonel Mark Brooke, chief of the United States engineers' office here.
The plans submitted, the district government engineer said, show that the bulkhead line requested will begin at harbor line point No. 2 and run thence to harbor line point No. 4, thence to a point 120 feet channelward of harbor line point No. 6; thence to harbor line point No. 10.
The previously approved line is then followed to a point 650 feet easterly of harbor line point No. 31, from whence it runs straight to harbor line point No. 34-C; the former line is again followed to harbor line point No. 35-C; from whence the revised line runs straight to harbor line point No. 43; the revised line again runs straight to harbor line point No. 47; the former line is again followed to harbor line point No. 65-C, from whence the revised bulkhead line now requested follows the previously established bulkhead line to harbor line point No. 70.
Brooke explained that the harbor line points referred to were those given upon the official map showing the harbor lines approved by the Secretary of War on March 25, 1923, a copy of which map may be seen at the City Manager's office.
"All interested parties are invited to be present, or to be represented at the hearing, particularly navigation interests and the officials of any county, city, town or local association whose interests may be affected by the revision of the harbor lines," Brooke said. "They will be given an opportunity to express their views upon the suitability of the location of the said lines with reference to navigation, and to suggest changes considered desirable in the interest of navigation."
After the hearing the records will be referred to Washington for consideration by the War Department.

Two Are Held In New Orleans For Violation Of White Slavery Act

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 12.—(INS)—Worn and broken from a vicious struggle, Mary McDonald, 29, and Teddy Sutton, 25, are being cared for by officials today after they were rescued from what Federal authorities declared was a comprehensive white slavery plot.
The youngest of the two girls was dazed from the use of drugs. Agents of the Department of Justice held two men, Roy Howard of Zanesville, Ohio, said to be an ex-convict and Robert T. Garland of Calera, Okla., on Mann Act charges. They were also accused of transporting a stolen automobile from Dallas to New Orleans.
The men will be given a preliminary hearing today. Discovery of the white slave plot was credited to city detectives David and Stack who were in search of the automobile alleged to have been stolen by the men.

Radio Legislation Deadlock Likely To Be Broken Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The congressional deadlock over radio legislation approached the breaking point today when compromise proposals were reduced to the form of tentative bills for the first time since Senate and House conference committees began their struggle to reach an agreement.
The chief sponsors of conflicting methods of controlling the radio industry—Senator Dill (D) of Washington and Representative White (R) of Maine—joined in a declaration that a solution of the problem was virtually assured.
Having hurled the biggest stumbling blocks, Dill and White met today to attempt to place their stamp of approval upon the provisions of a new measure which replace the measures on which Senate and House hopelessly split in the last session of Congress.

Revision Of State Laws To Include All Properties In Tax Burden Is Now Planned

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 12.—(AP)—General revision of state constitutions so as to draw every class of property, tangible and intangible, into payment of a fair share of the tax burden, was recommended in a report made to the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in convention here today by the association's committee on state legislation and taxation.
The newly adopted tax laws of Virginia and the Wisconsin state policy of operating its state activities on a cash basis were commended in the report, which was made by Guy S. Green, Detroit, chairman of the committee.
Other recommendations by the committee included liberalization of the ancient so-called usury laws, the enactment of uniform mortgage laws, and the adoption of state, enabling acts for regional planning.

Within the past year, the report said, a number of states have entirely revamped and modernized their state taxation systems, and some of the changes have been made in accord with recommendations previously made by the association. While the oldest first principle of taxation, "Get the most feathers with the least squawk," still holds true, the report declared, it is apparent that real estate is the bird which is being plucked.
While the federal taxes are being steadily reduced, the state and local taxes are simultaneously increasing, the committee reported. "This is due, undoubtedly, in the case of many states and cities, to the lack of centralized responsibility and business procedure under modern methods. Tax burden in some instances has become so heavy that current revenues are apparently insufficient to meet the end of time. This is financing done in a manner and by no modern business method.

In making possible widespread home ownership, junior financing which includes second mortgage financing and financing by the counting of land contact equity is a most important function. The committee report declared the committee report, "force the issue of financing to be tried out in an indirect and evasive way, in vain of the committee asserted in recommending their liberalization."
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 12.—(INS)—A. E. Whitney, prohibition agent, was fined $500 and a six month sentence by Judge Lake today. Federal Court here today charges of liquor law violation.

Apples teach a lesson in Lumber

There have been numerous attempts to grow apples in Florida. But without success.

Nature never intended apples to grow here and failed to provide the environment for their successful cultivation.

Nature provides varying sets of natural conditions in different localities, and in her great wisdom also provides the species of living things best suited to endure in each climate.

Nature knew that Florida climate required a tree of very compact structure to resist the sun, the moisture and insects. But Nature also knew that compact structure alone was not enough. So She grew a tree into whose compact structure she also poured Her own "creosote," resin, as a final and complete shield and preservative against disintegration.

This tree is the Florida Dense Pine from which comes the strongest and most durable structural lumber in the world. Use this Florida-grown, Florida-manufactured lumber and know that natural laws endorse your choice. Long life and freedom from repairs make Florida Dense Pine the most economical building material you can use.

Where to Get Good Advice When Building. The choice of the proper material for every building purpose is a specialized business. The man who can help you make a wise selection is your established local lumber dealer.

Taking The Bull By The Horns

We are not in the habit of eavesdropping, but the words "celery festival" spoken in a conversation between a prominent Sanford farmer and a business man attracted our attention and we could not restrain ourselves from trying to get their points of view.
The farmer, at first, seemed to have the idea that some sort of pageant in March would give good publicity to celery and thus raise its price, but the business man was talking sense and logic and soon showed that the benefits derived would in no way compensate for the expense.

MR. LEACH, of the Forum, asked Prince William, second son of the Swedish king, to luncheon, yesterday, and showed him the newspaper editors. The prince, earnest pleasant young man, much more than six feet high, returned the compliment by showing moving pictures of the mountain gorilla that he killed in Africa, also a leopard devouring a zebra, just killed.
Modern women would be interested in the prince's pictures of African pygmies, including a young mother with one baby in front nursing, another hanging on her back with its legs wrapped around the mother's waist.
Prince William shot his mountain gorilla as it charged at him, only three yards away. The gorilla ran 50 yards and died. It weighed 400 pounds, knew nothing about any divinity hedging a king, and would have torn the plucky young Swede to pieces had it covered those last three yards.

GET THAT LICENSE TAG NOW, OR—FLORIDA TIMES-UNION
Get that license tag now, or the arresting authorities surely will get you. Under the law of the state every automobile owner in Florida must bear the license tag for the current year, in the instance, for the year 1927, which began January 1, although a great many car owners and users appear to think that the year has not changed from 1926 to 1927. They will discover their mistaken thinking when an officer of the law notifies them to appear before the judge or magistrate who will still further ask the memories of such as have not provided themselves, or their cars, with the nice, new 1927 license tags manufactured for the state by those who forgot, or overlooked other laws, and as a consequence are "doing time" in the state penitentiary at Raiford.
The law is not quite as severe with those who do not comply with the law as it is for offenders against other laws. But to be arrested for not having a 1927 license tag is a disgrace none the less, notwithstanding the disbelieving of this particular law is not so serious as is the breaking of other laws. Nevertheless, every good and respectable citizen observes all laws, as nearly as is possible. And surely, obeying the law, with reference to the purchase and use of automobile license tags, is easy.
Florida is lenient with automobile owners in this state, in that some days of grace are allowed in the matter of purchase of license tags. In many states the law is that automobile current-year license tags must be displayed on every car used, beginning with the very first day of the year. Heretofore, however, this Florida leniency, evidently, has not been appreciated by a very considerable number of car owners—those who have not produced license tags until compelled to do so, many of these non-compliers using old license tags until far into the new year. This year, however, the authorities declare that after the 15th of January car owners who have not produced their tags will be arrested and made to suffer the penalties provided in the law for not complying therewith.
Therefore, get that license tag now, and avoid the penalty, and at the same time "tell the world," by displaying a 1927 tag on your car, that you are a law-obeying citizen.

For A Greater Prosperity

In an endeavor to make Sanford more prosperous—if the desire for greater prosperity generally exists here—just about the most sensible "Week" that could be observed would be one for debt-paying. Give Sanford an enthusiastic "Pay-Up Week" and see the new life that would come to all business here.
Unable to meet all of their bills, some men pay none. Instead of going to the people they owe and making arrangements to pay part of their indebtedness, or interest at least upon the amounts they owe, there are men in Sanford who simply don't pay. What money they themselves collect they spend as if the money were their own, instead of belonging to the people to whom they are indebted.
A "Pay-Up Week" can be made an effective agent toward paying a community into good shape for bettering itself. It is remarkable what one ten-dollar bill can do as it travels about a town paying bills. In some places where "Pay-Up Weeks" are staged, marked ten-dollar bills are used to keep a record of what one little green-back can do. On one occasion we remember a five-dollar bill was sewed to a sheet of paper, and started on its debt-paying journey, with each person who received it in payment of a debt writing the amount of the transaction and the names of the persons in the deal.
That five-dollar bill traveled its rounds for a week, and at the end of the seventh day, it had paid more than five hundred dollars worth of indebtedness. It was a case of every one in whose hands that marked bill came passing it on in a hurry to some one he owed. But why should a marked five-dollar bill travel faster and do more service than one that is not marked? Why not keep every bill traveling in a debt-paying journey here in Sanford until money is easier to find, and people are in better position to take on more indebtedness?
Give Sanford a "Pay-Up Week."

DRASTIC SENTENCES

MIAMI HERALD
"Driving while drunk, $104.85."
"Driving while drunk, forfeited $150."
Three small items in a list of 11 cases from a municipal judge in Miami. And items of that kind are found in newspapers published in other Florida towns. Instead of sending men to long terms in jail, instead of taking away the privilege of operating an automobile upon the streets and highways, the courts of Florida impose a few fines or collect entred bonds, and send the criminals back to their murder road.
"Driving while drunk, $104.85." The money for the fine is provided at the expense of the man's family. The city treasury is accounted enriched. "Justice" is supposed to have been satisfied. And the man goes back to his home and his car for another assault upon the welfare of the public the city is supposed to protect. A man who drives a car while drunk should be punished as drastically as any would-be murderer is punished. A man who has been convicted of driving a car while drunk should be forbidden from operating an automobile on any public road.
Experience does not prove that drastic punishment is effective in putting an end to crimes and misdemeanors. We should judge that our friend the Sanford Herald has not had a great deal of experience in handling the case to which that paper alludes.
As a matter of fact, the sentences imposed by the municipal court of Miami do seem to have some effect for it is a rare occasion where a person convicted of having driven an automobile while intoxicated, appears in court again for the same offense.
This, if it proves anything, proves that the complained of sentences are having their effect in preventing repetition of a misdemeanor.

Remedy For Blundering Legislation

BY ROSCOE POUND
Dean of the Harvard Law School
An outstanding figure in American jurisprudence, Dean Roscoe Pound has been engaged in a number of universities since 1909, when he became assistant professor of Cambridge, in England, have conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws. He began instructing at Harvard in 1910 and in 1918 was made dean of the law school. In 1925 Dean Pound declined the presidency of Wisconsin University. He was born at Lincoln, Neb., in 1870 and received his education at the University of Nebraska and the Harvard law school.
We are in transition from the rural, pioneer, agricultural America, for which our legal institutions were devised, for which our legal conceptions were given shape and to which our legal precedents were adapted to an urban, industrial America in which those institutions and doctrines and precepts are called on to do work for which they were not meant and to which often they are inadequate.
What provision do we make for problems of law-making? In the rural, pioneer, agricultural America of a century ago, the judiciary committees of the two houses of our local legislatures could do the relatively easy preliminary work required for the simple legislative problems of the time and place. But today, and their legislative committees are not clearly today, we rely on the spontaneous initiative of the people.
Chivalry is something beyond manners—a [sense] of conduct which has romance in it, a generosity of spirit which gives more than the occasion strictly demands. The tradition of it we find most often among soldiers, with whom it began, and we find it among sailors. In our hatred of war and our fear of what is militaristic, there is some danger that we may forget the virtues which are soldierly. The supposed importance of sports in education has in the hope, only a hope as yet, that competition so relatively harmless may train toward the chivalrous ideal. In a few games, such as tennis, we do keep the opponent's score and we try to make our mistakes, if at all, in his favor. In most games, however, we need watching, and we are chivalrous—but reasonably honest. We are at our best in our national games, which are played with a little chivalry as though it were business.

SHADOW

In much old women and old men remember
As years bewilderingly are multiplied
They have a bit of April in December;
They dream on when the best of life has died.
Mid dawns with hair like scanty shreds of wool,
With cheeks like shriveled fruit plucked long ago,
Think of the nights that once were wonderful
With love and dance, with music allegra.
Mid men with eyes that water and are dim
Trotter about, forget the day and year,
They see themselves as people, straight of limb,
Life sweet and overfull and very dear.
All vital substance ebbs away from them,
Drooping backs of disciplined hope,
But they have left them dreams on which to seize,
And hardly heed the shadows where they creep.
—George Lawrence Andrews.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN BY THE SOCIAL DEPARTMENT

One of the loveliest of the fortnightly bridge parties given by the Social Department of the Woman's Club was that of Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Bea D. Caswell and Mrs. W. W. Patter were hostesses.

Quantities of fragrant narcissus and ferns were effectively used in decorating the rooms, and many tall potted palms were also used to advantage.

Greeting the guests upon arrival were Mrs. W. Theodore Langley, chairman of the department, and the hostesses.

The tables were distributed by little Miss Jeanette Potter, who was very pretty in her frock of cherry red velvet.

An unusually interesting game of bridge was played during the afternoon, and when scores were collected it was found that high scores had been made by Mrs. R. L. Malthe, who received an artistic flower bowl of Italian pottery, in cutting for the consolation prize, a certificate of merit, Mrs. J. C. Bennett was the lucky one.

Refreshments consisting of fried oysters, potato salad, hot rolls, chives, stuffed celery, cakes and coffee were served by the hostesses at the conclusion of the game, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Stevens, Mrs. Eugene Tittle, Mrs. John Meach, Jr., Mrs. J. D. Woodruff, Mrs. Abby Gibbons, Mrs. Lee Conoley and Mrs. A. W. Epps. Favors of narcissus were given each guest.

The afternoon was exceptionally enjoyable, and was well attended not only by the local club members, but by quite a number of out-of-town guests. There were 17 tables of players.

Labor Committee Begins Session At The Sunshine City

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Having settled details of entertainment programs with various local clubs, the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, meeting in quarterly conference here, started out this morning to transact a mass of business accumulated since the last session.

Doors of the meeting are closed to the public and press. President Green, Secretary Morrison and other officials attending the meeting have declared that many problems affecting the labor movement will come up for consideration.

"We cannot say just what these problems will be until they are presented," said Mr. Green today.

"But we have a number of things to consider and will probably be in session a week or ten days."

Punctuating their business sessions with an occasional frolic, the 150 members of the council will enjoy trips to Tampa, Lakeland, Sarasota, Venice and other nearby points, and will also be guests of the local unions and chambers of commerce on sightseeing excursions in the vicinity of St. Petersburg.

Christians Plan To Build New Church

A building fund, the purpose of which is to erect a church edifice, has been started by the First Christian Church members and the first unit of what is expected to be the permanent home of the church is to be built within the near future, according to officials. The meetings now being held in the auditorium of the junior high school, at Ninth Street and Palmetto Avenue, have been very successful, according to Rev. Edward Hoidal, pastor, and the congregation has been increased by several new members within the past 10 days.

Conducted under Rev. Roy I. Brown, evangelist, the services in the evening have been attracting large numbers to the school and officials of the church report two new members by confession of faith and six new members by letter.

Members of the Junior Matrons' Duplicate Luncheon Club were delightfully entertained Tuesday by Mrs. W. D. Gardiner at her home on Myrtle Avenue.

Calendulas and ferns were used in decorating for this affair, and the colors of yellow and green were further carried out in the place and tally cards, and later in refreshments.

Luncheon was served at small tables, which were laid with dainty cloths and centered by crystal baskets filled with calendulas. At each place were quaint nut cups holding salted nuts and yellow mints.

The hostess was assisted in serving and entertaining her guests by Mrs. Clyde Byrd.

Bridge was played throughout the afternoon, and when scores were counted it was found that the prize for top score, a bottle of bath salts, was won by Mrs. Edmund Meach. Cut prize, a pretty sachet, fell to the lot of Mrs. Charles Powell, Jr.

Covers were laid for Mrs. Clyde Byrd, Mrs. James L. Wells, Mrs. Edmund Meach, Mrs. Ned Christen-
